

WORKING ON THE NEW AGREEMENT.

Company Ready to Make Extensions. Will Purchase 50 Cars at Once. Technical School Matter This Evening.

After talking over the street Railway company's new proposition the Conference sub-committee yesterday afternoon instructed the city officials to take the matter up with the company's representatives and work out a rough draft agreement which will include all the details.

At the conference yesterday Colonel Gibson said the company might issue, which it is asking the city to guarantee. The company is perfectly willing that the city shall have a string on the money by having the city engineer certify to the work and the city auditors to the accounts before they are paid.

The company appears to be willing to make the extensions asked at present by the city. Roughly speaking, the city's plan calls for a line over Ferris street from James to Sherman street, the idea being for every second car going north to run over Ferris street.

KILLED HIMSELF.

Suicide of a Legislative Candidate in East Lambton.

Forest, Ont., May 14.—Montague Smith, candidate for East Lambton in opposition to Hugh Montgomery, M. P. P., committed suicide here this morning at 8 o'clock.

DETAILS OF TRAGEDY.

Forest, Ont., May 14.—The whole town was shocked this morning when the terrible announcement was made that Montague Smith, of the Banking firm of L. H. Smith & Co., and Liberal candidate for East Lambton, had committed suicide. The act was committed about 8 o'clock in the lavatory at the rear of the bank. When J. D. Livingstone, the accountant, came to the bank at 8 a. m., he found a letter on the desk addressed to himself in Mr. Smith's writing, which intimated the deed. Mr. Livingstone at once searched and found the body of Mr. Smith in the lavatory with three bullet holes in his head and a revolver in his hand.

London, May 14.—There is no confirmation to be had here of the rumor originating in St. Petersburg that the Ameers of Afghanistan has been assassinated, and the story is generally discredited.

CLASH OF ARMS. French and Spanish Troops in Fight at Casa Blanca.

Spanish Newspapers Want Their Troops Withdrawn.

Casa Blanca, May 14.—There was an encounter on May 12 between French and Spanish troops quartered in the port. The Spaniards fired first, it is alleged, and the French Zouaves replied in kind. One Spaniard was killed and another was wounded, while the French had two wounded. At the conclusion of the incident Col. Desmoutiers assumed command over the area reserved under the policing agreement to Spain.

The encounter, which took place at one of the city gates, was the outcome of a quarrel between some Spanish soldiers and a French subaltern, tried to intervene. The sergeant and the officer were without arms. At this point some Spaniards behind a wall opened fire. The interchange of shots continued several minutes. The firing from the French side was done by Zouaves.

Spain Wants Details. Madrid, May 14.—The Minister of Foreign Affairs, upon being informed of the encounter at Casa Blanca between French and Spanish troops, demanded details and an explanation from Paris.

The matter has created considerable excitement here. Some newspapers advise the immediate withdrawal of the Spanish troops, saying there is bad blood between them and the French, and that a repetition of the trouble is likely if they remain in contact.

THAW UP AGAIN.

Beginning of Effort to Get Him Out of the Asylum.

Thaw Looks Much Better—His Mother With Him.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 14.—The opening of the Thaw hearing to-day, after many delays, finds Thaw and his representatives ready and apparently anxious to proceed, while District Attorney Jerome's forces seem equally ready to hasten the issue to a definite conclusion.

The elder Mrs. Thaw has been here for several days, visiting her son at the county jail, and having extended talks with him on his legal and personal plans. The long litigation has left its traces upon her, but she still maintains her attitude of confidence as to the final outcome.

Thaw's stay in the county jail has been much of a relief from the hardships of life in the Matteawan Insane Asylum, and the Tombs, and his appearance to-day shows marked improvement from his haggard and worn look at the trial.

Court opened for the hearing on the habeas corpus writ at 11 o'clock. An hour before that time the corridor of the Dutchess street court house was filled with curious on-lookers, and the hearing proceeded. Admission to the court room, however, was restricted to persons holding tickets or passes issued by the sheriff's office. No official statement was made as to the programme to be followed, but it was understood that the court house, that the attorneys for Thaw would first attempt to rest their case upon the question of the constitutionality of his commitment to the Matteawan Hospital.

As outlined last week, Thaw's counsel contends that Justice Dowling did not conform to legal requirements when he committed Thaw to Matteawan. They claim, therefore, that he is being deprived of his liberty without due process of law. They will ask Justice Morschauser to pass upon this question before proceeding with the examination of witnesses to determine Thaw's present mental condition. It is deemed probable that the hearing of arguments on the constitutional question would take up the hearing to-day and that the testimony as to Thaw's sanity would be deferred.

The county jail where Thaw is confined, is in the custody of the court house, directly over the court room. By means of a private elevator Thaw can pass from the jail to the court room without being seen by the crowd. At one point in the argument the court ruled that the burden of proof was on the relator, Thaw, as he was not on trial under a criminal charge. This ruling took Thaw's attorneys by surprise, and Mr. Graham said that he had not anticipated such an opinion from the court. Court took a recess at 12.15 p. m.

WHAT'S THIS?

Trouble in the Ranks Over Cotton Workers' Strike.

Montreal, May 14.—An appeal for a peaceful solution of the cotton strike has been issued by A. Gignac, general president of the Federation of Textile Workers of Canada, who, in a circular letter to the workers, indicates that he is not in sympathy with the present strike under the circumstances, and intimates that the general secretary defied orders, and is trying to make trouble.

As president, he gave his vote against a strike, which made the ballot a tie. He agrees with the manufacturers that they are not getting sufficient tariff protection to enable them to pay the scale of wages before the recent 10 per cent. cut.

A Red Hand

Dayton, O., May 14.—Warning.—This means you. You sell your tobacco for less than 100 cents per pound. You will see what you will get. Try it and see. This warning, written in red ink, was placed in the rural delivery boxes of Ephraim Long and Jesse Murray, of Trotwood, Ohio, two of the most prominent farmers in that community, and now all the farmers are in mortal fear that "night riders" will burn their tobacco barns of those who sell their crop at the prevailing price, which has been offered.

THE MAN IN OVERALLS

Why should Mr. Beck want to punish Hamilton because it is trying to get cheaper power than the Toronto article? Don't forget to register, young man. Here's wishing a pleasant journey and a safe return to His Lordship the Bishop. A few more storms like that and the Beach will get floating down the lake shore.

The Hospital Governors should buy out the residents in the neighborhood. The land is needed, anyway. Things look fine for Wardrop and McClelland. Bright, clean, clever men, and popular with everybody.

My lady friends of the Y. W. C. A. are getting there, all right, all right. When will the corner stone be laid? When Col. Gibson gets that honor, I will be right on deck with the glad hand. Not before.

John G. Gauld thinks that no fault can be found with the Whitney Government. Isn't John one of the "hirelings"?

I was sure the city dock would soon bring in a revenue to the city.

Ald. Farrar is another man who will vote for neither Hendrie nor Scott.

The person who murdered the poor, friendless foreigner, and of Etendale deserves all that is coming to him.

A square deal—three cents an hour prison labor.

The Tories are banking upon their candidates "flat words." But a lot of it is phoney money.

If Whitney hadn't so big a majority he would be more careful. Moral—Vote for Wardrop and McClelland.

Some of those editorials on my friend, J. M.'s, alleged promotion to Government House read too much like obituary notices to please me.

A revetment wall along the Beach lake front is what is needed.

This patronage business is going to be the death of Gordon Wilson. (Selah.)

SEVEN KILLED.

Tornado Destroys the Little Town of Gilliam, La.

Only Two Houses Left Standing by the Great Storm.

Shreveport, La., May 14.—Seven people are known to be dead and many others are injured as the result of a tornado which swept across north-west Louisiana late last night. The little town of Gilliam, 25 miles north of Shreveport, was destroyed, and the number of buildings on the east side of the river in Bossier parish were badly wrecked. Communication with the greater portion of the storm-swept section is interrupted and it is believed certain that later reports will increase the number of deaths and injured. It is said that the work of destruction at Gilliam was complete, only two houses remaining intact. The former had a population of about 200. The dead at Gilliam are said to be Mrs. J. T. Gardiner and three negroes. Arthur Vaughan is said to be badly injured. At Bellinger the dead are Mrs. Mitchell Davis and two negroes. Mrs. Davis' mother is reported to have died from injuries received. It was reported that Oil City, in this parish, was wiped out by the tornado but this rumor is probably untrue although great damage is thought to have occurred in the wrecking of a great many oil well derricks.

TROOPS FOR TERCENTENARY

How the 5,000 Will Likely be Made Up.

Hamilton Will Send Two Regiments and Service Corps.

It was definitely announced at Ottawa last evening that not more than about 5,000 troops will attend the Quebec Tercenary. The responsibility of reducing the number has been left in the hands of the Battlefields Commission, which will make its decision, with the approval of the Minister of Militia. Of the 5,000 at least 1,200 will be drawn from the permanent corps, the balance being made up of the city regiments throughout Ontario and Quebec.

Any regiment desiring to go, will have to notify headquarters of its intention, and from there the request will be forwarded to the Commission, which has complete charge of the arrangements.

As a result of the change of plans, orders will be issued at once for the holding of the usual summer training camps at Niagara, London and elsewhere as in previous years.

There is no doubt in the minds of the officers of the local regiments as to whether the 13th and 91st will go, even if the number is first cut down, as the local infantry do not have to take a back seat to any of the volunteer corps in the Dominion.

Below will be found an accurate estimate of how many regiments are likely to attend the Tercenary celebration, with the probable number of men from each:

Table listing regiments and their probable number of men: Permanent corps (1,200), 13th Regiment, Hamilton (400), 91st Regiment, Hamilton (400), Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto (600), 10th Grenadiers, Toronto (350), 48th Highlanders, Toronto (400), 7th Regiment, London (250), Gt. Gen. Bodyguard, Ottawa (300), 43rd Regiment, Ottawa (400), 5th Highlanders, Montreal (400), 2nd Fusiliers, Montreal (300), Victoria Rifles, Montreal (300), 38th Regiment, Brantford (250).

In addition to the above, two regiments from Halifax will attend.

The Army Service Corps, of this city, will also go in any event, taking about 80 to 100 men.

The new orders regarding the change will likely be received by the commanding officers at once.

REFUSE SUPPLY.

Tories to Keep Up Fight Against Elections Bill.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Ottawa, Ont., May 14.—The Parliamentary dead-lock will be continued. The Conservatives, in caucus this morning, again decided not to accept Sir Wilfrid's offer to have the Manitoba lists revised by County Court Judges. They will continue to refuse supply and endeavor to embarrass the Government. This is the more remarkable when it is known that five of the county court judges are Conservatives and only two Liberals.

TAKING PHOTOS.

Representative of Topographical Survey Branch Here.

Mr. John Woodruff, photographer of the Topographical Surveys Branch of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa, is in the city for a few days, making this his headquarters. He is going through the fruit district taking photographs for use in the department's records, devoting himself just now especially to the fruit interests. He will, however, take some stock farm and agricultural pictures, and some Hamilton manufactures.

Mr. Woodruff has taken his camera all over the Dominion from the Atlantic to the far west, and has a very fine collection of views.

Masonic Hall Association Closes Its Best Year.

The annual meeting of the Masonic Hall Association was held at the Masonic Hall last evening, the president, Mr. W. H. Ballard, occupying the chair. The financial statement for the year ending April 30th was presented by the secretary, Mr. R. L. Gunn, and showed very satisfactory results. The receipts for the year exceeded those of any other year, and after paying all expenditures, a substantial balance remains on hand. The Board of Directors was re-elected. It consists of Messrs. W. H. Ballard (chairman), William Birrell, George W. Ball, A. T. Freedy, B. L. Gunn, J. H. Herling, J. H. Lees, Messrs. Thomas McCallum and Charles Lemon were re-appointed auditors. The report was adopted, and the thanks of the members expressed to the directors for their care and attention to the business of the association.

GAS EXPLOSION IN BIG UPTOWN BLOCK.

THE LAPORTE CASE. Globules of Metal May be Gold Filling of Teeth.

Detectives Now Looking For a Man Named Havens.

Laporte, Ind., May 14.—The possible determination that the globules of metal found by the mining operations on the Guinness farm yesterday were bits of gold used by a dentist for fillings or crowns on women's teeth is likely to be a development of importance in the case to-day. The specimens were turned over to a local jeweler last night, and it is expected that he will report them soon.

The mystery has reached a stage where the determination of such facts is of major importance. The discovery of additional bodies is a remote possibility, and the identification of any of the seven cadavers remaining unmarked is even more distantly to be expected.

Yesterday's developments did little to elucidate any of the unsolved problems. The attorneys for the defence are said to be looking for David Havens, who, it is reported, aided in uncovering the bodies of the persons whom Laporte is accused of murdering. According to the information current here, they claim that Havens was declared an undesirable citizen by Sheriff Smutner, and ordered away from Laporte shortly after the fire. The attorneys also claim that Havens has declared that when the bodies were found in the cellar of the Guinness home on April 28 that they were lying on the floor, and that there was no debris under them. They assert that the testimony to this effect at the trial will do much to clear their client of the charges against him, arguing that the circumstances show that the bodies had been placed in the cellar previous to the beginning of the fire which destroyed the farmhouse.

The testimony of the other men who helped Sheriff Smutner uncover the corpses and of the sheriff himself, however, is against this supposition.

LEADER MACKAY

Speaks at Ottawa To-night—Liberals Enthusiastic.

Talks of the La Rose Grant and the School Books.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Ottawa, May 14.—A. G. MacKay, leader of the Opposition in the Legislature, who is to speak at the Liberal rally at the Russell Theatre this evening, along with Messrs. J. McDougall, M. P. P., and G. S. May, M. P. P., the local Liberal candidates, and Senator N. A. Belcourt, was interviewed at noon.

Mr. MacKay has been speaking at Stouffville, Norwood, and other points in Western Ontario, and from here goes on to Eganville, where he speaks to-morrow afternoon, and the same evening at Arnprior. On Saturday he gives an address at Alexandria.

Asked as to the attendance and interest at the meetings he had held this week, Mr. MacKay said he found the crowds large and that Liberals throughout Western Ontario were very enthusiastic.

"What have you to say about the $130,000 payment to the La Rose Mining Company, and the Ottawa Government is criticised and which has been referred to several times," Mr. MacKay was asked.

Mr. MacKay—"There was no justification for that expenditure and it was quite uncalled for. I shall refer to that matter to-night.

"It has been stated that Messrs. McDougall, May and yourself were in the Legislature when that grant was passed (the La Rose), and you raised no objection. What about that?"

"That is not true, and among those who objected most vigorously was McDougall."

In view of the fact that some Conservative speakers have been claiming that Premier Whitney and his cabinet have reduced the price of public school books and cut the prices almost in half, Mr. MacKay was asked about this decrease, and his opinion as to whether it would be permanent.

His reply was that John A. Cooper, a Conservative politician and one of the commissioners who enquired into the cost of text books in this Province, gave it as his opinion that the present prices are likely to be only temporary, and that when the new readers are published the cost will be as high or higher than those of the old readers.

The leader of the Opposition at Toronto characterized the Ottawa members, Messrs. May and McDougall, as two of the brightest men in the Legislature.

CANNON'S APPEAL.

Writ of Habeas Corpus Returnable Next Tuesday.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Toronto, Ont., May 14.—Nelson Cannon, who is wanted by the Columbus, Ohio, city, is appealing against the order of extradition, granted yesterday by Judge Snider, of Hamilton. Chief Justice Falconbridge, this morning granted the application of Mr. M. J. O'Reilly on Cannon's behalf, for an order nisi and a writ of habeas corpus. The writ was made returnable next Tuesday.

Four Men Injured, None Fatally.

The Damage to Building Quite Serious.

Lighted Candle In Cellular the Cause.

George Blackman, barber, tenant, blown through plate glass window and bruised badly. Suffering from nervous shock also.

