THE CONSPIRACY

Said to Be Aimed at the Czar of Russia.

London, Sept. 15.—A semi-official communication on the subject of the recent arrests of the alleged dynamite conspirators says: "There has been within the full knowledge of the Scotland Yard officials for some time past a gang of desperadoes busily engaged in America in preparing the ramifications for an extensive and diabolical plot to perpetrate a dynamite outrage in this country and to establish a reign of terror. Chief Inspector Melville, who has been so prominent in tracing and detecting these gangsters, has been the head of the Scotland Yard investigation for checking the present conspirators. Gradually and quietly a complete network of the conspirators, plotters, and the fact being known that they were in intimate communication with prominent Russian nihilists in the United States, enabled the police to discover, on what is believed to be absolute evidence, that one of the most recent developments of the scheme aimed at an outrage on the Czar upon the occasion of his visit to England. The prime movers were Fenians in America, and when the plot had been carried as far as possible the Tyrannical and the other chief agents were dispatched to Europe to consummate the designs adopted. Every precaution was taken in shipping them separately and by different routes. The emissaries of Scotland Yard, however, dogged their every movement."

The semi-official communication then deals with the arrest and the capture of all the applicants documents, etc., and continues: "It is arranged that Bell should go to Glasgow to supervise a series of outbursts in Scotland, the explosives necessary being sent from Belgium as required. Bell had in his pockets between £200 and £400 and American letters of credit."

Devaney, McCulloch and McCard, three released dynamiters, who are shadowed since they were released from prison. In 1895 McCard visited America. It is considered probable that Bell will soon be removed from Glasgow to London.

Dispatches received from Brussels say that information obtained there from reliable sources indicate that the dynamite laboratory which was discovered at Antwerp were not Fenians, but Anarchists, whose aim was directed against the Czar, and it is known that the police at Antwerp were informed by the Scotland Yard authorities that a plot was in preparation to attempt to assassinate the Czar in London. It is also stated that the dynamite bomb laboratory at Antwerp.

A later dispatch from Rotterdam reports that the arrested there were in bed when the detectives entered their room. Several personal machines were found in their possession, and the quality of the correspondence in cipher, a key to which having been discovered, the correspondence was read, and is said to have been a record of their outrages, including an attempt upon the life of Queen Victoria.

TO BE ADVANCED.

Mayflower Stock Will Be Higher After Monday Next—A Representative Coming to the Fair.

Messrs. Sawyer, Murphy & Co., agents of the Mayflower Gold Mining Company, Toronto, authorize the announcement that on the 21st inst. the Mayflower stock will be advanced.

"This advance," they say, "is due to the fact that the condition of the mine has improved within the past few weeks. The work that has been done in the mine in the main tunnel has developed a body of ore of 100 tons. The company has instructed us to advance the price of shares on the 20th inst., and we intend doing so. To what price they will be advanced we do not feel at liberty to state just at present, but the increase in price will likely be a substantial one."

A representative of the firm will be at the fair on Wednesday, and possibly Thursday, and can be found there with the exhibit that Mr. John A. Moody, the London agent, has charge of. He will be pleased to answer any questions regarding the resources of the district and any of the mines in it, and give all other information that may be of interest to those who are considering the advisability of making investments.

A CONSTABLE TALKS.

Staynor, Sept. 14.—Mr. James K. Nesbitt, a constable of this place, having suffered for a long time with kidney disease, he became aware that the doctor called it diabetes, and incurable. As he had the good fortune to know of many cases of this disease had been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills, this news did not startle him. He says he went straight to Sanders' drug store and commenced to get well on the first box purchased. Now he is going his usual rounds praising Dodd's Kidney Pills to every one who asks the particulars of his recovery.

Threatening Weather

Interfered With the Fair Attendance on Citizens' Day.

But Now All Is Bright and the Crowds Are Expected.

Well, if "it" had to rain this week, "it" could not have chosen a more opportune time than yesterday for the Western Fair directors.

Monday is called "Citizens' Day," but citizens don't live up to the name. They prefer to go with the crowd. And the crowd goes on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Threatening weather made the attendance smaller than it would otherwise have been yesterday, but the patronage exceeded that of the corresponding Monday last year, when rain also fell. The directors do not look for a plethoric cash-box on Monday, but from now on they expect, not thousands, but tens of thousands.

The last exhibit was in place yesterday, the horses continuing to arrive all day. The directors shudder to think of the discomfort which would have been theirs had not the new buildings been erected this year. Such a flood of live stock would have swamped the old quarters. They are relieved to find that the horse stables, at least, are ample. Work is being rapidly pushed on the temporary buildings for overflow cattle, sheep and swine, and all will be comfortable housed today or tomorrow, it is expected.

Lord and Lady Aberdeen ought to be great drawing cards tonight, tomorrow and Thursday. The Knights Templar will also prove an additional attraction. Wednesday, in particular, should be a record-breaker at the Fair.

MONDAY'S RING ATTRACTIONS.

The complete ring attractions were given yesterday for the first time. The crowd looked smaller than it really was, on account of the enormous grand stands. However, it was an average Monday attendance. The Arabs gave two acts, which again delighted all. Their pyramid building and tumbling were exceedingly clever. Little Sam Abdallah, the juvenile wonder, seemed equal to the best of them. A notable feat was his standing on his hands for two minutes. Abdallah, here, again performed his remarkable act of supporting, unaided, eleven members of the troupe, whose combined weight was 1,625 pounds. He was heartily cheered.

