ALLIES EXPECTED TO TAKE OFFENSIVE AT PROPER TIME

CONFIDENT ALLIES WILL HOLD OFF GERMAN ATTACK

No Official Announcement Made Today, But Reports to London Say Allies Are Pressing Forward in Lorraine—Germans Driven Back in East Flanders

Paris, Aug. 26.—The French war office was silent this morning. No official announcement has been issued. Unofficial military opinion is that the fighting along the French-Belgian frontier continues. Quiet confidence exists in Paris that the allies will hold off the German attack and take the offensive when the proper hour arrives.

PRESSING FORWARD IN LORRAINE. London, Aug. 26.—(7.30 a. m.)—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Paris says that the French war office has issued the following communication:— "In Lorraine the allied armies have taken up a combined offensive movement. The battle recommenced yesterday, and is still raging at the time this bulletin is issued."

GERMANS DRIVEN BACK. London, Aug. 26.—(4.08)—A despatch to Reuters from Ghent says:— "A violent combat raged at Tournai on Monday, the cannonade lasting from four o'clock in the afternoon until ten the next morning. Workmen relate that the Germans were driven back and that the French flag was flying at Otror in East Flanders."

Report of Germans Killed. London, Aug. 26.—(5.12 a. m.)—Returning from the front a correspondent of the Times sends the following under a Paris date:— "At Mons the British troops have made themselves at home. Preparations for the city defence were extremely comforting in their workmanlike detail. In the woods lurked innumerable field guns. Everywhere in the town confidence was dominant. "When the heavy firing audible in the distance is heard, British soldiers can sit quietly on the banks of the canal calmly fishing with bayoneted rifles and fishing rods, the spectacle inspires confidence even though from all directions, the presence of the dreaded German cavalry is reported."

Belgium Suffered Heavily. London, Aug. 26.—(11.40 p. m.)—The French embassy in London tonight issued the following statement:— "The movement which was begun yesterday by order of the commander-in-chief was concluded today without successful opposition by the enemy. It is confirmed that a Russian corps of guards were roughly handled in the recent fighting. They were attacked by Algerian riflemen and in the hand-to-hand fighting which ensued the Germans suffered heavily."

The Zeppelin Incident. London, Aug. 26.—The bomb dropping exploit of the Zeppelin airship at Antwerp, promises to become a matter of the widest international consideration. The Belgian authorities claim that the attack was a clear violation of article 25 of the fourth Hague convention, and they are preparing to protest officially to all the powers against the manner of warfare.

Accounts vary as to the amount of damage by the aerial fighter. One says that twenty-six lives were lost, although from more conservative sources, it is reported that only twelve bodies have been recovered so far from the ruins of the wrecked house. A despatch which is regarded as semi-official says that 900 houses were slightly damaged and sixty houses nearly destroyed. This despatch was sent to London, it is said, after a committee, which included the Belgian secretary of state, the Russian ambassador, the Papal nuncio, and King Albert's secretary, had examined the entire city, with a view to appraising the results of the aerial bombardment.

American Minister Protests. London, Aug. 26.—The Daily News publishes a despatch from its Antwerp correspondent saying it is reported there that the American minister to Belgium, Brand Whitlock, has sent an energetic protest to the German government against the hunting of bombs into Antwerp from a Zeppelin airship.

Antwerp Business at Standstill. Antwerp, Aug. 26.—Business here is absolutely at a standstill, though hopes are entertained that traffic will be reopened if the river Scheldt remains free. The royal family is showing special interest in the welfare of the people. The author of this despatch is not permitted to telegraph war news.

Offered to Capitulate. London, Aug. 26.—Premier Asquith, in the House of Commons this afternoon, read a communication from the commander-in-chief of the forces in British West Africa, saying that the authorities of Topoloni, the German colonial possession in the west Indies, had offered to capitulate on terms. In reply the British officer said that the capitulation must be unconditional.

Belgian Soldiers Cheer When Given Flag of Britain. London, Aug. 26.—J. H. Sanford, Canadian emigration agent at Antwerp, who has arrived in London, narrated some interesting experiences to the Montreal Gazette representative. It was on his advice that Hon. Duncan Marshall, the Alberta minister of agriculture, was persuaded not to proceed to Berlin. Mr. Sanford saw several well known German citizens, including a hotel proprietor, arrested as spies, it being discovered that they had sold out all their securities under the guise of ordinary business transactions being taken to prove their foreknowledge of the war. In one case a wireless installation was found in the cellar of a hotel having a German proprietor. During the mobilization of a company of soldiers passing the Canadian emigration office saw the British flags in the window, and stopped to ask for one, which was given them amid cheers, and the singing of the national anthem.

Hon. Duncan Marshall and family are booked to sail by the Laurentic on Saturday, as are also Mr. and Mrs. John Sharples, of Calgary.

GERMAN IN CUSTODY. Joseph Manuchuk, a German, eighteen years of age, was brought to the city this morning by Detective T. E. Skidmore of the C. P. R. and is being detained at the central police station. The young fellow is charged with trespassing on the C. P. R. tracks. He was found by the detective walking the railway track near Fredericton Junction, and as he could not give a satisfactory account of himself he was brought to the city and taken to central police station. Among the things he had in his possession were a Bible, a pen, a pocketbook containing sixty cents, and some clothes which are being held by the police.

JAPAN MAY EXTEND WAR SCOPE. Washington, Aug. 25.—Japan may be drawn outside of the Far East into a more distant theatre of war, an official of the Japanese embassy declared today. "Despite Japan's assurances to this country that she intended to confine her war activities to the Orient, the Japanese diplomat, who for obvious reasons refused to be quoted, said the scope of Japan's action depends largely upon her ally, Great Britain. "If war exigencies of England should require assistance by Japan outside of the Far East, this Japanese official stated, Nippon would by her treaty obligations be forced seriously to consider giving assistance outside of Asia."

Says British Troops Are In Fine Shape

London, Aug. 26.—1 a. m.—Telegraphing from Paris the correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Company says:— "A special envoy of the Temps, who has returned from the front, had an opportunity of seeing the English troops. He was much impressed by the excellent commissary arrangements. Huge cases of sugar, tea, cocoa, tinned meats and vegetables and enormous pots of jam have been provided for the men. Everything has been done, he said, in the minutest detail to insure their well being. "The correspondent remarks: 'We have in the British forces a strong discipline supporting army, equal to the best of our troops. I would like to see the French copy the English in the severe treatment of spies.'"

WAR NOTES

"The German papers of Aug. 22 and 24, publish orders that boys of from sixteen to nineteen years of age shall be put through a course of military and military training. Retired officers are to be engaged as instructors."

Reports received at Rotterdam from The Hague say that the Germans who had been massed in large numbers along the Dutch border have disappeared and the mobilisation of the Dutch army has ceased. Whether the mobilisation was intended, it has been impossible to ascertain.

