Hostile Troops Holding Positions Above Arras Unwilling to Fight.

PARIS, June 1, 5.45 p.m.—The official eye-witness today gives supplementary details of the capture by French forces of the Town of Ablain St. Nazaire, to the northwest of Arras.

"French troops," the writer says, "on May 12 occupied most of the position and on May 28 and 29 succeeded in completing its capture. In the first attack we occupied many houses and important vantage points, but the Germans ching tenaciously to the church and cemetery. It was thru the centre of the village and in and around the cemetery, therefore, that the hottest fighting took place.

ROUMANIA AND BULGARIA SOON TO ENTER WAR

Startling and Dramatic Change in Situation Is Expected in the Next Few Days.

BY GORDON GORDON SMITH.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

ROME, June 1.—The next few days may see a dramatic change in the situation due to the entry on the scene of Roumania and Bulgaria. Since Italy entered the conflict war fever in Bucharest has been rising hourly. Roumania is in the same position as Italy was, that is to say, her army is practically mobilized and concentrated. Nothing but the personal influence of the king and uncertainty regarding the action of Bulgaria prevented Roumania joining the allies. In the last few days significant changes have been seen in the attitude of Bulgaria towards the allies. The first outward expression of this has been the recall of Rizoff, the Bulgarian minister to Rome. Rizoff is absolutely pro-Austrian and one of the most active supporting Prince Von Buelow. If the latter had succeeded, King Ferdinand might have been successful in keeping Bulgaria neutral, or even bringing about intervention in favor of Germany by Austria. But with the failure of the German ambassador's mission the war party in Sofia got the upper hand. This is proved by the feverish haste with which Turks now are massing troops at Ichadaltcha and Kirk-Kilisseh to oppose the Bulgarian march on Constantinople.

If the illness of the king of Greece should be prolonged and necessitate his brother, Prince George, being appointed regent the war party at Athens will gain enormously. It is well known that the chief strength of the neutralists was the support received by Queen Sophia, the kaiser's sister, who threatened to quit the country never to return if Greece went to war with Germany. As Prince George is notoriously pro-French this threat would weigh little with him, especially as he has the support of Venizelos and the majority of parliament. Events are moving rapidly and a few days, perhaps hours, will see a startling change in the situation.

TWO TURK TRANSPORTS SUNK

LONDON, June 2.—12.40 a.m.—A Reuter despatch from Athens says: "It is reported from Constantinople that a British submarine has torpedoed two Turkish transports, one of them laden with troops, in the Sea of Marmora."

Whether the above item refers to a new attack by a British submarine on a Turkish transport in the Sea of Marmora or is a belated report from Constantinople to Athens of a similar occurrence announced last month is not known.

The British admiralty on May 25 reported concerning the operations of the submarine E14, that the underwater boat in the Sea of Marmora sank a transport April 29, and on May 10, a large transport filled with troops. The E14 has also been active sinking Turkish vessels ever since those dates.

DIRECT REPLY FROM BERLIN IS DEMANDED

Wilson Cabinet Declines to Be Drawn Into Fruitless Discussion.

TO SEVER RELATIONS?

Unfavorable Answer From Germany Will Probably Have Such Result.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—President Wilson determined today that the United States must ascertain definitely and very promptly from Germany whether the imperial government intends in the future to be guided by the accepted principles of international law and the rights of neutrals in its maritime warfare.

The president listened to a varied expression of opinion at a meeting of his cabinet, taking little part in the discussion himself. Later he began the preparation of a note to be dispatched before the end of this week, embodying his own ideas and what seemed to him the consensus of his official family.

Cabinet Dissatified.

The verdict of a majority of the cabinet was that the German reply to the American note following the sink-

AUSTRIANS COMPLETELY ROUTED BY VICTORIOUS ITALIAN ARMY WHICH IS MARCHING ON TRENT

SUCCESS OF RAID ON POLA CAUSES ELATION IN ROME

Even Austrian Fleet There Is Regarded As Exposed to Attack—Public Cautioned Against Over-Optimism.

ROME, via Paris, June 1.—Exultation is general in Rome over the Italian air raid on Pola and the amount of damage done, as Pola is the greatest military port of Austria, is the centre of the railways of Istria, and has great natural defences and fortifications. The fact that an Italian airship was able to damage the arsenal, the railway station and other structures is taken as proof that the Austrian fleet now at that port is not entirely safe.

There is no disposition here, however, to exaggerate the successes won so far by the Italian arms, and the newspapers are cautioning the people against thinking that the Austrians will not make a most determined resistance behind the defences which they have prepared.

Conquered Enemy Has Fallen Back to Next Line of Defences South of the City, While Italians, Hour by Hour, Occupy Strong Positions After Battering Them to Pieces.

BY MARTIN DONOHUE.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

ROME, June 1.—"Avanti Avanti" is the motto of the Italians invading the Austrian territory. News of fresh progress received today cancerns several points beyond the frontier, where infantry is gradually pressing forward on Alpine roads and in mountain gorges. Hour by hour they are occupying Austrian positions which one by one the Italian heavy artillery has battered to pieces.

Last night, after a stiff fight, lasting several hours, the Italian tricolor was hoisted on the nights of Coni Zugna, which hill is over six thousand feet high. This conelike eminence dominates alike the east bank of the Adige which flows past the foothills of Zugna and the railway line running north thru Rovereto to Trent. In the taking of Coni Zugna, the Italian infantry did some splendid bayonet work. Several regiments concerned pushed forward from Ala and began the stiff ascent of towering the chain of hills which were bristling with Austrian troops.

Upwards and onwards went the Italians, undismayed gy the fire from the Austrian stronghold. In vain the Austrians attempted to stem the rising tide of Bersaglieri and Alpinists, who, despite the enormous natural and artificial obstacles of the position, pressed forward with splendid courage.

Routed the Eenemy.

Some of thes torming party, before coming to close grip with the enemy, put aside their knapsacks to give themselves greater freedom of action, rolled up their sleeves, and when the moment came, charged hime grimly with the bayonet, completely routing the Austrians. Then there was no restraining the impetuosity of the Italians, who, to cries of "Viva l'Italia," pressed hotly on the heels of the beaten enemy.

So far, then, the Italians are holding strongly that portion of the Austrian Adige valley which lies deep between the Mountains Baldo and Lessini, 13 miles from the frontier. The conquered Austrians have fallen back. This brings them to their next line of defences south of Trent. These works stretch as far south as the bridge spanning the Adige near the railway station, between Mori and Roveretto. Its approaches are defended by a triple line of fortifications which rise from the left bank of the Adige, strengthened by what are known technically as wolftraps, the ground being honeycombed by holes nine feet deep, at the bottom of each of which is a sharp pointed stake, with the business end upwards.

Have Good Artillery.

Our enemy seems to be well supplied with long range artillery. The beautifully wooded heights of the Madona Del Monte, which cut into the Valley of the Adige and descend to the very gate of Roveretto, are no longer recognizable, for the Austrians' military engineer has been at work; gardens and villas which dotted the slopes of the Madona Del Monte have been swept away, trees cut down to make room for gun emplacements and rifle pits. The steep, flintlike sides of Monti Finonchi, which overtops Roveretto, are simply furrowed lines of trenches.

Secured Firm Grip.

In the central sector of the frontier, that is to say, around Bourgo and Fiera Di Primiero in Val Sagano and Val Cismone respectively, Italians have secured a firm grip.

In the Sugana valley, they already have advanced 12 miles beyond the point where the Brenta crosses the frontier, and they are resting themselves solidly on both sides of the valley, thus forging another link in the chain of rock and steel which is to envelope Trent. Monti Belvedere has been stormed and captured by the Italians, but Fort Belvedere still is gallantly holding out. But for all that Fort Belvedere has fought its last fight. The majority of guns are dismantled but still fighting gamely, replying very feebly to the pitiless bombardment to which it has been subjected.

In the Carnico-Alpine sector, to the extreme north of Venetia, heavy fighting has taken place between the two armies. At Monte Croce Di Carnia, a pass over 500 feet above Seale Vel, which crowns the Lessana valley, the Italians fiercely attacked the Austrians. The enemy here showed considerable spirit and determination, flinging into the fight some of his first line troops, hurriedly transferred doubtless from some other point of the far-flung Austrian battle line.

ROUMANIA'S TERMS DEEMED EXCESSIVE

Russia, in Particular, Opposes Demands, Says Report From Rome.

STILL NEGOTIATING

Italy Rather Disappointed Over Balkan State's Continued Inaction.

ROME, via Paris, June 1.—The Rome papers and people are absorbed in the question of the possible entrance of Bulgaria and Roumania in the war. There was a firm conviction among the people generally that Italy had only to declare war against Austria to bring in Roumania, but a week has passed and Roumania shows no disposition apparently to depart from her neutrality.

It is explained here in certain authoritative circles that Roumania is still negotiating with Great Britain, France and Russia for recognition of her claims. Late advices are to the effect that Russia especially is not inclined to give way to what she considers rather exaggerated demands, particularly in view of the fact that Italy is now at war, and this has already relieved the German and Austrian pressure, chiefly in Galicia.

U.S. TO RECOGNIZE MEXICAN COALITION

Wilson Cabinet Has Adopted New Policy to Restore Order.

NOTICE TO FACTIONS

Moral Support Will Be Given to Union of Best Interests.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—President Wilson and his cabinet today adopted a new policy to be pursued by the United States toward Mexico. It has for its object restoration of order and the relief of millions of non-combatants from the devastations of Mexico's military element, which have brought about conditions regarded as intolerable.

The president read to the cabinet a statement which is to be communicated tomorrow to the leaders of all Mexican factions, serving notice that unless they, themselves, compose the situation, some other means will be found by the United States to bring about the establishment of a stable government in the republic. The statement was approved after prolonged discussion. It will be made public tomorrow.

The specific course the United States will pursue in case the contending factions fail to agree is not outlined in the president's statement, but the administration's present purpose is to give moral support to a coalition of the best interests in Mexico and accord the government thereby created formal recognition. With such recognition would come an embargo on arms, permitting the constituted government to receive munitions of war to the exclusion of all other elements and factions.

HON. FRANK OLIVER SAYS WEST LOOKS PROMISING

Returns From Visit to Peace River Country—Crops Far Advanced.

Special to The Toronto World.

EDMONTON, June 1.—Hon. Frank Oliver has returned from a political tour to the Peace River country, visiting the Peace River Crossing, the Grand Prairie and Smoky River Valleys and a number of settlements. There is now direct rail connection between Edmonton, at McLennan, a distance of about 600 miles, and in addition the ex-minister followed the trail for about four hundred miles. He found vegetation and crops just as far advanced in the Peace River country as at Edmonton. Railway construction is going on rapidly and a line of steamers and a number of small craft are busily engaged on the Peace River. Settlers are pouring in and in anticipation of railway construction, the wheat acreage has been greatly increased.

He states that the crop conditions as viewed in all parts of the country thru which he traversed were of the very best. Every grain planted seemed to be growing in fine shape, and the acreage under crop was very large, specially having regard to the distance of the larger areas of farming country from railroad transportation. The character of the improvements made was as remarkable as their amount. At a distance of from sixty to one hundred miles from railway communication the fields were as large, as well cultivated, and showed the prospects of as good returns, as in the most favored sections of the prairie south of the Saskatchewan River.

RUSSIA IS ORDERING CARS FROM CANADA

Col. Cantley Returns to Ottawa With Some Large Orders.

By a Staff Reporter.

OTTAWA, June 1.—Col. Cantley has returned from Europe bringing with him large orders for cars for the Russian Government. The exact nature of the orders is not vouchsafed by the militia department.

Ninety officers are attending the school of musketry at Rockcliffe, which is under the care of Col. Helmer.

Col. George P. Murphy has been appointed temporary transport officer for the militia department.

Summer With a Rush.

June has not taken long to make people realize its coming—the next thing necessary is to make adequate preparations in the matter of clothing. At Dineen's—140 Yonge street—you'll find every kind of headwear as well as such summery articles as gray Alpaca Motor Duster Coats, priced $3; Golf Coats and every description of Outing Caps. Yesterday there was tremendous selling of Straws and Panamas. Have you got yours? What about a linen hat for bowling? They are priced 50c to $1.25. No matter your hat need it can be filled at Dineen's.

MILLION GERMANS ALONG SAN RIVER

Vast Number of Guns Concentrated Against Russian Lines.

ATTACKS INCESSANT

Time Lost Here by Enemy of Utmost Value to the Allies.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

PETROGRAD, June 1.—It is hard to imagine anything more tremendous than the battle now raging around Peremysl. The neat, compact and picturesque battles of Napoleonic days were child's play compared with this latest effort of modern warfare in which the details of personal valor, skilful moves and counter-moves are submerged in the blinding and deafening clash of vast hosts. Between Jarosiau and Peremysl, General Von Mackensen has concentrated on the right bank of the San, a million men with a corresponding quantity of artillery. The quiet fields on which the peasants were peacefully plowing when I passed over them six weeks ago are now deluged by a storm of explosives such as has never been known in history. The hopeful feature in this carnage on the San is that the Russians are delaying the German advance, and, more than that in counter-attacks are taking thousands of prisoners. Time which is all important to the Germans, is slipping out of their hands. Mackensen's aim is to reach the Peremysl-Lvoff-Lemberg Railway and, meeting the force which has been struggling to break thru the Russian lines southeast of Peremysl, to surround the fortress. But the southern force after a long series of unavailing attacks is now passive and the communications of Peremysl are still safe.

MORE RUSSIANS REACH FRONT OF PEREMYSL

Austrian Paper Reports Arrival of Three or Four New Army Corps.

AMSTERDAM, via London, June 1, 9.40 p.m.—According to the Graz, Austria, Tages Post, the Russians are bringing reinforcements to the Peremysl front and the lower San to the number of at least three to four army corps.

"If still more reinforcements are brought up by the Russians," says The Tages Post's military correspondent, "we must reckon with protracted resistance by the enemy."

NEW MINISTERS NEED NOT SEEK RE-ELECTION

British Parliament Will Approve Measure to Facilitate Work.

LONDON, June 1, 9 p.m.—The ministers who received cabinet appointments in the recent reconstruction of the government will not be required to seek parliamentary re-election, as is ordinarily required by law if a measure proposed by the government tonight is adopted.

