Attitude of Greeks and Turks Warlike and Threatened Success of the Negotiations Yesterday—French Support for the Turkish Demand—Rush Call of British Cabinet.

(Canadian Press Cables) London, Oct. 6.—A new crisis has arisen in the Near Eastern situation which had seemed on a fair way to settlement. The armistice conference of Allied, Greek and Turkish military leaders at Mudania was adjourned suddenly yesterday after a dramatic passage over the evacuation of Thrace. Ismet Pasha told the Allied generals that if the Turks could not have Thrace peacefully, "we have the means to enforce our determination."

Constantinople, Oct. 5.—The question of the evacuation of Thrace was the cause of the rupture in the Mudania conference, it was announced at a late hour tonight. The attitude of the Turks and the Greeks was very bellicose, threatening the success of the conference.

CARE OF CHILDREN'S TEETH

Proper Attention Prevents Much Suffering in Later Years.

Dr. Herman M. Biggs, New York State commissioner of Health, devoted one of his most recent radio health talks to the care of children's teeth. "How often one hears a mother say, 'What is the use of taking care of the first teeth when in a few years my child will have a nice set?'" he said. "This is a very wrong and harmful idea. By following this kind of reasoning many mothers have unknowingly caused their children to have misshapen mouths and to suffer much unnecessary pain from decaying teeth. Within a few minutes and we will tell you why this is so. "If the first teeth decay and have to be extracted or if cavities occur and chewing becomes painful, the child can not properly chew its food, and consequently the jaws do not develop normally. Chewing exercises and strengthen the muscles of the jaw and increase the blood supply of the teeth and jaws. Unless the teeth obtain a normal supply of blood they do not receive enough lime salts to make them hard. This also affects the second teeth which are forming underneath the first. "The first permanent tooth to appear is the six-year molar, or chewing tooth, which comes through just back of the temporary molars. It is commonly mistaken for a first tooth and thus unless the child has been taught early to take care of his teeth it is often allowed to decay. "If the first permanent molar is lost it usually results in irregular second teeth as the next incoming tooth pushes forward and occupies the space left by the removal. Besides causing irregularity of the second teeth, this provides additional crevices for food to lodge in, the decay, and makes it much more difficult to keep the teeth clean. It is an expensive and painful job to have these teeth straightened when the child is older. "If the jaw fails to develop properly, as a result of these causes, the middle section of the face ceases to grow, the face is misshapen, and troubles of the nose, throat and ear often result later in life. "Proper care of the temporary teeth will therefore save much pain and suffering and expense. Moreover, if a child is taught to take proper care of the first teeth there will be less chance of decay of the permanent teeth through neglect and the child will have learned a valuable lesson while young.

BLACK FALSE TEETH.

Dental Laboratories Now Cater to Betel-Nut Chewers. Every shade and shape of artificial tooth is now matchable and even the man who has blissfully chewed his quid for years and added the stains of tobacco juice to the other signs of age upon his teeth can find artificial teeth bearing convincing tobacco-juice-like stains, all prepared by modern science for his benefit. Even jet black teeth are now being made by British laboratories for the Oriental trade for those with whom the chewing of betel-nut is a constant habit, and jet black false teeth, representing an out-of-the-way side of British manufacturing enterprise were shown at the recent International Dental Exhibition at the Imperial Institute, South Kensington, East of St. Paul, betel-nut is the local chewing gum, only more so, and it stains the teeth of those who use it an intense black, as dark as ebony. One-tenth of the human family indulge in the practice, according to the correspondent of The London Times, who explains the real place of these black false teeth in the sun. Imagine an ardent betel-nut enthusiast finding himself confronted with the necessity of substituting a brilliant white tooth in a row of polished black ones, or with the alternative of leaving a gap in the hedge, as it were. The International Dental Exhibition featured, besides the X-ray, a French apparatus, known as the gazotherm, which, it is asserted by its inventors, makes dentistry painless by a process of progressive refrigeration. A feature of interest was the course of daily lectures on dental caries. The discovery and isolation of the bacillus which causes caries is the work of three scientists connected with the Middle-

Hospital: Professor James Macintosh, Dr. Warwick James and Professor P. Lazarus Barlow. The connection between rickets and mad teeth and the reason why the people of the Western Hemisphere are for the most part spared by dental caries, is now being made the subject of some elaborate dental research in England, was also discussed. INSURE FOR $100,000 MARK TWAIN'S NAME New York, Oct. 6.—A representative of a New York publishing firm has left here for Boston with 1,024 signatures of Mark Twain, insured for $100,000. The signatures—"Samuel L. Clemens, Mark Twain"—were written on sheets to be bound in autographed volumes of his works. They were mislaid for years, and were recently discovered under an old safe. The amount of the insurance is said to make this signature the most highly valued of any author's. The sheets will be taken over by a rare book dealer in New York, who plans to dispose of 1,000 sets for an aggregate of $262,000.

LAWYER DID NOT SIGN WILL

Solitor Liable to Legatee for the Amount of Actual Loss Through Failure to Witness Signature. Toronto, Oct. 6.—That a lawyer who should have witnessed a will, but did not, is liable to one who would have received a legacy under the will had it been valid for the amount of actual loss sustained, is a decision by Justice Leask in a case arising in connection with the estate of a Midland boat manufacturer named Fitzpatrick, who left an estate set some $10,000 to his widow and two young children. The lawyer who drew the will initially certain changes which had been made in the will, but he failed to attach his signature at the place where the witness to the will usually signs his name. Justice Leask holds that the will was not executed, and that Fitzpatrick died intestate. He holds that the solicitor is liable to Mrs. Fitzpatrick for the amount of her actual loss occasioned by the solicitor's default. A reference is directed to the Local Master of Midland to determine the amount of the loss. His lordship suggests that it is an arrangement for the custody and maintenance of the children so that the loss would not amount to much, and his lordship suggests that the widow ought not to be exacting.

