

CITY LAYS DOWN ULTIMATUM RE COUNTY HOSPITAL PATIENTS

Must Pay in Future for Entire Cost of Maintenance.

AMOUNTS TO $1.43 PER DAY

County Will Only Agree to Pay for Those Who Are Unable to Pay Anything.

After a two-hours' wrestle with the hospital problem, the joint committee of the city and county councils adjourned at noon to meet again at 2 o'clock, when an effort will be made finally to settle the question.

In the meantime a sub-committee will discuss the figures of the cost of maintaining the hospital, so that the exact cost per patient may be arrived at.

The net result of the morning's deliberations was the insistence on the part of the city that the county pay the full cost of county patients.

To this the county agreed, but the city representatives, $1.43 per day, and wanted them investigated.

In opening the discussion, Ald. Beattie, the chairman, pointed out that the city representatives had come to the conclusion that the county must pay the whole cost of maintaining their patients.

The city's position. In opening the discussion, Ald. Beattie, the chairman, pointed out that the city representatives had come to the conclusion that the county must pay the whole cost of maintaining their patients.

It was also suggested by Chairman Scream that the cost be agreed on at the end of each year, and not have this year's schedule of prices govern the lifetime of the agreement.

The County's Side of It. County Councillor Glass pointed out that the county would agree to pay the cost of maintaining their patients. He also said that it was the duty of the city to give to the county members the exact cost, so that they would know exactly what they were doing.

Mr. Glass discussed the figures briefly, declaring they did not state exactly what the city representatives alleged they did, being capable of being differently interpreted.

Mr. Judd Speaks. "The county has dumped patients at our door for many years, and we have been compelled to keep them," said Mr. J. C. Judd, "and the county that class of patient which can pay. We would also like to know what patients the county intends paying for. There are two classes, the indigent classes, for which the whole cost must be paid by the county. Then, there are the other class when they pay from 50 cents up, and for which the county has in the past paid the balance. What does the county intend to do with these two classes?"

Pay for Indigents Only. "We will pay for the indigent patients and those alone," said Mr. Stanley. "We will neither pay all or nothing. If a man cannot pay his way the county will do so."

The city keeps all the patients, whether they pay 50 cents or nothing," said Mr. Judd. "We are glad to get even that from some of them."

Pay It All. "Well, if a man can only pay 50 cents a day, he will not have to pay it," retorted Mr. Stanley. "We will pay the entire cost."

"I think the county is making a mistake in not making provision for that class of patient which can pay something for his maintenance," said Mr. Scream. "However, it is for the county members to say."

Ald. Beattie suggested that in view of the fact that the county representatives were not clear on the matter of (Continued on Page Nine.)

FIREMAN WM. COLE, Who Was Injured in the Westman Fire Three Months Ago and Who Returned to Work Today.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE ON CLARENCE STREET

Nothing Has, However, Been Reported to the Police.

A rumor was current this morning on the streets that a man had attempted suicide in a barn on Clarence street. So far as can be learned, the report was without foundation, as nothing has been reported to the police, or to any physicians regarding the matter.

MAYOR STEVELY SAYS "TAKE YOUR TIME"

No Need to Be Impatient as When Engineer Kelly Will Come.

Nothing more has been heard from Engineer Kelly, and with practically four weeks more to wait, it seems to be little chance for the settlement of it.

"Don't be impatient," said Mayor Stevely, when questioned about the matter by a citizen this morning. "Mr. Kelly will be along shortly, just as soon as it is possible for him to do so. He has to familiarize himself with Mr. McGuigan's plans, and then study local conditions, before he can take the matter up. It will be discussed in due time."

CITY REAPS HARVEST FROM BICYCLE FINES

$36 Collected From This Source This Month Thus Far.

The city will in all probability be $50 ahead at the end of this month as a result of the bicycle riders who have appeared in court and paid $1 for the privilege of riding on the sidewalk. Up to this morning Police Court Clerk Moulde had taken in $36, and he has a number of summonses to issue as a result of information that have been laid.

BOTH LEGS SEVERED LAY UNDISCOVERED

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 24. — Both legs severed as the result of being run over by a train at the Queen street subway early this morning, Alfred Hopkins nearly bled to death before he was found by yardmen and taken to Grace Hospital. He died a few hours later. He had apparently crossed the tracks by an old path when struck by the train.

SERIOUS MUTINY AT NANKING, CHINA

Pekin, Nov. 24.—The situation at Nanking, where a mutiny on the part of the Chinese troops broke out Nov. 19, is serious. There has been fighting in the streets of the city, and a portion of the foreign residents have taken refuge on board a British gunboat. Others of the foreigners preferred to remain on shore.

ELECTS FOR JUDGE GIVEN FIVE DAYS

Gilbert Mathers made another appearance before Judge Macbeth this morning, when he decided to be tried by the judge. The facts of the case are these: Some time ago the prisoner, who is employed by his father, Hiram Mathers, claimed that the latter owed him for wages, and brought action against him in the division court at Lucan, his action being sustained. The prisoner, however, did not think he had received all that was coming to him and so returned to his father's house one night and removed a set of harness, which he sold in the city for $18. The prisoner is not very bright, according to the father's statement, and considerable of this the judge gave him only five days in prison, which with the fifteen days he has already been confined make twenty days. The father promised to take him back and keep an eye on him.

COMMISSION MAY SUE THUNDERER

Reckless Charges Made Against the Honor of Canadian Public Bodies.

Ottawa, Nov. 24.—The members of the National Transcontinental Commission have taken prompt steps to vindicate their own honor, as well as the political morality of Canada, which has recently been attacked by ill-informed writers in the London Times and other reputable British publications, misled by the virulence of the mud-slingers in the recent election campaign here. Just before election day the Times published a letter from a special correspondent in Canada, charging that graft in the construction of the National Transcontinental was rampant, and reflecting on the honesty of the commission. Since then other British papers have been discussing the supposed prevalence of graft in public life in Canada, and apparently accepting at par value the unsubstantiated charges made by certain sections of the Opposition press during the campaign. As a result Canada's reputation has been badly besmirched in the motherland.

In justice to themselves, and with a view to putting a stop to this sort of thing, the railway commissioners have instructed Hon. Charles Russell, Canada's legal agent in Great Britain, to take all possible legal steps to defend their honor against all charges reflecting in any way on the commission. "The Times will be asked to retract and apologize, and falling that, if the British law allows, a libel action will be taken and the Times will be asked to prove its charges. In the case of the Hodgins' charges the commission promptly demanded a full investigation. The outcome was a complete vindication and withdrawal of the charges. "If any reputable journal, either at home or abroad, makes any charge against the honesty of the commission," said Hon. S. N. Parent to your correspondent today, "it will be given every opportunity to prove the charges in the courts. We are doing our best to build the railway as honestly and economically as possible, and we do not propose to quietly submit to calumny and unwarranted criticism."

GREEN GOODS GANG CAUGHT BY POLICE

Had Put into Circulation $30,000 in Counterfeit Bills.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—That the counterfeit $5 bills which have been freely circulated in Chicago and other cities in the last two months were manufactured by an organized gang operating in Chicago, and that this gang is broken up, was the statement made last night by United States secret officers, following a number of arrests of men. The men arrested are declared to have made confessions, saying that $30,000 worth of the bills was made, that the plates were engraved by one of the gang, and the false money was struck off in wholesale lots at a place in West Adams street in Chicago. With Leo Brown, Edward Wheeler, and Edward Westcott under arrest, are Dr. W. H. Young, George Anderson and Iola Berkinson, the latter three held in connection with the circulation of the bills.

SYND AGAIN IN SESSION

Another Attempt Being Made to Select Successor to Carmichael.

Montreal, Nov. 24.—The Synd of Montreal is again in session for the purpose of electing a successor to the late Bishop Carmichael, and present indications are that it will be no easier to elect a successor this time than it was a month ago, when the synd adjourned without having accomplished its purpose. One vote was taken this morning, but the result will not be announced until the afternoon session.

THE WEATHER.

TOMORROW—RAIN. FORECASTS. Toronto, Nov. 24—8 a.m. Today—Increasing east and southeast winds; mild and cloudy, with local rains; Wednesday—Southeast winds, with rain; TEMPERATURES.

Table with columns: Location, Today, Yesterday, 8 a.m., Min., Max.

The disturbance is moving slowly northward from the southwestern States, and heavy easterly gales are probable on Lake Superior and in Michigan. Rain is falling in Ontario and Quebec. The general outlook is for colder weather, and snow in the Western Provinces. Storm signals are displayed on Lakes Superior, and cautionary signals on Lakes Huron and Erie.

TWO TERRIFIC TORNADOES SWEEP STATE OF ARKANSAS

One Bound South and Other North Cut Swaths Miles in Width, Taking Awful Toll in Human Lives and Doing Great Property Damage.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 24.—Two tornadoes, one north and the other south bound, swept over West Arkansas yesterday, destroying many lives and much property. All means of communication were destroyed and only indefinite reports have so far been received from the region visited by the tornado. It is estimated that at least thirty, and possibly fifty, lives were lost, and the property loss placed at hundreds of thousands of dollars. One tornado started in the extreme south-western part of the state, and went north, following the second tier of counties from the western boundary line. The other started in the north-western corner of the state, and went south, following the third tier of counties.

City Issues Ultimatum to County In Regard to Victoria Hospital

County Must Pay Full Cost of Its Patients or Get Out of the Institution.

The county will have to pay the full cost of the maintenance of patients at Victoria Hospital, or else there will be no agreement, and the city will manage the hospital alone. That was the ultimatum delivered by the city representatives to the county this morning.

Gasolene Destroys Newspaper Office

Port Burwell, Nov. 24.—The office and entire building of the Port Burwell News, formerly the Packet, was completely destroyed by fire last night, through the explosion of a gasolene tank, which was used for operating the plant. It is supposed the tank was defective, as it caused a small fire a few days ago. Mr. J. W. Burnes, the proprietor, was severely burned about the face, and it is feared has inhaled some of the flames. He is critically ill, but the doctors say he will recover. The loss will be about $4,800, with no insurance.

City to Meet the Packing Company

A conference will be held this afternoon between Mayor Stevely and Ald. Ferguson, chairman of the manufacturers' committee, and Mr. E. Reichtzer, regarding a proposition to keep the Canadian Packing Company in the city. "We have arranged a meeting to discuss the situation," said his worship. "We intend to keep the company in London if it is at all possible, and it looks as if we can succeed. We will go thoroughly into the matter, find out what is wanted and what the city can do, and then come to some arrangement. I have no fear of losing the industry."

The C. P. R. Traffic Is Improving

Traffic on the C. P. R. of late has been very heavy, and an official informed The Advertiser this afternoon that more special trains had been run through in the last few weeks in order to move the fast freight expeditiously than have been going through for some time. Traffic on the C. P. R. has been gradually increasing for some months, and it is estimated that 25 per cent more goods is being handled now than six months ago. The C. P. R. has recently given out large orders for new engines and cars.

Water Commissioners Against Wells

Artesian wells as a solution of the water problem do not appeal to the water commission so far as can be learned. It is known that Engineer Moore has sunk many wells, perhaps fifteen or twenty during the past two years, and all that he got was dry holes or else sulphur water. The wells sunk have been drilled to considerable depths, and it was not thought to be the fault of the drilling that water was not obtained. The commissioners will not accept the artesian well solution, it was stated, but will adhere to another proposition that will be submitted shortly to the ratepayers. According to the statements made by a man in close touch with the commission, the scheme is well under way, and that another meeting, to be held probably Wednesday evening, will find a solution ready for the water shortage.

