Ismay With Officers and Men Are Held By Investigators of Titanic Wreck After Long Hours Spent in Probing

Major Peuchen of Toronto Was First Male Passenger to Leave, Says Lightholder—When Ship Sank, Those Aboard Were "Quiet As If In Church"—Providential That "Carpathia" Got Message, Declares Marconi.

NEW YORK, April 19.—(Can. Press.)—The seriousness of the enquiry by the senate investigating committee into the Titanic disaster was disclosed to-night when Senator Smith of Michigan, chairman of the committee, at first flatly refused to let any of the officers or crew of the ship be called to testify before the committee. The committee, however, after a long session, decided to call to the witness stand the officers and crew of the ship, and to permit the committee to examine the wreckage of the ship.

Senator Smith asked if any of the officers or crew of the ship were present. He was told that they were present. He then asked if they were willing to testify. How Maj. Peuchen Escaped.

Second Officer Lightholder, who had charge of the lifeboats: "In the fourth lifeboat I was running short of seamen. I put two seamen in and one of them jumped out. That was the first boat I had to put a man passenger in. He was standing near by and said he would go if I needed him. "I said: 'Are you a sailor?' and he replied that he was a yachtsman. Then I told him that if he was a sailor to get over the bulwarks to the lifeboat—to go ahead. He did, and proved himself afterwards to be a very brave man. "Who was he? Did you know him?" "I didn't know him then, but afterward I looked him up. He was Major Peuchen of Toronto. "Had you ever seen him before?" "Never."

LONDON BURIED IN GLOOM THE GLORYING IN HEROISM

Congregation of 10,000 at St. Paul's Cathedral Memorial Service Where "Titanic's" Designer Falls in Faint—Places of Amusement Forsaken—Criticisms of Over-speeding.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The World has received the following from London: "The tragic story of the Titanic and the British public in its terrible grip as none has ever done before. The only relief from the all-pervading gloom is the glory in the magnificent heroism that emerges from the ghastly horrors of that last scene. "St. Paul's Cathedral was thronged to-day by a congregation of 10,000 at the memorial service for victims of the disaster. The scene when the vast throng, overcome by the sadness and solemnity of the occasion, solemnly and with intense feeling in singing the final hymn, was one to be remembered. The most sensational incident of the service was the fainting of Mr. Caspary, designer of the Titanic. He collapsed in his seat and had to be removed by an ambulance corps. Ever since the catastrophe, Caspary has been in an overwrought condition and has not slept. "Mourning was more general in London yesterday and to-day than at any time since the death of King Edward. "How long did all the work of loading and lowering a lifeboat take?" "Took Twenty Minutes. "It is difficult to say, but I think about 15 or 20 minutes. "How many passengers did the third boat contain?" "I filled her up as full as I dared, sir, then lowered her about 25, I think. "How many seamen?" "Were the people troubling you—were they willing to go?" "THE PEOPLE WERE QUIET. I HAD NO TROUBLE. THE WOMEN AND CHILDREN COULD NOT HAVE STOOD QUIETER IF THEY HAD BEEN IN CHURCH. "Peuchen First Male Passenger. "In the fourth lifeboat, Lightholder said he was running short of seamen. "I PUT TWO SEAMEN IN AND ONE OF THEM JUMPED OUT. THAT WAS THE FIRST BOAT I HAD TO PUT A MAN PASSENGER IN. HE WAS STANDING NEAR-BY AND SAID HE WOULD GO IF I NEEDED HIM. "I SAID: 'ARE YOU A SAILOR?' AND HE REPLIED THAT HE WAS A YACHTSMAN. THEN I TOLD HIM THAT IF HE WAS A SAILOR TO GET OVER THE BULWARKS TO THE LIFEBOAT—TO GO AHEAD. HE DID, AND PROVED HIMSELF AFTERWARDS TO BE A VERY BRAVE MAN. "WHO WAS HE—DID YOU KNOW HIM?" "I DIDN'T KNOW HIM THEN, BUT AFTERWARD I LOOKED HIM UP. HE WAS MAJOR PEUCHEN OF TORONTO." "HAD YOU EVER SEEN HIM BEFORE?" "NEVER."

"He Was a Soldier"

OTTAWA, April 19.—His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught received to-day the following reply to his message of condolence, addressed to the President of the United States: "I thank you sincerely for your message of sympathy with our country in the great loss it has sustained thru the terrible disaster. I also appreciate very deeply the tribute you pay to Major Butt. When I read that only part of the ship's company was rescued I knew he went down with the ship. He was a soldier. (Signed) W. H. Taft."

level with the water when the bridge was entirely submerged. "Was there any demonstration?" asked Senator Smith. "No sir." "HEARD NO CRIS. "THERE MUST HAVE BEEN 1000 PEOPLE ABOARD AND YET NO LA- MENTATION. "I HEARD NONE, NOT A SOUND. Lightholder declared he stood on top of the officers' quarters and as the ship took a dive, he faced forward and took a dive also. "I was sucked against a blower and held there," testified the officer. "Head above water?" "No sir. A terrific gust came up out of the blower, then the blower must have exploded and I was blown clear." "How far were you blown?" "Barely clear. I was sucked down again; this time on the 'tidley' grating. "Did anyone else have a similar experience?" "Yes, Col. Gracie. "How did you get loose?" "I don't know, maybe another explosion. All I know is we came up by a boat." "Watertight Compartments. "Were there any watertight com- Continued on Page 2, Column 1.

BIG DAY TO DAY

The Dinesen spring hat business has been something worth talking about. It has been larger than any other year in the history of the company. To-day should hit the high marks in records, because this is a really real spring Saturday, the 20th of April. Ask to see the new blocks by Henry Heath of London and Dunlap of New York. Dinesen alone handles these hats in Canada. Store open to-night.

GALILEY SMOKED AND WAITED DEATH

Col. J. J. Astor Kissed His Delicate Wife Good-by, Stood Aside to Let Others Get Into the Boats, and Then Calmly Smoked as He Waited for the Egd.

(By a Staff Reporter.) NEW YORK, April 19.—It is hoped the following may explain the "man in woman's clothes" story: B. B. Stefanson of the Swedish embassy in Washington tells how he came with Col. Astor from loading the women of the steamer into the lifeboats. They met Mrs. Astor on the deck, and when both men told her she must get into a lifeboat, she began screaming. "Mrs. Astor said she could not leave him," Mr. Stefanson told a reporter of The World, "but Col. Astor insisted. We took Mrs. Astor and Hilda over in to a lifeboat. He kissed her very gently and told her not to worry. I did not hear him ask permission to get into the boat. He was very cool and kept bowing and smiling at his wife, who looked up at him beseechingly. To him and Major Butt death was nothing.

