THE CLOSURE

So the Laurierites propose to fight do they?

Well so do the Conservatives and they intend to pass that navy proposal without going to the country.

Don't make any mistake about the In 1882 in the British House, Gladstone found it necessary to introduce a closure and this is how the incident is recorded in Bourinot's "Parliamentary procedure and practice".

"Several references have been made in previous parts of this chat to the standing orders which have been lately adopted by the House of Commons in England with a view of presenting systematic obstruction to public business and bringing the debates on questions within a reasonable compass.

When it became evident that there was a settled policy of obstruction in the House and that old rules were ineffective the Speaker felt constrained to depart from the line of conduct hitherto observed by the chair and to interpose on one occasion when a sitting had been continued for forty one hours and the house had been frequently occupied with heated discussions.

latory motions for adjournment supported only by small minorities in opposition to the general sense of the house. He felt compelled to say after some preliminary observations:

"The dignity, the credit, and authority of this House are seriously threatened and it is necessary they should be vindicated. Under the operation of the accretion rules and methods of procedure the legislative powers of the House are paralyzed. A new and exceptional course is imperatively demanded and I am satisfied that shall best carry out the will of the House and may rely upon its support, if I decline to call upon more members to speak and proceed at once to put the question from the chair. I feel assured the House will be prepared to exercise all its powers in relation to these proceedings. The future must for us spring solely from debate must lead to the judgment of the House; but I may add that it is necessary either for the House itself to assume more effective control over its debates, or to confer greater authority to the chair.

It is a plain duty for the House Government to adopt a like course. The only thing the Laurierites are hungry for is a chance to get by. They don't give a hang for the nominal end of the matter: its they're after.

AS PUT BY THE TIMES

The London Times, by consent, ranks as the greatest newspaper in the world—not in circulation, for many other papers surpass it in that—but in its absolute ness, its employment of highly-abled correspondents in the cap of the world, and in its probity view and not sensationalism. These remarks from that paper therefore entitled to great weight. But two consecutive would follow. In the first effective help which they desire tender to the empire would be delayed for some years. In the second place, the more rapidly succeeded the more certain would their success be gained the cost of our great shipping establishments here. THE CLOSURE

So the Laurierites propose to fight it?

Well so do the Conservatives and intend to pass that navy proposal without going to the country.

Don't make any mistake about that. In 1882 in the British House, Gladstone found it necessary to introduce there and this is how the incident proceeded in Bourinot's "Parliamentary procedure and practice".

Several references have been made in previous parts of this chapter to the standing orders which have been lately adopted by the House of Commons in England.

With reference to tariff reduction across the border it may be remarked that Brantford has had a bitter experience of Free Trade with regard to Binder Twine industry.

When it became evident that there was a settled policy of obstruction in the House and that the old rules were ineffective the Speaker felt constrained to depart from the line of conduct hitherto observed by the chair and to interpose on one occasion when a sitting had been continued for forty-one hours and the house had been frequently occupied with heated discussions dilatory motions for adjournment, supported only by small minorities in opposition to the general sense of the house.

The dignity, the credit, and the authority of this House are seriously threatened and it is necessary they should be vindicated. Under the operation of the accustomed rules and methods of procedure, the legislative powers of the House are paralyzed.

It is imperative that I should call upon my support to call upon any member who seeks and proposes at once to put the question from the chair. I feel assured that the House will be prepared to exercise all its powers in giving effect to these proceedings.

Future measures for ensuring orderly debate I must leave to the judgment of the House, but I may add that it will be necessary either for the House itself to assume more effective control over its debates, or to trust another authority to the chair.

It is a plain duty for the Borden Government to adopt a like course. The only thing the Laurierites are angry for is a chance to get back. They don't give a hang for the autonomy of the matter; its office ends after.

Paris News

Vestry Meeting of St. James—Other News of Town.

(From our own Correspondent.) PARIS, April 8.—The adjourned vestry meeting of St. James church was held last night when the wardens brought down their financial statement for the year ending March 31st.

It was the best statement in the history of the church and showed a cash balance of $280.88 after all current accounts had been paid. The A.Y.P.A. had paid off $500 on a note of $500, and the balance of that note will be paid this month, leaving the church proper free of debt.

The wardens were given full power to sell the church property consisting of the old rectory, the Yates house and the Mawson house. Some discussion followed as to whether the wardens should be given power to build a new rectory, as the money which will be derived from the sale of the old rectory must be used for that purpose.

The majority thought that the church was undertaking enough at the present time in building their parish hall, and the matter of a new rectory was left in abeyance.

The funeral took place yesterday of Mrs. R. B. White, who died in Hamilton last week. She was a resident of Paris some thirty years ago. Mr. White being at that time engaged in the boot and shoe business here.

A very pretty wedding took place on Saturday morning, when Miss Elizabeth Fletcher, late of Ilkesham, Derbyshire, England, was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur Gibbons, formerly of Bulwell, Nottingham, England, Rev. Father Cassidy officiating. The bride was becomingly attired in a suit of King's blue with picture hat, and carried bridal roses.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gibbons Milner was matron of honor, and the groom was attended by his twin brother, Mr. Alfred Gibbons. The young couple will reside on William street.

The concert recital given in the Methodist church last evening under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society, was very largely attended. Rev. Enos Baker, the Yorkshire nightingale, supplied the major part of the programme, singing in two voices, soprano and bass, and also giving several recitations. The receipts of the concert reached almost $125.

Excavating for the addition to the Paris post office has gone on apace during the past week, and the contractors are almost ready to start work on the foundations.

