CAPT. FOSTER DEAD

Word has been received in the city of the death at Port Burwell of Capt. Foster, who for several years ran the steamer Thames between this city and Springbank.

Capt. Foster was 84 years of age, having been born in Canada in 1823. When a mere boy he sailed the great lakes, eventually becoming a captain. It was in the eighties that Capt. Foster came to London and built the Thames, which he sailed for several years. He also bought Wonderland. and attempted to make it a nopular picnic resort, but did not meet with a great deal of success. #### Jungle Man Burned Out Englewood, N. J., March 16 .--Helicon Hall, the home of Upton Sinclair's socialistic colony, was burned to the ground, following an explosion about dawn today which tere the front part of the building away and sent flames to every corner of the structure.

The 55 persons who comprised the settlement, including the author of "The Jungle," and his wife, were shut in by the flames, and jumped from windows on the second and third floors. Children were tossed from the windows in their night clothes, and caught in the arms of men and women, or in blankets held by them. A number of women in the colony received sprains, bruises and cuts. A workman named Briggs was said to be missing. The explosion seemed to have occurred in the ballroom, and was of such force as to be heard a mile away. As it was not caused by the boilers of the heating plant, susthe deliberate work of some malicious person. The Sinclair cooperative colony was established last October and included a numper of educators and man and women engaged in literary pursuits. The co-operative plan was adopted, the meals being served in common in a large dining-room.

It can with truth be said that Canada's growing time has been London's greater share of the prosperity and which have been general throughout the country during the

Not the least among the latter is the er of the richest agricultural district in Canada. London is a city worth "boosting," worth hurrahing for, and in this matter the city council can do much. The paltry $300 annually placed to the credit of the manufacturers' committee is altogether too small to enable that body to do aggressive work. London has a great number of industries, covering almost every line of manufacture, but there is room for more, and if those in authority but do their duty intelligently in advertising and "boosting" the city, we shall get them.

MR. AYLESWORTH'S WISE MEASURE.

Mr. Aylesworth's bill to regulate the export of power has been unfairly criticised. The company solicits business only in Canada, and Newfoundland and now has about $47,000,000 in force. Its income from premiums was $1.604 581: payments to policyholders, $679. 662: increase in reserve, $843,268, and increase in surplus, $251,377. The expense rate was reduced to 16.84 per cent of total income, and was again the lowest of any Canadian Company. Assets amounted to $10.285.540, and the company's policy was maintained to invest only in mortgages, municipal debentures, first mortgage bonds and loans upon the company's policies. Bonds and debentures are taken into account at net cost, although their market value is a sum largely in excess of it. No losses in investments occurred, and so far as can be foreseen, none are anticipated. The surplus was $1,203,378 upon the company's stringent valuation, and $1,552,364 upon the Government standard.

the press is of great interest to the public, owing to the investigation of the royal commission, its findings and recommendations. The Mutual Life. as its name implies, is purely mutual, the control of its affairs being in the hands of its policyholders. With regard to the mutual principle, the comment of the commission is pertinent: "The commissioners conclude from the fact that one company, the Mutual Life of Waterloo, is run on purely mutual lines, and several stock companies have very small paid-up capital stock. that it is possible to operate successfully without capital stock at all. The part played by capital stock is very small: in fact, when an insurance com pany's position has become established. its capital stock becomes a mere document of title by virtue of which a particular body of persons control those larger and more important funds which the policyholders contribute." The directors and management of the Mutual Life of Canada consider its funds a sacred trust, and the business is conducted solely in the interests of policyholders. Investments are made upon the unanimous consent of the board, and if one member objects to an investment, it is refused. Eac year the executive committee handle and inspect every security and compare the same with the entries thereof made in the books of the company, and every item paid out is checked by the executive committee. It is thus seen that the board of directors and the management are true to their trust, and that their directorship is one in fact and not in name only. C. E. "I am sending you my photograph to show what Newbro's Herpicide has done for me.

"Since I first tried Herpicide upon my hair I have used it exclusively in giving scalp treatments to others, and I would not think of trying to get along without it." MRS. ANNA CONNER. 2807 Archer avenue, Chicago, Ill.

Hundreds of lady scalp specialists and hair-dressers use and recommend Newbro's Herpicide, instead of products of their own manufacture, upon which a much larger profit could be made. They claim that Herpicide makes friends for them and gives much better satisfaction. Some hair-dressers use Herpicide for obstinate cases only, but why not use the best first?

