NINTH DIVISION COURT. The session of the Ninth Division Court was held in the town hall here on Friday last. The docket was an unusually heavy one, and occupied the time from 9 a. m. to 7.15 p. m.

His Honor James Reynolds, Junior County Judge, presided. The first case tried was

WM. LAYNE v. RICH. EDLTON, an action for disputed account. It appeared from the evidence that the pltf. was to repair a spring wagon for $30, and found it necessary to put on $5 worth of extras. Deft. objected to paying these extras; hence the suit. Verdict for pltf. for full amount. G. P. Wright for pltf.

A. J. COOK v. J. J. CAREY. Dispute on a bill for sharpening stone-cutter's tools. Deft. objected to the price charged, as being more than was agreed upon. A large number of witnesses were examined as to the usual prices for such work. Judgment for pltf. for part of account. F. W. Campbell for pltf.; G. P. Wright for deft.

JAS. JUSTUS v. J. B. POWELL. This case was of peculiar interest to a large number of persons, and the evidence of several witnesses was taken. Pltf. agreed, for the sum of $150, to run out an old drilled well, already down nearly 100 feet, and to get a sufficient quantity of water to supply the stock on the farm and the house. Pltf. worked 23 days, and the well being down 112 feet, concluded that he had struck a stream sufficient for the purpose, as the water rose over 80 feet in the well. With the assistance of deft. and other help, he drew out 100 sand-pumps of water, which did not seem to lower the water in the well more than 20 or 25 feet. They then stopped for dinner, and on coming back found the water had risen nearly to its original level. Deft. expressed himself as satisfied with the supply of water, paid $50 on account, and promised to pay another equal instalment in a few days, and the balance in five or six months. For the defence it was claimed that deft. never expressed himself as satisfied with the test as to the quantity of water, and that when they put in a pump the supply was found totally inadequate. In rebuttal, pltf. submitted that sufficient precaution was not taken to prevent the sediment from settling in the bottom of the drilled hole, where it would in a short time harden and stop up the water supply. Verdict for pltf. for full amount due. W. H. Jones for pltf.; - Webster for deft.

CHAS. HILL v. WM. HAVEN. Action for a minor's wages. The pltf. hired his son, a lad of 13, to the deft. for a term of six months for the sum of $40. After working a few days he was sent home by deft. Deft. showed that pltf.'s family moved to a house in which a number of children had died of diphtheria, and that some of pltf.'s family were sick with diphtheria or scarlet fever, when the boy wanted to go home and see them. He lent the boy a horse, but strictly enjoined him not to go into the house. On his return the boy admitted that he had been in the house with the sick children for several hours. Having children of his own, deft. feared that the boy might infect them, and consequently discharged him. He had consulted Dr. Cornell, who entirely approved of his action. Verdict for deft. G. P. Wright for deft.

SAMUEL BODDY v. ISRAEL POWELL. Pltf.'s account was disputed by deft. on the ground that he had not given him credit for $10 paid. Deft. produced his day book, in which he had credited himself with paying pltf. the money, and swore positively to the entry. Verdict for deft. F. W. Campbell for pltf.; M. M. Brown for deft.

A. J. COOK v. ABEL STEVENS. Disputed account. Case adjourned to next court.

AMBER v. FOSSELL, C. B. HENRY, C. B. ST. ACTION on the foot of cow. The pltf. sought to recover for loss of a cow alleged to have been fatally injured by a heifer belonging to deft., which came or to his property. For the defence it was shown that pltf. said hurt until after she was dead; and it was also shown that the cow was old and infested with vermin, and might have died from natural causes. Verdict for deft. W. H. Jones for pltf.; F. W. Campbell for deft.

C. L. LAMB v. MRS. STEPHEN SHELTON. Disputed account as to goods got after deft.'s husband's death. Case adjourned. Geo. W. Green for deft.