BOSTON RATS RUN FREE AS HUNTERS STRIKE

Employers of Rodent Catching Firms From Union, Demand Higher Pay, Shorter Hours. Boston, Oct. 6.—The rats of the city are on a holiday. The rat catchers are on strike. The fall season, with its frost, ordinarily one of rodent discomfort, became one of almost unimpeded hampering and foraging and consequent content. In department stores, railroad terminals, business buildings and confectionery and other shops served by the only two companies in the city making a business of rat catching with man, dog and ferret aids to extermination instead of poisons, protection was incomplete or lacking. All the men rat catchers employed by each were on strike for more money, shorter hours and work only with the dogs, trained to work only with the men assigned as their masters, were of little use. Ferrets, similarly in need of trained hands to direct them, could not be used effectively.

W. G. Gettle, head of one company, explained that his staff men and the men of the other company, about the same in number, formed a union and set about to change their working conditions. "They now work from 6 at night to 4 in the morning, get 62 1/2 cents an hour, instead of 50 cents an hour and on Sunday at pay and one-half. They demand a shorter night, starting at 10 o'clock instead of 6 o'clock," he said. The rats roamed most actively at night and on Sunday, he asserted. With business places empty then, the rat catchers had a free field.

EXCESSIVE SPEEDING RUINS GOOD ROADS

Present System of Traffic Control a Failure. Sherbrooke, Que., Oct. 6.—The Hon. J. L. Perron, Minister of Roads, speaking at the fall meeting of the Association of Boards of Trade at Bury, warned automobile owners that excessive speeding was the ruin of good roads and that unless a stop was made the 1,600 miles of provincial highways in this province, he claimed that the damage caused by excessive speed during the current year was far in excess of that caused by trucks and in excess of that caused by potholes. The Hon. Jacob Nichol, provincial treasurer, spoke along the same lines and both ministers admitted that the present system of traffic control was a failure. Mr. Nichol stated that while $10,000 had been collected in fines for speeding, he had cost the Government about $80,000 to maintain its traffic control and even at this price it was totally inadequate.

HERO TURNS DOWN A LECTURE OFFER

U. S. World War Veteran Refuses $100 Per Day Engagement. Chicago, Oct. 6.—Sgt. Samuel Woodfill of Tennessee, named by General Pershing as the greatest individual hero of the world war, has turned down an offer of $100 a day for a two weeks' lecture course, although the sergeant is not burdened with many other offers. He gave two reasons for declining the offer. One is his positive refusal to commercialize his exploits and the other is that he prefers to spend his furlough helping the Cook County American Legion Posts in their drive for $300,000 to establish a memorial headquarters and relief fund for needy service men.

AUTO SUBMERGED; FUGHT BANDITS

Windsor Man Shot in Arm and Robbed of Money and Watch. Windsor, Ont., Oct. 6.—Ernest Beason, who lives in Riverside Drive above Walkerville, fought a losing battle with two bandits while his motor car was submerged in Detroit River. The robbers shot Beason in the arm and escaped with several hundred dollars in cash and a gold watch. Beason was on his way home when a masked man thrust a revolver in his face as he made the turn of Pilette Road, Ford. The burg leaped on the running board of Beason's car and grappled with him. The car turned off the road into the river in about four feet of water. An accomplice, who also attacked Beason, ran from behind a hedge, climbed into the car and choked him. A description of the man was given to Chief of Police Mainville, of Ford. Beason's wound is not serious.

WESTERN ORPHANAGES.

D. C. Clark, the president, was welcomed home once more at the meeting of the directors of the New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage yesterday afternoon. Mr. Clark was in the chair and gave an interesting account of orphanages in Vancouver and other western cities which he had seen in his recent trip to the west and to Alaska. Chiefly routine business was dealt with. There are now 120 children in the three institutions and the reports showed that the affairs of the institutions were being well managed and that the children were well cared for.

A DEMAND FOR AUTONOMY.

Although it is not likely to have any marked effect upon the fate of their country at present, there is considerable justification for the demand made by the 30,000 refugees from Bulgaria, who have sought safety in Thracia. By a vote taken among them, they have demanded that an autonomous state of Thrace, including both eastern Thrace and western Thrace, should be formed, under the protection of the League of Nations, in order that they may secure and preserve their independence, instead of suffering the present partition of their country and the restoration of eastern Thrace to Turkey.

Turkish claims to Thracian territory, from which they had been evicted as a result of the Great War, depend upon their former title to that country, a title gained by conquest and held by the doctrine that possession is nine points of the law. It is not a title which can be defended by the application of the principle of self-determination, for the Turks are and always have been in the minority in that country. According to H. Hon. C. P. G. Macmaster, in the West-Canada Gazette, sixty per cent. of the population of western Thrace is Christian and only forty per cent. Turkish, and in western Thrace probably seventy per cent. of the population is non-Turkish. If the fate of Thrace were to be decided by popular ballot, it is quite evident that it would not revert to Turkish control.

There would be little territory left under Turkish control, as a matter of fact, if the Turks were permitted to rule only those areas in which they formed the majority of the population. In Mr. Macmaster's review of the situation, he says that in Macedonia the proportion of Turks to Christians is about that of the Balkans to the Balkans, but in the Balkans, even in the Balkans of Constantinople, their capital, they are in a hopeless minority; in Asia their famous "homelands" comprise only the high plateaux and valleys of central Anatolia; they would be helplessly outnumbered, he says, in all the eastern sliverlets by Greeks and Armenians, but for the systematic massacres by which they have reduced the proportion of non-Turkish population in Mesopotamia, Arabia, Syria or Palestine, he says, their proportion to the native population is somewhat the same as that of the Greeks in British West Africa or the Americans in the Philippines.

The Turks have held their broad possessions, by force and by intrigue, and not because of the preponderance of their people in the regions over which they have ruled. The Great War stripped the Turks of some of their most cherished possessions, but by force they have recovered control of a large part of their former possessions, and by diplomacy they are getting possession of their lost lands in Thrace. The Allies have consented to the return of eastern Thrace to the Turks, and although Greece opposes that plan and the people of the country seek autonomy, there is little doubt but that the Turks soon will resume control of the area extending westward to the Maritima river. If that promise of the Allies is fulfilled, it cannot escape the responsibility for accompanying pledge of guarantees for the protection of non-Turkish people who again will be brought under the rule of their former oppressors.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH

The week of October 23 to October 29 is to be observed throughout the United States as Good Health Week. This is a development of the effort to place the most scientific knowledge of the times within easy reach of every man, woman and child in the country. The results will undoubtedly be beneficial and far-reaching.

