THOUSANDS AT FUNERAL OF THE MIKADO

Second Part of Ceremonies Outdoes First In Impressiveness PROCESSION BY NIGHT

Body is Conveyed From Tokio on Last Stage of Journey—Hundreds of Thousands in Silence in Streets as Cortege Passes

(Canadian Press) Tokio, Sept. 13.—The second part of the ceremonies in connection with the funeral of the Emperor Meiji took place tonight, when the casket containing the body of the late ruler was started on its journey to Aoyama, whence it will be taken to Monzayama for burial. Imposing as had been the ceremonial attended by the dignitaries of the palace earlier in the day, when the funeral service, serving to emphasize the contrast between the ancient shinto rites and the twentieth century militarism, was conducted, the passage of the funeral casket through the streets of the capital tonight was even more impressive. It afforded the populace an opportunity of displaying sorrow at the nation's bereavement and hundreds of thousands stood for hours in absolute silence along the route as the coffin passed on the first stage of its journey toward its last resting place. The streets and boulevards were brilliantly lighted by torches and arc lamps on both sides of the road. Intersecting the torches and electric lamps at frequent intervals were black and white cloth covered poles, surmounted by wreaths of evergreens. The great funeral car, attended by a large number of Japanese of high rank, wearing the ancient national cloak, placed in the cortege, consisted of an upper robe of horse chestnut color, dull colored hose trousers and a cap of black silk. The body was brought to the gate. To the wailing notes of a shinto drum the immense coffin was wheeled in solemn procession from the main hall. Chamberlains marched in front of the funeral car and following it was the grand master of ceremonies, bearing the departed monarch's sword, and the master of the household, carrying the imperial sword of state. On each side of the casket walked high officials of the household carrying lighted candles. A watch fire had been lighted in the courtyard of the palace and three sets of braziers burned at each corner of the open space.

LITTLE HUNCHBACKS MADE STRAIGHT AGAIN

Grafting of Bits of Shinbone Upon Spine Successful

New York, Sept. 13.—Pet's disease, or decay of the spine, which makes its victims hunchbacked, has been conquered, at least, it is confidently believed. Within the next few days five patients, three boys and two girls, ranging from six to eight years, will be taken back to their homes from the Sea Breeze Hospital, Coney Island, well on the way to recovery, if not completely cured. These children have been patients in the hospital for about fourteen months and for the last few months have been playing about in the sand and bathing in the salt water just like other youngsters. The patients were treated for tuberculosis of the spine in a way very different from that in use before. The operations were performed by Dr. Frederick H. Albee of No. 125 West Fifty-eighth street, Manhattan, who is on the staffs of Roosevelt, Post-Graduate and Bellevue hospitals. Dr. Albee has done away with the use of the plaster of Paris cast. Instead of inserting a piece of metal in the place from which broken pieces of vertebrae are removed, he grafts there a bit of the patient's shinbone. After the operation the patient is confined to bed for five or six weeks, during which time the splinter knits firmly with the vertebrae and forms a bony ridge where the vertebrae has been eaten away by the disease. When the patient is well enough treatment by exposing the affected parts to the sun is begun. This method of curing Pott's disease has been adopted in Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, and physicians in institutions all over the country are becoming interested. The Sea Breeze Hospital is conducted by the New York association for improving the condition of the poor.

WHAT HE LOOKS FOR

Expects Borden to Take Action Along Lines Laid Down By Liberal Chief—Sir Richard Does Not Believe in German Peril

(Canadian Press) Victoria, B. C., Sept. 13.—That Canada shall without delay proceed with the execution of a strong and adequate naval policy on the lines laid down by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but further developed and expanded by the creation of an efficient Pacific unit, is British Columbia's expectation from Premier Borden and his government, according to Sir Richard McBride, the provincial premier. "We have been opening up and developing the province all along the coast line," said Sir Richard in an interview, "and we want to insure our work by protecting it. To our mind the acute menace to western Canada is a much more serious and substantial danger than the German peril to England. I regard this German peril as an exceedingly unfortunate ill-considered exploitation. As to a direct monetary contribution, we have been making it for some time. If emergency arises and the Canadian government contributed thirty, forty or fifty million dollars, we would not object. Our people would approve the action."

The search is extended to the village, and also to Fall River, Mass., where it has been learned since the finding of Jack Grace's body that William Grace has a wife and child living. The body of Jack Grace was found on Wednesday night under a couch in a dining room in Walden with the head crushed in. The weapon used will go to Halifax, and an old meat cleaver. He was murdered on Saturday night and the body remained hidden in the club room four days.

