"I take it to be an evidence of the Friendly Sentiment.

Sir Wilfrid on the Relations of Canada and the United States-The Anglo-Saxon Spirit of Brotherhood-A Magnificent Gathering.

Chicago, Oct. 9 .- Chicago's great Auditorium, which has been the scene of so many notable events, never held a greater gathering than tonight, when the Chicago Day banquet was held within its walls, under the auspices of the Fall Festival committee. The great stage, upon which 1,000 people can easily find standing room, had been enlarged, and a great floor built out over the seats of the parquet, as on the other. We speak the same quadrupling the moor space of the language. We have the same literastage. It is difficult to decorate the ture, and for more than a thousand Auditorium on account of the beauty of its own decorations, but tonight it was changed from the hands of the decorators into a spectacle that for once surpassed itself. Back of the raised table at the west of the hall, at which President McKinley and the oh, Englishmen, he said, oh, Enguests of honor were seated, was an lishmen, elaborate peace arch 20 feet in height, constructed of pastry. It was decorated with flags tastefully draped from the folds of which twinkled hundreds of little electric lights. On both sides of the arch were great shields with paintings of American, British and Mexican flags. The balconies were resplendent with banners and the coats of arms of all states in the union. These were placed at regular intervals around the balcony below the first row of boxes, and around each shield which bore the arms of a state was grouped a cluster of small silk banners. On every table was placed an elaborate floral piece the history of the republic, a scene from the history of Chicago, and other

He comes from a people bound to us in a peculiar way. Children of the same mother, sharing with us the neritage of a common language and literature, affection and individual liberty, we do not greet him as a stranger, but as one of our own. Indeed, so much are the people of the Dominion of our kin that it has taken a very respectable joint high commission to determine whether a good many of us are really Canadians or Yankees. And in the matter of partition between Mary Hodgins, plaintiff, and Catherine Ann Andrews. James Hynes, John Hynes, Ellen Clark and Harry P. Hynes, defendants. Take note that the plaintiff, as one of the heirs of the said Francis Hynes, deceased, and one of the devisees under his last will and testament, dated the 20th day of May, 1869. hereby gives you and each of you notice that she will present her petition, herein dated the 27th day of July, A.D. 1899, praying for the partition of sale of lots Nos. 43 and 44, on the west side of Richmond street (formerly Burlington street), in the city of London, county of Middlesex, and Province of Ontario, being all the real estate belonging to the said Francis Hyres deceased in his lifetime now undia. the real estate belonging to the said Francis Hynes, deceased, in his lifetime, now undis-posed of, and for a declaration of the rights of the parties entitled therein, to the presiding the parties entitied therein, to the presiding indge in chambers of this court, at the weekly sittings thereof, at the Court House, in the city of London, in the said county of Middlesex, on Thursday, the 26th day of October, A.D. 1899, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, or so soon thereafter as the case can be heard.

And take notice that you are then and there required to appear and state what claims iff anyly our critical of the court way have to said. any) you or either of you may have to said lands.

And take notice that in default of your so appearing the matter will be proceeded with their napkins frantically. The warmth of his welcome for an instant embar-rassed Sir Wilfrid, but he quickly re-good relation which in your estimation, gentlemen, ought to prevail be tween two such countries as the United States and Canada, that you have notified us, your next door neighbors, in this day of rejoicing, to take our share with you of your joy. We shall bring back to our own country most pleasant remembrance of the day. "It is with some degree of satisfaction that I approach the toast which I have been called on to respond. Because I must say that I feel that though the relations between Canada and the United States are good, though they are brotherly, though they are satisfactory, in my judgment they are not as good, as brotherly, as satisfactory as they ought to be. We are of the same stock. We spring from the same races on one side of the line years we have had a common history. "Let me recall to you the lines which, in the darkest days of the civil war, the Puritan poet of America issued to Eng-

In hope and creed, In blood and tongue are brothers, We all are heirs of Runnymede.'

"Brothers we are in the language of your own poet. May I not say that while our relations are not always as brotherly as they should have been, may I not ask, Mr. President, on the part of Canada, and on the part of the United States, we are sometimes too prone to stand by the full conceptions of our rights and exact all our rights to the last pound of flesh? May I not ask if there have not too often been between us petty quarrels which representing a famous battle scene in happily do not wound the heart of the nation?

"I am proud to say, in the presence suitable events. The president, who was the guest of honor, sat at a raised table on the right of Melville E. Stone, adian Government that we should make a raised table on the right of Melville E. Stone, the toastmaster.

Among other distinguished guests and make the government of President FOR SALE-SIX ACRES CHOIC E LAND, were Sir Wilfrid Laurier, premier of McKinley and the present government Canada: Vice-President Don Ignace of Canada with the assent of Great of Canada, with the assent of Great Morriscal of Mexico; Mayor Harrison Britain, so to work together as to remove all causes of dissension between us. And regarding the commission which sat first in the old city of Queus. The first speech of the evening was made by President McKinley, to the toast of "The Nation." bec, and sat next in the city of Washington, but whether sitting in Quebec or Washington, I am sorry to say the result has not been commensurate with > our expectations. ALASKA A STUMBLING-BLOCK. "Shall I speak my mind? (Cries of "Yes.") We met a stumbling-block in the question of the Alaska frontier. Well, let me say here and now, the commission could not settle that question, and referred it to their particular governments, and they are now dealing with it. May I be permitted to say here and now that we do not desire one inch of your land? (Applause.) But if I state, however, that we want to hold our land, will that be an American sentiment, I want to know? However, though that would not be an American sentiment, though it would not be a British or Canadian sentiment, I am here to say that above all, my fellowcountrymen, that we want not to stand upon the extreme limits of our rights. We are ready to give and to take. We can afford to be just; we can afford to be generous, because we are strong. We have a population of 77,000,000-I beg pardon. I am mistaken, it is the reverse of that. (Laughter.) But pardon my mistake, although it is the re-

