CARLETON HOLSTEIN BREEDERS' CLUB

A Club With a Name and an Aim Well Worth the Support of All Holstein Breeders in the County

One of the greatest obstacles to the more rapid growth of the livestock industry in this county is the isolation of the farms upon which are to be found animals of good breeding and high quality, a condition which gives rise to a great lack of uniformity in the stock produced. Realizing that only through co-operative measures could any appreciable stimulus be given to the production of a type of Holstein cattle, one of the dominating breeds to be found in Carleton, and knowing that there were a few breeders who looked favorably upon such action, a meeting was called and held on April 10, 1920, at the Carleton County Vocational School, Woodstock. The meeting was attended by a representative group of breeders of the "black and white" from different parts of the county. The objects of the proposed club were outlined, and, with but little discussion, all of which was favorable, the organization was formed and duly entrusted in the care of capable officers. A formidable set of by-laws were adopted and later adhered to. The objects of the club are the promotion of good fellowship amongst its members and the advancement of the general interests of the Holstein-Friesian breed of cattle by the holding of public sales at auction, by encouraging the entry of cows and heifers in the advanced registry, by discussions of the best methods of breeding, rearing and exhibiting, and raising the standard of excellence of the breed, or bringing before the public the good qualities and exceptional merits of the breed, and in other ways to generally widen and extend the interests of this breed of cattle by acting in unison upon all occasions which demand it, and by establishing for Carleton county a reputation as a centre for the best Holstein-Friesian cattle.

The membership of the club as at present constituted, is confined to persons who own at least one pure bred, registered, and who pay the annual membership fee of two dollars. Besides assisting the individual members in locating buyers and sellers, the club, through its monthly meetings during the winter months, has proven itself to be of an educational value. At these meetings, programs covering topics of common interest are arranged and rendered, resulting in discussions from which benefit is usually obtained. Because of the relationship of the Vocational School to the association it is often arranged to procure speakers from outside the county to address the club members. In thus assisting local organizations the Vocational School is endeavoring to fulfill one of the purposes for which it was established, namely, to become the community centre for gatherings of an educational and social nature, catering especially to rural residents. The breeders club, through its educational and advertising campaigns, hopes to stimulate interest in a better class of cattle throughout the county. The club does not pretend to indicate to non-members that without pure-bred stock it is folly for them to continue raising livestock—it is a recognized fact that many good grades prove efficient in the fall—but the club does endeavor to interest farmers keeping grade Holsteins in the establishing of a good type, well-bred, pure bred sire, for its members fully recognize the importance of a good sire in the grading up of a grade herd and in maintaining production, vitality and vigor in the established pure-bred herd.

The present officers of the club are: President, John Parvis, Woodstock; Vice-pres., Fred Brown, Lower Brighton; Sec.-Treas., R. W. Maxwell, Woodstock; Directors, J. Allen McDougall, Debec, H. B. Hemphill, Debec, K. Kidney, Hartland, Herb. Lindsay, Woodstock, H. Smith, Woodstock, G. S. Penbody, Woodstock. The secretary will be pleased to supply to anyone at any time, information with regard to the club work, stock for sale, etc.

CHARGED WITH SERIOUS CRIME

Sheriff Foster on Tuesday arrested Geo. Elliott of River Bank, on a charge of attempted assault, his victim being a child named Rideout, ten years of age. The alleged assault was committed while Elliott was accompanying the little girl through the woods to his home a distance of about half a mile. The girl struggled away from him and a man appearing about this time she was able to get back to her home. Next morning Elliott went to the home of Samuel Rideout, father of the child, and attempted to settle the matter.

Rideout at once telephoned the law officers which resulted in Elliott being brought before stipendiary magistrate, L. A. Noble, at Bristol where he was remanded for preliminary hearing on the 13th instant. Elliott is married and has three children. He is 42 years old. He is having his hearing before Police Magistrate Noble at Bristol.

The details of time will be given as quickly as received. Train 154 will leave Aroostook at 4.10 a.m. and 153 to arrive here 11.30 p.m. is all we can say of the time at present. This train will enable passengers to reach such points as St. John, Fredericton, St. Stephen, Houlton, etc. and return passengers to travel to New England as well as New Brunswick points in daylight. A good patronage is hoped for to warrant this service.

HARTLAND-GRAND FALLS GAME OF JUNE 8 TO BE REPLAYED

The ball game played at Hartland on June 8, between Hartland and Grand Falls, which resulted in a dispute as to whether the teams should have continued playing or whether the game should have been awarded to Grand Falls or Hartland, as the Grand Falls team refused to play any longer on account of darkness as they claimed, has been ordered to be replayed by A. W. Covey, the president of the Maritime Provinces, Branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, in a letter to Mr. C. D. Dickson, the Official Umpire of the game. Mr. Dickson is very much pleased with Pres. Covey's decision as it confirms his own impression which he considers justly fair. A copy of Pres. Covey's letter follows:

"Your letter of June 8, received and would have been answered before but I have been out of town. With reference to the Hartland-Grand Falls Game, the only thing I see to do in this instance is to order the game replayed, because of the fact that the game to my mind, was really played too long for Players to properly see the ball and to handle it properly. From the information you gave me, the 8th inning was finished at 8.30 p.m. Now I would like to state that in St. John, where we have several leagues running, all games are scheduled to stop at 8.45 p.m., starting at 7.15 and this is under new time which would mean that we start at 6.15 old time and quit at 7.45 p.m., which allows an hour and a half of ball. We figure on about 7 innings in evening games. For the next month however, games could be played until 9 o'clock, that is 8 o'clock in your section, without difficulty on account of these being the longest days in the year.

