THE SEASON OF SURPRISES.

A REVIEW OF PLAY IN THE ROYAL UNION.

Variations in the style of Play—The Individual Fifteens Compared—Queen's Deserved the Championship—A Club That Should Not Have Entered—A Very Satisfactory Year.

The Rugby season, which has just closed, has been mainly distinguished by its surprises.

In former years the men who were in the thick of the contest, if they were not blinded by prejudice, could, as a rule, predict the winners of the great stations at the end of the season.

The beaten team has a chance to prove by actions that its first defeat was not a result of hard luck and adverse circumstances rather than of superior play on the part of their opponents.

Luck enters into football much more largely than many players think, and one mistake of a back in a close game may turn the tide and demoralize his team to such an extent as to cause the loss of far more points than were scored in consequence of the single mistake.

The Present Game.

Many times, too, play very uncertain game, sometimes doing really good work and at other playing like children, and it is often puzzles men to realize why they, after beating a strong team they will sometimes succumb next time to a weaker one, and the better team does not win as often as in the old game, and it is doubtful if any club could hold the championship for five years in a row.

The present game of football is much more open than the old one, and it is consequently more uncertain, and a lead of 10 points does not mean victory until the end of the game.

The days of the heavy scrum are over; the game is much prettier and the backs have a greater chance, but the better team does not win as often as in the old game, and it is doubtful if any club could hold the championship for five years in a row.

The ideal club has not yet arrived in Ontario, although probably Osgoode Hall, last year's champion, is nearest to it.

The game they put up in 1892 was wonderfully pretty and a remarkably quick-scoring one from a spectator's point of view.

Of any game ever played in Canada was taken into custody in the woods at Thamesville, and will be examined to-day.

The postmaster's safe was blown open in a most scientific manner and a considerable amount of money and about $70 worth of postage stamps were stolen.

The Queen's team of this year is stronger individually than Osgoode has ever been, and its defence when the team showed its form was extremely strong, but the scoring was done slowly, and a good individual player which combined Queen's kicking and defence with Osgoode's aggressive play could have won and held the senior cup for the two years.

It is questionable whether the champions are any better than the cup holders of last year, there is no doubt but that there has been a general improvement in the standard of play.

The first final game, proved that under different conditions and with good luck Ontario might have captured the trophy.

The records of the senior clubs are varied and interesting. Hamilton only played two championship games, but their victory at Kingston in the semi-final proved that the Tigers had not deteriorated, and it seems a pity that they did not have a chance to show what they could do with Queen's on their own field under the mountain.

The Form That Wavers.

Variety, after being defeated by Toronto and defeating Osgoode Hall in practice games, went down before the Limestone City students by 20 points, and then showed their ability to play well on their own grounds by turning the tables on their victors by nine points.

Variety played very unevenly all through the season—some games, particularly the second one against Osgoode Hall, showed exceedingly fine form, while the last game against Trinity showed not merely lack of condition, which was to be expected, but that the majority of the players were green, and especially behind the line were apt to show lack of what is generally known as "head."

However, the team has strong material, and with luck and good coaching ought to make a good bid for the cup next year.

Toronto also oscillated very much between really good and excessively bad play. Possessing by odds the best scrum in the union, as was shown in the game in Kingston, and having a fair lot of wing men, the team was hampered by the most uncertain half-backing in Ontario.

Every one of them played at times very well, and each one in turn took a hand at exhibiting "rotten" football.

The "Invincibles" of last year, with few exceptions, played on the "slaps," and as a consequence were beaten, and although it is rather odd to reflect on the downfall of the "Invincibles" that ever stepped on the field, yet the disease known as "cephalic lephthalitis" was making such havoc in their ranks that Rugby men, in general, thought would give me relief, but did not free any benefit. I have tried a bottle of Norton & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and began taking it according to directions, when I soon found the headache leaving me, and I am now completely cured.

Trinity had no business in the senior series at all, and their entrance broke up a good series of ties.

After coming in as they did, the odds were in Hamilton's favor, to put it mildly.

Ottawa played a fair game, and in the second half, with Toronto on their own grounds showed strong defence and determined, if somewhat unaggressive, attack.

The college almost showed their old form in their first match with Queen's, and succeeded in winning the city championship.

It is rumored that both teams will be allowed to join the Quebec Union next year; if this takes place it will be a good thing for both unions, as Ottawa is much nearer Montreal than is most of the football supporting cities in this province, and the Lower Canadian organization does not suffer from a superabundance of clubs.

The R. M. C. showed good play in their games with Osgoode and practice matches with Queen's.

Here's to the Champions.

The champions are to be congratulated on their win. For years their college has had a good team and several times final victory has been almost within their grasp, but until this year it has eluded them.

