Accident at Bell Island

BRYANT'S COVE MAN LOSES LIFE.

A fatal accident occurred at Bell Island on Saturday, July 20th, when the cribbing of the coal dump at the Dominion Pier collapsed and one man was killed and several others injured.

While the men were engaged in discharging coal from the S.S. Watuka at the Dominion Pier, the cribbing of the coal dump suddenly gave way and when examination was made it was found that Robert Yetman, of Bryants Cove, aged 49, was found with life extinct, whilst Patrick Walsh and Abraham Taylor, both of Cupids, were seriously injured and are now in a critical condition at the Company's Hospital on the Island. John Morris, Gregory Long, Albert Lewis, M. Cummings, A. J. Bishop, and Robt. Saunders (of Shearstown) were also injured.

Robert Yetman, who was married and had a family of six young children, was well-known by many on the Island and in this Bay. The remains were brought to Bryants Cove for interment.

Cricket

A meeting of Cricket enthusiasts from the various Conception Bay towns was held at Harbor Grace on Wednesday night, July 20th, to discuss the rules and regulations to govern the cricket games which they propose playing this season. The team winning the championship for three successive years will be the owners of the Jones' Cup, which has been generously donated by Mr. W. T. Jones, Supr. of the Hotel, Harbor Grace.

The officers of the Conception Bay Towns League are W. T. Jones, Hon. President, Rev. Higgitt, President, M. J. Hawker, Vice-President, A. F. Wilson, Secretary. Mr. S. R. Dawe will be captain of the Bay Roberts Team and Mr. J. W. Daw, vice-Captain.

The following is the schedule of games to be played:—
July 23rd—Hr. Grace vs. Bay Roberts, at Bay Roberts.
July 30—Bay Roberts vs. Carbonear at Carbonear.
Aug. 6—Carbonear vs. Bay Roberts at Bay Roberts.
Aug. 13—Hr. Grace vs. Carbonear at Hr. Grace.
Aug. 20—Hr. Grace vs. Bay Roberts at Hr. Grace.
Aug. 27—Carbonear vs. Hr. Grace at Carbonear.

We hope that after the league series have been played a game will be arranged between a combined Conception Bay Towns Team and a team from St. John's.

REV. A. G. BOWERING AT ST. ANDREW'S.

From the notes of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, St. John's, July 20th, we publish the following in reference to Rev. A. G. Bowering, who formerly belonged to Coley's Point.

"We are pleased to announce that the services of Rev. Allan Bowering have been secured for supply during the ministers holiday. Mr. Bowering is a Newfoundlander who has made good in the United States. He is at present Minister of Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, Elizabeth, N.J. A few weeks ago he was called to the First Presbyterian Church, Boston, one of the largest and most influential churches in the denomination. Mr. Bowering is regarded as one of the strongest of the younger men in the Presbyterian Church, and we have been exceedingly fortunate in securing his services. We bespeak for him a hearty welcome, and we trust that large congregations may wait upon his ministry. Those in need of his services will communicate with the Clerk of Session, Mr. R. A. Templeton."

NAMES OMITTED

The following names were omitted from the note of thanks, which was published from the husband and family of the late Marion Shears Kelly. For wreaths: Mrs. John Grant and Mrs. Edward Sparkes, Boston, Mass.

Tragic Accident to Express

MAILMAN AND FIREMAN KILLED.

The derailment of No. 2 Express, incharge of Conductor Nebuccet near Cape Ray, Wednesday morning, July 23rd, resulted in the death of Fireman R. Penny and mail clerk Wm. Perchard. The eastbound express made up of two sleepers, one day coach, one dining car, two second class passenger cars and two baggage and mail cars left Port aux Basques at 9 a.m. Wednesday, with 60 first and 30 second class passengers. When about one mile west of Cape Ray the engine tender and baggage car left the rails and tumbled over the embankment. The two second class cars also left the rails but remained upright. Fireman Penny and Mail Clerk Perchard, who were riding in the engine at the time, were killed outright. Engineer Lawlor was badly scalded by escaping steam and brakeman Osmond was also caught in the wreckage but his injuries are not serious. The remainder of the train crew and all the passengers escaped without injury. Dr. Barlow of Channel rushed to the scene as quickly as possible and rendered any aid that was necessary. Mail Clerk William Perchard is the only son of Mr. R. Perchard, St. John's, was in his 31st year and leaves a wife and two children. Fireman Penny belongs to Bay of Islands and is married.