It Was Hard Work

"After Col. Astor saw his wife disappear in the hood he tossed away his cigar and went on with the work of getting the women and children. It was hard work. Many of the men had to toss into the boats like bags of mail. "The employees caught by various survivors piece together a connected story of the last hour of the multi-millionaire. Mrs. John Pillsbury Snyder, bride of only a few weeks, told at the Waldorf to-day of seeing Col. Astor just after the collision. "When I came up on deck," said Mrs. Snyder, "I heard Col. Astor ask Captain Smith if he had not better awaken Mrs. Astor. He said he did not wish to unnecessarily disturb her, as she was in delicate health. I did not hear the captain's answer, but I saw Col. Astor turn pale and hurry below. When he returned a little later he was supporting his wife and putting her reassuringly on the deck. It made me feel better that to see him. "Despite her pleadings he insisted upon his wife getting into a lifeboat, and with another man he helped her in."

Smiled and Kissed Her

"May I come with her for her own protection?" he asked the officer in charge. He was told, "surely the committee does not intend to hold them. We are perfectly willing to pledge the presence of the four officers and the twelve men desired by the committee, but these men are entitled to return to their homes." "I am not prepared to permit that," said the senator. "We cannot say whom we may want and they cannot go." "We cannot care for them, then," insisted Mr. Burlington. "When the Lapland sails we shall cease to be responsible for them."

Band Was Knelling

As the last lifeboats drew off, while the band knelt, playing "Nearer, My God to Thee," the rescued saw Col. Astor standing by the rail with Major Butt. Both were smiling, saluting and bowing. "At Mrs. Astor's home, No. 80 Fifth avenue, this statement was made this morning: "Mrs. Astor says that Col. Astor pushed off with a number of others at the last moment on one of the collapsible boats. It sank at once as they evidently forgot to put the plug in."

Saved a Boy

"I saw Col. Astor come on deck with Mrs. Astor soon after the crash," said Johnson. "As the lifeboats were lowered he asked one of the officers if he might accompany Mrs. Astor. The women and children must go first," he was told. So he smiled, kissed his wife, and then his young wife. Then he went to work again leading boats with women and children. "Laughed and Joked. "George A. Harder of 117 Eighth avenue, Brooklyn, who was saved with his young bride, says: "I shall never forget Col. Astor as I saw him last. I met him coming up the stairs to the deck, his wife on his arm. He was laughing and joking and seemed to ridi- cule the thought of danger." "Later a boy started to enter one of the lifeboats. 'Get back,' shouted an officer. 'Only women here.' The boy turned pale and looked appealingly about him. Col. Astor allowed his way thru that hysterical crowd and snatch- ing a hat from a woman in the boat, dis- missed it down on the boy's head. 'Now, lad, you're a woman!' he cried. 'Get in, and no one stopped him as he helped the boy to a seat beside Mrs. Astor.' "SWEETS TO THE SWEET. "They will have a sweet morsel at the Princess next week, when that candy- kid, 'The Chocolate Soldier' returns to treat his votaries to the sweets of Oscar Straus and George Bernard Shaw. For even Shaw, with all his peppery tongue, can be sweet-tempered. Comes to eat, and Straus has fitted his music to 'Arms and the Man,' as a glove fits my lady's hand. 'Toronto loves 'The Chocolate Soldier,' and his is a sweetness that never cloye."

"Gee! It's Good"

You're right, Sonny Boy. Nyal's Tooth Paste is good. It's the mild, spearmint flavor that gives it that fine taste.

And it acts as a splendid sealer of the teeth. Acidity of the saliva, and mouth secretions helps to cause tooth decay. Nyal's Tooth Paste corrects this acid condition and thus checks the harmful action on the teeth. Be sure and give Dad, Mother and Sister each an introduction to Nyal's Tooth Paste. They'll like it as well as you. It'll save their teeth too. Price 3c.

There are over a hundred other Nyal preparations. For instance if your studies are wearing you out, there is Nyal's Mentative Hypnotics to build you up. Nyal's Remedies are all Nyal Quality.

partments on that ship" the senator asked. "Certainly, forty or fifty." "Were they known to passengers and crew?" "Must have been, by the plans distributed about the ship." "Do you know whether any of the crew or passengers took to these watertight compartments as a last resort?" "It is quite impossible for me to say, sir." "Is it at all likely?" "I think very unlikely." "As for yourself, you preferred to take to the open sea?" "I don't doubt it. The watertight compartment doors," he said, "had to be opened by ratchet and screw by hand. The manner of opening them is obvious," he said, "that speaking now about the watertight compartments below." "Are the watertight compartments intended as a refuge for passengers?" "Oh dear, no, sir, not at any time." "Not Haven of Refuge." "Suppose this ship had sunk in less depth of water, would the watertight compartments have been any refuge?" "No, sir, never intended for that purpose, they were designed to prevent the ship from sinking."

Your Manhood can be Restored

Strong, vital, manly manhood fascinates all who come within its influence. As true as your VITAL MANHOOD, there is not a shadow of a doubt as to what I can do for you. BUT there is a single promise I exact from you before I put a certain solemn duty upon you, namely, you must unconditionally agree now to discontinue any wasting, debilitating excesses that you may be indulging in, with this out of the way, no matter what your present condition, no matter what has happened in the past, just forget it and put yourself in my hands, everything will come out as you wish it, I use no drugs, no lotions, no ointments, I place no foolish restrictions upon you, just let me restore your system, all the enjoyment you can possibly have, but cease dissipation, always remember that I can take you out of the half-man class and put you in the spot light of full health, contented, manly vigor, I can make you feel young again and keep you feeling young to a ripe old age, because I drive into your system the one thing which keeps the whole organism in balance, namely, VITALITY. My HEALTH BELT with suspensory attachment, the greatest, king's self-treatment remedy, VITAL RESTORATIVE that the world will know, it is worth a courtship all night, and every night for the next three months. Thus while you are sleeping, it sends a great, soft, potent life-giving current of VITAL FORCE into your blood, your nerves and your organs. There is not a man on earth who I help, you immediately, it comes from the first time you wear it, you shine of new energy, it takes the kink out of your back in one night; it makes a man of you after you have given up in despair, simply because it supplies you with VITAL POWER—which means manhood. Just stop to think, you have the same organs, nerves and fibers, the same make-up, exactly that healthy, vigorous man possesses, the only difference being you are under tone; you need a foundation of NEW VITAL RESERVE, and it is this I give you. There is no reason why you should not be as strong, healthy and vigorous as the best, fullest bloomed man of your acquaintance. The matter is easy if you do your part. Never mind about buying a HEALTH BELT as yet, first get in communication with me; read over my booklets, and, if you want to do so, tell me your physical ailments that I may advise you, then a little later we can read the chapter on "DEBILITY," read the chapter on "SANDBARS" which will interest every man, young or old, who would be strong in manly vigor. A SUDDEN PULLUP.

