CONSERVATIVE VICTORY.

London, May 14.-A Parliamentary election was held today in the Walworth division of Newington to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Wm. Saunders. The result of the poll was: Eailey (Con.), 2,776; Reade (Lib.), 2,103; Lansburg (Socialist) 347. At the last previous election Mr. Saunders (Home Ruler) was returned by a vote of 2,514 against 2,213 for Mr. Isaacs (Con.).

A "SNAP" FOR RUSSIA. London, May 14.—The Daily News to morrow will print a dispatch from its Berlin correspondent saying that St. Petersburg advices are that Russia is considering an offer from China to allow the Siberian Railway to be continued through Manchuria and Corea to Port Lazareff, this line to be connected by another with Port Arthur. Russia, the dispatch adds, would thus become master of Eastern Asia.

WANTS LASTING PEACE. Berlin, May 14.—Tokio advices say that in order to secure a lasting peace the Mikado has recommended that the Japanese Government conclude a special agreement with China providing for the restoration of the Liao Tung Pen-

UNWELCOME GUESTS. A cable from St. Petersburg says: Information has been received at the Chinese legation here to the effect that the Chinese Government is anxiously awaiting the measures which Russia, F'rance and Germany may take concerning the modification of the peace treaty, as well as for the purpose of assisting China to obtain the funds necessary to hasten forward the Japanese evacuation of Chinese territory.

The Chinese Government is disposed to raise the largest loan possible, in order to shorten the term of Japanese ocupation, which it would even like to terminate at once if it could obtain sufficient funds for that purpose.

FRENCH BUDGET DEFICIT. Paris, May 14.—The budget estimates put the revenue at 3,392,000 francs and the expenditure at 3,348,000 francs. It is proposed to cover the deficit by a reform of succession duties, which will yield 25,000,000 francs; an increase of the stamp duties on foreign companies' bonds, bringing 14,000,000; a tax on serwants, except farms and factories, 10,-000,000; Algerian customs assimilated with the French, 4,000,000; a new tax on playing cards, 1,200,000, and an increased horse and carriage tax, 1,000 .-

News has just been received of an accident at Gympie, New South Wales, by which Mlle. Essie Viola, of San Francisco, known as the queen of American aeronauts, nearly lost her

When the balloon by which Mile. Viola ascended reached an altitude of over 1,000 feet, the thousands of spectators below were shocked at the appearance of flames bursting through the huge silken bag.

With great difficulty the aeronaut released the parachute, but this, too. caught fire as she was about to jump from the balloon. Mile. Viola leaped from the cage, and with her burning parachute fluttered to earth. The strangest feature of the accident, which is authenticated by copies of the Australian papers, is that the young woman was not seriously injured by the fall.

CONTRADICTORY STORIES. London, May 14.-The Daily Graphic tomorrow will print a Shanghai dispatch saying that it is announced in Pekin that Japan consented to the retrocession of the Liao Tong peninsula to China without demanding an equivaient, and that her liberal conduct in this matter is warmly praised. The dispatch also says that Russia, France and Germany have made a joint offer to negotiate a loan to enable China to pay the war indemnity.

brought to bear by the new triple alliance, Japan persists in declining to fix a date for the evacuation of the Chinese mainland. Japan, the dispatch says, maintains her right to retain possession of Port Arthur until half of the war indemnity shall have been paid, and to hold Wei-Hai-Wei until the payment of the whole indemnity shall have been completed. Japan also declines to evacuate Corea until affairs there are settled and the independence of the country secured.

BISMARCK ON WOMAN'S IN-

FLUENCE. Berlin, May 14.-Prince Bismarck yesterday received a number of Silesian ladies and made an address, in which he expressed regret that women were allowed so little influence in politics. He said he did not expect women to speak in Parliament, but wished that the elections showed more of their in-fluence. The Centrists and Poles were influenced to a large extent by women, but with the Socialists women had far too little weight. If they had more and if they realized their future as wives and mothers in a Socialist state they would never allow their husbandse to belong to the Socialist party. If any women do so, they must be estranged in some way from what men revere as genuine womanhood.

The ex-Chancellor continued: "I believe female sympathy with our political institutions to be a much stronger bulwark against Socialism than would have been the Anti-Socialist Bill if it had passed. In conclusion the Prince appealed to his hearers to try and influence their husbands and male relatives and induce them if possible to fight the dangers of the future with greater valor than they had displayed in regard to the Anti-Socialist Bill.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE A PEER? London, May 14.-The motion introduced in the House of Commons today by Sir William Harcourt in regard to the status of Viscount Wilmer took the technical form of a resolution to appoint a commission to inquire whether Viscount Wolmer had succeeded to the Earldom of Selborne. Mr. Chamberlain offered an amendment that the committee, if appointed, also consider the dormant titles of the Earl of Hyndford. Viscount Inglishberry and Nemphlar, Lord Carmichael of Carmichael, and if Lord Carmichael yet held a seat in the House of Commons.

Sir William Harcourt declined to involve the commission in the consideration of separate questions. A seat held by a peer, he said, was legally vacated upon the death of the peer. The only question, therefore, which could be referred to the committee was embodied in a motion he had just sub-

Mr. George Curzon said that the late Earl of Selborne had encouraged Viscount Wolmer, his son, to take the step he was taking. Mr. Labouchere ridiculed the course of Mr. Chamberlain dras, ing the matter of a dormant peerage into this question. He himself, he said, had recently received a letter from a person offering for the sum of ten guineas to prove that he (Labouchere) was a member of the royal family. (Laughter.) That being so, the question arose, according to Mr. Chamberlain's contention, whether he had a right to sit in the House of Commons. The whole debate he thought was a piece of absurdity, and a writ ought to be moved without delay declaring Viscount Wolmer's seat vacant. The motion offered by Sir William Harcourt was carried by a vote of 330

ANOTHER ENGLISH BYE-

ELECTION. London, May 15 .- The Parliamentary election in the west division of Dorset, which took place yesterday, resulted in the return of Col. Williams, the Conservative candidate, by a vote of 3,538 to 2,325 for Wood Homer, the independent farmers' candidate, who was supported by the Liberals. In the last election the Conservative candidate was chosen by a vote of 3,691 to 2,183 for his Home Rule opponent.

AMERICANS PRESENTED TO VIC-TORIA.

London, May 15 .- At the Queen's drawing-room today the Dowager Duchess of Marlborough was presented upon the occasion of her recent marriage to Lord William Beresford. The duchess, who was the center of special attraction, were a train of pearl velvet tinged with pink, embroidered with silver and diamond lilies and lined with pearl gray satin. Her gown was of pearl gray satin draped with rare point D'Aujantan of Charles IX. Her headdress was of plumes and her ornaments arge diamonds. Mrs. Whitehouse, of New York, wore a pink satin gown embroidered with pearls and gold, and train cloudy blue brocaded with gold, lined with yellow satin. Her ornaments were pearls and diamonds and she carried a bouquet of roses and orchids. The Misses Whitehouse were dressed alike in white satin skirts, diament satin bodices and trains of miroir Poult de Soie. They carried bouquets of gardenias. Miss Furniss, of New York, wore an ivory white satin waist, embroidered in gold, with pearly bands and train of

THE TURF. TRICK TO EVADE THE LAW. Judge Gillette has dissolved the injunction against the Roby (Ind.) race track. This is a big victory for the owners of the track, who now say they have a plan to keep running as long as they please. The plan is to only run the track for fifteen days, the time allowed by law, and then to change their name to another association, and thus come within the provision of the law. Each fifteen days will see the track leased to a different association.

BIG STAKES. London, May 15.—At Newmarket to-day the Newmarket stakes of at least 4,500 sovereigns by subscription and 30 sovereigns each, for 3-year-olds, one mile and two furlongs, straight, was won by the Duke of Portland's The Owl. Mr. Cox's Solero was second, and Lord Rosebery's Sir Visto third.

BIG OFFER FOR ALIX. New York, May 15 .- Monroe Salisbury last night confirmed the rumor relative to his having had an offer of $30,000 for Alix (2:03 3-4), the queen of the trotting turf. The little Perrigo girl, who was said to have been abducted from her parents near Norwich, Oxford county, has been found at the house of her alleged abductors, the three Bowerman brothers, who, however, have disappeared. The girl claims that she left her father because of his abuse, and that the Bowermans protected her. She stayed with the men in a sugar shanty for several days, when she went to the Bowerman house and remained there until brought to the jail. The authorities are endeavoring to capture the Bowerman brothers.

OTTAWA NOTES.

