Be There Without Fail

On the evening of Friday, April 22nd, the Y. L. M. I. A. will give a Basket Ball in the Assembly Hall. As may have been stated before, if there is one organization in our community more deserving of assistance than another it is the Mutual Associations. The ladies forming the committee, have spent a great deal of their time in preparing for the ball, and it is to be hoped their well laid plans and efforts will not go abegging for appreciation. Let there be a big turnout to the Basket Ball.

As spring assumes its wonted genial atmosphere there is a general stir and rustle among our mechanics and the saw and hammer so long silent are brought forth and their clatter and bang reverberates on every hand. New dwellings, new barns, new roofs, new yard fences are putting in appearances here and there and clearly indicate a busy season of general improvements ahead.

Wedding Bells

W. J. Hoffman and Miss Marie Grun United in Marriage

A quite wedding was solemnized at the Tithing Office, on Tuesday afternoon, when W. J. Hoffman was united in marriage to Miss Marie Grun, of Berlin, Germany, and more recently of Denver, Col. The ceremony was performed by Pres. Sterling Williams.

Mr. Hoffman, is one of Cardston's most worthy and popular young men, and the community in general will unite with the STAR in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman a long life of success and happiness. At present they will make their home in the Wight residence.

Among the marriage licenses issued in Salt Lake City, Utah, on Monday April 4th, were the following:—C. A. Duke and Effie Skouson, Raymond, Z. N. Skouson and Bertha Thompson, Raymond, N. A. Sorrenson and Eleanor Redford, Leavitt.

Proclamation

WHEREAS it is desirable that there should be a concerted effort made to clean away the refuse that has accumulated during the winter, and WHEREAS it appears that this object can be best attained by declaring a holiday for the purpose;

THEREFORE, I, JAMES C. CAHOON, Acting Mayor of the Town of Cardston, under the authority vested in me by the Town Council do hereby declare

Wednesday, the 13th. day of April, 1910

a Civic Holiday for that purpose, and call upon all good and public spirited citizens to spend the day in cleaning their yards and the streets in front of their respective properties.

Teams will be furnished by the Town to draw away all refuse gathered into heaps from the streets.

Given under my hand this 7th day of April, 1910.

J. O. CAHOON,
Acting Mayor.

Board of Trade Concert

A free concert by the Board of Trade was held in the Assembly Hall on Saturday evening, and a goodly crowd was present.

The program, which was a long and varied one, was rendered in a style both interesting and entertaining, and reflects great credit on each and all who took part. It was as follows:

1. Word of explanation.—Pres. D. S. Beach.
2. Piano Solo.—Joseph Banner.
3. Song, (A Dream).—Miss Hannop.
4. Selection.—Glee Club (R. Cure, M. Woolf, J. Low, F. Layne, Mabel Henson, Beth Newton, Etta Dowdle and Mrs. Fanny Brown.)
5. Selection, (Hamlet's Soliloquy)—Dr. O. D. Weeks. encore.
6. Song, (Land of Hope and Glory) D. S. Beach, assisted by Dr. Ardiel, R. Cure, N. Blaxall and Mr. Pickup.
7. Speech (Benefits derived from the Board of Trade).—Martin Woolf.
8. Duett (What the Wild Waves are Saying)—Mr. Jos. Banner and Mrs. Geo. Banner.
9. Solo (There's a Land)—Dr. Ardiel. encore.
10. Solo (The Holy City)—Mrs. Geo. Banner.
11. Selection (The Cremation of Sam McGee)—Dr. O. D. Weeks. encore.
12. Song, (Goodbye Sweetheart, Goodbye).—Miss Hannop. encore.
13. Song, Glee.
14. God Save the King.

Among those deserving of special mention are Dr. Ardiel, Miss Hannop and Mrs. Geo. Banner, for the excellent solos they sang, as was the duett by Mr. Jos. Banner, and Mrs. George Banner, and the Piano Solo by Mr. Banner, which was rendered in a very pleasing manner. The recitations by Dr. O. D. Weeks were greatly appreciated, and the speech by Martin Woolf was listened to with interest.

Pres. D. S. Beach made a most acceptable chairman.

Much Activity In Building

Cardston and surrounding towns in the district are going to experience considerable activity in building this spring. Real estate transfers are frequent and a good many people are looking for favorable locations on which to erect homes.

