MAY HAVE BEEN ABANDONED
BUT BOATS COULD NOT LAST

[Canadian Press.]

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 11.—When the tug Sarnia City returned this forenoon after an all-night watch over the big steel freighter, which lies upside down in Lake Huron, she brought no additional information as to the identity of the unfortunate vessel. The name of the derelict remains far beneath the water, and the waves are still rolling high.

Opinions differ to some extent as to the length of the vessel. The bow is out at the twenty-foot water line. About 100 feet of the bow's length are visible above water, and inasmuch as there is a depth of about 60 feet at this point in the channel, a few persons believe that the boat is in the neighborhood of 275 feet long. The entire bottom of the ship is freshly painted.

[Canadian Press.]

Port Huron, Nov. 11.—Early yesterday afternoon no clue had yet been obtained as to the identity of the 600-foot steel freighter which overturned with the probable loss of from 25 to 40 lives during the terrific storm which swept Lake Huron during the last two days. The fact that the huge vessel is lying bottom up, eight miles out in the storm-swept lake, has convinced local mariners that the ship's crew had practically no chance to escape.

The tug Sarnia City stood by the wreck all night, and her captain promised to return here as soon as he could make a hasty examination by daylight. Life-savers also prepared to go to the scene of the disaster.

TWENTY VESSELS OVERDUE AT FORT WILLIAM BY THE WORST STORM IN YEARS

[Canadian Press.]

Fort William, Nov. 11.—Twenty vessels have met disaster, but several days have elapsed before all the damage done can be learned. Among them are the Frank H. Pavey, barge Tyrone, Joseph Wood, G. R. Crowe, Dundee, Turret Chief, Winona, Palpoigne, Midland King, F. B. Wells, Sultana, L. C. Smith, Newona, Fairmount, J. A. McKee, Athabasca and Alberta.

The last-mentioned steamer is reported at Whitefish Point. Local mariners say the storm was the worst for many years on Lake Superior. The probability is that many more vessels have met disaster, but several days have elapsed before all the damage done can be learned.

SHIP THAT TURNED TURTLE
MAY BE BUFFALO OWNED

Owner of Several Freighters in City En Route to Sarnia—Fears Capsized Boat May Be One of His, All of Which Were in the Great Storm.

Hurrying from Buffalo to Sarnia, anxiety as to the outcome, having because of the reported finding of a steel freighter, turned turtle, a prominent Buffalo businessman missed the Sarnia train at 1:30 this afternoon. Coming to the Advertiser office for the latest reports from the lake, he was informed that the upturned boat had not yet been identified. He expressed

LIFE SAVING STATION WAS WRECKED BY THE STORM

Port Huron, Nov. 10.—The Port Huron life-saving station under command of Captain Plough, was put practically out of commission. The constant pounding of the waves undermined the boathouse, and it went down with a crash, covering the lifeboats with wreckage, and making it impossible to launch any of them. Captain Kimball and his faithful wife worked like beavers to keep the storm signals going at the Fort Gratiot lighthouse. Mrs. Kimball was exhausted today as a result of her effort.

Rapid Railway Car Burned.
A Rapid Railway car which passed through St. Clair at 6 o'clock this morning after being stalled all night, caught fire and was practically destroyed. All of the passengers escaped. At Harbor Beach, the steamer Rhoda Emily and consort, Pendall and Buckley, are ashore inside the harbor. Alfred and George Roberts, lake port for miles northward.

WAS ON THE "KENORA" Possibility That His Ship Was
the One Found Overturned Near Port Huron.

Great anxiety was felt in this city regarding the crew of the big freighter which was found bottom side up near Sarnia Monday night. Mr. George W. Kent is anxiously awaiting word from his son Frank, whom he believes may have been a member of the crew. "Lookout" on a big steel freighter plying between Fort William and Montreal, and in the absence of any news as to the name of the wrecked ship he thought it possible that it was the ship on which his son sailed.

Mrs. Kent is quite confident that her son is safe. "I have seen the ship," she said, "and I am sure from the descriptions given of the upturned freighter that it is not the one," she said. The name of their son's ship they believed it to be the Kenora. As far as could be learned no other Londoners are involved in the disaster, but it is possible that some of the crew is published the names of several London men will be among them.

BEILISS RELEASED

Threat of Authorities Prevents Disturbance in Streets of Kiev.

[Canadian Press.]
Kiev, Russia, Nov. 11.—Mendel Beiliss, after his acquittal by the jury last night on the charge of murdering the boy, Andrew Yushinsky in March, 1911, was quietly released at a late hour and taken to the Zaitseff brick works, where he was formerly employed. There he met his wife with some members of his family and several friends, and on the invitation of the manager they all passed the night in the superintendent's house. No disturbances occurred in the streets of Kiev, thanks to the announced intention of the authorities to suppress with an iron hand any disorders which might be instigated by the numerous anti-Semitic agitators in the city. Today Cossacks still patrolled the streets and also the surrounding districts.

DROP CROSS-PETITION
IN MACDONALD CASE

Not a Bit of Evidence of Corruption on Liberal Side.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 11.—Following the voiding of the Macdonald election through the admission by Mr. Morrison, the Conservative member of parliament, of corrupt practices by his agents, a cross-petition against Mr. R. L. Richardson has been formally dropped. A. J. Andrews, K.C., made the following statement to the court: "In the matter of the cross-petition filed by Mr. Morrison against R. L. Richardson, the unsuccessful candidate in Macdonald, I am instructed that the same will not be prosecuted. I am pleased to state that a canvass of the situation failed to elicit any evidence of personal corruption on the part of Mr. Richardson, nor is there any evidence of any acts whatever of Mr. Richardson of any dishonorable character. The cross-petition asking for the disqualification of Mr. Richardson is therefore dropped."

"I HEAR THEIR CRIES YET," SAYS
BRAKEMAN WHO ESCAPED DEATH

William Ryckman Describes Scenes at Wanstead After Collision of Trains—Willing Trainmates Were Unable to Give Help to Doomed Railwaymen.

ENGINEER HALL SAYS "IT WAS AWFUL"

Brakeman William Ryckman, of 113 William street, one of the London men injured in the wreck at Wanstead early Monday morning, was recovered sufficiently this morning to talk to an Advertiser reporter.

He owes his being alive, he says, to the fact that a short time before the collision he left the rear caboose, which was overcrowded, and went into the regular caboose of the train. "I don't know how I got out," he told The Advertiser. "I was asleep at the time of the crash, and when the engine struck the caboose my head was jammed back against the wall, and I was pinned there. A second later I felt another crash, as if the freight which collided with the engine had struck me a second time, and then I felt myself falling down through space.

Hears Their Cries Yet.
"I landed beside a window and crawled out into the snow. Everything was dark and the snow was blinding. A short time after I got out I heard 'Bill Moffatt calling for help,' and I could see his hand sticking out over the top of a beam which was pinning his arm. The rest of his body was out of sight. I also saw Hall pinned by one leg and clinging to one of the handrails. How long he was there before being liberated I cannot say, because I was carried to the engine a short time after I got out. I can hear those fellows that were pinned in the wreckage and burning, crying for help yet. It was awful. The men could do nothing for them. I think Moffatt was suffering the most, but probably I could hear his cries more than those of the other fellows. Some time later I was carried back to the caboose, but I did not hear the men crying then; they must have been dead.

Last Sight of Victims.
"I saw Holloran a short time before I went to sleep. He came into the caboose to get some fuses to place along the tracks in front of the engine, and then he went into the engine. I saw him go in. Conductor Smith, in charge of the train, asked Conductor Moffatt to look after things while he accompanied the engine to Wyoming.

BROTHER AND SISTER FAIL TO BREAK WILL

Mrs. Jessie L. Smuck Is Sustained as Beneficiary of Mrs. Henderson.

The will of Elmitra Henderson, of Belmont, is allowed to stand, according to the decision rendered at the non-jury sittings of the supreme court Monday afternoon by chief justice of the Common Pleas, Mr. R. M. Meredith. The plaintiffs in the case were Mrs. Anna Craner and William C. Henderson, sister and brother, respectively, of the deceased. They alleged that Mrs. Jessie L. Smuck, who was made the chief beneficiary in the will, the amount of which was about $2,000, used undue influence in having the money willed to her. Their contention was not sustained, however, the decision being given in favor of the defendant.

BOOKING OFFICE SUED

Charged With Blacklisting Performers in Two Circuits.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, Nov. 11.—The United Booking offices of America, promoters of theatrical enterprises, were made defendants today in a Sherman law anti-trust suit for $5,000,000 damages filed in the federal court by H. B. Marshall, Limited, of New York, London and Paris. The Central Vaudeville Promotion Company, Benj. F. Keith, A. Paul Keith, Frederick F. Proctor, Ed. F. Albee, John J. Murdock, Morris Meyerfeld, Jun. and Martin Beck are also named as defendants. The Marshall Contract Company, which is engaged in hiring vaudeville performers, alleges that its business has been destroyed by the defendants, who are charged with controlling the vaudeville business in this country and with blacklisting performers and theatres in the Keith and Orpheum circuits.

to get water. Moffatt sent Stapleton out to flag before the engine left, and as the engine was cutting off he blew the whistle. Stapleton started to come in thinking the engineer was signalling him, but I distinctly heard Moffatt call to Stapleton from the rear platform to stay out; that the engineer was whistling for him. How or when Stapleton came back to the caboose I do not know.

"It Was Awful."
Engineer Hall said still in a weakened condition, the result of his injuries and exposure. When approached by a reporter he said he could talk only with great difficulty. "How did you get out of the wreck?" he was asked. "I don't know, brother," was his reply in a weak voice. "I got out and that is all I can say. It was awful," and then he lapsed into silence. One of his eyes is completely closed and the right side of his face is blue nearly to the chin from a blow which he received from a flying timber.

MAY TAKE I.O.F. CASE
TO THE GOVERNMENT

Some Toronto Members Want Investigation Into Affairs of Order.

[Canadian Press.]
Toronto, Nov. 11.—At a meeting held last evening in the Broadway Hall on Spadina avenue to discuss the lien put upon the policies of the Foresters who joined the I. O. F. previous to 1899, it was decided to secure legal advice as to whether or not the books of the I. O. F. could be audited by a man appointed by the pre-members of 1899. The counsel who is to be engaged may also take the case to the government, and probably ask for an investigation into the affairs of the Foresters, especially on the financial side. A committee of seven men was appointed to advise as to what is the best method to adopt. Two score odd Foresters who joined the order previous to 1899 took the above action last evening, and the hat was passed around to collect funds to pay the expenses of the meeting and the lawyer.

CEMENT REPORT TO BE WOUND UP

Toronto, Nov. 11.—An order winding up the Superior Portland Cement Company, of Gravenhurst, was made at Ontario Hall this morning by Mr. Justice Latchford. The Union Trust Company was named interim liquidator, and a receiver was directed to George Knappie, K.C. The statement of affairs filed shows liabilities of $225,000, including $400,000 stock, $100,000 debentures, and accounts payable of $25,000. Bills payable $40,000, and owing to the Bank of Hamilton, $5,000. The assets are nominally the same as the liabilities, but include $80,000 spent in organizing expenses, $50,000 for installing the plant, $124,000 for the real estate, $150,000 for the plant, and some $7,000 profit and loss. The company is wound up on the petition of John I. McIntyre, of Guelph, a creditor for $25,000.

