PROVINCIAL TEMPERANCE RALLY URGED

Moncton Meeting Asks Federation to Call One For December 9

I. C. R. MAN INJURED

M. I. Purdy Loses Finger Coupling Cars—Campbellton Groom and Moncton Bride—Law Student Leaving for West to Locate

(Special to Times)

Monton, Oct. 31.—As a temperance meeting last night, presided over by Rev. R. H. Staver, and addressed by S. Spence, of Toronto, a resolution was passed to effect that the convention in New Brunswick call for strong concerted measures to secure legislation looking toward provincial prohibition, and asking that the New Brunswick Temperance Federation call a meeting of temperance workers of the province in Moncton on December 11.

M. I. Purdy, I. C. R. man injured while coupling car in the yard here yesterday, had a hand caught in a drawbar, and the little finger was crushed, making amputation necessary.

The home of Arthur Tait, High street, was the scene of a wedding last evening, when his daughter, Mary, was married to Charles Fremont Archer, of Campbellton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. G. Lane, pastor of Wesley Memorial church in the presence of a large number of friends. The bride wore white satin with plaid trimmings. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. W. G. Lane, and the groom is in the employ of Thomas Malcolm, manager of the International Railway. Mr. and Mrs. Tait were at the wedding trip to the Yukon.

Lake Stock, who has been studying law with F. P. Murphy, was last night tendered a farewell supper by friends, prior to his departure for Calgary, where he will locate.

FATHER OF BABE JUST BORN IN NEW YORK SANK WITH TITANIC

New York, Oct. 31.—Announcement of birth of a baby girl to Mrs. Ada Marvin, widow of King Street, was made yesterday. Marvin and her husband were returning to board the Titanic after their honeymoon in New York, when the liner stopped to take on coal. Mr. Marvin, who died in the sinking, was saved. It was said at her home that both mother and daughter were doing well.

Mrs. Marvin may have attracted some attention in New York, because of the fact that a moving picture concern was employed to make a series of pictures of the ceremony. At the time of the marriage the bride was only seventeen years old and the bridegroom a year older.

SAYS CROP WILL GIVE MONEY RECORD THIS YEAR TO MANITOBA

Winnipeg, Oct. 31.—"Manitoba's crop this year will be one of the best paying in the last decade, in spite of the recent storm and the wet harvest season." This statement was made by Dr. J. G. Stevenson, minister of agriculture. He says the storm of Monday evening did not do a great deal of damage, because most of the crops in the field had been threshed. There are still some oats and barley lying out in stock, he says, but the bulk of all grain is either stacked or threshed.

Sunday Coasting

Toronto, Oct. 31.—The city council by a vote of 14 to 8, defeated a motion to suspend the rules to allow of a plebiscite being taken next January on the question of Sunday closing and holding in the city parks. The motion will be brought up again.

WEATHER BULLETIN

Issued by authority of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, R. F. Sturtevant, director of meteorological service.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—A storm is developing over the southern lakes and will probably affect the maritime provinces before Saturday. The weather remains cold in the western provinces. To the Grand Banks and American ports, fresh northwesterly winds.

Probabilities Here:

Fresh northwest winds, fair and cooler; Friday, fair and cool until night.

TWO BIG GUNS OF BATTLESHIP MAINE FOUND BY DIVERS

Navy Engineers Surprised at Report From Depth of Havana Harbor

(Canadian Press)

Havana, Oct. 31.—Divers engaged in removing the shattered remnants of the forward section of the battleship Maine for the purpose of restoring the harbor to its normal depth, discovered today the forward turret, intact, containing a pair of 10-inch guns and mounts weighing upwards of 200 tons. The turret had been buried forty feet from its original position.

It had been believed that the turret was buried under the hull which was destroyed months ago, never reaching the side of the ship. The turret lies in three feet of water. No attempt will be made to remove it. It will be necessary however to remove other charges of dynamite for the purpose of sinking it in the harbor bottom.

The discovery was most surprising to the engineer who thought that it would practically be impossible. It will necessitate two months more work.

BUILDING FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL AND MISSION AT COURTEEN BAY

Germain Street Church Buys Large Property Lot—Larger Project in City

The announcement that the Germain Street United Baptist church has purchased a lot, 33 by 90 feet, on Fairmount Avenue, for the purpose of erecting a Sunday school and Sunday school building.