JOHNSON ONCE TRIED TO PUT END TO LIFE

Says He Has Brain Fever and Had it When He Fought Jeffrie

TALKS OF WIFE'S DEATH

Puglist Says Mrs. Johnson and He Were Happy, But She Was Despondent at Times and Twice Before Attempted Suicide

(Canadian Press) Chicago, Ill., Sept. 13.—Coincident with the verdict of a coroner's jury last night, that his wife Etta Johnson, former wife of Clarence Duryea, a well known New York turfman, had committed suicide while temporarily insane, Jack Johnson, negro puglist, made the remarkable statement that he believed himself to be suffering from brain fever. He also announced that as a result of his white wife's tragic death, he would forsake the prize ring forever. "I believe I have brain fever now," he said, after relating the circumstances of his wife's suicide. "At the time I fought Jeffrie, I was suffering from brain fever, and there is still something wrong. When I returned from Reno and broke down and drank some wine, my collapse completely and I was not myself at all. "I have not been myself for a year, although it has not generally been known. "At that time I tried to choke myself to death. My wife chased me and took care of me. She nursed me tenderly for hours. I wanted to go to a sanitarium. My wife would not let me. She insisted on nursing me. She did this night and day for a year until finally she broke down herself. "I believe it was her mental state that caused her to kill herself. She was apparently happy, and a few days ago I ordered a new set of jewels for her. I talked with her for a few hours before she shot herself. We talked of the jewels and she was as happy as a child. "Reports that I had trouble with my wife do me no injury," sobbed Johnson. "I thought the world of her and she thought the world of me. We had one little sign like all married couples, but nothing serious. Testifying as to his wife's suicidal mania, Johnson said: "During the last two years, she often told me she was tired of living. She tried twice before to kill herself. Once she attempted to jump out of a window in a London hotel and before that she tried to take her life by leaping from a train out west. I did everything I could to make her happy and spent money on her lavishly, but most of the time she seemed despondent. DISASTER IN ENGLAND SENDS MEN TO CANADA

Farmers Who Have Suffered From the East Anglian Floods Realizing What is Left and Leaving for the Dominion

London, Sept. 13.—As far as Canada is concerned the chief result of the floods at Norwich and other districts is that the unfortunate farmers who have had such a terrible visitation are deciding to take what remains and go to the dominion. The Canadian government officials who are campaigning for men find in events such as this good opportunities for the extension of their propaganda which they are quick to seize. Another note of interest is that Canadian wheat will be more than ever urgently required and huge tracts of the record crop of the west will be made. Louis Hesselin, Halifax Hotel Proprietor, Dead. Halifax, N. S., Sept. 12.—(Special)—Louis Hesselin, one of the best known citizens of this city, and for many years one of the proprietors of the Halifax Hotel, died this morning, aged sixty-eight years. A HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR

A Little Sage and Sulphur Makes Gray Hair Vanish—A Remedy for All Hair Troubles

Who does not know the value of Sage and Sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, Sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair.

The Weyth Chemical Company of New York put out an ideal preparation of this kind, called Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, in which Sage and Sulphur are combined with other valuable remedies for keeping the hair and scalp in clean, healthy condition.

If your hair is losing its color or constantly coming out, or if you are troubled with dandruff or dry, itchy scalp, get a fifty-cent bottle of Weyth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, use it according to the simple directions, and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in the appearance of your hair.

All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. Agent—Wasson's—100 King Street.

LA MARQUISE de FONTENAY

General Pole-Carew Now Heir to Baronetcy—The Man Who Captured Rogers—Died Before Peerage Patent Was Made Out

Through the death of Sir Edmund de la Pole and the succession of his brother, Frederick, a confirmed bachelor in the neighborhood of seventy, General Sir Reginald Pole-Carew (whose name is pronounced Pool-Carey) becomes next heir to the ancient baronetcy of De la Pole of Shute and to the Shute House estate, near Axminster in Devonshire.

The general is celebrated as the best looking man of his rank in the army, while his wife, Lady Beatrice Pole-Carew, eldest daughter of the Marquis of Ormonde, commander of the Royal Yacht Squadron, is famous for her beauty; in addition to which she possesses, by inheritance from her grand-uncle, Lord Lismore, an independent income of $100,000, and a fine old place in Tipperary, known as Shanahilly Castle.

Contrary to what has been stated, the family of De la Pole, while very ancient, has no connection with the De la Poles who in the middle ages were Dukes of Suffolk, nor who were closely allied to the Plantagenets and so furnished a prince to the church, in the person of Cardinal Pole, that able Legate to Queen Mary.

Richard Carew was godson of the virgin queen, and the portrait of herself which she presented to him hangs in the great dining room. Antony, the first of the name and arms of her family in addition to his own. He was secretary of state for the home department in the Pitt administration of George III's time, and the general is his great-grandson.

The present head of the family is Sir Henry Carew, tenth baronet of his line. He has been rather badly treated in the matter of inheritance by his uncle and predecessor, who bequeathed the ancestral estate of Hacombe, which then comprised Doomsday Book, to his two daughters, old maids, who may or may not have sufficient family feeling to restore it by will to a son.

The Carews of Hacombe enjoy as such exemption from taxation as a reward for virtue of a royal warrant to John Carew, who was commander of the army sent to Italy by Henry VIII, and his ally Francis I. of France, to rescue Pope Clement VII. from the prison into which he had been cast by Emperor Charles V.

Adjoining the old manor is an equally ancient church, singularly decorated by Sir Nicholas Carew, who flourished in Henry V's reign, managed to win his bride, a daughter of Sir Hugh Courtenay, by means of a wager that he would swim his horse a mile out to sea in Torbay, where the tide was very fast, and back again. In memory of this feat he nailed the four iron shoes of the horse to the door of the church, and two of them are in place to this day, together with the rusted remnants of the other pair, attached to the spot of the British officer who ran him to earth with a party composed of one white "son-com," and eight Soudanese soldiers.

