DR. MELVIN REPORTS ON CHILDREN'S HOME

Its Condition Not at All as Described by Letter in Globe—Improvements Suggested by Health Officer

As a result of a charge made in a letter to the Globe that the sanitary conditions in the Children's Home in Elliot Row were "simply appalling," a special meeting of the board was held last evening, and an arrangement made for a report by the board of health. This morning Dr. Melvin, medical health officer, Mr. Walsh, plumbing inspector, and Rev. Geo. Scott, agent of the society, spent an hour and a half inspecting the Home from cellar to garret.

Dr. Melvin reports that there is some dampness in the cellar, there is a slight leak in a closet down stairs, the fittings in the bathroom are old and require renovation, the paper on the walls is loose in several rooms, and there are various other minor defects. Summing up he says: "It follows from the foregoing that very material improvements should be made to the house as now it stands in every measure into proper order of a public institution. This applies most directly to the renovation and extension of the plumbing fixtures and the abatement of the dampness in the cellar. Yet taking into consideration, as I understand it, that the house was not originally designed for its present purpose, and as what might be called a provisional makeshift until other and more suitable quarters are available, I do not think it should be condemned as unfit for its present purposes. Care should be taken to avoid over-crowding and with this provision and with reasonable attention to the points mentioned above I see no direct hazard to the welfare of its inmates. Much always in such instances depends upon the internal administration. The aim of the institution and the very excellent work it has already accomplished should prevent any notion of its abandonment until more suitable quarters are provided."

Permanent National Assembly. Petrograd, Sept. 11.—Members of the Russian provisional government today discussed as an alternative or complement to a directory, the formation of a permanent national assembly on the lines of the Moscow conference, which is to be summoned immediately.

Depend on Railroad Men. Petrograd, Sept. 11.—In conversations with the Associated Press today, leaders of the Petrograd council of deputies declared that the provisional government's trump card was that the railroad employes were entirely on its side and that the obduracy by General Korniloff would result in a general strike, depriving Korniloff of all supplies and of all means of imposing his will on the rest of Russia.

At his request the common clerk in Petrograd to Halifax asking for information about the milk situation there and he was informed that the dealers were paying the farmers for the milk which was being sold to the consumers ten cents, but that higher prices were expected.

Commissioner McEellan remarked that the question of price was as important as the price itself, that the matter of adequate supply was also of importance. He believed that the government might help the supply and price milk by forbidding the use of milk cream for soda water fountains and cream parlors.

He then gave notice of a motion to be presented to the council calling for appointment of a milk inspector at $1 a year. He believed that he could put all the milk which came to the city did not reach the consumer in some condition in which it left the day. He had been informed that it was possible to extract eighteen per cent of cream and still leave a fairly present grade of milk and this was worth carrying into. If the sale of cream was prohibited entirely, he thought the quality of milk would improve. The matter was one which they might be able to decide in advance but would move for the appointment of an inspector and the preparation of regulations for his guidance.

Commissioner Russell suggested to the matter stated by the speaker when Commissioner Wigmore would back. Commissioner Fisher remarked that the Board of Health was doing considerable work and asked if it was not well for the commissioner to be a quiet himself with what they were doing.

Commissioner McEellan said he was fully aware what the Board of Health was doing but he wanted a man who could be on the job every day as a broad inspector is. If the work was enough to keep a man busy he could be made inspector of weights and measures. He added that, no matter what the dealers did the idea of city milk depots should not be abandoned. The commissioner expressed his willingness to let the matter of the appointment of the inspector stand until Monday morning and he also moved that Kings county milk producers be asked to have a delegation from the committee meeting on Monday.

The motion was adopted and the meeting adjourned.

J. J. McCAFFREY GETS SUMMONS TO OTTAWA. Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 11.—J. J. McCaffrey, appointed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier as a member of the board of selection for New Brunswick under the Military Service Act, has been notified by Premier Borden to report at Ottawa to attend a meeting of the board in the House of Commons on Sept. 24.

Sir Thomas Tait arrived in the city last night and is registered at the Queen Hotel. He is on a tour in connection with the coal mining enterprise in the Grand Lake district.

The Russian Situation

Premier Kerensky Declares General Lokomoff A Traitor—Measures to Defeat Korniloff—The Cossacks Firm

Petrograd, Sept. 11.—The text of a communication of the workmen's and soldiers' and peasants' organizations to the army at the front, to the naval committee and the army generally, in which all are urged to rally round them, not only the mass of soldiers, but those in command of the army in support of the provisional government, says:—

"General Korniloff, having put himself at the head of a military counter-revolutionary conspiracy, has moved troops toward Petrograd. His purpose is the deposition of the provisional government and the seizure of its powers. The troops directed to Petrograd have been deceived into believing that they are sent to crush a conspiracy of the Maximalists, which is non-existent in reality."

The communication then tells of Korniloff's dismissal and declares him a traitor, and adds:—"The problem of the army committee is to maintain the provisional government, to frustrate the criminal designs of General Korniloff and to apply all measures to prevent his conspiracy from reflecting itself disastrously on the stability of the front."

The message concludes with a request that none of the orders of Korniloff shall be carried out, or of "those traitors who have adhered themselves to him."

Petrograd, Sept. 11.—(British Admiralty per Wireless Press)—Premier Kerensky yesterday issued a proclamation addressed to the army, the fleet and the nation and also to the committees of the army at the front outlining the attempt of General Korniloff, through V. N. Lvoff, and the measures that had been taken as a result. Regarding General Lokomoff, the premier said: "General Lokomoff, the premier said, also proved a traitor. He refused to carry out the provisional government's order to assume command of the army in view of General Korniloff's dismissal, indicating to the provisional government the possibility of civil war on the front, the opening up of the front to the Germans and the conclusion of a separate peace."