PAWNEE BILL'S EXHIBITION.

Pawnee Bill and his braves gave their first performance. It is superior to the wild west shows which have been seen at the Fair in former years. Owing to the wind, the Texas Steers were not shown. Chairman Field has ordered that no more private carriages be admitted to the ring this week. When the Texas Steers started on the ramparts there was almost a calamity. These steers are very erratic in their movements. They are also totally independent of their surroundings, and seem to have none of the respect for humanity possessed by their domesticated brethren in this country. A large number of people on foot and in carriages found this out yesterday. The steers were turned loose and the cowboys started in to lasso them. The spectators gathered around to see the fun. The steers made for them, with heads down, and there was a grand scattering that would have been funny had it not been for the danger. In their anxiety to avoid meeting the steers men skeddaddled in all directions, and several were sent sprawling in the dust among the police. Constable Roly Johnston. Those in carriages lashed their scared horses and two lids were run over in the confusion. The steers seemed to be painfully hurt, but no bones were broken. The steers were soon captured.

Preliminary to the show the company were introduced to the audience, the Mexicans, cowboys, and Indians lining up in succession. Miss Lillie, the horseback rifle shot, was specially announced, and last of all came Pawnee Bill (Major Gordon Lillie) himself. The major and Miss Lillie first gave an exhibition with the rifle, hitting a small bull's eye at about fourteen paces. Then came the wild steers, whose performance has been already described. A cowboy then made a circuit of the track at a terrific pace, changing horses several times with lightning rapidity. The old Deadwood coach, which it is claimed is over 100 years old, and which certainly appears to be "blasted with antiquity," was trotted out, guarded by Capt. Beares and a few cowboys. The mounted Indians made a deadly attack on it with blank cartridges, and blood-curdling yells. It is pleasing to relate that they were finally driven off by a band of cowboys.

Handkerchiefs were then distributed on the track, and were picked up by Mexican vaqueros, riding at full speed. This was a clever exhibition of horsemanship.

Miss May Lillie dashed down the ring, on horseback, firing with unerring aim, at brittle balls tossed into the air. The act was warmly applauded. To use a baseball term, Miss Lillie has a "good eye."

Several cowboys stood on the track and lassoed horses, duffen in front of them at a rapid gait. It seemed an easy enough trick, to throw the noose over the horses' necks, but to catch them by the legs was a more difficult feat.

The Mountain Meadow Massacre followed. An emigrant's wagon was surrounded by Indians and its defenders killed and scalped, to all appearances. The inevitable cowboys then appeared and chased away the red men, who left several dead in the field. The cowboys and the Indians returned to carry off their dead on horseback and the funeral march was made to show music.

The cavalry maneuvers were very good. Uniformed companies, representing the French, American, Indian and British cavalry were successively introduced, the red coats, of course, getting the lion's share—the British lion's share of the applause. They executed several graceful movements separately and in combination, illustrative of the tactics of the regular armies.

The Mexican knife-throwing was the next on the programme. A boy, possessing young lady stood in front of a board, and permitted a young man, ten feet away, to throw sharp knives all around her, dangerously close. The same act was repeated with the lady obscured by a paper screen.

An Indian cremation was the next scene. An inflammable something in human shape was suspended between two poles, and set on fire, while the braves danced around and howled. Then Miss Nellie Braden showed her skill with a huge Mexican whip, about twenty feet long. She whirled it so precisely that the slender cut piece by piece off a slip of paper held in the hand of a cowboy.

The "genuine Gauchos" gave an exhibition of bola throwing. A bola is a device made of three balls fastened to ropes, and is thrown at a pole, while the performers gallop at full speed. If accurately tossed, it winds itself around the pole.

A very realistic act was the capture and execution of a horse thief. The latter was lassoed at full gallop, and was dragged by his captor at terrific pace over the rough ground. He was then hanged to a tree by his coat collar, though at a distance it looks as though he were strangled.

The riding of two bucking bronchos was very amusing, and produced some hearty laughter. Altogether the show realized expectations, and should prove instructive and diverting to the huge audiences who will witness it this week. The rifle shooting and knife-throwing were done in rear of the platform, but will in future be shown on the stand in full view of all. The company have a very good given, who give a coming touch to every feature of the performance. The three aerial burlesque acrobats—Nelson, Chuserette and Mauvel—have not turned up, but there will be enough attractions without them.

TROTTLING AND RUNNING.

The two races, trotting and running, were both first-class. In the trot, Pat was clearly the speediest in the field, and lost the second heat by an unfortunate break in the stretch. In that heat every horse broke except Alice. Summary: 235 class, trotting, one mile, heats, best 2 in 5, purse $100: Pat, b. s., David Liddle, Aylmer, b. m., Wm. Toimie, Rodney, b. s., J. C. The running races developed a keen rivalry for first place between McCormick and Black Prince. They had the third heat to themselves, and a pretty one it was. They were neck and neck nearly all the way, and came down the stretch under the whip, McCormick winning by a nose. The Worst Feared

The Sad Fate of Missionary Rijnhart and His Wife.

Reasons for the Belief That He Was Murdered and She Carried Off Captive.