The safety of humanity lies in its trials, its struggles, most of all in its sudden checks; and never within the past fifty years has the civilized world received such a sudden arrestment as in the loss of 1900 lives on the Titanic. It has pulled the whole world up, has made people pause and think, and we dare say it will compel them, as the French say, to readjust their compass.

If it were not for these trials and these sudden pull-ups the race would go to pieces. It is the eternal struggle that keeps us where we are, so that he is the best philosopher who recognizes these checks and who governs himself accordingly.

What is the great lesson of this disaster? It is that we who live in the first part of the twentieth century have been glorifying speed in travel over every other thing. We have seen great inventions in the past thirty years, like the telephone, the phonograph, electric light; but even greater than these has been the interest of mankind in destroying speed records.

Everyone has worshipped at the shrine of record-breaking speed; few have been asking where it was to end. We have found out in the case of the Titanic. Assuredly she should not have been striving for a speed record in a sea of ice. And talking of this race for speed, what does it all amount to if we do cut a record down, or even cut it in two? It will hardly, except in a rare case, save a life or add to the comfort of humanity, or help us in our struggle for existence.

But not only have we been worshipping speed, we have been worshipping bigness and luxury. Nothing will do us now but a tower hotel and a thousand-foot steamship of 50,000 horsepower and nothing less than a Dreadnought war vessel, and with the exception of the latter, these must not only have the bigness, but they must all be more than luxurious. What need has humanity for luxury in crossing the ocean on a six-day trip? What need of a golf course, or racquet courts, or a sun deck, of all kinds of lounge-rooms, concert halls, almost approaching an opera house in splendor, and hundreds of other things that baffle the luxury and eventually unman those who participate in them and unfit them for the struggle of life?

Money squandered on luxurious palaces on the sea should be devoted to promoting the highest class of efficiency and safety in vessels of modern size and of moderate speed; whose sole object is ordinary comfort and certainty. People should prefer security rather than the luxury of the Olympic or the Titanic. And on every warship these days there are gasoline launches which will take 150 men aboard in two or three minutes, are ready-provisioned and will float in any sea. How different that is from the story of manning and loading of the Titanic's lifeboats last Monday morning.

These scouts could even locate packs of icebergs and police them when once located and warn all vessels of their whereabouts.

We must also change our laws governing steamship travel in order to provide greater security for those who go upon the sea.

There is no need for any hysterics in the matter. Still less is there need for criticism of any one individual, or of any one company. What is wanted is for our modern civilization to find out how much longer it is to lose its head over high speed and the breaking of records, and how much longer it is to worship luxury instead of safety.

But the outcome will be more sanity in all these particulars for some years hereafter.

will be applied; and then we will go on to the next rude pull-up that sooner or later will be our fate. The calamity is too great to accord individual blame, and the best man is he who throws no stones, but who tries to govern his conduct by the lesson of the present.

TO INVADE MEXICO.

The Washington correspondent of The New York Tribune announces that every detail has been provided for in the elaborate plans of the war department for the invasion of Mexico. Mexico City will be approached simultaneously from the Rio Grande and the sea-board. It is estimated that a force of from two hundred and fifty thousand to five hundred thousand men will be needed, much depending upon the resistance offered by the Mexican people. The country has been thoroughly mapped with a special reference to existing railway lines, bases of supply, and strategic points like mountain passes. Army officers are quoted as saying that the United States will have to maintain in Mexico a permanent army of occupation to insure order, and to protect the lives and property of foreigners.

Some days ago President Taft admonished the Madero government as to its responsibility for any depredations committed against American citizens or their property and at the same time sent a warning to Orozco, the insurgent, who has more authority in the northern states of the Mexican Republic than has President Madero. To this admonition the minister of foreign affairs in the Madero government returned a reply which, translated from courtly Spanish into every day English, tells the American president to mind his own business. Madero's reply would seem to hasten the crisis, but no doubt it is well understood that political exigencies at home rather than what happens in Mexico will bring about the threatened invasion.

Mexico has a big population, possesses great wealth and is by no means devoid of national spirit. If she suffers American intervention without serious resistance it will mean that she will either be absorbed by the United States or pass under a protectorate. In either event the president and party in power in the United States will gain greatly in popularity, and another step will have been taken toward gaining absolute control of the North American continent.

THE TAX RATE.

In making up the municipal budget, the tax rate should be determined by the necessary and proper expenditures of the coming year. Nothing could be more unbusinesslike than arbitrarily to fix the tax and then skimp the departments and hamper public enterprise by thus limiting the city's annual expenditure.

If an eighteen mill rate will provide sufficient funds for a progressive and rightly economical administration, then by all means let the tax rate be held down to that figure, but if the revenue from that rate will be clearly insufficient then by all means let a proper rate be adopted.

The general impression is that the city for several years past has been postponing much needed expenditures for the sake of keeping down the tax rate. If this be the case, let us have a change of policy.

AN OLD SAILOR'S VIEW.

Editor World:—As an old sailor, may I speak you for a little space to voice my sentiments in connection with the blame being attached to the name of the late Capt. Smith of the Titanic. Major Fenner's attack on the fair fame of a gallant and departed man is quite uncalled for, and in exceeding length and well-trusted man is, I believe, only reasonably to suppose that he knew and performed his duties thoroughly against men who were quite certain of their statements. There are sailors among the survivors. Let them say whether Capt. Smith was to blame or not. They have a knowledge of the circumstances attending the disaster, which have I hope, Mr. Editor, that you will not consider this an unwarranted attack upon a well-known citizen. I am merely standing up for a man who cannot speak for himself, and I'm certain that many hundreds feel with me in the matter.

FLAG AT HALF MAST.

The flag at the parliament buildings was floating at half mast in remembrance of the Canadians who lost their lives on the ill-fated Titanic.

Died From Apoplexy.

AWFUL NERVOUSNESS AND PARALYSIS CURED BY "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

The Miracle Worker, That Cures When Doctors Fail—Now Used In Thousands Of Homes In Every Section Of Our Great Country.

Two Men, From Widely Different Parts Of Canada, Tell How They Found Health and Happiness By Taking Those Wonderful Fruit Juice Tablets.

Warkenton, Ont., May 9th, 1911. "I have been in Warkenton in business for a good many years and many of my townsmen know that my health, for long periods, was precarious. My trouble was extremely nervous, brought on by indigestion or dyspepsia, from which I suffered in the most severe form. It was so bad that I could not sleep before about four in the morning. I noticed in The Toronto World, one of your published testimonials of how someone had used "Fruit-a-tives" for similar trouble, and asked Mr. Hunter, my druggist, his opinion on the matter and he advised their use. I immediately procured several boxes and I am pleased to say that I now enjoy splendid health and could not possibly feel better. I can rest with every degree of satisfaction, and sleep without an effort, which pleasure I was denied before I was fortunate enough to use "Fruit-a-tives." I strongly advise anyone suffering from like complaints to commence using "Fruit-a-tives" immediately. Don't stop at a few doses—but continue using "Fruit-a-tives" until a cure is accomplished.