In the announcement with respect to Good Health Week, sent out by the Good Health Week Promotion Bureau, attention is directed to the fact that keeping workers from the scrap heap by the early discovery of tuberculosis and other diseases which are coming more and more to be recognized as the industry's greatest foe, is of vital importance to the community. After pointing out the wisdom of providing proper working conditions and educating working men and women to the importance of personal hygiene the bureau's letter says:

cases in which they are a factor, their costliness to industry, and the importance of handling them properly and removing the dust as nearly as possible at its source are being given special consideration. Effort will be made both to call the attention of employers to the importance from the cold business standpoint of dollars and cents of improving the ventilation of factories and workshops where it is not satisfactory and to impress working people with the urgency of having plenty of fresh air in their homes, especially if they cannot secure it during working hours, and of making sure to have some out of door exercise every day."

"It has been said," the announcement continues, "that although man prides himself on being the most intelligent of all animals, he needs the greatest guidance for his safety. This guidance will be given, in so far as possible, during the Good Health Week.

Judge Coatsworth, of Toronto, says that aliens who have resided in Canada for five years and who do not present themselves for naturalization should be deported. He would compel them to assume the duties of citizenship or leave the country. But what penalty would be imposed upon those who are citizens and who neglect the obligations which citizenship imposes? What punishment would fit the case of the citizen who does not even take the trouble to vote?

While critics are asking what the League of Nations has accomplished, Austria is offering heartfelt thanks that there was a League of Nations to save her from destruction. The protocol which was signed in Geneva yesterday gives that nation a new lease of life.

MERE MAN SEES A FASHION SHOW—AND ANOTHER

A mere man whose knowledge of the fashions of the past and of the fashions of the future was limited to the uninitiated jargon which described the fashions which adorned his only daughter when the local newspaper chronicled her nuptials some ten years ago, was prevailed upon to accompany his daughter to the movie fashion demonstration at the Imperial last evening.

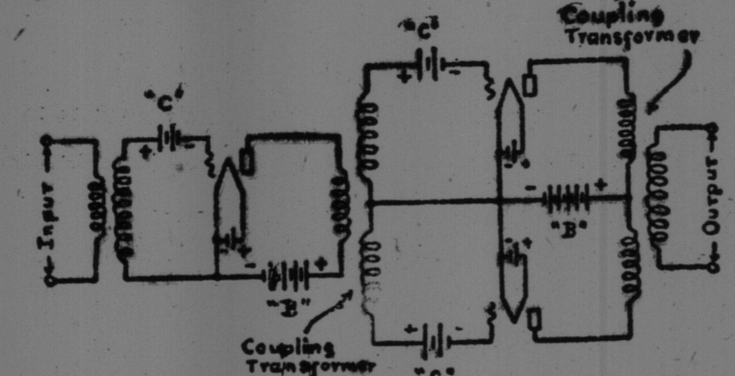

He went, he saw and he returned home. So, he was in the depth of a comfortable arm chair, he heaved a sigh and settled down to the evening paper. Perhaps five minutes he read through the Dardanelles, galloped with the Turkish cavalry through places with unpronounceable names and was just joining the allied leaders in a round table talk over what all the air in the Near East meant when a knock came at the door. A magic something or other was coming over him—the paper faded from before his eyes—the brightness of the room started to dim. Once again he was seated in the theatre beside his trusted mate. The house lights went down. Batteries of "broad" shined momentarily and then cast a steady glare on a raised, draped dais. A spotlight shined above cast a glowing circle on the centre of the stage. Dim figures, little about in the shadows.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

Lesson No. 123.
AN EFFICIENT AMPLIFIER.

This is a form of audio frequency amplifier which is gradually coming into favor which is superior to the usual arrangement of detector and two steps, in that input voltages of twice the ordinary value may be employed and handled effectively. The circuit is sometimes called the "push-pull circuit" since it makes use of two tubes a single step to arranged that the input is shared between them while the outputs are added. The circuit diagram is shown below.

In its application the "push-pull" amplifier employs the usual form of audio frequency application in the first step with a special form of amplifying transformer inserted in the plate circuit. This transformer has a primary winding in the plate circuit of the first step of amplification, while the secondary has a middle tap connected to the filament of two balanced amplifier tubes, while the two outer ends of the secondary winding are connected to the two grids of these tubes through the necessary "C" battery tubes.

In the plate circuit the arrangement is reversed, the primary of the transformer is tapped at the middle point and connected to the "B" battery while the two outer ends of this winding are connected to the plates of the two tubes. The secondary is connected to the load-speaking device which is employed with this instrument.

It is apparent from the above that the input voltage is divided equally between the two tubes constituting the second step of the amplifier as shown in the diagram, while the output of the plate circuits of the two tubes add to the arrangement of the windings of the output transformer.

It is found that the smaller transmitting tubes function very satisfactorily when employed in the "push-pull" amplifier, although higher plate voltages must be used than with the ordinary amplifier tubes. It is also important to employ tubes for the "push-pull" circuit which are similar in their operating characteristics so that the circuit for either tube singly, in the second step, is the same as the usual form of amplifier. The addition of the other tube requiring merely an additional winding on the two transformers, or possibly tapping the windings at the middle.

LIGHTER VEIN.

Ungallant Comparison. A fashionable woman who, to find expense collected for her own rent, found one of her tenants in bad humor. She thought it wise to forestall his complaints by making one or two herself. "And the kitchen, Mr. Holt," she said, "is in a terrible condition."

"Yes, ma'am, it is," agreed Holt, and you'd look the same way if you six years."

THE GREAT SECRET.

(Life.)

If not exactly with fear and trembling, still with awe sufficient to make me cough twice to the second, I approached the Great Capitalist's office.

"Now, young man, what can I do for you?" he asked from behind his plateaux of mahogany when I was ushered into the sanctum sanctorum. "I want to interview you," I stammered.

"Yes," he helpfully suggested. "About how you made your money? I rushed on to what methods you pursued—strokes of financial genius all that sort of thing."

"I had five thousand dollars when I was twenty years old," he said. "I had five thousand dollars when I was twenty years old," he said. "I had five thousand dollars when I was twenty years old," he said.

