NO SERIOUS BREAK IN RANKS

Needed Assistance Is Provided High Price of Coal is Not Men's Fault.

New York Sept. 21.—Before a mass meeting of 10,000 workingmen, in Madison Square, last evening, John Mitchell declared that the striking anthracite mine workers will remain out all winter, if necessary to gain their end, and are in a position to do so.

"After four weary months," he said, "the miners stand as strong as when the strike began. I want to say to then decided that we were receiving you, and to the American people, that such wages as an American workingthe miners never will return to the mines until they are treated as American workingmen should be and thanks to the generous assistance given them by you and other American working-men, they can and will stand out all winter if necessary to win this fight."
Mr. Mitchellinad arrived from Wilkesbarre at 4:30 in the afternoon and spent nearly all the time until the mass meeting at the Ashland House in conference with Samuel Gompers and local labor leaders.

To them, and to a Herald reporter he made a statement even stronger than in his speech at the mass meeting.
"We shall win," he said. "There is not a break in our ranks of any importance and there is not going to be one. The miners are determined, and, fortunately, are in a position where they can hold out for a year longer if it is necessary. We are receiving plentiful assistance from all over the country, including New York, for which we are devoutly thankful, and if it con-tinues—as we have every right to believe it will-there is no reason why we cannot hold out indefinitely."

Mr. Mitchell was accompanied to this ers, and Louis N. Hammerling, general agent of the United Mine Workers' Journal, who is considered by Mr. Mitor their agents so far as he knows.

chell to be one of his ablest lieutenants, had preceded him by a few hours. He was met here by Herman Robinson, organizer of the American Federation of Labor in New York and secretary of the relief committee for this city, and by other labor leaders. Their talk for the most part was in regard to measures of redief and the best means of arousing the sympathy and holding it of the workingmen in this

Behind him stood Henry George, who was loudly cheered as he took his place on the truck. Mr. Mitchell said:

"Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen: I feel that I might with propriety also address you as fellow victims of the heartless crusade of the coal trust against American workingmen," and for several minutes he could say no more for the applause. "Had the coal trust known four

VICTIM AN ART MAN'S WIFE

She Had Only Been Married Two Years, but Was Despondent Over Her Health.

New York, Sept. 21.-Mrs. A. Stapeling Spiridon, wife of Ludwig de B. Spiridon, a well-known art collector, jumped overboard from the French liner Touraine in midocean on Wednesday and was never seen again. Mrs. Spiridon was a first cabin passenger, occupying cabin No. 189. When the snip arrived yesterday from Havre, the sad event had cast a gloom over a voyage otherwise unusually pleasant over calm seas.

At twelve minutes to 11 on Wednes-day evening, Yves Le Pennee, the lookout in the crow's nest, saw the woman in the moonlight clambering forward over the chains.

Divining her purpose, Pennee gave a cry of alarm, and Mrs. Spiridon, seeing she was pursued, sprang forward to the bow, stumbling as she went. On the port bow she poised for the plunge, but her foot caught on the rail, and in falling her head struck the shelving bulwarks. She tumbled outboard, however, and with a cry struck the water.

Automatic self-lighting life-buoys were thrown over, and the liner was turned back to where their lights glimmered in the distance, but no sign of Mrs. Spiridon was discovered. It is believed she passed alongside of the ship and was struck by one of the huge propellers.

Mrs. Spiridon was but 23 years old. She had been married only two years and had no children. Both she and her husband had been traveling in Europe for the last year. Some months ago, while in Switzerland, Mrs. Spiridon was poisoned by eating fruit. A swelling tormed on her throat, and became so serious that an operation was necessary. This was very painful and oc-cupied some hours.

In her last letter to her mother, Mrs. Annie C. Wilbur, of Washington, D. C., the unfortunate woman said that there were still two lumps in her neck, which annoyed her greatly. She had been taking a course of medicated baths at a resort in Switzerland since the operation, but these had evidently not had the desired effect.

Mr. Spiridon is wealthy and owns a handsome villa in Nice, where he had lived during the last year with his This was Mrs. Spiridon's second trip to Europe. She was fond of ocean travel, and had written of her expec-

At the pier Mrs. Spiridon's brotherin-law, D. B. Spiridon, who resides at the Hotel Lafayette Brevoort, was horrified by the news. He immediately left for Washington to notify Mrs. Spiridon's mother, Mrs. Annie C. Wilbur, for whom and for her husband the dead woman left letters. Mr. and Mrs. Spiridon have been

EXIT ELECTRICAL TRUST TWO SERIOUS The Combine Dissolved—Double

TWO G. T. R. TRAINMEN KILLED

New York, Sept. 21.—Its members angered by mutual accusations of treachery and by the unjust fines im-posed upon the victims of "stool pigeon" orders, the big Electrical Supply Trust, a secret organization, which only last May was charged with being subject to prosecution under the Sher-man law, went to pieces on Wednesday, when its subscribers, after a stormy meeting, resolved to disorganand repudiate the agreements which have bound them together for three years. This end of a powerful combination, which is charged with having driven more than 5,000 dealers and manufacturers out of business, caused rejoicing or dismay, as the case might be, in all the electrical supply houses in the city vesterday.

It was in the headquarters of the Eastern Electrical Supply Dealers' Association, on the top floor of No. 39 Cortlandt street, that the fate of the trust was sealed. Supply dealers from this city, Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia and, in fact, all the big Eastern cities were present, and all of them were angry. They charged one another with having violated faith and decided that the trust no longer had any reason for existence.

There were 131 members in the Electrical Supply Dealers' Association, the combined capital of the firms comprising is being placed at $50,000,000. It is charged, and it was openly adsociation, whose price schedules they were forced to accept.

Agreements of the Electrical Manufacturers' Association, according to the supply dealers, have been disorganized by the collapse of the Supply Dealers' Association. The Manufacturers' Association is credited with controlling capital to the amount of $109,000,000, and thus electrical supply trade interests, estimated at $159,000,000, were affected by last Wednesday's meeting.

DEMAND FOR MONEY

Deficit of $1,642,050 in United States Bank Reserves Saturday.

