Ain't It the Truth?

There are showier towns than our little town, there are towns that are bigger than this. And the people who live in the quieter towns don't know what excitement they miss. There are things you see in the wealthier towns that you don't see in a town that's small; and yet up and down, there is no other town like our little town after all.

In the glittering streets of the glittering town, with its palace and pavement and thrall, in the midst of the throng you will frequently long for your own little town after all. If you live and you work in your own little town, in spite of the fact that it's small, you'll find in the end that our own little town is the best little town after all.

When I go up to Watford Fair, I hope the girl I love is there, She is a lovely sight to see; She comes from Sutorville. She is a peach, she is a pear, A sweet muskmelon, rich and rare. Fruit, pumpkins, crazy quilts, avant My girl is all the show I want. She's an inducement and a lure; Blindfold me and I'll find her sure; And if ten thousand filled the park, I'd find my sweetheart in the dark, I hope the girl I love is there, When I go up to the Watford Fair.

SAY IT NOW

It has been aptly said that life is like a bank. It will not honor drafts upon its treasury until after deposits have been made. One can make many different kinds of deposits in life's treasury, but surely none that pays richer dividends than that suggested in the following verse:

If with pleasure you are viewing

Any work a man is doing, If you like him, or you love him,

Tell him now. Don't withhold your approbation

Till the parson makes oration And he lies with snowy lilies on his brow,

For no matter how you shout it, He won't really care about it

He won't know how many teardrops

You have shed. If you think some praise is due him,

Now's the time to give it to him,

For he can not read his tombstone When he's dead.

Take Your Pick, Girls

A fond father had been watching his little daughter grow up until at last there came a time when a bashful youth knocked timidly on the door and asked if Miss Smith was at home. A little later the young couple drifted out of the home and went to a picture show, where, perhaps, they held hands in the dark.

The next evening the father pushed his chair back from the supper table and said: "Daughter, I noticed young Jones called like a regular fellow last night. It is hard to realize that my little girl has reached that important stage in life. But it is all right. It has to be, and I'd rather Jimmy would come here like a man and ask for you than to meet you down at the soda fountain. But listen, little girl. Men comes in several colors—white, red, black, tan and brown, and when business is dull he often looks blue. He snores, prays, plays, fights, votes, cries, laughs, eats, smokes and cusses. He cheats a little. Now daughter you will soon have to take your choice of color, and take your chances with a character of this animal we call "man", but remember, dear, the only one worth having will be found among those who come right into your home to get you."

They are absolutely guaranteed to be free from opiates and narcotics and can be given to even the new-born babe with perfect safety and always with beneficial results. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LISTEN BOYS

Boys, never forget that you stand as the protector of every girl into whose society you may be thrown. Remember as you treat her, so may your nearest and dearest be treated. Hold her as sacred in your thoughts and actions as you would have others hold your mother and sister. Remember, too, that reason and right make it incumbent upon you to bring as clean a record of your life to the girl you would make your wife as you demand of her.

Lambton Apple Trees Heavy Laden

Orchards Promise Fine Return
In View of Prevailing Shortage of Fruit

SPECIAL CROPS WILL BE BIG MONEY MAKERS

Sugar Beets Heavy Yield and High Sugar Content Assures Good Price

Standing in the apple orchard of Frank J. Vance, sixth concession of Plympton, within easy reach of well-laden boughs of Russets, Baldwins and McIntosh Reds, it did not look this afternoon as though there could possibly be a shortage in the apple crop in Ontario this year. Apparently however, Lambton County, like Norfolk, is an exception to the rule. Lambton, from all appearances will do even better than Norfolk, and the crop will be much nearer normal. In view of the shortage in many apple producing counties, the good crop here is going to mean a good thing for Lambton orchardists.

The ordinary farm crops in Lambton are this year similar to those in most other counties. Hay was heavy and the grain yields are enormous. But what is of greater moment, the special crops are in excellent condition and promise to produce a wonderful harvest. Thousands of acres of sugar beets are well advanced, with a sugar content higher than is usually found in tests at this time. The seed corn is maturing fairly rapidly and with good weather will produce the usual excellent yields of high-class seed for which many townships of Lambton are famous.

CELERY

The celery beds around Theford are more extensive than ever this year, acre after acre being farmed with this crop alone in the muck lands near Port Franks. So far the quality looks good and celery will be one of the big items in Lambton's harvest.

With respect to the apples, Lambton has the best prospects for No. 1 grade fruit of any county so far. The orchard of Mr. Vance can hardly be regarded as typical, because it is perhaps the best cared for in the county, but apples generally seem to be large and clean. Mr. Vance has 17 acres of apples, about half of it young trees. His conservative estimate of his probable harvest is 1,500 boxes of No. 1 and No. 2, and 700 boxes of No. 3. The yield would have been a bumper one but for the fruit which dropped. Those which set properly have been thinned out and the fruit now on the trees is uniformly of high quality.