Mr. Spoor of Almonte was renewing old acquaintances in town yesterday.

Mr. Laughton has returned from Ottawa where he was in attendance at the funeral of his sister.

Mrs. J. R. Howard and children have returned to Toronto after a month's visit in Paris.

Van-Lane trophy. The secretary notified the meeting that Brantford and Paris had been entered in the Western Ontario Cricket League and that suitable dates had been arranged with one exception, and this obstacle he hoped to overcome.

It was decided that each club appoint its own scorers and submit their names to the executive.

It was decided that a new rule be drawn up to govern the city league championship as follows: A game won to count two points; any club not playing a scheduled game, the two points to go to the opposing team, a draw game to count one point to each team providing a ball has been bowled in said game; any game not played on account of bad weather the date for the replay to be arranged by the executive committee; any team not playing on the date appointed to default, provided however that any team finding it impossible to play any game, gives six days clear notice to the President, who will at once inform the opposing team and another date for this game will be arranged by the executive if possible, if not possible one point will then go to each team.

A general discussion of the Associations business then took place. The secretary read the financial statement, which, although the club were a little in debt, showed a fairly healthy state of affairs. Get In To-Day On Square Deal Contest

The "Square Deal" campaign of the Brantford Courier Company commenced to-day. It is the fairest proposition ever put before the people of any community.

Money for the Courier coffers is not the object, but an enlarged circulation is.

We want it to still further increase THE NUMBER of our readers and propose to do so.

To get more circulation always means expenditure, and instead of paying for skilled canvassers from the outside, or running some scheme in which there would be a FEW winners and MANY losers to get handed a large and juicy lemon, this paper has devised a plan whereby nobody CAN GET STUNG.

It was felt by the management that the man or woman, boy or girl should at once receive a liberal CASH PAYMENT for each subscription brought in.

On top of that there are valuable prizes worth OVER $400 for those who lead in various departments.

Isn't the whole thing a perfectly fair deal? Now then for a little "shop".

The Courier Company, which took hold of the plant on January 1st last, has since spent MANY THOUSANDS of dollars in bringing the equipment and local, leased wire, sporting and personal services right up to date.

The editorial and news staff now consists of six people. The office staff has been greatly strengthened.

The same thing is true of the linotype machine department, the ad-setting department, the newsboy department, and all the rest of it. No newspaper office in Canada is better equipped RIGHT NOW than this.

New features introduced have been a Society department, a special sporting page, and so on.

Pick up the paper ANY AFTERNOON you like, and you will readily see that you are getting big—yes, very big—value for your money, and that it is no idle boast for this paper to assert that it is "SUPREME IN EVERYTHING."

The outlay has been very heavy, and the payment for help has MORE THAN DOUBLED, but it was determined not to stop until the paper secured a foremost position.

This, it is now admitted on all hands, has been accomplished. The Courier has always fought for what it deemed to be in the INTERESTS OF THE PUBLIC—for "WASSAWOCK" has been municipally owned, for telephone competition, for Hydro-Electric power, and many other things calculated to benefit the people.

The public now has the chance to RETURN THE COMPLIMENT and to show their appreciation by a friendly reception of those who may canvass them.

TURN ABOUT IS FAIR PLAY. GIVE A HAND.

CRICKETERS ENTHUSIASTIC

Splendid Meeting Was Held Last Evening in the Council Chamber.

The Brantford Cricket Association held their annual meeting in the council chamber last evening, a great crowd of the supporters of the willow being present. Mr. T. Chamberlain acted as chairman, and a very efficient chairman he made; Mr. J. F. Van-Lane acted as secretary in his usual able manner.

Among those present were noticed Messrs. W. H. Walsh, George Whitwill, John Hill, E. W. Derbyshire, W. England, L. E. Drake, and J. Y. Thomson (the last three representing Paris). J. Frost, Charles C. Bowden, A. Bland, H. Whitton, E. J. Richards, H. Linney, J. Richardson, W. West, C. W. F. Rowle, H. S. Leach, J. Usher, S. Usher, A. Houghting, T. Chamberlain, J. F. Van-Lane, J. F. Bryden, R. W. Edwards.

The chairman, in opening the meeting expressed his pleasure at being present at this 27th annual Brantford cricket meeting that he had attended, and expressed his prophesy that the coming season would, judging by the enthusiasm shown, be one of the most successful that Brantford had ever seen, and he hoped that the city league cup, which was won last season by Paris, would find its way back to Brantford at the end of the season. He complimented the Paris players on the splendid form they had shown last season in winning the cup from Brantford.

The secretary read the financial statement, which, although the club were a little in debt, showed a fairly healthy state of affairs. Steps will be made at once to wipe out the deficit and to provide funds for the coming season. The chairman then threw the meeting open for nominations for the city league. The Old Favorite.
There has never been so lavish and adequate a production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" as that which Kibble and Martin will offer amusement lovers at the Grand, Friday, April 11, matinee and night. The scenes are large enough to fill the most spacious stage could no teasily be improved. Those representing the Ohio River in winter, the rocky pass in which Geo. Harris protects his family, the St. Clair plantation, the levee at New Orleans, the cotton fields in full bloom, and the "Celestial City" are all most notable effects. Each picture the reality as closely as paint and canvass will permit and the stage perspective is so deep that the effect is exceptionally pleasing. The company is also worthy of the environment. Gus Collins, the eminent minstrel star, offers an excellent study of Uncle Tom.

Ben Fink, who has confessed to being the official firebug of the Chicago "Arson Trust." He admits having started hundreds of fires, destroying property worth millions of dollars.

