RUSSIAN REDS LOSE THOUSANDS OF PRISONERS TO POLES

BRITISH DELEGATES IMPRESSED WITH CANADA'S DEVELOPMENT

Look for Excellent Results From Their Visit—Well Pleased With London—Various Members Discuss Outlook in England and Imperial Trade Expansion.

Following a busy day, during which they visited a number of London industries and places of interest, the British delegates to the Empire Chamber of Commerce left this afternoon for Windsor. The party arrived at midnight from Brantford, and got an early start today in connection with the program arranged for them here. The delegates, including the women with the party, were guests of the London Chamber of Commerce at breakfast in the Tecumseh. Immediately after they started on a motor tour of the city and visited the new Holeproof Hosiery factory, the Mc'lary factories, Victoria Hospital, the London and Port Stanley Railway offices, the Normal School, Springbank and the new reservoir and Byron Sanatorium.

On their return to the city an inspection was made of Victoria Park, the Ford Motor plant, St. Joseph's Hospital and the Ryerson School.

At noon the visitors were guests of the city at a luncheon held in the London Hunt Club.

Sees Little Trouble.

Major C. G. Martyn of Newport, Monmouthshire, speaking of conditions in England to The Advertiser, said they were not half as bad as reported. Outside of the threatened miners' strike, things were comparatively quiet.

"The miners' strike will not amount to anything, as other labor organizations are not in sympathy with them," he said. England will not have to deal with much industrial unrest if the practical men the people want to represent them get into Parliament. During the war, politicians represented labor largely, and this has been the foundation of a great deal of trouble.

Major Martyn is particularly impressed with the possibilities Canada offers, not only as a market for British goods, but for raw materials for British markets. He looks for a tremendous development in the Dominion in the next few years. The development of imperial trade relations and closer relations all round between the motherland and the colonies, he regards as one of the most important matters to be worked out in the future.

Control World Markets.

Major Martyn sees an expansion of British trade that will amount to world supremacy as a result of German many being swept out of many of the rich markets of the globe. British firms, he says, are fully alive to the situation, and are capturing and holding trade in all quarters of the globe. The world's financial centre, he says, remains in old London, and will remain there. British shipping is being increased enormously to take care of the vast volume of overseas trade that has to be handled.

Another member of the party discussing travel in Canada, said that the railway coaches were much more comfortable, though the tracks are not laid as well as in England.

Were Well Treated.

"From the time we landed in Canada we have been showered with hospitality, and had not Canada been dry I am sure some of us would have been in hospitals by now," said another.

One of the women members of the party described London as "a beautiful green gem." She made special mention of the beautiful homes and gardens in London. All were impressed with the delightful scenery at Springbank, and the male members of the party were much pleased with London's industrial development.

A Special Train.

The special train which is carrying the delegates throughout their complete tour in Canada, is the same train that was used for the Imperial Press delegates on their recent tour, and is one of the most modern on the continent.

It is an all-steel train, composed of baggage car, tourist sleeping car, for the train crew, five standard sleepers, dining car and compartment observation library car, and forms an all-steel train of Canadian National equipment.

The movement of the train while on the Grand Trunk Lines is under the direction of H. R. Charlton, general advertising agent of the Grand Trunk Railway System, and C. K. Howard, general tourist agent, Canadian National Railways, represents that line.

The tour embraces an extensive trip throughout Eastern Canada, and the party will visit the following cities and towns: St. Catharines, Niagara Falls, Brantford, London, Windsor, Guelph, Hamilton, Copper Cliff, Espanola, Sault Ste. Marie, New Liskeard, Cobalt, Haileybury, Timmins, Iroquois Falls, Ottawa, Montreal, Shawinigan Falls and Quebec.

The delegates will complete the tour on Tuesday, October 12.

N. Y. Prohibition Police Force Is Increased In Effort To Reduce Whiskey Smuggling

Inadequate Number of Agents Makes It Impossible To Prevent Illicit Liquor Traffic, Declares Supervisor Frank L. Boyd—Drunkenness Increases in New York City Since "Dry" Laws Became Effective, States Chief Magistrate McAdoo.

New York, Sept. 28.—A large force of prohibition agents was dispatched to the New York-Canadian border yesterday as the result of the publication in a local newspaper that at least one hundred cases a day of bonded Canadian whiskey and gin were being smuggled by bootleggers into New York State.

Upon his return from a tour of inspection through Northern New York yesterday Frank L. Boyd, supervising prohibition enforcement agent for New York district, said he had no doubt as to the accuracy of the report, but he explained that he was operating with a small force, and there were 28 highways crossing the border. To adequately police these roads was awork of great difficulty.

Chief Magistrate McAdoo of New York city yesterday made public figures showing that there has been a great increase in drunkenness here since the dry laws came into effect. The statistics reveal a decrease in arrests for drunkenness during the latter half of 1919, and the first three months of 1920, but a tremendous increase in May and Junes of this year.

People who use alcoholic drinks are adapting themselves to the situation, and finding means of getting intoxicants, the magistrate remarks.

HAMILTON CONSTABLE CLINGS TO PRISONER, ALTHOUGH WOUNDED

Patrolman Merritt Is Shot Four Times While Making an Arrest.

Hamilton, Sept. 28.—Police Constable Merritt was shot four times at 2 o'clock this morning while accosting two men whom he suspected of breaking into a King street east store. When Merritt started to interrogate the pair, one of them suddenly whipped out a revolver and began firing. Merritt knocked down one of the men who was later arrested. The other escaped. The man under arrest gave the name of Carroll. Merritt may recover.

Carroll, who is 17 years of age, lives at 221 McNab street north.

During the evening, Constable Merritt became suspicious of Carroll and another young man and inquired for their names.

While stepping out of an alley at 2:30 o'clock this morning, he again saw the pair taking a drink and approached them.

Reaching for one, to see if he had a bottle, the man whipped out a revolver. Merritt wrested the weapon away from him, and then the other man opened fire on the constable. Merritt succeeded in stunning Carroll with the revolver he secured, while Carroll's companion fled. The wounded constable, who was shot four times, succeeded in handcuffing Carroll and was found lying prostrate over his prisoner's body when help came.

BOLSHEVIKI IN RETREAT ALONG EXTENDED FRONT

1,300 Prisoners Captured by Poles in Monday's Advance.

UKRAINIANS ADVANCE

Reported To Have Captured 8,000 Reds in Eight Days.

Warsaw, Sept. 28.—Polish cavalry operating in the rear of retreating Bolshevik forces in the region of Grodno, have reached a point north of Lida, says an official statement issued here early today. During yesterday's fighting the Poles captured 1,300 prisoners, including a Bolshevik commissionaire, and also took eight cannon.

Lithuanian artillery has shelled Polish positions in the Suwalki sector, the statement declares.

North of the Pripet the battle is continuing in favor of the Poles. The Russians are retreating along the entire front, but are offering stubborn resistance as they fall back. The Poles in their advance are approaching the Shchara River. Further to the north the Poles have crossed the Niemen.

South of the Pripet, adds the statement, the situation is unchanged.

SENDING WAR MATERIAL TO GEN. WRANGEL

Constantinople, Sept. 28.—Forty-five thousand rifles and 5,000,000 cartridges which were captured by the Germans from the Russians during the world war are being shipped to General Baron Wrangel, head of the anti-Bolshevik government in South Russia.

The Ukrainian troops, according to the mission, in eight days took 8,000 prisoners and captured 22 guns, many machine guns, some automobiles and 300 railroad cars.

CONSIDERING TREATY.

Riga, Sept. 28.—Consideration of the details of a preliminary treaty of peace between Soviet Russia and Poland was begun here today by four commissions named to look after different phases of the problem before the peace conference. It is indicated that the first question to be debated is the line of demarkation between the Polish and Bolshevik armies.

Owners of Factories Declare Reserves Have Been Exhausted.

Turin, Italy, Sept. 28.—Owners of plants which had been seized by the workmen, and which were returned yesterday, report that there was a great waste of materials during the occupation of the works. It is asserted that the men used five times the amount of coal necessary to run the plants, and that all reserves are exhausted.

ALIEN ENEMIES NOT DEPORTED TO HAVE PROPERTY RETURNED

Government Taking Measures To Restore Possessions At Early Date.

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—Active measures are now being taken to return to alien enemies interned during the war but not deported, property, securities and money taken from them and still held.

During the war a large number of alien enemies were interned at various camps throughout Canada. Shortly after the armistice, these camps were discontinued, and the prisoners were either released or returned to their country of origin. While the war was in progress, the internment operations were carried on under the administration of the department of justice. In many cases, prisoners were employed at various kinds of manual labor and earned substantial sums. For the purpose of completing the work of this branch, it has been attached to the department of the secretary of state, and it is announced "active measures are now being taken to return prisoners who have been released but not deported any sums of property to which they are entitled or who have earned moneys which may have been taken from them."

The work is being carried on side by side with that of the clearing office, the property of deported alien prisoners being dealt with under the provisions of the treaty through the clearing office.

Applications are to be addressed to the department of the secretary of state (internment), Ottawa.

PRESS WOMEN TO CONVENE.

Montreal, Sept. 28.—Press women of Canada to the number of about 150 will gather here early next week to attend the conference of the Canadian Women's Press Club to be held here from October 5 to 7.

SUBMARINE NO LONGER AN EFFECTIVE ENGINE OF WAR

Toronto, Sept. 28.—The submarine as a weapon of war has no future, having been rendered ineffective by the perfection of the depth charge, Capt. Donald Munro, C.M.G., R.N., in a speech here last night under the auspices of the Navy League. Capt. Munro was adviser on port defence to the admiralty during the war.

His advice to Canada on naval matters was summed up in the dictum that the building of Canadian warships might be left to a later date, all efforts being concentrated meantime on the training of men. The sending of boys to sea on training ships, with the express purpose of making seamen of them, he advocated, was the only effective method of raising sailors. Apprenticeship to the mercantile marine he did not consider advisable or efficacious.

$8,000,000 INCREASE IN NOTICE DEPOSITS IN CANADA'S BANKS

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—The Canadian Press.—An increase of approximately eight million dollars in notice deposits is an outstanding feature of the August bank statement, issued today by the department of finance. A decrease of about ten millions in call loans outside Canada, as compared with July, is also noticeable. Call loans in Canada have also dropped considerably. In other particulars the August statement does not vary much from that of the previous month.

The principal figures, with comparisons for August, 1919, follow:

ROYAL COMMISSION OPENS INVESTIGATION ON HYDRO RADIALS

Members of the Government-Appointed Body Inspected Lines.

REPORTS ARE READY

Mass of Figures Likely To Be Submitted At Hearings.

Toronto, Sept. 28.—The radial railway commission appointed by the Ontario Government to investigate the proposed hydro-radials opened a session at Osgoode Hall here today. Sitting were the chairman, Justice Sutherland, Brig.-General Mitchel, A. F. McCallum, Fred Bancroft (Labor) and W. A. Amos, representing the United Farmers of Ontario. Counsel present were I. F. Hellmuth, K. C., for the Government; C. S. McInnes for the hydro commission, Robert McKay for the hydro-radial association and R. S. Robertson representing the municipalities in the proposed radial areas who are opposed to the scheme.

The chairman announced that since the last session the commission had gone over the proposed routes, accompanied by Engineer Gaby of the hydro commission and had been joined by Sir Adam Beck in a visit to the London and Port Stanley line. The chairman also announced that the Government had agreed to pay the fees of all counsel, including the fees of Mr. Robertson, representing the opposed municipalities.

Mr. Hellmuth read the correspondence between himself and other counsel and the Ontario Hydro Commission. He said all of the necessary information and reports on cost of construction, maintenance and operation of the several lines had been furnished with the exception of three lines, and that these would be shortly completed. He said no blame attached to anyone or to the hydro commission for any delay in the matter of getting the necessary reports, they were now about complete.

Ready to Proceed.

The chairman asked counsel to present their views as to the course to be pursued and whether the reports were, in their opinions, complete. Mr. Hellmuth thought that as the reports were practically complete the commission could proceed. Mr. McInness said the reports of construction costs were furnished and the commission and counsel could decide if anything further was required. Mr. McKay said it was impossible that the commission could go into every detail.

They would require the rest of their lives to do so. The question was one more of general policy.

E. S. Robertson said he would like to have the full information on which the hydro commission based its reports submitted. He found that the totals presented were in some cases quite different to those submitted to the voters when a liquor referendum was submitted to them for voting on. He wanted to know how the details of estimated revenue were obtained.

Does Not Fear Investigation.

Mr. McInnes in reply said the hydro commission was not afraid of any investigation of all its activities and reports obtained since 1917, but the work would be endless. There were tons of reports available at the hydro offices, but it would be out of the question to spend time in going all over them again.

Robert McKay said the conditions of 1920 were really what the commission was now concerned with.

Mr. Robertson said he was misunderstood. He wanted to have permission to have competent experts examine the information on which radial bylaws submitted in 1919 were based.

Mr. Hellmuth read the original report of the hydro commission to the Government, setting forth the proposed lines and estimated cost. Some of these had been dropped, and were not now under consideration.

MANITOBA GOVT. TO EXPEND $1,000,000 IN HYDRO DEVELOPMENT

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 28.—Expenditure of more than $1,000,000 in hydro-electric development in rural Manitoba may be undertaken under the government hydro-electric policy in 1921, if the legislature next session authorizes continuation of this policy to the extent of applications already received.

ESCAPES DEATH BY PADDLING LOG TO VESSEL ROUTE

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 28.—Paddling astride a log for several hours in an endeavor to get into the steamship traffic route and be picked up before he starved, Lieut. W. H. Brown, M.C., R.A.F., was picked up in the waters off Nalau Island, south of Bella Bella, by the steamer Hidden Inlet, bound from Alaska to Seattle, after having been adrift on his strange craft 24 hours in the icy waters of the gulf. Brown was flying from Alert Bay to Prince Rupert, but after flying for an hour and a half he was forced to land to repair the engine of his seaplane. Before this could be done the machine was swept ashore on Nalau Island and sunk, and there was no other course for Brown to reach the steamer route. He was one day on the island.

JUVENILE COURT PLANNED HERE

Meeting Will Be Held Shortly To Consider the Matter.

Efforts to establish a juvenile court in London will be re-commenced with a meeting of the general committee for that purpose this week or at the latest next week. Jared Vining, who has been acting as convener of the committee, said today that it had not been possible to accomplish much during the summer, but that as soon as the committee could be called together some sort of a campaign likely would be instituted.

The committee for this purpose was formed originally by the Rotary Club. Other organizations in the city took an active interest, and several representatives from these bodies were added, with the result that a large general committee now exists.

W. E. Kelly, inspector for the Children's Aid Society, in an interview with The Advertiser today, declared that a juvenile court was an absolute necessity, and that the average citizen did not realize how serious present conditions were.

"Although every consideration is given to youthful offenders by Magistrate Graydon he has not the time or the facilities for dealing properly with juvenile law breakers," Mr. Kelly said. "At present the children who are arrested for some misdemeanor are treated just as though they were adult criminals. Their names are entered on the records, and only a very brief history of their case is given. None of the evidence in the case is copied down and no information is kept on file about the children. It is a well-known fact that the crimes which children commit are not always due to perversity in themselves, but to their upbringing. In cases of that nature it is a shame that the child should be branded as a criminal. What he needs is correction and a chance to do better.

"A juvenile court would have the whole day at its disposal to do things of that nature, whereas the magistrate now has to deal with them in a few hours. There would be an opportunity to get down to the real basis of the trouble. Where it was found that the upbringing of the child was responsible for its actions arrangements could be made for seeing that he had a better opportunity in the future. Better service could be rendered to the community if the work were looked on more as a preventive measure than as a means for enforcing the law."

HOT SOLDERING IRON STARTS SHOP FIRE

Loss Will Be About $300 in East End Electrical Store.

Fire which is believed to have originated from a hot soldering iron caused damage estimated at $300 this morning at the electrical store of Pike & Currie, 785 Dundas street. When members of the firm came down to open up about 7 o'clock they found a merry blaze in progress and at once notified the East London fire department which made a quick run and soon had the fire under control.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 28.—Exchequer court writs for failure to pay their income taxes will be served soon on more than 150 residents of Winnipeg, Man., and Western Ontario, A. W. Gibb, district tax inspector, announces.

LICENSE OFFICER CHARGED WITH TAKING BRIBE

T. Bulmer Will Appear For Trial At Leamington This Afternoon.

BILLS WERE MARKED

Alleged To Have Accepted $300 To Not Prosecute.

Leamington, Sept. 28.—Canadian Press.—On the strength of statements made by Clayton Toyne, a resident of Leamington, and observations made by County Constable Daniel Kennedy, License Officer T. Bulmer was taken into custody here yesterday afternoon on a charge of soliciting and accepting a bribe.

License Inspector Spracklin, in company with Bulmer and the Hallam brothers, all license officers, made a visit to the town. Spracklin sent the others to search several suspected houses, while he went to another town. During his absence the other three men visited the marsh near the town, where Toyne has an onion field, and discovered a bottle of whiskey. Toyne states that he asked the officers if he could not settle the matter for a financial consideration, and after the three men had conferred, he was told that $300 would fix it. Toyne says he asked them to wait until he went to the bank and cashed a check, which they agreed to do. Receiving the cash, he marked the bills, and got Constable Kennedy, who watched him hand the money over to Bulmer, whom he immediately took into custody.

Mrs. Toyne says that Bulmer, in conversation with her, said: "Seems a shame to lay a charge for such a little bit of liquor as that, but a little money goes a long way."

Bulmer was released late in the afternoon and allowed to return to his headquarters in Windsor, but he will appear in court at Leamington this afternoon.

Dr. Roy Farmer Is Worse Today

Condition Again Critical, According to the Hospital Authorities.

St. Joseph's Hospital reported a change for the worse in the condition of Dr. Roy Farmer today. He suffered a great deal and his condition is again regarded as critical. Because of this, attending physicians have not been able to probe for the bullets. Complications such as pericarditis are feared, and it may be several days before it can be definitely learned whether his injuries are fatal or if he will recover.

ASKED GIRLS HE DID NOT KNOW TO GO FOR A RIDE

Youth Is Allowed To Go With a Warning From the Magistrate.

Although he was charged only with a breach of the motor and vehicle act in the local police court today, for which he paid a fine of $5 and costs, Roy Robinson received a lecture and warning from Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, because it developed in the taking of the evidence that the youth had attempted to establish himself in the "masher" class by accosting two girls whom he did not know on Richmond street recently.

Although Robinson did not own the car, he was driving it. While proceeding south on Richmond street he passed Police Sergt. W. McCullough without proper lights on the car. The police officer investigated when he saw the car draw up to the curbing on the south side of the street. On approaching he heard Robinson and companion accost two girls who were passing.

Sergt. McCullough said that he asked the boys if they knew the girls, and and when they answered in the negative he called the girls. The girls said that they did not know the boys. Believing that too much of this sort of thing is going on, the sergeant said that he lectured the boys.

"I asked them how would they like anyone to speak to their sisters. They asked to be let off, promising that they would not do it again," he said.

The accused admitted in court that he spoke to the girls, and that he did not know them.

"I only asked them to go for a ride," he admitted, rather shamefacedly.

The magistrate told Robinson that he had committed a serious offence, but that he would let him off with a warning.

"I am letting you go because you told your right name and address to the officer, when your companion gave a false one," he said.

The companion was named McPherson, but gave his name as Rearidan.

ESTATES OF ITALIAN KING ARE SEIZED

London, Sept. 28.—Estates owned by King Victor Emmanuel of Italy at Santa Maria di Capua Vetre, near Naples, have been seized by members of local agricultural societies, according to a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Rome. No opposition was offered to the persons seizing the property, it is said.

GRAIN MOVEMENT CHECKED.