The Vance apples are box-packed and mostly find their way to the Western markets, meeting en route the Oregon and Washington apples, which, though usually of less delectable quality, are found in London fruit stores to the exclusion of Lambton-grown apples.

Mr. Vance has put his orchard in such condition that he can count on a fair crop every year and an "off year" seldom comes. He has carried on a successful war on most of the pests including the scale, which is seldom found in orchards so far north.

Other excellent orchards where the yield of apples will be comparatively high are those of Johnson Bros. and Roy Wright, also on the sixth of Plympton.

Sugar Beets

Sugar beets are going to be a money-bringer for many Lambton farmers this year from present indications. Thousands of acres are grown, the individual plots varying from two to 20 acres. Ten tons to the acre is counted a fair yield, but it looks as if this year's crop would be heavier than that. The price, of course, depends on the sugar content, but last year beets returned something like $12 a ton to the grower.

J. N. Metcalfe, of the 12th concession of Enniskillen, one of the largest individual growers and well versed in the details of the best-growing industry, estimated that the beets on his own fields, slightly over 17 acres in extent, might go as high as 20 tons to the acre. He advised caution in estimating the average yield for the county. Even if it was only 10 tons to the acre, though, it would be a good crop, he admitted.

"The field men tell me," said Mr. Metcalfe, "that the beets never tested so high so early in the season. If the sugar content is high that means a good price. Most of the beets go to the Dominion Sugar people and to the Crosswell people in Michigan. The amount it takes in freight to take the sugar beet over and bring the refined sugar back would pay for the building of a refinery such as we should have right in this district.

SPECIALIZED Business Experience

Very few business men have time to specialize in more than one business. Yet an intimate knowledge of business in general is very valuable in making sound progress. Step by step we have watched businesses grow. We have learned why some succeeded—why others failed. We have these accumulated experiences by which to judge your problems. We have as well our own policy of conservative management which has brought the Sterling Bank to a strong and stable position.

THE STERLING BANK OF CANADA

Farm crops in general are good around Mr. Metcalfe's district. He threshed some oats that yielded about 75 bushel to the acre.

The same degree of productivity is claimed for most townships in the county this year, according to Duncan Matheson, assistant representative of the department of agriculture. Mr. Matheson was hopeful that the seed corn, given a little more good weather, would be a good crop. Peaches, he estimated, would be about 35 per cent and they are a crop worth counting in the Forest and Theford regions. Plums, he said were also light.

James Dunn, of Mandamun, threshed out 34 bushels of fall wheat to the acre.

John Randall, of the 6th concession of Enniskillen, grew oats that were five feet nine inches in height and yielded heavily.

The corn borer, which until recently left Lambton county alone, has appeared at Forest, the department of agriculture announced.

The evening was spent in games after which a dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

Wanstead Field Day

That the Farmers' Club Field Day skills retains its popularity was amply proven by the large crowd which gathered on the athletic field on Labor Day to view and take part in the varied program of sports and contests. The day was all that could be desired, being bright and warm and a booth on the grounds supplied refreshments of all kinds. Former residents of the vicinity were present from Sarnia, Watford, Forest, and other points. Every number on the program was keenly contested and nearly fifty dollars was distributed in prizes.

A splendid game of baseball was played between Warwick and Wanstead resulting in a win for the home team. Mr. Welch, Camlachie, umpired to the satisfaction of all. Batteries for Wanstead were McPhedran and Simpson and for Warwick, Ross and Cook. The score was 18-9. The game of soft ball between Kertch and a mixed team from Vyrer and Camlachie resulted in the honors going to Kertch. The game was a splendid exhibition of soft ball the score being 9-5.

KERWOOD
Kerwood School Fair Sept. 26th. Methodist Church anniversary services and fowl supper and concert to be held in October. The date will be announced later.

There will be no service in the Methodist church next Sabbath on account of anniversary services at Bethesda appointment.

Although the weather was unfavorable the Temperance lecture given in the Methodist church by Rev. W. Millson of London last Thursday evening was well attended. The Bethesda and Kerwood orchestras furnished delightful music and the reading given by Mrs. Howard McLean in her usual good style was well chosen. The duet by Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Langford and the choruses by the choir were much enjoyed. Rev. Millson's address on temperance was very interesting and instructive. He spoke of Kerwood Women's Missionary Society being among the first to hold this public temperance meeting and spoke of the need of the people rousing themselves and getting more important information on this important subject and that every Christian should do his duty in the coming referendum. Mrs. Langford, president of the W.M.S. then moved a vote of thanks to all who helped make the evening a success and especially to Rev. Millson for his kindness in coming to Kerwood and giving his splendid lecture.

The Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's Church, met at the home of Mrs. A. Rogers. A very large number were present and much business and work was accomplished.

Stratford thought that Miss Corelli "interfered". So she did. Stratford needed interference. This devotee of Shakespeare realized that Stratford was all for modernizing itself whereas she knew that Stratford's charm lay in its Old World associations. And so began the restoration movement.

In Stratford Miss Corelli was regarded in recent years as inaccessible rather than eccentric. The only real peculiarities I remember were her purchase of two tiny Shetland ponies and a chaise in which she drove about for some months, and the gondola in which she enjoyed the Avon from a curtained seat. The gondola, however, was no mystery. A local boat proprietor paddled it and it kept to the main stream with other river craft.

In spite of her caustic comments in "The Devil's Motor Car." Miss Corelli owned a speedy car. There was a touch of irony, however, in its mascot—a silver model of his satanic majesty in flight!

MARIE CORELLI
Famous Authoress a Recluse
Lived in World of Her Own

Although Marie Corelli, who lived and died in Shakespeare's town, was always a mystery to the professional interviewer, some of us Stratfordians met her at social functions and were able to see her at close range, writes a Stratford correspondent of the London Daily News.

But not often—for she was at heart a recluse, shutting herself in a world of her own behind the high way that surrounded her beautiful Italian garden, and of late years never taking part in the public life of Stratford.

When I was a boy attending a local school Miss Corelli, who was a personal friend of the principal, came several times to present the prizes. She was a fluent speaker, and, whatever the critics may say to the contrary, she had a ready wit and a genial presence. She loved children.

Hated Sectarianism.
It has been said that the author of "God's Good Man" and other satires on the church had no love for organized religion and that she never attended a place of worship. But that is untrue. What Miss Corelli hated was narrow sectarianism, and when on the death of King Edward VI, a united memorial service of church people and Nonconformists was held in Shakespeare's historic church, Miss Corelli sat next to me in an unobtrusive corner of the building.

When the late General Booth visited Stratford she entertained him to tea, and a local leader of the Salvation Army told me afterward that the general and Marie Corelli prayed together. The general was greatly impressed by his visit, which resulted in a generous contribution to his funds. He left one worrying instruction to the poor little woman captain who was then in command at Stratford—that she would be held responsible for looking after Miss Corelli's spiritual welfare.

Miss Corelli's aversion to being photographed was very strong, for she was in her heyday a distinctly striking woman. Americans often waited outside her house, the front door of which was flush with the street, in order to snap her with their kodaks. But she was too cute for them and I have seen more than one photographer politely asked to put his camera away before Miss Corelli would come out of the house.

Glaring Error.
All the newspaper biographies I have read contain a glaring error. Miss Corelli's quarrel with Stratford had nothing to do with the Shakespeare memorial. It originated in the question of a site for the Carnegie Public Library. The corporation of Stratford decided to pull down an old half-timbered house which had been bricked over—like so many other buildings in Stratford—and Miss Corelli protested against such vandalism, urging that the brickwork should be removed, the building restored, and that another site near by should be used for the public library. Miss Corelli did not succeed in her argument. There was much local trouble, which concluded with the libel action brought by Miss Corelli against a member of the council, in which she was awarded a farthing damages.

Stratford thought that Miss Corelli "interfered". So she did. Stratford needed interference. This devotee of Shakespeare realized that Stratford was all for modernizing itself whereas she knew that Stratford's charm lay in its Old World associations. And so began the restoration movement.

In Stratford Miss Corelli was regarded in recent years as inaccessible rather than eccentric. Zavitz Family Reunion is Held at Springbank

A number from Watford and vicinity attended the first annual reunion of the Zavitz family at Springbank Park on Saturday. Eight automobile loads of members of the family journeyed from Watford and Brooke township.

The reunion was attended by nearly a hundred members of the Zavitz family from British Columbia, Peterboro, Coldstream, Humberstone, Hamilton, Port Colborne, Kingstone, Poplar Hill, Lambeth, London, Alvinston, Watford, Brooke Township and Dawn.

Dinner was served at noon in the pavilion, and was followed by an afternoon of social fellowship. A spirited game of baseball was played, following which an organization meeting of the family was held, when officers were elected as follows: President, Arthur Zavitz, Peterboro; vice-president, Walter Zavitz, Coldstream; secretary-treasurer, Miss Maude Marwick, Watford.