MR. ALEX. McCARTER.

"I am unable to say enough in favor of 'Fruit-a-tives,' as it saved my life and restored me to health, when I had given up all hope and when the doctors had failed to do anything more for me. I had a stroke of Paralysis in March, 1910, and this left me unable to walk or help myself, and the constipation of the bowels was terrible. Nothing did me any good and I was wretched in every way. Finally, I took 'Fruit-a-tives' for the constipation, and it not only cured me of that trouble but gradually this fruit medicine toned up the nerves and actually cured the paralysis. Under the use of 'Fruit-a-tives' I grew stronger and regularly by plaintiff, or his nominee, to the defendant, within one week of the sum of $200.00, the plaintiff shall be entitled to all the property in the business of the defendant, including book accounts payable to him, and to the automobiles and vehicles subject to any lien or unpaid balance of purchase money. These shall be free from any claim of the defendant. The defendant shall not be obliged to pay the lease. Plaintiff will get the lease upon such payment. This settlement shall be as more fully stated in my reasons for judgment. If payment not made, action will be dismissed with costs fixed at $100. Ten days' stay.

MR. ALVA PHILLIPS.

These two cases show the wonderful powers of "Fruit-a-tives" in restoring a shattered nervous system to health and vigor—in entirely curing obstinate Constipation—and in completely relieving indigestion and dyspepsia. What other one medicine in the whole world has ever done so much? "Fruit-a-tives" cures.

It is the only medicine in the world actually made from fruit with the addition of valuable tonics. It is pleasant to take and will always give the most gratifying results when taken as directed. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

Bristol, N.B., July 28th, 1911.

Ward v. Dickenson—T. J. W. O'Connor, for plaintiff. J. MacGregor, for defendant. An action by Jean Ward, a married woman, against Henry Dickenson for the recovery of goods and chattels alleged to have been taken and converted to his own use by defendant. Judgment: Plaintiff advertised offering $25 for a loan of $100 for three months. Defendant decided to make the advance to her, took her promissory note to $15, also a chattel mortgage on plaintiff's goods in storage, also the warehouse receipt, and advanced plaintiff but $45, and says he was not to advance her any more until he had an opportunity of examining the furniture in the house which she said it was her intention to procure. Plaintiff secured the goods, said by one witness to be worth $250, and by another to be worth $200 and sold same for $150. I think the defendant, as mortgagee in possession was reckless and improvident in the conduct of sale. Judgment for plaintiff for $500 damages and costs. If either party objects to this estimate, I direct a reference to the master in chambers for a reference (if any) and further directions reserved.

McCutcheon v. Penman—W. A. Henderson, for the plaintiff. F. Arnold, K.C., for defendant. An action for $1100 damages for alleged fraudulent representations made to plaintiff in effecting a sale by defendants of an automobile, or in the alternative for payment back by defendants of $975 paid by plaintiff for said automobile and damages for said alleged fraudulent representations.

Judgment for plaintiff, after thirty days, against both defendants for $975 with interest from June 7, 1911, and costs.

Middleton, J.

Nadeau v. City of Cobalt Mining Co.—A. G. Siasht (Halleybury) for plaintiff. A. E. Ripp, K.C., for defendant. This action was brought by Edward Nadeau, an employe of defendants for $200 damages for injuries received by a kick, breaking his leg, from a horse of defendants alleged to be vicious.

Judgment: The jury have found that the horse was vicious in that it was accustomed to kick as described by several witnesses, and that the master House, who had charge of the animal before it was given into plaintiff's care, was told of this habit before the occurrence of this accident. The sole question remaining is whether this is sufficient proof of scienter. I think it is, because House was the person who had the care of the horse. Judgment will therefore be for the plaintiff for the sum awarded by the jury, $1250 and costs.

Judgment reserved.

CAN NOT BLAME CAPTAIN SMITH

Expert Naval Men in Washington Say He Steered Miles South of His Regular Course.

NEW YORK, April 19.—(Can. Press.)—From Washington came the opinion of expert naval hydrographers that no blame should attach to Captain Smith, because, as they contend, analysis of ocean charts has shown that the shipper, warned of the presence of icebergs, had steered the Titanic fully sixty miles southward from the regular course.

In spite of this caution the mass of ice was struck, and as a preventive of similar disasters the hydrographic office in New York issued tonight an order shifting the lanes of trans-Atlantic liners 150 miles southward from the path which the Titanic followed.

Survivors of Crew Will Sail To-day

Passengers Booked on Red Star Line Lapland—Well Treated by Company.

NEW YORK, April 19.—(Can. Press.)—Preparations were made by the White Star Line to-day for the return passage to England of the 302 survivors of the Titanic crew. According to Stamford Wright, superintendent of the Seaman's Christian Association, who was called in by the White Star officials to distribute clothing to the members of the crew, there will be 182 men and 20 women to make the trip. They will sail on the Lapland of the Red Star Line early Saturday morning.

Wearing apparel was furnished to-day to the stewards, stewardesses, firemen, cooks and deck hands. This clothing was purchased by the steamship company. Relatives of all survivors have been notified by cable that the latter are safe and will be at home within a week.

SPRING BLOOD IS WATERY BLOOD

How to Get New Health and New Strength at This Season.

Spring ailments are not imaginary. Even the most robust find the winter months most trying to their health. Confinement indoors, often in overheated and nearly always badly ventilated rooms—in the home, the office, the shop and the school—taxes the vitality of even the strongest.

The blood becomes thin and watery and is clogged with impurities. Some people have headaches and a feeling of languor. Others are low-spirited and nervous. Still others are troubled with disfiguring pimples and skin eruptions, while some get up in the morning feeling just as tired as when they went to bed.

These are all spring symptoms that the blood is out of order and that a medicine is needed. Many people take purgative medicines in the spring. This is a serious mistake. You cannot cure yourself with medicine that gallops through your system and leaves you weaker still.

What you need to give you health and strength in the spring is a tonic medicine that will enrich the blood and soothe the tangled nerves. And the one always reliable tonic and blood builder is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills not only banish spring weakness but guard you against the more serious ailments that follow, such as anemia, nervous debility, indigestion, rheumatism, and other "diseases" due to rickety blood.

In proof of this Mrs. Emma Duck, Carleton Place, Ont., says: "I was greatly troubled with weak spells, nervousness and extreme nervousness, and did not find anything to help me until acting on the advice of an aunt I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After using five boxes I found my health fully restored, and cheerfully recommend the pills to others."

