There are several young men, or boys, who visit this village occasionally and on leaving for home late in the evening disturb the slumbers of citizens by giving vent to a succession of hoots and yells. There is trouble ahead of these youths and they are going to run against it before long.

The new Marriage Act is now in force and provides that before procuring a marriage license each of the contracting parties shall make an affidavit as to the date on which the ceremony is to take place; that they are each fully eighteen years of age; and that there is no legal bar to their marriage.

Dr. G. Dowdell of Manitoulin Island, after an absence of twelve years, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Dowdell, of Frankville, and other relations and friends in this section. Just now, in company with his father, he is a guest at Monticott cottage, Charleston, Lake, the summer home of his brother, R. N.

A bill is to be introduced in the Provincial House next session providing for the removal of the scale in favor of Canada was in the union, her vote in the Dominion of Canada had a voice in the council of her own hemisphere, she would be helped to her feet by the British Empire, and it should not be taken from her.

An old resident of these counties, in the person of William DeWolfe, passed over to the great majority on Saturday last, aged 78 years. Mr. DeWolfe was born in the township of Elizabethtown, and was well known as a hotel-keeper, and was also a prominent business man for many years at Frankville and other places in Kitley and Elizabethtown. He had been troubled for several years with dropsy, and resided with his son, Mr. DeWolfe, at a hotel in Frankville, where he died on Saturday last. He was a very kind and generous man, and was well liked by all who knew him.

Mr. E. Laraguy, employed in the Fishery carriage works, was quite seriously injured on Tuesday last. He was engaged in passing wheels from one horse to another, when the wheel, which was in the second pair, when a wheel, fully ironed, slipped from above and struck him on the head with such force as to fall him to the floor insensible. Besides the severe contusion of the head, caused by the wheel, he also sustained the loss of a tooth and loosened two others. Mr. Laraguy's injuries are not proving so serious as was at first supposed they were, and he has been able to resume work.

On Thursday last it was oppressively hot in this section up to 2 p. m., when it suddenly turned cooler, a strong wind blew from the north-west, and a heavy rain storm followed, which lasted long enough to thoroughly drench the ground. The wind then shifted to the east during the progress of the storm, which caused many to think that we were to have a repetition of the great storm that swept over Smith's Falls on the previous Tuesday. Regarding that storm, the Record says: "Such a hail storm was ever seen here before and it is sincerely to be hoped there never will be again. For fully half an hour the hail continued to fall and when it was over the ground was white. In places where they had laid out gutters they were piled a foot high or more. Great damage was done in every part of the town to gardens while few houses escaped without having some windows broken. It is estimated that over 1000 panes of glass were broken in town. The four photograph galleries all suffered severely, the entire skylights of some of them collapsing altogether. Frost & Wood had hundreds of light of glass broken, and in every part of the town there were the houses that showed an unbroken front. A peculiar thing about the storm was that it was quite local. A mile north or a half a mile south of the town there was no hail at all, though to the east for a few miles it was as badly as we did in town. Some of the farmers in the town suffered severely. Corn was washed into ribbons, grain threshed and beaten into the ground, and were cut open and spoiled and where there were bright prospects of a golden harvest on Tuesday there is little but ruin and desolation."

On Tuesday the Reporter was favored with a call from Mr. W. D. Livingston, the energetic secretary of Kitley's great agricultural society. He is one of the most progressive "bee-keepers" of the county, and in reply to a question, said that the honey harvest this year promises to be unusually large; that his own apiary had already yielded him 2,200 lbs. of honey.

A young man named James Crapp, whose father is a tenant on the farm of Mr. Rufus I. Stevens at Delta, was yesterday (August 3rd) arrested by the police on a charge of larceny, and was committed for trial on the serious charge of indecently assaulting Mr. Stevens' little ten year old daughter on Sunday last.