A committee was appointed to draw up the family tree which is to be presented at the next reunion to be held in August 1925, as follows: Edgar Zavitz, Coldstream; Morley Zavitz, Alvinston; Hiram Zavitz, Poplar Hill; Elton Zavitz, Dawn; Mrs. Cora Furry, Humberstone.

Committees were also appointed to make arrangements for the reunion next year, as follows:

A unique feature of this year's reunion was the presence of two different families of four generations. The oldest member of the present generation of the Zavitz family, 91 years old, and hale and hearty, was also present.

AGRICULTURAL FAIRS

The Genesis of Agricultural Societies in Ontario

The First Association in Upper Canada—Birth of the Provincial Fair—Creation of the Department of Agriculture—Later Extension of Work.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

The honor of holding the first Agricultural Fair in Canada falls to Windsor, N.S., in 1765, about 159 years ago, and soon other Agricultural Societies fell into line in Nova Scotia, including one at Halifax in 1789 and another in King's County. This latter is the only one of the old societies in the Maritime Provinces that has survived the present day. The prizes offered at Windsor were in goods and medals. To the persons bringing the greatest number of cattle were awarded three yards of English blue superfine broadcloth and a silver medal. For horses, a saddle, bridle, whip, spurs and a medal were the rewards, and a churn for the best cow, while for the best twelve pounds of butter or cheese the prize was six yards of ribbon and a medal.

The progress of organizing Agricultural Societies in a newly settled country was naturally slow at first; but it is worthy of mention that the first Province to introduce imported stock was New Brunswick, which brought over, in 1826, four Shorthorn bulls, which were recorded in the first volume of the English Herd Book. A provincial exhibition was held in Fredericton, N.B., in October, 1852. An Agricultural Society was organized in Montreal in 1788 and another in Quebec in 1789.

The First Society in Upper Canada.

Settlement in Ontario commenced in 1783, and in 1791 had progressed sufficiently along the Niagara river and peninsula to justify the formation of an Agricultural Society on October 28 of that year. This pioneer Ontario society had its headquarters at Niagara-on-the-Lake, then known as Newark. Governor Simcoe took a great interest in it and was its first president. The first efforts of its members were directed to the holding of monthly meetings to discuss agricultural questions, and an agricultural library was also established. The holding of an exhibition naturally followed.

Agricultural Societies gradually became organized all over Ontario, as settlement in the province progressed. In 1830, the Legislature passed regulations governing same and set apart grants. Eight hundred dollars was apportioned to each District Society to enable it to hold an exhibition in addition to the work it had previously undertaken.

An Agricultural Society for the County of York was organized in 1830. Seeds and implements were procured from the Old Country for members. A progressive member was sent to New York State who purchased four bulls for the use of the Society. Soon after an exhibition was held, and prizes were awarded for essays on agricultural subjects. Birth of the Provincial Fair.

In 1845 a Provincial Association was formed, and in 1846 the first Provincial fair was held in Toronto, out of which have grown the world-wide-known Canadian National Exhibition, the Western Fair and the Central Canada Exhibition.

The Provincial Association gradually became better organized and developed into the Agriculture and Arts Association, which did so much for the improvement of agriculture in the province in the earlier days. Among the many useful lines of work inaugurated were the establishment of the Veterinary College, the registering of pure bred stock, the awarding of prizes for the best kept farms and buildings and well cultivated fields, and, indirectly, the agricultural College at Guelph.

Creation of Department of Agriculture.

Agriculture soon became such an important feature in Ontario that a Commissioner of Agriculture was appointed; and eventually the Provincial Government created a Department of Agriculture, thus recognizing this basic industry as of equal importance with those which came under the supervision of the other departments of the Government. Thus out of that little society organized in 1791 in old Niagara-on-the-Lake, with a score or less of competitors and a modest prize list of a few pounds, have developed not only the three great exhibitions in the province, but also the important Department of Agriculture with its numerous branches and with local representatives in every county and district, bringing information and assistance to farmers desirous of making use of it.

Later Extension of Work.

The three hundred and sixty Agricultural Societies in the Province of Ontario have made rapid progress of late years. In 1907 a new departure was inaugurated, and a grant was made by the Ontario Government for the holding of Standing Field Crop Competitions, each society selecting the desired kind of grain or other crop grown for seed.

With the exception of ten societies, which devote their energies wholly to the keeping and maintenance of pure-bred male animals for which they receive certain grants, all the societies hold fall fairs and exhibitions. Spring stock and seed shows are also conducted with great success.—J. Lockie Wilson, Supt. of Agriculture Association.

Before you can have real good hogs of any breed you must have a good hog mother and a good hog sire. The idea is to raise big litters that will grow rapidly and large and make the most pork for the least feed.