For many months the chase went on, extending from the Abyssinian frontier right across the Dark Continent to the Belgian Congo, the pursuers eventually overtaking Rogers, and endeavoring vainly to save his life by cutting out the bullet from his wound.

The officer in question, Captain Charles Vincent Fox, is an Irishman who, after sculls on the Thames at Henley, a double orn, won the diamond and the Wingfield sculls on the Thames at Henley, a double honor that has rarely fallen to an amateur. He also won the middle-weight officers' boxing championship of the army, and in 1897 played three-quarter back on the London-Irish football team. In 1908 he was attached to the Egyptian army, as inspector of the Mougalla province of the Sudan, and as such undertook the pursuit of Rogers.

His elder brother won the Victoria Cross by heroism under fire in Southern Nigeria, while another brother, who was killed at Omdurman, had captured the Dublin University boat club.

King George, on the occasion of his last birthday, bestowed a peerage on Sir Thomas Borthwick, head of a great Liverpool and Manchester concern which virtually controls the trade from the livestock market in Australia to the "dead-meat" market in Great Britain, the firm owning enormous ranches in the Antipodes.

Some time always elapses before the patent of a peerage can be made out, and receive the sovereign's signature, and the great seal of the realm. Sir Thomas died suddenly, before these formalities had been accomplished, and now King George has caused a new patent to be prepared, be-

"Come-Back" People

Now run in any time and use the 'phone again. You know I'm perfectly willing to have you

That sounds like a very cordial invitation, doesn't it? And of course the woman who received it thanked the giver with equal cordiality. But after we had passed out of earshot, she turned to me and said, "But just the same I shan't use that telephone unless I absolutely have to, as I did today."

"Why?" I inquired with some surprise, "she said she was perfectly willing." "Yes," said the lady, "I know she did, but she's the kind of woman who says that sort of thing before your face and then talks about you behind your back if you take her at her word. How do I know? Because I've heard her talk about people that way. You want to be careful how you take favors from 'come-back' people."

Do you recognize the woman she was talking about? I don't mean in the flesh, but in the spirit. I am sure you must recognize her as certainly a very common type. Perhaps your neighbor belongs to this class, and neighborly-wise you borrow some coffee from her. She is delighted to lend it, she assures you. "Now don't hurry about returning it," she says, as you depart, "I have plenty, there's really no need of your returning it at all." For some reason or other you take her at her word and do not hurry yourself unduly about cancelling the loan. Of course you are doing this because of her kindly reassurances. But it is a serious safety. For your neighbor is going about the neighborhood saying how slack you are in returning things you have borrowed, and then criticizes you if you accept them, used to frequently urge you to make use of her automobile. Of course you never intend to accept, but one day she comes to your door and asks a small favor in this line. She grants it, but in such an ungracious manner that I would have given anything to bring happiness to her. She is ungracious under any circumstances, but to criticize anyone for accepting favors which you have deliberately lured them into asking is just a bit worse.

Of course there may be some instances of this variety, but offhand I can't think of any.

THE VALUE OF PLAYGROUNDS

Miss Ingram cited the fact that last year nineteen cities alone spent more than four and one-half millions and more than four thousand play leaders were employed to bring happiness to the young men and women.

In 1908 the Massachusetts Legislature passed a law to the effect that every town in the state of a population of 10,000 or more should vote on the question of providing playgrounds for recreation and physical education of the minors of such city.

All but two cities voted to have playgrounds supported by public taxes. During the last twelve years New York city has expended about twenty millions on its playgrounds. Louisiana's playground work, established twelve years ago, now includes eighteen playgrounds.

The necessity of the playground as a means of developing citizenship has become a recognized principle of modern education. The playground is a proper promotion of play the strength of future generations.

Playground service must meet the needs not only of the children but of the growing boys and girls, the young men and young women, especially those who must leave school and go to work soon as they reach the legal working age.

THE EUCCHARISTIC CONGRESS

Vienna, Sept. 12.—The twenty-third international eucharistic congress is likely to establish a record in the number of delegates in attendance, 8,000 tickets have been sold to foreigners as compared with 12,000 at the Montreal congress. It is estimated that not less than 120,000 visitors are here, and the hotels are so crowded that visitors are glad to obtain sleeping quarters in the hotel bathrooms. Many thousands of pilgrims have found shelter in 400 school houses. In the course of the city hall today, 12,000 persons were supplied with dinners, cooked in the military field kitchen.

Among the speakers at the festival gathering in the Rotunda this afternoon was Mr. Ranner, vice-general of Mill, his subject being the Council of Trent. Mr. Ranner declared that the Reform decrees of Pope Pius regarding daily communion and the first communion of children, contained nothing new, but were only the modern adoption of principles already formulated by the Council of Trent.

Daily Hints For the Cook

USING GOLD-POTATOES Two or three cold potatoes cut up, one or two slices of stale bread slightly soaked in milk. Break up and add to the potatoes, then beat up two eggs and pour over all. Fry until the eggs are firm in either a little butter or best dripping.