"But though we have many little bickerings of that kind. I speak my whole mind, and I believe I speak the mind of all you gentlemen when I say that, after all, when we go down to the bottom of our hearts, we will find that there is between us a true genuine af-fection, (Applause.) There are no two nations today on the face of the globe so united as Great Britain and the United States. (Cheers.) The secretary of state told us some few months ago that there was no treaty of alliance between Great Britain and the United States of America. BLOOD THICKER THAN WATER. "It is very true, there is between the United States today no treaty of alliance which the pen can write, and which the pen can unmake, but there is between Great Britain and the United States a unity of blood, which is thicker than water. And I appeal to recent history when I say that whenever one nation has to face emergency-a greater emergency than usual-forthwith the sympathies of the other nation go to their sister. (Applause.) When last year you suddenly engaged in war with Spain, though Spain was the weaker party, and though it is natural that men should side with the weaker party, our sympathies went to you for no other reason than that of blood. (Applause.) "And I am sure you will agree with me that though our relations have not reached the degree of perfection which I would aspire, from that day a new page has been turned in the history of our country. It was no unusual occurrence before the month of May, 1898, to read in the British press of American arrogance; neither was it an unusual occurrence to read in the American press of British brutality. Since the month of May, 1898, these expressions have disappeared from the vocabulary. You do not hear today of American arrogance; neither do you hear of British brutality, but the only expressions which you find in the press of either country now are words of mutual respect and mutual affection. June last I spoke on the floor of the House of Commons on the question of Alaska, and I enunciated the very obvious truism that international problems can be settled in one or two ways only, either by sitration or war. And although I proceeded to say immediately that war setween Great Britain and the United States would be criminal and would not be thought of for a moment, still the very word 'war' created quite an excitement in this country. For that causeless excitement, though I am indirectly the cause of it, I do not at this moment find any fault, because it convinced me to an absolute certainty that between your country and my country the re-lations have reached that degree of dignity and respect and affection, that even the word 'war' is never to be mentioned in a British assembly or in an American assembly. (Applause.) The word is not to be pronounced, not even to be predicated. It is not to be pronounced at all. The very idea is abhorrent to us. I repeat what I then stated that war between Great Britain and the United States would be criminal-in my estimation and judgment-just as criminal as the civil war which desolated your country some 30 years ago.

A LOVER OF LIBERTY. "My friend, Mr. Cullom, said a moment ago that he might believe me almost an American. I am a British subject, but I am a lover of liberty, a believer in democratic institutions, and I rejoiced, as any of you did, at the spectacle which was presented at Santiago, El Caney and elsewhere during

"There was a civil war in the last century. There was a civil war between England then and her colonies. "The union which then existed between England and her colonies was severed. If it was severed, American citizens, as you know it was, it was through the fault of the British Government of that day. (Great applause.) If the British Government of that day had treated the American colonies as the British Government for the last twenty or fifty years has treated its colonies; if Great Britain had given you then the same degree of liberty which it gives to Canada-my country -if it had given you, as it has given us, legislative independence absolute, the result would have been different; the course of victory, the course of history would have been very different. But what has been done cannot be You cannot expect that the undone. union which was then severed shall ever be restored; but can we not escape, can we not hope, that if the union cannot be restored under the law.

at least there can be a union of hearts. (Applause.) "Can we not hope that the banners of England and the banners of the United States shall never, never again meet in conflict, except those conflicts provided by the arts of peace, such as we see today in the harbor of New York in the contest between the Shamrock and the Columbia for the supremacy of naval architecture and naval prowess. Can we not hope that if ever the banners of England and the banners of the United States are again to meet in the battle field they shall meet entwined together in the defense of some holy cause, in the defense of holy justice, for the defense of the oppressed, for the enfranchisement of the downtrodden, and for the advancement of liberty, progress and civilization." (Great applause.)

AUDIENCE WENT WILD. Perhaps during the entire evening there were no sentiments more rapturously applauded-more enthusiastically received-than that in Premier Laurier's address, when he said: "There are no two nations on the face of the globe as united as Great Britain and America, nor any country or bloodand blood will tell-as that which flows between the English-speaking people on this side of the great Atlantic." The audience appreciated the sentiment in its fullest. It rose to its feet and cheered and cheered again, while the premier, unable to proceed, smiled and bowed his acknowledgements of the appreciation of the sentiment which self-evidently came from the bottom of his heart. If it were possible to exceed the enthusiasm with which his prior remarks were received, this was evident when he said: it is my conclusion that war between Great Britain and the United States would be criminal, just as criminal as war between two sections of this great country."

On KRUGER'S BIRTHDAY. The more peaceful tenor of the morning news and comments had scarcely been digested and aroused hopes that President Kruger's birthday would also mark the dissipation, or the commencement of the dissipation of the clouds hanging over South Africa, when the sensational announcement from Cape Town that the Transvaal Government had handed a definite ultimatum to the British diplomatic agent in Pretoria, caused a downward plunge in the hopes of those who believe that diplomacy will yet save the situation. It is understood, from the movements of min-1sters and the activity in the government office, that important developments are imminent, although wether they are pacific or warlike remains an enigma. The officials at the colonial office worked all night, and Mr. Chamberlain arrived early this morning. In some quarters it is intimated that the government has received notification of the Boer ultimatum and are relieved in consequence, as the government consider the Boers now placed in a po-

ARBITRATION ADVISED.