There is another matter which I would like to draw your attention to. That is, that it is the duty of the Umpire to call the game whenever in his opinion it is not fair to the opposing teams to go on. It is not a question of what the Captain of the different teams think, it is up to the Umpire, Rule 40 in Spalding's Guide explains the duties of the Umpire.

In the case of the Grand Falls team should not have left the field, neither should the Hartland team insisted on playing after hour above stated, so that in my opinion this game should be ordered played over again at the end of the season if necessary to decide a winner in the League.

Now with reference to your question re a batter trying to steal home from 3rd base. Section 5, Rule 56, of the Spalding Guide explains this very thoroughly. The player was out and no run should have been scored.

Trusting that things will run along smoothly and wishing you every success, I am, yours truly,

A. W. COVEY, Pres.

FLORENCEVILLE BEATS GRAND FALLS

Florenceville defeated Grand Falls on Tuesday morning at the latter place by a score of 12 to 10. The game was scheduled for Monday night, but was postponed on account of rain. Florenceville has been doing considerable practicing lately and no doubt will make things a little warmer as the league progresses. No further word has been received up to time of paper going to press.

HARTLAND NINE PINS DEFEAT ON PERTH

Hartland stopped Perth's winning streak last evening when they defeated the up river team by a score of 4 to 2. This was Perth's first defeat of the season and was a well earned and hard fought game, both teams playing well. The Perth boys had five hits to their credit against Hartland's nine. Billings for Hartland pitched a fine game and had nine strikeouts. He passed one man on a base on balls. Henshaw for Perth had four strikeouts and passed one man to first. He pitched a good game but was hit hard at opportune moments by the Hartland players when a hit meant a run.

In the second inning Adams replaced Boyer in right field having been unable to get to the grounds in time for the start. In the second inning Hatfield ran for Billings, while in the fourth and sixth innings Lavigne ran for Adams who was deliberately spiked by Dionne in the fourth inning when the runner (Adams) was thrown out at first. This caused considerable comment from the spectators who easily got Dionne's goat thereafter. Adams' foot was badly bruised. In the third inning O. Hovey made a nice throw from left field to Boyne who caught McCrea out at the flat by a close margin. Hatfield, who was shifted to second played a good game on his initial appearance on this sack, while Paynter who formerly held that position was shifted to short. This strengthens infield considerably.

Rain fell shortly before the game, but not enough to do any harm. Mention might be made here that the long grass in left and centre field has been cut. Thanks to the kind hearted one. The Perth team was accompanied by about 75 supporters who made the trip by auto. Hartland ought to have a few supporters who would take as much interest in the team as our up river town.

The summary: Two base hits—Hartland 2, Perth 3; Three base hits—Perth 1; Sacrifice hits, Hartland 1; Hits off Billings 3, off Henshaw 3; Saves on balls—off Billings 1, off Henshaw 1; Struck bases—Hartland 2, Perth 2; Left on bases—Hartland 2, Perth 7; Struck out by Billings 9, by Henshaw 4; First base on errors—Hartland 6, Perth 3; Passed balls—Boyne 3, Lewis 2; Wild pitches—Billings 2, Henshaw 1.

Umpires: C. D. Dickson, Dr. Dickson.

Attendance, 200. Time of game, 1 hr. 50 min. Length of game 9 1/2 innings.

The Hartland Baseball team have arranged a number of games with outside teams, a few of which are announced as follows: On June 17, Hartland plays at Bridgewater, Me., the game to start at 3 o'clock.

June 20—Limestone plays at Hartland.

June 22—Hartland plays at Limestone, Me.

June 24—Grand Falls plays at Hartland. (League Game.)

June 28—Island Falls plays at Hartland.

July 4—Hartland plays at Island Falls. (Two games.)

AUTOS FROM NEW BRUNSWICK SUBJECT TO MAINE LAWS

New Brunswick auto drivers in Maine should remember that when they cross the line they are subject to the laws here the same as Maine drivers.

Inspectors are now stationed in all towns in Aroostook and they will see that the laws are enforced.

Travelers from the other side of the line should remember that they must not use plain lenses on their headlights, that they must have their rear lights burning, that they must not exceed 15 miles per hour in the town limits, and that the use of cut-outs is strictly prohibited.

A conformity to these rules will save visitors to our town any annoyance, as the inspectors are on the job and will enforce the laws, not only on cars from across the border but everyone who drives a car.

One of Houlton's auto drivers was fined for fast driving in Woodstock Sunday—a warning to Maine drivers traveling in New Brunswick—Houlton Times.

THE HOME THAT WINS

Right into the hands of every father, the Boy Scout Movement puts an insurance policy for his boy's future. Scouting is not something outside the home to turn your boy over to, and forget about. Scouting is the most active force ever let loose in the world for welding father and son together into a winning team for home and country.

Every father does not realize that the average New Brunswick boy is awake 5,500 hours a year. You put him in school for 900 of these hours and everlastingly keep after him to make good. You place him in church and Sunday school for perhaps another 100 hours and let him know you are looking for results. You keep him around home and under your watchful eye for probably 1,500 of his waking hours and then turn him loose for his play—2,000 hours a year—and that's the end of it. Why? Because you are past the play age or think you are.

Yet right here, in these hours he is away from home and other wholesome influences is where your boy forms his character and needs you most. Scouting gives you, as a father, a complete playtime programme through which you can win your son for life. Scouting wins, and the home that "puts in" Scouting wins too.