They have a strong well-balanced forward line, a very effective and unselfish quarter, halves who can kick wonderfully well, and the most brilliant backs that has ever trodden a Canadian field.

Their defeat of Osgoode was expected, for the eastern clubs for years have never quite come up to the Ontario style of play, and ever since Ottawa College won the inter-provincial championship from Montreal in 1891, Quebecers have been unable to recover the title.

The Intermediate and Junior cups went to Toronto clubs. So local enthusiasm can extract from that a drop of comfort.

The play of the intermediates was fully up to the average senior form of six or eight years ago. The junior age limit is ridiculous; champion senior teams have been composed of little to encourage clubs composed of boys.

If the limit were reduced to 17 most of the present juniors could find places on intermediate teams.

The gate receipts from games have this year been very large, particularly in places outside of Toronto, which was not supposed to be able to yield a gate at all, and this fact speaks well for the spreading interest in the game.

The season altogether has been very satisfactory, and footballers may be assured that, so long as they play the game and do their share of the work, the public will accord liberal support.

Variety Wants the American College System.

The Variety team intend to propose a starting change in the Ontario football rules. Their representative to the union was instructed to propose a reduction of the players on the field from 15 to 11.

He also recommended the abolition of the scrum and as a substitute would have some system similar to that practised under the American rules.

The annual meeting of the Variety club was held last night, with the following officers elected:

President, T. McCrea, B.A.; vice-president, K. D. W. McMillan; secretary, D. Macdonald; treasurer, A. E. Barry; committee, H. Kingstone 95, W. Cronyn 95, R. W. K. White 95, G. Kingstone 96, J. L. Campbell 97, J. H. Campbell 97, and representatives, George Clays, K. D. McMillan.

The office of captain will not be filled until next year. Then only the 18 players appointed by the committee are eligible for vote or election.

A Veteran B.D. Manager Released.

A REAL HEROINE.

Oil Springs, Nov. 27.—Six men, suspected of the recent robbery of the post-office, were taken into custody in the woods at Thamesville, and will be examined to-day.

TO IMPROVE THE DON BANKS.

Adams Will Run the Telephone Co.—Crawford-Street to Be Opened Through.

The Telephone case of Mr. Adams came up again before the Board of Works yesterday.

The City Solicitor gave it as his opinion that the company was acting within its rights in refusing to rent Mr. Adams a telephone at $25 a year.

Mr. Adams said he was willing to enter a friendly suit in the Division Court as his own expense against the company. If he lost that would be the end of it, if he won and the company appealed he asked that the city then take up the case.

Ald. J. E. Verral maintained that it would be unfair for any citizen to fight the company at his own expense, as there are several of many amounts of strings pulled in favor of the company.

Ald. McMurich: Do you mean that the strings would be tied to the judge's legs?

The committee decided to carry the case to one court in case of an appeal.

City Surveyor Stanley's recommendation that William Crocker be paid $500 for damages in connection with the Dundas-street bridge, was carried.

Ald. Verral moved that a bylaw be prepared to provide for the opening of Crawford-street, was carried, notwithstanding Ald. J. E. Verral's strong objection.

A statement from the City Engineer showed that the revenue from the Island from 1871 to 1892 was $22,323, and the expenditure $18,231. This is exclusive of police protection, estimated at $1000 per year, and school maintenance, estimated at $215 annually.

The Don Improvements.

Engineer Keating's recommendation with reference to the Don Improvement was adopted. On the east side north of Crawford-street the land will be laid out so as to allow sufficient width for two railroad tracks and a 50-foot roadway.

South of Crawford-street the land will be made available for business purposes and placed on the market as one.

With reference to the railroad now raising west bank of the Don Mr. Keating suggests that Mr. D. M. Debe be employed on behalf of the city as a consultant.

He arrived as late as what the companies should pay.

There was a long discussion on water meters, in which all the members took part. It resulted in the question being set over until a future meeting and until some satisfactory data is furnished the committee.

A statement presented showed that 5,563,024, 717 gallons of water had been pumped from Jan. 1 to Nov. 1. It required 12,000 tons of coal to do this. The consumption of coal for the same period last year was 11,000 tons.

A petition was presented by Ald. McMurich asking that the street car be extended from the terminus in Dundas-street to the city limits.

City Hall Notes.

Receipts at the cattle market last week: Oct. 11, 1893, sheep 1819, hogs 3032, calves 802.

The Reliance Manufacturing Company have offered the city $300 a year rent for the old water works building.

The Toronto Railway Company have notified the City Engineer that they will not provide shelter for the motormen.

Mr. J. H. Campbell, promoter will be filled until next year. Then only the 18 players appointed by the committee are eligible for vote or election.