The worst is feared as to the fate of Missionary Rijnhart, of Tibet, and his wife (Dr. Susie Carson, formerly of this city). Our Toronto correspondent sends us some additional particulars of the condition of affairs leading up to the tragedy referred to in these columns three weeks ago, which will be of much interest to Advertiser readers. The gentleman who was editor of The Tibetan, the little missionary paper which Mr. Rijnhart was instrumental in starting in Toronto, corresponded with him regularly when letters could pass between them. The last letter received from Mr. Rijnhart was dated Jan. 11, 1896, at Kumbum, which is in the Province of Amdo, in the northeastern part of Tibet. The country was then in the hands of the rebels. They had an army of 200,000, and were devastating towns and villages on all sides. Against this army the Chinese Emperor had sent an Imperial force of 6,000 men, which was completely annihilated by the rebels. Mr. Rijnhart, when on his way to Tibet, had arranged to send letters by couriers to the nearest point touched by the postal service, so that when if he were alive at the present time it is likely that he would, owing to the rebellion in the country, find it impossible to forward his letters. His wife, the cablegrams announcing his murder by the rebels is correct, and they are under the impression that owing to the medical training possessed by his wife, which was doubtless well known to the Tibetans, through being used in their behalf, that they would spare her life in their own interests, and that the information about her abduction by the rebels is also true. As the country is wild and difficult of access, it may be a long time before any intelligence of the ill-fated lady is obtained.

It may not be generally known that Mr. Rijnhart was not married to Dr. Carson till he had undertaken to walk from Toronto to Vancouver in his ardent desire to visit Tibet as a missionary, and had visited that distant country so little known in Christendom and so difficult of access to missionaries that he had succeeded in crossing its borders.

THROUGH A BRIDGE.
San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 15.—A train on the Mad River and Arcata road went through the Mad River bridge on Sunday. Six cars loaded with passengers dropped 30 feet into the dry bed of the river. Annie Holt and Sandy Cameron were killed, and ten others were seriously injured.

Kind Words Come From Public Institutions

As Well as From Private Individuals.

All Classes and Creeds Praise Paine's Celery Compound.

Public institutions throughout Canada are crowded with acknowledged marvelous virtues of Paine's Celery Compound as are private individuals.

For many years, a large number of our public, benevolent and religious corporations have used Paine's Celery Compound for the benefit of old and young, and if it were possible to publish all the statements made by the inmates, scores of the letters would prove interesting and entertaining.

In institutions like those referred to, where hundreds are cared for every year, all the common ills and diseases of every day life are found, and many hundreds have been made well and strong by Paine's Celery Compound that the physicians of these institutions were unable to cure by the ordinary means.

Today, this grand curing work is still going on in many of the largest and most prominent of our public places, and no other medicine will be tolerated but Paine's Celery Compound, which shows the esteem and confidence in which the medicine is held.

One of these noted institutions that has given testimony for Paine's Celery Compound is the immense conventual educational house on the St. Lawrence, near Montreal, and known as the "Convent of the Holy Names." The ladies of this house write as follows:

"We feel it our duty to add our testimony in favor of your 'wonder-working' Paine's Celery Compound. Many Sisters, suffering from debility, dyspepsia, indigestion and nervousness, have been completely relieved after taking it."

"We shall strongly recommend its use in all our houses as the best medicine to restore health, and give tone and vigor to the nervous system."

Slave of Your Foot!

Such should be the shoe—created to protect it from the rough roads of life. But many feet today are slaves to the shoe, because their owners will not consult their feet, when buying footwear. Here comes a shoe that gives a springy foot-stoop even to old age, because in the building of the sole no peg or stitch under the foot destroys its elasticity. It is a foot-conforming shoe, and every variety of feet has been considered in its construction. Good-year wear process—Same as hand-made, at half the price. Stamped on the sole $3.00, $4.00, $5.00 per pair.

LONDON - CANADA.

London, Tuesday, Sept. 15, 1896.

The history of the Munros is about to be published by Mr. Alex. MacKenzie, of Inverness. The Clan Rothach will be done full justice.

Chicago has a Swedish population of 100,000, and very good citizens they make, too. Why cannot we divert their immigration to our fertile western prairies?

Messrs. Gooderham and Blackstock, the Toronto capitalists, paid $465,000 for their gold mine in British Columbia. It is evident that they believe there is a great future for the Rossland region.

Archdeacon Cooper, of Manitoba, says the west has no need of married couples without means. The day has gone by, it seems, when men and women can "marry for love and work for iller."

While in Canada we are enjoying summer weather, in the United States snow has been falling. This is a great country. We have a more equitable climate than many of our competitors for the world's trade. Here winter stays away all summer goes.

Russia recently made the Shah of Persia promise not to build any railways before the year 1900. The Great Bear knows that railways through Persia would make the land more self-sustaining, and less likely to fall a prey to him. Hence this hypnotizing policy.

English papers are discussing whether a bishop's dignity is compromised when he rides a bicycle. It all depends. If he can keep his wheel from wobbling, then his dignity will not suffer. His trouser outfit seems to have been designed specially for a bicycle costume.

The Iowa Republican State Committee reports that there are 30,000 members of its party who lean to free silver. The gold Democrats probably number 10,000. This canvas, if maintained at the polls, should give the State to Bryan. It also affords some indication of the Western sentiment in favor of free silver.

Ferdinand Lassalle thus condemns those who take the ground that it is unnecessary to "take sides" on matters political: "Not to take sides, that means to have little conviction. Not to take sides, that means to prefer, in ignominious indifference to the highest interests which thrill the heart of mankind, one's own quiet and ease to the great questions upon which the weal and woe of the fatherland depend, and so to betray the duties which we owe to the fatherland. History can forgive all errors and all convictions, but not want of conviction."