(Specially telegraphed by our own representative)

I was told tonight that Baroness Macdonald, who is at San Remo, has written that she will be unable to be present at the unveiling of the memorial to her late husband in Montreal next week. Hugh John Macdonald, Winnipeg, will represent her. Contractor Isbister and his friend, Mr. Thompson, were lobbying today for the Hudson Bay speculators' scheme to get $2,500,000. They are not over sanguine that Parliament will indorse the colossal job. It is now denied that the C. P. R. have offered to build the line. I learn tonight the Sir Hibbert Tupper has been ordered by his physician to take a long rest. He goes to Lakewood, N. J. Mr. Rider will ask if Sir Charles Tupper last year publicly announced that Canadian Government offered to send troops to England in case of a war with France or any other power. Mr. Featherston is after information regarding the so-called census of C. C. MacDonald, London, is here on his way to Winnipeg. He goes to assist in the development of creameries. A Conservative caucus will be held tomorrow morning. Among the arrivals today are John R. Minhinnick, London; M. Wilson, Q.C., James Lamont and H. A. Patterson, Chatham; O. E. Fleming, Windsor.

A sportsman returned from the Gatineau Valley today says that up the river a heavy snow storm took place yesterday. Farmers say the frost has done much damage. A bill which Mr. Tisdale (Norfolk) has introduced enables the St. Clair and Erie Ship Canal Company to increase its capital from $5,000,000 to $8,000,000. Mr. Moncrieff today brought in a bill to incorporate the Ontario Accident Insurance Company.

OUR LICENSE COMMISSIONERS. To the Editor:

"Consistency, thou art a jewel." When a boy I read the fable of the "Foolish

Dog," crossing the stream with a piece of meat in his mouth, but seeing the shadow of the same reflected on the stream, dropped the substantial to try and catch the shadow. This piece of folly we think has been re-enacted by our license commissioners. They have dropped the substantial temperance vote to catch the unsubstantial liquor vote. They cannot get both; so I think they will find themselves in the position of the poor deluded dog, who to his sorrow found both substantial and shadow gone. Such we think will be the result, for the honorable commissioners will find out that the tem-perance vote will be largely lost to the party who put them in power. Only think of it-here is "Sir Oliver packing up his grip sack" to go to England to ascertain whether he has the power to prohibit, and his representatives here encouraging drinking habits by legislating for an extended opportunity to demoralize the poor victims of intemperance, thus increasing the poverty and misery of the family and holding open the door of temptation to our youth. "Tell it not in Gath." Whither are we drifting? Let the party either change its name or learn to honor itfor a temperance ruler, when he makes a good profession, should be sure to make his profession good. We say to the Reform party, either change your name or learn to honor it. As one representing a large number of the temperance party, I feel we have been sold. We had a vivid remembrance of the record in the Old Book of one who sold his Master for a paltry sum, but sufficient to blast his name for ever. No repentance could undo the fatal act; so we understand that some of our license commission express repentance, but it is too late. The damage is done for the next twelve months, and ere that ends a double crop will be reaped, or we are much mistaken-the tavernkeepers lining their purses and the license commissioners losing their character for honor and sincerity; and if we can bring it to pass we will teach them a lesson it may take years to blot out the remembrance of. In conclusion we would say, shame on the men who steal the livery of the court of heaven to serve the devil in.

We had hoped better things, but we have faith in our cause, and will by every legitimate means fight for victory without respect to party.

A DEAD ISSUE.

The Confederation of Newfoundland Britain Will Not Assist.

St. Johns, Nfld., May 15 .- It is admitted today that confederation is a dead issue. Canada has refused to assume the Newfoundland debt of $15,000,000, and Great Britain has declined to interfere while Newfoundland is a selfgoverning colony. The Whitewayites are preparing a retrenchment scheme, but admit its insufficiency to meet the present difficulties. London, May 15.—The Times says to accede to Newfoundland's request that Great Britain guarantee the savings banks deposits, would be merely the indirect taking over of a large part of the colonial debt. There is no probability that the Government will revise their previous decision that an inquiry must Cheap and sure results. See next page. be held before financial arrangements l are entered into The Serap Bag.

"Blow, blow, thou winter wind. Thou art not so unkind As man's ingratitude;

Thy tooth is not so keen." I thought it a pretty hard knock. It wasn't what you would call a copybook sort of letter exactly, but just in that easy, flowing sort of hand that to anybody with half an eye is so legible, interesting, too, and full of information to the extent of two dozen clean, white pages-altogether a nice letter. It was to a friend. A friend who is well aware that if there is anything on earth I hate worse than spiders, it's letterwriting, and in whom, some sense of gratitude for such an exertion, on the part of another, would have been not only proper, but becoming. I think I was rather expecting it. But I didn't get any. What I got was a short note, a few brief lines, prefacing & newspaper clipping pasted across the sheet, which commenced thus:

'My Dear -: "Thank you so much for your letter. I think my experience with it so far, has been that of Thomas Bailey Aldrich, who once received a letter from Prof. E. S. Morse, of Salem, Mass., that was simply incapable of being read. Here is Mr. Aldrich's answer. Will you be so good as to take it as one from nie?
"'My Dear Mr. Morse—It was very pleasant for me to get a letter from you the other day. Perhaps I should have found it pleasanter if I had been able to decipher it. I don't think I mastered anything beyond the date (which I knew) and the signature (which I guessed at). There's a singular and perpetual charm in a letter of yours-it never grows old, it never loses its nov-elty. One can say to one's self every morning: "There's that letter of Morse's I haven't read it yet. I think I'll take another shy at it today, and maybe I shall be able, in the course of a few years, to make out what he means by the t's that look like w's and those i's that haven't any eyebrows. Other letters are read and thrown away and forgotten. But yours are kept forever -unread. One of them will last a reasonable man a lifetime. Admiringly

"That my darling may make no mistake, remember that I will wear a light pair of trousers and a dark cutaway coat. In my right hand I will carry a small cane, and in my left a cigar .-Yours ever, Adolphe."
The father replied courteously, stat-man sent a letter to a German lady,

ing that his daughter had given him authority to represent her at the appointed place at the time agreed on. His postscript was as follows: 'Dot mine son may make no mishdakes, I vill be dreshed in mine shirtsleeves; I vill vear in mine right hand a glub; in mine left hand I vill vear a six-shooter. You vill recognize me by de vay I bats you on de head a goople at de corner, as I have somedings im-

SNOW A FOOT DEEP.

Sequel to the Cold Dip-Michigan Fields Robed in "The Beautiful"— More Frost.

Williamsburg, Mich., May 14.—Wet and sticky snow lies a foot deep on an average, and is badly drifted. Fruit trees are bent to the ground, and many young orchards are badly damaged. Ridgeway, Mich. May 14 .- One of the hardest frosts known in years injured the fruit and early vegetables here. Blissfield, Mich., May 14. — Blinding snow storm all morning. Wind blowing a gale. Frost killed all garden truck. Toronto, May 14.—From all parts of Ontario come the reports of great damage done by the recent cold snap. In some parts ice half an inch thick formed on standing water. Farmers and market gardeners who were in the city today said that besides fruits and vegetables being destroyed the pea crops in many places are badly nipped. Other grains have escaped. The weather that has followed the big drop in the temperature is most favorable. The cold rain removes the chill, but had a hot sun followed, crops that are now looking healthy would have turned black.

St. Paul, May 14.—Reports indicate that there was another severe frost last night all over Minnesota and South Dakota. It is feared the damage was even greater than on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights. Niagara Falls, Ont., May 14.-Snow fell to the depth of four inches this morning, followed during the afternoon with drizzling rain. The grape crop in the locality has been almost totally destroyed, which means thousands of dollars' loss. Strawberry patches look as if they had been swept by fire, cherries suffered severely, and also the peach trees. Corn, potatoes and other vegetables are flat on the ground, the season being fully three weeks ahead of last year.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 14.—Telegraphic reports from 30 towns in Iowa show that the frost on Sunday did inestimable damage to early vegetation and small fruits.

Montreal, May 14.-A large number of French-Canadians employed on section 10 of the Soulanges Canal struck today. They want $1 25 instead of $1 as a day's pay. The contractors, it is said, will replace the strikers by other men.

SUICIDE AT FOURSCORE.

Toronto, May 14.—Geo. Williams, 80 years of age, living at 16 Denison Square, committed suicide this morning. The old man tied one end of a rope to the door-knob and threw the other end, with a noose, over the door. Standing on a chair, he placed his head in the noose and pushed the chair away. Williams has been in poor health for some time.

KINCARDINE DISTRICT METHO-DISTS.

Lucknow, Ont., May 14.—The Kincardine district meeting of the Methodist Church held its annual meeting here today. There was a good representation and a considerable increase was reported in the membership. The financial condition of the district was satistory, considering the stringency of the times. The Rev. J. Livingstone was appointed to the stationing committee, Rev. B. L. Hutton to the Sabbath school and J. A. Carrick to the missionary

SOULS AWAKENED.

Good Results Shown at the Yatman Meetings.

