

Railway Changes.

The public will be pleased to know that the present unsettled state of affairs on the Intercolonial is at an end.

The family ticket will be restored at a reduction of one third. Season tickets will continue as usual. Clergymen's return tickets are restored also.

The meeting of manufacturers of the Dominion met at Hamilton, Ont., on the 13th inst., to consider in what way the proposed Reciprocity Treaty would affect their interests.

The office of Division Superintendent to be abolished. Mr. Busby of the Eastern Division, and Mr. Letterell to become Assistant Superintendent and, as such, to look after the running of trains, with train dispatchers, as heretofore, at Truro and Moncton.

Mr. Taylor, Asst. Supt. and General Freight Agent, has resigned. Mr. E. T. Trites becomes Paymaster in place of Mr. McCann, who resigned some time ago.

Mr. James W. Wallace, Assistant Auditor, is appointed Travelling Auditor.

Mr. Pottinger, of Halifax, succeeds Mr. Sattler, as general Storekeeper. Mr. A. Jones becomes Chief Clerk in Superintendent's office—the position vacated by Mr. W. G. Robertson, who resigned some months ago.

Mr. A. Bush to be Cashier in place of Mr. Ryan, discharged a few days since.

Messrs. Trites, Higgins, Brish, Jones, and Blois got an increase in salary commensurate with increased responsibilities and duties.

These, we believe, are the only changes in the organization at headquarters that have been effected. The departments of the Mechanical Superintendent, Accountant, Auditor and Engineer are not disturbed.

It has been determined to continue Season Tickets, and to restore the Sussex train, which will be ordered on immediately.

In addition to these, Mr. T. W. Tupper takes the combined position of Station-master and freight agent at Richmond.

Maritime Marine Service. From the report of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries it appears that there are in the New Brunswick division 53 lightships, one lightship, and three steam fog whistles. Of the 53 lightships, 26 are sea lights.

The charge for maintenance in this division were, in the financial year, $29,265, and for construction, 16,691.

The Nova Scotia division is one of very great importance. At the end of the year, there were in this division 82 lightships, besides a very large number of buoys, beacons and steam fog whistles, costing for maintenance in the year $100,053.

Two lightships, a lightship, and a number of buoys constitute the strength of the service at present in British Columbia. The expenditure in that Province amounted, for maintenance, to 10,018, whilst repairs came to $13,207.

Pacific Telegraph. Despatches to the daily press say that the lowest tenders for the construction of the Pacific telegraph line are from parties resident in Manitoba and British Columbia, both of which are nearly for the same amount, about one million and a quarter dollars for construction of the entire line.

This sum is considered absurdly low, but the persons tendering are said to be reliable and experienced men; they have been written to, it is said, by the Department of Public Works, informing them that their tenders are lowest, and requesting them to fulfil the further terms of the contract as soon as possible or withdraw.

The highest tender is put down by amount at five millions.

Politics at Home. Owing to local circumstances we go to press this week on Wednesday evening, and at the time of writing, we are still unable to give our readers any definite idea of the political situation. Next week we will, doubtless place matters definitely before the public.

The Manufacturers. The meeting of manufacturers of the Dominion met at Hamilton, Ont., on the 13th inst., to consider in what way the proposed Reciprocity Treaty would affect their interests.

The woolen textures and manufacturing committee report that after a careful study of the Reciprocity Treaty, so far as it affects woollen industry, they are of opinion that their interests will be most seriously affected.

Cabinet war committee reported on the question of carriages and parts thereof. They were equally divided in opinion, and that as far as related to manufacture of wooden ware, such as tubs, pail handles, etc., the treaty would be advantageous.

Ohio and West 200 miles. It will come hard upon many of the farmers who have contracted debts and have been relying on their crops to pay up with. The money received for wheat must be used to buy the necessities of life for the coming winter.

Supreme Court. Applications for the two following cases were obtained at the last session of the Supreme Court, in this County, for argument before the full Bench, and the following verdicts were given on Monday last.

Morse vs. Ripley. This was a rule obtained by defendant to set aside a judgment entered upon a warrant of attorney by plaintiff against him. Defendant contending that the warrant was subject to a defence which had been improperly obliterated. The Court discharged the rule with costs against defendant.

Layton vs. McLean. This was an application by plaintiff to set aside an award made in favor of defendant on the grounds, 1st, misconduct in the arbitrator to receive evidence; 2d, examination of a witness in the presence of the parties. Hele discharged. For plaintiff, McDonald, Q. C.; for defendant, N. H. Meagher.

Parsons. It was supposed by many that the cessation of work on the S. H. & P. Railway would shut down a good deal of the business and speculation of this place this summer, but the endurance and elasticity of Parsons' enterprise is not to be put down by the appearance of adversity.

Business is brisk, and shipbuilding, diamonding, going on with the hopeful anticipation that a few months will see the Railway works progressing vigorously.

A number of ladies and gentlemen from Windsor, including Prof. Howe, D. K. Holart, Esq., U. S. Consul, and C. Payzant, Esq., visited Parsons' last week on a picnic excursion; caught fish, collected specimens, enjoyed themselves thoroughly, and returned home well pleased.

Escape of Marshal Bazaine. Our readers will not have forgotten the trial of the Commander of the French forces at Metz, and his sentence by Court Martial to confinement for life on the Island of St. Marguerite. France is now startled by the announcement that Bazaine has escaped. London despatches say:—

The apartments occupied by Marshal Bazaine opened upon a terrace which was built upon a lofty and precipitous cliff over hanging the sea. A sentry was posted on the terrace with orders to watch the prisoner's every movement.

During Sunday evening the Marshal walked upon the terrace with Col. Villette, his aide-de-camp. At 10 o'clock he retired as usual, apparently to sleep, but before day break he had effected his escape. He must have crossed the terrace in the dead of night, and eluding the sentinel, gained the edge of the precipice, thence by means of a knotted rope he descended to the sea.

He evidently slipped during the descent and tore his hands, as the rope was found stained with blood in several places.

Under the cliff, in a hired boat, were Bazaine's wife and cousin. They received him as he reached the water, and Madame Bazaine, taking the oars herself, rowed directly to a strange steamer which had been lying off the island since the previous evening. They reached the vessel in safety, were taken on board and the steamer then put to sea. It is thought they have landed at Genoa, as the steamer proceeded in that direction.