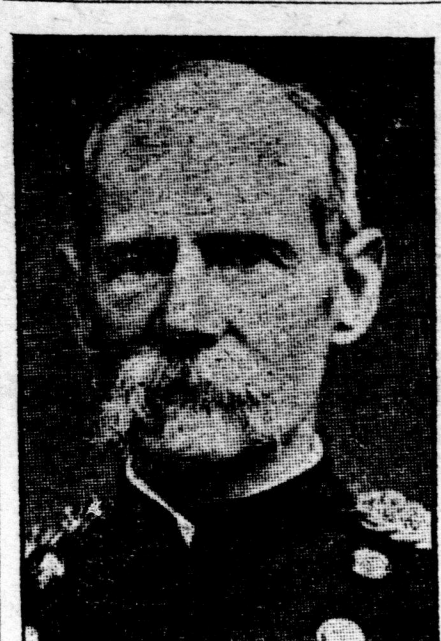

Performers Were Injured at Bennett's

While engaged in giving their acrobatic act at Bennett's last evening the team Sansome and Dellah both received injuries that necessitated a doctor's care. They are able to work today, but are stiff and sore and will cut out a few of their more dangerous feats for a time. One of the features of the act is the balancing of the young lady on two chairs, one inverted, which Sansome holds on his chin. Sansome had to get the young lady down quick last evening as the chairs slipped a little. She missed the table and landed on the floor. Her back was bruised and her arm hurt, but she pluckily kept at her work.

A Missionary Meeting.

The missionary meeting last night at the Dundas Centre Methodist Church was one of great interest. The subject, "Mission Work in Georgia," was ably taken by Mr. George Clark Booth, who is engaged in active work among the people of the south. During the evening Miss Olive Suhr sang sweetly.

"BOBS" STARTLES THE BRITISH DEMANDS GREAT DEFENCE ARMY

FIELD MARSHAL LORD ROBERTS, Who Yesterday Told British People That Great Army Would Alone Save Britain From Invasion.

GRAND TRUNK WILL IMPROVE ITS TRACKS

Rails Are To Be Raised a Little in the City. Roadmaster Ferguson, of the Grand Trunk, was in the city last night, and left instructions for the repairing and raising of a number of the tracks in the local yards. This morning a gang of men commenced work on reballasting the tracks between Clarence and Wellington street. The tracks will be raised very slightly.

FIREMAN COLE RETURNS TO DUTY

Was in the Awful Crash in Which Chief and Two Men Perished. Fireman "Billy" Cole, who went down in the crash that killed Chief Clark, Sergt. Cockburn and Fireman Weis in the Westman fire on Aug. 18, reported for duty this morning. He has quite recovered from the severe injuries and burns he received in that fire, and is in good health. He was off duty three months and six days.

LAW IS STRICT NO "FAKE" NOTICES

Alleged Joker Used Names of Young Couple in Dangerous Way. It does not appear to be generally known in London that anyone who dares to be published a "fake" wedding notice is liable to a term in the penitentiary. A certain young woman handed to The Advertiser a paragraph stating that a young lady of Grand avenue had been married to Mr. Reggie Sharrow, of Brompton street. The article was accepted in good faith, and it appeared in The Advertiser on Monday. Now a denial is made by the parents of the girl. As a matter of fact, she is but 16 years of age. For a similar false report an Ottawa young man was sent to prison for nine months. It is possible that someone in London will have cause to regret her practical "joke."

A "PETTY DEFENCE" SCORNE BY JUDGE

Chief Justice Meredith's Scathing Rebuke of C. P. R. Counsel. There was a sensational scene in Osgoode Hall yesterday, in the court of appeal, when the case of Giovinazzo vs. the C. P. R. came up for hearing. "That is, I should say, a very petty defence for a great corporation like the Canadian Pacific Railway to set up. Why don't you fight it out on the merits and seek to prove that you were not guilty of negligence?" remarked Chief Justice Meredith in the divisional court to Mr. L. F. Hellmuth, K.C., who was arguing an appeal from the judgment for damages in the case of Giovinazzo vs. C. P. R. The defence set up was that of insufficient notice of the man's death, which occurred near Keele street, West Toronto. "I know I am not on the popular side of this motion," said Mr. Hellmuth. "You are not on the honest side," his lordship retorted. The chief justice said he would be inclined to give a liberal interpretation to the law in regard to Mr. Hellmuth's contention if it were a matter of simple injury, but when, as in this case, a man was killed outright, it was a different matter. Judgment was reserved.

DEAD AGED 95.

Brampton, Ont., Nov. 24. — James Blackburn, 95 years of age, Brampton's oldest resident, died this morning. He had lived here for very many years. Mr. Blackburn was at one time proprietor of the Wellington Hotel and also of the American Hotel, both well-known houses in the town's early days. Three sons and one daughter survive him.

Says Navy Cannot Keep Out Invasion of Germans.

SUPREMACY OF SEA IN PERIL

Lords Following Speech Passes Resolution Calling for Mighty Army to Save Nation.

London, Nov. 23.—Speaking in the House of Lords tonight Field Marshal Lord Roberts expressed the conviction that the lack of a military force sufficient to make hopeless the attempt of an invasion would, in all probability, be the cost of Great Britain's supremacy at sea.

In the studied speech he pointed out the comparative ease with which Germany could land an army on the shores of England. Under the present conditions England would be forced, he said, to submit to most humiliating demands. He disclaimed all hostility to or fear of Germany, but he declared that the defense of the islands required immediate attention.

There should be an army so strong in numbers and efficiency that the most formidable of foreign nations would hesitate to make a landing in England. He had ascertained, the speaker continued, that vessels capable of accommodating 200,000 men were available in the northern ports of Germany, and that as a result of the new German service law 200,000 men could be collected in the districts of the nearest port without any trouble. The great German steamship lines were in constant practice in embarking and disembarking and as the railroads were owned by the state all preliminaries, up to the actual dispatch of troops, could be carried out with the utmost secrecy.

Germany was perfectly aware, the field marshal went on, that it would be essential for her transports to evade the British fleet and she could easily distract attention by small raids while the main disembarkation was proceeding undisturbed.

Danger Threatens. "It would be folly," said Lord Roberts, "to shut our eyes to these possibilities, however much peace is desired. The startling events in the near east have brought home to the most careless observer that nothing could save that country which is not prepared to protect itself. If Great Britain continues to neglect the most ordinary precautions she may some day find herself in the hands of the invader and forced to submit to the most humiliating conditions."

"This danger is daily becoming more threatening. Within a decade Germany has created the greatest sea power that ever existed, except Great Britain, and at the present moment it is formidable. Measures are being taken to increase that power. It is calculated that there are 80,000 Germans in employment in Great Britain. They are trained soldiers and if a German force once landed on these shores they would be ready to help."

Lack of Army. Lord Roberts contended it was not absolutely essential for a nation to command the sea in order to carry out an invasion. A temporary local command would suffice and this was perfectly understood in Germany. The main temptation to the invasion of Great Britain was the want of a home army which ought to consist of a million men. Across the narrow sea were present sixty million Germans, who by perseverance, industry, sound education and military training had made themselves a great nation. They required outlets for their commerce and population. It was Great Britain's business, continued Lord Roberts, to find out in what way the great increase in Germany's sea power was likely to affect her and to adopt measures necessary for her own defense. The navy under present conditions was fettered in home waters and without military force sufficient to render an invasion hopeless.

Great Britain's military weakness would in all probability be the cause of the loss of her naval supremacy. Lord Roberts' speech caused a sensation in the House. The Earl of Crowe remarked upon the seriousness of such statements in the present high-strung condition of Europe's nerves, saying he feared there might be regrettable consequences. Lord Roberts' resolution to the effect "that the defense of the islands necessitates the immediate attention of the Government to make provision for such a strong and efficient army that such a strong and efficient army that will hesitate before making an attempt at landing," was adopted by a vote of 74 to 22.

LAST OF STANLEY'S OFFICERS DEAD

Capt. Jephson Braved Dangers With Famous Explorer in Africa.

London, Nov. 22.—The well-known explorer, Captain A. J. Mounsey Jephson, the last surviving officer of Stanley's Emin Pasha relief expedition, died here a few days ago. It was on Jan. 21, 1887, that the late Sir Henry M. Stanley left England in his famous mission to rescue Emin Pasha. Emin was the governor of the equatorial provinces of Africa—previously administered by Gordon. Ever since the Mahdist revolt in 1884 Emin Pasha had been cut off from the rest of civilized Africa. Many and strange were the adventures that the brave explorers met with. After traversing part of the Congo and reaching the Aruwimi River, Stanley built a palisaded camp at Yambaya. Here he left Major Bartolet and Mr.

How He Cured Piles

SUFFERED FOR TWENTY YEARS AND CANNOT IMAGINE ANY GREATER DISTRESS—EN-TIRELY CURED BY

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment

Piles or hemorrhoids are among the most common as well as the most torturing ailments that afflict humanity. The keen distress caused by the itching, especially when the body gets warm, is almost beyond the powers of description. Mr. J. S. McLaren, farmer and contractor, Thverton, Ont., writes: "I was troubled for twenty years with itching piles, during which time I suffered a great deal. They would bother me most when I would get warm in bed. I would wake up at night and lie for hours suffering the keenest agony, without being able to obtain relief. I cannot imagine any greater distress than the tortures of piles. "Dr. Chase's Ointment gave me relief from the first application and now I am entirely freed of this horrible disease. For a time I would occasionally feel a slight agony, but my Druggist applied the ointment freely each time until the cure was thorough." Mr. G. W. Cornell, with the Shaw Milling Company, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "For six years I was the victim of itching, protruding piles and was in dreadful agony day and night. Doctors were unable to help me. My Druggist recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment, two boxes of which completely cured me." There is positively no treatment so certain as a cure for piles as Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has been proven in hundreds of cases, in many of which even surgical operations, with their expense, painfulness and frightful risk, had failed. Dr. Chase's Ointment, 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanon, Bates Co., Toronto.

EDWARD KEEPS KAISER'S PLANS

Wilhelm Said to Have Sent Them to Victoria, Who Ignored Them.

London, Nov. 23.—King Edward has that Boer war plan of the Kaiser's tucked carefully away among his private papers. Officially, the war ministry knows nothing about it, but in personal conversation with members of his cabinet his majesty is understood to have admitted freely that he has the document and even to have let one or two of his most trusted advisers have a peep at it.

Other people, diplomats, politicians, and newspaper men, would like to have a look, too, but no one has had the courage to ask the King for it. Or at least, if anyone has, it is safe to say he has been completely and effectually snubbed.

If the plans had been sent by the Kaiser to the British war office no earthly power could prevent parliament from getting hold of them. But they reached Queen Victoria, rumor has it, in strict confidence and by special messenger from Germany.

Made Queen Angry. It was never any secret that the late Queen considered her grandson, the Kaiser, erratic and untrustworthy to the last degree, and she paid the slightest attention to his advice or suggestions, except when they made her angry.

What her majesty thought of the Boer war plan nobody knows unless it was her private secretary, to whom she evidently gave it, to be indexed and filed among her other papers, and Victoria never destroyed anything with writing on it.

There's nothing to indicate that she ever mentioned the matter to a soul or that she even took the trouble to let her grandson know she had received his communication. Whether she regarded it as a joke or an affront or an indiscretion is a mystery. She ignored it.

The plans turned up, it is reported, after her majesty's death, when the 3,000,000 or 4,000,000 letters on file at Windsor Castle were overhauled by the new King's secretaries.

MONEY ARGUMENT FOR HOME RULE

Statistics to Show That the Country is Greatly Over-taxed.

London, Nov. 23.—Mr. T. M. Kettle, a well-known Irish M. P., has compiled the following figures in regard to Home Rule for Ireland. He says: It is said that the case for Home Rule rests on merely sentimental grounds. The proper word in this connection would be sentimental, but moral; and the moral point of view the Home Rule case is unanswerable. Good government, as Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman has said, is no substitute for self-government. The government of Ireland is not good.

There is a money argument as well as a moral argument for Home Rule. The figures are brought up to date by reference to the annual returns of revenue and expenditure for Great Britain and Ireland. For facility of reference, revenue is classified under three heads, direct and indirect taxes, and non-tax revenue, and each head is again sub-divided. Details of the two chief indirect taxes are given in a footnote. Expenditure is arranged under six heads. The initial year 1894 is chosen as the date of appointment of the Financial Relations Commission.

The commission reported that in 1894 Ireland was over-taxed by £2,500,000 annually. Calculated on this basis the conscience-money due by Ireland to England is more than £400,000,000. Since 1894, so far from any amendments having been made, things have become very much worse. The taxation of Ireland has risen by nearly two millions a year.