Many Signify Their Intentions of Changing Their Course and Leading Better Lives.

Yesterday was the third day of the great Methodist revival movement, and already tangible results are becoming apparent. Although last night was a most disagreeable one to be out in, about a thousand persons found their way to the rink. The vast structure was comfortably warmed, and there was not the slightest sense of chilliness. Evangelist Yatman, too, is warming up to his task of awakening the unconverted of London, and last night a large number sought the penitent bench. Besides that, seven or eight stood up to be prayed for. While the evangelist was pleading with the unsaved the choir sang sweetly and in a low tone several verses of "Almost Persuaded." Every sound was hushed, and a whisper could have been heard from one end of the rink to the other. Engaged in prayer with the supplicants were Rev. J. R. Gundy, Rev. Walter Rigsby, Rev. A. G. Harris and Rev. Charles Smith. It was a very impressive scene.

The result of the meeting was most encouraging. Rev. Mr. Yatman is an eloquent, impassioned pleader, and a clever student of the Bible. He will go on an evangelistic tour around the world when he leaves London. His address last night was listened to attentively from first to last. Genuine revivals, he said, were never gotten up. Genuine revivals came down from God, and they wanted a genuine revival in London. He dwelt particularly on the power of prayer, and told in a graphic way of the wicked career of a young man and the prayers of a mother for his salvation. It was his own mother who prayed, and the speaker was the boy she prayed for. "And if my mother can pray her prodigal son into the kingdom of God," said he, "you can pray sinners in by the help of the

The afternoon meetings at 3 o'clock are fairly well attended, especially by ladies, and many have already determined to lead better lives.

Niles, Mich., May 14.—There were two interesting occurrences at the opera house last night that weren't on the boards-a suddenly interrupted marriage and a stage duel that proved most

The Madison Square Stock Company, supporting Miss Carlotta Ritta, an accomplished English actress, opened its season here by producing "The Uncrowned King," written by Arthur Trelour Windham, also of England. Miss Ritta last night made her first appearpearance on the American stage.
While in England the actress became betrothed to Mr. Windham, and it was their intention to be married on their arrival in America. Manager Windham conceived the idea of having the wedding take place upon the stage, thinking it would prove a great hit and attract a large crowd to the theater. During the play, where a mock marriage ceremony was to be enacted, a justice of the peace was to perform the real ceremony.

The play passed off satisfactorily until the third act was reached, but just as the justice was about to pronounce the words which were to make them one the would-be bride gave a shriek and fainted away. The curtain was dropped and the audience dismissed. Miss Ritta was carried into a dressing room, where physicians labored for several hours before they were able to relieve her of hysterics. The company is now in a demoralized condition over the illness of the star, and the wedding has been postponed until a later day.

There is a mock duel in the play. The participants made it almost real, one actor receiving a fearful sword gash over the left eye that will disfigure him for life.

SOUSA'S MARCHES.

It is said that there is such a demand for Sousa's new marches that the John Church Company, who are the publishers of "The Manhattan Beach" and "The Liberty Bell," find it impossible to supply the demand, and they recently actually ran out of paper with which to keep their presses going. There seems to be a spirit and fire about these marches which is, so to speak, setting the country ablaze. The plan for Sousa's concerts opens at Nordheimer's music store on Monday next for sub-scribers only. The general public can reserve their seats on Tuesday.

LAKE SUPERIOR.

Its Physical Features, Its Marvelous Depth and Purity. (Washington Star.)

Prof. Mark W. Harrington, chief of the Weather Bureau, read a carefully prepared paper on "Some Physical Features of Lake Superior" before a largely attended meeting of the Geographical Society at the Cosmos Club House recently. The paper gave an interesting description of the lake, its area, coast line, islands, drainage area, formation, depth, currents, changes of levels, periodic and non-periodic changes, temperature, precipitation, forest fires, fauna and commerce. Lake Superior, the lecturer said, was the largest and deepest not only of the Great Lakes, but of all the bodies of fresh water on the earth. Its total coast line is 1,782 miles, of which 880 miles are on the American side and 992 miles are on the Canadian side. The total area, including bays and islands, is 32,166 square miles. The islands have an area of 660 square miles, and the bays an area of 1,041 square miles, leaving a total area of open lake water surface of 30,465 square miles. The boundary line over the lake between the Dominion of Canada and the United States is 289 miles long. Probably the next largest body of fresh water in the world, the lecturer said, is Victoria Nyanza, or Ukerewa, in Equatorial Africa, with an estimated area of 25,000 to 30,000 square miles, as as against the Lake Superior's known surface area of 32,166 square miles. The combined area of the Great Lakes of the St. Lawrence is 95,275 square miles, and a third of this is formed by Lake Superior. The largest island in Lake Superior is the Isle Royal, or the Regal Island. The Indians have always considered this island an evil spirit, and even now are loth to visit it. On account of the large expenditures upon it, with no adequate return, the island has also proved somewhat of a "hoodoo" to the white people. Caribou still

INEFFICIENT MINISTERS. No wonder that the leader of the House of Commons at Ottawa loses temper now and again, and rails at the Opposition for daring to question him upon public affairs. Mr. Foster is fairly clever in what pertains to his own department. He had need of being a hard student when he accepted the portfolio, for his knowledge of public finance and of fiscal policies was meager enough to scratch along, and he was hard pushed by the critics. But by dint of close application he grew quite familiar with public accounts, and now of his work. It is different, however, as regards fiscal policies, and there he is at the the newspaper. mercy of Sir Richard Cartwright, who is a master of every phase of public finance. The leader of the House, however, ought to be a many-sided man. He should know with some degree of minuteness every department of the public service, and in particular he should have a thorough grasp of the principles which regulate public pol-

Mr. Foster is markedly lacking in both these respects, and unfortunately for him his colleagues are as badly equipped as himself.

With the possible exception of Mr. Haggart, there is not a Minister in the House who can be depended upon to defend the work of his own department when it is attacked. The fraud which marked the birth of the Ministry, when they sought to make it appear mier by the grace and favor of Sir der at the bye-elections; the trickiness which marked the grant of aid to the Hudson Bay Railway by order in council, on the eve of the meeting of Parliament; the doubling and twisting which preceded the call of Parliament itself-these are instances which readily occur to show the crookedness and maladroitness of Ministers, and other examples of daily occurrence.

Never before was the Conservative party in such a plight in Canada as it is now, and it is no wonder that large numbers of the more respectable element of the party are waiting in hope for the end that will rid them of leaders like Bowell and Caron, Ouimet and Haggart, Tupper and Daly.

THE NORTHWEST SITUATION. The people of the Northwest have had a hard row to hoe in recent years. They have endeavored to discover the reason why. The Liberals have told them that the policy of high taxation, maintained by the men now in power at Oftawa, was to blame. The old-time party people have striven hard to convince them that their troubles came, not from the grievous burdens imposed by the Dominion Government, but from the freight rates they have to pay to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. There will have to be a change of tune exchange for the high tax policy they were promised high prices for what they had to sell. They have not received high prices. They still pay tribute to the combines. That, and not, as at one time was contended, the rapacity of the C. P. R. freights, is the prime cause of their present troubles, and not until there is a change of administration can a remedy be found. With that change will come legitimate prosperity not only for the farmers, but for the railway men.

ENGLISH STATESMEN ON ADVER-TISING.

A year or two ago an English writer intimate with Mr. Gladstone's habits of reading, mentioned that the great statesman read the advertisements in the American magazines with eager interest, as affording him a knowledge of American society and life obtainable as well in no other way.

The other day, Mr. Balfour, the Conservative leader in the British House of Commons, in a public address, paid a striking tribute to the power of advertising. "We habitually boast," said Mr. Balfour, "of the extension of our railway, postal and telegraph facilities, but we are inclined to overlook the press as the agent which brings into communication the different classes of society. In my judgment all the machinery used in communicating information to the public is not of really more importance to the community at large than the power of the people to communicate by advertisement, and bring the buyer and seller together and to give them the machinery for communicating their wishes to one another."

This tribute to the power and convenience of the advertising facilities afforded by the newspaper press, is no less true than striking. And this is only he is not easily tripped in that branch one of a hundred of the incidental benefits conferred upon the community by

EDITORIAL POINTS.