In Cardston, aside from the new tabernacle, the most important structure in prospect is a two story brick building for the Cardston Implement Co. Ltd. This building is being erected on the site just north of the company's present building, and when completed will be used for hardware, etc.

Several new residences are in course of erection. J. C. Cahoon is building a $3,000 residence just south of Dr. Stacpool's. A. M. Heppler will also build this spring on the corner lot facing the Reserve, across the street from W. O. Lee.

Considering the early season of the year, with the building already under way, it is sure that the close of 1910 in the Cardston district will see many remarkable changes.

In the spring a deeper crimson comes upon the robin's breast. In the spring the wanton lapwing finds herself another nest. In the spring the kids on rollers skate around the city blocks. In the spring the young man's fancy lightly turns to dizzy socks.

Horse Show and Sale

The Cardston Horse Show and Sale has passed into history, and it has proved to be a tremendous success, and it is difficult to find words that can really express the acme of enthusiasm, for the show was a credit to Alberta let alone the Cardston district.

D. C. Robertson, Edmonton, as judge, gave satisfaction to all, and he had his work cut out too for the classes of horses contained many whose excellencies called for the greatest skill and judgement in sorting out the very best. This was especially evident in the heavy horse classes and Mr. Robertson surely deserves praise for his selection of winners.

The judging started at Saturday noon, on the square west of the O. K. Barn. Fully two hundred horse lovers leaned over the ropes of the big judging ring, and each one constituted himself into an unofficial judge, picked winners and was overjoyed or disgusted as the judge's decisions coincided or disagreed with their own opinions.

People were present from every portion of the country, and taking the whole show together with the weather thrown in, there is no place in southern Alberta where a more successful event of this kind has been held.

The aged Clydes brought forth eight entries, and they were all magnificent animals. There was keen competition for the honors. Etonian, owned by Jas. Hansen, won first, Granite Prince, owned by A. Calder took second and the 3rd prize went to the horse owned by Charles Broadbent.

At the conclusion of the judging in this class, and in speaking about the qualities of the different horses, Mr. Robertson stated that the second prize winner Granite Prince was one of the finest animals of its class he had seen in this country, and that it was a pity he was not in better show shape, as an animal of his build should be a first prize winner every time.

Upon enquiry the STAR has learned that the horse in question has only been in the district a few weeks, which explains the poor show condition. The animal was bought in the Pincher Creek district by its present owner, A. Calder.

In the two year old Clydes, W. Hurd took first and Jas. Anderson second prize.

There was only one entry in the yearling class which went to Thos. White.

The Percheron Breed, also, was well filled. In the aged class there were seven entries. The first prize ribbon was captured by a Pincher Creek horse, the 2nd by H. Williams, Leavitt, and the third by Mr. Spencer, Kimball.

The light horses and other classes were strongly contested, and created considerable interest. We are unable to give the list of winners in this issue.

A grand parade in which over thirty animals took part brought the show to a close.

At The Assembly Hall Saturday, April 9th

Miss Cissie Simms formerly with the "Merry Widow Co." will appear with the Greve's Concert Co. for a short summer engagement. Miss Simms has been engaged as prima dona for that stupendous production "Little Nemo" but will not commence her duties with the New York Co. until Sept. and until then, will appear with Prof. Greves and his orchestra,

A GOOD THING

Few people in our community are aware of the most excellent organization which we have in the Canadian Club of Cardston. A secular association, organized for the promotion of good will amongst those who are for the encouragement of the best in music, literature, and the art of public speaking and forensic discussion, there is given ample opportunity to its members to while away a pleasant hour one night each week and provide entertainment for their friends as well.

The members are given training in how to conduct a business meeting or any public gathering; applying rules which govern in such assemblies, learning how to maintain decorum within parliamentary rules and of performing the many duties of clerk, committeemen, etc. There are very few young men or middle-aged either, for that matter, who can assume the duties of chairman, clerk or other officer in a primary, or convention and acquit themselves with credit; while the number who can take part in the many subjects for discussion which constantly present themselves in growing communities like ours, is also limited.