RECENT DEATHS

The Late Isaac Edgar Smith.

The death of Israel Edgar Smith occurred very suddenly at Fredericton on Wednesday as the result of injuries received when he, while riding on a bicycle, was struck by an automobile. For the greater part of his life he was a resident of the United States, but had been a resident of Hampton until three years ago when he removed to Devon. He was of loyalist descent and had been engaged all his life as a photographer. His wife died about fifteen years ago. He was a son of the late Joshua Smith, of Hampton, and is survived by one son, Arthur, of New York; one brother, Dr. J. Newton Smith, of Hampton; four sisters, Miss Carrie E. Mrs. T. W. Fenwick, Mrs. C. Allen Frost and Mrs. E. S. Campbell, all of Hampton. The funeral will take place from the residence of his sister, Mrs. E. W. Fenwick, of Hampton, this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

CANT COLLECT INSURANCE

Widow Took Out Policy and Paid Premiums, But Can't Collect From the D. S. C. R.

When David Gracie, who served overseas with the 52nd Battalion, applied to the D. S. C. R. for assistance, some official there told him he was too lazy to work. It wasn't very long afterwards that Gracie was dead.

As an heir of the government insurance check was forthcoming two months after his death, and all applications from the widow were met by evasions, she handed her case over to Keith Lennox.

Mr. Lennox wrote to the D. S. C. R. and asked that they submit some list of all documents necessary, so that the payment could be made to the widow without delay, as she was in distress. Claim forms were returned to Mr. Lennox and he had them filled out and returned. Then he got a further request for a marriage certificate, which was forwarded, after which another request came, this time for a birth certificate. And so it has gone on; no sooner has the lawyer forwarded one paper than another is requested.

At the time of Gracie's death a person connected with the D. S. C. R. was quoted as having said that he would endeavor, "by hook or crook," to get some of the insurance money for three was recalled from Switzerland by an almost unanimous plebiscite.

Once back on the throne the dream of a Byzantine empire which Venizelos had created among the Greeks took possession also of Constantine. The King went on with the war.

Thus, instead of peace, Constantine's restoration brought two years more of war, a crushing defeat and the loss of most of the territory Venizelos acquired at the Peace Conference. He came back to the throne under false pretences. When the pretence were stripped off and the time had come to pay the bill, his second fall was inevitable.

DIOCESAN SYNOD.

The standing committees of the Fredericton Diocesan Synod continued their meetings yesterday at the Church of England Institute with Bishop Richardson, of Fredericton, presiding. The board of education heard reports of the progress being made in building the Memorial chapel and dining hall at Robbsey Collegiate School. It was said that the foundations had been completed and work on the structure commenced. The headmaster, Rev. Dr. W. R. Hibbard, presented a full report of the school.

In the evening the board of missions met. The treasurer, J. H. A. L. Fairweather, in his report showed the financial standing of the board up to September 30.

His Lordship reported that six resignations had been received and six appointments made. The missions from which resignations were received were Richibucto, Queensbury and Southampton, Hillsborough, Springfield, Doxchester and Addington. Appointments had been made to Cambridge and Waterbury, Hillsborough, Stanley, Canterbury, Waterford, Gladstone and Blissville. Seven missions were reported vacant, Gordon and Lorne, Richibucto, Springfield, Doxchester, Addington, Queensbury, Southampton, Harcourt and Westford.

During the summer student missionaries had worked at Lands End, St. Mary's, York county, Queensbury and Southampton, New Brandon, Pennfield, Eldon, Gordon and Lorne, Westford and Harcourt.

There was some discussion regarding the re-arrangement of the work in some parts of the diocese.

A grant was made towards the rectory building in the Parish of Burton.

The resignation of David Hipwell as a member of the board was regretfully received.

This morning the social service council will be in session and the board of church literature will meet afterwards, followed by the committee on statistics and the board of finance. In the afternoon the standing committee will report to the executive committee.

A farmer was explaining to his children the mystery of bird migration. He told how the swallows and martens leave us in the autumn for warmer climates.

"Does the robin go away, too?" asked his eight-year-old daughter.

"No," answered her father. "He gets himself a new red waistcoat and stays."

"Oh, daddy, does he really wear stays?" asked the little girl in surprise.

CONSTANTINE'S SECOND FALL

(From the New York World)

Constantine has fallen because he continued his tragic conclusion the policy which his restoration two years ago was intended to reverse. He repeated the mistake of Venizelos. He is overthrown as Venizelos was. The first dethronement of Constantine in June, 1917, was without much doubt the result not of any legal act of the Greek people but of a coup d'etat of the Allies. Venizelos came back to power protected by the Allied bayonets. For three years thereafter he labored chiefly in Paris and London for the agrandissement of Greece. In this he was successful, securing great gains of territory, but not without paying a price. The price was a long and costly military campaign in Asia Minor.

The Greek people soon tired of this inductive campaign. They had been t war more or less steadily since 1912, and on the first occasion when Venizelos permitted an election they voted in an out of power by a 70 per cent majority. The exiled King's party came back, having capitalized the discontent that was current. On a general belief that Constantine meant peace he

Kindergarten Teachers Are Always Busy

The free kindergartens in the city have an unusually large enrollment at the present time and in some cases there are more children anxious to be admitted than the kindergartens will accommodate. In the North End, particularly, there is great need for another kindergarten. The difficulty of financing the undertaking, however, has prevented the Kindergarten Association from making any effort to open another kindergarten. The teachers and assistants of the kindergartens met yesterday afternoon at the residence of the president of the association, Mrs. F. E. Holman, in St. James street and, while they tied tags for the Victorian Order tag day, they discussed kindergarten problems and reported on the work of the kindergartens this season. The enrollment reports showed an average attendance as follows: North End, fifty; Prince Edward street, forty-five; Mabel Peters, forty; Wellington Row, thirty-five; South End, forty. The need of another kindergarten in the North End was spoken of and finances were once more seriously considered. The association receives $1,500 civic grant but beyond this depends

ROBBING MAILS CASE COMES UP IN CAMPBELLTON

Campbellton, Oct. 6.—Patrick Doyle, laborer, and Reuben Dickie, an employee of the post office in Campbellton, were arrested today and brought before Magistrate MacDonald, charged with being concerned in the post office robbery at Campbellton on Sunday. The registered mails at Campbellton were robbed on Sunday and the amount of money involved is said to be large. It is contended that one of the missing packages contained $500. After the discovery of the robbery on Sunday, W. F. Griffiths, of the district superintendent's office in St. John, was sent to investigate. As the result of his investigation the arrests were made today, and Doyle and Dickie appeared before the magistrate.