When "Trilby" was running through Harper's Magazine last year, no little fault was found with Harper's for using such a story. It not only dealt with Parisian artists of somewhat easy virtue, but the leading character was one who when rightly understood would not be tolerated in good society. Yet so well veiled was her lapse that many have read the story from end to end without suspecting it. "Trilby" is indeed a charming novel, and its English is so of the reader is the overflow of French the fact that he has given proof of being such a master of elegant English. But we only mention "Trilby" to notice another story, which appears in the May Century. It is one of the numerous short stories which in the last year or two have become such a rage in America, and may be said to belong to the extreme of that realistic school afdonald there were always a few able | fected by Howells, which has hardly a merit but its realism. The story of Lucinda has not one redeeming quality. > "Boat Sailing, Fair Weather and Foul," from the pen of the well-known authority, Capt. A. J. Kenealy, has just left the presses of the Outing Publishing Company. The volume is profusely illustrated, and in addition to being the latest and most complete work of its kind, it has the marked advantage of being both instructive and interesting, even to those who have never hauled on a sheet or held a stick. Capt. Kenealy has admirably proved that while an instructor must needs be thorough and practical, he need not necessarily be prosy or dry. Full-page illustrations portray the latest and best types of the smaller craft described, while a host of diagrams so simplify the intricacies of rigs, knots, splices, weather signals, compass reckoning, etc., that the veriest landlubber may understand them. In brief, the book covers the subject of boats and boat-sailing from the time when "Man made him a boat of a hollow tree, and thus became lord of the bounding sea," down to the present wonderful advancement in marine architecture, as exmplified "Vigilant," "Valkyrie," Britannia," 'Ailsa," and other flyers. McClure's Magazine for June will contain excellent short stories by Rudyard Kipling, Robert Barr and Stanley J. Weyman. Archibald Forbes, the wellknown English war correspondent, will describe from personal observation, in the same number, the meetings of Napoleon III. with King William of Prussia and Prince Bismarck, the day after the battle of Sedan, when Napoleon put himself at their mercy in order to solicit for his army better terms of surrender than the Prussians were proposing. Pictures of these meetings, and of scenes connected with them, several from famous paintings, will accompany the article. An article on the most successful of living dramatists, Sardou, describing him in his daily life, both in his Paris home and at his country seat at Marly, and telling how he writes his plays, will also appear. It will be very fully illustrated. There are several other equally interesting features in the June number.

P. for North Bruce, into in informing that gentleman by letter mand. He arose and excitedly addressthat all the Senatorships had been promised. It now turns out that they have been promised three or four times over, and in the various districts there has been a comparing of notes, and a Government are being deluged with demands to know what is meant by Preone person. Each man demands an immediate, unequivocal decision in his own favor, and no further delay. I am told today that one western Senatorship, vacant for years, has been promised to three members of the party, in hopes that each may be kept in line, and may be induced to pay well for the prospective honor. Sir Mackenzie

Prof. Robertson told the agricultural committee today that the oulook for cheese this summer was good, though prices are low now. Trade is good in England, he says, and a good demand may be looked for if the price is not higher than 6 pence. Mr. Robertson defended the Prince Edward Island experiments, and announced that the Government winter dairies would now be withdrawn from Ontario, having served their purpose. They would be taken to Manitoba, where dairy butter at present does not bring 5 cents a pound. The hope is in raising the standard of the product and in exporting it in good condition. To effect this, it is intended to provide this season a weekly cold storage train to Montreal, a cold storage warehouse at that port, and cold storage on board steamers. In reply to Mr. McMillan (Huron), Mr. Robertson said the best consignment of butter sent to England by the Government netted 15 cents a pound in Manchester. The Government paid 20 cents for it here. mention was made of the lowest price received. The House today, on report of the comlimpid and pure that the chief regret | mittee, unanimously resolved to have 275,000 copies of Prof. Robertson's statement printed and distributed. Judge McDougall introduced a deputation from York county to the Deputy Minister of Justice today. The members asked to have the criminal code amended so that justices of the peace could try accused persons for trial for larcenies up to $10. At present the red tape law only allows them to commit accused parties to a higher court.

In the House today Mr. Legris was informed that Mr. L. McMurray was appointed a day laborer at the Ottawa Experimental Farm in 1891 at $1 25 a day, and that he now gets $600 a year "for showing visitors around the farm," Dr. Montague said.

Someone must have given the sugar refiners a tip as to what was coming. They took out of bond large quantities of sugar just prior to the budget announcement of the reimposition of the tax. Comptroller Wallace informed Sir Richard Cartwright that 3,304,389 pounds of raw sugar were imported and entered duty free at Montreal between April 30 and May 2 inclusive, 1894. No refined sugar was imported during that time. At Halifax, 2,174,287 pounds of raw sugar were imported and entered duty free between April 30 and May 2 inclusive, in 1894. refined was imported during that time at Halifax. In 1895 no sugar was imported between April 10 and May 2, but 23,547,313 pounds of raw sugar were imported between Feb. 30 and May 26, stored and entered free, and delivered between April 30 and May 2 inclusive; also 11,035 pounds of refined sugar. At Montreal 9,285,499 pounds of raw sugar were imported between April 30 and May 2 inclusive, passed duty free and delivered; also 141,830 pounds of refined.

I learn there is no truth in the statement made by a Montreal paper today that an agreement has been reached on the Manitoba school question, providing that separate schools shall be established as in Ontario, with annual examinations and certificated teaching staff. This may be the final outcome of the prospective backdown of the Dominion Government, but it must first withdraw its obnoxious and unwarranted order-in-council, which goes far beyond the British Privy Council suggestions. And, anyway, nothing will be settled before Premier Greenway and Attorney-General Sifton confer with Lord Aber-

The budget debate was resumed by Mr. McMullen (Wellington) today. He made a practical speech on the evils which have followed the policy of high taxation. He instanced the sugar, cotton and starch, wall paper and other taxes as imposts that enabled a few men to get rich at the expense of consumers, while only a small amount went into the public treasury. The Government census asserts, said Mr. Mc-Mullen, that the manufacturers pocketed 33 1-2 per cent per annum on their capital; but Dr. MacDonald proved last night that Canadian farmers, after paymoderate wages to themselves and their hands last year, lost $10,000,000. He asked if it was fair to maintain protective taxes for the benefit of combines after that revelation?

Mr. McMullen arraigned the Government for its scandalous waste of public money. It had paid $200,000 more for the Curran bridge than it was worth, and the magistrate discharged Contractor St. Louis because the men in power had drawn the contract so loosely that he could escape. The men in power were prepared to do any thing for office. If another Langevin block, with all its iniquities, were required, it would be built. There was not an hon-estly-built public building under Dominion control, but Mr. McMullen pointed with pride to the Parliament buildings at Toronto as such a structure, and said it was a credit to Sir Oliver Mowat and his associates.
"What about your leader?" shouted

Ottawa, May 13.-I learn tonight that Mr. Boyle, of Monck, who sat by Dr.

"My leader," promptly retorted Mr. the ten vacant Senatorships is getting McMullen, "is a man above reproach. He is no office seeker. He never sat in the House with a customs collectorthe House with a customs collector-ed the Speaker amid uproar. The Speaker ordered him to be quiet, and he subsided. Even his friends wondered at him putting the cap on.

Mr. McMullen, continuing, gave many instances how public money is wasted, discovery that a two-faced game has instancing the 550 superannuated civil been played. Now members of the servants annually receiving $263,000 among them. He proposed they should entirely provide for old age out of their ample salaries. He accused Mr. Fosmier Bowell's letter, and why, if the ter and other Ministers of appointing Senatorships are settled, an appoint- their uncles, sisters, cousins and aunts, ment is really promised to more than and further propoed a reduction in the number of Ministers. They would fight less if they had more to do for their $7,000 a year.

Mr. North (Conservative member for East Hastings), a fluent lawyer, made a vigorous speech in favor of the policy of high taxation. He repeated the charge that the Liberals did not say exactly what they meant by a tariff for revenue only. He pitched into Mr. Paterson, of Brant, on the ground that twenty years ago he had spoken in favor of encouraging manufacturing in its early stages. He claimed that the N. P. had opened up the Northwest and had kept Canadians at home, though the census returns proved the contrary.

Mr. McMillan (Huron) next took issue on this. He found Canada had just about as many Cabinet Ministers as Britain. Mr. McMillan asserted that the Mackenzie Government in 1878 reduced the expenditure by 34 cents per head of population. If the policy then in force had been continued by the Conservatives, Canada today would be in a vastly better position than she is. Then he contended that free trade did not account for the agricultural depression in England, which, after all, was "not so bad." Farm laborers there were receiving increased wages, and there could be no surer indication of returning prosperity.

N. F. Davin interrupted: "Are the farm laborers in Britain as well off as the farm laborers in Canada?" he asked.

"Yes, sir," was the emphatic reply 'when you count all the perquisites they get along with their wages." "Are they as well fed?" pursued the bard of Regina.

"Better," came the response. "And may say that where there is complaint regarding the amount of work that can be got out of laborers, it will be found that they have abandoned good, wholesome porridge and milk for plause.) Mr. McMillan strongly objected to the Dominion Government paying subsidies to steamers to carry Canadian implements to Australia to be sold cheaper than to Canadian farmers He asked if it was wise to subsidize a vessel to bring butter from Australia to be sold in Canada, when we are paying 20 cents a pound to send butter to the old country Only $18 worth of Canadian farm produce was sent to Australia last year. Mr. McMillan said the wages of manufacturers' workmen have gone down $50 a year since 1882 and farm lands $10 an agre since 1878. The combines alone benefit by the high tax policy, he added.