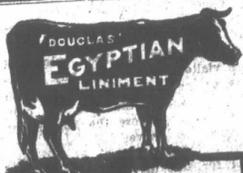

Scouting is the manliest programme ever devised for a boy. As Associate members of the Boy Scouts Association fathers unite with their boys in Scouting. They become pals with their sons and "home Scoutmasters" backing up the regular Scout leaders. The home with Scouting in it wins. If Scouting is not in your home, a letter addressed to The Provincial Headquarters of the Boy Scouts Association, 24 Ritchie Building, St. John, will bring you back a reply telling you how you can help to put it there.

METHODIST DISTRICT MEETING

The annual district meeting of the Woodstock district was held at Lakeville on the 11th and 8th inst. All the ministers in active work were present and a good representation of laymen, all of whom were royally entertained by the good people of Lakeville. The sessions were presided over by the chairman, Rev. F. A. Wightman. On Tuesday evening Rev. M. E. Conron, M. A., of Woodstock preached an able sermon to a large congregation after which the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was dispensed to a large number. On Wednesday morning the ministerial session was opened by suitable devotional exercises. The chief feature of this session was the hearing of the application of George Readman, late of England, to be accepted as a candidate for the ministry. Mr. Readman had previously passed creditable examinations in literature and theology before the conference board of examiners and after a lengthy oral examination before the district, was unanimously recommended to conference to be taken on probation. Mr. Readman has been supplying the Canterbury circuit since last September. The district meeting was largely occupied with receiving of reports of the year's work from the various circuits, which comprises ten changes and extends from Canterbury to Andover. These reports were uniformly encouraging. There were additions to membership on every charge. After deducting deaths and removals there remained a net increase of 37 over the previous year. There had been 63 baptisms, 90 marriages and 55 funerals. For missions and other benevolent friends there was raised the splendid sum of $17,216, while for the local purposes the sum of $7,008 has been raised, and for salaries $11,960 was contributed making the total for all purposes an aggregate of $34,355. It was also reported that in connection with the Methodist National Campaign the N. B. & P. E. I. Conference stood at the head of the list of all the Canadian Conference with a paid up subscription of about 90 per cent, while the Woodstock district stood at the head of all the districts with paid up subscriptions of nearly 100 per cent. This is surely a record to be proud of. This constitutes our banner year and a leading position in relative givings and this in a year of financial depression.

The laymen elected to represent the district at the conference in Sackville are as follows: A. E. Plummer, Chas. Baker, John A. Waters, S. H. Havens, L. A. W. Hunter, J. A. Graham, John Lindsay, W. H. Murchie, Mrs. W. J. Donville, Mrs. John Lindsay. The reserves were: E. J. McCollom, W. H. Carvell and Miss Pauline Gray. The election to the various conference committees were made, the most important of which in some respects is the stationing committee. To this committee was elected the Rev. J. K. King to be associated with Rev. F. A. Wightman. Resolutions were passed as follows: One of sympathy to Rev. T. Spencer Crisp in view of his bereavement in the death of his father, the Rev. Jas. Crisp; one of sympathy with Rev. E. C. Turner of Delbec in his recent sickness expressing the hope of a speedy recovery. The thanks of the district was by resolution given to the chairman in view of his early departure to a new field of labor. The thanks of the district was also tendered to the kind people of Lakeville for their hospitality in entertaining the members. The meeting a year hence will meet at Bloomfield. A resolution of appreciation of the services of Rev. F. A. Wightman as chairman: "As a district we learn with regret that the term of office of

WINDSOR WHISPERINGS

On June 7, a baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Orser. Mrs. Joseph Tedford and little son Allen of Bancroft, Me., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Tedford and Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Dickinson. Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Dickinson, Mrs. H. L. Dickinson, and Mrs. P. E. Dickinson motored to Houlton Friday. Mrs. Clifford Dickinson is spending a few days with her friends, Mrs. A. Thompson, Wakefield.

The new Baptist minister held service at the church Sunday night. The missionary meeting at G. B. Wasson's was a decided success. About forty were present. The next meeting will be at J. E. Tedford's. The ice-cream parlor at S. R. Hatfield's is well patronized Saturday nights.

A NEW DEPARTURE

This year will mark in the history of Baptists and their step in advance. The N. B. Association, composed of ten districts is dissolved and will henceforth assemble in three associations, viz.: The Western, Southern and Eastern.

This procedure unifies our work in these Maritime provinces and brings three gatherings much nearer to the individual church, this largely increasing its interest. The largeness of the N. B. Association makes it almost impossible for the smaller communities to entertain it, and the long distances separating the churches make attendance difficult and costly. The formation of three associations will make it possible to come much nearer to the local church and will permit a larger interest and a much closer supervision.

The Western Association embracing districts 1, 2, 3 and 4 will convene at Woodstock, June 24-26. It is to be hoped that every church will be represented by one or more delegates. The meetings will be of much interest.

"At Forty-Five"

"YES, at my age I suppose I should expect a change in my condition. But I am so nervous and irritable, so easily excited and worried, that I cannot understand what is wrong."

"I know just how you feel, my dear, for I have gone through exactly what you are experiencing now."

"But you are not nervous." "No, not now, but I was in a far worse condition than you are, when a friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I need not tell you more, for you know how well I have been for the last few years."

Mrs. H. Alchorn, 23 Gerald St., Charlottetown, P. E. I., writes: "Dr. Chase's Nerve Food was recommended to me by an aunt who used it while passing through the change of life and was completely built up by its use. From my experience as a wife and mother I find that the majority of users are women, especially women passing through the change of life; next to young mothers, to regain strength after baby comes, and also by mothers for their young daughters entering their womanhood. While it is good for all classes of humanity, I am sure it is especially so for women, as they seem to be troubled most by nervous diseases."