J. H. McLAUGHLIN v. H. N. MOSHER. The defendant in this case was up before the court on an examination summons, to show cause why he had not paid the amount per month ordered. The deft. claimed that his constitution would not allow of his engaging in hard work. The judge remarked that he must have been constitutionally tired, and ordered him to pay the amount stipulated before the next sitting of the court.

The suitors, the legal fraternity, and the public, seemed highly pleased with the manner in which Judge Reynolds presided over the court.

MAGISTRATES' COURT. The case of Jerome Wright, of Glen Buell, who was charged with stealing a cow-hide, a calf-skin, and a goat-skin robe from Joseph T. Towris, and a lot of calf skins from Wm. J. Earl, Milton Mansell and Wilbert Avery, of Temperance Lake, was tried before Justices Wright and Loverin, in the town hall, on Monday evening of last week.

The parties named above were called, and testified to the loss of the property.

Constable Clow testified to having had a warrant placed in his hands for the arrest of Rich. Irwin on this charge. He started for Brockville, thinking that the parties who took the hides would be likely to go there to dispose of them. On going to McCrady's tanery he learned that two young men had been there very early the morning before and disposed of a number of skins and a hide. The hide was easily identified as belonging to Towris, by a peculiar mark. McCrady could give no description of the parties. On his way home witness went to the residence of Irwin and found a robe which he identified as belonging to Towris. Irwin was arrested during the day, but escaped from his custody during the night.

A warrant was at the same time issued for Jerome Wright, but he eluded capture until the 8th inst., as recorded in our last issue.

After hearing the evidence of those present, the court decided to adjourn the case and send for another lot of witnesses.

On Tuesday evening the case was resumed, when John Irwin, being sworn, said that on the morning of the 14th of April last his son Richard and Jerome Wright came to his place about daylight, and gave him or his wife a robe to take into the house and dry. They had nothing else in the buggy that day. During the day Constable Clow came and took the robe away.

James Hewitt, a blacksmith on the macadamized road, saw the two young men on the morning in question. They came to his shop early in the morning, got a shoe put on their horse, staid about two hours and a half and drove away in the direction of Brockville.

Riley Stotts and Eri Hayes were also called, but nothing to the point was elicited.

After consultation, the magistrates decided that there was sufficient evidence to warrant putting Wright on his trial, and he was accordingly sent to Brockville in charge of Constable Brown.

On Friday last Wright was up before Judge McDonald, and elected to be tried by jury. His trial will take place in December.

A Scathing Condemnation. In passing sentence of death upon a criminal convicted of murder in a saloon recently, Judge Johnson, of California, said: "Nor shall the place be forgotten in which occurred the shedding of blood. It was one of those ante-chambers of hell which mark like plague spots the fair face of our state. You need not be told that the poison which made the deceased a fool and his trembling culprit a demon! How palling a sum for two human lives! This traffic is tolerated by law, and therefore the law has committed an act not recognized by earthly tribunals; but, in the sight of Him who is unerring in wisdom, he who deliberately furnishes the intoxicating draught which inflames man's passions and engenders bloodshed is a traitor to his race. Is it not his duty that all these rinks of vice and crime should be held rigidly accountable to the laws of the land, and placed under the ban of an en-

Mallorytown. The meeting held in the town hall to complete the organization of the Literary Society was a great success, and the hall was crowded. Herbinson; assistant sec.-treas., Miss Flora Fields; business committee, Ira Thompson, Herbert Mallory and Miss Ella Judd. In addition to the business transacted, an excellent musical and literary entertainment was presented. The Society will hold its meetings every Friday evening.

Elbe Mills. The last of the cheese made here this year goes away this week. Price received for October and September was 12 1/2c.

Jas. Hollister has moved into Mr. Bates' house, north of the cheese factory, and is talking of purchasing the house and lot.

Mr. Jos. Steacy has rented his shop, house and lot to Mr. Wm. Hickey, and is going to Escott, having leased his brother's shop in that place. Mr. Geo. Hickey takes charge of the post office.