The first news of the affair came to Grasse, the nearest place on coast, and the magistrates of the town immediately sent officers in every direction in search of the fugitive. There was great commotion in Versailles when the facts became known.

An investigation was opened at once. Col. Villette, who was walking with the Marshal on the evening of his escape, was discovered there and imprisoned. The Commandant of St. Marguerite was placed under arrest, and Gen. Loyal has gone to the Island to investigate the affair.

Election Court. On Saturday last the Election Court delivered the following judgment:—

In the case of Hibbard vs. Tupper, the Cumberland position, Jas. W. Johnston, Esq. Q. C., delivered the judgment of the Court. In this case the Respondent charged the petitioner with corrupt practices, and asked that evidence should be taken on this point preliminary to the trial. The Court held that such a course could not be pursued, that the objections allowed by the act were simply objections of a legal character in the nature of a demurrer, and that the trial must proceed. Hon. W. A. Henry, Q. C. held that the preliminary objections showing that the petitioner was disqualified on account of bribery could not be made use of either at the present stage or on the trial. A. James, Esq., held that the proper mode of convicting the petitioner of bribery would be to put him on trial in the Supreme Court by indictment, and that recriminatory evidence could not be taken at the trial of the present case.

Beecher's Statement. Although the Beecher scandal case has been before the public for several months, and has caused a greater sensation in the United States than any other event since the stirring times of the war, we have refrained from troubling our readers with the matter, as it had entirely engorged the capacity of a weekly paper.

Early in the discussion we stated last week, on our first page, we gave Mrs. Tilton's statement, and now, as the probable end has been reached, we place before our readers Beecher's statement, which is quite turned the current of sympathy in his favour.

Gentlemen of the Committee.—In the statement addressed to the public on the 22d of July last, I gave an explicit, comprehensive denial to the charges made by Theodore Tilton against me. That denial I now repeat and reaffirm. I also stated in that communication that I should appear before your committee with a more detailed statement and explanation of facts in the case. That explanation has now come.

Four years ago Theodore Tilton fell from one of the grandest editorial chairs in America, where he represented the cause of religion, humanity, and patriotism, and in a few months thereafter became the associate and representative of Victoria Woodhull and her strange crew. By his follies he was bankrupt in reputation, in occupation and in resources. The interior history of which I am now to give a brief outline, is a history of his attempts to so employ me as to restore his reputation, reinstate him in business, and place him again upon the prominence from which he had fallen. It is a sad history, to the full meaning of which I have but recently awakened.

Entangled in a wilderness of complications, I followed, until lately, a false theory and a delusive hope, believing that the friend who assured me of his determination and ability to control the passionate vagaries of Tilton, to restore his household, to rebuild his fortunes and to vindicate his side-camp, at 10 o'clock he retired as usual, apparently to sleep, but before day break he had effected his escape. He must have crossed the terrace in the dead of night, and eluding the sentinel, gained the edge of the precipice, thence by means of a knotted rope he descended to the sea.

Under the cliff, in a hired boat, were Bazaine's wife and cousin. They received him as he reached the water, and Madame Bazaine, taking the oars herself, rowed directly to a strange steamer which had been lying off the island since the previous evening. They reached the vessel in safety, were taken on board and the steamer then put to sea. It is thought they have landed at Genoa, as the steamer proceeded in that direction.

The first news of the affair came to Grasse, the nearest place on coast, and the magistrates of the town immediately sent officers in every direction in search of the fugitive. There was great commotion in Versailles when the facts became known.

An investigation was opened at once. Col. Villette, who was walking with the Marshal on the evening of his escape, was discovered there and imprisoned. The Commandant of St. Marguerite was placed under arrest, and Gen. Loyal has gone to the Island to investigate the affair.

Election Court. On Saturday last the Election Court delivered the following judgment:—

In the case of Hibbard vs. Tupper, the Cumberland position, Jas. W. Johnston, Esq. Q. C., delivered the judgment of the Court. In this case the Respondent charged the petitioner with corrupt practices, and asked that evidence should be taken on this point preliminary to the trial. The Court held that such a course could not be pursued, that the objections allowed by the act were simply objections of a legal character in the nature of a demurrer, and that the trial must proceed. Hon. W. A. Henry, Q. C. held that the preliminary objections showing that the petitioner was disqualified on account of bribery could not be made use of either at the present stage or on the trial. A. James, Esq., held that the proper mode of convicting the petitioner of bribery would be to put him on trial in the Supreme Court by indictment, and that recriminatory evidence could not be taken at the trial of the present case.

Beecher's Statement. Although the Beecher scandal case has been before the public for several months, and has caused a greater sensation in the United States than any other event since the stirring times of the war, we have refrained from troubling our readers with the matter, as it had entirely engorged the capacity of a weekly paper.

Early in the discussion we stated last week, on our first page, we gave Mrs. Tilton's statement, and now, as the probable end has been reached, we place before our readers Beecher's statement, which is quite turned the current of sympathy in his favour.

Gentlemen of the Committee.—In the statement addressed to the public on the 22d of July last, I gave an explicit, comprehensive denial to the charges made by Theodore Tilton against me. That denial I now repeat and reaffirm. I also stated in that communication that I should appear before your committee with a more detailed statement and explanation of facts in the case. That explanation has now come.

Four years ago Theodore Tilton fell from one of the grandest editorial chairs in America, where he represented the cause of religion, humanity, and patriotism, and in a few months thereafter became the associate and representative of Victoria Woodhull and her strange crew. By his follies he was bankrupt in reputation, in occupation and in resources. The interior history of which I am now to give a brief outline, is a history of his attempts to so employ me as to restore his reputation, reinstate him in business, and place him again upon the prominence from which he had fallen. It is a sad history, to the full meaning of which I have but recently awakened.

Entangled in a wilderness of complications, I followed, until lately, a false theory and a delusive hope, believing that the friend who assured me of his determination and ability to control the passionate vagaries of Tilton, to restore his household, to rebuild his fortunes and to vindicate his side-camp, at 10 o'clock he retired as usual, apparently to sleep, but before day break he had effected his escape. He must have crossed the terrace in the dead of night, and eluding the sentinel, gained the edge of the precipice, thence by means of a knotted rope he descended to the sea.