Put up six or seven raw potatoes, soak half an hour in cold water. Dry and fry brown in a small amount of best drippings or lard. Keep them covered and stir occasionally to prevent burning.

NUT CREAM CAKES. Two rounding tablespoons butter, 12 pint pastry flour, 12 pint water, 3 eggs. Filling—One-half pint mixed nuts, yolks of 2 eggs, 12 cup powdered sugar, 1 teaspoon coffee extract. Put the butter and water over fire and when boiling add the flour quickly. Stir until you have a smooth soft dough. Take from the fire and, when cool, add 1 egg without beating. Mix until smooth, then drop in uncooked egg and beat again, then add the third, beat until rather soft and smooth. Drop by teaspoons on a shallow greased baking pan, bake with a moderate oven about 12 hour, until the cakes are light and crisp. While they are baking, blanch and chop the nuts fine. Beat the yolks of the eggs with the powdered sugar until very light, add the nuts and a dash of black coffee, add a teaspoon of coffee extract. When the cakes are done make an incision in the side, fill and dust with powdered sugar. These will keep nicely for several hours, but are not good next day.

BOSTON GIRL WALKS 96 MILES IN 36 HOURS

Boston, Sept. 11.—Mildred Belknap, a 16-year-old Dorchester girl, has just completed a walk of 96 miles in 36 hours, a record which exceeds that of 108 miles in 18 hours, made by Miss Eleanor Sears in her famous tramp along the Pacific coast.

With her father, Miss Belknap started from Boston in the morning and before daylight they had covered the distance to East Thompson, Conn., 34 miles. On the following day they walked back as far as Medway, where they boarded a car for Boston. Miss Belknap said that she was willing to walk all the way home, but that her father preferred to ride.

Sweetens Your Stomach, Clears Your Head and Thoroughly Cleanses Your Liver and 30 Feet of Bowels of Sour Bile, Foul Gases and Clogged-up Waste

All those days when you feel miserable, headachy, bilious and dull are due to torpid liver and sluggish bowels. The days when your stomach is sour and full of gas, when you have indigestion; the nights when your nerves twitch and you are restless and can't sleep could be avoided with a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs. Isn't it foolish to be distressed when there is such a pleasant way to overcome it?

Give your inactive liver and ten yards waste-clogged bowels a thorough cleansing this time. Put an end to constipation. Take a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs tonight, sure, and just see for yourself by morning, how gently but thoroughly all the sour bile, undigested fermenting food and

You simply can't have your liver inactive and your thirty feet of bowels constipated with sour, decaying waste matter and feel well. The need of a laxative is a natural need, but with delicious Syrup of Figs you are not drugging yourself. Being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it can't injure.

COAL COMPANY HOUSES POPULATION OF 13,200

Some Interesting Facts From Census Taken at the Cape Breton Mines

(Gloucester Gazette.) The Dominion Coal Company have recently completed a census of their houses at the mines from which, by the courtesy of the management, a Gazette representative has been enabled to glean some interesting particulars.

The number of single dwellings totals 2,300, in addition to which the company owns a large number of boarding houses, hotels, and living shacks.

The families of the householders are fairly evenly divided into boys and girls, but the balance lies with the boys, who number 3,354 compared with 3,054 girls.

Good-bye to Sweetheart All Right, Says Judge

Philadelphia, Sept. 13 - According to Magistrate Scott, it is no crime to kiss a girl when in the streets of Philadelphia.

NOT CRIME TO KISS IN STREET

Philadelphia, Sept. 13 - According to Magistrate Scott, it is no crime to kiss a girl when in the streets of Philadelphia.

Why, this boy has committed no crime," said the magistrate. "Things have come to a pretty pass when a man cannot kiss his girl in the street. If this keeps on it will be high time for the young people to move out and the crippled and feeble minded to move in."

Where do you think a fellow ought to kiss his girl? Down in a big cave? If a girl is good enough to be kissed she ought to be kissed out in the open, so that everybody can see it, and no one likes to do it and see it more than I."

He discharged Luders forthwith.

Rameses II, King of Egypt, Figures in Love Venture With Shepherds as Rival

A pretty story of love and adventure in the far distant boundaries of old Egypt will be shown next week at the Gem Theatre, in which several historic characters figure prominently, and which the ancient customs of the natives will be reproduced in all their simplicity or elegance, according to the ran of the characters. It is a double reel production entitled "Rameses, King of Egypt," and deals with his love for a native, who is pledged to Efram, a shepherds boy, while the king intrigues a schemes to win her. The picture is scored a notable success elsewhere.

TOOTING THE HORNS The suggestion that Canada should forthwith take over the management of the affairs of the British Empire may tickle the fancy of certain rampant Tories in this country, who have lately got into the spot-light, and who seem to entertain the notion that the world has been waiting some thousands of years for their arrival on the stage.

ARCHDEACON GRAY HAS A NEWSBOY'S LICENSE

Headquarters will be established in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., where the youngsters may have access to the plunge bath, gymnasium, games and library. Five boys will be appointed as a committee to frame a constitution and by-laws. Archdeacon Gray is to be treasurer.