Madame Nostka Schwimmer, president of the Hungarian Women's Suffrage Association, and press secretary of the International Women's Suffrage Alliance, is interesting a number of prominent London women in a movement for peace, leaves Liverpool for New York, where she will deliver an address. American women in a movement to have the United States mediate and stop the European war.

An acute situation has arisen in the Balkan States over the possible entry of Turkey into the European war, according to official advices to the American government from various sources. Turkey has not yet given Great Britain, France and Russia a satisfactory explanation of her entry, into the Danubian of the German cruisers Goeben and Breslau.

The burgomaster of Ghent says the correspondent there of Reuter, has issued a proclamation requesting that all flags be lowered to half mast and public balls and music are to be in harmony with the national calamity. The civil guards who have been recalled to the colors, were sent by special train to Bruges, in the neighborhood of which Uhlans had been seen and drove the Germans off.

The losses of the Austrians in the Balkan States over the possible entry of Turkey into the European war, according to telegrams from Nish. The latest wire is that out of 800,000 Austrians, 100,000 have been killed, 80,000 wounded and 15,000 made prisoners and seventy-five guns were captured."

A despatch to the London Chronicle from Antwerp, says that all the German troops are reported to have departed from the city. The British expect to recapture the city immediately. Empress Augusta Victoria learned of the capture of the city by accident, while making a visit. She was greatly moved and exclaimed, "Thank God, we may all be content. I have three of my sons with the army."

It is officially announced that a German temporary police establishment between the ministry of war says it presumed it was Prince Albert of Schleswig-Holstein-Sonderburg-Glücksburg. An earlier announcement had given the name General Prince Adalbert, who was described as the Emperor's uncle. This was obviously an error, and the ministry of war now states that "Adalbert" was probably a telegraphic error. "Albert" having been intended.

The Belgian royal family will abandon their temporary police establishing themselves in a secret place in the city, as a result of the attack of the Zeppelin airship, according to the Morning Star, correspondent at Antwerp.

FURTHER REMAINED. Roy W. Fisher, charged with criminal assault, was brought into court this morning and further remanded. H. J. Smith appeared for the prisoner.

A FATHER'S SACRIFICE. Colonel Allowed Son to Lead Forlorn Hope. Paris, Aug. 26.—Col. Polque, commander of a division of artillery at the front, recently received a few men for a perilous mission and called for volunteers. "Those who undertake this mission will, perhaps never come back," he said, "and he who commands will be one of the first sons of France to die for his country in this war."

Volunteers were numerous. A young graduate of a polytechnic school asked for the honor of leading those who would undertake the mission. He was the son of Col. Polque. The latter paled, but did not flinch. His son did not come back.

HOW KAISER PROBABLY FIGURES IT OUT. (Special Direct Copyright Cable to The Toronto World) New York, Aug. 23.—A British military writer, interviewed here by a representative of the Central News, said the report that the German army of the Meuse has occupied Ghent and is marching on Ostend gives rise to the belief in many English minds that the Kaiser has determined to make a desperate and spectacular attempt to invade England.

"It is a significant fact," he said, "that the German main line of advance through Belgium to far has not been directly towards the French frontier, but rather parallel with it towards the Belgian port which is nearest to the English coast. "From Ostend to the coast of Kent is a matter of only sixty miles, and the Germans doubtless count upon having the still nearer French ports of Dunkirk and Calais at their disposal before long. "It will be remembered that a few days ago it was officially admitted by the British war office press bureau that a certain activity is observable in the southern part of the North Sea, and it will also be remembered that the very first act of the German navy after the declaration of war was to send a minelaying steamer to scatter floating mines in the lower part of the North Sea off the coast of Essex, for the purpose of menacing the safety of British warships operating in this region. "How many mines were planted by the German mine-layer Konigin Luise, in addition to the one which caused the destruction of the cruiser Amphion, it is impossible to say, but it is probable that a number of these deadly engines of destruction are still floating about not far from the mouth of the Thames, rendering the operations of the British fleet in that locality extremely dangerous. "It would, of course, be sheer madness for the Kaiser to attempt the transportation of troops from Ostend to the English coast without the protection of his fleet, and it is therefore well within the bounds of possibility, if not probability, that the German fleet will, within a few days, attempt to make a dash down the North Sea with the object of forcing a passage across the Straits of Dover to enable German troops to invade England. "The Kaiser and his advisers probably argue that even if an invasion of England proved to be a project impossible for them to achieve, the British war office will be very loath to send additional troops to fight on the continent in the event of Ostend, Dunkirk and Calais falling into German hands."

REVENGE UPON GERMANS

Shop of a well-known German caterer in the Boulevard des Italiennes, Paris, after it was wrecked and looted by a French mob.

British Bore Brunt of Furious Attacks

London, Aug. 26.—The Paris correspondent of Reuters says that a raid by German cavalry division in French territory is reported by the Petit Parisien, which states that when the Germans arrived at four o'clock Tuesday morning, they encountered a regiment of French artillery which practically annihilated them. Referring to the fighting near Mons, the paper says: "The British bore the brunt of six furious attacks. Wounded British soldiers declare that the allies raised a veritable hailstorm of German corpses near Mons."

AUSTRIA DECLARES WAR ON JAPAN IS DECLARATION

Reports from Rome and Paris to That Effect—Reassures Italy of Her Good Intentions

Rome Via Paris, Aug. 26.—(5.30 a. m.)—A despatch from Vienna announces that Austria has declared war upon Japan. PARIS CONFIRMS IT. London, Aug. 26.—A Central News despatch from Paris states positively that Austria has declared war on Japan.

AUSTRIA REASSURES ITALY. London, Aug. 26.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Rome says that, according to advices from Vienna, General Conrad, chief of the Austrian staff, has sent the following message to the Italian government: "The reports published in Italy that Austria-Hungary has aggressive intentions against Italy in order to revenge itself for Italy's failure to participate in the war, are absolutely without foundation, and are branded as malignant efforts put forth by a third party."

CAPTURE OF OSTEND WOULD GIVE THE GERMANS GREAT ADVANTAGE

Latter's Success in the War Would be Followed by Annexation of All North Sea Ports From Dover to Emden—How Kaiser Figures it Out

London, Aug. 26.—4.10 a. m.—The Daily Mail believes that the Germans will occupy Ostend for use as a base of operations against England. "The German movement against Ostend is of great importance and is dictated mostly by naval as well as military considerations," says the paper. "Ostend is only sixty-six miles off the British coast. If the Germans establish themselves there, and bring up heavy artillery, they may render it a dangerous base of operations against England. Acting from it, they could watch the channel and the Thames and carry out raids against Great Britain. "From a naval standpoint, Ostend is well equipped to serve as a refuge and harbor. If it were strongly held by land, several German warships might attempt a dash through there from Wilhelmshaven and Heligoland."