William Cody, 4 Case street, carpenter, blown to the ceiling and fell back into the cellar. Ribs broken, cuts and bruises.

Fred Wade, 719 Barton street east, blown to ceiling and bruised considerably. No bones broken.

Samuel Harris, 163 Elgin street, gas fitter, burned about the face, head and hands and suffering from shock.

One of the worst explosions that ever happened in this city terrified the large noon time crowd on King street east to-day about 12.40, frightened the guests from the Waldorf Hotel and broke windows all round the spot where it happened—122 King street east, where a barber shop is being opened. The four men above were all in the place at the time of the explosion working to get the building ready for the barber shop to open. Three of them were sitting down eating their dinners when suddenly the floor buckled up beneath them, and threw them to the ceiling. Blackman was sitting in the barber's chair near the window when the explosion took place, and was blown through the large plate glass window in the street. Wade was sitting on a lot of lumber which partly saved him from the effects of the explosion, and he was not blown very far. Cody was sitting on a table, and was pitched up to the ceiling. The other man was in the cellar, and was not injured with the exception of a few bruises.

Since Mr. Kent Whipple gave up the check room there Blackman has gone into it, and started a barber shop. He has been running one chair while the premises were being repaired and fitted up by Jones Bros. There was a lot of lumber in the place at the time. Samuel Harris, 163 Elgin street, was helping make a change from artificial gas to natural gas. The advice of an expert was obtained, and Harris decided to do the job himself. While the two carpenters were eating their dinner and Blackman was sitting talking to them, he attempted to change the connection. He took a candle with him into the cellar to see what he was about. Just a few seconds after Harris had disappeared a terrible explosion was heard. The floor was torn to pieces and everything was blown about in wild disorder. Stone window sills were thrown out upon the sidewalk, and the windows were shattered and blown across the street. Buildings for a block around were shaken and up to the top of the building where the barber shop was located the windows were blown out like paper. Blackman, chair and all, was thrown through the front window on the west side. Wade was thrown somewhere near the ceiling. He dropped back to the ground floor. Cody was thrown clear to the ceiling, and the cable still with him, and in the fall he went through a gap in the floor into the cellar, where he was immediately locked in by the closing of the gap. Harris was in the cellar, badly burned, but was not suffering from any other

THREE LIVES LOST.

Fire at Passaic N. J. Caused Death of Three Children.

Passaic, N. J., May 14.—An incendiary fire in a tenement in Monroe street, occupied by fifteen families to-day, caused the death of three children and probable fatal injuries to two women. The fatalities were confined to the tenants of the third floor, where the families of Guisepe Off and Mrs. Louisa Paci were confined. Mrs. Off and Mrs. Paci were cut off by the flames, and tried to escape through the windows. Mrs. Off and Mrs. Paci were injured in falling from the third storey and may die. The three Off children were burned to death in their apartment.

A NEW SURVEY.

J. Walter Gage Will Lay Out H. H. Hurd Farm.

Mr. J. Walter Gage, who has laid out several suburban surveys around Hamilton and has conducted highly successful sales—in which the purchasers of lots have received good value and the best of treatment, has invaded Burlington. Mr. Gage has purchased sixteen acres of the Hurd farm, one of the finest properties in Burlington, and will lay it out in building lots, and have a big sale on Victoria Day, May 25th.

The property purchased is right on the main street, convenient to the Radial cars, and occupies a fine minutes' walk from the G. T. R. Station. It is equally convenient for school and church, and just a nice distance from the lake. It has been named Wellington Park—an appropriate name, as it is not so very long since Burlington was called Wellington Square.

FATED TO LOVE HER

Many an eye was turned in deep interest toward the pair—he so tall, so handsome, so distinguished looking; she so slight, so graceful; both so young. No sooner had they reached the door than out crashed the bells again, while a cheer worthy of Yorkshire burst from the churchyard. And before them fell like a shower the beautiful, rare flowers which the committee of ladies had arranged—myrtles, orange flowers, oleanders, pomeanths—the little school-girls smiling and glowing and scattering with lavish hands. The sun, bright at first, was still brighter now. It beamed in Gabrielle's face, it irradiated James' dark eyes. Thus amid bells, chimes, flowers and sunshine the husband and wife made their first entrance into the outer world.

"For taking you away. Not from them only—from poor Olivia, turning her and Cissy out of Farnley—'Amek adding a fresh joy to my life every time I look at you every time you speak. But you are so pale, and so tired. Shall I tell you what I mean to do the first thing to-morrow?'" "What?" "To take you to Dr. W. and make him give you a set of rules for your life abroad—your diet, as he will call it; medicines, hours, and all the rest."

"He will think you very absurd." "Never mind. Think what he may, I shall get the rules, and you shall keep them for me, remember, you have sworn to obey me."

"But it is Dr. W.!" "Dr. W.'s word will be my law. However, I don't care to be too strict, to begin with. We'll make a bargain, if you will promise to obey these rules together, and I will promise to take you in the spring to see Yvonne, Naples, Rome and anything else that you like. What do you say?"

"You may be sure I should never say no, James, when you would get me to Venice."

CHAPTER XXXV. It was long afterwards toward the end of May. The London streets were all glare and dust. The foot passengers traversed them with inflamed faces and continual complaints. In the carriages the ladies looked languid, the coachman apologetic, the driver weary of their existence and of the flies that shorted the world was dead beat. Only Cissy was still cool and fresh and blooming.

"Olivia, Olivia!" she cried, entering the drawing room—the drawing room of Sir Philip Peers' house, in Berkeley square, where she and her sister were staying. "Olivia, the most delicious, delightful, enchanting, superb, charming, brightest, tightest-gaitedest news in the world! To be had on guessing."

MARKETS and FINANCE

Trade was very dull on the Central Market again to-day, with the exception of the butchers who made a big showing and disburged of a fair quantity. Prices remained the same. There were only about half a dozen farmers in and a few market gardeners, and the demand for their produce was small. Poultry and dairy produce were at prices held firm. Indications point to a drop in butter in a few days. Green stuff though not plentiful did not advance and the prices for the rest of the market remain the same.

A SAD STORY.

TERRIBLE CONDITION OF JOSEPH KENNEDY, NEAR GUELPH. Frostbites Neglected Caused Gangrene in Both Legs, and When He Could Walk No Farther He Lay in an Old Barn for Several Days—Now in Guelph Hospital.

Guelph, May 13.—A story of suffering and privation which is almost impossible to conceive as being borne by a human being in a civilized country comes to light in connection with the bringing to the General Hospital here of a young Irishman, Joseph Kennedy.

Kennedy was found yesterday in the barn of a man named Hawkins, near Rockwood, in a state of insensibility. He was told to get out, but was unable to move, and it was only then it was discovered that his feet, and practically the whole lower portion of his legs were eaten to the bone with gangrene, which had extended to the knees, leaving him in an indescribably horrible condition.

Head, who lives on a neighboring farm at once brought the unfortunate fellow to the city hospital, and it is hoped to save his life, although both legs will have to be amputated above the knees.

Kennedy, in a state of insensibility, told his story, but it is learned that he is an Irishman, who has been in Canada for some months, and that he has tramped all through the country during the winter looking for work.

The condition of his limbs has been brought about by being frozen severely, and apparently for the past couple of months he has been going about in this condition, without medical attention of any kind, and complaining to no one of his trouble.

About a week ago he was seen near Rockwood, and called upon several farmers to get something to eat, but gave no idea of his true condition. For several days at least he has lain in the old, unused barn where he was found, and perhaps he has been there for a week or more, lying helpless.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Guelph, May 14.—It is now recalled that during the month of January on several occasions a man was seen walking barefooted in the snow near Rockwood. He was thought to be crazy, but who he was never came to light, and it is now thought it will be some time before an operation can be performed to remove the legs. The wandering from place to place in search of work, and the rebuffs received might easily have unbalanced the poor fellow's mind.

KILLING A DEVILFISH. Sport on the Gulf of Mexico That Entails Muscle Racking, Hard Work. The task of hitting a devilfish from a fourteen foot boat was left to the bachelor of the party, the married member explaining that he felt his duty to the club as he had excluded him from anything but a matter of fact, and accordingly, when near the next fish, the skipper put out from the stern of the Irena, the spearman standing in the bow while the skipper stood the big boat away so as to give the fish a clear field at the first rush.

The plan developed perfectly—the throw was good, the fish half filled the boat with his first splash, and then rushed away in a great swinging circle, so that in fifteen minutes it was possible for the sloop to cut across and catch up, when by some manoeuvring it became possible to pass the inboard end of the line up.

The fish was a fight to a finish, with the devilfish on one end of the line and the ten ton sloop on the other. For a long while it seemed as though the devilfish had the better of it. He towed that big boat steadily out into the gulf for three hours and twenty minutes. It was exactly like being in tow of a fair sized tug. The progress of the boat was not fast, but as steady as if it were being driven by the Irena's own engines.

It may be fair to remark that killing a devilfish entails as much genuine muscle racking hard work as any task on earth. It is much the same as pulling for hours against a yoke of oxen who are moving off entirely indifferent to one's futile efforts. The devilfish will not let simple towing tire him. If left to himself he will sound to bottom, and after that it is a question of whether he will be present such resting that one must work constantly by hauling the tow in close to him, thereby frictioning him to constant effort. If he can be strained to the point of weakening, then he may be hauled close enough to harpoon again.—Scribner's Magazine.

THE TRUTHFUL BOY. He Helps Make Life Worth Living in Many a Family. Robert Burdette says: "How people do trust a truthful boy!"

"We never worry about him when he is out of sight. We never say, 'I wonder where he is.' I wish I knew what he is doing; I wonder whom he is with; I wonder why he doesn't come home!" Nothing of the sort. We know that he is all right, and that when he comes home we will know all about it and get it straight. We don't have to ask him where he is going or how long he will be gone every time he leaves the house. We don't have to call him back and make him 'solemnly promise' the same thing over and over.

THE HAMILTON TIMES

THURSDAY, MAY 14, 1908.

"ONCE BITTEN, TWICE SHY."

The Spectator boasts of what Col. Hendrie's majority was at last election. But there's a difference this time.

At last election the electors thought they could trust to his pledges. He promised them that there should be no more convict labor contracts and no more unlabelled prison products sold. He made a big bid for support on those grounds—and got it.

Were his pledges kept? On the contrary, the most disgraceful convict labor contract ever heard of was made within a few weeks after he entered the Cabinet!

Did Hon. Mr. Hendrie resign from the Cabinet as a protest? Did he even so much as raise an objection? You never heard of such a thing, did you?

At last election he boasted his superior influence and ability to care for Hamilton's interests if Whitney should win. Whitney was returned to power, and as soon as he got things in his control he proceeded to take from Hamilton the Normal College, which gave it the distinction of being the centre for giving the highest grade of teachers their professional training, and divided the work—at greater cost to the country—between Toronto and Kingston.

Did we find Hon. Mr. Hendrie speaking out for Hamilton in the matter, or raising a row about treating the city in that manner? Not a row! He sat mute. The city might go hang; standing up for its rights might prejudice him with Whitney!

Last election Whitney stood on a platform of rigid economy. Too much money was taken to run the Province. There were too many civil servants, too highly paid, and the expenditure was too great.

The cry was a taking one. Well, in less than four years Whitney, with Hon. Mr. Hendrie's aid as a cabinet Minister, has enormously increased the number and cost of civil servants, has added about $2,500,000 a year to the cost of Government, has multiplied taxation, and has added a load of debt to the Province. One of his early acts was to increase by $2,000 his own salary, and to boost the salaries of the rest of the Ministers, and fix them so that the amounts would be paid without appearing in the estimates! And Hon. John S. never said a word!

At last election Whitney promised us an absolutely fair and honest administration, free from the taint of spoils. He set the party guillotine at work as soon as he was fairly seated, and enthroned the "spoilsmen. He introduced the very worst features of the depraved Yankee spoils system, and made office the reward of party service, without regard to merit. Hon. John S. made no protest; offered no dissent!

He promised to "lift the license system out of politics." His first act was to drop all the License Commissioners and officials and to load the department with his party machine manipulators. What followed was illustrated by the case of Toronto. The boards were expected to be there as Tory donkey engines, and to forward the interests of party "jobbers," no matter how discredited. When the Toronto Board attempted to make a show of decency, the Ministers interfered, and in the end the commission was so affronted and humiliated that it resigned.

You did not hear that Hon. John S. rose in his might and made a stirring appeal to Whitney to keep his pledges, did you? Oh, no! Even in Hamilton when Henry New conceived the notion that a license commissioner should have some ideas of duty he was fired from the board by Whitney, and Hon. John S. never uttered a whimper!

For years before last election Whitney appealed to the temperance men for support on the plea that Ross did not do enough for them, and many of them voted for his candidates on the strength of his fair promises to them. Did he make good? He legislated that it should require 60 temperance votes to be as good as 40 liquor votes. How he must have laughed at the fellows so duped and insulted. Hon. John S. no doubt joined in the laugh. We hear of no objection from him.

Whitney and his supporters pledged a fair and honest administration and the end of granting aid to railways, yet he sneaked through, by grossly false misrepresentations, a $2,500,000 guarantee of C. N. R. bonds and granted over 500,000 acres of Ontario lands to the O. H. B. & W. R. in violation of his pledges; and he gave $130,000 to a mining company in which the relative of a Minister is interested. And Hon. John S. is a party to the deals.

These are only a few of Whitney's deeds approved of by Hon. Mr. Hendrie. They have been done since Mr. Hendrie's return from which the machine organ speaks. Many of those voters had no suspicion that the pledges by which he got their votes were made to deceive them. They may not be so easily fooled a second time.

DOLLARS VS. MORALS.

Premier Whitney seems to think that all that is necessary to silence criticism of his astounding breach of faith in the Cobalt Lake case is to say: "It has brought revenue to the Province."

But the rugged honesty of the people of the Province, which has been so securely founded on moral principles to regard a question of a few dollars more or less as compensating for the violation of Canadian security of property before the law, is not satisfied with such a defence for an outrage upon the citizen. It is a very serious matter for the Government of a Province to step in and, by high-handed exercise of its powers, to take without compensation from an individual his property rights or claims and to deny him access to the courts of justice, to lead his cause and seek indemnification.

Yet that is what Whitney has done in this case. That is the blot which he has placed upon the honor of the Province. The excuse which he offers might be stated in the words: "Yes, I took the fellow's property from him, and I shut the doors of the courts against him, it is true, but don't you share the swag?"

Deals like that are calculated to bring up an undesirable and malodorous notoriety. If the fount of justice is polluted, what security have we for the rights of the citizen?

In discussing the case, Prof. Goldwin Smith has, on numerous occasions, made calm and logical pleas for action which shall remove from the Province the disgrace thus put upon it. In one of these pleas he says:

That the rule against ex post facto legislation is jeopardized seems not to be doubtful. Mr. Aylesworth's deliverance on the subject can hardly be deemed satisfactory. Is the observance of a principle which lies at the root of all property to be left at the mercy of a Provincial Legislature swayed by local party, as these Provincial Legislatures are? But the fact is that no politician's judgment on any question of principle can be trusted. They can never help being swayed by political considerations. Submission to a British tribunal is the only hope of a righteous judgment. To a British tribunal of some kind it is to be hoped this case will be submitted.

Even the opinion of any first-rate English lawyer might not be without effect. Prof. Smith's reference to Hon. Mr. Aylesworth's remarks on the vicious character of the legislation goes to indicate that he thinks the act should have been disallowed. Sir John A. Macdonald would not have hesitated to disallow it; and disallowance would have been in the interest of morality, justice, and the reputation of Ontario for good faith between the Government and its people.