Mr. Cockburn (Toronto) shortly be-fore 11 moved the adjournment of the debate. It is likely a division will be reached in the early hours of Friday.

I hear that it is not likely that the bill to provide for the branding of cheese will pass Parliament as it has been presented. Prof. Robertson is against the scheme, and has been speaking against it. In all probability he will be summoned before the com mittee on agriculture to show wherein the scheme would prejudice our cheese interests. Western agricultural M. P.s tell me that the branding of cheese is absolutely necessary to prevent fraudulent marketing.

LONDON PRESBYTERY.

Session Finished - Management of Temporalities - The State of Religion. TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

The members of the London Presbytery assembled in the Park Avenue Presbyterian Church school room and formed themselves into a conference on the state of religion, Rev. W. A. Cook, of Dorchester Station, in the chair. The first topic introduced after devotional exercises was "How can co-operation different denominations of Protestant churches best be secured, so that the subjects of discipline should not be received into membership in the other charches, and how can each congregation be made aware of such an ar-The leader on this subrangement?" ject was Rev. W. J. Clark, who was followed by Revs. James Little and Geo. Sutherland. The discussion then became open, and some raps were given the other denominations. Concluding the debate, Rev. Robert Johnston remarked that a great deal had been said with which he had no sympathy. He loved the brethren of outside denominations, and had always received from them the same treatment as he had given. He did not believe the other denominations were gifted with all the meanness, and that the Presbyterians were free. He (the speaker) was co verted under a Baptist minister, an had received much good from the church. "The apportioning of money to congregations for home missions and augmentation," was spoken to by Rev. Alex. Henderson, of Appin, who explained a plan which he had enforced. In later years manifest progress had been made in giving to the augmentation

Rev. E. H. Sawers considered that no half-dozen men or any committee could do as much as the minister in promoting the work of the fund. A minister should take his own stand in the matter, irrespective of what people might or might not do. The power of personal influence would go a long way in bringing up a congregation. It would fail at times, but clergymen could depend that it would do something.

The closing topic was "The management of temporalities," led by Rev. Alex. Henderson. Mr. Henderson considered that managers should always submit a statement of outstanding liabilities and accounts, and not do as one board which he knew-present a statement showing a good balance on hand, but omitting the liabilities and accounts. The treasurer should submit a complete statement at least once a quarter. If the brethren thought there was a necessity of bringing this matter before rural districts the best way would be to appoint a general conference of managers from every congregation, at which an interchange of experience could be given as to the best way to conduct a church's affairs. It would be helpful. Politicians did it; doctors did it; and why could not church managers?

Rev. E. H. Sawers said there was room for improvement, especially in the country congregations. However, he knew of one rural congregation which paid its minister before noon on the first day of every quarter, and if every charge was in a similar position a conference would be unnecessary. The doleful fact was that eight of every ten congregations were not so fortunate. In the management of temporalities the minister, as a minister, should show himself as little as possible. If he found they were not managed as well as they might be, the pastor's best plan would be to seek out one or more of the best business men in the congregation and work through them rather than go to the board and try to boss the business. The most effective way was for him to work through the men who were best calculated to wield an influence in that direction. He should, together with his family, take a place as a giver in the church. If he didn't do that his flock would very readily follow suit. There could not be two opinions in regard to the regularity with which the board of managers should meet. Rev. Robert Johnston considered that financial work should be done in a distinctly spiritual manner. He believed that what was needed in the board was a realization by the members of the greatness of their work. Dr. Hodge and Rev. Mr. Cook favored the conference, and the following committee was named to arrange details and report where and at what time such conferences could be suitably held: Rev. Alex. Henderson (convener), Rev. E. H. Sawers, Rev. Mr. Cook, Dr. Hodge and - Young.

Presbytery then adjourned to meet in Knox Church, St. Thomas, on Tuesday July 9, at 11 a.m.

The military demonstration to be held in this city on Queen's Birthday under the auspices of the Seventh Battalion will be one of the grandest affairs of the kind ever held in the Province. Since the proposition to celebrate the 24th of May at home was first advanced among the Seventh's officers, all arrangements have been made, and a big day's spectacle is assured for all London's citizens who remain in the city on the holiday, and for all visitors from a distance as well. The Thirteenth Battalion and Band of Hamilton and the Dufferin Rifles of Brantford will arrive in London on the M. C. R. about 10 o'clock in the morning. They will be met at the station by the garrison of London, comprising No.

-Mr. Fred. Baxter, John street, student with Dr. Woolverton, has received word from Toronto that he headed the list of freshmen at the recent dental examinations.

-The Toronto Street Railway Company has issued a handsome book illustrating scenes and buildings along their route. Wait for a similar publi-cation by the London company when they have their trolleys running. -Col. Moore and Major Mason, of the Thirteenth Battalion; Majors Wilkes and Leonard and Capt. Nelles, of the Thirty-eighth Dufferin Rifles, will be here tomorrow to make arrangements for the appearance of their respective regiments here on the 24th of May.

-One of the most distinguished officers of the British postoffice, Mr. Richard James, inspector at Liverpool, arrived in London yesterday, as the guest of Mr. Isaac Waterman, King street. Mr. James is on his annual "flying visit" to Canada, and will return by the Parisian on Saturday.

The managers of the Newsboys' Home have provided six of their with permanent positions the country and six are kept busy with odd jobs. They say the demand for boys is greater than the supply. Liberal subscriptions have been received during the winter, but there are a few expenses unpaid yet.

-The Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) will hold their annual meeting in London, commencing Thursday, May 30, and ending June 3. About 200 dele gates from the different congregations are expected to attend. Some prominent speakers from the Province and from the United States are expected to be present.

-The usual Wednesday morning run of the London Hunt Club was held this morning. The day was damp and chilly, and this had the effect of deterring many from attending. Thirteen riders in all followed the hounds on a lively hunt east to Adelaide street and then north to the end of the run. Among the riders were: Adam Beck (master), Geo. C. Gibbons, Q.C., George McNab, George Macbeth, Master Gibbons, W. T. Strong, H. R. Abbott, Master Niven and others.

MILITARY PROMOTIONS. The following regimental orders have been issued by Lieut.-Col. Lindsay, commanding the Seventh: Orderly officer for the week, Capt. Fitzgerald.

Next for duty, Lieut. Denison. The battalion will parade on Thursday next, at 8 p.m., in drill order. Manual and firing exercise and firing feu de joie. H and B Companies will drill on Friday at 8 p.m. The following promotions will take effect from this date. Lance-Corp. Steadman to be corporal; Lance-Corp.

McGregor to be corporal. By order, H. A. Kingsmill. Captain and Acting Adjutant.

WALL'S IDEALS. Howard Wall's Ideals, who are filling a very successful engagement here, last night presented the comedy-drama, "The Black Flag," in five acts to a large house, that was in no way nig-gardly in its applause. Between the acts Prof. G. A. On introduced his musical novelties, including the xylophone, slide trombone, corrillion and kalamazoo. This afternoon there will be a matinee performance, beginning at 2:30, when "Chick" will be given with a good caste, the prices of admission being 10 and 20 cents. The evening play will be the "Census Taker," and on both occasions several hours of genuine enjoyment may be safely predicted.

SAVED FROM DROWNING. On Friday afternoon last Jack Lush, aged 15 years, and Lou Dambra, aged 12 years, pupils of the Talbot street school, were in bathing at Becher's Island, on the Thames. Lush lives at the London Club, where his father is steward, and Dambra at 122 Queen's avenue. Some other boys were with them, among them being Clarence Paull, the 12-year-old son of Edward Paull, No. 615 Wellington street. The latter got beyond his depth and into the current, and would probably have been drowned but for the prompt action of Young Lush and Dambra. They plunged in and brought the drowning boy to shore at no small risk to their own lives. Nothing further was thought of the incident until yesterday morning Lush and Dambra were pleasantly surprised at their studies in the Talbot street school. Principal Stewart called them up, and Mrs. Paull, Clarence's mother, presented each of them with a handsomely-bound volume. On an inside page was inscribed: "Presented to Jack Lush in grateful recognition of his bravery in rescuing Clarence Paull when in danger of drowing in the River Thames, May 10, 1895."