Baron Tweedmouth presided at a meeting of the council of London Radicals last night, which, after a speech by Lord Tweedmouth, deploring the unwise policy of the government, whose dispatches, he declared, were not couched in conciliatory tones, adopted a resolution in favor of arbitration and calling upon the government to take steps tending to a settlement of the difficulty with the Trans-vaal with negotiation for arbitration.

It is reported that the Queen has informed the pope that she is power-less to interfere with the constitutional prerogatives of the ministry as regards a war in the Transvaal.

DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE SPEAKS. The Duke of Devonshire, lord president of the council of ministers, speaking at Sheffield, said that the reduction made from his recent speech at Manchester regarding the Transvaal situation had warned him that a member of the government could not be too careful. "Matters have not become more critical during the last few days," romarked the duke, "and I trust this interval for reflection may conduce to a pacific settlement." His grace added, however, that he was

THE ONLY HOPEFUL SIGN was the fact that the governor of the South African Republic did not ap-pear inclined to precipitate any acts of aggression upon British territory which their previous preparations led the British Government to anticipate. SERIOUS BUSINESS

London, Oct. 10.-Lord Salisbury's whip to the Lords, issued last night, says parliament will deal with the matters of grave moment.

Some indication of the war office's estimates of the duration of the campaign is given by the fact that the authorities have contracted for eight months' supply of bread and other military requisites rendered necessary by the absence of the bulk of the army service corps, whom the war office thus evidently calculates will be at home again by the beginning of May. It appears that, although the war of-fice called up 25,000 reserves, only the pick of them, some 5,000, will be retained with the colors.

REGARDING THE RAILWAYS

Standard Rules Work Well-A Fast Run-Double Tracking the G. T. R. From Hamilton to Niagara.

The standard rules on the G. T. R. have been in operation for more than a week now, and there has not so far been a mistake of the most trivial character of this division. This speaks very highly for the intelligence and ability of the employes. The public cannot readily grasp what a huge undertaking the changing of the rules to the standard has been.

An unusually fast run was made by the West Minstrels' special C. P. R. train on Saturday morning. The train, which consisted of an engine and two coaches, was in charge of Conductor George Armstrong and Engineer Fallis, and it came from Windsor to London, a distance of 115 miles, in two hours and five minutes. Five stops were made. Chatham to Caradoc, 49 miles, was made in 50 minutes. "It may not be generally known," said an official of the Grand Trunk, in discussing the speed of railroad trains, that express No. 22, connecting with the Atlantic express from Windsor here at 10:20 o'clock a.m. each day, frequently attains a speed of seventy miles an hour. The run in from Gencoe is often made in 30 minutes. The distance is over 30 miles, and there is one slow-down and one dead stop to take on passengers to be made." This speed is said by American authorities to be as fast as is made on any railroad in the world, for distances of more than

New York, Oct. 10 .- Freeman Strait, a well-known real estate dealer and a well-known real estate dealer and insurance agent, with an office on Lower Broadway, has been arrested, charged with defrauding the government, by selling war revenue stamps chemically restored after cancelation. burg of the league against all comers, and this doesn't even bar Cleveland," remarked one of the Hanlon players, in the Washington Post. "We returned from a western trip with a record of seven victories out of nine games played, and had a lead of over 100 percentage points in the race. In other cities that achievement would have been appreciated by the patrons of the game, and our opening game, after our return, would have been the occasion of an ovation from thousands. But not so in Brooklyn. A miserly attendance of no more than 1,500, with a beggarly array of empty seats in the grand stand, was the frozen finger handed us after our record-breaking feat in the west."

The long season of the National League is not profitable, as none of the towns are drawing these days. From the prevailing opinion in New York baseball is dying out. There is scarcely any enthusiasm in the big city, and it is doubtful if there ever will be so long as Freedman methods prevail.

Prince George are cousins, and for more than a year it has been an open secret in European court circles that the pair are deeply in love with each other.

They met but seldom in childhood, but when, some two years ago, the prince was in London on his return from his tour around the world, he first met his beautiful cousin as a full-grown young woman of a serious and sedate character, he fell in love at once, and the princess followed suit. It is said that the Prince of Wales does not object to the match. Last spring the princess visited the prince at Athens. He had in the meantime been appointed governor of Crete, and a bright future seemed in store for him. It is believed that they were betrothed at that time, though the engagement has not yet been publicly Hamel began to pay Mrs. Rogers marked attention, and it was understood that they would marry. However, a short time ago Hamel transferred his affections to another Brockville lady, and it was announced that he was about to marry her. Mrs. Rogers was heard to remark that she would shoot Hamel rather than see him marry another woman. Ham-el called at Mrs. Rogers' house Sunday afternoon. They had a heated discussion, and she finally drew a revolver and threatened to shoot him. He raised a window near which he was standing and leaped out, and forthwith sent the police to the house, Mrs. Rogers fled from the house and jumped into the river.