It is officially announced that when parliament reconvenes next Thursday a bill will be introduced providing that during the war it will not be necessary for ministers to stand for re-election. The passage of this bill, which is a foregone conclusion, will enable the ministers to take their seats in the cabinet and at once settle down to business.

DR. MONTAGUE ADMITS SERIOUS ERROR MADE

He Over-Estimated Contract by More Than Hundred Thousand Dollars.

WINNIPEG, June 1.—Hon. Dr. Montague, formerly minister of public works in the Roblin government, practically admitted in the witness box before the royal commission today that when he recommended letting of the contract for $230,100 to Kelly & Sons, for steel for the north wing, he overshot the mark by $103,140.

The ex-minister was examined by C. P. Wilson, with respect to Prof. Brydone-Jack's report on the north wing matter.

Dr. Montague obtained this report from the professor in January, 1914. It contains three appendices, one of which clearly gives the sum of $126,960 as additional cost due to change in design. Another appendix fixes $236,067, as total cost of steel for the wing. Dr. Montague finally let the contract on the basis of the recommendation of the provisional architect at $230,100, but he did so on the assumption that the figures named in Prof. Brydone-Jack's appendix No. 3, did not require deduction on account of work provided for in main contract.

After being rigidly examined for an hour, he confessed that he had probably made a serious mistake.

SOCIALIST LEADER IN ITALY IS VOLUNTEER

Bissolati Was Centre of Enthusiastic Demonstration at Udine.

UDINE, Italy, via Paris, June 1.—Leonida Bissolati-Bergamaschi, the eminent leader in the chamber of deputies of the Reform Socialists, dressed in the uniform of a sergeant of the Alpine Regiment, arrived here today with his company.

Sgt. Bissolati attempted to leave the station without attracting attention, but a group of Bersaglieri saw him and shouted "Viva Bissolati." The deputy even then tried to make his escape, but he was soon surrounded by a crowd of officers, soldiers and young and old men, and girls and women, who cheered him vociferously. The deputy finally took refuge in a cafe, where an old man tottered up to him and said in a trembling voice: "God bless you. Hold what opinion you please since you are ready to go forward when your country calls you."

SGT. O'LEARY IS ALIVE SAW OWN DEATH NOTICE

Came Out of Last Battle With Only a Few Scratches, He Writes.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

LONDON, June 2.—"I see in today's papers that I have been killed in action. No, I am still in the firing line, doing my bit for my King and country. I trust God is not going to call on me so soon, until I have done a bit more for my country. I came out of the last battle with only a few scratches, thank God."

So writes Sergt. O'Leary, V.C., in a letter dated May 29. His parents have been overwhelmed with enquiries since they received the above letter last night.

TROOPS HARD PRESSED UNTIL WARSHIPS CAME

Turks Slaughtered After Surrounding a Body of Soldiers.

LONDON, June 2.—Advices from Mytilene, according to an Athens despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co., say that allied troops recently were on the point of being surrounded by several companies of Turks, who succeeded in breaking the British lines between Eski Mezentare and Kaltopou, when allied warships hurried to the scene and by their timely arrival dispersed the Turks, killing the greater part of them.

FRENCH CAPTURED SOUCHEZ REFINERY

Violent Two Days' Engagement Ends in Important Success.

LABYRINTH YIELDING

Enemy Beaten in Attempts to Retake Trenches in Woods.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

LONDON, June 1.—Capture of the sugar refinery at Souchez after a violent combat of two days was effected by French troops last night after a bitter fight. The Germans, who at once delivered a violent counter-attack, succeeded in temporarily recapturing this much disputed position, but the French drove the enemy out again at daybreak and have since clung tenaciously to the factory.

The Germans failed in several obstinate attacks to dislodge the French from the trenches they had taken in the wood by the road between Aix Noulette and Souchez. Northwest of the Chapel of Lorette the French also beat off enemy attacks and clung fast to their gains.

Important progress was made in the northern part of the Labyrinth, southeast of Neuville, and the French took prisoner about 150 Germans.

A portion of the trenches captured in the wood of Le Pretre were recaptured by the Germans.

The Germans in their official statement quite characteristically do not record the loss of the Souchez refinery, but say that attacks north of Souchez were repulsed.

EDITORS FOUGHT DUEL AFTER WAR DISPUTE

It Happened in Spain Where Opinion is Sharply Divided.

MADRID, via Paris, June 1.—Feeling between the anti-German and pro-Germans in Spain runs high. Two editors, Senor Blanco, whose tendencies are favorable to the allies, and Senor Borras, who is pro-Berman, fought a duel today with sabres. Both men were wounded.

ALLAN LINER CORSICAN CHASED BY SUBMARINE

MONTREAL, June 1.—The Allan liner Corsican, which arrived at Glasgow today with about 1000 passengers, was chased by a submarine near Queenstown, according to a special cable to The Montreal Star. The Corsican received a warning by wireless from the Megantic, and was on the lookout for submarines.

TURKS SUFFERED TERRIFIC LOSSES

More Than Forty Thousand Lost Up to Two Weeks Ago.

SENT TO SLAUGHTER

Forced to Charge When Magazines of Rifles Were Empty.

LONDON, June 1.—An official statement given out today says:

"Regarding the operations in the Dardanelles, Turkish prisoners recently arrived in Egypt say that the Ottoman losses in the fighting on the Gallipoli Peninsula have been terribly heavy. The 20th Regiment was almost annihilated, its colonel alone of the officers escaping death or capture. Almost equally severe were the losses borne by the 15th and 56th Regiments. The loss in officers generally has been very heavy, and the gaps are being filled by naval officers and cadets from the military school. Men from every military class, Nizam Redif and Mustafiz, are now found in the same unit.

Terrible Slaughter.

"The attacks on the Krithia position early in May were most costly operations for the Turks. Ordered by Gen. Liman Von Sanders to attack with empty magazines, with the bayonet only, and by night, they assaulted our column. Repeatedly they were caught by the searchlights of the allies in close formation and terribly punished at point blank ranges by machine guns and rifle fire. Only 120 men could be collected out of a regiment originally 3000 men strong.

Lost 40,000

"The mountain guns of the allies on more than one occasion caught the Turks as they were assembling at night for attack, and assisted by searchlights they were kept for some minutes at a time under heavy rifle and sharpnel fire, which inflicted serious losses.

"'The landing,' said an Arab officer who was among the prisoners, 'was costly and difficult, but it was boldly carried out; and when your troops were once established on the peninsula, it was our turn to suffer the heavier losses in a series of desperate and unavailing counter-attacks. I was made prisoner a fortnight ago. We then had lost at least 40,000 men in killed and wounded.'

"It is further declared by prisoners that two Turkish battalions attacked each other by night near Gaba Tepe, losing heavily, and ultimately stampeding in spite of the efforts of their officers to rally them.

Deadly Accuracy.

"Prisoners say that the firing of the British machine guns has been particularly well directed and violent, and that the naval guns have at times been most effective. Men who were in the trenches at the point where the heaviest shells burst were frequently so dazed and shaken by the explosions as to be paralyzed.

"The prisoners in some cases frankly admit that they do not in the least know why Enver Pasha and Talaat Bey went to war, while others curse the Germans heartily."

GREY STAYED AT POST UNTIL FORCED TO QUIT

Foreign Minister Fought Hard Against Effects of Eye Strain.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

LONDON, June 1.—The Daily Telegraph, referring to the foreign office announcement that Sir Edward Grey is leaving off work for a short time in order to rest his eyesight, and that during his absence Lord Crewe will take charge of the foreign office, says Sir Edward Grey had recently been suffering considerably, but his sight seemed to be improving, and he pluckily determined not to be absent from his post at a time of special stress. He has been wearing colored glasses to soften the glare of light, but has at last been reluctantly compelled to conclude that nothing short of actual rest from reading and writing is likely to be effective, and is acting upon his oculist's advice.

It may be interesting to add that when he took his Easter rest it had been arranged that Lord Crewe should relieve him, but on consideration the prime minister decided to give up his own holiday and take over temporarily the duties of the foreign office. Marquis Crewe had then actually entered upon his new duties.

SGT. F. D. LORSCH WRITES.

Sgt. F. D. Lorsch, signaler, who is a prisoner of war at Giessen, Germany, has written to his parents, who reside at 16 High Park boulevard, telling them that he is well. He says he was taken prisoner on April 24, was injured a couple of times but not seriously.

BRITISH SUBMARINE OFF CONSTANTINOPLE

Transportation of Turkish Troops to Dardanelles is Interrupted.

GOEBEN DISMANTLED

Turkish Capital in State of Gloom and Anxious for Peace.

LONDON, June 1.—An Athens despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that it has been learned there that the transportation of Turkish troops to the Dardanelles has been interrupted by the operations of a British submarine which is cruising in front of Constantinople.

A despatch to The Times from Mitylene, dated Sunday, says: "An enemy submarine shelter has been discovered in the vicinity of Aivali, on the west coast of Asia Minor, to which place British warships proceeded today. Sixty shots have been heard coming from that vicinity leading to the belief that useful work has been accomplished."

Goeben Dismantled.

Latest advices reaching Athens from Constantinople are to the effect that the battle cruiser Sultan Selim, formerly the Goeben, has been virtually dismantled.

Recent developments at the Dardanelles are described as having cast a gloom over the Turkish capital, where a strong current of opinion is in favor of opening the straits and negotiating for peace.

During the recent British submarine raid in the sea of Marmora and off Constantinople, there was a condition of panic in the city. The people shouted that the Russians were coming, and vessels were hastily withdrawn to the far end of the Golden Horn. Troops on board transports were disembarked and some guns were fired at the submarine.

Italians and Greeks continue to arrive at Dedeagatch by rail. They report that Constantinople was sobered by this raid. One of the results was the despatch of all the troops available to the Dardanelles. Talaat Bey had the Armenian patriarch brought before him. He remonstrated at the behavior of the Armenians, and warned the patriarch that conditions must improve.

MAY ASK CONGRESS TO PASS WAR VOTE

Belief at Washington of Special Session to Provide for Eventualities.

MAY RECALL GERARD

Bernstorff Also Likely to Be Given Passports by President Wilson.

Special to The Toronto World.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—An extra session of congress, to provide the wherewithal so that the country will be prepared for any eventualities, will be a necessity if diplomatic relations are broken off with Germany, in the opinion of a score of senators and representatives who were informally discussing the situation today.

The view taken by these senators and representatives is that the United States is not prepared for war now, and that it would be the best possible common-sense, in view of the present strained relations, and especially in view of the terms in which the German note was couched, for the United States to get as much start in her preparations for anything that might happen as this country possibly can.

Expect Action Sure.

If the German Government refused to comply with the demands made in President Wilson's recent note, which were evaded in some particulars, and particularly regarding the submarine blockade, this government's first step would be to recall Ambassador Gerard and give Count Von Bernstorff his passports.

The effect of this upon Germany would probably be, congressmen think, to arouse the most intense hatred in that country for the United States, each new country having entered the hostilities being more bitterly hated than the ones already in.

CONSULATE DESTROYED BY FRENCH CRUISER

German Consul at Haifa Paid Penalty for Inciting Turks.

PARIS, June 1.—The German consul at Haifa, in Syria, and the Bay of Acre having incited Turkish troops to commit acts hostile to the French, a French cruiser sailed up to Haifa and by a few well directed shells, destroyed the consulate.

This information is found in an announcement given out today by the French ministry of marine, which reads as follows:

"The ministry of marine, having been advised that the German consul at Haifa had incited Turkish troops to open fire on a boat carrying a flag of truce and to violate the burial place in Haifa of a number of soldiers of the army of Napoleon, scrattering at the same time the remains of a French admiral interred there, sent a cruiser which destroyed the consulate. The Ottoman authorities were given previous notice of the reason for the bombardment. No other buildings were hit."

SERIES OF GAINS AGAINST TURKS

French Official Report in Dardanelles' Operations Most Satisfactory.

BRILLIANT SUCCESSES

Fort Captured and Violent Counter-Attacks Repulsed With Loss.

PARIS, June 1.—There was given out in Paris this afternoon the following official report on the operations in the Dardanelles:

"The fighting has resolved itself for several days past into engagements over a limited area. These have taken place almost daily, and they all have come to an end with gains for the allied troops.

"On the western slope of the ravine of Kereves Dere a detachment of volunteers belonging to a colonial regiment captured by assault on Friday evening a fort which the enemy had built at the left end of his line and which dominated our trenches. Our men went forward with such speed that the defenders of this fort, taken by surprise, fled without making any resistance. Two counter-attacks delivered by the Turks in large numbers, the purpose of which was to recapture the fort in question, were repulsed by us, and the enemy suffered heavy losses.

"The British troops also won a brilliant success in repulsing a violent assault near Gaba Tepe."

U. S. NOW REALIZES GERMANY IS FIRM

Tageblatt's Naval Expert Gloats Over Tenor of Berlin's Note.

WRATH WILL COOL

U.S. Will Take Calmer View Later on, is Complacent Prediction.

BERLIN, June 1.—(Via London).—Captain Persius, the naval expert of The Berliner Tageblatt, in an article today expresses thoro approval of the tone of Germany's reply to the United States Government concerning Germany's submarine warfare.

The reply, says Captain Persius, while completely friendly, leaves no doubt of Germany's firm determination to continue her submarine warfare unless Great Britain returns to the principles of the London declaration. He placed the American Government on the defensive to answer for "the criminal light-mindedness" which allowed its citizens to sail on a steamer carrying ammunition and exposed to the attacks of German submarines.

Captain Persius says Germany will see what defence the Washington administration has to offer and how it justifies the port authorities against the charges which are contained, and only thinly veiled, in the communication. The attempt to pass the responsibility on to Germany, the writer says, is on old device of those whose consciences are now shattered on Germany's firm reply.

In conclusion Captain Persius says: "Time will pass and the opportunity will be given for cooler consideration of the Lusitania case. The crisis of horror over American women and children will die down and I hope the views of peaceful neutral persons will gain the upper hand."

WENT FROM TRENCHES TO BRING BACK FOOD

Sergt. Tweddle Performed Brave Act and is Heartily Thanked for It.