Sunday school work under the direction of Arthur F. Burditt has been carried on at Germain Street church since 1908.

The church is known, and the ground is in the employ of Thomas Malcolm, manager of the International Railway.

Sunday school work will be continued, and the new building will be used as a general hall, and, eventually, church services will be held there as the population increases.

The construction will be started in November, with a view to completion immediately. The offering at the Thanksgiving service will be used as a beginning of the fund.

The Germain street congregation has under way a much larger scheme in connection with their own church. This is the purchase of a large plot of land on the vacant lot adjoining the church. The plans are being completed now, and they hope to commence work on the new structure about the first of the year.

WILL, BY-ELECTION BRING OUT STATEMENT ON NAVY POLICY?

Montreal, Oct. 31.—The government's naval policy will be announced in Westmount within a fortnight, according to expectations expressed by political leaders.

Premier Borden is to address a meeting in Victoria Hall between Nov. 12 and 15 in the interests of Hon. Louis Codere. It is generally regarded as certain he will state the government's intentions.

POSSIBILITY OF STRIKE

Calgary, Oct. 31.—A strike of miners workers in the Crow's Nest district would result in the difference between the operators and their employees over yardage pay rates, it was agreed yesterday by Clement Stubbs, president of District 18 United Miners Workers of America.

The prospective strike directly affects 2,000 miners.

To Aid Military Airmen

Berlin, Oct. 31.—An airmen's fund known as the Kaiser-Wilhelm foundation, for the relief of disabled miners, whose wife and children are in service, and the widows and orphans of those who are killed, has been started with an anonymous contribution of $25,000.

Standard Oil Dividend

New York, Oct. 31.—The Standard Oil Company of Ohio, the original Standard Oil Company yesterday declared a dividend of $5 a share, the first since the segregation of the various companies.

BODY TAKEN THROUGH

The body of Mrs. Mary Anne Brandy, 52, of North York, was taken this morning at noon to the mortuary of Josephine Venne, minister of agriculture. He says the storm of Monday evening did not do a great deal of damage, because most of the trees in the park had been threshed. There are still some oats and barley lying out in stock, he says, but the bulk of all grain is either stacked or threshed.

Funeral Services

Paris, Oct. 31.—In view of the danger threatening the safety of the crew and division of the flying squadrons of the French fleet, it has been ordered to sail from Toulos this evening at full speed to the Syrian coast. It consists of the new Wagram, Lorraine, and Vieux Hugo and Jules Ferry. The French armored ships, built for the defense of the Black Sea coast and under cover of the fire of the British fleet, will be able to cover the approach of further reinforcements from the west down the Adra valley.

It is said that the Turkish army has been ordered to send a force to the Ottoman fleet with orders to open a passage for Turkish transports through the Aegean Sea to Constantinople and Dardanelles.

Stockholm, Oct. 31.—A strike was taken by the Turkish army to impede the supply service of the army at the front.

The first victim of the war was a Russian aviator named Popov, who was shot down by the Turks in the direction of the river Mariza in the direction of Demotica, and was captured by the Turks.

The centre of the Turkish army is composed of picked troops, chiefly regulars, as the reserves are responsible for the majority of the Turks suffered so far in the battle of the Arda valley.

IS TURKEY BEATEN?

Universal surprise has been expressed at the very poor showing thus far made by the Turks in the struggle with the Balkan Alliance. Mr. George Lloyd in the London Daily Mail expresses the view that the attempted reformation in Turkey brought weakness to the Young Turk party and brought them in the pillory as dangerous enemies of their land. The intolerant jingo who does not know how to be patriotic without insulting some foreigner known in all lands. The combination noted is about the worst a people could have for guides. It can be believed it will not much longer seem to guide the people of Great Britain. Mr. Runciman's words are in keeping with those frequently quoted of late of his chief, Mr. Asquith. They will surely bring to the front the sobering moment when the people and so much of the nation's strength and honour—Great Britain cannot afford in view of other nations are doing, to reduce her armaments. She can just as little afford to play the part of a bully, slapping her armed fist in the face of her natural friends and making enmity where both tradition and interest should teach her to desire amity. She can be true to herself only by discarding the mad advice of those who are in effect urging her to undertake a terrible war that would imperil her financial and commercial interests and by following the sober counsels of those who would retain for her the last title of peace maker. This does not mean that she should be weakened. It does mean that she should be wise.