A feature of the club is the establishment of a permanent fund to assist newsboys in sickness and distress. The newsboys are enthusiastic over the project, and it is expected that fully 125 will have signed their names to the membership roll when the first meeting takes place, early in October. Archdeacon Gray, who was formerly head of the boy scouts here, has a warm place in his heart for the rising generation, "out of which," he says, "might one day be a premier of all Canada."

WORLD'S FOREMOST COMEDY SUCCESS

Tribute to Bunty Pulls the Strings from English and American Critics.

There is one attraction soon to be seen at the Opera House that is awaited with eager anticipation. It is Graham Moffat's greatest of all character comedies, Bunty Pulls the Strings, which has brought the theatrical world to its feet and which is contracted to appear here next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

"Bunty" has been well named the world's greatest comedy success. Our sister provinces of Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and the west have already contracted the Buntyville fever and have repeated the plaudits of New York and London audiences. "Bunty" is a simple play of Scotch humor, life, and what makes it so appealing and so powerful is the strength of its characters. It is not a one-man play, every part is of weight and superbly handled by a specially imported company of Scotch players, the pick of the leading theatres of Edinburgh and Glasgow.

A dramatic treat of such importance is only possible in St. John at rare intervals and those who enjoy the best in theatricals will not be slow to respond to the occasion.

GRIM TALE COMES OUT OF CANADIAN FOREST

Trapper's Death in Hunting Bear — Body Partly Devoured

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 13.—One of the most terrible of the season's tragedies among the trapping fraternity of the Canadian province is commemorated by a humble stake of unpainted pine erected only a few weeks ago over a crude and very small grave in the Alkamina valley, East Kootenay district, by Frank Rides, provincial land surveyor of Vancouver, James Gill, his assistant, and M. R. Kevill manager of the Alkamina Valley Oil Co. The stake has written upon it in pencil this brief inscription:

"EDWARD LINK,
Buried here July 6th, 1912;
Killed in May, on the North Forks, by a bear."

The North Fork returned to the north branch of the Flathead river and flows across the International boundary just east of the main Rocky range. Edward Link—this is the story told by his friend Rides, who gave him burial—had been trapping in the Canadian Northwest about two years. He was a man of popularity, charm and artistic grace. The originality of his black-and-white cartoons and drawings of backwoods scenes was marked and admirable. Early in May he left his two camp comrades and built for himself a snug log cabin near Kishahmena Creek, which debouches into the Flathead still keeping in touch with the "outside" however, through the interchange, by courtesy of passing forest folk, of message with his friends.

Later on his remains were found and details were now conjectured. A bear must have approached the trap, tripped the snare of rope attached to the trigger, and exploded the pellet. The point of the explosion presumably brought Link to the scene, and in approaching he must have again tripped the trigger, falling a victim to mishap. The bullet must have pierced his waist as the holes in the garments testify. Choking the trigger to secure shelter, even if not protection, Link must have dragged himself while dying, into the cabin, and there succumbed. The body in the unbarred shack was exposed to whatever wild beast chanced to wander into the clearing. His mangled remains, winding bear trail in front of the cabin and concluded that Bruin must have found the lifeless body, dragged it through the door and finally gorged upon it.

The bones were collected in a little heap and silently interred, a pile of stones being raised above them, and above the stones the big splinter from a fallen tree was placed. In a smooth-edged portion the inscription quoted was pencilled.

MILLION AND A HALF FOR BIG G. T. P. HOTEL

Edmonton is to have it and Work Will Be Begun in Few Days

Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 12.—One and a half million dollars is the estimated cost of constructing and equipping the Grand Trunk Pacific hotel in Edmonton, upon which work will begin in a few days with a view to having it ready for occupancy in the latter part of 1913. The structure of seven stories with full basement, 185 by 225 feet, will be of steel, concrete reinforced, and stone. The architecture will be of the chateau type, modified to conform to present conditions. There will be 300 sleeping chambers, in addition to several dining halls, parlors and special rooms.

The building will occupy a plot of ground 350 by 400 feet, overlooking the picturesque Saskatchewan river in the heart of the business district, and directly opposite the Edmonton Club house. H. H. Rose, supervising architect, says that for location, style and completeness the hotel will rank with any of its size on the continent.

FACT AND FANCY.
It was the eve of their wedding day and he was bidding her good night.
"Tomorrow, my darling," he whispered softly in her ear, "we begin our journey as bride and bridegroom—pilgrims of life together. Hand in hand we will journey down life's rugged road. We shall need to set out with a glorious equipment of faith and hope and courage, that neither of us may faint or fall by the wayside before the journey is ended. Will we not, darling?"
"Oh, yes, to be sure!" she replied. "Only I am really worried about the train of my dress. It didn't hang a bit nice when I tried it on today. What were you saying, dear?"

FURS WORTH $725,000

Fine Silver Foxes Among Those Brought Into Edmonton

All Shipped to Markets of England, Europe, Russia and States—Trappers Make $1,500 to $2,000 a Season

Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 13.—Seven hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars is the value of the furs brought to Edmonton from the north country and just shipped to London, Paris, St. Petersburg, New York and Boston. The Hudson's Bay heads the list with $725,000 worth of fur, Revillon Brothers have $100,000, the Northern Trading Company reports $100,000 and independent fur traders make up the balance. The skins are of the highest quality and are in the best of condition.