The population has fallen by close on 200,000. The cost of her home government has increased by £2,062,239, or from £1 4s to £1 15s per head of the population. The drain on her resources has been so deadly that in spite of greatly increased taxation the Imperial contribution is £150,000 per annum less than it was fourteen years ago. This drain has been continuous. In 1859 Ireland paid more than £5,000,000 of the cost of the army and navy. She now pays less than £2,000,000.

Apples, Oranges, Figs and Prunes

THE GOD-GIVEN CURE FOR ALL DISEASES OF BOWELS, LIVER, KIDNEYS AND SKIN.

Few people seem to realize how important—how absolutely necessary—it is to keep the Bowels, Kidneys and Skin in proper working order. They wonder why they have Sallow Complexions—Indigestion—Headaches—Rheumatism—while all the time their systems are clogged and poisoned with waste tissues and indigestible food which these organs should have removed.

What they need are Fruit Juices—nature's provision for keeping the eliminating machinery of the body working right. "Fruit-a-tives" are the concentrated juices of fresh, ripe fruits, combined in such a way that their medicinal action is greatly intensified. They stimulate and regulate the action of Liver, Bowels, Kidneys and Skin, thus clearing the system of the accumulated waste and poison, purifying the blood, and banishing those distressing troubles that make life miserable.

No other remedy has ever been discovered that does this so effectively as "Fruit-a-tives." Fifty cents a box—six boxes for $2.50. Trial size, 25 cents. Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

The "CRAFTANA" make Men's Socks, Three Pairs for $1.00

Made on the two, three, four and five principle, graduated. Thus the top is woven two threads double, the leg three, the instep and foot four, the heel and toe five. By this process in knitting the weight and strength of the sock are where they are most needed, in the feet. Some of our grandmothers who knitted socks in the early days might show us how this is done (the machines do it now). "Craftana" is a fine winter sock, made for hard wear, absolutely seamless, and guaranteed unshrinkable and absolutely stainless. Once worn you'll want no other. All we ask is a trial for our men's "Craftana." 35c a pair or 3 pairs for $1.00

Heavier weight 45c or 3 pairs for $1.25

CALLS IT STUPIDITY Franco-Canadian Treaty the Result of Imperial Carelessness. London, Nov. 23.—Lord Lansdowne, speaking at Manchester, said that if the treaty Canada is negotiating with France goes through, other foreign powers will want to make treaties with Canada, and other British colonies will desire to make arrangements with foreign powers, so "by our own carelessness and stupidity these British markets will be closed to us."

WHY SUFFER? BREATHE HYOMEI AND KILL THE LOATHSOME CATARRH GERMS. Just as long as you have catarrh your nose will itch, your breath will be foul, you will hawk and spit and you will do other disgusting things because you can't help yourself. The germs of catarrh have got you in their power; they are continually and persistently digging into and irritating the mucous membrane of your nose and throat. They are now making your life miserable; in time they will sap your entire system of its energy, its strength, its vigor and vitality. But there is one remedy that will kill the germs and cure catarrh, and that is Hyomei, the Australian dry air treatment. Joseph Dural, of Woodstock street, Tavistock, Ont., says: "Catarrh had given me all kinds of suffering for a long time. There was a swelling of the glands under the eyes and adjacent to my nose, and the discharges would drop into my throat. I used several remedies, but never got the relief that I did from Booth's Hyomei. I have been so pleased with Hyomei results that I highly recommend its use to catarrh sufferers." W. T. Strong, the druggist, will guarantee Hyomei to cure catarrh or money back. Don't delay this pleasant antiseptic treatment. Breathe in Hyomei and kill the germs. W. T. Strong will sell you a complete Hyomei outfit, including inhaler, for only $1.00. It is also guaranteed to cure bronchitis, asthma, coughs, colds, hay fever and croup. Feather Beds, Pillows and Mattresses renovated and sterilized; also manufacturers of Mattresses, Feather Pillows, Cushions and Spring Beds, Brass and Iron Beds, Stoves, Furniture, Camp Beds, at the Feather Bed, Pillow and Mattress Cleaning Factory, J. P. HUNT & SONS, 883 Richmond Street, Phone 997.

CARNEGIE FOR TARIFF REFORM.

Protection in the United States may well cry out that it has been wounded in the house of its friends. The hardest blow dealt it in recent years has come from Andrew Carnegie, who has been pointed at as the greatest living beneficiary of a protective tariff.

Mr. Carnegie announces his conversion in an article in the December number of the Century. He says that he has not lost faith in the efficacy of protection as a stimulus to industrial development in a new country, but he argues that it has done its work in the United States. This was the conviction, he claims, of the late President McKinley, voiced on the eve of his untimely death.

Mr. Carnegie's utterance is well-timed. A tariff revision has been promised by the Republican party; a Congressional committee is now taking evidence on the subject, and a bill is being prepared for submission at a special session. There is a great body of unorganized public opinion behind the tariff reform movement, and a recruit such as Mr. Carnegie will give it strength and confidence, and increase the pressure upon Congress to make the revision a radical one.

GERMANY'S NEW TAXES.

The people of Germany, already heavily taxed, are now painfully learning what it means to build up a great navy and to carry out ambitious colonizing enterprises. To meet its obligations that nation requires an additional revenue of nearly $125,000,000 per annum.

Measures submitted to the Reichstag for the reform of the imperial financial system contain a number of unique features. First of all it is proposed to make the wholesale distillation and sale of raw spirits a government monopoly, leaving to the private trades the blending and other final forms of manufacture for the public market, and the whole of the retail trade. Provision is made for compensation for the private distillers.

Perhaps the most disturbing proposal, however, from the German workman's point of view, is a heavily increased tax on beer and excise duties upon all forms of tobacco; but although these increased duties will bear heavily on the masses, the people are probably thankful that it is not their food that is made to pay a larger share of taxation. There is also a tax on still wines bottled in the country or imported in bottle in the shape of a general bottle tax and a graduated surtax.

A burden is laid upon industrial development by the imposition of a tax on gas and electricity, which is fixed at five per cent on the supply price, but is not to be more than one cent per kilowatt hour or cubic metre. The tax on incandescent lamps is fixed according to the power at from ten to sixty cents each.

Another novel feature is the taxing of advertisements. The tax on advertisements in publications appearing more than once a week varies from two to ten per cent of the advertising charge according to the circulation of the paper. Advertisements in papers appearing weekly or at less frequent intervals, will be subject to a tax of ten per cent of the charge of insertion, while advertisements for work and situations wanted, not exceeding five lines in length, are exempt. A tax is also placed on flashlight advertisements and posters.

In future succession duties will be levied on estates as a whole, and will extend to the inheritance of children, husband and wife. The tax increases from one-half per cent on estates of from $5,000 to $7,500 to three per cent on fortunes of over $250,000. A supplementary military tax of one and one-half per cent is levied on the estates of persons liable to military service who have not served. Falling relatives of the first and second degrees, the property of an intestate falls to the imperial exchequer.

The proposed new taxation will, it is estimated, yield as follows: Spirits..... $ 25,000,000. Tobacco..... 19,000,000. Beer..... 25,000,000. Wine..... 5,000,000. Succession duties..... 23,500,000. Electricity and gas..... 12,500,000. Advertisements..... 8,250,000.

Or a total of..... $118,250,000. The Germans are paying dearly for their naval and military ambitions.

FARMING IN ONTARIO.

The deputy minister of agriculture for Ontario, Mr. C. C. James, succeeded in making what to city folk is ordinarily a dry subject exceedingly interesting at a recent luncheon of the Toronto Canadian Club. His subject was farming in our own Province.

In Ontario no fewer than 175,000 men are engaged in the agricultural industry, whose aggregate investments reach the enormous total of $1,200,000,000. Including live stock and dairying, the agricultural products of Ontario have reached in value no less than $415,000,000. During the past ten years live stock has doubled in value, being now $50,000,000, and in a few years' time dairying will yield $50,000,000.

Mr. James estimates the actual value of the farm property of the Province to be equal to the entire capitalization of all the railways in Canada; yet this enormous capital is represented in the House of Commons by but seven agriculturists, as against 25 lawyers, and 13 manufacturers.

In Mr. James' opinion, the annual output of the farm might easily be doubled, and he points to the great increase in the returns from live stock as evidence of the correctness of this contention. He also regards agriculture as a better investment, in the long run, than Cobalt.

The deputy minister looks for an accession of moral strength in the community of a result of the stimulation of agricultural activity. The people of the United States confront no greater evils than those which are inherent in the congestion of the larger centres of population. The tendency of the morality and common sense of the farm is to set the balance straight; and although we in this country have not yet witnessed a general demoralization in our urban communities, it is not difficult for us to recognize the possibility of grave social problems should there be a general neglect of our opportunities. That there is little likelihood of the people of Ontario ever failing to appreciate the value of their agricultural opportunities is shown by the improvement of method in some places by the adoption of intensive farming; in others by the employment of more scientific methods in the larger branches of this calling, which cannot but increase the value of the output of the area already under cultivation.

With the opening up of the arable land in those portions of the Province which are as yet unsettled there will be added to the agricultural domain a large and profitable area.

THE CARLING STREET WALK.

The police magistrate has decided that merchants whose premises abut on the south side of Carling street have a right to drive teams on the sidewalk for shipping purposes. There is no doubt they were given this privilege some years ago by the city authorities, and on this understanding paid for strengthening the pavement. Whether such permission should have been granted or not, or could legally be granted, is another question. A sidewalk is part of the public highway, and must be primarily for public use. In the case before the magistrate it was shown that the horses and vehicles were so placed during loading and unloading as to interfere with pedestrians as little as possible, but some inconvenience is unavoidable if the right of driving on the sidewalk is exercised. To suddenly cancel the privilege would embarrass some merchants, but the public will agree with the magistrate that when the wholesale business disappears from the street the sidewalk should be unimpeded; and that it is desirable this should happen in the near future.

Canadian prosperity is on the return trip.

The public is still breathlessly waiting for the announcement that the Ontario Government has abolished the patronage system.

The water commissioners will make a mistake if they frame a scheme which does not provide for water mains of special strength in the congested district, so as to provide for high pressure and reduced insurance dates.

A local clergyman declared from his pulpit on Sunday that the world was growing worse. Another local clergyman declared that it was growing better. This is a matter of personal opinion, and the laity may take its choice.

In Australia the Liberals are protectionists and the Conservatives are for low tariff. There might have been a similar state of affairs in Canada. It is probable that Sir John Macdonald would have come out on a free trade platform if the Mackenzie Government had raised the tariff in 1878.

The United States lumbermen tell the Congressional tariff committee that they will be ruined by the pauper lumber of Canada if the duty is lowered. The Canadian lumbermen are always pleading for a tariff against the United States. It's an old game and it usually succeeds—at the public expense.

Sir F. C. Gould, the great cartoonist of the Westminster Gazette, pictures Germany staggering under a load of new taxation, while John Bull greets him thus: "Hello, Herr Fritz. What's the meaning of this? I thought that under your fiscal system you always made the foreigner bear all your burdens of taxation." "Ach so!" groans Fritz, "but something has gone wrong."

Lord Roberts also sees the German bogey, and has become a scare-monger. Great Britain cannot have the best navy in the world and at the same time an army equal to the best. The country is staggering under its military and naval budget, while the chancellor of the exchequer must devise new taxes to finance old age pensions and other anti-poverty schemes. The money that goes into ships and armies would cure the misery of millions in Europe. What a reproach to a civilization calling itself Christian!

That was marvellous information imparted yesterday by Mr. Augustine Birrell. He informed the House of Commons that nearly one-half of the agricultural land of Ireland had passed or was passing from landlords to tenants, thanks to the land acts. Great Britain is atoning for generations of oppression. Those who doubt whether Ireland's woes have been as great as pictured by her sons, will find impartial evidence in Lecky's history of the eighteenth century, written by a Unionist member of Parliament. A brighter day has dawned. Soon Ireland may be pointed to as an argument for agrarian legislation on the same lines in England and Scotland, where the land and the people have also drifted apart.

