No. 11 will leave Amherst for Painsec at 6.30 Lungs beyond any other medicine. The most dangerous affections of the Pulmonary Organs yield to its power; and cases of Consumption, cured by this preparation, are publicly known, so remarkable as hardly to be believed, were they not proven beyond dispute. As a remedy it is adequate, on which the public may rely for full protection. By curing Coughs, the forerunners of more serious disease, it saves unnumbered lives, and an amount of suffering not to be computed. It challenges trial, and comvinces the most sceptical. Every family should keep it on hand as a protection against the early and unperceived attack of Pulmonary Affections, which are easily met at first, but which become incurable, and too often fatal, if neglected. Tender lungs need this defence; and it is unwise to be without it. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, Cherry Pectoral is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued from premature graves, and saved to the love and affection centred on them. It acts speedily and surely against ordinary colds, No. 13 will leave Amherst for Painsee and

JOE BOGAN-IN MEMORIAM.

It was a darksome windy night,
And rain and sleet came terring down
When from the outskirts of the town,
Joe Bogan came home *stiff and tight.

A shocking hat smiled on his head, And several tears lay on his cheek; In vain he, must ring, tried to speak, But speech from him long since had fled.

But speech from him tong since had ned.

His coat lay mildly on his back:

His boots were t owhides rudely made:

The men who found him gently laid

Him on a spike, then called a hack.

They walfzed him up a flight of stairs,

Then hastened to the Pharmacy,

And there they purchased senna-tea.

And left him to his own affaire.

The morning dawned, and with the 'sun' Joe Bogan tried in vain to rise; His wife prepared a sweet surprise, And shot him with a wooden guo.

She banged him on the head and nose. Until a stream of claret flowed: And with a broom his hair she mowed, And put a corn between his toes.

With grief poor Bogan that night died:
He drinks no more pale brandy cold,
Nor takes delight in whiskey old,
But in a hearse he took a ride.

MORAL.

Pray do not heed this warning late:
I ask thee, lerd to it an ear:
Give drinking up, renounce thy beer,
Else on a bier will be thy fate.
TENNYSON.