"The government is in full agreement with the executive of the workmen's and soldiers' deputies for taking measures for the crushing of the counter-revolutionary plot instituted by the traitors to their fatherland."

After announcing the dismissal of Korniloff and stating that he would be punished for treachery, the proclamation adds:—"Against Korniloff's attempt to direct individual military detachments to Petrograd, most decisive measures have been taken."

Premier Kerensky yesterday received a deputation of Cossacks and other troops who said they considered their patriotic duty to prevent civil war and to lend their support in the conflict between M. Kerensky and Korniloff. With this object in view a deputation will leave for army headquarters, having reached an agreement with M. Kerensky.

IRISH FRATERNIZATION ASTONISHES BELFAST

Excellent Effect is Produced by the Convention's Visit to the Ulster Capital

(New York Times)

Belfast, Sept. 7.—The visit of the Irish Convention to Belfast, where it has just been holding a three days' session, accompanied with some experience of northern hospitality and enterprise, marks a stage in its progress which has been a great success in every sense.

The southern delegates who have seen Belfast for the first time this week have been entertained by the local mayor, the harbor board, and eminent private citizens. They have been taken to factories and shipyards and technical schools. They have had for their sittings the magnificent city hall. All this has impressed them. It is a process of education as to the conditions of their own country which perhaps was necessary for these representative men, often too localized in their experience, and it is at any rate a good preparation for the work they have to do. They are to hold a session in Cork in a week or two, when the south of Ireland will have an opportunity of completing the process.

It may be added that the visit of the convention has also made an impression on Belfast. Crowds gathered at the city hall every day to watch these men from all parts of Ireland arriving and leaving. One may wonder which must have been the queerer mental exercises—those going on inside the worthy Orange masters witnessing his grand masters and civic fathers colloquing with Catholic Bishops and Nationalist M. P.'s; or those of the Catholic stalwarts from Falls Road on beholding the same fraternalism.

The one figure hailed with spontaneous and partial approval and greeted on his appearance with a general cheer J. J. John Redmond.

It is this to the good both for the cause of feeling inside the convention and that in the country outside it. To produce such an atmosphere is a necessary piece of work, and the convention is to be congratulated upon its success in this line so far. But too much must not be expected from mere atmosphere; the more difficult part of the convention's task now approaches—that of working out in detail a scheme upon which settlement may be secured and which may be relied upon to work.

A correspondent writing in a Catholic paper takes the view that if the convention should fail to find a settlement it would be better that it had not met. This is a view widely held.

"Success," he writes, "will mean the creation of a new Ireland; failure will be a catastrophe. The convention has the good will of the whole country without political distinction."

It is election eve and the political Santa Claus is abroad in the land. Not only are they for the politically good children, but for those who promise to be politically good—in this respect the real Santa of Christmas who rewards past good conduct, is a hard-hearted old curmudgeon by comparison with the free-handed bestower of election day.

And for election days of the future there are prospects that for the good children who carefully obey the master

Rosh-Hashanah to Be Celebrated Within a Few Days

The Jewish people will, on Sunday evening, September 16, enter their houses of worship, to usher in their Rosh Hashanah, or New Year, 5678, which marks the beginning of the cycle of sacred observances held during the month of Tishri, the seventh month of the Jewish calendar. While every new moon, in ancient times, was greeted by the sounds of the shofar (trumpet), the seventh month or new moon, coming after six months of religious exercises as a month of rest and recreation by the agricultural inhabitants of Palestine. The Jewish New Year is known by different names, and each expresses something of its spiritual significance. Numbers XXIX, 1, designates it as "The Day of Blowing the Trumpet (Shofar)." New Year occurs in the autumn, when the falling leaf and fading flower turns the mind to serious reflection, and sounds the admonitory message: "Awake and ponder your deeds; remember your creator, return to Him in penitence, Be

Another Chancellor Crisis in Germany Looked For—He Was Last Minute Choice

London, Sept. 11.—(Montreal Gazette cable)—The Times Amsterdam correspondent says there are many indications that another chancellor crisis is approaching in Germany, since the pan-Germans will not tolerate Michaelis long unless he consents to represent their policy. It is said they have another man in view, at present undisclosed, but it is not impossible that it is Von Tirpitz, whose name has often been mentioned for this office.

Copenhagen, Sept. 11.—The choice of Dr. Michaelis as imperial chancellor, according to belated revelations by the Socialist organ Vorwarts of Berlin, was due to a hasty decision by Emperor William, who originally had another candidate in view and had not even considered Dr. Michaelis until three hours before his appointment.

KAISERISM IN CANADA.

The brief speech of Mr. W. A. Buchanan of Medicine Hat in parliament yesterday, on the Prussian franchise bill of the Borden government, cannot but arouse a feeling of bitter indignation against that government, cannot but give to every man or woman who has ever boasted about Canadian freedom, Mr. Buchanan's biting words should burn themselves into the consciousness of every citizen who prizes liberty and hates oppression.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER. The Montreal Financial Times pays a high tribute to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and declares that "Canada now stands as a unit in regard to Empire war effort."

Why should the franchise be limited to the female relatives of soldiers who have gone overseas, while at the same time all other women, no matter what may be their intelligence or war effort and sacrifice, are barred? Can anyone give a reason?

Of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's splendid contribution to the cause of national unity, the Financial Times says:—"It is impossible to avoid the conviction that the language of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in counselling peaceful acceptance of the legislation enacted by parliament, was one of the most important influences towards this highly satisfactory issue. And in this light it is not difficult to conclude that Sir Wilfrid was thus making a greater contribution towards national unity than he could have done by supporting conscription in parliament."