CLEVELAND IS PARALYZED;
AT MERCY OF ELEMENTS

Business Is at a Standstill and Transportation Is Completely Crippled by Two Days' Storm of Sleet, Snow and Rain—Communication Cut Off.

[Canadian Press.]

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 11.—Cleveland today is still practically paralyzed by the worst storm in its history, and the 48 hours of snow, preceded by rain and sleet. Traffic is still crippled as to be almost nil; business is at a standstill, and there is almost no hope of a recovery for many hours, and perhaps for days.

Half of the street car systems are out of commission. Half of the homes of the city are without electric lights. The local telephone systems are only partially in operation. There is no telegraph or telephone wire connection with the outside world. A few trains are struggling into the city and a few have made an effort to leave, but after the latter have left the outskirts of the city nothing has been heard from them.

Outbreak of Fire.
There has been a $75,000 fire, and if there should be another outbreak of flames the fire department would find it almost impossible to battle with suffering will be great.

LIGHTSHIP GOES DOWN
WITH A CREW OF SIX

[Canadian Press.]

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Lightship No. 82, carrying a crew of six persons, and stationed in Lake Erie off Point Abino, 15 miles west of this city, is reported lost by incoming vesselmen, and is believed to have foundered during the recent storm.

Wreckage of the lightship floated into Buffalo harbor this morning, and was picked up on the beach at the foot of Michigan street. The float consisted of a boat railing, two or three doors, apparently off a boat, and several life preservers, marked "United States L. V. 82." The ship carried a crew of six men: Hugh M. Williams, captain, Manitowish, Mich.; Cornelius Leahy, assistant engineer, Elyria, Ohio; Andrew Leahy, mate, Elyria, Ohio; William Jensen, seaman, Muskegon, Mich.; Peter Mackey, cook, Buffalo; Charles Butler, engineer, residence not known. Roscoe House, lighthouse inspector, left aboard the lightship under contract for the light vessel's station, as soon as its disappearance was reported to him. The vessel was a new steel craft, 150 feet long with a 30-foot beam.

"DONE" THE BLUEJACKETS

Uncle Sam's Tars in Europe Rebbed of $12,000.

[Canadian Press.]
Rome, Nov. 11.—The bluejackets of the United States battleships Utah, Delaware now at Villefranche and of the Vermont and Ohio at Marseilles, are greatly mortified, for review of the United States navy has been handed over to their money to the former musician with instructions to engage a special train for them. This he promised to do, but when the men had obtained shore leave and were about to start their tour of the city had absconded with the cash and they had to abandon their trip.

LACK OF MONEY WILL END HUERTA
WILSON THINKS

Refusal of Financial Aid by the Powers Would Gratify U. S. Government.

PLEASED WITH ASQUITH

Premier's Speech Disclosed Passive Attitude of Non-Interference.

[Canadian Press.]
Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—The cabinet met again today with all members present except Secretary of Labor Wilson. The Mexican topic was foremost. The raising of the embargo on arms, which has been urged upon the President and practically all the secretaries, was discussed at length.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—Indications were today that the American policy toward Mexico, which it was hoped the nations of the world generally would follow, still was "hands off." The general interpretation of the situation was that the United States, by giving foreign powers detailed information of its own determination to refuse to recognize the acts of the new Mexican Congress had indicated a desire that the powers, generally, refrain from financial dealings with the Huerta Government.

So far as could be learned, there has been no specific request for support by the powers, but there has been a plain intimation that the Washington Government believes the collapse of the Huerta regime inevitable. The foreign aid will be withheld. With the intention to regard any illegal loans or concessions the new Congress may undertake, there has been distinct intimation that a policy of acquiescence by foreign governments would be gratifying to Washington. Without financial aid and with its machinery of government pronounced illegal, officials here expected to see a state of affairs that may force Huerta to eliminate himself and show the way to a solution of the problem from the American viewpoint.

Premier Asquith's speech in London was regarded by high officials here as disclosing a passive attitude of non-interference by Great Britain in the attempts of the United States to solve the situation.

HALF THE POTATO CROP IS STILL IN THE GROUND

Unless Mild Spell Comes Buyer Says That Prices Will Materially Advance—Farmers Anxious About the Outlook in This District.

If the present weather is followed by extreme cold, the residents of London and vicinity will pay dear for potatoes this winter. It is stated that over half of the potato crop has not been removed from the ground, and until the present snowfall passes off, it will be impossible to remedy conditions.

The cold and incessant rains of last week, soaking into the ground, has caused the farmers considerable anxiety. Should a cold spell occur, the entire crop would be frozen. The heavy fall of Sunday has added materially to the danger of a potato famine.

"Everything depends on the weather," said a prominent buyer this morning to The Advertiser. "If the present snowfall is followed by a cold spell the loss to farmers and growers will be considerable. I do not believe that more than half of the potato crop has been dug."

The award of the arbitration committee, filed late this afternoon in the federal district court, is binding and final. To its terms, however, the two board representatives of the employees filed a minority report, and the two representatives of the forty-one railroads a dissenting opinion.

About twenty years ago he settled in Hanover, but a few years later moved to Walkerton. He was eighty years old, and a Liberal in politics, and a Presbyterian. And Entirely To Taking "Fruit-a-lives."

Full, Que., Dec. 24, 1909.

"For the past twelve years, I had painful attacks of Dyspepsia. I could not digest my food and everything caused the most agonizing pain in my stomach. I also had a fearful attack of Constipation and at times, I had no movement of the bowels for two weeks. Three doctors attended me for two years and gave me all kinds of medicine, but did me no good. My weight came to only 80 pounds, and everyone thought I was going to die. Finally, I had the good fortune to try 'Fruit-a-lives' and as soon as I began to take them, I felt better. I persisted in the treatment and to my great joy, I steadily improved.

"Now I feel very well, weight 115 pounds, and this is more than I ever weighed even before my illness.

"I attribute my cure solely and entirely to 'Fruit-a-lives' and can never praise them too much for saving my life. To all who suffer from Dyspepsia and Constipation, I recommend 'Fruit-a-lives' as a miraculous remedy."

This beautiful pile fabric was never more popular with the great improvement in the make and finish, which is particularly noticeable in "Lister's" English goods. The seal plush coat has gradually but surely come to the front to stay. So close is the resemblance to the real South Sea seal (which has gone beyond the reach of most people in price) that it is difficult to tell at a glance the difference in the better qualities, and we doubt if before examining the back nine out of ten could tell which was the real sealskin.

TO INVESTIGATE DEATH OF A KENT FARMER

Said To Have Died From Injuries Inflicted During an Altercation.

Chatham, Nov. 10.—As a result, it is alleged of injuries inflicted in an altercation with another farmer of the township, Henry Albright, of Howard Township, is dead and the case is being investigated by High Constable Peters. It is expected that the arrest of the alleged assailant will follow.

Little information could be secured today beyond the fact that an inquest had been ordered, and that it would be held within a day or two.

It is said that the deceased was at 5 at a meeting at which it was

MILITANT LEADER IN SERIOUS STATE

Miss Zelle Emerson Suffering From Concussion of Brain.

London, Nov. 10.—Miss Zelle Emerson, the American suffragette of Jackson, Mich., is lying seriously ill from concussion of the brain, the result of injuries received during a riot at Bow Baths in the east end of London on Nov. 5, according to an announcement made today by Mrs. Deane Fox at the regular weekly meeting of the Women's Social and Political Union, a militant suffragette organization.

Miss Emerson had presided on Nov. 5 at a meeting at which it was

London Advertiser

Founded in 1863.

LONDON, TUESDAY, NOV. 11.

THE MORNING ADVERTISER.

The Advertiser was 50 years old last month. The celebration of its 25th anniversary took the form of a special number, a storehouse of information about London and Londoners, still carefully preserved in many homes. Perhaps readers may have wondered why the 50th anniversary passed without some enterprise of this kind, but larger plans were being matured. Today The Advertiser is in a position to announce that it will signalize its half-century of vigorous life by expansion into a morning edition. Application has been made for a franchise for this purpose to the Canadian Press, Limited, which controls the Associated Press service in this country. The Advertiser is a member of the evening section of this organization, which in addition to handling British and foreign news, covers Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

It is hoped the Morning Advertiser will appear early in January, a New Year's gift to London and Western Ontario. Nothing will be spared to give it a front rank among the small number of morning papers published in Canada. The high standard reached by The Evening Advertiser will mark the Morning Advertiser at its birth. It will have from the beginning the advantage of the plant, the organization and the experience which have steadily built up this journal into the proud position it now occupies.

The Evening Advertiser, with its city and country editions, will, of course, be maintained at its present high level. The energy and resources devoted to it will not be lessened but increased by reason of the new facilities which a morning edition will put at the Advertiser's command. After all, the evening paper is the paper of the masses. We venture to say that the proportion of evening to morning papers circulating in this city is six or seven to one. The same is true of every community where an evening paper can be distributed on the day of issue. But this delivery is not everywhere possible.

It is because The Advertiser, as an evening paper, is so firmly established that the responsibility of a morning edition will be under strain. The demand for it is not new. For many years there has been insistent pressure on The Advertiser, from all parts of Western Ontario, to take the step which it has now resolved upon. The results, we are sure, will not disappoint the thousands who are prepared to welcome the Morning Advertiser. The field is an inviting one; The Advertiser will try to fill it worthily.

A STOLEN CONSTITUENCY.

More than a year ago a by-election for the Dominion Parliament was held in Macdonald, Manitoba. This constituency is partly urban, for it embraces some of the suburbs of Winnipeg; as that city goes Conservative usually, it was expected that the Government candidate, Mr. Morrison, would make a good run, though it was hoped that the rural element might be large enough to secure his defeat. But the result was to give him a majority of over 700.

Immediately charges were made by the Liberals of the most corrupt and improper methods utilized by the friends of the Government. Not only was there the ordinary bribery, practiced on a most extensive scale, but the machinery of the courts, in the hands of the Provincial Government, was employed to help Mr. Morrison. Liberals who were taking an active part in the campaign were arrested without definite charges, held prisoners until the polling was over, and then liberated without the semblance of a trial. The local constabulary were said to have threatened many of the less-educated voters with legal penalties if they ventured to vote against the Government.

Of course, there were, indignant denials of any wrong-doing. For a long time the protest was of no avail. Technicalities and subtleties of all kinds were interposed to prevent the case coming to trial, and Mr. Morrison took his seat in the House. He has remained the representative for Macdonald up till the present. But the end came this week. Mr. Morrison throws up the sponge. He admits that there was sufficient bribery to vitiate the election, and the court has declared the seat vacant, with costs against the defendant. He has also dropped the cross-petition against the Liberal candidate, Mr. Richardson.

