THIS Dominion Day holiday was spent very quietly here. Many citizens spent the day at home whiling away their time and most of those owning autos spent the day at the lake side or went to visit friends. The weather was ideal for a holiday.

IT takes a lot of happenings to fill these columns each week and make them interesting to the general public. If we miss some item that you know of, then the fault is yours, not ours—you did not let us know. We want all the news that is news, but if Mrs. S. crosses the road to see Mrs. J.—, or if Charlie goes down the road and makes a call on his fair one, that is nobody's business but his own, and consequently is not news.

THAMESVILLE Herald.—Rev. T. M. Meade, who for the past nine months or so has been pastor of the Thamesville, Bothwell and Zone Baptist churches has resigned, and enlisted as a private in the Army Medical corps. As there is no chaplain with this corps, Mr. Meade expects to do some good work among the boys. His son George is also a member of the corps. Mr. Meade is a quiet, unassuming man, but during his short stay here has endeared himself to his people. While he will be greatly missed, his loyal action is much to be commended.

MEN'S lustre coats—grey, black and fancy shadings.—SWIFT'S.

AN order has been issued by the military authorities that soldiers will not in the future be discharged for defective vision unless it is due to a wound or some condition of the eyes or eye lids liable to aggravation or recurrence. Defective vision which can be corrected by glasses will not prevent enlistment or be reason for discharge. In cases where glasses are needed they will be provided. This has been an order in the British army for some length of time. The new order will make a difference to some who have been rejected, and will give them an opportunity to try again to enlist.

ALL the towns on the Sarnia branch of the G. T. R. are putting up a big kick about the changed mail service, and Sarnia and Petrolia Boards of Trade will likely take the matter up with the postal department. The new service is very unsatisfactory to the business public. For instance, letters mailed at say 3.30 p.m. in Watford for Hamilton do not leave until 11 a.m. the next day, and do not get to their destination until 24 or 25 hours after posting. A good pedestrian could almost cover the distance in that time. Some service for the 20th century. The people desire a later mail for the east. Surely their needs should be considered.

THE post office department is watching closely at present for fraudulent circulars, and letters sent through the mails. Fraud orders have been issued against L. Thomson, astrologer, Kansas City, Mo.; Madame Westworth, New York; Henri C. Leveque, London, England; Capt. Walter I. Rand, of Boston, against whom a fraud order was issued last year, has moved to London, Eng., and the order applies to him at the new address. Fraud orders had already been issued against the following—fortune telling agencies: Hassan Wad, Norman Basclay and the National Institute of Sciences, "Elmer E. Knowles," all of London, England. Large quantities of circulars from these agencies are being received in the Canadian mails and postmasters are instructed to watch for them and send them to the dead letter office.

During his pastorate Rev. Mr. Sawers has rendered most acceptable service, not only in his own congregation, but in the community generally. He and his family will be greatly missed by all classes, and the sincerest wishes for good health and happiness in the retiring days of Mr. and Mrs. Sawers will be extended by all.

On Wednesday of last week at the meeting of the North Bruce Auxiliary Women's Missionary Society, an address was read to Mrs. E. H. Sawers who has been President of the Society and on behalf of the congregation of North Bruce the W. M. S. presented Agnes Sawers with a life membership certificate.

They leave in a few days for Watford where they will reside.

The young people of the Women's Patriotic League will hold a garden party at the home of Mr. Robert McKenzie on Friday July 14th. An interesting program of music and addresses is being prepared. A band will be in attendance. Refreshments will be served. Admission 25c. Proceeds to be devoted to Red Cross purposes.

While motoring to Sarnia one day last week Mr. Oliver Gare and Mrs. E. Vance were suddenly pinned under their car which overturned on striking some gravel on the road near Warwick Village. They had passed successfully over the road which was newly gravelled till they came to the last of it. Mr. Gare escaped unhurt but Mrs. Vance is suffering from shock and two broken ribs.

The Women's Patriotic League expected an excellent meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Hawkins, and were not at all disappointed. Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins having done all in their power to make it the success it was. When it is considered that these meetings are held semi-monthly it must be convincing to the most sceptical that the women of this township are taking an active part in Red Cross Work. The work at the meeting consisted of making helplessness shirts, towels and pillow cases. The collection amounted to $15.05.

A special meeting of the Warwick Branch of the Women's Institute was held in the Orange Hall on Thursday, June 29. The president occupied the chair. The meeting was opened by singing Maple Leaf and prayer by Mr. Shore. Miss Sadie Barnes recited "say not England, call it Britain." Miss Ross sang "Oh, the One Four Nine" also Lang Sang Sing. Miss A. E. Collins, of Ancaster who has had several years experience as lecturer to Institutes addressed the meeting on "Institutes and What They May be to the Individual." Miss Collins presented her information in a clear, forceful and attractive manner as to be easily understood and of practical value to those who had the privilege of listening to her. Rev. Shore made a few brief remarks. The program closed with singing "God Save The King", after which a lunch was served. Donations for the relief of a Canadian prisoner of war amounted to ten dollars.

Owing to unfavorable weather and to other contemporary events, the June meeting of the Wisbeach Patriotic League held at the home of Mrs. McAdam was not as largely attended as had previously been expected. A bale was packed and shipped to Hyman Hall, containing 8 sheets, 50 pillow covers, 5 trench towels, 20 hospital towels, 4 pair socks and 1 pillow. The total amount of money received was $8.65. The members decided to work in their respective homes during the months of July and August, knitting socks or making flannel shirts. This plan dispenses with the afternoon meetings during the next two months. Word has been received from Pte. Harry Parker stating that he had safely received the parcel of soldier's effects during the months of July and conveyed to all the members his sincere gratitude for being made the recipient of those articles which were so useful and afforded him great pleasure. The corresponding parcel was mailed to Pte. Thos. Lamb, of whose death we have since learned with regret, and it is believed that the package would scarcely reach him before he was killed.