Verdict At Inquest

helped to take him into the house, and that the deceased said in the backing of the car it ran over his other leg.

In response to a question from Mr. Brewster as to whether the car was equipped with proper air brakes, witness stated he could not say.

The Motorman's Story

Jas. Steele, the motorman, was next called. He stated he was a motorman on the work car on the night of the accident, and with him there was some workmen and a conductor. On the night of the accident he was going down to Alfred street to take the workmen home. Witness stated he was travelling about six miles an hour, and was within twelve feet of the rig when the horse reared and threw the occupants out. He saw Mr. Pitcher thrown out and apparently roll clear of the car, but then he felt his front wheel mount something and did not go down, and then Mr. Bunnell came and said back up, and he backed up about a foot.

Steele said the car had two fenders on. He also stated he had been driving the car for nearly a year and the curtains had been on during the winter; witness stated he had never seen any horse run away or even heard of one running away from the running of the work car. There were no air brakes on any of the summer cars.

"How high is the fender from the ground?" asked the Coroner.

Witness stated he thought the fender was about eight inches above the rail. There was no drop appliance, stated the motorman.
Mr. Brewster asked if the curtains had been changed since the accident.

"No, sir," said the witness, "they cannot be changed."
"If you had first stopped the car when you first saw the horse frightened, the accident might not have happened?" asked Mr. Brewster.

"I couldn't say," stated the witness. Mr. Steele said he thought the horse was going down Palace street. He always ran the car upon series and when running on series would not travel over eight miles an hour.

Mr. Seago saw the occupants thrown out and saw Mr. Pitcher, thrown out and roll over, and the car ran over his legs. The car was underneath, and it was shielded to a certain extent. Witness called to the motorman to back up, and he

Other Witnesses

George Hands, freight clerk at the T. H. & B. was called, and said he was with the former witness and saw the horse swerve to the right and then suddenly to the left, and throw the occupants out, and he saw the deceased was pinned underneath the car, and the car was backed up and witness helped to carry deceased into the house.

Mr. J. P. Verner, Supt. of the Grand Valley, stated this car was equipped with cow-catcher and not a fender. He, however, stated the witnesses were right down on the rail. The Grand Valley cars are the only cars equipped with air brakes. Witness stated the motorman was one of the most careful men on the job. When asked by Mr. Brewster as to whether he knew whether the law required all cars to be equipped with air brakes, he said he didn't think so, but he wasn't sure.

A. E. K. Bunnell, an engineer, said he examined the car and found the cow-catcher was between thirteen and fourteen inches from the rail. The car was about forty-two feet in length and equipped with a hand brake. Witness said he didn't think the car was properly equipped, because the fender was not of a proper height to be of any good. Witness read sections from railway requirements, which went to show that this car should have been equipped with air brakes. The law requires all cars over 37 feet in length to use air brakes.

Dr. Ashton, in addressing the jurors, said that after having seen the deceased on the night of the accident, the evidence bore out his opinion of the case. He died of shock. "Shock is something which is used to cover something in medicine we do not understand; the only way we can overcome it by stimulants; if this fall, the patient dies from shock, and this was the cause of death."

The following jurors were empanelled by Coroner E. C. Ashton: Foreman, T. E. Ryerson; Alex. Richardson, Reginald Butterworth, H. J. Conway, D. Searle, Edward James, Charles Ludlow, John D. Hall.

Mr. Brewster, M.P., appeared in the interests of the family. Mr. Chisholm, receiver of the Grand Valley, appeared in the interests of the railway. Mr. A. J. Wilkes, K.C., acted for the Crown.

Fine Time

Was Held at Wellington Street Church Last Evening.

The Wellington Street Methodist Church held their anniversary concert last evening in the church, at which every available seat was occupied. A very entertaining program was put on by members of the school and church. The first part of the program was given over principally to the young members of the school, many of whom proved themselves quite talented.

The second part of the program was a decided success and very much appreciated by all. This part was taken up with the "Arch of Fame," under the able direction of Mr. Geo. N. Crooker. The "Arch of Fame" took the form of a tableau, in which many of the young men of the school took part. The role of Universal King was taken by Robert McClintic, Russia was represented by N. Cunningham, the United States by R. Limburg, India by Fred Cole, Germany by Jas. Courtnage, Italy by Albert Sargent, France by Caleb Rose, Japan by J. Strong, Austria by Jos. Daniel, Great Britain by Carl Connor, Canada by Mrs. (Dr.) Norris, Christianity by Mrs. Fred Mcintosh. The solo parts were taken by Misses Mabel Limburg and Corinne Chave and Messrs. Elgin Hyde and Geo. Crooker; recitations, Miss Lulu Hainer, Miss May Buskard, Miss Maud Standing, Mr. Harry Wallace.

One of the surprising and pleasant features of the evening was the presentation of a fine new Gerhard Heintzman piano by an unknown friend of the Sunday school. This friend, who does not wish his name mentioned, is known only to his name in the congregation, but it is said that he lives in Toronto. It was certainly a delightful surprise and very much appreciated by the officers of the school.

The scholars winning prizes as perfect pupils for the year were Helen Wiles, Edith Beech, Nema Wiles, Rae Waterson, Caleb Rose, Harry Wallis, Elgin Hyde, Donald Coyne and Gertrude Vanstone.

Dyspepsia
By HOWARD L. RANN

DYSPEPSIA is a periodical uprising of the digestive apparatus, which is succeeded by a lively sense of remorse and a determination to Fletcherize everything on the menu, from oysters to ice cream. It is caused by the food running into a sharp pain and calling loudly for help, and is harder to cure than the habit of tipping up the soup bowl.