Mr. Wesley Tackberry was married last week to Miss Annie Tackberry. The tin-pan brigade turned out and serenaded the happy couple.

Greenbush. The writer had the pleasure of visiting on the 31st ult., the Sunday School at the old Methodist Church at Greenbush. I was heartily received by the Superintendent, J. M. Keeler, and found the school in a prosperous condition. The average attendance is 70 scholars, who are arranged in seven classes. The bible class is taught by Robert Cornell, who has held that responsible position for some fifteen years. All the teachers are earnest workers and manifested ability and careful study. The singing, which is a source of life and power to any school, was under the able leadership of Thos. Kerr, who is a careful trainer. The best of all is, the school reports a number of conversions during the year. Mr. Keeler is earnestly assisted and wisely counselled by his good wife, May they be long spared to each other and to preside over the school.

Glen Buell. Mr. W. A. Westlake has his house just about finished, and will soon move into it. He has built himself a cozy little home. It is veneered with brick, well finished inside, and stands on a lovely site, surrounded by a grove of beautiful maples. We wish him and his family many years of prosperity and happiness.

Mr. A. J. Hyde has just completed a new barn, which will add much to the convenience and appearance of the homestead.

Mr. Richard How has just erected a good horse and cow stable on his place.

Mr. Alven Orton, not to be behind his neighbors in improvements, has put a nice coal stove in his house, and fitted storm doors and windows outside, and all this to keep it calm inside.

Mr. Alven Stotts has had quite a severe attack of inflammation of the bowels, but we are glad to see him again and resuming his duties at the forge.

Our cheese factory closed on the 10th inst. Mr. Lang is now keeping up a fire, curing the last make of cheese. His assistant, of gold oil fame, is looking up a winter job. Probably he will find it.

Mr. Wm. Hayes has been obliged to give up his school in Gannanque on account of ill health. We are glad he is able to be about. He will not engage in any kind of business for the rest of year, and with two months' rest and Dr. Cornell's treatment hopes to be all right again.

Our blacksmith has put his' decy' ducks to roost for awhile, and is now clack-boarding his house which will add much to its comfort and appearance.

All enterprising druggists wishing to supply their customers with the best, keep West's Cough Syrup and recommend it as the best made.

The elections for seven legislative councillors for Prince Edward Island, on the 11th inst., resulted in a Liberal victory.

Swiss and public speakers will find perfect relief from all the most difficult and distressing coughs, colds, and asthma, by the use of West's Cough Syrup.

The Short Line railroad from Montreal to Smith's Falls is now well on towards completion. Trains are now running from Smith's Falls to Merrickville, and from Bell's Corners to Kompyville. The St. Anne's, Oxford Mills and Kompyville bridges are nearing completion, and straight connections with Montreal will soon be made.

SCOTT ACT NOTES.

What is being Done in Counties where the Act is in Force.

John Mulligan, of Pembroke, has been found guilty of the second offence under the Act, and was fined $100 and costs, $131.40 in all.

Scott Act cases were thick in Brockville last week. We have not received our report of the proceedings, and must defer giving particulars until next week.

License Inspector McDonald, of North Renfrew, has laid an information against Constable D. Elliott, for refusing to serve summons to defendants in Scott Act cases.

John Clark, of Morrisburg, has been fined $50, for the third time, for violating the Act. Complaint is made that every conviction in his case has been treated as a first offence.

We understand that the County Council of Frontenac has refused to recommend the appointment of a police magistrate to enforce the Scott Act, which was carried by a large majority of the electors of that county.

In reporting the Carleton Place fall fair the Herald says:—"The town was crowded with people all day, but after six o'clock it had again resumed its normal condition, and the quietude and lack of drunkenness in the evening was in pleasing contrast to some of the street scenes which have characterized former fair days."