Collegiate Institute Fees. The action of the Board of Education in imposing fees on resident pupils of the Collegiate Institute seems to have been the direct cause of a drop of 100 in the attendance this term. The average attendance last month was 65, and of these slightly over 300 were on the paying list, pupils being exempt from the fees during their first year. At this rate the tax will yield ennually about $3,000. This and the reduced cost of administration make an annual saving of, perhaps, $4,500 a year. Those who favor the fee system argue that as the average annual cost of educating each pupil in the Collegiate is $25, and as the taxpayers contribute $15 of this, it is not unfair to ask that the remaining $10 be paid by the person who secures the additional advantages of the institute. The fee system is also intended to propitiate the feeling in some quarters that secondary education is costing the public too much, and that the effect of free tuition in the higher grades is to encourage an unnatural and undesirable rush into the learned professions. and to unfit the pupils for mechanical pursuits. The opposition to fees is based on the broad principle that it is the duty as well as the interest of the state to make education as free as possible to all, and not a class privilege. The High School fee, it is claimed, is fundamentally wrong because it discriminates against the poor in favor of the well-to-do. In a recent report, Mr. John Millar, the Deputy Minister of Education for Ontario, very strongly deprecates the fee system on this ground, and goes so far as to declare that "to shut out the poorer classes from our high schools, as appears to be the present tendency in Ontario, is to adopt a policy which Rein, one of the most famous German educationists living, calls 'unchristian,' and which may be regarded as a relic of an undemocratic age." Mr. Millar points out thatin New York, Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Dakota and Wyoming, the policy of free high schools prevails, although in some states they are less liberal.

As for the local institute it may be better to give the new order of things a year's trial. In its favor it can fairly be pleaded, in addition to the financial saving, that with the present accommodation a school of 600 pupils can be more conveniently handled than one of 700, and with, perhaps, better average results. If it is found that the fees tend to still further depress the attendance or work hardships to a deserving class, the school board may have to reconsider its action.

If technical training is ever adopted in the province on an adequate scale. as it probably will be, sooner or later, the fee system will have to be thoroughly canvassed in relation to the whole scheme of education. A compromise may be effected by making technical schools absolutely free as a concession to the wage-earning classes, while general education in the secondary stages might be based on a modified fee system as a measure of relief to the taxpaying public. The matter will adjust itself in time.

Far From Satisfactory.

We do not believe the citizens are troubling themselves to any considerable extent at the present time in regard to municipal experiments. They are very well satisfied with the way in which affairs have been administered this year at all events; and it is hard to say how these could have been Improved by a different form of popular representation at the board.

The Advertiser should be explicit.-London Free Press.

In a year when the tax rate is the highest in the city's history, when individual aldermen have been denounced from the pulpit for unbecoming conduct, and when the city council has shown itself worse than useless in the public crisis brought on by the street railway company, the Free Press declares that citizens are very well satsefied. The statement is not flattering to the judgment or good sense of the community. Just how far it is true some of the aldermen will find out in January when they begin to look around for a wave of public admiration to sweep them into office again. As for municipal reform, we repeat that the ratepayers risk nothing in making an experiment, because the present system is as bad as it possibly can be. Even the Free Press admits that the abolition of the ward system and the reduction of the number of aldermen may result in the election of more competent men; but by some queer process of reasoning, our contemporary figures out that the public interest will be better secured by a large number of inferior aldermen than by a small number of first-class aldermen. This does not show a very high ideal of municipal government, and the Free Press is welcome to its role as apologist for the present order of things. The city will have special need next year of capable, upright men: the ratepayers should see to it that the successful candidates are of the sort that command respect as well

A United Empire.

With hostile forces confronting each other, the danger of an outbreak on the Transvaal border cannot be said to be absent, but at the same time the delay makes for peace and adds to the preparedness of Great Britain to deal with the matter deliberately. A most gratifying feature is the sense of unity aroused throughout the Empire. It is not a war sentiment, but springs from the liberty-loving spirit of the Empire, and a desire to see British subjects in the Transvaal accorded the civil and political rights which the British every where esteem as their birthright. Canada will do her full duty in any emergency, but it is doubtful whether the emergency will arise, since the British have shown themselves so wonderfully well prepared for it. The only discordant note throughout the whole Empire is, unfortunately, being sounded in Canada, but it is relatively insignificant. We refer to the attempt of a small clique, of which the Montreal Star is the vocal organ, to take advantage of the Transvaal affair to stir up racial antipathies in this country, by representing that the French-Canadians are averse to giving material aid to the mother country. This gross libel is intended for political effect in Ontario; but it will recoil on patched. the authors, as every sectarian movement has done in Ontario before.

The Toronto Globe says: "We should like to see a board of education, limited to ten or a dozen members, taking control of the public and high schools, and running them, not on ward lines, but in the interest of the public." This is The Advertiser's opinion, too. School trustees should no more be elected by wards than should aldermen.

It is stated that if the Khalifa breaks out again Lord Kitchener is prepared to crush him with Egyptian troops alone. This will open the eyes of the European powers to the military strength Great Britain is building up in Africa. Paris. Oct. 10 .- Five minutes of e marvelous exhibition of a bull's courage and a matador's agility closed the much advertised bull fight here on Sunday. Promptly at 3 o'clock an enormous black Andalusian bull dashed furiously into the ring, called on the bills l'Arene de la Barre. Deafening cheers went up from 10,000 throats of the roughest and toughest men and women of Paris, who were brought to the scene on special trains. Having been long kept in darkness the animal was easily excited and dashed in blind rage in pursuit of its tormeiotors. Presently the infuriated beast jumped on the paling, smashed through it, and in a second wounded 15 persons. Then it was quickly dis-

The minister of the interior was advised of the accident by telephone. He ordered the corrida stopped. The slow way in which this was made known is characteristic. The crowd was kept in order by carpenters pretending to strengthen the fence while the police invited the people to leave. A notice of postponement was exhibited, and finally the minister's order was cautiously passed around.

