KINGSTON, JAMAICA, Nov. 10. Great exitement prevails in Kingston over the capture of the steamer Virginius, which left this island with consular and custom house clearances for Limon Bay, Costa Rica. So far as it is actually known in Jamaica the circumstances and locality of the Virginius's surrender are not known as no telegrams to or from this to Santiago relating to this subject have been ago relating to this subject have been permitted to pass out of the telegraph office there. We only know from telegram from the governor of Santiago addressed to the Spanish consulat Kingston that the Virginius had been captured on the 3lst October, and on the 5th the leaders of the expedition—Ryan, Del Sol, Cespedes, and Veronra—were shot. Every effort to elicit facts through the cable have proved abortive, and this heightens have proved abortive, and this heightens the exitement and gives circulation to fals reports and purely imaginery stories to increase the distress of those who had the misfortune to have relatives on board the There was no concealment made of the actual errand of the Virginius while she was here—it was notorious. The officers had dancing parties on board, and public meetings were held in honor of Cuban inpendence, at which the consignee of the Virgnius occupied the chair. The steamer was repaired while in port, and coaled at the expense of the Cuban refugees. The Virginius first attempted to effect a landing on the 26th October (three Agencies from London to San Frandays after she left Kingston). An 'Old Salt on Polar Expeditions.

Bill Foretop, Able Seaman, Now in hospital—that's me-Who knows what scurvy humbugs Polar enterprisers be, A truthful yarn desires to spin' While lying in Sick Bay, About that blasted fraud, the pole, And this is what what say:

I shipped for a long Arctic cruise Three years ago this fall; Our barkey in the ice got nipped, Jack Frost he nipped us all. The pemmican and beans gave out, The rum got werry low; And with our ebbing liquor ebbed Our spirits on the floe.

We slewed a "Nan Suke" now and then (That's Eskimo for bear). We sarcumwented walruses When they riz up for air. And when we'd dined on blubber-soup And finished up our chores, We turned the old sledge bottom up, And pitched into All Fours.

But when the blessed mercury, Itself, began to freeze, And too low down to graduate. Went back on the degrees, The Strongest salts, quite fresh till the Made signals of distress, And numb with cold, the feeble lost The number of their mess.

At last, when bear and walrus failed We took to food unclean; We ketched and fricasseed our rats, But, rat it! they were lean. And when at lenth the ice broke up, And let us out of dock, Pharaoh's lean kine would have seemed fat Beside such meager stock.

No more high latitude for me, I keer not for the pole; The needle of my destiny Dont't point to symmes's Hole, If ever more this ocean child Is ketched among the floes, May he be everlastingly The opposite of froze.

Making Love in the Dark.

ON'T some one mark my lines for me, please. My quilting looks very much like Mrs. Partington's turpentine walks, and Mary Norris raised a pretty laughing face to the assembled company, which consisted of the elite of ped still lower. Brownsville, with some of the lower strata. The little village boasted not of its numbers as it did of its pretty girls, and Mrs. Goodwin was resolved to have her quilt finished by fair means or foul, and being desperote, had scraped Brownsville for her quilting bee.

The usual gossip was at its height when it was interrupted by the appeal of Mary Norris to Mrs. Goodwin, whose interest it was to have every line perand soon got Mary to work again.