New York, Sept. 20 .- The problem of the money market was rendered acute again today by the disclosure by the bank statement that the reserves of the clearing house banks are $1,642,050 below the legal requirements. This is, despite a contraction of loan account of $11,964,500, the shrinkage in the cash holdings having reached $7,221,700, as against preliminary estimates of less than four millions. An active selling movement followed the appearance of the statement, which effectually wiped out the previous gains established under the leadership of an aggressive advance of 2% on large buying of St. his depth, but succeeded in suspending Paul. There was no appearance of his pails on a bathing pole. This is urgency in the selling, and the losses the first drowning that has taken place were not severe. The market closed here this season. distinctively easy with no effective rally from the decline beyond the covering demand from room traders, CLOSING OF CONFERENCE who took quick profits on the decline. The last time when a deficiency developed in the reserves of the New York banks was for the week ending Nov. 4, 1899. The reserves continued at a deficit for several weeks in spite of large loan contraction, and the deficit reached £2,788,950 on Nov. 11, and disappearing on Nov. 5 as a result of the relief afforded by the offer of Secretary Gage to purchase $25,000,000 per cents, and fours of 1907. This was the period of the first large flotation of industrials and the over-speculation which had occurred in them left the stock market vulnerable to the influence of the light money which persisted into December. Further loan contraction was clearly indicated by the present condition of the banks.

SHOW TRAIN WRECKED. Choctaw, Okla., Sept. 21.—An east-bound freight train ran into the rear of the Sells-Downs show train here, killing three persons and wounding 26 others, several fatally. All the killed and wounded belonged to the show except the conductor of the show train, who was fatally injured.

BEHEADED. Halifax, N. S., Sept. 21.-James Leary, an employe of the steel company, was instantly killed at No. 2 pier, Sydney. Leary was dragging cars on the track, when he was caught by an empty passing on the second. He was drawn under the cars, which were the heaviest on the road, 40 tons in weight. His mitted by the supply dealers yesterday, that their association was allied with the Electrical Manufacturers' Aspletely severed from the body. The car was thrown off the track, and a second track man narrowly escaped. He was a young man and unmarried.

INJURIES WERE FATAL. Halifax, N. S., Sept. 22.—Thomas Fraser, of River du Loup, who was shot by Horace Carbonneau, of Mon-treal, during a drinking brawl at Glace Bay on Thursday night, died of his injuries. Carbonneau is under arrest. FOUND DEAD.

Thorold, Ont., Sept. 21.-The body of William Davidge, of the Thorold Pulp Company, was found by members of his family dead on the floor of his room with a bullet wound in his right temple, about 10:30 this morning. It is not known whether it was accidental or a case of suicide. The coroner deemed an inquest unnecessary. Mr. Davidge came here from Niagara Falls, N. Y., about two years ago. He was about 40 years of age and leaves a widow.

Matter of Ecclesiastical Precedence Dealt With-Address to King.

Winnipeg, Sept. 20. - The Methodist General Conference closed its proceedings Saturday, after one of the best gatherings in the history of the church. The third report of the committee on temperance and moral reform recommended that a resolution be sent to the minister of militia expressing appreciation of the regulations abolishing army canteens, and while regretting that for various reasons these had not been enforced, expressed a hope that with the advent of Lord Dundonald there would be a closer observ-ance of the law governing army camps. The report reviewed the political status of prohibition in various provinces, and reaffirmed the Methodist principle of prohibition, urging that in when I felt any feeling of nausea or all elections efforts should be made to secure representatives to introduce and support prohibition candidates. The report was adopted without objection, except that Rev. Dr. Stone moved an amendment, which was carried by a vote of 33 to 30, striking out from the total abstinence pledge the words, "By the help of God." The report of the committee on me norials was presented by Rev. Dr.

Ryckman. A recommendation that the name, "the Methodist Church," be changed to the "Methodist Church of Canada" was voted down.

The report on the question of order on ecclesiastical precedence at state functions was presented. In it the giving of the chief places to archbishops, second to bishops and third to other clergymen was declared to be contrary to the spirit of our political institutions, the principles established in the history of the country and the clergy reserves act of 1854, which completely separates Church and State, and to be unjust to the great leading Protestant denominations. The abolition of the existing table of ecclesiastical precedence was recommended if practicable. The matter was referred to the General Conference special committee for conference with committees from other churches. With or without such cooperation the committee was instructed to press this action upon the Dominion Government and the secretary of state for the colonies.

Regarding the appointment of chapains for imperial navy and military forces, and the establishment of sailors' and soldiers' homes, the recommenda-tion was that provision be made for such appointments by the annual conferences, also for the establishment of such homes. It was recommended that the General Conference commit-tee, through the general superintendent and secretary of missions, enter into negotiations with the army and navy committee of the Wesleyan Church in England, to secure aid for chaplains so appointed, and grants from the sailors' and soldiers' homes fund of that church towards such

THE ROOT OF THE MATTER

He Cured Himself of Serious Stomach Trouble, by Getting Down to First Principles.

A man of large affairs in one of our prominent eastern cities by too close attention to business, too little exercise and too many club dinners, finally began to pay nature's tax, levied in the form of chronic stomach trouble; the failure of his digestion brought about a nervous irritability, making it impossible for him to apply himself

In his own words he says: "I consulted one physician after another, and each one seemed to understand my case, but all the same they each failed to bring about the return of my former digestion, appetite and vigor. For two years I went from pillar to post, from one sanitarium to another, I gave up smoking, I quit coffee and even renounced my daily glass or two of beer, but without any marked improvement. "Friends had often advised me to try a well-known proprietary medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I had often perused the newspaper advertisements of the remedy, but never took any stock in advertised medi-cines, nor could believe a 50-cent patent medicine would touch my case. "To make a long story short I finally bought a couple of packages at the nearest drugstore, and took two or three tablets after each meal, and

"I was surprised at the end of the first week to note a marked improvehealth, and before the two packages were gone I was certain that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were going to cure completely, and they did not disappoint me. I can eat and sleep and enjoy my coffee and cigar, and no one would suppose I had ever known the horrors of dyspepsia.

"Out of friendly curiosity I wrote to the proprietors of the remedy asking for information as to what the tablets contained, and they replied that the principal ingredients were aseptic pepsin (government test), malt diastase and other natural digestives, which digest food regardless of the condition of the stomach."

The root of the matter is this, the digestive elements contained in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food, give the overworked stomach a chance to recuperate and the nerves and whole system receive the nourishment which can only come from food; stimulants and nerve tonics never give real strength, they give a fictitious strength, invariably followed by reac-tion. Every drop of blood, every nerve and tissue is manufactured from our daily food, and if you can insure its prompt action and complete digestion by the regular use of so good and wholesome a remedy as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets you will have no need of nerve tonics and sanitariums.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been in the market only a few years, yet probably every druggist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain now sells them and considers them the most popular and successful of any preparation for stomach

Hospital Encouragement.