Wilfrid's chief achievement that during fifteen years of power he so dexterously practiced the art of compromise that no serious national divisions became apparent. It is the habit of some writers and some politicians to denounce compromise as a dishonest political attitude, but it is difficult to see how it can be eliminated as a most important element in the politics of this country, at any rate until Canadians develop a much greater degree of mutual sympathy and comprehension and a much more definite national ideal than they have today.

The Financial Times believes that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, if in power, would have put a conscription law into effect, "though, needless to state, in a more bland and diplomatic manner, and with more concessions to the feelings of those who take no interest in anything outside of Canada." Not being in power, he felt that he could best serve his country by pursuing the course he did.

The course the government has pursued in regard to the Canadian Northern Railway, and especially in regard to its iniquitous franchise bill, shows the wisdom of the Liberals in refusing to agree to a coalition with the men who are now at the head of affairs.

What would be the condition of affairs in New Brunswick today if the Fleming government could have framed and passed an election law to defeat the will of the people and give themselves a new lease of power? This business of tampering with the rights of the people in relation to the franchise strikes at the very root of democratic government.

Everybody should understand that the ordinary sale and purchase of peas, beans, tomatoes, beets, celery, corn, spinach, rhubarb and pumpkins, preserved in cans, glass jars or any other container, commonly known as "canned vegetables," is prohibited, except to lumber, mining or construction camps.

Why should the franchise be limited to the female relatives of soldiers who have gone overseas, while at the same time all other women, no matter what may be their intelligence or war effort and sacrifice, are barred? Can anyone give a reason?

Gag-rule prevails at Ottawa. The Borden government forces its measures through by closure. It is at war with the best interests of the Canadian people and adopts Prussian methods to attain its objects.

There can be no union government in Canada until Sir Robert Borden and the Rogers group have been sent about their business.

New Brunswick Men Win Honors. Military medals have been conferred on soldiers from all parts of the Dominion who distinguished themselves during the recent hard fighting. The few cases in which reasons for the award can be cited are only typical of hundreds of others.

Among the awards is the Military Medal to Private Henry William McLean, of the New Brunswick regiment for picking up, at great personal risk, an enemy bomb which fell among his section during the advance, and throwing it into nearby trenches, where it exploded. By doing this McLean saved many casualties in the section. Another gallant New Brunswicker, who gets the Military Medal, is Sgt. Crawford Balfour, a machine gunner, who, although severely wounded in the face at the beginning of the advance, carried on to the objective and was responsible for the capture of six of the enemy.

Unlocked Process Shoes

The unlocked process of making shoes is conceded by the most famous orthopedic physicians, surgeons and shoe men as the very last word in the shoe world today.

MADE UNDER PATENTED METHODS, both in SHOE PROCESS, LASTS and PATTERNS. It has the call throughout the world as the only shoe that will give the foot PERFECT EXERCISE, MUSCLE DEVELOPMENT, GOOD BLOOD CIRCULATION, HEALTH AND LIFE, for the reason that the shoe is built in such a manner that it gives perfect body weight balance and conforms to the foot WITHOUT BREAKING IN; in fact it is the only UNLOCKED PROCESS SHOE known to the shoe world, making it impossible for imitators to copy.

UNLOCKED PROCESS SHOES AND LASTS follow the anatomy of the foot in every particular. Nothing is left UNDONE, and the wearer will find that in wearing this shoe it will eliminate the cold, clammy, sleepy feeling in the feet and limbs and make the feet BREATHE and live again. We invite all orthopedic surgeons and physicians to investigate this shoe, and we guarantee to them and to the public that they will find we can give them more in this shoe than we have claimed.

If you are looking for foot liberty, wear BELL'S UNLOCKED PROCESS SHOE.

RED CROSS WORK

That the good work of the local Red Cross has not suffered neglect during the summer months is apparent from the reports shown at a postponed meeting yesterday afternoon. Mrs. John A. McAvity, the president, was in the chair; most of the officers were present, and the meeting was very largely attended. The reports for needle-work show 5,883 pieces done during August. Miss Helen I. Russel, Walter Gilbert, Mrs. Alfred M. Dean of Montreal, and Miss Margaret Morrison were made life members, and Mrs. G. E. Coster and Mrs. W. G. deMille were made members of the society. Various reports were brought in from outside Red Cross Circles showing very satisfactory results.

MUCH DAMAGE BY TIDES

Sackville Post.—The recent high tides did a good deal of damage to the crops around Sackville. It is said $1,000 will hardly cover the loss to the crops on what is known as the Fred Dixon farm, and many others suffered to a less extent.

Male Teachers Want More Pay

The regular meeting of the school board was held last evening at which a petition from the male teachers of the city was presented, requesting an increase in salaries, dating from Sept. 1. The increase for the four months ending December, would amount to about $1,640. The matter was referred to the teachers' committee, but no definite action was taken.

R. B. Emerson presided, and the following were in attendance: Mrs. Dever, Dr. Bridges, J. B. Russell, G. H. Green, George E. Day, M. Coll, Colby Smith, Dr. James Manning, D. Gordon Leavitt and Miss Reid.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed. After the reading of the minutes, it was moved that the delegation of the male teachers of the city be heard. The delegation consisted of W. J. S. Myles, who acted as spokesman; W. A. Neilson, H. V. Hayes and W. J. Sheehy.