BRITONS READ SOLID BOOKS.

The borrowing of novels is declining all over England, being not more than 15 per cent of the work done by public libraries. In the public libraries of the United Kingdom there are 4,000,000 reference books, 8,000,000 lending books, 11,000,000 reference books are consulted every year, according to the records. Giving further detail the Investigator states that "the taste for history, biography and travel is on the wane; readers are all for science and sociology, and new books on socialism are always in demand."

REFORM IT ALTOGETHER.

It is pointed out that the evil of the patronage system at Quebec is an old one, going away back to the time of Confederation. It is not mitigated in consequence. It is time for a change, and the Laurier Government should make this change complete.

A TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.

"George," spoke his better half, "you are interested in the temperance movement, are you not?" "Why, certainly I am," he answered. "Well, suppose you go out and make a few of them with the pump handle. I am in need of a pair of water right away."

ACHIEVEMENTS OF THE LIBERAL GOVERNMENT.

The Canadian people have, therefore, exhibited once more the political consistency of which we called attention in the concluding paragraph of the prospectus of the election a fortnight ago. Sir John Macdonald retained their confidence, with one interval of four years, for a period only three years short of a quarter of a century. He was premier, altogether, for eighteen years. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, if he remains at the head of affairs for the whole of the new lease of life, will have been premier for only one year less than Sir John. The advance of the Dominion during that period, though it stands, no doubt, more to the credit of the country and the people as a whole than to either of the political parties, is nevertheless a subject upon which Liberal orators have been able to expatiate with justifiable complacency. The amazing energy which the Canadian nation has thrown into the development of its splendid inheritance owes its success primarily to the character and capacity of the race; but it owes a great deal also to the foresight and enterprise which have been shown by the Liberal Government. The expansion of trade—which has more than doubled the total since the Liberals first returned to power—the steady flow of immigration toward the West and the North, the creation of two new provinces with all the paraphernalia of civil government, the inception of another transcontinental railway running entirely upon Canadian soil—all these are achievements which, with the added influence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's great personal popularity and prestige, have naturally appealed with great force to the Canadian electorate. There have been no questions of external policy to divert attention from domestic affairs.

CANADA RECUPERATING.

[Toronto News.] During the month of October, Canadian bank deposits increased to the extent of $11,202,579. The aggregate amount entrusted to these institutions on Oct. 31 was $14,680,349 in excess of the corresponding return a year ago. These figures, taken from today's Government chartered bank statement, reflect the fact that the accumulation of surplus capital which must succeed every commercial depression is already well under way. It signifies that the nation is recuperating its inherent strength for another forward stride in material development.

SIGNS OF LIFE.

[Chicago Journal.] Every person, according to a medical writer, bears physical indications of his prospects of a long or short life. "The primary conditions of longevity are that the heart, lungs and digestive organs, as well as the brain, should be large. If these organs are large the trunk will be long and the limbs comparatively short. The person will appear tall in sitting and short in standing. The hand will have a long and somewhat heavy palm and short fingers. The blue or brown hazel eye, as showing an inclination of temperament, is a favorable indication. The nostrils, if large, open and free, indicate large lungs. A pinched and half-closed nostril indicates small or weak lungs."

BENNETT'S IS BEST EVER.

Superlatives must be employed when speaking of Bennett's bill this week, for it is undoubtedly the best and most enjoyable bill that has ever been presented to its patrons. Nothing to compare with it has ever been given in vaudeville in this city, and it will unquestionably draw capacity houses all this week. The best has been reserved until the last. The Bennett guarantee is worth something, and it is more than justified by the bill.

LAURA BURT AND HENRY STANFORD.

In the Roaring Farce-Comedy, "The Order of the Bath," at Bennett's This Week.

There were large audiences yesterday at both performances, and there was not an adverse criticism offered. The bill pleased everybody, which is considerable, even for vaudeville.

It is brimful of humor, both of the quiet, clever kind, and the rough, boisterous sort. There is the finest musical act ever enjoyed in this country. There is some splendid acrobatic work and some excellent story-telling. One can find anything to his liking in this offering.

The premier position on the bill belongs to Laura Burt and Henry Stanford, who present a comedy playlet, "The Order of the Bath," in a clever, early-written, boldly-conceived story, and in the hands of two such accomplished actors as Miss Burt and Mr. Stanford is an offering of merit.

The story concerns a young society couple, stopping at a hotel, who by a ludicrous mistake find themselves locked in a bathroom. The situation is rather compromising, and the young lady implores the soldier to do something. He invents all sorts of schemes, only to find them unworkable. At last, by a most fortunate suggestion, the combination of the door is discovered, and the young couple are freed. The playlet gives both Miss Burt and Mr. Stanford plenty of opportunity to display their talents.

As would be imagined the playlet is highly amusing. The excruciatingly funny efforts of the captain to get the young lady out of the difficulty fairly convulse the audience.

In the part of the soldier Stanford's acting is a real treat. His humor is exceedingly droll, and most enjoyable. He stands today in the front rank of character actors, and in this role excellently. Miss Burt has been before, when she and Mr. Stanford played the "Walls of Jericho," and needs no higher commendation than that, for her acting in that play was superb. She is just as good in the playlet, and that is saying something.

There is another sketch on the bill of a different type, but fearfully funny. In fact, it is one continuous roar. It does not depend so much upon good acting for its laugh as for ridiculous situations, in which it abounds. Conroy, Lemaire & Co., in "A King for a Knight," have the funniest act ever enjoyed in this city. There is absolutely no use describing it. But the truth is that anybody who misses it will miss one of the greatest indigestion cures ever shown here.

Frostini is advertised as the wizard of the accordion, and he does not belie the name. He is the superlative of that, if there is such a thing. His playing is the sensation of every vaudeville bill, and it was most enjoyable. He is a musical genius. He plays little but classical music, but he does it in such a manner that even the gallery listen to it, and enjoys it immensely. And this is genius.

Another novelty, a real novelty is the skating act of Earl Reynolds and Ned Donegan. Anybody who can tame roller skates and make them behave like this pair do is a marvel. They were the feature of Anna Held's show, "The Parisian Model." They are extremely clever, and do many very hard tricks. Miss Donegan is very graceful, and dances beautifully.

George H. Wood is no stranger to London audiences, but he always comes back with a new line of conversation. He localized his jokes, and thus adds greatly to their force. He is the best storyteller in vaudeville, and has some stories to tell.

Miss Claire Maynard sings well, and has a good stage appearance. She was accorded a good reception, and will hold her place on the big bill without trouble.

Sansone and Delilah have a very daring and clever acrobatic act. It is full of thrills and shivers, and although they get hurt occasionally, they keep on going. It is a good act. This bill is a guaranteed bill. Anybody who is not satisfied with it should personally visit the management, and ask them to close it up, and put in an orchestra to play funeral marches all day long.

The writer will guarantee that Bennett's is worth while this week.

A BIG SHOW.

The Carl Cook Stock Company opened a week's engagement at the Grand last evening, drawing a good house. The company is as good, if not better than the majority of lower-priced stock companies, and seemed to please the audience very much.

The offering was "Jim," the Westerner, a play of considerable strength and cleverness. Some of the parts were taken well, noticeably those of George F. Cotter, Theodora Shaler, Viola Bancroft, Edyth LaNora and others.

During the evening some very good specialties were given. In this Cotter also excelled, doing the best work of the evening. Marvellous Vade also did a very fair act.

For a popular-priced attraction it is not too bad. Tonight "In His Power" will be the offering. It is a New England drama, and should prove interesting.

Drawings for prizes will take place on Saturday. Those holding the lucky numbers will be given handsome presents. A special children's prize mania will be held on Saturday afternoon next.

KEVELL-FINLAYSEN

Wedding at the Home of Mr. Thomas White, Ridgeway. On Nov. 18 a very pretty but quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. Thomas White, Talbot street, Ridgeway, when Miss Clara Finlayson, formerly of London, and daughter of Mrs. P. H. Finlayson, was united in marriage to Mr. Thomas Kevell, a prosperous young farmer of Aldboro. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. McDermid, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Duart. As the clock struck four the bridal party ascended the stairs. The bride was given away by her brother Clifford, while the wedding march was played by her cousin, Miss Clara Gardner. The bride and groom took their places under a large white bell, young from an arch of evergreens and chrysanthemums, while the parlor was decorated in pink.

The bride looked charming in a princess gown of white silk and point d'esprit net, trimmed with lace and chiffon, and carried a large bouquet of white chrysanthemums. After the ceremony, the wedding party, consisting of about twenty of the near relatives, sat down to a sumptuous wedding dinner, served in a dining-room which was artistically decorated in red, white and blue.

After a very enjoyable evening the young couple departed for their home in Aldboro amid showers of rice, confetti and with the good wishes of their many friends.

The bride's going-away gown was a handsome brown broadcloth, large picture hat and furs, the gift of the groom.

THE AMETHYST CROSS

By Fergus Hume

"You want her to marry George?" repeated Hale, astonished. "My daughter!"

Mrs. Walker looked at him straightly. "You may well be surprised," she said quietly, "especially as you know this marriage, and with good reason, let me remind you, Mr. Hale. But now that I have seen Lesbia—she drew the girl closer—"I see no reason why the sins of the father should be visited upon the child. Lesbia shall be my dear daughter, and I welcome her with joy."

"I have something to say to that. She shall never be your daughter-in-law, since it is better to be explicit as at relationship."

"We'll see about that."

"Quite so. You are a clever woman, Judith, but I am also a clever man."

"Oh!" Mrs. Walker winced again at his using her Christian name. "We had better not begin about your qualities. Lesbia would certainly have to leave the room, then."

"Don't shame me in the presence of my child, madam," said Hale thickly, and the veins on his forehead began to swell with anger.

"I beg your pardon," said Mrs. Walker, with a careless laugh. "I forget how you have deceived her into thinking you an angel."

Hale suddenly rose and walked to the window. He was in a furious rage and was trying to keep himself cool, since he knew that any loss of temper would give Mrs. Walker an advantage which he did not intend her to gain. She sat quietly smoothing Lesbia's hair, and with glittering eyes quite ready to continue hostilities as soon as her enemy got his breath. Lesbia herself remained passive, wondering what all the trouble was about. Neither the one nor the other of those who quarrelled, hinted sufficient to enlighten her as to the reasons why they were at enmity. Hale certainly might have said something more to the point, as he was rapidly losing control of his temper, but as he turned from the window there came a ring at the front door of the cottage. "Here is Jabez," said Hale, coming back to his seat. "I am glad he has arrived, if only to stop your tongue."

would be as well to avoid personal remarks. They do not go and take up valuable time. Go on, Mrs. Walker."

"I want to hear what Mr. Hale has to say about the amethyst cross," said the widow, with a dark look at her enemy.

"I have nothing to say about it," retorted Hale, nursing his chin with his hand and leaning back with crossed legs, apparently indifferent.

"Pardon me, but you have much to say," remarked Jabez precisely. "So I merely know—on the authority of Mrs. Walker—that the cross was given to this young lady," he nodded curiously towards Lesbia, "who in her turn passed it along to Mr. George Walker."

"That is true," said Lesbia, seeing that she was called upon to speak. "I was told by Bridget—"

"Who is Bridget?" interrupted Jabez keenly.

"My late nurse. She is dead."

Jabez shook his bald head. "Oh! That's a pity. Go on."

"Bridget told me that I was to give the cross only to the man I loved. I therefore gave it to George. He was assaulted for it on the towing-path, and as it could not be found upon him, his room at Medehans was robbed."

Jabez nodded. "Mrs. Walker told me all this," he said quietly, "and the cross has never been found?"

"No," said Mrs. Walker.

"No!" said Mr. Hale.

"No!" said Lesbia.

"As I am," called the lawyer, dryly, "a most unanimous question, I understand," he addressed Lesbia, again, "that your mother originally owned this cross and gave it to your nurse. Mrs. Walker, on the authority of her own maid, Bridget, says that she understood that the cross had belonged to my mother," replied Lesbia, nervously glancing at her father.

"Bridget told me so, when she gave it to me on her death-bed."

"Then she told your mother so," said Mr. Hale, "and at my request?"