The following letter was sent to Sergeant James Tweddle, 15th Battalion, 48th Highlanders, first Canadian contingent, and forwarded by him to his wife in Toronto for safe keeping: "Tregarthen, Victor Drive, Leigh-on-Sea, Essex, England, March 6. Dear Mr. Tweddle, will you please accept enclosed as a token that you are not forgotten in spite of your being so far from home. We think a lot of you I assure you, coming so far away to fight for the old country.

"I have also given your address to a friend in London, hoping you will receive parcel safely.

"With kindest regards and good luck from a Westminister parent who asked for your address on account of your going out of the trenches to fetch provisions for the officers."

(Signed) Mrs. Causdell.

Sargent Tweddle went out from the trenches under fire to purcure provisions for the officers and men at the risk of his life.

An Easy Way to Get Fat and Be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This master-stroke of modern chemistry is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through its regenerative, reconstructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every starved, broken-down cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Your druggist has it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

Caution:—While Sargol has given excellent results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles it should not be taken by those who do not wish to gain ten pounds or more.

LONDON BELIEVES U. S. A. WILL FIGHT

German Answer to Protest of President Wilson Considered Wholly Unsatisfactory.

MORE ATTACKS LIKELY

No Inclination Shown Towards Cessation of Teuton Submarine Policy.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

LONDON, June 1.—The crisis between America and Germany has become ascendant. It stands above all other war problems. Many believe America almost certainly will engage in the war. Germany's response is generally considered wholly unsatisfactory to America, not giving an adequate reply to America's specified demands. America's course is watched with the intensest interest. It is believed that even should America now go no further than the severance of diplomatic relations it will only be a short time before there are further outrages affecting Americans, just as the Lusitania's sinking did. Germany's recent actions as well as the note she now sends indicate no inclination towards a cessation of her submarine policy nor a modification which would bring protection to neutrals.

Today's Outrage.

Today news is published of the sinking of the steamer Dixiana, which, while under British registry, is said to be owned by the Strathan Steamship Company of Savannah. Several members of the Dixiana's crew were Americans. It was confirmed in official circles today that a submarine chased the outward bound Megantic, on which there were several American passengers. Lieut.-Commander McBride, naval attache to the American embassy, is returning tonight from Liverpool with full reports on the Nebraskan, which has been drydocked. It is understood that the evidence is still all in the direction of a torpedo. The hole in the ship, which is large, is about thirty feet from the bow. The centre of the hole is about 15 feet below the waterline. Recent experiments have shown that ships will not contact floating mines unless they hit them with the stem, otherwise the wash of the ship sweeps the mine outwards. The mine must come back in, but if so it would strike well aft not forward, where the Nebraskan was injured.

German Lies Disproved.

Germany's claims that the Lusitania was armed are absolutely denied here. It is stated that she was unarmed, nor did she carry Canadian troops. Germany's whole case is considered fallacious and it is not generally anticipated that the American Government will be swerved from its original demands for guarantees of the safety of American lives.

In response to Germany's suggestions that England is responsible for the blockade, it is stated, as time and again before, that Germany started it. Its declared facts show that the British reprisals establishing a blockade against Germany only followed Germany's inception of her submarine warfare.

The comment of a dozen American papers condemning the German note was published in the evening papers, mostly under flaring headlines, while newspaper banners thruout the streets bore the notices: "Grave Crisis, America vs. Germany." "German Defiance of America," etc.

New Form of Diplomacy.

The Evening Standard says that Germany has discovered a new form of diplomacy. This consists in glaring misstatements, so readily capable of disproof as scarcely to be worth the trouble of refutation. The note to America declares that the Lusitania had guns concealed under her deck and carried trained gunners. Apart from any other evidence to the contrary, President Wilson is not likely to accept this in the face of the official statement of the collector of the port of New York, that no guns, mounted or otherwise, were on board. It is possible that Germany thinks to succeed in a gigantic game of bluff, but that only indicates the measure of her self-deception. Further, all this is beside the mark so far as America is concerned. When Washington wants to discuss submarine attacks on neutral vessels on the plane of high international policy, Berlin replies by arguments on technicalities.

ITALIANS CHECKED BY RAIN AND FOG

Operations in Adige Valley Retarded After Solid Gains Made.

BIG PLATEAU IS HELD

Italians Masters of Lavorone — Austrians Realize Trent's Peril.

VERONA, Italy, June 1, via Paris.—Rainstorms and fog are preventing a rapid development of Italian operations against the Austrian positions in the Adige Valley. Some Alpine detachments and two regiments of Bersaglieri have been exposed to the weather, soaked thru, for 50 hours without the possibility of going into camp.

Long range cannon are now being transported by the Italians towards the two points to be occupied, one of which is within seven miles of Rovereto.

Occupy High Plateau.

The whole high plateau of Lavorone now is in the hands of the Italian troops, who are threatening to take the Austrian City of Trent from behind along the Flemme Railway.

The Austrian authorities evidently realize the danger threatening Trent because they have ordered the evacuation of all persons and institutions considered "useful." Included in this category are judges and law courts, which are being transferred to Mezolombarde, a village some ten miles further to the north.

FORTS SMASHED BY ITALIAN GUNS

Austrians Fired on Comrades Who Hoisted the White Flag.

CIMA SPESSA TAKEN

Dominating Position Falls Into Hands of Italian Invaders.

BY MARTIN DONOHUE.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

ROME, June 1.—Marked progress continues to characterize the operations of the Italian armies. Fighting in Guidicaria Valley has enabled the Italians to press forward steadily despite the enemy's opposition. The Italian occupation of the important position of Cima Spessa, which is within artillery range of Storto gives them dominance in this part of Chiesse Valley.

From the high plateau of Asiag Italian heavy guns have reduced to powder several modern Austrian forts, built to protect this section of the frontier. It took only three hours' firing to batter to pieces the armored forts at Luserna, and the survivors of the Austrian garrison, realizing the futility of their resistance, posted a white flag in token of surrender.

Immediately this happened a second fort, known as Belvedere, forming one of the chain of fortified works on the frontier, opened fire on the survivors of Fort Luserna, and the several luckless Austrian gunners in the already dismantled fort of Luserna were killed by enfilading fire fro mthe Belvedere. Ultimately the Italians turned their guns on Belvedere, which was temporarily silenced.

Heap of Ruins.

Italians were then able to take possession of Luserna and make prisoners of surviving Austrians. The redoubts of Fort Venzia, in the same zone, after a terrific bombardment, in which a number of Italian guns concentrated their fire, were demolished. This fort as well as others which form supporting links was smothered with the heavy fire of Italian guns and is now a heap of ruins. The Belvedere is still holding out, but its reduction and destruction are simply a matter of a few hours. Thruout the day it has been subjected to a severe bombardment.

On the Friul frontier for some time the Austrians have been engaged in strengthening their positions. On the left bank of the Isonzo they threw up numerous works dominating all the passages of the river. Their armaments here are principally bronze guns of medium calibre. They have also extensive defensive works thrown forward to protect the Gorizia. The river is swollen with heavy rains, rendering even the shallower parts unfordable. Italian artillery has been engaged in bombarding these enemy defences. During the last two days the Austrian fire has perceptibly grown feebler. A number of their guns have been put out of action. Thruout today the Italians have rained shells upon the Austrian forts and other works on the bank of the Isonzo have been subjected to a very destructive fire. It is assumed the enemy's losses are heavy. The first batch of Austrian prisoners from Trentino and elsewhere arrived during the week-end at Bracciano, halfway between Viterbo and Rome. They for the most part belong to Landsturm. They seemed old, famished and physically broken.

Clean Out Your Own Heart As You Clean the House

By WINIFRED BLACK

Copyright, 1915, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Winifred Black

IT'S house-cleaning time—let's clean house.

Where shall we begin—the attic or the cellar?

The attic, that's the practical efficiency. How are you going to keep the lower floors clean if you sweep down from the attic afterward? Come on, the print dress, the short sleeves, tie a handkerchief over your head. Wouf! How dusty it is up here!

Whoever set that old trunk right under the bad spot in the roof? I thought I told some one to keep that window at the end of the attic down an inch or two, except when it was raining. I don't believe there's been a breath of air in the place since we had the attic dance at Christmas.

Here are some of the decorations. What fools the girls did make of themselves over the mistletoe. Here it hangs, dried up and dusty. Well, it did mischief enough, anyhow.

It lured the Thompson boy to kiss the Nelson girl, and then he thought he was in love with her and she thought she was in love with him, and they're going to be married in June, unless somebody gets out an injunction and stops it, and they're about as much fitted to each other as an Angora cat and an Irish terrier. I wonder how long it will last—that marriage? And yet, perhaps, nature and the mistletoe know better than we do.

Well, time will tell. Here's the paper cap the Man from Nowhere drew at forfeits. What a dunce he did look in it.

Poor Man from Nowhere, he went across the sea to fight for his country. I wonder what sort of cap he's wearing now, and how much he'd give to be back here in the old attic with his paper cap on?

Joy-Room Only.

Well, of all things! Here's the angel from the top of the Christmas tree, down here behind this box, and we hunted high and low for it.

Come, angel, I'll set you on the window ledge in the spring sunshine, and when we go downstairs I'll wash your face, and then you shall be a nice, clean angel again.

Whose old coat is this? Why, it's the young preacher's. He left it here to be given to the tramp, and the tramp never came.

What a good soul he was—the preacher—till he went crazy over moving pictures and decided that he wanted to be an actor. I wonder how he's doing, out in movie town?

And there, strangely enough, is the picture the old preacher's mother-in-law sent us for a Christmas present. Every time she comes to visit we take it down and hang it in the living room. How can people buy such atrocities?

What a blessing to the world he is—the old preacher. Why, the very air is better for blowing on him. I'll sit down and write to him tomorrow and tell him how much he, and what he is, have meant to me all my life.

Look at this row of empty bottles. There's Johnny's croup medicine. How did we ever live through that time? I remember thinking that if I ever got time for a whole hour's sleep at once I'd never ask for another thing on earth. There's the cough mixture, and here's the grippe remedy. How different the world looks when you don't have the grippe!

What's this old, moth-eaten rug doing up here? Throw it out, and get room for something worth while. Who on earth is that done in charcoal and framed in gilt? Somebody's relation, I suppose. Nobody but a relation could be as hideous as that. And look at the old books with the covers off, and not a word worth reading in one of them.

"Friendship's Garland" and "Nature Lovers' Manual," and here's the little volume the poet's friends had published for him. Poor poet, he never published another line, thank goodness!

The Attic Souvenirs.

Oh! Here's an old hymn book! "How Firm a Foundation"—I shall never hear that again without listening to the wind in the poplar trees outside the little old church where I first heard that hymn. "Come, Ye Disconsolate," "Flee as a Bird"—how mournful they all are, the old hymns. Is it never religious to be happy?

Sweep, sweep, brush, brush! Throw up all the windows, open all the doors. There, the attic's clean again!

What a view there is from this dormer window. Why don't we ever come up here and enjoy it? Too busy downstairs making curtains to shut out the view from every window, I suppose. The next time it rains I'm going to come up here and bring an apple and a book of fairy stories and curl up in the dormer window and play I'm a little girl again.

The second floor—wouf! Here's the dust again. Why, how on earth did it all get under those rugs? Empty out the closets. I thought I gave this old dress away. No, I hung on to it on account of the collar, and just to be stingy. Hang it on the banisters, I'll give it to somebody today just to spite myself.

What a fright of a hat, and what a sight I must have been in it! The girl who sold me that hat is surely an efficiency expert somewhere by this time. I had no more right to wear it than a Presbyterian deacon has to wear an Indian war bonnet and then wonder why people stare at him.

I always did love this little blue gown. I never put it on that I didn't have a good time in it. Yes, I suppose it is faded, I know it's old-fashioned, but I'm not going to let that go—I couldn't—it has meant so much to me!

The first floor—the library—I won't dare to go in there. I'll not do another thing today if I do!

Who's mixed the Dickens set all up? Where's that other Stevenson gone? If I could catch the miscreant who borrowed the "Wind in the Willows" and never brought it back—I told you I'd better keep out of here!

Here's the little breakfast room where we had our first quarrel. I wish it had been our last, and yet there's something rather interesting in a quarrel—when you have the right sort of making up.

I hate those green curtains. I've been trying to get them down for months. Yank! Down they are, and up they shall never go again. They give me the blues and make me look a thousand years old, and I can save money on something else and buy a new pair. I always did love this vase, round and oval and circle. There's always something beautiful about a completed circle. It seems to mean something mysterious somehow, and yet so simple.

The dining room—what fun we've had here! How many gay suppers and pleasant dinners and cosey breakfasts! Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Stetson Gilman, if you ever succeed in making the whole country eat in public dining rooms you will have committed the unpardonable sin.

The kitchen, the cellar—all done. Whew! What a day's work, and how well worth the doing!

My mind has had a house-cleaning, too, and my heart. Out envy, out of the window, old grievances. Blow into dark places and musty, oh, wind of joyous hope and happy vision! There's no room anywhere for anything but health and joy and happiness today.

I've been house-cleaning!

THIS CROWDED WORLD :: By Michelson

THERE is so much to be said that can't be said when any one else is near that you may fancy how crowded the world seems to those who want to do the saying. Really you couldn't blame any one who followed the example of the birds and sought the refuge of a tree, away from the hubbub of life. There would be something tremendously romantic about it; that is, if you could manage to forget the difficulties of getting into your hiding place. But then, to get your romance you DO have to forget difficulties. Think of all the difficulties romance USED to have! Once everything really romantic had to be stolen. Surely the way is much smoother nowadays than it was once upon a time. The great thing is to know when you are well off.

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By LEONA DALRYMPLE

Author of the new novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as judges.

At the Tennis Club.

LEONA DALRYMPLE

MRS. KAYES, whose guests we were, met us in the corridor of the club. She was exquisitely gowned.

"I'm so glad you could come," she said sweetly. "And you, too, Mr. Hunt. My, how very warm you do look. And hear the rain, it's fairly coming down in gusts."

The tennis club was ablaze with lights. Music floated from a long room at the side where people were dancing in spite of the heat. I glanced once at their flushed faces and made a resolution or two about not overexerting myself. Mary rustled off with Mrs. Kayes.