On Wednesday June 28th, the pupils of S. S. No. 17, Warwick, gave their teacher a pleasant surprise, when the following address was read by Clarena Fleming, and the presentation of a silver sugar and cream set, and a silver bonbon dish, by Josephine Carroll and Howard Smith:—

To Miss Gladys Skraffnell.

Your section will ever regard you for your pleasant and congenial disposition, which has ever endeared you to the whole community. As a token of our kindly feelings we would ask you to accept this remembrance and it is our hope that it will often remind you of pleasant associations in S. S. No. 17. We wish you every success in your new fields of labor and would ask you to keep a warm spot in your heart for your friends on the second line.

Such warning symptoms are a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness.

For these abnormal conditions do not fail to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The Army Outworm

Ravages from outworms never cease. Every year some of the commoner known kinds devastate garden and field crops in various parts of Canada, and in occasional years little known species become enormously abundant causing losses of importance equal to those effected by regularly-occurring outworms. Such was the case in 1915 when the Army Outworm appeared in large numbers in Alberta infesting a territory of about 3,000 square miles. No previous record of injury in grain field was known in Western Canada. The problem of controlling this outworm pest was, therefore, a new one and the outbreak was immediately investigated by Mr. E. H. Strickland, The Field Officer in charge of the Dominion Entomological Laboratory at Lethbridge, Alta. As a result of such investigation the Entomological Branch of the Department of Agriculture has issued Bulletin No. 13, entitled, "The Army Outworm," which has been prepared by Mr. Strickland.

This bulletin comprising 31 pages describes the insect in its various stages the habits of the outworms as well as the habits of the adult moths which deposit the eggs from which the outworms hatch, the natural enemies of the insect, and from the farmer's standpoint, the most effective methods of control. These latter consist of clean summer fallow, poisoned baits, trap furrows, etc. The bulletin has 15 illustrations, showing the insect in its different stages, as well as some of its parasites and the measures to be adopted to control it. This outworm does not occur in eastern Canada and differs from the army worm. Farmers living in Alberta and Saskatchewan should become familiar with the remedies for the Army Outworm in the event of it again increasing in injurious numbers. Copies of the bulletin may be had free of charge on application to the Chief of the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. This Officer distributes all publications of the department. Farmers, however, desiring to send specimens of injurious insects for determination etc., should direct the same to the Dominion Entomologist, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Strawberry Jelly

Strawberry jelly may be made of strawberry juice alone, if the berries are only partly ripened; but if sweet or fully ripe, red currant juice or lemon juice in the proportion of a half cupful of red currant juice or the juice of a small lemon to a pint of strained strawberry juice should be added. To each pint of the mixed juice a pound of sugar is allowed. English housewives make a delicate jelly of the berries alone before they are fully ripe in this way. Put the carefully picked and cleaned berries into the preserving kettle over a slow fire. Crush slightly with a wooden spoon until the juice flows freely. Simmer gently for half an hour, strain through a bag and return to the fire. Roll briskly fifteen minutes with constant stirring. Take from the fire, measure and allow a pound of sugar to every pint of juice. add the sugar, a cupful at a time, stirring until thoroughly dissolved. Put back on the stove and boil briskly until the liquid jells.

Lambton Farms Wanted

A seventh list of farms for sale in Lambton County will be published by the Lambton Publicity Association on the 5th of August, 1916. Farms that appeared in the last list will reappear in the forthcoming list if request be sent to the Secretary before above date and present price of farm stated. These lists will have wide circulation at the Canadian National Exposition, Toronto, and other places of concourse.

Those who have farms for sale will please send a full description, the price and post office address of owner to the undersigned, in order that the parties enquiring may be brought into personal touch with those who have land to sell.

There will be no charge or commission of any kind, and the parties furnishing descriptions are not bound in any way. Give details as to situation, acreage, roads, improvements, soil, distance from churches, schools, towns, railways, telephone service, etc., etc., that would be of interest to prospective purchasers at a distance. When sale of farm takes place, please notify the Secretary so that it may be struck off the list. Parties offering large farms, suitable for fruit growing, would do well to offer them in lots of 15 to 50 acres. The Publicity Association exists for the purpose of advertising Lambton County and for no other purpose. It consists largely of the members of the County Council and the expense of the advertising is paid by the County.

The information is wanted for the purpose of placing a list of farms in the hands of those who wish to buy and who have written to the Secretary in answer to general advertisements and descriptions of Lambton which have been published in various newspapers in Canada and the United States and Britain.

The description may be sent by mail to R. Stirrett, Secretary of the Association, not later than Saturday, August 5th, 1916.

It Makes New Friends Every Day.—Not a day goes by that Dr. Thomas Electric Oil does not widen the circle of its friends. Orders for it come from the most unlikely places in the west and far north, for its fame has travelled far and deserves this attention, for no oil has done so much humanity. Its moderate cost makes it easy to get.

Miracle of the War

A Spanish journalist, who has been visiting the British front, gives his impressions in the Petit Journal. He remarks that he has seen a miracle—an army created in twenty months! And after enumerating all that he saw, the masses of troops, guns and munitions, he adds:

"When you have seen the colossal machine working, when you have heard the song of thousands of guns and the calm words of confidence from officers and men, you believe England invincible and well worthy of such an ally as France.

But what is most astonishing is that all that one sees now did not exist fifteen months ago; that all these smart, polite and chivalrous officers are fighting outside their own country to defend the soil of their allies. And in this they acted spontaneously under no compulsion.