The benefits to be derived from an active membership in such a club are many, and the interchange of ideas and friendly discussions on the most important topics of the times, under rules of debate, bring out the best that is in the participants. One feature of the Club most commended is that which is proposed to secure speakers of national repute to come to Cardston and let the people see and hear them.

The Canadian Club is worthy of your support and will be pleased to welcome all in the pleasant quarters in the Court House every Saturday at 8 p. m. Ladies are also invited to take membership.

I do not care to play or work,
No tests have I for pleasure,
And my dislike for business
Is smelly without measure;
I feel nobody cares for me,
And I care for nobody,
And all the glory of the world
Has turned to show and shoddy.

I walk along with lagging step
And head low downward hanging;
And salutations that I get,
I'd fain return with banging.
So very ugly is my mood,
So dark does life look to me,
The skies look dark, the birds sing
false,
And gloomy thoughts pursue me.

I'm cross, I'm blue, I'm sad, I'm mad,
A most unhappy creature,
And all the prospect's darkly blue,
With no redeeming feature,
It is not that I'm crossed in love,
Or found a friend deceiver,
Its all that I am out of sorts
Because I've got spring fever,

Don't be stubborn, just surrender;
Send us your legal tender,
Send us your advertising,
The result will be surprising;
Ever dollar that is sent to us
Will insure returns momentous;
If you don't believe our poet,
Try us—the result will show it.
Take this generous chance to try us,

Don't creep fortune-ward so stealthily,
And not carelessly go by us;
Boldly dash in and be wealthy;
Start in boldly and go faster,
Be a Vanderbilt or Astor.
Use our paper and be wiser;
Try us, Mr. Advertiser.

IT IS A SPRING TONIC

If a person had the time it would be worth while to sit down and read the newspapers published in Alberta. In every one of them, from north to south, east to west, there is the same story of activity, the same story of activity, the same story of new industries, new settlers and general prosperity. It is as good as a spring tonic. The prophecy that this would be the banner year of the west is undoubtedly to be realized. Last year's good crop, this year's fine weather are all doing their share. Providence is good to us.

Even the soulless corporations are doing their share. Great works are being laid out, which will not only mean the distribution of ready money but the development of the now virgin prairie into fields devoted to the production of the necessities of life. It is the realization of this which accounts for the buoyancy which is at present so characteristic of the west.

The horse is king.

Horse laughs were the order of the day on Saturday.

Hearty congratulations to the officers of the Agricultural Society.

One of the very liveliest and most important organizations in this town is the Board of Trade.

What is the Cardston Military Band doing in the way of practices? Echo, answers blank.

Cleaning-up day is near at hand and the town's out-of-doors is to be thoroughly cleaned up.

It is to be hoped that all citizens will observe the civic holiday on Wednesday next, and clean up their yards and streets.

It is said that Carnegie intends to start a newspaper. He must be sincere in his determination to do poor.

The citizens of Cardston will wake up on Thursday morning next, and find that they are living in a clean town.

The town has expressed its willingness to do its full share on Wednesday next, and all that is necessary now is for the citizens to help and make the day a success.

Considering the number of the entries, the quality of the stock and the excellence of management the Cardston horse show of 1910 is a record in western progress. There is reason to predict that within very few years this event will be recognized as the leading one of its kind in Southern Alberta. Congratulations to Mr. Woolf.

The Lethbridge Daily Herald's special publicity number, published on Saturday of last week, is a work of art and a credit to Southern Alberta. The edition is comprised of 60 pages of splendid articles and cuts, dealing mainly with Lethbridge and district. It is by far the best edition of newspaper work ever issued in the west.

The time of making garden is near at hand and it is also time to pen up the chickens. There is perhaps nothing that causes so much hard feelings in a locality as for chickens to wander on a neighbor's premises and garden. Some say they do not do any harm. That makes no difference, your neighbor does not want to be annoyed with your chickens and you should not cause trouble by allowing your fowls to run at large. A hen that will not stay in the enclosure will usually make a fine Sunday dinner.

Spring is come, bright, sunshiny, breezy, muddv spring. In thunder tones it was duly ushered in and now the melodious songs of the bluebird, the robin's warble, the coo of the prairie chicken and the basso voice of the thunder pumper are heard early and late. The husband with the broom handle can be seen pounding the dusty carpet and swearing at his hard luck and the arch-enemy, the stove pipe, still wearing its familiar ironical smile. Oh spring! Oh chestnuts.