Herpicide is a delightful dressing that can be used when there is no disease of the hair or scalp, and as an actual remedy for dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair it stands in a class singularly its

Many ladies object to a gummy and sticky hair dressing, or one that is full of sedimentary chemicals intended to dye the hair. The marked preference for a clean and dainty preparation, particularly one that overcomes excessive oiliness and leaves the hair light and fluffy, is reflected in the enormous sale of Newbro's Herpicide. Discriminating ladies become enthusiastic over its refreshing quality and exquisite fragrance. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS.

The Thirty-seventh Annual Report for the year which ended on Dec. 31, 1906, together with the Financial Statement, is herewith submitted: INSURANCE ACCOUNT .- The new business for the year amounted to 3,026 policies, for $5,503,547. Adding 43 revived policies for $52,092, the total new issue and revivals for the year was $5,555,639. All of this, except $46,009 written in Newfoundland, was obtained within the Dominion of Canada. The total amount of business in force was $46,912,407 58 under 30,986 policies, showing a net addition for the year of $2,714,153. INCOME.—The income for the year amounted to $2,072,423 13, being for premiums, $1,604,581 74; interest and rents, $464,646 98; profit from sale

PAYMENTS TO POLICYHOLDERS.—The total amount paid to policy-

Death claims, $327,975 50; matured endowments, $168,486; purchased policles, $88,607 47; surplus, $83,947 55, and annuitles, $10,645 68. While the death claims were somewhat in excess of the previous year, the ratio to the amount expected was only 53 per cent, an extremely favorable experience.

THE EXPENSES AND TAXES were $338,717 40, being $10,224 36 less than 1905, and only 16.34 per cent of the total income. ASSETS .- The cash assets at the close of the year amounted to $9,900,-845 20, made up as follows:

Mortgages, $5,013,647 45; debentures and bonds, $3,429,025 49; loans on our own policies, $1,129,517 25; premium obligations, $25,786 38; real estate, $900 26; Company's head office building, $30,875 79; cash on hand and in the banks, $271,092 58. The due and deferred premiums, less cost of collection, amount of sagacity as you'd think to $286,981 81, and interest due and accrued, $197,712 83, bringing the total asmake a fortune out of Wall street," he sets up to $10,385,539 84, being an increase of $1,089,447 69 over 1905.

The policy of the Company in regard to investments has been maintained I cleared up a half-million profit on and it will be observed that nearly all our assets are invested in mortgages United States Steel. Great hardship has ensued in many instances from this cause, and it is to be hoped that some measures of relief will be afforded, so as to avoid a recurrence of this misfortune. In the Province of Ontario all mortgage obligations were extraordinarily well paid, the amount in arrear being but trifling. It is noteworthy also to mention that on an investment of $855,911 in the city of Winnipeg, not one

Your Directors took full advantage of the monetary conditions during the year, and were able to invest the funds promptly and at better rates of interest than heretofore. They were fortunate in securing some choice municipal debentures extending over a long period of years, and the result a very satisfactory return. Mortgage loans were made at rates of interest considerably in excess of those obtainable in recent years, and the result of these favorable investments is shown in the advance of the average rate earned upon the invested assets, while the benefit therefrom will continua through many years in the future.

The liabilities were ascertained on the Company's standard of valuation, viz., combined experience table mortality with 4 per cent interest for all business up to Jan. 1, 1900. From that time to Jan. 1, 1903, on Institute of Actuaries' table of mortality with 31/2 per cent interest, and thereafter on to $9,053,332 18, and the total liabilities were $9,182,161 26, leaving a surplus over all liabilities of $1,203,378 58. The increase in the surplus over 1905 was $251,377 46, and the total earnings for the year amounted to $335,325 01. If our liabilities were computed on the Government standard of valuation, the surplus at the close of the year would have amounted to $1,552,364 26. The Executive Committee has examined in detail every security included in our assets, and verified the entries relating to them on the Company's This committee also from month to month examined and passed

R. MELVIN.

The President, in moving the adoption of the Report, gave a very interesting review of the business for the past year, dealing with some features of the evidence brought out before the Royal Insurance Commission, and emphasizing the fact that this Company came through the ordeal unscathed. In support of the motion, Mr. E. P. Clement, K.C., and Mr. Justice Britton spoke eloquently of the success of the Company and its future prospects. The various reports having been adopted, a number of able, thoughtful and enthusiastic speeches were made by prominent policyholders, among whom Mr. L. J. Breithaupt and Dr. McMahon may be mentioned. Mr. T. R. Earl, Superintendent, and several of the Company's agents having spoken, the meeting adjourned.