NO DOUBT OF GERMAN AMBITION. London, Aug. 26.—The military correspondent of the Times today says: "We and the Dutch need have no doubt that the annexation of all the North Sea ports from the Straits of Dover to Emden, will follow a German success in the war, a success which would only be preliminary to the concentration of all German effort upon the subjugation of England."

HOW KAISER PROBABLY FIGURES IT OUT. (Special Direct Copyright Cable to The Toronto World) New York, Aug. 23.—A British military writer, interviewed here by a representative of the Central News, said the report that the German army of the Meuse has occupied Ghent and is marching on Ostend gives rise to the belief in many English minds that the Kaiser has determined to make a desperate and spectacular attempt to invade England.

RUSSIANS MOVING ON WITH TERRIBLE FORCE

Invasion of Galicia and Prussia Continues Along Wide Front

Crushing Defeat of Germans at Gumbinnen, Although They Had All The Advantage of Position and Numbers—A Case of The Best Man Winning—Another Great Battle Expected Soon

RUSSIANS MOVING ON WITH TERRIBLE FORCE. London, Aug. 26.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from St. Petersburg says that the Russian chief of staff announces that since Sunday the Russian invasion of Galicia and Prussia continued uninterrupted along a wide front. While the Russian right wing was invading Prussia, and the left wing entering Galicia, the Russian center composed of the great bulk of the Russian army, is believed to be marching silently, but with terrible force on Posen.

REPORTS OF THE RUSSIAN SUCCESSES. London, Aug. 26.—The Russian general staff asserts that their armies continue on the offensive in an official communication published today, and its contents telegraphed to Reuter by its correspondent in St. Petersburg. Dated Aug. 25, the communication says:— "Austrian rear guards supported by artillery attempted to hamper our march on the River Sereth in the region of Tarnopol, but after a series of fights they were repulsed. "We continue to act on the offensive. We have taken numerous wagons, two quick firing guns, and much ammunition. To the south of Grobochow we brought down an Austrian aeroplane, killing two officers, and wounding a third. Our cavalry destroyed railway communication across the bridge near Kamensk on the front. "In East Prussia, the German army beat a retreat by forced marches. Part of this army is concentrating at the fortress of Konigsberg. The Germans abandoned without having fired a shot, a position previously fortified on the River Angorapp. The roads beyond the Angorapp are strewn with cartridges, shells and knapsacks, thrown aside by the enemy with the object of luring their retreat. "Our troops occupied the towns of Insterburg and Augherberg, 32 miles south of Insterburg, (East Prussia). "On August 23 and 24 in the region north of Kedenburg, we fought a successful but sanguinary fight with important forces of Germans. In the same region the German Tenth Army Corps, consisting of three legions, occupied the fortified positions of Orlau and Frankhausen. "On Sunday and Monday our troops, facing entrenched and wire entanglements, attacked these positions, using hand grenades and bayonets. Towards eleven o'clock the German army was enveloped by us on the left flank and led to Osterode, (18 miles northeast of Gotteningen, in the province of Hanover), abandoning several cannon, quick firing guns, ammunition cases and prisoners."

GERMANS LOSE IN STUBBORN FIGHTING. London, Aug. 26.—The Times St. Petersburg correspondent says that the Germans who retreated by forced marches after their defeat by the Russians at Gumbinnen, are assembling a part of their forces at Konigsberg. "North of Neidenburg, Sunday and Monday, there was stubborn fighting, in which the Russians were again victorious, largely through their superb use of the bayonet. The enemy here had assembled the entire 20th army corps in a fortified position. The Russians had to negotiate pits and barbed wire. Hand grenades were used, the Russians finally carrying the position at the point of the bayonet. The Germans retreated toward Osterode, leaving behind many guns, machine guns, caissons and prisoners. "Meanwhile the Vilna army is driving the first German army corps toward Danzig. The question now is whether the German forces can escape and how long the Russians will take in occupying the territory east of the river Vistula. It is reported that the Russians on Monday, reached Marienburg, only 28 miles from Danzig. "The Germans at Gumbinnen had all the advantages of numbers and position. It was a clear case of the best man winning. Russia was the best. "The Russian losses include representatives of all the noblest families in the Empire."

London Told of Russian Advance. London, Aug. 26.—The Russian embassy in St. Petersburg, which announces fresh Russian victories against both Germany and Austria. These messages declare that Russian troops now occupy the whole of the eastern and southern half of Eastern Prussia. ANOTHER BIG BATTLE EXPECTED TOMORROW. London, Aug. 26.—(3.27 a. m.)—A St. Petersburg despatch to the Post says it is expected that another important battle will be fought on the Russian-German front on Thursday. "It is known," says the despatch, "that the Russian army is advancing on the whole front, with the Germans retreating before it. The public in St. Petersburg are called upon to bear the suspense while awaiting news, and the strain is being published. "The Russian losses include representatives of all the noblest families in the Empire. "The Russians are penetrating Galicia in considerable force. Apparently Russia is prepared to wage quite a separate war in this region, the operations centering in the Kiev military district. "The full significance of the Polish autonomy proclamation is thus becoming clear. The lack of this new Russian army is evidently to invade and occupy the country up to the Carpathians, an admirable natural frontier."

Austrian Victory. Berlin, Aug. 26.—(By wireless to the Associated Press by way of Nauen and Sayville, L. I.)—Official reports made public in Vienna and received here by the Telegraph, say that a battle of three days' duration at Kraank (in Russian, Poland, 28 miles southwest of Lublin) ended yesterday in a complete Austrian victory. "The Russian forces were repulsed along the entire front of (142 miles), and are in full flight in the direction of Lublin."

THE KAISER'S RAGE KNOWS NO BOUNDS. Insults British Ambassador and Tears Off British Medals—A Frenchman Who Was Repaired. London, Aug. 26.—The Express publishes the following which, however, is not confirmed, elsewhere:— "When Sir William Edward Goschen went to say good-bye to Emperor Wilhelm, the latter stalked into the room where the British ambassador was waiting. The emperor was wearing several British orders and medals on his breast and these he tore off, saying, 'Tell your king that that is what I think of him and his medals!' "Whereupon the emperor marched out of the room. "Refugees arriving from Ostend by way of Folkestone told of one of their number, a corpulent Frenchman, who as soon as the boat left the wharf at Ostend, took off his coat, vest and boots and putting on a life preserver, sat down on the edge of the deck, continuing the whole trip in this costume. Asked what he meant by such behavior, he replied in just one eloquent word, "mines."

WAR POSSIBILITIES. A British military expert, writing of the war, says:— "The results of this war promise to be so serious that it may even be expected that Germany will lose her capital to the Russians or that France may lose her capital to the Germans without a deciding influence to the outcome, provided their field armies are not completely destroyed."