Billiards More Attractive.

I suppose I was irritable and indifferent. I suppose I was open to blame, but when I met a man who asked me to smoke and play billiards I found it infinitely more attractive than the notion of dancing. And it was cooler in the billiard room, though Dix suggested humorously that it was merely the result of green shades and a generally cool color scheme.

A terrific thunder shower was raging outside. The rain came in, and we had to close the windows. Nevertheless it did seem cooler here than off among those lights and flowers and music and whirling dancers. I glanced through the doorway at the dancers several times, saw that Mary was enjoying herself, and returned to the billiard table. I lost, of course. It was of a piece with the rest of the night's happenings. It was plainly not one of my good nights. Halfway through the evening I changed my collar and went in to dance with Mary.

A "Dancing Man."

She was sweetly frosty.

"What on earth is the matter?" I demanded.

"Nothing," said Mary.

Which meant, of course, that there was.

"Come over here by this window," I insisted, "where it's cool, and tell me what it's all about."

Mary hummed and inspected the sodden tennis courts outside the window.

"Mr. Kayes is a devoted husband, isn't he?" she asked.

"Is he?"

"Dear, yes. He's been in there dancing, and he doesn't like dancing at all, just to please his wife."

"Beautiful!" I applauded.

"Don't be sarcastic."

"I'm not. It is beautiful."

"You'd rather walk miles and miles and miles on a hot night poking a stick at silly little balls and likely losing."

I felt somewhat at a loss for a proper retort. I had lost, and I did not feel that it would be altogether consistent with a dignified stand to admit it.

"But," went on Mary with a sigh, "I've had a pleasant time in spite of everything, thanks to that charming Mr. Speagan over there."

"Don't like his looks."

"I don't think that would worry him."

"He looks too pink and immaculate; in short, like a dancing man."

"He is a dancing man. He dances divinely. Ever so much better than the men I usually dance with who walk all over one's feet and——"

"Help!"

"You don't need help to walk over one's feet," said Mary, with a sniff, "you do it most efficiently without assistance."

Mary scored. I went back to billiards.

A BRIDE'S OWN STORY of Her Household Adventures

By ISOBEL BRANDS

Cutting Gas Costs by Boiling Food in the Oven While Baking.

MY kitchen is usually at a very comfortable temperature, first because two opposite windows permit a good cross current of fresh air, and secondly because I never have the entire stove going in full force. I always try to have the same kind of cooking for the one meal; that is to say, if I'm preparing a roast I bake the vegetables and plan a baked dessert, and if I decide on one boiled dish I try to plan everything else to be cooked on top of the oven so that I don't have two or three different kinds of cooking to do, and more than one kind of fuel going at the same time.

However, I find that one can't always have her cooking convenient at the price of serving a monotonous meal. Also, if you want to be economical and use a left-over in appetizing fashion you must be a little more generous in the fuel and time used in preparation.

For all of which reasons I cheerfully decided on having for our evening menu:

Fricaseed veal
Creamed turnips. Baked tomatoes stuffed
Deep dish pineapple pie

Had I been foresighted I would have realized that this meant three different kinds of cooking—boiling, sauteing and baking; also two different kinds of fuel and three separate gas burners going. But the particular value of this meal, as I saw it, outside of its high nutritive value, was that it was an economical as well as a good dinner. There was some excellent leftover raw veal, a lot of breadcrumbs from preceding days to be used in tomato stuffing, also several slices of pineapple left over from the can; for two of us can never finish an entire can of pineapple at one meal.

But only when I had actually started everything cooking did I realize that it wasn't a wise selection from a fuel standpoint. My kitchen soon became hot and stuffy from the unusual amount of heat in the stove. And then suddenly I remembered what Aunt Juliette had once told me—that you didn't need to have another fuel burning when you were baking; that you can boil as well inside the stove as on top.

I'd never had occasion to try the plan before. But no sooner did the thought come back to me than into the stove I put the saucepan with the boiling turnips and the veal, and in a minute everything was cooking cheerily inside the oven. The result was two burners less used in the stove, the kitchen less hot, and much less gas consumed. And everything cooked as quickly and as perfectly as if I'd done it in the ordinary way on top of the stove.

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a young girl of 19, and do not believe that there is such a thing as love. I have always felt that I would marry for money only, whether the man be young or old. My sister, who is older than myself, and to whom I have often spoken on this subject, thinks I am very wrong.

Will you please advise me, as I have the offer of a very wealthy marriage, and think it a joke that my parents are so much opposed to it on account of the lack of love on my side. DOTTIE.

A JOKE, my dear Dottie! It is far from a joke, and one of the saddest letters I have received in many a day is yours. Marriage without love is foredoomed to failure and heartbreak. All the money in all the world cannot bring happiness where love is lacking.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am very much in love with a young man who comes to see my sister. He is always asking me to stay with them when I am around, although I try to avoid seeing him. And when I am with them he never talks to my sister.

I love my sister very dearly, and do not like to practically steal him from her, which I could very easily do. I don't want to be selfish. Please, dear Annie Laurie, tell me what I should do. R. L. G.

R. L. G.: Don't be too sure about what you can do, nor what the young man thinks of you. I'd stay out of it all, and make my own friends. In the long days to come you'll be glad that you did not give your sister even a moment's sorrow. All the rest may pass out of your life and your sister remain, and if you seal that friendship now by being loyal to her I'm almost sure you'll be thankful always.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I have only been in the city a few weeks, and have not yet kept steady company with any young man, but have been out to several parties with different ones. Two or three have declared that it is the custom here to kiss a girl good-by when leaving her at her door after a party. Please tell me if this is so?

A STRANGER.

OH, Stranger in a strange town, don't let the boys tease you about the customs here. They're just the same as everywhere else, and it is generally considered better in every way to be a little wary of "Familiarity." Ever since the world began she's been noted for being a busy importer of the troubles that come from the city of "Contempt."

Secrets of Health and Happiness

What Pimples and Rashes Disclose to Your Doctor

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University).

DR. HIRSHBERG.

HE who is pure of skin is almost a demi-god of creation. The fatal gift of beauty is never a mortal blow to the possessors, but to those who look upon it. A lovely skin is a divine stamp of health.

Beauty, however, is such a soft, smooth, slippery thing that it may escape the body as easily as does the soul, which it permeates. A fair skin is like the Hesperian tree, laden with blooming gold. It has need for a guard of dragon watchmen with unenchanted eyes to save the blossoms and defend the fruits.

When your skin ceases to be a thing of beauty be not content to say that it is "broken out" or "weather beaten," but call your physician's attention to much more than its shape, hue, color and appearance.

Concentrate his study upon the eruption, its origin, the extent and mode of its distribution, whether the odd blotches are separate or grouped, fused or tinted in bizarre pigments.

Does it itch? Emphasize that it does not. If you scratch the hardened or pointed blebs or pimples what type of mark is left? Has there been any general or internal signs of trouble associated with or precedent to the skin manifestations?

Are blisters, scabs, crusts, whitish, pink, purplish or copper-colored areas present? If so, to what area is it limited?

The Lessons in Rashes.

Invariably the observant and alert epidermal student recognizes that many maladies of the outer integument begin in particular neighborhoods. Psoriasis is prone to arise on the elbows and knees and externally faced spots.

Dandruff and seborrhoeic eczema, so-called, prefers the scalp, eyebrows and chest. The transformation or unchanged appearance of a fleshy eruption often indicates what it is. The rashes from foods such as shell fish, berries, tomatoes and fruits—protein "Anaphylaxis" or food susceptibilities—are characterized by diverse transformations from hives to tough little hillocks.

The symmetry of a skin rash, whether isolated, grouped or spread about haphazard, leads the experienced physician to decide whether you have the shingles or the pimples. A false and foolish superstition impossible to uproot, makes most people believe erroneously that when shingles meet in the middle line death results. Although shingles never kills, no matter where or how it asserts itself, men and women cannot rid themselves of this nonsense.

Local and Other Causes.

Symmetry of any skin trouble means that local causes are only secondary. Drugs, foods, fevers, blood ailments, infectious germs and nutritional disorders are then the primal cause. On the other hand, shingles, ringworm, the itch bug, gangrene and many other non-symmetrical eruptions have their causes in the limited activities of moulds, microbes or mortifying negligence.

Plainly, a study of the direction in which a rash spreads gives the doctor accurate knowledge. Ringworms extend from the outer edge and fade away at the centre. Barber's itch and dandruff do likewise.

Brownish crusts usually mean that there was a soft, watery eruption which dried and caked. Each stain, scab and scar bears honest testimony for eyes that run and read. The healed patch conveys much information—if thoroughly described—and the irritation at its height carries even more.

Wheals, crusts, craters, peaks, thickened hillocks, copper tints, burnings, itchings, wavy edges, sharp margins, scratches, pus, blood marks, subcutaneous discolorations and raised areas all cry out in the wilderness of skin affections to be correctly diagnosed instead of being blithly called "pimples" or "sores." Blood tests, chemistry and the microscope must not be forgotten, nor the fact that ninety-nine in the hundred get well.

Answers to Health Questions

G. C. S.—Q—I have been suffering with bleeding piles for about two years. Can you tell me of a remedy that will cure me?

A—Take five grains each of hexamethylenamine and citrate of soda in a glassful of water every four hours. Apply to the piles, adrenalin ointment and resinol ointment, half and half.

* * *

H. D. M.—Q—I am suffering with a pain on my right side. If I ride on my wheel or start to run this pain comes with every breath. What shall I do?

A—Such pains follow overexertion, excesses and constipation. If due to too much exercise it means a slightly dilated heart. Take one teaspoonful of compound syrup of hypophosphites in water before meals.

* * *

Mrs. E. O.—Q—I have floating specks before my eyes, hot flashes, and a feeling of weakness, headaches and gas on my stomach. What treatment do you advise?

A—Eat more green vegetables, spinach, carrots, oranges, apples, dates, figs, prunes, currants, clear soups, fish, poultry, game, whey, buttermilk, oatmeal, shredded wheat, cereals, and drink three quarts of distilled water and a pure carbonated water daily, also olive oil, and take a Bulgaria tablet with your meals. Avoid tea, coffee, seasoned greases and constipation, and take from five to ten grains of either ox bile, ox gall or bile salts after meals and several hours' active exercise.

* * *

K. E. W.—Q—1—What causes dark circles under the eyes, and also the eyelids to turn very dark? What will remedy this?

2—Can you prescribe something for reducing the hips?

3—What effect upon the system has lemon juice taken every morning in a glass of cold water?

A—1—A common cause is an oily skin that collects the dust and works it down in those particular prominent places. Massage with peroxide cream and use the peroxide wash to bleach them. They are also due to some internal causes, such as taking of drugs, lack of fresh air, and a more important one, loss of sleep and late hours.

2—Rolling exercises and all forms of gymnastics will reduce the hips.

3—Lemon juice is a good food, and helps to make up lost tissues the same as many other foods. It is slightly laxative, but has no especial virtues above those of other good foods.

Three Minute Journeys

By Temple Manning

WHERE BAREFOOT MEN CLIMB LADDERS OF KNIVES.

AMONG all people vicarious sacrifice has ever been considered man's greatest deed for his fellow-man, but it remained for the Chinese to accomplish all the outward show and gain all the glory and escape unharmed.

It was in the Federated Malay States, near the mining town of Taiping where I saw the last, lingering rite that still exists among the Chinese for the purpose of suffering pain to atone for the sins of others. Several instruments of torture were in evidence—the horrible spiked wooden bed with its nail-studded pillow, the chair whose seat and back and arms were made of sharp knives, and the ladders of keen-edged sabres and reaping hooks. It was up the last named that I saw a Chinaman slowly climb.

There were 24 rungs. First two hens were sacrificed, and then the self-appointed intercessor for his people knelt, and the soles of his bare feet were annointed by the Chinese priest. Then the priest tossed up two lozenge-shaped pieces of wood into the air until in falling they lay in a position considered propitious to the event.

The kneeling man immediately arose, and setting his bare foot on the first rung, slowly and carefully climbed up to the next rung. From one keen-edged knife to another he crept up the ladder while the awe-struck crowd below watched him slowly go up to a little platform fixed at the top. There he sat down for nearly an hour, alternately blowing a silver trumpet and praying for the kneeling people below.

Up the Reaping Hook Ladder.

Then, while crackers exploded and the women burned incense and imitation money, the man came slowly down the ladder of blades. Whatever may have been the trick employed, the climber stepped upon the ground unharmed. The soles of his feet were as whole and unscratched as when he had begun the ascent. That the blades were as sharp as razors I can vouch, but what the trick of the ascent was I never learned.

STOPS FALLING HAIR

This Home Made Mixture Stops Dandruff and Falling Hair and Aids Its Growth.

To a half pint of water add:

Bay Rum ..... 1 oz.
Orlex Compound ..... a small box
Glycerine ..... ¼ oz.

These are all simple ingredients that you can buy from any druggist at very little cost, and mix them yourself. Apply to the scalp once a day for two weeks, then once every other week until all the mixture is used. A half pint should be enough to rid the head of drandruff and kill the dandruff germs. It stops the hair from falling out, and relieves itching and scalp diseases.

Although it is not a dye, it acts upon the hair roots and will darken streaked, faded gray hair in ten or fifteen days. It promotes the growth of the hair and makes harsh hair soft and glossy.

LIEUT. McKINLAY COMING HOME

Lieut. J. Murray McKinlay of the 4th Battalion, who is recovering from wounds he received early in the battle of Langemarck, has been granted a month's leave of absence. He cabled his mother, Mrs. M. McKinlay of 16 Brunswick avenue, Toronto, saying that he is coming home to spend a few days with her.

Because

The obedience of children is often made difficult by parental uncertainty It is sometimes forgotten that obedience is a virtue for which the co-operation of two-persons is essential; one to give the orders, the other to carry them out. The initial condition is a judicious, firm and well-considered giving of orders. Nothing is so demoralizing to a gang of workmen or to a band of soldiers as a series of hasty, ill-advised and contradictory commands. With all the willingness in the world the sense of distrust which is thus awakened suggests disobedience.