The chairman of the board then proposed the delegation that their petition would be considered as soon as possible. Business was resumed and an application from Willa E. Hunter was read, asking for a position in the city schools beginning in January, 1918. Miss Hunter is a graduate of Mount Allison, and also holds a superior school license.

Mr. Coll informed the board that they could procure 300 more tons of coal at the same price from J. S. Gibbon if they bought it necessary, but after much discussion it was decided that enough coal had already been secured, as a single order with Mr. McGivern had been already shipped.

Dr. Bridges said that the opening of the school Labor Day had been a big success and that the scholars were all present on that day. Dr. McIntyre had been here lately and in speaking to Dr. Bridges he remarked that all the western schools do not open until after Labor Day.

On a motion the question of the salaries of the male teachers was transferred to the teachers' committee.

The meeting was then adjourned. At the meeting of the teachers' committee nothing definite was done in respect to the male teachers' salaries.

OPEN TO CAPACITY HOUSES

The Arlington Orchestra and Fata Ring at The Unique

The Unique Theatre stepped right into the line yesterday in offering some of the best of last year. Miss Davis at the piano, Mr. Crook, Mr. Davis and Mr. Leavitt were, as the boys say, "right there" in the orchestra. The Arlington Orchestra, a combination which proved so popular when heard here last season. Many remember this organization with pleasure, but it seemed that yesterday in opening their engagement they outdid their best effort of last year. The programme claimed special interest in the re-appearance of Pearl Standish, an American heiress. Thrills of a nature that do not suggest crudeness, coupled with a mighty interesting plot and produced on a scale of grandeur, leave little or nothing to be desired. It is an excellent offering and if following chapters are as good as the first, the success of the serial is guaranteed.

VICTORIA WOMEN IN PROTEST AGAINST THE ELECTION ACT

Victoria, Sept. 11.—The local council of women has unanimously passed a resolution vigorously protesting against the war time election act. The resolution records as "deeply deploring that a body of men elected to legislate for the protection of the rights and liberties of the people should even consider an act contrary in its spirit to the freedom for which we, as a nation, are today making great sacrifices in the interests of humanity."

LONG YEARS OF GOOD SERVICE BROUGHT HONOR

As the Times announced on Saturday, Peter McCart, Charles Pigeon and John Rogerson, of this city, former members of the customs service have all been granted the imperial service medal by His Majesty King George. All three were preventive officers and during their long years of service proved faithful to their duties.

Mr. Pigeon was in the service the longest of the three. He entered in 1870 and was superannuated only in January, 1917, spending forty-seven years of his life in the department. Mr. McCart and Mr. Rogerson entered the service in 1887 and were superannuated along with Mr. Pigeon. They were in the service for twenty-nine years. All three are receiving the congratulations of many friends on being awarded this medal. It speaks highly for their standing in the department and for their long years of faithfulness of service.

The remarkable sartorial action of the saxeolite so lightens the skin, wrinkles are literally pressed out. Best of all, this result is not purely temporary, for the lotion also has a healthful tonic action which restores to your own eyes when you look into your mirror and behold the marvelous transformation.

How to Banish Wrinkles Quickly
If your face is disfigured with wrinkles, no matter what the cause, you can quickly dispel every line, even the most obstinate, by using a simple, home-made wash lotion. Merely dissolve a ounce of powdered saxeolite in a quart of water with some preservative (detonate) after about 2 minutes it is rubbed off and the skin washed. This simple method not only removes every trace of hair, but leaves the skin free from blemish. To insure success with this treatment, be careful to get real saxeolite.

TWO LONG YEARS

HE SUFFERED

"Fruit-a-lives" Made Him Feel As If Walking On Air. Orilla, Ont., Nov. 28th, 1916. "For over two years I was troubled with Constipation, Drowsiness, Lack of Appetite and Headache. One day I saw your sign which read 'Fruit-a-lives make you feel like walking on air.' This appealed to me, so I decided to try a box. In a very short time I began to feel better, and now I feel fine. I have a good appetite, relish everything I eat, and the headaches are gone entirely. I recommend this pleasant fruit medicine to all my friends."

WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE. "Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are due to acid, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve tissue."

RUSSIAN SOLDIERS LEFT APPEAL TO GERMAN TROOPS

Petrograd, Sept. 11.—The committee of the twelfth Russian army, before leaving Riga, left an appeal printed in German and addressed to the German soldiers, pointing out that the latter were making war on the side of the autocracy and against a revolution of liberty and justice. The appeal said:—"A victory of Kaiser Wilhelm would mean the end of democracy and liberty. We are leaving Riga, but we know the revolutionary spirit will prove stronger than your cannon, we knowing that in the end your conscience will see more clearly, and that you will march on to victory and liberty side by side with the revolutionary army. "Your strength is greater than ours but your superiority is merely of physical and material force. Moral force is on our side. History will relate that the German proletariat went against their Russian brothers forgetting the dictates of international solidarity."

Denounces The Franchise Bill As Prussian

Scathing Arrangement by J.H. Sinclair, M.P.

A Conscripted Liberal

W. A. Buchanan Says He Cannot Support Government Which Breaks Pledges - Impressive Appeal by Sir Wilfrid Laurier

"It is a Prussian measure," said Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the House of Commons last night in a telling speech on the "war time election act." He added that the government is taking a step which will cause serious injury to the country.

Other western Liberals who had followed the government on the conscription issue took the same stand. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's amendment to the bill was voted down on a straight party division, and the government indicated the intention to jam the bill through by invoking the closure if necessary to prevent delay.

SUFFERED TERRIBLY For Days and Nights From DIARRHOEA

Diarrhoea arises from many causes such as a change of diet, change of water, change of climate, catching cold, the eating of unripe fruits or anything that will cause an excess of bile.