WAR NEWS

Forecast yesterday that it would be the result of the absence of the numerical strength of the allied troops in the front of the veil was lifted. The cables, and we are told, were not sent toward Lille. Checked by French, British and Belgian forces from Antwerp effected a junction with the allies. This was the first intimation received that the French and British were in force in that direction, and alters considerably the aspect of the German invasion of France by the northern route is not so great as Tuesday night's cables appeared to indicate. There is also a British force near Givet on the River Meuse below Namur. Has the British expeditionary force been divided, or is that a second force which with the French effected a junction with the Belgians in the north? The rigid censorship prevents us from getting any information on this point. We are told, however, on the authority of Lord Kitchener, that the British soldiers have behaved with the utmost gallantry, and that their position is satisfactory. They had been able, he said, to maintain their position in the face of fierce German attacks, although the German forces were superior in numbers. The fact stands out clear that the Germans have not yet been able to pierce through Belgium into France. That a determined effort is being made to drive through the French and British lines near the River Meuse is indicated by the official French announcement that territory occupied in Lorraine and Alsace has been abandoned for the present, because all available forces are required on the Meuse. One report says that the mass of the German forces appears to be concentrating upon the French centre at Verdun. Today's news is more encouraging to the friends of the allies than that of yesterday, and it shows that the Germans have still failed to gain any important strategic foothold upon French soil. The battle still rages along the whole line, and we can only hope that where the Germans make their most determined attack the allied forces will be there in sufficient force to hold them in check. It is still a long road to Paris, and in the east the Russian armies are making steady if slow progress toward the heart of Germany.

The Russians are advancing in East Prussia both from the east and south. By the capture of Insterburg, Goldap, Johannisburg, Ortelburg and Soldau they have not only gained control of an important Prussian railway system, which will be of great advantage; but it is claimed that the way is now practically clear for an advance upon Koenigsberg, Elbing and the valley of the Vistula River. It is a long march from Insterburg to Berlin, but the Russian army has got into East Prussia more quickly than was anticipated, and its future movements may also be marked by greater celerity than was expected. In the meantime, however, as the London Standard puts it:

"No Russian success, tremendous as might be its material bearing on the situation, could compensate France and Britain for failure in their own particular task. For us the theatre of the land war is Belgium and the French frontier. There we must conquer or die."

CANADA'S DUTY

A second contingent is to go from Canada. The necessity is obvious. The news which came yesterday must have convinced any who were in doubt that France and Britain have a colossal task to hold the Germans in check, and that even when this formidable war machine has been driven back across the German border much more hard fighting will be necessary before it is finally overcome. Britain must send more forces to the continent, and Canada, Australia and other parts of the Empire must rally to her assistance, sending contingent after contingent until German militarism has been effectually crushed by the allied armies.

It goes without saying that the more men Canada sends to the front the greater will be the burden upon the government, and the greater will be the number of families to some extent dependent upon the Patriotic Fund. This fund must be made nation-wide, and swelled to large proportions. That means sacrifice for rich and poor alike, in proportion to their means, but it is a sacrifice which will be cheerfully made by the Canadian people. Canada is at war, the very life of the British Empire is at stake. The principles of liberty for which the Empire stands are imperilled. The call to duty in some form is universal.

News of reverses in the field must only serve to strengthen the determination of the British people throughout the world to strike again and strike harder, and to endure whatever fate befalls, in order that the cause of right may triumph, and the arrogant nation which has been so long the disturber of Europe shall be so humbled that a war of its making will not be possible again for the next hundred years. In this great task Canada will bear her share in proportion to her ability, with the same coolness and determination that mark the attitude of the people of the Mother Country.

UNEMPLOYMENT

The people of Canada will be interested in, and should benefit from, a knowledge of what is being done in England by employers of labor to meet the extraordinary conditions resulting from the war. A National Patriotic Association has been organized to prevent distress and assist recruiting, and the King has consented to be its patron. The four objects of the association are as follows:

1. To promote patriotic ideals and the co-operation of all classes in helping one another at this time of national emergency.
2. To arrange for stocks of such commodities as may be required by the forces or necessary for the poor being guarded against "corner" or unduly inflated prices.
3. To encourage recruiting and to give all possible facilities for employes to join one or other of the volunteer or regular forces, and to take such steps as will enable them to carry out their duties without loss of pay or position.
4. To foster a spirit of, and to organize methods for, self-sacrifice among both sexes and all classes with a view to guarding against panic, waste, unemployment, poverty, and distress.

The lord mayor of London is president of the association, and lord mayors throughout the country are connected with it, and already it has the support of over three thousand firms. More than half of these firms have agreed to pay wages in full to employes absent on territorial duty and to keep their situations open. Employers are urged rather to cut down wages and hours of labor than to discharge employes outright when they find it necessary to cut down expenses.

There is also a Central Advisory Committee for the Prevention and Relief of Distress, with headquarters in London. Local committees are being formed all over the country to endeavor to provide employment before distributing money or food.

In Manchester and Salford the Housing Famine Committee is urging the city and borough councils to proceed with schemes for erecting houses for the working classes. One of these provides for the erection of forty tenements, another of one hundred and thirty cottage flats, and still another provides for fifty semi-detached cottages. It is pointed out that this would not only provide work, but would be a valuable contribution to the solution of the housing problem and would make a permanent addition to the assets of the community. The British parliament has authorized the raising of £4,000,000 in connection with the Housing Bill, to provide against distress in the building trade owing to the war. It is not the purpose of the government themselves to build houses, where local authorities or public utility societies will undertake the work; but in cases where the houses cannot be provided except by government action, such action will be taken.

Everywhere the authorities and the business interests are uniting their efforts to prevent unemployment as far as possible, and to lessen the hardship and suffering to be endured by the poorer classes while the war lasts. This universal exhibition of patriotism on the part of those who stay at home will tend to encourage and reassure those who must go to the front. Conditions in England, however, since her sea routes are open, are not to be compared with those in Germany, where the sufferings of the people are, and must continue to be, infinitely greater, especially in the large manufacturing centres of the country.

Kitchener of Khartoum can speak as well as fight. His speech in parliament yesterday is a clarion call to every British subject.

Lord Kitchener says India is sending a powerful contingent. This is the first announcement to that effect.

The Belgian authorities have secured evidence of barbarous outrages committed by German soldiers upon helpless non-combatants. These atrocious acts by the invaders of a neutral state add another to the list of crimes for which Germany must be held to stern account.

It is announced that the Dominion Textile Company, employing seven thousand hands in all its mills, will be able to keep them all in full operation throughout the winter. The general manager says they look for a steady trade in addition to the heavy contracts from the government for army uniform cloth.

BEFORE SEDAN.

(By Austin Dobson.)
Here in this leafy place quiet he lies,
Cold, with his sightless face turned to the skies,
'Tis but another dead—all you can say is said.