Tuesday's westbound express was held at St. George's and passengers transferred to the S.S. Kyle about midnight, the train then continued on to take passengers from the derailed train and is due at Briggs Junction at midnight to-night (Friday). The express will bring the remains of the body of the late John Perchard to be interred in St. John's. The remains of the late Fireman Penny will be interred at Hubbemouth, his native town.

MR. J. P. DUNN, SUPREME AGENT, VISITS BAY ROBERTS

Mr. John P. Dunn, Supreme Agent of the Knights of Columbus, paid a visit to this town on July 14th, for the purpose of addressing the members of Avalon Council. Mr. Dunn, who is over the jurisdiction of Canada and Newfoundland, is a brilliant speaker and one of the ablest orators in the Order, gave an interesting discourse on the principles of the order to a large number of members on Sunday afternoon. At the close of his discourse a hearty vote of thanks was proposed by State Deputy Bro. Jones and seconded by Rev. Dr. Murphy. Bro. Dunn expressed himself as delighted with Nfld. and hopes to have the pleasure of visiting us again soon.

WEDDING BELLS.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at St. Stephen's Church, Fall River, Mass., on Saturday, June 28th, when Muriel, daughter of the late Mr. Thomas Adams and Mrs. Adams, of St. John's, Nfld., and Jack, son of Capt. Adrian and Mrs. Fisher, of this town, were united in bonds of Holy Matrimony. The bride, who looked very pretty in a powder blue georgette dress, with hat to match, was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. Thomas Day, while her sister, Violet, acted as bridesmaid. After the ceremony the happy couple proceeded to the home of the officiating rector, Rev. E. R. Bailey, formerly of Port de Grave, Nfld., and stayed overnight, returning to Boston, Mass., on Sunday, June 29th. The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful presents consisting of silverware and cheques, which testified to their popularity. Their many friends, both here and abroad join in wishing them a future of complete happiness and prosperity.

L. O. B. A. OUTING.

Saturday, July 12th, was fittingly celebrated by the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association when they surprised one of their members, Mrs. Jas. Sparkes, Shearstown, with a basket picnic. The weather being fine and warm nearly all the ladies made it possible to turn countrywards for a day of merriment. Mrs. Smith, of Vancouver, and Mrs. Finn, of Toronto, and Miss Muriel Sparkes provided the musical programme which was thoroughly enjoyed. The ladies of the Association are especially grateful to Mrs. Sparkes for her hospitality which went to make the day a complete success.

LIFE.

Life is giving, not getting. It is the work that is the joy, not the wages; the game, not the score. Life is doing, not having. It is to gain the peak the climber strives, not to possess.—J. K. Jerome.

On Tuesday evening, July 15th, the Scout Band in charge of Bandmaster Isaac Dawe, displayed a novel idea by serenading on the harbor in a motor-boat owned by Bandsman Aubrey Sparkes. The music sounded beautiful across the water and the Bandmaster and Band are to be congratulated on the treat given the public.

The Church of England and Methodist Sunday School picnics were held on Wednesday last. Excellent weather conditions made many little hearts happy as they enjoyed the wonders of the annual "treat."

LUCY GRAHAM'S SECRET

She gave him her hand mechanically, when he held it out, but it was cold as marble, and lay listlessly in his own, and fell like a log at her side when he released it.

"Pray lose no time in returning to the house," he said earnestly. "I fear you will suffer from this morning's work."

"Suffer!" she exclaimed, scornfully. "You talk to me of suffering, when the only creature in this world who ever loved me has been taken from it in the bloom of youth. What can there be for me henceforth but suffering? What is the cold to me?"