Under the cliff, in a hired boat, were Bazaine's wife and cousin. They received him as he reached the water, and Madame Bazaine, taking the oars herself, rowed directly to a strange steamer which had been lying off the island since the previous evening. They reached the vessel in safety, were taken on board and the steamer then put to sea. It is thought they have landed at Genoa, as the steamer proceeded in that direction.

The first news of the affair came to Grasse, the nearest place on coast, and the magistrates of the town immediately sent officers in every direction in search of the fugitive. There was great commotion in Versailles when the facts became known.

An investigation was opened at once. Col. Villette, who was walking with the Marshal on the evening of his escape, was discovered there and imprisoned. The Commandant of St. Marguerite was placed under arrest, and Gen. Loyal has gone to the Island to investigate the affair.

Election Court. On Saturday last the Election Court delivered the following judgment:—

In the case of Hibbard vs. Tupper, the Cumberland position, Jas. W. Johnston, Esq. Q. C., delivered the judgment of the Court. In this case the Respondent charged the petitioner with corrupt practices, and asked that evidence should be taken on this point preliminary to the trial. The Court held that such a course could not be pursued, that the objections allowed by the act were simply objections of a legal character in the nature of a demurrer, and that the trial must proceed. Hon. W. A. Henry, Q. C. held that the preliminary objections showing that the petitioner was disqualified on account of bribery could not be made use of either at the present stage or on the trial. A. James, Esq., held that the proper mode of convicting the petitioner of bribery would be to put him on trial in the Supreme Court by indictment, and that recriminatory evidence could not be taken at the trial of the present case.

Beecher's Statement. Although the Beecher scandal case has been before the public for several months, and has caused a greater sensation in the United States than any other event since the stirring times of the war, we have refrained from troubling our readers with the matter, as it had entirely engorged the capacity of a weekly paper.

Early in the discussion we stated last week, on our first page, we gave Mrs. Tilton's statement, and now, as the probable end has been reached, we place before our readers Beecher's statement, which is quite turned the current of sympathy in his favour.

Gentlemen of the Committee.—In the statement addressed to the public on the 22d of July last, I gave an explicit, comprehensive denial to the charges made by Theodore Tilton against me. That denial I now repeat and reaffirm. I also stated in that communication that I should appear before your committee with a more detailed statement and explanation of facts in the case. That explanation has now come.

Four years ago Theodore Tilton fell from one of the grandest editorial chairs in America, where he represented the cause of religion, humanity, and patriotism, and in a few months thereafter became the associate and representative of Victoria Woodhull and her strange crew. By his follies he was bankrupt in reputation, in occupation and in resources. The interior history of which I am now to give a brief outline, is a history of his attempts to so employ me as to restore his reputation, reinstate him in business, and place him again upon the prominence from which he had fallen. It is a sad history, to the full meaning of which I have but recently awakened.

Entangled in a wilderness of complications, I followed, until lately, a false theory and a delusive hope, believing that the friend who assured me of his determination and ability to control the passionate vagaries of Tilton, to restore his household, to rebuild his fortunes and to vindicate his side-camp, at 10 o'clock he retired as usual, apparently to sleep, but before day break he had effected his escape. He must have crossed the terrace in the dead of night, and eluding the sentinel, gained the edge of the precipice, thence by means of a knotted rope he descended to the sea.

Under the cliff, in a hired boat, were Bazaine's wife and cousin. They received him as he reached the water, and Madame Bazaine, taking the oars herself, rowed directly to a strange steamer which had been lying off the island since the previous evening. They reached the vessel in safety, were taken on board and the steamer then put to sea. It is thought they have landed at Genoa, as the steamer proceeded in that direction.

The first news of the affair came to Grasse, the nearest place on coast, and the magistrates of the town immediately sent officers in every direction in search of the fugitive. There was great commotion in Versailles when the facts became known.

An investigation was opened at once. Col. Villette, who was walking with the Marshal on the evening of his escape, was discovered there and imprisoned. The Commandant of St. Marguerite was placed under arrest, and Gen. Loyal has gone to the Island to investigate the affair.

Election Court. On Saturday last the Election Court delivered the following judgment:—

In the case of Hibbard vs. Tupper, the Cumberland position, Jas. W. Johnston, Esq. Q. C., delivered the judgment of the Court. In this case the Respondent charged the petitioner with corrupt practices, and asked that evidence should be taken on this point preliminary to the trial. The Court held that such a course could not be pursued, that the objections allowed by the act were simply objections of a legal character in the nature of a demurrer, and that the trial must proceed. Hon. W. A. Henry, Q. C. held that the preliminary objections showing that the petitioner was disqualified on account of bribery could not be made use of either at the present stage or on the trial. A. James, Esq., held that the proper mode of convicting the petitioner of bribery would be to put him on trial in the Supreme Court by indictment, and that recriminatory evidence could not be taken at the trial of the present case.

Beecher's Statement. Although the Beecher scandal case has been before the public for several months, and has caused a greater sensation in the United States than any other event since the stirring times of the war, we have refrained from troubling our readers with the matter, as it had entirely engorged the capacity of a weekly paper.

Early in the discussion we stated last week, on our first page, we gave Mrs. Tilton's statement, and now, as the probable end has been reached, we place before our readers Beecher's statement, which is quite turned the current of sympathy in his favour.

Gentlemen of the Committee.—In the statement addressed to the public on the 22d of July last, I gave an explicit, comprehensive denial to the charges made by Theodore Tilton against me. That denial I now repeat and reaffirm. I also stated in that communication that I should appear before your committee with a more detailed statement and explanation of facts in the case. That explanation has now come.

Four years ago Theodore Tilton fell from one of the grandest editorial chairs in America, where he represented the cause of religion, humanity, and patriotism, and in a few months thereafter became the associate and representative of Victoria Woodhull and her strange crew. By his follies he was bankrupt in reputation, in occupation and in resources. The interior history of which I am now to give a brief outline, is a history of his attempts to so employ me as to restore his reputation, reinstate him in business, and place him again upon the prominence from which he had fallen. It is a sad history, to the full meaning of which I have but recently awakened.