The two things which give the medical profession more trouble than anything else are dyspepsia and bad bills. Very few doctors are able to recognize dyspepsia at the first glance, but are just as liable as not to prescribe for dislocation of the hip. When a man who is entertaining a sad-eyed attack of dyspepsia goes to his family physician and is treated a few times for water on the knee cap, without securing any practical results except a statement made out on four sheets of foolscap paper, he will lose faith in medicine and allow the osteopath to play a few lively tunes on his spine.

Dyspepsia is generally preceded by a premonition that something is about to occur that cannot be relieved by anything except slow starvation. A man will go along for years eating mayonnaise salads, prime ribs of beef au jus, hot biscuit and superimposed pancakes, in a trifling, care-free manner, when all of a sudden he will pause in the middle of an apple dumpling and exchange words with a new kind of pain. This is the first stage of dyspepsia, and is always succeeded by a milk and egg diet or the genial influences of the mud bath.

Whenever a physician locates a case of dyspepsia he advocates a change of climate and advises the patient to eat nothing that tastes like food. Dyspepsia has a very enervating effect upon the appetite, and will reduce it to the point where it can't flirt with anything but the malted milk tablet. It is a disheartening sight to see a well-bred, shouldered captain of industry leading his appetite up to a cupful of bouillon and two soda crackers, just prior to going out and applying the screws to the ultimate consumer, but this is a form of retribution which nobody should complain about.

DUFFERIN'S FINE PARADE
Regiment Last Night Under Col. Howard Was 390 Strong.

Women Lost in Michigan

Result of Elections Held Yesterday—Detroit Votes for Public Ownership.

The Dufferin Rifles had a splendid turnout at parade last night and though they did not come up to expectations of the Colonel, who requested 400 out, they came within ten of it, and marched out 390 strong.

The showing was considered excellent on all sides and the regiment presented a thoroughly efficient and soldierly appearance.

The recruit class under instruction of Sergt-Major Oxtoby showed marked improvement, and the showing of the raw material was noticeable and it is due to the patient and consistent efforts of the Sergeant-Major that the class has in such a short time been advanced to the state of proficiency that it has reached.

The March Out.

The soldiers were given a real good march last night and all things being considered the honors must go to the signallers under command of Capt. Dunlop for the excellent showing they made while on parade.

This small corps showed marked improvement on the march and were complimented on all sides for their fine appearance and smartness.

The brass and bugle bands both played well.

The parade muster was as follows: Field Officer and staff, 6; Band, Buglers and Pioneers 69; A Company 58; B Company 40; C Company 26; D Company 23; E Company 31; F Company 35; G Company 18; H Company 30; staff Sergeants, 5; Signallers 23; Stretcher 8; Recruits 18. Total 390.

GRACE CHURCH IS PROSPEROUS

Splendid Year Was Reported At the Annual Vestry Meeting Last Night.

The Annual Meeting of the Vestry of Grace Church was held in the Sunday School Room last evening. The Rector of the Parish, Archdeacon Mackenzie being in the chair, and Mr. Hately acting as Secretary.

After the reading of the minutes, the Secretary read the report of the Select Vestry, the report including the Financial Statement for the past year and the estimates of revenue and expenditures for the ensuing year. The receipts for the expenses of the Church for the year amounted to $6508.14 of which $924.07 was derived from the offertory and $5584.07 from envelope subscriptions. The amount received for Missions and other special objects was $2871.28, making the total receipts for all purposes $9779.37. The total payments amounted to $9644.36, being $6382.11 for the ordinary expenses of the Church and $3262.25 for Missions and special objects. The estimate for the expenditures for the ensuing year was $9500.00 to be covered by envelope subscriptions and other voluntary offerings.

The Special Committee re Improvement to the Church Buildings was continued and all questions of extraordinary expenditures were ordered to be referred to this Committee. The report expressed the appreciation of the work of the A. Y. P. A. and its thanks for their donation to the Rector and Wardens for the use of the Church of a beautiful fine toned piano. The report also referred to the large bill on the Lectern of the Church, used for the reading of the Scriptural lessons at the services and to the large book of Common Prayer. These books were the gift of the ladies of the church in the year 1850 and therefore have a great historical value. The Bible has been rebound and otherwise renovated by Mr. E. D. Hendwood, whose good work is greatly appreciated by the congregation.

The report referred to the musical services of the church to the proposal before the synod to admit women as members of the Vestry, also to the organization of a Choir Festival. The Director of the choir is arranging to have the church service rendered by the combined choirs of the Anglican churches of the city on the evening of May the 1st. This day is most appropriate for such a festival, it being the Anniversary of the dedication of the Church besides being one of the great festival days, ranking with Christmas, Easter and Whit Sunday in its importance in the Christian year.

The Officers.

At the vestry meeting held last evening the financial statement of the warden of St. Jude's church for the year ending March 31st and the statements of the various organizations of the church were received and showed the church to be in a flourishing condition. The total receipts for all purposes including missions were $3,710.00. The church warden's statement showed receipts of $2,777.54, and expenditure of $2,613.13, leaving a balance on hand of $104.41.

It was decided to introduce the Duplex envelope system of raising funds for current revenue and for missions and the following committee was appointed to assist the warden in the parish: Dr. Lundy, S. Smyth, J. Broadbent, J. Spence, W. E. Foster, W. Whitwill, G. Blott, H. Noble, C. House, W. Seace and Mr. McLeod.