The first notable conclusion that may be drawn from this case is the temporary efficiency of Rogerism in elections. The Hon. Mr. Rogers had practiced charge of the campaign. Immediately after the election, Conservative papers everywhere were pointing to the result as a proof of his ability as a political organizer. We were told that he had given his full time and energy to the work, and that the success of Mr. Morrison was largely due to him. That being the case Mr. Rogers must take the responsibility for the methods employed. If he gave his full time to running the election, he knew what was being done by his friends. The Liberals of Manitoba say he did more. They say he was the author of it all, in collaboration with the courteous Sir Rodmond Roblin. At all events, he must have known and approved, even if he did not initiate. The Macdonald case is an answer to the indignant protests of Conservatives who have been asking for proof that Mr. Rogers was as bad as he was painted.

The Macdonald protested election is also another evidence of the failure of Mr. Borden to keep the pledges he made when in Opposition. He was going to have proper machinery set in motion so that there would be no delay in trying an election protest. But his colleagues of the Rogers type, and there are more of them, did not want any hasty trials after they had been getting in their work anywhere. The longer the trial can be spun out the better for the criminal. Witnesses die or move out of the country; time and accident weaken or destroy evidence; public indignation subsides. In the meantime the improperly-elected member holds his seat. Doubtless Mr. Borden was sincere when he made his promises, but the Rogers element rules the roost in the Government, and the Premier submits.

Another lesson from Macdonald is the necessity of a change in the law

New Zealand is ordering 'tin pots' to start her navy with, but there they don't characterize cruisers worth $2,000,000 as tinpots, because there are no tinpot politicians trying to make a party issue out of naval defence.

Two more federal by-elections coming. There was a time when a Government had little to fear, and the Opposition little to hope for on such occasions. But to the present Government a by-election is as welcome as frost in July.

BRAKEMAN MUST HAVE FAILED TO GUARD HIS TRAIN

Engineer Burrell Claims That His Train Was Not Flagged.

STAPLETON THE LAST MAN Sent Out From Caboose to Prevent Accidents, It Is Stated.

In an official statement sent to Montreal by local Grand Trunk officials it is understood that the blame of Monday morning's Wanstead wreck is laid at the door of one of the brakemen, who should have protected the rear end of the train while the engine went to Wyoming for coal and water.

Engineer Burrell, of Sarnia, who was at the throttle of the engine which crashed into the standing freight, claims he was not "flagged," and that no lights were displayed on the rear of the caboose. The last statement is denied by Brakeman Breckell, of Sarnia, who was on the steps of the caboose when the crash came.

Parts of Conductor Moffatt's body were recovered Monday night. He was completely charred, except where a beam had fallen across his stomach. Nothing but a ball of twisted metal remained of his watch. The bodies of Holloran and Stapleton, the two other victims, while terribly charred, were not so much burned as that of Conductor Moffatt.

HEARD MURDER THROUGH PHONE

Paris Police Are Endeavoring To Run Down Strange Case.

Paris, Nov. 11.—For two weeks past the Paris police have been searching for the scene of a supposed murder, but their search has been in vain. A woman in charge of an apartment-house in Passy, answering the ring of a telephone bell a fortnight ago, heard screams for help, and the cry that murder was being committed. A policeman was called and he listened to the end of the supposed tragedy. The cries became fainter and fainter, and there seemed to come the sound of a falling body.

Forest, Nov. 11.—Edwin Milner, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Milner, died at his parents' home on Sunday morning, after a painful illness of a few days, spinal meningitis having set in. The funeral will take place today at Beechwood Cemetery, with Rev. A. J. Thomas officiating.

Lawson Dodge, Seaborne Capes, Stanley Molitor, Robert Abell and Harold Stewart, returned from the West yesterday, after an absence of two months.

John Palmer Thomas, aged 20 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas, of Plympton Township, died this morning. On Saturday he was driving a load of corn into the barn and fell off the wagon backwards. He struck on the back of his head, causing paralysis, from which he never rallied. The funeral will take place at Beechwood Cemetery, Forest, on Wednesday afternoon.

There is only so much energy in the human body. A few people have an abundance, but more have not enough. Hence the necessity of conserving vitality.

If wasted by mode of living, disease or worry there must be a re-energizing, and trouble is sure to come. It may be headaches and weak, aching eyes; it may be nervous indigestion, or it may be merely lack of energy and ambition, and feelings of fatigue or helplessness. Of course, sooner or later exhaustion of the nerves leads to prostration, paralysis or locomotor ataxia, but there is no need to let the trouble develop that far.

By using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food you can restore to the feeble, wasted nerve cells the energy they have lost. It will take some effort on your part to give up worry and anxiety, but you should realize your serious condition. Rest and use this great food cure and you are bound to improve in health and vigor.

PRES. CHAMBERLIN GOES TO DETROIT

Three Official Cars on Special Train Pass Through.

President Chamberlin, Vice-President Kelly, and other prominent officials of the Grand Trunk, passed through London on a special train at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

In the special were three private cars, "Ottawa," "Ontario," and "Algonquin," as well as a baggage car. The party went through to Detroit, where it was scheduled to arrive at 10:30.

A stop of only a few minutes was made in this city, none of the officials leaving their cars.

KINGSTON BURGLARS SMASH GLASS

Kingston, Nov. 11.—Smashing a pane of glass in the door at the rear of the store, burglars secured an entrance to the store of Takito Auction Company on Princess street last night, while the proprietor, A. G. Johnson, was at lunch, and made off with a tray of gold watches valued at $300.

CLUNG TO RAIL UNTIL HAND FROZE AND SAVED HIS LIFE

Engineer William Hall Would Have Fallen Into Flames But for His Grit—Begged Comrades to Cut His Leg Off.

Clinging to an iron handrail to keep the upper portion of his body out of the flames, Engineer William Hall, of Rectory street, had his hand frozen to the wrist, while three of his fellow employees were roasted to death in the wreck near Wanstead Monday morning.

Hall at the time of the collision was asleep in a caboose, and when his companions who escaped tried to rescue him they found that one of his legs was pinned by a heavy beam and that fire was working its way all round him. The heavy wind from the west blew the flames away from him, and it is due to this fact that he is alive. When his companions reached him they found that his back was bent almost double, and nearly to the breaking point, but he clung gamely to the iron handrail and held himself back.

Begged to Have Leg Off. A short time before he was rescued the flames crept up around his feet, in spite of the work of his comrades, who were carrying snow and dumping it on them, and Hall begged them to get an axe and chop off his leg.

"It's better to lose a leg than to be burned to death, boys," he told them, but the men finally liberated him and carried him to the engine to get warm.

Hall's hand and wrist were badly frozen, but he will likely recover. "He is in a weakened condition from lack of food and exposure, and is badly bruised," said the doctor. "His legs are broken and his collarbones are fractured, but I don't think he is internally injured."

Although there were only three casualties in the wreck, the story of the rescues of the injured and the death of the three men who were cremated are replete with thrills.

ling with the outside world that was in operation was a line running south to St. Thomas and thence to Buffalo.

West of the city everything was tied up beyond Hyde Park. Two main leads split there, one going to Windsor and the other to Sarnia. On the Windsor line, linemen reported that all poles were down for about a mile and a half west of Hyde Park, and on the Sarnia line a big apple tree was blown right through the wires and wrought havoc. Gangs of men are at present engaged in repairing the damage. The damage in the city was comparatively small.

WIRE SERVICES NOT RECOVERED FROM BIG BLOW

Telegraph and Telephone Communication Out of London Still Demoralized.

Telephone and telegraph—wire communication—out of London is still limited, repairs not having yet been effected after the storm of Sunday and Monday morning. West of London particularly wires are still down, it being impossible to secure direct connection, either by telephone or telegraph, with the great majority of places. Telegraph and telephone messages have had to be relayed to reach their destination. In many cases "rush" messages are being received on the understanding that they can only be sent through when communication is reopened. No promises as to when this will be being made.

Railways Crippled. The Grand Trunk and C. P. R. are still experiencing considerable difficulty with broken wires. Communication was established with Stratford Monday night, but the wires broke in some places again this morning.

Superintendent W. R. Davidson, of the Grand Trunk, counted 194 telephone poles down between here and Sarnia, and it was also reported that 25 were down on the Petrolia branch. The C. P. R. has also experienced considerable difficulty with broken wires, but their lines are in fairly good condition today. It was reported that hundreds of poles were down on the M. C. R. and E. M. C. R. lines.

Long Distance Lines Down. London was practically isolated all day Monday as far as telephone service was concerned. Communication on nearly every long distance line coming into the city was interrupted, and about the only line communicating with the outside world that was in operation was a line running south to St. Thomas and thence to Buffalo.

Problems of the Fair Sex Solved by Cynthia Grey

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letters can be answered privately.]

Heart Balm For Her.

My Dear Miss Grey: I have never had to appeal to you before, but now I am in great distress. I know a man from another city who has rushed me for two years. I am 19 years, and he is 22 years. We have written to each other every week until towards the end of August, when he wrote to ask if he could come and spend a few days with us. While he was here we seemed to be just as good friends as we had been when I had seen him a few weeks before. After he left he wrote a note of thanks to my mother, and I have not heard from him since this. I have heard about him in a round-about way. I love that man, Miss Grey. Is there anything I can do in the matter. I can't go to my mother, as we have never been good friends. Thanks for what I hope to see in print soon.

A—Oh, Babby, child, I wonder if you know how very, very sad that second last sentence of yours is. "I can't go to my mother, as we have never been good friends, and yet you write your troubles to a perfect stranger. And I feel quite safe in saying that if you were to confide in your mother you would find her sympathetic and understanding, and able to give you just the heart balm and counsel that you need."

It is never wise to judge anyone too hastily. Letters have been known to go astray before this. Why not write your friend saying that you have not heard from him for some time, and asking if he has forgotten you. Your future action can be guided by whether he replies, and if so, in what tone.

And if he intends to drop your acquaintance, without reason or explanation, then he is not the kind of a man you should waste a moment worrying over. Your life is much better off without him. You are young, and believe me or not, youth can soon forget, or soon can find another object of devotion that the wound does not hurt for very long.

A Legal Query.
Dear Miss Grey: Having received help from your column before, I come to you again: How many years before a debt is outlawed? And oblige.

MRS. B.
A—Six years from the time it was payable, or from a payment or acknowledgment of it or an acknowledgment of it in writing.

Would-Be an Ad. Writer.

Dear Miss Grey: I would esteem it a favor if you would kindly publish the answer to my query at your earliest, through your valued column in the Advertiser.

I am anxious to know whether women as yet, are employed as ad. writers, and if so, where a person would find the desired knowledge to further this study?

J. F.
A—There are a number of competent and very able women ad. writers even in this city. Several are employed in writing local retail advertising. The only advertising agency in London employs a lady ad. writer. One requires to have experience before they become proficient to write general advertising copy.

DOLL I' THE GRASS

Chapter II.