Scenes almost indescribable occurred while the crowd waited in expectation of the bull fight being resumed. The multitude whistled, hooted, lowed like oxen and sang a French chanson in derision of the police, corresponding to the Irish song, "The Peeler and the Goat " The whole thing has killed bullfighting in France. Those who have seen a corrida in Madrid or San Se-bastien would notice instantly that in France it is exotic. The audience was not representatively French. There was a good number of foreigners, but no statesmen, men of letters, or representatives of any respectable French calling present.

The Paris Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will renew its protest. There is some difficulty in peremptorily stopping these fights, as the statute law is not sufficiently extensive London, Oct. 10.—The Daily Telegraph's St. Petersburg correspondent represents Abdurman Khan, Ameer of Afghanistan, as insane, and likely to provoke a conflict between Russia and England. These accounts say ameer is sanctioning brutal actions and the torturing of officials daily, and that his actions are resulting in a general exodus.

FOREIGN WHEAT

The Mark Lane Express Reviews the Market.

London, Oct. 10.—Farmers have made good headway in their prepara-tions for the autumn sowing, the land in most districts being in good condition from the heavy rains experienced. What little demand was current was practically confined to pressing needs, with holders still exercising reserve.

Actual business has been on very narrow lines. Farmers on some provincial exchanges have been very reluctant in their offerings, owing to the strained political situation in the Transvaal. According to the Mark Lane Express foreign reports there has been an active demand for disposable wheat. Antwerp prices have taken a turn in favor of sellers.

The rain which has fallen in French dstiricts has been favorable to the autumn sowing, which was delayed by the drought. As the French wheat crop this year is sufficiently heavy to provide nearly for the current requirements of French consumers, the upward movement observable upon foreign markets has not exerted much influence on French quotations.

The abundance of the French crop, coupled with the importance of the stocks of old wheat still on hand, has had the effect of increasing the wheat supplies upon the French markets to an extent exceeding the demands of the milling trade.

The wet weather has somewhat interfered with the deliveries of wheat in some parts of Russia, and prices have hardened. The weather has been mild in the districts around Odessa, with frebuent rains, and the autumn sowings are proceeding under favorable conditions.

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians.

A neighbor advised me to try Dr.

Thomas' Eelectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good.

STONE-THROWING.

To the Editor of The Advertiser : Last Saturday evening at 9:30 I was riding my bicycle down Dundas street, and when I came opposite the Mc-Cormick Company's building I was suddenly struck on the head by a large stone, which must have been aimed at a street car just passing by I was thrown from my bicycle and received a bad blow on the head, but luckily for me the stone struck the rim of my hat first, which it broke to piece and so lessened the injury I received

Now, Mr. Editor, I think things have come to a pretty pass when peaceable citizens cannot go about their business without being in danger of getting hurt by stone-slingers, who, it seems to me, are allowed to do just as they please in this town. I can assure you that such a disgraceful state of affairs as at present exists in London would not be tolerated in any city in the old county. A stone-thrower caught in the act would not be allowed out on bail there, but immediately get from two to five years in the penitentiary, which treatment, if followed here, would have a wholesome effect on the uncivilized rowdies and would-be murderers which this city is infested with.

I hear that one of the stone-throwers, in this morning's police court, actually got fined $20, or 30 days in fail.

HEALTH OF SCHOOL GIRLS

"Parents little imagine how great and prevalent is the injury done to girls between the ages of 10 and 16 by overapplication to study," said a prominent New York physician when addressing the school board recently.

IN THE POLICE COURT

Eight Drunks Before the Magistrate This Morning-Other Cases.

with vagrancy, was discharged. The case against John Murray, charged with breach of the liquor bylaw, was adjourned until tomorrow.

AMUSEMENTS

"A RUNAWAY GIRL" TONIGHT. "A Runaway Girl" appears this evening at the Grand Opera House, and a crowded house is a foregone conclusion. The pretty and tuneful comedy or opera comique is too well and fav-orably known to our theatergoers to need extended notice. "A Runaway Girl" abounds in funny climaxes and humorous situations, and one of the prevailing features of the comedy-opera is the great march, "Listen to the Band," during the progress of the second act.

THE LYCEUM COMPANY.

Most people have witnessed a representation of some of Shakespeare's plays, and some have not, but to all alike an unusual and agreeable treat is in store in the near visit of the Lyceum Company of Players. The best of our modern plays cannot but suffer air you breathe to the minutest cells by comparison with the works of the and passages of the lungs and bron-famous bard of Avon, and when no expense has been spared in point of high-salaried actors, magnificent costumes, special scenery, and choice of plays, to make this comparison more strong, a perfect production can be anticipated. It was a preconceived knowledge of this fact that caused Mgrs. Shipman to organize the Lyceum Company, and a further recognizance of it prompted C. J. Whitney, lessee of the leading theaters of Canada, to book this company over his circuit.