Toronto, May 14.-At the Hyams trial today A. Gardepay, a barber, testified that on the morning of the 16th of January, 1893, he had shaved Harry Hyams a little after 8:30 o'clock. Hyams came in shortly after 8:30 and sat for 25 minutes in the chair. Fifteen minutes later he heard of the accident on Colborne street, in which a man had been Mabel Latimer, a typewriter, told of being employed by the Hyams, and of the message she had been sent on on Monday, the 16th, before going to the office. When she got to the office Harry Hyams told her of the accident and Wells' death, and said Dallas had been fixing the weight, when it slipped and struck Willie. He (Harry) had not been present, and when he came in he found Dallas running about like a madman.

He had sent him home in a cab. At the afternoon session Miss Lati-mer continued her evidence. She said she returned to work in the Hyams office on the Thursday after the death, and remained there until the middle of May, when the business was discontinued. Her work consisted of addressing envelopes, which, however, were not sent out. She identified several boxes of these produced in court as being her work. The street railway men who had given evidence in the morning were recalled, and it was shown according to time sheets pro-duced in court, etc., that Harry Hyams could not have boarded the car to go up to Dr. King after the bath until 10:42 o'clock-a point which is not in accordance with the evidence given yesterday by Expressman Fox, who said that when he called at the warehouse at 10 o'clock the morning of the accident Harry Hyams told him he had already been at the doctor's.

was then recalled for cross-examina-tion. Before her cross-examination was commenced, however, Mr. Osler announced that he had decided not to get from Mrs. Hyams any evidence in regard to the $20,000 which the Hyams are said to have attempted to negotiate on her life, as it would compli-cate matters. He would bring out the facts in the matter by means of another witness. Mr. Lount went very fully into her relations with Harry Hyams. Nothing new was brought out in all this save that in 1891 witness was living for a while at Toledo, Ohio, where she was canvassing for subscriptions to certain books. She told of her brother Willie placing a little insurance on his life voluntarily, she being the beneficiary, also of Harry Hyams' talk in favor of his brother placing a heavy insurance on his life. AN ARMY ON WHEELS.

The Great Popularity of Bicycling in New York-A Sport for Everybody-Men and Women, Young and Old, Alike Enthusiastic About Riding.

New York has become a city of bi-cyclists. Within a year the art of riding on two wheels has ceased to rank as a sport, and has taken its place among the recognized forms of travel. In all quarters bicycle academies and bicycle headquarters and bicycle agencies where one may learn to ride, or may buy or rent wheels, have sprung up, and in spite of this the supply is far below the demand, and there is no prospect of the market being fully stocked his season.

The mania for this swift, graceful, noiseless mode of progress has proved epidemic to a remarkable degree, and neither age nor sex is spared. The railoads have made special provision for bicycles, the ferries provide special transportation for them, elevated trains in Brooklyn run bicycle cars, and even the saloons and restaurants along the thoroughfares most favored by the riders have catered to bicyclists by signs announcing themselves as "The Bicycler's Rest," "The Wheeler's Rereat," "The Hub," or advertising particular and special drinks for knights of the rubber tire. Along the country roads in every direction from this city new hostelries have started in business, and old ones have been remodelled and improved to meet the new demand of trade. There are probably more persons in this city today who know how to ride a bicycle than there are people who can row a boat or skate All streets from the Battery to the northern limits are paths for the cyclers, and on Saturdays and Sundays the big avenues are fairly awhir with the light-moving machines of steel and

It has reached such a pitch that almost every considerable city in the country can boast of a bicycle factory. It is said there are 280 distinct brands of wheel in the market, many of which re inexpensive machines made in the western cities. Even with this tremendous output the dealers are constantly short. Right in this city, with its big agencies and stores, it is a difficult matter to get a bicycle within three or four days after ordering it. A big dealer said last Saturday night: "If I had had 300 more wheels in stock could have got rid of everyone of them today."-New York Sun.

Western Dairymen's Association.

(Notes by the secretary.)

The annual report of the association is now out, and ready to be distributed among the members and those entitled to it. It is replete with information on the management and care of the dairy cow; the planting and growing of fodder corn and the building of silos; the best methods of manufacturing a fine quality of cheese and butter, besides information upon every other phase of successful dairying. There are also included in the same volume the reports of the Eastern Dairymen's Association, and the Ontario Creameries Association. A person securing a copy of the three reports will have a complete text book of the work of dairying in Ontario during the past year. Dairymen who are not members of the association can become members by forwarding 50 cents to the secretary, when the report will be forwarded.

The system of instruction being given by Instructor Millar, according to the programme outlined sometime ago, is meeting with a liberal response from the cheese-makers. Already 126 cheesemakers and factorymen have received instruction and it is hoped that before the circuit is complete upwards of 200 makers will have received instruction. At the Elma factory, near Listowel, 25 cheesemakers were in attendance. Mr. Millar's programme for the next fortnight is as follows: Glencoe, 15 and 16; West Lorne, 17 and 18; Blytheswood, 20 and 21: Harrow, 22 and 23; Lucan, 27 and 28; Ripley 29 and 30, and Harriston 31, and Cheesemakers in these various June 1 sections should make an extra effort to meet Mr. Millar at some of these places.

The rapid growth of the past ten days has caused an abundant supply of fresh grass in most of the dairy districts. This has increased very materially the supply of milk at the factories, which is now much larger than that received at the same time last season. This increased supply and the very low price of cheese just now has dampened somewhat the ardor of many of our dairymen. How long these low prices are going to continue is hard to say. There is a probability that when last year's stocks are disposed of the price will go up, and though we may not see the high prices of the last few years, we are inclined to think that the market will soon brighten and return at least profitable prices for dairy produce. It will not be judicious, however, for our factorymen to hold their goods, especially the early make, for these higher prices.

April and May cheese should be sold as soon as ready for shipping, even if the price is low. It is not made to keep, and if held for some time will quickly go off flavor and become unsaleable. Besides, if held longer than it should be, it will injure the sale of the later goods. The two weeks plan of selling will give better returns during the earlier part of the season.

Cheesemakers who have changed their addresses this season will confer a favor by notifying the secretary of the association of of the fact.

A BUMPER.

The sales of Summer Millinery the past week have been a bumper, and no wonder. If we were to write what we think, or what the hundreds of ladies who have expressed their opinion and back it up by purchase, too, it might sound boastful. In all our advertisements we avoid the very appearance of brag. When we say we have the latest, or the cheapest, or exclusive styles, we honestly believe it, and it will pay the readers of all our announcements to look into what we

WE SAY

We have today a stock of Millinery unexcelled in Ontario. We say we have a staff of artists to execute all orders. We say no house in the trade shall undersell us.

CHICAGO, May 14.

Doubt as to the amount of damage by frost, renewal of the shipping and milling demand, light primary receipts and crop damage reports sustained the market until near the close, when it sold off on taking profits by the longs. The domestic situation is all that could be asked, but foreigners show too much indifference. Their wants are being freely supplied from other countries, and the amount on passage has increased more than 10,000,000 bushels the past six weeks. It looks as if it might be difficult to sustain the advance unless there should be a better export demand.

Corn and Oats—It seems quite probable that Corn and Oats—It seems quite probable that corn suffered considerably from the frost, but the market has manifes:ed no anxiety on the part af shorts, the increased receipts having a bearish effect.

Oats slow and act as if they would sell lower. The growing crop looks fine, and the acreage s large. Provisions rather heavy, with offerings in excess of demand. Dairy Markets.

BELLEVILLE. Belleville, Ont., May 14.-At the 1,290 boxes offered. No sales were effected. The offers ran good from 6.5-8c. for the board to 7c for select, and 7 1-8c for one factory.

easier today for export and butchers' stuff. Cables from the old country were lower and reported that quite a few of the recent Canadian arrivals of cattle were still unsold. About six carloads of butchers' cattle were bought for Montreal. Hogs were weaker again and showed another slight decline. Sheep and lambs were steady. Receipts at the two markets were 6 carloads, which included 524 hogs, 64 calves and 120 sheep and lambs.

Export Cattle-Prices lower than on last market day, with considerable buying. In one or two cases extra fancy sold as high as 5 1-8c; eleven car loads of the best export cattle, averaging about 1,350 lbs per head, sold at $4 60 to $5 per cwt.

Although there was considerable activity in butchers' cattle the feeling was slightly easier, at 3c to 4 1-4c per lb, mostly the latter for choice. About car loads were taken for Montreal. Some of the common cattle were hard to sell.

Not many stockers and feeders offered: market was steady. A few good half-fat feeders sold in the vicinity of 4 1-2c. A bunch of choice feeders, averaging 1,300 lbs, sold for $4 65 per cwt.