A look through the last report of St. Joseph's Hospital, of Denver, Colorado, causes us to refer to the question of hospital encouragement. London is much interested in its hospitals, and has two, Victoria and St. Joseph's, of affected, were arranged by sliding which any city might well be proud. scales, wages boards, or other methods Do we as citizens and as a city do all we should?

The site of St. Joseph's Hospital in Denver was a gift in 1876 from Governor Gilpen and his wife. He stipulated that no part of the original site should be sold, and in order to build the present building an appeal was made to the public. The corner stone was laid in July, 1899, and in July, 1900, the present administration building costing $82,000 was formally opened. The public had responded generously.

It will be remembered that Dr. Cl. T. Campbell some time ago suggested for Victoria Hospital certain representation based on the amount donated. In the St. Joseph's Hospital at Denver a scale is decided upon as follows:

Five thousand dollars endows a bed in perpetuity, affording an opportunity to those desiring to establish a memortal of friends.

Three thousand dollars endows a bed during one life. The contribution of $3,000 at one time constitutes the donor a patron. The contribution of $1,000 at one time constitutes the donor a benefac-

Two hundred and fifty dollars endows a bed during one year.

While this scale is decided upon, the hospital has no endowment fund and receives no aid from the charity organizations of the city. It is not a money making institution. It cares for from 25 to 40 charity patients each month, averaging 20 days and would, the report states, gladly accept the dedication of a ward, the endowment of a room, or the support of a bed.

Victoria Hospital has received some generous gifts, but is almost entirely supported by public taxation and the buildings were erected by that means. Should not private philanthropy have done more for London's hospitals than it has and might not the subject suggested again by the report referred to be considered by the trustees? Perhaps if public attention is drawn to the subject some, it may be several. will be disposed to donate or bequeath such amounts as they believe they can spare for so good an object. St. Joseph's Hospital in Denver is an imposing structure and apparently a worthy monument to the generosity of its citizens. We suggest that our citizens be offered the opportunity for individual generosity in the maintenance day, one is reminded of Ingalls' witty of our hospitals.

Strikes and Lockouts in Great Britain.

Measured by strikes and lockouts, the industrial situation in the United Kingdom has shown a steady improvement in recent years. The number of fresh disputes last year was 642, compared with 864 in 1897. The number of workpeople affected by last year's disputes, directly and indirectly, was 179,-546, compared with 250,367 in 1897. The former number is about 2 per cent. of the industrial population. The aggregate duration of disputes (new and

006 working days, or about 20 days per head of those affected. The loss of time during the year, if spread over whole industrial population, amounted to about half a day per head. On the whole the results were more in favor of the employers than in the previous year. The number of actual stoppages settled by arbitration or mediation was only 41, but these included some of the most widespread and prolonged disputes of the year. By trades the disputes were divided as follows: Building, 9,797; mining and quarrying, 112,981; metal, engineering and shipbuilding, 22,489; textile, 16,609; clothing, 4,135; transport, 2,682; miscellaneous, 10,489; employes of public authorities, 364. As in 1898 and 1900, the Questions of remuneration were, as usual, the most frequent cause of dispute in 1901, though not to such a marked extent as in previous years. causes, 3,134. Trade was not generally so good as in the previous year, and thus disputes having an increase of wages as their object were not so common as in the previous four years. On the other hand, there was a striking increase in the number of disputes arising out of resistance to reduction of wages, there having been all the workpeople directly engaged in

Disputes last year directly involving cent, of all persons involved, were settled by direct negotiation between affected by disputes settled by arbitration, conciliation and mediation was 17,000, but the report points out that the settlement of strikes and lockouts forms but a very small proportion of the work of permanent conciliation and arbitration boards and joint committees. To appreciate these agencies at their true value account should also be taken of the numerous alterations effected in working conditions by them without any stoppage of work having taken place. Thus in the recent report on changes of wages and hours of labor in 1901 it is shown that 75 per cent. of all the changes of the year, as measured by numbers of persons of arbitration and conciliation, while only 2 per cent. of the changes folupon strikes or lockouts

A readjustment of the tariff is not necessarily an increase. It is quite possible, when the Ministers take up the question, that they will deem it advisable to raise the tariff on some items and reduce it on others. The thing to be avoided is an increase in public taxation or in the burden on consumers.

These be growing times in Scotland, too. The census returns for the decennium, 1891-1901 show the rate of increase in the population to have been the highest since 1831. The population last year was 4,472,103, compared with 4,025,847 in 1891, the rate of increase being 11.09 per cent, as against 6.77 per cent in the previous ten years.

Traffic Has Been Growing Yearly at Rapid Rate.

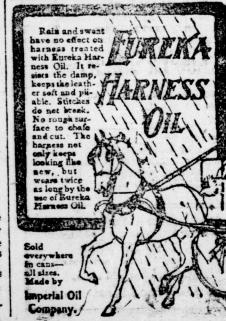

Ottawa, Sept. 22 .- Hon. A. G. Blair states that the revised figures of the business of the Intercolonial for the year ending June 30 last made a better showing than was anticipated when the twelve months closed. "When leaving for England," said the minister of railways, "I stated that the surplus would be $86,000. The revised figures have been handed to me, and the net surplus is $96,880, or $10,000 more than the unrevised figures showed." "Was there a large increase in the business of the line during the last "The increase amounts to about three-quarters of a million. The traffic, in fact, has been growing yearly at a rapid rate, and today is three millions greater than under the late government. In other words, the total increase is as large as was the entire business of the railway during any of the previous fifteen years of the Conservative regime."

"Will this increase be maintained, do you think, during the current

Will Be Candidate for Commons From Yukon.

Nomination of Convention Was Made Unanimous.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 20.-The commissioner of the Yukon Territory, at present in Victoria, received a telegram from Dawson informing him of his unanimous nomination as candidate for the Commons. The election will take place on Dec. 2. The telegram follows: "Large convention, embracing representatives from every portion of Yukon Territory, met today at Dawson, and with most hearty unanimity nominated you as candidate for the House of Commons of Canada. Requisitions unanimously signed are being forwarded urging your acceptance. (Signed) Fred MacLennan, chairman; D. Donaghy, secretary." Mr. Ross wired the following reply: "My nomination unanimously for House of Commons by representative convention at Dawson on 19th is very highly appreciated by me. Thank convention for evidence of confidence, and hereby accept nomination. Although health is rapidly improving, cannot yet take active part in election, and therefore will have to leave work of campaign entirely in hands of my friends, in whom it is needless for me to say I have utmost confidence. I think I may claim that reasonable measures of success has already at-tended efforts in behalf of people of Yukon. If I become territorial representative at Ottawa—and with your assistance there is little doubt on that point-I will be in position to still further promote the welfare of its people, and generally to advance interests of whole territory. I believe in Yukon and its great possibilities, and it will be to me a pleasure as well as duty to continue to work unceasingly in its behalf. (Signed) Ross. He leaves in a few days for California for the benefit of his health.