Oh, dear to our hearts are the sad days of springtime, when the annual house cleaning recurs to our view, when we sleep on the sofa and eat off the mantle, in an atmosphere strongly suggestive of glue; we think of the stove-pipe, the soot that came with it and a sweet expressions so fluent and fine but the saddest and most bitter of all recollections is the dusty old carpet that hung on the line. Oh, that dusty old carpet, that rusty old carpet, that rusty old carpet that hung on the line! We remember how armed with a lithe flag-lator, in the morning we blithely advanced to the fray, in the muscular pride of our heart little dreaming that cleaning that carpet would take the whole day; we sweat and we kick and our hand badly blistered, while the sun lent his countenance, warmly benign, but the harder we pounded the more it was needed by that dusty old carpet that hung on the line. Oh, that dusty old carpet, that rusty old carpet, that rusty old carpet that hung on the line!

Man that is born of woman is a few days of springtime, when the spring comes, gentle Annie, and the rain waters the earth he complaineth because of the mud and a few weeks later his soul is grieved because of the exceeding muchness of the dust. In the winter he cryeth it is too cold, and in the summer he would fain join an Arctic expedition that he may escape from the summer heat. When the sun shineth brightly it hurteth his eyes and when it hideth behind a cloud it giveth him the blues. When the wind bloweth he curseth the cyclone, and when it stoppeth, joy departeth from him and he moaneth, O, give us a breeze. Yes, verily there is nothing which satisfieth man. He cometh into this world crying, and he leaveth it grumbling. And this, too, is vanity.

The New Brunswick educational authorities have decided to enforce more generally the existing regulations governing the course of "Physical Training" in the public schools within their jurisdiction. They also have concluded to adopt a system of physical trainging uniform with that of the other Provinces of Canada suitable to the ages and sex of the pupils, and will encourage the formation of cadet corps and rifle practice among the boys of suitable age, provided that the Militia Department on its part will do certain things.—St John, N. Thanks

We herewith acknowledge receipt of a nice compliment paid us by one of our exchanges, the Alberta Star, edited by Mr. Fred Burton. Mr. Burton was one of the first of our fraternal brethren to pass us up a friendly tip; but the marked copy containing the mention was misplaced and did not come to our attention until after a relative across the sea wrote us, calling attention to the unacknowledged compliment of his home editor. So now then we pay the debt to our brother from the northwest, whose experience as a publisher has no doubt taught him long suffering and forbearance with people in the rear.

Judging from the Star, Mr. Burton is a booster of the "true blue" and with the attendant prophetic eye can see reincarnate the towers of Kremlin loom up against the horizon from the surrounding hills, while the golden apple of commerce dots the plains with its treasure, and so, happy firesides with peace and plenty shall smile with perennial joy their welcome to the prospective home-seeker.

Mr. Burton has a hold on the lever that manipulates the thinker, of a thoughtful people. May his fondest dreams be realized.—The Weekly Reflex, Farmington, Utah.

Pays To Advertise

Groveland, Mass., March 30.—Marcus A. Bunce of this town, who recently advertised that he would like to meet a woman who desired a home and a good husband, has received more than 1,000 replies. Over a dozen of the applicants have visited him and one, a Boston woman, has taken up her duties as homemaker on trial. Mr. Bunce's mother died last week.

If the new housekeeper and he can agree he will shortly lead her to the altar. If she is not his affinity a little girl in New York will be sent transportation and given a chance to demonstrate her fitness for presiding over a happy home. Among Mr. Bunce's letters were more than 300 from New York City. All the missives breathed sincerity, some coming from as far south as Virginia and many from the state of Maine. Bunce has a home of his own, cows, chickens, horses, is a member of the Masons and Knights of Pythias and a prominent man in politics in his home town.

Jos. Y. Card, was in Orton this week on business.

The Way to Carry Money
in absolute safety, when you go on that trip this winter, is in the form of Letters of Credit issued by this Bank.
Besides being equivalent to so much money, always available to you, and to you only, in any part of the civilized world, they are letters of introduction to thousands of banks and bankers.
Ask our Local Manager about these Letters of Credit—it may save you loss and inconvenience.