"It is difficult to explain this transformation, but the miracle is above all due to moral factors. The social body, and the national machine have been transformed because the heart and spirit of England had undergone a prior change. The lack of scruple by the 'scrap of paper' men showed that the English possessed not only a feeling heart which brought them to the help of the robbed and assassinated Belgians, but the implacable will to impose the final decision upon the vandals of Europe. And when the women intervened, when the delightful blondes of Great Britain joined in the campaign, Kitchener's 'contemptible little army' became a terrible army necessitating the accumulation of forty German divisions. And that is only the beginning?"

No better protection against worms can be got than Miller's Worm Powders. They consume worms and render the stomach and intestines untenable to them. They heal the surfaces that have become inflamed by the attacks of the parasites and serve to restore the strength of the child that has been undermined by the draughts that the worms have made upon it, and that their operation is altogether health-giving.

The daylight saving movement is spreading. The trouble with many people is that they spend their daylight savings after the sun goes down.

An American Presidential campaign without Colonel Roosevelt in the forefront would be about as exciting as a meeting of the Ladies' Aid. It is safe betting that the Big Bull Moose will prod somebody with his horns before the fight is over.

It must have been a touching sight to witness the Seattle policemen pouring perfectly good confiscated liquor into a sewer, when they well knew another place where it could be snugly stored.

A CENSORED LADY

American Author Whose Book Has Been Suppressed.

WAS AT FRONT TRENCHES.

One of the Four Women War Correspondents Sent Out by the Biggest Magazine Gives Her Definition of War—Describes Her Impressions Eloquently.

When the editor sent four women correspondents to the great war because he believed that "the big story of a war is never at the front, but in the hospitals and in the homes, that war is largely a woman's affair, and woman, I think, best understand the little things that go to make up the big story," Mary Roberts Rinehart, trained nurse, wife of a Pittsburgh physician, author of several successful plays and many delectable stories, was one of the women picked by the magazine.

She interviewed both Queen Mary of England and the king and queen of the Belgians. Her description of refreshing her toilet before presenting herself at La Panne, her quest of shoe buttons in ravaged Belgium and her final transfer of those she had from the top of her boots to that section most prominent below her gown when she sat is one of the liveliest parts of her story. Her latest book has recently been suppressed by the British censor on the ground that it contained information of value to the enemy. When asked what effect the nearness of battle had on her own literary powers Mrs. Rinehart replied:

"I do not know how other writers are affected, but I could do nothing at the front. I wrote the interview with the king of the Belgians there and ruined a really fine opportunity. Of course I have had no newspaper training. But that was not the only trouble. For me writing has two phases, each distinct from the other. One is receiving and absorbing impressions; the other is giving them out. And between the two there must be a lapse of time to give me perspective, to let me see the 'high light,' as it were—to know what should be emphasized. It is a matter of proportion, as all writing is. That is why I think that the real literature of the war will come after the world is once more at peace.

"Once under a great strain I did write something that reflected my attitude of mind. I had just been through a bombardment by aeroplanes, and I wrote that night with cold hands and a hot head my definition of war. It is this:

"War is not two great armies meeting in a clash and frenzy of battle. It is much more than that. War is a boy carried on a stretcher, looking up at God's blue sky with bewildered eyes that are soon to close; war is a woman carrying a child that has been wounded by a shell; war is spirited horses tied in burning buildings and waiting for death; war is the flower of a race torn, battered, hungry, bleeding, up to its knees in icy water; war is an old woman burning a candle before the Mater Dolorosa for the son she has given for king and country!"

Stuffed Sweetbreads.

Materials.—Six sweetbreads, a pint plain stuffing, one-half cupful mushrooms, sliced; toast, beaten egg, flavor, four tablespoonfuls butter, three-fourths cupful cream, a tablespoonful flour, two tablespoonfuls orange juice, cracker crumbs, salt and pepper.

Way of Preparing.—Parboil the sweetbreads until tender. Plunge them into cold water. Drain, wipe dry and trim into shape. Make a plain stuffing, as for poultry. Cut a pocket in the sweetbreads and stuff. Then sew up the pocket. Melt the butter in the chafing dish, flour the sweetbreads lightly, then dip them in the beaten egg, roll in crumbs and fry in the butter in the chafing dish. Remove to a hot platter. Now add the flour to the butter in the chafing dish. When it bubbles add the orange juice, cream, mushrooms and salt and pepper to taste. Cook five minutes. Arrange six pieces of toast on a platter, place the sweetbreads on the toast, pour the sauce over and around, garnish with sliced oranges and water-cress and serve. These stuffed sweetbreads will be found delicious for a Sunday supper or an informal dinner.

EDIBLE BIRDS' NESTS.

They Are a Delicacy in the Orient and Bring High Prices.

An important item in the export trade of Siam consists of edible nests of swifts, or swiftlets, as they are also called. The principal markets for this trade are China, Hongkong and Singapore. In Hongkong, it is said, the demand often exceeds the supply, and prices range from $15 to $25 per pound, according to quality.

The first nests constructed in the season, which are composed of pure saliva, are held superior for eating purposes. They are gathered on completion before the eggs are laid.

The birds then build again, and the second nests, in which the saliva is mixed with rootlets, grass, etc., and often shows traces of blood from the efforts made to produce saliva, are also taken on completion.

A third nest is then constructed of extraneous substances cemented together and the whole fastened to the wall by a little saliva, the flow of which seems to be practically exhausted. The birds are allowed to rear their young in these nests, which are afterward destroyed by the nest gatherers, so as to compel the construction of fresh nests the following year.

Edible nests of swiftlets are found in the Malay archipelago, Australia and many of the Pacific islands. In northern Borneo certain caves inhabited by these swiftlets produce $25,000 worth of nests every year and show no diminution in the quantity, despite systematic robbery for seven generations.—Exchange.

Churches in Colonial Days.