There are several silver fox skins, each valued at from $2,250 to $1,500, and others ranging in value from $500 to $1,000. The catch of fox furs was larger than in former years. The other skins are marten, mink, beaver, fox, bear, deer of various kinds and muskrat. Most of the furs are from the country north and east of Slave lake and the Mackenzie river, and from the Peace River district and the northern portions of the provinces of Alberta and British Columbia.

Indians are the principal hunters at the northerly posts of the trading companies, although some white men are engaged in the business. The average catch for an experienced trapper is valued at from $1,500 to $2,000 a season, though at times the

The Chippewyan Indians, who are the chief hunters for the Hudson's Bay company, made their largest catches in the Great Slave Lake district, where the country is as wild and undeveloped as nature left it centuries ago. There is a fascination about the remote north, which induces only worse its way into the blood, and as a result the white men, who have lived there two or three seasons, find it difficult to leave and live in restricted civilization altogether.

Montreal Gets Next Labor Congress—Yesterday's Proceedings

Quebec, Ont., Sept. 12.—Election of officers and the selection of next year's place of meeting was the business at this afternoon's Dominion Trades and Labor Congress. There was no night session, the evening being given up to a splendid banquet tendered by the local committee to the visitor delegation.

President Walters had no opposition for reelection. Samuel Cook, of Toronto, was elected to succeed him. Other officers elected were: Vice-president, Fred W. Bancroft, Toronto; secretary, Lawrence P. M. Draper; executive committee, J. Brooks, Halifax (N. S.); W. N. Goodwin, Toronto; J. H. McMillan, Montreal; J. P. Dyer, Montreal; J. McKeller, Montreal; Quebec, Bertrand O. Lette, R. Brunet, Montreal; Ontario, W. B. Harter, Guelph; Joe Mack, London; T. Moore, Niagara Falls; Manitoba, H. Taylor, Brandon; H. Strang, Winnipeg; Saskatchewan, Ed. Chikien, Saskatoon; G. Somerville, Moosejaw; G. H. Martin, Regina; fraternal delegates to the Federation of Labor, John Bruce, Toronto; fraternal delegates to the British labor convention, P. M. Drayer, Ottawa; vice-president, Nova Scotia, John J. Purser, Quebec; J. B. Foster, Ontario, Joseph Gilmour, Toronto; Prince Edward Island, left to the executive of P. E. Island; Manitoba, R. A. Rigg, Winnipeg; Saskatchewan, M. A. Miller, Moosejaw; Alberta and British Columbia have affiliated.

A resolution was passed pledging moral support to the Montreal brewers' war in their efforts to get better working conditions. Other resolutions favored a scheme of public buildings or works, and also the raising and equalizing the age limit of labor to members of the Canadian Federation of Labor to Quebec province, and endorsed an appeal to the Dominion government for an eight-hour day and salary increases for mail carriers.

The next session will be held in Montreal, that city beating St. John by the close vote of 99 to 98. Three rivers, Que., Sept. 12.—Try to keep public opinion on your side was the advice of Hon. T. W. Crothers, minister of labor, to members of the Canadian Federation of Labor today assembled here in convention.

"If an appeal," he said, "to find there is so much respect for law and order in this province that you are not proposing any revolutionary measures, the Canadian Federation of Labor today assembled here in convention."

Miss Bertha Hall and brother, George, are visiting their aunt, Miss M. S. Hall, at the latter's home in Great Salmon River this morning.

THE CANADIAN CLUB. The executive of the Canadian Club met yesterday afternoon. The names of several prominent speakers were considered, including those of Dr. George R. Parkin, Rev. Father Gasmon, of Boston, and others and it was decided to communicate with their relative to addressing the club. The view was expressed that the club should be largely represented at the convention in Fredericton next week. This club is entitled to seven delegates who will be announced later, but any member of the club may attend, and as this province has the convention, those present at the executive meeting yesterday were the president, T. H. Bullock; Secretary H. A. Porter, M. E. Agar, Rev. G. Cairling, Richard O'Brien, Andrew Jack, George A. Henderson, A. M. Belding.

THE TORONTO CENSUS

(Times' Special Correspondence) London, Sept. 3.—A correspondent of the "Times" sets out to prove that the last Canadian census was inaccurate and that Toronto, instead of having a population of 276,000 as credited by the Dominion census, really has over 400,000.

This brings to mind the story told by a prominent Toronto man over here who avers that the reason Toronto showed such poor figures was due to the fact that its water rate is based on the number of persons in the family. Naturally it was desired to avoid giving information which might raise the water rate and it was not until the police census, by disciplined local men, was taken, that Toronto was able to take its true position in point of population.

NATURAL GAS FOR SUSSEX. Record—A well known Sussex resident was told by one of the leading officials of the Maritime Oilfields Limited, in a recent conversation, that the company would at once turn its attention to Sussex and the section of country between here and Albert. If satisfactory indications of gas are located here, it is probable that wells will be sunk at this point. If not, then the gas will be piped from the wells here, and sold to consumers en route. The company propose taking initial steps this fall and if this is done, Sussex should have natural gas before 1914. If Sussex is selected for boring purposes, there should be no trouble in piping to St. John at reasonable cost.

