SULTAN PRISONER

TO KILL IN DAY OF FIGHTING

Constantinople Now Fully in the Hands of Constitutional Forces, the Yildiz Garrison Surrendering on Sunday.

ENQUIRY TO FIND OUT THE SULTAN'S PART IN MUTINY

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 25.—Sultan Abdul Hamid is practically a prisoner in the hands of the constitutionalists, who took the capital city after hours of fierce fighting in the streets and at the various barracks Saturday. The Yildiz garrison surrendered today to the constitutional forces. The commanders of these battalions began sending in their submission to Mamoud Pasha last night, and the whole of the troops protecting the palace gave their formal and unconditional surrender shortly after dawn. Niaz Bey, who is called the hero of the July revolution, is now in command of the garrison.

Sultan Abdul Hamid has been permitted to remain within the walls of the Yildiz Kiosk, where yesterday, in company with his ministers, he waited for the outcome of the struggle between his loyal troops and the army of insurrection, each hour bringing him word of a fresh disaster. It has been stated, since victory rested with the constitutionalists, that the sultan himself gave orders to his men not to resist.

Whether or not this is true, it can be safely said of the troops within the capital, that they put up a stubborn resistance at all points, and the losses on both sides are exceedingly heavy for the length of time the engagement was in progress.

A representative of the commander-in-chief of the constitutional forces is authorized for saying that the sultan will be dealt with by the parliament, and that there will be an adequate enquiry into the sovereign's alleged complicity in the recent mutiny. Up to the present, the military has not been dispersed, but Constantinople and a number of other places have been declared in a state of siege. Martial law has been proclaimed in the city, and the streets are patrolled by the people, order has been maintained with a strict hand.

Artillery last to surrender was the Selimieh Artillery Barracks, in Scutari, opposite Stamboul. Four thousand men stationed there had several hundred guns, threatened to blow the city into ruins, but Gen. Schekef took orders up 60 big guns and several batteries of machine guns, and the other commanders of the barracks, and the cruiser Medjeh steamed out of range of the field pieces and prepared for action.

The commander of the barracks thereupon submitted, and the artillerymen will be marched out as the troops of the other garrisons already have been treated, and made temporary prisoners without arms, to await transfer to outlying districts.

Following yesterday's terrible fighting, the city took on an aspect of some fear that there would be further fighting during the night, the forces of Gen. Schekef were strongly posted close to the palace, but beyond a few scattering shots there was nothing to disturb the peace of the city.

The investing troops were reinforced, however, in the fear that the Yildiz Garrison would remain loyal to the sultan and continue the struggle to the end. Fortunately the officers in command of these soldiers saw the hopelessness of resistance, and there was no opposition when various commanders laid down their swords and gave over their detachments to the strongly entrenched "Revolutionaries."

Martial Law.
The proclaiming of martial law in Constantinople and environs was followed by a circular to the foreign ambassadors, to each of the foreign ambassadors.

"I have the honor to inform your excellency that in view of the circumstances a state of siege begins to-day in the capital, Ismid, Tchekmedje, Tchatalja, Gebze, Kartal and Bevooz."

Minister of Foreign Affairs.
Col. Galib, Inspector-general, has been made responsible for the preservation of order and placards have been posted about the city, requiring the people to continue their business, open the shops, in which the shutters are still up, and avoid accepting as true, and repeating, rumors prejudicial to tranquility of mind. The posters advise the populace to keep within doors from one hour after sunset until sunrise, but permission will be given by the officers of the watch for passing thru the streets on necessary business after nightfall. The sultan is establishing martial law chiefly to permit a military search for residences for fugitives and bring seditions persons before military courts for trial.

The evacuation of the quarters around the Yildiz Kiosk began early in the morning.

Memoud Pasha, commander of the surrendered Palace Guards, came slowly out of the gate. It was allowed to keep his sword, but was attended by officers whose swords were missing. Memoud Pasha paused to talk with the correspondent.

"It is the will of Allah," said he, "we have done our duty."

The Sultan's Message.
"It was thru me," remarked one of the chamberlains of the court, "that his majesty sent the message to Memoud Pasha not to resist. 'All my children,' said his majesty, 'are my children. I die with any one who bleeds.' When the sultan gave the command not to resist, there was no resistance, and the affair was ended."

The sultan summoned his grand vizier.

Results of Battle in Which Constantinople Fell

SULTAN ABDUL HAMID is a prisoner in the hands of the constitutionalists.

Total of 1000 dead in battle; wounded not yet estimated. Entire force of 2000 soldiers, loyal to sultan up to yesterday, is killed, wounded, captured or put to flight.

Five American correspondents are wounded, but others are safe, a party of sixty tourists being sent away on a steamer.

Women watch the fighting from their windows and cheer the invading forces.

Constitutionalists in complete control of the city, promise protection for all foreign consuls and guards for imperiled places.

Soldiers in one barracks lure invaders into a trap by displaying a white flag and are cut down by wholesale as punishment.

Victims declare a new ruler must be given them and that Abdul Hamid cannot remain at head of government.

25,000 VICTIMS OF MASSACRES

And 10,000 Are Stoutly Besieged in Armenian Village—Warships to Rescue.

BEIRUT, April 25.—The situation in Asiatic Turkey is one of extreme gravity.

How many thousands have been massacred cannot even be estimated, because the disturbances here are so widespread that it is impossible to secure details of the happenings during the past ten days. The latest estimates of the number killed in the Vilayet of Adana reaches approximately 25,000, and thousands have been done to death in the towns of other districts.

The state of siege which several of the places are undergoing, has brought the inhabitants to the verge of starvation, and each day brings it tales of misery and despair to which the savagery of the fanatics has brought the people.

Several warships are now in these waters, but the disorders are so far-reaching that the efforts of the power are hardly being felt. The French cruiser Jules Ferry arrived here today, and left almost immediately for Latakia, where British, French and German warships are at other ports, and marines have been landed, to quell disorders as far as possible at more important points.