The Canadian constitution, however, places legislation concerning property and civil rights under provincial control, and Canadian Liberals regard the constitution. The people of Ontario have it in their power to deal with governments which so sully their honor, and outrage private rights. They place individuals who disregard the private rights of others, and refuse to submit their personal disputes to the courts of justice, behind the bars of our prisons. Is it to be thought that these same people will, for what it brings in dollars, reward the perpetrator of such a public outrage as was committed in the Cobalt Lake case, with a return to the premiership of the Province?

ITS OBJECT EVIL.

The senior local Tory organ, in speaking of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's prompt offer to accept Dr. Roche's amendment of the new Dominion Elections Act which has been so long obstructed by the Opposition, says:

The Premier's willingness to accede to the demands of the opposition is in itself a tacit admission that the bill as introduced was not a fair one, though he will not say so in so many words. And thus has the fighting opposition once again demonstrated its quality and its worth in securing for the people their rights.

It is significant that the Spectator carefully avoids mentioning the nature of the amendment which Sir Wilfrid so promptly offered to accept. It was that the revision and redistricting to fit the constituencies in cases where the voters' lists were not prepared by the municipal officials should be left to boards of impartial judges. That arrangement would have suited the Government at any time. But in spite of the senior organ's expression that this secures for the people their rights, and the junior organ's declaration that it "ought surely to satisfy the Opposition," the Tory caucus decided against accepting it, and to continue obstruction. What the Opposition wants is something more to its liking than a fair and just voters' list. It will trust neither to the municipal officials, nor to the judges—only to its own heels.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

But J. M. would look pretty well in a cocked hat.

McClement and Wardrop are making no splurges, but they're getting in their work.

That city dock will make good yet. Don't be in haste to condemn it too severely.

On what kind of meat do they feed this Adam Beck? His bulldozing style toward Hamilton is intolerable.

There will be many new names on this year's voters' list. See that your Liberal friend's name is one of them.

Hon. John S. Hendrie's glowing tribute to Hon. Adam Beck, as Minister of Power, was almost as warm as liquid air.

The Ottawa Citizen has not yet attempted an excuse for its double dealing and misrepresentation in regard to that Ross rifle test.

It is wrong to nominate a Tory, but is all right to accept campaign funds from the C.N.R. executive of Hamilton.—Hamilton Spectator.

What evidence have you on which you insinuate such a charge against Berry? The Opposition has refused Sir Wilfrid Laurier's compromise offer in connection with the Manitoba election lists, and threatens to refuse to pass supplies, and thus tie up the business of the whole Dominion, unless the Government backs down and allows the Manitoba Government to prepare the lists for Dominion elections. To allow such a thing would be out of the question. The Government will fight it out along this line though it should take all summer.

Is the Hydro Commission likely to "funk the job" of fixing the price at which Hamilton may have Cataract power at 10 per cent. less than the Hydro power? Or is it only another Herald fake?

The practical jokers who gave the machine conspirators of the Twenty Cent Club an uncomfortable and entirely too anticipatory whiff of sulphur the other night had an over-fine appreciation of the eternal fitness of things.

George W. Fowler, M. P., is not just the sort of man we should like to set up as a model in politics, but he—all unwittingly, of course—gave the local Tory machine a solar plexus jolt when he so scathingly denounced its boss methods.

At Simcoe Whitney attempted to defend his gerrymander as a fair measure, and then immediately declared that after next census, North Grey, Mr. McKay's constituency, would be fixed so as to dispose of him. What do honest Conservatives think of that sort of thing?

At Simcoe, the other day, Whitney boasted that he had returned to the people $908,000 more than any other Government had done in a single year. Of the other side of the matter, that he had taken from the people over $2,500,000 more than had ever been taken by any Provincial Government in a single year, he said nothing!

Put a pin in here. If you wish to vote at the coming elections, make sure that your name is on the voters' list. If you are not a householder, you must register. Even if you are a householder your name may have been omitted from the roll by accident. Make sure of your vote. Go up to the Liberal Club, see how you stand, and get information on how to proceed. And go early.

Mr. Gooderham, the Toronto whiskey man, is giving a good deal of attention to the three-fifths clause in his campaign as a Whitney candidate. Perhaps he could give our friend Ham. Regan some hints on how to prepare an answer to that South Wentworth Voters' League, that would convince it that three-fifths of its members were equal to only two of his supporters.

McMaster University, in honoring Principal R. A. Thompson, of Hamilton Collegiate Institute, with the degree of LL. D., recognizes scholastic abilities and educational services of a high order. Principal Thompson will wear his new degree with credit to himself and honor to the institution which conferred it. Such marks of distinction are in no danger of being cheapened when they are so awarded. Our congratulations to Dr. Thompson.

Whitney asks you to judge his government by its record. That's more than the opposition dare do.—Hamilton Spectator.

Not judged by its record! Why, the great lead which Ontario holds in the Dominion speaks eloquently of the Liberal record. The rich sources of revenue from which Whitney draws the money which he squanders, the opening of our north country, the discovery of our great mineral wealth, the work being done for agriculture, for education, for good roads, for forestry, in fact, all the progressive work for the Province, for which Whitney would fain claim the credit, testifies to the wisdom of Liberal policy.

The power monopoly organ is becoming desperate, and no wonder. With the city assured of power for as long or as short a time as it pleases at 10 per cent. less than Hydro rates, the Hydro Commission being made arbiter; the city not being required to incur a dollar of expense, a month's delay, or assume any risk or debt obligation, or agree to any monopoly provisions, and the people being fully protected as to prices of private lighting by the Connec Act arbitration clauses, the monopoly organ's cause is in a bad way. It recognizes that no alderman having the city's interest in view can be expected to support it. Now it resorts to bulldozing and insult.

At Brockville, the other day, Hon. Mr. Graham made an effective exposure of the O'Brien mine case, and the presentation of $130,000 to the La Rose people, including Hon. Mr. Cochrane's brother-in-law. He pointed out that the only reason given by Whitney for this highly suspicious grant was "that the La Rose people had furnished information which assisted the Government in the O'Brien case." "Imagine," said Mr. Graham, "the Government of this great Province admitting that it paid for evidence in a case!" Mr. Graham very properly pointed out that, if a private individual were to purchase evidence in this way, he would be severely dealt with.

Whatever disposition may be made of the Incurable Consumption Hospital, some accommodation is required down at the City Hospital, for consumptive patients. Just now persons suffering from consumption are received there for treatment. Some patients are taken in afflicted with other diseases and the discovery is made that they are also suffering from tuberculosis. Even in the surgical wards, consumptive patients are from time to time undergoing treatment. These people should not be there. But there is as yet no other place for them, if the Incurable Consumption Hospital is to be built down there, no doubt arrangements can be made to accommodate such those mentioned above. If it is to be erected elsewhere, a consumptive pavilion is needed at the City Hospital.

In its ignorance or its eagerness to serve Cataract interests, the Hamilton Times has been declaring that Mr. Beck was only "putting up a bluff" when he said if government power is not to be delivered here that the main transmission line from the Falls would be extended to a point some miles west of Hamilton.—Hamilton Herald.

Now if the Times, instead of dealing with the facts of the situation, were to adopt the Herald's style and insinuate that the power monopoly organ's course was dictated by a desire to induce the Cataract Company to "come down" with a certain kind of "reason" to convince it, it would be but imitating the disreputable journalism of its contemporary. But the Times deals with facts and arguments, not blackguardly insinuations.

Adam Beck is said to have informed his power monopoly organ that if the city did not enter into the Hydro scheme the Government Commission will attend strictly to its business, and that business will be to do all in its power for the municipalities which do business with it. With the municipalities which do not take Government power the Commission will not concern itself—will be under no obligation to attend to their interests, and certainly will not do so.

In other words, this threat of the monopoly organ on the strength of Mr. Beck's alleged statement is intended to convey the idea that unless the Hamilton sucker takes the bait now, it will forever be shut out from the advantages of the Hydro scheme. It is very much to be doubted that Beck said any such thing. If he did, he is a greater fool than people have taken him to be. And whether he said so or not, it 3 years or 10 years from now, Hamilton would like to take Hydro-Electric power, it will get it without being penalized. Moreover, no engineer in his senses is going to build a line around by Copeston with Toronto as its chief customer. It is just another case of the Herald starting out to find the shortest way to Guelph via Stoney Creek.

It should perish. (Toronto Globe.) A government that cannot live a term without a general election is a government on former railway commissioners has no excuse for existence.

That Last Awful Week. (Toronto Globe.) The News may turn some clever political phrases, but none of them will stick like "that last awful week" by the telegraph.

Lucky Brother-in-Law. (Sindoo Reformer.) It is a fine thing to be a brother-in-law of a minister who makes gifts of $10,000 of the people's money to relatives without even being asked to do so.

It Will Not Die. (Toronto Globe.) To say that free trade is dead in the United States or that protection is dead in Britain is to underestimate human tenacity. Free trade will never die while men want that which it gives them. And just as naturally their friends at Ottawa object to a change which will mean clean lines.

Those Stanstead Ballots. (Ottawa Free Press.) The fact is that a mistake—easily understood—made by the late Clerk of the Crown in Chancery is being laid to the account of the ministers, who had no more to do with it than with a clerical error made by a clerk in the statistical branch of the Customs. There was nothing in the papers that could be proven in other ways. The process may take a few days longer, but the mistake is proven in other ways. They naturally object to any interference with their plans. And just as naturally their friends at Ottawa object to a change which will mean clean lines.

Opposed Everything. (Horn & Mackay.) "For example, in 1888, on the third reading of the bill to create a separate Department of Agriculture under a responsible Minister, the Conservative opposition and divided the House. In 1891 they opposed the appointment of a Minister of Finance and divided the House on the question, but immediately on attaining power they appointed a second Minister of Finance. In 1893 they opposed the appointment of a Superintendent of Neglected Children, and moved to strike out the appropriation where-with to strike on the work. In 1894 they moved to strike out the appropriation for the maintenance of a Department of Forestry. In 1895 they gave qualified opposition to the passing of the succession duties act, and under which last year the Province received $21, 892, and the same year they made three motions in opposition to the passing of the monetary revenue bill, which brought in $72, 241 last year. The brewers and distillers' tax was also opposed by them."

Summer Plans. (New York Sun.) Mother says with emphasis: A poky hole she loathes; She wants to find a bangup place In which to sport new clothes. Father's taste is different— The hope within him buds. That he may find a quiet spot Where he can wear old duds.

Sister but one thing exacts— Anywhere she goes— She would have the place contain A multitude of beaux. Reconciling all the wants Pathways lead not fork. All they have to do is stay In little old New York.

The Same Here. (Kingston Whig.) Why! Look at this. At a meeting of the West Toronto Conservative Association T. H. Humble said about 900 young men had left the old association in five months, that they had revolted against the machine rule that was driving the party to destruction. Conservative Toronto may reach a day when it will be no longer Conservative.

How About Montreal? (Montreal Gazette.) Some British critics are seeing a triumph for the Asquith Government in Mr. Gairchill's election in Dundee. The result certainly was a good thing from the Minister's point of view, just as in war it is a good thing when a strong corps shows itself able to check the advance of an attacking party before which others have broken. The Dundee result does not mean the recovery of Manchester, and Manchester was a bad loss.

Bachelor Tax. (Court Journal.) It may become ere long a seriously debated point whether a tax upon bachelors might not be imposed to the advantage not only of the imperial exchequer, but to the position of the ever growing army of women in our population. Such a tax would be a revival, not a novelty. In the reign of William and Mary, when the whole population of England was less than the present population of London, an act was passed obliging all bachelors and widowers above twenty-five years old to pay a tax of one shilling yearly; a bachelor or widower duke, £10 10s.; a marquis, £10 a year. A curious combination, this, of a tax upon single blessedness and social glory, and one which conceivably might be revived with advantage.

AMUSEMENTS. A play of genuine merit, and one which has probably met with the greatest success of any drama produced in America during the past ten years is "The Lion and the Mouse," which Henry B. Harris will produce here. The play is by Charles Klein, and deals with a widely-discussed phase of American life of to-day—that of the influence exerted by the moneyed interests upon the politics of the country, and while the drama is serious in its aspect, it is said to have many illuminating episodes of humor. Indeed, the play is said to sparkle with wit and brilliancy, and its theme being one of widespread interest, it can scarcely fail to interest all classes of theatre-goers. The engagement is for Saturday afternoon and evening. The seat sale is now on.

Knott and Robson. The attraction at the Grand on Saturday of next week will be "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire." Elsie Knott, supported by a clever company, including Andrew Robson and Viola Knott, is reported to have made the hit of her professional career.

About "Brewster's Millions." "Brewster's Millions," a dramatization of George Barr McCutcheon's unique story of the same name by Winchell Smith and Byron Ogilvy, will be here for the first time at the Grand next Wednesday. It comes under the direction of Cohen & Harris, is a thoroughly delightful play, and ranks with the greatest successes of the past ten years. Cohen & Harris, under whose direction the production is made, promise "Brewster's Millions" one of the most lavish stage settings ever seen in this city. The first act is superb in its richness, showing the interior of Brewster's home immediately after he receives the million from his grandfather. The second act is a richly appointed affair, in which Brewster works night and day to spend his money.

Another Kilties' Band. Another Kilties' band has been organized. It will make its headquarters in Toronto and be known as the Fraser Highlanders' Band. Rehearsals commenced to-day, and the first engagement has been booked for Cleveland, Ohio, on May 21st.

The band will consist of about 35 men, including some of the best city talent, and C. E. Carlton, formerly of one of the famous Guards bands, will be conductor. In addition there will be a pipe band of six and five Highland dancers, headed by Angus McMillan Fraser, known as the champion Highland dancer of America.

The uniforms will be gorgeous and of the Fraser tartan. They have been specially imported from England.

Stock at the Savoy. The special scenery which will be used in the production to be presented by the Summers Stock Company during its engagement, which opens at the Savoy Theatre next week, is being painted and constructed by a staff of experts.

The finishing touches are being put on to-day, and everything will be in fine shape for the opening on Monday. The same careful and capable management under which yardville has been presented for two years is an assurance of the success of the new policy, which will be inaugurated next week. No detail, likely to add to the pleasure and comfort of the Savoy's patrons, will be neglected.

DEATH SHOCK. TWO ELECTROCUTED AT NIAGARA FALLS. Suspected Suicide Hangs in Live Power Wires All Night—Lineman Shocked and Had Skull Fractured. Niagara Falls, May 13.—While at work on his farm one mile east of the Military Road at Lewiston, about 5:30 o'clock last evening, Arthur Schweitzer was startled by a cry, and looking up saw a man dangling in the tower of one of the electric towers of the Ontario Power Company. Schweitzer ran to the man's aid. He could do nothing for him, however, and it was seen that the man was dead. He was hanging by one leg from the network of wires.

The body was lowered this morning. The left side had been frightfully burned by a terrific charge of electricity, and the hands suffered likewise. The face was so badly burned that it is beyond identification.

The man had no business in the tower, and the fact that he left nothing in his pockets but a handkerchief, and the absence of any marks on his clothing, gives rise to the belief that he deliberately climbed into the tower for the purpose of ending his life.

Scores of Italians called at the rooms of Cornell & Dagggett, undertakers, where the body was sent, but none could identify him. The man was five feet eight inches tall, weighed about 170 pounds, had a heavy growth of brown hair, and his face was clean shaven. His clothing was of dark material and cheap. He wore a flannel shirt.

Lineman Killed at Work. Niagara Falls, May 13.—Edward Seeker, a lineman, 35 years old, living at 320 Main street, was instantly killed while at work about 3 o'clock this afternoon on a pole near the plant of the Hydraulic Power Company, in the lower milling district. Seeker received a heavy charge of electricity which threw him from the pole, and in the fall his skull was fractured. Coroner Scott was called and he will hold an inquest on Saturday night.

Seeker was married and is survived by his widow.