"Why?" demanded Jabez, leaning towards his unwilling host.

"Because the cross belonged to another woman, and I did not want that known in case someone should claim it."

"—said Mrs. Walker darkly. "And why did you wish to keep it?"

"I—liked the ornament," confessed Hale hesitatingly, and quite forgetting the sentimental reason he had given to his daughter as the desire to have the cross because it had been the property of his late wife.

Mrs. Walker laughed scornfully. "I believe you know the reason why the cross is so valuable," she snapped.

"Yes, he does," chimed in Lesbia, who was determined to learn the reason of all this mystery. "He says that if produced it will bring him two thousand a year."

"Lesbia!" Hale jumped to his feet and looked furious. "How dare you?"

"How dare I," she cried, rising in her turn, "because you will not trust me, father, and I am in the dark. The cross is mine, and I have a right to know all that concerns it. Does the production of the cross mean gain to my father of two thousand a year?" she demanded of the lawyer.

"It means that if a certain person produces the cross to me," explained Mr. Jabez, "that fifty thousand pounds will—"

"Let me explain," interrupted Mrs. Walker sharply. "The cross, as you are led to suppose the identity of my sister Kate. My father left her the sum of fifty thousand pounds. She eloped with a man of whom he disapproved, and has not appeared to claim the money. We don't know if she is living or dead."

"Ah!" broke in Hale, "this is what George told me."

"Yes," flashed out Mrs. Walker, turning on him, "and for that reason you know the value of the cross."

"Hale shrugged his shoulders. "I knew that long ago."

"Then why did you not produce it?" "Because I thought it was lost. If the cross belonged to your sister Kate, Mrs. Walker, I knew her."

"She was not your wife," cried Mrs. Walker savagely. "You were not the man she ran away with."

"I never said that I was," rejoined Hale coolly. "No. Hear what I have to say. When I was living at Wimbleton, with my wife—Lesbia's mother—we one day found a woman lying unconscious in the snow. My wife, who was a good Samaritan, revived her and took her in. She died, but before drawing her last breath, she told me that she was Katherine Morse."

"That was my sister's maiden name. But she married the man she ran away with."

"She never told me so," said Hale, coolly. "She died in my wife's arms, and is buried in Wimbleton cemetery. The cross—as I heard from my wife on her death-bed—she gave to my wife, and she produced it to Mr. Simon Jabez would be worth fifty thousand pounds. My wife gave the cross to Bridget, and did not tell me so. When she died I hunted for the cross and could not find it. But that old hag of an Irish woman possessed it and hid her peace. On her death-bed she gave it to Lesbia, and told her not to tell me about it. I only became aware of its whereabouts when I saw it in your son's hand after he had proposed to Lesbia. Then it was lost again and I didn't know how to find it."

"What a strange story," said Lesbia. "Why did you not tell me before, father?"

Hale turned on her viciously. "You were secret with me about the cross, so what occasion was there to tell you?"

"You have been open. I would have had that fifty thousand pounds long ago."

"No," said Jabez, who had been listening attentively. "You were not married to Miss Katherine Morse, and so had no claim to the money."

"I claim it," cried Mrs. Walker triumphantly. "I wanted to know was whether my sister Kate was dead. Now you have sworn to that, and now that we know she is buried in Wimbleton Cemetery, I get the money."

"No," said Jabez again, and very dryly.

Mrs. Walker rose and turned on him angrily. "You know my father's will," she cried angrily. "One hundred thousand pounds was left equally between myself and my sister. I had my share and my husband spent it. Kate never came to claim her half, so by the will it reverts to the survivor of Samuel Morse's daughters. I am the survivor."

"You go too fast, my dear lady," said the lawyer, "and do not know the will so thoroughly as I do. Fifty thousand pounds, which I hold was left to Katherine Morse and her heirs. There may be a child or children."

"Kate Morse had no child when she died in my house," said Hale sharply. "I can prove it. He went to the door and called out, 'Tim!'"

In a few minutes, and amidst a dead silence, the crooked little man appeared rubbing his red head. "What's yer will, sor?" he asked softly.

"You remember the woman who was taken in at Wimbleton years ago?" questioned Hale impatiently. "The woman with the amethyst cross?"

"Aye, sor, I mind that. I wor a bare-furred gossoon thin. Me mother—rist her soul—laid out the shroud av her."

"Had this woman a child with her?" asked Jabez straightly.

"No, sor," said Tim, unhesitatingly. "she had not. The only child in the house wor Miss Lesbia here."

"That will do," said Hale impatiently, waving his hand and drawing a long breath, "you can go," and Tim took his departure. "Are you satisfied?" he asked, turning to the lawyer.

"No," said that gentleman quietly. "I must have a better proof that there was no child. From certain rumors, which I remember hearing years ago, I am inclined to believe that there is a child."

"I believe there was a child," said Mrs. Walker, who had been sitting, grim and silent. "Kate wrote to me two years after she eloped with that man, that she had a baby and that it was very ill. She did not expect it to live."

"Did she mention the sex of the child?"

"No, she did not, nor did I ever hear from her again. I daresay that the man cast her off, or deserted her, and she crawled to Wimbleton to die. But the child must be dead also, so I inherit the money."

"No, no, no. There is not sufficient proof of the child's death," said Jabez, "although it appears we can prove the death of your sister. The fact, again, I must have the amethyst cross placed in my hands before I can part with the money. It is well invested," added Jabez, with a chuckle, "and brings in a trifle over two thousand a year. You are correct in your estimate, Mr. Hale, but I doubt if you can claim the money."

"I could if I had the cross," muttered Hale savagely.

"Not even then. If the child, whether male or female, appears with the cross, and I can prove the truth of its being the child of Mrs. Walker's sister, then I'll hand over the money. If we can prove the death of the child, Mrs. Walker gets the money."

"And I'll have it," cried Mrs. Walker, rising impatiently. "I am certain that the child is dead. Kate wrote that it was dangerously ill."

"But not dead," chuckled Jabez, as he glanced at his watch. "Well, there is nothing more to be said, so I shall take my leave. Good-day! Good-day! Good-day!" he nodded again to each in turn and vanished as unexpectedly as he had entered. Mrs. Walker looked remarkably angry.

"The money is mine and I'll have it," she said determinedly.

"You must first find the amethyst cross," sneered Hale.

A MAGISTRATE'S EVIDENCE

IN FAVOR OF ZAM-BUK

Mr. PERRY J.P.

Zam-Buk wins favor wherever tried! The Magistrate whose words are quoted below tried it thoroughly and now tells the result. If you suffer from any skin disease or injury mark well his words!

The Pavilion, Gold Fields, B.C.

After a very fair trial I have proved Zam-Buk eminently satisfactory. It cured me of a skin rash of five years standing which no doctor had been able to do any good for. I do certainly encourage any person to keep Zam-Buk in their homes. It truly does more than you claim for it. Yours very truly,
ROGER F. PERRY, Justice of Peace for B.C.

Chronic Sore Quite Healed.

Mrs. M. A. Harris of 69 Chestnut St., St. Thomas, Ont., says:—"My husband had a running sore on his ankle for about two months. Zam-Buk showed satisfactory results from the first application (although other salves had failed), cleaning and healing the open wound. We have also found Zam-Buk unequalled for Cuts, Burns, Sores, etc., and have great confidence in recommending it to others."

ZAM-BUK CURES eczema, ringworm, scalp sores or open wounds, barber's rash, blood-poisoning, cold-sores, cracked hands, cuts, scalds, salt rheum and all skin injuries and diseases. It is also a sure cure for piles.

The light bread or the leaden loaf is a matter of choice—not luck. Choice of method—choice of yeast—but, above all, the choice of the flour.

Royal Household Flour

is made from the finest, selected Manitoba wheat, which contains more gluten (that quality which makes bread light) than any other wheat.

It is milled under the most sanitary conditions,—there is no other flour in Canada upon which so much is spent to insure its perfect quality.

GRAY'S Prevents Catarrh

Syrup of Red Spruce Gum

Relieves Colds—Hoarseness—Cold in the Head—Coughs—Bronchitis—Asthma—Pain in Chest—Night Coughs—and permits Restful Sleep.

All the natural cavities of the body—(nose, mouth, etc.) are lined with mucous membrane. This membrane is very delicate. The least exposure irritates and inflames it,—causing it to pour out the fluid mucus. The first stage is a cold. The next stage is chronic cold or catarrh. Gray's Syrup prevents Catarrh because it breaks up the cold and cures the cough. Keep a bottle on hand this winter, to cure coughs and colds and ward off Catarrh altogether. Sold by all dealers. 25c and 50c.

It is understood that Minor Heil will be held exclusively for exhibition purposes next year, and will not go to the races. He should have something on Dan Patch at that game.

The Suicide Club will hold a session at Savannah, Georgia, this week. Fourteen imported cars are in the event, with many Americans.

It is too bad John D. Rockefeller's testimony came during the football season. It is hard to keep one's attention directed to two rings at one and the same time.

It is said that a spectre moose has appeared in the Maine woods frightening hunters into fits. It looks as if some guilty consciences or bad whisky are working in that neighborhood. Few moose have suffered, although many men have been slain.

The football season is now waning, and all that the United States followers of sports can do this winter will be to sit by the fire and compare Ty Cobb's batting average with that of Honus Wagner. In the meantime we will have hockey, and some fine fun with the O. H. A. executive.

The Toronto sporting writers are having a time of their lives, and are quarrelling just like they do in Hamilton, Ont. And it is all over that Dufferin Park meeting.

By the bye, it is a real pity that any bunch of sporting writers would lend themselves to encourage a meeting of the brand and caliber of the Dufferin Park meeting. It was the limit, and then some.

Barracks Basketball Win at Armories

The Barracks basketball team succeeded in doing some rather terrible things to G Company at the armories last night, piling up a score of 35 to 20, Oakley, the Barracks' big centre, himself finding the basket 32 times. The game, despite the score, which was due to lack of practice of the regi-

ALL DISTRESS FROM INDIGESTION OR AN UPSET STOMACH VANISHES

ALL MISERY IN THE STOMACH WILL BE RELIEVED FIVE MINUTES AFTER TAKING SOME DIAPEPSIN.

Does it ever occur to you how busy that little stomach of yours is? It actually only holds three pints, though in one year you force it to take in 2,500 pounds of material, digest it and prepare it for assimilation to the blood. Do you wonder at the number of cases of Indigestion and Stomach trouble? You crowd it with steaks and pastry, irritate its juices with spices and acids, and expect this little four-ounce mill to do its work.

Is there any wonder that your food passes undigested or lies like a lump of lead in the stomach. That everything you eat turns to acid, Stomach gas and Stomach poison, purifying the Intestines and digestive canals, causing Biliousness, Headaches, Dizzi-

TO ARRANGE NEW INTER-CITY SERIES

THE TURF.

Yesterday's Winners. Oakland, Nov. 24. — Today's results were as follows: Miss Highland 13 to 20, Warden 6 to 1, Nebulous 15 to 5, Hazel 12 to 5, Rhinbeck 10 to 1.

ALL MISERY IN THE STOMACH WILL BE RELIEVED FIVE MINUTES AFTER TAKING SOME DIAPEPSIN.

ness and Indigestion, Heartburn, Nauseous Breath, Constipation and other more dangerous symptoms? Call your disease what you will—Indigestion, Gastritis, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Catarrh of Stomach, etc.—you know the real name, the real disease is fermentation of the food you eat—a sour Stomach, which belches gas and eructs undigested food, causes a feeling of nausea and misery.

All these miseries vanish promptly when you stop this food fermentation. Take fifty cents to your Pharmacist for a case of Pape's Diapepsin. Eat a triangle, and five minutes later your Stomach will do what a healthy Stomach should—take in, turn every thing you eat into bodily nourishment, and without you realizing that you have a Stomach. One triangle will digest all the food you eat without the aid of the stomach, because it contains just the elements found in a good, strong, healthy stomach.