RIPENING CHEDDAR

Results of Nine Tests at the Agricultural College

Percentage of Shrinkage Under the Various Trials—Cheese Often Kept Too Long in Curing-rooms—Sweet Clover Milk Will Make Good Cheese—Winter Lawn Protection.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

The Dairy department of the Ontario Agricultural College made nine tests during the summer of 1923 in cheddar cheese curing. Four uniform cheeses were used each week: One was placed in the curing-room directly from the press and allowed to remain there for one week, when it was removed to cold storage; one was put in cold storage at once from the press and allowed to remain there; one was put in the curing-room for three to six days, then paraffined and moved to cold storage; and one was allowed to remain in the curing-room during the whole of the ripening period. The chief objects of the experiment were to note differences in the losses of weight, and the effect upon quality of the cheese treated by these four methods. All the cheese were weighed when taken from the hoops and again at the end of one month. The cheese were scored when about six weeks old, and again about two months later.

Percentage of Shrinkage.

The average percentage of shrinkage was least for the cheese placed in the curing-room for one week, then moved to cold storage. Those paraffined and then moved to cold storage stand next; and the cold storage lots third. The greatest loss was in the lots allowed to remain in the curing-room for the full ripening period of one month. The average percentages of shrinkage were 1.98, 2.41, 2.86 and 4.42 respectively for the four lots. There was little difference in the average score of the cheese for the three lots in cold storage. Those placed in the curing-room for one week and then moved to a temperature of 40° F. scored highest; then the lots placed in storage at once; and next the lots paraffined and put in storage. The lots ripened for the full period in the curing-room were much poorer cheese at the end of the test. Unfortunately, much of the cheese of Ontario is ripened in an ordinary curing-room for too long a period.—Dept. of Extension, O. A. College, Guelph.

SWEET CLOVER MILK.

Interesting Experiments in Feeding Dairy Cows at the College—Milk From Feeding Sweet Clover Makes Satisfactory Cheese.

Investigations have been carried on by the Dairy Department of the Ontario Agricultural College during the summers of 1922 and 1923 on the question of using milk produced by cows pasturing on sweet clover for cheese making. About half of the patrons supplying milk to the dairy department of the College use sweet clover as a pasture crop, and the other half do not. The milk from each set of patrons was made up separately on five dates during June and July. The sweet clover lots of milk 3,510 pounds, and the non-clover lots 4,025 pounds. The average percentages of fat were 3.2 and 3.38, respectively. There was practically no difference in the acidities of the milk of both lots at the time of adding the rennet or when dipped. The losses of fat in the whey averaged .182 and .21 per cent. respectively. Proportion of Cheese to Milk.

The average yield of cheese per 1,000 pounds milk was 91.23 pounds for the sweet clover lots and 92.33 for the non-clover lots. The percentages of moisture in the green ripe cheese were practically the same. The average score of the cheese was the same for flavor in both lots. The average total score was 93.16 for the clover lots and 93.6 out of 100 for the non-clover cheese. There was nothing abnormal about the sweet clover lots of milk or cheese. The results are similar to those obtained during 1922. These two years' tests indicate that there is apparently no reason why cows fed or pastured on sweet clover should not produce satisfactory milk for the making of good cheddar cheese.—Dept. of Extension, O. A. College, Guelph.

More Grief for the Car Owner

(Sarnia Canadian-Observer)
The proposal of the Ontario government to levy a tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline the proceeds of the tax to be used in construction and maintenance of roads, is likely to meet with some opposition. The Peterboro branch of the Ontario Motor League has already voiced a protest against this new tax. It is pointed out that it is scarcely fair that the owner of automobiles should be singled out as the only people to reap benefits from good roads. The man in any line of business who does not own an automobile is benefitted by an improvement to existing roads or by the opening up of new ones, yet he would escape the tax.

Furthermore there is a great lack of uniformity in the condition of the roads in various parts of the province. In some areas they have had enormous sums of money spent on the roads while other parts of the province have been greatly neglected. As regards the majority of the roads in the immediate vicinity of Sarnia most motor owners would object quite strenuously to the imposition of a tax for the privilege of driving on these roads. It would certainly be an injustice to tax Lambton county car owners on the same basis as those in areas where first class roads have been built and maintained. It seems as though there might be a more equitable way of raising money if money is necessary, than by a special tax on the users of gasoline. It would seem that everyone in the country is interested in good roads. Why not then place the tax upon the whole rateable property of the province and be done with it. The automobile owner is paying a lot of money into the provincial treasury at present.

Legume Inoculation.