The New England churches in colonial days were all unheated. In Miss Earle's book on "Home Life in Colonial Days" we find that few of these places of worship had stoves until the middle of the last century. The chill of the damp places, never heated from autumn to spring and closed and dark throughout the week, was hard for every one to bear. In some of the log built meeting houses fur bags, made of wolf skins were nailed to the seats, and in the winter church attendants thrust their feet in them. Dogs, too, were permitted to enter the meeting house and lie on their master's feet. Dog whippers or dog pelters were had to control or expel them when they became unruly or unpearable.

The Last Asthma Attack may really be the last one if prompt measures are taken. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy will safeguard you. It will penetrate to the smallest bronchial passage and bring about a healthy condition. It always relieves and its continued use often effects a permanent cure. Why not get this long-famous remedy to-day and commence its use? Inhaled as smoke or vapor it is equally effective.

The Inwardness.

"Please, ma'am," said the small boy on the doorstep, "ma says kin she borret a can o' mustard."
"Certainly," replied the housewife. "Is mamma going to make a salad?"
"No, ma'am," declared the voracious child, "but pa said she gave him a pain in the neck, an' she wants ter sock a plaster on to him."

Fixing the Reward.

"What do I get for this stuff?" asked the haughty amateur.
"You get nothing from me for it as a manager," replied that individual, "but if I were a magistrate as well you'd get sixty days."

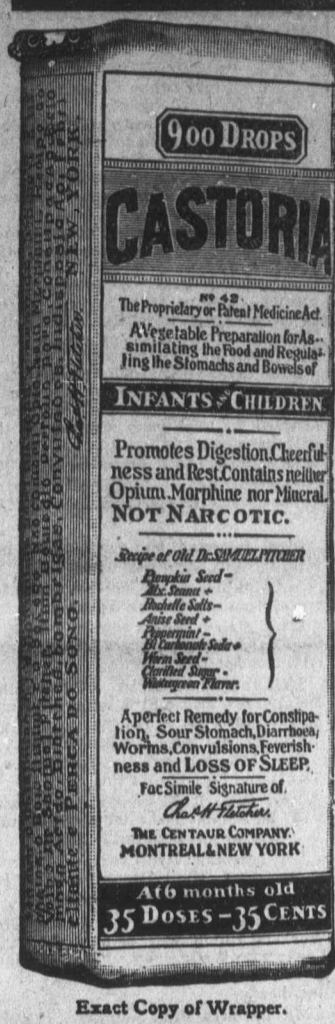

What Did He Mean?

Hicks—You have a talking machine, haven't you? Wicks—Yes; I have two talking machines at my house. One you can turn off when you get tired of the line of talk, and the other one you can't.

Editor Saved Him.
"I wrote a poem once."
"Was it printed?"
"No; the editor to whom I sent it proved himself a true friend."

Napier Garden Party

The annual garden party was held on Friday evening, June 30th, and was one of the most successful of the many garden parties which has made Napier famous during the last few years. St. Andrew's Church was fortunate in having ideal weather and the new site on Mrs. Sutherland's premises were beautifully decorated for the occasion. A sumptuous supper was provided by the ladies for the hundreds who came from the towns and villages of the surrounding district. Many came from a distance including Mr. George Jackson and family of Leamington, Dr. Jas. Nixon of Holloway, Michigan, Richard Anthony of London, Sidney Sutherland of Toronto, Mrs. Knapp of Detroit; and all claim Napier as their birth place.

A grand program was provided by the Highland Pipers of London who were in splendid form. And such artists as Miss Alexander Thirde, the Scotch singer and Mr. D. Roy Kenny, the comedian, both of Toronto kept the audience delighted and full of humour. Mr. Cameron Corentine also sang a few comic songs.

The chairman of the evening was W. H. Sutherland of Toronto, who is a real son of Napier and comes annually to preside at this delightful reunion. On this occasion he had the unique experience of sleeping in the same room in which he was born fifty-two years ago. It was noted on all sides that he was never heard to better advantage. His brilliant speech pointed to the fact that of all years this was set apart as most fitted for unique celebration because it was the tricentury of William Shakespeare and also the 100 years of peace between the United States and Great Britain. However all these plans had been thwarted by the cruel war which at present convulsed the world. His address was interspersed with abundance of humour and it concluded with confidence of success for the Allies and untold blessings for every country through the new order of Justice which would dominate the civilized world.

Rev. J. R. Johnston of Preston who has two sons at the front and was a former pastor here made a very happy and thoughtful address. He received a very cordial welcome from his old friends. Other speakers were Rev. Mr. Ball of Kerwood, Rev. Williams of Alvinston. The pastor Mr. Basson concluded expressing the thanks of the congregation to all who had come to help make the evening such a splendid success. All left looking forward to next year when again they will have such a delightful evening. Meeting closed with the National Anthem.

AUTOINTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

The Dangerous Condition Which Produces Many Well Known Diseases.

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST THIS TROUBLE

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" — The Wonderful Fruit Medicine — will Protect You

Auto-intoxication means self-poisoning, caused by continuous or partial constipation, or insufficient action of the bowels.

Instead of the refuse matter passing daily from the body, it is absorbed by the blood. As a result, the Kidneys and Skin are overworked, in their efforts to rid the blood of this poisoning.

Poisoning of the blood in this way often causes Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Disturbed Stomach. It may produce Headaches and Sleeplessness. It may irritate the Kidneys and bring on Pain in the Back, Rheumatism, Gout, and Rheumatic Pains. It is the chief cause of Eczema — and keeps the whole system unhealthy by the constant absorption into the blood of this refuse matter.

"Fruit-a-lives" will always cure Auto-intoxication or self-poisoning — as "Fruit-a-lives" acts gently on bowels, kidneys and skin, strengthens the bowels and tones up the nervous system. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. Mr. Buddington's Fortune

It Was Bestowed Where It Would Do the Most Good

By ETHEL HOLMES

Young Mrs. Buddington was a model bride. Perhaps the word "enduring" would better describe her. She had married a man's man, and a man's man, especially when very young, is easily drawn from his home. Tom Buddington had scarcely returned from his wedding journey before he was waylaid by his former associates and induced to spend an evening with them, leaving his wife at home alone.