THE MOST POPULAR PILL.—The pill is the most popular of all forms of medicine, and of pills the most popular are Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, because they do what it is asserted they can do, and are not put forward on any fictitious claims to excellence. They are compact and portable, they are easily taken, they do not nauseate nor gripe, and they give do not nauseate nor gripe, and they give relief in the most stubborn cases.

TRUNK REVEALS

New York, Sept. 21 .- Detectives are London, Sept. 22.-As a rule a man does not invite his best friend and his treading close upon the heels of Wiltailor to dine together with him at a swell restaurant. Still less common is the spectacle of a young millionaire giving a dinner costing $5,000 to some 60 persons, about equally divided between his friends and his tailor, bootmaker, haberdasher, hosier, shirtmaker, hatter, etc. Nor yet is it given moment. to every young man to become 21 years of age and be the possessor of $15,000,-

It was opened by the chief of the Chicago police, contrary to instructions by Titus, and it was found to con tain the stained wearing apparel of Mrs. Pulitzer, the dirk with which she was stabbed, a memorandum book con-taining the name "William Hooper Young," and a pawn ticket for the earrings worn by Mrs. Pulitzer. John W. Young, father of the suspected murderer, who is now in Paris, cabled instructions that W. F. S. Hart, a lawyer, of No. 5 Beekman should be employed as counsel to defend his son. In an interview with a reporter for the New York Herald, Mr Hart asserted that his client is the London, Sept. 22.-The Tailor and Cutter has made a discovery. "It is reported," it says, "that the French dandies are applying to corset makers to provide them with belts to improve the shape of the waist and hips. They have apparently caught on to the est idea in London fashions, and are having their garments made to fit very closely at the waist and to be wel padded on the hips. They have their trousers made very long, so that they may wear them turned up. Their collars are worn so high at the back that they make their wearers stoop, and they crown all with a bell shaped hat.

There are many Londoners who don the sames tyles. We notice that a leading corsetmaker in Charing Cross road is making a specialty of gentlemen's corsets, so that, even in their follies, London and Paris are not far apart.'

victim of a conspiracy, and intimated that he may produce him in court in the near future.

In the apartments in West Fifty eighth street in which Mrs. Pulitzer was murdered, a draft of a letter written by Young was found. In this letter the suspected murderer spoke mos bitterly of all his relatives save his mother. He made what appears to b a veiled reference to a contemplated erime, and said he would have one last good time, and if that did not finish him he would leave the country A letter received in the afternoon by Capt. Titus, and which was signed "H. Young," and may be genuine, con tains the information that the suspected murderer will take his own life The envelope contained a single sheet of rough brown paper, such a is used in making memoranda in business offices, on which was written

-H. Young." From a comparison of the handwriting with several letters written by Young, the police are disposed to believe that the communication was written by him. It is considered significant that the form of the signature, "H. Young," was one commonly employed by the fugitive. The police realize that the note may have been written as a blind to discourage pursuit. A description of Young has been furnished to almost every policeman in the United States. Trains are being searched, and the most complete drag-net ever formed, has been cast for the suspected murderer. TRUNK PROVES CRIME. William Hooper Young, against whom is charged the murder of Mrs. Anna Pulitzer, is dodging about like the hunted criminal he is, and the police are firmly of the opinion that he cannot long remain at liberty. He is well aware how short is his probable shift, and in a letter which bears all the earmarks of genuineness, and signed by him, Captain Titus has been informed that he will take his own life. Those who know Young best do not believe his threat is idle. They are of the opinion that as soon as he finds escape to be impossible he will put an end to his existence. Final and apparently absolute proof of the guilt of Young was furnished yesterday afternoon in Chicago, when the trunk which had been expressed to that city by Young was taken possession of and opened by police. The trunk had been forwarded to "C. S. Eiling," and as soon as it reached Chicago Chief of Police O'Neill, of that city, although instructed from New York to do otherwise, caused it to be opened before returning it here.

LIVED UNDER AN ALIAS. In a letter left behind, in the apartments in West Fifty-eighth street, Young wrote of his intention to have one incident of full enjoyment, to be followed by death for himself. That letter goes far to prove the disposition of Young, and it has convinced the police that the murderer had no intention of leaving this city. There is a belief in the mind of Captain Titus that when arrested Young will be found in a furnished room that he selected before he took the life of Mrs.

Information concerning the crime of which his son is suspected was yes-terday sent to Wiliam Hooper Young's for nothing. There is room for all and father, who is now in Paris. The father, although he had long regarded his son as hopelessly depraved, will not foresake him in his present dire Mr. Young authorized his closest

It is the opinion of the district attorney and Captain Titus that he has furnished full proof that his crime was premeditated. They believe that Mrs. Pulitzer was first poisoned with chloral and that her body was mutilated after death. They are also of the opinion that robbery was the motive, but they do not believe that Young had any other intention than to kill his victim after taking from her the few belongings of value she pos-

Among other things taken were various letters which had been received by Young, almost all of which were from women with whom he had associated. These letters had been received in Seattle, Portland, Salt Lake City and St. Paul, as well as New York. There were other letters which furnished an index to the character of the man.

YOUNG'S MOVEMENTS. The police believe that Young met Mrs. Pullizer in the streets and com-pelled her to listen to him, telling her he lived in splendid apartments in Fifty-eighth street, and that if she would join him there her every wish should be gratified. Young lied to the woman telling her that his means were ample and that he would be generous in his dealing with her.

After he had persuaded her to accompany him to his apartments, which he was permitted to occupy during the absence of his father, he apparently soon tired of the woman. Having killed her, he decided to dispose of her body in New Jersey. He then went to Hoboken, and to the liveryman from whom he hired a conveyance, he identified himself by telling of his former onnection with a paper published in that city. He did this, too, in a manner which caused the liveryman to closely bserve him and to make his future He then insisted upon having a weight, which he intended to use in burying the body of his victim be-neath the waters of the Morris Canal. With the borrowed horse and buggy, Young crossed and recrossed the North River. He took from the apartments in Fifty-eighth street the body of Mrs. Pulitzer, first concealing it in a trunk. One of the employes of the apartment house was persuaded to assist him in arrying out the trunk and in strapping it on the buggy. Young left in the rooms where the murder had been ommitted many evidences of his crime.