One of the missionaries at Alexandria, Mr. Kennedy, with 40 Turkeys, has gone to the relief of Deiriyul, an Armenian village on the coast, where 10,000 people within the walls are besieged by immense bands of Kurds and Circassians.

Only two days ago a British warship returned from that place, the governor of the district having permission to land a relief party. The water supply has been cut off from the town, and the besieged are suffering greatly from lack of food.

The evacuation of the quarters around the Yildiz Kiosk began early in the morning.

Memoud Pasha, commander of the surrendered Palace Guards, came slowly out of the gate. It was allowed to keep his sword, but was attended by officers whose swords were missing. Memoud Pasha paused to talk with the correspondent.

"It is the will of Allah," said he, "we have done our duty."

The Sultan's Message.
"It was thru me," remarked one of the chamberlains of the court, "that his majesty sent the message to Memoud Pasha not to resist. 'All my children,' said his majesty, 'are my children. I die with any one who bleeds.' When the sultan gave the command not to resist, there was no resistance, and the affair was ended."

The sultan summoned his grand vizier.

CANNOT SERVE WARRANT TO-DAY

Legal Technicality Sends Blue Paper Along With the Rest to the High Court.

It is quite unlikely that Florence Kinrade will be in Hamilton to-night.

By the service on Saturday of a writ of certiorari upon Deputy Attorney-General Cartwright, Geo. Lyogh-Staunton, K.C., thru his agent, T. C. Robinson, K.C., is believed by many of the nearest legal tricks upon the crown and to have foiled these authorities, at least for a time, in their efforts to compel her attendance at the inquest.

By the operation of this writ all the papers in the case must be filed with the clerk of the court in which the motion is to be heard.

Among them—and to Miss Kinrade's legal defenders the most important of all—is Coroner Anderson's warrant issued Friday night for her arrest, which was to have been executed to-day.

Then the officers of the crown will be without a warrant. Without it Miss Kinrade cannot be interfered with and the hands of the crown are neatly and firmly tied until the papers by process of law are released from the custody of the court. That is one knot.

Colonel Denison has refused to back Coroner Anderson's warrant in the meantime. Detectives have no visitation to other city authorities, but the warrant is still unobtainable. That is knot two.

Thus it would appear that there can be little doubt that unless she goes of her own sweet will or unless Justice Teetzel is very speedy, Miss Florence Kinrade will not give George Tate Blackstock another chance to lead her thru the weary details of her story to-night.

There are two private detectives watching the residence where Miss Kinrade is in pension.

COUNSEL TO SPRING SURPRISE

Mr. Lynch-Staunton Declares Florence Won't Be Witness Again.

HAMILTON, April 25.—(Special.)—The fact cannot be learned from George S. Lynch-Staunton, K.C., how he hopes to prevent Miss Florence Kinrade from being subpoenaed to attend the inquest into the death of her sister, he makes this statement in all confidence that she will not appear at the inquest again.

He is keeping the secret of how he expects to prevent this to himself, and intimates that he will spring a big surprise at Toronto on Monday, when the argument on the certiorari proceedings is gone on with.

AN ACT DISALLOWED

Government-General in Council Disapproves an Ontario Measure.

OTTAWA, April 25.—A special issue of the Canadian Gazette announces the disapproval by His Excellency, the Governor-General in Council, of the act passed by the Ontario legislature April 14, 1908, to revise and amend the Chartered Accountants' Act.

"Whereof," says the announcement, "the lieutenant-governor of the Province of Ontario and all persons whom it may concern are to take notice and govern themselves accordingly."

TOLL COLLECTOR SHOT

Italian Desperados Operate Near Montreal.

KENTVILLE, N. S., April 25.—(Special.)—Melville G. DeWolfe, one of the best known men in Nova Scotia, ended his life this afternoon within sight of his home, by jumping in the Cornwallis River.

De Wolfe had been in ill-health for some time and of late had been very despondent. He had been a member of the Maritime Board of Trade since its inception and was president for several years.

AWFUL BLOW FROM WATCHET

Simoff's Windpipe and Breastbone Broken—Death From Strangulation.

Proceeding steadily with their investigations the police are now prepared to lay a charge of murder against Palla Stiff, who declares that he discovered the body of Evan Simoff, chopped to death with a hatchet in his lodging house at 18 Eastern-avenue, at 8:30 Thursday morning.

Little by little the police are picking flaws in the man's story and facts are coming to light which also go to confirm the sinister finger of the murderer of the apparent bloodstains on Stiff's clothing.

The police have interviewed them whom Stiff says he spoke to at Kemp's tin works and the C. N. R. freight sheds. They deny having seen him on the morning of the murder, but Stiff's brother, also, has not refused to confirm the prisoner's story that there were still a number of the lodgers in the house when he (the prisoner) left it on the morning of the murder. At first, he supported his brother in this.

It now appears that the hatchet with which the murder was committed was prepared for the bloody deed. On the city side of the Victoria Bridge, was held up last evening and shot in the head by a gang of Italian desperados. The wounded man will recover. No arrests have been made.

PAID THE FINE OF $1,800,000

Waters-Pierce Oil Co. Hand Over to State of Texas Biggest Penalty Ever Exacted.

AUSTIN, Texas, April 25.—The final chapter in the litigation of the State of Texas against the Waters-Pierce Oil Company for violation of the anti-trust laws, the payment of the largest fine ever assessed against a corporation, nearly two million dollars, was enacted in a spectacular manner Saturday afternoon. Two big touring cars, banking officials, representatives of the Oil Company and officials of the state, had a part in the transfer of the money from several banks to the state treasury.

From the American National Bank one-half of the total amount of $1,800,000 was counted and delivered. Then at breakneck speed the two cars were driven to the Austin National Bank and a similar burden of currency taken on. Then came another record-breaking run up Congress-avenue to the capital, a distance of eight blocks. In one telestop, H. A. Wree, vice-president of the first named bank, carried his capacity in bills of different denominations up the capitol steps. Sheriff Matthews followed with another and in turn each of the party conveyed a part of the automobile's load. President Hopper of the Austin National Bank being among the last to alight with $60,000.