"While the last three years in Turkey have been spent in factious political dissension and in the creation of peasant rebellions, the Balkan states have strengthened, and increased, increased their equipment, speeded up their mobilization, and at the same time have been careful by their bomb outrages and the activities of their hands to maintain that misery and unrest in Macedonia which would serve them as pretext for war when the moment was ripe."

Mr. Lloyd, however, does not believe that the great powers will permit the Turk to be driven out of Europe because that would lead to greater trouble, not only in Europe, but throughout Asia. Moreover, it is pointed out that Austria would not be able to support Bulgaria and Serbia or Bulgaria alone consolidated as a powerful Slave State lying across the road to Galicia; for a successful Bulgaria would bar the eastern sea road to Austria for all time."

It is quite clear from the developments of the last few weeks that the Balkan states have had a complete understanding and that they have been making vigorous preparations for the struggle that is now in progress. The Bulgarians have made remarkable progress during recent years, and though they are still rather raw fish, it is what must have been even to them unexpected success in the early part of the war, they will be more determined not to be bulked of their prey even by the intervention of their powers. The whole situation brieties with difficulties, and it will be fortunate indeed if no other powers are involved.

THE GERMAN BOGEY

The Times two days ago quoted the views of Mr. Price Collier to the effect that the strong military and naval policy of Germany was not directed against England, and that the Emperor England had in Europe. A significant fact in the same connection is the statement made last week by the new German ambassador to Great Britain, who declared that he had no policy except to obtain the warmest good-will of all the friendly governments and the people, so as to lay the foundations strong enough to meet any emergency in the spirit of good will and toleration. He declared further that Germany did not cherish the slightest desire or intention of disrupting Great Britain's mastery of the sea, for they recognize that a supreme fleet is a life and death question with the people of Great Britain. He pointed out, however, that a powerful fleet was also a vital necessity to Germany, and that England should regard the laying down of a Dreadnought now and then as an act of hostility.

Mr. Warden, a member of the British cabinet, has also taken a strong ground in opposition to those who by speech and writing seek to convey the impression that war with Germany is probable. Summarizing his speech the Montreal Gazette says:

"Mr. Runciman spoke with directness and vigor. He did not believe an Anglo-German war inevitable, and declared that statements made suggesting that such a struggle had to come were deplorable and pernicious. He saw rivalry between Great Britain and Germany, but it was more commendable than necessary. Then, speaking with a frankness in the open, he said that, with a few exceptions in the cabinet, he declared that the only persons who wished to turn it into a military rivalry were a small group of journalists, a few soldiers, makers of armaments, and a small section of people who believed the dignity of the nation was raised by irritating its neighbors. It was time, he added, that in industrial and commercial classes expressed their opinion upon this important matter in a thoroughly organized manner."

The Montreal Gazette, which is to be remembered, is a Conservative newspaper, and its comments on Mr. Runciman's speech and ideas reflect those who by speech and writing seek to convey the impression that war with Germany is probable. Summarizing his speech the Montreal Gazette says:

"Those who follow English newspaper discussions know that there is nothing new in what is thus summarized of Mr. Runciman's speech. Some newspapers, not of high standing, as yellow as the yellowest sheets that New York produce, have gone the length of advocating in the name of patriotism that the British fleet should make a surprise attack on that of Germany and destroy it. Solons whose trade is war, usually think that their country's first duty is to maintain a big army and as nationally look for an enemy for it to fight. Makers of armament have been for this been accused of promoting war talk for the sake of the profit the preparation may bring to them; but this is probably the first occasion when a member of the cabinet candidly speaking with a frankness in the open, declared that in the pillar of as dangerous enemies of their land. The intolerant jingo who does not know how to be patriotic without insulting some foreigner known in all lands. The combination noted is about the worst a people could have for guides. It can be believed it will not much longer seem to guide the people of Great Britain. Mr. Runciman's words are in keeping with those frequently quoted of late of his chief, Mr. Asquith. They will surely bring to the front the sobering moment when the people and so much of the nation's strength and honour—Great Britain cannot afford in view of other nations are doing, to reduce her armaments. She can just as little afford to play the part of a bully, slapping her armed fist in the face of her natural friends and making enmity where both tradition and interest should teach her to desire amity. She can be true to herself only by discarding the mad advice of those who are in effect urging her to undertake a terrible war that would imperil her financial and commercial interests and by following the sober counsels of those who would retain for her the last title of peace maker. This does not mean that she should be weakened. It does mean that she should be wise."