A business and finance committee was appointed to assist the warden consisting of the following: W. Seace, C. House, E. Hunt, N. W. Andrews, E. E. C. Kilmer and J. H. Spence.

Closure Is Coming Premier Borden's Announcement in House

(Continued on Page 7) upon the bill to increase the effective naval forces of the Empire, Right Hon. R. L. Borden today suggested to the House that the time had come to fix a date for the termination of the discussion of the measure in committee and for its third reading.

In response to the proposal Sir Wilfrid Laurier immediately announced definitely his adherence to the cause of those who have sought to halt the desire of the government to make a practical, prompt and substantial contribution to the defence of the Empire at this time in accordance with the plan favored by the British Admiralty. The leader of the Opposition readily assumed the role of "little Britain," and while briefly protesting his anxiety for the welfare of the Empire, laid great stress upon a plea for the establishment of an "autonomistic" as distinguished from an Imperialistic naval service.

"Everybody recognizes," he said "that from the point of view of naval strategy a central navy might be best; but there is the larger strategy of developing national sentiment."

He caused some laughter by his solemn affirmation that the speeches made by Liberal members during the two weeks of obstructive tactics were interesting and illuminating, and that during that period the standard of debate was equal to that in the British Parliament.

The Prime Minister pointed out that the Government had no desire to restrict debate. "Debate for the purpose of enabling the people to understand the attitudes of the two parties," he said, "is one thing; indefinite delay for the purpose of either defeating the bill altogether or bringing about a dissolution is another thing."

Mr. Borden pointed out a fact that is persistently ignored by opponents of the Government's policy, namely that the government is not adopting a permanent plan of periodical contributions. He also indicated that the three Dreadnoughts to be added to the British fleets would not be ready for sea until after the general election. They were placed at the disposal of the Admiralty subject to recall, and if the Opposition was as successful at the next appeal to the electorate as it affected to hope, they could be utilized as a nucleus of a Canadian service.

The Prime Minister said that the government was acting in accordance with the specific statement of the Admiralty and commented upon the evidence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier that Canada might be in a position to remain neutral in other words, disassociate herself with the Mother Country and the other dominions, in case the Empire should become embroiled in war.

Hon. Robert Rogers spoke briefly during the evening debate, declaring that the Naval Bill had become law despite the disappreciated objections of the Liberal leadership.

discussion that was deemed advisable or necessary. Under the circumstances this was only a reasonable request.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier in reply said that the request was entitled to a fair and unequivocal answer from the Opposition. He did not agree that the bill had occupied more time than any other measure introduced by the Government. He rather believed that reciprocity resolution was introduced, parliament devoted more time to it than had been given to the present bill. That resolution was introduced on Jan. 26, and on July 29 it was still pending.

Would Refer to People. Sir Wilfrid said he had not found fault with the attitude taken by the Opposition at that time. He would be frank about the present position. It had been charged that the Liberal attitude was obstructive. Whether called obstruction or not, the thing was not altogether unknown to Parliament. He quoted Sir Erskine May.

Upon the last occasion on which obstruction had occurred he had declared that the best solution was to refer the matter to the people. "The present hour and the present day," he said, "are not suited to solemnity. If we pass this bill we are perhaps interrupting or putting an end to the spirit of self-confidence which has made this country what it is. We are turning a new page in the struggle between centralization and expansion."

Sir Wilfrid said that Sir John Macdonald's idea had been to make Canada an auxiliary kingdom of Great Britain, but that it had never entered into his mind that Canada should pay contributions either to the army or the navy of Britain. The question of defense he considered had to be considered from the point of view of what was owing to Canada, and what was owing to Britain. The leader of the Opposition affirmed that in 1909 Parliament had declared that the best way for Canada to discharge her obligations to the Empire was to organize a Canadian navy. The decision embodied in the resolution of March 29, 1909, had been set aside by the present Government. Sir Wilfrid declined to believe that the grant of $15,000,000 was an emergency contribution, saying that the belief that an emergency existed had disappeared like mist before the morning sun. He caused some laughter by his effort to show from the speeches of Winston Churchill that Britain desired no aid from Canada. Then he went on to argue that since Britain was compelled from considerations of strategy to concentrate her forces in European waters Canada should organize a fleet of her own.

An "Autonomistic" Service. The German naval law," he said, gave every reason why Canada should organize an "autonomistic" naval service. He complained that under the Government's plan Canada's ships would not be stationed in Canadian waters, but at Gibraltar. He alleged that the Ministry had abandoned the idea of creating an "autonomistic" navy, and expressed the belief that it contemplated a policy of periodical contributions to the Imperial confederation. It was because the Opposition believed the Government was embarking upon a permanent policy that it asked that the people be allowed to pronounce upon the question. The Opposition leader admitted that Mr. Churchill had favored a contribution to the Imperial forces at the present time.

The Admiralty, he said, had always preferred Imperial organization to autonomous organization. "Everybody recognizes," he continued, "that from the point of view of naval strategy a central navy might be best. But there is the larger strategy of developing national sentiment." He read a number of newspaper clippings and then asserted: "Our Word is national organization and development."

Sir Wilfrid thought that ample consideration should be given to the question whether or not Canada should have a voice in the matter now agitating the diplomats of Europe. Did she wish to have a voice in deciding whether or not little Monte Negro, after fighting the Turks, should have the fruits of the struggle? In his opinion the British Ministers would not share their responsibility, even if a Canadian Minister participated in the deliberations of the Imperial Defence committee. If they did Canada would have to share the burden of Britain's heavy naval burden. He did not say that there should not be a system of Imperial federation, but he thought the time had not yet come. Imperial federation should come only when the Canadian people were ready to surrender their fiscal independence and allow another body to frame their tariff for them.