"Where are you going?" she asked.
So he told her all about how he was one of twelve sons sent out by the king father to find wives for themselves. He also told her they were ordered to get wives who could spin, weave and sew a shirt in a day.

"But if you will only say you will be my wife, I will not go a step farther," said he, for he had fallen in love with the little Doll at first sight.

She was quite willing. So she set about spinning, weaving and sewing the shirt at once.

It was very, very, very tiny, just about—so long.

Pickles set off home with it as soon as it had been completed, although he felt ashamed of it because it was so small.

Still the king was satisfied and said Pickles could have the little maid for

KATHERINE LESLIE'S HOME HINTS

THE BATHROOM AND ITS FURNISHINGS.

Many women do not realize that a bathroom requires a very special fitting up to make it the room of convenience and comfort it should be. The bath tub and hand basin are not, by any means, sufficient furnishings. A chair is an essential to comfort and convenience, a mirror is a sine qua non, pegs upon which to hang garments must find a place on door or wall—but proper pegs—not disfiguring ugly common nails. Many nickel rails for the towels are counted essential by every good housewife for towels require to be spread out properly to dry and the individual nickel rail for each member of the household is a wise provision. A nickel holder for a drinking glass is placed above and at the right-hand side of the hand basin, and for those who do not mind toothbrushes being bunched together, though not touching, there are pierced nickel tops for glasses into which the handles of the toothbrushes are thrust. A small cabinet in which to keep medicines, powders, creams, etc., is something that no self-respecting bathroom lacks. Rows of bottles and jars and tubes and powder tins, all exposed to view would ruin the appearance of any bathroom. A plate-glass shelf is a desirable item to place on nickel brackets above the wash basin. It is good to see, can be cleaned immaculately, and it is quite as durable, proper care being taken, as any insubstantial wooden shelf. The bathroom that boasts a cupboard with shelves upon which clean towels, face and bath, may be stored for immediate use is a treasure by no means common. But a substitute may be used in a small short cupboard built into a corner. This falling a so-called shirtwaist box is capital, for it serves for a store place for the towels, wash cloths, etc., and may be used as a substitute for a chair. Bath mats of cork or of heavy Turkish towelling are indispensable items in the well-furnished bathroom. Those in Turkish towelling are good because they can be washed, and they come in all colors and designs, so that, if a bathroom has any particular color scheme, it may be carried out in this article as well as in the towels and wash cloths. Many women now have placed in the bathroom an electric curler for the women of straight hair. The ideal bathroom is all in white. A pine floor may be covered effectively with black and white linoleum which has all the appearance of black and white marble. The woodwork may be enamelled in pure white, and if color is desired on the walls, there are very lovely and special wall papers for this purpose, or the plaster may be painted a delicate blue, yellow or green, all of which colors in conjunction with the white woodwork and nickel fittings and white bath, make up a room of exquisite cleanliness, first of all the essentials of a bathroom. Then a pin cushion having pins—common and safety—and a threaded needle occasionally—is a perfect boon in the bathroom, and the soiled linen basket is snugly tucked into some convenient corner.

Canadian Women

At the meeting of the Women's Hospital Aid of Brantford, held on Friday last, it was announced that over $470 had been realized from their recent rummage sale.

Dr. A. H. Sims, of McGill University, in giving an address in Montreal, said that the examination system is bad for the child's mind. He asked women to take more interest in affairs in the schools.

Mrs. J. McKinney, of Claresholm, Alberta, W. C. T. U. president of that province, is visiting relatives in this vicinity of Brockville. Mrs. McKinney attended the Dominion convention, W. C. T. U., in London, and the world's convention at Brooklyn, N.Y., recently.

The Agnes Dean Cameron Chapter, I. O. O. E. of Victoria, is named after the clever woman writer who died there last year. At a recent meeting of the chapter a sketch written by the late Miss Cameron was read.

A domestic science demonstration was given after the regular business meeting of the Calgary American Women's Club on Thursday.

Dr. C. S. McMurry addressed the Women's Christian Association of Montreal on "First Aid to the Injured" on Saturday.

The General Brock Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, of Brockville, are furnishing a ladies' room in the Victoria building.

SOME NAME.

A young woman in Central Park overheard an old negro call to a pickaninny: "Come back, Eazy, Eazy!" "Excuse me," said the young woman, "but isn't that a queer name for a baby, aunty?"

"Dat ain't her full name," explained the old woman with pride; "dat's her de pet name. I call her short. Dat chile got a mighty grand name. He ma picked it out in a medicine book. Yessum, de chile's full name is Escemana."

If you cannot afford the nickel-plated nails for the bathroom, it is easy to paint common nails white, so that they rust towels or garments hung upon them.

Tea-Table Talk

As a Woman. An interesting description of the opening of the Provincial House of Parliament in Regina, from a woman's standpoint, is given in a recent issue of the Regina Daily Leader, by Miss Armstrong, formerly of the "Echo" staff, and well known in this city. Miss Armstrong writes:

Apart from the interest that attaches to the political significance, each year the opening of the Provincial Parliament in Saskatchewan becomes more and more of a grand millinery parade. The weather yesterday was ideal for the season, and most favorable for the donning of elaborate frocks, rich wraps and furs and feathers. Heavily-laden were street cars, automobiles and carriages that turned south on Albert street as the hour of three approached and carried their burdens over the bridge that spans Wascana. Evidences of unusual pomp and festivity were noted in the guard of honor drawn up on foot and mounted in front of the main entrance awaiting the arrival of the Lieutenant-Governor.

Luxuriously blooming plants banked for several feet on either side the stairway leading to the rotunda about the galleries of which onlookers peered down at the spectacle below.

Spectators literally jammed in the galleries in the assembly chamber, while the floor of the House presented a gay picture, a veritable riot of color, unlike the sombre dignity of ordinary occasions. To the left of Mr. Speaker's throne was seated Mrs. Brown, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor of Saskatchewan, who looked exceedingly well in a graceful gown of rose brocade with a Persian lamb Gainsborough hat, trimmed with plumes and hair ornaments.

A description of many of the smart costumes worn by the wives, daughters and friends of the cabinet ministers followed. Then Miss Armstrong resumes her account of the proceedings:

Impressive. Always a distinguished Ceremony, figure, the chief executive of the Province was particularly impressive as he entered in his gold-laced uniform and plumed hat, preceded by the band leader and accompanied by his guard of honor. In spite of democratic avowals, there is something about the trappings and red tape of a monarchical form of Government that make a strong appeal to the average individual, evidences as they are of dignity and order.

The speech from the throne made one realize what an important and growing province we are getting to be and how growingly serious are the duties of those who administer affairs.

A ceremony that created interest for those who had not witnessed similar scenes before was the introducing of two youthful-looking new members who were led in by an escort of cabinet ministers very much as a princess is taken to the altar—the circumstances in this case being much pleasanter.

Following the adjournment, there was a usual exchange of greetings, the welcoming of seasonal visitors by local hostesses and the many other little pleas for lingering in an attractive environment.

Miss Haldane Aids Distinguished Brother

Lord High Chancellor and Sister Live Together—Both Unmarried.

Miss Haldane, who accompanied her brother, the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, on his brief visit to Canada, is one of the most cultured and accomplished women of the day.

She is the friend and counselor of her learned brother, and when he was secretary of war, is said to have been his right-hand during the session.

Miss Haldane is an eloquent speaker, and has supported educational reforms as well as the establishment of the territorial force. Although Miss Haldane is a politician and an author, she finds time for old-fashioned womanly occupations. She is an excellent needle-woman, and is one of the few gentlemen who know how to spin.

Though, to judge by the pictures taken in Montreal, Miss Haldane has lost something of her girlhood's grace and beauty, the ties that bind brother and sister together have grown stronger with the passing years. Neither has married, and in their beautiful London mansion they enjoy the society of each other and of their friends as much as such busy people can.

THE FIRST SANDWICH.

The first sandwich, so-called, was made of two large slices of bread with a slice of ham between, and was devoured by the fourth earl of Sandwich, who was born 125 years ago today, November, 3, 1719. This earl, says an exchange, like most of the English nobles of that time, was devoted to games of chance, and it was this predilection that was responsible for the application of the name to the sandwich. When the stakes ran high the belted earl was unable to tear himself away from the gaming table, and it was his custom to order servants to bring his slices of bread and ham. Other devotees of the goddess of luck followed his example, and gave the name of "sandwich" to the combination for bread and meat. The passion for gambling is no longer so prevalent as in the earl of Sandwich's day, but the rush and hurry of modern life have given the sandwich a wide popularity who would "get filled quick" at the expense of digestion and health. The noble who invented the sandwich was long first lord of the admiralty, and held other high positions in the English Government.

BRITAIN NOT OPPOSED TO THE U. S. POLICY

Says That London and Washington Are Agreed as to Mexico.

London, Nov. 10.—The Guildhall banquet tonight was attended by the usual brilliant company, which included cabinet ministers, members of the diplomatic corps and peers of the realm, the Archbishop of Canterbury, Sir Rufus Isaacs, Lord chief justice, naval and military officers and many persons prominent in civil and political spheres.

Premier Asquith, referring to the Mexican situation, said that Mexico was still in the throes of civil war. There never had been and could not be any question of political intervention on the part of Great Britain in the domestic concerns of Mexico or any Central or South American state. It was no part of Great Britain's right or duty, in that part of the world at any rate, to prevent revolutions or attempt to preclude or control civil war. The utmost that Great Britain could do was to give what protection might be possible to British lives and property in times of urgent danger and crisis. The rumor found credence in some quarters, he said, that at a moment when the United States were taking a line of their own with regard to Mexico, Great Britain had entered upon a new departure of policy deliberately opposed to that of the United States, and calculated to thwart it.

Agreed as to Mexico. There was not a vestige of foundation for any such rumor. It was the 31st of March, before the present Administration of the United States had an opportunity of making any declaration of policy. When the British Government recognized Huerta as President and in turn Mexico it did so because, having itself neither the will nor the power to intervene, it was bound to deal with whatever was for the time being the de facto Government, and because there appeared no element except Huerta that offered any prospect of the restoration of stability and order. That was on the 31st of March. Since that time there had been no change of policy by the British Government. Great Britain gladly assumes that the policy of the United States would have regard to the legitimate commercial interests of Mexico as well as their own. The exchange of views with the United States had been marked by perfect cordiality. Nothing could happen to disturb their common resolve to maintain a friendly and sympathetic understanding. None had done more to foster that spirit than Mr. Bryce. (Cheers.)

CORSICA LIGHTSHIP DRAGGED HER ANCHOR

Shifted From Place by Storm of Sunday—Liner Hawgood Aground.

Sarnia, Nov. 10.—The Lynn Marine Reporting Agency notified the Reid Wrecking Company here at an early hour this morning that the Corsica Shoal lightship had dragged her anchor and was out of position and flying distress signals. A tug was sent in response, but the signals had been lowered and the captain of the lightship reported that he could not engage assistance, until authorized by the departmental chief at Chicago. The wrong position of the light presents a serious menace to navigation. The steamer Matthew Anderson, Captain Jos. Lampon, owners Kinsman Company, of Cleveland, grounded this morning on Corsica Shoal, being misled by the wrong position of the lightship. The Anderson had ridden out the gale at anchor and had her upper works battered in by the waves. After daylight she sighted the lightship and headed toward the mouth of the St. Clair and went aground, the shores being invisible on account of snow.