Col. Roosevelt, likening himself to Lincoln, makes a large draft on the credit of his hearers.

The discussion at the annual meeting of the Associated Charities this evening will be of practical interest and value.

The long hatpin has become an issue in Sydney, Australia, civic politics. The argument of the women appears to have more point than that of the lawmakers.

The Good Roads Association for the province is evidently to be revived, with much more power behind it. By such action, keeping politics out of it, we shall get good roads.

The death of Vice President Sherman on the eve of the elections in which he was again a candidate creates an interesting political situation in the United States.

Mr. Henry Vivian, in an interview in England, after his recent visit to Canada, said he was highly gratified with the growth of the co-partnership housing movement in Canada.

The Tories are now trying to make it appear that the Liberals are flirting with Mr. Bourassa. Is Mr. Borden about to kick Mr. Bourassa out of his counsels? That would be unkind, for he owes his position to the Nationalists alliance. But the Tories were ever ungrateful.

Immigration Superintendent Gilchrist says that farmers would do much better if they would plan their farming so that help could be engaged by the year instead of for short periods. This would be of great advantage.

It would involve larger operations, but a judicious combination of farming and stock-raising would make it pay. The farmers in Ontario are facing the same difficulty in regard to help, and there as here the solution must be yearly employment of men.

The Ottawa Free Press says:

"The western provinces are beginning to open the school houses at night, and the people are beginning to use them, almost nightly."

The sooner the great questions of the day, questions of politics, of sociology and of science are settled the sooner the people become accustomed to discussing them, and to feel that such discussion is their duty, the better will be both government and all such public issues on which the public discussion touches."

The advancing price of leather, which is making so great a difference in the price of leather goods of all kinds, is not likely to be checked until cattle-raising on a larger scale is taken up. Some recent statistics published in the United States show that, while the population of that country increased from 30,000,000 to 50,000,000 in the last five years, the number of cattle decreased from 72,533,000 to 57,000,000. At the same time, leather is being produced for more purposes than it was a few years ago. Thus while the supply has been decreasing the demand has been increasing. The advance in price was therefore inevitable.

Sen. A. C. Bell, whose death is announced, was prominent in Pictou county and Nova Scotia before he took to politics. He was a member of the legislature from 1870 until 1886, was provincial secretary for a short time in 1882 and led the opposition from 1882 until 1887. In 1891 he was defeated. He was elected in 1896 and sat as the member for Pictou until 1901, when he ran again for the Nova Scotia legislature and was defeated. Last year he was made a senator. Mr. Bell was a man of much ability, a clever speaker and writer, and especially interested in matters relating to transportation.

The Montreal Gazette once referred to him as "a man who studies public questions as he studies his business problems, and who has been steadily coming forward into the front rank of parliamentarians."

They Use Old Newspapers For Clothing

Chinese Also Find Them Good For Covering The Walls

Coming to Western Ways

Improvement in Status of Women an Indication — The Servant Problem a Live One — Other Topics in Letter from Pekin

(Times' Special Correspondence)
Pekin, Sept. 30.—It is the "National Review of Shanghai" that we owe the surprising information that the Chinese are the greatest consumers of old newspapers in the world. It is reported that the output of the newspaper houses at Newchow, which at that port alone in 1911 received 1,918 tons of old newspapers, valued at $72,000. It is not at first easy to account for what such enormous news can be paid for. From the "National Review," however, we gather that the middle-class Chinese prefer newspaper to the native variety as a cover for their wives. It has a greater power of resistance, and affords a more effective barrier to the invasions of the vermin that plague Chinese houses.

Men's wives are engaged at cutting out of the newspapers waistcoats which they wear next to the skin. These waistcoats are said to be the best possible protection against a sudden cold snap.

The value of the import, however, declines, and it is interesting to note the reason for this decline. It is explained by the rapid development of the native newspaper press which has taken place during the last few years. The old newspapers are now printed for the most part on paper imported from the United States, so that, instead of paying high prices for imported newspapers, the natives of the interior use the "newspaper" of their native press for their walls and their waistcoats.

China's approach to western ways is unpredictable. She has now her suffragettes, claiming the right to vote, said to number nearly 1,000 strong. At its head is a woman who has been elected to the national assembly.