SWAT THE FLY. The dangers which follow the advent of the common house fly were described in a most impressive manner last evening by Dr. C. Gordon Hewitt, Dominion entomologist, in a lecture in the Natural History Society room. He described how they carried contagion and spread disease and said they were the more dangerous on account of their great fecundity. Doctor Hewitt gave many reasons why they should be exterminated.

MR. BORDEN'S RETURN

Comment on Minister's Course in England, The Reception Home and the Future

(Halifax Recorder). Premier Borden has returned to Canada after his lengthy visit to England, in the course of which he has done much, talked much, listened well, seen considerable, and taken all in all, has departed highly with dignity and judgment.

Both parties joined in it at Old Quebec, just as both parties joined in the still more magnificent welcome accorded him on his landing this morning in Halifax.

He has not slept for 30 years. Australian Says He Suffers No Inconvenience and Rather Likes It.

Sydney, N. S. W., Sept. 12.—Albert Herpin, of Trenton, Western Australia, is said not to have slept for thirty years.

Mr. Herpin says that he suffers no inconvenience from the prolonged insomnia, and often dreams while he is awake.

He has come to the conclusion that sleep is not necessary to a man, and is delighted at the idea that he has not lost a great part of his life in unconsciousness.

BORDEN'S NAVY POSITION THEN; WHAT OF IT NOW?

Here Are Three Speeches, in 1909 and 1910, in Which He Was Squarely for Canadian Navy, Built in Canada

The naval policy of the Laurier government was outlined clearly and definitely by a resolution introduced into the House of Commons on March 29, 1909.

"In so far as the premier has outlined the lines of the naval defence of this country, I am entirely as one with him, I am entirely of opinion, in the first place, that the proper line upon which we should proceed is that regard to the line of having a Canadian naval force of our own.

So I am one with the prime minister as far as this is concerned. I am also as one with him in the respect that I think the expenditure of money designed for that purpose ought to be under the control of our own parliament, and that necessary provision for our own naval coast, by co-operation and co-ordination with the imperial naval force, we would be rendering a real service to the defence of the empire, and would be doing our duty, not only to Canada, but the empire as a whole.

On the 14th day of October, 1909, Mr. Borden landed at Halifax on his return from England, and in a speech in the House of Commons he reaffirmed his views in these words:—"One governing principle at least should be maintained, namely, that out of our materials, by our own labor and by the instructed skill of our own people, any necessary provision for our own naval defence should be made.

Mr. Borden, however, has remained as dumb as an ox on the naval question, and seems afraid to let out even an inkling of his intentions, while his supporters in Canada have been trying by gifts and cajolery to get the Liberals to forego any criticism of his proposed measure, no matter what it may be.

Now that he has returned he will find many pressing duties confronting him and the cordial and elaborated welcome accorded him on his landing must be interpreted as an expression of sympathy, but as the somewhat formal yet becoming act of a people greeting their government's head.

Both parties joined in it at Old Quebec, just as both parties joined in the still more magnificent welcome accorded him on his landing this morning in Halifax.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER ADDRESSING ELECTORS

(Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Mariville). "If the late administration had consulted its own personal interests, or its own securities, it might not have touched the navy question. It was true that in Quebec there had been much talk against the navy."

"The prime minister has just returned from a three months' sojourn in England, and declares that the question is not yet settled. He must, he says, consult with his colleagues. When his policy is finally announced we will examine it on its merits, and on its merits alone. I will never raise my voice to arouse prejudice on this, or any other question. May my right arm be palsied, may my tongue cleave to my mouth, if I ever raise up discord on this question, in this great Canada of ours."

"On this question, so on all other great national issues, I will do my duty as a Canadian citizen. I have consecrated my life to the Canadian people. In victory and defeat, this has been my policy. Night and day have I worked to this end, and now that I have received a slight setback my aspirations have not changed. My policy ever remains the same."

"All that I ask of Liberals, is that they remain true to their colors. If we remain faithful, the nation will live, and the party will triumph."

SUSPENDED FOR REST OF SEASON
The Halifax Socials meeked one over on the Greeks yesterday afternoon and got away with the game by a score of 9 to 8. Incur was on the mound for the visitors, while Winkler did the bowing for the Greeks. Each team had a bad inning, the Greeks scored eight runs in the fourth, and the Socials seven in the sixth. Both pitchers pitched fairly good ball, however, outside of these innings, but Winkler had the best of it. Sullivan, the visitor's second-seeker, hit a home run with two on bases, the ball being lost in right field. It was a very interesting game with good ball and good batting, some errors and plenty of excitement. The summary:

Table with columns for team names (Socials, Greeks) and statistics (W, L, P, O, A, E). Includes scores for various games and a summary of the season.

The use of automatic stops on railroad systems has been found entirely practicable on the subway system of New York and the tunnels under the Hudson River where they have been experimentally tried in the course of several months have not been known to fail. The general adoption of these devices will eliminate a great number of accidents, as a very large percentage of fatalities on railroads are caused by running past danger signals.