The City's Greatest Growth will be Eastward When Toronto's "LEFT ARM" is Untied

TORONTO'S retail centre is fast shifting to Yonge and Bloor, and Bloor Street West and Bloor Street East are to be the two great commercial arms of Toronto. At present Bloor Street East is tied at the "elbow" (Sherbourne Street). This condition cannot remain long. The Bloor Street viaduct must come; and then Bloor Street from Yonge, east along Danforth, will thrive with commerce, and will become as extremely valuable as Bloor Street West is to-day.

Study the diagram and get comparisons of distances, properties, values and opportunities.

LOWTHER PARK

THIS splendid property, near Danforth and Woodbine, is brought to your attention because its strategic position in the East allows it to be compared most favorably with valuable Bloor West properties.

Here's an Idea of What Will Happen in Lowther Park

RESIDENTIAL property in the St. Clarens-Bloor vicinity averages about $45 to $50 per foot to-day. Three years ago these lots could have been purchased for an average of $20 per foot. By buying NOW, a little in advance of the extension of East Bloor, you can secure LOWTHER PARK homesites at $17 PER FOOT AND UPWARD. These values are bound to soar from now on to the building of the viaduct, when Eastern values will balance the value of West Bloor.

Here's a Thought With Money in it For You

WHY not get some of this LOWTHER PARK property NOW, while it can be bought right? You know that this is the year of the East. Easterners have started something. The Danforth Civic Car line will soon be running, and the cars will serve LOWTHER PARK; AND DON'T YOU FORGET IT—THE NEXT BIG MOVE WILL BE THE BLOOR STREET VIADUCT. The growth of the East will be phenomenal—and then you will not be able to buy LOWTHER PARK lots for four times the prices we quote you to-day.

Find out about this unusual property. The sooner the cheaper. Call or write for prices, plans and terms. Come to LOWTHER PARK this afternoon. Motor cars will be waiting for you at the corner of Queen and Kingston Road all afternoon. COME.

Office open all day to-day and to-night.

SOLDIERS THREE

Major "Archibald" Butt died a hero's death. Knee-deep in the icy wash over the bridge of the Titanic, the last view survivors caught of President Taft's military aide was his soldierly figure erect beside a fellow-soldier, Col. Jacob Astor.

The rescued on the Carpathia said that Major Butt, Colonel Astor and Howard Gray were conspicuous heroes of the world's greatest sea disaster. A reporter was present when he told the terrible story of the experience, blamed the captain for the calamity. A reporter was present when he told the terrible story of the experience, blamed the captain for the calamity.

Colonel Archibald Grace, U.S.A., the last man saved, went down with the vessel, but was picked up. Col. Grace told a remarkable story of personal hardship and denied emphatically the reports that there had been any panic on board. He praised in the highest terms the behavior of both passengers and the crew, and paid a high tribute to the heroism of the women passengers.

"Mrs. Isador Straus," he said, "went to her death because she would not desert her husband. Although he pleaded with her to take her place in the boat, she steadfastly refused, and when the ship settled at the head, the two were engulfed by the wave that swept her."

Colonel Grace told of how he was driven to the topmost deck when the ship settled, and was the sole survivor after the wave that swept her just before her final plunge had passed.

THIRTY WIDOWS AT FUNERAL SERVICE

NEW YORK, April 19.—How the wireless operator on the Carpathia, by putting in an extra 10 minutes on duty, was a means of saving 739 lives was told by Dr. J. F. Kemp, the Carpathia's physician, to-day.

"Our wireless operator," said Dr. Kemp, "was about to retire Sunday night when he said, jokingly, 'I guess I'll wait just 10 minutes, then turn in.' It was in the next 10 minutes that the Titanic's call for help came."

"On Monday at 8.30 o'clock in the evening we held a funeral-service on board the Carpathia. At this service there were thirty widows, twenty of whom were under 25 years of age, and most of them brides of a few weeks or months. They did not know then that their husbands were among the dead."

LIVES LOST WERE 1,635

NEW YORK, April 19.—(Can. Press.)—The living cared for the dead beyond recall, survivors of the Titanic disaster were able for the first time to-day to see in calmer retrospect Monday's tragedy of the North Atlantic, and from their more normal utterances there was steady unfolding horror on horror, the full story of how the great White Star liner, her band playing to the last, sank off the Grand Banks with more than 1500 souls aboard.

Even after all that has now been told of the disaster, the death list remains approximate. Last night's total estimate was 1685. To-day the White Star line issued a statement, placing the total at 1635. Exactly how many died will never be known.

Monday morning marks the opening of what is to all intents a new section of our Carpet Department.

During the last months our foreign buyers have secured from the most reliable sources of supply Oriental rugs of many weaves and an almost infinite variety of patterns and colorings.

The sizes range from small mats a few feet square to carpet sizes.

There are lustrous, silky, closely woven rugs from Asia Minor, handsome characteristic types of Gorovan, Saruk, Kirmanshah and Afghan makes.

There are drawing-room rugs and bedroom rugs, rugs in which reds predominate, and old blues that call for mahogany; rugs for den and library, hall and dining room. But best of all, the prices are good, honest Canadian prices—just what the rugs are worth after buying and handling. Some of the beautiful India weaves cost very little more than one often pays for ordinary machine-made rugs.

Table with rug sizes and prices: 7.2 x 5.3 ... 14.50, 9.4 x 6.2 ... 22.00, 9.5 x 7.8 ... 45.50, 11.1 x 7.11 ... 44.00, 13.3 x 10.6 ... 61.50, 12.6 x 12.1 ... 97.50

MADAME KATHYRN INNES-TAYLOR'S SONG RECITAL.

Even regarded solely as a tour de force, it is no small accomplishment for one artist to interest a large audience intelligently and with rare musical insight for more than two hours. This is what Madame Taylor succeeded in doing, using as her accompaniment equal to that of her singing powers.