She said, flinging back her shawl and baring her beautiful head to the bitter wind. "I would walk from here to London barefoot through the snow, and never stop by the way, if I could bring him back to life. What would I not do to bring him back? What would I not do?"

The words broke from her in a wall of passionate sorrow; and clasping her hands before her face, she wept for the first time that day.

The violence of her sobs shook her slender frame, and she was obliged to lean against the trunk of a tree for support.

Robert looked at her with a tender compassion in his face; she was so like the friend whom he had loved and lost, that it was impossible for him to think of her as a stranger; impossible to remember that they had met that morning for the first time.

"Pray, pray be calm," he said, "hope even against hope. We may both be deceived; your brother may still live."

"Oh! if it were so," she murmured passionately. "If it could be so!"

"Let us try and hope that it may be so." "No," she answered, looking at him through her tears, "let us hope for nothing but revenge. Good-by, Mr. Audley. Stop, your address?"

He gave her a card, which she put into the pocket of her dress. "I will send you George's letters," she said. "they may help you. Good-by."

She left him half-bewildered by the passionate energy of her manner, and the noble beauty of her face. He watched her as she disappeared among the straight trunks of the firs, and then walked slowly out of the plantation.

"Heaven help those who stand between me and the secret," he thought, "for they will be sacrificed to the memory of George Talboys."

CHAPTER XXIV.

GEORGE'S LETTERS

Robert Audley did not return to Southampton, but took a ticket for the first up-town train that left Wareham, and reached Waterloo Bridge an hour or two after dark. The snow, which had been hard and crisp in Dorsetshire was a black and greasy slush in the Waterloo Road, thawed by the flaring lamps of the gin-palaces and the glaring gas in the butchers' shops.

"What a Young Wife Ought to Know" by Dr. Emma Drake, 293 pages, cloth binding. Price, postpaid..... $1.25

Robert Audley shrugged his shoulders as he looked at the dingy streets through which the Hansom carried him, the cab-man choosing with that delicious instinct which seems innate in the drivers of hackney vehicles—all those dark and hideous thoroughfares utterly unknown to the ordinary pedestrian.

"What a pleasant thing life is, thought the barrister. 'What an unspeakable boon—what an overpowering blessing! Let any man make a calculation of his existence, subtracting the hours in which he has been thoroughly happy—really and entirely at his ease, without one arriere-pensee to mar his enjoyment—without the most infinitesimal cloud to overshadow the brightness of his horizon. Let him do this, and surely he will laugh in utter bitterness of soul when he sets down the sum of his felicity, and discovers the pitiful smallness of the amount! He will have enjoyed himself for a week or ten days in thirty years, perhaps, in thirty years of dull December, and blustering March and showery April, and dark November weather, there may have been seven or eight glorious August days, through which the sun has blazed in cloudless radiance and the summer breezes have breathed perpetual balm. How fondly we recollect these solitary days of pleasure, and hope for their recurrence, and try to plan the circumstances that made them bright, and arrange and predestinate, and dignify with fate for a renewal of the remembered joy. As if any joy could ever be built up out of such and such constituent parts! As if happiness were not essentially accidental—a bright and wandering bird, utterly irregular in its migration; with us one summer's day, and forever gone from us on the next! Look at marriages, for instance, mused Robert, who was meditative in the jolting vehicle, for whose occupation he was to pay six pence a mile as if he had been riding a mustang on the wild loneliness of the prairies. 'Look at marriage,' who is to say which shall be the one judicious selection out of nine hundred and ninety-nine mistakes! Who shall decide from the first aspect of the slimy creature, which is to be the one eel out of the colossal bag of snakes? That girl on the curbstone yonder, waiting to cross the street when my chariot shall have passed, may be the one woman out of every female creature in the vast universe who could make me a happy man. Yet I pass her by—Bespatter her with the mud from my wheels, in my helpless ignorance, in my blind submission to the awful hand of fatality. If that girl, Clara Talboys, had been five minutes later I should have left Dorsetshire thinking her cold, hard and unwomanly and should have gone to my grave with that mistake part and parcel of my mind. I took her for a stately and heartless automaton; I know her now to be a noble and beautiful woman. What an incalculable difference this may make in my life. When I left that house, I went out into the winter day with the determination of abandoning all further thought of the secret of George's death. I see her and she forces me onward upon the loathsome path—the crooked by-way of watchfulness and suspicion. How can I say to this sister of my dead friend, I believe that your brother has been murdered! I believe that I know by whom but I will take no step to set my doubts at rest, or to confirm my fears? I cannot say this. This woman knows half my secret; she will soon possess herself of the rest, and then—and then—"