Carry his body hence—kings must have slaves;
Kings climb to eminence over men's graves.
So this man's eye is dim; throw the earth over him

What was the white you touched, there at his side?
Paper his hand clutched tight ere he died;
Messages or wish, may be—smooth out the folds and see.

Hardly the worst of us here could have smiled—
Only the tremulous words of a child—Prattle, that had for stops just a few ruddy drops.

Look; she is said to miss, morning and night,
His—her dead father's—kiss; tries to be bright,
Good to mamma, and sweet—that is all, "Marguerite."

Ah, if beside the dead slumbered the pain!
Ah, if the hearts that bled slept with the slain!
If the grief died! But, no—Death will not have it so.

ON A WAR FOOTING

CANADA is going to find out, within the next few months, what it means to be "on a war footing."

Just what it means depends largely on how we meet the situation. It might mean continued dulness, depression, "hard times"—if we were to persist in thinking and talking "hard times."

It may, just as reasonably, mean prosperity—if we keep our heads and go after business in the right spirit of aggressiveness.

We might well follow the lead set by some of our large industrial concerns.

An excellent example is furnished by our three leading automobile manufacturers.

One making a high-priced car—has given instructions for the most aggressive selling campaign the company has ever undertaken; backed up by a big campaign of advertising in the newspapers.

Another, who makes various-priced cars of high quality, had a large announcement of 1915 models in a long list of papers the very week after war was declared.

A third—a Canadian branch factory of a United States concern making a popular-price car, is announcing an important price change—and taking larger space than ever before in Canadian newspapers to tell the story.

And this, he it noted, is the attitude of the three big men in an industry that the pessimists have been predicting would be seriously affected by the war. Their unshaken confidence, their greater-than-ever determination to market successfully a class of product that is always hard to sell, should be an inspiration to the rest of our industries. These three manufacturers have tested advertising, and have confidence in its efficiency in stimulating business in times of war as well as in times of peace.

Instead of retrenching, the business men of Canada may well emulate the action of the motor car manufacturers, and go out after business in the most aggressive way possible.

Falling Memory
Pat was on his deathbed, and at his side knelt his faithful and loving wife Mary.
"In my last moments," said Pat, "I want to tell you how we stand financially. Tom O'Rourke owes us 11 shillings." "Praise be to goodness," exclaimed Mary with a look of rapturous admiration at Pat. "Clear in his head to the last!"
"Mind as clear as a bell, and him near to death!" interrupted Mary again.
"And," Pat resumed, "Tim Doolin owes us six shillings seven-pence."
"Was ever a man's memory like that?" questioned Mary, ecstatic in her wonder.
"Then," said Pat, "we owe Bill Crocker 14 shillings."
"The saints preserve us," cried Mary, in distress. "He's daft—raving crazy!"

Schools open Monday

Children are born without shoes, but with a genius for wearing them out. Many parents will agree with this theory, whilst many have found out that our School Shoes will stand the hard usage of every-day school life.

"Before the war" our Shoes were bought, and consequently the prices are as heretofore—the lowest in the city. All our School Shoes are selected with care, having in view two necessary qualities—long wear and appearance.

Boys' from $1.25 to $2.50
Girls' from $1.00 to $2.00

Very Attractive Designs in Our Latest Importations of New Jewelry

Our selections are chosen mainly upon these merits of distinctiveness and individuality of design, as well as on their "Undoubted Quality." These virtues attained, the price is then made as low as possible consistent with this high artistic standard combined with Quality.

Every new conceit in jewelry—the choicest of silverware—the "Best" of everything pertaining to the jewelry business.

all-over net for front and back trimming pieces.

Cut the outer front and back from an open width of the material. There will be room for the long sleeve if it is preferred. The trimming pieces, draped sleeve and sleeve cap are cut from a fold of the chiffon.

After closing under-arm and shoulder seams of the underbody, hem in the right back at notches. Gather lower edge and close shoulder seams of trimming pieces made of net, turn under edge of large "C" perforations and arrange on underbody, centers even.

Now, close shoulder seam of outer front and back as notched, close seam of draped sleeve as notched and gather along seam between double "TT" perforations. Sew side seam at back notches as notched. Gather lower edge of front and back between double "TT" perforations and 2 inches above. Center-front indicated by line of single small "C" and center-back by double "C" perforations. Arrange on underbody, centers even, lapping in front and back as illustrated; stitch lower edges together, single small "C" perforation at under-arm seam. Tack shoulder seam along seam of trimming piece. Turn hem at back edge of opening at notches; close front seam. Sew to lower edge of waist, centers even, notch at under-arm seam.

Little black velvet or satin bows added to the front give a "Frenchy" effect.

Pictorial Review waist pattern No. 5281. Sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inch bust. Price 15 cents.

Fancy waist of figured chiffon built over liberty satin. The neck may be of either round or square outline.

The separate waist is still an article of importance in the wardrobe of fashionable women. The lovely model shown here is made of figured chiffon draped over an underbody of liberty satin—a most delightful combination. The vest is of lace, and lace edging is used for the outer blouse where the wide armhole is draped over a chiffon vesting of the lining.

To make, the model requires 1 1/2 yard of 44-inch satin lining, 1 1/4 yard chiffon 38 inches wide (or 3/4 yard of 27-inch lace trimming), 1/2 yard chiffon for draped sleeve and 1/2 yard of 27-inch fabric.

Pictorial Review waist pattern No. 5281. Sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inch bust. Price 15 cents.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR BOY SCOUTS

Instructions By Lt. General Sir Robert Baden-Powell

WORK FOR ALL TO DO

Duties to Perform in Time of War and in Time of Peace — Must Work For Better Understanding Among Nations of World

New York, Aug. 24.—The national headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America today made public instructions by Lt. General Sir Baden-Powell, which he has issued to the thousands of troops of Boy Scouts in the British Empire. The instructions are in the form of a statement under the heading, "The Great War," which in part follows:

"The sudden rush to arms on the part of the great nations of Europe against each other over a comparatively small incident in Serbia shows why it is so essential to be prepared at all times for what is possible, even though it may not be probable.

"Also it shows how little are the people of these countries as yet in sufficient mutual sympathy as to render wars impossible between them. This will be so until better understanding is generally established. Let us do what we can through the scout brotherhood to promote this in the future. For the immediate present we have duties to our country to perform."

Opportunity for Scouts.

General Baden-Powell says that in this time of national emergency comes the opportunity for the scouts to show that they can be of material service to their country. They will be utilized, says the statement, to take the lighter work of men in order that these might be released to the more arduous duties of war. Their duties are non-military, and come rather within the scope of police work, carried out under the general direction of county authorities. Included are the guarding and patrolling of bridges, and telegraph lines against damage by spies, collecting information as to supplies, circulating notices to inhabitants, and similar duties connected with commanding and warning, carrying out organized relief measures, serving as signal riders, and signallers; helping families of men employed in defense duties, or aiding the sick and wounded; establishing first aid, dressing or nursing stations, acting as guides and orderlies, including the guiding of vessels in unobscured channels, or showing lights to friendly vessels and assisting coast guards.