The scrutineers reported the re-election of Hon. Justice Britton, F. C. Bruce, J. Kerr Fisken and George A. Somerville.

The Directors met subsequently and re-elected Mr. Robert Melvin, President; Mr. Alfred Hoskin, K.C., First Vice-President, and the Hon. Mr. Justice Britton, Second Vice-President of the Company for the ensuing year.

(Booklets containing the full Report of the Annual Meeting, including Financial Statements, list of securities held and other important features of the business, are being published, and will in due course be distributed among the policyholders and others interested in the Company.) ## We do Half Your Washing Free of Cost

YOU must pay the washer-woman fifteen cents an hour. It is hard-earned money at that. If you do your own washing, or have the servant do it, this steaming, back-breaking, handchapping, cold-catching, temper-destroying work will cost you more than 15 cents an hour in the end.

It takes eight hours hard labor to do the average family wash. Eight hours, at 15 cents, costs you $1.20 per week for washing. This means $62.40 per year, without reckoning fuel for fires, or wear on clothes.

We will save you half of that-or No Pay. We will send any reliable person our "1900 Junior" Washing Machine on a full month's

You can sit in a rocking chair and make them do the washing-think of that! We don't want a cent of your money, nor a note, nor a contract, when we ship you the sher on trial. We even pay all of the freight out of our own pockets, so that you may test the machine as much as you like before you agree to buy it. Use it a full month at our expense. If you don't find it does better washing in half the time-send it back to the railway station, with our address on it-that's all. We will then pay the freight back, too, without a murmur. But, if the month's test convinces you that our "1900 Junior" Washer actually does 8 hours washing in 4 hours time-does it twice as easy-far better, without wearing the thes breaking a button, or tearing a thread of lace, then you must write and tell is so. From that time on you must pay us, every week, part of what our machine saves you, say 50 cents per week till the Washer is paid for. Each "1900 Junior" Washer lasts at least five years, yet a very few months, at 50 cents week, makes it entirely your own, out of what it saves you on each washing.

Every year our Washer will save you about $31.20 that you would have had to spend for labor of your own, or the labor of others. In five years each machine saves its owner about $156 00. Yet the "1900 Junior" Washer won't cost you a cent, under our plan, because we let it pay for itself. You need not take our word for that. We let you prove all we say, at our expense, before you decide to buy it on these terms. Could we risk the freight both ways, with thousands of people, if we did not know our "1900 Junior" Washer would do all we claim for it? It costs you only the two-cent stamp, on a letter to us, to bring this quick and easy Washer to your door, on a month's trial. That month's free use of it will save you about $2.00. You thus risk nothing but the postage stamp to prove our claims, and we practically pay you $2.00 to try it.

JEROME GETS IN HUMMEL'S STORY

But Delmas Brings Out Fact That He Has Been Discredited.

New York, March 15.-With Attorney Delmas fighting him every inch of the way District Attorney Jerome today secured from Abraham Hummel his complete story as to the affidavit which, it is alleged, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw made in the lawyer's office in 1903, charging Harry K. Thaw with beating her when she had told him that the statement that Stanford White had drugged and ruined her was not true.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw herself was called to the stand in the effort of the defense to keep Hummel silent. She declared she had called upon Hummel in his professional capacity and to seek his advise as a lawyer. Justice Fitzgerald declared that admitting the proposition of counsel and client Mrs. Thaw had herself waived the professional privilege by taking the stand early in the case.

Attorney Delmas in cross-examining the witness brought from his own lips the fact that he had been convicted in December, 1905, on a charge of conspiracy. He further admitted 11814 11912 that two indictments for subornation of perjury are pending against him and that one of these indictments charges him with having caused a false affidavit to be made.