The H. W. Hawgood, of the Hawgood Transportation Company, Capt. May, Cleveland, is grounded three miles above Point Edward, opposite Woodrow Beach summer resort. Reported gains of from ten to twenty pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by good druggists everywhere, and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Caution.—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in the treatment of nervous indigestion and general stomach disorders, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-producing effect, be used by those who are not willing to increase their weight ten pounds or more. —Advt.

100 PEOPLE CURED OF ECZEMA

Within the past few months one hundred people have written to the Zam-Buk Co. expressing gratitude for their cure of eczema by Zam-Buk. Zam-Buk cures eczema—not in a few isolated cases, but in nearly every case in which it is given a fair trial. Why not let it cure you?

He Suffered for 20 Years

MR. GEORGE J. TAYLOR, Lower Napan, N.B., writes:—I had eczema for over twenty years. At first it appeared in small spots and then began to spread, until I suffered awful misery. I went to a doctor, who gave me a tonic and some ointment. After using it for a while I saw that it was not doing much good, and decided to try another, but with the same result. I tried numerous ointments which it was claimed would cure eczema, but with the same result—the eczema always came back, and always a little worse than before.

By this time it had spread all over my face and head, and I was obliged to stay indoors. The irritation and burning was terrific, and I thought at times that I would go crazy from it. No one could imagine what I suffered with it, and I was obliged to give up my work.

At that time I happened to see Zam-Buk advertised, and decided to try a box. After the first application I felt relief. It soothed and eased the burning and itching. I persevered with the treatment, and although my case was so bad, it took some time to effect a cure, in a few days Zam-Buk cured me completely.

ZAM-BUK CURES ECZEMA, BLOOD POISON, ULCERS, COLD SORES, CHAPPED HANDS, SCALP SORES, CUTS, BURNS, BRUISES, SCALDS and all SKIN INJURIES AND DISEASES. All druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, post free for price. Refuse harmful substitutes and imitations.

TEACHERS' SCALE IS ADVANCED BY SCHOOL TRUSTEES

Minimum and Maximum Salaries For Women Are Both Raised by $100.

A SUPERANNUATION FUND

Board Discusses Advisability of Establishing Pensions—Boys and Girls at Play.

If the recommendations of the finance committee of the board of education made Monday afternoon are ratified by the trustees at their session on Thursday, the minimum salary for women teachers will be raised $100, and the maximum a like amount. This will mean that $900 will be the future limit, instead of $800 as at present; and that all new teachers will start at $550 a year instead of $450. Provision will also be made to make the yearly increases $25, or just half what they are at present. This means that it will take the teachers 14 years to reach the maximum instead of seven as at present.

The Secretary Objects. When the salary question was brought up by the petition of the teachers for the increase of the minimum to $1,000—Trustee Dr. R. W. Shaw made the motion for the increase in the minimum and the reduction in the yearly increase. Later he introduced a motion that teachers in the first and seventh grades be granted a $100 maximum increase. Secretary R. M. McElheran objected to this, claiming that it was against the rules of the board to make such a motion. Trustee Shaw insisted that it was, and he was supported by the committee. His motion, however, was defeated, and an amendment, moved by Chairman R. R. Dennis, of the board, that the $900 figure be made general, was carried.

Says They Are Best. The selection of the first and seventh grades was made by Trustee Shaw after Inspector Edwards, in reply to a question, had explained that the teachers in these grades were possibly the most important and best in the city schools.

Saturday morning art classes under the supervision of Supervisor Adams, of the manual training department, and Miss Mulvenny, supervisor of art, were recommended. Miss Jessie Simpson, who resigned after 42 years' service, was granted her salary until the end of the year. The committee will report later on what annual grant shall be made her. This question brought up that of forming a superannuation fund, and this system may be brought into existence before long.

Believes in Segregation. A new phase of the playgrounds question was broached by Secretary McElheran. "I would call the attention of the board to the fact that contrary to the regulations of the department boys and girls are playing together in the playgrounds," stated the secretary. "Girls should not be allowed to be with the boyish boys." No action was taken on this question. The purchase of 20 sets of Bible stories for reading in the public schools was recommended. There was some discussion as to whether or not these "stories" would be contrary to the regulations which allow nothing but the Bible to be read in school, but they were unobjectionable and no comments or creeds were included. It was decided to recommend their purchase for use in the primary grades.

CORRESPONDENCE

Street Railway Matters.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: In reading last Saturday's Advertiser, I noticed on the front page a report of a meeting of the city council and Mr. Smallman, vice-president of the street railway company, re Sunday cars. Of course, Mr. Smallman is a man of experience in the running and financing of the cars of the city, and no doubt speaks from experience, as I from your report there was little wonder that he told the mayor that his manner was sickening. He would not take Mr. Smallman's word for the truth, and said that he did not believe him. But the questions and the concessions asked of the street railway company were the most ignorant of anything I ever read. The idea of the mayor wanting to know if the company would run the same schedule on Sundays as on week days. Why, any boy, 10 years old, would know that there would be no need for any such service, and for the mayor to think that the traffic on Sundays would be equal to holidays—that got my goat. It is to be hoped that when the Port Stanley Railway is electrified that we will have a mayor with a little business ability, and not one that plays to the gallery. Why, in the city of Toronto, when street cars were first operated on Sunday, and, remember, Toronto was something like 200,000 people at that time, the schedule ran from about 9 a.m. till 10 p.m., a car about every half hour until church time then oftener. Yet our mayor would ask for a holiday schedule in a city of 50,000 people. I lived in the city of Lansing, Mich., at the time Sunday cars started there, and the patronage was very small indeed. Lansing and London are very much alike in many ways, and about the same population. But after the novelty of Sunday cars wore off, which was only a few weeks, there was very little doing.

Now, there is no doubt in my mind but Mr. Smallman said what he really believed that Sunday cars would not pay in London. He ought to know. The company is not anxious to operate Sunday cars, which goes to show that they would not pay, as no doubt they have given the matter careful consideration.

I am not writing either against Sunday cars, or in their favor, but just to congratulate Mr. Smallman, and that he knew what he was talking about. Now, as to our schedule at the present time. It may not be the best, but with a very little change, I think it could be improved considerably. I venture to say, I cover the city—all parts of it—and all the different car lines I use probably as much as any man in the city, and the worst service

London Ball Club Will Consider Site for Park

Local Directors May Have To Secure New Park
For Canadian League Games Next Season—
City's Property Near Woodland Cemetery
May Be Secured.

One of the important matters that will be discussed by the London baseball club when it meets this week will be the location of a new ball park. The lease on Tecumseh Park has expired, and other parties have secured an option on it. This probably means that the West London meadow will not be the scene of the local Canadian League contests when the season opens next May. The directors are now facing the problem of securing other grounds, and it is likely that early next spring work will be started on a brand new ball park.

A Choice Location.
Just where this work will be located is not definitely known as yet. The London Street Railway Company has offered the local club the choice of three suitable sites, but nothing has been done in the matter so far. One of the best suggestions, and one that will probably be acted upon, is that the London ball club ask the city council for the tract of land lying east of Woodland Cemetery. The city owns a large level strip of property there, and it would make an ideal baseball park. The Springfield car line runs along the side of it, and the Pipe Line road forms its southern boundary. The land is lying idle at present, and it is believed that the city council would grant the local club a free lease of ten years, providing it built grand stands and went to the expense of fitting it up as a baseball park. Although not as close to the heart of the city as Tecumseh Park, it is only about twenty minutes' walk from the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets.

HALL SAYS EXPERIENCE
NOT BRAINS THAT LONDON
INTERMEDIATES LACKED

Alf Hall, the former Collingwood player, who will turn out with the London O. H. A. Intermediates this year, has asked The Advertiser to correct the impression that some people might take from the article in last Friday's sport page. It was stated in this article that Hall said the London team lacked brains on its defence and that this largely caused London's defeat. By brains he meant hockey experience and knowledge of the game. It did not refer to any lack of gray-matter on the part of the players. What Hall said and what the article meant was that the local team did not possess the actual hockey experience and knowledge necessary to compete with an older and much more experienced bunch of players like Collingwood had. Hockey experience is only gained after years of hard work playing the game, and as London had a remarkably young bunch of players they had not yet reached that stage.

WINGHAM HOCKEY CLUB
ORGANIZES FOR SEASON

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Wingham, Nov. 11.—A meeting of the Wingham Northern Hockey League Club was held in the firemen's hall here last evening, a large number of local hockey enthusiasts attending. President, L. F. Binkley was in the chair, and the affairs of the club and league were discussed. The outlook in Wingham this year is very bright, and a strong team will be placed in the league. Last season the Wingham club went into the finals for the Northern League championship. The following officers were elected: Hon. President—Dr. J. P. Kennedy. President—L. F. Binkley. Secretary—R. A. Currie. Treasurer—R. Brooks. Manager of Team—T. Elliott. Captain of Team—M. Telford. Managing Committee—W. Miller, F. McLean, G. Jacques, W. Gourlay.

LOCAL O. H. A. CLUBS
HOLD FIRST WORKOUT

About 35 local hockey aspirants gathered at the Princess rink last evening and engaged in the initial workout held by the London hockey club. Although the hockey season is several weeks in the future, workouts will be held two or three times a week from now on in order to get the players in sound physical condition for the games. Light exercises, such as running, skipping and manual exercises, were indulged in. There is lots of material for both intermediate and junior teams this year, but the management wishes to see every hockey player of any ability at all turn out and try for places on these teams. The Princess rink has just installed a new lighting system, which is a decided improvement, and the local rink will be one of the best-lighted arenas in the O. H. A. Edwards and Hall were not out at last evening's workout. Gus is working nights for awhile, but as he has been playing Rugby with the local club he is in pretty good condition right now. Hall was out of the city. He returned this morning and will soon open a billiard parlor here.

WILLIE RITCHIE
OUTBOXED CROSS

Lightweight Champion Given
Decision Over the New York
Dentist Last Night.

BOUT WAS A FIERCE ONE

Cross Was Knocked Down For Count of Nine a Couple of Times—His Recuperative Powers Saved
Him.

New York, Nov. 10.—Willie Ritchie, the lightweight champion, tonight outpointed Leach Cross, of New York, in ten rounds of the fiercest milling ever seen in this city.

Both men fought like wounded tigers from the tap of the gong, and Ritchie won only through his showing in the last two rounds of whirlwind battling, during which he landed some terrific punches against the face and body of Cross.

A Gory Battle.
The fight was perhaps the bloodiest ever staged in New York. One in which both men were covered with blood from the waist down from the fourth round on, and one so fast and furious that the crowd was on its feet yelling like madmen, during every moment of the fighting.