HAVE YOU ONE? It really seems the fashion to have a cold these days. The change of the seasons has been responsible for quite a number of people being afflicted and a prominent druggist said this morning that it looked as though there was an epidemic raging. Many of his customers yesterday and Wednesday, almost all out of five, asked for a cure of cold, quick and certain.

SURPRISE AND PRESENTATION. Taking advantage of the fact that he is soon to figure as a principal in an interesting event, about twenty friends, called upon Thomas M. Cogger, on Wednesday evening, at his home in Haymarket Square, and gave him an agreeable surprise by presenting to him a handsome Morris chair as a token of their esteem. The presentation was made by F. P. Griffith, who, on behalf of those present, heartily congratulated Mr. Cogger and wished him every happiness.

FEAST ENDS TODAY. The observance of the Jewish holiday, Rosh-Hashono, will end this evening and six of the business will resumed and the festivities will cease. There will be special services again this evening in the synagogue in Carleton street and Hazen avenue. Rev. Rabbi Bernoah in the latter building tonight will deliver a sermon in Yiddish on "Prayer and Repentance," and in the former Rev. B. M. Amur will speak on "Crime in the Town." There have been large congregations in attendance at all the services since the opening of the ceremonies in both synagogues.

TWO WILLS PROBATED

Bequests by James R. Ferguson and James Hunter

In the probate court today, the will of James R. Ferguson, retired jeweller, was proved. He gives his house and lot at 180 Queen street to his daughter Helen L. Skinner; to his grandson George F. Skinner $1,000 and the rest of his estate to his wife Sarah H. Ferguson for life and after her death to his daughter. He nominates his wife, his son-in-law Frank Skinner, merchant, and his nephew Clarence H. Ferguson, barrister-at-law, executors and they were severally sworn in such. Real estate is $8,400, personal estate $9,000. Clarence H. Ferguson is proctor.

The will of James Hunter, electrician and locksmith, was also proved. He directs that his lot in Fernhill be placed in perpetual care. He then gives $100 each to his sister Margaret Sweet; to his niece Blanche McDonald, and to his niece Annie McDonald. The rest of his estate he gives to his wife for life and after her death to his children, Edna J., Catherine M., James R. and Douglas Y., and he nominates his wife, Jane Hunter, as his executrix. She was sworn in as such. Real estate is $5,770; personally $2,200, total under $8,000. Stephen W. Palmer is proctor.

THE LAST TWO BASE-BALL GAMES OF THE SEASON

The Marshalls will line up against the fast Lynn team on the North End grounds this afternoon. The game will start at 3:15 and a good crowd is expected. Either Jordan or Winter will be sent in to do the pitching for the Greeks, and McDovern will be back in the game at the receiving end. The Lynn boys will have their best team on the field, and will make the Greeks hustle to come out ahead in the score column. The fans, it is hoped, will turn out in good numbers to see these games, as the Marshalls management are going to considerable expense to bring the Lynn team here. Tomorrow's game will end the season.

MORE MACHINERY FOR COURTENAY BAY WORK

Hugh Dolney, of Montreal, who is here in connection with the work being performed by the Courtenay Construction Company at East St. John, said this morning that he was very well pleased with the progress which has been made since his last visit a couple of months ago. If the weather conditions favorable he expects still better results to be accomplished. As the scope of the operations extend they have more room for their equipment and they are now bringing in some more machinery to put on the big job.

NO MORE DOGS DEAD TODAY; DIFFERENCE OVER POISONING

Some Say Accident, But General Belief is Design, and There Will be Investigation

So far as could be learned this morning there were no new cases of dog-poisoning in the North End today. Ten in a day is an accident, at all events. Conflicting opinions are entertained in regard to the matter of the poisoning, some saying that the dogs were purposely put out of the way by the deliberate use of poison, while others, the North End police department in particular, are of opinion that the animals were about the public dump in Elm street and there ate something which spoiled their health.

The police assert that most of the dogs which died yesterday afternoon were seen about the dump during the day, and that they probably picked up pieces of rat biscuit or other poison of a similar nature, which would account for their death. The owners of most of the dogs, however, hold different views, and are determined to sid the matter to the bottom in an endeavor to learn if possible whether it was intended that their pets should be destroyed.

A physician said this morning after learning of the circumstances of the death of one of the dogs that it had swallowed strychnine. It is the intention to have an analysis of the stomach of one or two.

Some of the dogs lost were valued highly by their owners, being thoroughbreds and prize-winners. A three months' old collie pup owned by J. E. Quinn, Main street, was only recently brought here from Montreal, and had won the admiration of many at the recent Kennel Club show. This dog had not been near the Elm street dump during the day and had been away from the house only about fifteen minutes before it was noticed to be very sick. It died in a few moments. Wm. Gillen lost two fine show spaniels which he prized highly, and Arthur Connors lost a good dog, S. Logan Victoria street, and John Hughes of Main street also had been poisoned and there were others as well of which are still unidentified.

In all there were about ten.

The wholesale poisoning has aroused much indignation among the members of the Kennel Club and every precaution is being taken by them to guard their animals. There is strong feeling arising over the matter.