Mr. Delmas asked Hummel if he had not heard the speech made by District Attorney Jerome when sentence was about to be imposed; when Mr Jerome urged the court to pass the longest and heaviest sentence within its power upon Hummel, as he had "been a menace to the community for twenty years." Justice Fitzgerald sus-

Hummel's testimony in brief was to the effect that Evelyn Nesbit told him, among other things, that Thaw had beaten her when she refused to sign papers he had prepared charging Stanford White with her betrayal; Toronto, March 15. that he had dictated a statement to a stenographer in the presence of Miss Nesbit, and Standford White; that he gave the affidavit to two of his clerks to take to Miss Nesbit in the Madison Square Garden tower, and one day the paper was returned to him with Evelyn Nesbit's signature attached. He kept the affidavit until Miss Nesbit called and demanded it He refused to give it to her, and turned it over to Stanford White, advising him to have a photograph copy made Hummel at first said that he himself had arranged photographing the affidavit, and that the photo-The amdavit, and that the photographer came to his office. "At what rate of speed were you traveling?" asked the coroner. "Well," said Hardman, "we are al lowed five minutes from East London to the city depot, and I think we were running about the schedule, although we were nearly twenty minutes late?"

Avoided Greater Loss of Life. Hardman said that with every crossing protected, the engineers generally considered it safe to enter London yards at a pretty good speed. It was the rule to watch for any signals of danger from the watchmen and to be prepared to shut off steam at any moment. He said that the loss of life in the accident to the Limited might have been much heavier had not Renton called out, "Oh, my God!" from the fireman's side of the cab. Renton's cry led Hardman to believe that there was danger, and he applied the emergency.

Otherwise, he might have received no intimation that a collision was likely, the speed of the express would have been unchecked, and the engine of the freight, instead of striking the locomotive of the Limited, would have caught the passenger coaches. The milliners and habit makers cannot have it all their own way this Easter. An early Easter usually means a men's Easter.

In the Semi-ready Tailoring this season the display of spring styles is more than ordinarily interesting by reason of the very handsome fabrics which the British worsteds mills devised for the Semi-ready. The new clothes have all a distinctive touch. The sack coats share in the change of styles with dainty rounded corners on the lapels. The spring overcoats have the quiet, graceful expression appealing to a man of cultured tastes. The frock coats are, of course, the chief attraction just before Easter, and one does not wonder that the Semi-ready stores have absorbed the whole of the trade in this important creation of the tailor. Everyone is invited to the Garment Show at the Semi-ready store. McLean Bros., 146 Dundas street.

Fish Recipes for Lenten Fare

Fish Moulds are Useful for Rice and Salmon:

R ID COLD baked, or boiled, or broiled fish of bones and skin, pick into fine bits with a silver fork. Get from your fish merchant for a few cents a pint of oyster liquor. Put over the fire, with a generous lump of butter, pepper and salt. Bring to a boil, add the fish, cook one minute and stir in a scant cupful of crumbs soaked in milk. Simmer for three minutes and serve. Pass silced lemon with it.

Red Snapper Soup.

Heat a quart of white stock to a boil, stir in two cupfuls of the cold cooked fish, freed of skin and bones, and minced finely. Add pepper, salt, a tablespoonful of chopped parsley and a great spoonful of butter. Heat a cupful of milk to boiling, thicken it with a white roux and a half cupful of fine cracker crumbs, When the fish has cooked in the soup for five minutes, stir the liquid into the thickened milk and serve.

Planked Shad.

Planked Shad.

Have your fish cleaned and split down the back. Wash and wipe dry. Have ready a clean oak or hickory plank about two and a half inches thick, and of such a length that it will go readily into your oven. Set it in the oven till it is heated through. Rub your shad on both sides with an abundance of butter, and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Lay it, open side up, on the hot plank, and fasten it firmly in place by putting a tin tack in each of the four corners. Lay the plank on the upper grating of the oven, and rub the fish with butter every few minutes until done. You can tell when this point is reached by testing with a fork. Carefully withdraw the tacks and serve the fish on a hot platter. Serve with melted butter and garnish with lemon and sprigs of parsley.

Shad Roe Croquettes.

Shad Roe Croquettes.

Parboil and blanch. When perfectly cold break up and pass through a colander or vegetable press. Season with lemon juice, kitchen bouquet, paprika and sait. Have ready a cup of rich, rather thick drawn butter. Stir the roes into it, and add a well-beaten egg, together with a table-spoonful of fine bread crumbs to give the croquettes consistency. Let the mixture get perfectly cold, mould into croquettes, dip in egg and bread crumbs and leave on the ice over night. In the morning renew the crumbs and fry in deep, hissing fat, which has been brought gradually to a Salmon Loaf.