EUROPEAN LIVE STOCK A Heavy Decline in Horses and Big Losses in Cattle Herds.

Owing to the lack of official census returns, there is liability of error in making too high an estimate of the number of European live stock at this time, says Alfred P. Dennis, special representative of the United States Department of Commerce. Though the figures for some countries are lacking, and for others not reliable, the following estimates for twenty-three countries in Europe have been based on the best available returns:

"In Italy, France, Belgium, Germany, Poland and Great Britain there is a heavy decline in the stock of horses, as compared with pre-war figures. Gains have been made in the number in Sweden, Spain, Bulgaria, Rumania, Greece, Netherlands and Denmark. The total number of horses in all Europe is approximately eleven per cent, less than in 1913.

"There have been heavy losses in the cattle herds of Belgium, Austria, Hungary and Germany, but those of Great Britain, France, Italy and Poland are approaching normal. The drought of 1921 has halted the recovery from the low point of the year 1918, but the industry has been revived by the past year's season and summer stock, resulting in abundant pasturage. The present stock of cattle is probably not more than three per cent, under that of 1913, but the ratio of young stock and undersized animals is much higher than in the period prior to the war.

"The hog industry has suffered more acutely than any other branch of animal husbandry, but the recovery since 1918 has been rapid, except in the case of countries such as Germany, France, Belgium, Austria and Italy, which are dependent upon imported feed. In Great Britain, Denmark, Sweden and Poland the production is approaching normal, and the number in Spain, Rumania, Yugoslavia, the Netherlands and Switzerland is greater than before the war. The total number of hogs in European countries is now estimated at twelve per cent, below normal.

"Sheep depending upon natural pasturage rather than upon arable farming suffered less than the cattle and hogs. There is a wide variation in recovery in this industry. In Poland the sheep resources are off forty-one per cent, compared with the pre-war figures, and in France there is a reduction of thirty-five per cent. Spain has increased the number of sheep by fifty per cent, and the flocks are well maintained in Switzerland, Italy and Rumania. An accurate estimate of the sheep in all European countries would probably show the number is within six or seven per cent, of pre-war figures.

"In all the important countries, except France the stocks of goats are reported as showing gains over the pre-war stocks. These animals, except where commandeered for military purposes and for breeding, are being used in increasing numbers for milk supply, in place of cows. The total number of goats in the countries of Europe is estimated at eighteen per cent, above the pre-war totals.

"Compared with pre-war years, the national meat consumption in Europe shows a rise in France, Italy, Rumania, Spain and Poland. It is fairly well maintained in Great Britain, the Netherlands and Switzerland. There is a sharp decline in both gross and per capita consumption in Belgium, Austria and Germany. The European demand for American hog products reached the proportions of a boom during the war and has since receded somewhat; but it is still in excess of the pre-war volume in France, Belgium, Italy and Great Britain.

"The needs of Germany for American bacon and animal fats are urgent, but the difficulties attendant upon financial arrangements curtail purchases. There will undoubtedly be a further expansion in the European demand for American lard as the general economic conditions improve.

Robbing Mails Case Comes Up in Campbellton

Campbellton, Oct. 6.—Patrick Doyle, laborer, and Reuben Dickie, an employee of the post office in Campbellton, were arrested today and brought before Magistrate MacDonald, charged with being concerned in the post office robbery at Campbellton on Sunday. The registered mails at Campbellton were robbed on Sunday and the amount of money involved is said to be large. It is contended that one of the missing packages contained $500. After the discovery of the robbery on Sunday, W. F. Griffiths, of the district superintendent's office in St. John, was sent to investigate. As the result of his investigation the arrests were made today, and Doyle and Dickie appeared before the magistrate.

TEST GRASS FOR LINKS.

Specialists Find Creeping Bent Variety Best for Golf Greens.

With golf becoming more widely played and the number of courses rapidly increasing, the United States Department of Agriculture in connection with its general work on grasses is giving attention to the selection of special strains of grasses adapted to the requirements of the links. That this work may be most effective, the department is co-operating with the United States Golf Association, and several specialists in the Bureau of Plant Industry were appointed members of the Greens Committee of that association.

A great deal of effort has been made in the building up of golf courses because of a lack of understanding of the different kinds of grasses and the methods of establishing a turf, points out the department in telling of its experiments. "Many men interested in the game have been victims of seed fakers and self-styled experts," it continues. "As a result, golfers have welcomed information on the subject from the department and clubs in many parts of the country have called on the department for advice and information. This fall a number of courses are being put in on courses at Columbus and Akron, Ohio, and a demonstration green on a course at Chicago.

"The best results are obtained by the department with pure strains of creeping bent, a grass of uniform color and texture and resistant to wear. These strains have been selected and increased on the department experiment farm at Arlington, Va., and are now grown commercially by two or three companies. These strains of bent grass are grown by the vegetative method instead of sowing seed—that is, the stolons, or runners, are cut up and spread upon the ground where a turf is desired. The

WHAT'S THE IDEA AT OPERA HOUSE

A head of angry wives, and equal number of misunderstood husbands, a "hooky" crooked lawyer, a rabbit, a hussy, some rats, and a flock of pony ballet girls make up the cast of the new sketch at the Opera House by the Bob Ott company.

The Ott Co. is worthy of the best support on the part of theatre goers since they have brought to Opera House a better show than usually seen at such prices.

POWER SYSTEM MAY BE MUNICIPAL ENTERPRISE

17 Municipalities Meeting at Port Hope Appoint Committee to Negotiate With Government.

Port Hope, Ont., Oct. 6.—Representatives from seventeen municipalities are gathered here to discuss the advisability of purchasing the Central Ontario Power system and place it on a similar basis to the power development in Western Ontario.

The first item transacted was the formation of an association to be known as the Midland Municipal Association, of Lindsay.