He suffered a paralytic stroke eight years ago, from which he never fully recovered. He failed rapidly during the past two weeks. Deceased was born in the city of Carlisle, Cumberland, England, in 1820, and came to Canada with his parents when about seven years of age. When the rebellion of 1837 broke out he went to the front, and served for two years. He came to London in 1851, and entered into partnership with John Elliott, engaging in the foundry in-dustry, but in 1853 he went to Australia, where he remained four years. He returned to London in 1857, but two years later he sold his interest in the foundry business, and purchased a farm in London township, on which he made his home for 23 years. He again returned to London in 1887, where he had lived retired ever since. Capt. Burgess was one of the most prominent factors in the military life of London, being for a long time associated with the late Col. Shanly and Lieut. Dunn. He was captain of the first London troop of cavairy volunteers, and in this capacity served as commander of the escort of the Prince of Wales during the latter's visit to this city. He was a charter member of St. John's Lodge, 209a, and was an active worker in the Askin Street Methodist Church. In 1849 he was married to Miss Mary A. Townley, at Toronto, by whom he had two children—James T., of Richmond street north, and Miss Margaret, who resides The funeral, which will be to Mount

BLACKSMITH'S STATEMENT.

Mr. M. B. Connick, of Middleton, P. E. I, Makes a Strong Assertion.

Middleton, P.E.I., Oct. 9.-The strongest point in favor of Dodd's Kidney Pills is that they will cure Bright's Disease; and the next strongest is that there is no other medicine that will. Mr. M. B. Connick, a blacksmith on Prince Edward Island for this last quarter of a century, found this out. He had tried every medicine but the right one, and then, learning that Dodd's Kidney Pills were the only cure for Bright's Disease, he tried them.

Ten boxes cured him. "I would not be alive and strong today," he wrote recently, "if it were not for Dodd's Kidney Pills. All the country knows my case, and there have been hundreds to ask me about it. I moment require tell them the whole thing just as it A DEMONSTRA happened, and give the sole credit of my cure to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

For the first time in my life I cheerfully give my name as reference for the excellent and beneficial effects of your Health Foods. I thoroughly believe in them. The reports from all the military centers show that the mobilization orders are received with the greatest Kruger has crossed the Rubicon and taken the irrevocable step of issuing an ultimatum.

Whatever official feeling may be, there is no mistaking the significance of the great manifestation, combined with the spirit of imperial solidarity that occurred in the streets of London this morning, when the New South Wales Lancers traversed the city to embark for South Africa. Tens of thousands assembled to do homage to the little handful of soldiers representing the empire's loyalty. From the arrival of the squadron at Waterloo station to the entering at Fenchurch station, tumultuous scenes of WILD ENTHUSIASM marked the route traversed. The bands were allowed to play nothing but "Soldiers of the Queen," "Rule Britannia,' 'and "God Save the Queen," in which the dense crowds joined. It is doubtless if such a frenzied welcome was ever before witnessed in London. There was an

Here traffic was completely blocked by the surging throngs, and it was only with the greatest difficulty that the Lord Mayor, Sir John Voce Moore, in the full robes of office, restrained the singing and vociferous cheering, while he addressed the colonial troops, wishing them God speed, and expressing the interest of the country in their heroic determination to assist in asserting im-

Sandy Hook, Oct. 10 .- Calm and fog have prevailed here throughout morning and the yacht race has been declared off for today.

Nor did the weather conditions give any indication of breaking away this almost impenetrable curtain that made it impossible to start the races. The Strange Metamorphosis.

Siggins was telling stories of the dances he had been to in town, and the fine girls, whose step had exactly suited his own, and Tipping was leaning gloomily against the wall, listening to something Chawner was whispering in

There was a rustle of dresses down the stairs outside, and two thin little cirls, looking excessively proper and prim, came in with an elderly gentleomen, who was their governess, and wore a pince-nez, to impart the neces-Bary suggestion of a superior intellect. They were the Miss Mutlows, sisters of one of the day-boarders, and attended the course by special favor as friends of Dulcie's, who followed them In with a little gleam of shy anticipa-

The Miss Mutlows sat stiffly down on a form, one on each side of her gover-ness, and all three stared solemnly at the boys, who began to blush vividly under the inspection, to unbutton and rebutton their gloves with great care, and to shift from leg to leg in an embarrassed manner.

Dulcie soon singled out poor Mr. Bultitude, who, mindful of Tipping's warning, was doing his very best to avoid face pleadingly. "Dick," she said,

"you're not sulky still, are you?"
Mr. Bultitude had borne a good deal already, and not being remarkably sweet-natured, he shook the little mittened hand away, half-petulant and half-alarmed. "I do wish wou wouldn't do this sort of thing in public. You'll compromise me, you know!" he said,

Dulcie opened her gray eyes wide, and then a flush came into her cheeks, and she made a little disdainful upward movement of her chin. . "You didn't mind it once," she said. "I thought you might want to dance with me. You liked to last term. But I'm sure I don't care if you choose to be disagreeable. Go and dance with Mary Mutlow if you want to, though you did say she danced Mke a pair of compasses, and I shall tell her you said so, too. And you know you're not a good dancer yourself. Are you going to dance with mary?"

Paul stamped. "I tell you I never dance," he said. "I can't dance any more than a lamp-post. You don't seem an ill-natured little girl, but why on earth can't you let me alone?"

Dulcie's eyes flashed. "You're a nasty sulky boy," she said, in an angry un-he scowled at them from his corner. There was another sound outside, as of fiddle-strings being twanged by the fingers, and, as the boys hastily formed room, and the Miss Mutlows and Dulcie prepared themselves for the courtesy of state, there came in a little fat man, with mutton-chop whiskers and a white face upon which was written an unalterable conviction that his manners and ly illustrated. deportment were perfection itself.