Flake cold boiled salmon and moisten it with a gill of cream, a half gill of milk and two beaten eggs. Stir in a handful of fine crumbs, the juice of half a lemon, a table-spoonful of butter, salt and pepper to taste, and a tablespoonful of mineed parsley. Mix thoroughly, turn into a greased pudding dish, and bake in a steady oven for three-quarters of an hour; then turn out upon a hot platter. Serve with a white sauce. This may also be boiled in a large covered fish mould.

A Curry of Salmon.

Open a can of salmon two hours belowed using and remove all bits of skin and bone. Pour two tablespoonfuls of clive oil in a frying-pan and fry in it a minced onion. When the onion is brown, stir into the oil a tablespoonful of flour mixed with a teaspoonful of curry powder, and when these are blended add a large coffeecupful of boiling water. Season and stir for a moment, and turn the salmon into the mixture. Cook for two minutes and serve. Pass sliced lemon with this dish.

Halibut Steak Baked With Tomatoes Make a rich sauce of tomatoes, fresh or canned, seasoning with butter rolled in flour, sugar, pepper, onion juice and salt, adding, if you have it, a sweet green pepper, seeded and minced. Cook fifteen minutes, strain, rubbing through a colander, and cool, lay the halibut in oil and lemon juice for an hour, place upon the grating of your covered roaster; pour the sauce over it: cover and bake twelve minutes to the second if the oven be good. Sift Parmesan cheese over the fish and cook five minutes longer. Serve upon a hot dish, pouring the sauce over it.

Imitation Caper Sauce. Cut cucumber pickles into tiny cubes with a sharp knife. Do not chop them, as the bits must be of uniform size. Drain perfectly dry and stir into hot drawn butter. Boil for one minute. Eat with fish or chops.

Bearnaise Sauce. Beat the yolks of two eggs very light; put into a raised-bottom saucepan and set in one of boiling water; str into it, a few drops at a time, three tablespoonfuls of salad oil, beating as you str; then, as gradually, the same quantity of boiling water; next, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, a dash of meat for Lent, it is well to have fish play an important part in the spring diet. Though we may not pin our faith to the old theory that fish food is brain food, we can be assured that the phosphates it contains and its direstible qualities prove very bene-Scial to the physical system that is relaxed by enervating spring days.

Not every one, unfortunately likes fish, but, if possible, the taste for it should be cultivated. Probably if we were compelled to live on it, as were the old Homeric heroes, we might be inclined to complain as bitterly as did Menelaus; but as an occasional article of diet it should have a place in every family's weekly menu.

Nothing affords greater relief to the housekeeper sore beset by that: ever-recurrent thought, "What: shall I give them to eat today?" than to have a family with a strong liking for fish. So fortified, she can provide soup or salad, a boiled or broiled or baked second course for dinner, croquettes or scallops for an entree, and even the "piece de resistance" of the family lunch. She can be happy, moreover, in the fact that she is feeding her flock with a healthful, digestible food.

GUIDES TO SELECTION

"But," some one cries, "I cannot digest fish. Nothing disagrees with me more quickly!" Which state should be attributed to some personal idiosyncrasy; to improper selection of the fish itself; to carelessness in preparation, or to bad methods of cooking, rather than to wholesale condemnation of a fish

For whatever the exceptional person may say, fish is both digestible and nourishing to the majority of people. Where could one find greater health and vigor, for instance, than in the small fishing settlements where little or no animal food is obtainable?

Of course, not every kind of fish has equal value in this respect; the amount of nourishment varies with the species. Thus, red-fleshed fish. such as salmon, are more nutritious than the white-fleshed, the latter, however, being more digestible. Cod proves the exception to this rule. The homely and cheap herring, strange to say, possesses more nourishment than almost any other

FLABBY FISH ARE STALE

Not every one is a good buyer of fish. Too many housekeepers trust so implicitly to the dealer for selection that they cannot tell if a fish is fresh or stale. Yet really it is not very difficult to acquire this knowledge. A fresh fish should feel stiff and rigid-flabbiness is a sure sign of staleness. The gills should be red and the eyes bright and un-sunken. These are much better tests than to judge by the smell in these days of cold storage. If, on being purchased, a fish is not found to be somewhat improved by washing in vinegar and water.