Sheep and lambs were steady. Butchers' sheep about $5 per head; good grain-fed yearlings, 5 1-4c to 5 1-2c per lb. Spring lambs steady, at from $3 to $4 per head. Not many in. Hogs—Easy; best bacon hogs, $4 75

Should the present negotiations towards electrifying the city streets not reach a satisfactory termination there is reason to assert that the city will attempt the feat of building its own electric road on streets not occupied by the company. THE W. C. T. U. The secretary of the W. C. T. U. furnishes the following: Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, a most interesing meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held yesterday afternoon (Tuesday). The Bible reading given by Mrs. (Rev.) Ira Smith, her subject being "Christian Courage," was most helpful and timely. Two nom-inations for membership were made. The action of the board of license commissioners in extending the hour for the closing of bars from 10 to 11 p.m. was severely criticised, the union feeling that the board had broken faith with the deputations who inerviewed them on April 19, in that they then declared their intention not to extend the time. In behalf of the committee on curfew bell, working in conjunction with the Children's Aid Association, Mrs. Saunby reported progress and that ratepayers and citizens would shortly be asked to sign a petition to be presented to the City Council, praying that a bylaw to prevent children under 15 years of age from playing or loitering on the streets after 9 o'clock p.m. in the summer and 8 o'clock in the winter. Dr. Alison Jamieson gave an exceedingly convincing paper on hygienic dress and the serious injuriousness of the corset. A lively discussion followed.

ON A WAGER.

R. Guy Reid, B.A., the Halifax "Tramp," in Town.

Beating His Way to Winnipeg on a Wager

Mr. R. Guy Reid, B.A., the young man who is beating his way from Halifax to Winnipeg on a wager of $5,000, arrived in the city last night from St. Thomas. Mr. Reid was in Hamilton on Friday and Saturday of last week, and had trouble getting out. He was so well advertised in that town that all trainmen were on the lookout for him. and he could only get as far as Brantford by Monday. From Brantford he Marriage Licenses issued at above went south, and lunched at the Grand Central in St. Thomas, arriving here on one of the evening trains. Mr. Reid has been several weeks in making his way this far west, and to win the $5,-000 he must arrive in Winnipeg by noon of July 20. The conditions of the wager are that he must "beat" his way absolutely. He may either ride or walk, but must put up only at first-class hotels. Strange to say, the hotels are not averse to Mr. Reid's presence, and while in town the genteel tramp has had the freedeom of two leading hotels extended to him.

There is not much of the tramp about Mr. Reids' appearance. He is extremely polite and polished in manner, and is not very long out of college. He is over six feet tall and broad shouldered-a regular young giant, in fact. The only thing small about Mr. Reid is a budding mustache. He wears immaculate linen, smokes the best Havanas, carries a natty cane and sports gloves. He wears a jaunty golfing cap, a blue serge walking coat, tweed trousers, and heavy walking shoes. His hands are soft and white, and it is very evident that he has not been used to hard work. Mr. Reid will go to Detroit and then to Chicago. He will not say when he intends to leave, because he does not care to have too many watching for him. His father is well known in Northwest Government circles.

Mrs. Hyams Prostrated by Her Cross-Examination.

A Servant Who Washed Blood Stains From Prisoner's Clothes.

Important Testimony - A Witness Who Doubts That the Weight Could Have Slipped.

Toronto, May 15.—At the Hyams murder trial this morning Mrs. H. P. Hyams was called and her cross-examination continued. Before Mr. Lount was through with her she had to retire, owing to faintness, and was finally taken home in a condition of complete prostration. She denied that what Harry had told her about his going into the warehouse when coming from the barber shop, was that he found no one in the place, that he called aloud without receiving an answer, and that then, on going down stairs, he found Willie lying dead and lifted the weight off him, and that Expressman Fox came in after. What he had really said to her was that Expressman Fox fortunately had followed him into the warehouse, and that he helped him to lift the weight off Willie.

Mrs. Eliza Pengelly, who for eighteen months was a servant in the Hyams' house and who left some months after the accident, testified that a few days after Willie Wells had been killed she washed a pair of trousers belonging to one of the prisoners, on the legs of which there were blood spots. The trousers were afterwards sent to the John Wright, a plumber, gave evidence as to the weight and said that he did not now believe that it could have slipped off the hook while in the weight shaft. Samuel Grundidge testified to having loaned the prisoners $1,400 on their furniture and $200 on a demand note.

A Lost Gem

Hannington glanced at her impatiently. Her eyes were swimming in tears; a drop fell over her rose-leaf tinted cheek.

"If you are such a baby as to cry about a theater I really don't know what will become of you," he said contemptuously. "I cannot insure you against all the accidents of life, I am sorry to say."

"It isn't the theater," said Molly, quickly. "It is because you will be away from me, Jack." "Of all things I hate," said Hannington, half closing his eyes, "I hate most a man who is tied to his wife's apron-

Molly pressed her hands tightly together under the table, and tried to force back the tears that continued to gather in her eyes. She was learning her first lesson of self-control.

"I don't want you to stay with me," she said, in a choked, mortified voice, "if you don't care to stay." 'All the better," replied her husband dryly, "for I have something else to do

Molly, sat silent, biting her lips. A thundering double knock and peal at the front door-bell suddenly resounded through the house and made Hannington rouse himself. "You had better dry your eyes and not make a fool of yourself," he said sharply. "I expect that knock is for us. Donald Vereker and a friend were to call for me at 7:30. I hear them coming

Molly hastily rubbed her eyes with her handkerchief, but succeeded only in making them look redder than they would have been without this process. Hannington's frown as he glanced at her added to her agitation. It was a beautiful but very pathetic little face which met the view of the gentlemen who entered; and Hannington would, on the whole, have preferred to see her radiant and smiling.

"Mr. Vereker-Capt. Rutherford-my wife"—the introduction was effected in very brief fashion by John Hannington, who wanted to make his escape as soon as possible, but was annoyed to find his friends in no hurry to depart. Mr. Vereker always loved a pretty face, and he had heard enough of Molly's story to be curlous about her. While Capt. Rutherford-Charlie Rutherford, as his friends usually called him-having neither heard of Mrs. John Hannington before, nor being remarkable for his appreciation of woman's beauty, amazed his companions not a little by seeming quite unable to take his eyes off Molly's face, and showing no disposition at all to hasten away. Hanning-ton was half-vexed, half-flattered, by this evident admiration of his wife, and he wished very much that he had not acceded to his friends' desire to call for him on their way to a music hall and gambling house where he intended to spend the evening.

Molly was not greatly taken by the appearance of Donald Vereker, who had lately grown red and fat, and was too looking for her taste. But she found Capt. Rutherford attractive. He was a man of five or six and twenty, tall, fair, broad-shouldered and muscular, with a skin bronzed by exposure to sun and air; he had fair hair and a fair mustache, and his blue eyes, though not particularly beautiful in shape or color, were so frank and honest and manly, that it was a pleasure to look at them. He had a gentle, pleasant, way of talking and smiling, moreover, and he managed to make himself very agreeable during the few minutes of his stay in Mrs. Hannington's sitting room, although he spoke neither so much nor so loudly as the Honorable Don. "Well, I don't wish to hurry you."

said Hannington at length, doing his best to speak pleasantly, "but I think we had better be off."

"And are we going to leave Mrs. Han-nington all by herself?" said Donald Vereker. "That's hard lines, isn't it?" "She is an ardent novel reader," said Hannington, with a smile. "She will be absorbed in her three volumes as soon as we are out of the door; won't you, Molly?"

"If it is a nice one," said Molly, smiling back brightly. "I am afraid it won't be quite as nice as the Lyceum."
"Did you want to go to the Lyceum, then?" said Mr. Vereker.

"Oh, we had tickets for tonight," re plied guileless Molly, "but as Jack had a business engagement he could not go, so I"—and she laughed a little—"am left at home lamenting."

There was a very slight pause, in which it dawned upon Molly that she had said the wrong thing. Her husband's face had grown white with anger; Mr. Rutherford had turned aside and was fingering his mustache. Both visitors knew that Hannington's engagement was one of pleasure, and not of business at all, and if Molly had been a plain and insignificant creature Donald Vereker would have considered her ignorance rather a joke than otherwise. But for such a very pretty woman to be left to cry her eyes out over Jack Hannington's absence (he was sure that she had been crying when they en-tered) was, after all, rather a shame. What Charlie Rutherford thought of the matter did not transpire; but there was a steely look in his blue eyes which might have proceeded from indignation when he turned round again.
"Oh, look here!" cried Donald. "We'll give up our engagement-important as It is." and he bestowed a facetious wink upon Hannington, which annoyed that gentleman very much indeed, "and we will escort Mrs. Hannington to the Lyceum. What have you got—stalls, a box? If it is a box we can all go, you know.

"It is not a box, unfortunately," said Jack coldly, "we had stalls. I am exceedingly sorry, but even if your engagement is not of pressing importance, mine is, and I cannot give it up.' Mr. Vereker burst out laughing. "I'm afraid mine is as important as yours," he said in a low tone of suppressed enjoyment, which Molly could not under-

"Oh, it is of no consequence," she said hurriedly. "I shall be quite happy and comfortable here at home; and we shall have plenty of other chances of seeing Irving, shall we not, Jack?" You see,' she added with a prettily apologetic air, 'I have never been in London before, and I keep forgetting that I am not going away again—just yet."