Entangled in a wilderness of complications, I followed, until lately, a false theory and a delusive hope, believing that the friend who assured me of his determination and ability to control the passionate vagaries of Tilton, to restore his household, to rebuild his fortunes and to vindicate his side-camp, at 10 o'clock he retired as usual, apparently to sleep, but before day break he had effected his escape. He must have crossed the terrace in the dead of night, and eluding the sentinel, gained the edge of the precipice, thence by means of a knotted rope he descended to the sea.

Under the cliff, in a hired boat, were Bazaine's wife and cousin. They received him as he reached the water, and Madame Bazaine, taking the oars herself, rowed directly to a strange steamer which had been lying off the island since the previous evening. They reached the vessel in safety, were taken on board and the steamer then put to sea. It is thought they have landed at Genoa, as the steamer proceeded in that direction.

The first news of the affair came to Grasse, the nearest place on coast, and the magistrates of the town immediately sent officers in every direction in search of the fugitive. There was great commotion in Versailles when the facts became known.

An investigation was opened at once. Col. Villette, who was walking with the Marshal on the evening of his escape, was discovered there and imprisoned. The Commandant of St. Marguerite was placed under arrest, and Gen. Loyal has gone to the Island to investigate the affair.

Election Court. On Saturday last the Election Court delivered the following judgment:—

In the case of Hibbard vs. Tupper, the Cumberland position, Jas. W. Johnston, Esq. Q. C., delivered the judgment of the Court. In this case the Respondent charged the petitioner with corrupt practices, and asked that evidence should be taken on this point preliminary to the trial. The Court held that such a course could not be pursued, that the objections allowed by the act were simply objections of a legal character in the nature of a demurrer, and that the trial must proceed. Hon. W. A. Henry, Q. C. held that the preliminary objections showing that the petitioner was disqualified on account of bribery could not be made use of either at the present stage or on the trial. A. James, Esq., held that the proper mode of convicting the petitioner of bribery would be to put him on trial in the Supreme Court by indictment, and that recriminatory evidence could not be taken at the trial of the present case.

Beecher's Statement. Although the Beecher scandal case has been before the public for several months, and has caused a greater sensation in the United States than any other event since the stirring times of the war, we have refrained from troubling our readers with the matter, as it had entirely engorged the capacity of a weekly paper.

Early in the discussion we stated last week, on our first page, we gave Mrs. Tilton's statement, and now, as the probable end has been reached, we place before our readers Beecher's statement, which is quite turned the current of sympathy in his favour.

Gentlemen of the Committee.—In the statement addressed to the public on the 22d of July last, I gave an explicit, comprehensive denial to the charges made by Theodore Tilton against me. That denial I now repeat and reaffirm. I also stated in that communication that I should appear before your committee with a more detailed statement and explanation of facts in the case. That explanation has now come.

Four years ago Theodore Tilton fell from one of the grandest editorial chairs in America, where he represented the cause of religion, humanity, and patriotism, and in a few months thereafter became the associate and representative of Victoria Woodhull and her strange crew. By his follies he was bankrupt in reputation, in occupation and in resources. The interior history of which I am now to give a brief outline, is a history of his attempts to so employ me as to restore his reputation, reinstate him in business, and place him again upon the prominence from which he had fallen. It is a sad history, to the full meaning of which I have but recently awakened.

Entangled in a wilderness of complications, I followed, until lately, a false theory and a delusive hope, believing that the friend who assured me of his determination and ability to control the passionate vagaries of Tilton, to restore his household, to rebuild his fortunes and to vindicate his side-camp, at 10 o'clock he retired as usual, apparently to sleep, but before day break he had effected his escape. He must have crossed the terrace in the dead of night, and eluding the sentinel, gained the edge of the precipice, thence by means of a knotted rope he descended to the sea.

Under the cliff, in a hired boat, were Bazaine's wife and cousin. They received him as he reached the water, and Madame Bazaine, taking the oars herself, rowed directly to a strange steamer which had been lying off the island since the previous evening. They reached the vessel in safety, were taken on board and the steamer then put to sea. It is thought they have landed at Genoa, as the steamer proceeded in that direction.

The first news of the affair came to Grasse, the nearest place on coast, and the magistrates of the town immediately sent officers in every direction in search of the fugitive. There was great commotion in Versailles when the facts became known.

An investigation was opened at once. Col. Villette, who was walking with the Marshal on the evening of his escape, was discovered there and imprisoned. The Commandant of St. Marguerite was placed under arrest, and Gen. Loyal has gone to the Island to investigate the affair.

Election Court. On Saturday last the Election Court delivered the following judgment:—

In the case of Hibbard vs. Tupper, the Cumberland position, Jas. W. Johnston, Esq. Q. C., delivered the judgment of the Court. In this case the Respondent charged the petitioner with corrupt practices, and asked that evidence should be taken on this point preliminary to the trial. The Court held that such a course could not be pursued, that the objections allowed by the act were simply objections of a legal character in the nature of a demurrer, and that the trial must proceed. Hon. W. A. Henry, Q. C. held that the preliminary objections showing that the petitioner was disqualified on account of bribery could not be made use of either at the present stage or on the trial. A. James, Esq., held that the proper mode of convicting the petitioner of bribery would be to put him on trial in the Supreme Court by indictment, and that recriminatory evidence could not be taken at the trial of the present case.

Beecher's Statement. Although the Beecher scandal case has been before the public for several months, and has caused a greater sensation in the United States than any other event since the stirring times of the war, we have refrained from troubling our readers with the matter, as it had entirely engorged the capacity of a weekly paper.

Early in the discussion we stated last week, on our first page, we gave Mrs. Tilton's statement, and now, as the probable end has been reached, we place before our readers Beecher's statement, which is quite turned the current of sympathy in his favour.

Gentlemen of the Committee.—In the statement addressed to the public on the 22d of July last, I gave an explicit, comprehensive denial to the charges made by Theodore Tilton against me. That denial I now repeat and reaffirm. I also stated in that communication that I should appear before your committee with a more detailed statement and explanation of facts in the case. That explanation has now come.

Four years ago Theodore Tilton fell from one of the grandest editorial chairs in America, where he represented the cause of religion, humanity, and patriotism, and in a few months thereafter became the associate and representative of Victoria Woodhull and her strange crew. By his follies he was bankrupt in reputation, in occupation and in resources. The interior history of which I am now to give a brief outline, is a history of his attempts to so employ me as to restore his reputation, reinstate him in business, and place him again upon the prominence from which he had fallen. It is a sad history, to the full meaning of which I have but recently awakened.