Nothing is more disgusting to a the flavor is lost. careful housewife than a badly cleaned fish. Nowadays one usually buys them ready cleaned; but even so, it is important to go over them carefully before putting away. Holding the fish by the head, scrape with a sharp knife to remove all scales, then either wash in cold water or wipe all over with a clean, damp cloth. It is a mistake to immerse a fish very long in water, even for the purpose of cleaning, as it is apt to destroy the flavor. The after-t-eatment of the fish depends chiefly upon the way it is to be cooked. Probably more peo-ple fail in boiling it than by any other method. Always, if possible, use a fish kettle with a strainer, to avoid danger of breaking. The time-honored method of tying the fish in muslin and placing it on a plate at the bottom of a large kettle is, however, not to be despised. Boil in as little water as possible, and except in the case of salmon, which requires boiling water, put the

· A Bag is Not Necessary if a Boiler is Used

The length of time for cooking varies with the weight of the fish. One can usually tell when it is done by the flesh separating from the bone. It can scarcely cook tool slowly, however, and, after being, brought to the boiling point, should simmer gently for the rest of the, time. On removing, strain carefully, and keep covered until ready, for use. If lemon juice or vinegar is added to the water in which whitefish is cooked, the color is improved.

Half the success of the boiled fish depends upon its dressing and serving. Either a white cream sauce, with hard-boiled eggs, or a Hollandaise sauce are the most popular. A parsley sauce, or one made of a good handful of spinach or watercress, pounded and rubbed through a fine sieve, heated over the fire with three tablespoonfuls of cream, one dessertspoonful of tarragon vinegar, yolks of two eggs, salt and pepper until it is light and frothy, makes a pleasant change. Always serve a boiled fish in a folded napkin and garnish it with parsley, hard-boiled eggs or, if a little color is liked, with lobster coral. Broiled fish next to planked is probably the most palatable way it can be served. There is a decided art, however, in broiling. The broiler must be absolutely clean and rubbed with suet to prevent sticking; the fire should be clear and bright, and the fish itself must be wiped perfectly dry and brushed over with oil or melted butter and well seasoned. To cook with the necessary, slowness it is well to raise the broiler on two bricks. If the fire is inclined to smoke, throw on a handful of salt.

PLANKING IN FAVOR

Planked fish are now in such favor that every aspiring housekeeper should own a plank. This should be of hardwood about two inches thick, and either grooved or slightly hollowed in the centre to retain the juices, and furnished with clips or wires to fasten the fish to it. The plank must be heated before using.

While the ideal way to plank is be- now are very inexpensive. These fore an open fire, the upper grate of a very hot oven is a good substitute. Planking is usually associated with shad, but any good whitefleshed fish, as bluefish, whitefish or halibut, is equally good.

Frying is acknowledged the least digestible way to cook fish. It can, however, be done deliciously if the fish is either rolled in flour or dipped in well-seasoned egg and bread crumbs and done in very hot fat. The temperature should be slightly lower than when cooking such things as croquettes, whose interior has been previously prepared. Oil or cottolene is the best medium for frying, as lard is very apt to taste.

Besides these staple ways of pre-paring fish, delicious rechauffes, croquettes and salads may be made from left-overs. Escalloped fish in little individual forms or shells are good either for a family lunch or as course at more formal affairs. It should always be served with sauce tartare, or, at least, with a rather acid mayonnaise.

Every one should own some of the interesting fish moulds, which currence on the family board.

give most attractive forms in which to prepare left-overs, or, indeed, new creamed fishes. The sauces in which the fish is prepared should always be a little stiffer than when it is not to be moulded. A very attractive way to serve salmon, either fresh or canned, is in timbale moulds. It is also very artistic as a course for a dinner when chopped, creamed and moulded in the shape of a huge curled fish and served on a flat plat-garnished with parsley and lemon. Various bisques and fish soups are excellent Lenten fare, and should be more generally used than they are, as should also fish salads, chowders and creams. We are not very well acquainted in this country with the fish pies of which the English are so fond, but they provide a quite delicious way to utilize cold fish and cold mashed potatoes.

Then come the dull aches in back, hips and head—the nerves unstrung and irritated—the urine charged with impurities and highly colored—and you fear you have "Kidney Trouble."