The first and seventh rounds were even. The second, fifth and eighth went to Cross, while Ritchie won out in the third, fourth, sixth and ninth, but only by slight margins except in the third, when he scored a clean knockdown on the count of nine, and followed with another for the count of three. In this round Ritchie crossed to the mat, and he had barely got to his feet when the champion drove him against the ropes and sent him to the mat again, accomplishing both tricks with lefts to Cross's jaw.

Cross Was Stalling.
To many it looked as though Cross, in going to the mat, was executing a little of his famous stalling. The smashes Ritchie sent against his rival's jaw looked like preliminary punches, but each time a genuine power punch after his second knockdown, he rushed Ritchie with the fury of a madman.

In the fifth Cross raised a bump on Ritchie's head and back once or twice, and backed him against the ropes repeatedly. The last round continued implored Cross to land the blow that would have brought the championship to New York, but Cross lacked the Morpheus wallop.

Both Men Badly Battered.
Both men began the final round as badly battered up as any men that ever swapped punches, but each made a game, desperate effort, swinging every ounce of their strength into play. For half the round it seemed an even affair, but Ritchie's endurance won the round and the fight for him. Had Cross been able to stem the onslaught in the final round, he would have earned a draw.

Cross was first to enter the ring, followed a few seconds later by Ritchie. The Cross supporters gave their idol a rousing welcome, and then accorded an equal ovation to Ritchie.

Crowd a Disappointment.
The crowd was something of a disappointment to the promoters. It was expected that the Garden would be filled to its capacity. The $1 gallery and the $10 ring-side boxes were jammed, but many of the intermediate priced seats were vacant when the fight began. It looked like an $8,000 crowd.

Don Whitehead, who raced through the Michigan circuit, will winter at Nashville, where he has a dozen youngsters sired by Al Stanley, sire of Etawah.

LIVE STOCK.

MONTREAL, Nov. 10.—West End Market—Cattle—Receipts, 2,500 head; calves, 500 head; sheep and lambs, 1,800 head; hogs, 850 head. There were no choice cattle on the market, but anything good brought higher prices. There is still a brisk demand for bulls and stockers for shipment to the United States. Prime, 7½¢ to 7¾¢; medium, 5½¢ to near 7¢; common, 3½¢ to 5¢; bulls, 4 to 4½¢; stockers, 4 to 4½¢; calves, 3½¢ to 5¢; sheep, 14¢ to 15¢; lambs about 6½¢. Hogs, 9½¢.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Cattle—Receipts, 6,000; market steady; heaves, $6.75 to $7.50; Texas steers, $6.00 to $7.75; stockers and feeders, $5 to $7.75; cows and heifers, $3.25 to $5.25; calves, $7 to $11.25. Hogs—Receipts, 23,000; market slow; light, $7.65 to $8.20; mixed, $7.65 to $8.25; heavy, $7.50 to $8.25; rough, $7.50 to $7.75; pigs, $5.50 to $7.75; bulk of sales, $7.50 to $8.15. Sheep—Receipts, 25,000; market strong; native, $4.35 to $5.60; yearlings, $5.50 to $6.75; lambs, native, $8.25 to $8.95.

TORONTO, Nov. 10.—The run at the Union stockyards today totalled 197 cars, containing 3,838 cattle, 227 calves, 1,512 hogs and 2,202 sheep and lambs. The market today opened about steady with last week, though the trade was a little slower. This, however, did not materially affect the quotations, all the better grades remaining firm with Thursday's closing.

There was a good demand for the better grades, while the medium class also found a fair sale. The average quality of the shipments, however, was poor, and if the future consignments are not of a better quality, a big slump may be looked for on the market this week. Fortunately the shipment today was only about half as large as it has been for the past two weeks on an opening day, and this will tend to keep the prices up. The trade for stockers and feeders opened firm, and there is every prospect of a rise in prices on this market before the close on Thursday.

The market for calves was very good, and prices remained firm. Each week sees an ever-decreasing number of calves on the market, and prices are consequently high. Sheep and lambs are still a very good sale, the demand today causing the quotations for lambs to advance from 5¢ to 10¢. This makes an advance of almost 40¢ on this market since the opening of last week. Hogs opened from 10¢ to 15¢ lower than last week's closing. Whether this market will show an increase or a further decrease during the week depends almost entirely upon the runs.

The run at the city cattle market today totalled 16 cars, containing 452 cattle, 387 sheep and lambs, and 37 hogs. The demand today for the better grades of butcher cattle was persistent, almost every offering of the higher class being taken. The quality of the cattle, however, was on the whole poor, and few of the better class could be found. There was a good demand for sheep and lambs, with prices ranging from steady to higher. Hogs were a trifle lower, but the small run helped to keep the prices up. Stockers and feeders were firm, with the prospect of a rise in prices before the close.

The quotations were:
Export cattle, cwt., $7.25 to $7.50

Butcher cattle, medium, 5.75 to 6.40
Butcher cattle, common, 3.50 to 4.50

Freighter Andrews Aground at Shoal at Mouth of the St. Clair.
WORD OF THE SOPHIE
Steel Boat Leafed Overdue and Steamer Ashore at the Royale.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Sarnia, Ont., Nov. 10.—The freighter Andrews, of the Steinbrenner Company, is aground on the Corsica Shoal, about two miles from the head of the St. Clair River, in Lake Huron, according to reports received here today. The tug Sarnia City was out to the boat today. The cargo will have to be lightered.

Word was received at the Reid office here tonight that the steamer Acadian, of the Merchants' Mutual Line, is hard aground on Sulphur Island, near Alpena. It is not known whether the steamer was damaged or not. The D. O. Mills was reported to the Reid Wrecking Company to be hard aground with two tow barges at Harbor Beach.

The steamer Sophie of this port left Cauls Inlet on Thursday, Nov. 6, with a crew of seven and a valuable cargo of white pine consigned to the Laidlaw Lumber Company here. As no word has since been heard from her, considerable anxiety is being felt.

Two Reported Ashore.
Sarnia, Nov. 10.—Two steamers are reported ashore at Isle Royale and Copper Harbor. The watchman at the Portage Lake United States ship canal reports that the steamer Simon Laugel and two consorts left there Friday morning unbound, and have not been heard from. Ten boats are in shelter at the ship canal's harbor of refuge and three more at Belle Isle. No more boats can get into the ship canal, because of the heavy seas.
The steamer Saxonia ran hard aground last night on the east side of the St. Clair River, just below Sarnia. She was pulled off by the Reid's No. 4.

Leafed Overdue.
Fort William, Ont., Nov. 11.—Immediately on receipt of the advice of Capt. Foote, of the steamship Hamonic, that the steamer Simon Laugel had been wrecked on the rocks at Angus Island, the steam tug J. T. Horn was dispatched to the scene of the disaster. The tug arrived back in port last night with the information that no vessel was aground on the island other than the old hull of the Monkshead, which was wrecked some years ago. The supposition is that Capt. Foote had either mistaken the old wrecked hull for the Laugel, or if a vessel had been wrecked there she had slid off into deep water and sank. The Laugel was loaded with steel rails for the C. P. R. She is several days overdue.

ON GULL ROCK

Fears for Safety of Crew of Twenty-eight Men.
Calumet, Mich., Nov. 10.—In the face of a fifty-mile gale, shifting from northeast to northwest, on Lake Superior tonight, fear is expressed for the safety of the crew, numbering twenty-eight men, aboard a steamer stranded on Gull Rock, off Manitowish Island, at the extreme end of Keweenaw Point. The life-saving crew at Eagle Harbor is trying to make a run for the wreck tonight.

Quebec By-Elections Both Go to Liberals With Good Majority

Montreal, Nov. 10.—St. John's County and Huntingdon County, Quebec, by-elections today both returned Liberal candidates to the Legislature, though in the first named it was an Independent Liberal that secured the seat, the nominee of the Administration convention going down to defeat in a four-cornered contest, in which three of the candidates were Liberals and one was an Independent.

In St. John's, Marcellin Robert, Independent Liberal, had a plurality of 124 votes over Brossard, the Government nominee, whose total vote was 822, while Poulin, another Liberal, received 622 votes, and Trudeau, Independent, had only two ballots marked for him throughout the whole riding.

WINDSOR EXPLOSION PARTLY WRECKS PLANT

Furnace and Boiler of the Ferry Seed Company Badly Wrecked.
Windsor, Nov. 10.—A severe explosion, the cause of which is yet undetermined, wrecked the furnace and boiler of the D. M. Ferry Seed Company building at the corner of Sandwich street and McDougall avenue, smashing over 100 panes of glass in windows and caused other damage. That no lives were lost was due only to the fact that the explosion occurred at an early hour before any of the employees had arrived.
The janitor was the first to discover the effects of the explosion. He found the boiler room strewn with debris and at some risk managed to turn off the gas connections and save further trouble.

ST. THOMAS WOMAN WAS FOUND DEAD IN A ROOM

An Autopsy Ordered on the Body of Mrs. J. B. Squance at Hamilton.
Hamilton, Nov. 10.—A woman said to be Mrs. J. B. Squance, of St. Thomas, was found dead on a sofa this evening in a room at 111 Cannon street east. A man named A. E. Adley, who had rented the rooms two weeks ago, made the discovery, and reported it to the police. Adley told the police he had found the woman dead when he returned from work. There was a gas stove in the room, but it was burning he did not think she could have been asphyxiated. The police called Dr. Hopkins, who ordered an inquest. The doctor explained there were no marks on the woman's body to show the cause of death, and an autopsy will be performed. A jury was empanelled to view the remains, and an inquest will be held tomorrow. Dr. Hopkins explained that he had been told that Adley and Mrs. Squance had been occupying the rooms for several days. Adley is a cement worker.

HURONIC GOES AGROUND; LINER REPORTED SUNK

Tomlinson Boat Lies With Deck Awash and Crew Still Aboard.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Nov. 10.—Weather conditions have moderated, but late tonight nearly one hundred vessels are scattered between here and Whitefish Point, awaiting abatement of the storm before they can proceed.

The passenger steamer Huronic, of the Northern Navigation Company, ran aground this afternoon near Sheldrake, in Whitefish Bay. Coming down the lake, she took the southern course after leaving Whitefish Point, to get under shelter, but the wind drove her hard aground on a sandy bottom. It was at first thought the Huronic could be easily released, but efforts to get her off so far have failed. It is believed she can easily be released. The tugs Sabin and Shenck left here tonight to go to the Huronic's assistance, but it is doubtful if they can reach her tonight. The Huronic is said to be in no danger.

WOMAN'S HAIR REACHES TO KNEES

A Year Ago Was Threatened With Baldness—Tells How She Made Her Hair Grow.