Following a bitter discussion which threatened at one time to resolve itself into a debate, private vs. public ownership, the following resolution was drawn up and adopted.

Resolved that this meeting appoint a committee to negotiate with the government through the Hydro-Electric Commission for the purchase of the properties of the Central Power system at actual value, and when price and terms are settled the same to be submitted to a meeting of all the municipalities interested, and if found satisfactory to that meeting, to be sent on to be later submitted to the electorate.

NEAR EAST MATTERS LONDON LETTER

The Story of Smyrna—British Elections Soon Declared—Unlikely—King Continues Campaign of Economy in Royal Household.

(From our own Correspondent) London, September 21.—What sensible man would have thought that when the war ended in a decisive victory for the Allies and Germany drove the Turk and his hordes from the field, within four years the Crescent would be again flaunting the banner of Europe?

There are really three Smyrnas. The ancient city, dating a thousand years before Christ, was two or three miles north of the modern one, which was a natural and greatest support of the Levant. Most merchant seamen know well its fine harbor and impressive natural surroundings, spacious quays built of Vesuvian lava, narrow tortuous streets, with several really beautiful buildings, English, French, Italian, and Spanish.

The king is still continuing his campaign of economy in the administration of the royal household. It is estimated that during the current year a saving of at least £10,000 has been achieved and this without loss of efficiency.

In spite of all efforts to preserve the comradeship of the war, I fancy the ex-servicemen, as a rule, is beginning to lose touch with past history. It is shedding its ribbons and its badges, and losing its military self-consciousness as it merges more and more into civilian status.

AN AUTUMN ELECTION?

My information is mainly derived from official sources, but it is all against the likelihood of an autumn general election. Such an event is certainly being discussed in unofficial quarters, but mainly by people who have fascinated their minds with the theory of Lloyd George's Napoleonic temperament.

There are a number of people who are convinced that an autumn election would be an appeal to the country beforehand. If he has reasonable hopes of a popular budget, the general election will follow it. It is the careful analysis of

HOMES LEAD IN BILLIONS BUILDING IN U. S. THIS YEAR

New York, Oct. 6.—The Copper and Brass Research Association, 23 Broadway, has issued a survey estimating that $5,000,000,000 was the amount put into building industry during this year, about one-third being for dwelling construction.

In estimating that 100,000,000 pounds of copper was used, an increase of 100,000,000 pounds over 1921, the association reported:

Activity in the building industry has served greatly to assist in hastening the return of normal business conditions throughout the United States. It is therefore reassuring to note that only a start has been made toward

Magistrate Charges Chief of Police With Having Assaulted Him

(Canadian Press Despatch.) Sydney, N. S., Oct. 5.—Magistrate A. R. Forbes, of North Sydney, has charged Chief of Police Louis Clark, with assault in a complaint laid before the police commission of that town. The magistrate says the chief assaulted him when he went to Clark's home in connection with a gramophone, which he alleges Clark bought at auction.

BURGULARS BIND WOMAN, FLEE WITH $1,500 GEMS

Arriving in Limousine, They Ransack Apartment—$165 in Bills Also Taken

New York, Oct. 6.—Returning to her apartment at 1611 Foster avenue, Brooklyn, after a visit to her mother in the same building, Mrs. Audrey Blake, wife of Arthur C. Blake, assistant manager of the Manhattan Steamship Line, was attacked by two burglars, bound to a chair and robbed of $100 and two diamond rings worth $1,500.

Half an hour before Mrs. Blake, while at the window in the apartment of her mother, Mrs. Isabella Tilton, noticed two well-dressed young men alight from a dark green limousine. Each wore a blue serge suit and a soft felt hat. The driver of the automobile wore a dark gray suit and a derby hat.

On her return to her apartment, Mrs. Blake had just inserted the key when the door was thrown open, and she was seized and dragged inside. Two men, whom she recognized as those she had seen alight from the automobile, threw her into a chair to which they bound her with strips of cloth torn from her own clothes.

One of the men took her engagement ring, valued at $600, and her wedding ring, from her left hand, and a diamond solitaire, valued at $900, the gift of her mother, from her right hand.

WEEK TO COUNT PENNIES PAID FOR TAXI SERVICE

Greenwich Cab Company Escapes Task Mrs. Hinton Gave it By Employing Bank Staff

Greenwich, Conn., Oct. 6.—If Mrs. R. L. Hinton of 25 Fifth avenue, New York, is under the impression that she "got square" with the Greenwich Cab Company in sending to their offices here $2,000 pennies in payment of a bill of $420 for taxi service during the week she occupied the H. L. Grant residence on Edgewood Drive, she was mistaken, for the keg was conveyed to the Putnam Trust Company the same night and placed in a private vault thus relieving the company of any further responsibility.

The arduous task of counting the pennies has begun. It took the combined efforts of Robert L. Chamberlain, president of the bank; William H. Brettman, treasurer, and Eric Ackerman, Milo Mosher and Herman Oppy of the banking staff, to carry the keg weighing 250 pounds, from the vault to the outer banking office.

Asked how long it would take to complete the work, Mr. Brettman said it probably would be done after banking hours, but that instead of a week, the Greenwich Cab Company could send for the funds.

When the keg was taken into the bank last Saturday night by four of the cab company's employees, Mr. Chamberlain, who was at his desk, told a reporter he thought the men were bringing in a corpse.

According to C. C. Jensen of the cab company, Mrs. Hinton's photograph, which bore the inscription "Oh, La La," has been lost, but it is believed that the prices it so highly he wants to keep it as a souvenir, hang up in his office after it has been framed.

A one dollar bill and 40 cents accompanied the keg and photograph, which was for the taxi service trips of the company to Mrs. Hinton's home here to collect the bill.

SHOT BY AN ARROW IN FIFTH AVENUE

Shaft Enters Furrier's Window and Lodges in His Chest—Boy's Frank, Police Think

New York, Oct. 6.—Standing near an open window in his furrier's shop, Abraham Seligman felt a sudden, sharp sting in his chest. A steel-tipped arrow, twenty-six inches long, had winged its way silently through the window, pierced his coat and vest and buried its point in the chest wall. At first he was dazed with surprise and fright, most dazed with surprise and fright, Seligman staggered to the window and looked out, half expecting to see the street lined with Indians. But only the usual throngs of shoppers and promenaders were there.