TELL-TALE EARRINGS. Capt. Titus obtained possession of a pair of earrings which had been pawned at Simpson's, in Park Row, Wednesday, by a man answering the description of Young, who gave his name as Stiner and his address at No. West One Hundred and Twentythird street. These earrings were simlar to those known to have been worn y Young's victim the night of her nurder.

The fact that the pawn ticket was ound in the trunk which had been ent by the murderer to Chicago seemed to clinch the identification, however, was made complete by Joseph Pulitzer. He called at the office of Capt. Titus, and after carefully examining the earrings, asserted that ney had belonged to his wife. was much overcome when he saw

Brussels, Sept. 21. - A requiem mass for the late Queen of the Belgians will be celebrated at Spa tomorrow. The members of the royal family, after the mass, will accompany the body back to the capital. King Leopold arrived at Spa today. A dispatch to the Patriote from Spa says that when King Leopold arrived there he refused to speak to the Princess Stephanie, Countess of Lonyay, and compelled her to leave the royal palace. The princess consequently left Spa suddenly. She rode to the station n a hired carriage, and amid demonstrations of sympathy from the people

she took a train for Brussels. Princess Stephanie is the second aughter of the late Queen Marie Henriette and King Leopold. She married the only son of the Emperor of Austria in 1881 and was left a widow by his tragic death in 1889. She was married the second time in 1900 to Elemer, Count of Lonyay. This marriage was against the wishes of King Leopold, who refused to permit it to be legalized. THE UNPOPULAR EDUCATION BILL

May Prove the Undoing of the Balfour Government.

EUROPE HAS MONROE SCHEME

Discontent a Feature of the South African Situation-Chamberlain Getting More Cautious.

London, Sept. 22.-Not since the days of the Irish Home Rule Bill has any Government measure in this country created such widespread excitement and flerce opposition as the education eccentricity which Mr. Balfour expects to place upon the statute book of Great Britain this year. Many of the Prime Minister's own supporters ap-preciate the position of affairs very acwhen Parliament meets, to inform Mr. to vote like machines for a measure which they know is repugnant to the desires of the vast majority of their direct popular control of schools for which people are rated and taxed. Women are taking a prominent part rate without control.'

STILL UNREADY.

The country is frankly disgusted with the inefficiency of the present administration, but the Liberal party is so utterly disorganized and demoralized that it cannot take proper advantage of the situation. Meanwhile Lord Rosebery remains in his tabernacle biding his time.

DISCONTENT.

Discontent is the characteristic feature of the situation in South Africa. The loyalists and the Dutch in Cape Colony are alike dissatisfied and bent upon emphasizing their grievances. The repatriation of burghers in the two Boer colonies is hampered by lack of money and is encompassed with difficulties, and there are complaints from every quarter of delay, confusion and of organization. Johannesburg, with a mining population whose patience has been exhausted in waiting for the revival of prosperity, is also seething with discontent, and protesting against Lord Milner's methods of administeration. Even Natal is rest-less and impatient, and not reassured by rewards for loyalty in the form of two provinces snatched from the Boers and opening Zululand northward to

MR. CHAMBERLAIN. Mr. Chamberlin is less exposed to criticism than Lord Milner during this transition period. He has chosen deliberately to remain in the background and to refrain from interference in the strife of factions and feuds of races. He represents the crowd, and has no entangling alliances with groups of leaders or parties. His authority as arbiter in all controversies is strengthened by this attitude of reserve and This old-time Birmingham Radical has become in some respects more cautious than his Conservative col-leagues, and is taking a stronger stand South African affairs than the The Princess Stephanie Turned harassed Prime Minister on the education question or the flexible secretary for Ireland on land questions. Since Ireland is apparently on the verge of another land war, there is a hopeful feeling that the settlement of the agrarian question can be effected by a peace conference similar to the consultations between Lord Kitchener and the Boer generals. Captain Shawe-

Taylor has proposed a conference, and Lord Mayo and other landowners are favoring it. RACES UNITE IN COMPLAINTS. Lord Milner is overworked and apparently unable to control the expendi-tures of the repatriation committees, and the mass of detail is too complex to be directed by a single mind. The restoration of the fighting burghers and prisoners to their farms and homes will require a large loan in addition to the free grant of £3,000,000 to which the Imperial Government was committed by the terms of peace, and there will be a feeling among the Johannesburg refugees that the Dutch receive full assistance and that the loyalists are neglected and unrewarded. All this discontent may leave the two races less jealous and resentful, and other in obtaining self-government and representative institutions at the earliest possible date. This is, however, frankly optimistic view.

more disposed to co-operate with each

VALUE OF IRISH ESTATES. Estimates of the selling values of estates, made by landlords' and tenants' association, disclose a difference amounting to a seven years' purchase at least, and twelve at the most. If a compromise cannot be effected the settlement of the land question will require a free gift from the British Government ranging from £50,000,000 to £100,000,000. The terms of peace in Ireland would have staggered even the thrifty Boer generals at Pretoria. Mr. George Wyndham is not likely to affront the British taxpayers with proposals so appalling. He will play with the question instead of making a serious effort to work out a settlement. Meanwhile, agitation is the unfailing Irish resource.

EUROPE'S MONROE DOCTRINE. It is reported from Vienna that, acording to present arrangements, the Vienna and Berlin cabinets have deided to decline the United States' proposals in regard to the Roumanian Although their answers are to be couched in very courteous terms, the United States will be given to understand that only the signatories to the treaty of Berlin has a right to give decisions or to take action on the question of the treatment of foreigners in Roumania.

BURNS' MANUSCRIPTS. Mr. Morgan's offer of $25,000 for the Burns' manuscripts in the Liverpool Athenaeum Library is being keenly discussed. The committee of the library will, it is understood, recommend that the offer be declined.

HOW DR. SANFORD MCEVOY SAVED A PATIENT'S LIFE

cessfully Met by a London Boy.

The New York Herald of Wednesday last contains an account of a unique incident in surgical annals, the hero being Dr. Sanford McEvoy, son of County Treasurer McEvoy, and brother and a remarkable record.