The popularity of the Bacteriology Department of the Ontario Agricultural College is attested by the following statements: During 1923 a total of 4,327 cultures of legume bacteria for seed inoculation were prepared and sent out. Of this number alfalfa was most frequently asked for, with 1,892; Red clover, 886; sweet clover, 652; peas, 524; alsike, 143; soy beans, 88; beans, 71; sweet peas, 39; vetch, 31; white clover, 1. The creamerymen and the cheesemakers asked for and were supplied with 147 lactic starters, and 63 Bacterium cultures.

The multiplying influence of the various bacteria sent from the Bacteriological Department during the year had a very noticeable influence on legumes of the fields and the finished dairy products of the factories.

The New O. A. C. No. 144 Oat.

The O. A. C. No. 144 oat was obtained from the Siberian variety through nursery plant selection. This oat, which matures about the same time as the Banner, has a spreading head, white grain and less than the average per cent. of hull found in oats. The straw is strong and it has proven to be an excellent yielder of grain.

When tested on thirty-two farms situated in twenty-one different counties in Ontario in 1923, it outyielded the O. A. C. No. 72 by 5.7 bushels, the O. A. C. No. 3 by 10.3, and the Liberty Hulless oat by 17.3 bushels of grain per acre. In triplicate plot tests at the College in the average of the last five years, it surpassed the O. A. C. No. 72 by 4.3 and the Banner by 5.6 bushels of grain per acre. During this five-year period the straw of this variety lodged less than either the O. A. C. No. 72 or Banner Oats.—Dept. of Extension, O. A. College, Guelph.

Inwood Opens Community Park

What is to be known in future as the Inwood Community Athletic Park was officially opened to the public on Friday last under auspices which were particularly pleasing to both the committee who were responsible for the affair and the public who were enjoying the entertainment.

The weather was as near perfection as could be obtained. The receipts of the day which amounted to over six hundred and sixty four dollars, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the association and taking everything into consideration, the day was a real success from every point of view.

To those who do not know the history, a short account of the methods by which the park came into existence might not be out of place. Last year, those in Inwood who were interested in clean sport, banded themselves together in an association known as the Inwood Athletic Association, the object being to obtain and beautify a park for the use of Inwood and its neighboring vicinity and also to promote clean sport for both old and young. Four acres of land immediately west of the Presbyterian church grounds was purchased and then began the struggle to obtain funds to pay for and improve the grounds. Early in the season the Women's Institute of Inwood came forward with a very handsome donation for the purpose of erecting a front fence and suitable gates and this work was at once undertaken and has just been completed. The Association also planted sixty maple trees in the park early this spring and these have had a wonderfully successful season and are nearly all living.

The front enclosure includes two Milton rug brick piers with caps and balls of Indiana limestone supporting the Main entrance gate, and two smaller piers of the same material at the east side between which is placed the turnstile for the entrance of the patrons on foot, the whole being joined up with a five foot picket fence. Several substantial donations were received on Friday from people from both the village and the surrounding country as a token of their appreciation of what was being done to beautify the village and community. The association has only begun its work and it is the intention to erect swings and slides for the kiddies and a grandstand for the public as soon as funds are available.

The sports on Friday opened with a baseball game between Brigden and Inwood teams, the result being eleven runs for Inwood and two runs for Brigden. Then followed a softball game between the girls of Walkers and Inwood, resulting in a win for the latter team by a score of 12-4.

At one o'clock Mr. Johnson Vance the honorary president of the association took the platform and asked for a few moments of time for to officially open the park. Mrs. R. J. Richardson, the immediate past president of the Women's Institute, was invited to say a few words on behalf of the Institute and in a well-delivered address expressed her personal appreciation and the thanks of the women for the work which has been done. Mr. W. R. Dawson, secretary of the association, was then called upon to speak for the Association and thanked the audience for their attendance, in a short address. Scotty Thomson welded the bat, Willie Wilcox pitched the ball and Albert McCabe was behind the bat, after which the park was declared officially open to the public and the games were continued.

The next game of baseball was between Bothwell and Walkers and resulted in a score of 3-2 in favor of Walkers.

The game between the two winners followed, Inwood vs. Walkers, Inwood winning 10-8.

The two remaining teams, Brigden and Bothwell then played off, Bothwell winning 9-1.

During the afternoon a series of running and jumping contests were enjoyed by the boys and girls and in the evening a dance was held in the Masonic Hall at which Thompson's Orchestra furnished music.

WHEN FOOD FAILS

Defective Digestion is the Cause and Misery Follows

There are thousands of people who do not get the proper nourishment from the food they eat, because their digestion is defective. Food that lies undigested in the stomach is not merely wasted, but will ferment and poison your system. Flatulence and sour risings in the throat follow and unless you are careful you will become a chronic dyspeptic.