The fine was paid with 718 one thousand dollar bills, 107 ten dollar bills and the remainder in small currency.

At first Oliver denied any knowledge of the crime, but later, when identified by the police, he admitted having had an altercation with Gordon, claiming that the victim had "buted in" and followed himself and companion into the Black Horse Hotel and onto the street, leading up to a row.

The dead man had been boarding at the Workingman's Home, 39 Frederick-street, for the past two weeks, and was employed by a local contracting firm. His employers and acquaintances all speak well of him. He was not known as a drinking man.

Oliver was not noticeably intoxicated when arrested, but he has a criminal record, having gotten out of the Central Prison July 9 last year after serving a term for assault. He has been living at 129 Elm-street, a corner of University-avenue, over a Chinaman's shop.

The operation disclosed a fracture of Gordon's skull and severe injuries to the brain in the right vault of the head.

A charge of murder confronts Oliver, the this will likely be shaded to manslaughter by the magistrate. An inquest will be opened in the morgue by Coroner Winnett to-night.

"FATHER JOHN" RESURRECTED.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 25.—Hundreds of persons in St. Petersburg, chiefly of the prosperous class, have been induced to believe that Father John of Cronstadt, who died last New Year's Day, was resurrected at Easter. The police have arrested more than fifty self-styled Johnites, whose order has now been expelled from the city. Their aim is to establish a miraculous personality for their former master.

MAN KILLED IN STREET BRAWL

James Gordon Is Dead, and W. Oliver Is Under Arrest for Inflicting Blow.

Toronto has had three murders in three weeks, the third occurring Saturday afternoon within 200 feet of where James Dillon was found dead in Jarvis-street, beaten to death.

Wm. Gordon, a Scottish carpenter, 50 years of age, was found sitting propped up against a fence at the corner of Duchess and George-streets, at 5:15 Saturday afternoon, by P. C. Grant. Taking him for a drunk, the policeman called the patrol wagon; but when it arrived it was plain the man was in a serious state of unconsciousness, so he was driven to St. Michael's Hospital, where it was found necessary to operate on his skull. At 9:15 he died.

Gordon had been seen by several persons in the vicinity where he was found, and a police enquiry revealed that he had been punched in the mouth, his head forcibly striking the pavement. He had been dragged by two companions across the street, and propped against the fence.

From a description of the man who delivered the blow, Acting Detective Harry Armstrong of number 1 division arrested Gilbert Oliver, 29 years old, at 11:30 p.m. on West Queen-street opposite St. Michael's.

The award of the dramatic trophy will be announced later on.

INCENDIARY BY BAD LUCK

Horse Thief Accidentally Dropped a Match.

WINNIPEG, April 25.—Henry Watson, a young farmer of Winnipeg Beach, was arrested yesterday on a charge of stealing a team of horses from a neighbor named Chambers, and to afterwards setting fire to his stable, causing the death of 17 head of cattle.

He confessed to stealing the horses, but denied the burning of the barn was due to accident, as he dropped the match while taking the horses out.

BERESFORD MAKES THE MAIN FORCE AND AFT

Condition of Home Fleets Is a "Fraud on Nation"—Impartial Committee to Get at the Facts.

LONDON, April 25.—(Sun Cable.)—Prime Minister Asquith's announcement of his intention to make a private investigation into the present condition of the navy is of far greater significance than appears upon the surface. Admiral Lord Charles Beresford on leaving command of the fleet said before the premier a great mass of evidence upon existing conditions and the present policy of the navy forced to have an absolutely impartial committee to get at the facts.

It is just as well for the peace of mind of England that the matter should not be made public. It can scarcely be doubted that when the pending enquiry is completed there will be radical changes made in the policy of the admiralty. The questions involved do not deal in any way with the proposed new construction. They concern only the condition of the navy to-day as fighting force.

Beresford maintains silence so far as the public is concerned in regard to naval questions, but he has submitted his views in writing to Premier Asquith, who after holding the matter under consideration for twelve days, appointed a sub-committee to enquire into the facts. This committee consists of Mr. Asquith as president, Earl Secretary Sir Edward Grey, Secretary for War Haldane and Lord Cromer. No naval officer is a member, as it is deemed to have an absolutely unbiased tribunal. The terms of reference are clearly defined and very wide and sweeping.

Yesterday's meeting of the parliamentary naval committee, held in the house of commons, must not be confused with the sub-committee. Seventy members of the house were present at yesterday's meeting, representing all sections except the Nationalists and Laborites. Lord Charles Beresford attended and was received with cheers. He made a statement and answered questions. Some matters were animatedly discussed.

The members were pledged to secrecy, but The Times prints an apparently authoritative statement of the proceedings, which does not, however, give "the answers which Lord Charles Beresford particularly desired kept secret." It seems that Lord Charles disclaimed any feeling of animosity because he was relieved of his command. He declared that he would not consent just now to become a political candidate in order to avoid any possibility of his action being represented as partisan.

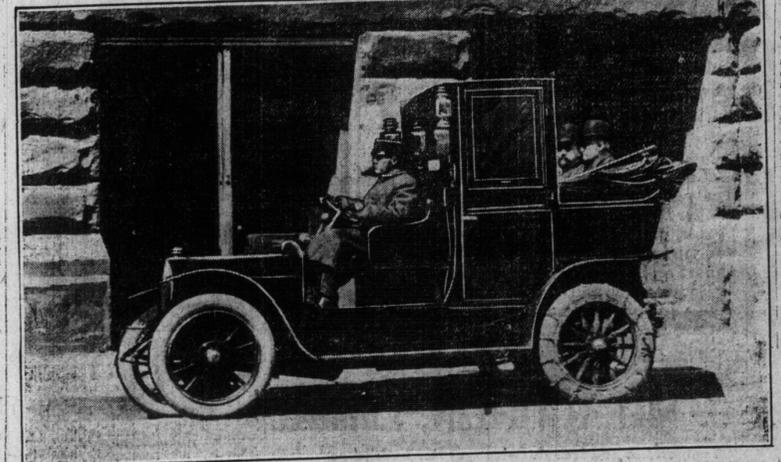

"A Fraud on the Nation." Lord Charles explained he did not see the future necessities of the navy in the North Sea; but in connection with the present condition of the home fleets referring to their condition, maintenance and preparedness for war in relation to expenditure, he said he would undertake to prove that a fraud upon the nation, and a phrase which he subsequently slightly modified.