Unique Surgical Dilemma Suc- of Mr. J. M. McEvoy, the well-known barrister, Dr. McEvoy is a graduate of the Western University. In dealing with the emergency which is described in the following account, Dr. McEvoy displayed a coolness and presence of mind for which he was afterwards highly complimented by the authorities of the hospital. The Herald article reads as follows:

"While Dr.McEvoy, house surgeon of the Polyclinic Hospital, at No. 218 East Thirty-fourth street, was operating on Henry Epstein, 28 years old, of No. 417 Third avenue, in the hospital, early this morning, his sterilizing machine burst, making his instruments used. burst, making his instruments usless. As the operation had begun it was absolutely necessary to continue, and a "hurry call" ambulance had to be sent to Bellevue Hospital. The man was put into the ambulance, driven with furious speed to Bellevue, and put on the operating table there, where the work

"Dr. McEvoy and his four assistants prepared Epstein for the terrible journey he had to undertake. It is the first time such a journey was ever made in this city under such circumstances. Epstein was put upon a stretcher and carried down to the ambulance, which had arrived by the time the man was ready. The four doctors got around the patient and the ambulance drove swiftly to Bellevue Hospital.

The doctors watched their man closely, but he bore the wonderful journey remarkably well. He was immediately carried to the operating table, Dr. Train, Bellevue's house surgeon, was summoned, put in charge, and the wound opened and the dangerous operation resumed. It was completed with the patient still alive. "The case established a precedent

> Defective Sidewalks and Effect on An Inventory of the Murdered Mrs. Public Morals.

The city engineer's troubles are corduroy road than a sidewalk. Mr. Warman explains his grievance in the following characteristic letter:

There are eight houses on the north side alone in this block. In the next block west there is one house, with a 6-foot cement walk, where I, with no visible means of support, am expected to make good for just half a block. At the eastern terminus of this fine walk I, and all of us who abide at the west end of that wide weed preserve known as Cheapside street, stumble into this stretch of short boards that has been left here where a walk should be. It provokes people to wrath and increases the natural flow of profanity. There is no good going church and coming back that way. It is next to impossible for a man to be Christian and live at one end of a walk like that. Now, what are you Mr. A going to do about it? One at a time, London. please. Faithfully yours, CY WARMAN.

ART IN PHOTOGRAPHY

main building at the Western Fair this year attracted perhaps more attention than any other exhibit there The arrangement of the display was strikingly effective, and added greatly to the beauty of the interior of the art annex. The photographs shown by Mr. Cooper have never been surpassed in any display at the Western Fair, and thousands of visitors daily expressed their admiration of the fine effects obtained by this popular photographer. Many commented on Mr. Cooper's success in combining a highly artistic effect with an absolutely true likeness. This was very noticeable in many of the pictures shown, and is an illustration of one of the rules folowed by Mr. Cooper in his work. While he strives always to secure the best artistic result possible, he never sacrifices the likeness, and this no doubt explains his acknowledged popularity as a photographer. His display included samples of his latest work, which means all that is newest and best in style and finish in photography.

SCENE OF GREAT BEAUTY

Beautiful Millinery at Mrs. McLeod's Establishment.

A scene of bewildering beauty meets the eye of the visitor to Mrs. Mc-Lepd's milliney establishment, on Dundas street. Soft white tulle hangings with graceful trails of autumn leaves and banks of palms form a fitting background to the beautiful hats displayed, and never were hats more beautiful. Amid so many lovely models it is difficult to select one, but a beautiful ermine hat, with coque de roche trimming and a lovely ermine ruff, with long stole ends, is certainly one of the gems of the collection. Fur is to be used a great deal on hats this winter, combined with lace, chiffon and satin, and Mrs. McLeod has some of the most beautiful Parisian models in this combination. A lovely panne hat of crush rose had pedigree fur trimmings, with shaded rose plumes. Another exquisite little hat is of reseda and turquoise camelshair chenille, and a much-ad-mired one is a plateau of pale blue muficau and chiffon.

Mrs. McLeod is this year making a specialty of suit hats. Misses' hats and feather ruffs are also features at Mrs. McLeod's store this year, and her whole display is a most elegant and attractive one. Only a few of the leading hats are here mentioned, but Mrs. Mc-Leod and her courteous assistance will be delighted to show their stock to visitors, whether intending purchasers or at Present.

Dr. J. H. Tennant, of this city, Government veterinary surgeon, is a busy man just now. Rumors of hog cholera outbreaks in various districts have kept him traveling early and late. Last week he discovered a very serious outbreak at Tilbury East, and in four days 289 hogs were killed under his direction. The prompt action taken in this instance will probably prevent the malady spreading.

This afternoon Dr. Tennant will go to Wallaceburg, where, it is reported, hog cholera exists. He returned this morning from Woodstock, where he found that the report of the disease existing in that region was a myth.

Fine Train Run by the Canadian forts to save her life proved futile. Pacific.

Over Three Hundred Delegates Are Homeward Bound.

One of the finest railways trains which ever passed through London, went westward this morning over the C. P. R. It carried on their homeward way the members of the American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents, together with the ladies of their families. The jolly agents have been in convention at Montreal, and are now returning to their respective homes, which are scattered all over the map of the United States from Smoketown, Md. to Ntsaladdy, Wash., and from Thief River Falls, Minn., to Nacodoches, Texas. After meeting at Montreal the association took a trip to Ottawa and return by rail, thence by steamer to Saguenay, and back to Quebec, taking the C. P. R. at Quebec at 2 p.m. yesterday, a fast run was made to Toronto. The train reached London about 10:15 a.m. today. From here it went out as a double header with the intention of making a fast run to Windsor. The train goes through to Chicago, where the members break up to go to their respective destinations west, north and south. It is expected that Chicago will be reached about 7 p.m. Two cars were dropped at Toronto, one of them going on to Buffalo. There were over 300 in the party when leaving Quebec.

The train was made up of practically the same cars as will compose the C. P. R.'s new imperial limited. It included one baggage car, a tourist car, two dining cars—the Westminster and the Warwick, and the following sleepers: Rossland, Robson, Regina, Revelstoke and Mt. Index. The latter is a Great Northern car tendered each year to the traveling passenger agents of St. Paul and district by President J.

The display of photography which C. E. E. Nasher, of Montreal, C. P. R. was made by Mr. Frank Cooper in the general passenger agent, and A. H. Notman, of Toronto, assistant general passenger agent.

The President Has Now a Force Numbering 6,000 Mon -Rebels Retire.

Willemstad, Island of Curacoa, Sept. 20.-President Castro, of Venezuela who arrived at Valencia (capital of the State of Carabobo) Thursday night with 3,600 men, joined forces with the army commanded by the war minister Gen. Garrido, consisting of 2,500 men and left Valencia yesterday morning for Tocuyito, at the head of a well-equipped force of 6,000 men, with twelve guns, to attack the revolution ary army commanded by Gen. Luciano Mendoza. It is thought probable that Gen. Mendoza will retreat to Pao as he is not strong enough to engage President Castro's forces and lacks ammunition. The junction of the two armies of the Government of Venezuela has changed the situation, and it is now believed it will be difficult to overthrow President Castro.