The cab stopped in the midst of Robert Audley's meditation, and he had to pay the cabman, and submit to all the dreary mechanism of life, which is the same whether we be glad or sorry—whether we are to be married or hung, elevated to the woollenack, or disbarred by our brether benchers or some mysterious technical tangle of wrong-doing, which is a social enigma to those outside the forum domesticum of the Middle Temple.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY PROCEEDINGS

OFFICIAL SYNOPSIS

THURSDAY, JULY 18, 1924.
The House met at 2.45 p.m. pursuant to adjournment.

At 3 o'clock a message from His Excellency the Governor was delivered by the Gentleman Ushe: of the Black Rod commanding the immediate attendance of the Speaker and the House in the Council Chamber. Whereupon Mr. Speaker and the House attended His Excellency in the Council Chamber, and being returned to the Assembly Room, Mr. Speaker informed the House that when in attendance upon His Excellency the Council Chamber, His Excellency had been pleased to approve of his election as Speaker, and that in the name and on behalf of the House of Assembly, he had by humble petition to His Excellency had confirmed to them in as full and ample a manner as they had been heretofore allowed.

Mr. Speaker also expressed his respectful acknowledgments for the high honour which the House had conferred upon him.

Mr. Speaker also announced that whilst in attendance at the Council Chamber His Excellency had been pleased to make a gracious speech to both branches of the Legislature a copy of which, for greater accuracy he had obtained, and would read to the House:

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE.

Mr. President and Hon. Gentlemen of the Legislative Council

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Hon. House of Assembly
I welcome you to this first session of the twenty-sixth General Assembly. The circumstances under which you meet suggest that your deliberations need not be protracted for my advisers have not been in office long enough to permit of that close investigation into public affairs which should precede legislation.

Since the last General Assembly was prorogued three administrations have been appointed and two have resigned, and a general election has resulted in a large majority for my previous advisers. Of my Ministers who sought re-election all except two were returned by acclamation and two who were opposed received largely increased majorities. Many electors being absent at this season at the fishery and elsewhere, Mr. Bonavista District, the two Members who sit for that Constituency will seek reelection at a later date this year.

The Seal Fishery this Spring was a successful one, and the Cod Fishery has commenced hopefully with prospects of satisfactory markets. Unemployment has decreased and upon the whole a new spirit of encouragement is manifested by the people of the Colony.

Field Marshal Haig has recently honoured this Colony by his presence under the auspices of the Great War Veterans' Association, to unveil a beautiful national memorial to the Colony's loyal sons who fell in the Great War, and the manner in which the occasion was marked and the success which attended the efforts of those responsible will never be forgotten. The Field Marshal was accompanied by Lady Haig, and warships of Great Britain, France and the United States of America were present in the Port of St. John's, and officers and crews took part in the ceremony. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Hon. House of Assembly:

Estimates were provided by the preceding Government for the consideration of the last General Assembly. My present advisers have not had sufficient time for a complete consideration of those estimates. They have amended them in some particulars only in the direction of greater economy and propose to submit them as amended with a promise that such further economies shall be made as investigation may prove feasible.