Sir Wilfrid warmly praised the speeches of his followers during the two weeks of obstruction, saying that the standard of debate had not been excelled in the British Parliament. (Laughter.) As to the suggestion that a time should be fixed for the termination of the discussion in committee, he said: "Let us go on until we know more of this subject than we know at the present time."

Much Light Already Shed. Right Hon. R. L. Borden said at the outset that he had no fault to find with the statement of Sir Wilfrid from the latter's own standpoint, but would like to remind him that if the prolonged discussion to which he had alluded deserved all the compliments which had been passed upon it, one would be inclined to think that about all the right hon. gentlemen could shed upon the subject had already illuminated it.

"My right hon. friend," added Mr. Borden, "has not seen fit to give me any direct answer, and I can only assume that his answer really means, although couched in diplomatic language, that we are to be subjected to the same indefinite delays which we have met with in endeavoring to make progress with this bill in the past."

"The right hon. gentleman has reiterated over and over again that this is a policy of permanent contribution. I desire, speaking upon my responsibility as a member of this Government, to take the strongest possible exception to that. I say, in the first place, that it is not a policy of contribution at all; and I say, in the second place, that it is not a permanent policy. That was stated on the 5th day of December last, I have stated it on more than one occasion since, and I state it again to-day in the strongest form of expression that Parliamentary usage will permit."

"What is the proposal before the House to-day? The proposal is that $35,000,000 shall be expended for the purpose of building battleships of the most modern and powerful type, that these ships shall be owned by the people of Canada, but that they shall be placed at the disposal of His Majesty the King for the common defence of this Empire. That is the proposal, and that all the Opposition is absolutely right in their protest that the Parliament of Canada up to the present time.

Autonomy Not Imperilled. "The right hon. gentleman declared that he is unalterably opposed to any policy of that kind. Why is he opposed to it? He already knows from my statement, and from the correspondence brought down to me, that I should hereafter be the will of the Canadian people to establish upon a permanent basis a great naval organization, the ships can be recalled upon reasonable notice whenever the people of Canada shall desire and determine that they are absolutely ready to do so. There is absolutely no question about that, and by right hon. friend knows it. Then, in what respect is that 'autonomy' (a word that is always in the mouth of my right hon. friend), which I am prepared to maintain as thoroughly as any man in this House, in the slightest degree imperilled? Are not the people of Canada masters of their own destiny in that and very other respect even if this bill is enacted by Parliament and receives the assent of the Crown?"

Proceeding Mr. Borden pointed out that the policy of building three great battleships, and disposing of them as indicated, was altogether in conformity with the resolution passed by the House in 1909. In the resolution introduced by Sir Wilfrid it was stated that "payment of any stated contribution to the Imperial Treasury for naval and military defence would not be a satisfactory solution to the question of defence." At that time Mr. Borden had pointed out that the Premier had developed at any time, and that the very best and wisest course for Canada then to pursue would be to make a contribution.

Accordingly, Sir Wilfrid had modified his resolution to read "payment of regular and periodical contributions." Clause two of the resolution approved of any expenditure destined to promote the "speedy organization of a Canadian naval service," in cooperation with and in close relation to the Imperial Defence committee. The lines suggested by the Admiralty in 1907 were that the Admiralty should "hold the command of the naval forces of the Empire, and arrange the distribution of ships in the best possible manner to resist attack and to defend the Empire at large, whether it be our own islands or the dominions beyond the sea."

Had Himself Agreed. As for Sir Wilfrid's concern about the representation of Canada on the Imperial Defence Committee, the right hon. gentleman had himself agreed that Canada should be thus represented, and even agreed to establish a defence committee in Canada in close relation with the Imperial Committee, although he refrained from saying anything about it upon his return to this country. "Apparently he says now," continued Mr. Borden, "that we should not be represented on the Imperial Defence Committee; that it should not have any voice or part in the council of the Empire. He gives no reason. In order that Canada may remain neutral in time of war. He told us distinctly in 1910 that in certain wars, the character of which he described.

Football

In the friendly game played at Me-hawk Park on Saturday afternoon between the Cocksbutt United and All Scots, both teams made a trial of several new aspirants to football fame, and many of the new bloods gave promise of figuring in the coming season.

Owing to the boisterous nature of the weather an exhibition of good football was out of the question and it would be unfair to criticize any individual player. On the whole, a very interesting game was brought to a finish in favor of the Cocksbutt to a final score of 10 to 0.

The evil habit of going too long without food is one from which many people suffer at this present age. Men sit in their offices, women rush about in their respective interests that the period of hunger is allowed to pass, and that of fatigue and depression to set in. The worst feature of such cases is, that once the second stage is reached, the desire for food is gone; and after this treatment of Her residence all the year round is a small flat in Versailles, where the domestic staff consists of one servant who is assisted in the work by her mistress.

A new occupation for women is the arrangement of window boxes and balconies in flats, which are filled with flowering trees, plants and creepers. The arrangement requires much taste and is a somewhat long job, as great care must be taken in securing the pots. Another branch is the care of plants kept in the house, which is quite an art in itself, and which, with table decoration is another line which women, attached to florists, or nurseries, may adopt with advantage.