Serious Hog Cholera Outbreak Passed Away Saturday in New York Hospital.

Dr. Tennant Is a Very Busy Man Contracted Typhoid Fever From the Patient She Was Nursing.

Miss Alice Prescott, the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Prescott, of 233 Oxford street, died Saturday at Mount Sinai Hospital, New York, of typhoid fever. The remains will be brought to this city for burial. The circumstances of Miss Prescott's death are particularly sad. She went to New York two and a haif years ago to study nursing. Last June she graduated, and her first professional case resulted in her death. She had taken charge of a very serious case of typhoid fever, and it is now believed she contracted the disease from her patient. Her filness extended over five weeks, and but a day or two before her death her physicians expressed the opinion that she had passed the critical stage of the malady. Heart failure developed, however, and all ef-

Miss Prescott was very widely known and loved in London. She had spent almost her entire life from the city, and had a legion of warm personal friends, who will not soon recover from the shock of her death. Prior to going to New York she had charge of the wholesale department of Woods' Fair. Besides her mother and father, a brother and sister survive. The former is Mr. J. G. Prescott, auditor for J. R. Hayes, of Detroit, and the latter, Miss Mary Prescott, of this city.

Mr. Borden's Narrow Escape.

Calgary, N. W. T., Sept. 21.—While R. L. Borden and his party were re-turning yesterday from the Indian reservation to Calgary, the rig in which Mr. Borden was seated had passed over a rough and sloping piece of ground, and, as the one containing Mrz. Borden and others was passing this spot, the driver of the rig was thrown from his place and the horses at once bolted with the rig and its six helpless occupants. The runaway team ran astride the rig containing Mr. Borden and other ladies and gentlemen, and Mr. Borden was, by the pole of the pursuing rig, thrown in such a manner that his left knee was caught between the wheel and the brake of his rig, and a furious horse was all but pinning him beneath its feet. runaway was stopped.

Rich and his new friend the builder-Mr. Mason, by name-were some time making out the specifications for their making out the specifications for their plans and completing everything to their satisfaction, but they were all finished at last and sent forth to judgment.

Then there came a long time of waiting and suspense; but Rich did not allow himself to dwell anxiously upon it; nor did he say anything to Audrey about his venture—there was time enough for that if it should prove a success, he thought; if a failure, it would be better to keep his disappointment to himself.

Meantime, he continued to work diligently and faithfully at his post in the office during the day, devoting his evenings to plans of his own.

He sent one or two simple designs to a periodical which published articles upon architecture, and they proved so acceptable that he was requested to constitute severthing every ment, for which ceptable that he was requested to contribute something every month, for which the publishers agreed to give him fifteen collars for each contribution.

One day, during winter, a young man came in from the country to consult with Mr. Remington regarding plans for a house that he was going to build. But ise that he was going to build. But er listening to him for a few minutes the busy great man said:

"I cannot attend to you, sir, I am orry to say. Such a small job wouldn't count me anything; in fact, it would be more of a hindrance than otherwise. You will have to consult someone else; or stay— Waldemar," turning to Rich, who was at work at the other side of the room, "can't you do something for this gentleman out of hours?"

Rich came forward and was introducted, and, after conversing a few moments with the applicant, made an appointment with the applicant, made an appointment with him for later in the day.

He had quite a number of plans which he had drawn for his own amusement from time to time, and he thought that one of these, with some changes, might meet the wants and come within the means of the stranger.

It proved even so, for he found just what he wanted among Rich's collection, and our young friend received his first regular fee—a hundred dollar note, for Mr. Remington said the plans were well worth that amount—with a feeling of pride and joy such as he had never experienced before.

Aunt Audrey's birthday will be the day after tomorrow," he had reflected, upon receiving the money: "I shall keep this a secret until then, when I will give it to her and it will be my first real gift to her."

It is needless to say that Miss Walar was both proud and delighted, she would not disappoint him by and she would not disappoint refusing it.

She took it with her heartiest kiss and thanks, but went the very next day and deposited it in a bank in his name.

Time passed, the breezy month of March was here, and still the result of Rich's first venture was unknown.

The fifth of March was a dull, stormy day, and when evening came our young architect had fust settled himself before a cheerful fire, his feet incased in a comfortable pair of slippers, and an entertaining book in his hand, which he was going to read aloud to his Aunt Audrey and Mrs. Allen, when the doorbell rang an imperative peal. bell rang an imperative peal.

A few moments later the little maid of all work ushered Mr. Mason, the builder, in to see Mr. Waldemar.

"We've got it!" was all he said, but his face was full of triumph.

"The contract, do you mean?" Rich questioned, growing suddenly pale.

"That's exactly what I mean, and I believe I am more glad on your account than my own," responded Mr. Mason, heartily.

"The parties were delighted with the plans, and there is not one word of fault with specifications nor price, and the work is to be begun on the third of April."

Rich sat down half dazed and feeling decidedly weak and trembling. He had not known until that moment how much his heart had been set upon the contract.

But he recovered himself after a moment.

"I beg your pardon," he said, rising and smiling: "I believe you have scattered all my wits with your news; allow me to introduce you to my aunt, Miss Waldemar, Mr. Mason, and Mrs. Allen."

The introduction over, Rich drew a chair forward to the fire for his friend, and then, turning to Miss Waldemar, before resuming his own seat, he said:

"Aunt Audrey, Mr. Mason is a master builder, and we have been negotiating a little business together. I have drawn some plans for him for a block of building at Yonkers, and he has secured the contract upon them. The bargain was that I should receive five hundred dollars if he succeeded. That will do for a first venture, will it not?"

Miss Waldemar looked amazed now. But she would not allow herself to betray any emotion before a stranger; so after the first shock of surprise had passed she said, quietly:

"I am very glad, Rich." but the look which accompanied the words expressed a whole volume.

which accompanied the words expressed a whole volume.

Mr. Mason spent the whole evening talking over the matter, and appeared very much elated as the contract would yield him a handsome profit.

When he arose to go he again grasped Rich by the hand, saying:

"I feel very grateful to you, young sir, and I predict a brilliant future for you. I believe I should not have secured this contract but for you, and I hope that this, our first mutual transaction, will not be our last."

"I hope so, too." Rich answered, heartily: and it was not, for he drew plans for him in the future, while the builder sent many people to him, and there was no lack of work for him from that time.

sent many people to him, and there was no lack of work for him from that time. Mr. Remington, too, threw considerable business in his way—work which would have been but a hindrance to him—so that our young friend begon to realize quite a handsome income from his energy and perseverance.