"Can I be of no use?" said Capt. Rutherford eagerly. "Perhaps I might be allowed to escort Mrs. Hannington this evening? I"—looking full at Hannington-"have no engagement of any kind, as Mr. Vereker knows. I was now on my way home, and shall be delighted if I may have the honor."

"Very kind of you, I'm sure, Charlie," said Hannington. "Well, if you don't mind the trouble, my wife will be charmed. It is rather a pity to sacrifice two tickets."

Molly looked anything but charmed. Married woman as she was, and under John Hannington's tuition, she was ignorant of the privileges of her position. To go to the theater with a young man whom she had never seen in her life before seemed to her a startling prospect. She would very much liked to ask her husband in private what it was proper for her to do; but as such a question was impossible, she could only look at him and Capt. Rutherford in turn with such wide eyed dismay that Hannington, secretly raging, felt it incumbent upon him to offer some excuse for her gaucherie.

It is amusing now to think of the fear and trembling that possessed me on going there; shadows of bolts and bars, isolation, restrictions and nauseous treatment crept into my brain, and how on earth could a month of it be endured with the terrible efforts that I must put forth to stop drinking! Presto! what a change! One of the most homelike of places, arranged with a view to enjoyment and peopled with a lot of good fellows learning how to best enjoy life. All I had to do was to pitch in and have a good time, which I did; and what with debating, whist, bowling, billiards and other amusements following one another in quick succession, and with the considerate treatment of your management, not a lonesome moment did I have, gradually taking on the feeling that, instead of having to make an effort to avoid alcoholic stimulants, it would require a powerful effort to take them. That feeling grows as the months go by. You are at liberty to refer anyone wishing information to me at my

MOUNT BRYDGES.

"Advertiser" Agent, T. Pearse, P.M.) May 13.—Rev. Ingram Bill, jun., Canada's boy orator, preached in the Baptist Church on Sunday. He will lecture in the town hall on Wednesday evening on the subject, "London as seen by boyish eyes."

The Oddfellows on Sunday afternoon celebrated the 76th anniversary of the order by attending divine service in St. Jude's Episcopal Church. Rev. Bro. Lowe, of Glencoe, preached an eloquent sermon from Hebrews xi., 24-28. Quite a number from London and Strathroy joined the Mount Brydges brethren, and had the weather been favorable, 'the little church around the corner' would have been taxed for room. The frost on Sunday night did an immense amount of damage to the fruit, especially apples and grapes. The gardens also came in for a share, and those who had tomato plants set out with the intention of boasting of the earliest tomatoes will have to plant again.

ST. VITUS DANCE.

A Malady that Has I ong Baffled Medical Skill.

A Speedy Cure for the Trouble at Last Discovered—The Particulars of the Cure of a Little Girl. Who Was a Severe Sufferer.

(From the Ottawa Journal. In a handsome brick residence on the 10th line of Goulborn township, Carleton county, lives Mr. Thomas Bradley, one of Goulborn's most successful farmers. In Mr. Bradley's family is a bright little daughter, 8 years of age, who had been a severe sufferer from St. Vitus dance, and who had been treated by physicians without results. Having learned that the little one had been fully restored to health by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a correspondent of the Journal called at the family residence for the purpose of ascertaining the facts, and found the little girl a picture of brightness and good health. Mrs. Faulkner, a sister of the little one, gave the following information: "About eighteen months ago Alvira was attacked by that terrible malady, St. Vitus dance, and became so bad that we called in two doctors, who held out no hope to us for her ultimate cure, and she was so badly affected with the 'dance' as to require almost constant watching. About this time we read the Ottawa Journal of a similar case cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which gave us renewed hope. We procured a couple of ooxes, and before these were all used there was a perceptible improvement. After using six boxes more she was entirely free from the disease, and as you can see is enjoying the best of nealth. Several months have passed since the use of Pink Pills was discontinued, but there has been no return of the malady, nor any symptom of it. We are quite certain Dr. Willams' Pink Pills cured her, and strongly recommend them in similar cases. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheu-matism, nervous headache, the after effects of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion, all forms of weakness either in male or female. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2 50, by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y.

OIL SPRINGS.

"Advertiser" Agent, Thomas Smith. May 13 .- "Enlisted for the War," will e presented by Oil Springs Dramatic Club on May 22. Some changes have been made in the organization since the production of their last play, and only about three or four of the old members remain in the company at this date. Their rehearsals have continued, however, and they will be prepared to produce the result of their practice on the above date. A good house, as on their previous appearance, will doubtless meet the performers. Mrs. Alex. Johnston, wife of Reeve

Johnston, is seriously ill with malarial fever and inflammation. The grain warehouse that is being erected here by Messrs. Tolson Bros., of Melbourne, is nearing completion, and a want that has long been felt in the village is now to be supplied. The building has capacity for some 10,000 or 12,000 bushels of grain, and is conveniently situated at the corner of the M. C. R. track and Victoria avenue. The firm will be ready to handle this season's grain, and it is expected the farmers of this vicinity will largely show their appreciation of a local market for their commodities. In all probability the majority of the general stores of the village will give up keeping grain and feed, which they now handle, and give the trade in that line ever to the new institution, where it properly belongs, but up to date the Several changes in oil property have taken place here recently as a result of the increased price of crude oil. A number of drilling rigs are at work through the territory, and all producers are exultant over the change the market has taken in the past year. Although the price is some 12 or 15 cents less at this date than two weeks previous, the opinion is that it will remain above $1 50 per barrel. A joint stock company has been formed among some farmers in Dawn township, and prospecting is to be started shortly in the vicinity of the Erie and Huron on the 11th concession. Mr. D. Benfield has been engaged as driller, and his rig is now being moved from Ridgetown, and operations will be commenced as soon as it arrives. Mr. James Logan, a young man of this village, is lying at the point of death at Edysville, about three miles from here. About two weeks ago, while at work in a Blenheim mill, he burst a blood vessel, which his physicians state will cause his death. He was brought to Edyville after the accident, and al-though all that human aid controls has been done his death is hourly expected. The O'Banyoun singers hold a song service in the Methodist Church next Sunday, and the Rev. Mr. O'Banyoun will occupy the pulpit at both services. Word from the Northwest Territories

About a Marvel of Modern Science. Calgary, May 15.-The fame of Dodd's Kidney Pills has spread all over the Northwest, and they have come into universal use, being found in almost every farmhouse and village throughout the territories. The cures of Kent, Drs. Rose and McCormick, Rymal, Fisher and dozens of others have been eagerly read, and have consequently produced a large demand. People are becoming convinced that a very large percentage of disease may be traced, as it was in these cases, to the action of the kidneys in failing to do their proper work and inducing rheumatism, paralysis, Bright's disease, diabetes and blood poisoning.

WOMEN'S NATIONAL COUNCIL. The second annual meeting and conference of the National Council of Women of Canada will be held from May 27 to 31 (inclusive) in the Normal School building, Toronto. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon of the first day a meeting of the executive will be held. A reception will be tendered to the delegates in the evening at Osgoode Hall by her Excellency the Countess of Aberdeen, president of the National Council of Women of Canada. On Tuesday, May 28, the council will meet at 10 a.m., and the morning session will be devoted entirely to routine business. The afternoon will be set apart for the reading of papers and discussions. On Wednesday morning resolutions will be considered and proposals by the executive committee will be discussed and voted on. The Toronto local council proposes a resolu-tion recording their appreciation of the efforts made by many of the leading newspapers of the Dominion to suppress the publication of unnecessary details of crime and brutality, so certain to have an injurious effect on the public mind, and especially on the mind of the young. The executive proposes to ask the Government to provide for the representation of women on boards philanthropic institutions where the inerests of women are concerned, either as inmates or employes. The Kingston local council presents a motion to limit the length of working hours for women and children employed in factories to nine hours a day at the most. A motion on which an interesting discussion may be looked for is proposed by the London local council and supported by ibly by the 'Lord's Prayer.' " An amendment proposed and supported by the Montreal, Halifax, Ottawa and East Kootnay councils advocate silent prayer only in opening the meetings. FAST DYES.

A few years ago Fast Black Dyes were unknown. All the "World's Leading Dyers" had experts working from sunrise till sunset puzzling their brains to find a process by which Black Dyes would remain Fast.

Their efforts were in vain. It remained for a poor penniless dyer (Mr. Louis Hermsdorf) in an obscure German town, to discover the process. This discovery proved to him to be the "Philosopher's Stone"—the road to wealth. The four corners of the earth paid tribute to his inventive genius, and he soon became a multi-millionaire.