The Peterboro' Grand Jury, in making their presentment, said:—"In reference to the working of the Scott Act in this County we feel that we are not justified in expressing an opinion of its merits, as it has only been a short time in operation. We, however, are of the opinion that it would be in the interests of the country that a prohibitory measure should be found in enforcing the present law, for so long as strong drink is permitted to be made, secret means of selling it will always be found."

There is no abatement of the Scott Act excitement at Moncton. Mr. Thomas, the lawyer who has become prominent in these cases, is applying for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of the liquor seller, Bourgeois, jailed last week for violation of the Act. Geo. P. Thomas, the liquor dealer's counsel, who was convicted of a brutal assault upon a Scott Act witness named Crossman, is to be tried for perjury in connection with his evidence in that case. Two more convictions were made on Saturday, and $50 fines recorded. One of the defendants was a ten-year-old child named Moody Keith, who is a bar-tender in his father's saloon. The witnesses were members of the Rev. Mr. Crisp's Methodist congregation. Mr. Crisp is the clergyman being sued by a liquor dealer, who is also a J. P., for $10,000, for slander.

A Cure for Diphtheria. A subscriber requests us to publish the following extract for the benefit of those who live at a distance from a physician, and are unfortunate to be afflicted with diphtheria. The remedy recommended is said to have given most satisfactory results in the Ottawa Valley:—

"Should you or any of your family become attacked with diphtheria, do not be alarmed, as it is easily and speedily cured with the following remedy. When it was raging in England a few years ago I accompanied Dr. Fields on his rounds to witness the so-called 'wonderful cures' he performed, while the patient of others were dropping on all sides. The remedy, to be so rapid, must be simple. All he took with him was powder of sulphur and a quill, and with these he cured every case without exception. He put a teaspoonful of flour of brimstone into a wineglass of water, and stirred it with his finger instead of a spoon, as the sulphur does not readily amalgamate with water. When the sulphur was well mixed he gave it as a gargle, and in ten minutes the patient was out of danger. Brimstone-hills every species of fungus in man, beast, or plant in a few minutes. Instead of spitting on the gargle he recommended the swallowing of it. In extreme cases in which he had been called just in the nick of time, when the fungus was too nearly closing to allow the gargling, he blew the sulphur through a quill into the throat, and after the fungus had shrunk to slow it off, then the gargling. He never lost a patient from diphtheria. If a patient cannot gargle, take a live coal, put it on a shovel and put a spoonful or two of flour of brimstone at a time upon it. Let the sulphur inhale it, and the fungus will die. If plenty of it is used the whole room may be filled almost to suffocation; the patient can walk about in it, inhaling the fumes, with doors and windows closed. The method of fumigating a room with sulphur has often cured the most violent attacks of cold in the head, chest, etc., and is recommended in cases of consumption and asthma."

The Rev. M. Wright, Presbyterian minister at Merrickville, being about to leave the town, received an address and present from the members of his congregation.

The celebrated lecturer, Rev. Jos. Cook, of Boston, delivered a lecture in Brockville on the 9th inst. The subject was "Seven Modern Wonders," and the audience was large.

The dwelling house of John Davis, Quio, was destroyed by fire on the 6th inst. Mrs. Davis, an old lady of 70 years, made an attempt to save some of the contents of the building, and was caught in the flames and burned to death.

Thirty-five cutters a day are now being turned out of the Gannanque Carriage Works, and this number will shortly be increased to at least fifty a day. Work is booming in this establishment, and Gannanque can congratulate itself on possessing such an institution.

He was armed with a pair of handcuffs, a pair of old-fashioned brass cannon-sockets, a long piece of strap, several yards of rope, a lantern, two revolvers, and a gun. It is easier for a haystack to get through the eye of a needle, than for a prisoner to escape from a Newcastle constable.