These five languages were represented in an equal number of songs of German, Italian, Russian, French and English. The latter has a sufficient acquaintance with the two last mentioned tongues to be satisfied that if the others were pronounced as perfectly as these two—admittedly, they were—the lingual was in no case inferior to the vocal rendering. In each case that was exactly—in every essential—satisfying to the last artistic point. Handel's "As When a Dove" ("Acis and Galatea"), is an old favorite, and it is not heard so often as it is meant to be treated, and as Madame used it in simple style. In the Russian group, stood out, conspicuously, a piece of characteristic folk song, "The Song of the Shepherd Leli" (Korsakov), great musically—sufficiently great musically to triumph over the utter banality of the words to which the music is set. In the French group were three bright chansons—nothing really great—Chaminade wrote two of them, and they were not quite abreast of some of that usually graceful composer's level, but Madame Taylor, by her sympathetic and easy rendering of the efforts, compensated. The groups of music had to this point, been representative foreign nationals, but when we arrived at the English group of five songs it made one wonder a little that it was necessary to include as composers of purely English music musicians with such strikingly British names as G. Henchell and Claude Van Nuy's Deering, Still, Edward Macdowell, the Scots' writer, and G. W. Chadwick, as writers of typical English music, quite overshadowed these aliens, and this was, as far as the audience was concerned, the main consideration that, no matter what the method, the school, by or through which Madame Taylor essayed to please her audience, she was immediately and wholly successful. Miss Grace Smith, who, in her department, as pianist, was no less successful. Her voice, as in the case of her husband, and of value, all of Chopin's compositions were delightfully played, with an abandon

Eight Years of Bad Eczema on Hands

Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment

Miss Mary A. Bentley, 98 University St., Montreal, writes, in a recent letter: "Some nine years ago I noticed small pimples breaking out on the back of my hands. They became very irritating, and gradually became worse, so that I could not sleep at night. I consulted a physician who treated me a long time, but it got worse, and I could not get my hands water. I was treated at the hospital, and it was just the same. I was told that I had very bad case of eczema. "Well, I just kept on using everything that I could for nearly eight years until I was advised to try Cuticura Ointment. I did so, and I found after a few applications the burning sensations were disappearing, I could sleep well, and I had no more itching during the night. I began after a while to use Cuticura Soap. I stuck to the Cuticura treatment, and thought if I could use other remedies for merely six months, and after only having a few applications and finding ease from Cuticura Ointment, it deserved a fair trial with a severe and stubborn case. I used the Cuticura Ointment and Soap for nearly six months, and I am glad to say that I have hands as clear as anyone's, and I am sure that you will wish to refer to all the world, and if anyone doubts it, let them write me."

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. For a free literature, send 10c in stamps to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., 50 Columbus Ave., Boston, U. S. A.

a care-free keyboard articulation as unusual as any response to the artistry of her accompaniments to Madame Taylor's solos was perhaps shaded by the witchery of the vocalist, but it added considerably to Madame's success. How much this was so was more clearly understood and her qualities as a sterling and very sympathetic and understanding player than outside by those who are so qualified to do, they were very fully qualified to do, be judged by their own remarkably clever individuality.

"Queen of Bohemia"

"The Queen of Bohemia" will be welcome at the Gayety all next week. It is a satire on the fast life of the gay white way and then a change to the simple life up on the Hudson. The cast is headed by that favorite German comedian, Mr. Sam Sidman and the Countess, Miss E. H. Jones, assisted cleverly by an all-star cast and a chorus of twenty pretty girls. In fact it can well be termed a veritable whirl of girls, set to music and with the poetry of grace and motion, the dances all go with a vim and dash. Costumes are changed every minute. Jokes are plentiful and the entire production is a kaleidoscopic mass of color and music sparkling with humor. The high class numbers and catchy songs are introduced by the different members of the company. Extraordinary efforts and lavish expenditure have been made by Mr. Spiegel in this season's production and the best and talented directors have been employed in weaving together this pot-pourri of music, song and jollity.

"The Jolly Girls"

Everybody laughs—that is the password when you see the next attraction billed at the Star Theatre to be "The Jolly Girls." The show this season is headed by Tony Handley, who is known from coast to coast to be the funniest man ever attempting to put on an Irish make-up and Manager Pierce and his merry band of two acts introduce Tony Handley, the principal role as Michael McGuire. The first part is more of a musical review and introduces all the members of the company, which number forty-three, to their best possible advantage. The female end of the show is headed by the ever-popular Paragon Board, which will be shown at every matinee and give all baseball fans an opportunity of seeing the players in their own home. This is the only board of its kind in the city and will be shown at every matinee and during the stay of the Jolly Girls Co.

WIFE OF THE P.M. TALKS TO WOMEN

Tells What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did For Her.

She Suffered for Two Years and Found a Cure for All Her Troubles in a Single Box.

Lower Caraque, Gloucester, N. B., April 19.—(Special).—Mrs. Jos. O. Chisason, wife of the police magistrate here, who for two years has been practically an invalid, is again in the best of health, and she is telling her friends how quiet and complete was her cure when she took Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"My illness," Mrs. Chisason says, "was caused by a strain, and for two years I was a sufferer. My back ached, I was always tired and nervous, there were dark circles under my eyes and after sleeping I had a bitter taste in my mouth."

"I had a pressure and sharp-pain on the top of my head, I was always thirsty and my skin had a harsh, dry feeling. I was often dizzy, I perspired easily and my perspiration had an unpleasant odor."

"Almost from the first dose Dodd's Kidney Pills helped me and by the time I had finished the first box I was a well woman."

Mrs. Chisason's symptoms showed that the trouble was her kidneys. That's why Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her so quickly.

The Nursery

Overfeeding.

Let your motto be: "It is better to underfeed than overfeed," and you will save yourself and your baby much worry and discomfort. Overfeeding is giving a child more food than he requires, either at one time or too frequently. The normal baby at first takes only what he really needs, but the habit of over-eating is soon acquired, and some children take twice the quantity of food required. All food taken in excess of what a child can digest becomes a burden to him. It is indigestible in the stomach or bowels, ferments and causes colic. The child will be restless and fretful, and will sleep badly. He cries constantly for more food because the taking of food gives his poor stomach temporary relief. When overfeeding is long continued it causes serious disturbances of digestion. And we wonder why our children are bad-tempered, cross, hard to manage, dull at school or constantly in trouble.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Can you tell me how to make my baby—one year old—take water? She will not, take it at all, neither hot nor cold. Mrs. H. C. C.

Have you tried giving it to her by spoonfuls instead of from a bottle or cup? If that will not do, add the juice of half an orange to four ounces of boiled water, and she may like it then.

My two-year-old baby will not give up her bottle. She refuses milk from a cup and insists on having a bottle. Mrs. H. C. C.

The longer you allow her to use her bottle, the harder the habit will be to break. Take away the bottle entirely; break it, if you must, and show her the bottle is "gone." Burn the nipples, and every four hours offer her milk from a cup. She will be hungry enough to take it. I think, and you can remind her that the bottle is broken and no use. She will understand what you mean.

My three-month-old baby insists on sucking his fist. How may he be broken of the habit? Mrs. M. M.

If your baby is good-natured and happy, the trouble is evidently just a habit, not a sign of lack of nourishment. Very many babies have this habit and they generally overcome it as soon as they can play with things. However, if your baby's habit is persistent, try putting cotton mittens on his hands, and if this is not satisfactory, bind some stiff paper on his arm to prevent him bending his elbow. Eleanor Murray.

IMPORTANT SALE OF RARE PRINTS.