Montreal, Sept. 28.—A general movement of grain has been checked by the heavy rains throughout the Edmonton district for the last few days. Threshing operations at many points have come to a standstill and have as a result postponed the anticipated volume of shipments for this period. In the next few days it is anticipated there will be a resumption of operations that will be noticeable in all sections.

WITNESSES FROM ALL PARTS OF PROVINCE WILL BE CALLED TO TESTIFY REGARDING THE O. T. A.

Special Committee of Provincial Legislature Meeting To Make Inquiries Into Effectiveness of Prohibition Act—Particular Attention Will Be Given To Conditions At the Essex-Michigan Border — Amendments That Will Tend To Making Province Actually Bone Dry Likely To Be Recommended.

Toronto, Sept. 28.—Members of the Ontario Legislature special committee appointed to inquire into the effectiveness of the Ontario temperance act assembled at the legislative buildings today to begin their investigations. All branches of the Legislature—members of the United Farmers, Labor, Conservative, Liberal and Soldier parties, are represented on the committee, the largest percentage, of course, being of the agricultural group.

Following election of a chairman, the committee will determine their method of procedure, and arrange for the calling of witnesses, of whom, it is expected, there will be scores, from all parts of the province. It is understood that special attention will be given by the committee to the extensive rum-running operations on the Essex-Michigan border.

It is pretty well assured that the sentiment of the majority of the committee is toward the tightening of the clauses of the O. T. A. and the amendment of the same toward the end of an actual bone-dry Ontario. The discussion will undoubtedly indicate, however, considerable difference in opinion on the methods of accomplishing this.

SEVEN WOUNDED WHEN BELFAST RIOTS RENEWED

Troops Use Bayonets To Disperse Rioters.

Belfast, Ireland, Sept. 27.—There was a recurrence last night of the rioting and shooting which have been in progress here at intervals since the week-end. The outbreak occurred in the Old Lodge road district, where shipyard workers were attacked by armed men. Seven persons were wounded by the revolver firing. The military dispersed the rioters by bayonet charges.

There were seventeen arrests for violations of the curfew law.

PRESS CALLS FOR DRASTIC MEASURES TO CHECK CRIMES

London Sept. 28.—Serious anxiety over the recurrence of the "Black and Tan" reprisals in Ireland is reflected by English newspapers, which sharply call for the Government to halt what is described by the London Times as "semi-official lynch law." Earlier occurrences in Ireland passed without much notice here, but recent raids, especially those on Balbriggan and Trim and the bitter warm criticism of the "Black and Tan" police forces by Gen. Sir Cecil F. Nevil Macready, military commander of Ireland, are causing considerable disquiet.

Condemnation of recent disorders is not confined to newspapers, which are avowedly sympathizers with the Irish nationalist movement, the Conservative Graphic, which is an unsparing critic of the Sinn Feiners, declaring: "This is not calm and orderly justice, and punishment according to British ideas. It must be stopped."

Charges that the Government is following the methods of its opponents are made by the Times, which continues:

Presumably there is a hope that Ireland will be ground to docility between the upper and nether millstones. The Government should be warned of the harvest it may reap."

The Archbishop of Canterbury has issued an appeal to Christians to make national trouble the subject of prayer.

"Endeavors on either side in Ireland," he declares, "have been thwarted by prejudice, inflamed by passion, flouted or powerless, and liberty travestied while capable men are striving eagerly, but vainly, to find a reasonable pathway through the darkening turmoil.

"The standing committee of the Irish peace conference has passed a resolution recording its conviction that the reprisals "constitute an almost insuperable barrier to the success of the committee's efforts in the cause of peace."

FRUIT IS CHEAP, BUT NO SEALERS ARE OBTAINABLE

Great Quantities of Peaches Coming In and Many Are Spoiling.

"The shortage of sealers is going to bring down prices of fruit," said Fruit Inspector Connor to The Advertiser today. "Large quantities of choice fruit, especially peaches, are being left on dealers' hands because housewives cannot get any containers in which to preserve the fruit. Great quantities of peaches are coming in, and in order that they may not be a total loss, many dealers are willing to dispose of them at low prices."

Another factor in the situation is sugar. Housewives by refusing flatly early in the season to pay what they regarded as exorbitant prices for sugar are bringing prices down. Sugar has stopped and will drop again very shortly, according to those in the trade. In the meantime in thousands of homes in the city and district there is only a small fraction of the preserves usually put up. A continuation of the hot weather will have very serious effects on all fruit, a local grower stated today. It has been ripening so fast that it must be used up, as it will not keep and in many districts large quantities of fruit are spoiling even now. Reports from Niagara districts indicate that peach growers are offering fruit at 25 cents a large basket to those who will come and pick it.

One grower who was looking to good returns from his tomatoes this year is anything but satisfied with the way things are working out.

"I had a big load in on Saturday," he said, "and prices went down to 20 cents. I pay 12 cents for baskets, 4 cents for picking, and how much have I left for my season's trouble?"

LUMBER WILL NOT BE ANY CHEAPER

Higher Freight Rates Offset Any Reductions That Might Be Made.

According to local lumber merchants, the reduction of 28 per cent in the cost of various woods in Chicago, just announced by the American Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association, will have no effect in Canada.

"Increased freight rates will more than offset any reductions," said one dealer to The Advertiser. "People are constantly complaining about high prices, but they pay them. The increased freight rates will mean an advance of from $8 to $9 a thousand on all timber brought from the coast, such as fir and cedar, and fir trim and finishing lumber. White pine flooring and siding is selling today at $90 per thousand. This is $5 higher than prices in the spring."

Shingles, he stated, are selling at $8.50 for standard grades. Generally speaking, he said, stocks are low. No large amount of house building is looked for this fall, but considerable lumber of the higher varieties may be required for factory construction.

HEAVY REGISTRATION AT TECHNICAL SCHOOL

Rush of Students For Classes Which Opened Last Night.

Technical school classes opened for the fall term last night with a record registration. The building was crowded with applicants anxious to benefit by some of the many courses offered. Indications are that registration throughout the remainder of the week will insure classes that will tax the capacity of the school to its limit.

To meet this situation it has been decided to keep the school open five nights a week instead of four as formerly. New classes and second-year courses are responsible for much of the increased registration. Students who attended last year now have an opportunity to study more advanced work along the same line. A new class in practical automobile repairing has been established. On one night a week this will be for women exclusively.

Registration for Collegiate night classes will begin next Monday evening at the Princess Avenue School. The same courses in commercial and general studies in preparation for matriculation and other examinations are offered.

WILL CHARGE GOVT. WITH CLASS COST

Board of Education To Take Question Up At Next Meeting.

Definite steps to charge the Provincial Government with the cost of the continuation class recently established at Victoria School will be taken at the next meeting of the board of education. The class was instituted this term on the instruction of the department of education in order to give Normal students an opportunity to observe and teach continuation class work, so as to qualify for second-class certificates.

The total cost of establishing the class will be two thousand dollars. It is felt in some quarters that public school supporters should not have to bear this, but that it should be charged to the high school or Government account. The establishment of the class has added to the overcrowding problem in the school. Parents of some of the pupils in the fourth grade at Victoria School are complaining because their children do not receive a full day's schooling.

EXPECT 500 AT BANQUET TONIGHT

Toronto Orangemen Will Visit Star of Bethlehem Lodge Here.

Five hundred Orangemen from London and district will gather tonight in Ulster Hall to welcome the members of Imperial Lodge No. 2767 of Toronto on the occasion of their visit to Star of Bethlehem Lodge No. 2769.

These two lodges are known throughout the Orange association as sister lodges, for the reason that the men who worked for the inauguration of both lodges became acquainted last November, and ideals of both committees were identical. Also Star of Bethlehem Lodge was inaugurated on January 20 this year, and Imperial Lodge on January 21, which means they are only one day apart.

The Star of Bethlehem has a membership of 149, which shows excellent progress for a lodge eight months old, and also has about 50 men yet to initiate.

The Imperial Lodge members are coming in special coaches, arriving here at 8:10, when they will be met by the reception committee at the G.T.R. station, and headed by the Hackett L. O. L. 805 fife and drum band, will parade up Richmond to Dundas and out Dundas to Ulster Hall, on the corner of Clarence street, where the Toronto lodge will officiate in putting on the first degree of the order.

Between 10 and 10:30 p.m. the lodge will adjourn and will again parade, headed by the Hackett band and the grand lodge officers, down Dundas street to Richmond, up Richmond to Queen's, Queen's to the Masonic Temple, where the biggest banquet in the history of Orangeism in London will be staged.

The principal speakers of the evening include: Most Wor. Bro. H. C. Hocking, M. P., Sovereign Grand Master of the Orange Association for British-America; Right Wor. Bro. W. M. Fitzgerald, Prov. Grand Secretary of Ontario West; Right Wor. Bro. Fred Dane, Vice-President of the Imperial Orange Council of the World, and Right Wor. Bro. E. T. Essery, K. C., LL.D., Past Grand Master of Ontario West.

FURNITURE PRICES ARE BEING SLASHED

Pre-War Quotatins Offered Now, Says W. D. Thomas.

The lower cost of living wave has reached London and one of the first lines affected will be furniture. W. D. Thomas of the Thomas Furniture Company stated today in announcing a big price-cutting sale.

"There is not the slightest doubt that prices are on the down grade," he said. "Stoves are an exception. The market for them seems steady, but all lines of furniture are due for a rapid decline in price. The people have been expecting it for some time. As a result they have refrained from making any large purchases of furniture, and this has had its effect on the market. The retail stores have not been disposing of their stocks as rapidly as formerly. The manufacturers have become stocked up, and though they have been holding their goods for some time, it is certain they will have to put them on the market soon at reduced prices if they hope to sell them at all.

'Our sale is the first indication of this in London, I believe. We are offering goods at actually pre-war prices. We have found that it is a decidedly popular move, and it has proved one thing to us. That is, that there is still plenty of money in the country. These reports that money is very scarce and that not as much buying is being done as before the war, are certainly not borne out by our experience. People from all over Western Ontario are coming here, and they are coming well prepared to make large purchases. The country seems to be in a most prosperous condition.

TILBURY FANS STILL HAVE CONFIDENCE IN TEAM

Tilbury, Sept. 28.—Tilbury baseball club lost the first game of the semi-pro. championship series with the Ford team on Wigle Park, Windsor, Saturday afternoon, by a score of 7 to 3. The second game of the series will be played in Tilbury on Thursday of this week, and the Tilbury fans who lost considerable coin of the realm last Saturday will again back their team to the limit, as they claim that Reis, the local twirler, had his one off-day on that occasion, and that he will stand the Ford aggregation on their heads on Thursday afternoon. About 700 rooters will accompany the Ford team to Tilbury, and it is more than likely that the Ford Brass Band will accompany the crowd.

DOCTORS WILL MEET HERE ON THURSDAY

Medical men from all parts of the district will be in the city on Thursday afternoon to attend a general session of the Western Ontario Academy of Medicine. This is a joint meeting of the academy and divisional meeting of the Ontario Medical Association.

Subject, "Motion Pictures of Intestinal Surgery, demonstrating technique, and also Inguinal Hernia, Local Anesthetic," and an address by Dr. Mullin, Hamilton, president of the O. M. A.

In the evening there will be an informal dinner, followed by an address by Dr. Mullin, Hamilton, on "The Aim and Object of the O. M. A."

BOYS ARE FINED FOR ANNOYING NEIGHBOR

One Alleged To Have Been Beaten—Squire Commends This Action.

For acting in a disorderly manner in the north end of the city on September 14, Melvin McDougald, who resides outside the city, was fined $2 and costs by Squire W. H. Chittick in the county court on Monday afternoon. A juvenile appeared in the same case, and was let go with a warning and by paying the costs of the case.

Gus Bricklin, 210 Huron street, was the complainant. He claimed that for the past year boys have been annoying him by knocking on the door and running away. The practice occurring nearly every night, and on September 14 he managed to catch one of the boys in the act of knocking at the door, while the two boys who appeared yesterday were standing on the sidewalk to watch the fun. It was claimed that the boy who was caught, and who was severely dealt with by Mr. Bricklin, who used a stick liberally over his back, will probably appear to answer a similar charge in the course of a few days.

Squire Chittick commended Mr. Bricklin for his actions toward this latter alleged culprit.

MR. COTTAM AGAIN ALLEGES CONSPIRACY

Organized Effort, He Claims, To Block Progress of Town Planning.

The following letter was received by The Advertiser this afternoon in connection with town planning committee matters from John Cottam:

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Press reports of the town planning conspiracy are inaccurate in certain respects.

First, I made no insinuation against City Clerk Baker or anyone else. Insinuations may be inferred by guilty consciences. But I do not deal in insinuations. In the absence of facts, I keep quiet. And my facts for the most part are established in the official minutes.

The clerk and others do not like to compare their official conduct with the official orders of the council. They broke up the meeting rather than allow the minutes to convict them of misstatement.

After the minutes were signed by the chairman the clerk read a letter from Mr. Thomas Adams suggesting certain procedure for the committee to adopt in co-operating with other cities to secure new legislation. To follow the suggested procedure, the committee would be in contempt and defiance of the town planning measure adopted by the council. The committee would then be countenancing the breach of trust on the part of the clerk and others who have disobeyed the order of the council.

The council last winter ordered that its own town planning measure be given to Dr. Stevenson, M. P. P., and presented to the Legislature. That was never done. The clerk says that the mayor and city solicitor have connived with and supported him in this breach of trust and contempt of the council. But the mayor and the solicitor have no authority to ignore an order of the council any more than a newsboy.

The council did not refer this measure to the city solicitor for the very good reason that it had been prepared and passed upon by high legal and governmental authorities, and the Government desired to support the measure. This contempt of a council order will cost the citizens of London very heavily in years to come, because public works will have to go on in the absence of adequate plans which will take many months to prepare, and perhaps several years. And this year's delay in starting on such plans is simply unpardonable. The men who dare to defy the council and deny the mandate of the people, deserve to have the curse of this unlawful delay brought home to them, the curse of a city without adequate plans, which is a thousand fold worse than the curse one would suffer in building a house without a plan.

But who cares what it costs the city to go on without competent plans? Who cares whether the order of the council was obeyed or not? The city clerk laughs and says he has no intention of obeying the town planning orders of the council. He says the council was crazy to pass such a town planning measure.

The clerk's sense of "divine right" to do as he pleases in defiance of the council is such that he conscientiously believes his conduct to be correct. But the clerk is due for conversion, and I believe he will enjoy a change of heart.

To go back to the Friday night outburst. When I pointed out that Mr. Adams' suggestion could not be followed just then without contempt and defiance of the council, Ald. Dr. Cameron Wilson astounded us by mentioning a second town planning committee, independent of our body, appointed by the council last winter, so the doctor said. He modestly claimed membership on this secret committee which included Ald. Bridge and others not on the official town planning committee.

According to Dr. Wilson, aldermanic lack of confidence in the official committee was such that unknown to us the council had appointed an opposing committee to do our work. And in confessing his own part in this secret committee, the doctor was charmingly oblivious of any impropriety, disloyalty or bad faith towards Major Murphy, Geo. H. Belton or myself, whom the council appointed to responsibility for official town planning.

Believing Dr. Wilson's statement to be untrue, I naturally asked the chairman to have the clerk read the minutes and show authority under which such an opposition committee could pretend to act.

That started the fireworks. And the clerk was the big noise. Chairman Seabrook contributed an occasional peep. But the clerk shot up like an obedient servant of the committee and he and his chair came down with a resounding thump. With Napoleonic authority and slightly unparliamentary language, the clerk quickly brought the committee to its knees and stopped further proceedings.

When others present had sufficiently recovered from this official explosion, it was found that the clerk and Ald. Dr. Wilson had vanished, and Chairman Seabrook was in pathetic need of friendly advice. And in that situation the meeting had to adjourn.

As to the truth of Dr. Wilson's statement, that gentleman after the meeting undertook to supply a marked copy of the minutes to prove his accuracy. But now eighty or ninety hours later, he has failed to do so. And the probable explanation is that no such committee was ever appointed by the council, outside the doctor's imagination.

And why such horse play? The answer is that it is part of a well-organized conspiracy to block the progress of town planning and bring its advocates into disrepute. Certain poor tools do not know how they are being used. They couldn't define the difference between town planning and garbage collection. Others know only too well. If the clerk had wanted business to proceed, he could have demolished my opposition in the few words I requested that he read from the minutes. But he knew well enough that the minutes would establish the falsity of his own words and those of Dr. Wilson.

JOHN COTTAM.

STRIKE IS THREATENED.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 28.—Unless negotiations now under way between local shipbuilding and metal trade interests on the one hand and the labor unions on the other terminates successfully before next Saturday there is a possibility of a strike involving approximately 3,250 men being declared here next Monday.

The men are asking an increase in wages of fifteen per cent. The demands being made by the unions call for a rate of $1 an hour.

WOULDN'T SQUEAL WHERE HE GOT IT; SO STAYS IN JAIL

John Wade's Sentence To Begin When He Tells Source of Liquor.

CHATHAM, Sept. 27.—Charles Lumley was sentenced to two years less one day in the Ontario Reformatory for thefts from freight cars on the Pere Marquette transfer sidings. The thefts, in progress for nearly a year, stopped when Detective Hare arrested Lumley.

While in this city playing at the Peninsular Fair, the band of the Western Ontario Regiment pleased pupils of the Central public school and St. Joseph's (separate) school by two short concerts on Friday morning last at these schools.

Balloon Passes Over.

A balloon passed over the city this morning about 10:30 o'clock. It is believed to be one of the balloons competing in the drifting race under the auspices of the Goodyear Rubber Tire Company of Akron, O.

John Wade was fined $200 and costs for having liquor. Asked by Crown-Attorney Smith where he purchased the liquor, Wade maintained silence, whereupon Col. Smith asked the magistrate to remand Wade to jail for three months or until such time as he chooses to give the information desired. The magistrate granted the request. Upon the giving of the information the sentence passed by Magistrate Arnold will commence.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church celebrated its 85th anniversary yesterday with appropriate services. Rev. James McKay delivered forceful sermons in the afternoon at the children's rally, and also at the evening service.

BORDER CITIZENS DISSATISFIED WITH RADIAL OPERATION

City Council Passes Motion Demanding Better Service From Commission.

WINDSOR, Sept. 27.—Claiming that people of the border municipalities generally are heartily dissatisfied with the present service in street railway and interurban lines being given by the Ontario Hydro Radial Commission since the acquisition of the lines by that body, Ald. Howell at night's meeting of the city council fathered the proposal whereby a delegation was appointed by the council to wait on the hydro commission of the province, asking that immediate steps be taken to improve the service.

Windsor council at its meeting gave approval to the plan of the Essex border utilities commission for the expenditure of $335,500 for the establishment of a chain of parks to encircle the district. The plan includes the purchase of the Clapp farm on Lake St. Clair at a total cost of $275,000, and the Fleming property, Sandwich, at a cost of $60,000.

Strong objection developed to the plan for the institution of a new department for the supervision and repair of municipal pavements, the supervisor of which would tender for his department on the construction of all new work. The plan was rejected. The success of a similar plan in London, Ont., failed to convince the council of the wisdom of the adoption of such a plan.

Windsor electors will vote on October 23 on an expenditure of $175,000 for the erection of a new building adjoining the present city hall site to house the police and fire departments. The original estimate of the cost of the undertaking called for spending $350,000. This has been cut in half.

STORE BROKEN INTO.

KITCHENER, Sept. 27.—Early this morning burglars broke into the rear of MacCallum's cigar store and stole a considerable quantity of cigars. The cash drawers were not tampered with.

Sanitary Inspector Rew said today that several prosecutions will follow his campaign to rid the city of insanitary garbage conditions, resulting from the failure of a number of citizens to live up to the regulations.