EIGHT VILLAGES BURNED. Punitive Expedition Against Brigands Suspends Operations. St. Petersburg, May 13.—At the urgent request of Persian commissioners from Teheran, the punitive expedition sent by Russia into Persian territory to quell the brigandage in the vicinity of Belesovar has suspended its operations. The expedition already has burnt eight villages guilty of harboring brigands. The Persian commissioners asked time to investigate and promise to deliver the guilty parties to justice and indemnify the widows and children of the men who have lost their lives.

Rewards and punishment are the basis of good government.—Nepos.

TOM JOHNSON'S DAUGHTER SEEKS DIVORCE.

Gross Neglect, Abandonment and Extreme Cruelty the Charges Made in Petition—Married Only Two Years Ago.

Cleveland, O., May 14.—Mrs. Elizabeth Flourney Mariani, daughter of Mayor Tom L. Johnson, is seeking divorce from her husband, Frederico Mariani. The petition was filed yesterday afternoon by Newton D. Baker, counsel for Mrs. Mariani.

It is set forth in the petition that Mr. Mariani is guilty of gross neglect, abandonment and extreme cruelty, without cause.

The latest chapter in the domestic affairs of Mrs. Mariani marks the close of a romance that began about two years ago.

Bessie Johnson met the Italian in New York. Their courtship resulted in a wedding at the Johnson home in Euclid avenue, March 23rd, 1907.

While still on her honeymoon and within a few weeks after the wedding Mrs. Mariani returned to her father's home, where she has since lived. She is the mother of a daughter, Margaret Evelyn Mariani, aged 5 months.

Neither Mayor Johnson, his daughter nor Mr. Baker would say anything regarding the divorce proceedings.

It is said Mr. Mariani is living at the Stratford House, in E. 32nd street, New York City.

Bessie Johnson had started on a stage career prior to her marriage. She appeared in a part with Miss Annie Russell, and in this role appeared at the Cleveland Opera House. Her talent as a playright was acknowledged. "Bessy's House Party," one of her plays, she staged and was well received.

It is said that while she was engaged in the authorship of a more extensive play, Bessie Johnson met Mr. Mariani. He collaborated with Miss Johnson. The two were to submit the finished piece to some theatrical manager.

The play was never completed, but in the making of it a romance was born. Mr. Mariani visited at the Johnson home and was a guest there for several weeks prior to the wedding.

Apparently it was a real love match. Mr. Mariani is a steel expert and made no boast of noble birth or of a family in which titles were assest.

The wedding was quiet one. Only a few relatives of the bride witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Dr. Harris R. Coley. The bride wore but one ornament, a diamond pendant, the gift of the groom.

There were no attendants, and immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Mariani went to New York.

It was said at the time that temporarily the couple would live at one of the New York hotels. They planned to travel all summer and to open a house in New York in the fall.

The suddenly Mrs. Mariani returned to Cleveland, and the story was current that she declared she would never live with her husband again. The public never was informed of the cause of the separation.

For a short time there was talk that Mrs. Mariani would return to the stage, but she has remained at home with her father and attended many of the meetings in his mayoralty campaign.

Five months ago her baby was born. Mrs. Mariani has continued to live at her father's home. She and her attorney say there is nothing to be told about her marital troubles except what is recited in the petition for divorce.

436 IN THE RAIN.

Fine Turnout of the Highlanders Last Night.

Rain has no terrors for the members of the 91st Regiment, as could be easily seen by the excellent turnout of 436 of officers and men on such a night as last evening was. Notwithstanding the fact that the streets were very muddy, and not at all walkable, two of the companies took a march out, where they would have an opportunity of getting in some good company work in anticipation of the spring inspection. The rest of the companies remained in side and took their turn at company drill. Col. Logie referred to the coming visit of the Governor-General on the 25th of May, and said that a guard of honor, consisting of 12 men from each company, would be picked to act as His Excellency's escort. Col. Logie also reminded the men of the Sunday parade on the 24th of May to St. Andrew's Church, and asked for the usual large turnout. Those men in the regiment who wish to go to Quebec are requested to hand their names in to the captain of each of their companies, so that an accurate estimate may be forwarded to the Government of how strong the 91st will parade for that occasion. The parade state for the evening was as follows: Col. Logie, Majors Bruce and Roberts, Capt. Bell, Adjutant; Capt. Chisholm, Paymaster; Capt. Dickson and Lieut. McDermid, Surgeons; staff-sergeants, 10, buglers 34, brass band 27, bearers 14, A. 29, B. 41, C. 38, D. 45, E. 36, F. 38, G. 37, H. 42, total 436.

RATS WERE THE THIEVES.

How a Toronto Firm Recovered Its Stolen Goods.

Toronto, May 14.—An apparent mystery was cleared up the other day, when twenty-eight mink skins were found down rats' holes on the premises of the Reliable Fur Company, at the corner of Jordan and King street west. The company, which occupies the third storey in the Sutton building, has on two occasions missed fourteen selected mink skins, worth about $175. A thief from outside the firm saw a piece of skin sticking out of a rat hole, and on the boards being removed twenty-four of the skins were found, very little the worse. To get the skins into their holes the rats must have drawn the skins off a rack, under two doors and down a very small hole.

Just received this morning, a large shipment of dainty Lawn and Mull Waists, from the best makers of these goods in Canada; all styles, some very special ones for large women, all finished with fine French Valenciennes and self-leader of club and society life in the suburb, had been swindled out of $30,000 by a book canvasser who, it is alleged, got her signature on notes to that amount when she thought she was signing orders for books. The notes were discounted by the agent and are now being presented for payment. Some of the notes, it is said, were taken up by Mrs. Patten before her husband started an investigation, which revealed that she had been swindled.

Yesterday a warrant was sworn out for the arrest of the man, who name Mayor Paden, of Evanston and the others interested, refused to disclose.

DR. GAEBELEIN ON THE JEWS.

Spiritual Phase of the Question Dealt With

Before Large Audience at Gospel Tabernacle.

Rev. Philpott Explains Object of the Meetings.

The spiritual side of the great Jewish question was dealt with last evening at the Bible conference in Gospel Tabernacle, by Rev. Dr. Gaebelien. Rev. P. W. Philpott opened the meeting with prayer, and then asked for the regular nightly contribution. In connection with the monetary side of the conference Rev. Mr. Philpott delivered a few strong remarks.

"This money," he said, "which is collected here does not go for light and rental or paying off church debts here. It'll have to be used, and the only way to use it is to use the money collected at this conference or any other to pay off a church debt, and I think God's curse would be visited upon the church if we did. I never coated any person to join this church, and in fact, many that have come to me for help, I have advised to stick to their own churches. We are here to glorify God only, and not to make a record in church membership by any means we can."

Dr. Gaebelien announced that his whole lecture was based on the eleventh chapter of Romans. The first verse of this chapter written by Paul the Apostle was the foundation of the address: "I say, then, hath God cast away His people? God forbid. For I also an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin." And not a few of the Hebrew residents of the city turned up.

In the first place, he said, "God's people" means the Jews, as is clearly shown in this verse. The first eight chapters of this epistle are to Jews and Gentiles alike, and tell what the Lord had and will do for lost souls, and those who have strayed. The next three are of the dispensation of His services to the Jews and Gentiles alike, and the last verses how we ought to live, is dealt with.

Up to the end of the first eight chapters it would seem as if the Lord had cast away His people, but from that point out the full meaning of Paul's words was shown to be rather a warning than a fact. "Our calling has not displaced the calling of the Jews," he said, "but it has delayed it. If you believe in Christ, you belong to Christ, and He will never go back on those He has called."

The great question Paul propounds in the beginning is answered in exactly seven different ways in the epistle, and it is also demonstrated that God loves His ancient people well yet. This is shown in the case of Saul of Tarsus from a persecutor of the Jews to a teacher amongst them of the work of Jesus Christ. The Lord visited him on his road to slaughter, and turned him from his purpose. There is no place in the Bible that says the Jews will be permanent. In fact we owe our salvation to the fact that the Jews refused it when it was offered to them by God. The Jews are now jealous of the God-given salvation. The giving of the Jews back to God is going to be a life from the dead, a resurrection. Speaking of the sacred books of some of the eastern countries, he said: "They are infernal counterfeits. There is only one revelation, and that is the Bible."

Dr. Pierson will conduct the last day's address of the conference to-day.

EMPIRE OF 3,500 YEARS AGO.

New Chapter in the History of the World.

The experts who design the fashion plates for the ladies' journals might almost be accused of taking their ideas from the dress of women in the city in the autumn. The President's letter of acceptance was received by Dr. Lawrence of the Flick University, Philadelphia, chairman of the commission on arrangements for the meeting at 8 meeting of that committee last night at the Cosmos Club.

Quite a new chapter, indeed, in the history of the world has been disclosed by the excavations, and was narrated by Mr. E. S. Foster in the Fifth Hall of the University on Saturday night. It is now proved that 1,500 years before Christ Crete was the centre of a great and wide civilization which was dependent on sea power rather than on a land empire; in short, that the Cretan empire nearly 3,500 years ago was in many respects analogous to the British Empire of to-day.

Dancing, still popular in Crete, not by artificial light, but in the sunshine, was equally popular there 3,000 years ago; bull-fighting was common, and pugilism a very popular pastime. Rather singularly, every portrait of a man shows him so narrow in the waist as to lead to the conclusion that men as well as women must in those days have been devotees of tight-lacing.

Literary traditions of the cult of the Minotaur have been upheld by the excavations. The people clearly worshipped a kind of half man and half beast, there were also snake goddesses, and another form of religion was pillar worship, reminiscent of Jacob setting up a pillar and calling it Bethel.

The Cretan civilization and the Cretan Empire, however, at the very height of its perfection, came to a sudden and perpetual end, and has lay buried and unknown through all these centuries. The lecturer advanced arguments to show that the invasion which brought the great Cretan civilization to so disastrous a close, came from the north, and that it was an early phase of the southward movement which later resulted in the settlement of Greece; as we know it to-day, and was an early part of the same movement which sacked Rome.

Hull Man Drowned.

Ottawa, May 13.—Henri Bouchard, of Hull, while engaged in helping to construct a small bridge over the flume at J. R. Booth's sawmill this afternoon between 5 and 6 o'clock, missed his footing and dropped into the swiftly flowing waters of the chute. He was swept away and drowned. The body may never be recovered owing to the phenomenal rise of the river. Bouchard was a married man, aged 24, and leaves a widow and small family.

Many a married man's motto is: "Be sure you are right and then ask your wife."

EXTRADITION ORDER MADE.

Nelson Cannon Must Go Back For Trial

Unless Appeal on His Behalf Is Successful.

Will Not be Handed Over For Fifteen Days.

Judge Snider yesterday afternoon said there was nothing else for him to do but to sign the warrant for the extradition of Nelson Cannon, on a charge of bribery, in the city of Columbus, O.

Mr. M. J. O'Reilly, K. C., closed his case after the hearing of the evidence of Constable McLean and Detective Blakely, as to the arrest of Cannon. He then moved for the discharge of his client on the grounds that Cannon had not been properly brought before His Honor; that he was not a fugitive from justice by reason of the fact that the evidence of Mr. Karl Webber and Mr. W. McCoy, being crown prosecutors of Frankfort county, was not admissible; that the evidence given by these gentlemen was received from Cannon when the latter was free; that there was no evidence of any crime having been committed; that the indictment referred to having bribed an official was not shown to be the crime of which Cannon was charged; that the evidence of the engineer, was an employee, not an official of the city; that the crime of bribery did not come under the Canadian code; that bribery had not been made extraditable and that there was no law on either side of the line by which a criminal charge might be held over the head of any man for an indefinite length of time.

Mr. George Lynch-Staunton in giving his reply, stated that the defendant was shown to have been charged with a crime under the laws of the State of Ohio, the crime having been to bribe an officer of the city of Columbus; that under the treaty of 1905, '06, and '07, the crime of bribery had been made extraditable. Mr. Staunton further remarked that Cannon could not be turned loose on a question of words, the law had to be applied, and he was not going to see the matter carried away by technicalities. Mr. Staunton then went into the fine legal points of the case.

Judge Snider, in summing up the case, said that there was no object in reserving the case. His Honor came to the conclusion that bribery was an extraditable offence, and that the present treaty between United States and Canada was legally in force. His Honor said he considered it was the duty of the courts in Canada to meet, as far as possible, the courts of the United States. It was not for him to decide whether Cannon was guilty of the charge of which he was accused. He had simply to determine whether a prima facie case had been made against Cannon. His Honor considered that the evidence of Mr. Webber and Mr. McCoy was of such a nature that it would have to be accepted. From the evidence he had received he was of the opinion that Beck was an assistant city engineer, and the crime of bribery would therefore come under the code. He felt there was but one thing for him to do, and that was to grant the warrant for Cannon's extradition.

His Honor explained to Cannon that he would not be surrendered to the United States courts for 15 days and during that time he had the right to apply for habeas corpus to remedy any mistake that he might have made.

Senator Sullivan and Mr. O'Reilly announced that the case would be taken to the Court of Appeal at once, and if a satisfactory decision was not reached there, it would be taken before the Minister of Justice.

TO SHORTEN SESSIONS. Senator McMullen Advocates Distribution of Business.

Ottawa, May 13.—In the Senate today Hon. Jas. McMullen moved that it was expedient to invite the Commons to consider the advisability of arranging a more equal division between the two Houses, and the adoption of rules governing debate, which will limit the time of discussion, so as to expedite business. Members talked to their constituents rather than to the question, and this was more the case today than in the past, for in the ten years of Liberal Opposition the Liberals had only filled 49,628 columns of Hansard, at a cost of $267,991, while in the ten years of Conservative Opposition the Conservatives had filled 84,440, or nearly twice as much, and at a cost of $450,492. He regretted it, but in his opinion the opposition in the Commons had become so unreasonable and prolonged and had blocked the transaction of business to such an extent that the time appeared to have come for the adoption of some such system of closure as Mr. Gladstone had adopted in 1882 in consequence of Irish party tactics.

Sir Richard Cartwright said there was no reason why the Senate should not invite attention to the length to which the sessions were growing. In his opinion the length of the sessions was largely due to the fact that the leaders in the Commons did not have their followers in as good order as they were in the past. He favored the abolition of Hansard on the ground that time would be saved and the country would be better informed as to proceedings in Parliament.

The motion carried, and the Senate adjourned.

INTERRUPTED HONEYMOON. Youth Forges Cheque and Runs Off to Marry.

Berlin, May 13.—Ivan Schroeder, aged 20, cashed a $20 cheque intended for I. Schroeder, a Toronto man, and skipped out with 16-year-old Alice Riehl. They had intended going to Toronto to be married there but the romance was nipped in the bud, the pair only getting as far as Galt, when young Schroeder was arrested at the instance of the Berlin police and, appearing before Police Magistrate Weir today, was remanded until Saturday on a charge of theft and forgery.

The girl's father took her back home.

GETTING IT IN SHAPE

WORK ON MOUNTAIN DRIVE AND BOULEVARD.

Board Will Make an Inspection on Tuesday Afternoon—Want New Park Called West Mount.

An inspection of the city parks and the mountain drive will be made by the Park Commissioners on Tuesday afternoon. At the meeting of the board last night considerable small business was cleared up.

Mr. D. Platt, who donated the park site in the southwest end, suggested that it be called West Mount Park. The matter of naming the park will be considered later.

W. Crawford, who had the refreshment privileges last year at Dundurn Park, was the successful bidder again. His price was the same as last year, $500.

The contract for lighting the park will be renewed on the same terms as last year, 25 cents a night for each arc lamp. There are six lamps.

Bandmaster Robinson will be asked to point out where he wants the band stand erected in the park, and the first concert of the season will be given on the evening of the holiday.

The report of the Works Committee, which was adopted, was as follows: "The mountain drive some fifty young elm trees have been planted, and the boulevard along the brow graded and seeded."

"The Gage property having been finally disposed of, we recommend that arrangements be made for the completion of the drive through this property at once in order that it may be opened up for its full length."