Entangled in a wilderness of complications, I followed, until lately, a false theory and a delusive hope, believing that the friend who assured me of his determination and ability to control the passionate vagaries of Tilton, to restore his household, to rebuild his fortunes and to vindicate his side-camp, at 10 o'clock he retired as usual, apparently to sleep, but before day break he had effected his escape. He must have crossed the terrace in the dead of night, and eluding the sentinel, gained the edge of the precipice, thence by means of a knotted rope he descended to the sea.

Under the cliff, in a hired boat, were Bazaine's wife and cousin. They received him as he reached the water, and Madame Bazaine, taking the oars herself, rowed directly to a strange steamer which had been lying off the island since the previous evening. They reached the vessel in safety, were taken on board and the steamer then put to sea. It is thought they have landed at Genoa, as the steamer proceeded in that direction.

The first news of the affair came to Grasse, the nearest place on coast, and the magistrates of the town immediately sent officers in every direction in search of the fugitive. There was great commotion in Versailles when the facts became known.

An investigation was opened at once. Col. Villette, who was walking with the Marshal on the evening of his escape, was discovered there and imprisoned. The Commandant of St. Marguerite was placed under arrest, and Gen. Loyal has gone to the Island to investigate the affair.

Election Court. On Saturday last the Election Court delivered the following judgment:—

In the case of Hibbard vs. Tupper, the Cumberland position, Jas. W. Johnston, Esq. Q. C., delivered the judgment of the Court. In this case the Respondent charged the petitioner with corrupt practices, and asked that evidence should be taken on this point preliminary to the trial. The Court held that such a course could not be pursued, that the objections allowed by the act were simply objections of a legal character in the nature of a demurrer, and that the trial must proceed. Hon. W. A. Henry, Q. C. held that the preliminary objections showing that the petitioner was disqualified on account of bribery could not be made use of either at the present stage or on the trial. A. James, Esq., held that the proper mode of convicting the petitioner of bribery would be to put him on trial in the Supreme Court by indictment, and that recriminatory evidence could not be taken at the trial of the present case.

Beecher's Statement. Although the Beecher scandal case has been before the public for several months, and has caused a greater sensation in the United States than any other event since the stirring times of the war, we have refrained from troubling our readers with the matter, as it had entirely engorged the capacity of a weekly paper.

Early in the discussion we stated last week, on our first page, we gave Mrs. Tilton's statement, and now, as the probable end has been reached, we place before our readers Beecher's statement, which is quite turned the current of sympathy in his favour.

Gentlemen of the Committee.—In the statement addressed to the public on the 22d of July last, I gave an explicit, comprehensive denial to the charges made by Theodore Tilton against me. That denial I now repeat and reaffirm. I also stated in that communication that I should appear before your committee with a more detailed statement and explanation of facts in the case. That explanation has now come.

Four years ago Theodore Tilton fell from one of the grandest editorial chairs in America, where he represented the cause of religion, humanity, and patriotism, and in a few months thereafter became the associate and representative of Victoria Woodhull and her strange crew. By his follies he was bankrupt in reputation, in occupation and in resources. The interior history of which I am now to give a brief outline, is a history of his attempts to so employ me as to restore his reputation, reinstate him in business, and place him again upon the prominence from which he had fallen. It is a sad history, to the full meaning of which I have but recently awakened.

Entangled in a wilderness of complications, I followed, until lately, a false theory and a delusive hope, believing that the friend who assured me of his determination and ability to control the passionate vagaries of Tilton, to restore his household, to rebuild his fortunes and to vindicate his side-camp, at 10 o'clock he retired as usual, apparently to sleep, but before day break he had effected his escape. He must have crossed the terrace in the dead of night, and eluding the sentinel, gained the edge of the precipice, thence by means of a knotted rope he descended to the sea.

Under the cliff, in a hired boat, were Bazaine's wife and cousin. They received him as he reached the water, and Madame Bazaine, taking the oars herself, rowed directly to a strange steamer which had been lying off the island since the previous evening. They reached the vessel in safety, were taken on board and the steamer then put to sea. It is thought they have landed at Genoa, as the steamer proceeded in that direction.

The first news of the affair came to Grasse, the nearest place on coast, and the magistrates of the town immediately sent officers in every direction in search of the fugitive. There was great commotion in Versailles when the facts became known.

An investigation was opened at once. Col. Villette, who was walking with the Marshal on the evening of his escape, was discovered there and imprisoned. The Commandant of St. Marguerite was placed under arrest, and Gen. Loyal has gone to the Island to investigate the affair.

Election Court. On Saturday last the Election Court delivered the following judgment:—

In the case of Hibbard vs. Tupper, the Cumberland position, Jas. W. Johnston, Esq. Q. C., delivered the judgment of the Court. In this case the Respondent charged the petitioner with corrupt practices, and asked that evidence should be taken on this point preliminary to the trial. The Court held that such a course could not be pursued, that the objections allowed by the act were simply objections of a legal character in the nature of a demurrer, and that the trial must proceed. Hon. W. A. Henry, Q. C. held that the preliminary objections showing that the petitioner was disqualified on account of bribery could not be made use of either at the present stage or on the trial. A. James, Esq., held that the proper mode of convicting the petitioner of bribery would be to put him on trial in the Supreme Court by indictment, and that recriminatory evidence could not be taken at the trial of the present case.

Beecher's Statement. Although the Beecher scandal case has been before the public for several months, and has caused a greater sensation in the United States than any other event since the stirring times of the war, we have refrained from troubling our readers with the matter, as it had entirely engorged the capacity of a weekly paper.

Early in the discussion we stated last week, on our first page, we gave Mrs. Tilton's statement, and now, as the probable end has been reached, we place before our readers Beecher's statement, which is quite turned the current of sympathy in his favour.

Gentlemen

CLIPPINGS. Mistaken Enthusiasm.