The trouble with many children who seem not to know how to obey is that their parents do not know how to command. The orders are given hastily and changed readily on petition. Even an unwillingness to obey is made sufficient reason for withdrawing the injunction. Some of the discipline of young children is as foolish as the mother who says in answer to the question "why?" "Because! And you know Johnny, that when mother says 'because' she always means 'because!'" The child quickly perceives that the parental discipline has no more sense in it than that. The disobedience which onsues is a fair expression of distrust. Obedience begins with respect. But respect is forfeited when it is made plain that the commands are not intelligently given.

GERMANS RESTRICT MEALS AT HOTELS

Police Order Spare Serving of Roast Meat and Potatoes.

BERNE, June 1.—As a result of certain Berlin hotels and restaurants having been too lavish with food for the public the police authorities jointly with the Berlin Hotels and Restaurant Association, have decreed that from tomorrow no regular luncheon or dinner menus shall be drawn up, but that everything shall be served a la carte. Vegetables will be served lavishly, but roast meat sparingly, while portions of potatoes must be reduced to absolutely a minimum. It has also been decided that neutral newspapers, not pro-German, shall be excluded from the restaurants and hotels. Already a certain number of rich Germans have rented Swiss villas or gone to Swiss hotels owing to the badness of the German war bread.

Comfort and Cure for Baby's Skin Troubles

Dr. Chase's Ointment Cured When Baby's Body Was Covered With Distressing Eczema.

If every mother could try Dr. Chase's Ointment for the chafing, skin irritation and resulting eczema which tortures so many babies, what a blessing it would be for the little ones.

This letter will give you an idea of what a wonderful work this Ointment is doing in the way of bringing comfort to children who are so unfortunate as to contract eczema. It is so easy for this trouble to develop from chafing or irritation caused by the clothing, and so difficult to get it cured, that Dr. Chase's Ointment is appreciated when once its healing qualities are known.

Mr. M. L. Duclos, Postmaster, Dugnayville, N. B., writes: "I believe it is my duty to recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for eczema. My baby was seized with eczema and his face and arms were covered with this terrible disease. After trying all sorts of ointments the disease continued to spread until it covered the entire body. When the itching became bad he would scratch himself and was sometimes found in his cradle covered with blood. Hearing about Dr. Chase's Ointment I bought two boxes and before this was all used the child was cured. That was a year ago, and there has been no trace of eczema since. I recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment to all who suffer from eczema as being the best treatment in the world for itching skin diseases."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is for sale by all dealers at 60 cents a box. It is a good idea to keep it at hand along with the bath soap to be used for roughness of the skin, chafing or irritation. Prevention is so much better than cure. Powders clog the pores, but Dr. Chase's Ointment cleanses the pores and thereby keeps the skin soft and smooth. Sample box free if you mention this paper. FURS IN SUMMER BECOMING A FAD

White Fox Will Be Worn During the Warm Weather.

FUR TRIMMED SUITS

Will Be Popular With Ruffs of Feather and Marabout.

Fur is to be worn in Toronto this summer. For the past few weeks enterprising devotees have sauntered forth on breezy afternoons in charming tailor-mades of faultless cut—and the summer fur. White fox promises to monopolize the place of honor for a few weeks at least and already many formal functions, gay garden parties and open air lawn bazaars have been attended by fashionably-dressed women wearing handsome stoles of this attractive white fur.

There are a number of popular designs in neck pieces. A dainty round collar-like throw, fastened on the left shoulder with rosettes and smart streamers of white satin ribbon, and a number of stylish little models boast ties and bows at both ends, which when knotted cross in a becoming low "v" line.

A decidedly stunning tailleur recently seen was fashioned of a pronounced black and white shepherd's check, exploiting a plain short circular skirt and a high belted coat, introducing several Norfolk features. The deep cuff bands were of white fox, fastened on the outer seam of the sleeve with novelty black and white buttons. A modish neck piece which fastened at the back was worn and the black and white effect was further maintained by the chic little torpedo hat in black with white wings, the black and white side laced oxfords and the swirl striped sunshade.

TROUBLE STARTED ON BOARD SHIP

Well-Known New Brunswick Man Fell in a Faint.

Suffered for Years Afterwards But Finally Found Relief and Permanent Cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

MELROSE, Westmoreland Co., N.B., June 1.—(Special).—R. S. Clarke-Lewin, a member of a well-known New Brunswick family, has made a statement for publication which deals with his cure of a very complicated case of Kidney Disease by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"The first intimation I had of Kidney trouble occurred while on board the steamship on my return from England fourteen years ago when I fell in a faint on the floor.

"After my arrival at St. John my health became poor and I lost 30 pounds in weight. Year after year I became weaker. I suffered from heart trouble and nervousness and I became irritable and dyspeptic. My sight troubled me and my walk was unsteady as I suffered from dizziness.

"Reading a circular led me to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets about June, 1913, and my improvement began at once. My strength came back in my legs, the dizziness left me, my bowels became regular, and by New Year's, 1915, I claimed I was cured of Diabetes.

"I would not be without the Dodd's Medicines on any account."

MORE MEN TAKEN OFF.

More men were laid off by the Toronto Street Railway yesterday. On the Winchester, Broadview and Parliament lines 30 men in all were taken off. So far 130 car operators or 65 crews have been relieved of duty since the decision was reached to cut down. The routes previously affected were in the west end of the city.

BIG TOURIST YEAR.

Railway officials are preparing to handle a large tourist traffic this summer, especially from the United States. An official statement yesterday was to the effect that all summer resorts in Ontario have been filled up for some time, with applications for reservations.

ENCOURAGING OUTLOOK.

Passenger and freight traffic in the steamboat line is picking up according to a statement given out by a well-known steamship official. Managers of the freight fleet expect business in the months of June, July and August to be much better than previous years. All the officials interviewed entertain an encouraging outlook for this year's business.

Marsh Marigold
Caltha Palustris.

Altho caltha palustris is usually known to wild flower lovers by its everday name, marsh marigold, yet strange to say, this plant is not a marigold. Nor is it a cowslip, altho called by many country folk the syamp cowslip.

You will find marsh marigold growing in swampy places, in low lying marshes, along the edges of cool ponds and the lushy banks of slow-flowing rivers, or in little back-eddying pools off from the main streams. Wherever shines the golden cup there you may be sure of water, or very moist land.

A stout, succulent herb, with tough, hollow stem aholding aloft great clumps of single ann often louble cups of buttercup—gois, glossy and shining waxy in the early morning sun of March, April and May, there is no other early wild flower of the swamps so beloved of the children.

The blossoms of the plant are so beautiful, altho so large that a closer study will well repay the casual passerby. From two to four inches across, they are borne in loose terminal clusters of from 10 to 12 or 15, on the rather thick light-green blossom stem, standing all of ten inches above the rest of the plant.

Long ago our Indians described this golden blossom as the "Flower that blossoms in the cool swamps," calling it "Onondaga." It has been claimed for many hundred years that this samie plant is the "kingcup" immortalized by English poets both modern and ancient. Under this name, however, we Canadians do not know it. To us the marsh marigold is the marsh marigold.

The delightful thing about the plant is that it can be brought in from the swamps with almost no trouble and transferred to your own water garden with ease. Given a quiet spot with plenty of still water, some slushy soil in which to grow its sprawly roots, and a ray or two of sun occasionally, and marsh marigold asks no better fate, whether diving in the still recesses of a shady copse or in a manufactured lily pool, tho it be made out of an ordinary everyday wooden tub. No water garden can pretend to be a water garden without a clump of wild marsh marigolds, so hie you out to the swamps some day soon and commence your lily pool by bringing to it a healthy cluster of these homely aquatics.

Tomorrow we shall speak of the arrowhead, a wild swamp flower that grows in hundreds almost everywhere in Canada, and is a valuable addition to your little flower pool.

J. C., Galt—Many thanks for your kind words. We do try to be as much of a help to others as this department can. Now we have the aquatic you mention on our list for a special article in this series. I am glad you are able to tell me that your specimen brought in last year, after reading the articles in the "water garden series," grew, and is already getting ready to bloom this summer. It is always cheering to the readers of this column to have any of yourselves state definitely that they followed hints from this space, and reaped a certain success. It is an incentive for others to try anyway. Indeed, this column has been busy for many long months hinting to its readers that the beautiful things around us everywhere only need to be looked for with an appreciative eye. We all miss too many of the lovely things in nature.

TORONTO-OSHAWA ROAD CONFERENCE

Considerable Progress Made Towards Constructing New Highway.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

Macadam to York Boundary and Gravel Road Thence to Oshawa.

A large and representative gathering of the mayors, reeves and councillors of the various municipalities interested in the proposed Toronto-Oshawa road was present at a meeting held yesterday in the Whitby Town Hall, to discuss the report submitted by W. A. McLean, Ontario highway engineer, in connection with the improvement. Ex-Mayor Willis of Whitby occupied the chair and the speakers were the Hon. Finlay Macdiarmid, minister of public works; Mayor Church of Toronto, George S. Henry, M.L.A. for East York, Charles Calder, M.L.A., for South Ontario; J. G. Cornell, reeve of Scarboro, Engineer W. A. McLean and Aldermen Ramsden and Cameron of Toronto. Others present were Frank Roden and W. G. Robertson of the Ontario Motor League; Rebert Ormerod, deputy reeve of Scarboro; W. E. N. Sinclair, ex M.L.A., for South Ontario; Dr. Moore, Brooklin, Rev. H. D. Cameron, West Hill; and the members of the Ontario County Council, who are in session this week.

Will Classify Road.

The Hon. Finlay Macdiarmid briefly outlined the policy which the Ontario Government intends to follow out in connection with the building of good roads. "We are here to riscuss a concrete proposition," he said. "This proposition will be brought before you in the report which is to be submitted by Engineer McLean, which is now completed." Amid applause the minister of public works said that the good roads question had now established a firm hold in the minds of the public. The problem was a great one in the Province of Ontario, owing to the tremendous territory which has to be covered, the sparse population and the small assessment. In connection with the bill recently passed in the legislature, he said that it was the government's intention to classify roads under the headings: county or market roads, main roads and suburban roads (those leading directly out of the city thru the congested districts). They would agree to pay forty per cent. of these roads. Regarding the maintenance of the roads, he said that in the act was embodied a clause by which the government would be responsible for twenty per cent. of the cost of maintenance. Mr. Macdiarmid also made reference to the appointing of a supervisor for the roads, to whose salary the government will pay twenty-five per cent up to $600.

Urgently Needed.

George S. Henry, M.L.A., dealt with the urgent need of road improvement thruout the province and made special reference to the bad state of the Kingston road, easterly from West Hill to Oshawa, and urged the officials of the County of Ontario to take a more active interest in matters connected with the good roads movement. He also advocated the formation of a committee to work on the question this year. In conclusion Mr. Henry dealt with the work which had been accomplished by the York Highway Commission.

Mayor Church in a brief address referred to the way in which the townships were suffering thru lack of sufficient transportation, and the sad fate of the highway bill when it came before the senate. The defeat of the bill he said, delayed the development of a great system of inter-provincial highways thruout the Dominion. The City of Toronto he considered, had been a pioneer in the good roads movement and had always cheerfully co-operated with adjoining municipalities.

With regard to the highway under discussion, the mayor suggester that a joint engineers' commission be formed representative of the municipalities concerned and the provincial government to further consider the report of the engineer, and he was confident that an agreement satisfactory to all would result.

Well Satisfied.

Reeve J. G. Cornell of Scarboro stated that in his township they had had considerable experience in the construction of good roads under the direction of the York County Commission and the results had been very satisfactory. The value of property adjoining the improved highway had been very much enhanced.

Addresses were also made by Chas. Calder, M.L.A. for South Ontario, Aldermen Ramsden and Cameron of Toronto.

Engineer W. A. McLean in his report submitted nine types of pavement, but strongly recommended the following: "Macadamized road, similar to that constructed by the York County Commission, extended to Scarboro boundary, thence an improved gravel road to Oshawa. Oil or tar maintenance. Estimated cost, $237,000."

Referring to this type of road the report says:

"Having existing conditions in view, my recommendation would be, that the low cost improvement, as provided by estimate No. 9, be adopted, affording, as it does, good service for the probable traffic of the next ten years, and at a reasonable cost. The work as recommended consists of a substantial macadam road thru York County, where traffic is heaviest, and in Ontario County the plentiful local deposits of gravel would be used to reconstruct the existing gravel road. This improvement will have a definite value when, in the future, it is decided to lay a bituminous or concrete pavement. The grading, ditching and hill-cutting will be complete and the gravel and stone now placed in the road, if properly maintained, may be used as a foundation or in forming shoulders."

Division of Cost.

The division of cost will be as follows:

York County Commission, on basis of a suburban road	$ 80,000
Ontario County, 60 per cent. of Rouge River bridge	11,400
Provincial subsidy, 50 per cent. of balance	57,840
Toronto, 30 per cent. of balance	43,000
Pickering Township, 9.5 miles at $2200	20,900
West Whitby Township, 2 miles at $2200	4,400
East Whitby Township, 2.5 miles	5,500
Whitby Town, 2.5 miles, special assessment $1 per cap	2,500
Oshawa special assessment, ditto	8,000
Total	$237,420

In reply to the question, "Why did you not recommend the same type of road as that now under construction between Toronto and Hamilton?" Mr. McLean said that a road of that type was not necessary between Toronto and Oshawa. Toronto and Hamilton were both large cities, and the traffic would be much heavier than between Toronto and Oshawa.

The following resolutions were passed:

Resolutions Passed.

"That it is the opinion og this meeting that a public highway should be constructed from West Hill eastward to Oshawa, and that the said road should be constructed of macadam gravel, as described more fully in clause No. 9 of engineer's report, similar to the road in Scarboro Township, and that the cost be apportioned as per schedule attached, corrected as to Oshawa's portion."

"That we do hereby appoint a committee to wait upon the councils of the different municipalities interested in the building of the highway, with the view of obtaining a petition of the required three-fourths number of the municipalities thru which this road, or part thereof, is to be constructed, and that this committee proceed to complete this petition."

THINK WESTON PROPERTY IS ASSESSED TOO LOW

Council Contemplating a General Boost to Neighborhood of Real Value.