THIS MAN DREADED TO SEE NIGHT COME

Was So Restless He Couldn't Sleep and Daylight Was Always Welcome

"With the exception of a little milk toast, which comprised my diet for more than eight weeks, I could not eat anything," said Capt. Geo. W. Womble, residing at 105 Jennings St., Knoxville, Tenn., a highly respected citizen of that city.

"I am now able," continued Captain Womble, "after taking two bottles of Tanlac, to eat practically anything. I had a bad form of stomach and intestinal trouble for a long time and for months my condition had been such that I suffered agony. I got so I could not eat the simplest food. I tried doctor after doctor and all kinds of medicine, but nothing that was prescribed for me seemed to do me any good. I had terrible pain in my breast just over my heart and for weeks and weeks I got no relief.

"I finally got so nervous that I actually dreaded to see night come as I could not sleep and was always so restless that I would rejoice to see daylight come. I was also constipated all of the time. In fact, life seemed a burden and I was so miserable that I was almost on the verge of despair. Several of my neighbors told me about Tanlac and advised me to try it.

"I am personally acquainted with Mr. Dan M. Chambliss, of the firm of Kuhlman & Chambliss, and when I told him of my condition and how I suffered he advised me to begin taking Tanlac without delay and that it had relieved hundreds of the best people in Knoxville. I have now taken two bottles of Tanlac and am giving you this testimonial in the hope that it may induce others to take it. Since taking this medicine I actually feel like I had been made all over again with the youth, energy and ambition of a sixteen year old boy."

EASY TO RAISE BANDIT ARMY

Manuel Lozada Made Hunger His Chief Recruiting Sergeant and Thereby Rose to Power.

Manuel Lozada, the Mexican bandit, whose remains now lie in the cemetery near Tepic, in the newly made state of Nayarit, gave the key to the whole Mexican problem by his strategy in organizing armies, declares Charles Johnston, in The Atlantic. Lozada was notable because he waged war against three presidents, Benito Juarez, Lerdo de Tejada and Porfirio Diaz, and because he raised and equipped armies of peons strong enough to attack great cities like Tepic and Guadalupe, in a struggle lasting from 1870 to 1877.

It was Lozada's custom, when a new campaign against the central authorities was in contemplation, to send his bodyguard down from their lairs in the high Sierras to the fertile plains, with orders to cut down all banana plants, thus destroying the chief food supply of the native villages.

The peons starved for a while, and watched their women and children starve, then they came up the mountains in a body and begged Lozada to enroll them in his army of bandits to lead them forth to plunder, which for them meant simply food.

This gives a clue to the situation, declares Mr. Johnston, because it shows that banditry and plunder are the last resource of hungry peons, pressed beyond the verge when their meager sustenance is cut off.

MARKS RICHELIEU'S TRIUMPH

Why Eleventh Day of November is Known in French History as the "Day of Dupes."

Few people know that the whimsical title, "The Day of Dupes" has been given to the 11th of November, 1630, and that it was so named on the occasion of the triumph of Cardinal Richelieu over his enemies, who imagined they had cast him to the ground, never to rise again.

Maria de Medici had promised upon her weakling son, Louis XIII, to dismiss him from office as prime minister, and this scheming woman had so difficulty in persuading the fickle and weak-minded king to carry out her wishes, and, furthermore, to raise to that dignity Richelieu's mortal enemy, the Marshal De Merillac.

Richelieu was prevailed upon by his friends to make one last effort to prevent the ruin which seemed ready to fall on him. With this view he proceeded to Versailles, then only a small hunting lodge recently purchased by Louis, where he had an interview with his sovereign.

The result was that the king again surrendered himself into the cardinal's hands, and Richelieu succeeded in binding the chains on Louis more firmly than ever, establishing himself with a sway which was absolute. He did not fail to take vengeance on his enemies, and among others the Marshal De Merillac was brought to the scaffold.

Football Language in Britain. However the ordinary journalist may have to curb his pen, the descriptive reporter of football can still give rein to his fancy and his rhetoric with little fear of the sub-editorial blue pencil. To him a match is usually a "tourney," and the ball lends itself to such varied description as "the leather," "the oval," "the globe," or even the "bounding sphere." If the players hail from Sheffield, they are "knifegrinders;" from Northampton, "cobblers;" from Luton, "strawhatters;" from Reading, "biscuiters;" from Devonshire, "cider drinkers;" and from West Ham, "hammers."

The swift runner is "twinkleshoes," or has "brilliant boots." If a player is skillful in head play, he "uses the cranium with brilliant effect," or does "good brain-box work." If the ball hits a man on the nose, he "receives a smacker from the spheroid on his proboscis."

Prickly Pear Proving Fast.

Australia is suffering from a prickly pear pest, which takes advantage of the rivers as a means of spreading. Shoots break off from the parent plant growing along a stream and the part is carried downstream to found a new colony. Thousands of acres are being ruined yearly owing to the ravages of this plant, and no means have been discovered of stopping its march. Rolling, spraying and poisoning have proved ineffectual, and it is hoped that some scientist may find some commercial use for the plant.

Indian Women Progressing.

Oklahoma Indian girls are as much interested in the canning campaign as their paleface sisters. In Beckham county, Okla., they attend all the meetings held by the home demonstration agent, and this year made an excellent booth exhibit of the fruit and vegetables they had canned and dried. One Indian woman also exhibited 100 chickens of her own raising.