For the first time in almost a year the city is clear of contagious diseases. Smallpox, diphtheria and measles here kept the health department busy for a year, and incidentally caused the department to spend $6,600 more than its estimates called for, in fighting contagion.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain —How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach, and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases, and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid, and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take, and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion—Advt

FOUND GUILTY OF DRIVING HIS AUTO WHILE INTOXICATED

Out-of-Town Motorist Is Sentenced To Seven Days in Jail.

Found guilty of driving a motor car while under the influence of liquor which caused him to run over a boy on King street near the Western Fair grounds on the Tuesday of fair week, an out-of-town motorist was sentenced to a term of seven days in jail in police court today. Evidence given by two police sergeants, two police constables, one ex-constable and certain damaging statements made by the prisoner greatly outweighed the evidence given by one lone civilian called for the defence, in the opinion of Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon.

According to James Haldane, the first witness, who was employed at the King street gate of the exhibition grounds, and who witnessed the occurrence, accused drove up King street from the west. When near the gate, he suddenly drove up over the sidewalk, knocking down a bicycle and then a boy. He ran over one of the boy's legs. He believed the driver to be under the influence of liquor. Under cross-examination, he said there was a place to park cars on King street, near the place of the accident.

Policeman Called.

Ex-Policeman Louis McCaughey said he was called to the scene of the accident. He stated that the driver of the car was under the influence of liquor. On bringing the prisoner's car to the police station, he discovered it to be in good condition.

Police-Sergt. Thomas Bolton, who was on duty at the gates, arrested accused. He stated that he did not see the accident, but found the car against the side of the ticket office, where it had been driven.

"Could the prisoner walk straight?" W. R. Meredith, counsel for the defence, asked.

"He would have to do a lot better than he was doing if he could," was the reply.

"What did he talk like?"

"He wanted to say too much."

"Oh, that's a common fault," Mr. Meredith answered.

Sergt. T. Lucas said that he searched the prisoner at the grounds. Paisley said to him: "I haven't anything on me. All I have got is inside of me."

Constables R. E. Brammer and W. Pope both gave evidence.

Had Some Beer.

Accused said that he drank a bottle of beer when he came to the city, and then drove to the fair grounds. He attempted to park his car on the south side of the street, but split his brake rod when he put on the emergency. He could not use his right foot on the brake because it was lame as a result of being kicked by a cow. When he struck the boy he lost his head, and no doubt kicked the clutch and at the same time put on more gas. He admitted having taken one drink before breakfast, but said it was for a cold. He had had either one or two more after dinner before leaving home. He swore emphatically that he was not a drinking man, which he could prove by his whole neighborhood. He had not been drunk in three weeks, and he defied any man to prove it.

George Gregory, an employee of the Grigg House, was the only witness for the defence. He said the prisoner had come to the Grigg House on the day of the accident, but that he was not drunk. He cashed a check for him, because he was too lame to walk far.

The magistrate did not agree with Mr. Meredith that the case should be dismissed.

"I would be tempted to give the defendant the benefit of the doubt if I had any," he said, "but I do not doubt that he is guilty. It was a serious offence, for it might have meant the death of several people."

In the opinion of his worship, the man's statement that he had a drink before breakfast was enough to convict him.

ASHES OF LIFE.

(Edna St. Vincent Millay.)

Love has gone and left me, and the days are all alike.
Eat I must, and sleep I will — and would that night were here.
But ah, to lie awake and hear the slow hours strike!
Would that it were day again, with twilight near!

Love has gone and left me, and I don't know what to do;
This or that or what you will is all the same to me;
But all the things that I begin I leave before I'm through—
There's little use in anything as far as I can see.

Love has gone and left me, and the neighbors knock and borrow,
And life goes on forever like the gnawing of a mouse;
And tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow
There's this little street and this little house.

SEPTEMBER AND OCTOBER.

[From "The Masque of the Months," by Austin Dobson.]

Laden deep with fruity cluster,
Then September, rice and bale;
Yews about his basket flusters—
Laden deep with fruity cluster,
Skies have now a softer lustre;
Barns resound to flap of flail.

Then thou, too, of woodland's lover,
Dusk October, berry-stained;
Walled about of parting plover—
Then then, too, of woodland's lover,
Fading now are corse and lover;
Forests now are sere and waned.

Sugar Down Again May Go Further

One Dealer Is Looking For a 15-Cent Quotation Very Shortly.

Sugar took a drop on the market Monday of $1.50 per hundred pound bag, and today is being sold wholesale for $19.78 a bag or 19¾c a pound, and retailing at 20 to 22 cents. In instances where sugar is being sold for 20c a pound it is old stock.

One dealer stated to The Advertiser today that he is expecting 15-cent sugar in the course of a week or ten days, and advised people to buy only small quantities at present quotations.

"Many refiners," he said, "are stocked to the doors with raw materials bought in at high prices. Now they have to take care of this season's crop of raw material and are trying to unload, but the public is not buying. Many speculators all over the country are unloading now at prices lower than the refiners ask, and are getting out while the going is good."

Group of Buildings Planned For The Western University

This group of beautiful Gothic buildings in grey stone will constitute the permanent home of the Western University in London. It is expected that work will commence on the first buildings early in the spring, and as the university expands each new building will be fitted into its allotted place in the plan shown above.

The university has wonderful opportunities for service to 800,000 people in the richest and most prosperous territory in Ontario. Western University is intended to satisfy the diversified educational requirements of the people of Western Ontario. As the buildings become available and the demand is apparent, additional chairs, departments and faculties will be established, while courses of study will be added for resident and non-resident students, and extension, extramural and correspondence courses will be offered until the whole field of higher education is covered. The university will not fulfill the desires of those most interested in its development until it provides facilities for the best education for every boy and girl within its constituency, it is possible to secure.

Western University will contain a War Memorial in metal, stone or parchment for all the men and women who represented Western Ontario in the great war of 1914-18. An effort will be made to tabulate and keep as a permanent record in the university archives the names of all soldiers, sailors and nursing sisters who went overseas. This record of service will become more and more valuable as the heroism and self-sacrifice of our splendid men and noble women grow less vivid in living memory.

REMARKABLE RELIC OF MOUND BUILDERS

Great Serpent 1,300 Feet Long Believed a Religious Symbol.

WEST UNION, O., Sept. 27.—A great serpent, 1,300 feet long, built of earth and stone, a symbol of the religion of ancient peoples, stands a few miles from here as the most interesting and important earthwork left by the mound builders of Ohio.

Situated in a rather secluded spot, supposedly selected by the mound builders for privacy in performing their ancient rites, the massive reptile winds gracefully back from a glen to higher land. The serpent's head rests upon a rock platform which presents a precipitous face to the descending sun and is about 100 feet high. The jaws of the mouth are widely extended in the act of swallowing an egg, represented by an oval ridge of earth.

As the mound builders shaped the body they caused it to make four large folds as it tapered back to the tail, which is folded in three complete and close coils.

The land about this curious relic of primitive days is low at the head, but gradually ascends toward the tail. There is ample room on all sides for a gathering of many people, and the belief is expressed that the idol worshippers gathered on all sides of their altar to pour forth praise or beseech forgiveness and blessings from the beautifully-hideous god of their own creation.

"The Serpent Mound" was purchased by Professor F. W. Putnam of the Peabody Museum, Cambridge, Mass., in 1887, along with about seventy acres of adjacent land, and shortly afterward a beautiful public park was laid out on the ground. Thus in present days the spot of reverence, sacred to the people who preceded civilization in the nation, is used as a playground for picknickers and pleasure-seekers. The deed to the land is vested in the museum attached to Harvard University.

Those who have made a study of the work of the mound builders have estimated that in Ohio alone there are over 10,000 mounds and from 1,500 to 2,000 enclosures standing as monuments to their work. By the study of ancient implements and burial places found in and near these mystery hills it has been found possible to form a conception of their life.

WILL CONTINUE SEARCH FOR WATER

Emphatic denial of a report that well drilling operations had been completely abandoned by the public utilities commission, and that the well drillers had been dismissed, was made by A. O. Hunt, assistant general manager for the commission.

"It is true that we have abandoned the well at Carling Heights because the flow of water was not sufficient to warrant us using it as a permanent well, but we intend to keep up our search for water in other parts of the city. The well drillers are still in our employ," he said.

NEW IDENTIFICATION SCHEME.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 27.—Finger-prints of every man, woman and child in the United States will be taken and filed by the government in the near future as a permanent means of identification, in the opinion of several experts who attended the convention of the International Association for Identification here.

Sentenced To Die He Thanks Jury

"I Deserve It," Says Lunatic Who Slew Wife, Two Others.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Nolan T. Robinson, an escaped inmate of the asylum for insane at Elgin, has been convicted of murder and sentenced to hang. It is said to be the first case where the death penalty has been imposed upon an insane patient, but the community is demanding that Robinson be executed.

Robinson was extremely cruel to his wife and she finally was forced to take refuge with her parents in Wheaton, Ills. Soon thereafter Robinson was adjudged insane and sent to Elgin. After he escaped, he called his wife on the telephone and demanded that she meet him. She told him she would rather be dead, than to live with him.

"All right," he responded. "I'll come over and clean out the entire family."

Robinson beat his wife's aged parents so savagely with an iron bar that they later died. He struck his baby a fearful blow, from which it will never recover, and beat his wife to death.

After he had been found guilty he walked calmly to the jury box and said:

"Gentlemen of the jury, I wish to thank you for what you have done. Your verdict is right. The sentence of death is what I deserve. I thank you very much."

Judge Stusser will hear a motion for a new trial next Friday.

LECOINTE WINS RACE.

Etampes, France, Sept. 28.—Sadi Lecointe, the famous French aviator, today won the international aeroplane race for the James Gordon Bennett trophy. He covered the course of 200 kilometres, or 186.3 miles, in 1 hour, 3 minutes and 20 1-5 seconds. F. P. Raynham, the sole British representative, withdrew, after covering the first lap.

TRUE BILLS AGAINST PLAYERS.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—The Cook County grand jury this afternoon voted true bills against the following baseball players in connection with its investigation of alleged "throwing" of world series games last year: Eddie Cicotte, Claude Williams, "Chick" Gandil, "Happy" Felsch, Charles Risberg, Joe Jackson and Fred McMullin. All are members of the Chicago Americans.

CONVENTION OPENS MONDAY.

Montreal, Sept. 28.—About 1,500 delegates representing hospitals and kindred institutions of both North and South America will attend the twenty-second annual convention of the American Hospitals Association, which opens here next Monday and continues for four days at the Windsor Hotel.

PLAN IMPROVEMENTS FOR CHELSEA GREEN

Sidewalks, Pavements, Storm and Sanitary Sewers May Be Provided.

Extensive local improvements in that section of Chelsea Green where the Service Motor Truck Company's factory is to be built will be one of the immediate benefits to the city of this firm's decision to locate here.

Sidewalks, pavements, storm and sanitary sewers will be some of the important works. Water mains and electrical services also will be extended. Attention likely will be given to a sewerage system first, as this will have to go down before the pavements are laid. There is no sewerage system in this section of the city at the present time. The laying of it for the truck company will therefore prove of general benefit to that section of the community.

Storm water sewers also will be considered. It would not be a difficult matter to arrange for the drainage of these into the river, which is not far from the location. Sidewalks, curbs and gutters and pavements will be the most apparent improvements, however. These will be laid as the need for them arises, and will do their share in opening up this part of the city to a greater extent than in the past.

MacSWINEY GROWING WEAKER.

London, Sept. 28.—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, passed a better night last night and was, in consequence, a little more refreshed this morning, said a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League this morning. He was very weak and exhausted, however, and in some pain, the bulletin declared. This is the 47th day of the lord mayor's hunger strike.

In his report to the home office, the physician at Brixton Prison said: "He is slightly thinner, but otherwise there is no marked change from yesterday. The prisoner is unquestionably growing weaker daily."

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

New York, Sept. 28.—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Recent irregular conditions in the stock market were unchanged at the outset of today's trading. This was especially noticeable in the railway group, where some of the more active western and southwestern issues eased 1 to 2 points, while others of the same class averaged 1-point gains. The trend among industrials, particularly steels, motors, equipments and leathers, also was downward. Prices made variable recoveries within the first half hour on buying of Mexican oils.

1:30 p.m.—Announcement that further price cutting in the automobile trade and a concerted drive by the shorts against speculation issues checked the market's advance at midday. Shippings lost 1 to 2½ points and specialties reacted 1 to 3, leathers developing sudden heaviness.

BUTTER AND EGGS.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Butter—Lower; creamery, 44c to 58½c.

Eggs—Unchanged; receipts, 10,514 cases.

STANDARD MINING EXCHANGE.

Toronto, Sept. 28.—Profit-taking brought about some recessions in prices on the Standard Mining Exchange this morning, but the entire list stood up well and brokers are confident that the bull movement inaugurated a few days ago will be extended even further. Dome Extension weakened to 39 after opening at 40, while McIntyre sold between 207 and 205. Porcupine Crown rose 2 points at 28, and Trethewey was strong at 28½.

NEW RESERVOIR WILL BE FURNISHED SOON

Work Progressing Rapidly In Spite of Shortage of Cement.

In spite of the difficulty of obtaining cement, the addition to the Springbank reservoir will be completed by the end of October, A. O. Hunt, assistant general manager for the public utilities commission, said today. But for the scarcity of concrete the work would have been finished sooner than that.

Three cars of cement a day could be used on the work, but it is very seldom that two can be obtained, and sometimes it is difficult to get one and a half. While this is sufficient to keep the work under way, it does not offer any opportunity to speed it up.

Immediately on its completion, the addition to the reservoir will be placed in use. Spring water will be pumped into it, and a large supply collected in this manner through the autumn and winter for use in the hot spells of next summer.

FOUR PERSONS ARE TO STAND TRIAL ON CRIMINAL CHARGES

Grand Jury Brings in True Bills in Rape, Theft Cases.

CASES START TODAY

Accused Out On Bail At Present—Civil Actions Laid Over.

The grand jury sitting at the fall assizes, which opened here Monday afternoon, brought in true bills against four persons charged with criminal offences. As a result of this action Irving Albert, a Muncey youth, and Harry Anderson, local colored citizen, must stand trial on charges of rape, and Joseph Smith and William Andrews of this city will answer to the charge of theft of a quantity of liquor from the Canadian Express Company at the Grand Trunk depot here recently.

A crippled 16-year-old Indian girl is the alleged victim of Albert, and a married woman residing in the county near Glencoe is cited in the charge against Anderson. Smith is alleged to have accompanied Andrewes when the latter stole liquor from an express car, according to the alleged admission made by the latter to the police when arrested.

Will Stand Trial.

The above four accused who have been out on bail, will stand trial during the assizes. Several cases of a civil nature have been held over to the next court, including two claims of $5,000 each entered against Peter C. Wilson, a local insurance agent. Lizzie Goodland of Simcoe, through her next best friend claimed $5,000 damages for seduction alleged to have been committed by Wilson, and her mother, Henrietta Goodland, sued for a similar amount, damages suffered by her as a result of alleged action.

A second seduction case has also been laid over for the same reason as above, namely, absence of a material witness. The action is that of Ida Leitch, a widow, of Ailsa Craig, against Edgar Darling, a McGillivray Township farmer, for $5,000 damages, alleging that defendant seduced her daughter while the latter was employed as a domestic in the Darling home. The damages asked are because of consequent disgrace, and loss of her daughter's services. Defendant denies the claim, and declares that an agreement to accept $150 in settlement and release from further liability was signed and this amount paid.

Action Settled.

An action settled out of court between parties was that of Moore vs. Gunning. Settlement was $625.51 and costs. A dispute over the sale of a store at Kirkton resulted in Gladman & Stanbury issuing a writ for John C. Moore of the above village against Newton and M. Myrtle Gunning of Granton. The action, which was a non-jury one, was for delivery of merchandise or $1,000, and $1,000 damages because of breach of contract when the goods to be included in the sale to plaintiff were disposed of by defendants to a rival merchant. Defendants admitted disposing of goods as charged, but claimed that this was no breach of contract, and were willing to pay $100 in settlement.

Dispute Claim.

The action of Tassell Dauncey, a McGillivray farmer, for $3,000 damages against Ward Hodgins, John Park, Caleb Ryan, Walter Hodgins, Percy Dauncey, Wellington Sadler and Alfred Hodgins, was begun Monday afternoon, and continued until court adjourned. Plaintiff claims that defendants as owners of a threshing outfit, brought the same on his lands and negligently and carelessly handled the outfit so that fire escaped therefrom destroying buildings on his property to the value of $2,000. Defendants through J. M. McEvoy, deny the allegations and dispute the claim.

Three witnesses for the plaintiff were called Monday, and the argument before the jury was featured by objections of Meredith & Fisher for the plaintiff to Mr. McEvoy's methods in questioning witnesses. The hearing dragged through the afternoon, the defendants desing to ascertain the exact value of the buildings destroyed. When plaintiff declared that he valued them at what they are worth today, J. M. McEvoy said, "They are not worth anything because they are burned down." This statement provoked laughter in the court. Later, on advice from T. G. Meredith, when the witness refused to answer Barrister McEvoy, the latter gave up the cross-questioning of this witness, the presiding judge ruling that witness was not forced to give the information desired.

When court opened today this case was continued until adjournment at 1 o'clock, and will likely be concluded early this afternoon, after which the crown will proceed with the trial of Irving Albert, who must answer to a charge of rape.

Expert Evidence.

Expert evidence was introduced this morning by Tansell Dauncey's solicitors to prove that the spark arrester on the threshing engine was defective at the time that his barns were burned down. Two owners of threshing outfits in the county examined the engine and scene of the fire recently, and declared that in their opinion the stack on the former was defective.

One witness declared to J. M. McEvoy that the type of stack used by him was the best, although he had used but the one type, and was not familiar with other types, to which counsel remarked, "like a pet baby," which caused outbursts of laughter from the jurors.

Is Part Owner.

Percy Dauncey, son of plaintiff, and lessee of the farm where the buildings were burned, and also named as a defendant in the action, admitted that he is a part owner of the threshing outfit alleged to have started the blaze. He stated that contrary to the usual threshing custom of hauling the separator to the barn by means of a cable, the man in charge bunted the machine, the jolt causing the hood on the stack to fly open several times.

He warned the operator not to burn his barn down by the sparks, and at that moment fire broke out on the barn floor, which was quickly extinguished. Within a very short time he heard one of the men shout "Fire" and looking up discovered his mow to be in flames, whereupon he rushed to his house to warn his wife.

"I thought they had a safe spark arrester. If I knew they didn't I would not have let them put it on the place." Asked by R. G. Fisher for the plaintiff if it was not his duty, as part owner of the outfit, to know the condition of the spark arrester, he replied in the negative. When a list of owners of the threshing outfit was read to him he was asked if it were right, to which he said, "One man has got out of it."

On being pressed for information as to how this was accomplished, witness replied that the man was dead.

Gets Out, All Right.

"If a man is dead he gets out of a syndicate, all right," commented Justice Logie, to the amusement of those present. John G. Gourlay testified that the dampers of the threshing engine were in bad shape, and caused more draft, with consequent spark danger. A feature of the evidence in this case so far has been the variance of opinion of witnesses regarding the direction of the wind at the time of the fire, practically every man called disagreeing with fellow-witnesses. The case will likely go to the jury this afternoon.

The grand jury is engaged today in making the customary inspection of Government buildings and hospitals of the district, and upon submission of their report will be discharged by the presiding judge.

Mr. Justice Logie presiding over the assizes addressed the grand jury when court opened on Monday, outlining to the members the duties required of them, commenting on the nature of the three criminal cases for their consideration.

THE QUESTION.

[Gerald Gould, in The English Review.]