Tom knew this was all wrong. At midnight he succeeded in tearing himself away from his companions and went home. The house was dark and without sound. He put his latchkey into the lock very quietly and went upstairs softly. This was not because he feared to awaken his wife, for he didn't believe she was asleep. It was rather the result of a guilty conscience. He would have liked to hear a sweet voice say: "That you, dearie? Had a good time?" But he entered the dressing room next the bedroom without any greeting. Looking in where Bess was sleeping, by the light turned low he saw her peacefully slumbering.

Tom was both relieved and disappointed. He was pleased that his bride had not lain awake waiting for him, but he would have liked a brief chat with her before going to sleep himself. The lady was not asleep; she was pretending. She was a wise woman. If she cheerfully received her husband after his return from his bachelor friends she would have encouraged him to go to them again. If she upbraided him it would have a tendency to drive him away from her. Tom went to sleep unregretted and unapproached. He resolved that he would not do so any more.

But Tom's effort to be good proved a failure. A young man, especially a man's man, needs relaxation. His error was not in this; it was in failing to provide his wife with relaxation also, or, rather, in forcing her to spend a considerable number of evenings alone. If it was not practicable to furnish her with company he should have remained with her, even if he did need relaxation, for she needed it as much as he did, probably more, since her place during the day was at home, and it was natural that in the evening she should need change of scene. Unfortunately Tom's income was not sufficient to enable them to go out to theaters or such other places of amusement.

"Just you wait, dearie," Tom said to his wife one evening when he was going out with a couple of men friends, "till Uncle Alec shuffles off this mortal coil, and I'll stop this going out without you. You shall have all the opera and the other amusements you like."

Now, Uncle Alec was a childless bachelor, who had worked and saved, never having married because he thought he couldn't afford to marry, till he had come to old age and a fortune without any one except his nephew to inherit his money. He had therefore pitched upon Tom for the purpose, and it was all settled that the young man was to have $100,000 after the old man's death.

Tom, being sensible of this prospective advantage, aimed to show his uncle proper attention. Since both were engaged during the day, the evening was the only time that the dutiful young man could pay his respects to the old gentleman. Bess understood that one night every week was to be devoted to this purpose. Tom went to see his uncle with tolerable regularity, and when he omitted to do so his wife understood that he had made the visit, though on such occasions Tom was enjoying his bachelor friends. Sometimes on his regular nights for visiting his uncle he would take Bess with him. She was a great favorite with the elder Buddington, which pleased Tom very much, for it strengthened the younger in the matter of his prospective fortune.

When the Buddingtons had been married a decade the wife did not need her husband's companionship so much as at first because she was taken up with several little children who had come to her in the meanwhile. Tom continued still to be a man's man and found a good deal to take him out. Indeed, there was more to absorb his attention every year. He dabbled in a small way in politics, having some taste for wire pulling, and was a member of various associations. He needed no excuses for going out evenings, for there was always a committee meeting or something of the kind that served the purpose. None of these engagements brought in any money, and the practical Mrs. Buddington was not made the better satisfied with her husband's absences by pecuniary gain.

But she did not complain. Tom said that it was the duty of a citizen to take an interest in the government of his country, his state or his city, as each needs his attention. There was no gainsaying this, and Bess was not the woman to interfere with whatever her husband considered his duty. She made the monthly stipend go as far as it was possible to make it go, patched the children's clothes and pinched in every way. The elder Buddington might have helped the family, but men who devote their lives to piling up money usually do their giving in a way that will afford a return, even if that return is merely a higher standing in the community in which they live. They are not likely to hide their lights under a bushel. Buddington senior held on to every cent he had and only arranged for the disposition of his fortune after his death because he could not take it with him.

But for this reason and because it had absorbed his whole life he was much concerned as to its going where he wished to have it go when he could no longer use it himself.

One evening he sent for Tom to come and see him. Tom was away from home and had told his wife that he was going to a meeting of householders of his ward to select a candidate for councilman. Bess sent word to Mr. Buddington to that effect, giving the place of the committee meeting. He telephoned there and was told that Tom had just left for his club. Mr. Buddington had not been aware that his nephew was a member of a club. He had never considered that he could afford such a luxury himself and could not see how Tom with his limited income and a family could do so. The old gentleman did not send to the club for Tom, but he did send to his home after 11 o'clock for him, to learn that his nephew had not yet returned.

When Tom came in at 11 o'clock in the morning and learned that his uncle had sent for him he was troubled. He knew the old gentleman's proclivities well and had not informed him of any expense that he incurred that his uncle would consider he should avoid. He went to see his uncle the next evening, but the old man merely said that he had wanted him to witness an important document and, not reaching him, had called in some one else.

This lulled Tom's fears, and he did not know that the wily old man, through parties unknown to him or Bess, had made inquiries which had put him in possession of the situation of affairs in their household. He also by similar indirect means learned that Tom was inclined to take an interest in unprofitable affairs and spent very little of his time at home. But the uncle made no mention to any one of his discoveries. He did a job of thinking over the matter and came to some conclusions that would have caused his nephew to open his eyes had he been aware of the fact.

For awhile after his uncle had sent for him—not to find him—Tom was uneasy about going out. But his uneasiness did not last long. His uncle's manner was the same that it had been, and there was no indication that there had been any unfavorable turn. But Bess, who had been for a long while striving to make ends meet, had been unable to do so, and the family financial affairs were on the ragged edge. Bess had been ill on several occasions, and a doctor's bill to a considerable amount had accumulated.