A special meeting of Weston Council was held Monday night to discuss the 1915 assessment roll, brought in by Assessor Arthur Mallaby. A court of revision has been advertised for June 15, but as a result of the conference the court may be postponed till a week or so later. A proposal to raise the assessment generally over the whole town was considered, it being advanced that the assessment was below the real value of the property. Last year's assessment was something over $1,600,000, while this year it is about $1,975,000.

C. F. Wacey, the municipal bread inspector, seized on Saturday a large quantity of lightweight bread, which will now be devoted to relief of distress in the town.

Horticultural Society.

At a special meeting last night of the Weston Horticultural Society, it was decided to hold a show of iris, peonies and columbines on June 18 in the town hall, and that a separate rose show should be held later on. For the June show prizes will be awarded for two classes in each variety of flower, three prizes to be given in each class. A special prize will also be given for the best individual flower shown by any member and not included in the general classes. T. D. Dockray, director of District No. 4, Ontario Horticultural Association, will act as judge.

FAIRBANK

A large congregation was present in the Fairbank Presbyterian Church on Sabbath morning, when D. Campbell was inducted as elder, and Alex. Gray was ordained and inducted to the same office. The pastor, Rev. T. A. Watson, was assisted by the Rev. Prof. Kilpatrick of Knox College, who preached a very practical and soul-stirring sermon.

EAST YORK MEETING.

A special meeting of the East York Federal Conservative Association will be held in the Masonic Hall, Balsam avenue, on Friday evening, to ratify an agreement with the Central and Ward One Associations regarding riding control. The Hon. James S. Duff, minister of agriculture, is expected to deliver an address.

LATE ROBT. A. HUNTER WAS TOWNSHIP PIONEER

Native of Ireland Who Won Fortune in Canada—Link With Past Generation.

An outstanding figure in the early history of York Township passed away yesterday in the person of Robert A. Hunter of Wexford, one of the best known and most respected residents of the township. The late Mr. Hunter, while not a native of Canada, but a north of Ireland man, early in life left the Emerald Isle in an effort to hew out for himself a competence in the new land. How well he succeeded his important holdings in the township and eastern part of the city amply attest. Of a genial personality, a good neighbor, and possessing a high sense of honor, Mr. Hunter leaves behind him an honored memory.

The Hunter homestead, where the deceased spent fully 60 years of his life, is situated on the York townline, lot two, concession four, and here the youngest son, John, conducts one of the best managed farms in the township today. The other members of the family are William of Toronto, and a daughter at home. Archie, a former resident of East Toronto, now deceased, was a son, and the late Mrs. B. F. Law, and Mrs. Alex. Cook, daughters. Mr. Hunter was predeceased by his wife, who was a daughter of Mark Barker.

Almost the Last Link.

With the death of Mr. Hunter there passes away almost the last link between the present and the past generation of York Township pioneers. William McGinn, who met a tragic death a short time ago, when his house was destroyed by fire, and the late Mr. Armstrong, were contemporaries, and Mark Barker and the Fitzpatrick brothers, as well as George Empringham of East Toronto, all surviving, were life-long friends. They represent now all too few the rugged type of men who made the township what it is, the metropolitan district of the province.

The late Mr. Hunter, who was 85 years of age, was a member of St. Jude's (Anglican) Church. The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon, from the old homestead to St. Jude's Cemetery. In political life he was a Liberal-Conservative.

COUNCIL TO CONSIDER LIGHTING OF LAMBTON

Park Ratepayers Assured That Matter Will Receive Early Attention.

A letter from Deputy Reeve William M. Graham was received at last night's meeting of Lambton Park Ratepayers' Association, in which he assured the members every consideration would be given by the council to their request for street lighting and other improvements, when a tour of the district would be made at an early date.

Regarding complaints made against the recently organized garbage collection system, J. Ellis, who occupied the chair in the absence of President J. Ball, urged that the efforts of the council should be seconded by the ratepayers by placing garbage containers in the front of their lots for ease in picking up, by burning all inflammable refuse and by dumping ashes in the middle of the roads. This last would help the surfacing of such roads. Collection is made on alternate Fridays, the next collection being on June 11.

Gardens Destroyed.

Strong protest against the running loose of horses on the Brooke estate was made by Robert Dunbar. A garden competition had been arranged, but the efforts of the residents, he said, were frustrated by these horses, which broke down the fences and destroyed private gardens. In this he was supported by J. Ellis, who stated that the children of the district were also endangered, and the secretary, S. Perkins, was instructed to write to the Humber Land Co., asking that the company take such action in the matter as it deemed necessary.

On the motion of Messrs. Croft and Ellis, the secretary was also instructed to inform the Humber Land Co. of the cutting of sods on vacant lots, and on what would eventually be the boulevards, by private parties.

MOUNT DENNIS

A very interesting and instructive debate was held Monday night by the Epworth League of Mount Dennis Methodist Church, the subject being: "Resolved, that enrolment by conscription is preferable to the present voluntary system." The affirmative was taken by Messrs. Smart and Woodcock, and the negative by Messrs. C. Warren and Jordan. While the judges, Messrs. Carter, Peck and Hearn, were considering their decision, which was eventually rendered in favor of the negative, an excellent musical program was given by some of the members.

THORNHILL

The funeral of the late Robert Cox whose death occurred at Thornhill, on Saturday, took place from the family residence in that village yesterday afternoon, to Richmond Hill Presbyterian Cemetery. At the late home of deceased and the cemetery service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Herbison. There was a large attendance including a number of lifelong friends of deceased and many beautiful floral tributes were received. The pall bearers were the six nephews.

CITIZENS CELEBRATE CITYHOOD OF GALT

Mayor Reads Proclamation—Monster Parade to Victoria Park.

Special to The Toronto World.

GALT, June 1.—Galt's cityhood was suitably recognized today with a celebration which altho planned to be purely local, turned out to be a much bigger success than was anticipated, many hundreds of outsiders coming in.

At 1 o'clock on the the market square, before thousands of citizens, Mayor Buchanan read the cityhood proclamation. Canon Ridley pronounced benediction on the new city and addresses were delivered by Z. A. Hall, M.L.A. and F. S. Scott, M. P. A parade composed of decorated autos, school children, 29th Regiment pipe and brass bands, boy scouts and cadets, proceeded to Victoria Park, where cityhood trees were planted by ex-Mayors D. Spiers and Hugh Cant, and a program of sports were run off.

At the Galt City Club a banquet was tendered civic officials from all the municipalities in the county. One of the pleasant features of this gathering was the presentation of a handsome Union Jack by Mayor Hett and council of Berlin, to the City of Galt.

This evening the Galt kilties band held its 14th annual tattoo at Dickson Park, at which fully six thousand people were present. A number of bands from Berlin, Preston, Waterloo, Brantford and Galt took part.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 2.

To Rise Again

The Christian Science Monitor believes that great changes are coming as a result of the war, that will more than make up for the terrible wastage of blood and treasure. Universal suffrage, universal prohibition and universal disarmament may all come to pass. Men and women are learning lessons of endurance, patience and thrift. They are becoming abstemious and efficient. The world will be sadder, but it may be wiser after the war. With the burden of militarism removed and the drink evil abolished, the peoples of Europe, altho maimed and decimated, will no longer be impoverished. Respecting the world-wide wave toward prohibition, The Monitor says:

> For many years prohibition has been considered as purely a moral or social influence. It is now coming to be regarded as one of the greatest of economic factors, and a large part of the world seems to be headed toward prohibition. The enormous increase in efficiency of individuals and the tremendous saving financially that universal prohibition would bring can scarcely be conceived.

War is teaching people to seek as never before, efficiency. Hence the impulse in Britain to mobilize the human resources of the nation. Individual liberty must give way, at this time at least, to the superior claim of the state. The Asquith government is said to be contemplating a vast, comprehensive scheme of national service, which is thus summarized by the military expert of The London Times:

> National service means that the whole able-bodied population must come forward and serve, not only in the navy and army, but in any capacity in which the government declares their services are needed. These services may be required in railways, mines, the mercantile marine, remount depots, and military offices from the war office downward, and in every species of factory which concerns itself with the provisions and material of war.

But the training thus required for the victories of war will be utilized hereafter for the more glorious victories of peace. All over the world there must be a stoppage of waste, a halt to extravagance and a general effort for greater efficiency. Church union will be a step in this direction and in the economic world we anticipate an industrial unification bringing great productive enterprises and a means of transportation and communication under government control. The test of the coming man will be his efficiency, and the individual will not be allowed to corner or to waste the wealth belonging to the people. The welfare of the state will be the supreme law.

These influences will be felt in countries far removed from the theatre of war. To hold our own in Canada we will have to be as thrifty, sober, efficient and well organized as our competitors oversea. And the lesson will have to be learned by the United States, that careless spendthrift among nations, whose reckless prodigality we have too often emulated.

Coming down to the more immediate present, we find a phenomenal balance of trade in favor of the United States, and we should make a similar showing next March, when our ledger comes to be balanced. For the fiscal year, ending this month, the balance of trade in favor of the United States will exceed one billion dollars, and it looks like a real balance, because that country is not importing from Europe, and the spendthrift tourist is no longer abroad to waste $200,000,000 a year. True, there has been some unemployment, but now our neighbors fear a scarcity of unskilled labor, because immigration is cut off from Italy. The Pittsburg Gazette-Times says that the entrance of Italy into the war has already raised the price of coal and coke for future delivery.

For Europe to pay off the balance in gold is out of the question. Yet only a few months ago our neighbors were being vigorously dunned for immediate specie payment of some $200,000,000 they owed Europe. Uncle Sam has, therefore, suddenly passed from the role of a driven debtor to that of a lenient creditor.

Miss Canada, who has had her own worries about money matters, should soon pass thru as pleasant a transformation. She is cutting down her imports and she does not intend to spend any money holidaying in Europe this summer. While her exports for the first eight months of the war did not show any increase over the corresponding period of 1913-14, the next eight months will tell a different story. The balance of trade in Canada's favor, when her fiscal year ends on March 31, 1916, should be at least $100,000,000.

But these gains and benefits for the countries on this side of the ocean may be temporary and of little value compared with the greater benefits to the whole world, which the training, suffering and experience of the great war will ultimately confer upon mankind. From the desolation and death of battle civilization will rise again triumphant.

Italy in the Field

That Italy had theroly prepared to play her part in the war has been shown by her initial successes. Her territory was peculiarly vulnerable from the north and the movements in that direction are evidently intended to secure strategic positions in advance of the threatened Austro-German drive. For once the Germans seem to have been caught unprepared, a condition probably attributable to the withdrawal of all available troops to aid in the great drive against Russia, which seems to have now largely spent its force Italy's occupation of vantage points in the Trentino territory will be of immense value in repelling an Austro-German attack.

According to reliable authorities, Italy, at the opening of hostilities, possessed an available force of upwards of a million fully trained soldiers and behind them nearly a million more men who had undergone partial training. The remaining million, completing Italy's available three million men, between the ages of 19 and 39, belong to the third category of service, that have passed all their time in the territorial militia and only undergo training when called to their depots after mobilization. Within a few weeks after the declaration of war Italy should be able to place in the field a force of 1,200,000 men and still have 1,800,000 of fighting age at the depot.

Backward Children

A very strong appeal has been issued by the Bureau of Municipal Research on the question of proper dealing with feeble-minded children. Most parents will be tempted to say at first blush, "What have I to do with feeble-minded children? My children are all right." The answer comes at once in the extra time and money expended by reason of the presence of these children in the public schools, keeping back the normal children in their studies, and requiring the attention of more teachers than would otherwise be necessary. It is estimated that there are over 1150 such feeble-minded children in the public schools of the city, and it is pointed out that they constitute a bar to the progress of all the others.

A specific example is given in the case of a district where in 1913 there were 10,458 children under inspection. Of these 14 were in a special class. Of the others 7,209 were going thru the work of the term for the first time; 2397 for the second time; 669 for the third; 128 for the fourth; 43 for the fifth; 4 for the sixth; 4 for the seventh; and four for the eighth time. To go over the same work time after time is deadening for the pupils, even for normal children. What is needed is special classes for backward children, in contradistinction to defective children.

Some prejudice on the part of parents has to be overcome, but this should easily be removed. Backwardness has often been the early characteristic of men who showed remarkable power in after life. Goldsmith is a notable case, and the Duke of Wellington was regarded as quite hopeless by his school-master. His mother appears to have known better. The moral of this, as in thousands of other instances, is that such backward children need special care and attention. By giving them this attention separately from the other children, the normal children would be released from a heavy handicap, and the whole school system would be toned up.

This is only the first phase of a problem which has many far-reaching bearings. A large part of the backward children are of immigrant parentage, and can never be properly assimilated until they attain some standard of intelligence such as would lift them to the average level of citizenship. Yet they grow up, and marry, and have families, and the families are usually very large. These grow up and provide recruits for the criminal and vicious classes, and constitute a further heavy tax on the community. All this costs money, and a lot of money, and it is thought that many will be moved by this argument, who do not respond to the plea of benevolence and humanity.

If the feeble-minded and backward were properly taken care of, it would mean a great load off the tax-payer, for all these people, or nearly all, under proper treatment, are capable of being developed to a point where they can earn their own living and cease to be a burden to the community, which means the tax-payer. All that is asked is that the tax-payer take an intelligent interest in the question, and support the authorities in what is being attempted in dealing with it.

The Huns in Belgium

From the thirteenth report of the Belgian Commission of Inquiry recently issued, it is plain that the Huns have carried on what is nothing better than a campaign of robbery in Belgium. Under the euphemism of "requisition" everything of value has been removed from that unhappy country, whose only crime was that it lay between Germany and German ambition to dominate the world. Not content with the devastation that is the direct consequence of military operations, factories have been stripped of their machinery, raw material and manufactured goods. The finest trees, particularly walnuts, have been felled and the timber sent to Germany.

Belgium has long been noted for the breeding of horses. The Germans were evidently well prepared in this direction and possessed catalogs of the best of these animals. In pursuance of a plan carefully studied and long designed, they confiscated the choice horses and despatched them to Germany, where they were sold by auction. The prices paid the Belgian owners were ridiculously low and full advantage was taken of their ignorance of German. Certificates were given in some cases for "two rabbits" or for a certain number of lashes, and in others "payable in Paris." But, after all, these infringements of international law, compared with the more serious cases of crime, are relatively insignificant.