The truth is that China has consistently and most vigorously neglected her woman-kind. Even now the Chinese woman lives a life of drudgery and semi-slavery. All this is due to the lack of education of the Chinese girls, and the lack of female education is showing wonderful activity. Some very surprising figures have been published by the commissioners of education in Canada in that country, which 40 per cent of the boys between the ages of seven and ten attend school, only 13 per cent of the girls of similar age do so. In India, ten years ago there was no school for girls.

The reason for this lamentable state of affairs is discreditable to the male sex. For years they regarded and orthodoxy would have it that women were fit only for competitive exhibition, and the educational system of China was devised solely with a view to these examinations, for which courses were not admitted possible. Having no entrance to official departments, it was thought until quite recent years that the Chinese were not fit for any office at all, and as a consequence they remain miserably subordinate.

Now universal education is talked of. The advisory committee of the education department has adopted the programme, and will be a feather in the cap of the new republic if it pursues the idea to fulfillment.

"For Ways That Are Dark"

There is a servant problem in China, and the foreigner, and if very soon the masters are put under stricter regulation they will have themselves to blame, although the honest and trustworthy will have no cause to complain.

Among the ingenious jokes very common with Chinese servants are those of lending testimonies to each other's "successes" of junior members of their service.

It is well known that the Chinese have been induced to show impenitential tendencies. At the commencement of the revolution the local barbers refused to shave the heads of the rebels, and foreign clergymen were not admitted.

Now universal education is talked of. The advisory committee of the education department has adopted the programme, and will be a feather in the cap of the new republic if it pursues the idea to fulfillment.

"For Ways That Are Dark"

In his report for last year the British consul at Swatow refers to the new fashion in clothes which the revolution has set among the Chinese population. Shallow collars and foreign cloaks have been adopted by the Chinese, and are said to be consistent with their modern republican sentiments, while others have adopted them as a safeguard for their persons and property.

Women have been induced to show impenitential tendencies. At the commencement of the revolution the local barbers refused to shave the heads of the rebels, and foreign clergymen were not admitted.

The craze, adds the consul, will find its level as republican ardor spreads, and the long queue and the small mustache will be extinct in China for many long years.

The wearing of strange garments, he writes, causes a great deal of trouble. I have seen one gentleman with a gaudily embroidered pair of braces and outside his coat (the only article of clothing he had) he could not cope with orders.

The craze, adds the consul, will find its level as republican ardor spreads, and the long queue and the small mustache will be extinct in China for many long years.

A story published by a Tokio paper to the effect that the appointment of General Prince Katsura as local privy secretary to the court of the late Emperor Meiji, was to deprive him of further political activity, the chief author of the intrigue being Minister Yamagata, a decided royalist, a pure fabrication.

It is true that Prince Katsura was not willing to accept the post, but he could not but do so in the end. He is reported to have been induced to do so by the Empress Dowager, and partly to the testimonial given by Prince Katsura.

The present post, China and Japan, has overflowed recently with critical comments on two incidents of more than ordinary interest. The subject-matter in China has been the conspiracy executed with the sanction of the government to assassinate two officers of His Army—General Chang Chen-wei and his adjutant, Fang Wei, chief of the secret police.

As society for a speeded conspiracy, it is known that the execution was ordered on a secret report made by Vice-President Li Yuan-hung, and without the knowledge of the general government of the Republic.

The general government of the Republic has made very much of the facts, and has promised to divulge the facts, although, the case being a military one, the desire of the Empress Dowager, and partly to the testimonial given by Prince Katsura.

Kidney Disease and Gravel Caused
Keenest Suffering—Cured by
Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. W. Smith.

That disease of the kidneys causes the greatest suffering it is well known, and when stone or gravel is formed in the kidney, the result is almost beyond human endurance.

The disease should never be allowed to reach this dangerous stage, for it is a source of great back pain or smarting when passing water, frequent urination, loss of flesh and waste of the blood. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to regulate and invigorate the kidneys and restore these organs to health.

Mr. W. Smith, Port Dalhousie, Ont. writes:—"For some years I was affected with kidney trouble and gravel in its most severe form, having often a stoppage of water, accompanied by a great amount of pain. As the disease was so bad, I could not sleep at night, and I used many sleepless nights. No doctor could find out what was the matter, and I used many medicines without obtaining more than temporary relief.