Perhaps if they had applied to Mr. Buddington he might have helped them out. Perhaps he might have told them that if they had lived within their income they would have provided for the doctor's bills as they occurred. But they did not dare inform the old man of their condition. He was getting feeble and might drop off any day. If they could worry along till he had passed away they could pay all their bills a hundred times over. So they concluded to endure the situation. But Tom as his uncle's feebleness increased rather increased than diminished his personal expenditures, banking on his soon possessing a fortune.

When Mr. Buddington passed from earth he did so without warning. He died so suddenly that his nephew did not have time to reach him to bid him goodby and receive his blessing. When he reached the house where the rich man lay he received something that he did not appreciate as he would have appreciated a blessing. The housekeeper handed him a note written by the deceased shortly before his death, which read as follows:

My Dear Nephew—I have led you to believe that at my death you would inherit what I have been a lifetime in accumulating. During the last few years I have concluded that you are not a safe person to be entrusted with a fortune. I have therefore decided to place my estate in other hands. Don't feel hard toward me for this. I have always been very fond of you and am fond of you still. Goodby. Your affectionate UNCLE.

Tom staggered under the blow. His wife, who was with him and read the letter over his shoulder, took him in her arms. She was too disappointed to speak encouragingly to him, but spoke no word of reproach. Sadly they left the house, the wife looking the future in the face resolutely, the husband limp as a cloth.

When the will was opened Tom and his wife were present more out of curiosity than anything else, though they thought that some memento might be left them. The will was very short, reading as follows:

"I give and bequeath to Elizabeth Buddington, wife of my nephew, Thomas R. Buddington, all my property, real and personal."

Tom looked at Bess, and Bess looked at Tom. Then the woman took the man's hand in hers, and what she felt was indicated by a pressure.

It was evident that Mr. Buddington had noted the difference between the two—that the wife was fitted to dispense an income and that the husband was not. During the years that they enjoyed their inheritance Bess conscientiously carried out the intent of the will and resisted all attempts of her husband to induce her to turn the fortune over to him or to permit him to have anything to say in its management or the disposition of the income.

But she was very liberal with him, not grudging him any reasonable sum, making sure, however, that it was spent for a legitimate purpose.

WATFORD PEOPLE GET INSTANT ACTION

Those who have used it in Watford are astonished at the INSTANT action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc. as mixed in Adler-i-ka. Because it acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, ONE SPOONFUL Adler-i-ka relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. It removes such surprising food matter that a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. Taylor & Son, druggists.

Well Supplied.

An inveterate wit and punster asked the captain of a craft loaded with boards how he managed to get dinner on the passage. "Why," replied the skipper, "we always cook aboard."
"Cook a board, do you?" rejoined the wag. "Then I see you have been well provided with provisions this trip, at all events."—London Tit-Bits.

Goldfish.

It may not be generally known that there is cruelty in the keeping of goldfish. Half of such captives die from sheer want of rest. Fish have eyes so formed that they cannot endure the light. In a glass vessel they are in an entirely wrong place, as is evident from the way in which they dash about and go around and around until fairly worn out.

In the Making.

"I'll have you understand, sir," said the bustling little chap, "that I am a self made man."
"All right, old man," said Jiggers. "Now, run along home and finish up the job, and then I'll talk to you."

Her Feet.

"Now, boys," said the teacher of the junior class in history, "can any of you tell me how Cleopatra died?"
"Yes, ma'am, I can," replied the small urchin at the foot of the class. "She bit herself with a snake."

The Other Way About.

"Wonder how old Roxleigh came to select such a young wife?"
"He didn't. She selected him."

SUDDEN DEATH

Caused by Disease of the Kidneys.

The close connection which exists between the heart and the kidneys is well known nowadays. As soon as kidneys are diseased, arterial tension is increased and the heart functions are attacked. When the kidneys no longer pour forth waste, uremic poisoning occurs and the person dies, and the cause is often given as heart disease, or disease of brain or lungs.

It is a good insurance against such a risk to send 10 cents for a large trial package of "Anuric"—the latest discovery of Dr. Pierce. Also send a sample of your water. This will be examined without charge by expert chemists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. When you suffer from backache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here or there, or that constant tired, worn-out feeling, it's time to write Dr. Pierce, describe your symptoms and get his medical opinion without charge—absolutely free. This "Anuric" of Doctor Pierce's is found to be 37 times more active than lithia, for it dissolves uric acid in the system as hot water does sugar.

Simply ask for Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets. There can be no imitation. Every package of "Anuric" is sure to be Dr. Pierce's. You will find the signature on the package just as you do on Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for blood and stomach.

WORRY, DESPONDENCY.

Kidney Disease is suspected by medical men when patients complain of backache or suffer with irregular urination, disturbed, too frequent, scanty or painful passage. The general symptoms are rheumatic pains or neuralgia, headaches, dizzy spells, irritability, despondency, weakness and general misery. Worry is a frequent cause and sometimes a symptom of kidney disease. Thousands have testified to immediate relief from these symptoms after using Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets.

A Unique Specimen.

"I once knew an eccentric man," stated old Festus Pester, "who when he had got the desired number of the telephone did not demand secrets, 'Whiz ziss?' Instead he invariably said civilly, 'This is John J. Poppendick, wishing to speak to Mr. Buckover.' His funeral was the largest ever held in the neighborhood where he had resided, and thereat strong men broke down and wept like children, being convinced that they would never again see his like."

Forgetmenot.

A gentleman whose beautiful grounds were often visited by the public had an old gardener who was in the habit of showing parties round the beds. At such times he would in a hurried, gabbling voice explain the names to the visitors.

When hearing the exit gate he would, however, suddenly pause and draw special attention to a pretty cluster of modest posies and then, in a significant tone of voice, exclaim: "These, ladies and gentlemen, are forget-me-nots."—Chicago News.