The two rows of boys bent themselves stiffly from the back, and Mr. Burdekin returned the compliment by an inclusive and stately inclination.
"Good afternoon, madam. Young ladies, I trust I find you well. (The courtsey just a leetle lower, Miss Mutlogthe right foot less drawn back) Beautiful. Feet closer at the recovery. Perfect!) Young gentlemen, good evening. Take your usual places, please, all, for our preliminary exercises. Now, the chassee round the room. Will you lead please, Master Dummer; the hands just lightly touching the shoulders, the head thrown negligently easy, but not careless. Now, please." And, talking all the time with a metrical fluency, he scraped a little jig on the violin, while Dummer led off a procession which solemnly capered round the room in sundry stages of conscious awkwardness. Mr. Bultitude shuffled along somehow after the rest, with rebellion at his heart and a deep sense of degradation. "If my clerks were to see me now!" he thought.

After some minutes of this. Mr. Burdekin stopped them and directed sets to be formed for the lancers.

"Master Bultitude," said Mr. Burdekin, "you will take Miss Mutlow,

"Thank you," said Paul, "but-ah-I Con't dance."

"Nonsense, nonsense, sir, you are one of my most promising pupils. You must not tell me that. Not another word! Come, select your partners."

Paul had no option. He was paired off with the tall and rather angular young lady mentioned, while Dulcie looked on pouting, and snubbed Tipping, who humbly asked for the pleasure of dancing with her, by declaring that she meant to dance with Tom. dance began to a sort of rhythmical accompaniment by Mr. Burde-

Paul was dragged, unwilling but unresisting, through it by his partner, who jerked and pushed him into his place without a word, being apparently under strict orders from the governess not on any account to speak to the boys.

After the dance, the couples promenaded in a stiff but stately manner round the room to a dirge-like march scraped upon the violin, the boys taking the parts of laddes jibbing away from their partners in a highly unlady-like fashion, and the boy burdened with the companionship of the younger Miss Mutlow walked along in a very agony of bashfulness.

"I suppose," thought Paul, as he led the way with Miss Mary Mutlow, "if Dick were ever to hear of this, he'd think it funny! Oh, if I ever get the upper hand of him again—How much longer, I wonder, shall I have to play the fool to this infernal fiddle!" But, if this was bad, worse was to

There was another pause, in which Mr. Burdekin said blandly, "I wonder now if we have forgotten our Scotch hornpipe. Perhaps Master Bultitude will prove the contrary. If I remember right, he used to perform it with singular correctness. And, let me tell you, there are a great number of spurious hornpipe steps in circulation. Come, sir, oblige me by dancing it alone!"
This was the final straw. It was no

So he said,"I shall do nothing of the sort. I've had quite enough of this—ah -tomfoolery." "That is a very impolite manner of declining. Master Bultitude; highly discourteous and unpolished. I must insist now-really, as a personal matter-up-in you going through the sailor's hornpipe. Come, you won't make a scene, I'm sure. You'll oblige me, as a gentleman."

"I tell you I can't," said Mr. Bulti-tule, sullenly. "I never did such a thing in my life; it would be enough to kill me at my age." "This is untrue, sir; do you mean to say you will not dance the hornpipe?"

"No," said Paul, "I'll be d—d if I do!' There was, unfortunately, no possible doubt about the nature of the word used—he said it so distinctly. The governess screamed and called her charges to her, Dulcie hid her face, and some of the boys tittered. [To be Continued.]

Return of Millionaire Miner C. D. Lane.

With a Pile of Gold Dust_Rescued 70 ACCIDENT ON Men-Looking for Murderers.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 10.—The steam yacht Townsend, owned by C. D. Lane, the millionaire miner, has arrived here from Cape Nome. She brought down several miners who had with them considerable gold dust. Capt. Wycks, of the Townsend, made a trip to Kotzebue Sound from Cape Nome in July, and rescued seventy of the men who had gone there in the hope of finding gold. They were on the point of breaking down from the want of food and proper medicine and would undoubtedly have perished if Lane had not sent his yacht to St. Michael, by the revenue cutter Bear.

Most of them have scurvy and many had lost hands and feet by being fro-zen. It is thought that the men rescued by the Townsend will recover in the mild climate of Cape Nome. San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 9.—The trading schooner Bonanza, has just arrived from Point Barrow and Point Hope, Alaska, with a cargo of whalebone, ivory and furs. He saw the revenue cutter Bear, at Point Barrow and reports that Capt. Jarvis had in irons two prisoners, a white man and a native, both charged with murder. Both were arrested in Kotzebue Sound. The white man is an American, a newcomer, who is believed to have murdered another miner. QUEEEC UNION.

Quebec union elected the following officers for 1899: President. Mr. W. S. Leslie, Montreal; vice-presidents, Rev. F. J. Day, Sherbrooke: Mr. F. A. Draper, Granby; Mrs. Distin, Quebec; secretary, Mr. Guy Tombs, Montreal; treasurer, Mr. W. F. Stephens, Three Rivers; junior superintendent, Miss M. E. Wright, St. Lambert; committee, Mr. W. L. Shurtleff, Coatlcook; Mr. James Wilson, Mrs. Bulmer, Rev. J. R. Webb, Mr. George Lyman, Montread.

SPORTS DISCUSSED. The Christian Endeavor convention heard a variety of subjects discussed at the principal meeting in St. James' Methodist Church, but by far the most interesting was that on sports. The debate was participated in by a number of speakers, and the views expressed were of a very divergent character. Quite a number took the ground that Jesus Christ was in sym-pothy with sports, while others held that he was quite the reverse, and that their tendency was towards evil. DOMINION OFFICERS. The Dominion convention of the Christian Endeavor at the afternoon's meeting elected the following officers for the Canadian council of the Society of C. E.: President, G. Tower Ferguson, Toronto; vice-president, W. L. Shurtleff, Coaticooke; secretary-treas-urer, C. J. Atkinson, Toronto. Toronto was selected as the next place of meeting.