LONGBOAT DEFEATS RELAY

Niagara Falls, Nov. 23.—Tom Longboat in his relay race at the Olympia Rink this evening vanquished his four opponents by two laps. The course was sixteen laps to the mile. Large crowds of spectators were present to see the famous Indian run. For the first mile W. Hughes, of this city, was the opponent, and at the finish of the first mile the Indian led by one and a half laps. Strumball, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., lost one lap on the second mile. Altman, of Buffalo, took up the third mile and at the half-distance, two and a half miles, the Indian led by three laps. At three and a half miles Driscoll, the champion long distance runner of the Seventy-fourth Regiment, A. C., Buffalo, tackled the Indian and decreased his lead to two laps. At the four-mile post Hughes again tackled the Indian and decreased his lead to a lap and a half, but the Indian put on a spurt and easily gained the lost ground and added half a lap more.

The last half-mile Strumball tried the Indian a second time, decreasing his lead to two laps, by which the Indian won the race.

He ran in good form, keeping up a steady, killing pace for his opponents, using his head throughout the race. Time, 25 minutes and 10 seconds. Longboat covered the first two miles in 9 minutes and 25 seconds.

Tim O'Rourke, of Toronto, was present with Longboat. In an interview with Longboat this evening he claimed he does not expect to make a match with Strumball. The latter wishes to make the match for ten miles, while he (Longboat) will not make a match for less than twenty miles.

VARSIITY STRONG TO MEET TIGERS

Deciding Game for the Rugby Championship Likely To Be Great Battle.

When the Tigers run up against Varsity at the Rosedale grounds next Saturday, it will be one of the prettiest exhibitions of rugby that has been seen since Varsity met the Rough Riders at the same place five years ago.

The two teams are about as evenly matched as it is possible, the Tigers having slightly the advantage.

The Tigers have played together for years, and know their own game, and have the confidence that comes from years of success. They are slightly heavier, too, on the wing line, and have in addition, probably the best kicking half in Canada in the person of Simpson.

On the other hand, there isn't a doubt that as far as snappy tackling goes, the red diving kind, the Tigers are away out in the prairie comparing to the Collegians. Captain Lehigh could give any one of the Tigers lessons on that subject. The wing line is lighter than Hamilton, but it is game, and if they play a good, scrappy game there isn't much doubt that they will be able to stop Isbister's sensational bucking tactics. Captain Lehigh is not afraid of the line. It is the back division that, owing to inexperience, has been causing him some sleepless nights. However, the showing in the last couple of games has made him confident. They are beginning to work a perfect combination between the line, backing up the play, so that there can be no disastrous fumbles. Gall's playing this year has been phenomenal, and though he cannot equal Simpson in the kicking, in every other respect he is quite a match for any of the Tiger halves. He has even been indulging in Art Moore's specialty, the long runs around the end. Dixon at full, has been a find for Varsity. He has a good pair of hands and can use his head in a crisis, and he has saved many a ticklish situation this year. Lawson, too, is a factor to be reckoned with, and it will take the Tiger wings all their time to stop his bucks. Coryell, while not the field captain that Ballard is, handles the ball well. He has done fine work this year. Altogether there is little to choose between the teams, and the man who ventures into the realms of prophecy regarding the result will need to have his nerve with him.

League Club, will be turned over to Brooklyn, as soon as that club can take a man for the shortstop job to take the place of Pat Donovan who was released a week or so ago, as manager of the Brooklyn.

People are so busy discussing the horrors of that brutal game of rugby that they forget all about the equally brutal game of hockey as exhibited at Pittsburg.

There seems small likelihood of a race being pulled off between Longboat and Shrub, the latter holding out for ten-mile distance. Longboat still insists in the twenty-mile stretch. It's a natural difference of opinion, each standing out for the distance at which they are master.

About 1,000 runners took part in the Y. M. C. A. race from New York to Washington. The message left New York Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and reached Washington Monday at 6:45 p.m. The race stopped at Baltimore Saturday evening, and was not resumed again till Monday at 3 o'clock. The message was received by the President at the White House from the hands of Gordon Leach, the last runner. The second run was between Baltimore and Washington, a distance of 40 miles, which the boys covered in 3 hours and 10 minutes.

Talk about the yellow peril! Here's the Japanese University of Waseda holding the American baseball team down to five runs.

W. A. Erimeau was the winner of the gold watch offered for the highest score, by the National bowling alley management. Mr. Erimeau made a high score in four consecutive games, his score being 862.

SPECIALS DEFEATED THE CRACK GROCERS

PAPKE CONTINUES 10 TO 7 FAVORITE

They Are Also Offering Even Money Ketchell Won't Last 19 Rounds.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 24. — Billy Papke knocked out one of his sparring partners in dead earnest at the San Rafael gymnasium on Sunday. Ollie Cornett, a promising heavyweight, was the victim.

Papke was swinging away in the third round of the bout, when suddenly he reached Cornett with a stiff right to the jaw. He tried to check it, but the move came too late, and Cornett went down for keeps. He was revived shortly, but was in no condition to go ahead.

Papke finished up his exhibition of four rounds with Al Kaufmann. He apparently hit Kaufmann whenever he wanted to and roughed it with the big California heavyweight in a way which made his visitors gasp. Papke is down to 157 pounds and will do his last boxing before the match tomorrow afternoon.

Ketchell also attracted a crowd at his Colma quarters, working both with McClure and Harry Mared. The Michiganander is around 159 pounds, but will work as late as Tuesday before he lays off. Betting on the bout is still at 10 to 7, with even money offered that Ketchell will last more than eighteen rounds.

GIANT GRIZZLY ROAMING 'ROUND

Bear That Is Terrorizing the Squamish Valley Makes an 18-Inch Track.

Vancouver, Nov. 23.—There is an extraordinarily large bear of the grizzly species roaming around the Squamish Valley. For years there have been many stories about the big brute, and of late these stories have been further supplemented by people who have actually seen the animal, and who fully confirm all that has been said about its size.

That it is an extraordinarily large animal may be judged by the fact that there are half a dozen reputable residents of the Squamish Valley who have seen the animal's tracks, and who are prepared to affirm that they were 18 inches high by actual measurement. A bear track is very much like the mark of a naked human foot, only broader across the toes. There are only four toes, too, on the bear's foot as compared with five on the human heel.

In the case of an ordinary-sized black bear a footprint measuring nine or ten inches is about the average. But when an animal that can make an 18-inch track goes roaming around it is little wonder that few Squamish residents do much travelling around now without a rifle of heavy calibre.

As a big game district the Squamish Valley is getting a reputation this fall and winter that bids fair to outclass even that of the Kootenay and Atlin districts—at least for bear and deer shooting. To many people the fact that there are grizzly bears in the Squamish Valley will come as a surprise. But it is true, nevertheless, and the hides of two grizzlies are in the city right now as proof. Messrs. Harris and Robinson, two well-known upper Squamish residents, secured the animals about two weeks ago. One was a she-bear that weighed over five hundred pounds, the other, one of her cubs, and tipped the scales at 220 pounds. The cub's coat is in fine condition, but there was a lot of long, unshed, last season's hair on the older bear. The animals who got these two intend organizing a party soon and going back to the same locality, where it is believed several other grizzly cubs and the mate of the she bear may be secured.

Over One Hundred Bears Shot. Since last fall considerably over one hundred black bears have been killed in the comparatively limited area of the lower Squamish Valley. This is no "bear story," but a statement that well-known Squamish residents say can be proved by actual figures.

Regarding the stories about the monster grizzly, a number of Squamish residents have actually seen the huge brute while out hunting armed with only shotguns, and they were glad enough to get away without any attempt to start an argument with big Mister Bruin. Of the presence of particularly large bears of the grizzly species in the Squamish Valley, Mr. Ford has not the slightest doubt, as less than a week ago he personally measured bear tracks that totalled fourteen inches under the rule, while he has seen a number of other tracks during the past month that measured twelve and thirteen inches.

Meanwhile the Squamish residents would be glad to hear that this big grizzly, whose very mention is beginning to cause a shudder of fear on the part of the women of the valley, had at last been bagged by some lucky alms.

VIENNESE STUDENTS CLASH. Vienna, Nov. 23.—The German and Italian students attending the University of Vienna came into serious collision in the university precincts this morning, and before the police drove the demonstrators away revolvers had been freely used and a number of young men wounded. The trouble was occasioned by an Italian demonstration in favor of the establishment of an Italian university at Trieste.

FOE TO REPRESENT THE IRISH PEOPLE

Lord Ashtown Is Chosen by Lot to Sit in British House of Lords.

Dublin, Nov. 23.—Lord Ashtown has at last secured a seat in the House of Lords, as a representative Irish peer, but it is in keeping with his whole history that he owes his seat to chance and not to the desire of a majority of his fellow peers.

It may not be generally known that Irish peers are not entitled by right of their peerage to sit in the British House of Lords. The majority of them, of course, are the holders of British peerages as well as their Irish titles and sit by virtue of the British titles, but the Irish peers are entitled to elect a certain number of their fellows to represent them in the upper house.

Ashtown has long been trying to get into the House of Lords, but he has been defeated at every vacancy. This time the vacancy was caused by the death of Lord Rosse, who in addition to being a popular nobleman was a great scientist. Ashtown was opposed by Lord Farnham, and they received an equal number of votes. The proceedings which followed were distinctly medieval.

The clerk of the crown and hanaper for Ireland, an official whose precise duties no one seems to know, went to London and when the House of Lords was assembled appeared at the bar and informed the lord chancellor that a tie had taken place. The clerk of Parliament then placed two slips of paper in a glass and drew out one which contained Ashtown's name. Ashtown was then declared duly elected.

Ashtown is one of the bitterest enemies Ireland ever had. His hobby is collecting and publishing what he calls "Outrages From Ireland," in which every occurrence which can be twisted into the appearance of disorder is magnified to convince the English people that the people of Ireland are not fit to govern themselves.

The famous explosion at his shooting lodge in Glenahely attracted considerable attention. It was published far and wide as an attempt to blow up the lodge while he was sleeping in it, but the police discovered that the material of which the bomb was made came from another of his estates, and that Ashtown was sitting up waiting when the explosion occurred. No one has ever been prosecuted for the offense.

DONATED FORTUNE TO HELP TAFT

The President-Elect's Brother Contributed Over $100,000.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23.—George F. Sheldon, treasurer of the Republican national committee, today filed the list of contributions for the recent national campaign. It shows 12,330 contributors, many of them covering a number of lesser contributions. The total amount contributed was $1,855,518.27. The names of individual contributors are given without specifying address or locality, this being the method of entering them when received, but addresses have been inserted as far as available.

Some of the largest contributions were: One hundred and ten thousand dollars, C. P. Taft, Cincinnati; $34,777, Union League, New York; $25,000, Larz Anderson, Boston; C. A. ## A GREAT VOLUME OF PRAISE

SO STRONG AND VIGOROUS ARE THE STATEMENTS MADE FOR MI-ONA CURING STOMACH TROUBLES THEY ALMOST CHALLENGE BELIEF—THE STERLING STATEMENT OF A LONDON RESIDENT CAN BE EASILY VERIFIED BY READERS OF THIS PAPER.

There is a reason for everything. There is a reason for the surprising cures by Mi-ona of Stomach troubles and Chronic Dyspepsia that are being so much talked about.

The reason Mi-ona corrects Stomach troubles in so many remarkable cases where all other stomach and dyspepsia medicines have failed is because Mi-ona builds up the flabby walls, making the stomach so strong that it will digest food of itself without company, limited, Fort Erie, and this remedy gave her a good relief and made her much better and stronger than before. Mi-ona has our strong indorsement. This remedy can be procured at W. T. Strong's pharmacy.

then the stomach itself does all the rest. London Proof. Christian Hohner, of Tavistock, Ont., says: Mrs. Hohner had suffered for months with a disagreeable, annoying and dangerous stomach trouble. Her stomach was weak and would not digest the food she took, and it fermented and formed gas, which made her nervous, weak and languid. She used remedies, but none relieved until she tried Mi-ona, put up by the R. T. Booth Company, Limited, Fort Erie, and this remedy gave her a good relief and made her much better and stronger than before. Mi-ona has our strong indorsement. This remedy can be procured at W. T. Strong's pharmacy.

HAPPENINGS OF A DAY IN BUSY EAST LONDON.