He refused to answer some questions. In response to others he said that while the Dreadnoughts were unquestionably the most formidable ships in the world, they could not, owing to their size and difficulty of management, be utilized for some of the effective purposes for which ordinary battleships could be used. He discounted the idea of sea fights at 7000 yards. Such engagements, he said, would not likely be of a serious nature.

Other sources of information show that Lord Charles' great point is that the British navy is not prepared for war, but that its organization can be perfected without additional expenditure. He holds that the German navy is now far more powerful than is generally believed, owing to its superior organization for war, and that in 1912 its relative strength in this respect will be vastly increased unless the British war plans and organization be placed on a better footing in the interval.

ENGLISHMAN WINS EASILY FROM LITTLE FRENCHMAN

Crowd Show Disappointment Over Showing of St. Yves—Shrub Wins by One Lap and Three Quarters—Time 1:26.12.

NEW YORK, April 24.—(Special.)—The American League Baseball Park was brilliantly lighted to-night, and about 10,000 people braved the chilling atmosphere to witness the race between Henry St. Yves, the French champion, and Alfred Shrub, the English champion, over a five-lap track.

The betting made St. Yves favorite at odds of 8 to 5.

Reels Wins Preliminary.

The preliminary race was started at 8:25 p.m. for a jaunt of five miles, the event being won by Mike Spring, second; Bob Halleen, third; M. D. Butler, fourth. Time 2:37.25.

At the hour appointed for the main event, Shrub appeared on the track and challenged the winner. At 9 p.m. Shrub and St. Yves appeared on the track and sprinted around the track to timber up at 4:03 official time.

Two runners up and fired the pistol that sent them flying around on their journey. Shrub at once jumped into the lead and before half a lap had been traversed was in the lead by ten yards.

At the end of the first lap he led by two yards, but at the second had creased it to 40 yards, and 60 yards at the third lap.

The Englishman is setting a fast pace and the Frenchman was sixty yards behind at the end of the fourth lap. The end of the fifth lap finds Shrub still maintaining his lead.

At the end of the sixth lap Shrub led by a lap and thirty yards on the fourth lap, and is still drawing away from St. Yves.

THE KINRADE CASE.
Up to the present the coroner's inquest at Hamilton into the death of Miss Ethel Kinrade has been conducted with every consideration for the rights and interests of all the parties concerned, the ends of justice included. An attempt is now under way to frustrate that reasonable enquiry by reference to the courts on technicalities as to the authority of the coroner and the rights of the crown in the investigation. At the very moment when the solution of the mystery is in sight, this peculiar method is resorted to. This must not be. The crown and the coroner must be allowed a reasonable latitude, some would say the fullest latitude, in ascertaining all the facts of a murder that has shocked the whole community. Nor is it in the interest of public morals that an investigation of this kind should be allowed to drag along. Nobody is so much interested in getting at the bottom of the crime as the Kinrade family, and counsel for the family should assist to that end. There are some questions that must be answered by Miss Florence Kinrade, and the coroner and the crown must be free to ask them and to press for replies. There is nothing wrong in that; every consideration that has a bearing on the sanctity of human life and the production of the innocent calls for the fullest investigation.

SIR JAMES' WILD BEAST SHOW.
They do these things better in France. It helps us to reflect on anything that bears the approval of the royal warrant, but the heralds have surely gone Ontario an ill turn. To begin with, Ontario is not a bear province, but a bull province, and the pessimistic emblem which has been chosen as the crest of the premier province—and a black bear at that—will do more to destroy its credit than The Financial Post and the hydro-electric commission combined.

Of course it should have been a beaver. It was a beaver that used to come over to the old country on the postage stamps from Upper Canada more than a generation ago, and the beaver should have had the first call. Already the beaver has been badly enough treated to drive him to the north pole, as anyone may see who will take the trouble to study his turned up tail on the board of trade building. Then there are the supporters. They require support themselves, and we confess to an unwillingness to accord it. The moose has a goodly aspect, and his aristocratic Roman probovis has been sadly diminished. The lady-like deer may pass, but Ontario men know the difference between maple leaves and strawberry leaves, and they must protest that it is the maple leaf forever they want in their coat of arms.

There will be a certain awesome impressiveness for impending immigrants in this aggregation of wild beasts which may be serviceable in keeping away the less hardy and adventurous European wanderers. Artemus would used to have a moral exhibition of wax "jiggers" and living wild beasts, and it looks as though some of his posters had survived for the benefit of the Herald's College. The motto, being interpreted, declares that as in the beginning we were faithful so shall we continue to the bitter end. So be it.

LABOR AND SOCIALISM IN BRITAIN.
Interne dispute marks the relationship of the various labor and socialist organizations that have hitherto been acting in more or less agreement. Recently the Independent Labor Party and the Social Democratic Party each held its conference, the former at Edinburgh, the latter at Bristol. Both were marked, not only by considerable antagonism in general policy, but by bitter internal quarrels. The older trade unionists and the new socialists were never more sharply at variance, and the conflict to retain control and to gain control as between these two essentially differing elements was never more openly conducted.