After the meeting in Hamilton she will spend a day in Toronto and will probably pre-side at a public meeting of the Local Council. On the 28th she will go to Ottawa, where she will be the guest of Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier. Although her visit to Canada will be so very brief—about a fornight in all—she will be warmiy welcomed by scores of people during that time.

AFTER 20 YEARS

John Nicholas Babcock, of Sharbot Lake Released.

A Prisoner to Pain Caused by Gravel and Other Kidney Trouble-Twenty Years of Suffering -Release at Last by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Sharbot Lake, Oct. 9.-It was with feelings like those of some poor pris-oner released from unjust captivity that Mr. J. N. Babcock, of this place, realized he was cured—free at last from the captivity of disease. For twenty years he had been in the depths of the dungeon of pain caused by Gravel and other forms of Kidney Disease. For twenty years he had been struggling to escape in vain. There was no door left untried, no lock not carefully examined.

Now at last he sees the light of day The prison is behind him forever. He is done with pain. And the key lay to his hand for this last ten years and he never knew. The key was Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dodd's Kidney Pills were given to ten years ago. Since then they have been the master key in thousands of cases of Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Rheumatism, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Bladder and Urinary Complaints, Woman's Weakness and Blood Disorders. If Mr. Babcock had known he might have been liberated long the proverb, and Mr. Babcock is grateful at esecaping from the clutches of Kidney Disease at all. He says: "After twenty years of pain caused by Gravel and other Kidney Trouble I am pleased to make it known that I have been completely cured by one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills. During these years I have spent hundreds of dollars but without any lasting relief. "Yours respectfully,

HEAD OFFICES OF THE COMPANY-

Manning Areade, King Street West, Toronto.

The Equitable Mining and Developing Company of Ontario, Limited, was organized for the purposes set forth in its charter, being the powers granted under the Ontario mining companies incorporation act, a synopsis of such powers being as follows: "To open, develop, work, smelt and manage iron and other mines, to acquire by purchase or lease, other legal title, mines, mining lands or mineral properties, to construct, maintain on the property of the company, or property controlled by the company, buildings, stores, etc., and to do all such matters and things as shall be incidental or necessary to the due attainment of the object of the company.'

The company is at present operating its mine of high-grade hematite iron ore, situated in Frontenac County, Township of Storrington, and in the report of an investigation by Professor A. B. Willmott, M.A., B.Sc., of Mc-Master University, of one deposit only, he speaks as follows

"I examined the iron location on Lots 18, 19 and 20 of the X Concession of The ore occurs as a somewhat horizontal bed of hematite in the Potsdam The top of the hill is about 100 feet above the lake, which is part of the Rideau Canal. The ore bed dips slightly to the northeast, about in the direction of the ridge, which is N. 60 degrees E. The ore occurs near the summit of the cliff at the south of the opening, and reaches the water level some 800 feet northeast, on the boundary of the property. The iron deposit is thus in a most favorable position for easy and cheap mining and for transportation. "The extent of the deposit is, by its nature, determined by the length and breadth of the hill and the thickness of the bed. Two openings on the face of the cliff show the thickness of the bed to be, respectively, 8 feet and 12 feet. These openings are 135 feet apart, and there is every probability of the ore being continuous between them. The only exposure on the opposite side of the ridge is at the depression on the top, 30 feet southeast of the southern opening. The ore already in sight, with no development, is 135 feet long, 30 feet wide and averages 10 feet thick.

"As the hill averages 200 feet wide, and indications of ore are found 300 feet apart, there is a probability of finding at least 100,000 tons. "An analysis of an average sample from the southern opening, taken right across the bed, shows metallic iron, 50.8 per cent, equal to 72.5 per cent of hematite. A sample of the better looking ore yielded 65 per cent iron. By a little sorting the ore will grade 55 per cent. "A. B. WILLMOTT." "Toronto, Sept. 2, 1899. An analysis of ore from this property, yielding 51.32 per cent metallic iron, made by Mr. J. B. Cochrane, of the Royal Military College, Kingston, is erties of the company, as authorized by the charter. The demand for iron ore warrants the company in entering upon these operations.

Iron oxide.....73.318 per cent., equals 51.323 per cent metallic from

As there is a sufficient quantity of ore, the mining of which will require many years, and as the demand for this particular ore is increasing, the company anticipates, from the sale of its ore a large yearly income.

By a contract made with the Hamilton Steel and Iron Company, under date of the 16th of August, 1899, the company receives, after deducting all expenses of mining and shipping, a net profit of $2 per ton. There is no industry in Canada today that offers greater returns than the mining of iron ore, when it can be produced at reasonable prices. The bounty given by the Government of $1 per ton on iron made from Ontario ore is to encourage the production of Ontario ore, and enables the smelter to pay for such ore more than can be given for foreign ore, and the report of the Ontario Bureau of Mines shows that in the great Province of Ontario last year only 27,409 tons of ore were mined, yet 48,253 tons of pig iron were produced. The percentage of American ore used was 72%, leaving 27% of Ontario

The bounty of $1 per ton on all iron produced from Ontario ore means that the company has free mining, and its property, situated as it is on the waters of the Rideau Canal, gives a low cost of transportation and enables the company to place its ore at the existing smelters more cheaply than any, mine at present in Ontario.