When the young love is breaking into flower,
And stands upon the border of her hour,
Alert, and sweet, and swift,
How different does she show
From all the flowers that ever bloomed in time!
This separate soverign loveliness can rhyme
Only with its own moment. What's to know,
To gather from that shy and trustful pride,
Or what has innocence to hide.
Then go—
Go to her, brave her, ask! Be sure
She is as kind as she is pure;
She slept, and wakes, and tries to keep
The hush and flame of sleep.
Go to her!—Nay;
She falters, ruddy with amaze,
A dryad half awake,
With wonder wid ning in her gaze
Like ripples on a lake,
And, asking, you may hurt her. Come away,
While there is time, while all is yet to say,
Nor tempt the moment. Love, you know, is strange;
Men call love changeless, but the world will change.
I asked too much of love, I know not how
Her eyes laughed at me under a clear brow,
And then one day nothing was as before.
Through the still hours—O debt no love can pay!—
My love lay quiet till the end of day,
And then rose up, and went, and came no more.

GODS.

[Edwin Jackson MacDonald, in The Westminster Gazette.)

"Ye Christians practice magic arts, they say."
The monarch smiled, as one whose very rod
Was wise, and spoke unto his captive, "Pray,
Shew, if you can, a likeness of my god."

The captive placed a hand within his cloak,
And to the waiting king a coin was shown;
Who said, "Away with him. But foolish folk
Would sport with me. The likeness is mine own."

TOWN OF TRIM SCENE OF RAID BY THE B. AND T.

Buildings of Sinn Feiners Destroyed As Act of Vengeance.

CHIEF CONSTABLE SHOT

Twenty-Five Wounded in Belfast On Sunday Night in Hospital.

TRIM, County Meath, Ireland, Sept. 27.—Because of the burning of the police barracks here yesterday morning and the wounding of Chief Constable White, a number of armed men descended on the town last night and burned buildings, attacked the residences of Sinn Feiners and indulged in indiscriminate shooting. Several casualties are reported.

The reprisals are alleged to be the work of the "Black and Tans." The regular police are taking steps to prevent further damage. During the reprisals some thirty houses were burned and the fires were still blazing at noon today.

Among the premises destroyed were a mineral water factory, which was a principal industry, and the market house. Practically all the houses of both sides of the chief thoroughfare were set on fire. The damage is estimated at £50,000. Two small boys were shot during the night, one being seriously injured.

The police who were captured in the raid on the barracks had been warned to resign within a week.

DUBLIN, Sept. 27.—The conference of the Catholic clergy at Navan today passed a resolution condemning the action of those who attack police barracks, but emphatically denouncing the "Black an Tans" for burning and sacking Trim as the negation of all government.

BELFAST, Sept. 27.—Twenty-five persons are under treatment in the hospitals here for injuries received in the week-end disturbances.

BY WHAT AUTHORITY?

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Two United States senators, a Protestant clergyman elder, and Mayor F. C. Beck, Toledo, Ohio, have been added to the membership of the "Committee of One Hundred" on Ireland, the committee announced today.

The committee was formed for the purpose of investigating impartially conditions in Ireland, with especial reference to reported atrocities.

The committee today sent cable messages to Ireland requesting the acting lord mayor of Cork, the lord mayors of Belfast, Londonderry and Thurles, the chairman of the town council of Lisburn and George Russell (A. E.), Irish publicist and associate of Sir Horach Plunkett, to come to the United States to testify before the commission of five members of the committee, which will hold public hearings in Washington.

AMERICAN BALLOON LANDS ON FARM NEAR RIDGETOWN

Big Aircraft From Birmingham, Ala., Entered in International.

900 MILES IN FORTY HOURS

Lieutenants Thompson of Nebraska and Weeks of California in Charge.

RIDGETOWN, Sept. 27.—In the American national balloon race from Birmingham, Ala., balloon No. 1, in charge of Lieut. R. C. Thompson of Fort Omaha, Neb., and Lieut. Harold Weeks of Rossfield Arcadia, Cal., second in command, both officers belonging to the U. S. aerial service, landed on Mr. Johnston's farm about two miles east of the town, at 9.14 this morning, after being in the air 40 hours and 10 minutes, traveling 900 miles, and during the storm last night, reaching an altitude of 30,000 feet.

Messrs. Thompson and Weeks expect to start in the international balloon race, which takes place on October 23, in which many of the nations in the world will be represented.

BALLOON NOT LOCATED.

CHATHAM, Sept. 27.—A balloon, believed to be from Kansas City, passed over this city about 10:30 o'clock this morning, bound slightly southeast. To observers in this city it appeared to be in some difficulty, listing over heavily to one side. A heavy thunderstorm broke shortly after its passage over the city, and they were forced down in Kent County, but so far no such report has been received in the city to that effect. Efforts to locate such landing up to late tonight have been of no avail.

LANDED AT CHATHAM.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The Kansas City II., Homer E. Honeywell, pilot, was leading the national balloon race tonight and had landed at Chatham, Ont., a telegram to the Aero Club of America said.

FOG STILL HAMPERS SEA-GOING TRAFFIC ON EASTERN COAST

Warships, Liners and Freighters Fog-Bound Off New York Harbor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 72.—With six warships and more than a dozen inboard freighters still fog-bound tonight off Sandy Hook, the local weather bureau predicted that the misty curtain rolled down last Friday will not be lifted for another 24 hours.

Several big liners, however, crept through the fog to their docks within the last 24 hours. These included the Rotterdam and LaSavoie. According to their passengers the fog extends far out to sea, and vessels coming up to the Ambrose Channel lightship are compelled to feel their way along, guided only by the submarine signals of the light vessel and by the bells and sirens of ships at anchor.

Harbor traffic, virtually paralyzed during the night, began to move slowly at noon, when the fog over the Hudson and East rivers lifted slightly. Two ferries, however, crashed in the Hudson, but no casualties were reported.

SERBIANS INFLICTED TERRIBLE TORTURES ON MONTENEGRINS

Humble Dwellings Set On Fire and Owners Pushed Into the Flames.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 27.—Terrible tortures and hardships were inflicted upon the Montenegrins by the Serbian army of occupation, according to an official report of a commission of investigation appointed by the Montenegrin foreign office after the withdrawal of the Serbian troops.

The commission charges that "crimes committed in Montenegro were ordered by the Serbian authorities, and it gives the names of circumstances attending some of the alleged atrocities. The report avers that the purpose was either to force those persecuted to declare allegiance to the Serbian king or to obtain information about their male relatives who had escaped from the Serbian authorities.

"Cattle were seized," says the report, "foodstuffs, money and house furnishings were taken away, houses and huts burned, crops destroyed, owners of homes and huts were compelled to set fire to their humble dwellings, and then the soldiers pushed them among the flames, where they perished.

"CARRY YOUR LUNCH" PLAN HITS RESTAURANTS

Toronto People Adopt Scheme To Cut High Cost of Living.

TORONTO, Sept. 27.—The carry-your-lunch campaign has reached Toronto, although there has been no organized effort to promote it here. Local papers today publish public articles to the effect that many thousands of Toronto's downtowners who formerly patronized the restaurants have now returned to the "dinner pail" in various forms. In many cases it is merely a "snack" in a piece of white paper, but the movement is making an appreciable hole in the receipts of the restauranteurs, as the result of which more of the eating house have made extreme cuts in their prices.

A VERITABLE MIRACLE.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The condition of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, was virtually unchanged tonight, according to the bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League at 10 o'clock.

UNDERMINING OF U. S. PRODUCTION FEARED BY HARDING

Presidential Candidate Wants Mercantile Marine Policy Linked with Protective Tariff.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 27.—A merchant marine policy insuring United States trade accessibility to all the markets of the world linked with a protective tariff system to foster domestic production were promised by Senator Harding tonight in a speech at the Baltimore armory.

Senator Harding replied to charges that the Republican platform, and policies are "reactionary," declaring it was true that his party wanted to "react" from an era of executive usurpation and re-establish orderly, constitutional government under "forward looking, progressive" policies.

In his armory speech the nominee sounded a warning against a "flood of imports from debtor countries," which he said might undermine United States production by stimulating a competition which United States industry could not meet without tariff protection.

DUFFERIN ELECTION

Defeated Conservatives Try To Secure Seat Through the Courts.

ORANGEVILLE, Sept. 27.—Contending that several of the charges made against the United Farmers of Ontario, member of the Legislature for Dufferin, Thomas Kerr Slack, in the proceedings taken by John Reburn, the defeated Conservative candidate in the last provincial election here to unseat Mr. Slack were political propaganda against the United Farmers of Ontario Government and the United Farmers' party and were not specific and should be struck off the list of charges brought against Mr. Slack, Gordon Waldron, counsel for the United Farmers' member for Dufferin, protested against the court hearing evidence thereon at the election trial which was opened here today.

Chief Justice Sir William Mulock, who, with Mr. Justice Rose, is hearing the case, replied to Mr. Waldron's protest by saying: "We are not here about the object of the charges, but to decide how this election was conducted." The justice declined to strike out the charges objected to by the U. F. O. counsel. One of them was that "under the guilding genius of J. J. Morrison, a fund had been collected to contest various ridings.

W. H. Price, K.C., M.P.P., and Gordon N. Shaver are counsel in the election trial, which began this morning and was in session this afternoon and tonight.

Money Was Repaid.

J. J. McNaughton, county director of the U. F. O. at Orangeville, said he had paid four scrutineers $3 each after the election, but not before, and the money had been refunded by W. G. Noble, financial agent for Mr. Slack, the respondent.

R. J. Woods of Melancthon, U. F. O. county director at the time of the election, testified as to the nomination of Mr. Slack at a convention, at which it was understood that if Mr. Slack lost the election the U. F. O. would pay his election expenses, but if he won he would pay his expenses himself.

Time For a Change.

Of nine scrutineers for the U. F. O. candidate at the election, Sam Allison said he had acted as scrutineer for fifteen years, and always had been paid for so doing. He had acted in this case for the U. F. O. party because he had thought it time for a political change, he said.

Another scrutineer, who had received $3, Mrs. Stella Ferrier, objected to being sworn in until she had been paid more than $1.50 witness fee and $1.50 traveling expenses. She demanded two days' fee, as she could not get home in one day. She was upheld by Sir William Mulock, and it was estimated that $7 should be paid to Mrs. Ferrier.

"If your lordship rules that we should have to pay $7 or $8, I am afraid we will be unable to go on with the case," said Mr. Price, counselor for the petitioner. Mr. Reburn. It was finally decided that Mrs. Ferrier should be paid $5.50, of which $4 was for traveling expenses.

William A. Fines of Mono Township stated that at the convention R. H. Galbert, M.P., former president of the U. F. O. had said the farmers were paying half the candidate's expenses and the candidate the other half.

"The Mainspring."

Samuel McKee, said to be a relative of Secretary J. J. Morison of the United Farmers of Ontario, who, in the election petition, was charged with having been promised the position of U. F. O organizer if he would support Mr. Slack in the election, swore that the first discussion of such a position for him was with Mr. Morrison in January, 1920, whereas the election was in October.

"Mr. Morrison is the big man of the U. F. O.?" queried Mr. Shaver, one of the counsel for Mr. Reburn.

"The mainspring," assented Mr. McKee.

Sixty-Eight Charges.

One of the charges, which numbered 68, was that the U. F. O. under the personal direction of the board and the "guiding genius, J. J. Morrison," raised a campaign fund from farmers and others who were opposed to existing governments, and this money was used in various ridings, one of which was Dufferin, to induce a candidate to contest the riding, to finance the election of the respondent and to intimidate many farmers, and others who did not intend to vote for respondent, thereby materially reducing the vote polled by John Reburn, and affecting his election.

All witnesses were excluded from the court room. The first to give evidence was R. J. Woods, Melancthon, who was examined by Col. Price. He stated he was a farmer, and was president of the Coretton Farmers' Club. At the time of the election he was county director for Dufferin.

Paid Own Expenses.

Col. Price preferred to examine the witness. Mr. Woods said he called the convention that selected Mr. Black. He wrote the secretaries of the various clubs and notified them as to the convention. He asked the clubs to send representatives. At the first meeting at which it was decided to call a fuller convention J. J. Morrison said the head organization was not urging on the clubs to run candidates; it was their own work if they wanted to do it.

Mr. Woods said there was nothing brought up at the convention which nominated Mr. Slack about the finances, as far as he could remember. If Mr. Slack had been defeated his expenses would have been paid, the witness said, but when elected Mr. Slack paid the expenses himself. There had been an understanding to this effect, witness said. The farmers' clubs were to have paid. Mr. Slack did not ask that his expenses be borne by the clubs if he did not win, witness stated.

LITHUANIANS ARE CALLED TO RISE AND ARM

Government Appeals To the People To Repel the Poles.

RIGA, Sept. 27.—"Rise and arm yourselves with rifles, scythes and axes, and repel the Polish invaders, who are driving into the heart of our fatherland!"

This is the frank appeal the Lithuanian Government has issued to the people in an effort to check the Polish forces, which have taken Grodno and are pushing on toward the important railroad junctions of Lida and which the Lithuanians say they believe will take even Vilna unless checked by outside influence.

Thomas Nareuchevitch, president of the Lithuanian delegation which negotiated peace with Soviet Russia, and other prominent Lithuanians now in Riga are endeavoring to prevent further Polish military movements eastward, and this may result in the Bolshevists fighting the Poles on Lithuanian soil.

Important Polish advances eastward into Lithuania began on September 21, when the Poles crossed the demarkation line of December 8, 1919.

DEAD BANDITS WERE BOLSHEVIK AGENTS

Were Operating in Canada On Behalf of "The Cause," Say Police.

REGIN, Sask., Sept. 27.—(By Canadian Press.)—That the two bandits who resisted arrest until death, were Bolsheviki agents operating in Canada on behalf of "The Cause" is the word reaching this city today from Tisdale, Sask., where two other members of the band are under arrest waiting return here for trial. The information is contained in a telegram from Inspector Tait of the provincial police, who states the information was given him by the prisoners. One of the dead men had tattooed on his arm the inscription "1889-13—Pio" and some Russian lettering.

Gang Broken Up.

The bandit gang who ten days ago held up and robbed employees of the Red Deer Lumber Company at Barrows' Junction, Sask., of $1,000 in cash, is now broken up. Two members of the band are dead as the result of a pitched battle with provincial police officers and the other two are in jail awaiting to be brought back to Regina for trial.

CANADA AT POINT WHERE SHE MUST DECIDE DESTINY

Liberal Leader Makes Brilliant Address At Victoria, B. C.

DEMANDS ELECTION

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King Outlines Legislative Needs of Country.

[Canadian Press.]

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 27.—Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, made the initial address of his western tour before a large crowd here tonight. "A general election is necessary," he asserted, "in order to restore to the people control over Parliament."

Mr. King declared that there should be a revision downward of the tariff, with substantial reductions of duties on necessaries of life and the instruments of production, and that a reduction of taxation should be made by curbing extravagance. He believed that wider recognition of labor, with representation in the shaping and control of industrial policies, would have the effect of putting an end to industrial strife.

"We believe," Mr. King continued, "that if labor is as necessary to the successful running of our railways as capital or management, labor is entitled to its place on the board of directors."

Advocating the most open diplomacy at inter-imperial and international relations, he said the floor of Parliament, and not round-table or cabinet councils, was the place for treaties to be worked out and agreed to.

Canada Must Decide.

In opening his address the Opposition leader said Canada was at the point, where she must determine her dstiny. Much was said throughout th war, said Mr. King, of the services and sacrifices of all classes, and of the equality of the trenches. A new epoch was talked of in the world's history, when social justice and human equality were to be our watchwords.

Social Gulf Widened.

"I fear greatly that the social gulf has been widened rather than contracted as a consequence of the war, that we have many rich who are richer and many poor who are poorer as a consequence of the condition which war and the aftermath of war have helped to bring about; that the struggle is harder rather than less difficult for the average family than it was before the war; that despite the raises in wages, with rates and rents and prices rising continuously as they have been doing on every side and in all lines, the lot of the average worker, of the average clerk and professional man and woman, of the average person of limited income and means, is far from being as contented or as free from concern as it was no less than six years ago.

"On the other hand, we have evidence no less striking of wealth in abundance, of individual fortunes larger in numbers than at any time heretofore in the history of our Dominion."

Forces of Greed and Power.

The same forces that were at work between the nations during the war, said Mr. King, are at work today in our social and industrial structure; the forces of might and greed and power, on the one hand, the forces of ampler freedom on the other. The aim of Liberalism in Canada today, he said, was to seek the realization of that freedom in all the relations of life which is the basis of a social order that places human well-being above material gain.

Get Back Our Freedom.

The first step, he contended, was to get back that portion of our freedom we lost by the war. The rights of the people in matters of government have been and are being usurped by a parliament not representative of the people and by a ministry indifferent to the rights of parliament. Better control by the people over parliament and consequent control of parliament over the executive, was the need existing today. The present parliament, he maintained, was the creation of the indefensible and iniquitous war measures act.

No Mandate From the People.

But setting aside the manner in which the present Parliament was returned, he asked if any circumstance in the formation of Union Government justified the assumption of office and proposed retention of power by the Meighen Administration. If this administration was an entirely new one, it had received no mandate from the Canadian people, and had usurped in their entirety the fights of the people's self-government. On the other hand, if it were merely a remnant of the old Unionist administration, clinging to office only for the sake of power and patronage, it was still a usurper, for the Union administration, both in purpose and personnel, had long ceased to exist. The Government as returned to power in 1917 had lost its prime minister, its president of the privy council, its minister of finance, its minister of agriculture, its minister of public works, its minister of militia and defence, its minister of labor, and new men had been appointed to fill these positions; through the resignations of Mr. Rowell, Mr. Crerar, Gen. Mewburn, Mr. Carvell and Mr. MacLean, it had lost altogether its character of a unionist government.

Three of the remaining members of the original Unionist cabinet, he pointed out, were in the Senate.

General Election Necessary.

A general election was the only effective means of restoring popular control over Parliament and ending the control of the present autocratic administration. By-elections were of no moment in giving expression to the will of the people as a whole. True, the ministers had been returned, but by reduced majorities, and their success in the Maritime Provinces was the result of the desire of the people to have some share in cabinet representation, of which they had been deprived for a long period. Judged by the standard of vacancies created, not deliberately by the Government in favorable constituencies, but by fatal circumstances, practically without exception by the by-elections thus caused had gone against the Government. The Government's following had steadily lessened until it was now precarious beyond words.

GOOD JUDGMENT AFTER EATING

Giving the Stomach the Alkaline Effect by a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet Is Worth Remembering.

You cannot, as a rule, say in advance that this, that or the other food will cause indigestion. Experience has taught most people that even mince pie fits snugly at times while at others a glass of milk raises hob with the stomach.

One good rule to follow is the preventative measure of taking one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals. You thus avoid gassiness, sour stomach, heartburn and such distresses due to indigestion or dyspepsia. These tablets also help to digest the food by giving the stomach the alkaline effect to offset acidity; they relieve the distress when the mince pie or milk should be more than a match for your digestive powers. Get a 60 cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store and note how nicely they seem to calm the stomach when it feels all upset.

Here's joyful news for every fleshy person who loves good things to eat, especially those who are denying themselves the things they like most because of their desire to keep down their weight or to reduce the fat with which they are already burdened.

There is no further necessity to diet in order to keep your weight down or reduce the fat you have already acquired.

The famous Marmola Prescription has been put in tablet form, and is now sold by all druggists at one dollar for a good size box. PARIS CLAIMS PALM AS BRAIN DEVELOPER

Craniums Grow Larger and Are Better Filled There.

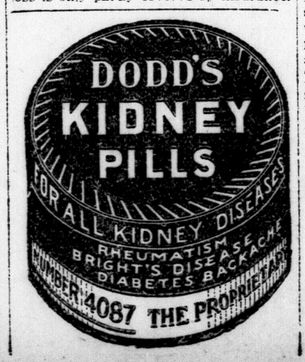

PARIS, Sept. 28.—If one wants to obtain anthropological perfection he should come to Paris. Even the high intellectuality of the United States fails to develop the cranium to proportions considered essential by scientists here who are studying anthropological proportions.