"In Dundurn Park the benches have all been repaired and painted by the regular employees during spare moments, and the seats and outbuildings, cleaned and painted, giving everything a much improved appearance."

"The sewers to the castle and battery lodge both became choked, and it was found necessary to relay them again, cementing the joints of pipes."

"In Woodland Park the committee has had the old cannon carriage repaired and placed upon a cement block, which gives it a very neat appearance."

RELEASED ON BAIL. Toronto Jury Acquitted Findlay on One Charge of Stealing.

Toronto, May 14.—After being closeted together for nine hours and a half the jury of the assizes before whom Douglas B. Findlay was placed on trial for the theft of $1,635 from his employers, Messrs. McDonald & Maybee, brought in their verdict on one count only of the indictment at 8 o'clock last night. On the other count they assured Mr. Justice Anglin that there was no possibility of their arriving at an agreement with his Lordship thereupon discharged them.

The indictment against Findlay charged the prisoner with stealing $1,213.85 and $300, both sums paid in by Mr. William Fawcett. The evidence showed that Findlay had, on the day on which the larger amount was paid, deposited in the Dominion Bank to the credit of the firm $1,300 in notes of the identical denomination of those paid by Fawcett, though he failed to pass a credit entry through the cash book. The jury acquitted him on the day on which the other amount Findlay denied receiving, leaving the charge to rest on his word against Fawcett's. On the second count, which covered this latter sum, the jury disagreed.

In his charge to the jury yesterday morning Mr. Justice Anglin said: "It is not McDonald, the gambler, it is not McDonald, the poker player, whose veracity is to be considered here. It is between Fawcett and Findlay. After the jury had brought in their verdict his Lordship said that the jury were right in sticking to their honest convictions though it might invoke the expense of another trial."

On the application of Mr. Hartley Dewar, K. C., Crown Attorney, Drayton consenting, Findlay was allowed to go, the Court accepting a bond of $1,000 from Findlay's father and a similar amount from the prisoner himself for his reappearance when called upon. The case was formally traversed to the next assizes.

A DOMESTIC REPTURE. James Leslie Was Leaving Wife for Sweetheart of Years Ago.

Buffalo, May 13.—On the eve of his threatened departure to Ireland to join his boyhood sweetheart, from whom he had been separated forty years, James Leslie was arrested to-day on complaint of his wife, who has begun a suit for separation on the ground of cruelty.

The Leslies married in Port Maitland, Ont. For many years they lived in Port Colborne, Ont., and owned property there. In 1902 the family moved to Buffalo.

Affidavits were presented in court in which three of the couple's children declare they were witnesses to repeated acts of cruelty. They also declare that their father told them he was going to Ireland and told of presents he had sent to his erstwhile sweetheart in Ireland.

Leslie is still in jail, not having furnished a bond.

Globe Libel Case Traversed.

A STOCKBROKER FAILS. Meteoric Career of Fred W. Boschen, of Montreal.

Montreal, May 13.—A sensation was sprung on the street to-day, when Fred W. Boschen, stock broker, having offices at 10 Hospital street, and an office in the Consulate Building, suspended payment. Mr. Wurtzler, local manager for Mr. Boschen, confirmed this information. In addition to transacting business with the Montreal public under his own name, Mr. Boschen had as correspondents in this city Messrs. Barclay & Strathay, stock brokers. Mr. Boschen had private wires out to the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec and in the State of Vermont.

Boschen's office and different correspondents, it is understood, did a very large brokerage business, and their suspension will entail a loss to the public, according to the street, of about $100,000, although this amount could not be verified at headquarters. It is reported that the suspension is due largely to speculation.

Mr. Boschen's Montreal record as a stock trader has been full of ups and downs. Less than two years ago he became a member of the New York Consolidated Stock Exchange, and opened offices to the number of twelve. In every one of them he was said to be making money. His wealth was variously estimated at between $100,000 and $200,000, all made in a few months.

He said that he was living at the rate of $25,000 a year, and told of his footman, butler, servants, theatre parties, etc., to say nothing of the horses which he drove and the magnificent sleigh and drag outfits, with robes and other fittings, which cost many thousands. Many Montreal parties will be heavy losers.

FOUR MEN DROWNED. Were Working in Millip at Campbellton, N.B.

Campbellton, N. B., May 13.—While working for the Shives Lumber Company here to-day four men lost their lives by drowning. They were Fred Clarke, Joseph Rousse, Bernard Maitais and Simon Tamer.

About 3 o'clock this afternoon the men, along with Henry Savidant, were out in a small boat, working to repair the haul-up chain in the Shives lumber mill slip. They were about 120 yards from the shore. They put out an anchor to keep the boat in a fixed position while they worked, but the anchor slipped and knocked a plank out of the side of the boat, which began to fill and almost immediately sank.

Savidant alone could swim, and he struck out for the shore, which he reached in safety. The other four sought to save their lives by clinging to the sinking boat, but it went down with them. Grappling parties were soon at work, but to-night had succeeded in finding only one body, that of Rousse. The men were all residents of Campbellton, were married and leave families.

Toronto, May 14.—In response to a requisition, very largely signed by representatives of all classes in the constituency, the Rev. D. C. Hossack has announced that he is prepared to stand as an independent Liberal candidate for the B constituency of North Toronto. At the Conservative convention on Tuesday night last Mr. John Shaw was chosen as the party candidate, and Mr. James Lindala is named as the Socialist candidate for the same constituency. The Labor candidate, Mr. W. J. Hevey, has not yet announced whether he is to run for the A or B constituency, but it is understood that he prefers to run in A.

Mr. George Miles, the well-known lumber man, will allow his name to go before the West Toronto Liberal convention on Friday night. The report that he would not do so was incorrect.

THE MURDERED MAN'S MONEY.

STATEMENT OF WOMAN WITH WHOM LUTEK BOARDED.

Mrs. Anna Vasiline Says Stephen Svereda, the Accused, Spent Money Freely After Good Friday on His Wife—The Inquest Today.

Toronto, May 14.—The feeling growing in police circles in this city and the County of Peel that Alex. Lutek, the victim of the Erindale murder, had a good deal more money on his person when he arrived here than he told for signers with whom he came in contact. His general appearance, his story of his home life and a number of other circumstances give rise to the belief. One of those who believe that the young man brought money to Canada and had it with him at the time of his cruel murder is Mrs. Anna Vasiline, wife of Stephen Vasiline, to whose lodging house, 139 Adelaide street west, Lutek was taken by Stephen Svereda, the man held at Brampton jail charged with the murder. The couple will be witnesses to-day at the inquest to be held this afternoon at Erindale, and will tell all they know of the victim and the man under arrest.

On the day the accused took Lutek away the former claimed he was going to find work for the new arrival on a farm. The next day, which was Good Friday, the prisoner returned about 1 o'clock and gave Mr. Vasiline a dollar on account of a tobacco bill, claiming he had made $1.75 the night before by placing Lutek on the farm. The following day, Saturday, April 17, Svereda mailed $5 to his wife in Rochester, but it is claimed that she did not get it because she was then on her way to Toronto, and arrived here on the Sunday evening. Mrs. Vasiline asserts that on Easter Monday the prisoner bought a blue skirt, a waist, a hat and a pair of boots for his wife. That day Mrs. Vasiline again asked about Lutek, and the accused explained the new arrival had been put on a farm to work for $7.50 a month and his bed, and that was the last Svereda said he had seen of him.

"What can he do if he can't speak English?" asked the woman.

"He will work all right. He knows what he has to do," said Svereda.

The woman declared that when she noticed all the new things on her lodger's wife she asked Svereda why he did not pay the $9 he owed her. The accused replied he had spent everything on his wife, but on the following Thursday gave $4 to Mrs. Vasiline, who says the man still owes her $7 because her husband afterwards loaned him $2 more.

Of the visit of Provincial Detectives Miller and Greer to her home, the woman said the prisoner denied all knowledge of the victim, who, he said, had been left on a farm. Mrs. Vasiline believed one of her roomers, Frank Mowak, was assisting the detectives in following up the case. The wife of the prisoner went out to Brampton yesterday and will set to work at once to raise funds for the defence.

Mrs. Svereda came out from the village of Pukof, Bohatin County, Galicia, last November to her father, who is at Rochester. Both the victim and the prisoner were members of the Greek Catholic Church and they spoke the same language.

Mrs. Vasiline admitted Lutek had while at her home maintained he only had $2, but she believed otherwise, because the young man claimed to have just left High School and was anxious to see the world. His father, he said, was in comfortable circumstances, and his general appearance indicated he had been well brought up. "Then, too," said Mrs. Vasiline, "he wanted to pay for everything he got, even for a cup of tea and for sleeping on the floor."

Big Flow of Gas. Woodstock, Ont., May 13.—For several weeks past a machine has been in operation on the farm of Edward Locke, near Innerkip, drilling for gas. Yesterday afternoon an apparently strong flow was found at a depth of some 300 feet. Drilling operations were suspended and a test will be made to determine the capacity and the pressure of the well.

Cold Settles on Kidneys. Cure is obtained promptly by using Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Medical authorities place colds as the most frequent cause of kidney diseases. It is customary to consider the lungs alone in danger from colds.

This is a mistake. The kidneys are quite as susceptible and the effect is to congest and clog these filtering organs until the whole system is poisoned and there comes backaches, humbago, aching head, painful limbs and urinary derangements.

In a wonderful short time Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills offered relief and cure.

By reason of their direct and combined action of kidneys, liver and bowels they cleanse the system, purify the blood and carry away the poisons generated by reason of the cold.

The great secret of health lies in keeping these filtering and excretory organs regular and active and this can best be done by using Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box at all dealers or Edman, Bates & Co., Toronto, Ont.

CUBAN GIANTS BEAT TIGERS.

New York Colored Nine Played Fast Game Yesterday.

Three Home Runs Made in Eastern League Game at Toronto Yesterday.

At Britannia Park yesterday afternoon, before over 800 spectators, the Cuban Giants, of New York, the crack colored baseball team of America, played an exhibition game with the Hamiltons. The visitors won the game by a score of 4 to 2. The last five innings of the game were played in the rain, and on a heavy diamond, and the visitors proved themselves to be good "mudders." While many of the locals floundered around in the mud, the colored players had little trouble in keeping their feet, and the weather didn't seem to bother them a bit. The afternoon was far from an ideal one for a ball game, either from the spectators' or players' point of view, being cold and threatening. That such a large crowd gathered was somewhat surprising, but it showed that baseball has the call here just now. A great many went down to see how the local boys who were to have a trial performed, but they must have been disappointed. Nelson Long, Ross, Hackbusch, Howe, Maxey and Howard were the home boys in uniform, and three of them played through the entire game. Maxey, Howard and Ross were the visitors, who got hits. The first three runs were scored, and he was succeeded by Bradford. Bradford pitched the last four innings in the rain, and did the best twirling of the locals, only three scattered hits being made off him. No scoring was done after the fifth inning by the visitors, who got hits. The first runs in the first innings. Maxey made two errors while officiating at the first station for eight innings. Howe, in right garden, found trouble in plowing through the wet hay, and did not have a put out or assist to his credit, although one hit landed in his territory. He made a nice sacrifice hit in the seventh inning, which helped Howard on his journey to the plate. Carey was twice at bat, and made one hit and had three assists, while playing short for two innings. He was given "the hand" by the fans when he stepped out for the first time.

The Erskine Baseball team and their friends were the guests of their catcher, Arthur Housego, Florence street, last night, who entertained them royally. Games and card playing were indulged in till a late hour and then the surprise of the night was when they were called to sit down to a beautiful spread table, which they done good justice to. They all had a very enjoyable time and will still linger in their minds. The Erskine Senior Baseball team would like to arrange games with any of the following teams for Saturday afternoon: Carleton, Glanford, Oakville, Bronte, Burlington, Carleton, Glanford and Dundas.

FOR "GAME TO-DAY."

Manager Paige may make request to the Parks Board. The Hamilton Baseball Club, is considering the advisability of asking the Parks Board and the Small Boat Union Jack on the flag pole in the Gore extension on days on which the Tigers will perform at Britannia Park. He considers that this signal would be an accommodation to the fans on days on which the weather is threatening. If the flag were flying the fans would know that a game is on; if it is not up they would understand that it is postponed. This would save the uptown brigade the trouble of telephoning or going by car to the park. If the park people say no, some other similar scheme may be thought out.

Schedule for the Senior C. L. A. Series Arranged. The senior C. L. A. series was arranged last night, at a meeting of representatives, at the Royal Hotel. Elora sent word that it would not be represented, and the series was arranged for the three remaining clubs. The representatives were: Hamilton—Fred Hubert and R. S. Babb. St. Catharines—J. P. Tipples and J. Baird. Bradford—D. McLean. The trouble between the Hamilton and St. Catharines clubs was settled by the Tigers agreeing to give St. Kitts an exhibition game on May 23. The following schedule of championship games was drawn up: May 25—St. Catharines at Bradford. May 30—Bradford at Hamilton. June 6—Hamilton at Bradford. June 27—St. Catharines at Hamilton. July 1—Bradford at St. Catharines. July 11—Hamilton at St. Catharines. July 18—Bradford at Hamilton. Aug. 3—St. Catharines at Hamilton. Aug. 17—Hamilton at St. Catharines. COMMENT AND GOSSIP

The Burlington Plater, Good Likeness, has an interesting history. It was presented by Mr. J. E. Seagram as a yearling to a church bazaar, held near the village, and was the capital prize in a drawing. Mr. John Campbell won the filly, which is by Connaisseur—Veracitas II. The new owner has taken the greatest care of her and she will be in good hands when she goes to the post for the King's guineas. Colin Martin, a brother of Jack Martin, the noted jockey, will have the mount. Good Likeness did six furlongs in 1.21 at the Woodbine yesterday, and made a favorable impression on the rail birds. Everybody in Burlington that makes a bet will have a ticket on Good Likeness on King's Plate day. Those colored chaps can play ball, all right. Between baseball and lacrosse, there will be lots of Saturday sport here this summer.

JACK ATKIN'S METROPOLITAN.

Three Teams In the Senior C. L. A. Series.

Schedule Arranged at Meeting Held Here Last Evening.

New York, May 13.—"The best horse in the world just won." This message went over the telegraph wires from Belmont Park yesterday afternoon to Barney Schriber at San Francisco just after Jack Atkin had won the rich Metropolitan handiicap. Jack Atkin picked up 128 pounds, and though practically neglected in the speculation, he ran a phenomenal race, coming home in all his majesty, a winner by two lengths, in 1.38 5/8, a new record for the race at the Queens track. Under a terrific drive James R. Keene's 3-year-old Restigouche, who was a couple second choice with Superman at 4 to 1, managed to stagger home in the place a head before Don Creole, 30 to 1. It could not be said that the big race was the finest of the season. The Newmarket Stable's McCarter, winner of the Excelsior Handicap at Jamaica, and a heavy backed favorite at 2 to 1, was jammed to the rail on the back stretch just before he reached the turn and came near being knocked to his knees. Carried the day, also heavily supported at 5, was a victim of this mix-up, but he did not lose much ground, and was prominent to the middle of the turn, where McCarter dropped back rapidly, and finished so far behind the winner that he got the greenest notice realized that the colt had not been permitted to run his best race. Close observers declared that Jack Atkin was responsible for this unfortunate rough work, because when Jockey Shilling drove him through an opening to make the pace he crowded Far West in such a manner that King Cobal was thrown over against McCarter. The four leaders at that stage running neck and neck, but as there was no positive evidence of actual fouling no protest was made. Deductions made after the running of the Metropolitan seem to indicate that Don Creole with any kind of good racing might have won the race. He was in the position next to the outside at the post and when the barrier went up he broke so slowly that he was absolutely last for the first half mile. So hopeless was his case that it was with the greatest surprise that the spectators suddenly saw him completely around the field, and under a most vigorous ride by Garner he was gaining steadily on Jack Atkin and Restigouche as they swept down through the broad track to the wire. In another jump Don Creole would have been second, so that it is not to be wondered at that he broke to break in front he would have won in a gallop. Spooner, after being knocked about and shut off in the early stages of the race, finished 1 1/2 lengths out of the money. Salvadore did not run as if he was in pain, but he was not in the money. Mr. Keene's Superman, who was expected to distinguish himself, had no speed at any stage and trailed home in the dust badly beaten. Jack Atkin proved beyond a doubt that he is one of the most remarkable race horses in training. Opening at 5 to 1, he went up to 9, where there was a fair play upon him all over the ring, which made his quotation close at 5. The best previous record for the Metropolitan at Belmont Park was 1.39, made by John A. Drake's Grapple, with 106 pounds, in 1906. The best record for the track is 1.37, established by the 1905 O'neal Stable's Kianessa, then a 3-year-old, with 104 pounds.