Salvini, the actor, when having a photograph taken, was so delighted with the proof that he flung his arms about the operator and embraced him. This was gratifying to the operator, and did not cost Salvini anything. A gentleman in this place, whose name we will not mention, was very much pleased with the great actor's artifice—as he persisted in terming it—and believing that appreciation is dearer to a true artist than money, he concluded to have some portraits of himself. When the proof was shown him he knew that was the time to fling his arms about the operator, but he could not pick up sufficient courage. He thought he would wait a more favorable opportunity and became very nervous in consequence. Pretty soon the operator had occasion to reach under a case of specimens for a cloth, and as he turned to come out, the agitated patron, full of desperation, shut his eyes and swooped down upon him. The frightened artist believing that this was a new process for garrotting, straightway screamed murder, and sought to defend himself until the arrival of aid, by beating the assassin over the face and head with a brush full of varnish. Every lick of the brush developed additional ferocity in the face of the customer, and consequently increased the terror of the operator, whose shouts aroused the inmates of the building, and brought to his help in quick succession a tailor, two dressmakers, four clerks, and a one-legged basket maker. The benumbed and varnished victim was quickly overpowered, and being set upon by as many of the miscellaneous as could be accommodated, was firmly held until the arrival of an officer. Fortunately he was known by the officer, who recognised him from his apparel—not being able to see his features for the varnish—and upon explaining that the cause of his coming down upon the operator was a sudden dizziness he experienced, he was released. A hack was obtained and he was taken home, and his head put in lime water for the removal of the varnish from his face. But it was found necessary to shave his scalp, as it was impossible to save his hair. He is glad now to hang the pictures when he did—Dunbury Ave.

Gardening on Shares.

A good story, and all the better in being true, is told of one of our citizens, who let a piece of ground to a man in shares. The man would hire the lot, but the owner doubtful of getting any money of the tenant, proposed to let it upon the promise of receiving half the produce. Occasionally during the summer he passed the spot and was pleased with the cultivation it was receiving and with its goodly show of vegetables. Harvest time came and passed, and he heard nothing from his tenant, till, in response to a hint, the latter sent him a water-melon and three shrivelled cucumbers. Indignant at this shabby treatment, he called upon the man and asked him what he meant. "Why, you see, 'squire," replied the tenant, "the pesky boys stole all your half but the melon and the cucumbers."—New Bedford Mass., Mercury.

A fine distinction was that the preacher of the Richmond First Baptist Church made: "My bruders," said he, "when you say as slyves dere might 'a been 'scuse for cuttin' a slice off'n marse's tuncer or lookin' a handfull o' corn-meal, or robbin' de honor, for you all work o' hard den, my bruders, and you earned it, my bruders and sisters; but now you is all free men dar ain't no 'scuse whatever. You sell on your own 'possibility."

Some time since we announced that several abolitionists were imprisoned in Russia. It is now stated that not only have they been released, but the czar has sent one of his chief officers to persuade the Mennonites to remain in Russia, promising them exemption from military duty.

"White coal" is latest Austrian discovery. It consists of felted cabbage fibres, like peat, which contain, interspersed between, fine grains of sand. It is easily combustible, and burns with a bright flame. The white coal covers large tracts, requiring no mining, and it is said to be already used to a large extent for fuel.

Nothing is rarer than a solitary lie for lies breed like Sarinam toads; you cannot tell one but out it comes with a hundred young ones on its back.

Until Further Notice

Night Express Train. Daily, each way, between HALIFAX, TORONTO, and NEW BRUNSWICK, the Upper Province and the UNITED STATES. Under arrangement with the P. & N. Co. for the Atlantic Coast, so that matter will be at the depot along with the regular train. Morning Express Train only. Mail connections only with the Morning Express. The train will be at the depot at the Halifax, N.S., and will be at the depot at the P. & N. Co. on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at 8.30 a.m., and on Sunday at 10 a.m. A. WOODHEAD, General Agent.

REMOVAL

TO A NEW SHOP! CHAPMAN & ETTER

Increased Facilities. Custom Tailoring DEPARTMENT.

LARGE LOT OF CLOTHS.

Other New Goods.

Clearing Sale!

Prints, Muslins, Dress Goods, Fancy Shawls, Parasols, Ladies' Hats, &c., &c., &c.

Carriage Shop at Oxford.

THE Subscriber has purchased the Shop Robert Pugh at Oxford, and is prepared to furnish WAGON, CARRIAGE, and HARNESS, at reasonable prices, and repairing done in the best and cheapest manner. All orders promptly attended to. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited. SAMUEL L. HORTON, July 19-20.

CARD.

Electors of the Co. of Cumberland. GENTLEMEN.—In response to the urgent solicitation of many of you I will be a candidate, at the next election, shortly to take place, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Pingo, our late representative in the Local Assembly. If you should deem it wise to honour me with your confidence and support, I will try to represent you faithfully, and to the best of my judgment and ability. I believe that the present government merits the confidence of the people, and that their general policy is wise and judicious. Believing that a majority of the independent Electors of Cumberland will endorse these views, I am come forward with confidence, trusting that you will elect me as one of your representatives, for the remainder of the Parliamentary term. I only ask a fair trial, and if I should prove unworthy of your confidence, you can easily select another to take my place. I am, gentlemen, Your obedient servant, PETER McDONALD. Pughwash, June 30th, 1874.

"THE TRIUMPH."

Soda Fountain!

MEDICAL HALL.

SODA WATER

FRUIT SYRUPS.

Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Etc. Also perfumery, Hair Oils, Pomades, Combs, Brushes, and Toilet Articles in great variety. Aniline Dyes, and all the articles usually found in a first-class Drug Store, constantly on hand. Prescriptions carefully dispensed by a thoughtful competent Druggist. JOSEPH MOORE, Amherst, July 1st, 1874.

BUSINESS CARDS.

J. E. JENNETT & CO.

China Glass, & Earthenware, Cutlery, Electro-plate, &c., 154 & 156 GRANVILLE ST., HALIFAX, N. S.

L. WESTERGAARD & CO.

Ship Agents & Ship Brokers. (Vice-Consulate of Sweden and Norway, Consulate of the Netherlands, Consulate of Austria and Hungary.) No. 138 South Second Street, PHILADELPHIA.

Dr. S. HOWARD

may be consulted at any time at his residence at Oxford, where he is always prepared to attend to those requiring his services.

W. HOWE SMITH,

General Agent and Commission Merchant 16 St. Vincent Street, MONTREAL.

H. S. SMITH,

HARNESS MAKER, OXFORD, N. S.