The Enquiry by Auditors into the affairs of several Public Departments instituted by a recent Government, has been steadily pursued, but has not yet reached a stage which would justify an Enquiry on Oath. When such a stage has been reached a Commissioner to hold an Enquiry will be obtained from England. In the meantime investigations on even a wider scale than was proposed will be commenced. Mr. President and Honourable Gentlemen of the Legislative Council Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Honourable House of Assembly It is publicly recognized that the Prohibition Act has not been enforced and that unlawful practices

Hard Work Means Success

There never was a goal worth getting but you must work to attain. You must suffer and bleed for it, cling to your creed for it. Fall and go at it again. Success is no whim of the moment, no crown for the indolent brow. You must battle and try for it, offer to die for it; Lose it yet win it somehow. The Pathway to glory is rugged, and many the heart-aches you'll know. He who seeks to be master must rise from disaster. Must take as he giveth the blow. There's no royal highway to splendour, no short cut to fortune or fame. You must fearlessly fight for it, dare to be right for it, Failing, yet playing the game. The test of man's merit is trouble, the proof of his work a distress. Much as you long for it, man must be strong for it. Work is the door to success.

HEALTH is the greatest blessing in the world. If you are HEALTHY you can work hard but not other wise. HARD WORK means SUCCESS but you will NEVER be able to work very hard without HEALTH and STRENGTH. If you require HEALTH and STRENGTH use

RULES FOR Making Cod Liver Oil For the Guidance of Manufacturers

- 1st. The manager in charge of factory must see that the livers are fresh; that all brown or poor livers are thrown out; that there is no gall bladder attached to any livers.
 - 2nd. The good livers must then be washed in a tub of clean fresh water.
 - 3rd. The pan in which the livers are boiled must be perfectly clean inside, before any livers are placed in it.
 - 4th. Before you start to boil any livers, you must have sufficient steam.
 - 5th. Turn on the steam, and use as much as you need to have or the quantity of livers you have in your pan. Boil until the white scum floats off (which will take about thirty minutes.) Don't forget to stir the livers, and see that those in the bottom and those around the sides are brought into direct contact with the steam all the time.
 - 6th. Turn the steam off, and allow all to settle, not exceeding five minutes, according to capacity of liver boiler.
 - 7th. Then you dip all the oil you can get, which is the finest white oil. Put this oil in a cooling tank made of galvanized iron, and let the oil remain there till next morning. Don't forget to put a straining cloth over the cooling tank before you put any oil in, so that it will catch any bits of blubber; allow to remain 12 or 14 hours or longer if possible, then dip from cooling tank and strain through double calico bag, inside bag to be one inch smaller all around; then strain into a tin skute under the bags, the cask to be at the end of the skute with a funnel, to lead oil into casks, which funnel to be covered with cheese cloth.
 - 8th. When you have dipped the finest oil from the top of the liver boiler pan, take all the blubber from the pan while it is warm. The oil from this blubber is not fit for medicinal purposes.
 - 9th. Then clean your liver pan with warm water and washing powder. Have it bright and clean for the next boiling.
 - 10th. Every bag, cloth, tank, funnel and pan, must be washed only with warm water, soap and water. Soda must not be used.
- The best results for medical oil can only be obtained by the use of tin barrels. Wooden packages generally make the oil dark, and destroy its fine flavor. Keep all oil in barrels in a cool place, and covered from the sun.

REGULATIONS For Salting Scotch Pack Herring

One barrel salt to five and a half barrels herring—Large Fulls
One barrel salt to six barrels herring—Medium Fulls.
One barrel salt to six and a half barrels herring—Matt Fulls.
This amount of salt is for dredging and laying on rows only. It does not take into account that put on the herring before gibbing.
All salt falling off herring in rousing tubs is put on rows as you pack unless very dirty or scaly; in that case, you have to make good the same amount, or otherwise you could not have any fixed rule on salt.

Matt Fulls 10 1/2 inches long Milt or roe
Medium Fulls 11 1/2 inches long Milt or roe
Large Fulls 12 1/2 inches long and upwards Milt or roe
Medium Filling 11 1/2 inches long and upward
Large Filling 12 1/2 inches long and upwards

Filling Fish may be branded as Scotch Cure without the Crown Brand.

No drowned, stale, or scaleless herring can be used as Scotch Pack, nor herring in half frozen state.