London's Housing Problem.

The London housing board has inspected 2,000 houses that may be converted into flats. Of these 1,000 have been approved and work is to be commenced immediately. Work has also been begun on 8,000 houses.

Soldiers and Banana Growing.

The New South Wales government has not been long in providing its returning soldiers with work. One of the enterprises undertaken with this object is the cultivation of bananas on a large scale. There is a fruit crop that yields such a quick return as the banana and in the present flourishing state of the market no better undertaking could have been suggested, given the right man. It is not work for the lazy. But among the demobilized troops are plenty of men who are young, tough and teachable. Four hundred acres have been taken as a beginning and each settler has 12 months' probation before a block is entrusted to him. The sum of £325 is advanced to each for implements, stock, and house-building material. The soldiers have already started and enjoy their rough life in the hills. The experienced planter, Mr. G. Ross, who is in charge, sees nothing but success ahead in reward for their efforts.

PUBLIC MEETING

Hartland, June 27, 1921, 2 p.m.

To the School Trustees, Secretaries, and all interested Rate-payers of Carleton County

At a well attended Special School Meeting on the 7th inst. the Hartland ratepayers unanimously voted to turn down the new schedule of Teachers Salaries. No one had anything against the teachers getting more pay if they could, but the opinion of this meeting was decidedly against putting the second raise over on the people, it being felt that an effort should be made to secure this from the government. At present, a teacher getting about $600 receives only about $100 Grant. The point of least resistance was considered to be the people. If the Trustee Boards do not resist this new schedule, it will soon become law, with penalties attached, as did the last schedule which came into effect only last January. Notice that the January minimum included Government Grant, but the new schedule is the minimum from the Trustees. We think this whole matter should be promptly considered and discussed and therefore take the liberty to call a public meeting of Trustees, Secretaries and all interested ratepayers. A good strong Trustee Union could pull with the Teachers Union, to put the burden where it belongs, viz.—on the shoulders of the local government. Aside from teachers salaries there should be a good strong Organization of Trustees to consider many other matters of importance. This Union could then impress on the Government its opinions, wishes and needs. We would like to have at least one Trustee and Secretary from each District. Think it over, talk it up and arrange to come.

By Order of Board of Trustees, J. STIRLING KING, Secretary

Lightning can't strike if your buildings are rodged by our trained dealers with the "Shinn Flat" cable. Every year courses in installation are given and all Shinn Flat dealers are taught the principles of Lightning Rod Protection. The lectures are given by experts or scientists. This year's course for Maritime dealers was held at St. John, N. B., April 11, 12 and 13. Professor W. H. Day, who was for 15 years professor of Physics at the Ontario Agricultural College is in charge of these conventions.

Canada's most important buildings—the new parliament buildings at Ottawa, is rodged with "Shinn Flat" cable. Why? Because Shinn Flat Copper Cable has 36 per cent more capacity as a lightning conductor than the same number of wires woven into the form of a round cable. It was after careful investigation Shinn Flat Lightning Rods were selected by the engineers and architects as the best and most efficient.

When you want the best, second to none, ask McQuarrie & Dickinson, Hartland, and they will tell you all about the Shinn Flat.

Bird Outruns Horse.

Anyone who has traveled through western Texas becomes familiar with the mesquite tree, or, as it sometimes grows, a shrub. In some places where it may grow to be 30 or 40 feet high, it is commonly known as the chaparral. The American Forestry Magazine of Washington, here it is scrubby and masses into dense clumps, it being the home of that famous bird the "road-runner" or chaparral cock, and other species. The road runner is really a big ground cuckoo, that only takes to flight when hard pressed, while on open ground it can run so fast that an ordinary horse cannot keep up.

Speedy Animals.

Two of the fastest of the smaller animals are the greyhound and the jack rabbit. The greyhound can go at the rate of 32 miles an hour, while his cousin, the Russian wolfhound, can beat him by five miles and has much greater power of endurance. The greyhound, like the horse, digs in with his forefeet and uses his front legs for pulling as well as pushing with his hind legs. The jack rabbit's front legs are only crutches, but, like the antelope, he makes up for it by the power of his hind legs.

Sealed New France.

"The Hundred Associates" also known as "The Company of New France," were granted full powers of government and a monopoly of trade in 1663 in New France, they engaging to settle 4,000 colonists in ten years, which they largely failed to do. Their rights were reduced in 1684, and finally withdrawn.

Half's Cataract Medicine

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Cataract's medicine is a local disease. It is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALF'S CATARACT MEDICINE is a Tonic and Blood Purifier, and sets through the blood upon the various organs of the body, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions. All druggists. "Cataract's" Trade, P. J. Casey & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

STIRLING KING, Sec. 53-2, Box 15, Hartland, N. B.

GOLD WRIST WATCH LOST

Lost between Victoria Corner and Weststack on Sunday June 5, a lady's wrist watch. Finder please notify MRS. ELDON C. ESTEY Greenfield, 53-2.

ADVICE WANTED.

"I'm in a fix with my girl!" said young Dumb, disconsolately.

"Why?" replied his sympathetic friend, "what's the matter, my boy? Have a row?"

"No, it isn't that. You see, I've been saying so many nice things to her that she's getting conceited. I can't stop it and I can't keep it up."

"Well, you see, if I keep on she'll begin to think she's too good for me, and if I stop she'll think I don't care for her any more."

An Old Favorite.

"They did Mr. Grabeen enjoy the concert?"

"He didn't know what it was all about at first, but he showed symptoms of life when the prima donna responded to her third encore."

"Yes?"