Connoisseurs of prints and engravings will be deeply interested in the personal collection of John Britnell, which is to be offered at auction sale on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week in his premises, 488 Yonge-st. He has been for many years a keen student of this description of works of art and his fine taste and extensive knowledge have enabled him to procure examples of old and modern engravings and etchers, not only of high quality, but great rarity. A glance at the walls is sufficient to show the unusual value of the collection.

Mention may be made of the numerous Bartolozzi, many being proof plates, old and solid, and in splendid condition. Of them, the beautiful full-length portrait of John Ash, the celebrated physician, is perhaps the finest. It is a magnificent stipple, and many other notable plates in a rare classical subject by Richard Barlow, who also ranks among the best mezzotint engravers. This particular subject is one of his best plates.

A very rare and early copper plate engraving is that by Raphael Saunders, dated 1589, after Van Aachen, one of his very best series. Of special interest features have been added during the stay of the Jolly Girls, the first of George Brown, champion walker of the world, who will meet all comers at every performance. The second is the ever-popular Paragon Board, which will be shown at every matinee and give all baseball fans an opportunity of seeing the players in their own home. This is the only board of its kind in the city and will be shown at every matinee and during the stay of the Jolly Girls Co.

ST. GEORGE'S DINNER.

The seventy-seventh annual dinner of the St. George's Society of Toronto will be held at the Society's Hall, Elm-st., on Tuesday evening, the 23rd inst., at 7.30 o'clock, on which occasion the Hon. William H. Hoyle, Speaker of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, will respond to the toast of the day, and all who honor it. The toast of the empire and Canada will be responded to by J. S. Willison.

The annual church service will be held in St. James' Cathedral on Sunday evening. The sermon will be preached by the Right Rev. Dr. Richardson, Bishop of Fredericton, N.B. A special reservation of seats has been made for the members of the society, who are requested to meet at the parish house at 6.30 o'clock, and to wear a red rose.

HOW TO REMOVE WARTS BY A PAINLESS REMEDY

Don't allow these unsightly excrescences to spoil the beauty of your hands or arms. Remove them painlessly and for all time by applying Putnam's Painless Corn and Wart Extractor. Failure impossible, results always sure with Putnam's Corn and Wart Extractor. Refuse any substitute for Putnam's. It does the trick in one night. Price 25c. at druggists.

WILL REMODEL LEGISLATIVE CHAMBER

Under Present Conditions the Acoustics of the Assembly-room Are Not Good on Account of Too Much Space on the Floor and the Galleries.

A complete remodeling of the legislative assembly room at the parliament buildings is under consideration. For a long time it has been recognized that the acoustics of the chamber are none too good, the members of the house and press gallery alike testifying to the difficulty in hearing remarks of speakers whose oratorical powers are not extremely well developed. Sir James Whitney, Hon. W. J. Hanna and a few others in the house are clearly audible, no matter whether they pitch their voices in high or low tones, but the majority of the members are not very easy to hear on many occasions. The prime minister is of the opinion that the legislative chamber, as it is at present, is too large and roomy. There is a lot of wasted space on the floor of the house and the visitors' galleries on each side are also constructed in such a way that while enhancing the appearance of the chamber, they do not improve the capacity for the proper distribution of sound. It is believed that the seats on the floor of the house will also be rearranged, the three rows on each side being brought closer together. The main aisle in front of the Speaker's dais is also regarded as too wide for practical purposes. The dimensions of the chamber itself may also be considerably reduced. In view of the fact that the entire buildings are to be made fireproof, now that the burnt west wing has been reconstructed, and the new north wing almost completed, the government is considering the advisability of immediately commencing the remodeling of the legislative chamber, as soon as the building operations at present under way are finished.

Are You Losing Your Grip?

Is your vitality and strength weakening? Are you growing old before your time, troubled with pains and aches, always tired, losing ambition and energy, do not sleep like you used to, and feel sluggish and dull?

That is because your system is run down, organs inactive and the body improperly nourished. Every man has a good constitution, to start with, with a strength and vitality that enables him to overcome every obstacle that he encounters. This strength comes from a good digestion, a strong nervous system, and a healthy circulation of blood. If you feel like this, you know where the trouble is, and this weakness, this lack of energy, is easily overcome if the right remedy is applied. Physicians have been trying for hundreds of years to overcome this trouble by the use of drugs, but to-day they can accomplish nothing more than they could when they started. You may know this from your own experience with drugs; they only break the system down much quicker than they build it up.

Electricity is the only cure for such a trouble, and in my Belt this remedy is applied so that quick and surprising results are easily accomplished. Electricity does not stimulate. The good it does is permanent. There is never any recurrence of the trouble when the remedy is applied right. But until the invention of my Belt it wasn't applied right and failures were as common as with drugs.

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt

has successfully overcome every objection that a person could have to the old form of electric treatments. It infuses a strong, continuous current of Electricity into the nerves and organs while you sleep, and gives new life to the nerves, strength to the organs, and drives out all weakness and pain. That is how it overcomes all cases of Stomach Trouble, Weakness of the Kidneys or Bladder, Urinary Troubles, Drains, Waste of Power, Varicocele, Rheumatism, Back Trouble, or any nervous breakdown or exhaustion. The thousands of cures accomplished in every part of the country show that the work it is doing is satisfactory to the user. Read these—

Mr. SAMUEL J. HARNETT, North Gower, Ont., says: "I received a Belt from you some four years ago, and I wish to say that it was all it was represented to be, having cured me of Indigestion and other ailments, and I now feel like a new man, giving all the credit to your Belt. Anyone giving it a good trial, I know, will feel as I do."

Mr. WILLIAM P. MORTER, Box 67, Hawkesbury, Ont., says: "I am pleased to report a good account as regards my health. I am beginning to feel myself stronger in every way. Certainly your Belt does its duty, and its work is sure."

FREE BOOK

Every man who admires the perfection of physical strength should read my beautifully illustrated book. It tells how strength is lost, and how I restore it with my Electric Belt. I will send this book, closely sealed, free, upon request. If you are one of the men you should be, write to-day. I have a book for women also.

Put your name on this coupon and send it in.

There are hardly two lots exactly alike in Walmer Hill subdivision. The property is rolling and redundant with different views, different elevations, and different prices, which means that the owner of the lot next yours cannot rob you of a sale. Moreover, there is nothing obtainable in the Hill District that gives such excellent value as Walmer Hill lots. Near St. Clair Avenue—near Avenue Road—near Queen and Yonge (three and one-eighth miles), near where property has advanced $25, to $40, to $70, to $100 per foot in three short years—near the most exclusive, brightest, cleanest and most beautiful home section of Toronto. Walmer Hill is beyond sight, smoke, or sound of factories or railroads. It is approached via only beautiful, well-built streets from downtown (Queen's Park, Avenue, Poplar Plains or Spadina Roads). There is no cheap section to go through, and when you get there—pure, fresh, exhilarating air, known to be the most healthful of any Toronto location.