Three comets are at the present time approaching the earth at a speed of something over a million miles an hour. Two of these—the Brooks and the Periodic—are well-known to astronomers; the third celestial visitor is a stranger. It made its appearance in the heavens nine days ago, and has been officially named Cicoplin's comet—after the Italian astronomer who discovered it. Its exact path has not yet been ascertained, but it is believed that it will get pretty near the earth, as comets go, in about three weeks from now. In the early days the people were very much afraid that the comets would strike the earth with their tails, and cause a general smash, but in recent times astronomers have figured it out that they do not come near our sphere—not within 100,000,000 miles of the earth. But even if a comet's tail were to swish up against the earth, it is doubtful if it would do any damage, as the general belief is that it is of a nebulous description.

Crows' Nest Pass.

When the Crows' Nest Pass Railway is built a day's time will be saved in traveling to the Pacific Coast. But the advantage, great though it is, is not the principal gain from a line through that rich mineral country.

To the Eastern Canadian merchant and manufacturer, the Crows' Nest Pass Railway is an absolute necessity. It will bring to him the market of the thousands of mining population now flocking to such places as Rossland, and likely to enormously increase so soon as the opportunities for making a living are increased. The supplies for this great and ever-increasing mining camp at present come chiefly from the State of Washington, but when all-rail communication is established, this trade will come to Eastern Canada. It cannot be reached too soon.

The Government and C. P. R. should endeavor to reach an agreement, and have the line constructed at the earliest possible moment.

Visitors Can Kill Two Birds.

We bid out-of-town visitors to the Western Fair a hearty welcome. They will find much that will interest them in the many and varied exhibits on the Fair grounds, and in the special attractions. With one exception, in point of comprehensiveness and instructiveness, no such exhibition is provided in any place in Canada, and Londoners and the people of the West are very properly proud of it.

But visitors should not confine their attention to the Fair grounds exclusively. They can very profitably inspect the display made by enterprising merchants down town. Hitherto, visitors have not spent much time in the city. But the excellent system of rapid transit now provided by the street railway company has made it possible for holiday-makers to see all that is to be seen on the exhibition grounds, and have an hour or two down town in addition.

Friction in St. Thomas.

In St. Thomas, the Women's Art Association restricted admission to the reception to Lady Aberdeen to their own members, and the result is that many persons who desired to pay their respects to her Excellency were disappointed.

The contention of those who were kept out of the favored circle is that Lady Aberdeen accompanied her husband, the Governor-General, on an official visit, and should have been made as accessible to one lady who wished to meet her as to another.

There is always trouble of this kind when one section of the community undertakes to draw up a list of favored ones who shall be invited to meet representative individuals like the Governor-General and his wife.

Advertised Too Much.

There is such a thing as advertising too much.

If a man desires to conceal what he possesses, and what he intends to do, he is foolish to drink champagne, loosen his tongue, and tell every one what his mission is.

Such was the advertising conducted by the notorious "No. 1" dynamiter before he was arrested. The cablegrams say his capture was a very clever one, but if the correspondents tell the truth about the convivial habits of Patrick Tynan and his associates now in custody, they could scarcely have taken more effectual means to "give themselves away."

The G. T. R. Car Shops Contract.

A special telegram to the Advertiser yesterday afternoon contained the welcome news that the contract for the construction of the new Grand Trunk car shops in this city had been signed. It goes to J. Mills of Hamilton.

Londoners would have been better pleased if a citizen had obtained the contract, but the railway authorities have doubtless made what they believe is the best bargain from their point of view. As a matter of course, the workmen required for the prompt completion of the extensive structure will be chosen in London. In point of efficiency London mechanics and laborers take second place to no body of men in the land.

The Governor-General.

A few days ago, to get a slap at Lord Aberdeen, the Hamilton Spectator said a Governor-General was a nuisance, and that Canadians should elect their own Governor. A few days later, the same paper said it was opposed to the election of a Governor-General. Asked to reconcile its statements, it said it preferred the smaller evil of an elected Governor-General to the larger evil of an imported appointed partisan. Requested to say how it would know a Governor-General was a partisan before he was imported, the Spectator replied, "By examining his teeth." But supposing he had two rows of false teeth, as had a former incumbent of the office?

Enough to Frighten Him.

The young Russian Czar will no doubt wish he were safe at home again. There is so much talk about dynamiters and anarchist plots against him that he may well doubt if the men arrested with infernal machines in their possession are the only individuals lying in wait to get rid of a royal victim. The Russian Emperor may be excused if, when he visits his grandmother at Balmoral, he every now and again imagines he sees an assassin lurking behind a whin bush.

Costly Friendship.

In the debate at Ottawa the other evening Col. Domville recalled a costly case of political favoritism, for which he held Mr. Foster, the ex-Finance Minister, responsible. A farm had been purchased at Sussex, N. B., for militia purposes, without tender, for $7,000, and that farm was afterwards leased to a political friend of Mr. Foster's for twenty-five dollars a year. The hay standing on the farm at the time was worth over three hundred dollars. The Government provided a caretaker for the farm at one dollar a day, or $365 a year, and they also paid $180 a year for a house for him. Many similar jobs are known to have been perpetrated under the late regime, and the only reply made when they were laid bare in Parliament, was, "What are you going to do about it?"

Try to see yourself through the eyes of those around you.

John Wesley Sifton, Comber, has been gazetted associate coroner in Essex, in place of R. H. Abbott, M.D.

Mr. George W. Wilson, Center street, St. Thomas, has received a telegram announcing the death of his father, J. F. Wilson, Simcoe.