In a learned discourse presented before the Academy of Science in Paris by Edmond Perrier this week he told of research work done by eminent scientists, and said that Paris life, augmented by this salubrious climate, tends to shorten limbs, lengthen the trunk line and increase cranial measurements, nature filling the cavity until finally the Parisians will become the wisest of all peoples.

Another interesting commentary on Paris life was found in the prophecy that in future years it will be unecessary to use peroxide in the French capital's atmosphere, the peculiar action of the pigments turning dark eyes grey, while brunettes achieve the eagerly-sought blondness.

THREE BARNS BURNED.

Centralia, Sept. 28.—Lightning destroyed three barns, a granary and contents on the farm of James Mitchell, near this village, Monday. The loss is estimated as between $15,000 and $20,000. All the spring grain and hay crop, a large quantity of clover seed and about 700 bushels of fall wheat were included in the farm products destroyed. The loss is only partly covered by insurance.

TOO FORCEFUL AGENT MAY LAND IN COURT

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Parkhill, Sept. 28.—Three men, one wearing a button which indicates service in France, have been terrorizing farmers' wives in this vicinity. Two of the men remain in a buggy while the man wearing the service button goes into a house and forces the housewife to buy a so-called oil painting for $10. So strenuous are his salesmanship methods that several women have been ill afterwards, and their relatives are considering taking action in the courts.

MRS. ASQUITH'S REMINISCENCES.

All England is laughing at Mrs. Asquith's autobiography and chronicle of events. Mrs. Asquith, it is true, is at times indiscreet, but it is the kind of indiscretion that affords a great deal of amusement to the literary world. No one, or very few, takes her solemn opinions of men and events seriously. She quite failed to appreciate the fact that the point of view of a wife and mother, as regards current events, is not the point of view of the political and social world. Evidently Mrs. Asquith and her husband are the two central points around which the rest of the universe revolves.

However, "Margot's Musings," as the British call them, are nothing if not amusing, because they reveal how great events and great people are regarded by a clever woman. There is no doubt that Mrs. Asquith was one of those people who are met with in all ranks of life, who are always making "faux pas"; who can never be depended upon to do or to say the right thing at the right time, but who horrify their friends by saying and doing the wrong thing at the wrong time.

It was said that at one time Mrs. Asquith was a guest at a dinner party at which King Edward was present. Now, the King had a very charming and democratic way with his intimate friends, but he never failed to demand a certain respect, and woe betide the luckless individual who rashly passed the line which separates familiarity from contempt. He was known amongst his intimate friends by the nickname of "Pom Pom," and Mrs. Asquith was universally known in society by the nickname of "The Dragon-Fly," which name, of course, had reference to her extremely slender figure. The King addressed Mrs. Asquith as he sat down, saying, "Come and sit by me, 'Dragon-Fly.'" whereupon Mrs. Asquith responded, "All right, Tum Tum," and patted him lightly on his ample waistcoat with her fan. During the rest of the meal his majesty was quite unaware of the existence of Mrs. Asquith, who sat beside him, and the estrangement was permanent.

The story reminds one of another, in which the famous beauty, Lily Langtry, came to grief. Mrs. Langtry had just handed the King (then Prince of Wales), a cup of tea at a charity bazaar. The cups usually sold for the sum of 5 shillings, but the Jersey Lily lightly touched the cup with her lips as she handed it to the prince, saying, "A guinea now, please." The prince paid the guinea like a gentleman, but handed back the tea-cup, saying, "I will trouble you for a clean cup, please."

Lord Kitchener, according to Mrs. Asquith, was a clever but by no means a great military genius, and, she avers, he hated war. The question will naturally occur to the intelligent reader, if Lord Kitchener did not like the business of war, what did he like? "K." is said to have been so engrossed with his war problems that he was quite immune to the charms of women, and great social queens were nothing to him. In fact, it is said that his entry into a drawing-room full of young gallants and social butterflies had a similar effect to that of an iceberg. It may have been this immobility to conventional influences that inspired Mrs. Asquith's opinion of the great soldier. "K." predicted right at the start, when all England expected a short war, that the war would last three years. "But," says Mrs. Asquith, "I had already predicted that it would last for two years. All through the book it is quite evident that Mrs. Asquith appraises politicians, literary men, soldiers, and everyone else by the amount of social charm or attraction they possessed for herself. Presumably, if on a jury, she would have acquitted a good-looking criminal. It is the same with the women of her acquaintance. She picks out a few titled ladies who were in her good books, and proclaims that they were the greatest beauties in the country. If one studies the portraits of these people it is quite evident that no artist would say the same thing. Women, she says, are no longer as beautiful as they were in her young days; just as if it were possible for the form and feature of a nation, or the national type, to vary in the course of twenty years or so. What does vary a great deal is dress and the manner in which they are painted by artists of different periods. But if one studies Greek and Roman statues of three thousand years ago, one finds exactly the same types of men, women and children, with the same expressions, refined or otherwise, which one meets in any American city. Of course, our prevalent national types have varied from theirs, but it has taken an entirely foreign infusion of blood and thousands of years to effect the change. And yet Mrs. Asquith imagines that the national type of feature has changed appreciably in twenty years. It is indicative of the narrowness of her whole point of view.

THE MENACE TO BASEBALL.

The investigation into the charges of alleged corruption of major league players by a gamblers' ring, while not ended, has been carried far enough to make it clear that crookedness on the part of several stars played a part in last year's world's series. Unless the whole matter is probed to the bottom, and the guilty players promptly expelled from organized baseball, that fine sport is doomed to a long period of disrepute. One of the fine things about professional baseball has been its freedom from crookedness. Until the last year or two it has been impossible to "buy" players on any large scale. Players, managers and owners have not fallen to the bait that must have at times been offered by the professional gamblers to throw games. If the pastime is to be saved from the fate of horse-racing and boxing, the powers that rule major league baseball cannot too soon and too thoroughly cleanse the game of the black spot that mars it today. Professional baseball must shake itself free of crookedness completely if it is to retain or regain the confidence of the public. Drastic action alone can do that.

POLAND AND THE SOVIET.

The policy of the Allied powers towards the Russian problem was a hesitating one from the outset.

Direct military intervention of the Allies was attempted, found ineffective, and was given up.

Allied intervention was reduced to supplying Denekine and Kolchak with material support by sending ammunition and war material.

The "barbed" wire policy followed and lasted only twenty-eight days.

According to the vacillations of the Allied policies with regard to Russia, their attitude towards Poland varied. In this way, at the beginning of the war, France understood the necessity of the campaign, and considered Poland as a barrier between Germany and Bolshevism. Great Britain applied a policy of "wait and see." During the Allied expedition of Archangel, and at its liquidation, Poland was regarded as a necessary force, which attracted and kept back from the Allies the bulk of the Soviet armies. In autumn, 1919, when the offensive of Gen. Denekine was developing, Poland was promised war material by the Government if she decided to join with Denekine's forces and support his efforts.

In December, 1919, Poland was given to understand that in the "barbed wire" policy, which was to create a barrier by the united forces of the border states of Russia against Bolshevism, Poland was to play the leading part.

In January, 1920, at a meeting between Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Patek, Poland was advised to make peace with the Bolshevists. It was, however, stated that no Allied pressure would be made to bear, and that Poland was to conclude peace at her convenience. In the course of the above-mentioned variations of policy, Poland from time to time was being either given encouragement to continue the war, or was being reprimanded for taking certain towns and localities, notwithstanding that the latter were being taken by Poland mainly to insure her strategical position. As has been stated in the first part of this statement, at every opportunity Poland proclaimed that she did not intend to occupy such territories permanently, and that she based the future of these districts on local self-determination.

Owing to Poland's geographical position, to her inadequate military resources, to the hesitating attitude of her allies, on whose assistance Poland could not reckon, owing to the fact that the Allies had no power to give Poland any guarantees owing to the ever-growing Bolshevist propaganda conducted in Poland by Germany and the Soviets, Poland has to aim at pushing the Bolshevists as far eastwards as possible, at obtaining territorial guarantees for her future safety and could not change her policy or adapt it to the current variations of the policy of the Allied powers.

Being anxious to arrive at the possibility of concluding a safe peace, Poland had to aim at attaining a safe strategical line of defence, which would enable her to reduce her army and yet be safe from the threat of the future Bolshevist aggression.

The only line, which gave such advantages was the line of the Rivers Dwina, Borosina and Dnieper, possessing sufficent natural strategical advantages to allow, when fortified, of a partial disarmament of Polish effectives.

After the defeat of Denekin and Kolchak, Poland was forced to aim at the capture of the very war material and ammunition, which the Soviets had taken. The achievement of this aim was only possible by a further offensive movement on the part of Poland.

Considering that the Allied powers had no hold over the Soviets, that the Soviets were not recognized by the Western Powers, that the Soviets did not recognize the authority of the League of Nations, Poland was given to understand at various moments during the course of the campaign that she could reckon only upon her own resources and could not refer the matter of conflict to any international institutions.

Polish policy aimed at creating a united front against Bolshevism, involving from north to south the following states: Finland, Letvia, Poland, the Ukraine, Rumania. To obtain a junction between the Polish and Lettish forces Poland had to take the town of Dynaburg (Dwinsk). In order to weaken the Soviets by organizing a local anti-Bolshevist administration in the Ukraine and helping to organize an anti-Bolshevik Ukrainian army. Poland had to carry through her Ukrainian policy with General Petlura, the only anti-Bolshevistic leader of the Ukraine. All the necessary guarantees that Poland had no imperialistic aims with regard to the Ukraine were given, both to General Petlura and to the populations of the towns and localities occupied. It is true that the Soviets had granted before that event, what they termed as the Independence of the Ukraine. They had, however, not consulted the wishes of the population and had set up at the head of the Ukranian Soviets, instead of a man elected by some representative body of the country, the commissary Rakovski (of Bulgarian origin), who, from the Ukrainian point of view, represented foreign rule and enforced his reign by means of foreign terror.

As stated above, Poland's declarations to all the nationalities resident on the territories which Poland occupied, promising them to respect their self-determination left it open to all these populations to federate in the future with a regenerated Russia should they be so disposed.

Nobody, of course, objects to "direct action" being applied to direct action.

Letters to the Editor

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE BELIEF.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Christian Science is in entire agreement with the caption of an item in your issue of September 20, reporting a sermon, "Only Real Peace Is Peace With God." Christian Science does not, as the preacher alleged, bring a mere temporary peace by inducing its believer to think that his troubles do not exist. It is not a process of manipulating the imagination. On the contrary, it does teach that when an individual recognizes that God, Divine Love, is omnipresent and omnipotent, both able and willing to strengthen and enlighten his children who put their trust in him, he is in a fair way to demonstrate peace with God and the overcoming of his troubles. Intelligent harmony with God as man's divine principle, banishes trouble, solves human problems, heals sickness and sin. Thus peace with God is seen to be practical every day, and not merely a good theme for a Sunday sermon.

Sincerely yours, GEORGE R. LOWE.

From Here and There

A DARING STEP.

[Montreal Gazette.]

Henry Ford has reduced the prices of his famous vehicles to the before-the-war level, which may cause some worry in the trade. The economy enforced by high taxation and lessened government expenditures of borrowed money had begun to be noted as regards its effects, according to trade reports, by the makers of automobiles. There are those who draw a distinction between a Ford and an auto car; but to the man with only the price of a Ford the flivver may seem a good enough buy, even if his fashionable neighbors do not say so. The step taken is a daring one that only the strongest in the business may be able to follow.

HAVE PATIENCE WITH THE BANK.

Contrary to a widespread misconception, the loaning power of banks has its limits. They cannot lend what they do not possess. The capital, the reserve and the deposits make up the total sum they have available for doing business.

During the past two years the commercial discounts of Canadian banks have risen by over 50 per cent. They were $905,677,000 in July, 1918. In July, this year, they were $1,377,276,000. While the pressure for credit was thus steadily increasing, deposits were falling off. Time deposits decreased $10,000,000 in July, and demand deposits fell $20,000,000. The money was being withdrawn for the purposes of investment, but the effect on the banks was to exhaust the reserve and to compel them to withhold new loans.

This explanation is simple, though very unsatisfying to the man who wants to borrow. When he presents a perfectly sound proposition, he is apt to be annoyed if the accommodation is refused him. He scouts the statement that the bank hasn't the money, and he attributes the refusal to some prejudiced motive, which, in fact, is non-existent.

This is the sort of thing which makes the banker's life unhappy. All he can do just now is to promise in an indefinite way that money will be easier when the crops have been moved. He cannot, however, alter the fact that there is more business wanting to be done in Canada than there is money to do it with.

REAL POLITENESS.

[New York Independent.]

A correspondent of the New York Sun sent in the following translation of a Chinese rejection slip, used in returning would-be contributions: "We have read thy manuscript with infinite delight. Never before have we revelled in such a masterpiece. If we printed it the authorities would ordain us to take it for a model, and henceforth never print anything inferior to it. As it would be impossible to find its equal within ten thousand years, we are compelled, though shaken with sorrow, to return your divine manuscript, and for doing so we beg one thousand pardons."

COMMUNITY SPIRIT.

["The Inglenook," in Farmer's Advocate.]

Force-work of any kind in regard to adults is usually ineffective and always ridiculous. Allowance must be made for individuality, and any community effort that in any wise tries to stifle it is altogether on the wrong track. There are men and women who love and need time for quiet reflection and reading, and who, through this, are able to give their best contribution to the world. These people, for instance, may prefer taking a walk through the fields or woods to taking part in a baseball game or even sitting on the fence and "rooting" for it. But what of that? Approach them concerning any matter of vital importance to the neighborhood to which they can make real contribution, and they will usually be found to respond gladly and capably. Nor will their default from games and recreation, and even from some of the lectures, etc., make any appreciable difference. For one thing, there are not enough of these reserved and studious thinkers to leave a very great gap. For another, there are always plenty of the more social type to see things through. The young people will almost invariably be on hand at the sports contests and so on, and there are always enough of the older folk interested either in sport or in the young folk, or in both, to be on hand, too. The thing to do is to advertise every event thoroughly, then leave the matter of attending to the free will of the individual. After all, the crowning glory of true democracy is that it allows all legitimate freedom. The world cannot do without the more studious thinkers. There is a place for them as well as for other types, and they must not be interfered with. It should be taken for granted that they know their own mind, and they should be held in no more disapprobation in the country than are the quiet students in the cities, who go along in their own peaceful way, free from interference or odium.

COMMON CITIZENSHIP.

[Farmer's Advocate.]

The age in which we live is one of progress and rapid adjustments to meet ever-changing conditions. Modern complex civilization, could one stand off and judge it in an impartial manner, would be something to marvel at; and instead of wondering, as we do now, why there should be thirty or forty wars and international disputes in progress, the wonder would probably be that there are not more. There are so many causes that can produce war and misunderstanding; and to those arising out of present-day problems and necessities there are also to be considered other causes, perhaps long buried in the hearts of large and small nations that for centuries have cherished real or imagined wrongs. Amid the welter of conflicting ideas that since the termination of the great war has dominated the thought and actions of all peoples, it is only natural that these real or fancied wrongs should crop out once more and add to the general confusion. The common sisterhood of all right-thinking nations was so plainly proven during the great world conflict that now it is happily over, nations are importuning each other for all kinds of favors and assistance.

For years humanity suffered, and now we are undergoing a restless period of convalescence. We in Canada must be patient and have patience with those who have suffered more, and whom it is taking longer to regain a normal viewpoint. We in our turn are having our own internal troubles—more fancied than real—and all that is necessary for us to do in order to arrive at a solution of them is for us all to get together on a basis of common citizenship. There are injustices to be remedied—there always are—but they will never be satisfactorily remedied until the majority of people take time to remember that there is just as much human nature in some of us as in the rest of us, and that a question worthy of only one viewpoint is not very important. The average city dweller can easily be inflamed by stories about the farmers; the laborer can be led in the paths of radicalism by agitators who merely speak out the things which their listeners already believe from knowing only their own viewpoint; and the farmer and manufacturer can be kept in perpetual estrangement if they maintain between them a high wall of hostility fostered by selfish interests. There is a common ground, citizenship, that all classes of people in Canada can find footing on. In any successful society of people selfish interests must be, to a large extent, subordinated to the common good. Let us get together in Canada at this time and work out the paths of our future destiny along lines to which all can willingly contribute. Let us work that we may prosper, and let us above all things strive to understand the other fellow's viewpoint that he may the more readily strive to understand our own.

Poetry and Jest

SEA LOVE.

(J. Lewis Milligan, in The Sailor.)

There is nought to my soul so moving
As the sight of the infinite Sea,
So rich with the spoils of my loving,
So large and lavish and free!

So various in mood, yet unchanging,
Ah, never the same, yet for aye,
Tranquil at heart, though ranging,
She loves the still haunts of the bay.

Dark perils she has, yet no sea-soul
Cowers 'neath her tempests of rage,
He rides on her bosom a free soul
To sun-dawns of age after age!

Whoso' doth slight thee, fair Ocean,
Or looks on thy bosom unmoved,
Knows not the soul's deepest emotion,
Knows not what it is to have loved.

All I have loved thou hast given,
All that I lost borne away
To that far-off love-garnered haven
Whither thou'lt bear me some day.

ONE LINE NOT BUSY.

"I believe," said the impatient man, as he put aside the telephone, "that it's the only chance I have of finding myself at the end of a line that isn't busy."

THE SONG OF THE MOTOR CAR.

[Lucia E. Smith.]

I climb the hills for a wondrous view,
I swing through valleys for vistas new.

I drowse and hum in the lazy shade,
Where the picnic lunch is gaily laid.

I open new worlds to childish eyes,
To the house-tied wife bring glad surprise.

The tired man throws his yoke behind,
As I sing and curve—as I hum and climb.

For I am a tonic that reaches far,
For the good of all—sings the motor car.

QUITE TRUE.

Burglar: "What would you say if I was to blow your head off for not telling me where your money is?"

Mr. Joker: "Not a word sir—not a word."

HER SAMPLER.

[Rose Mill Powers.]

The sampler hanging on the wall
Great-grandma made when she was small.
And worked her name upon it here,
"Mehitabel in her eighth year."

In stitches straight and neat she set
The letters of the alphabet,
All twined about with vines and flowers,
Mute witness to long, busy hours.

Her little hands, I have no doubt,
Guiding the needle in and out,
Were eager oft to glean, instead,
Real flowers not wrought in colored thread.

She never dreamed her work would last
After a hundred years had passed,
A tale of patient care to tell—
Dear little maid, Mehitabel!

NATURAL MISTAKE.

Raymond: "What the deuce do you mean by telling Joan that I am a fool?"

George: "Heavens! I'm sorry—was it a secret?"

TRUE AND UNTRUE.

(Selected.)

He was a dog;
But he stayed at home
And guarded the family night and day.
He was a dog
That didn't roam.
He lay on the porch, or chased the stray—
The tramps, the burglar, the hen away;
For a dog's true heart for that household beat
At morning and evening, in cold and heat.
He was a dog.

He was a man,
And didn't stay
To cherish his wife and children fair.
He was a man;
And every day
His heart grew callous, its love-beats rare.
He thought of himself at the close of the day,
To the club, the lodge, the store, the show,
But he had a right to go, you know—
He was a man.

ONLY A DREAM.

[From the Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.]

"I'm going to get a nice little wife,
I'll have a cozy little home, well-cooked meals, my slippers ready for me when I get home at night, my pipe always handy to me and peace and contentment for the rest of my days.'

"You never ought to marry."

"Why ever not?"

"Well, when a man has a dream like that he ought not to risk waking up."

TO OUR OFFICERS—PASSED ON.

[Margaret E. Sanster.]

They are not dead—not really; they are living—
Leading their columns, as they led before,
Leading their comrades up to Heaven's door.
They are not dead, not they!
Why they are giving
Strength, as they gave it on the battle line—
Courage to do the hardest task, and fine
Manhood to meet the test. . .