WHICH IS GREATER PULPIT OR PRESS

Interesting Debate in Centennial Church Last Night Ended in a Draw.

Resolved, that the pulpit has a greater moral influence than the press, was the cause of a warm debate at Centennial Methodist Church last evening.

The affirmative supporters dwelt on the conviction carried by the spoken word, and the minister's training, and claimed that the fact that the clergyman was ordained, carried influence.

The negative side brought forth a volume of argument referring to the freedom of the press in which Miss Tufts distinguished herself.

BRISK MARKET PRICES FIRM

LOCAL MARKET.

London, Tuesday, Nov. 24.

The cloudy weather, with every appearance of rain, no doubt kept quite a number of farmers from attending the market today. The majority of those present were hucksters, who regulated prices to suit the demand. The market was a fairly brisk one, and prices were firm.

Hay and straw—Hay sold quickly today and prices were firm at $11.75 to $12.00 per ton; there was a good demand for choice hay on Wednesday. Straw sold at $7 per ton.

Butter and Eggs—Butter was sold at $1.25 for crocks and $1.20 for pound rolls; the demand exceeded the supply. EGGS were exceedingly scarce, or at least those which could be guaranteed strictly fresh; prices were firm at 28c per dozen; the dealers are paying 28c per dozen for crate lots of candied and cold storage eggs.

Poultry—A small supply and a fairly brisk demand; old fowl sold at 5c per lb and 7c for dressed; chickens, 12c to 13c dressed and 10c per lb alive.

Vegetables and Roots—Potatoes were in light supply, but sales were quiet at 60c and 65c per bag; celery, 20c to 25c; cabbages, 25c to 30c per dozen; celeriac, 30c to 40c per dozen; parsnips, 40c to 50c per bag; carrots, 30c per bu.

Apples—This market was in brisk demand and prices were firm; for choice Spies or Greenings, $1.10 to $1.25 per bag, and $2.50 per barrel.

Dressed Hogs—Not over a dozen offered, and as the butchers were pretty well sold out there was brisk demand; prices advanced to $3.25 and $3.40 per cwt.

Butchers' Hogs—Although there was a small quantity offered in this line, trade was slow; there was no change in prices; best sold at $3.50 per cwt; medium, $3.25, $3.50 to $3.75 per cwt; lamb, 9c per lb, by the carcass.

PEKIN'S GATE GUARDED

Chinese Regulars Under Arms on the Watch.

Pekin, Nov. 23.—The first trustworthy reports of the army at Nanking were received here today. A battery of artillery and a squadron of cavalry, not exceeding all told 500 men, entrenched themselves in an old fort on the nineteenth and gave out that they had mutinied. They had become disaffected as a result of the propaganda of a number of revolutionary agitators. For a time they put up a successful resistance, but a gunboat was brought to the scene and bombarded their position, whereupon they fled. It has been thought advisable to post a guard at each of the gates of Peking.

Reforms have already been instituted in the palace. The new dowager empress, Ye Ho Na La, has withdrawn from the background, and the late dowager's eunuchs and others who were closely identified with her powerful and dominating rule, were purged. At least the evidence of the reform government and anticipating dismissal, have fled.

Prince Chun's recent edict, in which he declined to permit any interference from the new dowager empress, has cleared the throne from any possible claim. The emperor, Pu Yi, assumed until the new emperor, Pu Yi, assumed power. Yuan Shi Kai, chief imperial councillor, it is understood, is co-operating with Chang Chi Tung, who is acting as the regent's chief counselor.

SAVED BY HIS DOG

Bull Attacks Farmer, But Collie Goes to His Master's Assistance.

Midale, Sask., Nov. 23.—H. Flaata, while driving a bull into his stable, was attacked by the animal suddenly, which knocked him down and attempted to gore him. He was saved by a collie dog, which fastened itself on the bull's nose until its master got beyond reach.

BURGLAR SHOT AND KILLED

Was Attempting to Make a Raid on a General Store.

Rosthern, Sask., Nov. 23.—A burglar, giving the name of W. F. Ames, was shot and almost instantly killed by Edward Tadel, a clerk in the store of E. Ruttle, early this morning. Ames and a confederate named W. Salfey, had been in town since Saturday, planning a raid on the store, and were quartered at the hotel here. Ruttle has a burglar alarm connected with his residence, and when it rang he hurried to the store, accompanied by his clerk, Tadel. The latter was armed with a rifle. When they reached the store they discovered a man standing on guard at the door. He ran in to warn his companion, and then fired at Tadel, sending a bullet whistling past his head. Both men made a break for liberty, and when they emerged from the door Tadel fired, hitting Ames in the stomach and killing him almost instantly. His companion returned and looked at him, and then escaped, and is still at liberty, although the police have a good description of him. Tadel was arrested this afternoon and will be defended by Mr. McCraney, M. P.

LONDON TOWNSHIP RESIDENT DEAD

Mr. Thomas Parkinson, of Lot 4, Concession 14, Has Crossed the Great Divide.

One of London Township's oldest and best-known residents died at his home, lot 4, concession 14, yesterday in the person of Mr. Thomas Parkinson. Mr. Parkinson's death was due to an attack of paralysis, which he sustained several months ago. He was 73 years old, and was survived by his wife, five sons and three daughters, George and Wesley, at home; William J., of London Township; Nell and Herbert, of Detroit, Mich.; Mr. McCombe and Mrs. Blythe, of London Township; and Miss Jennie, at home. Mrs. Charles Gibson, Mrs. Thomas Parkinson of this city, and Mrs. Edward Parkinson, and Mrs. William Capling, of Milverton, are sisters of deceased. The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon to Birt Cemetery.

GREATER FIND THAN KLONDIKE

Much Gold Is In Evidence in the Stewart River District.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 23.—That the wealth of the Klondike will look small in comparison to the gold that will ultimately be taken out of the Stewart River district of the Yukon, who has returned from a season's work in the north. Many a prospector, says Mr. Ogilvie, who has failed to make good on the Klondike during the summer makes tracks for the Stewart River in the fall and picks out enough from the benches of that stream to grubstake him for the winter. It cites many instances in which miners have cleaned up several thousands of dollars in a short time with the most primitive implements.

The Stewart River country might have been recognized before now as a bonanza, according to the ex-commissioner, but the rush to the Klondike commenced just as the district was being prospected. There are a few prospectors along the tributaries, but the country is mountainous and difficult of access, owing to bogs and heavy timber in some places. The first dredge to be operated on the Stewart was erected this season by the company of which Mr. Ogilvie is the managing director, but it was able to run for only about a month.

ATTEMPT TO BURN SARNIA STABLES

Second Attempt Discovered by Ladies and Frustrated—Chain Works Complete.

Sarnia, Nov. 24.—Hiram Haley, an old and much esteemed resident of this township, died today in the 70th year of his age. The funeral takes place Wednesday afternoon to the Union Cemetery at Mooretown.

A valuable mare, owned by Mr. John Traxler, fell on the brick pavement on Christina street and broke a leg. It was found necessary to shoot the beast.

Last night an attempt was made to burn the livery and sale stables of Mr. John McPee, on Lochiel street, adjoining the Central Baptist Church. Two young ladies discovered the blaze and gave the alarm to the men in the livery office. The fire was extinguished before the arrival of the firemen, and investigation showed that it was of incendiary origin. Coal oil had been poured over the side of the building, and paper placed where it would most easily burn. This is the second attempt to set fire to a building that has been made within the past week, but the first attempt had been kept quiet in the hope of capturing the culprit.

CITY LAYS DOWN ULTIMATUM

The figures, it would be better to appoint a sub-committee to examine the figures and report to the main committee afterwards.

The figures were discussed at some length, but they were becoming more confusing so Ald. Parsons moved that Ald. Beattie, Ald. Ferguson, City Auditor Jewell, City Auditor Stanley and County Solicitor J. C. Elliott, be a committee to examine the figures and report at 2 o'clock. This was agreed to.

TWO TERRIFIC TORNADOES

Persons were killed and about 30 injured at that place.

Did Great Damage. Five lives are also reported to have been lost ten miles from Mulberry, where one of the tornadoes did great damage.

The storm also visited Ozark, but nothing serious has been heard. At Lodie, near Texarkana, where three buildings were destroyed, a woman was injured. At Lewisville, in Lafayette county, great damage was done to timber and fences, and several buildings were destroyed. At Berryville, eight persons were injured and a number of houses were wrecked, and at Palmos great damage is reported, while Jethro and Wallersville are reported wrecked. No advices have been received from Jethro, Wallersville and Palmos as to the loss of life.

The tornado also struck Walla Walla and Dyer, small towns, doing great damage. Strips from two miles to a half mile wide were swept clean through towns, forests and open country. Some reports say that nothing was left in many places; that homes, timber, buildings and trees were blown to bits. A report from Fort Smith says that 25 lives were lost in towns outside of Piney and Mulberry. This dispatch declares that the destruction of Cravens was complete. Four persons were killed and two fatally injured, and eight are missing.

From the towns of Berryville and Cravens the most definite reports are received. The former place reports three persons injured and the property loss is roughly estimated at between $2,000 and $4,000. Four persons are known to be dead, members of the family of John Roshn, a farmer, who were caught under the falling timbers of their home. L. G. Holt and wife, an aged couple, were seriously injured and may die. Eight persons who took refuge in a store were caught in the crash of the building and all were injured, and eight others are reported missing. At Cravens nearly all the larger buildings were either demolished or damaged.

GAMBLING AT WINNIPEG

Drastic Action May Be Taken in Order to Crush Evil There.

Winnipeg, Nov. 23.—There is said to be a mania for gambling here, and a raid on one of the clubs last evening, in which several prominent citizens were arrested, led a prominent official of the attorney-general's department to venture the following opinion: "The duty of the authorities is to close the doors tight on any club or institution that tolerates gambling. There is too much gambling in Winnipeg. Lazy, idle women, with more money than brains, have their regular gambling gains, just like men. The thing is dishonest. It would like to see a raid on some of the houses where this thing goes on. Not a raid for the sake of the older women, but for the younger ones who are led astray. I do not know to what extent gambling is carried on in the clubs. If it exists, I think you will find the attorney-general taking pretty strenuous measures, even to the cancellation of the privileges granted in the licenses issued to these institutions. Any abuse of the privileges granted by the government should be severely punished, and this can best be done by cancelling of the license.

GERMAN GRAFT

Kaiser Investigates Wholesale Theft From Government Arsenal.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—With twenty army and navy officers and half a dozen rich merchants in Berlin, Hamburg and Kiel under arrest for robbing Government arsenals of supplies, the Kaiser himself has decided to take a hand in the investigation.

Orders have come from Potsdam for the submission of all evidence in the case for Wilhelm's own inspection, and a number of imperial suggestions have been made for a broad inquiry along lines which promise to involve several men in the military and naval services, as well as a number of hitherto unsuspected civilians of such prominence that their connection with the thefts will constitute one of the season's sensations.

His majesty is furious at the discovery of crookedness among a class of officials he had believed above suspicion of personal dishonesty, and insists that an example be made of the offenders which will effectually stamp out corruption, at least in the army and navy.

Ample evidence is in hand to prove that the pilfering has been in progress for the past five years, that ammunition, weapons and all kinds of military and naval supplies have been stolen by wholesale.

An approximate estimate of the extent of the Government's losses has yet been made, but it is understood the total will amount to $3,000,000.

Not only the comparatively small sum of the losses has been caught, but startling arrests are predicted within the next few weeks.

THOSE PRESENT.

Those present were Ald. Beattie, Ald. Ferguson, Ald. Stevenson, Ald. Parsons, City Auditor Jewell, Secretary Baker, County Councillors S. F. Glass, S. R. Gillies, Warden D. D. Graham, R. W. Jackson, County Auditor D. W. Stanley, County Solicitor J. C. Elliott, M. P., Chairman Sereation, J. C. Judd, of the hospital trust, and Superintendent Heard.

PREMIER SCOTT'S PLEA

Answer Filed in the Laird Criminal Libel Suit.