Nonsense. Your kidneys are overworked-not diseased. What you need is "FRUIT-A-TIVES" to act on the skin.

open the clogged pores-start up healthy skin action-and let the skin perform its natural function. This instantly relieves the kidneys of overwork—the back-aches stop and the complexion is beautified. There is no excessive waste matter in the blood to bring dull headaches—the urine is cleared—the bowels are opened and regulated—and the kidneys strengthened.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" act directly on the three great eliminating organs-Skin, Kidneys and Bowels-make them well and keep them well. That is why "FRUIT-A-TIVES" cure so many cases of apparent kidney disease that are really skin troubles.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" are fruit juices—in which the natural medicinal action of fruit is many times increased by the secret process of making them. Valuable tonies and antiseptics are added and the whole made into tablets-the finest formula known to medicine. Buy them-try them-and cure yourself at home. 50c. a

Born up by its own lightness, it was at last caught among some tree trunks at the base of a hill. This hill was later called the Palatine, and was the site of the first city of Rome. The basket upset, rolling the twins out on the wet sand. A wolf came down to the water to drink. She saw the babies, and (as has sometimes occurred in other countries) carried them uninjured to her cave, where she brought them up with her own

A herdsman named Faustulus found the him. He called them Romulus and Remus, and brought them up as shepherds.

They grew tall and strong above their fellows, and became leaders of the herdsmen. A fight broke out one day between their followers and the servants of their grandfather, Numitor, the deposed chief of Alba Longa. Remus was captured. Romulus gathered his friends and rushed to his brother's rescue. In the battle that followed Amulus, their great-uncle, who to Alba Longa. But, finding they were of royal birth, they resolved to start a city of their own. So they chose a site, and in 752 B. C. set about building what is now known as Rome.

The ground was marked out, and Romulus with a brazen plow drawn by snowwhite cattle drove a deep furrow or trench where the walls should later stand. He not be disobeyed he set a man to guard the trench. This man was the swiftest runner and most active athlete in all Italy. His name was Celer. From this our word "celerity" is derived People city. But the problem of population was no nearer solution than before, for the populace were nearly all men. Scarcely a woman could be found in all Rome. This defect did not discourage Romulus.

He invited the Sabines-a race inhabiting the neighboring country-to a religious festival. In the midst of the festivities each of his followers seized one of the daughters of the Sabines and carried her energy cannot long remain unemployed, sweeping generalizations and supported away. The visitors were unarmed and and sooner or later he is sure to play by the most minute observation, than could not rescue the girls. But they sent an important part in national, if not Alfred Russel Wallace, who celebrated two expeditions in quick succession against Rome. Both of these Romulus beat back. Then the Sabines tried to win by cunning. The key to Rome's strength was a fortress rock on the Capitoline Hill. They bribed Tarpeia, daughter of the citadel's com-

The man in charge of the second chair at one of the large hotel shops stropped his razor and loquaciously continued, says the Chicago Record-Herald.

"You see that new man down at the end of the chair? He just came to work here this morning, and he'll have a nice large can tied to his coat tonight. Why? Because he's lefthanded. If he remained here every barber in the shop would quit before the week was out.

"A left-handed barber is a hoodoo to any shop, and there's no getting away from it. You may think that's only a prejudice that barbers have for lefthanded knights of the razor, but it's a well-grounded superstition, as old as the trade itself.

"We'd be apt to have all kinds of hard luck if that fellow stayed here any length of time. I once worked in a New York shop where there was a left-handed barber, and almost every day an accident would happen to some of the others. Burke's Peerage for the current year, however, seems to have conceived some doubts as to the authenticity of the death of Sir Gilbert, of which there is no record either in 1899 or since, for it refers to Sir Gilbert as "supposed to have died in 1899." The wording of the advertisement published by the family lawyers, and which I have quoted above, would seem, however, to indicate that Sir Gilbert is still in the land of the living, for they refer to him, not as "the late Sir Gilbert," but as "Sir from the reign of Charles II., when Six Thomas Grosvenor married the only daughter and sole heiress of Alexander Davies, the most famous money lender in London in the days of the "Merrie Monarch." Lady Grosvenor, who was married to Sir Thomas at the age of 12, bore him eight ing terms: "The said Dame Mary Grosvenor continues as a lunatic, and the custody of person stands committed to Robert Middletown, of Chirk Castle, in the County of Denbigh, esquire." It was not until her death that her eldest son succeeded to her landed property in London, which comprises what is today the most fashionable district of the British metropolis.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

The case of Capt. Smith is unusually interesting, because it proves absolutely by analysis of the urine that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cured him of kidney disease. The doctor himself could scarcely believe it until he made the second analysis and pronounced the captain a well man.