They were our best—
They, and the ones they led into the fight!
They were the ones who challenged terror's night,
They were the men who won, at last, to rest. . . .

They are not dead—not really; they are striving,
Just as they did on earth, across the way;
And we must show them that we are reviving
Visions of all they suffered—yesterday.
We who are left must keep their spirit glowing,
We who are left must keep their memory clear,
We who are left must feel that they are knowing—
We who are left must feel that they can hear!

CURIOUS.

Mistress (to new parlormaid): "And, above all things, I expect you to be reticent."

"Yes, ma'am, certainly, of course, ma'am, said the new maid.

Then she leaned toward her mistress with shining eyes.

"And what's there to be reticent about, ma'am?" she asked.

A WISH FOR THEE.

[W. T. Truesdale.]

Entranced I watched at eventide
The sun go down in splendor,
High-flung and rich in red and gold,
Each trembling ray of red foretold
Light skies and breezes tender.

Oh! When thy life sun's setting, may
No cloud bedim its splendor,
Each shining ray may it foretell
In realms where souls immortal dwell,
Light skies and breezes tender.

THEIR LITTLE ERROR.

A wealthy gentleman has a brother who is hard of hearing, whilst he himself is remarkable for having a very prominent nose.

Once this gentleman dined at a friend's house, where he sat between two young ladies, who talked to him very loudly, rather to his annoyance.

Finally, one of them shouted a commonplace remark, and then said, in an ordinary tone, to the other:

"Did you ever see such an ugly nose?"

"Pardon me, ladies," said the gentleman. "It is my brother who is deaf!"

A 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent, to show you how to end film. See below.

Never Sleep
With a film-coat on your teeth

All statements approved by authorities

Millions of people on retiring now combat the film on teeth. They fight it day by day. And those glistening teeth seen everywhere now form one of the results.

You owe yourself a trial of this new teeth-cleaning method. Dentists everywhere advise it. The results it brings are all-important, and they do not come without it.

What film does

Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. Feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. And dentists now trace most tooth troubles to it.

The ordinary tooth paste does not end film. So, despite all brushing, much film remains, to cause stain, tartar, germ troubles and decay.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Ways to combat it

Dental science, after years of research, has found effective ways to fight film. Able authorities have proved their efficiency. Together they bring, in modern opinion, a new era in teeth cleaning.

These five methods are combined in a dentifrice called Pepsodent — a tooth paste which complies with all the new requirements. And a ten-day tube is now sent free to everyone who asks.

Watch the teeth whiten

You will see and feel results from Pepsodent which brushing never brought you heretofore. A week's use, we think, will amaze you.

One ingredient is pepsin. One multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest all starch deposits that cling. One multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva to neutralize mouth acids.

Two factors directly attack the film. One of them keeps the teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily cling.

Watch these effects. Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. Note how teeth whiten as the film-coat disappears.

The book we send explains all these results. Judge what they mean to you and yours. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

THE MARRIAGE OF ANNE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

XVII.—Values Readjusting.

They say that no woman in the world is averse to a declaration of love. That no woman remains quite unmoved by it.

And indeed I think that such a statement is quite true.

"The flame which you have kindled!" The world of Neil Saunders rang in my ears. They thrilled me.

And yet—as the fiancee—the promised wife of Fred Delaunay—I had no right to listen to those words.

No right!

Nor had Neil Saunders got the right to speak like that to me.

And then I bethought me of the little scene to which I'd been an unwilling witness! Fred—having made a rendezvous with me—could break it cruelly and deliberately, in order to be with Julie!

Of course, he didn't care for me. He never had truly cared at all. His professed love was a lie, an insult. . .

The realization might anger me, but somehow it no longer seemed to have the power to wound me. That was odd.

"The sooner I break definitely with Fred Delaunay, the more peace of mind shall I know," I told myself, sitting there in the restaurant of the smart New York hotel, and knowing that my faithless fiance was in the next room, flirting with another woman.

Oh, well, I would enjoy myself! I wouldn't mope.

Women who mope are not appreciated in this drab old world. To be popular, each must contribute her quota of sunshine to the whole. "Laugh, and the world laughs with you. Weep, and you weep alone." No truer lines have ever been written.

So I was gay.

The curious part was that it wasn't difficult to be really gay. I couldn't feel depressed. No, not though faithless Freddie was making love to fifty women!

It was a lovely lunch. My appetite had returned. I shall always remember the excellency of the viands. Neil Saunders displayed wonderful discrimination in his choice of food.

We had hors-d'oeuvres first. Odd, delightful, appetizing little dishes, highly seasoned. Devilled eggs, and sardines in oil, and radishes, and young spring onions, pickled beets, and potato salad.

Then bouillion, cold.

And, following that, pink salmon, with cucumber, and mayonnaise dressing.

Then roast duckling and green peas and apple sauce.

And, afterwards, peche-Melba.

"Let's go out to the lounge and have our coffee there," suggested my companion, when the ravishing meal had come to its conclusion.

The lounge! With Fred and Julie billing and cooing behind the palms!

Only for one instant did I hesitate. During that moment I caught sight of myself in a long pier-glass. And that decided me.

For never in my life had I looked quite so pretty and well-dressed. Not only did the mirror tell me so, but various admiring glances flung in my direction. Yes, I was beautiful—today. I wasn't going to hide my light under a bushel.

"It will be lovely in the lounge." I rose with alacrity and followed Saunders across the room. We exited from the big glass doors together, descended the few steps to the floor below, seated ourselves on a conspicuous sofa, and ordered coffee.

"Turkish or French," inquired a solicitous waiter.

I don't know what answer Mr. Saunders made, for my eyes were busy roaming round the place in search of Fred and Julie, and my thoughts were all a-tangle.

I wanted—desperately—that Fred should see me, here in this super-smart restaurant, arrayed in a super-smart toilette, and with a big, good-looking and attentive cavalier.

Alas! Julie and Fred had vanished.

"Perhaps they saw me as we entered," I told myself, "and were too cowardly to stay."

At that moment the orchestra began to play, a queer, seductive, heavenly melody. It floated across the palms and flowers towards us.

Neil Saunders leaned back on the sofa and regarded me intently.

"Miss Travis."

"Yes?" I turned towards him—and I was smiling.

"Happy?" His voice was a caress. What magic had befallen him?

"Immensely happy."

"That's splendid. Please go on feeling just like that."

"You're very kind."

"No—only to myself." He smiled into my eyes.

"It was awfully good of you to bring me here."

"I don't see it in that light." For a moment his big, strong hand touched mine. It's given me no end of pleasure, I assure you. If only you could come again—"

The queer, Hawaiian melody rose and fell about us. It made me think of blue lagoons and coral islands and hot, yellow sands. Or starry nights in the waters of the South Pacific, with the Southern Cross and Canopus a-blaze.

"Sunshine and laughter, passion and tears—they're all mixed up together, aren't they?" I whispered. "Mixed up together in that music—"

He nodded. He was about to speak, when—

"Good gracious, Anne!" Fred's voice, hard and abrupt, sounded at my elbow. "What on earth are you doing here? Julie rang me up two hours ago, and said you couldn't come to town!" He glared at me with a pale, angry face. "I call it very mean and underhand of you to act like this!"

Tomorrow—In the Mirror.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY TO OPEN SEASON'S WORK VERY SHORTLY

Held First Meeting at Y. M. C. A. Yesterday.

The first meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Women's Auxiliary was held yesterday afternoon, when plans for the winter were made Although last year this organization gave suppers to 3,500 boys and fed 9,500 people at the winter picnics, which were held at the "Y," they are told that this is only a beginning of what they shall do. Col. Gartshore was so pleased with the way they entertained the McClary picnic last year, that he has forwarded them a check of $50 to help carry on the work. The first banquet this year will be held on Wednesday night, when the organization has undertaken to feed 150 boys.

Yesterday afternoon Ed. J. Jenkins, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and Lloyd Houlding, secretary of boys' work, addressed the meeting, outlining the plans for the winter. Conveners of the different committees were also appointed as follows: For Monday night suppers: Mrs. John Chase; for Tuesday nights, Mrs. McDermid and Miss Kilbourne; for Wednesday nights, Mrs. Wigmore and Mrs. Cudgel, and for Friday nights, the convener has not yet been appointed. The auxiliary is now asking for a towel shower. Mrs Isaac Marlatt, the president, was in the chair at yesterday's meeting.

I. O. D. E. CHAPTER HAS REACHED ITS $2,500 OBJECTIVE

$220 Netted at Fair For Children's Hospital.

At a meeting of the Lord Roberts Chapter, I. O. D. E., held yesterday afternoon at the home of the regent, Mrs. E. H. Johnston, the members all decided to give the new hospital scheme their strong support. Reports on the hospital plans were given by Mrs. Arthur Smith and Mrs. F. J. Greenaway. Mrs. Robert Reid, treasurer of the hospital fund for the chapter, reported that the fund was approaching the $1,000 mark Whereupon the chapter voted that the lacking amount be taken from the chapter's regular funds. This $1,000 added to the $1,500 previously voted to the hospital by this chapter, makes their total $2,500, which will endow a private room.

Mrs. Rutledge, convener of the chapter's luncheon arrangements at the Western Fair, gave her report, showing that 400 luncheons had been served to Fair board members and their friends, bringing in $220.25 for the hospital fund, after all expenses had been paid.

A few vacancies in the executive were filled at this meeting as follows: Standard bearer, Mrs. Drury; recording secretary, Mrs. W. S. Westland; assistant secretary, Mrs. A. D. Jordan; councillor, Mrs. Sherlock.

posed that at next meeting the roll call be answered by a "Cure For the Blues."

LISTOWEL I. O. D. E.

The I. O. D. E. "Busy Bee" Chapter, Listowel, raised $350 for the memorial hospital fund by means of a benefit concert featuring "The Isle of Love," produced entirely by local talent under the direction of Mr. Louis George Neville.

The caste included the following: Frank Kelly, Miss Jean McIntyre, Frank Osborne, Mrs. A. Hamilton, Miss Jeanne Schorten, Stafford Pelton, Miss Purcell, Miss Lulu May and Albert Lyons.

A chorus of about fifty also helped in making the three performances a great success.

KINTORE W. I.

The September meeting of the Kintore branch of the W. I. will be held in the basement of the Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, September 29, at 2:30 o'clock. At the August meeting Mrs. Acheson gave a talk on "Medical Inspection of Schools," "Ways of Making W. I. The vice-president, Mrs. Dunster, presided, and proposed that at next meeting the roll call be made out of denim or similar goods? I inclose stamped addressed envelope for it whenever you can send it. Thank you very much, Miss Grey. Yours truly, SELINA SUE.

THE CIRCUS DOG.

Part Eight.

"Off in the Wrong Direction."

Monty and Billie the goat ran hither and thither to see if they could not find some trace of the circus wagons, the animals or the performers, but they had all gone.

"What shall we do? What will my master think of me to have deserted him like this?" Monty asked. "Oh, me, oh my, he'll think I am an ungrateful dog, and don't love him after all the nice things he has done for me, "and poor Monty almost burst into tears.

"Well, there is no use crying over spilled milk," declared the practical Billie. "I should think it would be much better to try to find Mr. Bangs and the rest."

Monty did not care about the rest, if only he could find his beloved master. It pained the little dog to think that Mr. Bangs would think he had wilfully run away, for, of course, the kind clown did not know that he had been stolen and would have been still farther away had it not been for Billie.

"It does not seem like Mr. Bangs to go away without me," Monty said—and if Monty had only known!

"Masters are all alike. They have their work to think of and they can't bother about mere animals like you and me," Billie told him. That made Monty very angry, but he did not let on. He just kept his silence, and when Billie suggested that they go off in search of the circus, he started to follow the wagon tracks without as much as saying a word. The wagon tracks stopped at the railway tracks where the wagons had been loaded on to the cars, and there was no way to tell which way the train had traveled away.

"We'll go this way," Billie suggested, and again Monty followed in silence. Alas they had started off in the wrong direction and traveled on and on, getting miles and miles away. If only they had waited, for Mr. Bangs had stayed at the hotel that night, and was at that very moment calling their names through the village.

DRAMA LEAGUE TO MEET.

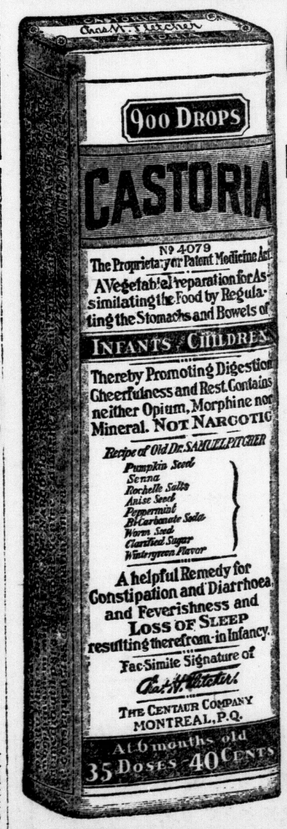

The London Drama League, organized late last spring, will commence this season's work shortly. The first meeting is to be held on Thursday, October 7, at the Institute of Musical Art, when a very fine dramatic program is promised as well as some excellent music arranged for by Mr. A. D. Jordan. At this meeting some of the vacancies left by the removal from the city of some of the executive members, will be filled.

WOMEN'S CLUB AT ST. JAMES.

The Men's Club At St. James Anglican Church has been so successful that the women are proposing to organize one also. Secours Nationale.

Mlle. Guerin of Toronto representing the Canadian Branch of the Secours Nationale, arrived in London on Saturday and will visit the various schools in an endeavor to interest the children in the work and get each school to undertake the support of at least one French orphan. The aim of the organization, of which the Princess Patricia Chapter here is the local branch, is to raise $100,000. If this is raised during the coming year it will mean over $200,000 when the exchange between Canada and France is taken into consideration, and this would endow the orphanage for all time to come. Yesterday Mlle. Guerin had an interview with Inspector C. B. Edwards and visited the Talbot Street School, where the pupils were most enthusiastic.

DODGERS WIN NATIONAL LEAGUE PENNANT

AMERICAN LEAGUE GETS FIRST THREE GAMES OF SERIES

Nine-Game Series Also Decided On—American May Have Series of Its Own.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—The commission decided upon playing a nine-game series to decide the title in the baseball classic. The schedule as drawn gives the American League the first three games, while the National League gets the next four. The eighth game, if necessary, will be played on American League grounds and a ninth game will be played in National League grounds. The question of the ninth game was decided through the toss of a coin, in which the National League won with the call of "tails." Two newspapermen were called into the meeting, which was an executive session, to act as witnesses of this toss—one to make the toss and the other to read the coin after it fell.

For the first time in fifteen years a familiar face was missing at the meeting. August Herrman, president of the Cincinnati Reds, and for years chairman of the commission, was not present, having resigned the position last fall. In his stead John E. Bruce, secretary of the commission, acted as chairman, with President B. B. Johnson, representing the American League and President John Heyder, the National League.

This schedule, it was decided, may later be moved back in the event of Cleveland and Chicago finishing the season in a tie. In that case the commission decided that a three-games series would be played to decide the pennant, one in Chicago and one in Cleveland, and the third, if necessary, on neutral ground.

The commission held secret conferences this afternoon and adjourned till tomorrow.

DEARTH OF WINGS IN SARNIA RUGBY CREW ONLY LACK SO FAR

Otherwise 1919 Champs Look Better Than Ever—Cole and Harding Even On Punting.

SARNIA, Sept. 27.—Among the new players trying out for the 1920 team is Muriel McCarty, who played rugby in Texas for years, prior to coming to Canada this summer. Prangley is another promising lineman, who has been showing promise during the past two weeks' workouts.

Cole and Harding will probably make a hard fight for punting honors this year, both half men showing better form than ever. Outside wings are the greatest lack of the team this year, and Coach Karn has been trying several combinations to get the desired effect, but to date nothing worth mentioning has shown out of the material. Fitzgibbon, Sinclair and Cole look to be the three best, but Fitzgibbon is needed in the scrimmage, while Cole and Sinclair are showing more class on the half line. So far as line material is concerned there is little dearth, and if Parrott, Ellacott, Smith and Van Alystyne can be prevailed upon to come out, the 1920 outfit should prove a worthy successor to the 1919 championship outfit.

SARNIA, Sept. 27.—Morris Copeland, the Sarnia hockey-lacrosse-basketball-rugby star, is out of the game for a week at least, as the result of a badly wrenched shoulder and injured collar-bone, sustained in Saturday's rugby game between the old boys and the S. C. I. Medical attendance was necessary, but it's not thought that the injury will be lasting enough to keep him out of the game this year.

Dodgers Win Flag, Though Idle, as Giants Drop One

Robbins At Worst Would Be One Full Game To Good in End—Boeckel's Homer in Ninth Won For Braves and Dodgers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Brooklyn won the championship of the National League today, although idle, as a result of New York being defeated by Boston here in the second game of their double header.

New York's last chance to even tie Brooklyn slipped away with the loss of the second game. Each club now has four games to play and if the Giants win all of theirs and the Superbas lose their four the final standing would be:

Brooklyn	won 90; lost 64
New York	won 89; lost 65

All three leaders in the American League race won today. Cleveland, which has a half game lead over Chicago, has six games to play, and if the Indians win half of them the White Sox must win their three remaining games with St. Louis to get first place.

While it is mathematically possible for New York to pass Cleveland, the Yankees can only tie with Chicago. The local team has two games to play, and by winning them while the two western teams lose all their contests New York would be on even terms with Chicago and a game ahead of Cleveland. A victory by Chicago or a defeat for New York will put the eastern team out.

ONE GAME DID IT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—New York was put out of the National League pennant race today when Boston won the second game of a double header, 3 to 2. The Giants won the first contest 2 to 1. Boeckel's home run into the left field bleachers in the ninth inning gave Boston its victory, after New York had tied the score in the eighth on Frisch's homer. Both Townsend and Pierroti pitched good ball for the Braves. New York took the opener by bunching two of its four hits in the fourth inning. These, coupled with two infielders' choices and Maranville's error, gave the Giants two runs. After this inning not a hit was made off Townsend.

Nehf kept the Braves' hits scattered in the first game. Ryan, who pitched the second contest for New York, was hit hard in the late innings. The scores:

First game:			R.	H.	E.
Boston	000	000 100	1	7	2
New York	000	200 00x	2	4	1

Townsend and O'Neill; Nehf and Snyder.

Second game:			R.	H.	E.
Boston	100	010 001	3	8	1
New York	000	100 010	2	6	1

Pierroti and Gowdy; Ryan and Smith.

CARDS FINISH.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—St. Louis concluded its season's work here by trimming the Cubs in decisive fashion today, 16 to 1. The Cardinals hammered three local pitchers for 25 hits, totalling 35 bases. Chicago fielded poorly and could do nothing with Schupp, despite seven bases on balls off the latter. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	023 131 411	16	25	0
Chicago	000 000 010	1	7	4

Schupp and Clemons; Martin, Cheeves, Jones and O'Farrell, Daly.

Pittsburg vs. Cincinnati, postponed—Rain.

SAYS CHICAGO PLAYERS "THREW" THREE GAMES IN 1919 WORLD'S SERIES GAMES WITH CINCINNATI

Billy Maharg Declares That Abe Attell "Fixed" Arrangements With White Sox Team Members and Then Double-Crossed Them Out of $90,000—Story of the Alleged Deal Is Told.

Philadelphia, Sept. 28.—The first, second and final games of last year's world's series were "thrown" to Cincinnati by eight members of the Chicago Americans, according to revelations made last night by Billy Maharg, former boxer and well known in local sporting circles.

Maharg's story, as printed today in the Philadelphia North American, says that he and "Bill" Burns, former American League pitcher, were the first to be approached in the conspiracy.