Perhaps the most remarkable feature about the Turkish crisis is the equanimity with which the terrible occurrences in Armenia have been received. This cannot be due to any weakening sense of their character and tragic import on the part of the western nations. Had they occurred while the sultan Swinburne described in lurid phrase held the reins of power and remained undisputed control they would have been followed by such another storm of protest and demands for international interference as was evoked by previous tragedies. The reason for the apparent change must be looked for in the confidence felt in the character and ability of the leaders of the constitutional party, and in the desire to give them a real opportunity to carry their reform policy.

PAPER FROM COTTON FIBRE.
According to The Washington Post a new substitute has been found for pulpwood in the manufacture of all grades of print paper. The substance referred to is the fibre of cotton stalks, of which the south can supply twelve million tons yearly. Its suitability as a substitute for available cellulose has been demonstrated, and the proposition of equal weight to one-third of the weight of the cotton stalk. A company is in process of formation for the purpose of experimenting with the fibre. Commenting upon this The Houston Post remarks that "should the attempt prove a success, it will demonstrate beyond cavil that such a thing as an infant industry can be built up in this country without recourse to a protective tariff through the simple process of withdrawing protection from another industry which imposed such tax to build up a monopoly and become a burden upon the masses."

U. S. RECIPROCIITY.
Coming at the time it did the refusal of the United States to renew reciprocal trade relations with Canada was of signal importance for the future of the Dominion. Canadian nature of the Dominion, Canadian national sentiment, though not absent, was inchoate and had not found itself. Certainly had the material interests of the two peoples been identified or rather had Canadian interests become entirely dependent on United States goodwill, pressure of circumstances might have resulted in the entrance of British North America into the Union. The abrogation of the treaty was the turning point and the United States unwittingly, or from over-confidence in the relative position as then existing, provided the one effectual weapon that killed their policy of expansion. The responsible statesmen of the republic relied too much on the influence exerted by the course of trade at the moment and their action undoubtedly assisted the earlier stages of the movement towards closer imperial union.

Canada's various pilgrimages to Washington, ending in sharp rebuffs, acted as a further stimulus to national spirit. Other outlets for Canadian products were found, and as patriotism grew, so did the determination to become self-sufficing in every department of national life. Canada was forced in self-defence to adopt a protective policy. The Dominion's situation as a young and undeveloped country contiguous to a greatly larger nation highly developed industrially presented in sharp form the exceptional case conceded by John Stuart Mill to justify the imposition of a tariff for more than revenue purposes, and the result has thoroughly justified a protective tariff, just as it did in the earlier instances of the United States and Germany. Whatever may be said in disparagement of the height to which these countries have carried their tariff walls, the argument in favor of protection for their infant industries was sound and the remarkable increase in their industrial and commercial activity surpasses that of the United Kingdom.

With its industries thoroughly established and with a ratio of cost of production in important cases stated by reliable experts to be lower than that of its rivals, there is a growing sentiment in the United States favoring reduction in tariff rates and the renewal of reciprocity with Canada. The recent Detroit convention showed this unmistakably. The agitation will be watched with interest by Canadians, but it no longer concerns them to the extent with which they were once familiar. Looking to the present disparity in the size of their respective tariff walls proposals for mutual concessions are not likely to be welcomed unless it can be clearly shown that Canadian interests will benefit directly. If the United States wants to do anything along that line the way is open for a reduction in its own tariff rates. This under the favored nation clauses in international treaties would probably mean practically a general rearrangement of their duties, a matter not in immediate prospect, but only certain elements of which Canada will not permit her large natural resources to be drawn upon by her enterprising neighbors to the detriment of her own industrial development.

THE TURKISH CRISIS.
Perhaps the most remarkable feature about the Turkish crisis is the equanimity with which the terrible occurrences in Armenia have been received. This cannot be due to any weakening sense of their character and tragic import on the part of the western nations. Had they occurred while the sultan Swinburne described in lurid phrase held the reins of power and remained undisputed control they would have been followed by such another storm of protest and demands for international interference as was evoked by previous tragedies. The reason for the apparent change must be looked for in the confidence felt in the character and ability of the leaders of the constitutional party, and in the desire to give them a real opportunity to carry their reform policy.

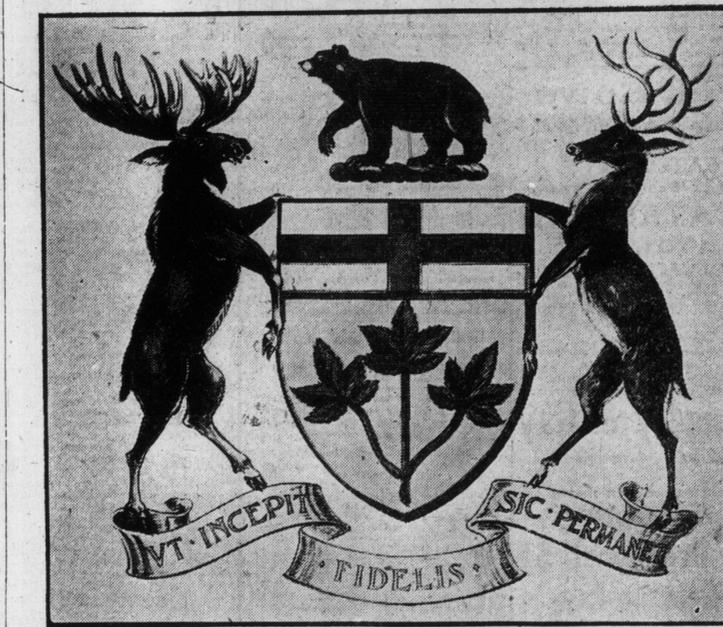

progressive and constitutional lines. Such a government it is hoped will come with the success of the Young Turks and there are grounds to warrant the expectation. Responsibility for the fanatical attacks of the Mohammedans of Armenia on their Christian fellow-citizens cannot be laid on the reformers, who have declared their determination to rule justly and to accord equal protection and equal rights to all nationalities. They have a heavy task before them and its gravity is recognized by the attitude of the leading European powers.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON.
"Jesus Christ is here to-day, not as an historical memory, but as the power of an endless life."
These words Rev. C. J. Little, D.D., LL.D., president of the Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., placed the personality of Jesus Christ before the students of Victoria College, when preaching the baccalaureate sermon in Trinity Methodist Church yesterday morning.