A workman named Hey, employed in the Verky plow works, Brantford, had his thumb ground off by being caught in an emery wheel.

Herbert J. Bowman, son of the late occupant of the position, has been appointed county clerk and county treasurer of Waterloo at a salary of $1,000 a year. He is also town clerk of Berlin.

The quarterly board of Brant Avenue Methodist Church, Brantford, has extended a call to Rev. Mr. Kirby, of St. Catharines, to become pastor of the church at the conclusion of Rev. Mr. Rutledge's term.

A man named Martin had his leg severely crushed at the Grand Trunk shops at Brantford on Saturday. He was assisting to cant a car, when it came down upon the limb and seriously injured it.

At Sandwich, Lewis Harmon was sentenced to two and a half years' imprisonment in the penitentiary for assaulting a servant girl in his employ, but in the certificate sent with him to Kingston the sentence was placed at only two years. Now the officials are wondering whether they can rectify the mistake and make the prisoner serve the full term to which he was sentenced.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

H. W. Van Every, ticket agent, Toronto, was run down by a bicyclist Saturday night, and had his collar-bone broken.

W. R. Sherwin, of Aylmer, one of the competitors in the Toronto road race, fell in collision, and broke his collar bone. He was sent to the general hospital.

At Toronto, Lydia Gikerson, a young married woman, with two children, whose husband deserted her a year ago, took half an ounce of laudanum with suicidal intent, on Sunday, but she is now recovering in St. Michael's Hospital.

Roy Wells, the 5-year-old son of P. J. Wells, Toronto, fell from a third story window to the street pavement Saturday afternoon, and sustained terrible injuries, including compound fractures of both arms. He is probably fatally hurt.

A number of vital questions to workmen will be discussed at the labor congress in Quebec. Among these are the American alien labor law, the Chinese immigration policy, Dr. Ba-nard's walls, and a number of others.

Saturday afternoon Abraham Roberts, Toronto, was seized with what he supposed to be cramps, and securing a prescription from a physician, had it made up at the drug store. He took a dose of the medicine, but rapidly became worse, and died.

The firm of John McPherson & Co., Hamilton, manufacturers of boots and shoes, is in financial difficulties. The firm's statement, after making reasonable deduction for doubtful debts, shows a surplus of about $30,000. About 150 are thrown out of work in the meantime.

Although George E. Underwood told Chief Skirving of Ingersoll, that he would return to Texas when the extradition papers are received, he has no intention of doing so. His Houston friends have telegraphed Jas. Vance, of Ingersoll, to defend the prisoner, and he will fight extradition.

City Police Court.One Complicated Assault Cases Disposed Of.*Three Young Bloods From Brooklyn Came to Do the Town and Were Done Up in the Attempt.

At the city police court today: "Five dollars or twenty days," was John Finnegan's fine for being drunk. Finnegan—Thank you, sir. It is too bad that when I come to this town I am chased up and arrested as a vagrant. Every time I come here I am followed up like a—murderer.

Christopher Moriarty was charged with assault upon James Crawford. John Moriarty, who said, followed her husband and John Moriarty down to his house on Horton street on Saturday last, and commenced to fight. Moriarty bit her thumb. For being drunk and acting so disorderly he was fined $5 or ten days.

The charge of assault against John Price was then taken up. Mr. Love defended Price, and explained that he had letters to show that Mr. Price's daughter Mary had been enticed to go to Mr. Crawford's place and spend her week's wages, drinking there.

The magistrate ruled this as evidence. He readily understood, he said, the cause of the melee, and discharged the accused, at the same time warning Crawford to prohibit the girl from going to his place.

Henry Bouman, Edward Wheeler, Everett Redenburg, all of Brooklyn, were three young men who struck the city last night. They were sick looking and were taken in as tramps. They put up at the Salvation Army Hotel. On the trio was found a bunch of keys and a letter, which had been addressed to one of their friends. It stated that they "wouldn't do a thing to this town, as there was a fair on." They intended to catch lots of "fish." Their little game was spoiled by Detective Rider. They said they were on a visit to friends here, and had left their valises at his house. The magistrate instructed Detective Rider to examine the contents of these valises, and if anything suspicious was found to see the men out of town. He examined their satchels, and found them to contain combination packages and a lot of "candy buttons." They were given back their money ($1.80), and shown out of town immediately.

The Age of Niagara Falls.

The savants are having a very interesting time in determining the age of Niagara Falls, and from the most recent papers on the subject it is quite evident that great diversity of opinion exists among those who have made it a matter of investigation. Life is full of problems. The diversity of our common nature suggests equally interesting questions. Why are things so? Why not otherwise? Now, for instance, the minor ailments that afflict us—Why should we ache not be agreeable instead of painful? Why should so many fraudulent and flesh-eating substitutes for Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor be imposed upon the people? Putnam's is sure. Putnam's is safe and painless. Putnam's makes no sore spots. Use Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor.

When workmen strive to do better than well, they do confound their skill in covetousness.—Shakespeare. SLEEPLESSNESS is due to nervous excitement. The delicately constituted, the financier, the business man, and those whose occupation necessitates great mental strain or worry, all suffer less or more from it. Sleep is the great restorer of a wearied brain, and to get sleep cleanse the stomach from all impurities with a few doses of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, gelatin-coated, containing no mercury, and are guaranteed to give satisfaction or the money will be refunded.

Those people who send you from one extreme to another, who do things and right things all in a jumble, take a greater hold of you, somehow, than better people do, who are placid and moody on the same level.—Mrs. Oliphant.

