And Then We Die.

For health or wealth or love you seek. You wish or lose no matter which. The goal's the same for strong or weak. The end's the same for poor or rich. You strive for knowledge—with a hope. You try to bail the ocean dry. (Hippo says: "You'll do it pretty soon!— And then you die!")

Life leaves, tempts with halber bright, Extends the prize and draws it back. Some joy is ever in your sight. To blunt the torture of the rack. When Fortune frowns you know she's gone. The thing you prize is never high. Life lets you hold it for awhile— And then you die!

Who cared? When one has seen the show Who wants to see it over again? We gaily come, let's gaily go. We're rapturous goods, we little men. And, God be true, we may taste the joys Of present days, nor wonder why. So let's be happy, girls and boys!— For soon we'll die!

And happiness? 'Tis in hard knocks. In bloody sweat and dripping toil. The great eternal paradox. That justifies the endless coil. The things we do because we must. The kindnesses we take and give. Who knows but when we're turned to dust "Then we'll live!"

Worth to conquer a world. All crimes have become mere acts of heroism and devotion when performed by German soldiers or sailors; all restraints that civilization, human development, religious evolution have imposed upon men have been abolished and repealed in so far as they hamper or ever seem to hamper the German soldier embarked upon his crusade for power and for empire.

This shameful and terrible page of modern history which is unfolding in the Balkans is nothing but an extension of the same story, the central narrative, which must describe the German incursion into Belgium fourteen months ago. That was the determining act, that was the signal to Turk and Kurd; tomorrow it will light the fire in the Balkans, and Bulgarian soldiers may prove the ready imitators of Prussia's grenadiers.

Beyond all else the German episode is an attack upon civilization. What ever be the incidental issues as between nations and races, they have been drowned out in the flood of German violence and crime. It is the war for civilization that the French, the British, the Italians and even the Russians are fighting today. Unless Germany is beaten there will be established for all time the gospel of violence; there will be established the doctrine that not alone men, but even women and children have no right to life or to honor when the strong marches armed to accomplish his purpose be it dynastic or rational.

The piteous appeals of Armenia for aid will not fall on deaf ears. But in this country they will fall upon ears that do not hear and cannot hear the real message. Not yet in this country is there any wide recognition of what German supremacy would mean to the generations that are to come, and to the civilization that those who have gone before have labored for, fought for, died for. Only dimly, still, do the mass of Americans perceive the central unity that binds the Turk to the Teuton and makes Armenia but another playground for slaughter.

Fortunately, for us, for the world, that is not perceived, yet in America there is a small number of Americans for peace, the whimpering of the weak and the hysterical protests of the timid will have no response in the countries whose men and women and children are all the targets for German Zepelins, or the rightful victims of German military law. It is not simply or mainly one more struggle for power. Civilization as we know it ends at the Allied battle front, and the Allied armies are the rampart that protects, not alone their own nations, but the whole world from being populated with more Armenians and other Belgians.

There can be neither peace, nor safety, nor civilization, as our ancestors understood these things. There can be no liberty, no freedom, as the Americans of all civilizations have understood liberty and freedom, until the German purpose is thwarted and the German idea once and for all is crushed. Armenia—Belgium—these are but landmarks, details in German progress toward her own end. What Germany did yesterday in Flanders she would tomorrow in Massachusetts.

There is nothing more humiliating, nothing that breeds bitterness more swiftly, than to be compelled to sit helpless and powerless while such crimes as those that Germany has perpetrated in Belgium and encouraged and condoned in Armenia go forward. All that some of us love, hold dear, is at stake, and our country, which has proclaimed its championship of things least recently, is it too much to hope that awakening will come in time to save us from the consequences of our blindness.

Much Adler-i-ka Used in Wolfville.

It is reported by A. V. Rand that much Adler-i-ka is sold in Wolfville. People have found that ONE SPOONFUL of this simple but strong bark and glycerine mixture relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour stomach. It is so powerful that it is used successfully in appendicitis ONE MINUTE after you take it. It is perfectly safe to use and cannot gripe.

An Irishman with a very thick head of hair was once in a crowd of men who began to crack jokes at his expense. One man remarked: "Your head is like a haystack."

"Sure," said Pat, "that's just what I thought when I saw so many asses standing 'round it."

The German phenomenon which has filled the world for more than a year now is nothing but one more assertion of the principle that might is right, violence the mere warrestable accessory of a nation which has gone

Complete Prohibition for Nova Scotia.

ON EXPIRATION OF EXISTING LICENSING, MARCH, 1916.

The time has more than come for the overthrow of the liquor traffic in Nova Scotia.

To accomplish this we must have prohibition in Halifax and efficient enforcement of law throughout the province. Halifax is the key to the situation, the stronghold to the liquor interests. The licensed bars of Halifax, the wholesale liquor establishments and the influence of the "trade," work incalculable injury to the city and province.