On the first sign of any looseness of the bowels it should not be neglected, but should be looked after immediately, for if not diarrhoea, dysentery or some other serious bowel complaint may ensue.

Miss Florence Harfield, 925 Laurier avenue, Toronto, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with a violent attack of diarrhoea. I suffered terribly with it for four days and nights, and finally I became so weak I did not think I could stand it any longer. My sister advised me to try a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I did so, and after I had taken three doses I felt whole lot relieved. I kept on taking it, and by the time I had taken six doses, the diarrhoea had completely stopped. It did not leave me constipated. I think it a wonderful remedy, as it is so quick to act. I will recommend it to all my friends."

There are so many spurious "Strawberry" preparations sold that you should see that the name "Dr. Fowler's" is on every bottle you buy. Price 28c. Manufactured only by The T. Wilbur Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

You Can Tell The People Who Have Iron in Their Blood - Strong, Healthy, Vigorous Folks

Doctor Says Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Make Nervous Run-down People 100 per cent. Stronger in Two Weeks' Time in Many Cases.

New York, N.Y.—"One glance is enough to tell which people have iron in their blood," said Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston physician who has studied widely both in this country and in Great European medical institutions, in a recent discourse. They are the ones that do and dare. The others are in the weakling class. Sleepless nights spent worrying over supposed ailments, constant dosing with habit forming drugs and narcotics for nervous weakness, stomach, liver or kidney disease and useless attempts to trace up with strong coffee or other stimulants are what keep them suffering and vainly longing to be strong. Their real trouble is lack of iron in the blood. Without iron the blood has no power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you do not get the strength out of it. The moment iron is supplied the multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the time, double and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of every sign of dyspepsia, liver and other trouble in from ten to four-teen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without any benefit.

on a division of 48 to 23, a government majority of 25.

Hugh Guthrie voted with the government. Mr. Turiff, after the vote, said: "Mr. Speaker, I was not paired. I intended to vote for the motion but I was not paying any attention. (Laughter.)"

An Unfair Measure

J. H. Sinclair, of Guyshoro, who continued the debate, said that the bill would improve his own chances of reelection. The giving of the vote to relations of soldiers would increase his majority. There were no votes of alien enemy birth in his constituency.

But the bill would not appeal to fair-minded people. Mr. Sinclair suggested that the solicitor-general should change the title of the bill to the "Prussian-Junker Act." The purpose was to establish a military autocracy. "We on this side," added Mr. Sinclair, "favor democracy."

The member for Guyshoro went on to say that the bill would disfranchise 1,000,000 women and this despite the fact that the prime minister had submitted a resolution to give the vote to women. That was supposed to be the policy of the government and this bill was a direct violation of the promise made by parliament. The government, Mr. Sinclair said, had scoured the world to secure votes while denying the privilege to women. The only explanation of the fact given was that it fears the votes of the women of Canada.

Mr. Sinclair approved of the extension of the franchise to the relatives of soldiers but described the disfranchisement of alien born as a "vicious provision." Mr. Sinclair, referring to the South African war, raised a laugh by referring to Hon. Arthur Meighen as "the Paul Kruger of Postage Law." In referring to Mr. Meighen, the government was afraid to face the electorate in a fair fight.

Dr. Edwards, of Frontenac, who followed, disputed the statement that the bill would disfranchise 1,000,000 women in Canada. The right to vote could not be taken away from the women, he said, because they did not possess the vote.

Dr. Edwards said that the time was not ripe for woman suffrage in Ontario. No one would claim that even the women who have devoted their time to war work have as much right to vote as the relatives of soldiers overseas.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who followed, first reviewed conditions which had existed in Canada in regard to the franchise, explaining that up to 1887 the franchise was on the basis of the provincial lists. Then a federal act was passed which remained in force until 1897, when it was again decided to adopt the provincial lists. Every one, he said, would agree that the provincial lists have given the greatest amount of satisfaction. In the United States he said, the principle of state franchise prevailed.

The bill now under discussion, the opposition leader went on to say while adopting the principle of the provincial franchise in some cases, opposed it in others. In the four western provinces, for instance, the provincial franchise makes no distinction between class and class, but this bill provides that one important branch of the community shall be denied the right to vote.

Mr. Meighen rose to assert that the provincial lists make some distinctions. "Not so far as British subjects are concerned," Sir Wilfrid replied. Mr. Meighen observed that in British Columbia Chinese and Japanese are not permitted to vote.

A Strong Argument

Sir Wilfrid described this argument as "very specious." He declared that the object of the bill is to deny certain naturalized Canadian rights freely granted to them by the province. There was no reason to believe he said, why men of German and Austrian birth cannot give an unbiased judgment on the questions of the debate. He was not prepared to admit that a man who comes from Europe, to establish a home in Canada would prove to be a traitor to the land of his adoption. These men in it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. There is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and sound, healthy flesh on your bones. But you must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxated iron if you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless.

most cases had left Europe to get away from governments which would not respect their rights. They came to land, the government of which they believed would respect all pledges given. Sir Wilfrid went on to state that although there were in the United States one hundred citizens of German birth, as compared with one in Canada, yet the government of the country does not propose to take for them this humiliating step. It is reserved for the parliament of Canada to deny to them all the honor of the British crown which made certain promises to them which would not be respected.

Sir Wilfrid quoted the naturalization pledge given to an alien on his becoming a Canadian citizen. It reads in part: "Naturalized as British subject and is within Canada entitled to all political and other rights, powers and privileges, and is bound to all obligations to which natural-born British subjects are entitled or are subject."