"She sang 'Annie Laurie.' He recognized that tune as one he used to play on the harmonica."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

In a Bad Fix.

"Maud is in a terrible predicament. That rich old man she has promised to marry has offered to have his life insured in her favor."

"I should say that was extremely considerate of him."

"But you don't understand. If his physical condition is such that any insurance company will accept him as a risk she doesn't want to marry him."

TERM ONLY.

The 'I'm large, I'm quite attractive' So the gallant man affirm; But I wonder Are they truthful Or is gallant just a term?

Obstruction.

You'll always find a faction That is hard to understand, Who criticises action When it ought to lend a hand.

An Optimist.

"I'm sorry to see you here," said the friend of a convicted bank embezzler. "Oh, there isn't much change, after all," said the prisoner, cheerfully.

"No?"

"You see, I had been shut up in a cage and looking through bars for years before I came here. These bars are just a little thicker, and instead of being brass they are steel."

Tact.

"Pa, what is tact?" "It's give you an illustration, son."

"Yes, pa."

"Tact is what prevents a gray-haired man with a wrinkled face from repulsing a youthful looking woman in a knee-length skirt that they were boy and girl together."

An Unfortunate Mistake.

A Dublin magistrate asked a prisoner to explain why he was found lying in the gutter.

"Stirre, yer honor," answered the inebriate, "I just happened to walk between two lamp posts an' laned against the wrong one."

Tastes.

Stella—I'm going to get a Hudson seal.

May—My, but your appetite is developing! I can remember when you were daffy about Columbia river salmon.—Cartoons Magazine.

Prebly Thus.

"This feller Daniel, Professor—"

"The Daniel who went into the lion's den?"

"Yeah—him. I just wanted 't ask, was he already married and didn't care, or was he training for it?"

Frenzied Finance.

Crawford—How in the world did you manage to get square with your landlord?

Crabshaw—I got him to take my old car for the rent.

SOMETHING DESIRABLE. "Who—if you don't stop being so mean to me I'm going home to mother."

He (quickly): Is that a promise or just a threat?

A Quess Job.

The gentleman's job is rather quess; He pulls, mid many a groan, The teeth of others to obtain Employment for his own.

High Times.

"Oh, mamma! Come here, quick! Look, well, Mabel; what is it?" "Look! Papa's found a quarter in his vest pocket!"

To That Extent.

"Erwin is an optimist, isn't he?" "Well, yes, in a way—he feels that he might be a lot worse than he is."

A Matter of Ranges

By WILL T. AMES

(© 1921, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

For eleven months of each year Herbert Calhoun built bridges, dams, piers and additions to his reputation as an engineer. Each August he steadfastly refused to do any work at all, but reserved the month to the utter relaxation of fishing for tautaug at a very precise point ranged by the steps of Cave Harbor church and a certain blasted oak across the cove one way and the direction line of the Halliday family's private pier the other way. The ranges established to a foot, the whole of the eighth month she swam, canoed, danced and had, on the whole, probably the best all around good time of any of the girls of the rather exclusive Cave Harbor summer colony.

Of course, of all things in the world the most natural and befitting would be that these two doers of things, the thirty-six-year-old engineer and the twenty-eight-year-old sociologist, both spending a month's vacation at the harbor every year, should be at least interested acquaintances. Herbert Calhoun, on his reputation alone, was a man not to be ignored anywhere.

Bernice Halliday, whose name was identified with half the factory welfare legislation in her home state in the last three years, was a bit of a celebrity as well as a most uncommonly fine-looking young woman.

Yet as Bernice sat on the end of the Hallidays' pier in her bathing suit, swinging her trim and besocked legs over the water, and as Calhoun brought his stubby skirt to an anchorage a hundred feet off the end of the pier, there was no sign of anything like enthusiastic sympathy between them. The least that might have been expected of the masculine neighbor would be a friendly wave of the hand. And the least that might have been looked for from the feminine one would be a cheery "Going to try them again?" or some equally amiable banality.

As a matter of fact, Herbert Calhoun merely acknowledged the existence of Miss Halliday by a stiffly perfunctory bow, and Miss Halliday's return of that meager courtesy was so very casual that an onlooker would have been hard put to it to make affidavit that she had reciprocated at all.

For thirty long minutes the man in the boat fished assiduously. He baited with a whole rock crab. He took the crab off the hook, cut it in two with a heavy jackknife and tried one of the halves. He took off the half and put on a very much smaller crab. He removed that and substituted a siddler. He banished the siddler and baited with the luscious invertebrate of a clam. He swore, earnestly and expertly. But he did not get a bite.

For thirty long minutes Bernice Halliday continued to sit on the end of the pier, swinging her legs. By no sign did she give evidence that she even remembered the existence of the man in the boat. But she did.

"Conceited old prig!" Bernice was saying to herself, the while she appeared to be lost in lazy contemplation of the distant catboat regatta down the bay. "If he were just an ordinary smarty, I'd tell him. But he isn't; he's a most extraordinary one. The idea of his trying to lecture me—me!—on the proper sphere of the woman! And gulking me, as I let him know that I considered my work just as important as his and didn't propose to give it up, ever, to be nothing but just some man's wife! And saying there were some things, like factory management, and his old engineering, that were 'actually as far outside the feminine understanding as fishing'—if you please—and, of course, the woman hadn't been born who could give her mind to cause and effect in the catching of fish! And now look at him—sitting out there by the hour every day—and he hasn't hooked a black-fish this season!"