WAS INCORRECT.

To the Sporting Editor of the Times: Sir.—The report of the basketball game played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, between the Ascension and St. George's girls' basketball teams was incorrect in stating that the game was for the girls' championship of the city, as it was merely a friendly game. Two games have been played this year, each team having won one game. The other game mentioned in this report was played last year. As the St. George's team has not played all the girls' basketball teams in the city, they can scarcely be said to have won the championship of the city. Lady Basketballer.

LONGBOAT WILL HAVE TO WAIT.

Ottawa, May 14.—Interviewed on the chances of Tom Longboat being sent to England shortly, as suggested by Manager Tom Flanagan, a member of the General Committee stated that they had not received a direct request from Flanagan. "We have been requested by the C. A. A. U. to allow Longboat to go, that he may for more than twenty miles. Duncan had every physical advantage, and with a weight of 11 stone 10 pounds, to the 8 stone of the southerner, was far better qualified to struggle against Saturday's hail, rain and snow. Neither in the 19 miles nor the trial did Duncan do any of the packmaking, and there can be no doubt that Lord and Beale took a deal out of themselves by doing the donkey work. Speaking still of the race, Sporting Life says: There was, it may be said, no rule on the programme prohibiting pacing, and it may have been intentionally omitted. But in the Marathon race attendants must keep behind their man, or sufficiently far away to avoid any suspicion of pacing, or disqualification will ensue. There will have to be a timing out of attendants when the Olympic contest comes off, especially as regards the leading division. The Boston Marathon in America, said to be taken this year as an official trial, was run in faster time than that of the distance was correct. But they doubtless had better weather there than we have here, and moreover, there has generally been an element of doubt as to the course. The time was two minutes slower than that taken by Longboat last year, and even though the course might be a trifle short, it is fast enough to show that we will have no walk-over. There yet remains our own Midland Marathon to be decided.

About the English Marathon Trial

The Sporting Life comments thus on the English trial Marathon: The Marathon trial has doubtless satisfied all that our chances of securing the Blue Riband next July are not so hopeless as some would have us believe. The times over Saturday's course (which was 22 miles 1,420 yards in extent, by the way), show what our men can do under the very worst climatic conditions, and we may expect something very tall when July comes round. Of the winner, Duncan, nothing but praise can be spoken. He is the best old-timer, who is doing business only on Oakland and New York. Pretty good argument for the pari-mutuels.—Toronto World. The attendance figures given out at Buffalo and Rochester should be taken with a grain of salt. Twelve thousand Tuesday at Bisonville and 11,000 at Bronchoville.

LEARNING THE LANGUAGE OF FISHES.

Harken to the music of the fishes, Prof. Koelliker, working with a microphone, has succeeded in getting the records of the noises given off by fish. He found the gurnet the best talker, and has several photographs which reproduce the sounds of the fish. The noises most noticeable to the ordinary fisherman are thought merely involuntary, inexpressive or convulsive. They may be caused by a blow on the head or a prick from a sharp pointed instrument. But there are other noises that are entirely voluntary, and proceed from different parts of the body, according to the species of the fish. Some, among them the mackerel, with which most experiments have been made, articulate by moving the superior and inferior motor muscles of the pharynx, behind the mouth; others emit distinct sounds from the spine, which is extremely sensitive, and some bring all their internal organs into play at their own sweet will, until the air around them is a babel of sounds. French science has proved that fifty-two species of fish can talk. Most of us know the spasmodic sighs which attend the death of the dwellers of the deep. These sighs are thought to have language meaning. The homely mackerel, it appears, is most loquacious, and has several different intonations, strident, clear, sonorous, and always noisy, so that he may be heard a yard away. He also is sulky in his habits and apt to be rough on others. The moonfish makes noises like a pig, and is extremely violent when excited. Carp, chub, mullet and eels suggest the whistling sounds one makes when breathing down a narrow tube. Some of them are much more distinct than others. The red mullet is far noisier than the eel, and the chub, when he is angry or otherwise agitated, cries out like a mouse or a kitten. Success That is Failure. I was talking some time ago with one of the most famous men in the country, says President Faure, whom I had never met before. He said to me, "I count my life a failure." "You a failure?" I asked. "All the young men and women of this country are speaking of you as a shining example of success." "Yes," he said, "I have failed. I have worked most of my life for eighteen hours a day. No one can tell me anything about my business. But the best things of life I have missed. I cannot read books. If I open a book in the evening, I go to sleep. I cannot travel abroad. art galleries of Europe bore me. I cannot listen to music or lectures. I find no pleasure in them. I have acquaintances without number; but I have had little time for friendship. All submarine vessels are brought to a condition of readiness to submerge by taking in water ballast in suitably arranged and controlled tanks, says Harper's Weekly. This causes more of the boat to sink below the water's surface, and finally leaves her with only a small part of her hull above water. The remaining part above water represents what is called "reserve buoyancy." This buoyancy varies generally from two hundred to a thousand pounds, depending upon the size of the craft; and it is to overcome the permanent tendency to rise represented by this reserve that pressure is brought to bear upon the submerged rudders of the hydroplanes in order to make the boat sink after she is once in motion. Now the amount of water that must be taken into a submarine vessel to bring her body sufficiently below the surface for readiness to dive constitutes one of the two prime distinctions between the submarine and the submersible. In the submarine only from five per cent. to twelve per cent. of her total submerged bulk lies above the surface when she is in her highest condition, and accordingly, nearly that percentage of water ballast must be pumped into her tanks to bring her down to the required condition preparatory to running submerged. In a submersible, on the other hand, two, three, and even four times this percentage of water ballast must be pumped into her tanks in order to reduce the vessel's reserve buoyancy so that she may be forcibly made to sink out of sight. It is the height of water or reserve of buoyancy of the submersible which gives her superior seakeeping qualities, which permit the vessel to be driven safely on the surface at higher rates of speed, and which contributes in other ways to the efficiency, the habitability, and the military value of the craft.

PASSING OF THE FRENCH.

Statistics Show Race is on the Decline Numerically. With every year the unemotional logic of statistical figures seems to show that the French race is really passing—slowly, to be sure, but none the less actually. The population of France, whose 39,000,000 formed the most numerous national monolingual group in Europe at the opening of the last century, has increased only 26 per cent. during the past hundred years, as against England's 350 per cent., and America's 1000 per cent. The total population of France is now 38,350,788. The female sex exceeds the male in number: 420,790 have five; 248,150 have six; 138,760 have seven; 71,841 have eight; and 33,917 have nine children. These figures continue to represent, in a rapidly decreasing proportion, the number of families having a larger number of children.

STRAW FOR HATS.

How the Wheat is Planted and Gared—Bleaching the Stalks. Few people know where the straw for making summer hats comes from. A great part of it is grown in Italy. To make suitable straw, the wheat is sown as thickly as possible, in order that the growth of the plant may be impoverished, as well as to produce a thin stalk having toward the end from the last knot the lightest and longest straw. The wheat blooms at the beginning of June, and is pulled up by the roots by hand when the grain is half developed. If allowed to remain in the ground a longer time the straw would become brittle. About five dozen uprooted branches, the size of the compass of two hands, are firmly tied together into little sheaves and stowed away in barns. Then the straw is again spread out to catch the heavy summer dews and to bleach in the sun. After additional bleaching the straw is put into small bundles and classified. Finally it is cut close above the first joint from the top and again tied up in small bundles containing about sixty stalks each.

Debate on the Elections Bill Resumed Last Night.

Difficulties in the Way of Taking Troops to Quebec.

Ottawa, May 13.—After a debate lasting seven days, during which they have wandered into the fields of vacillation and inconsistency, the Opposition have made the plunge into the pool of decision, and probably many of them will soon find the water decidedly cold and the banks too steep and high to climb out again. The first dip was made at their caucus this morning. This evening, just before 6 o'clock, Mr. Borden on behalf of himself and his party ventured into deeper waters. The net result, so far as the country is concerned, is that the Opposition must assume the onus of blocking supplies, tying up the whole business of the country and placing the many hundreds of members of the civil service throughout Canada in the embarrassing position of being left unpaid until the present deadlock is broken.

Practically the Opposition say to the Government: "While your proposals, as outlined in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speech of yesterday are not only desirable but acceptable, and while we agree that some action is necessary, you must withdraw the present bill. Otherwise we will not consent to pass one cent of supply."

The Government, of course, cannot consent to be bulldozed out of doing what they believe to be absolutely right, and the fight will continue tomorrow, with the Opposition responsible for the condition of affairs outlined. It is a most serious responsibility for them to take, but without being unfair one may question whether they realized its gravity. They have shown themselves throughout the session to be blind to anything but the hope of gaining party advantage.

Foster Corrected. During the afternoon Hon. Mr. Foster asked leave to correct a statement he had made yesterday to the effect that but for the action of a registration officer Mr. Jackson, of Selkirk would not now be occupying a seat in the House. The member for Provencher (Mr. Cyr) was the gentleman he had in mind. What he should have said about Mr. Jackson was that but for the actions of a returning officer that gentleman's majority would not be so large as it was.

Mr. Jackson, who challenged Mr. Foster yesterday to substantiate his statements, and was so insistent that the member for North Toronto was finally driven into a corner, practically admitting his inability to meet the challenge, said Mr. Foster was still wrong. "Some men, it was true, had been struck off the list by the officer, but he assured Mr. Foster most emphatically that those men, far from being disfranchised, were allowed to vote."

Troops for Quebec. Before the orders of the day were called, Col. Sam Hughes asked whether there was any truth in the statement appearing in the press that volunteers were not to go to Quebec in connection with the tercentenary celebration, and if so, why?

Sir Frederick Borden said it was not correct to say that troops were not going to attend the tercentenary. It was a fact, however, that the annual camp of instruction would be held as usual throughout the Dominion this year, instead of being held on one common point, as had been proposed, at or near Quebec. The annual drill of the city regiments would also take place as usual. The change in the programme was chiefly due to the difficulty of transportation. The Chairman of the Railway Commission had called his attention to the fact that transportation on railway and steamboat lines must be as far as possible, left free for the convenience of the public, and to and from Quebec, and he had asked the department to agree to move the troops a certain number of days before the celebration. An effort had been made to overcome the difficulties, but it had been found possible to do so only partially overcome them, and accordingly it was thought advisable that the camps should be held as usual at the usual places. The statement that the militia headquarters staff were unable to cope with the mobilization of a large body of troops was absolutely unfounded. As to what would be done in the way of taking some troops to Quebec, he was not prepared at the moment to make any announcement.

The Marine Inquiry. Replied to Mr. Borden, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he would consult Mr. Justice Cassels and counsel as to when the inquiry into the Marine and Fisheries Department would be resumed, and as to the arrangements for carrying it on.

Answering Mr. Foster, Hon. Mr. Fielding said the measure of the bill before the Banking and Commerce Committee, which would be submitted to the committee. It was the intention of the Government to press the matter before the committee.

Mr. Staples' Warning. Mr. Staples (Montreal) resuming the debate on the Dominion elections bill, claimed that the Premier had not conceded anything so far as Manitoba was concerned. In melodramatic fashion, he warned the Government that Manitoba would not tolerate any interference. All that Manitoba wanted was equality and liberty. After producing and reading the original cheque for $25, said to have been paid by George Walton to Rudniski for eight affidavits, he asked whether it was not the case that a bill similar to the present was drafted in 1902.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier—No bill was drafted to my knowledge. Mr. Staples dramatically unfolded what he declared was an act drafted and printed in the Government Bureau in 1903. "Can the Prime Minister deny it?" he asked.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier—I cannot either affirm or deny it. If anything was done it was without my knowledge. Mr. Staples—There it is, conceived in iniquity, born in sin, killed and buried by a former Minister of Justice, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, and resurrected by a Minister of Justice.

Mr. Staples proceeded to read the document, which was entitled an act to further amend the franchise act, 1898, and the Dominion elections act, 1900, as respects the Province of Manitoba. He thanked heaven that when that bill was drafted they had a Minister of Justice, and not, as now, a Minister of injustice. Mr. Staples was called to order for the latter expression, and had to withdraw it.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said all the bills to be introduced by the Government were discussed before the Cabinet Council. Some were approved and some were not. If they were not approved they were not brought down to the House. He had no recollection that that bill was ever submitted to the Council or to him.

Mr. Staples said his information was that the members for Manitoba helped Mr. Sifton to prepare that bill, and that it was submitted to the Minister of Justice, who refused to allow it to go through.

Mr. Carvell. Mr. Carvell declared that if the conditions which existed in Manitoba prevailed in the eastern Provinces there would be a riot. People in the east would not travel five miles, far less 50 to 100 miles, to be registered. The trouble was not in the law of Manitoba, but in its administration. It could not be denied that the Manitoba members on the Government side of the House had given convincing proof of this faulty administration. That was the reason for the introduction of the bill, and the reason why it should be passed by the House. Mr. Carvell ably summarized the arguments of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and other Liberals in refuting the thin red line assertions, and drove home the evidence of hollowness on the part of the Conservatives in repeating their assertions after the Attorney-General of Manitoba had failed to prosecute the alleged offender. He criticized Mr. Foster's inconsistency, especially in regard to that gentleman's charges as to Government officials taking part in elections, bribery through promises of public works, etc. This was particularly touching from a man who, when he was in power, had given the officials every encouragement to do what he now condemned, and whose speeches at election times had been full of promises of benefits that would accrue to the constituencies if they supported the then Government. When the Conservative party, Mr. Carvell said in conclusion, stood up in the House and practically said they would stop supply unless they were satisfied with the administration of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, out of and in office, was a contradiction of the attitude of Mr. Carvell. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had criticized the Opposition, on the ground that they were blocking supplies. Mr. Borden had not minded to pay a great deal of attention to this criticism, but since Sir Wilfrid Laurier had, in the course of his speech, quoted precedents, he (Mr. Borden) desired to remind the Prime Minister of the incidents of 1896, when the Liberal party, then in Opposition, had positively refused to vote one dollar in support of the bill, in spite of the urgency of the case and the plea of the Government. He then referred at some length to speeches by Sir Wilfrid and others in support of the bill, and passing on, defended the Manitoba law as it stands to-day. Later, he said it had been open to the Premier in the past, and was open to him now, to adopt a Dominion non-partisan franchise, the preparation of the lists and the final revision to be in the hands of the Judges, and to have the mobilization of a large body of troops, in the case of the bill, should not be done in the hands of the Government, but in the hands of the Judges, and to have the mobilization of a large body of troops, in the case of the bill, should not be done in the hands of the Government, but in the hands of the Judges.