This was the pledge, Sir Wilfrid went on, which the government was proposing to set at naught. The men to be disfranchised were mainly Slav, Moravian, Galician, Ruthenian and Bukovinians, men of Slav origin, who had for years and centuries been used to their allegiance. They were to-day Austrians by force of law, but their heart was not with Austria. They were rather looking towards Russia in the hope, perhaps, not that they would become Russians, but that their status would become independent. By their allegiance these men were in full sympathy with the cause for which Canadians were fighting. Further, not satisfied with taking away the franchise from these naturalized British subjects, it was proposed to take away the franchise from the women of Canada, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. The minister of justice had expressed the opinion, on a vote of the house of commons, that these provinces would not be entitled to give the vote. The only proper way would be to give the franchise to all women. Sir Wilfrid was willing to give all credit due to female relatives of soldiers, but he said there were thousands of women who might have no relatives at the front but who had done all that it was possible for them to do in order to help the cause. The only thing that they had not done was that they had not gone to the trenches as they had done as near the trenches as it was possible for them to go. They had suffered far in order to render assistance and comfort to those wounded on the battlefield and should they not have the same rights as those who were active at the front? They were in favor of advancing," Sir Wilfrid declared, "and we are not in favor of retrograding."

World Men a Broken People. There was also a necessity of securing immigration after the war, and where could immigrants be obtained except chiefly from the Balkans? Would the different Balkan races be allowed to come to Canada when they were told that Canada had not kept her pledges? Sir Wilfrid said that the women of preparation for war in six months than Canada did perhaps in three years. They looked over the whole field and covered it, but never thought of disfranchising anyone, even when the country was overrun by German spies.

Mr. Meighen's Motion. "I am sorry," Sir Wilfrid concluded, "to have to take the position which I have taken on this point. I have been supporting the government on the war up to the present session. I am sorry that the occasion arose when during this session I had to discontinue my support to the government on a measure of great importance. I am sure that you will dissent from the government on this issue. But I believe and we shall be justified in believing that our actions, in this instance the government is taking the step which will cause serious injury to the country and therefore, Sir, acted by these sentiments, I beg to move, seconded by Hon. Mr. Pugsley, that:

"This bill be now read a second time, but that it be resolved that the abridgement by this parliament of the franchise to women in Canada shall be null and void, and that the women of the four western provinces shall be entitled to the vote. Sir Wilfrid also seemed to be under the impression that women who had gone overseas as nurses in the Canadian expeditionary force had not the right to vote.

"I beg to assure him that all members of the Canadian expeditionary force have the right to vote at the forthcoming elections. Not only is that the case but the female relatives of such women in this country also have the right to vote."

As to the interpretation of the dominion election act, the minister of justice, the solicitor-general and all the legal authorities, whom the government had consulted, entertained an opinion directly opposite to that which Sir Wilfrid Laurier stood sponsor.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier had called to his aid the example of the United States. But the United States had held no elections since it entered the war. Nor could Sir Wilfrid offer anything to Canada from the example of the United States until he was able to point to their actions under conditions similar to those which confronted Canada at present. Sir Wilfrid had altogether omitted the well-known fact that Australia had given an example of legislation precisely the same character, except that the Canadian government had not gone as far as Australia.

"My right honorable friend has seen fit," Sir Robert continued, "for what reason I do not know to disparage this country by stating that the United States had done more in four or five months than we have done in three months. I desire to take the most emphatic issue with him and to state that I do not understand the motive which led him to make an assertion of that kind, having regard to his responsibility as a public man and to the position which he occupies in this house and the country. I desire to draw no comparisons. I fully realize the splendid effort that the United States is making in this war. I have heard many accounts of it in recent days. They are making a magnificent effort. There is no doubt about that. They are going into it in a splendid, whole-hearted way, with a view to achieving the victory which we all desire. I should like to tell my honorable friend—if he does not know he ought to know it—that if the United States had made the same proportionate effort as this that Canada made in the first few months after war broke out in 1914, she would have raised within six weeks after she entered the war, an army of 500,000 men; she would have had that army on the ocean en route to France."

This was a war-time election which the leader of the opposition had forced upon the country. So far as the disqualification of aliens of enemy nationality was concerned, there was some consideration that Sir Wilfrid had not taken into account. Was it seriously proposed that these men should be sent to the front line trenches to fight men of their own blood? If they were to be called upon to pronounce judgment upon the issue of war election would Sir Wilfrid shrink from declaring that they ought to be subject to military service, the same as other citizens of Canada? "If he takes the one position," Sir Robert declared, "it seems to me that he should take the other. He has taken care, however, not to put that forward for reasons which are very obvious."

Straight Party Vote. Shortly after 1 o'clock the house of commons divided on the Laurier amendment to the war time elections act. The amendment was rejected on a straight party division of 46 to 84. A government majority of 12. Hon. William Pugsley then moved a second amendment, which will be voted on at 2 o'clock, as well as the main motion.

FREIGHT STEAMERS FOR THE BOSTON SERVICE

It was announced in Boston yesterday that the steamers Yale, Harvard, Old Colony, Massachusetts, Bunker Hill and other steamers on the route between Boston and New York, are to be taken over by the navy department and are to be converted into anti-submarine craft. Mr. Currie, local agent of the Eastern S. S. Corporation at this port, said yesterday that it was possible that the St. John-Boston service would be interfered with. He thought that freight steamers may take the place of two of the line steamers which are at present on the route.

For more than forty years this botanic remedy has been overcoming some of the worst cases of female ill. As one woman has found help she has told another, who has used it with the same result; so the use of this great medicine has spread from shore to shore by the recommendation of those who have found it good. Therefore, ask your neighbor, let her tell you from experience the benefit which all women derive from the use of this famous medicine.