Walmer Hill has many more attractions which R. B. Haley & Co., Temple Building, will gladly tell you about. The main attractions are the prices and terms. Telephone Main 412 for particulars, plans and prices.

Several big homes have been started at Walmer Hill, and more will be started soon. The Hill District is the one district where homes are urgently needed right now. Dullest Trade in Many Weeks

Wall Street Deeply Afflicted by Titanic Catastrophe—Stock Market Heavy, With Small Net Declines Shown.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Business on the stock exchange for the greater part of the day's session was the dullest in many weeks. Transactions in the first two hours barely totaled more than 10,000 shares, and the trend of prices was generally downward. The market's heaviness during the period probably resulted more from the apathy of the speculative interests than from any other cause. The feeling produced by the Titanic disaster, and the financial community continues to feel a sense of deep affliction.

Another factor from which it was impossible to extract much comfort was the status of the dispute between the eastern railway managers and the locomotive engineers. The market continued dull and irregular until the last hour, when a demand for certain standard issues, especially Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific and Reading, brought a revival of activity and best prices of the day.

Supplementary recent statements dealing with this country's foreign trade came further support to the gloomy outlook. Exports for the fiscal year ending June 30 last will exceed by approximately two million dollars the highest average of any previous year. The record was in 1908, when the total exports for the same months of the year aggregated $4,827,000,000. These, while exceeding the figure for 1911, are a far cry from the average lower price, the difference being about 40 cents per pound.

Thereafter flow of cash from the interior points to a large cash gain by local institutions here to day, but in moderate demand.

HOW THE MARCONI STOCKS BREAK ALL RECORDS

An interesting fact in connection with the sensational boom in American Marconi, which sold yesterday up to $320 a share, is that even at these prices many customers who have held their stock for several years will not sell out. Most of the buying orders come from London, also it is believed that many are merely relayed from New York, with the idea in order to hide the source of buying. The volume is comparatively small, an average of 1000 shares a day being a conservative estimate of the total per diem. Most of the sales are in small lots ranging from 5 to 20 shares, a hundred share lot being an exception.

It is reported that the rapidity of the advance has given no end of trouble to New York curb-brokers, who found themselves reporting sales at prices which looked low to their customers because of the oft-repeated happenings that in the few minutes between the time of setting and the report of the transaction, the stock took another of its spectacular jumps.

It is said that last week when Marconi was quoted in the eighties, a well-known curb broker was asked over the telephone how the market was. "It is dead," he said. "Buy me the 50 shares," said his customer.

The broker hustled to the curb and found that not only had the 50 shares been taken but 90 was bid with 80 shares offered at 95. He rushed back to his customer who directed him to take the 50 at 95. The broker with difficulty obtained 25 of the 50 offered at 95. A minute later it was 100 bid.

CITY MARKET WAS IRREGULAR

Traders' Bank Shares Went Soaring Again—Rio Adopted a Reactionary Tone—General List Quiet.

World Office,
Friday Evening, April 19.

The Toronto stock market showed a good deal of irregularity to-day, both losses and declines being recorded in the more prominent securities listed for trading. The real feature of the session was a remarkable exhibition of buoyancy in Traders' Bank, the shares of that institution recording an advance of about 10 points for no apparent reason other than the belief that there was something in prospect which would materially enhance their value. In general, however, the list did little more than hold its own.

Rio and Sao Paulo did not come in for any particular attention, trading in each instance being restricted. Rio dropped a full point to 118 and the death of public interest in the stock was plainly exemplified from the fact that the share was on offer there at the close, with no bids. Sao Paulo held firm around last night's quotation.

In the general market, the advance in Packers' common and 4-7 restricted price changes in some of the specialties was all that characterized the session. The advance in Traders' Bank carried the shares up to 171 1/2, a gain of 11 points for the day. The close, however, was at 168 3/4 bid, with the stock held at 168 3/4.

Montreal Markets.

In Montreal business was light and the tone was generally dull. The sentimental effect of the marine disaster still hangs heavy over the financial community and prices appear to sag in consequence. There is a feeling that matters of business concern than from any selling pressure. The issues which have been leaders in the market practically without exception worked off to lower levels. Power contributed nearly half of the day's business and advanced 1/2 point, with the last transaction at 300 1/4. Dominion Steel was also easier after its sharp movement of the previous day. Apart from Power and Steel, the market was decidedly dull. Canadian Car reflected the dividend decision of the directors on Thursday and dropped two points to 108 1/2. The market closed at 170 3/4 in two transactions in the morning session. Total business 5900 shares.

AMER. MARCONI AT $350 A SHARE

The recent sensational advance in American Marconi stock, which have seen the whole financial world paled into veritable insignificance yesterday when the shares went soaring to an extent that far exceeded anything witnessed in the stock market in many years. The World yesterday morning told the story of the increase in the capitalization of the company from $1,822,000 to $10,000,000 and the valuable rights that would accrue to the shareholders. Later on in the day it was announced that the English Marconi Company had concluded arrangements which would make for a material world-wide expansion of the business of all subsidiary concerns.

Whether there is anything in these two announcements to warrant any such advances as have been made remains to be seen. Their import to a market standpoint may be fully realized, however, when it is said that American Marconi stock yesterday soared by leaps and bounds, until it had attained $350, a gain for the day of $15, and that on a very small volume of transactions. A week ago the shares were quoted at $30, and six months ago at $8. Their appreciation in value since that time will take considerable searching of Wall-st records before it can be matched.

Canadian Marconi advanced to $30 a share, a new high record.

STREET IS CURIOUS OVER BULGE IN TRADERS

A good deal of speculation was heard on "the street" last night concerning the meaning of the big advance in Traders' Bank stock, which has sold up from 150 to 171 1/2 since this day week. Rumors of various natures were circulated, some mentioning a pending amalgamation with another institution, others a proposed increase in the capitalization, and another an increased dividend. None of these were able to be verified, however. It will be remembered that General Manager Strathely denied in these columns some days ago all talk of a pending merger. The directors held their customary weekly meeting yesterday at noon, but none of the proceedings were made public, and it was therefore felt that the stock was decidedly dull. Canadian Car reflected the dividend decision of the directors on Thursday and dropped two points to 108 1/2. The market closed at 170 3/4 in two transactions in the morning session. Total business 5900 shares.

MORSE'S NAME KEPT WELL BEFORE PUBLIC

Notwithstanding the fact that C. W. Morse has had his ups and downs in the past few years, the steamer which still bears his name proceeds on its steady way every other night, up the Hudson on its journey to Albany. One is reminded of the days when the former ice and steamship king was in his prime, as his name is flashed every few minutes by an electrical sign on the hurricane deck.