In 1894, the people of Nova Scotia voted a vote of three to one declared prohibition for the province, and would, no doubt, if now called upon, enter a more decided protest against the traffic. The war has emphasized the fact that drink is striking at the efficiency and character of the people, and the Government should fall in line with the patriotic sentiment of the province and abolish the traffic. We do not desire half way measures. Shortening the hours of sale or other restrictions will not satisfy. The traffic must be destroyed.

The Government would win the approbation of the vast majority of citizens by announcing at an early date, that on the expiration of existing licenses, March 15th, 1916, they shall not be renewed, and that the city of Halifax, and the county of Halifax, shall not have any liquor establishments under protection of law.

There is now ample time for the government to make the required provision of this effect, and to notify all parties interested so that they will not depend upon any revenue from liquor licenses for next year, and the present licenses may make business arrangements necessary by reason of the coming abolition of their licenses.

It may be here noted that by solemn contract entered into in terms of the Provincial Liquor License Act by the City Council and the liquor dealers may do business until the date mentioned. The province's partnership with the liquor interests. This partnership cannot be legally broken until March 15, 1916. In the meantime, as heretofore, there is opportunity to work night and day to inculcate the principles of total abstinence from alcoholic beverages.

In the name of our churches, and other agencies on record for the suppression of the liquor traffic, in behalf of our sailors and soldiers and civilians whose efficiency and character are being injured, and for the sake of men, women and children suffering and crushed under the burden of drink we appeal to Premier Murray and his Government to take immediate action with a view to the complete abolition on March 15th, 1916, of the liquor traffic in the province.

Dr. Sproule, Speaker of the House of Commons, who for many years was an associate of Sir Charles Tupper, and probably Hon. T. Chace Casgrain, Hon. Dr. Reid, Sir Sam. Hughes, Hon. J. D. Stewart and Speaker Landry of the Senate, all of whom were in Ottawa during the time of the deceased statesman.

The annual Crusade Meeting, held by the W. M. A. S. in the vestry of the Baptist church, Wednesday afternoon was largely attended. Mrs. Manning, Mrs. I. W. Porter and Mrs. Archibald presented most interesting reports of the recent Convention at Smeeth.

Everyone has heard how the armies in Europe dig tunnels under one another and then explode mines! Well, the very latest thing is to have miners in the Canadian Army to do this work. Orders have been issued for the raising of a corps of three hundred miners to go to France, and blow up the Germans. The force will be under the command of Major B. P. Rogers, of Pembroke, Ontario.

Another Letter from the Front.

The following is an extract from a personal letter received from Captain Arthur Chute of Wolfville, written somewhere in France.

B. E. F., Oct. 25th, 1915. Yesterday was so full of events for us that I did not get time for my customary Sunday letter. There were many rumors about here last week that we were to be visited by great personages on Sunday.

On Sunday morning we marched into the town and into the grand square where troops were pouring from all the tributary streets. The men were drawn up in massed formation before the band-stand. Flying corps, artillery, dismounted cavalry, infantry, engineers, army service corps and royal army medical corps—and our boys swung in behind the latter.

While I was lost in wonder at the sight of this general another car rolled up, bearing upon the front the Royal Standard, and while my mouth was agape the king of England stepped out. A sharp command rang out, and we all stood rigid at the salute; but it was hard to keep from trembling. The king passed within five feet of me. To find myself so suddenly near the king stirred up a feeling of devotion to him so strong that I almost broke into tears.

I can't tell you much about the rest of the divine service—I had my eye on royalty. At the end of the national anthem, and there in the midst of that singing prayer on his behalf stood the king himself. Behind him were high admirals, generals and lords of his staff.

Two Hundred and Fifty Stories.

And every story a good one. They are entertaining, but that is not all you can say about them. You know there is hardly a periodical published that is not full of time-wasting stories, but not a single story in The Youth's Companion is a time waster. Take the stories of C. A. Stephens. It would be hard to pick out one from which you cannot learn something useful and yet entertaining.

Death's Harvest. It becomes our sad duty to record the death of Sarah Elizabeth, aged 8 years, the only daughter of Clinton A. and Bertha Elizabeth Borden, Sheffield Mills. The little one became ill with influenza and bronchitis at 10 October 19th. Before entirely recovering she developed diphtheria, and died suddenly on Friday, October 29th. Though not robust, she was an attractive, beautiful child, loved not only in her own home, but by all who knew her. It is needless to say that Mr. and Mrs. Borden have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends in their bereavement. Interment took place in the Hillcrest cemetery on Saturday.

THE ACADIAN regrets to record the death of Terry Newcomb, son of Mr. Alfred Newcomb, of Upper Dyke Village, which occurred early Sunday morning. He contracted a severe cold early last spring from which he never fully recovered, and which ultimately affected his lungs. He was a young man of a bright, genial disposition, well known by a large circle of friends, among both the young and older people of the county; and his death is a great loss to the bereaved family. The funeral, which took place on Wednesday, was largely attended.