A great many years doctor pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, but by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has now discovered a constitutional cure on the market. This cure is known as "The Cure for Chagrin" and is the only Constitutional cure on the market. We all desire approval, and hope that when we die our premature removal will cause a public sigh; and while on earth we linger, we hope that dames and gents will at us point the finger of pride and confidence. And so, to gain endorsement, we try all kinds of tricks; some strive for law enforcement, some enter politics; some try to heal diseases by making purple pills, some deal in moral wheezes, and others pay their bills. Some cultivate politeness, or wear a manner great; some have an airy brightness that ought to captivate. Some hand out eloquence, the verbal flight that thrills; some plug for revolution, and others pay their bills. Some dress in gorgeous raiment, with bonnets rich and glad, while tailors shriek for payment, and milliners go mad. In one way or another we always strive to gain the plaudits of our brother while we on earth remain. One method is a winner; with happiness it fills the breast of saint or sinner—the paying up of bills. There is no plan that's better, no method that's more fit, because the chronic debtor can't hope to make a hit.

Al Shaw To Be The Lead-Off For The Toronto Ball Team

Bill O'Hara Has Been Batting Consistently in the South Leafs to Start the Season With Two Seasoned Catchers—Bisons are Strong in Batting.

NORTHERN ONLY NEW MAN ON TORONTO TEAM

By W. A. Hewitt. Pitcher Brant made a satisfactory debut with Toronto. Bill O'Hara has been batting consistently in the south. The Leafs will start the season with two seasoned catchers. The Buffalo team promises to be strong in batting. If the Bison pitchers stand up, they will be hard to beat. Rochester will miss Outfielder Barrow in his speed and hitting. President McCaffery says the Leafs are in excellent shape. Morning practices on the way north will break the monotony of the Leaf life this season. Al Shaw will be the lead-off man for the Leafs this season. With Holly back in the game the side change on last year's champion team will be in the right field, Northern replacing Meyer and Dalton.

Pitcher Wheatley. Pitcher Charles Wheatley has been moved over to the Providence team by Detroit. Newark News: Outfielder Jack Dalton of the Indians, arrived in this city late yesterday from Savannah in response to a message that his wife was seriously ill. He reports that the Newark team is in great shape and that Marty Kavanaugh, the "Harrison Phenom" is likely to become the Indians' regular second sacker. SPORTING COMMENT

A Honolulu paper announces a game arranged between the Twenty-fifth infantry baseball team, which was recently in Spokane at Fort Wright, and an all-Chinese team captained by Sammy Hop. A Frenchman named Le Mere is slated to umpire this Yankee contest between the dark and yellow. The Hawaiian sporting writer announces the Chinese line-up in the following fashion. Sammy Hop, second base; Bum Wing, pitcher; Wu Run, left field; Hop Hed, short stop; Hit Long, first base; Hi Fly, right field; Low Hitt, centre field; So Kum, catcher; Sam Bing, second base.

Baseball appears to have worked itself into the family designations of the erstwhile heathen Chinese. Dr. James L. Hughes, Chief Inspector of Schools, Toronto, received an interesting letter recently from Macon, Georgia, from a boy in the senior class at one of the schools there. The boy asked as to the manufactures of Toronto, and the farming products of the environs of Toronto. The boy stated that he had seen the Toronto baseball team play with Mercer College and that they won, and that they were "some baseball team." "I have also seen Kelly Trout, O'Hara and Rudolph play." Evidently the boy thinks that a team hailing from a place that can heat Mercer must be of great importance, so far as manufactures and its situation are concerned.

Tutela Club. The Tutela Club is meeting tonight at 143 Eagle Ave to transact important business. Members are requested to be present at 8.30 p.m. The Dragons. The 25th Brant Dragon Club under the management of Bert Garrow had a splendid practice, last night at Agricultural Park. The Dragons have a formidable team getting ready. A Practice Game. Holmedale and St. Andrews had a practice game on Saturday. The game started at 6 o'clock. Mr. A. Speechley acted as referee. The Holmedale team made a good showing, the forwards being quick on their feet, the left wing especially; Archer putting some fine centres in. Scalton should make a fine inside man, with Archer if they practice together. Hart played a good game only he touched a good outside man so take his touches. Hoyle as usual played his old game. Fans are looking forward to a good game on Saturday with St. Andrews, the Holmedale team will be at full strength and it is hoped that St. Andrews will be the same to make it a good game. It is hoped that every player who is signed on for the club will turn out for practice as often as he can. Harner and Ethelridge were slow through short of practice but the trainer has taken players in hand and if there is any playing in them, he will bring it out.

Canadian League

(Ottawa Free Press) Four weeks from Wednesday the curtain is hoisted on the Canadian League season. Fans are getting more definite matter as the opening draws near, and the respective strength of the various clubs. As is only natural in minor league baseball, the dope is not nearly so dependable as the majors. Much new and untried material breaks into the minor leagues to replace those who have gone up or been turned loose. However, it will be noticed from daily reports throughout the Canadian circuit, the clubs have retained the pick of last year's men and supplanted the mediocre players with new men. This is prima facie evidence the league will be stronger and faster from every point of view. There is one department however, where the dope is dependable, and that is the battery end of the clubs. As Johnny McGraw remarks, the pitcher is 60 per cent of the team. Most of the clubs in the Fitzgerald alliance have their staff of gunners completed. (Continued on Page 10)