DIPLOMATIC FLIM-FLAM

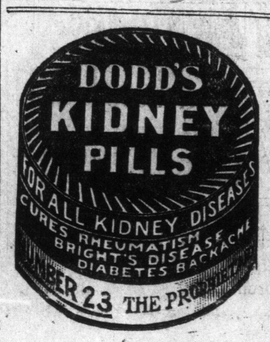

LUSITANIA NOT CRUISER NOR CARRIED MUNITIONS

London Morning Post Says Even If She Had, Not Justification for Sinking.

LONDON, June 1.—The Morning Post, in an editorial on the German reply to the United States, says that it is not for Great Britain to give advice to the United States in such a case as this, and that if the United States is driven into the war it will not be by the arguments of the belligerents, but by the course of events.

Proceeding to deny that the Lusitania could be regarded as a cruiser, declaring that she had not been taken over by the admiralty, The Morning Post says that it has not been established that she had munitions of war aboard. But, even if she had, that would not have justified the sinking of the Lusitania, but only in seizing her as a prize for examination. The German reply entirely fails to meet the American case, and that it remains for President Wilson to take the next step.

TWO MILLION MEN UNDER COLORS

Government Announcement of Last Winter Still Shrouded With Mystery—House of Commons Gets No Information.

In response to the enquiry from the house of commons regarding the progress of the government in putting two million men under the colors, the chancellor of the exchequer recently declined to inform the house of commons fully, but stated emphatically that the response to the appeal for recruits had justified the expectations of the government and that the plans of the war office would not be hampered by lack of men in the ranks.

That two million men will go under colors if it is a necessity, cannot be doubted by loyal citizens; that hundreds of thousands are going under the colors daily in the Dominion alone is evidenced by the success of The World's distribution of handsome flag outfits for every home, practically without cost to its readers, as announced elsewhere in today's issue.

The remarkable plan to provide the national colors for every home in the Dominion is meeting with unparalleled success, due to the timeliness of the offer, and the high quality of the Union Jacks which are being supplied, together with complete ferrule-jointed pole, halyards and window socket, all ready to hang from the house-front, and place whole families "under the colors" with the same eclat and enthusiasm as shown by the recruits who are answering the call to battle from all sides during these stirring days.

Every patriotic citizen who reads the columns of this paper is invited to avail himself of this splendid opportunity, which is being so eagerly snapped up and which is making this city a veritable City of Flags.

Call and examine the flags at The World Offices, Toronto and Hamilton.

GERMAN ALLEGATIONS IN NOTE TO U. S. FALSE

London Morning Papers Declare She Seeks to Gain Time by Controversy.

LONDON, June 1.—In their comment on the German reply to the United States Government's note, the morning newspapers take the view that Germany is seeking to gain time by involving the United States in a diplomatic controversy. They contend that the allegations made in Germany's defence are false.

The Daily Mail considers that a situation of real gravity has arisen between Germany and the United States.

"Germany's reply," says The Daily Mail, "shows a complete failure to understand the temper of the American people or to meet the American case. A more sneering or contemptuous reply, or a flatter refusal to take the American Government seriously could hardly be imagined. Unless we greatly mistake, President Wilson is not a man to tolerate the sophistries with which the sages of Wilhelmstrasse seek to avoid giving a plain answer to his plain question."

GERMANY MUST ANSWER CLEARLY

Wilson's Note Will Repeat Demand for Reparation and Guarantee.

ISSUE QUITE CLEAR

Severance of Relations is Likely to Follow Unfavorable Reply.

ing of the Lusitania, was unresponsive and unsatisfactory, disregarded the good will of the United States, doubted its facts and disclaimed all blame for the destruction of the merchantman with American lives. The questions of fact raised by Germany were regarded as irrelevant at this time. The trend of opinion was that the United States must require, and obtain an early answer, as to whether Germany intends to recognize the hitherto accepted principles that neutrals may travel anywhere on the high seas on unarmed merchant ships, whether or not such vessels carry contraband, and that mechantmen which do not resist capture must be visited and searched, and the passengers and crew transferred to a place of safety before the vessel is destroyed.

Severance of Relations.

An unfavorable answer to this enquiry would lead, it was predicted in official quarters, to a severance of diplomatic relations, on the ground that the United States could not continue intercourse with a government which repudiated these principles. Steps then would be taken to inform Americans of the dangers to which they were exposed as a result of this action and such measures as necessary adopted to safeguard the lives and interests of citizens of the United States.

Should Germany accept the principle, in a way that would constitute a guarantee for the future, the American Government then would reiterate its demand for a "strict accountability" for violations of this principle and the killing of Americans in the torpedoing without warning of the Lusitania.

No Hair-Splitting.

The decision to base the American note on the principles of international law, to obtain an affirmative or negative reply, and not enter into a technical discussion of details raised in the German communication, which avoided the main issues, was the single development of the cabinet council. Some of the cabinet members favored even excluding any reference to the facts asked for by Germany, settling first the point as to whether Germany intended to disregard the American warning of last February, that it would insist on the exercise of the right of visit and search with respect to vessels on which Americans were traveling.

One Dissentient.

One cabinet officer believed the American Government should enter into an investigation of the point raised by the German answer, submitting its proof and giving the German Government an opportunity to do likewise. Others, however, declared that such a process would only mean delay, and in the event of a deadlock on facts, would leave the United States, which had already assured itself of the authenticity of its information, without remedy for the present and in the future, for attacks on American vessels. The opinion was general that the United Stated would restate in the course of its note that the Lusitania was unarmed and would ignore such questions as to whether the carriage of ammunition is a violation of American law.

Tomorrow Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, will call on President Wilson. He declined to say tonight what he proposed to discuss but revealed that his action was taken without instructions from his government.

GERMANS ANXIOUS TO GIVE UP FIGHT

Four Hundred Surrendered En Bloc to French in One Engagement.

Carency, taking 2700 prisoners in four days, we began the attack. The commander of the French forces knew exactly the enemy's strength—five quick-firers in the cemetery and four quick-firers stationed in a priest's house—as well as many other details, including knowledge of the low morale of the troops to which the German prisoners had attested.

Cut Off Reinforcements.

"Before the attack was begun a heavy fire was directed on the ground behind the cemetery, thus effectively preventing the enemy from advancing any reinforcements. Bravely charging over the broken ground, our troops were not long in attaining their objective, dispersing the Germans before them and quickly attaining the low rise on which the cemetery is situated. Other soldiers executed a flank movement and attacked and routed the Germans.

"The position was being quickly organized when a strange apparition appeared. It was a thick column of the enemy running toward us. We believed at first that it was counter-attack and we prepared to resist it. But the men were all unarmed, and with hands raised above their heads, they were giving themselves up, racing at full speed across the cemetery in fear of their own guns, whose fire was more deadly than that of the enemy. Four hundred Germans, including seven officers, arrived breathless in our trenches. The whole action lasted but 15 minutes.

"During the night and the following morning the whole village was captured from the several hundred soldiers holding the position. After the attack on May 29, twenty alone remained living, most of the others having been killed by their own artillery for wishing to give themselves up to the French."

MANY VILLAGES TAKEN IN AMPEZZO VALLEY

Monfalcone, to Northwest of Trieste, is Being Closely Pressed.

ROME, June 1.—Italian troops have occupied 37 Austrian villages in the Ampezzo Valley of Trent.

The rivers along the frontier are swollen by the rains and are consequently difficult to cross. This condition has delayed the movements of troops.

Monfalcone, to the northwest of Trieste, is being closely pressed from the land side by the troops who are advancing from the direction of Cervignano, while from the sea it is being menaced by torpedo boat destroyers which have moved up into the Gulf of Panzano. The town itself is only two miles from the sea.

SAW BRITISH SHIPS SUNK.

BREST, June 1.—Capt. Carojo of the Portuguese steamer Cysne, which was torpedoed recently between Scilly Islands and Cape Finisterre, says he saw two British ships sunk; one the Glenlee whose loss has been reported.

The Cysnel's crew were landed at Brest by a French torpedo boat.

"Complexion Secrets Of An Actress"

In a recently issued volume bearing the above title, the author says: "Continuous use of grease paints, rouge and the like, had ruined my complexion. My skin was colorless, wrinkled, coarse and punctured with large pores. In England I heard of the virtues of mercolized wax: my first experience with this marvelous substance convinced me it was more valuable than all cosmetics combined. Now whenever my complexion begins to go wrong I get an ounce of mercolized wax at the nearest drug store, spread on a thin layer of it before retiring, washing it off next morning. The wax, after a few such treatments, seems literally to absorb the worn-out cuticle, when a brighter, healthier, younger-looking skin appears.

"For the wrinkles and enlarged pores I began using a solution of saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in a half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in this every day for a while soon relieved the condition most wonderfully."

Baseball Toronto 10 Buffalo 7 — Trotting Circuit Races Open Today at Dufferin

LEAFS ON TOP IN SLUGGING FIXTURE

Overcame Lead and Beat the League Leaders—Fielding a Big Factor.

Special to The Toronto World.

BUFFALO, June 1.—Toronto defeated the Bisons in a batting bee today after Patsy Donovan's league leaders had pounded McTigue in the first innings for a brace of runs. The Canadians waited until the second, when Bader delivered offerings to which the Leafs took most kindly, with the result the two-run lead was overcome and from that time until the curtain went down the Queen City tossers were always leading.

The Canadians used four pitchers, while Donovan held Bader to the job thruout the nine stanzas, altho he was subjected often to a merciless slugging. The Bisons batted freely, but the Toronto team gave a perfect exhibition of fielding, accepting numerous chances that looked good for hits. The Bisons, with poorer fielding on the part of their adversaries, would have won hands down.

The contest abounded in two-baggers, not less than 10 hits of this variety being recorded by the rivals. Buffalo had 13 men left on bases and nine of the Leafs failed to complete the circuit. Kocher was the batting star of the festivities, getting four hits, one of them a corking three-bagger, out of five trips to the plate. It was a great exhibition from the spectators' standpoint, despite the big score, for the issue was in doubt until the last put out was made in the ninth. Score:

SPICY BITS OF SOCCER GOSSIP

Looking Over the Star Plays in the Saturday Fixtures —Notes.

Croft, W. Toronto's goalkeeper, is a player of exceptional merit. His work between the uprights is of a high order. Several first league clubs are angling for his services, but the Londoner is perfectly satisfied to stay with the west end club, with whom he is a general favorite.

Overseas are losing the services of Carter, their brilliant right winger. He is leaving for Walkerville shortly. The Seas management will have great difficulty in securing a capable player to take up this position.

McCracken gave a great exhibition of goalkeeping against Overseas on Saturday, saving many shots that would have beaten a less capable custodian. A continuation of his present form will certainly see him guarding the uprights for Scotland this year.

Robinson and Townley were in grand form against Eatons on Saturday, their tackling and kicking being neat and well timed. The play of this pair caused the opposing forwards to shoot at McCoskery from long range.

Dunham, Eaton's centre forward, is a clever dribbler and a great shot, but is inclined to lose his temper when bested by the opposition. This little weakness detracts from his undoubted ability.

Davie Rutherford essayed the centre half position on Saturday, and was a decided success. His breaking up tactics and placing to his forwards was all that could be desired. His long forward passes enabled Armstrong and Carter, the extreme men, to display their sprinting abilities. The Eatonia defence were left rather badly at times by this pair.

Kingan, Eaton's right back, received a nasty cut on the head against his old club. It was accidental. The Seas executive and players were very sorry at their old comrade's misfortune.

That save of McCoskery's from McNeilly stamped him as a class custodian. The Canadian selectors cannot overlook this player when selecting Canada's team.

Robertsons Candy Kids played Mount Dennis on Saturday last on Riverdale High School grounds. The game opened in fine style. Mount Dennis forced the play to Robertson's goal, but after a scrimmage Robertsons got the ball to midfield, when Scott took the ball up the line and centered when Hughes caught the cross, which beat Mt. Dennis goalie all the way. Play resumed and after plenty of midfield play Mount Dennis brings the ball down the field and beats Letcher with a nice shot. The call is centred: the Candy Kids break away and Neil scores No. 2, with half-time making Robertson's leading 2-1. The second half opens with fast play when Mount Dennis gets down on the right, but the Robertsons' defence was strong and returned the ball to the Mount Dennis half, but finished with wild shooting. Mount Dennis got away and forces a corner, which was cleared at an anxious moment. Robertsons soon get going and Scott takes the ball down and centres, which Lowe took thru and netted No. 3 for the Candies. The game started in midfield, but Mount Dennis soon gets away in fine style and nets No. 3. Play resumes only for a few minutes, when the left back of Mount Dennis got hurt and stops the play. The ball was soon in play again, and Mount Dennis soon get into Robertsons half, and Dobbie miskicks, the inside left of Mount Dennis getting the ball, but didn't go far with it, as Dobbie soon got after him and took the ball down the field, where Hughes takes it down the field and passes to Lowe. This player gets past two or three players, gives the ball to Young, who steadies himself and waits for the Mount Dennis goalie to come out to meet him, kicks the ball over his head into the net, scoring No. 4 for the Candies. After the ball was centered it was taken end to end with both defences keeping the ball out. The Mount Dennis inside left soon gets the ball and makes a nice run up the field, passes to the centre forward and this player gets past the right back of Robertsons, when Letcher should have come out and cleared, but was too late and was beaten with a low shot, making No. 3 for Mount Dennis. Nearing the end the games finishes with Mount Dennis trying hard to equalize, but found the Robertson defence too much for them. Keep this up Robertsons.

All St. Davids F.C. players and members are asked to turn out for practice on Wednesday night at 7 o'clock on Bracondale Park, when the team will be picked for Saturday's game.

Will all members of the British Imperial turn out for practice on Wednesday at Bracondale Park at 7 o'clock sharp?