Military Service Act, 1917 Explanatory Announcement by the Minister of Justice

THE MILITARY SERVICE ACT has received the assent of the Governor-General and is now part of the law of the land. It will be enforced accordingly, and the patriotic and good sense of the people can be relied upon to support it. Resistance to its enforcement, however, by word or act must and will be repressed, as resistance to any other law in force must be.

Reinforcements under the Military Service Act immediately required. It is the intention of the Government immediately to exercise the power which the Act confers and to call out men for military service in order to provide reinforcements for the Canadian Forces. This is necessary since the military authorities report that the reserves available or in sight for reinforcement will shortly be exhausted unless this step be taken.

First call limited to men between 20 and 34 who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6, 1917. The present call will be limited to men not in the schedule of exemptions who were unmarried or widowers without children on 6th July, 1917, are at least twenty years of age, and were born on or since 1st January, 1883. Of this class all will be entitled to conditional exemption whose services in their present occupations, agricultural, industrial or other, are essential in the national interest, and whose business or domestic responsibilities are such that serious hardship would ensue if their services be required. Conscientious scruples based upon a prohibition of combatant service if their services be required, and the religious denomination to which men belong will also be respected. The men first required to serve will consequently be those who can be called upon with the least disturbance of the economic and social life of the country.

Civil Tribunals to deal with exemptions. Questions of exemption will be determined, not by the military authorities or by the Government, but by civil tribunals composed of representative men who are familiar with local conditions in the communities in which they serve, who will generally have personal knowledge of the economic and family reasons which those whose cases come before them have had for not volunteering their services and who will be able sympathetically to estimate the weight and importance of such reasons. Provincial Appellate Tribunals constituted from the existing judiciary of the respective provinces will be provided to correct mistakes made by Local Tribunals, and a Central Appellate Tribunal for the whole of Canada, selected from among the present Judges of the Supreme Court of Canada, will be constituted in order that identical principles may be applied throughout the country. In this way every man may rest assured of the fair and full consideration of his circumstances and the national requirements both civil and military.

Proclamation will announce the day. A proclamation will issue calling out the bachelors and widowers referred to and fixing a day on or before which every man must report for service to the military authorities unless he has before that day made an application for exemption.

How to apply for exemption. Applications for exemption may be made by written notice on forms which will be available at every post office, and will be transmitted free of postage. They will not, however, be required to be made in this way, but may be presented by the applicants in person to the exemption tribunals. The cases of those who have given written notice in advance will take precedence, and appearance in person will therefore be likely to involve considerably more inconvenience and delay to the men concerned, so that it is recommended that advantage be generally taken of the facilities for written application.

Exemption Tribunals in all parts of Canada. The local exemption tribunals will be constituted with the least delay possible, consistent with the selection of representative individuals to compose them, and the instruction of the members in their duties. There will be more than one thousand of such tribunals throughout Canada, each consisting of two members, one of whom will be nominated by a Joint Committee of Parliament, and the other by one of the Judges of the existing Courts. Every effort will be made by the wide distribution of tribunals, and by provision where necessary for their sitting in more than one place, to minimize the inconvenience to which men will be put in obtaining the disposition of their cases. A Registrar will be appointed in each Province, who will be named in the proclamation and to whom enquiries may be addressed. Each Provincial Registrar will transmit to the appropriate tribunal the applications for exemption which have been submitted in advance of the callings, and men who have sent these in will not be required to attend the tribunals until notified to do so. Other applicants should attend personally on the tribunal without notice.

How to report for service. Men who do not desire to claim exemption will report to the military authorities for service either by mail or in person at any time after the issue of the proclamation. Forms of report by mail will be found in all post offices, and, like applications for exemption, will be transmitted free of postage.

Early report advantageous. No man who reports for service will, although he may be medically examined and passed as fit, be required to go into camp or join a battalion until after a day fixed by the proclamation sufficiently late to permit of the disposition by the local tribunals of most, if not all, of the applications for exemption which may come before them. Thus no advantage will be gained by delaying or disadvantage incurred by prompt report for service on the part of those who do not intend to apply for exemption.

Facilities for immediate medical examination. Immediately upon the issue of the proclamation, medical boards will sit at every mobilization centre for the examination of men who report for service or who, subject to their right within the time limited to apply for exemption, desire to have their physical fitness determined in order to allow any doubt as to their physical condition, or to know definitely and in advance whether there is a possibility of their services being required. Certificates of physical unfitness issued by these Medical Boards will be accepted without any further investigation by exemption tribunals when they sit. Men found physically fit who have not reported for service may nevertheless apply for exemption on any of the prescribed grounds, including even their physical condition if dissatisfied with the Medical Board's conclusion.

Notice to join the colors. As reinforcements are required, notice to report at the nearest mobilization centre will be given from time to time to the men found liable and passed as fit for service. Disobedience of such notice will render the offender liable to punishment, but punishment for failure to report for military service, or to report subsequently for duty when called upon, will be imposed ordinarily by the civil magistrates; offenders, however, will remain liable for the performance of their military duties notwithstanding any civil punishment which may be imposed and will be liable to military punishment in cases in which civil proceedings are not taken.

Watch for the Proclamation. Notice of the day appointed for the making of a claim for exemption or for report for military service will be published as widely as possible, but, as no personal notice can be given until the individuals called out have so reported themselves or claimed exemption, men possibly concerned are warned to inform themselves with regard to the day fixed, since neglect may involve the loss by them of important privileges and rights.

one on Saturday night. The latter did great damage to the crops.