"If that girl comes and sits on that pier tomorrow," inwardly foamed Calhoun, "and silently reveals in my rotten luck by thunder, I'm going to pack up and get out of here! Jeering at me, she is, because I said there were masculine stunts and feminine stunts—and that bridges and factories and fishing were masculine and in my line, and writing verse and being mentally and physically—and being my wife—were feminine and in her line!"

Still not a fish bit and still the girl on the pier sat swinging her legs. But into her heart was creeping a shadow of contrition. "Poor old boy!" she said to herself; "it's a shame, after all. He does so love to catch 'em. And if he should decide that it's hopeless and give up and go away altogether!" Something very like penitence came with the thought. Then, quite suddenly, Bernice put the flat of both her hands upon the stranger on which she had been sitting, straightened her under body and dropped like a plummet into the water. She swam directly toward the boat.

"Are you sure you're on your exact ground, Herbert?" she inquired in the most friendly of tones as she floated easily on her side close to the skill.

"Certainly—Bernice. I have the ranges to a hair."

"That's what you meant," said Bernice, paddling slowly up to the boat and reaching for the gunwale, "when you said fishing was a masculine activity—something demanding study of cause and effect—wasn't it?"

"Yes," Calhoun replied, uncompromisingly, but with an uneasy sense of danger somewhere about. "If a woman were coming after tautaug, she'd fish anywhere. A man knows that if you're ten feet from the right spot you might as well stay home. He finds out exactly where the right spot is and he fixes it by the ice last winter. When they rebait it, he can't miss it afterward. No woman in the world would do that."

"Perhaps not. One of your ranges is a straight line out from our pier, isn't it?"

"Yes. A continuation of its center line."

"Well, old Mr. Methodical Calculation," said Bernice, as she launched herself backward from the other side of the boat, "here's a mere bit of what you probably call feminine intuition. Our pier was torn up by the ice last winter. When they rebait it, it's located it more than fifty feet farther east along the beach. For ten days you've been fishing a way off your ground. I'd have told you before but you picked a quarrel with me the first time we met this season. Here, help me into that tub of yours and I'll show you where you ought to anchor."

Between them, taking turns with Calhoun's sturdy deep water rod, they caught half a dozen of the rugged, hard-fighting, hard-dying tautaug, while Herbert Calhoun's stiff-necked pride fought a losing fight with the fascination of the beautiful, competent but utterly feminine creature beside him. Then, with the preliminary of a long-drawn breath he said:

"Bernice, I guess there are some prejudices that are about as hard to locate and about as tough and hard to kill as these cat-lived fish. I've been an ass, with my cocksure theories about sex-wise division of qualities. If you'll just take me, you can go on fighting manufacturers and making reports as long as you can get yourself reappointed. It's forever. I've been figuring all my ranges, I fancy, from the wrong landmarks."

"Not quite all, Herbert. One of them was right. But I couldn't let you bully me—and not let you know you were doing it."

Bernice gazed far off down the bay. Then presently she turned and said, in a tremulous little voice that no law evading factory boss would ever have recognized as that of the militant inspector, "I sent in my resignation last night, dear."

FAR FROM THE MILLENNIUM

Charity Organizations Have Not Yet Solved Problem Which is Old as Human Race.

Lawson Purdy, the secretary of the Charity Organization society, said at a dinner in New York:

"The millennium hasn't come yet by any means. A policeman one cold December night of rain and sleet was walking his beat on the East side when he came upon a shivering, ill-cladurchin trying to sleep on the steps of a warehouse. The policeman roused him up and told him to go home."

"I ain't got no home," said the boy, "Where's your father?"

"Java—he's a sailor."

"Well, where's your mother, then?"

"She's in jail."

"The policeman took his little, cold hand."

"Anyhow, you can't sleep out here," he said. "You've frozen to death. Suppose you come along with me."

"The boy went along with the policeman willingly, even eagerly."

"You're going to put me in jail, ain't you, sir?" he said.

"Oh, no; don't think about jail," the policeman answered.

"They said you'd put me in jail," said the little boy, "if you caught me sleeping in the street."

"The policeman made no reply. They walked on for a while in silence. Finally they came to a builder's red lantern."

"If I stole that there red lantern," said the little boy, "would you put me in jail then, sir?"

"Yes, probably," said the policeman, "but don't you go talking about stealing lanterns at your age. Jail! I'm going to take you to a place where there's a nice warm fire and some hot soup."

"But if I steal the lantern, then you'll put me in jail, won't you? And the urchin reached—but his hat, cold flat and actually lifted the lantern from his head."

"But that's all," growled the policeman. "Jail, indeed! What do you want to go to jail for?"

"Here the little fellow began to sob as if his heart would break."

"Oh, dear! he wailed. 'Oh, dear! I want to see my mother now!'"

Women's Rights Connected.

Under the laws of Connecticut real estate conveyed to a married woman for services or acquired with funds earned by her services may be held by her for her own use, the husband being merely a trustee for the wife's estate after her death, and at his death all or it passing to her heirs or to those named in her will.

BAD TIMES FOR NICKEL

Demand for Ontario's Rich Metal Has Fallen Off.

Named after "Old Nick" because its German discoverers in 1751 found it such wicked stuff to separate from other metals, nickel more than earned its Satanic sobriquet in the late war. Greatly stimulated by European demands prior to the Great War the nickel industry has lately fallen upon hard times. Of Canada's Sudbury mines which supply more than 70 per cent. of the world's total consumption, the biggest, the Canadian Copper Co. and Mond Nickel Co. are running with greatly reduced forces, while a third mine, the British-American corporation, closed down completely a few weeks ago, shutting up both its mine and smelter until the market for nickel improves.