Old Country play Caledonians on Wednesday night on the Dunlop Athletic ground, corner of Queen and Caroline avenue. Kick-off 6.15 sharp, and the following players are asked to be on hand not later than 6 p.m.: Brownlee, Marten, Scott, Lang, Tait, McLaren, Molyneaux, Wilding, Riddy, Hutchinson, Colquhoun, Taylor, Johnston, Craig, Allan, Jones, Walton.

Fraserburgh and Dominion Transport F.C. played last Saturday a friendly game. The first half was decidedly in favor of the Transport, and had the inside forwards taken advantage of Cummings' centres they would have scored. However, no score was registered up to the interval. The second half was more evenly contested, but from a breakaway Pezzack scored with a low shot, which gave the Fraserburgh custodian no chance. Result: Dominion Transport F. C., 1; Fraserburgh F.C., 0. The victory of the Transport was received with enthusiasm by their supporters. The line-up: Fraserburgh (0)—Wilkinson, Bright, Allen, Brownlie, Taylor, Tarbot, Wiffen, Strace, Simpson, Skelton.

Dominion Transport (1)—Edmunds, Donnelly, Little, Wilson, McNaulty, Topham, Bittle, Cummings, Bryant, Querrie, Pezzack.

Small Attendance on Second Day at Dorval—Handicap to Water Lady.

G. GOULDING JUST WON HANDICAP

Excellent Competition in Central Y.M.C.A. Twilight Meet —Barnes First in Run.

Central Y.M.C.A. twilight meet last night resulted in some excellent sport. The feature event was the three-mile walk, which started at 6 o'clock, with eight entries. George Goulding was on scratch, and the limit men had 880 yards. Goulding gradually crept up on the long markers, and the accuracy of the handicap can be judged by the fact that with only 220 yards to go, five men were bunched together. It was at this stage that Russell Williams broke thru the field with a terrific sprint. Goulding started after him, and together they raced for the tape, hte champion winning by two seconds. This was the most keenly contested walk this year.

The second event of the night was the mile run, with the veteran, Harry Tresidder on scratch with Walter Newell. C. McKenzie was the limit man with 100 yards. McKenzie held the lead until the last lap, when he was caught by Chas. Barnes, who was on the 50-yard mark. In the last 300 yards Tresidder let out a few links and was coming fast on end, but did not have enough to catch Barnes and Winfield. Tresidder's time was 4.50, with Walter Newell two seconds behind.

The 220 yards dash was also well handicapped, and there were some close and exciting finishes. In the first heat Harry Riddell and Chas. Hewson fought out the last 15 yards in great style, Riddell winning by inches in 23.3. His stomach went back on him, and he was unable to compete in the final, and Harry Cook, who got third in the second heat, was allowed to take his place. The final, with six starters, filled up the track, and they got away clean, all holding to their lanes. Tom Harpley led all the way, altho he tired near the end. Harry Cook came home under the rawhide with enough speed to get second place from Chuck Hewson by inches. His time was 23.2.

Summary.

Three-mile walk—1, George Goulding; 2, Russell Williams; 3, Herb Hill.

One-mile run—1, Chas. Barnes; 2, W. F. Winfield; 3, Harry Tresidder.

220-yard dash—First heat—1, Harry Riddell; 2, C. D. Hewson; 3, H. T. Fice.

Second heat—1, Tom Harpley; 2, Chas. Barnes; 3, Harry Cook.

Third heat—1, C. McKenzie; 2, R. Boyce; 3, Russell Hutcheson.

Final—1, Tome Harpley; 2, Harry Cook; 3, C. D. Hewson.

Jack Fitzgerald had a good work at the jumps and weights, and will be in fine shape for the Central meet on June 12th.

Bill Marshall had his ankle injured in a baseball game, but was able to clear the bar at 5 feet 6 inches.

A. Atwater, the old Broadview harrier, and Jim Tresidder, both of Hamilton, will be here for the meet on the 12th.

Duke White of West End "Y" says there will be a few entries from West End for the Central meet.

MOTORDROME PROGRAM.

The speed fans will have an opportunity next Saturday night to see four bicycle stars pedal from 50 to 60 miles behind motor pace in an hour when the 60-minute grind is run off on the local motordrome with Walthour, Moran, Corry and Turville in action. It will be the first time that these four riders have been brought together for a long distance feature on any track. The one-hour motor-pace record is 63 miles, 674 yards, made on a mile track. On the four-lap saucer these veteran speedsters should do well over 50 miles. In addition Saturday night's card includes a 5-mile motor-pace flight for the local amateurs, a half-mile bicycle handicap with 40 riders entered and four motorcycle thrills. Harold Cole will again ride in the motor contests on the 65 degree track.

TOO MANY HEAVY NOT ENOUGH LIGHT

Market for Fat Cattle is Somewhat Overcrowded Now.

LIGHT CHOICE STEERS

For Some Time There Have Not Been Sufficient Come In.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards on Tuesday were 47 carloads, comprising 701 cattle, 927 hogs, 122 sheep and lambs, and 173 calves.

Receipts of fresh fat cattle on the market on Tuesday were light (701), but, combined with those left over from Monday, there was more than enough to supply the demand, excepting it was the light choice steers and heifers, of which there have not for some time been too many coming.

On the other hand the heavy cattle, no matter how choice, were slow sale at prices asked. There were several loads still unsold; one load in particular of extra good quality steers brought in by A. Barber of Guelph, for which he was asking $8.50, were being held, as the high est bid for them was $8.25, while choice 1100-lb. steers were bringing $8.30 to $8.40. Fat cattle prices remained steady.

Cows and bulls were in demand at firmer values.

Stockers and feeders sold at firm but steady values.

Milkers and springers of good to choice quality were, if anything, a little firmer, altho there was a moderately large supply on hand.

Choice veal calves were very firm, as there are few of this class coming forward.

Sheep and lambs were also selling at firm values, as the supply was limited.

Notwithstanding the small number of hogs on sale, prices remained steady to firm, and considering hog values on the leading American markets, could it be reasonably expected to be otherwise?

Canadian prices are fully $2 per cwt. higher, and the Canadian farmer is just reaping that much of a benefit by not having reciprocity.

Butchers' Cattle.

Choice, heavy butchers' cattle sold at $8.25 to $8.50; choice butchers' steers and heifers, $8.20 to $8.35; good, $8 to $8.15; medium, $7.75 to $7.90; common, $7.40 to $7.60; choice cows, $7.25 to $7.40; good cows, $6.85 to $7.15; medium cows, $6.25 to $6.50; common cows, $5.25 to $5.75; good bulls, $7.25 to $7.50; medium bulls, $6.65 to $6.90.

Stockers and Feeders.

Good to choice, 800 to 900-lb. steers sold at $7.40 to $7.65; medium, 700 to 800-lb. steers at $6.75 to $7.25; stockers, 500 to 650 lbs., sold at $5.65 to $6.25.

Milkers and Springers.

Choice milkers and extra quality springers sold readily at values ranging from $80 to $97.50 each, and one at $110. Good to choice cows, $70 to $80; medium at $60 to $70; common at $45 to $55.

Veal Calves.

Choice calves sold at $9 to $10; good at $7.50 to $8.75; medium at $7 to $7.50; common calves at $5 to $6. Not many choice calves are being offered.

Sheep and Lambs.

Heavy sheep, clipped, $4.50 to $5.50; heavy sheep, unclipped, $5.50 to $7; light sheep, clipped, $5.50 to $6.50; light sheep, unclipped, $7 to $8; spring lambs, $5 to $9 each.

Hogs.

Hogs sold at $9.80 to $9.85 weighed off cars.

Representative Sales.

A FAIR QUESTION—Why not profit by the experience of others? Investigate chiropractic first, not after all other systems of healing have failed you, thereby saving time, suffering and expense; those acquainted with the principles of chiropractic will recognize the advantage of having the usual palpation by hand verified by an X-ray photograph, especially when taken, and seeing stereoscopically; I would be pleased to have any who may be interested call and see some X-ray photographs of patients, that will remove all doubt as to the cause of their disease; investigation does not place you under any obligation. HESITANCY SHOWN IN WALL STREET

German Note and Mexican Complications Are Giving Traders Pause.

DEALINGS VERY LIGHT

Foreign Exchange Rates Still Decline—Domestic Developments Cheering.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Stocks were dull and heavy today, following the publication of Germany's reply to Washington's note of enquiry. Affairs in Mexico, which point to decisive action by this government, also entered into speculative calculations. Opening prices were lower by 1 to 3 points, war specialties and other manipulated issues losing most ground. Later some of these stocks made general recoveries, Bethlehem Steel and General Electric recording material gains, but the movement as a whole was without significance. Total sales amounted to 214,000 shares, of which almost half represented the turnover of the first hour.

Foreign exchange continued to reflect the sensitive state of the European money market, Paris cheques making the new low record of 5.43¾, which means that it takes more francs to buy an American dollar than ever before. Lires also weakened, being quoted at 5.93, against 5.83 last Saturday. After the close of the market remittances on Rome were quoted at 5.95, equaling the recent low quotation. Bills on London were little changed, and the enquiry for remittances to that centre was extremely light. More gold was received here from Ottawa, and the prospects favor additional shipments from Canada and France.

Money Still Easier.

Local time loans were easier, tho quotably unchanged. Last week's further gain in excess reserves were duplicated at other important reserve cities, Chicago and St. Louis also showing lower tendencies for long maturities.

Domestic developments were mainly favorable, ranging from the $2,000,000 net increase reported by the New York Central system for April, to another dividend increase by one of the large copper companies. Other railway statements for April were variable, Atlantic Coast Line gaining $145,000 in net, while Missouri Pacific lost $97,000. The latter stock was under restraint all day pending the outcome of the extension plan.

Bonds were easier, with little investment enquiry. Total sales par value aggregated $1,274,000.

MONTREAL MARKET'S RENEWAL OF LIFE

Iron Was a Good Market and Rose Two and a Half Points.

MONTREAL, June 1.—A good market for Iron, which rose 2½ points on dealings in 2200 shares, infused some life into the stock exchange today. The balance of the list was quiet, but generally firmer. The buying movement in Iron had a sympathetic effect on Steel of Canada common, which rose ¾ to 14¼ on purchases of about 350 shares and there was also a good demand for Bell Telephone at unchanged prices. Bridge and Detroit were also more active, but unchanged. Scotia Steel rose 1⅛ to 63 on a very light enquiry. Elsewhere, while the business was largely of the odd lot description, quotations at the end of the day were on the whole slightly up from the end of last week.

Total business 3055 shares, 50 mines and $2400 bonds.

STEEL OF CANADA WAS VERY ACTIVE

Made Strong Rally During Afternoon — Business Showed More Activity.

While considerably more activity was shown in the Toronto Stock Exchange yesterday the prices realized were very much on a par with the closing prices of Monday. Steel of Canada was the most active stock, quite a number being placed on the market. The shares opened at 13½, selling down to 13⅜, but rallied during the afternoon, to 13⅞, at which price they closed.

Mackay showed a loss of a point, selling down to 79, while Maple Leaf reacted to 63 after being as low as 62½ during the early session. Steel Corporation closed at 31 and Twin City at 98. A few Barcelonas changed hands at 8½ and Brazilians sold at 53.

C.P.R. sold at 154, ex-dividend.

BAR SILVER.

In London yesterday bar silver closed 1-16d higher at 23⅜d per ounce. The New York price was 49¾c.

CROP ESTIMATES ALARMED BULLS

Prospects of Fifty Million Bushels Increase Sent Prices Down.

BREAK AT LIVERPOOL

All-Round Favorable Conditions Led to Heavy Liquidating Sales.

CHICAGO, June 1.—Estimates that the 1915 crop of wheat in the United States would be 50,000,000 bushels more than was indicated for the growth at this time a year ago has a good deal to do today with a sharp decline in prices. The market closed steady but 3¼c to 4⅝c under Saturday night's figures. Other leading staples, too, showed a net loss—corn ⅞c to 1¼c, oats 1¼c to 1⅞c, and provisions 5c to 20c.

Readjustment of values to square with the outlook for the new crop of wheat brought about heavy liquidating sales by holders, and also resulted in continued pressure from shorts. Besides, weather conditions both southwest and northwest were of a kind to favor the bears. Harvesting was said to be general thruout northern Texas, with chances that cutting would be under way in central Oklahoma less than a week from now. A break in prices at Liverpool, due in part to free offerings from India, tended further to demoralize the bull side here.

Slight Rally at Close.

Profit-taking by shorts caused a moderate reaction in the wheat market near the close. The rally was helped a little by a liberal decrease in the United States visible supply total. On the other hand, the quietness of export call acted as a check on any decided upturn.

Corn suffered chiefly owing to sympathy with the break in wheat. Better field conditions and some enlargement of rural offering tended also to drive away support.

In oats as in corn the principal guide was the action of wheat. Near the end of the session, however, oats were somewhat affected by rumors of big sales to Europe.

Provisions went lower with grain and hogs. Packers were said to have been free sellers of lard.

GRAIN MARKET AT MONTREAL DULL

Cable Business Continues Quiet Owing to Limited Demand From Foreign Buyers.

MONTREAL, June 1.—Business over the cable in all lines of grain continues very quiet, owing to the very limited demand from foreign buyers and the fact that the few bids coming forward are out of line. The local trade in coarse grains was also slow today and the undertone of the market is easy. Demand for flour shows no improvement and the market is dull, but in spite of this fact, and the continued weakness in wheat, there is no change in prices as yet to note. Millfeed firm. Butter steady. Demand for cheese fair. Eggs fairly active.

MINING MARKET SHOWS VERY STRONG TENDENCY

Large Amount of Business Was Transacted With Prices Much About the Same.

More activity was shown on the mining market yesterday, quite a large number of shares changing hands during the day. Prices generally were lower, but the tone of the market was decidedly firm. Coniagas was the chief feature, selling up to $500.

Timiskaming made a rally, selling up to as high as 33 and closing strong at 32½*. Peterson Lake sold at 23¾, opening at 23½ and remaining around that figure thruout the day. McIntyre was steady around 41¼. Vipond closed at 23 and Big Dome at $13.50. Porcupine Imperial sold at 6½ and Hollinger at $26.

*The trouble of the power can only be a temporary one and should not affect the stock to any extent. Big buying orders are continually coming in from the camp and good judges say this is the best buy in Cobalt.