No Cause For Worry.

"Mind now," said the judge, "you are sworn to tell the truth, and if you do not the penitentiary will be your portion."

The man took the oath and then whispered to his friend:

"John, I'm afeared I's all-up with you. The judge says I've got to tell the truth."
"That's all right, Jim," said his friend, with confidence. "I ain't a worryin' 'bout that, kase you can't do it."

Discouraging.

"I dare say you do your best to make other people happy," said the altruist.

"Oh, yes," answered the man with a sloping brow. "But I don't believe my efforts are appreciated."

"Why do you think that?"
"Every time I start to tell a funny story some fellow bobs up and says he's heard it before."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Justified Worry.

"Jiggers must be a devoted husband. He told me his wife met with an accident and that he was worried sick for fear she should attempt to be active with her injury too soon."

"What was her injury?"
"She dislocated her jaw."

Voice of Experience.

"He says that honesty is the best policy."
"Coming from him, the opinion has weight. He has tried all sorts of policies."

It Might Be Worse.

SOCIAL LIONS.

A Bit of History Showing How the Term Came Into Use.

When you refer to a popular man in society as a "social lion" did you know that you are drawing on a bit of very remote history for the expression? The lion is anything but a social beast, and the figurative use of his name to designate a popular person came down to us in a most curious and roundabout way.

When Henry III came to the throne of England, in 1216, there was a curious dispute as to the significance of the figures entering into the armorial bearings of Great Britain. There were three animals, "passant gardant," and they were spoken of as leopards. As a matter of fact, they were supposed to be lions. It was argued that there had been three leopards in the Tower of London in the reign of William the Conqueror and that these had given the motif for the emblem. Or it might have been that the Norman oppressor kept three leopards as a concession to the Saxons he had subjugated.

Whatever the facts may be, Henry was satisfied that the conventionalized animals on seals, banners and coins were really lions, and in order to impress the fact he had three live and unmistakable "monarchs of the desert" brought to London and placed in the Tower. It at once became the fashion to visit the lions. When guests from out of the city were being entertained the great treat was that of a visit to the "lions of the Tower." After the sight had become commonplace and the meaning of the animals had been lost to sight the phrase remained. The "lion" was a statesman, actor or some other celebrity who held popular favor.

FOOLS THE COWS.

Dead Nettle is Harmless, but Makes Itself Look Dangerous.

In this case the joke's on the cow. She's fooled into the belief that this little, harmless plant will bite her. The plant helps with the joke by masquerading as a dangerous weed, with real teeth, whereas it wouldn't hurt a flea. This plant is the dead nettle.

One of its cousins, the stinging nettle, covers itself with sharp, poisonous hairs. The cow has learned to avoid the weed. So the dead nettle makes up to look like its cousin, and the cow leaves it alone.

The dead nettle grows in waste places all over eastern United States. It isn't as useful as its near relative in the East Indies and in China, called ramie. This relative also is harmless and plays similar jokes on Chinese cows and other grazing animals.

But ramie furnishes a vegetable fiber which is stronger than hemp, as fine and shiny as silk. It is used in making cordage and nets, and paper made from it is used for banknotes.

So when the ramie imitates the stinging nettle it is protecting itself from grazing animals so it may grow into money.

Weighing the Mayor.

A mayor, particularly an English mayor, is traditionally a man of weight and substance, but there is only one municipality that insists that his honor get on the public scales and prove it. Of the thousands of quaint and curious customs still surviving in England this is perhaps one of the most odd. The mayor of High Wycombe has to be weighed on Nov. 9 of each year, inauguration day, and this custom has been observed for about six centuries. The mayor elect walks at the head of a procession consisting of the councilors, the beadle and the mace bearer. He is clad in cocked hat, silk stockings, blue coat and knee breeches. Upon reaching the town hall the mayor is placed upon the scales by the head constable, and a record of his avoirdupois is solemnly made in a book kept for this purpose.

A Snoring Child.

Snoring is a symptom that should not be neglected in children. It shows that there is some obstruction to the free passage of air from the nose to the throat. The tonsils may be enlarged and so partially close the passage at its lower opening. There may be a polypus or some small tumor in the nasal passage itself or catarrh of the throat or nose or both. A physician should be consulted.

Velocity of the Earth.

The velocity of the earth on its own axis exceeds, it is estimated, 1,000 miles an hour. The velocity of the earth around the sun is calculated to be 68,000 miles an hour, and the velocity of the moon is calculated to be 2,273 miles an hour.

Squelching the Grouch.

"Samanthy, why don't you stop Mary Anne from giggling?"
"Oh, let her giggle while she can. She'll marry some day if she lives, and, heaven knows, she'll quit the habit mighty quick!"

LITTLE, BLACK AND UGLY.

And Very Touchy, Too, is the Devil's Coach Horse Beetle.

My, how very touchy he is! Point your finger at him and see how he turns up his tail and opens his jaws, just as if he were a lion instead of a tiny beetle. He thinks he is going to frighten us away. But we won't hurt him, anyway, because he is a very valuable sort of beetle—a tiny garbage man. He's called the devil's coach horse beetle.

He's long, black and ugly. He spends his time hiding under stones or crawling about in gardens. Like a majority of beetles, he's one of nature's scavengers.

Have you ever thought what a dirty old world this would be if it were not for the animals and birds and insects that go around cleaning up? Certain birds and animals devour the bodies of other animals, but they leave it to the beetles to clean up the crumbs.

So he's busy all day devouring the little particles that the big eyes of the buzzard cannot see. He's always celebrating clean up week. So don't blame him if he turns up the end of his tail and looks at you threateningly when you disturb him. He's too busy to play.

MYSTERIES IN HOLES.

What Becomes of the Earth Rodents Dig From Their Dens?