A desolate tract of rocky country denuded of all foliage by the sulphur fumes, marks the location of the nickel mines close to Sudbury, Ont. Externally the most desert, this area is probably the richest in the entire province. It contains the most extensive known deposits of nickel in the world. In fact nickel is only found in considerable quantities in one other place the French penal colony of New Caledonia, a large island 700 miles east of Queensland in the Pacific, whose mines are a monopoly of the French Government. Nickel was discovered near Sudbury in 1882 when the main line of the C.P.R. was in process of construction. That time the importance of the discovery was not quite realized in Canada.

But the Germans were quick to see the value of the deposits. The Krupp made several offers to Canada for the properties, and in this connection the late Sir Charles Tupper went to Germany and visited the great works at Essen. In his report Sir Charles described this vast manufactory of cannons and armor-plate, stating that the Germans had shown many interesting things, there was one department into which neither he nor any other visitor was allowed to penetrate. Some dispensation of Providence seems to have prevented the Krupp getting possession of the mines at Sudbury. The bulk of the properties were presently sold to the Canadian Copper Co., synonymous with the International Nickel Co., the real governing concern in the United States.

That notwithstanding the royalty they pay to Canada on metal mined, the International Nickel Co. got a huge bargain when they bought the mines, is generally conceded. In fact the terms on which this rich property were handed over have been a topic of fiery discussion ever since, both in and out of Parliament. The International is, though some prominent Canadians own large blocks of stock, preponderately held by American interests. The other mines—the Mond and British-American—are British-owned. Soon after the outbreak of war, it will be remembered, strenuous regulations were taken to prevent any more Canadian nickel reaching Germany. And it seems unlikely that anything much did, with the possible exception of one or two small cargoes like that which the Germans boasted they had carried home on the German U-boat Deutschland. But Germans had for years been shipping in cargoes of nickel from Canada, and the bullets and shells which slew the youth of this country, the cannons which deluged our men with projectiles and the armor-plate of the German High Sea Fleet were mostly equipped with nickel from Ontario.

The ore is roasted in huge blast furnaces near Sudbury and the resultant metal run into great ingots. This matte or mixture is of a yellowish color and contains a large content of copper mixed with nickel, and often some gold and silver. In fact, it is said that the content of these precious metals is sometimes sufficient to pay expenses of mining and smelting. These ingots of matte are shipped away to New Jersey where the International Nickel Co.'s refinery separates the various metals. The Mond Co. ships its matte to Wales, and the British-American, the only one of the three to refine in Canada, sends its matte to Deschenes, near Hull, Quebec.

Indispensable for war purposes, nickel is used to toughen cannons, tip projectiles, and make armor-plate. A small proportion alloyed with steel greatly strengthens and toughens the latter. Nickel is also in great demand for peaceful purposes, for nickel steel giving a maximum strength and a minimum of weight is very little susceptible of corrosion.

In this connection it is very valuable as a plating for other metals. Nickel is used making Britannia metal or German silver, which is an alloy with brass, and for coinage by all important countries except Great Britain and Canada. Returns made by the Mond Nickel Co. from their Coniston Smelter for 1919, show that the ores treated contained 22,035 tons of nickel and 12,099 tons of copper. The total amount of Canada's nickel alone in 1919—almost every ounce of which came from the Sudbury region—was 4,542,953 pounds, valued at $17,817,181.

First Mennonites Leave.
The first batch of Mennonites attracted by the prospects held out by land agents from Alabama, left the Herbert district, Sask., on March 1st to make their home in the United States. The party consisted of about twelve families.

Third Set of Teeth.
A third set of teeth were recently cut by a man aged 108, living in the United States. The teeth, however, were of little use, as they broke easily.

ISABELLE LAMONT MEAN

(Intended for last week)

Wednesday morning, June 1, the people in the vicinity were saddened as the word flashed over the wire that Mrs. Mean had passed away. Another has added to the long roll of those that have gone before, but this seems particularly sad, for the home where she was born, lived and died, nothing but love and sunshine ever entered. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church for several years and always ready to do any part she could. In the earliest autumn days of 1920 she was united in marriage to Guy W. Mean of Coldstream, by the Rev. K. McLennan at the manse at Glassville. The ceremony was followed by a reception at her home in West Glassville, which was largely attended by their many friends. A few days before her death Mrs. Mean became the mother of a baby boy which only lived a short time. Mrs. Mean seemed to be doing nicely for a week, when complications arose that made an operation necessary. Drs. McIntosh of Hartland and Somerville of Bristol performed the operation on Sunday, but in her weakened condition she was unable to survive, and her death came quite sudden and unexpectedly the following Wednesday morning. Mrs. Mean was 22 years old last November. She leaves to mourn, her husband, father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lamont; a brother, Clifford Lamont, one sister, Mrs. John Glass of Windsor, and a half brother, Morrison Lamont of West Glassville.

Much sympathy is felt for the sorrowing husband, and those who mourn so deeply the loss of a wife and daughter who will be greatly missed in the home where she has always lived. The funeral was held at the Presbyterian church, Rev. K. McLennan officiating. The church was crowded with people from the surrounding districts which testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to the many friends for their kindness and sympathy in the time of our recent great bereavement.

Bothwell, Ont.—"I was weak and run down, had no appetite and was nervous. The nurse who took care of me told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I am getting strong. I recommend your medicine to my friends, and you may use my testimonial."—Mrs. W. J. Brady, R. R. 2, Bothwell, Ont.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old-fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, beneficial influence, and as it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs it is a safe medicine for women.

If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read, and answered by women only.