LIKE ROBBER BARONS

London Papers Denounce Demand on Brussels

All the papers in London denounce the German attempt to levy $40,000,000 in Brussels, which would work out at $55 per capita of population. The papers declare that such an assessment is opposed to all the ideas of modern warfare and is worthy of the robber barons of the Middle Ages.

Irish Loyalty Is Fully Recognized

The following is a report of the discussion in the British parliament on August 10, on the motion introduced by Mr. J. Redmond (Nat.—Waterford): I wish to ask the prime minister whether there is any truth in the statement which has appeared in the newspapers that English territorial regiments are about to be sent to Ireland to replace the regiments of the Regular force that are being withdrawn?

Mr. Asquith—There is no truth in the statement. In view of Lord Kitchener's first necessity for the moment is to recruit the 100,000 men for whom he has asked, and he does not doubt that Ireland will contribute her full contingent. (Cheers.) Subject to this, he is anxious to lend any help possible under the exigencies of the moment in the organization and equipment of the Irish Volunteers. (Cheers.) We have shown our confidence in the willingness and patriotism of the Irish to defend their shores by countermarching the despatch to Ireland of the English Territorials who under other circumstances would have gone. (Cheers.)

Mr. John Redmond—Can the right hon. gentleman say what steps the government are going to take in this matter, and whether he would consider the situation of the War Office, through some proper person, entering into consultation with the authorities of the governing body of the Volunteers in Dublin, so as to concert some system whereby advantage may be taken at once of the situation that has arisen?

Mr. Asquith—I know that Lord Kitchener is anxious to do that, but of course for the moment there is the great difficulty—I do not say it is insuperable—of securing officers and non-commissioned officers for the organization of the 100,000 of the second army that Lord Kitchener proposes to raise. Subject to that, and indeed concurrent with that, he will do everything in his power, after consultation with gentlemen in Ireland, to arrange for the full equipment and organization of the Irish Volunteers. (Manchester Standard.)

Who could have imagined—say, at the time of the Boer War—an Irish Nationalist leader pressing an English ministry to leave it to Irish Volunteers to keep Ireland safe for the Empire in a great European war? How utterly foreign to the mind of the older anti-English Nationalism would have been this new and nobler reading of the doctrine that England's extremity is Ireland's opportunity! And who could have expected, fourteen years ago to see Lord Kitchener, as he led the British army in a war of life or death, promising to "arrange" in consultation with the Nationalist leaders, "for the full equipment and organization of the Irish Volunteers?" How strange it must seem to many who have believed long and sincerely in the "hereditary and irreconcilable hatred" and have felt sure that, in any critical English war with a foreign power, Nationalist Ireland would use in the service of the enemy any freedom allowed to her by England.

PATROLLING THE ATLANTIC
 (Manchester Guardian.)
 The announcement by the Admiralty that twenty-four cruisers are now patrolling the Atlantic means that we have been able to detach as many as five cruiser squadrons for this work. One of them, we know, is the fourth cruiser squadron, which was recently in Mexican waters, and the Essex, one of the vessels of this squadron, has already captured several prizes. Another is the tenth, or training, squadron, which has been based at Queenstown, and which has a large number of cadets and boys on board. No better beginning to an active naval career could be imagined than the exciting and interesting work which these vessels will have to perform. They have, of course, a task which may take some time, but it cannot be very difficult. There are estimated to be five cruisers of the enemy in the Atlantic, only two of which are in the least degree formidable, but whereas British cruisers can coal at the ports of Nova Scotia and New Zealand and at any time

Safety of Trade Routes
British Cruisers in Overwhelming Force
—A Hunt in the Atlantic

At the request of the Foreign Office, the Admiralty have considered attentively the position of Brazil, Uruguay, Argentina and Chile with the intention of concentrating their naval resources as to protect and sustain Anglo-Brazilian, Anglo-Uruguayan, Anglo-Argentine and Anglo-Chilean trade. They have full confidence in their ability to do this. Although the German government are trying, and will try, to harass the trade routes and arrest the flow of commerce, their power to inflict injury diminishes with every day that passes. The Admiralty have already despatched a large number of mobilized cruisers to their stations commanding the trade routes, thus nearly trebling the superior cruiser force already there. For example, there are already in the Atlantic twenty-four British cruisers, besides French, searching for the five German cruisers known to be in that ocean. The enemy's vessels will be hunted continuously, and, although some time may elapse before they are run down, they will be kept too busy to do mischief.

EXPECTS I. C. R. TO DO BIG TRAFFIC IN PULP WOOD
 General Manager Gutelius Discusses Conditions Along the Government Road
 (Montreal Gazette.)
 "This war has affected all our railways so that, to use a popular phrase, we do not know where we are at," said F. P. Gutelius, general manager of the Intercolonial Railway, to the Gazette, in discussing in an informal way the general railway conditions. Mr. Gutelius has been to Ottawa and returned east last night.

TEA MEN FACE GREAT DIFFICULTIES
 "If the embargo is lifted it will certainly have a good effect on the tea trade, so far as it will have no tea in three weeks or less," said the manager of the "Salada" Tea Co. when told that a cablegram stated that the tea embargo was to be raised, "although we are cutting down all orders to the smallest possible quantity." For instance, we had orders from Detroit last week for 5000 pounds. We cut these down to less than 2000 pounds—so throughout the United States as well as Canada. If it is a fact that the embargo is to be taken off it will still take five weeks to get tea from London, and it may take very much longer, because of the difficulties of getting steamers to carry.

ST. JOHN EXHIBITION
September 5th to 12th
SPECIAL RATES ON ALL LINES

This season's Exhibition will include as one of its principal features, THE TENSIVE AGRICULTURAL DISPLAY yet presented to the people of this province. Particular attention has been given to this portion of the Exhibition and it will be far standard.
 IN THE AMUSEMENT LINE a programme has been arranged superior to hitherto attempted in St. John. Heading the list of attractions is—MOTOR POLO, exciting games being played every afternoon and evening. There will be in addition, other high class acts so that visitors to the fair need never lack entertainment.
 THE INDUSTRIAL SECTION of the St. John Exhibition has been growing with succeeding show, and the display to be made next month will, judging from the appliances for space, surpass anything seen in the past.
 On three days of the week the DOG SHOW will be held, this feature in itself commanding a large share of attention.