The root cause of light salting is to come as near as possible to the pleasing of the palate of the consumer; and if we bear in mind that over three-fourths of all Scotch-Pack Herring are consumed as a tonic before the mid-day meal, just as they come out of the barrel, without any fire cooking, we can see the reason at a glance for the right salting. The herring is dressed by the head and the tail being cut off, the main bone taken out. It is then cut into squares of about one inch, and is served with vinegar and other condiments. This gives power to the stomach to digest the following meal and keeps the consumer in the best of health.

People with bad stomachs please note that the art of cooking and eating right is just as essential as the art of curing; and based on the best medical directions, and with the chemical analysis of the constituent parts of herring as a food ever kept before the consumer, we need not be surprised that the people who eat most herring are the most healthy and efficient.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

with reference to the importation, manufacture and sale of liquor have become general. A measure designed towards more adequate control, and to decrease the many evils which result from law breaking, will be submitted to you.

The excessive cost of public printing and stationery have induced my Ministers to prepare for your consideration a Bill designed to place the matter under the control of the Colonial Secretary with a special official in charge as King's Printer. The work of printing and the supply of stationery it is proposed to tender and contract.

Contracts concerning an enterprise on the Gander River, and a Flour Mill at St. John's, are being reconsidered by my present advisers, and if and when satisfactory to them will be submitted for your consideration.

My Ministers are giving earnest attention to plans for the development of natural resources to give greater employment and stimulate the trade of the Colony, and when these have been completed your approval will be asked.

I commend your deliberations to the guidance of the Almighty for the promotion of the best interests of the people.

MR. H. B. C. LAKE, Member for Burin, moved that a Committee be appointed to draft an Address in Reply to the Speech with which His Excellency the Governor was pleased to open this session of the Legislature. He congratulated the Speaker on being appointed the first Commander of the land and felt sure that His Honor the Speaker will do his duty fairly and impartially. He also congratulated Mr. Walter S. Monroe on becoming the Prime Minister of this Island. The Leader of the House had brought back with him a substantial majority of members and he had no doubt that, under the leadership of Mr. Monroe, the people of this country will not have cause to regret their action. As His Excellency appropriately suggested in the beginning of his speech, in view of all the circumstances, our deliberations need not be protracted. It is unusual to have a session of Parliament at this particular season of the year when so many of our people are engaged in the fisheries and trade of the country, but, under the circumstances, the best possible was done in the best interests of all concerned. A brief session is desirable from the fact that this Government has been too short a time in office to acquire that information about public affairs which is necessary for wise and sound legislation.

The past six months has been extraordinary in the political history of Newfoundland, as during that period not less than three administrations were appointed, two of which resigned; but he felt that the present party is here to stay and that the Leader has the confidence of the whole country.

Mr. Lake was pleased to note that the By-Elections in St. John's resulted so favorably for his colleagues. In the case of Bonavista it was deemed advisable to have the By-Elections postponed until the Fall when the fishermen are home, thus showing how fair Mr. Monroe is, and that no voter will be disfranchised.

He endorsed the remarks of His Excellency that this year's seal-fishing was a successful one and that the codfishery—the mainstay of the country—had opened up so favorably and he trusted that the prices paid for the product in the local and foreign markets will be such as to be remunerative to the fishermen of the country. He went to the Bank fishery as a boy with his father, one of the pioneers of that branch of the fishery, and has seen the fishing business in all its stages and he was sure that this Government was composed of men who will see that no legislation will be introduced that will again handicap this great industry which, in his opinion, means practically everything to Newfoundland; and he trusted that our Fisheries Department, under so capable and experienced a Minister as Captain Winsor, member for Bonavista, will be brought to such a stage of usefulness that everyone will be proud of the fact that we had the Humber, Grand Falls and Bell Island industries and he trusted to have the Gander and other industries opened up within a short time, but still we could not get away from the fact that the codfishery is our main industry.

He endorsed the opinion expressed by His Excellency that unemployment had decreased and that a new era of things had been entered upon, and hoped that able-bodied relief will be a thing of the past, and that the people generally abhor the idea of dole.