Seligman telephoned to Police Headquarters and Dr. Mondantz came from Flower Hospital. The surgeon took the injured man there, made certain that the anachronistic weapon had not penetrated the lung, and allowed him to go to his home.

Detectives of the East Fifty-first street station, after examining the arrow with its steel tip and its rakish feather, set out on a hunt for the bow and the arm behind it. Atop a building under construction nearby they found another arrow, but workmen would not tell whence it had come. Assured by Seligman that he had not been concerned in a recent furrier's strike and that he had not enemies who might seek to slay him—novelty-wise—with curare-poisoned arrows, the detectives finally put the incident down as a prank by a boy with a good bow and a lusty arm.

MARRIED AT FIFTEEN

London, Ont., Oct. 6.—Not yet 15 years old, though married and helping to maintain a home, a girl in this city is to be taken from her employment and sent to school part time, in accord with provisions of the adolescent act. From Toronto he found out the correct date to be 1907. He refuses to give the girl's name but intimates he is taking steps to find out how it happened that the young couple were able to marry in Hamilton a few months ago and how they were permitted to get a license.

The "Insides" of Robinson's Clothes

Flawless Belgian canvas bodies. Genuine Silver Bryno. 1/4-inch lock-stitched lapels with three rows of parallel threads cost more than one or two rows, but I use them. Duo-stitched triple braced pocket flaps, with double strength against snagging and tearing are expensive—but they are in Robinson's Clothes. Entire front separately pieced, shaped and built into each garment. They could be pre-assembled and padded into place for much less. These things you don't see. You don't feel them either until your clothes begin to be "old friends", and then you notice them—when they are not there.

IN MY NEW FALL SUITS, I present a special feature in the Exclusive Robinson inner coat front construction. A wear, resisting inner front construction that defies weather, water and time. A front that doubles the life of each suit, anchoring the style, supporting the fabric, built like the muscles of the human body.

Old Time R. R. Man Says It Is Grand

"Both myself and wife have taken Tampa with fine results," said E. F. Folkins, 180 Dominion St., Moncton, New Brunswick, a few days ago. Mr. Folkins has been employed in the Canadian National Railway shops in Moncton for thirty-six years.

"As for my own case, I had a trouble or sleep to do much good. At first it was just my nerves, and then my stomach went wrong and I got into a general run-down condition, and was fast losing my strength.

"About this time so many people were praising Tanlac, among them a clergyman, that my wife, who was feeling run-down, but not exactly sick, decided to try the medicine. She took a few bottles and made her feel a much better that she couldn't help praising it and telling people what it had done for her.

"So, I concluded to try some myself and can truthfully say it was Tanlac that brought me through my trouble, for it did me a world of good just at the time I needed help the most. It set my stomach in order, fixed up my nerves so I could get good nights' rest so I could do my day's work and not lose time. My wife and myself will always have a good name for Tanlac.

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

SELF-SERVICE IDEA AT LAST INVADES THE FLOWER SHOP

Feeling that summer trade in flowers could be greatly stimulated if patrons could be induced to buy "garden flowers" at comparatively low prices, the Century Flower Shop, in Philadelphia, tried the experiment of offering bunches of these at severely-reduced prices, with the proviso that they were not to be delivered. The flowers are displayed, already bunched, and the idea has proved highly successful.

CASH POLICY WAS ADOPTED WITHOUT NOTICE OR KICK

South Dakota Store Gave No Warning of the Discontinuance of Credit Business, But It Cost Only Two Customers—and One of These Came Back Without Any Argument.

Change from an almost unlimited credit business to a cash business overnight, without making an announcement to customers, and getting away with it, headed C. E. Rief, manager of the Vebien Co-Operative Mercantile Company, Yvelin, S. D.

Rief's method, which proved so successful, is different from the usual procedure. It was somewhat sensational, though not exactly so, but it avoided the rather slow process of detailed explanation.

"I don't want to write letters to my customers telling them what I was about to do," said Rief. "I knew it would arouse opposition and that they would not exactly say so, but it avoided the slow process of detailed explanation.

"I had no small toys and other small Christmas trinkets to better advantage. Of course, there was a profit in such small stuff, but there was an immense amount of trouble connected with it. For instance, a boy or girl would take probably half an hour to pick out and purchase a twenty-five-cent article. Or perhaps a worried mother, with five or six children, would take an hour or more before she decided upon $2 or $3 worth of presents.

"As a matter of fact I 'twiped' the idea I am now making use of from the mail-order catalogues, but I enlarged upon it. I filed stockings with acceptable toys, boxes of good candy and nuts, gum, etc.

"I have the stockings—huge affairs—made for me, of good grade, of most exquisite settings in various colors. Each stocking contains five or six toys—steam engines, horns, rubber balls and anything else that happens to be a favorite with small boys or girls. In addition, each one contains a small box of good candy, mother of nuts, a package of gum, two or three good games in boxes, etc. I have two kinds, both the same price, one for boys and one for girls.

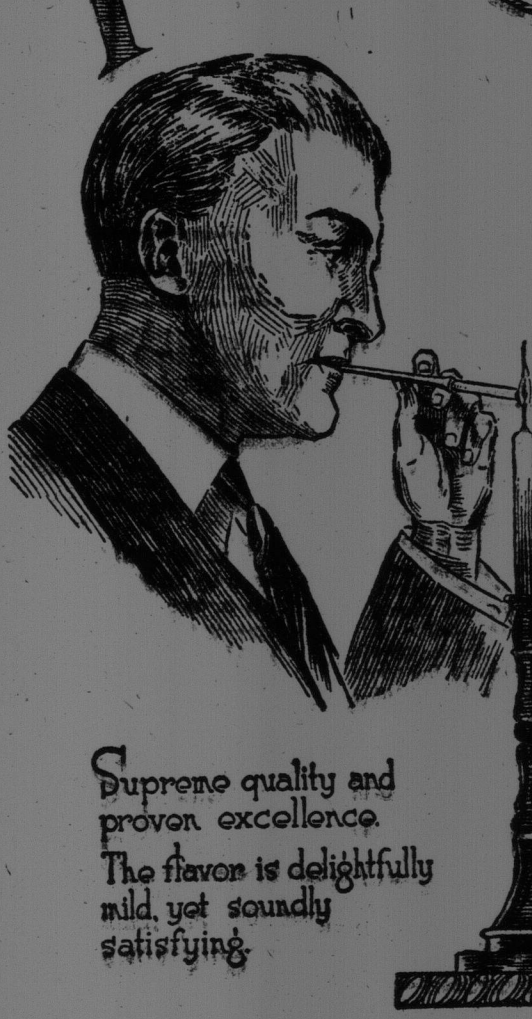

"Besides the things mentioned, I always manage to put in three or four little toys or other articles that were left over from the last Christmas. Thus those left over not only bring in at least their cost back, but help to sell the others. In fact, I do not manage to lose a cent on the whole.