It is related of a well known Mason man that he recently went to Griffin and attended church with a young lady on whom he was very sweet. When the contribution box started on its round the young man took a five-dollar gold piece out of his pocket, and displayed it in such a way that the young lady saw it. She mildly reproached his extravagance, but he said he often contributed that much, especially when in a strange church. Watching his chance he slipped the gold coin in his pocket, and slyly dropped a silver quarter into the box. The young lady of course labored under the delusion that her beau was generous and held the church in high esteem. At the close of the service, as was the custom in that church, the amount in the box was announced. The total was $8.75. Griffin church has no more claim for that young man.

Ex-King Thoburn's golden gate chariot, which is in London, is not half so gorgeous as might be expected from the tastes of the extravagant Business monarch, but is merely a clumsy reproduction of a European model, carved, gilt and inlaid with small bits of glass so like precious stones. The body of the car is carved with an elaborate scroll border, and ornamented with panels raised in decorative lines of ivory glass mosaic, while in the centre is a gilt relief of the royal coat of arms. In the front stand a pair of birds resembling peacocks, with their necks extended, which were originally mounted by an upholsterer. King Edward occupied the seat at the rear, with the royal umbrella spread over his head. There was no conclusion in the car being drawn by led

Our Reporter's Note Book Turned Inside Out for the Benefit of the Public.

Apprentice Wanted.
A smart, active boy, to be apprenticed to the printing business, is wanted at the Reporter's office. Apply at once.

To Let.
A number of interesting items from our Lyn correspondent reached us too late for this issue, but will appear next week.

Home Again.
A large number of cheese makers reached home on their winter vacation last week. Seats in the hotels and stores will probably be at a premium, as usual, during the winter.

Ontario Elections.
As we go to press we learn that the dissolution of the Ontario Legislature has been announced. The nominations will be on the 22nd and polling on the 29th of next month.

Entrance Examination.
The Education Department has fixed upon the 21st, 22nd and 23rd of next month as the dates for holding the next entrance examination for high schools and collegiate institutes.

Do not neglect a cold or cough, as it frequently results in consumption. You will find a never-failing remedy in West's Cough Syrup. All druggists.

Revising an Old Practice.
At the Delta public schools the old-fashioned spelling contests are to be revived this winter. The first spelling school is announced to come off on the 19th inst.

Opening.
Lamb & Davison's fine new store will be opened for business next Monday. The firm have filled the store with an entirely new stock of general dry goods, boots and shoes, etc.

The Cemetery Vault.
The new vault in the Methodist Cemetery is complete, and has been handed over to the caretaker, Geo. W. Brown. The rules and regulations, and terms on which corpses will be received for safe keeping, will appear in our next issue.

West's Cough Syrup, the household remedy for coughs, colds, sore throat, influenza, bronchitis, whooping-cough, asthma and consumption. All druggists.

The Close Season.
The close season for white fish and salmon trout is with us. The statute governing the fisheries provides that "no person shall fish for, catch, kill, buy, sell or have in possession any white fish or salmon trout between the 1st and 30th days of November, both days inclusive."

Thanksgiving Day.
To-morrow is the day set apart for national thanksgiving to the Giver of all Good. We wish we could say it will be observed as a general holiday here. But we presume it will be kept as in former years. A thanksgiving service will be held in the Methodist Church at 2:30 p. m.

L. L. L.
A case which plainly proved the healing power of Lamb's Lubricating Liniment came under our personal notice a short time ago. The patient was almost unable to move with an affection of the kidneys, when one dose of the medicine removed the pain and enabled the sufferer to resume active duty without inconvenience.

We employ no travelling agents, but ask all our subscribers to assist us by getting their friends and neighbors to subscribe. Anyone sending us nine new subscribers will be given a copy for one year free.

A Conundrum.
At a tea party the other evening a young lady propounded the following conundrum to our reporter: "In what respect does a lady's bustle resemble a historical novel?" Being somewhat bashful, our reporter did not hazard a guess, but now ventures the following: "It is a fictitious tale founded upon stern reality."

Who Was It?
A Brockville lawyer who is opposed to the Scott Act went to Mallorytown for the purpose of forming a club to provide ways and means for evading the act. He sent circulars on ahead announcing the day he would arrive, but when he got there he found no person willing to receive his services. —Kingsdon Chronicle.