He thought that a great advertisement had been given Newfoundland this Summer by the visit of so distinguished a soldier as Field Marshal Earl Haig and that the Great War Veterans, particularly Padre Nangle, deserved congratulations upon the successful manner in which the whole programme in connection with that event had been carried out.

The Estimates for the carrying on of the public service which are now in the hands of the Finance Minister, have due regard for economy and retrenchment and which he thought was necessary to allow the working classes of the country to live in the country.

With reference to the enquiry into the public affairs of the Colony, he said the Government proposed to invite a Commission from England to deal with the matter when the time is ripe.

Regarding the Prohibition Act he thought that the present law was not being enforced and he denounced the script business. He said that the Government proposes to remedy the whole system at an early date. Speaking of the excessive cost of printing he said that the Government proposed to introduce a system of economy and retrenchment by having printing done by tender and contract and that the work will be controlled by the Colonial Secretary with a special official in charge as King's Printer.

He thought it would be good news for the workman to know that legislation will be passed at this session for the manufacture of pulp and paper on the Gander River and the Flour Mill on the South Side of St. John's. These industries, combined with those already mentioned, will give employment to thousands of men when the fisheries are over.

He said that 5,500 men are now engaged on the Humber and that 90 per cent are Newfoundlanders and he had no doubt that as time went on and our people became proficient in all the men employed there will be Newfoundlanders. He was also glad to know that the steel works at North Sydney will not be closed down, as at first thought, because the Besco people have received orders from the Canadian Government for steel rails, this will mean our men now employed will be kept going in full swing.

In conclusion Mr. Lake said he was proud of the honour conferred on him in moving that this Committee be appointed and in particular as representing the electorate of Burin District.

MR. LINEGAR had very much pleasure in seconding the motion made by the honourable member for Burin. He congratulated the Speaker on the high honour conferred upon him and felt confidently certain that he would do honour to himself and to the people of this Dominion. Especially did it give him pleasure in expressing his feelings as a labour representative—the first time a representative of labour had a seat in the legislature in the history of Newfoundland—and that is one particular reason why he felt gratified in expressing his thanks to the Executive Government for asking him to second the motion to-day.

He expressed himself as to whether he would be able to fulfil all that was required of him at the present time because it was such a large contract to fulfil and perform. He expressed himself as being proud that he was the representative of labour in the House. He represented labour in all its forms, organized and unorganized; he represented 300 coopers strong, besides other numerous forms of labour, and he trusted that he would be successful in keeping up to what was expected of him. He assured all those whom he represented in the House that he would do his best for their welfare and benefit. Labour needed a representative in the House. He did not want to see crowds of men coming to the Bar of the House this year, as they did in the past asking for their rights.

He also congratulated the Prime Minister upon the confidence reposed in him by the people and expressed his candid conviction that the electorate of this country had made a wise and important choice in choosing the Hon. W. S. Monroe as the Prime Minister of this ancient Colony.

With regard to the speech from the throne, Mr. Linegar did not propose to deal at length nor could he hope to improve upon what Mr. Lake had said.

With regard to the Seal Fishery Mr. Linegar expressed himself as being pleased to note and say that it had been a successful one. Later on in the session he hoped to say something regarding the conditions on the Seal Fishery and to show why the Seal Fishery is not as profitable to the labourer as it should be. He also said that the fish markets at present are good and he did not think that there is any doubt whatever, but what we will have good results right through. He was also pleased to mention and express his pleasure upon the visit of our distinguished guest Field Marshal Haig. He felt certain that we were all pleased to have him here, and infinitely more pleased to know that the distinguished visitor enjoyed himself to such an extent during his stay amongst us, and that he was given such a rousing and whole-hearted reception.

Regarding estimates Mr. Linegar said that as they had already been covered by Mr. Lake the Hon. Member for Burin he could only reiterate what had already been said by that Hon. Gentleman.

With regard to the motto of cleaning up and keeping clean Mr. Linegar said that it was one of his election pledges all through the campaign and that he meant to stand by it. With regard to the enquiry into the public departments he hoped it would be thorough; and it was only right and proper and also justice that those who have done wrong should be punished to the utmost extent of the law.