According to Maharg's story, the first, second and final games of the 1919 world series were "thrown" to Cincinnati by eight members of the Chicago Americans. He said he and "Bill" Burns, former American League pitcher, were approached by Eddie Cicotte, Chicago pitcher, who told them a group of prominent Chicago players would be willing to "throw" the series if they were given $100,000.

Maharg said the White Sox players were "double-crossed" by Abe Attell, former featherweight boxing champion, who acted as the "fixer" and "go-between" and that they received only $10,000.

"Attell is the man the Chicago grand jury wants," Maharg's story says. "He made the bets, turned over $10,000 to Burns for the Sox players, and double-crossed them out of $90,000."

Maharg is a former boxer and is well known in local sporting circles.

"I received a wire from Burns from New York, the middle of last September, inviting me to take a hunting trip with him down on his ranch in New Mexico," said Maharg. "We were to take Bill James, one of the White Sox pitchers, with us. James had nothing to do with subsequent events, but while we were there in the room talking, Cicotte came in and started to talk in a low voice to Burns.

"Willing To Throw Games."

"I heard enough to know that he said a group of prominent players of the White Sox would be willing to "throw" the coming world series if a syndicate of gamblers would give them $100,000 on the morning of the first game. When Cicotte left, Burns turned to me and repeated Cicotte's conversation, part of which I had heard. Burns said 'Do you know any gamblers who would be interested in this proposition?'

"I said I would go to Philadelphia and see what I could do. Burns said he would have to go to Montreal to close an oil deal and that he would wire me about the progress of the deal.

"I then went to Philadelphia and saw some gamblers there. They told me it was too big a proposition for them to handle, and they recommended me to Arnold Rothstein, a well-known and wealthy New York gambler."

Maharg then declared that they made an effort to interest Rothstein, but failed. Later, he said, Burns had arranged through Abe Attell to put the thing over. He and Burns went to Cincinnati to meet Attell.

"Attell was in Cincinnati, quartered in a large suite in the Sinton," Maharg's statement continues, "and had a gang of about twenty-five New York gamblers with him. They said they were working for Rothstein.

"I had my first suspicion on the morning of the first game, when Burns and I visited Attell. We asked for the $100,000 to turn over to the White Sox players to carry out our part of the deal.

"Attell refused to turn over the $100,000, saying that they needed the money to make bets. He made a counter-proposal that $20,000 would be handed the players at the end of each losing game. Burns went to the Sox players, and they seemed satisfied with the new arrangement.

Flashes Fake Telegram.

"We all bet on Cincinnati the first day and won. The next morning Burns and I went around to Attell again at his headquarters. I never saw so much money in my life. Stacks of bills were being counted on dressers and tables.

"Again Attell stalled us off. He said he wanted to keep the money to bet. We grew suspicious and asked Abe if Rothstein was really in the deal. Then Abe flashed the fake telegram. It read: 'Abe Attell, Sinton Hotel, Cincinnati.—Have wired you twenty grand and waived identification.'

"The wire was signed with the initials 'A. R.' We learned later that this was a fake telegram, and that somebody had wired to New York to have it sent. The telegram used the expression 'grand,' which is the gambler's lingo for a thousand. As a matter of fact, Rothstein was never involved. Attell was lying.

"Burns felt sore because he had no money for the White Sox, and he told me that he would turn over $110,000 worth of oil leases to the players as security. I persuaded him not to take this step, and thereby saved him that money.

"After the second game we again found Attell and his confederates. Attell again made excuses about needing the coin to make further wagers, but did place $10,000 on the table. He said, 'Give that to the players.'

"Burns asked me to take the money and I refused. He finally took it himself and turned it over to one of the players.

"Burns told me that he saw the players were restless and wanted the full amount, and he was afraid they would not keep up the agreement.

"The players, however, told Burns that if they lost behind Cicotte and Williams, they wouldn't win for Kerr. So we went to Chicago and bet all of our personal winnings of the first two days on Cincinnati. As a matter of fact the Sox got even with us by winning this game.

"Burns and I lost every cent we had in our clothes. The whole upshot of the matter was that Attell and his gang cleaned up a fortune and the Sox players were double-crossed out of $90,000 that was coming to them."

MAN O' WAR AND SIR BARTON TO HAVE SPECIAL STABLES

A. M. Orpen Says Both Owners Are Fine Sportsmen and Want to See Doubts Settled.

The Toronto Star says:

A. M. Orpen, who returned from Havre de Grace on Sunday after closing for the match race between Man o' War and Sir Barton for Tuesday, October 12, for $75,000 (American money), and a $5,000 gold cup, will leave to night for Windsor to get Kenilworth Park ready for the seven-day meeting which will have this event for its big feature. The winner takes all the stake and the cup.

Mr. Orpen will have two special stables built for the horses with a fence around them so that the horses will be absolutely secure while they are at Kenilworth. The horses will arrive at the track early in the meeting and will work-out every afternoon during the races.

Mr. Orpen was very pleased with his conference with the two owners.

"They are sportsmen of the finest type," he said. "They want to decide publicly for themselves the question of superiority, viz., which is the fastest horse in training, and the best sire for the thoroughbred industry. This question will be definitely settled at Kenilworth on Tuesday, October 12."

The members of the Dominion and provincial cabinets will be invited, the admission price on match race day will be $5. The mayor of Windsor will donate a silk flag to the winner. Mr. Orpen would welcome suggestions as to the most appropriate name for the race. His address is the Kenilworth Race Track, Windsor.

TODAY'S RACING CARD AT COLUMBUS TRACK

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 28.—Due to the steady rain of Monday noon, the Grand Circuit meeting scheduled to close here on Thursday, will continue until Friday evening at least. Monday's entire program was moved over until Tuesday, and that of each succeeding day will be set back 24 hours. The card for today under the new arrangement calls for the 2:15 class trot, the 2:17 class pace, the Chamber of Commerce 2:08 trotting stake, purse $3,000, and the 2:05 pacing stake, the Board of Trade, purse $3,000. All of these races have big entries.

THE RUBE CAME BACK

The Dodgers' winning of the National flag was aided greatly by Marquard's work this year. For a while it looked as if Marquard had more temperament than ability, but he came back with Robinson's handling into great shape, and should be one of the best of the series bets from a mound standpoint.

Ten Turn Out At First Rugby Workout of Western

Notwithstanding the ran yesterday afternoon, ten aspirants for places on the Western University football team were hard at it for an hour. The practice consisted in booting the ball around and ended with a run around the field. The boys are in better shape than was expected, and when the rest of the lads decide that a little rain will not hurt their complexions there should be two full teams on deck. The Collegiate boys were also out for a drill for their game with St. Thomas on Friday, and they showed barrels of weight on their line, with a couple of fast-going halves. Both squads will work out every day this week at 3:30 o'clock.

SOCCER KICK-OFFS

E. Whitworth was ruled ineligible to play in the soccer Cup Tie series at a meeting of the grievance committee held last evening. The player in question had signed two forms, and was thus ruled out.

The protest lodged by the G. W. V. A. at Saturday's game at Springbank will be considered at a meeting of the committee to be held on Thursday night at the Richmond Hotel.

The Saturday game between 1st W. O. R. and Grand Trunks, bringing the dark horses of the Cup Ties and the City League champs together over at Tecumseh Park, will probably draw one of the largest crowds ever out to see a soccer game in this city. Both have lots of supporters, and though the Trunks are slightly favored owing to the known merits of their performances, the 1st W. O. R's are being given a good chance to make things interesting by the fans.

Two neutral linemen are appointed to act Saturday, and the kick-off is to be sharp at 3 p.m., a fact to which both teams' attention is drawn.

No Chance Here To Lose A Lil' Money On Dope

SARNIA, Sept. 27.—Local race followers are evidencing marked criticism at the men in charge of racing at the West Lambton County Fair, which opened here today. The racing entries are not being given out until the time of the race, giving the track followers no chance to dope things out. "It's a small thing, possibly," said one track enthusiast today, "but the fair board aren't gaining anything."

Galt W. F. A. Senior Champs Bring Cup Back After 7 Years

GALT, Sept. 27.—The Galt W. F. A. senior champions have won further laurels, having brought back to the city after an absence of seven years the Mac and Casey Cup, emblematic of the championship of the fall soccer series, having won the same at Guelph on Saturday last, when they defeated the Royal City eleven 2 to 0. Since they cannot be beaten for the silverware, it is likely the schedule will not be played out.

Both Naps and Sox Refuse To Break Under the Strain

Mails Turns in Sixth Straight At St. Louis and Dickie Kerr Bested Dauss At Home.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 27.—Cleveland maintained its half-game lead in the American League pennant race today, defeating St. Louis, 8 to 4. Mails hurled a steady game, allowing bunched hits only in two innings. It was his sixth straight victory. Cleveland hitz opportunely and was materially aided by the wildness of the local pitchers. Jamieson cinched the game in the eighth inning, when he drove a home run into the right field stands with O'Neill and Mails ahead of him.

The score:			R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	000	012 230	8	11	0
St. Louis	002	000 020	4	10	3

Mails and O'Neill; Davis, Boehler, DeBerry and Severoid.

KERR LEADS SOX MARCH.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—With "Little Dick" Kerr pitching masterly ball, the Chicago White Sox continued their victorious march in the American League pennant race today, defeating Detroit, 2 to 0, in the final game of the season here. The victory was Chicago's tenth in the last eleven games. Kerr pitched a remarkable game, not allowing a man to reach third base, and was never in danger. Dauss also pitched splendidly, allowing only one hit up to the sixth inning. After hitting Weaver in the sixth, however, Eddie Collins and Joe Jackson knocked out long singles, which, coupled with a poor return by Cobb, gave Chicago its only runs. The score:

			R.	H.	E.
Detroit	000	000 000	0	6	2
Chicago	000	002 00x	2	4	0

Dauss, Ayers and Ainsmith; Kerr and Schalk.

BABE'S 52ND AND 53RD.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27.—Ruth's 52nd and 53rd home run drives scored all the runs today in New York's 3 to 0 victory over Philadelphia. Mays kept the locals from getting more than one hit in any inning.

Both of Ruth's homers were driven over the right field fence. He hit two other liners to left and centre fields daries of the playing space.

The score:			R.	H.	E.
New York	200	001 000	3	8	0
Philadelphia	000	000 000	0	6	0

Mays and Hoffman; Rommel and Perkins.

Pickin' Em To Bits

[By Ernest J. Lanigan.]

Brooklyn's double play record shows the new National League flag winners with 111 to their credit, of which only one was of the unassisted variety. Ed. Konetchy, first baseman, retired a pair of runners without aid early in the season. Koney, of course, has put the finishing touches to more two-ply killings than anyone else, the honor of setting the greatest number in motion belonging to Pete Kilduff. He inaugurated 25 at second and two at third. Ivan Olson is right at the Kansan's heels with 26, two dozen of them started from short field. Otto Miller leads the Superba catchers in starting double plays, Leon Cadore the pitchers and Zach Wheat the outfielders.

The new champs were busy individuals against the Cubs on August 27 and September 13. One day they pulled five two-ply killings, the other four. The double play dope:

Double Plays Started by Superbas.

Catchers, 6—Miller 4, Krueger and Elliott 1.

Pitchers, 11.—Cadore 4, Smith 3, Pfeffer 2, Grimes and Miljus 1.

First Basemen — Konetchy 2 (one unassisted).

Second Basemen, 27—Kilduff 25, Olson 2.

A SURE SIGN OF GOOD SERVICE

THAT is why you see so many Red Bird Bicycles on the streets used by doctors, lawyers, ministers, teachers, collectors, "street car conductors," "telephone and electric service men," workmen, professional men, men and women, boys and girls in every walk of life, where service is of some value, where time is worth something. Red Bird Bicycles are built for service, and the service behind it cannot be equalled in Canada. This is a broad statement, and we make it with every confidence of stating the truth.

WE are bicycle merchants exclusively. No side lines. That is why we give you undivided service on bicycles.

"SERVICE" helped to build this business, from a "hole in the wall" a few years ago to the largest exclusive bicycle business in Western Ontario, and one of the largest in all of the Dominion. In these few years we passed our competitors who have been in business for 50 years or more. Service, plus good bicycles done it.

IF you are not numbered among our customers you do not know what "service" means. Ask the riders of Red Bird Bicycles how they like our service.

COME in and let us show you our Christmas Club proposition It will interest you.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

GLUT OF PEACHES BRINGS PRICE DOWN; GRAPES LOWER, TOO

Dressed Hogs Firm On Local Market At $28 Per Cwt.

Eleven-quart baskets of peaches brought $1 on the market square today. The demand was active, but peaches were so plentiful that some dealers would almost sell them for 75c. Six-quart baskets sold for 60c each.

Grapes are also cheaper and brought from 40c to 50c per six-quart basket. The quality is excellent.

Dressed hogs were offered in large quantities and sold for $28 per cwt. This quotation is firmer.

Hay is steady at $30 to $33 per ton. The demand is active, and it is thought that prices may be higher before the end of the week.

Opening prices, which ranged from 4¼c off to 2c advance, with December at $2 20@2 23, and March at $2 13½@2 20, were followed by material setbacks all around.

GAVE HER THE SACK.

"Daddy, dear, cook's going to leave," said the vicar's daughter, "and I simply can't think how we'll ever get another."

"Dear, dear! That seems a pity. Couldn't you—er—well—"

"Oh, it's no use. She's not honest, so I've told her to go."

The vicar brooded over his succulent cutlet; he thought lovingly of yesterday's souffle.

"Scripture asserts, my dear," said he, "that if a man take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also."

"Exactly!" replied the vicar's pert daughter. "I found out that she's stealing potatoes, so I've given her the sack."

FACTS FOR FARMERS

FEEDING VALUE OF WINDFALL APPLES.

In consideration of the scarcity, adulteration and excessive cost of feeds information on the feeding value of windfall apples may be oportune. When the choice lies between feeding them or using them as fertilizer it is often preferable to use them as feed.

In order to use a feeding stuff intelligently a knowledge of at least a general sort must be obtained regarding its content, and especially is this true in the case of fruits. While apples may often be fed advantageously to stock and sound fruit may be used when prices are too low to warrant marketing the crop, it should be remembered that they are relished largely because of the pectins, gums, vegetable oils, etc., contained in them, but that they are not highly nutritious. They must be classified as a succulent feed, and because of their succulency their percentages of the nutrients are very small; their value for furnishing fat and protein, the two most important and valuable of the several nutrients, is almost negligible. They have, however, a fairly high carbohydrate content.

The accompanying table shows their percentage composition, compared with that of shorts:

Average Composition of Apples and Shorts.

	Moisture	Protein	Ether Extract	Carbohydrates	Fibre	Ash
Apples	82.5	4	.5	12.5	2.7	.4
Shorts	9.21	16.10	5.08	58.29	6.75	4.20

From this table it is evident that the feeding value of apples is comparatively low. With shorts at $60 per ton, apples are worth from $2 to $3 per ton. For dairy cows they have about 40 per cent of the value of corn silage, and apple pomace is practically equal to the same weight of corn silage. The nutrient content of apples cannot be greater than most of our farm roots, certainly not equal to so-called sugar mangels or sugar beets.

Contrary to the supposition that the feeding of apples interferes with the milk flow there is data to show that apples used rationally do not injuriously affect it. The mistake made has probably been to feed apples as a substitute for more nutritious feed, for example, meal or hay and not merely to replace the succulent part of the ration. Since they are low they should be used with protein-rich feeds.

During the cider-making season of 1916 experiments were planned by Professor B. T. B. Barker, M.A., and P. N. Wale, B.Sc., of the University of Bristol, to determine the effect of substituting apples or pomace for a portion of the daily ration of 20 pigs (large blacks and cross-breds). These varied in weight from 40 to 69 pounds and were distributed as equally as possible amongst five pens. The pigs in four of these pens were fed from 4 to 20 pounds of apples or apple pomace per day, mixed with sharps, maize meal or fish meal. Their conclusions are not regarded as definite, because only one set of experiments was carried out, but the results seem to indicate that while for fattening pigs weighing not more than 55 or 60 pounds per head, neither apples nor pomace give satisfactory results as meal alone, both these foods possess a distinct feeding value for older pigs and store pigs.

Apples unmarketable or of very low market value may be regarded as a subsitute for silage and a useful place found for them in the farm dietary, but their limitations to replace other feeds need to be recognized, and a ration of sufficient nourishment and desirable ratio planned.

MARRIED LIFE.

(With apologies to the author of the "Psalm of Life.")

Tell me not in mournful numbers,
Married life is earthly hell,
And that man's nocturnal slumbers
Are disturbed by infant's yell.

Married life is sacred, earnest.
Married life has untold charms,
When a man from work returnest
To a child's embracing arms.

In this world's industrial battle,
Where men strive with brawn and brain,
Loving wife and childish prattle,
Inspire men to strive again.

Lives of married men remind us
We can be as great as they.
And each morning leave behind us
Those for whom we work and pray.

Let us then be up and doing,
With a heart brave, calm, serene,
For without successful wooing,
Life's not worth a tinkereen.

—Fred Young.

COURAGE.

[Jane Bates, in Forbes Magazine, New York.]

Where is your record of yesterday?
Is it near the top, or low?
Well, what does it matter, anyway,
If you've watched the score and know?

The biggest men in the world today
Began—and some jobs were mean—
But they won because they were willing to play
The game out fair and clean.

They cared not a whit that the odds were long,
For their faith in themselves was fine;
They faced the mark with a courage strong,
And headed straight for the line.

It's playing the big game right that pays,
It's not what you win, but how;
So forget to regard the wasted days,
Start right on a new one now.

MUST TEAR DOWN ANCIENT BUILDINGS, COMMITTEE RULES

St. Thomas Board Will Notify Owners To Rebuild or Remove Old Stores.

L. & P. S. R. CASE PENDING

Commission Wants To Lay More Tracks—Port Stanley Village Opposes Move.

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 27. — Number three committee transacted routine business tonight.

Chairman Hill once more advised the committee that the lamp on Margaret street had not yet been installed, although the foreman of the electric light department had time and again been ordered to place the light on that much advertised corner. The question will again be carried to the council on Tuesday night.

City Clerk McNaughton, Fort William, of the board of conciliation under the industrial disputes investigation act, wrote for information relative to the wages paid the firemen, the population of St. Thomas, assessment and working conditions. The investigation is made to aid the board in settling the difference between the council of Fort William and the International Fire Fighters' Union of that city.

Condemns Old Buildings.

The city engineer was ordered to notify the owners of the stores on the north side of Talbot street in the west end of the city to either remove or rebuild, and in case of refusal action be taken under the building bylaw. The bill board, also recently erected in the brow of the hill on the property of A. A. E. Ponsford, be taken down. These buildings were declared by the committee to be dangerous to the public.

Unpaid Rent on City Property.

Ald. Meehan demanded that the rent due on the city property, opposite the Iroquois Hotel, be at once paid. Chairman Hill advised the committee that about $1,000 was due the city.

Ald. Meehan considered it a disgrace to the parties responsible for its collection that some action had not been taken to prevent this accumulation of back rentals.

Ald. Walker of the special committee in charge of the municipal real estate promised to make an investigation.

To Clean Up Market.

The contractor, who purchased the old city hall, will be ordered again to clean up the land covered by and near the building, or else proceedings will be taken by the city engineer.

The city engineer reported that the brick deposited in the west end market were being removed and the stone placed then would be offered for sale.

Gas in Illegal Quantities.

The chief of police was instructed to look into the alleged infraction of the law by some of the storekeepers who were reported by Chairman Hill of having more than five gallons of gasoline on their premises.

Fire Losses $10.

Chief Henderson reported four fires during the month, the loss being $10, and all insured.

Peaches 60 Cents Basket.

Peaches were selling for 60 cents a large basket today.

Mrs. Ian McIvor, an old resident of Aldborough, died recently at Rodney in her 82nd year.