D. D. BETTS,

HAIR DRESSER, AMHERST, N. S.

AMMONIA HAIR TONIC

1874. SPRING 1874.

J. G. WELLS,

has just opened up his Spring Stock of new and fashionable goods which have been selected with great care in the different departments. We can now offer to the public a cheap lot of READY-MADE CLOTHING, comprising SPRING and SUMMER COATS, PANTS, VESTS, and WHOLE SUITS.

Millinery Department.

Dry Goods,

FEATHERS, TRIMMINGS, RIBBONS, VELVETS, &c.

Dress Goods,

LINSTEES, CORBINS, SHAWLS, MANTLES, POPLINS, WICKENS, &c.

Crown Wringer

is the best article of the kind ever offered to the public. It is self-adjusting from a heavy quilt to the finest collar. It has no cog-wheels to pinch your fingers. It will fit a large tub, a small one, or a straight board. It prevents slopping by returning to the wash tub all water.

NEW GOODS!

30 lbs SUPERIOR and EXTRA FLOUR, 50 lbs CORN MEAL.

GROCERIES,

CANNED FRUIT SPIES, &c. DRY GOODS, CLOTHING, HATS, BOOTS & SLIPPERS, ROOM PAPER, Cut Nails, &c. &c.

SEWING MACHINES.

VALUABLE FARM.

GROCERIES!

THE usual supply of Superior Family Groceries. Cheap for Cash. A. McLEOD & CO. OXFORD, May 20th, 1874.

LARGE ARRIVALS OF SPRING GOODS

COLONIAL STORE,

213 & 222 ARGYLE STREET - - - - HALIFAX, N. S. JORDAN & CO. Y

Have great pleasure in announcing to their friends in Town and country that they are now receiving, and hope soon to complete, their SPRING and SUMMER IMPORTATIONS OF STRAW AND A First-Class Stock of HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS.

Table Linens, Towels and Towelling Napkins, Doilies, Damasks, Curtain Muslins, Fringes, Hollands, Carpets, Druggists, Floor and Table Oil Cloths, Hugs, &c.

A MAGNIFICENT ASSORTMENT OF DRESS GOODS.

Tissue, Cashmere and Striped Shawls, Grey, White and PRINTED COTTONS, GREY and WHITE SHEETINGS.

WHITE MOISSELLE, WHITE TOILETTE & ALHAMBRA QUILTS.

CLOTHING! CLOTHING!! GENTS FURNISHING DEPARTMENT.

Scotch, English, & Canadian Tweeds; Blankets, Flannels, &c.

To the above varied stock we would call the attention of all intending purchasers, feeling confident of giving satisfaction as our stock is second to none in the city. Wholesale buyers will find it to their advantage to give us a call. New Goods every Steamer.

JORDAN & CO. N. B.—Highest Prices for Home-spun, Stock, and Yarn.

"RAYMOND" SEWING MACHINES.

W.M. CROWE, WHOLESALE IMPORTER OF SEWING MACHINE NEEDLES, OF ALL KINDS.

Shuttles, Bobbins, &c., for all kinds of Machines, always in stock.

THE BEST QUALITY OF SPERM OIL, put up in 2 and 4 oz. bottles, or sold in quantities to suit purchasers.

Black, White, Yellow and Drab 1 oz. Kerosine.

Machine Silk Twist, Also—50 yds, and 1 oz. Balls, &c., in all colors.

Clark's Machine Cotton, Black, W.-Brown, and Yellow.

MACHINE LINDEN THRED, Needle Sharpeners, Extension Hemmers, Tuck Folders, Machine Oilers, &c., &c.

KNITTING MACHINES OF VARIOUS MAKERS.

WILLIAM CROWE, 133 BARRINGTON STREET, HALIFAX, NOVA SCOTIA, NOVA SCOTIA AND NEWFOUNDLAND.

R. T. MUIR & CO.,

HAVE ON HAND A LARGE STOCK

GOLD LEAF BLANK BOOKS,

Consisting of LEDGERS, DAY BOOKS, JOURNALS, CASH BOOKS, BILL BOOKS, MEMO. BOOKS, &c., &c.

THEIR OWN MANUFACTURE, which will be sold at prices cheaper than can be imported, and are guaranteed of as good if not better workmanship.

HALL, DINING, & DRAWING ROOM PAPERS!!

WINDOW BLINDS!

Wholesale and Retail, at R. T. MUIR & CO'S, 139 Granville Street, HALIFAX, N. S.

Being the largest importers of the above class of goods in the Lower Provinces, we are enabled to offer them to our customers at prices that defy competition.

R. T. MUIR & CO.

139 - - - GRANVILLE STREET - - - 139. april 17-1y HALIFAX, N. S.

SEWING MACHINES.

VALUABLE FARM.

THE Subscriber offers for sale a valuable Farm and farm buildings in the village of Oxford.

It adjoins the village, and furnishes a very desirable situation for any person wishing to enjoy the privileges that may be there obtained. The farm consists of 20 acres of upland and prime pasture. The uncultivated portion of which is well wooded.

There is on the premises a comfortable Dwelling House, barn, and a good well. The above belongs to the estate of the late James R. Reid, and will be sold at a bargain. The price of the purchase money may remain on security. Apply early to JAMES R. REID, OXFORD, May 20th, 1874.

THE PLACE TO BUY.

WE have completed our Winter Stock and beg leave to offer to our customers a full assortment of all the articles in the trade.

It is unnecessary to enumerate the articles in the Dry Goods, Groceries, Hardware and Variety Departments, all of which we will sell cheap.

I. J. HINGLEY. GENTLEMEN'S COMPLETE CLOTHING OUTFIT, at I. J. HINGLEY'S.

LADIES HATS, BONNETS TRIMMINGS and DRESS MATERIAL of every description, at I. J. HINGLEY'S.

MALASSES, SUGAR, KEROSENE OIL, CASTOR OIL, at I. J. HINGLEY'S.

CASK PURE OLIVE OIL, which will be sold cheap, at I. J. HINGLEY, Oxford, N. S.

STRAW GOODS AND FLOWERS

all the novelties of the Season. CHEAP.

CARPETS AND LACE CURTAINS,

Two and three ply all Wool Scotch. Tapestry, Druggel, and Hemp. VERY LOW.