Mrs. Esther Emery, now visiting friends in the city, is the fortunate possessor of remarkably beautiful hair, which, when loosened from its coils, falls to her knees. Moreover, it is of soft, silky and fluffy texture, and in color a glorious glossy gold. Yet just one year ago she was threatened with baldness. Urged to tell how she had obtained this wonderful growth in so short a time, she said: "Had anyone told me such marvelous results could be accomplished so quickly, I positively would not have believed it. Twelve months ago my hair, which then reached barely to my shoulders, was falling out at an alarming rate and growing very rapidly. Actually exposing the bald scalp in several spots. It was dull and lifeless in color, turning gray in patches, and very dry and brittle. My head was covered with dandruff, and itched like mad all the time. I tried fully a dozen different hair tonics, but they were all the same and never did me a bit of good. One day I chanced to read in my home paper of a simple home prescription to make the hair grow that was recommended by a well-known physician. It said that by taking ordinary Lavona de Compose and mixing with Bay Rum and Menthol Crystals, and applying to the scalp each night with the finger tips, that new hair would grow very rapidly. I decided to try it, and I had my druggist mix 2 oz. of the Lavona de Compose with 5 1/2 oz. of Bay Rum and half a dozen of Menthol Crystals, and started to use it. My hair quickly began to grow. First the hair stopped falling, then the itching ceased and the dandruff disappeared. Then tiny little hairs appeared all over my scalp. These grew and grew, and though nothing would ever stop them. They are growing yet, and while, of course, I have used the treatment steadily, and expect to continue it at least until my hair reaches the floor. I might have stopped and been perfectly satisfied at the end of three months. I think that any woman can grow long, thick, beautiful hair by using this prescription, as I have recommended it to several friends and all are delighted with the result. The prescription is very inexpensive, and any druggist can fill it."

ported sunk off Grosport Point. The steamer McDougall, arriving tonight, confirms the report. Distress signals were heard from the boat this afternoon, but owing to heavy seas and strong wind, efforts to reach her failed. It is thought to be either the James E. Davidson or the Hartnell. The boat is lying on the decks awash. The crew is still aboard.

Another unidentified steamer is reported aground at Iroquois Point tonight.

COMMITTEE INDORSES EARLY CLOSING LAW

Industrial Section of Men's Federation on Expresses Favorable Attitude.

At a meeting of the industrial committee of the Men's Federation held Monday night, the question of early closing came up for consideration as the result of a communication received from the Ministerial Association. The matter was sent by the unanimous indorsement of the committee to the federation executive. The members present were: Messrs. H. B. Ashplant, Col. Gartsshore, Mr. Robert Greene, Mr. F. W. Daly, Dr. W. A. Riddell and H. W. Lyons (secretary).

At the suggestion of Mr. Ashplant, chairman, the following questions were submitted to Dr. W. A. Riddell for answer, during the survey:

1. Surveyed from the viewpoint of Christ's teaching, do you find the industrial relationships in London conform to the requirements of the Christian religion in practice?
2. If your answer to the above is negative, can you indicate the line of departure from Christianity in practice?
3. Do you find the industrial situation in London indicates the presence of the same general economic practice at the base of our local conditions as characterizes the industrial life of other cities of the same size or do you find our local conditions peculiar to London?
4. Do you find industrial conditions in London warrant a belief that if these conditions are allowed by the Christian church to work out their natural social products, our industrial practice will develop the same social problems that now press for solution in the larger cities?

MOTHER DRESSED ERRING BOY IN GIRL'S CLOTHES

This Proved an Effective Means of Keeping Incurable Youngster in the House—Board Decides To Give Him a Fresh Chance.

The experiment of changed surroundings, new companions and another school, to reform the little "Fagin" reported by Principal Ashplant, of Rectory street school, will be tried by Public School Inspector C. B. Edwards. At the last session of the board Principal Ashplant reported an 11-year-old boy of his school, whom he had suspended. He declared that the boy was not only a truant and a thief, but that he was taking smaller boys and teaching them to steal for him. He asked that the young incorrigible be expelled.

Give the Boy a Chance. When the question was brought before the finance committee of the board on Monday afternoon a transfer of schools was suggested. It will be tried out rather than imposing the extreme penalty of suspension.

A rather amusing incident in connection with this affair was reported.

When the truant officer called at the boy's home to make an investigation he found the lad's mother had adopted the rather unusual method of dressing him in girl's clothes to prevent him making his exit from the house and running loose on the streets during the time of his suspension.

It Kept Him Home. Rather than face the ridicule of the other boys, the lad preferred to remain within the confines of his own house when clothed in the humiliating raiment of his sister.

Another incident hardly of the same character, however, was brought up, and that was the story of how he and a companion escaped from the clutches of the law at the last Western Fair. Both were arrested for theft. By one of them diverting the attention of the officer who made the arrest both were able to make their "get-aways."

African war under the colors of that famous regiment. Coming to Canada about eight years ago, his ability as a marksman was soon recognized, and he received the position of instructor. Since that time he had been a resident of London, although the headquarters of the School of Musketry are in Ottawa.

He figured prominently in the many rifle contests at the Cova ranges, and his skill made him a dangerous competitor. His shooting at the O. R. A. and B. R. A. meets in Toronto and Ottawa were likewise creditable. His consistent work with the rifle had won for him the distinction of being called one of the best instructors of the country.

He will be buried tomorrow with full military honors.

The funeral will be held Wednesday from the residence of his father-in-law, Arthur Nuffan, 855 Wellington street. Services will be conducted at 2 o'clock by Rev. Canon Craig.

UNLIKELY THAT TWO COLLEGIATES WILL BE ERECTED

Cost and Difficulty of Location May Confirm Board's Attitude.

Views of the Principal

Mr. Rogers in Favor of Separate Schools, but Board Adheres to Original View.

When the question of new colleges comes before the board of education, at its special session to be held shortly to consider the matter, there seems to be little doubt but that the trustees will reiterate their previous motion and decide on one Collegiate only. Last spring when the much-debated question of having a second Collegiate in the city was brought before the board, the question was almost settled by practically a unanimous vote in favor of the single unit.

Principal Favors Two. At the last session of the board the entire question was reopened. G. F. Rogers, the new principal of the Collegiate, when asked by the board for an expression of opinion, pointed out the fact that London should build for the future as well as for the present, and for that reason commended the attention of the trustees to the advisability of two schools. It was this that led the board to reopen the question, but the general consensus of opinion now is that the single school idea will be the one adopted.

Where To Build It, the Rub. Cost is one of the drawbacks that the opponents of two schools are pointing out. Location is another. East London, North London, South London, would all want the second Collegiate. The choosing of a site would make it one of the hardest propositions the board ever faced. Then the initial cost of the proposition is believed to be such that it would be prohibitive in the eyes of the ratepayers.

SOUTH AFRICAN VETERAN IS VICTIM OF CANCER

Quartermaster-Sergeant A.W. Black Had Been Instructor in Musketry.

Quartermaster-Sergeant A. W. Black, prominent in military circles of this city, and of the instructional staff of the Canadian School of Musketry, died at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon in St. Joseph's Hospital. He had been under the knife for cancer in that institution for many months. He was about 40 years of age.

Sergeant Black resided at 855 Wellington street. His wife, the daughter of ex-Sergeant A. W. Nuffan, formerly, Sergeant Black was a color-sergeant in the Scots Guards, in the old land, and fought in the South African War.

Next To Consumption.

There Are More Deaths From PNEUMONIA Than Any Other Lung Trouble.

Pneumonia is nothing more or less than what used to be called "Inflammation of the Lungs."

Consumption may be contracted from others, but as a rule pneumonia is caused by exposure to cold and wet, and there is only one way to prevent pneumonia, and that is to care the cold on its first appearance.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will do this for you if you will only take it in time.

Mrs. Wm. M. Steeves, River Glade, N.B., writes: "Please allow me to express my gratitude to the presence of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup in the house, for I believe it saved our little boy's life. Three years this fall we were in the lumber woods, and it was very hard to get a doctor to us, and our little boy got pneumonia, and was very ill. He only relief he could get was to take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and with the combined use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Oil Liniment, he soon got better, and was around in a couple of weeks. It certainly is a great remedy."

Price, 25 and 50 cents.

Be sure and get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

BRITISH MILITANTS BUSY WITH BOMBS

Much Damage Done at Various Points in the British Isles.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Nov. 11.—Militant suffragette arson squads and bomb troops were at work in several parts of the British Isles during last night and succeeded in doing a considerable amount of damage.

A cactus house at Alexandra Park, Manchester, containing a collection valued at $50,000, was badly wrecked by a bomb; Begbrook, a fine mansion near Bristol, was gutted by fire, and the house of the Bowdler family, in the Club at Catford, in the southeast of London, was also burned down.

At the scene of all the outrages quantities of suffragette literature and bomb-making cans were found, but no clue to the criminals was obtained.

MR. BRIGLIA FIRST OF LONDON HARPERS

Brother Was Recently Killed in Automobile Accident in California.

Antonio Briglia, a member of the first company of London harpers, died Monday night at the family residence, 133 Queen's avenue. He had been a resident of this city for more than 26 years. Mr. Briglia was born in Italy, and was 60 years of age.

Eight years ago he removed to Denver, Colorado, where he resided until recently, when he returned to this city. Sag circumstances followed his homecoming. He had been in the city when a telegram was received stating that his brother Frank had been run over by an automobile at Oakland and instantly killed. Having just returned from that vicinity, the distance was too great to return, and he was unable to attend the funeral of the brother, who had been well on his departure.

He survived by his wife, Annie, four daughters, Mrs. Camillo Petrone and Mrs. Charles Deluce, of Denver, Colorado; Miss Minnie and Miss Ella, at home; also by three sons, Guy, Pay and Frank.

The funeral will be held Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock to St. Peter's Cathedral. Requiem high mass will be sung at 9 o'clock. Interment will be made at St. Peter's Cemetery.

MAGGREGOR CASE IN THE HIGH COURT TODAY

Was Down For Monday, But the Attorneys Were Delayed by Storm.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 11.—Through the courtesy of members of the supreme court yesterday, Dr. Robert E. MacGregor will have his case brought before the high court today.

Just before the case was reached Monday it was discovered that the attorneys for MacGregor, who are seeking a new trial, were not in the court room and further inquiry brought out that a snowstorm had tied them up at Port Huron, making it impossible to arrive here in time to argue the case.

It is seldom that a case is ever given a lower place on the calendar once it is on the list, but when Attorney Snow, of Saginaw, representing the prosecution, explained the situation, the court placed the case further down the call.

FATALLY STRICKEN ON STREETS OF SARNIA

Wm. Holgate Overcome With Heart Failure on Way to Work.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Sarnia, Nov. 10.—William Holgate died suddenly from heart failure this morning after attempting to go to his work at the Imperial oil refinery. He left his home feeling in good health, but after walking a couple of blocks he felt ill and retraced his steps. Before medical attention could be called he passed away. His heart had been troubling him for some time past, and it is thought that the exertion of making his way through the deep snow this morning caused his sudden death.

Gale Hit Barns. Sarnia, Nov. 10.—Trees were uprooted, telephone poles blown down, and wires were torn from moorings, and parts of buildings blown away in the severe blizzard that struck Sarnia on Sunday.