I have found two weasels' dens on the margin of a muck swamp in the woods that presented the same insoluble problem as the chipmunk's hole—what has become of the bushel or more of earth that must have been brought to the surface? Both the weasel and the chipmunk have several galleries and one or more large chambers or dining halls, and how each manages to hide or obliterate all the loose soil that must have been removed is a question which has long puzzled me.

If we had an American Fabre or a man who would give himself up to the study of the life histories of our rodents, with the same patience and enthusiasm that the wonderful Frenchman has shown concerning the life histories of the insects he would doubtless soon solve the mystery.

I used to think that the chipmunk carried away the soil in his cheek pockets, and I have so declared in one of my books, but I am now very certain that he does not—only his food stores are thus carried.—John Burroughs

Birds and Glass.

It has been frequently noticed that no wild bird can understand the properties of glass, and great numbers, ranging in size from a pheasant to a titmouse, are killed by flying against the windows of country houses.

If a room possesses a large mirror reflecting the view seen through an open window birds are particularly liable to be deceived, and especially if frightened, into thinking that they can fly through it.

Sparrow hawks will sometimes chase their intended victims into strange places. Some years ago a member of this species pursued a small bird through the open window of a railway carriage in motion. In its blind determination to secure the panting fugitive it entangled its claws in the meshes of the track and was ignominiously slain by an astonished passenger with an umbrella.

ASSAULT AND ROBBERY

David Auld in a Critical Condition Through Assault by Handcuffed Thug, Thomas McLeay's House Ransacked.

A most daring robbery and assault was committed on Friday last by an unknown desperado who robbed the house of Thos. McLeay and after being arrested assaulted David Auld (who had been sworn in as a special constable) so that up to the time of writing he is in a critical condition. The thug got a ride north with the mail carrier Friday morning and later ransacked the home of Thos. McLeay, Main road, while the family was away. He took a suit of clothes and such jewelry as he could lay his hands on. He was seen leaving the place and making for the woods and an alarm was given. A search party was organized who finally ran the criminal down and handcuffed him. When being led back by Donald McLeay and David Auld towards the place where the rig was standing the thief put up a bluff that he was exhausted and could not walk farther. He was left with David Auld while McLeay went for the rig and when the latter returned he found Auld unconscious by the roadside and no trace of the tramp could be found. Examination showed that Auld had been struck on the head with the handcuffs and after being knocked unconscious the thug had gone through his pockets, procured the key of the cuffs and all the cash he carried, supposed to be between $7 and $10. Word of the crime and a description of the man was at once phoned to all points and searching parties organized, but the criminal has not yet been apprehended. He is well dressed in a suit belonging to Mr. McLeay but it is said that he had on a pair of military boots, and it is suggested that he may possibly be a deserter from some military unit.

Mr. Auld remained in a totally unconscious condition until the next day and is not yet able to give a connected account of the assault.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Minutes of a regular meeting of the Watford Board of Education, held in the Library Board Room, on Friday, June 30th, 1916, 7:30 p. m.

Present—J. W. McLaren, Chairman; Wm. Harper, C. W. Vail, Dr. Howden, John White, W. L. Millar and W. E. Fitzgerald.

Harper—Fitzgerald, and carried, that on account of the war and extra demands made on the ratepayers we cannot grant any increase of salary to the four assistants of the Public School teaching staff.

Howden—Vail, and carried, that we ask the council for $250.00 for public school purposes.

White—Howden, and carried, that we adjourn.

Lt. Col. Towers Still in Command of the 70th

The recent report that was circulated in this city that Lt. Col. R. I. Towers, commander of the 70th Batt. had given up command of that battalion and was returning home, appears to have no foundation. The rumor was that owing to drafts having been made from the 70th and as a consequence the 70th would not go to France as a unit, that the command was returning to Canada. Word has been received in the city denying absolutely that Col. Towers is giving up command. Some drafts have been made, but Col. Towers is in command and it is fully expected that the regiment will still go to France as a unit. The vacancies in the ranks will be filled from other Canadian regiments and the 70th will be maintained at full strength.—Canadian.

A CAUSE OF INDIGESTION

People Who Complain of This Trouble Usually Are Thin Blooded

Thin blooded people usually have stomach trouble. They seldom recognize the fact that thin blood is the cause of the trouble, but it is. In fact thin, impure blood is the most common cause of stomach trouble; it affects the digestion very quickly. The glands that furnish the digestive fluid are diminished in their activity; the stomach muscles are weakened, and there is a loss of nerve force. In this state of health nothing will more quickly restore the appetite, the digestion and normal nutrition than good, rich, red blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood, making it rich and red, and this enriched blood strengthens weak nerves, stimulates tired muscles and awakens the normal activity of the glands that supply the digestive fluids. The first sign of improving health is an improved appetite, and soon the effect of these blood-making pills is evident throughout the system. You find that what you eat does not distress you, and that you are strong and vigorous instead of irritable and listless. This is proved by the case of Mrs. J. Harris, Gerard St., Toronto, who says: "About three years ago I was seized with a severe attack of indigestion and vomiting. My food seemed to turn sour as soon as I ate it, and I would turn so deathly sick that sometimes I would fall on the floor after vomiting. I tried a lot of home remedies, but they did not help me. Then I went to a doctor who gave me some powders, but they seemed actually to make me worse instead of better. This went on for nearly two months and by that time my stomach was in such a weak state that I could not keep down a drink of water, and I was wasted to a skeleton and felt that life was not worth living. I was not married at this time and one Sunday evening on the way to church with my intended husband I was taken with a bad spell on the street. He took me to a drug store where the clerk fixed up something to take, and my intended got me a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. By the end of the first week I could feel some improvement from the use of the Pills, and I gladly continued taking them until every symptom of the trouble was gone, and I was again enjoying the best of health. These Pills are now my standby and I tell all my friends what they did for me."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