Capt. Wm. Smith is a veteran of the Crimean war, living at Revelstoke, B. C., and earned his title in the British army. He reported his case in a letter as follows:—"I can testify to the benefits derived from Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. For years I was a sufferer from kidney disease, and could get no relief from it. The doctor examined me and analyzed my urine and told me I had chronic disease of the kidneys. As his medicine did me no good, I bought a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and was benefited so much that I kept on taking them until I can say that I am perfectly cured. I told the doctor I was cured, but he would not believe me until he examined my urine again. After doing so he stated that I had no trace of kidney disease left. I have recommended Dr. Chase's medicines to many people."

It is not pleasant to contemplate the approach of Bright's disease, dropsy, gravel, rheumatism or apoplexy, and yet these are the very diseases which anyone may expect who neglects to cure derangements of the kidneys.

YOU CAN MAKE THIS TEST:

Should it not be convenient for you to have a physician analyze the urine, you can make this test yourself:—Put some urine in a bottle or tumbler and let it stand for twenty-four hours; if there is a sediment in the bottom at the end of that time, er if it is discolored, milky, cloudy or stringy, your kidneys are out of order and are not doing their work properly.

Among the other symptoms of kidney disease are:-

Backache, scanty, highly colored urine, deposits in urine after standing, painful, scalding urination, continued paleness, loss of flesh, swelling of ankles and legs, irregular action of the bowels, rheumatism and sciatic pains.

If you suffer in this way there is no time to lose in beginning the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. You will search in vain for a treatment which will so soon call a halt to this terrible disease. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

NOW 15 CENTS PER SHARE.

SILVER BIRD is surrounded by the greatest producing mines in the Cobalt District.

SHAVER BIRD is absolutely inside property, consisting of twenty acres (patented), being the west half of the northeast quarter of the north half of Lot 3, Concession 6, Coleman.

SILVER BIRD is a mine in full operation, with two 25 h.p. boilers, steam holst, steam drills and all machinery and buildings necessary to complete an operating mine. SILVER BIRD is working two shifts and is in full operation both day and night, sinking upon three veins and in the same formations identically as in the O'Brien, Timmins and Right of Way mines and lying immediately between these mines and the Green-Meehan, Red Rock, Cobalt Contact and Nipissing Extension. The veins are broadening out and are increasing in values with depth,

SILVER BIRD has no indebtedness; there are no incumbrances against the property or stock of the company. The capitalization of The Silver Bird Cobalt Mines, Limited, is but $1,500,000.00, par value of the shares $1.00 each, fully paid and non-assessable, and no personal liability, with 500,000 shares in the treasury. The first allotment is now offered to the public for subscription at 15

Considering the inside location of the property, development done, results obtained, low capitalization and the large amount of shares in the treasury, this is unquestionably one of the best bargains (if not the greatest bargain) that have been offered in Cobalt mining shares.

1t-there it was in Deacon Wales' will. Mrs. Dorcas was the youngest of all the sons' wives, as her husband was the latest born. She was quite a girl to some of them. Grandma had never more than half approved of her.

It occurred to her that her son Samuel might have her own "help," a stout woman, who had worked in her kitchen for many years, and she take in exchange his little bound girl. Ann Ginnins. She had always taken a great fancy to the child. There was a large closet out of the southwest room, where she could sleep and she could be made very useful, taking steps and running "arants" for her. Mrs. Dorcas did not relish this any more than she did the appropriation of the southwest fire-room. She had never liked Ann very well. Besides she had two little girls of her own. Thirsey, her youngest child, was mere baby, a round fat dumpling of a thing. Ann was very fond of playing with her, and tending her, and Mrs. Dorcas began to take advantage of it. The minute Ann was at liberty she was called upon to take care of Thirsey. The speaker was the late Richard Burgess, rector of Holy Trinity, at Chelsea."

The usual Shelley tradition respecting his death and burial is that stated in the handbooks on English literature, i. e., that he passed the winter of 1822 at Piza, and in the April following took up residence near Lerici, in the Gulf of Spezzia. Passionately fond of boating, especially of yachting, on July 8, 1823, accompanied by an officer of the British navy, he sailed from Leghorn, having gone there to meet Leigh Hunt, and, being overtaken by a sudden squall, was capsized and drowned with his companion. The bodies were washed ashore and burned, according to the quarantine law of that time and place, the witnesses to the cremation, as asserted by Chambers's Encyclopaedia," Lord Byron, Leigh Hunt, and Mr. Trelawny. The ashes were preserved and burled in the little Protestant cemetery at Rome, close by the body of his associate in melodious verse, Keats, over whose tomb is written: "Here lies one whose name is writ