Today at the Fair.The Crowds Are Beginning to Come.*All the Live Stock Now Accommodated—Men Worked All Night—Lord Aberdeen's Arrival.

The smile of the sky was reflected today in the "physiognomy" of the Western Fair directors. They knew that if the weather treated them properly the people of Western Ontario would. Today dispelled any lurking doubts about the success of the Fair from a financial standpoint. The railroad trains brought in crowds from all directions, and by 1 o'clock this afternoon the directors saw that the tide had set in, as it always does on Tuesday. It will reach high water mark tomorrow. The gloom of early morning doubtless kept many at home today, but they will swell the multitude tomorrow.

All night long men were at work erecting the temporary home for the surplus exhibits in the cattle sheds. This morning a frame building 150 feet long was completed, properly roofed and set out in pens, crowded out of the main building, were accommodated perfectly. The few remaining over were placed in improvised pens, adjoining the cattle shed. Pawnee Bill kindly loaned the directors a large tent for the entire week, and in this the surplus sheep have been installed even more comfortably than in the proper building. Fifty stalls in the horse stables have been set apart for the use of the prize animals—mostly Galloways—which could not be provided for in the cattle sheds. To make room for these, the horses in the speeding class have been lodged in the old barns in the northeast corner of the park. The exhibitors are delighted with the magnificent new stables, and say they are the best on the continent.

Lord Aberdeen will arrive from Saratoga at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the G. T. R. station, and will be met by a guard of honor chosen from the military camp—probably the Twenty-first battalion. He will be driven straight to the Fair Grounds to witness the ring attractions and fireworks. It is expected that Lady Aberdeen will join him tomorrow.

NOTES.

Judging began today in all departments of the live stock exhibit.

The refreshment vendors have begun to earn their salt at last. Sergeant & Edgecombe made a quick job of the temporary cattle annex. The grounds will be illuminated tonight.

Pawnee Bill and his troupe made their last street parade this morning. The Essex Band again headed it. Four receipts for Monday were considerably ahead of Monday's last year," said Treasurer Dan Mackenzie.

GERHARD HEINTZMAN PIANOSThe Key Note of the Piano Trade.

In every business and profession there is a keynote which must be sounded before the public will turn an attentive ear. A few strike it, while millions miss it. False notes can never charm a truth-loving public. The true ring of purity always attracts, no matter when or where it is sounded.

Gerhard Heintzman pianos are the keynote of the piano trade. The exhibit of W. McPhillips, 229 Dundas street, London, of these celebrated pianos this year speaks this fact plainer than ever. The Gerhard Heintzman pianos are known and loved for their downright all-round thorough and goodness. They are celebrated for their rich, resonant tone and durability. If there is any good thing in the world that lifts one's enthusiasm to the top notch it is the Gerhard Heintzman piano.

Do not fail to see or hear these world-renowned pianos, of which there is a magnificent exhibit in the main building, and at 229 Dundas street, London. See them for yourself, and be convinced that what we say is entirely correct, and while seeing the exhibit, do not miss getting one of the Gerhard Heintzman neat and beautifully gotten up puzzle.

BELL PIANOS.Continue to Excite Admiration—Large Crowds Before the Stand Continually.

The Bell Piano Company's exhibit, situated at the southeastern corner of the main building, continues to be a great attraction at the Western Fair, drawing crowds surrounding the stand continually. James McQuinn, the blind pianist, is looked upon with wonder by those of thoughtful mind, and his playing touches a sympathetic chord in the hearts of all his hearers. The display is beautifully gotten up, and is freely commented upon. The great painting, "Lot" (value, $2,500), which is being exhibited by this firm is also proving a good drawing card. It was a happy thought that prompted this, and one that the Bell Company must be congratulated upon. The new style H piano is a wonder in every sense of the word. It is now no secret in the trade that this instrument, for general excellence and elegance of design, occupies quite a position by itself. Visitors will be amply repaid by an inspection of the Bell display. It does infinite credit to the largest manufacturers of musical instruments in Canada.

NOW IS THE TIME TO DO IT.Here Is the Way to Do It.

At this season of the year house-cleaning will be in order, and thousands of housewives will decide to re-color parlor, dining-room and bedroom walls.

It should be generally known that Kalsomine can be beautifully tinted with the Diamond Dyes at a very trifling cost. One package of Diamond Dyes tints from ten to fifteen pounds, and gives handsome shades for walls.

The favorite colors are Yellow, Orange, Cardinal, Slate, Crimson, Violet, Green, Light Blue and Eosine Pink.

To make good Kalsomine, dissolve one-fourth pound of good glue to each ten pounds of whitening, mix with sufficient water to give the right consistency. To tint it, dissolve a package of dye in a quart of water, and add as much as is necessary to give color desired.

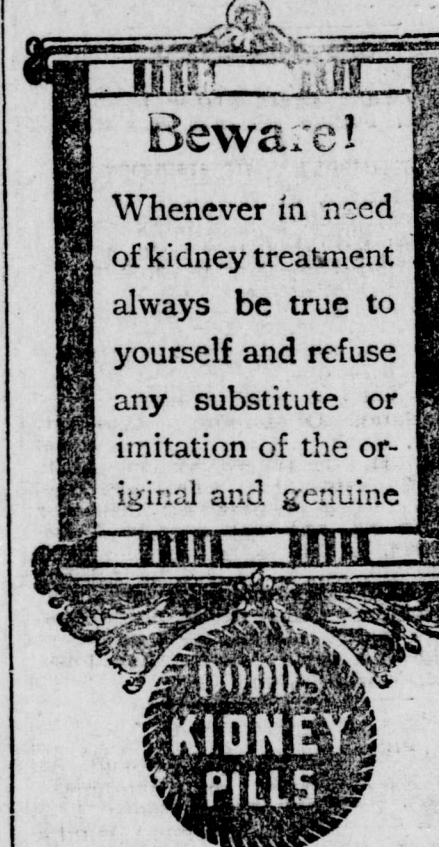

Remember that the common imitation dyes spoil your work of tinting; avoid them if you would have rich shades. Ask for and take only the Diamond Dyes.