Because he stopped his car on the centre of Talbot street, a resident was fined $5 and costs this morning.

Did Not Reach Objective.

The Horticultural Society will be benefited to the extent of $525 from tag-day subscriptions Saturday. The objective amount was $1,000, which the society contemplated spending in extending its work in the city. The balance will have to come from some other source, or else activities of the society in its proposed plan of improving the east end of the city will have to be postponed.

Mr. King Breaks Arm.

Caught in the belting of the flour mill at Union, J. King had his right arm fractured and his hand badly cut and lacerated.

John Lacey, Dunwich, had a yield of 525 bushels of oats from 5 acres.

Chester Garvin, Port Stanley, was fined $5 and costs this morning for abusing his horse. Inspector Matt prosecuted.

Premier Drury Coming.

The officers of the Aylmer Fair Board announce that the Hon. Mr. Drury will visit Aylmer Thursday, September 30, the second day of the fair and address the electors of East Elgin.

Besides the application coming from S. Thomas to be heard by the Dominion Railway Board Saturday to construct pedestrian subways under the M. C. R. tracks, the London and Port Stanley Railway Commission is asking permission to build two more tracks adjoining the main line across Bridge street. The village corporation will oppose the application on the grounds that the extra tracks and not a necessity to take care of the railway business. The London commission is also demanding that the proposed new swing bridge be made a larger stationary structure, and if be made five feet higher than the present bridge. One application is dependent on the other. The company claiming that the erection of a new bridge will seriously inconvenience them and will compel the commission to install a series of new crossing guards. The village proposes to order the guards away, as they will inconvenience the public and endanger their safety.

Death of Mrs. M. J. Ryan.

Mrs. M. J. Ryan, formerly of St. Thomas, and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. Brady, Southwold, died in Cleveland Saturday, where she was visiting her daughter, Mrs. F. Hitchel. Mrs. Ryan had been living in Windsor. Mrs. John Farrol, St. Thomas. Dr. M. Brady, Detroit; Patrick Brady, Essex, and James Brady, Pontiac, Mich., are brothers and sister. The remains arrived in the city today and the funeral will be held from the residence of Mr. John Farrol, Railway street, to the Church of the Holy Angels Tuesday morning, and the interment will be in the Catholic Cemetery.

RUN OVER BY AN AUTO.

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 27. — Marion, 10-year-old daughter of Eugene Jones, of Welland, was run over by an automobile yesterday, and is dying in Welland Hospital as a consequence.

APPOINTED LECTURER.

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 27.—Hubert E. Kemp of this city, who had been in Germany for the past six months on relief work, returned to his home here last night. Today Mr. Kemp left for Toronto, where he has been appointed as lecturer in political science at Toronto University.

LIQUOR OFFICER MAKES APOLOGY TO DR. CHERNIAK

Special Inspector Bell Loses Job, But Is Let Go On Suspended Sentence.

PEANUTS AT $1 PER BAG

Police Constable Thought T. C. Roy Was Profiteering and Called Patrol Wagon.

WINDSOR, Sept. 27.—Running out of gasoline, three thieves, who stole a high-powered automobile, the property of Alexander, Coleridge & Simmers, realty brokers of Windsor, after looting the Grand Trunk station at Jeannette's Creek of $50 cash and a quantity of railway tickets, were forced to abandon the car several miles outside of Chatham, where it was recovered today by Provincial Officers Smith and Hannah and Special Detective Taylor of the Grand Trunk.

In an effort to replenish their supply of gas, the fugitives tore the gasoline tanks from three launches lying in the Thames River near Chatham.

Publicly apologizing to Dr. Isadore Cherniak, well-known local physician, in police court today, promising to furnish the press with a written apology to the doctor, G. S. Bell, special inspector of the Ontario License Commission, arraigned before Magistrate Miers in Windsor police court today on a charge of assault, was allowed off on suspended sentence.

He has also been dismissed from his post under the provincial liquor license board.

The officer assaulted Dr. Cherniak, fired a revolver at him, and placed him in the Walkerville police court at midnight, when the latter demanded to know Bull's identity as he was searching a car in front of the Cherniak residence.

Magistrate Miers ordered the confiscation of 25 cases of liquor seized by police in a local express office, addressed to Mrs. S. Chene, Windsor, who was summoned to appear in court and give reason why the whiskey should not be confiscated, sent a note, declaring she knew nothing of the shipment.

Customs Officers Attacked.

William Butler, Canadian customs officer stationed at the Quellette avenue ferry dock, was unable to speak today, as the result of a terrific beating administered to him by thugs from Detroit Sunday night, so John Lannigan and John Bonida, who appeared in Windsor police court today faced with the charge, were remanded for eight days.

Accompanied by three other men in an automobile, they became involved in an altercation with customs officers, following which they leaped from their car and attacked the officers.

With the aid of Constable Lariviere the two men were locked up in the customs office at the ferry, but kicking out the boards at the side of the building, they made their escape, only to be arrested by a special officer of the Michigan Central Railway as they were attempting to board a train through the tunnel at Detroit.

James Holden, a resident of Windsor for 83 years, died at his home, 529 Pelissier street, today. Five children, twenty-five grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren survive.

Couldn't See Joke.

Peanuts at $1 a sack, the size which unusually command a nickel, hit the top mark in prices at Saturday's championship games in the Border Cities Baseball League at Wigle Park. Patrolman Strong, who happened to be in the vicinity, summoned the patrol to arrest Tom Ray, well-known Windsor businessman, for gross profiteering. Only pleas of friends of Mr. Ray secured his release. The officer couldn't see the joke. It was a means of raising funds for the league.

Aaron Weber and John Carey, Detroiters, arrested here during the convention of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, and charged with bringing seditious literature into Canada, were released when they again appeared before Magistrate Miers in Windsor police court. They told the court the pamphlets they carried were being distributed and sold widely in other parts of the Dominion.

TRADE DELEGATES AT BRANTFORD SEE BELL HOMESTEAD

MacBride Says Patronage Only Transferred To Little Red Schoolhouse.

BRANTFORD, Sept. 27.—Over 75 delegates to the Imperial Chambers of Commerce Congress were welcomed today by Brantford Chamber of Commerce, on their arrival by special train from Niagara Falls. Luncheon, under the auspices of the chamber of commerce of the city was served at Victoria Hall. W. S. Brewster and Col. Harry Cockshutt extended the welcome, replies being made by J. W. Downes, Hull, England, and George Leeming, Manchester. The fact that 90 per cent of Brantford's homes were owned by the workingmen themselves made a big impression on the visitors, who contrasted the housing situation in England, which at present is a big problem. In the afternoon various groups visited plants in which they were particularly interested, and a visit was paid to Mohawk Church, the Bell homestead, and the Brantford Golf Club. A civic banquet was tendered at the Kerby House this evening, Mayor MacBride presiding.

Only 34,000 Realized.

From the Women's Hospital Aid tag day here Saturday, the sum of $4,000 was realized. It was $2,000 short of the objective.

Hydro commissioners and the fire and light committee of the city council met this afternoon. A serious power shortage faces this city, and new connections for electric light have been refused.

MacBride Alleges Bossism.

Mayor MacBride, M. P. P. for South Brant, who had supported a returned soldier applicant for the position of crown attorney for Brant, stated today that he proposed to secure information from the attorney-general as to the appointment of W. M. Charlton to the position. Mayor MacBride complains that patronage has not been abolished.

"It has been merely transferred to the little red schoolhouse. Peter Porter and W. C. Good have even gone so far as to tell the Labor party who it must choose as its candidate; therefore I am not surprised at anything any more," said Mr. MacBride.

To Help Nature Shed a Bad Complexion

Beauty devotees are enthusiastic over the rejuvenating qualities of ordinary mercolized wax. Nothing discovered within recent years accomplishes so much, so quickly, without harm or inconvenience. The principal reason for its wonderful merit is that it works in harmony with physiological laws. Instead of hiding complexion defects, it removes them. It actually takes off the aged, faded, sallow, freckled or blotchy surface skin, gently and gradually. This is Nature's way of renewing complexions. When the natural process is retarded because of defective circulation or nerve tone, mercolized wax comes to the rescue and hastens the skin shedding. The new complexion which appears is a natural one, youthful, healthy, exquisitely beautiful. If you've never tried mercolized wax, get an ounce of it at the drug store, use nights like cold cream, washing it off mornings—and have the surprise of your life!

Another natural beautifying treatment—for wrinkled skin—is to bathe the face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel. This is remarkably and almost instantaneously effective.—Advt.

SWOLLEN GLANDS

Wens, Cysts, Soft Bunches Reduced by "ABSORBINE JR."

"ABSORBINE JR." is a vegetable germicide and antiseptic liniment. It is opposed to unhealthy, unnatural growths. Enlarged glands, wens, cysts, soft bunches are unnatural conditions that "ABSORBINE JR." will materially benefit.

A prominent physician writes: "I have used ABSORBINE JR. on stiff joints and found it all right. Does the work nicely and I cheerfully recommend it."

"ABSORBINE JR." should be in every home in case of accidents—heals cuts, burns, lacerations—eases sprains, strains and bruises—relieves pain and reduces inflammation.

Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

At The Theaters

AT THE GRAND.

The Dumbells are back. No one who was in the vicinity of the Grand Opera House last night failed to realize this fact, for the second edition of "Biff Bing Bang" kept the whole audience in such an uproarious state throughout the whole performance that the joyful sounds must have traveled far and near.

One of the greatest ovations ever tendered to a theatrical troupe in London greeted the opening chorus, and it did not require many numbers of the program to prove that it was fully warranted. The occasion was military night, and the front of the house was filled with members of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, who enjoyed the entertainment possibly more than any others present. The band of the regiment contributed several numbers to the program.

Although traveling under the same name as formerly, the presentation was completely revised as to be practically a new production, although the same capable cast was there under the direction of Capt. M. W. Plunkett. Some parts of the former entertainment were so much in demand, however, that they simply had to be repeated. Chief among those was Red Newman, with his "Oh! Oh! Oh! It's An Awful War." Once more it proved that big number of the evening. He made several other valuable contributions.

Ross Hamilton as "Marjorie" did the best female impersonating of the evening. No little part of the success of the evening was due to "her" efforts. Albert Plunkett was another popular member of the cast. He has an excellent singing voice, and all his numbers went over well. Jimmy Good, who was responsible for most of the "nonsense," was good, with a capital G. Fred Fenwick, Jack McLaren, Charlie McLean, Arthur Holland, Alan Murray, Bill Tennent, Frank Brayford, Bartram Langley, Bill Filson, Jack Ayre, Leonard Young, Arthur Whitman, Percy Campbell and Arthur Nicholson all played outstanding parts at some time or another during the evening, and each made a hit with his own specialty.

A feature was the presentation of "H.M.S. Pinafore," which has been officially recognized by both King George and King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium. The cast is identical with the one which presented this condensed version of Gilbert and Sullivan's masterpiece at Brussels and Mons in 1918.

A short skit, entitled "A Night Behind the Lines," is another outstanding part of the program. It gives a true picture of the humor and pathos which centred around the boys overseas. Another request number from last year's program is the entertainment of wounded Tommies by the duchess.

"The Dumbells" will be here the remainder of the week, giving matinee performances Wednesday and Saturday.

"SAN TOY" AT THE GRAND NEXT MONDAY.

One of the most notable importations from England is F. Stuart-Whyte's elaborate revival of the famous London Gaiety Theatre success, "San Toy," which comes to the Grand next Monday, October 4, for three days, with popular Wednesday matinee.

Mr. Whyte has given this brilliant musical comedy a most gorgeous production and has engaged a company of English artists of exceptional abilities to sing the various roles.

"San Toy" enjoys the unique distinction of being the most famous of all the long array of successful Gaiety Theatre productions, and the mere announcement that it has been brought to Canada under the personal direction of Stuart-Whyte is sufficient guarantee that it will prove one of the most delightful features of the present theatrical season. Seats on sale Thursday morning next at 9 a.m.

AT LOEW'S.

From its opening scenes until the end is flashed on the screen, "The White Moll," the feature picture at Loew's Theatre the first half of this week, is filled with heart-throbbing human interest. It is the tale of the great sordid underworld, where, in a small corner, the forces of good through the medium of the brave and tender heroine, nicknamed "The White Moll," struggles against terrible odds to gain a foothold and to win back those who had drifted into the depths through weakness or because of losing battles with fate. These struggles of good with evil are portrayed in some of the strongest and most intensely-gripping scenes ever pictured in a local theatre, and although they do not always end in victory for good, they preach the great sermon of "Intolerance."

Because the play is filled with rapid action, breathless situations and daring acts, the directors showed wisdom in selecting intrepid Pearl White as the star. Her interpretation could hardly be improved upon, for one could easily imagine that the whole plot had been built up to bring out every bit of her striking personality. She by no means, however, can claim all the honors, for some splendid character work is done by Richard Travers and Walter Lewis.

The story is that of the reformed woman crook, who, with much money at her disposal, strives to win from the sinful underworld many of her former companions. She not only succeeds to a certain degree, but also wins a lover.

A delightful little comedy skit played by Marietta Craig and Company, a company of three persons, two men and a woman, is the chief attraction of the vaudeville program. It was richly staged and cleverly acted, and won much appreciation.

Two young men, named Brown and Evans, contributed much that won the favor of the audience. They danced some eccentric dances well and sang and talked comedy lines which created much laughter.

Dorothy Boye, equipped with only a fair voice, won some applause by an individual act.

A screaming comedy called "His Wife's Caller," and a news weekly completed an excellent program, which will be repeated today and tomorrow.

AT THE PATRICIA.

An appealing story of western life, full of thrills and daring escapades, coupled with a powerful romance is shown in "Blue Streak McCoy" at the Patricia Theatre the first half of this week, Harry Carey starring as Job McCoy, the hero.

Job McCoy, a broad minded man with an enviable physique, drifts into the border country of the South West, where, to satisfy his desire for adventure, he becomes a ranger. Job soon becomes known far and wide for his love of children and his fearlessness when protecting women. He comes across women of all sorts while on the perilous duty of guarding the gold mines of Marlowe, a prominent operator. Marlowe has a niece, a petite young lady, who has an endless string of admirers and yet keeps a soft spot in her heart for Job. Marlowe also has a wife and child. The former is very attractive, particularly to the opposite sex. She falls in love with her husband's manager, who is also busily engaged in planning for a raid on the mines. On the night that she plans to elope with the manager, the raid is also being carried out on the mines. Job McCoy, however, all this time has been keeping a watchful eye on the interests of Marlowe, and shows up just at the right moment to prevent the robbery as well as the elopement. Through this episode, the audience is kept almost breathless, wondering what will develop next.

The screen magazine and a real funny comedy, "You Tell 'Em Lions I Roar," and a high-class vaudeville act introducing a number of new songs and piano music complete an excellent bill which will be shown again today and on Wednesday.

AT THE ALLEN.

Filled with interest from beginning to end is the pretty little picture drama, "The Notorious Miss Lisle," in which Katherine Macdonald is playing at the Allen Theatre for the first half of this week. There is a certain quality about the pathetic little figure of a girl whose character is dragged in the dust to further the ends of two scheming lovers that wins the heart of everyone who sees the picture. This beautiful and entirely innocent girl has tried to forget that she was made use of to further a great divorce case and thus become notorious far and wide. And she marries, without telling her husband of her identity, which, however, he discovers on their wedding day. His horror at finding out who she is drives her from him into a diversity of misfortunes, until finally she is reinstated and her innocence proven.

Katherine Macdonald plays the part of the innocent but notorious Miss Lisle exceedingly well, and this added to the very fine stage setting of the picture makes it truly worth while seeing. The stage isn't confused with a multiplicity of characters, and each one is splendidly adapted to his part. Throughout, the device of telling what happened on an occasion before the story opens by actually throwing it on the screen is used very successfully. And in the midst of the hero's perplexity as he endeavors to find out whether his young bride is guilty or not, brief scenes from the great divorce trial are thrown upon the screen.

Some very fine review pictures and an excellent comedy, added to a selection from the orchestra, complete this excellent program.

MURDER CHARGE FACING MARYBORO COUPLE ADJOURNED

Mrs. Beisel Allowed Renewal of Bail, But Col. Laughran Still Held.

GUELPH, Sept. 27.—The fall assizes of the supreme court opened this afternoon at the court house with Mr. Justice Orde of Toronto presiding. After the grand jury had brought in a true bill on the murder charge against Col. Laughran and Mrs. Nellie Beisel, the Maryboro Township couple who are alleged to have caused the death of the illegitimately born child of Mrs. Beisel, Crown Counsel Nicol Jeffry asked that the trial be postponed, as the crown was not ready to proceed. Justice Orde announced that the hearing would be left over until the spring assizes. Owing to ill-health, Mrs. Beisel was allowed out of jail some time ago and bail was renewed at $15,000. Laughran is still in custody.

$1,000 Damages Verdict.

The first case to be proceeded with was a charge of seduction, entered by James Hewitt of the township of Proton, against Roy Livingstone, in the township of Arthur, in which the plaintiff (Hewitt), claims $1,000 damages. The defendant abandoned any defence, while the plaintiff was represented by A. S. Clarke of Mount Forest. The jury was only out about five minutes and returned with a unanimous verdict, recommending the payment of $1,000 damages to the plaintiff.

URGING POLAND TO RE-ESTABLISH FRIENDLY DEALINGS WITH LITHUANIA

League of Nations Sending a Commission To Formulate a Solution.

PARIS, Sept. 27.—Leon Bourgeois, as president of the council of the League of Nations, sent a telegraphic message to Poland on Saturday urging Poland in her own interest to re-establish friendly relations with Lithuania and expressing surprise that Poland after accepting the good offices of the league had sent an ultimatum to Lithuania.

M. Bourgeois said he was urging Lithuania to arrange immediately with the soviets for the evacuation of all Lithuanian territory, and asked Poland to give Lithuania time to do this.

He also sent a telegram to both Poland and Lithuania that the council of commission, which would attempt to the League of Nations was sending a formulate a solution.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH VERDICT RETURNED BY CORONER'S JURY

INGERSOLL, Sept. 27.—That Tilford Ellis, Grand Trunk fireman, who died from injuries received at Patton's Siding, two miles west of here, midnight Thursday, was accidentally killed and that no blame was attached to anyone, was the verdict returned by the coroner's jury, before Dr. Williams. Three witnesses testified, Engineer Woodcock, Conductor Geo. Hand, and Dr. McDonald. The wash plug blew from the engine soon after the train on which Ellis was working, passed this town. This allowed the water and steam to escape. To make repairs it was necessary to remove the coals from the firebox. Ellis was in the act of going this, in a stooped position near the eastbound track. He evidently failed to hear the approach of the freight train and was struck, death ensuing from a fractured skull. The remains were sent to Powassan, Ont., where the funeral was held Sunday.

SINN FEIN PLOT FOUND IN LONDON; PRECAUTIONS TAKEN

Cabinet To Consider Question of Reprisals in Ireland.

BRIXTON JAIL GUARDED

Sir Neville Macready Not Concerned With Police or Black and Tans.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The British Government has reliable information of the existence of a Sinn Fein plot in London, according to the Daily Mail. The newspaper says steps have been taken to checkmate any efforts to disturb the peace. Large forces of police are on duty every night in the neighborhood of Brixton Prison, where Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney of Cork, Ireland, is being held.

The cabinet will meet during the week and will consider among other things the question of Irish reprisals, the Daily Mail continues. Evidence in connection with this situation, collected by the Irish executives, will be submitted. A military inquiry into the Balbriggan affair already has been instituted, and it will be followed by a civil and judicial investigation.

In official quarters it was pointed out with reference to the recent statement of Sir Neville Macready, chief of military command in Ireland, to the effect that "appeals cannot be restrained," that Gen. Macready as a general officer commanding in Ireland is not concerned either with the constabulary or the "Black and Tans."