Regina, Man., Nov. 23.—In the supreme court this morning, Premier Scott filed his plea of justification in the case brought against him by ex-Mayor Laird on the charge of criminal libel, and cited five distinct cases in support of his former charge that Laird was a grafter and had improperly used his position in the Regina council as a means of final gain to himself.

Premier Scott's charges against Laird were produced by Solicitor Ross. The alleged acts were said to have been committed while Laird was a member of the city council, and are contained in a lengthy document setting forth:

"That in October, 1905, Laird received $1,500 from Dobson, Jackson and Fry."

"That in February, 1905, he received $500 from the McComb Sewer Pipe Company."

"That during every month of 1904 he received from Dobson, Jackson and Fry exorbitant rates for the storage of cement in his warehouses."

"That he used his position in the city council to secure waterworks connections for one Reginald Kirk, located on the eastern annex. In which Laird was interested, and that he used his position in the council to secure the removal of slaughterhouses from in front of eastern annex property."

The original charge that Laird received $5,000 on the waterworks contract, was abandoned by Mr. Scott.

LOBSTERS THAT KICK

When They Find Other Lobsters Walking Over and Clawing Them.

New York, Nov. 23.—It will probably be news to most people that lobsters can kick; at least, the spiny lobster from Bermuda can, anyway. Not of the familiar dark green in color, but very strikingly tinted with various hues, yellow being its most conspicuous color.

It has no big claws, the spiny lobster, but its legs are extraordinarily long and slender, as are also its antennae or feelers, of which it has two pairs, the longer pair being as long as its body. These longer feelers are shell incased, rather thick at the butt where they are attached to the body, but tapering out through their great length, to very slender tips, and these feelers are covered with tiny but needle-pointed spines, liable to warn off any creature that touches them.

As the big lobster on top comes thus clawing its way along the line it may come to a lobster that doesn't like being walked over, and when the big lobster sets its feet down on its back and continues to set them so this lobster rears up at it, as a horse might rear without throwing out its feet. With its tail folded under its body it rears up vigorously, once, twice, three times, at the lobster on top, as much as to say "get out of that, you lobster. What do you mean by walking on me like that?"

And the kicker brings the big lobster to a standstill for a moment. But then the big lobster raises itself up higher still on its tail legs and then it starts on again, clambering on over everything.

NATION BUILDER AND STRONG MAN

Prowess of D. D. Mann, Canadian Railroad Chief, Opener of New Territory.

Toronto, Nov. 23.—Among Canada's nation builders there is perhaps no more picturesque figure than D. D. Mann, railroad builder and developer of new territory. Many stories of his physical prowess, business sagacity and enterprise are told.

It is said of him that as a boy of 19 he visited a town in Ontario where an athletic tournament was in progress. The recognized champions of the country were giving an exhibition, and the young man in farmer's boots, a drill overalls and red flannel shirt entered the competition. In spite of the laughter which his appearance provoked when he undertook to contest for the honors with the properly dressed professionals, he beat them all in the heavyweight event.

Later when working in a sawmill on the shores of Georgian Bay a public subscription, was started to have him sent out to town, as his favorite way of showing his physical exuberance was to catch peaceful citizens and throw them off the dock into the water.

LEADER OF MICHIGAN AXEMEN.

Early in life he became recognized as one of the best men that ever handled a broadaxe in either the Canadian or the Michigan lumber woods. One of his first adventures as an employer of labor was when he undertook to supply railway ties in quantities to the Canadian Pacific Railroad.

With a gang of men, of whom he was the head heaver and boss, he produced one winter a large number of ties. As spring approached he suddenly realized that unless the ties were delivered to the railroad before the snow melted he would be unable to get his pay for another year.

Hastening to Winnipeg, he employed a number of farmers and their teams to help him swamp out the ties from the woods. When the day for shipping the horses arrived it was found that only one car was available, and that had been contracted for by a rival. At least a week would elapse before the Canadian Pacific Railway would send another train to the district where his ties were waiting.

WHAT HIT THE STRANGER.

Being a man of fierce determination, he did not propose to be stopped by any petty obstacle. He asked the station master to bring up the car to the usual place for loading horses. The station master refused, and then Mr. Mann got busy.

There was a flat car loaded with baled hay next to the empty box car. Mr. Mann had his assistants throw down the bales and piled them up against the platform so that the horses could be driven up toward a car. He then began to load them.

While the work was in progress a man came along the platform leading a horse. He started to climb toward the ground over the baled hay. The future nation builder grabbed the stranger and hurled him over the ice and snow. He then put the horse in the car.

The foolish man with the teams were embarked. As the last horse was being put

ELGAYA
Elcaya (El-ky-a), a tree of India noted for its perfume. The fresh buds and leaves of the Elcaya tree have a most fragrant and agreeable odor, at once refreshing and invigorating. A paste made from other oiled leaves possesses the characteristic odor of the tree, and is used for beautifying the skin and developing ripened tissues.
Creme Elcaya possesses these qualities in a much more marked degree, far surpassing in its beneficial and beautifying effects all other preparations. Its creamy consistency and fragrant odor have led its admirers to declare it a veritable "CREAM OF FLOWERS."

The many friends of Sergeant-Major McGuire, of the police force, will regret to learn that he is confined to his home through illness.
Rev. Mr. Lowe's Lecture.
In St. James' Anglican Church last evening, Rev. William Lowe, of St. Matthew's Church, gave a lecture on "Irish Life and Customs."
Miss Askin Dead.
The death occurred in Sandwich, Ont., on Sunday of Miss Alice Rose Askin. The deceased, who was 80 years of age, was a daughter of the late Col. J. B. Askin, who was many years ago clerk of the county court at London. Askin street, South London, was named for him.
Against Sunday Cars.
A general meeting of those interested in preventing Sunday street cars in London was held in the Y. M. C. A. parlors yesterday. A large gathering was present, and the plan of campaign was discussed. Arrangements were made for canvassing, literature, and the general work connected with the campaign.
Roy Grimstead's funeral.
The funeral of Roy Grimstead, son of Mr. E. Grimstead, whose death occurred in the Protestant Orphans' Home recently, was held yesterday afternoon at Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Andrew, of the Memorial Church.
Prisoners Taken Back.
Chief of Police Newton, of Belleville, arrived in the city last night, and took back with him the four Hungarians who were arrested here on Sunday evening by Detectives Nickle and Egelton on a charge of fraud. Mr. Newton is an uncle of Mr. John R. Minihnick, jun., of the Carling Brewing and Malt Company.

Late Donald McNiven.
The funeral of Donald McNiven was held from the family residence, 56 Wilton avenue, West London, to Banner cemetery, near Dorchester, yesterday afternoon. The funeral services at the house were conducted by Rev. George Dewey, of Empress Avenue Methodist Church, and the services at the grave by Rev. Mr. Holmes, of Dorchester.
Six Brothers Pallbearers.
On Sunday afternoon the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth VanSickle took place from her late residence in Dexter, interment being made in the Union Cemetery, St. Thomas. Rev. Mr. Keyes conducted the services, and there was a large attendance. The pallbearers were her six brothers: Alfred, John, Albert, Robert, Richard, and Arthur Millman.

Humanovo at Bennett's.
Mr. Wilton C. Vassar, of New York, has arrived in this city, and is making preparations to put on the Humanovo Stock Company at Bennett's next week. There are five people in the cast, including Misses MacKay, Kingsbury, Mrs. MacKay, Alleen Marks and Pauline Raenboth, who will sing the illustrated songs. Mr. Vassar is the stage director of the company.
Presentation to Popular Manager.
Employees honored Mr. H. J. Widden, of 180 Wortley road, who has resigned his position as manager for the Gas Appliance Company. Last Saturday evening the employees of the above-named company met at the company's office and presented Mr. Widden with a beautifully engraved gold watch and chain as a token of their respect. A short address, expressing regret at his resignation and good wishes for the future was read by Mr. Geo. Stinson, and the presentation made by Mr. Jas. Carrothers. The surprise and pleasure of Mr. Widden was complete, but he managed to thank his friends in a brief but pithy speech.

Read The Advertiser for 45 Years
Mr. Thomas Tomlinson, who died at Argyle, Mich., and was brought to this city for burial last Saturday, interment being made at Pond Mills, was a native of Sheffield, Yorkshire, and came to this country 52 years ago, taking up his residence on the second line of Westminster.
For many years he conducted business on the market in London, afterwards carrying the mail for Odell for a number of years.
He took a deep interest in politics, being a staunch Reformer. He was an Advertiser subscriber since its first issue 45 years ago. His wife predeceased him seven years since, and for the past two years he lived with his daughter, Mrs. George Daly, of Argyle, Mich., where he died.

SPECIAL PRAYERS FOR THE MEN
Church of England Is Planning a Big Movement Beginning November 29th.
A prayer movement for men will be inaugurated in the Church of England during the week commencing Nov. 29. During the annual session of the general synod held in Ottawa in September last, a message was received from the House of Bishops in the lower house, asking that the first week of Advent, beginning with Nov. 29, be set apart as a week of supplication for the extension of Christ's kingdom in the world.
The message was received by the clergy and laity that the week should be observed as a week of prayer.
It is significant that the efforts made by the great conference in Lambeth to extend Christ's kingdom in the earth are being taken up by the Canadian church.

Special Sermons.
"In this gloom," said Rev. Dyson Hague, "special sermons will be preached and meetings will be held especially for men. Some of the clergymen will hold special prayer meetings. It is expected that St. Andrew's Brotherhood, a leading organization of the men of the church for the extension of the kingdom, will take a leading part in this movement and its practical accomplishment."
This series of meetings will mark the end of the first quarter century of the organization of St. Andrew's Brotherhood. It was founded in 1883 in St. James' Church, Chicago, by twelve young men who formed a Bible class.

Two Rules.
It has two rules as follows:
First, that its members shall pray daily for the spread of Christ's kingdom; and second, that they shall make at least one earnest effort each week to bring some young man within the hearing of the gospel.
Since that time its growth has been rapid. It has spread all over England, United States, Canada and other countries. National councils have been established in every country. In Canada the council is composed of 36 members with two travelling secretaries, Mr. F. W. Thomas in the east, and Mr. J. A. Birmingham in the west.
There will be no separate demonstration to mark the first 25 years' work. The organization will join in the work with the church in the extension of the kingdom.

FORESTERS' CONCERT A BIG SUCCESS
Splendid Programme Carried Out in South London Hall.
The concert given in the Foresters' Hall, South London, last night under the auspices of Court Byron and Companion Court Friendship of the Independent Order of Foresters, proved to be a most enjoyable affair.
Mr. Whit Lancaster presided, and the programme included the following numbers: Duet, Misses Norris and Dunne; reading, Miss Abbott; instrumental selection, Miss S. McKone; duet, Misses Martin; solo, Mr. J. H. Wells; reading, Miss Ella Baker; solo, Miss Edna Weston; instrumental, Miss K. Lancaster; solo, Mr. Graves; reading, Miss Ella Baker; solo, Master T. Williams; solo, Mr. J. H. Wells; duet, Misses Elliott and Justin; solo, Miss Edna Weston; and a reading by Miss Abbott.
During the evening addresses were given by C. H. Merryfield and J. H. Hamby, and the concert was brought to a close by a dainty supper served by the ladies.
Large comfortable busses at moderate rates. Hueston's Two Big Liv-eries.

TEN DAYS FOR AN INDIAN LISTER
Magistrate Love Refused To Be Influenced by Argument.
In the police court this morning James Wilson appeared on a charge of being drunk.
"Have you taken to your old habit of sleeping in bars?" asked the court.
"No, your worship," replied the prisoner. "I was down at the depot when a man who was going away gave me a drink from a flask of whiskey."
"It's a funny thing," remarked the magistrate, "that travelling men should invariably pick out Indian listers and give them a drink. I think I'll send you down."
"But your worship took me off the list last week," said Wilson.
"Well, if I did you certainly took advantage of it as soon as possible," declared the magistrate. "I'll send you down for a week."
Ten bicyclists who rode on the sidewalk, stepped up one by one and handed over a dollar bill.
Robert Blackwell, charged with vagrancy, was remanded to jail for a week and will probably be sent to the home at Strathroy.