The river rose so high that the boiler-room of the Cleveland-Sarnia sawmill was flooded, and inestimable damage done. The mill was not in operation today. A large pile of lumber on a wharf at Point Edward, belonging to the Spanish River Lumber Company, was washed out into the river and taken away.

Street cars were completely tied up, and all trains were either held or running well behind schedule. The brick wall of a hotel stable was blown down, and the car was not in operation today. It yet succeeded in giving the whole town service.

MAN ARRESTED MAY BE MANTED JAMES RAY

Marshall Held at Montreal at Request of Toronto Police.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—The Toronto police believe that in the person of W. H. Marshall, arrested in Montreal this morning on the request of Inspector Kennedy, they may have the man who has swindled different Ontario banks to the extent of $15,000, and who obtained money in Guelph, Stratford, Owen Sound, London, Chatham, Lindsay, Penelton Falls, and other towns by the use of fraudulent checks which were signed with the name, James Ray.

It is claimed that Marshall recently interviewed a well-known millionaire in Toronto and offered to buy the billiard room and gave a $1,000 check as a deposit.

The check proved to be good, and, after establishing himself with the billiard proprietor, he secured an introduction to the manager of one of the downtown banks. At this bank it is alleged that he presented a check for $5,000 on the Trusts and Fidelity Company of Buffalo, which was later given back to him, and he then presented three checks for $500, each of which he is said to have cashed. The bank asked for his arrest warrant, it learned that there was no money in Buffalo.

Marshall left his boarding-house suddenly and was traced to New Hampshire by the Toronto detectives. Some days later it was learned that he had returned to Montreal, and a wire was immediately sent asking that he be apprehended.

Detective Cronin leaves for Montreal this evening and will bring him to Toronto.

Although the above dispatch mentions London as one of the places where "Ray" operated, the statement is not true. "Ray" gave London a wide berth, according to bank managers and the police.

Magical Effect of New Face Peeler

[Woman's National Journal.] To maintain a clear, rosy, radiant complexion there's nothing so simple to use and yet so effective or ordinary mercurized wash, which you can get at any drug store, and apply the way at night as you would cold cream. In the morning wash it off with warm water. If you've never used it you can't imagine the magical effect of this harmless home treatment. The wax causes the worn-out skin to come off in minute particles. There's a little at a time, and soon you have entirely shed the offensive cuticle. The fresh young under-skin now in evidence is so healthy and girlish looking, you wish you had heard of this marvelous complexion-renewing secret long ago.

To get rid of your wrinkles, here's a formula that is wonderfully effective: one ounce powdered sassafras dissolved in pint witch hazel. Rub the face in this and you will be simply astonished at the results, even after the first trial.

RHEUMATIC PAINS PROMPTLY DISAPPEAR

Relief Comes After Taking Few Doses of Croxone.

It is needless to suffer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood the poisonous waste, matter and uric acid, and the only way to overcome it is to remove the cause.

Croxone does this because it neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter the poison from the blood and drive it on and out of the system.

Croxone is a truly remarkable medicine for rheumatism, kidney troubles, and bladder disorders. You will find it differs from all other remedies. There is nothing else just like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it without results. Relief follows the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to sell it. Positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to overcome the worst backache or urinary disorders.

MARKET VERY QUIET
DUE TO BLIZZARD

Previous to 9 o'clock this morning the local market was deserted, not a wagon of any kind being visible. The roads are reported in bad shape, and the local square will show the effects of the recent blizzard probably throughout the entire week.

The wholesale price of potatoes is 95c to $1 per bag, but with the offerings all the demand is met, the price will likely stand unless there is a decided reaction at once.

The same conditions apply to hay. The quantity consumed in this city is considerable, and since Saturday not a load has been offered on the square. The offering tomorrow will depend on the weather.

Apples are selling slowly for 80c to 90c per bu. They are mostly "windfalls," and as such sell at the minimum price. Comparatively only a few are selling at the maximum. Pears are selling at 75c, although a few lots are bringing $1. Grapes sell for 50c per basket, with a scant supply.

As was intimated on Saturday, the prevailing price for live hogs will be $8.50 this week. Other live stock prices are firm.

In consequence of the unfavorable weather conditions of the past few days, there is a scarcity of butter and eggs. Before the change these were selling at high prices, and it is expected that the price will be higher.

following members were elected officers for the ensuing season: C. E.
Chapman, president; Dr. F. W.
Hughes, vice-president; C. G. Jarvis, honorary president; F. E. Perrin, archivist; David Rodger, secretary;
Rev. H. H. Bingham, J. S. Barnard and
W. O. Carson, executive committee.
The program for the evening was strictly Shakespearean. Mr. F. E.
Perrin and Dr. F. H. Hughes contributed readings, and Rev. H. H. Bingham an address on "Shakespeare's Land."

Another Polling Division.—There will be 67 polling subdivisions in London for the next municipal election. This is an increase of one over the number that existed on the special by-law election on Oct. 22. The annexation of portions of London and Westminster townships has made the previous subdivisions imperative. Adelaide street, south of Trafalgar and west to Price street is new No. 64;
south of Trafalgar and east of Price will be No. 65. The new 65 now extends from Dundas street to Trafalgar, formerly it extended half-way. The newest of all,
No. 67, is formed of part of old 66 and all of old 65, that was located north of Dundas street.

Takes Inebriate in Charge.—Evangelist "Billy" Matheson is finding plenty of opportunities to get into touch with men who need help, by his daily attendance at police court. He was the means this morning of saving for the time being at least, a problem which faced Magistrate Judd in regard to a man who had been up repeatedly for drunkenness. The court was unwilling to deal harshly with him, as he seemed incapable of resisting the temptation to drink, but what to do in the case was puzzling, until Mr. Matheson offered to take him in charge. He was turned over to the big ex-nuptial, who will report progress to the magistrate on Dec. 11.

YOU. For the crux of this announce-all Pianos which we have taken in ex-which are far less to our liking than

City Missionary Takes a Hopeful
View of the Outlook.

A truly thanksgiving meeting was held by the members of the W. M.
Auxiliary of the First Methodist Church on Monday afternoon, presided over by Mrs. F. Y. Miller.

Bible quotations and thanksgiving,
and in almost every case personal testimonies, were given by several members. Mrs. S. L. Taylor and Mrs.
Charles Glass traced the progress of the W. M. S. work from its organization to the present time, and impressed the members with a feeling of gratitude. Mrs. Harrison, who is devoting her time to city missionary work, addressed the meeting. She said: "In our city men and women are alive to the fact that they are their brother's keeper. All churches are being organized for this work. God needs each one of us to fill out his plan."

The soloist was Miss Lillian Woolley, whose number on the program was much appreciated. She sang "Only a Little Way," and was accompanied by her teacher, Miss B. Hunt.

Some new members were enrolled, to whom Mrs. Miller gave hearty words of welcome. A good offering was received, light refreshments served and the meeting adjourned.

B Company, of the Seventh Regiment, proved itself an admirable host at the Armories Monday night in entertaining the other members of the regiment. About a hundred of the men and their friends gathered in the men's room, and thoroughly enjoyed the splendid program that had been arranged. Vocal numbers by Captain Hunt, Sergeant M. B. Watts and Corp.
S. Guilford were greatly appreciated and recitations by Capt. Hunt and Quartermaster-Sergeant Frank Harris, C. O. C., also proved most entertaining. A feature of the program were the bagpipe selections by Quartermaster-Sergeant Kelly.

Color-Sergeant Chester Butler presided as chairman in an able manner.
The concert was the fulfillment of an agreement entered into by all the companies at the close of fall drill, whereby each company was to furnish entertainment for the rest of the regiment at least once during the winter months. C Company is next on the list of entertainers, and something out of the ordinary in the way of entertainment is promised for next Monday night.

Andrew, Philip and Stephen
Principals in Three Cornered Fight.

Business was brisk in police court this morning, and the city's revenue benefited to the extent of about $400 before the proceedings were finished.
Of the 47 cases tried, 35 were by three Polish gentlemen who rejected in the saintly names of Andrew, Philip and Stephen, but whose names sadly believed their conduct, according to the story told.

It appeared that the three foregathered at a King street hotel Monday evening, and were having a drink together, when Philip undertook to impress upon his friend Andrew the meaning of the proverb, "There's many a slip, etc.," by dash- his glass from his hand. It was shattered, and the genial bar-keeper decided that broken glass and cut glass were all in the same category, and said the price would be 40 cents.

The humor of the situation did not strike Andrew, but he promptly "back Philip, and a three-cornered melee was only ended by the timely arrival of a
"cop."

This morning the trio gave their names as Andrew Loucama, Steve Back, and Philip Neilson, and Philip departed poorer by 32 and cents, while his companions contributed $2 each.
They were sorry, and laid the blame for the occurrence on idleness brought on by the big snow, which prevented them working.

William Downey used abusive language in a pool room and paid $3 and costs. Two dollars was the price paid by George Bowen for driving a horse with a sore on his shoulder. A number of first-timers were allowed to try again, and seven breakers of the traffic by-law contributed $1 each.
Henry Johnston was convicted of vagrancy, but was given an opportunity to get out of town.

Do You Know That

Three weeks ago we were ready for our Christmas trade, in the regular way and at the regular prices? Something we have looked for for years turned up, namely, more commodious premises in a better locality. The Davis estate, Nos. 170 and 172 Dundas street, was offered for sale. We bought it, and took possession one week ago. Saturday morning we commenced the greatest Jewelry Sale which has ever taken place in London. Instead of the regular prices on Christmas goods, we give the exceptional chance of buying from either of our large stocks at ONE-FIFTH OFF THE REGULAR PRICES.

It means a large amount of turnover for us, and this suits us well just now. It means a large saving for you at this Christmas gift time, which is what you want.

For the benefit of those who do not find it convenient to purchase their Christmas gifts at once, we have decided to lay aside anything selected, upon payment of a small deposit, the goods to be taken any time before Christmas at the reduced price.

Rev. H. H. Bingham Takes Audience on Happy Journey.

The large crowd that assembled in the First Congregational Church Monday evening were taken for a trip into the beautiful Highlands of Scotland by an illustrated lecture by Rev. H. H. Bingham, of Talbot Street Baptist Church.

Taking the appreciative audience across the ocean without a single instance of seasickness is an accomplishment, indeed, but through skillful manoeuvring the deed was accomplished, and the "rapid travellers" found themselves in Scotland.

Here, for some time, the quaint, strange scenes interested the audience. Glasgow, with its cathedrals and odd thoroughfares, was a revelation; Stirling and the historic castle, the home and scenes of the activities of Robert Bruce, were also portrayed. Continuing the home of Sir Walter Scott, with its maze of books and furnishings, was shown, and interestingly described.

The great Scotch city of Edinburgh, with its scenes of grandeur and its historical wonders, occupied attention until the conclusion of the lecture. During the evening the lecture had been interspersed with solos by Miss Oliver and Mr. Hudson. Sergt. MacDonald's pipe band, with their heartily encored numbers, gave the necessary Scotch atmosphere.