The British Parliament
And the Home Rule Bill

There is naturally a great deal of interest in the question of what the British parliament will do in the matter of Home Rule.
 At the recent rising of the two houses for a fortnight's recess the immediate fate of the Home Rule Bill still remained in suspense.
 Mr. Asquith outlined the government's intentions regarding the winding up of the business of the session. He said: "I am sure that everyone of us is anxious, so far as it can be done without any sacrifice of principle or of position, that we should continue as a house and as a country to speak and to act with one voice in the face of the great risks and responsibilities which surround us. When ten days ago the second reading of the Amending Bill was postponed, both the leader of the opposition and I made it plain that we were not prepared to be without prejudice to the domestic political position of any party. To what was then said and assented to in the letter and in the spirit, we use very few words—at our advice to adjourn today for a fortnight—all the 28th of this month, when we trust we shall be in a position to wind up the business of the session. When I say that I make that that we may be able to make proposals in regard to dealing with that business which may meet with something like general acquiescence."
 Mr. Bonar Law (Leader of the Opposition)—"I shall initiate the prime minister in using the fewest possible words. I understand the statement which we have just heard to mean that the house will now adjourn for a fortnight, and that when we meet again the house and the government will be free to take whatever course they think best."

 The Prime Minister pointed assent.
 Mr. Bonar Law—"I need only add that I share to the full, and so far as I can, I will gladly help—(Ministerial cheers)—to realize, the hope expressed by the prime minister that some way may be found to prevent controversial debate in this house, which at a national crisis would, in my belief, be a national calamity."
 Virtually the same announcement and the same expressions of mutual hope were forthcoming in the other house almost simultaneously from Lord Crewe and Lord Lansdowne.
 The Marquis of Crewe, having referred to the adjournment for a fortnight in terms similar to those by Mr. Asquith in the other house, Lord Lansdowne, in acquiescing said that considering all that had happened during the last few days in parliament, throughout the country and particularly in Ireland, and considering the way everybody had sought to be instrumental in presenting a united front to the world, if anything, he would be the gravest calamities if anything were to happen at this moment or during the next few days to revive dormant differences or mar the unanimity of our patriots."
 (Manchester Guardian.)

SEES PROSPERITY AHEAD.
 Steamship Man Thinks One Business Will Gain Where Another Loses.
 (Montreal Gazette.)
 "Contrary to the general expectation Canada is going to experience a fair share of prosperity this year in my opinion," said F. Percy Smith, of the Canada Steamship Lines. "There will have to be a severe and harsh readjustment of business to meet the new conditions. Certain industries will be almost paralyzed while others will keep forward, and there will be hardship while the workmen who lose their positions in one branch find places in some other kind of industry. I know of various articles that business men have been trying to buy in England and the United States that they cannot obtain with the result that local factories get the orders and are increasing their output. What is true in a few lines will also be true in scores of other lines, and it will cause a great deal of local activity. British manufacturers at the moment are not able to increase their output so as to take the place of the German products no longer obtainable, and that again will work to the advantage of this country."
BOER LADY ENLISTS AS NURSE
 Miss J. C. van Duyn, government lecturer in domestic science for the Union of South Africa, who is at present spending her vacation in England, has enlisted as a Red Cross nurse at King's College Hospital for service in the British army. Miss Van Duyn is a Boer lady who went through the South African War. She is the first Dutch South African for this branch of the English army.

CANADA'S GOOD POSITION.
 (Montreal Mail.)
 There are no good reasons for Canadian business men to be unduly apprehensive of the consequences of the war upon commercial conditions in this country. The population of Canada is as large as it ever was. Its need of food, clothing and other necessities is no smaller than usual. The demand for luxuries may lessen for the time, and financial speculation may cease, but, after all, the foundation of real business is too broad and firmly laid to be materially affected. Dislocation is confined chiefly to the super-strata of business. Happily the financial situation is clarified by the year of retrenchment following the Balkan War, and the Canadian banks are now in a strong position and pursuing a careful, conservative policy. Happily again, our good business is not chiefly in the hands of the chemists made almost exclusively by Germany, but our manufacturing has chiefly a home market. The prosperity of that home market is based mainly upon agricultural prosperity, and our position in that respect is bettered by the war. The paralyzing effect of war upon international finance must, of course, have the effect of tightening up money and credit in Canada, and of restricting business expansion for the time being. But assuredly a large part of the war scare depression is purely psychological, and will be lifted when the news from Europe is of a decisive victory by the allies. When the Kaiser's war machine is driven back, as it ultimately must be, the effect upon the public confidence will be immensely relieving. It may be that the present uncertainty marks the lowering of the darkest clouds on the horizon, and that the next week or two will bring the brightening rifts that presage the silver dawn. The holding of the Germans on the Franco-German frontier and a decisive victory for the British fleet in the North Sea would have an immediate reassuring effect, and business would feel the brightening impulse. It is not wise at present to go too far in discounting a long, disastrous war. Canada's position is exceptionally favorable, and improvement may be early.

SUFFRAGETTES PATRIOTIC
 The London Society for Women's Suffrage has suspended all ordinary social work for the time being and is preparing to use its entire organization (including over 60 branches in different parts of London) and skilled workers for the immediate requirements of the national crisis. Their object will be to organize these voluntary workers in conjunction with the central authority and societies carrying on relief and other work.

Daniel O'Connell—"The Liberator"
 IRELAND has given the world many a genius and many a Lover of Liberty, but none greater than the eloquent O'Connell. This noble Irishman unselfishly devoted every moment of his life to regain the freedom of his Fatherland. His oratory, because of its flaming earnestness, exercised a powerful influence over the House of Commons and hastened many reforms for Ireland. Daniel O'Connell was the first to realize the irresistible strength of a union of millions of Irishmen, and to this end he labored night and day. Huge mass meetings were everywhere organized through Ireland and addressed by the masterful O'Connell. When confident of success and with victory in sight he was arrested and condemned to prison. When liberated his splendid constitution was shattered, but he continued until his dying hour to work and pray for Irish Liberty. It is needless to say that Daniel O'Connell was opposed to any Pro than will our millions of Irish-American citizens. They know that there is no evil in the barley brews and light wines of their fathers—EVIL ONLY IS IN THE MAN WHO MISUSES THEM. For 57 years Anheuser-Busch have honestly brewed honest beers, and they are proud of the popularity their great brand Budweiser enjoys with those of Irish blood. Our Irish citizens have helped to make our nation great among the nations of the world. Seven thousand, five hundred people are daily required to keep pace with the natural demand for Budweiser.

BENEFIT MATINEE ADDS LARGE SUM TO PATRIOTIC FUND

Opera House Crowded to Witness Pleasing Performance by Mack's Musical Revue—Pulic Thanks to Those Who Assisted

More than one hundred and twenty-five dollars were added to the soldiers' patriotic fund yesterday from the receipts of the benefit matinee given by the members of Mack's Musical Revue in the Opera House. The audience was large, but there was room for more, although the attendance was perhaps the largest for a mid-summer matinee in the years. The programme given on Monday night gave pleasure again, the different members of the company repeating their successes. The work of Miss Akerstrom, Miss Elvye Wallace, and Miss Helma Russell was particularly clever, while "Canadiana" sung by Frank Venette with full chorus was heartily applauded.

