Lord Carnaryon regretted that his question was made a party measure. Ireland had ney er gained anything on the battle fields of poli-tics. He criticized the Irish policy of the late Derby Ministry and he distrusted the policy Cabinet. He thought it was safer for the Church to make terms with its avoved opponents than to trust its professed friends. If the Church of England fell into 'the minority his affection for it would remain, but his conscience would not support it as an estali-liment. He was in favor of disestablishing the Irish Church, but he would not disen

This was no plan for disen downent, but its framers threatened that if it was not passed, worse would follow. If could be found they would have done it. He conceived of nothing worse that abolition. Inquiry should be made as to the right of spoilation. If envy and dislike were the reasons for it, it would not stop at Corporate property. He thought the Feniwould regard it as a "Sop." To save L. He wished to yield to the opinions of the prople, but if they acted prudently, honorably and independently they would probably interpret the wish of the people better than the Commons have done.

The Debate was then adjourned.

From L. J. RACHNE, Esq., of La Misrres, Mostreal. "Having experiences the most gratifying results from the use of Dr. William's Baismon of Wild Cherry, I am induced to express the great confidence which I have in its efficacy." For sine months I was most creatly affected with a severe and obstinate count, accompanied with some part of the severe and obstinate count, accompanied with some part of the severe and obstinate count, accompanied with some part of the severe and severe and the severe and step they greatly and administered it to my children, with the hepped results. I am sure that such Canadiana as use the list which has only to be true to be schemished as the remedy per excellence."