The fine crop of cranberries was almost completely ruined. The pumpkin, squash and cucumber vines were completely cut down. The upper leaves of the potatoes were destroyed, and late grain—and much of it was late this season—was damaged.

The farmers worked very hard under labor and weather difficulties, and had good crop prospects, but they are feeling much discouraged over their heavy loss through the frost.

PORT OPENING LATE UNLESS WORK RUSHED

Opinion That Operations For Renewal of Trestle at West St. John Must be Hurred

The view is expressed in some quarters that the necessity for renewing the trestle which carried the railway tracks for sheds Nos. 5, 6 and 7, West St. John, may cause some delay in the opening of the winter port season. There have been some intimations that the pressure of business might cause the opening of the season to be a month earlier than usual but it is said now that, unless these sheds will have to be raised in order to complete it in time.

Speaking of the matter this morning, H. C. Gross, general superintendent of the C. P. R., said that he inspected the trestle this morning and that he had found that it would be impossible to use these sheds until the work is done.

Commissioner Russell said this morning that he has the matter in hand and expects to present his recommendations to the common council at the meeting this afternoon.

SAFETY FIRST JOBS FOR MEN WITH A PULL

One of the boys at the front in France who went from this province and is on the firing line, tells in a recent letter how pets of the tory party who have the "pull" get positions that should go to real fighting men. He says:—

"Several Canadian officers have recently been sent to the front in 'bomb proof' over here; majors and captains who did not care to revert to sub's rank, though hardly one of them has had as much experience as most of the subalterns of units who have been in the line. They have jobs on 'lines of communication,' which are certainly soft. Some of the seniors from New Brunswick are in the lot, though other seniors who have been in France with its hardships for a year or two have been wondering how it comes that such should be the reward of those who have only seen England, while they, weary of the steady grind, must still remain in the line."

This writer, whose name would instantly give weight to his words, also protests against accounts in the press telling of wonderful deeds, that are purely mythical, by officers who never performed them. Of one such case he says:—

"There is frequent mention of an officer, detailing wonderful deeds of which he may have read during his stay in England for endless months now, after a short trip over here in which he 'took sick before the show.'"

HOME AFTER DOING SHARE IN GREAT WAR

Eleven St. John Men Arrived in City This Morning, and Some For Other Parts of Province

The Halifax train which arrived this morning brought back to St. John eleven of its battle-scarred heroes from the fields of France and Belgium. All had seen some part of the fighting and many bore marks of conflict. At the station they were met by Charles Robinson, secretary of the Returned Soldiers' Aid Commission, who looked after the boys in excellent manner.

Serjt. Geo. Simpson.

Serjt. George Simpson, of Gilbert's Lane, a member of the original 26th, was one of the party to arrive. He has seen much fighting and he spent about two years in France. He was very badly wounded about five months ago and since that time until the date of sailing for Canada had been in hospitals in England. Sergeant Simpson, prior to joining the colors, was employed in the I. C. R. in the cleaning department.

Corp. R. M. Turner.

Corporal R. M. Turner of Millidgeville road arrived home after spending about two years on the western front. He was a member of the Canadian Army Service Corps. Whether or not he will have to return to France he at the present time does not know. He was wounded about two months ago.

Pte. J. H. Donnelly.

On his forty-seventh birthday, back to his wife and daughter after months of hardship and suffering on French battlefields, Private J. H. Donnelly arrived at his home, 58 Carmarthen street, this morning. He went overseas with the old 140th and was transferred later to another battalion. On April 26 he was wounded in the left hand. Three fingers were disabled. He is now awaiting his discharge. Before enlisting he was janitor in St. David's church.

Pte. J. A. Nelson.

Another of St. John's returned heroes who reached the capital city this morning was Private J. A. Nelson, one of the original members of the Fighting 26th. After varied experiences in France, incidental to which he was buried alive a few times, the last time almost fatally, he has been welcomed home by his wife and three children at 98 St. Patrick street, suffering from strained back muscles, the result of his latest burial. He is to report to the hospital here and it is yet to be determined what will be his future.

Pte. T. D. Davidson.

Private Thomas Stanley Davidson, aged eighteen years, arrived at his home, 90 Erin street, this morning. He enlisted only three months ago in Lieutenant Scammell's Machine Gun Draft and is now on his way back to the front. Mrs. F. L. Davidson was born in Bristol, England, and besides her two boys has one brother and sixteen cousins and nephews at the front. The one who shared the same privy as he was formerly employed as mail car driver.

Pte. A. G. Connelly.

Private Arthur Gerald Connelly, a member of the 118th Battalion, also arrived home this morning. He is a son of A. J. Connelly, 84 Exmouth street.

Gunner George Foley.

There was joy this morning for Mrs. Luke Foley and Mrs. F. D. Brogan in their home, Sea street, when a son and brother—Gunner George Foley—reached home after three years in the war. Gunner Foley went across with Major Frank Magee's famous heavy battery, and saw much of the world-staggering operations on the western front. For some months he has been in hospital suffering from trench feet and recently received orders to proceed to Canada. The young soldier was given a joyful welcome today.

Others.

Included in the party of returned men were: W. A. Baker, Plaster Hock; H. H. Giberson, Milltown; W. G. F. Fox, Gormo; J. J. Kane and H. J. Donovan, Fredericton; J. J. Hart, Grand Falls; J. A. Chatter, Woodstock; Fred Muner, Boiestown; M. L. Steves, Tracey's Mills; G. R. Turner, Benton, and Private Butler, St. Stephen, and Private W. D. Smith, G. A. Smith and R. Beckman, of St. John.