W. D. MAIN & Co. Amherst Dry Goods Store.

SPRING, 1874.

WHOLESALE DRY GOODS

ANDERSON, BILLING & CO. beg to announce to their Friends and the public the completion of their SPRING STOCK of STABLE and FANCY DRY GOODS, a great many lines of which are especially adapted for the trade of the Northern Continent.

In addition to the above most complete assortment from Europe, they are prepared to show Flannels, Jeans, &c. Cotton Duck, Worshouses, and Hosiery at the following prices.

HALIFAX, N. S.

THE PUGWASH FOUNDRY, AND MANUFACTURING CO. Y.

Invite parties to look at their STOVES before purchasing elsewhere. We have a splendid assortment of all kinds of Wood Stoves, or Coal Stoves, also several all kinds of Furnaces, Office and Hall Stoves, proved reliable, at great reduction in former prices, and every description of Plough, mowing, and other agricultural machinery. Jobbing work executed on reasonable terms.

THOMAS WEINBERG, Blacksmith, Pugwash, June 1st, 1874. June 1st.

NEW GOODS!

10 Cases, 6 Bales. ROBERT SMITH, (Smith's Corner), HAS much pleasure in informing his numerous friends and customers that his SPRING and SUMMER IMPORTATIONS OF DRY GOODS are now completed, consisting of Alpaca, Lintock, Cottons, Merinos, Melanges, Silk, Stripes, Mourning, &c. GREY AND WHITE COTTONS, PRINT COTTONS in great variety. Superior assortment of American GLASS-WARE, PAINTS, OILS, GLASS, PEPPER, &c. All of which are offered at extremely low prices. An inspection is invited. All stock to be cleared out at TEN PER CENT. BELOW COST. Amherst, May 20.

Paints & Oils.

PAINTS OF ALL COLOURS.

PURE OLIVE OIL, SEATFOOT OIL, COD LIVER OIL, BOILED & RAW LINED OIL.

Coach and Furniture Varnish. An extensive stock of Hardware and Building Materials.

AT COST.

Boots and shoes sold at cost for two months. J. G. WELLS, OXFORD, June 1st.

1874. GROCERIES. 1874.

A. C. CROWE & CO.

have now on hand a large and well assorted stock of Groceries, comprising Flour, Meal, Rice, Tea, Coffee, Sugar, Molasses, Soda, Cocoa, Tobacco, Mustard, Spices of all kinds, Currants, Raisins, Sultanas, Apples, Peaches, Pickles, Worcestershire Sauce, Pickles, all kinds of Canned Goods, Pickles, &c. &c. All of which are of the best quality, and at the lowest prices. The Groceries Trade.

A. C. CROWE & CO., Opposite Colonial Market, Halifax, N. S.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

Country Produce taken in exchange or sold on consignment. Farmers in any part of the Province will receive full market prices by sending their produce consigned to A. C. CROWE & CO., Opposite Colonial Market, Halifax, N. S.

PARKS' COTTON WARP!

White, Blue, Red, Orange and Green. Nos. 36, to 106.

Warranted to be full LENGTH and WEIGHT, and stronger and better in every respect than any other English or American warp.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS none is genuine without our name on the shank. For sale by all dealers. W. M. PARKS & SON, New Brunswick Cotton Mills, maye-12. St. John, N.B.

FARM FOR SALE.

The Subscriber offers for sale the Farm on which he now lives, pleasantly situated in the village of Shincliffe. The buildings are all new and in good order. The soil is fertile and thoroughly fitted up for a convenient residence and supplied with a good well. Terms easy. Apply at once to W. W. BLACK, Shincliffe, July 8th, 1874. July 10

ENCOURAGE Home Manufacture.

THE OXFORD EDGE TOOL CO., Having made a change in the management of their business, are now in a position to offer to their customers first class SHIP AND CHIPPING KNIVES, LIP AND COMMON ADZES, HATCHETS, BLADES, PIN NAILS, &c., &c.

We also manufacture to order all kinds of Tools for Quarry men and Miners. In thanking our friends for the liberal patronage of the past, we strongly recommend a trial of the above tools, as we are convinced they will be found a great improvement over anything in the market. OXFORD EDGE TOOL CO. Oxford, April 29th, 1874. April 30

First Arrival

New Spring Goods IN THIS MARKET.

Just received by last English Steamer 6 CASES LONDON FANCY GOODS, 6 FEATHERS, MILLINERY, etc. 2 Cases Ladies' New Styles SPRING HATS, 2 Cases New Spring Styles TWEEDS, DOBSON SKINS and COATINGS. 2 Cases SHIRTS, etc. 2 Cases Wet Wove SHIRTINGS.

The above have been carefully selected by our Mr. Butler for early Spring, to which we beg to call the attention of the Clothing, Millinery, and Fancy Trades in town and country. Prices as heretofore at our usual low quotations.

EVERITT BUTLER,

Wholesale Warehouse, 55 & 57 King St., St. John, N. B.

CARPET WARP!

We would invite attention to the CARPET WARP we are now making. This article is made of Cotton Yarn of superior quality, dyed and treated, and is more used in Canada and the United States than any other.

DOMESTIC CARPETS. We would strongly recommend a trial of it as we are convinced it will be found a great improvement on anything now used. W. M. PARKS & SON, New Brunswick Cotton Mills, St. John, N. B. maye-12.

Christmas & New Year's Gift.

RED TANN OR THE Vision of the Lake. A Thrilling Romance, in fourteen volumes. By J. O. FULTON, Author of 'Every member of a Temperance Organization should have one.' For sale at this office. 127 pages—Price 60c.

BROWN, BROTHERS & CO

WHOLESALE DRUGGISTS, 1, 2, 3, 4, & 5 CORNBANK SQUARE (NORTH END OF GRANVILLE STREET), HALIFAX, N. S.

IMPORTERS & GENERAL DEALERS IN DRUGS, CHEMICALS, DYE STUFFS, SPECIES, PATENT MEDICINES, SOAPS, BRUSHES, POMADES, TOILET ARTICLES, PERFUMERY, SUGICAL INSTRUMENTS, &c., &c., &c.

Seedsmen, Spice Packers,

AND MANUFACTURERS OF TINCTURES, ESSENCES, PERFUMERY, CHEMICALS, &c., &c. March 2-6m