THEY ARE EXQUISITE

Twenty thousand people—5,000 in one day—saw the magnificent historical paintings of the Canadian artist, Bell-Smith, at the Toronto Industrial Exhibition. He is one of the favored few of his profession who have been honored by the Queen with a personal sitting. To witness the grand paintings associated with the tragic death of Sir John Thompson is a rare privilege for Western Fair visitors. The exhibit is something that elevates the tone of the exhibition. As a precious stone is worthy of a casket, so are these beautiful gems of art worthy of a proper setting. Mr. Bell-Smith has erected a new gallery for their special reception, opposite the W. C. T. U. dining hall on the Fair grounds. The light has been artistically regulated by means of curtains, so that they may be seen to the very best advantage. There is his immortal picture of the Queen placing a wreath on Sir John Thompson's coffin, surrounded by distinguished men, in a lofty chamber of Windsor Castle. Here Majesty's face and figure are painted from life, and she has been pleased to express her pleasure at the artist's skill. The arrival of the cruiser Plenich on Halifax with the body is the subject of another work. The street scene in Toronto on a rainy night is splendidly realistic. A picture never before exhibited here depicts the funeral service of the late Sir John Thompson in the cathedral at Halifax. Its effect of light and shade are exquisite. The white-robed clergy and choir, the magnificent drapery of the casket, the mellow light filtering through the windows—truly light and art produce with a fidelity that reveals the touch of a master hand.

Mr. Bell-Smith's works not only appeal to the critic, but may be admired and understood by all who have any love for the beautiful. It is satisfactory to record that they are being appreciated. The gallery has been used all day.

E. & J. THE WEATHER TODAY: Fair and cooler.A Welcome to All

This is everybody's week at our store. We expect everybody to call, and have prepared a great sight of lovely goods for them. We began preparing early last spring by enlarging our stores, and strangers will see in addition to a marvelously large number of importations the largest drygoods house in London and one of the largest in the Dominion. The attractions of this big store are many, making it difficult to know where to commence in giving suggestions to visitors. Your best plan is to start at the front door and go through the entire store up and down stairs. The whole is splendidly lighted, and the fine quality of goods can be seen at a glance.

Visiting Ladies Invited.

Those of our patrons who have guests with them during Fair week should not neglect to impress upon them the wisdom of visiting us at this season. We have shelves and tables laden with goods from Europe. Good enough for royalty—in fact, every article in our immense store is good enough for anybody. You can always count on the character and quality of our goods. We believe in solid, straight and square methods.

Solid Satisfaction

Never have we been better satisfied with the way our importations are turning out. Better still, our patrons are satisfied. Cash buying and careful selection have brought satisfactory price and quality. Come in and take a look around if you don't want to buy anything. Lookers-on become buyers. Can you blame them? Choice patterns appeal to the eye, firm textures and choice weaves appeal to the judgment, and little prices appeal to the purse. It pays to buy when the variety is largest, the assortment complete and prices where they should be.

THE BEST OPPORTUNITY YET OFFERED IN

BRITISH * COLUMBIA * GOLD * MINES

The Stock of the English-Canadian Gold Mining Company is now for the first time offered to investors—Investors participate in all the profits of the Company, including the Juliet Mine, now owned by them—One of the Best Mining Sites in the Rossland and Trail Creek Districts—The Management in the Hands of Well-known Business Men.

This Company has been incorporated with a capital of One Million Dollars, divided into one million shares of $1 each. The shares are now placed on the market at 8 cents per share of $1, fully paid stock and non-assessable. The objects of the Company are to buy, sell and deal in mines and develop and work such mines as they may procure and consider worth operating. Shareholders participate in all profits resulting from same. This Company has already procured the Juliet Mine, which is considered one of the best mining claims in British Columbia. The Juliet consists of a full claim of about 52 acres, and is situated in the now celebrated Rossland and Trail Creek mining district, within a stone's throw of the Columbia River on the one side, with a railway on the other with a first-class tunnel sight, and convenient to Trail Creek smelter. The Company hold a clear title to this property.

This property is mineralized throughout, having a heavy iron capping with red stain, which is considered by experts to be a sure indication of gold in pay quantities. The Juliet now shows large deposits of the precious metal, and from all reports obtainable the Company believe this property alone will yield to its shareholders a return equal to or greater than that of any other mining property in the Rossland district. The affairs of the Company will be amply and personally looked after by a superintendent resident at Rossland, and by officers and trustees in Toronto and Spokane. These officers are under no salary or remuneration of any kind, but are each shareholders in the Company, a dividend depending upon future returns from the mines as a reward for their services.

300,000 shares of the capital stock, fully paid up and non-assessable, have by bylaw of the Company been set apart for development purposes. These shares are now, until further notice, offered for sale at 8 cents per share of $1, fully paid up and not further assessable. As these prices are likely to last but a few days, intending purchasers are advised to act promptly.