TORONTO MAN SLASHED FROM THE JAWS OF DEATH

3 Physicians had pronounced his case hopeless.

The above decision given by several prominent physicians naturally depressed Mr. R. Davenport, of 31 Elm St., Toronto, and justified him in saying that he felt each day brought him one step lower into the grave. While in this condition he was recommended to try Psychine. He says: "Following an attack of typhoid fever in Toronto General Hospital, three of Toronto's best known physicians pronounced me incurably and hopelessly diseased with tuberculosis. They insisted on my going to the Weston Sanitarium for Advanced Cases of Consumption and assured me that a few weeks or months at most would be my allotted span. A friend visited me and told me of his wonderful recovery from lung trouble, through Psychine, and insisted on me trying it. I did, and felt so much better in a few days that I said 'Good-bye' to the doctor in charge, and walked out of the institution. I continued using Psychine for some months. I rapidly gained in flesh and strength, until to-day I am back at my regular business in connection with the C.P.R. Telegraph Service, Toronto. My life I undoubtedly owe to Psychine. As you do not know me and probably never before heard of me, I refer you to any of the C.P.R. Telegraph Officials at Toronto for the correctness of the above statement." This was in September, 1907, and Mr. R. Davenport has weathered the severe winter we have passed through. Surely a good test to the thoroughness of the work done by Psychine, The Greatest of Lung and Throat Tonics.

PRISONERS KILLED.

Twenty-eight shot down in Russian Jail. Thirty Wounded in Fight With the Guards, a Number of Them Fatally—Desperate Attempt to Break Out of the Jail Frustrated.

Yekaterinoslav, May 13.—The attempt made yesterday by prisoners to break out of the Government jail here after making a breach in the wall of the guardroom with a bomb was a complete failure, but it brought about a horrible scene of slaughter in and around the jail building. Twenty-eight of the prisoners were shot to death by the guard, and another of them has since died of his wounds. Thirty others were wounded, and it is expected that several of these will succumb.

As soon as the bomb was thrown one of the detachments of prisoners charged the guards in the court room and attempted to climb the wall. Twelve of these men were killed instantly, while the others were wounded. At the same time a second body of prisoners rushed to the kitchen, and seizing knives and other weapons attempted to enter their way to liberty. They were surrounded and killed to a man by the soldiers, who were hastily summoned by the prison authorities.

The explosion threw the whole prison into a state of panic. The inmates who took no part in the plot gathered in the windows overlooking the courtyard. They were ordered to draw back, but refused, whereupon the guards fired volleys into the open windows. Two prisoners were shot down while attempting to escape over the roof of the building. So far as is known, no one succeeded in getting away. The chief warden of the prison is among the wounded.

TRADE FOR APRIL.

Business Stagnation Shown by Reduction in Imports.

Ottawa, May 13.—Canadian trade figures for April show a continued large falling off in imports, consequent upon the restriction during the early months of the year of orders by wholesale for imported goods for the summer trade. It is expected, however, that with the present bright outlook for the revival of trade next autumn, the imports will again pick up in the course of a month or so, and the figures for the last half of the year will show a very considerable improvement over those of the first half.

Total imports for last month were $20,291,407, a decrease of $8,133,878, as compared with April of last year.

Exports of domestic products, on the other hand, show a slight increase, totalling $10,294,828, as compared with $9,751,849 for April last year.

The grand total of Canadian trade for the month was $30,970,387, as compared with $10,725,069 for April, 1907.

The four men killed were buried beneath tons of rock and coal, the others were released by heroic efforts of several miners who came to their rescue.

HAMILTON BOYS AT CAMBRIDGE.

HIGH HONORS WON AT GREAT SEAT OF LEARNING

By Two Sons of Mr. M. F. Walsh—Were Both Pupils of St. Vincent School Here.

Mr. Robert Corner, 193 King street west, this city, this morning received a newspaper clipping showing the great success of the two sons of Mr. M. F. Walsh, formerly of this city, at Cambridge University, England.

The results of the recent Cambridge local examinations show that M. F. Walsh won the silver medal offered by the Royal Geographical Society for the best candidate in all the schools throughout England in geography and physical geography combined.

Gerald G. Walsh, younger brother of Maurice, wins the silver medal given by the same society for juniors.

Both medals going to one school in England is unprecedented.

Only two senior candidates in the whole country succeeded in gaining six marks of distinction. M. F. Walsh was one of the two. In mensuration and surveying M. F. Walsh was the only senior candidate in the country who gained the coveted mark of distinction, and no other has gained it in four years.

In political economy M. F. Walsh was second out of 1,230. In physics M. F. Walsh was eighth out of 488 candidates. In physical geography M. F. Walsh was bracketed second.

For the junior students Gerald Walsh was placed third of 6,671 candidates in history, sixth of 5,924 in French and first of 1,161 in physical geography.

M. F. Walsh, late popular manager of the Oxford Hotel, is being heartily congratulated on his sons' successes.

WAS HE CRAZY?

Man Charges Birrell With Theft of Dublin Crown Jewels.

London, May 14.—A warrant for the arrest of Augustine Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland, "for the theft of the Crown Jewels from Dublin Castle," was the demand made by an elderly man this afternoon before the Magistrate of Westminster Police Court.

The applicant, who claims to be an Irish barrister, handed up a statement charging that "Lord Abercrombie, the Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, and Mr. Birrell had committed the theft in conjunction."

The Irishman thereupon commenced to argue in favor of immediate action on the part of the Magistrate, but the latter instructed the officials to remove him from court.

Jewels valued at $250,000 belonging to the regalia of the Order of St. Patrick disappeared last summer from Dublin Castle. The matter has never been cleared up.

IN THE PEN.

Harbottle at Kingston—Black Jailed For Month.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Kingston, Ont., May 14.—Capt. Harbottle arrived in the city late last evening, and was driven in a closed carriage direct to the penitentiary, accompanied by Deputy Arthur Jarvis.

He was held in the penitentiary until this morning. Warden Platt states that he has not yet decided what department will employ Harbottle, but it is understood that clerical work will be provided.

Bernard Black was this morning sentenced to one month in jail for an assault on Edna Hillier, in which he struck and kicked the girl, and threatened her aged father, who interfered. Black was attempting to secure a ring which he claimed belonged to him.

HOTEL MAN WINS.

Six Cases Fail Against Ridgetown Proprietor.

Chatham, Ont., May 14.—For a hotel man to be charged with no less than six offences against the Liquor License Act and in the same day to win all of them is the record established by J. H. Miles, proprietor of the Arlington Hotel, Ridgetown. Three of the charges were for selling liquor to minors. The fourth charge was for permitting gambling on his premises. The remaining two charges were for selling liquor during prohibited hours. The public sympathy is with the hotel man, who says he is being persecuted.

FOR LIEUT. GOVERNOR.

Ottawa, May 14.—Inquiry was made this morning as to the rumor that Lieut.-Col. Gibson, of Hamilton, will be appointed Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, but it can be learned the matter has not been considered recently by the Cabinet, owing to the pressure of other business. The impression seems to prevail that Sir Mortimer Clark will stay where he is until after the session, when Sir Richard Cartwright will go to Toronto and Hon. Clifford Sifton will become Minister of Trade and Commerce.

AS CHIEF SECRETARY.

J. A. O'Neil, the popular young assistant secretary of the Hamilton Y. M. C. A., has received a call from the Lindsay association to become chief secretary for that institution. It is expected that he will accept, but he has not as yet definitely made up his mind.

Vansickle and Charles Dymont.

TO EDWIN SKEDDEN.

Presentations From Managers and Choir to Retiring Leader.

The managers and choir of MacNab Street Presbyterian Church showed their appreciation of the services of their late choir leader, Captain Edwin Skedden, in a most tangible form, when Mr. Skedden, on behalf of the managers of the church, presented him with an address, accompanied by a cheque for a substantial amount, as a slight token of the esteem with which they regard him for his untiring efforts in placing the music of the church on its present high standing. The members of the choir also presented Mr. Skedden with a set of gold cuff links and some appropriate verses, written by one of the members. Mr. Skedden has had charge of the musical services of MacNab Street Church for nearly twelve years, and it is with the regrets of the whole congregation that he severs his connection with the church.

WISH THEY WERE HOME.

To the Editor of the Times: Sir,—I wish I was back. That is the expression I heard this morning from one of a group of sturdy young Englishmen. It was not meant for my ears, but I accidentally overheard it, and my heart was sore. "One touch of nature makes the whole world kin." One young man had been out from England a month and the young man that made the expression had been out here a year, and had been idle six months. Our streets are literally lined with Englishmen seeking work, and cannot get it. How can they when our own Canadian boys seek and cannot find it? Who are responsible for overloading the country with workmen at a time when work is so scarce? Surely it is not the Canadian workmen that entice their fellow-man here to suffer hunger until the cry, "I wish I was back," is wrung from their hearts. Why cannot they be sent back? Is it necessary to commit a crime in order to be deported? And the cry is still they come.

WORKING ON THE NEW AGREEMENT.

is to continue the single track up Dundas street probably skirting the corner of Victoria Park to join the King street line. The city would also like to get rid of one of the tracks on Herkimer street, from James to Queen street, but the company does not think this can be done. The company is making the extension in the southwest end, would try and reach the Platt property, recently acquired for a park. It is possible that the tracks on Herkimer street will be extended to Garth street and south to Aberdeen avenue, probably returning to Herkimer by way of Kent street. If an agreement is reached the company will purchase fifty new cars at once, build the new car shops, and rebuild the entire system. The company says it will have no trouble in getting material on short notice.

The Board of Education to-night will deal with the technical school question. The special committee which has had the matter in hand has recommended that a building be constructed on the south side of the Collegiate grounds, which, when completed and equipped, will cost $75,000. Contracts will also be let for the eight room addition to the Picton street school.

BACK TO JAIL.

Russian Remanded Until His Relatives Arrive.

Judge Monck had four prisoners before him this morning, and he disposed of the lot in short order. George White, charged with perjury at the police court in connection with the trial of Lewis Taylor, elected to be tried by a judge, through his lawyer, Martin Malone. He pleaded guilty, and was remanded until June 1. In the meantime an effort will be made to have him deported, as he has been in this country but a year, and has been found guilty of stealing as well as perjury.

John Swallow, charged with indecent assault, elected to be tried by a judge on May 26.

William O'Connor, charged with assault and robbery, also elected to be tried by a judge, and will come up a week from Tuesday, May 19.

Mike Roman, whose name was registered on the police court register as Arone, and who was charged with shooting at James Young, was sent back to the jail for three or four weeks longer. Crown Attorney Washington announced that the Russian's friends were expected over shortly, and as the money they wished the case left open until a lawyer could be secured.

NEW TRIAL ORDERED

In Action of Kent Whipple vs Burke.

In the Division Court at Toronto yesterday, before Boyd C. Riddell, J., and Latchford, J., in Whipple vs. Burke, H. H. Bicknell, for defendants, appeared from the judgment of Meredith, C. J., of 19th March, 1908. E. F. Lazier, plaintiff, contra. Plaintiff and defendants were partners in a real estate business, and an action was brought to wind up the partnership, etc. That action was settled by an agreement. The present action was brought for the purpose of taking the accounts between the parties on the basis of the agreement, and the figures of one Gray, an accountant. The Chief Justice held that the figures of Gray should be used only for the purpose of fixing the amount on which the 15 per cent. mentioned in the agreement should be calculated. From this direction defendant now appeals, contending that the amount found by Gray in Whipple vs. Burke's figures should be included in the accounts as a charge against Whipple. By consent appeal allowed and new trial ordered. Costs to be in the discretion of the trial judge. Parties to appeal.

Methodist Church vs. Town of Welland.—Appeal by defendants from judgment of Teetzel, E. F. Lazier (Hamilton) for plaintiffs, H. E. Rose, N. C. for defendants. Enlarged until May 15, or such other time as may be agreed.

HIGH WATER.

Montreal, May 14.—The phenomenal flood in the St. Lawrence for this period of the year is increasing instead of diminishing, and a considerable portion of the Montreal wharves are now under water, necessitating the unloading of steamers under difficulties. Heretofore the wharves have been confined to the western west of Montreal. Exceptional heavy rains are suggested as the cause of the high water. In twenty-four hours the water has risen four inches at this city.

ATTACK CASSELS.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Ottawa, Ont., May 14.—George E. Foster will this afternoon attack the appointment of Judge Cassels as Commissioner to inquire into the Marine Department. Delay of proceedings will be the basis of the attack.

Doctors' Fees in England.

All engaged in the medical profession are supposed to be equal in point of skill and therefore entitled to charge alike, the tariff depending chiefly on the residence of the doctor or patient. Patients are charged according to their supposed incomes, the income being indicated by the rental of the houses in which they reside, and the following scale of fees is then given: Ordinary visit, rental £10 to £25, 2s 6d to 5s; rental £25 to £50, 3s 6d to 7s; rental £50 to £100, 5s to 10s 6d; rental £100 to £200, 7s 6d to £20; rental £200 to £500, 10s to £25; rental £500 to £1,000, 15s to £30; rental £1,000 to £2,000, 20s to £40; rental £2,000 to £5,000, 25s to £50; rental £5,000 to £10,000, 30s to £60; rental £10,000 to £20,000, 40s to £80; rental £20,000 to £50,000, 50s to £100; rental £50,000 to £100,000, 60s to £120; rental £100,000 to £200,000, 70s to £140; rental £200,000 to £500,000, 80s to £160; rental £500,000 to £1,000,000, 90s to £180; rental £1,000,000 to £2,000,000, 100s to £200; rental £2,000,000 to £5,000,000, 110s to £220; rental £5,000,000 to £10,000,000, 120s to £240; rental £10,000,000 to £20,000,000, 130s to £260; rental £20,000,000 to £50,000,000, 140s to £280; rental £50,000,000 to £100,000,000, 150s to £300; rental £100,000,000 to £200,000,000, 160s to £320; rental £200,000,000 to £500,000,000, 170s to £340; rental £500,000,000 to £1,000,000,000, 180s to £360; rental £1,000,000,000 to £2,000,000,000, 190s to £380; rental £2,000,000,000 to £5,000,000,000, 200s to £400; rental £5,000,000,000 to £10,000,000,000, 210s to £420; rental £10,000,000,000 to £20,000,000,000, 220s to £440; rental £20,000,000,000 to £50,000,000,000, 230s to £460; rental £50,000,000,000 to £100,000,000,000, 240s to £480; rental £100,000,000,000 to £200,000,000,000, 250s to £500; rental £200,000,000,000 to £500,000,000,000, 260s to £520; rental £500,000,000,000 to £1,000,000,000,000, 270s to £540; rental £1,000,000,000,000 to £2,000,000,000,000, 280s to £560; rental £2,000,000,000,000 to £5,000,000,000,000, 290s to £580; rental £5,000,000,000,000 to £10,000,000,000,000, 300s to £600; rental £10,000,000,000,000 to £20,000,000,000,000, 310s to £620; rental £20,000,000,000,000 to £50,000,000,000,000, 320s to £640; rental £50,000,000,000,000 to £100,000,000,000,000, 330s to £660; rental £100,000,000,000,000 to £200,000,000,000,000, 340s to £680; rental £200,000,000,000,000 to £500,000,000,000,000, 350s to £700; rental £500,000,000,000,000 to £1,000,000,000,000,000, 360s to £720; rental £1,000,000,000,000,000 to £2,000,000,000,000,000, 370s to £740; rental £2,000,000,000,000,000 to £5,000,000,000,000,000, 380s to £760; rental £5,000,000,000,000,000 to £10,000,000,000,000,000, 390s to £780; rental £10,000,000,000,000,000 to £20,000,000,000,000,000, 400s to £800; rental £20,000,000,000,000,000 to £50,000,000,000,000,000, 410s to £820; rental £50,000,000,000,000,000 to £100,000,000,000,000,000, 420s to £840; rental £100,000,000,000,000,000 to £200,000,000,000,000,000, 430s to £860; rental £200,000,000,000,000,000 to £500,000,000,000,000,000, 440s to £880; rental £500,000,000,000,000,000 to £1,000,000,000,000,000,000, 450s to £900; rental £1,000,000,000,000,000,000 to £2,000,000,000,000,000,000, 460s to £920; rental £2,000,000,000,000,000,000 to £5,000,000,000,000,000,000, 470s to £940; rental £5,000,000,000,000,000,000 to £10,000,000,000,000,000,000, 480s to £960; rental £10,000,000,000,000,000,000 to £20,000,000,000,000,000,000, 490s to £980; rental £20,000,000,000,000,000,000 to £50,000,000,000,000,000,000, 500s to £1,000.