With regard to prohibition Mr. Linegar assured the people that something would be done in the very near future to remedy the abuse of the law as it stands at the present time.

With regard to industries in general Mr. Linegar said that it was high time that we had some confidence in ourselves. This country has been demoralized, the spirit of the working people is broken. The working people have been taken in a good many cases from their ordinary work and put in some place where they do not belong and consequently have not been able to do justice to their country in general or themselves in particular, conditions as they at present exist must cease, and a general improvement for the betterment of the working class result.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

In conclusion Mr. Linegar remarked that he would like to refer to the conditions of our workmen which today are appalling. He could say in dealing with this matter that he knew as much about the conditions of the working men in this country as any person in Newfoundland; any person who wants to know under what conditions the labourer works and how in this country he only has to go to the factories and the shops...

To Our Readers

Owing to extreme mechanical difficulties, The Guardian was unable to be published last week. Also due to the power which runs all our machinery being off this (Friday) evening we are late this week. We hope, however, that in the future we will be able to publish The Guardian regularly and on time.

It Paid Him to Advertise

One of the most persistent advertisers in the history of success was Robinson Crusoe. He knew what he wanted—and he put up an ad for one. He hung a shirt on a pole, at the top of his island, that, in the language of the sea, was plain to every sea-faring man. The circulation was small—there was no other medium but Crusoe kept at it, despite the fact that he received no enquiries for a long time. He changed his copy—one garment after another was frayed out—and in the end got what he wanted. Suppose Crusoe had taken down that signal after a time and declared "Advertising doesn't pay," where would he and his story be now?

Put up your signal and keep it there. Crusoe advertised under very discouraging circumstances. You've got a sure thing—it is only necessary to have the patience, persistence and the pluck of Robinson Crusoe—and the good ship "Better Business" will soon tie up "longside your pier." We appreciate the words of praise given us by our advertisers from time to time and we wish to say to our readers that the merchant who thinks enough of your trade to ask for it through the columns of the local paper is sure to give you the best returns for your money.

WEDDING BELLS.

JONES—OAKE.

The S. A. Citadel, of this town, on Wednesday evening, July 2nd, was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Capt. Bramwell Jones, of Moreton's Hr., and Capt. Daisy Oake, daughter of Adj. and Mrs. Oake, were joined in holy matrimony.

Colonel Clford, Territorial Commander, performed the ceremony.

The bride was attended by Ensign Mary Bishop and Capt. Abbott, and the groom by Capt's. Butler and Jennings, who able performed the duties allotted to them. Long before the hour appointed, the Citadel was crowded with friends and well-wishers, for the bride, though here for too short a time, as teacher, has been most successful and has endeared herself to all who know her, and the groom, though almost a stranger, has made many friends here, who will all have a deep interest in their future welfare.

After the ceremony the wedding party drove around the town, returning to the Army School where many friends had a splendid tea prepared. The school was tastefully decorated and a special place arranged for the beautiful presents, numbering about one hundred and twenty-five, which was a glowing testimony to the high esteem of the young couple.

A most enjoyable evening was spent and at a rather late hour, amid hand-shakes and good wishes, the happy company dispersed.

After spending a short time at Moreton's Harbour, home of the groom, Capt. and Mrs. Jones will take up residence at Hant's Hr., their appointment. Their many friends wish them many years of wedded happiness.

PRESENTATION FROM SCHOLARS.

A delightful surprise was given Miss Clarice Wells at her home on Friday night, June 20, when a number of girls representing the pupils of the C. of E. Academy called upon her and presented her with a gold piece, as a token of their affection and esteem. It was indeed gratifying to Miss Wells to know that her work, so untrifling and willingly given, had been appreciated in such a way by the scholars themselves.

In replying, Miss Wells said that the joy of service in the C. of E. Academy was reward enough for her, by daily acts of kindness, the pupils had made school-life a pleasure. The evening was spent in games after which refreshments were served and the scholars took a reluctant leave of their former teacher.