THE FOLLOWING ARE A FEW OF THE SHAREHOLDERS FROM WHOM THE OFFICERS AND TRUSTEES WILL BE SELECTED:

SNEAK THIEVES

Steel Watches and Other Valuables Out of the Hotels.

The large crowds which flock to the city during Fair time afford the pickpockets and hotel thieves a good opportunity to get in their work. Yesterday the rooms of servants in two of the leading hotels were entered, and three watches and chains, and a number of other articles stolen. The thefts in both places were committed in broad daylight, but one was not discovered for some time. In one of the hotels a servant went to her room shortly after dinner, but found the door locked. Thinking her room-mate had turned the lock, the girl went downstairs to get the key, but finding that such was not the case, she returned to the room. The door was then wide open, and a glance showed that a thief had made a call. A watch and chain were missing, and no trace of them or the thief has since been found. The city detectives are working on the case, and warn citizens to be on their guard against all kinds of sharpers.

KING STREET METHODISTS.

The Epworth League anniversary services at King Street Methodist Church on Sunday were very interesting. The church was beautifully decorated with white and pink asters. In front of the pulpit was a very fine large floral Maltese cross, with the letters "E. L." in the center, and over the organ was a floral arch, with the inscription, "Our Day," both decorations of asters. Rev. Mr. Harris, of the Centennial Church, preached a sermon especially to young men in the morning. Rev. E. Middleton, the pastor, preached a very impressive sermon in the evening.

The music, under Mr. Fred Rossiter, leader, and Mr. J. E. Middleton, organist, at both services, was novel and very fine. The hymns and songs were old Methodist ones of half a century ago. For fifteen minutes after the evening service opened a song service conducted, and the new Epworth League rallying song, "When the Roll is Called up Yonder, I'll Be There," was sung. Large crowds attended both morning and evening.

A Toothsome Bill of Fare—Arrangements for Leaving Camp—Notes

Last night was drizzly, but notwithstanding this the volunteers in camp put in a good time. The rain will have at least one good effect—it will lay the dust on the roads to the rifle butts. The Twenty-first Battalion had their turn yesterday, under Major Denison, and did remarkably well. They left the camp grounds at 6:30 a.m., and returned about the same hour in the evening. They were headed by their excellent band, and as they marched into the barracks square to deposit their rifles, they were a weary look and were, no doubt, glad the day was done. They were literally covered with dust.

Arrangements have been made for this battalion to leave at 9:30 Saturday morning for home.

Last night Serg. Patterson's quartet congregated in the band tents of the Twenty-first Battalion, and sang numerous songs, comic and sentimental. The basso was Pte. Geo. Botsford, tenor, A. Cooper, soprano, Pte. Suchter, alto, C. Longley. They contend, and rightly so, that this quartet can do anything in the camp in the way of vocal music.

"Nissouri" Blackwell, as the military police call him, created a scene yesterday at the camp, something like one he started the night he went up to Sam Lee's laundry, broke in the door, chewed Chief Williams' cane, and kept four or five policemen busy taking him to the station. He was drunk again yesterday and was put in the guard tent of the Twenty-second Battalion, to which body he belonged. The sergeant, Cranston, had him removed to the cells. This was not an easy undertaking, for it took about a dozen men to get him there. He came here as a private, but was raised to the rank of corporal, and will lose his stripes as a result of his bad behavior.

The old shots of the Thirtieth, who have watched the shooting with the new rifle think the ranges are of a very poor quality, and at the third range it is necessary to either stand or kneel to get a view of the targets. This somewhat affected the scores, but it is the opinion of the old shots that the Lee-Enfield rifle will prove, when properly known, to be one that will shoot very accurately. It is an especially good gun for raw shots, on account of there being no recoil.

The Governor-General will visit the camp tomorrow and Thursday. The Twenty-second Battalion will turn out 100 men as a guard of honor tomorrow, and the Thirtieth the same number on Thursday.

THE 21ST ESSEX FUSILIERS.

This battalion was organized in May, 1885 by Lieut.-Col. Wilkinson, of Leamington. He had been connected with the Leamington companies since 1862. In the spring of 1885 he started out through the country to look for officers for this battalion. His great endeavor was to get men of experience, and nearly every officer he had was a man who had either been through the school or had seen active service in 1865 and 1866. The staff under Lieut.-Col. Wilkinson were: Major Gillett, Windsor; Capt. Reeve, Quarter-Master; Capt. McLoche, Paymaster; Surgeon H. R. Casgrain, and Adjutant, Capt. Charles C. Fox.

There were five companies under the following heads: No. 1, Capt. Cheyne; No. 2, Capt. Lee; No. 3, Capt. Jones; No. 4, Capt. Templeton; No. 5, Capt. Dawson.

There have been many changes since that time, and the officers are getting in better shape all the while. Nearly every officer of the new battalion has likely been through the school or is attending.

As soon as we came to camp we settled down to work as though we had been here for ten days," said Pay-Master Captain McLoche. There are in this battalion today quite a number of officers who served in 1866. Speaking of the Americans in his battalion Major Gillett said: "The statement that there are Americans in this battalion is as false as it is foolish. It would be a gross breach of military regulations to swear in a man who was not a Canadian. We have many men who have places of business in the United States and who live in Canada, and who go across the river every morning. They are Canadians, though, and cannot be termed Americans simply because they do business across the line any more than an Irish merchant doing business in Canton could be called a Chinaman. Capt. Cheyne has two men in his company who came all the way from the other end of Michigan to join the battalion in camp, and