More Light is Shed on Terrors of the Toe Hold

Compared With Pain of It, a Fat Man on Your Favorite Bunion Is Pleasant Caress; It Also Covers Multitude of Suspicious Circumstances.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—Another Russian strong man has wilted under the fervor of the Gotch toe hold. Some time ago it was George Hackenschmidt who raised himself on his elbow from a Chicago wrestling mat and urged the Tolan in the name of humanity not to exert full pressure on a suffering pedal digit. This time it was George Lutich, who for some months has ached for a chance to wipe out the indignities thrust upon Hack. Gotch and Lutich had it out on the carpet at Kansas City and Lutich's shoulders kissed the mat twice. The report of the proceedings says "the fatal toe twist did much to undermine the confidence of the Russian. When he began to feel the pressure an expression of agony appeared on his face and he was forced to rest both shoulders on the mat. That was the way the first fall was gained. In the next Gotch did not have to bring his prehensile fingers into play in the manner described. A man who elects to be thrown twice by the toe hold in one night is a glutton, and Lutich's appetite for suffering is apparently normal. An awful thing this toe hold. Had

Billy Britt, Ketchel's Manager, Forced Him Into Unequal Bout With Champion Jack Johnson

On the afternoon of October 16, 1909, Jack Johnson knocked out Stanley Ketchel in the twelfth round, the unequal match occurring in the old Colma (Cal.) arena. In the eleventh round the big black heavyweight champion took a light blow on the left side of the neck, flopped to the canvas and got up rubbing his right cheek. The "knock-down" brought a great crowd to its feet but Johnson only smiled and in the next round beat poor Ketchel to the floor, where he lay in a heap. The sensational finish was expected to make the moving pictures of unlimited value, but on "the morning after" the San Francisco critics picked the affair to small bits of ridicule. Charges of "fake" were made, but never proved. And now, more than three years after the encounter, the truth becomes known. Ketchel was the world's middleweight champion and a public idol at the time. He was given the usual reception of wild shouts, shrieks and hand clapping when he climbed between the ropes, but immediately sank into his chair, where he broke into tears as his gloves were being adjusted. Stanley Ketchel and Billy Britt, who was his manager, are both dead, and therefore a prominent sporting man of New York to whom Britt confided the truth of that bout tells it. "Ketchel broke down because he had paraded the pine aisle to certain defeat, while Britt followed, threatening the champion with death if he didn't go through with the fight. "Britt, the brainiest, most cunning and resourceful man that ever handled a fighter, was alone responsible for the situation. He, himself, explained it to me not long afterwards. "Britt figured that by matching the (Continued on Page 10)

The fourth pitcher will be chosen from three men of unknown ability. If they fail to come up to the mark, there is still Fort's Wayne's surplus and one optional agreement is written from a National league club to fall back on. The Senators can therefore be reckoned to have the best pitcher in the league in Renfer and three experiments.

Brantford looks well fortified on the mound with Donovan and Coose, both high-class right handers who are young and will show better this season. The remainder of the staff are unknown quantities. Donovan won 15 and lost 6 last year. Reardon, one of Ottawa's stumbling blocks will be back.

Guelph has big Germany Schaeffer, a good one when going right, and he always went right when opposed to Ottawa, being he beat the Champs every time he opposed them. They also have Dave Behan and Ruben Schuyler, the latter an in and outer whose work depends greatly on how well his men are playing behind him. Louie Cook can be counted upon to have two or three more who will be up to the mark.

London's chucksers fail to shape up on paper. Manager Deneau, however, knows the value of pitchers to a ball club, and he is sure to get some out of his present crop worth while. They have lost Hayes, their one best bet.

Jo Jo Keenan at Berlin looks to have one of the best batches of fingers in the league. With Fred Bramble and Bradshaw to start with, the veteran leader has three experienced men who are likely to go out and hold any team. Bramble is one of the really good pitchers in the league.

TWO THOUSAND ARE ON GUARD IN BUFFALO

Mayor Refused to Call Out Troops, and Order was Made by Supreme Court --- Efforts to Settle Strike Fail.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

BUFFALO, April 9.—Two thousand members of the Fourth Brigade of the National Guard, summoned to strike duty on an order from the Supreme Court to put down the disorders arising from the strike of motormen and conductors of the International Railway Company were quartered in the armories here at day break. An additional 1,000 men forming the Third Regiment of the brigade with headquarters at Rochester and separate companies at Syracuse, Elmira and other western New York cities, were brought to Buffalo. Brigadier General Welsh decided to keep the guard in the armories till the local regiments had assembled and as a result officials of the International Railway made no effort to move a car on any line in the city in the early hours of the day. With street traffic entirely suspended, thousands of people walked to work or reached the downtown section by means of meagre facilities, offered by motormen and other improvised methods of transportation.

The appeal of the Supreme Court for an order for military protection was made by the railway officials after frequent demands on Mayor Furhmann and the Sheriff for such an order had been refused. The mayor maintained that the situation had not reached the acute stage that made the presence of troops necessary. Before issuing the order Justice Brown conferred with the Mayor and Chief of Police Regan by telephone. The Mayor insisted that in his opinion there was no call for the troops, but Chief Regan admitted that the situation was getting beyond his force of 300 men, who had been on duty a most continuously since the strike was declared on Sunday morning.

Wm. B. Fitzgerald, a member of the executive committee of the amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, who has been the directing spirit of the strike up to this time, to-day sent a protest to Governor Sulzer against the ordering out of troops. Mayor Furhmann's efforts to bring about a conference between a committee of the strikers and the railway officials have thus far proved futile. A series of rapid explosions around the city and in the Tonawandas early this morning and the rumor spread that one of the International Railway trestles on the Niagara Falls line had been blown up. Men sent over the line for a distance of five miles north to the tracks or bridges, and no explanation of the mysterious explosion has been secured. The first details of soldiers were sent out from the armories at eight o'clock. Squads patrolled every block.