Chemist is Growing Mushrooms.

Two sage servants of the fatherland did something recently. They made a mushroom. They had a galvanic element of carbon and iron and immersed it in a solution of salts of uranium. When various other metallic salts were added queer objects began to form on the carbon. They grew very much like mushrooms, but they were not mushrooms. They were called "uranium mushrooms." At first they are transparent. Then they begin to color beautifully, so that some become bright red on top, while the stem is pale yellow and the under part of the head is pale rose. "Inorganic mushrooms," the creators have named them. But with the microscope can be seen fine canals extending from the top down through the stem like veins. Are these mushroom forms, then, born of electrical action from metallic salts, destined to teach us something of the birth of life? Some years ago Prof. Loeb took the unfertilized eggs of a sea urchin and laid them into a chemical mixture, of which sea water was the greatest part. These resulted what seemed like a miracle. The eggs became fertilized.

Keep Oysters.

(Toronto News.) According to the New York Post, cases of acute insanity yield to the fresh sea treatment. A Scottish alienist, Dr. C. C. Easton, keeps his wards in bed for a month in the open air and feeding them on milk. After the patients are permitted to get up they are allowed to go indoors.

Her Dream of Fame.

Miriam, her arm full of flowers, stepped through the little door leading from the stage to the auditorium. Her eyes still sparkled with the excitement of the evening, and the clear skin glistened brightly pink as the little group, still lingering in the hall, hurried forward to compliment the leading lady.

To John Temple, lingering in the back-ground, it seemed as if Miriam had never looked so lovely, and he pressed forward to take his place in the little crowd.

"Bless the flowers, please, Jack," she said as he caught her eye. "Everyone has been so kind to me. I feel that I do not deserve it all. You should have heard what Mr. Stanley said. He wants to speak to Mr. Beaton about me. He is sure that he can place me with his company after a little technical instruction."

Temple dutifully took the flowers and stepped into the back-ground. He hated these private theatricals at which his wife shone so brilliantly. Still more he hated Stanley, the professional coach, who had played the lover. Of course, the love was all a pretense, a sham of the stage, but just the same he did not like to see his wife in another's arms.

For half an hour Mrs. Temple held her little court while the janitor waited impatiently to close the hall. Then Stanley joined the group and Mrs. Temple moved toward the entrance.

"I have asked Mr. Stanley to have a bite of supper with us," she explained over her shoulder to her husband, and it was Stanley who helped her into the carriage and took his seat beside her, leaving the front seat to Temple and his lead of flowers. The present performance sprang his ome. For an hour he argued in favor of Miriam's determination to go upon the professional stage, and in the end he prevailed. Temple, worn and exhausted with the struggle, pushed his chair back and rose from the table.

"It may be as you say," he said, wearily. "If Mrs. Temple is destined to become an ornament to the American stage, I suppose I am selfish in withholding my consent."

"My dear fellow," cried Stanley with offensive familiarity, "I tell you Mrs. Temple can't help being one of the stars of next season. It's in her, and it's bound to come out."

Temple made no reply as he moved away from the table and crossed to the library for a cigar. This was what he had feared from the time Miriam had scored her first success. Perhaps it was as well to have it over with.

A week later Mrs. Temple was established in New York with her mother, and daily she worked at her lessons in the dingy cavern of an unlighted stage, taking delight in the fact that she was treading the boards that nightly served as the pedestal of one of the foremost actors of his day.

Stanley was a coach of no mean skill and he worked with a will to earn the large fees that were paid him. By spring he was able to place Miriam in a small part in a Broadway production.

The cost of the salary to be paid for the entire engagement, and the manager was glad to get some amateur who would dress the part artistically, while at the same time he was shrewd enough to realize the advertising possibilities of the wife of a millionaire almost nationally famous.

Encouraged by her success, Miriam gave up her summer to study at the suggestion of Stanley, who was glad to move to the Temple's country home and drive the Temple horses when lessons were not in progress.

He had obtained an offer of the same part for the coming season, but Miriam was not content to continue in a minor role, and Stanley seeing that the end was near, suggested an invitation performance.

"Mrs. Temple can play small parts to the end of her days," he pronounced ponderously. "What we want to do is force the issue; to show people what she is really capable of. We'll hire a theatre, get a good cast and put on 'Romeo and Juliet.' That will make the managers sit up and take notice."

"Very well," said Temple, quietly. "Get the best company you can and do the right thing."

Miriam, to whom Stanley had already broached the proposition, stared at her husband. Temple was a multimillionaire, but the ten or twelve thousand dollars that Stanley had declared the experiment would cost was a large sum to venture on a single matinee. Impulsively she sprang from her seat and ran to kiss him.

Temple smiled gently. It was the first voluntary kiss Miriam had given him since her greeting at the station. She did not realize, in her absorption in her work, how little attention she paid to him.

Once assured of the success of his scheme, Stanley went up to town, leaving Miriam with her husband for a week. He wanted to be free to make arrangements for the theatre, and Miriam, in her intervals of study, found it very pleasant to sit in the cool evenings with her husband and watch the boats glide on the river far below. Not until Stanley had left had she noticed how pleasant it was to be freed from his exuberant presence. She was sorry when her tutor wired her to return to town.

For six weeks she was drilled in her new part. Every line was gone over carefully, and the exact accent studied.

Mr. Tongue. (By Edmund Vance Cooke.) You forward fellow Mr. Tongue? I met my friend, and out you fringed "I would see and how d'ye do."

Although he bowed to me, not to you. "I would see and how d'ye do." To claim the first and freshest taste; And when my doctor visits me: "Why, out you pop for him to see!"

How hard you try to curb your will! And learn the lesson, "How d'ye do!" How eager seems the host to slip From your too-active, agile lip: How easy for the bashful phrase To rasp and wrangle, then for days; Few heads were hurt, few hearts were wrung If you but rested, Mr. Tongue.

Oh, Mr. Tongue, perhaps no song Of yours will bear the world along; You may not know the thunder speech Into all human hearts to reach. But yours may be the whispered word, Both gentle breathes and gently heard, Few fellows, O ambitious Tongue! Your fellows, O ambitious Tongue! —Jane Smart '84

HIS DINNER NOT READY

And a Police Court Case Is the Result.

Samuel Wiseman Charged With Assault on Wife.

Boy Who Would Not Obey Parents Sent to Mimico.

Because his dinner was not ready when he got home at noon yesterday, and his wife was away when he thought she should be home cooking his dinner, Samuel Wiseman, 15 Elgin street, acted like anything but a wise man, if the stories told to the Police Magistrate are true. He left the house on the jump, and went to 17 Liberty street, where his wife was visiting, and meeting her there, is alleged to have kicked her several times in the stomach and back. She fainted and the police were called with the ambulance. When they arrived they found that the man had gone and the wife was in what they thought to be a critical condition. She was rushed to the City Hospital, where it was found that, beyond a few bruises and a severe nervous shock, she was unharmed. Wiseman was arrested a short time after the assault at his home, and locked up for the night. This morning George C. Thomson appeared for him, but Crown Attorney Washington obtained a remand until Saturday, as the wife could not appear this morning. Bail was fixed in the sum of $200, and immediately deposited. A woman who saw the assault stated that when another woman ran out when it is said, the latter impaled herself on a two-inch penknife Roberts had open in his hand.

William Roberts, King and Caroline streets, was charged with cutting and wounding John Lane last Friday night at the Pioneer Hotel. He was remanded until Monday, and bail was granted in the sum of $200, which was put up by the proprietor of the hotel. The alleged cutting and wounding is claimed to have been an accident. Roberts is a porter at the Pioneer, and was putting Lane out when, it is said, the latter impaled himself on a two-inch penknife Roberts had open in his hand.

"We just picked it up off the street"—the regular excuse put forth by foreigners when they are charged with theft—sufficed this morning to get Alex. Torgon and Joe Bell off the ground, when they were charged with stealing lumber from the abandoned glass factory at the foot of MacNab street. The two were arrested by Constable Burch on the complaint of the owner, J. W. King. They admitted taking lumber, but said they just picked it up off the ground, and they thought they had a right to, as they saw a lot of Englishmen taking it. The Magistrate could not convict them on this evidence, and they were discharged, with a warning to leave anything of value alone.

Donald McKinnon, New York, and S. H. Shaw, Point Edward, were each fined $5 and costs or 21 days in jail for trespassing on the G. T. R. They were counting the ties between here and the Falls when the company's detectives got them.

Angelo Moriconi, 116 Mary street, would not work and would not obey his parents. He was turned 16 last March, but was tried under the Juvenile Delinquents Act, and was sent to a reformatory for four years, till he reaches his 21st birthday.

Alfred Fassier, Garth street south, and H. J. Clark, 15 Wood street east, were each given a last chance to send their children to school.

John Campbell, Burlington, and Thos. Louth, Toronto, were each fined $2 for being drunk.

CAMPBELL BILL.

Some Concessions Made to the Steamship Companies.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

Ottawa, Ont., May 14.—The Banking Committee of the Senate this morning decided to report the Campbell bill on bills of lading. As the result of a conference between Senator Campbell and the representatives of the steamship companies the bill was amended in a number of particulars. The principle is retained that a steamship company cannot by the terms of its bill of lading contract itself out of liability for damage to goods in transit, or for liability for delivery of the wrong goods. The principal concessions which have been made to the steamship companies are that they shall not be liable for damage to goods occasioned by strikes or by causes beyond their control; that the owners of a steamship cannot be indicted on criminal count for a violation of the act though the two thousand dollar penalty provision is retained. A new provision is inserted, protecting the steamship from misrepresentation by the shipper as to the character and value of his goods.

The original bill proposed that the steamship company had to defend suits for damage at the point of origin of goods. This is changed so that suits have to be brought at certain points of shipment, or on the other side at point of arrival.

GAS EXPLOSION IN UPTOWN BLOCK.

injuries, as he had escaped the force of the explosion.

The story as told by Harris is a peculiar one, and Chief TenEyck thinks Harris must be mistaken. Harris said he was down in the cellar ready to make the change and lit his candle. He had a plug ready to put into the pipe when he disconnected it and the natural gas had been turned off by his orders. Suddenly he heard the gas hissing from one of the pipes and he dashed the candle to the ground and jumped beneath the pipe. He was too late, however, and he heard the bang just as he dropped. His drop was a lucky one, however, as he escaped the force of the explosion which went upwards. Chief TenEyck and others who ought to know, after a look at the wrecked building were of the opinion that the place must have been full of gas when the man went into the cellar and that his lighting the candle touched it off.

The building has two front windows and a double door, and these were all blown out. The windows in Macpherson, Glasco & Co.'s warehouse were nearly all broken and the stock was thrown all over the floors of the warehouse. The door in Green's undertaking parlour was broken open and the wall cracked. Stone blocks below the windows in the barber shop were thrown onto the sidewalk, and one was blown half-way down to Catharine street. The most fortunate incident of the whole thing was that just at that moment no one was walking immediately in front of the place, as pieces of plate glass, driven with the force of bullets, were flying thick and a passer-by would have stood in the shadows.

Little or no fire followed, although the fire department were called, and helped to take the men out of the cellar. Small furniture was blown to the ceiling, and the plaster was wrecked. The explosion was heard at the corner of King and James streets, and the guests in the Waldorf received a terrible scare. The clerks in Macpherson, Glasco & Co.'s did not wait to say good-bye, and came back only when the crowd started to disperse. Drs. Bauer and Balle were called to attend to the injured men, and had them carried into the Waldorf, where they were patched up, and taken to the City Hospital for examination and attention. The ambulance was soon on the scene, and took Blackman and Cody away, but the other two were attended to in a drug store.

"They got off pretty lucky," was the opinion of the City Hospital doctors who examined the men, and pronounced them both bruised and shaken badly, but not in any danger.

SOMETHING NEW IN BUILDINGS.

WHAT THOMAS CROOKS' NEW BLOCK WILL BE.

Beautiful Bank on Main Floor and Modern American Apartments Above it.

The new building which Thomas Crooks will erect on the southeast corner of King and MacNab streets will be the first American apartment structure in Hamilton. Many old buildings here have been fitted up for apartments, but no attempt has been made in this line of building on the complete and elaborate scale shown in the plans for this new structure.

It will be 50 x 65 feet, three stories and a basement. The entire lower floor will be occupied by the Hamilton Bank. This floor will be elaborately fitted up for banking purposes, with marble counters, mosaic floors, bronze railings and steel vaults.

The other two floors will be divided into apartments. There will be a marble entrance from MacNab street, and each floor will contain four suites of apartments, consisting of two bedrooms, a living room, kitchen and bathroom. The rooms will be finished in hardwood and the kitchen and bathroom floors tiled.

The kitchen will have combination fixtures, and hot water will be supplied from a central point in the basement. Gas and electricity will be used for lighting, and each suite will have a telephone. The corridors will have mosaic floors with marble bases.

Architect Charles Mills, who prepared the plans, expects to let the contracts by June 1, and the building will be ready for occupation before the end of the year.

SOME LATE SPORTING ITEMS

There will be a meeting of the City Lacrosse League on Friday at 8 p. m., in the Y. M. C. A. parlour, for the purpose of drawing up a schedule and transacting other important business.

There will be a practice of the city lacrosse teams both to-night and to-morrow night, weather permitting.

San Francisco, May 14.—Joe Gans will go into the ring at the Coliseum to-night in all probability a 10-3 favorite over Rudolph Ueholz, the fighting Boer. Last night the price dropped from 2 to 1 to 10 to 3, and Gans' supporters were still taking the money offered by the followers of the short ender.

Gans did not work yesterday, but was down to 133 pounds in the afternoon, so that the ringside weighing in should be a mere formality for the two boxers.

Inquiries have been made at the central office of the Bell Telephone Co. with a view to ascertaining the number of the "phone book" which is under consideration has been made to a party at an uptown hotel. The person referred to in these anonymous talks is a well-known athlete, and the charges made against him are said to be groundless.

Surgery for Varicose Veins. A foreign medical man, Dr. C. F. Kivicki, makes a plea for operating on varicose veins by what he terms the "method of multiple short incisions, claiming that it does not take so long to do the operation as it does with other operations where the vein is removed, that it is not so apt to become infected, and that if one incision becomes infected it can be dealt with more readily and without infecting the others. There is no scar tissue at the knee joint, thereby causing no pain or limping while walking. There is practically no blood loss, especially none from the main vein; what little blood is lost is from the skin. Convalescence is much shorter a week to ten days' time being sufficient for the patients to stay in bed; they should be up to work by the end of two weeks. But if it is a case where it was urgent for them to be back to business, three to five days would be sufficient to stay in the hospital before returning to light work. The convalescence is painless and uneventful.

A fully equipped daily newspaper plant, with a special telegraph service and in charge of a competent newspaper man, is the plan of the Board of Curators of the Missouri State University at Columbia, Mo., for the new department of journalism. The daily paper will be known as The University Missouriian.

MARKETS AND FINANCE

The market during the morning developed breadth and strength with a real market in some minor stocks which were hardly favored with big prices during the panic period.

Among bullish interests was announcement of full activity by U. S. Steel at home steady and statement by iron trade authorities that prices has apparently reached better figures.

We think that reported borrowing of copper stock in large amounts has been done with view to restricting supply and enable short. Talk of active gates interest in market was followed by advances in R. B. C.

An interesting item is that while shipments of coal and coke over eastern lines of Pennsylvania showed a large decrease last week, anthracite shipments increased 9,305 tons. Reading is regarded as a Hariman stock to some extent and Hariman appears to be most optimistic.

There has been some influential results in certain roads but situation continues to suggest of earlier bullish demonstrations in due course.