After consulting Dr. Chase, I began taking his Kidney-Liver Pills, and by using this treatment the disease was soon cured. I have gained weight, sleep well, and feel better than I have for years past.

nis. Oct. 30.—The silence of Sofia during the great battle in Thrace has been broken by a brief despatch from a Bulgarian victory and the town of Lule Burgas. This and equally laconic despatches we yet available and still leave the Turkish commander contain the news of the battle, while the despatches from Pasha, the chief minister of war, two battles, one a sort of skirmish in the direction of Maras, the other in the direction of Vina, which it must be inferred that was brought from Asia Minor.

MONTENEGRO

Little State Which Made the First Break—The People, the Army and the King

(London Daily Mail)

The Montenegrin field army is estimated at 50,000.

Every male Montenegrin is liable to military service for a period of forty-five years from his eighteenth year. He serves two years in the recruits' class, thirty-three years in the active army, ten years to the rank of general, and the remainder of his life consists of four divisions.

In so maintaining a country cavalry are useless. The infantry are armed with the Royal type musket, which is used in the Japanese war, and the artillery with guns of various models, none very up to date.

Montenegro is a nation of warlike people and their ruler, Nikola I, is trying to type a patriarchal monarch, brave and able.

Born in 1841, educated at Trieste and Paris, he has ruled with a firm hand, and now in proportion to his military purposes, are being applied to various points on the frontier.

The Montenegrins are the Servians of the Slav. They are mainly farmers and shepherds but each man possesses a rifle, and though the roads are well built, the most part of these roads that which appear from the Austrian port of Trieste, little more than a rapid, winding road, of 4,000 inhabitants, Roads, derived for military purposes, are being made at the cost of carrying masts to the vine and olive groves. The King is a good soldier, but his subjects should be Liberal, his subjects Conservative" is the King's maxim.

Throughout his long life the plot-absorbing King of Montenegro has been the most romantic figure in the Balkan world.

From 1860 to 1910, he assumed the title of King of Montenegro, and his wife, Queen of Montenegro, Austria became of the one carrying masts to the vine and olive groves. The King is a good soldier, but his subjects should be Liberal, his subjects Conservative" is the King's maxim.

When I think of Montenegro I see in my mind's eye a land brilliant in brilliant sunshine, a vividly blue sky, populated with splendid men and beautiful women, garbed in the most radiant apparel.

Like many another traveler, I went up to the Atlantic shore, and those who travel to the Atlantic shore, everyone who travels to the Atlantic shore, there is a magnificence road, winding upwards in a corkscrew manner, so that it is quite an easy climb from sea level to the heights of the kingdom.

The weather was exceeding, for it was in summer, and I paid my visit, and made the trip up, not driving up to Cetinje instantly when the boat arrived at Cattaro in the evening. An unforgettable night was spent in seeing the miles between Cattaro, but was most bearable by the singing that I heard, a curious, wild singing, which rose and fell, as if someone were patrolling the town with a home-made remedy it will be affected by the transfer.

PLANS FOR HALIFAX WHARVES

Hon. Frank Cochrane, minister of railways, was honoured a banquet in the Hall's Hotel, Halifax, yesterday, and was addressed by the Hon. J. A. Thompson, president of the Canadian Pacific railway, and the Hon. G. E. Ross, minister of public works.

The Rife

Sir H. H. Johnston has borne witness that ever since 1880 the number of those men who have been of absorbing interest to the naturalist is All is changed now, and there seems little doubt that the devastation in the woods and the fields is largely due to the chiefly by British military officers and civilians, partly directly, and partly by their encouragement of the sporting instincts

More Money for Griffith.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 30—Clarke Griffith will be one of the highest salaried managers at a meeting of the American League next week. At a meeting of the board of directors of the Washington club, Griffith's salary was increased from $7,000 to $10,000 for the season.

He Likes Keating.

New York, Oct. 30—From Philadelphia comes the reassuring news that James J. Corbett is out of danger and that his speedy recovery is a matter of only slight time. Corbett attributes his recovery to the confidence he had that he would get well again. "I am not afraid to say that I knew full well I'd not leave the count," said Corbett in his room in the Jefferson Hospital. "I'm not a convert to Christian Science, but I do believe in God."

"Are you going to testify against him?" "I am going to help all I can. If they call me before the jury, I will tell the truth about Johnson."