Rev. Dr. Little referred to the prophecies concerning Jesus, the events surrounding His life and centered his remarks upon the line from Luke iv. 21: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears."
The point to remember about Christ was that He restricted Himself to a kingdom not of this world, just as He refused the kingdom which the devil offered Him in the wilderness.
Cautioning the young preachers against omniscience, Dr. Little said all things should be rejected. Science as it advances evolves better and more definite terms. But in this respect they must be able to discern between truth and error. The doctrine of the immanence of God was acceptable to many, but that did not mean a diffusion throughout all things until God ceased to be a person.
Dr. Little urged those who were giving their lives to the ministry to be unflinching, and they must give up all to the work. They will be under the eye of the Divine Taskmaster all the while.
Those who are to be preachers should remember that they are to be the servants and interpreters of God. They must earn the divine "amen."
At the conclusion of the sermon Chancellor Burwash, who with the other members of the faculty of Victoria College was present on the platform, made a short address to the graduating class. He exhorted them to keep the divine ideal always in view, and remember that Christ was all and in all.

ONTARIO'S NEW COAT OF ARMS

Following an announcement in The Canada Gazette on Saturday of a royal warrant assigning crest and supporters to the shield bearing the heraldic emblems of the Province of Ontario, The World, thru the courtesy of Sir James Whitney, is able to reproduce an exact photograph of the completed design, which has been approved by the Heraldic College, London, and authorized by the King.

On his recent trip to Europe, Sir James was instrumental in having the matter properly taken up thru the proper channels.

In this connection the following statement has been handed out:
Shortly after confederation a royal warrant was issued by Her Majesty Queen Victoria, authorizing arms for each province of the Dominion, represented in the case of Ontario by the shield with which we are all familiar, and which forms a portion of the now completed coat of arms. The question of a "crest" and "supporters" to the Ontario shield has been discussed from time to time during the last ten or fifteen years, but no specific step was taken until lately. The matter is important, as involving the right of the Dominion and the provincial governments and of the courts to use the royal arms of Great Britain under any circumstances. It has been judicially declared that there is no such thing as the province of the Dominion of our superior courts, they being His Majesty's Judges. The appointment having originally the personal act of the sovereign, the judges are entitled to use the royal arms. The ordinary departments of the government being of statutory origin, have no such right.

E. N. Chadwick, well-known as an authority in such matters, was requested to take up the task of designing supporters, etc., and his work received the approval of Sir Mortimer Clark, the former lieutenant-governor, of the

LEGAL BATTLE TO WAGE OVER KINRADE WARRANT

Application is Made to Justice Teetzel to Set Aside the Hamilton Summons.

T. C. Robinette, K.C., on behalf of counsel for the Kinrade family, on Saturday applied to Justice Teetzel Osgoode Hall for a writ of certiorari, to set aside the bench warrant issued for the appearance of Florence Kinrade at the inquest to-night. Should the writ be denied, application will be made for a writ of habeas corpus to the same effect.

Mr. Robinette will argue that under the Ontario "Act Respecting Coroners" a coroner has no power other than to issue a bench warrant, and that he can only commit for contempt a witness who is actually in court before him. The English law and authorities, declares Mr. Robinette, are the same.

The section of the Ontario Act on which Mr. Robinette relies is as follows:
"If a person does not appear and give evidence as a witness, the coroner may impose on the delinquent a fine not exceeding $4. The fine shall be arrested, levied, and applied in a like manner as if it had been a fine imposed at the general sessions."

THE ENGLISHMAN'S DUTY

Members of St. George's Society to the number of about 300 attended service in St. James Cathedral last evening, when a special sermon was preached by his Lordship Bishop Sweeney of Toronto. Most of the officers were present, among them President Rufus S. Hudson and Secretary J. Gamble Boyd. The Union Jack and flag of St. George decorated the altar and pulpit. During service Canon Welch read the resolution adopted by St. James' congregation at the vestry meeting on Easter Monday evening in which they assured his lordship, the bishop, of their heartiest co-operation in his work as head of the diocese of Toronto.

In his sermon Bishop Sweeney chose as his text in the 14th verse of 148 Psalm, "A people near unto Him."
His lordship pointed out the pressing duty belonging to the members of the society as Englishmen and Canadians to build up in this country the very best traditions and to set up the best ideals of living. "Open your eyes my brethren and see what is taking place about you in the making of this young country of ours. How is this to be done if we take into account that nearly 300,000 immigrants came to Canada last year and less than one-twentieth of them were Englishmen? It is for you to help in assimilating and Christianizing this great mass who do not adhere to our standards of holiness."

FARM LIFE IN CANADA

Report of the Scottish Agricultural Commission.
LONDON, April 25.—The Scottish Agricultural Commission who visited Canada in 1908, have issued their report. It is an excellent analysis of agricultural conditions in Canada. They point out that Canada suffers from "honest exaggeration," as well as from superabundance of land agents and speculators but on the other hand it is a country of boundless agricultural possibilities. They recommend that no one should farm in Canada until he knows the country, its climatic conditions, and has learned experience as a hired hand or otherwise. It is recommended that their high appreciation of Big Cable Short Circuit.

A loud report like thunder, followed by a tongue of flame, alarmed recipient sinners at the corner of Avenue-road and Dupont-street Sunday morning about 11.30. A short circuit on the cable which conveys electricity to William Mackenzie's house caused the trouble. No damage was done, although several standing by objected to having the future brought before them so vividly.
The cable was erected some time ago by Mr. Mackenzie, with the consent of the city.