At this season of the year it is very necessary to keep a bottle of West's Cough Syrup in the house for sudden calls. Nothing like it. —Canada's Name.

Business Education.
Brockville Business College still excels all others in the thoroughness of the work done, in the success of its graduates and in the patronage of the business community. No examinations on entering. Students receive individual instruction. Rates cheaper than at any other first-class college in Canada. It is the best. Send for their circulars.

Sound Philosophy.
Our devil says that running a business without advertising is, in one respect at least, just like kissing a girl in the dark. The parties to the occasion are conscious of the fact, and the merchant who does not advertise knows that he is in business, but in both cases the prying, gossiping and purchasing public are kept in ignorance.

West's World's Wonder or Family Liniment, a sure cure for neuralgia, cuts, wounds, burns, wounds and bruises. 25c. and 50c. All druggists.

B. M. C. Concert.
The Brockville Melody Club will give a concert in the town hall, Farmersville, on the evening of Thanksgiving Day (to-morrow). The programme is a very good one, and we can assure our readers it will be readed in a first-class manner. Those who wish for two or three hours of refined enjoyment, cannot do better than patronize this concert.

Delays are dangerous. Procure a bottle of West's Cough Syrup at once and cure that troublesome hacking cough and sore throat, relieving pain and misery. It is the household remedy for all throat and lung diseases. All druggists.

Railway Notes.
There is a perceptible boom in building operations on the Brockville and Westport Railway. About 60 carloads of rails for the line have been landed at Lyn from the Grand Trunk, and five barges for the same purpose. It is reported that Contractors Gatchell and Stewart have each succeeded in raising funds for vigorously carrying on the work upon their contracts. Mitchell & Robinson have nearly finished the grading on their twelve-mile contract, the principal part yet to be completed being some rock cuts, work on which is well advanced. It is to be hoped that money will soon be forthcoming to pay off arrears due the men who worked on the line and the merchants who furnished supplies.

PERSONAL COLUMN.
Our friends will greatly oblige by communicating reliable items for this column.

A. A. and C. Fisher, of Brockville, spent Sunday with their parents in Farmersville.

Dr. Addison attended the great Justin McCarthy's lecture at Brockville last Friday evening.

Alex. Wherry, of the Farmersville High School, has secured the position of head master of the Model School at Durham village, Co. Grey.

Dr. C. M. B. Cornell has returned from New York, where he has been taking a finishing course in his medical studies. Dr. Cornell and his brother, Dr. S. S. Cornell, have entered into partnership, and will practice here under the firm name of Drs. Cornell & Cornell.

THE OTHER FELLOW.
The sun had retired through the golden gate
To his bed in the gilded west,
And the moon was tilting her silver horn,
When the girl that I love best
Was slowly swinging around with me
In the waltz's passionate whirl,
And my heart kept time to the fairy tread
Of my girl, my beautiful girl!

The stars shone out on the dusky night,
Like the pin-point stars in the milk-white throat,
And her voice was tender and sweet and low
And her hands—But how could I note
Every charming turn of form and face,
When one most bewitching curl
Fell over the brow and kissed the eyelids
Of my girl, my very best girl!

She breathed her love on my tender soul,
Like a spirit from the land of the best,
And I looked in her eyes with a right that was mine:
And then—shall I tell you the rest?
We returned to the room and the music
Swelled out and swelled out,
And again she essayed the mad whirl;
But another man had her, the son of a gun!
Oh my girl, my beautiful girl!

Dr. D. H. Platt, of Picton, has a bird of rare intelligence, which he has taught a number of curious tricks. One of its tricks was to strike a match and hold it for the doctor to light his pipe. This trick it began rehearsing in the doctor's absence not long ago, dropped the match on some loose paper on the floor, set the woodwork of a window ablaze, and the dwelling narrowly escaped destruction.