ANXIOUS STUNT SAID TO HAVE FAILED

A. J. Henderson of the North Texas Supply Co., in Breckenridge, Tex., said that he had found the "only way" of selling toys, etc., for Christmas presents.

But let him tell it his own way:

"I had long wondered how I could sell more small toys and other small Christmas trinkets to better advantage. Of course, there was a profit in such small stuff, but there was an immense amount of trouble connected with it. For instance, a boy or girl would take probably half an hour to pick out and purchase a twenty-five-cent article. Or perhaps a worried mother, with five or six children, would take an hour or more before she decided upon $2 or $3 worth of presents.

"As a matter of fact I 'twiped' the idea I am now making use of from the mail-order catalogues, but I enlarged upon it. I filed stockings with acceptable toys, boxes of good candy and nuts, gum, etc.

"I have the stockings—huge affairs—made for me, of good grade, of most exquisite settings in various colors. Each stocking contains five or six toys—steam engines, horns, rubber balls and anything else that happens to be a favorite with small boys or girls. In addition, each one contains a small box of good candy, mother of nuts, a package of gum, two or three good games in boxes, etc. I have two kinds, both the same price, one for boys and one for girls.

"Besides the things mentioned, I always manage to put in three or four little toys or other articles that were left over from the last Christmas. Thus those left over not only bring in at least their cost back, but help to sell the others. In fact, I do not manage to lose a cent on the whole.

In other respects the law is being well administered, except so far as the distribution of profits is concerned, and regarding these we have always maintained that the municipalities should receive a more adequate share. The Government must be created with common honesty in its efforts to translate the wishes of the people regarding liquor control. Mr. Manson is new at his task as Attorney-General, but he has done good work. He has reduced the prices of liquors and so brought the application of the legislation within reach of a larger number of the people. He is making energetic attempts to stamp out bootlegging with its attendant evils. He has asked for public co-operation in his task and shows a disposition to take the people into his confidence regarding his administration of liquor control. He points out, to that it will be subject to amendments at the forthcoming session of the Legislature. The place for

MUTT AND JEFF—A CASE OF IRRESPONSIBILITY

YANKS STRETCH IT TO TIE WITH EXTRA INNING

A Long Drawn Out Battle, Score Three to Three

Giants Get Big Lead in the Opening Inning, but Huggins' Men Creep Up—The Largest Attendance Ever at a World Series Game.

New York, Oct. 6.—World series baseball, that unlucky icon of trouble and gold, stepped in front of another young tornado today that came near leading to a wreck.

The Giants and Yankees, fighting out their second battle, had just closed out the tenth inning with the score knotted at 3 and 3. The minute hand on the big clock in center field was pointing twenty minutes to 5.

For perhaps a second or two the big crowd of 37,000 fans sat stunned, and then from almost every nook in the grounds, from grand stand to bleachers, a terrific roar of protest swept back and forth across the field, followed by the prolonged "boo" of the raspberry chorus working at full blast.

In the excitement that followed hundreds of indignant fans swept around Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, while thousands of others began to pour a fusillade of burning words against the club owners, who had no more to do with the decision than Babe Ruth or Kemal Pasha.

The two umpires gave their decision courageously and honestly with no other hope of reward beyond an extra day's work without any extra emolument for the trouble they were taking on.

Nearly Three Hours Long. The game was as slow as frozen molasses at a Badin Bay breakfast, but for the greater part of the route it carried its full share of quivering drama, sensational fielding, hard hitting and game, skillful pitching under a hi meant disaster.

Shawkey and Barnes, under heavy tension, pitched with cool, deliberate courage that at times was entirely too deliberate as the game dragged along through two hours and forty minutes of play.

Shawkey, after a stunning blow from Irish Meusel in the first inning, rose to brilliant heights after the second inning when he checked the Giants with three widely scattered blows over the remainder of the way.

The first homer. Groh and Frisch had just nipped the Yankee star for two clean hits when Meusel came up waving a big war club in the golden air.

But the Yankees proved they could come from behind as well as the Giants. Shawkey, after slipping a triple in the second round, began to pump increasing speed over the plate as he stopped the Giants in their tracks, held completely under the deadly spell of his speed, curves and control that sought out the corners and kept Giant bats poking away in vain for the rest of the day.

Details of the pitching analysis show that Barnes pitched fifty-seven balls and thirty-seven strikes, while Shawkey pitched fifty balls and shot over thirty-two strikes. Twenty-two foul strikes were knocked off Shawkey's delivery and twelve of the Giant mountaineer.

The Yankees' outfield gathered in seven flies to but three for the Giant defensive workers, while seventeen infield outs were credited to the Yankees and twenty-one to the Giants.

It was just the day for a pitchers' battle and outlay as mid-summer. Biggest Gate in History. The crowd was bigger than on any day during the 1921 series, and the money paid to sit in on today's session—$122,554—was the highest sum ever deposited into baseball's coffers for one game.

GAME BY INNINGS. Three Runs in First. First inning Giants—Sam Jones and Carl Mays went down into the bullpen to get into condition in case they should be called upon.

Ward tossed out Bancroft, going far to his left to get a mean bouncer. Groh up. Strike 1; foul strike 2; ball 1; ball 2; Groh singled over second, his fourth hit in the series.

Strike 1; foul strike 1; foul strike 2; Witt bunted, but the ball rolled foul. Groh made a nice play on Witt's roller and got his man at first. Dugan up. Foul strike 1; ball 1; ball 2; Bancroft