By toning up the stomach to do the work nature intended, you will remove the cause of the trouble. Nothing will more promptly restore the digestive organs than good new blood. Stomach, nerves and glands all depend on the blood, and when it gets thin and watery they are at once weakened. It is because of their action in building up and enriching the blood that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved successful in so many cases of indigestion where ordinary medicines have failed. The new rich blood quickly tones up the digestive organs; the appetite improves and you are able to eat with comfort and get full nourishment from your food.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MISERABLE AND ALWAYS IN PAIN

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Dependable Help for Mothers

Fort Greville, Nova Scotia. "I took your medicine for a terrible pain in my side and for weakness and headaches. I seemed to blast all over, too, and my feet and hands were the worst. I am the mother of four children and I am nursing my baby—the first one of four I could nurse. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before the baby's birth, so you can see how much it helped me. I cannot praise it too highly for what it has done for me. I took all kinds of medicine, but the Vegetable Compound is the only one that has helped me for any length of time. I recommend it to any one with troubles like mine and you may use my letter for a testimonial."—Mrs. ROBERT McCULLY, Port Greville, Nova Scotia.

Before and after child-birth the mother will find Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a blessing. Many letters are received giving the same sort of experience as is given in this letter. Not only is the mother benefited, but these good results pass on to the child. No harmful drugs are used in the preparation of this medicine—just roots and herbs—and it can be taken in safety by the nursing mother.

98 out of every 100 women reported benefit from its use in a recent canvass among women users of this medicine. C

STRATHROY GIRL INVOLVED

Adelle Coyle Held With Companions in Mixup at Lansing

Lansing, Mich.—Two Detroit youths and their two women companions are being held here on a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile as a result of their arrest after a coupe in which they were riding ran into a ditch and one of the girls were injured.

The four gave their names as Mrs. Thelma Mastey, 22 years old; Jack Allen, 20; Kenneth Smiley, 20, all of Detroit; and Miss Adele Coyle, of Strathroy, Ont. The arrests were made after Captain Archie A. Downing noticed the car in the ditch and upon stopping to offer assistance, was given a curt answer. He notified the Lansing police and the boys are said to have confessed after being taken to headquarters that they had picked up the girls in Detroit, stole an automobile and drove to Saginaw, then stole another car and proceeded to Bay City and then to Lansing. Mrs. Mastey was cut about the head and body.

Former Watford Couple Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm S. Campbell, Married in Watford, September 1, 1874, Celebrate Golden Wedding in Armstrong, B. C.

The following from the Armstrong B.C., Advertiser, will be of special interest to old residents of Watford. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell are remembered by many of our citizens, with whom the Guide-Advocate joins in congratulations and in the hope that they may return to Watford to celebrate their diamond jubilee.

"A very delightful time was enjoyed by a party of about twenty-five which gathered at the house of Mrs. J. MacQuarrie on Monday night to celebrate the golden wedding of her neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Campbell. Although Mr. and Mrs. Campbell had not themselves proposed to make any such a celebration of the anniversary, their friends in the city felt that it would be very improper to allow it to pass without notice, and Mrs. MacQuarrie kindly placed her house at their disposal for the purpose. Those who were there included Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Gott and Mr. Mrs. and Miss Cavers of Vernon; the Rev. Wm. Stott, Mr. Colin Campbell, brother of Mr. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. J. MacQuarrie, Mr. and Mrs. Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. G. Murray, Mrs. and Miss Dimock, Mrs. C. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. N. Ferguson, Mrs. Stokes, Mrs. Meade, Mr. S. Cary, and Mr. and Mrs. Adair.

The rooms were artistically adorned with golden glow and other yellow flowers appropriate to the occasion; in addition to which it should be mentioned that Mrs. Mat Hassen sent a beautiful bouquet of roses for the "bride."

"After all had supped very agreeably, the Rev. Mr. Stott on behalf of those present, expressed their hearty congratulations to their guests upon the happy companionship that had lasted for half a century, and the desire they felt for their happiness in the like period to come. He referred to the services Mrs. Campbell had rendered in former days in the choirs of churches where she had worshipped, and her keen interest in the pulpit ministrations. When it was proposed to their friends that this gathering should be arranged, Mrs. Campbell stipulated that there should be no gift offered by those present, as she would on no account burden her friends, and they had to yield to her upon that point. But that could not control their friends elsewhere; and so it was his pleasant duty to present to Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, on behalf of a number of those who knew and esteemed them at the Coast and at Vernon, a purse containing fifty dollars in gold; and also, on behalf of Mr. Geo. H. Cowan, of Vancouver, a gold pencil case.