Premier Morris of Newfoundland Enters Action Against Newspapers.
ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 25.—Sir Edward Morris, the premier, has brought suit for $50,000 against The St. John's Evening Telegram, the leading newspaper organ of Sir Robert Bond's party. The premier alleges that The Telegram labeled Friday in commenting upon the case of Walter Baine Grieve, a prominent merchant, who was arrested a few days ago at the instance of Sir Edward, who charged Grieve with a letter accusing Morris of being in the pay of the Canadian Government for the purpose of furthering a plan to have Newfoundland annexed to Canada.
The campaign grows more bitter daily as election (May 8) approaches.

BULLISH SPECULATION STILL MAINTAINED AT WALL ST.

Public Interest Has Broadened—New High Records Made—Toronto Market More Buoyant.

World Office. Saturday Evening, April 24. British speculation is still well maintained in the New York stocks. During the week recoveries have occurred after the dip of the previous week and high prices for the year. Nothing occurred to the Turkish squabble to interfere with the upward movement and the break in the supposed wheat corner has not been welcomed. Public interest in the market has certainly broadened to a considerable degree, but the fluctuations of the week have not been accompanied by a substantial decline in the market.

Another heavy shipment of gold was engaged for South America at the week end, but these occurrences are of no moment at the moment to cause attention. On Tuesday the quarterly statement of the steel trust will be issued. It is expected that the quarterly statement of the steel trust will be issued. After a long period of recuperation in the local stock market, buoyancy is being regained. The market is showing signs of recovery and is expected to continue to improve. The market is showing signs of recovery and is expected to continue to improve.

Wall Street Pointers. German Government will float a loan of $200,000,000 on May 3. Rapid Transit Bill permitting building of subway by private capital in New York passes senate at Albany. Bradstreet's change trade conditions are without much significance in crop business and in industrial lines. Dun's Review talks about faith in the future being more pronounced and says that lower prices are stimulating activity in steel. Steel earnings of Tuesday will show declining tendency of business. Reports from northwest indicate that early in May has been overcome and crop outlook is improving daily. Copper production still indicates large surplus accumulation. Marshall Field & Co. say all classes of drygoods are more active in west. Latest reports indicate that professional opinion is more optimistic in the general crop outlook. In such event conservative and discriminating purchases on weak protection should be satisfactory to daily traders. Joseph says: Recession of 1-2 to 1 per cent. should assuredly be taken advantage of, since the movement will continue upward and toward the bill is a big point on B.H.T. now you may be sure you are right in buying this stock. The copper shares, including Anaconda, are going up. Specialists: Steam Pump preferred and M.K.T. cross 90. Buy Penna. and M.K.T. On Wall Street. Chas. Head & Co. to R. B. Bongard. Representatives of foreign banking houses said they did not look for any market effect from the Turkish news. Price movements here during the first hour were nearly all to higher levels. The advances in most instances being on outside buying. The bank statement was about what was expected. Miller & Co. wired Wallace & Eastwood as follows after the close: "In combination of unfavorable factors, including phases of the troubles in the Ottoman Empire, prospects of heavy export, etc., during most of the week, the market has not been much affected. At the last, however, the market was again firm. The week closes with many elements of conservatism. Among these we might name prospects of higher time money and the strong probability of heavier shipments of steel. In the strongest kind of hands, and with the market technically in a splendid position, we maintain our faith in a higher range of quotations."

NEW YORK, April 24.—The Post's London cable says: From financial London's point of view, tragedy and comedy are so pointed out in the Turkish situation that the outcome baffles forecast. Comedy is momentarily uppermost, which explains the market's optimism; but cautious investors refrain from increasing their commitments. It is perhaps significant that the London & Turkey party is trusted by European financiers as regards the public debt.

COBALT---Kerr Lake Mines Expected to Take Market Leadership---COBALT

Mining Markets Are Steady After Temiskaming Flurry

La Rose, Nip and Trethewey Firmest Issues---Bar Silver Higher---Temiskaming More Settled.

World Office, Saturday evening, April 24. The sudden raid on Temiskaming and the consequent sharp break in the price of shares for the first part of the week. Whether the rumor that a large block of shares were thrown on the market, was true, there is no authentic news. The up and down movement of this issue points more to market manipulation than to genuine selling. It is not thought reasonable that a holder of a large block of shares, who wished to get out, would put them all on the market at one time, but would rather sell them gradually, so as to keep the market steady, unless the seller wanted the issue knocked out for the purpose of replacing all or part of his stock at a lower figure. Whatever was the reason, it frightened outsiders away from the market and caused a marked falling off in business from last week. The market certainly showed signs of coming back to its normal condition towards the end of the week and allowing that the effects of the early excitement are now removed, as much steadier market should be seen next week.

La Rose, Nipissing and Trethewey have been the firmest spots in the market all the week. The confirmation of the La Rose-Lawson deal and the news that the La Rose would start work immediately on the Lawson property caused an active demand for this stock, and had a steady effect on the market in general. La Rose shows a gain in price of some ten points since last Saturday's closing. Nipissing, which rose ten points on the satisfactory report of the company for 1908, was somewhat scarce in the market, few shares changing hands even at the higher price. Trethewey was in good demand on the declaration of a ten per cent. interim dividend last week and the satisfactory condition of the company.

City of Cobalt and Chambers-Perland were dull, the latter more in sympathy with the general tone of the market than any actual pressure to sell; the former, which was subject of some heavy liquidation and short selling, showed a fall of some nine points on the week.

Beaver was in good demand all the week and showed an advance of 2 1/2 points. There was a rumor that the company had struck silver, which was apparently believed in some quarters, although no official confirmation was forthcoming.

The rest of the market was steady about last Saturday's closing. Shipments for last week were satisfactory. Taking into consideration the firmness of bar silver both at London and New York, and the general improvement in business at all centres, the market should broaden out again and business in this section should show marked improvement, especially if the market should be kept free from the manipulation or otherwise that was so in evidence this week.