Gin Pills FOR THE KIDNEYS How They Help. ST. RAPHAEL, ONT. Four years ago I had such pains in my back that I could not work. The pains extended to my arms, sides and shoulders. I used many kinds of medicine for over a year, none of which did me very much good. I read about Gin Pills and sent for a sample and used them, and found the pains were leaving me and that I was feeling better. So I bought one box and before I used them all, the pains were almost gone and I could keep at work. After I had taken six other boxes of Gin Pills, I felt as well and strong as I did at the age of 30. I am a farmer, now 60 years old. —FRANK LEALAND. To the Merit of Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound during Change of Life.

Westbrook, Me.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and had pains in my back and side and was so weak I could hardly do my housework. I have taken Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a lot of good. I will recommend your medicine to my friends and will give you permission to publish my testimonial."—Mrs. LAWRENCE MARTIN, 15 King St., Westbrook, Maine.

Moncton, N.S.—"At the Change of Life I suffered with pains in my back and side until I could not stand. I also had night-sweats so that the sheets would be wet. I tried other medicine but got no relief. After taking one bottle of Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound I began to improve and I continued its use for six months. The pains left me, the night-sweats and hot flashes grew less, and in one year I was a different woman. I know I have to thank you for my continued good health ever since."—Mrs. M. J. BROWNE, Moncton, N.S.

The essence of Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled in such cases. If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Finkham Medicine Co. (consultative) York, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Russia Bars Vodka Even After The War.

A dispatch from Petrograd says that the Minister of Finance received an order to the effect that the prohibition of the sale of vodka shall be continued indefinitely after the end of the war. This order is based principally on the tremendously improved condition of the country since the Emperor issued the edict prohibiting traffic in this liquor.

Visitors arriving from southern Russia say there is such a change in that region that the country is hardly recognizable. Peasants who, before the war, had fallen into hopeless indolence and depravity already have emerged into self-respecting citizens. The effect on character is already visible in neatly brushed clothes instead of the former ragged and slovenly attire. Hats which were formerly dilapidated are now kept in first class condition.

The times have become more orderly and these peasants indulge in wholesome amusements. These people now save fifty-five per cent of their earnings, which formerly went for drink and they have increased their earning capacity through sobriety. This extra money is now devoted to the necessities and comforts of life.

This startling regeneration of the peasantry is in the opinion of the Russian authorities, likely to have an important effect on the social and economic conditions of all Russia. A change in the large cities also noticeable. Liquor still is sold in first-class cafes, but these are practically empty. The Nevsky Prospect is now quiet, without a sign of revelry.

Canada's Grand Old Man.

The following sketch of Nova Scotia's greatest son who has just passed away in England at the age of 96 years will be opportune and full of interest:

The Right Hon. Sir Charles Tupper, G. C. M. G., the eminent Canadian Conservative statesman, and the last remaining Father of Confederation, was born at Amherst, Nova Scotia, July 2, 1821. He was educated at Horton Academy, graduated in medicine at Edinburgh University, and returning to Nova Scotia began practice in his native town, and soon reaching eminence in his profession was president of the Canadian Medical Association, 1857-73. Having the Nova Scotia legislature in 1855 as member for the Cumberland district, he identified himself with all important legislation of the period and was provincial secretary, 1855-60. While in England in 1858 or 1859 business connected with the Intercolonial Railway, he conferred with a number of prominent statesmen regarding the project for confederating the Provinces of British North America. He was Prime Minister of Nova Scotia, 1864-67, during which period he passed the free school law, and the union of Canada. His party being defeated in June on the Maritime School Bill, he resigned, and at the assembling of the Canadian Parliament in August following became leader of the Opposition, while Sir Wilfrid Laurier succeeded in the Premier's post. Sir Charles was a great campaigner, and a forceful and at times eloquent public speaker. Since his retirement he has resided in England.

The Women's National Anthem.

The following letter was sent by a gentleman in England who wishes his name kept in confidence:

DEAR—While in London recently I came in touch with a little incident, which I think will interest you.

I attended, one day at noon, a meeting in front of the Mansion House. A great crowd of men and women listened to the recruiting sergeants, all of whom had "done their bit" at the front.

A lady with a magnificent voice sang patriotic songs, which perhaps were more effective than the speeches of the recruiting sergeants. At the close of the meeting it was announced that after singing "The King," the lady would sing "The Women's National Anthem." Then in splendid voice she sang—

"God save our splendid men
Send them safe home again
God save our men;
Keep them victorious,
Patient and chivalrous,
They are so dear to us,
God save our men!"

As she sang, every man stood uncovered and with bowed head, and there were not many dry eyes.

I think it would be a good thing if the women of Canada would learn this as "The British Women's National Anthem," for surely it is the prayer of every loyal British woman.

After the meeting I went up to the singer, handed her my card, and asked her for the words she had just sung. When she saw that I was from Montreal, and I will be glad to send the words to the women of Canada.

"She wrote them on the back of the blue envelope which contained my passport. Very truly yours,

"No, I didn't come to business yesterday," said the stout man in the corner of the carriage. "The last of my daughters was getting married, so I had to give her away."

"Real? Who was the happy man?" inquired a fellow passenger.

"I was," said the parent, emphatically.