MASONIC GRAND LODGE GUESTS AT BANQUET

Fredericton, Aug. 25.—The sessions of the Grand Lodge, F. & A. M. of New Brunswick, continued this afternoon and evening. At the evening session the third degree was conferred and considerable business transacted. This afternoon a meeting of the Masonic lodge corporation, formed under an act of the legislature passed last session, was held. At the conclusion of the session the visitors were entertained to a banquet at the Colonial Tea Rooms by Hiram Lodge. More than 100 sat down to a most excellent repast. The list of guests proposed and duly included the King, by H. S. Campbell, Governor General and Parliament; J. D. Phinney, Army and Naval Defence; H. V. Bridges, Worshipful Master and Craft; I. H. Bliss, City of Fredericton; C. Fred Chestnut. Among the prominent Masons attending grand lodge are Dr. Thomas Walker, H. S. Bridges, Blanchard Fowler, R. L. Hunter, R. E. Crawford, Robert Clarke, A. WARNINGS "Keep this Cover On" "Do not expose to LIGHT" "OTHER BREWS 'Keep this Cover On'"

We extend the hand of warm fellowship to everyone who raises the pure beer flag. The brewing industry is one of the greatest in the world. The beer drinking nations are among the strongest. No one can afford to take chances with the purity of beer. That's why the light bottle is condemned. It is insufficient protection from light—which starts decay even in pure beer.

RECENT DEATHS

George Patterson. Following severe injuries sustained on Saturday night in a fall into one of the repair pits in the Northworth street barns, George Patterson, of 7 Pokok Road, died about midnight in the General Public Hospital. He had never regained consciousness. Mr. Patterson had been for many years in the employ of the St. John Railway Company, and on the night of his fall had been repairing one of the cars, working over the pit in which he fell. His injuries then received are presumed to have caused his death, which is regretted by the many friends who held him in high respect. His fellow employes in the company held him in esteem, and outside friends were shocked to hear of his death. Mr. Patterson was fifty-nine years of age. He is survived by his wife, four sons, and two daughters. The sons are Frederick, in Fort William, Ont.; Frank, in Winnipeg, Man.; and Charles and Harry at home, while the daughters are Miss Annie and Ada, both at home. The time of the funeral has not yet been arranged.

BABY ALL COVERED WITH ECZEMA

Could Not Sleep Day or Night, Itched and Burned Terribly. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured in a Month. Also Cured Mother of Salt Rheum. Quarrville, N. B.—"For a month after my baby was born he could not sleep day or night with eczema. He was all covered with small watery pimples which would break in a day or two and leave a humony scab and would itch and burn terribly. He scratched so much that he made sores. His skin burned all the time and when the scab came off it left little marks like chicken-pox. At last I saw Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertised. After the first application he rested easier. I applied the Cuticura Ointment lightly and after an hour I would wash him with Cuticura Soap. After a month's treatment he was cured. 'I was greatly troubled with salt rheum on my hands. They broke out in little watery pimples and would be so itchy I could not bear them. Then they would dry up and crack and bleed and when I put them in water the disease would extend to the then tied up with cotton rags. I could not do any work. One box of Cuticura Ointment with the Cuticura Soap cured them.' (Signed) Mrs. Grattan, July 31, 1913. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. A NEW BRITISH DESTROYER. The British Admiralty has taken delivery of a new destroyer, a sister ship to the Lancelot, which was prominent in the sinking of the German mine-laying steamer Konigin Luise. The new vessel is named the Lookout, and has been built by Messrs Thornycroft, of Southampton, who delivered the boat six weeks ahead of contract time. The Lancelot and Lookout belong to a class of twenty destroyers, of which the Lancelot was the first, provided for in the 1913 naval programme, and are among the swiftest vessels afloat. They have a displacement of 980-1,100 tons, and they were designed to attain a speed of 22 1/2 knots. They carry three 4-in. quick firing guns and four 21-in. torpedo tubes. They have an oil capacity of 182,160 tons. About a hundred officers and men form the crew, as against 120 required for the slightly more powerful boats of the 'M' class now building under last year's programme.

Canada In The War

Newsy Notes of Activities in Many Parts of Dominion

Harrison Watson, Canadian trade commissioner in London, points out that Canada should be able to ship great quantities of wire nails, iron tubes and telephone poles to England, to take the place of those imported from the continent.

Volunteers who get drunk are not accepted in Montreal for active service.

Stratford, Ontario, insured its volunteers, single men for $500, married men with not more than two children under fifteen years of age $1000 and married men with three or more children under fifteen years of age $2000.

Doctors Hepburn and Lockwood, two young Canadian physicians taking post-graduate courses in London, have joined the Royal Army Medical Corps for active service.

Hon. W. J. Hanna of Toronto and Mrs. Hanna came out from Liverpool to New York on a tank steamer, being unable to secure passage on a regular liner.

The Daughters of the Empire are making one thousand housewives for the men of Princess Patricia's Light Infantry, who are expected to sail at the end of this week for the front.

American citizens in Toronto at a meeting on Saturday night pledged $80,000 as the nucleus of a fund to be collected for the support of those left in poor circumstances by volunteers for active service.

From Edmonton on Saturday 918 men left for Valcartier and 500 more are coming this week. Five hundred left on Saturday from Moose Jaw. A Winnipeg dispatch says over 100,000 people turned out to farewell the Winnipeg men leaving for Valcartier.

The minister of militia declares he will only allow officers to go to the front who are physically fit and qualified from a purely military standpoint.

At a meeting of leading Canadian women in Ottawa last week a resolution was adopted urging all Canadian women as far as possible to buy products made in Canada, and thus keep Canadian funds in operation.

It is estimated that not more than 4,000 harvesters are going west this year, compared with over 15,000 last year.

The Georgian Bay Lumber Company announce that they will take care of all the married men in their town of Waukegan next winter by sending them to the woods. The president of the company has personally undertaken to be responsible for the families of some married men from their employ who have gone to the front.

The prime minister announced at Ottawa yesterday that the government may take summary action in the near future to put a stop to unjustifiable price-raising in the case of food-stuffs.

The Bank of Montreal has contributed $100,000 to the Canadian patriotic fund.

O, why does the censor keep us in suspense?

Despatch says "Paris, without its male citizens, saddest place in world." And still we always had the idea that it was the girls who made it Gay Paree.

Now that some of our friends are returning from their summer homes, we are burdened with further invitations, those long-distance ones, such as "You really must spend a couple of weeks with us NEXT SUMMER."

Because some fellows have been wearing blue neckties since the war broke out, should not be taken to mean that they're trying to match their feelings.

We're not asking this question merely to fill space, but we'd honestly like to know if the Main street winks will be finished before the Exhibition.

We Simply Can't Believe It! Even the census let by some unreliable news. A despatch to a morning paper said that the Germans invading Belgium had destroyed a brewery in that country.