"The gifts were received with evident marks of pleasure by the recipients, who throughout the evening evinced their keen appreciation of the friendly spirit that had prompted the occasion. At one stage of the proceedings Mr. and Mrs. Campbell stood up together, as they had done fifty years before, and the bridegroom placed a new gold ring upon the bride's finger, by the side of that which had done duty for so many years. Community singing varied the wholly informal program at intervals, and before leaving all joined in the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

"The original wedding, the fiftieth anniversary of which was celebrated Monday night, took place at Watford Ont., on Sept. 1st, 1874. After residing for some considerable time in the Ontario town, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell moved to the prairies, living first at Walsh and then at Lethbridge, Alta., but between eight and nine years ago they travelled still further west to Armstrong, where they have since dwelt."

Sarnia Presbytery

Hold Quarterly Meeting Wednesday

A report on the alleged anomalies of the system of government control of liquor in the province of British Columbia, given by the Rev. W. W. Peck of Vancouver, provincial prohibition organizer, and a discussion of conditions reported to exist in the congregation of Knox Church, Camlachie, occupied practically all of the morning session of the Sarnia Presbytery, which held its quarterly meeting in St. Andrew's Church schoolroom, Sarnia, on Wednesday.

Trouble within the congregation at Camlachie, reported to be of a factional nature, in which the Rev. A. W. Gazley, the pastor, is the center, was first brought to the attention of the presbytery months ago, and it was reported that settlement had not been achieved. Members of the presbytery are very reticent concerning the matter, and after much discussion this morning a committee was appointed to hear, informally, both sides of the question and endeavor to smooth away the differences.

Mr. Peck described his address as an effort to warn the presbytery of the nature of a "subtle campaign on the part of moderationists" that will have to be met in the forthcoming referendum.

Mrs. Alma Donaldson of Arkona spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. L. W. Wilson of W. Adelaide.

Mrs. Sidlington, who has been spending the summer in Muskoka and Toronto has returned to her home here.

New Ribbons—Fuller Bros. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stoner have returned from a trip through the Thousand Islands.

Mrs. Carson of London is organizing a choral society in town, to meet each Thursday evening at 8 p. m. in the Queens Hotel. A small fee is being charged, and it is hoped that the people of the village and surrounding country will turn out to this class, as it will be interesting and educational.

Miss L. Davidson announces her Millinery Opening Saturday, Sept. 13th. Everybody welcome.

H. Y. Cho, of Chicago University, a native of Korea, addressed the morning congregation at the Methodist church on Sunday, and in an able way referred to the evidences of God's power in transforming the Koreans. The address concluded with an appeal to the people to hasten the spread of the gospel as the only sure preventive of war.

The death of Mrs. Samuel Walt occurred on Friday at her home west of the village. She was in her 84th year and her husband died two years ago. The late Mrs. Walt is survived by two daughters, residing upon the homestead. She was of sterling Christian character and much esteemed by neighbors and friends. The funeral took place to Arkona cemetery on Sunday afternoon following a service at the home, conducted by Rev. E. J. Roulston, of the Methodist church.

Bright Waters -

- Happy Lands

The Indians who gave the name "Kawartha", meaning "Bright Waters and Happy Lands" to the enchanting chain of lakes which lies East and North of Toronto, selected a name which was truly descriptive.

At an altitude of 800 feet above the level of Lake Ontario the pine and balsam scented air of the Kawartha region is healthful and invigorating.

The cool, fresh water of the lakes which mirror the foliage overhanging, and hide the sportive lunge and pike offers the vacationist unexcelled boating, bathing and fishing. Hundreds of miles of shore line caters to the camp lover, and for those who wish more comfortable quarters there is excellent hotel accommodation at different points.

A descriptive illustrated booklet with map showing entire district may be obtained free of charge from any agent of the Canadian National Railways.

Why is the sky blue?

—because the air is filled with tiny dust particles. These absorb the light rays which make other colors and reflect to the eye the rays which make blue. The occasional use of makes the sky seem bluer above and brightens those bilious "blues" within. Easy to take because it is thoroughly purified. Cleanses the system—helps you keep fresh and fit. Especially good for elderly people and those of middle age.

Why does rain fall in drops?

—because water vapor in the air condenses on dust specks. When enough water collects on a speck to make it sufficiently heavy, it falls as a rain drop. As a bracing bathing agent, is more refreshing than water. For bruises, sprains, tired and aching muscles, it has been adopted as the very finest rub-down in homes, hospitals, training camps and athletic clubs. Equally good as a lotion for toilet uses and irritated skin.

Puretest Rubbing Alcohol

The indications of worms are restlessness, grinding of the teeth, picking of the nose, extreme peevishness, often convulsions. Under these conditions one of the best remedies that can be got is Miller's Worm Powders. They will attack the worms as soon as administered and they pass away in the evacuations. The little sufferer will be immediately eased and a return of the attack will not be likely.