J. P. Bickell & Co. say at the close: Heavy realizing and reinstatement of short lines were the features of the week, due mostly to the improvement in crop prospects and slackening cash demand. Situation, however, as far as old crop is concerned is a strong one, and as reserves at coming harvest will be abnormally small, in all probability few crop arrivals will be keenly contested for by milling interests, thereby leaving the position of the nearby futures, especially if present discounts prevail, one of exceeding merit, and will prove attractive to manipulators, also to the general speculative element.
Weather from now on will be the principal feature, and any adverse news will be the signal for sharp advance.
We continue to favor the holding position on all sharp dips from present level, believing that the possibilities are all on the long side for the next few months.

GREAT SILVER CAMP SAYS GOWGANDA MINE OWNER

Plenty of High Explosives and Supplies of All Sorts—Development Will Be Rapid.

"The diabase ridge at Gowganda running north and south along the west shore of the lake will be the scene of some remarkable discoveries this summer," said Capt. H. T. Munn, one of the leading mine owners of the camp, who was at the King Edward yesterday.

"I consider myself fortunate that I have secured some valuable claims up there," he said, "and they are well located. I adjoin the northeast corner of the Bartlett south group on which some remarkably rich discoveries of silver have been made. The Bartlett is undoubtedly one of the great silver mines of the north country. The striking that has been done has revealed some wonderfully rich ore, and No. 1 vein shows a tendency to broaden and carry higher values the farther down they go. I have been watching development of the Bartlett carefully, for I have committed myself to large investments in the surrounding properties. I still say, as I did to a reporter over a month ago, that I would be glad to duplicate my purchase at three times the price, and we have paid out already $100,000.

"The camp is in great shape for the coming summer. There is plenty of provisions and prices are reasonable. Gibson's supply store on the west side has a stock of $15,000 worth of all sorts of prospectors' supplies. HISTORY OF TWO GREAT CAMPS

GOWGANDA

"When the events of 1908 are lined up in the perspective of history, the discovery of the great silver deposits at Gow Ganda will take first place in the department of metallurgical enterprise."
The above paragraph raises the curtain on the interesting and fascinating story of this remarkable new camp, as told in the booklet of the Fairplay Mining Company, which will be sent on request, free of charge.
This tells the story of the camp, of its Indian traditions, its location, and of the discoveries, as written by one of the most competent writers in the Dominion of Canada, who was one of the first to see the camp, and who has personally inspected all the great discoveries which have made it famous. Lucidly and truthfully, the facts are presented, making a story that is probably not excelled in all that has been written of the silver camps of the north. The men who made the first discoveries, and the circumstances under which they found their way into the remote places of the north are well worth reading.
The story contains information that is invaluable to anyone who is interested in the silver fields.

JAMES TOWNSHIP

The same booklet contains an historical and statistical story of James Township, commencing from the time, many years ago, when an Ojibway Indian found cobalt bloom at Silver Lake and at Boland Lake. By process of events, this led up to the movement up the Montreal River in 1907, and the discovery of the mines of James Township. The great rush into the country in the winter of 1908-9, which is still in progress, is told vividly and faithfully.
The Fairplay Mining Company will send this booklet, on application, FREE OF CHARGE. The Company's Prospectus will also be sent to anyone asking for it in person or by mail. This contains the official report of Allan Klingensmith of Elk City on the Company's mines in James and Gow Ganda, the gentlemen who are directing the enterprise, and tells of the thoughtful features of organization, which make this Company unique.
The Prospectus also contains splendid maps of Gow Ganda and James Township, locating all the principal properties.

The Bishop of Algoma Sounds a Call to Service in the Land of Silver.

whom the Lord chose and taught and trained. On you all, laymen as well as clergy, I send my love. St. John xx, 21.
"The occasion of these words was the first Easter day. The disciples were gathered together in Jerusalem, meditating no doubt on the astounding incident that had reached them, that the Lord whom they had buried was risen again, when suddenly the Lord appeared unto them.
"Peace be unto you." It was the ordinary Eastern salutation, but Christ took these words and made them rich and comfortable to the stricken hearts of those distressed apostles.
"These words were a prelude to those that came after. Having given them peace in their hearts, He sent them forth to do His work.
"These words bring three thoughts to our minds. In the first place, they were given not only for those apostles

S. S. ANNIVERSARY

Bathurst St. Methodist Church School Celebrate 23rd Event.

Bathurst-street Methodist Sunday School celebrated their 23rd anniversary yesterday. Three services were held.
At the evening service Rev. T. Crawford Brown of St. Andrew's Church, preached. In the afternoon, Mrs. McClellan spoke to the children, and in the evening, Rev. Dr. Crumphy spoke. The children were grouped on the platform with the choir, and a singing, which was splendid, was led by F. C. Woodland. Large crowds attended the church during the day, and at the evening service hundreds were turned away.
This evening at 7.30 an interesting program will be given by members of the school.

REOPENING SERVICES

East Queen Street Presbyterian Church Has Been Reopened and Improved.

East Queen-street Presbyterian Church, Carlaw-avenue and Queen, was reopened yesterday after extensive enlargement and improvements. A beautiful new circular shaped Sunday school building has been erected adjoining the church, and the congregation has been worshipping in it for some months past. The church has been enlarged to a seating capacity of about 700 and an up-to-date organ installed, but it is thought that under the pastorate of the present popular incumbent, Rev. W. Hardy Andrews, M.A., a young man of exceptional ability and zeal, it will not be long before further room is needed. Rev. R. E. Knowles of Galt, the great Canadian preacher and author of several books, conducted the services yesterday in the absence of the pastor, who exchanged pulpits with him for the day, and preached an eloquent and instructive address in the morning and also occupied the pulpit in the evening. Bright services and singing characterized the opening, a feature of which was a solo efficiently rendered by a lady member of the choir during the offertory.
Attention should be drawn to the splendid pneumatic organ which has been installed. The instrument contains 1000 pipes, has two manuals and a detachable console ten feet from the organ case. A choir selection of stops render the instrument complete and efficient.
The organ was built in Toronto by Edward Lyle & Sons.