One day in May he went out to Yonkers to see how the buildings were progressing.

Mr. Mason was delighted to see him. and took him through every portion of the buildings with a good deal of pride. On his way out Rich passed a young On his way out Rich passed a young man about his own age or perhaps a little older, who was planing at a bench, and he noticed that he was regarding him very earnestly, and with a disagreeable scowl on his dark, swarthy face. There was something familiar, too, about him; he was sure that he had seen him somewhere before, though he could recall neither time nor place.

THE CANADA CUP CHALLENGER. [Detroit Free Press.]

There has been a hitch in the arrangements, and the forty-footers, new measurements, may not be the Canada's cup class of 1903 after all. It seems that when the announcement First race, maiden 3-year-olds and was made some time ago that the forty-footers would be the cup racers up, selling, 61/2 furlongs-El Chihuathere was a lot of objection, not only from outside yachtsmen but from members of the Rochester and the Royal Canadian Yacht clubs, and now it has been announced that everything else has been arranged, but that the size of the boats is still unsettled, with the probability that the boots will be thirty-five-footers, new measurements. This is welcome news to a majority of lake yachtsmen, for while it is admitted that the larger type of boat has many advantages over the smaller boats, yet the idea of increased ex-penditure, even if it be but nominal, is not at all pleasing to many yachtsmen. The selection of the thirty-fivefoot class, new measurements, is readily enlarging the type by class, for it will correspond to the forty-foot class, old measurement, and under the new rules the boats built prior to November, 1901, will be eligible. Of course the cup committee may decide to bar out old boats. If they do the Cadillac and the Detroit are both likely candidates for selection as the challenger, with the Cadillac, of ing, 1 1-8 miles-Loone, 100 (L. Jackcourse, the favorite.

London, Sept. 22.-The Daily Mail this morning says the Government has decided that the new South African colonies are to be required pay $500,000,000 towards cost of the South African war. The colonies are, however, to be allowed ample time in which to make this payment. The loan will not be floated for two or three years. Mining profits probably will be taxed 10 per cent more than they were before the war and money will also be obtained by granting all kinds of concessions and mineral rights.

BOXERS BELLIGERENT.

In a dispatch from Shanghai, the correspondent of the London Standard declares that boxerism in the Province of Sze Chuen has not been subdued. The premises of the China inland mission, at Mei Chou, has been destroyed, but no lives were lost. The boxers, according to the correspondent, are now threatening three cities - Tanlien, Hung Yen and Kaiting Fu.

The True Relief,

Radway's Ready Relief For Internal and External Use.

In using medicines to stop pain, we should avoid such as inflict injury on the system. Opium, Morphine, Chloroform, Ether, Cocaine and Chloral stop pain by destroying the sense of perception, the patient losing the power of feeling. This is a most destructive practice; it masks the symptoms, shuts up, and, instead of removing trouble, breaks down the stomach, liver and bowels, and, if continued for a length of time, kills the nerves and produces local or general paralysis. There is no necessity for using these uncertain agents when a positive remedy like RADWAY'S READY RELIEF will stop the most excruciating pain quicker, without entailing the least danger in

Dr. Price lost his life in an effort to save several women who were being crushspeech to the principal, D. L. O'Neill, ed to death. Three times he fought his way into the building and brought out three women. The fourth time he was caught in the crush, and before he could extricate himself was borne to the floor of the church and died of suffocation.

Judge J. H. Ballew, the negro lawyer, who is said to have pre cipitated the panic by engaging in an altercation with Hicks, the choir leader, has been arrested, and is in jail charged with disturbing public worship. Hicks has not been located. The fact that delegates to the convention were here from all parts of the country, many of them being strangers, renders the work of identification somewhat slow. It is expected that at least a dozen of the injured will die. After midnight last night several bodies of persons who were crushed in the panic were found lying in the weeds in the vacant lot adjoining the church.

A number of white visitors were in the church at the time, and several of them were hurt in the stampede, but none will die. Policeman Elledge, who was standing at the exit, endeavoring to quiet the mad throng, was caught between the multitude and the wall in the narrow passageway leading to the stairs, and nearly all of his clothing was torn from his body. His legs also were mashed, but he will recover. One panic-stricken negro threw him-self over the heads of the crowd and

J. (2 O. L. R., 182), in action for an injunction and damages, and other relief in respect of the alleged infringement by defendants of a trademark, registered by the plaintiffs, who are manufacturers of acid phosphates and other chemical products in St. Louis, U. S. A. The plaintiffs call their acid phosphate "cream acid phosphates," which they put up in packages marked with the letters C. A. P., which are the initial letters of their phosphates. The plaintiffs registered these letters, with their name and address, as their trademark in 1886 in the United States and in 1900 in Canada. The defendants carry on business in London, Ont., principally making sulphuric acid, and nine years ago commenced the manufacture of acid phosphates, using as an ingredient calcium, and marking their packages with the letters C. A. P., intended to signify calcium acid phosphates. Appeal allowed with costs. F. P. Betts (London) and H. Cronyn (London) for plaintiffs. G. F. Shepley, K. C., and E. W. M. PREACHED FINAL SERMON

Rev. A. H. Ranton Drew Very Large Congregation.

Rev. A. H. Ranton, the well-known evangelist who has so acceptably supplied the pulpit of the Dundas Center Methodist Church during Rev. C. T. Scott's absence at the general conference at Winnipeg, preached his final sermon last night. Taking Judas Iscariot as his subject, he delivered a powerful and forceful discourse. forceful discourse, drawing theme the lesson that the sin of Judas is paralelled daily by those who reject Christ for worldly things. Mr. Ranton has been a great favorite with the congregation of Dundas Center Church, and last night the attendance was so large that many people were compelled to stand throughout the service. The musical portion of the service was excellently carried out.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"SAN TOY."

Sidney Jones' charming . operetta, "San Toy," will be at the Grand on Thursday evening. Of the presentation in Toronto recently the Mail and Empire said: "Miss Elgie Bowen, in the title role, amply justified the judgment of those who selected her for that position by her fresh young voice, attractive personality and individual beauty. Mr. George K. For-tesque was, as ever, an admirable impersonator of the fat mandarin. Mr. Sam Collins, in the low comedy part, danced, joked and disported himself most amusingly."

"PRINCESS CHIC."

Joseph C. Miron, the famous basso, is being featured at the head of the organization presenting "The Princess Chic," and he is surrounded by a company of 60 artists. Kirke La Shelle has wisely provided clever comedians for this piece, in which beautiful Hermoine Hazelton is now the prima donna. "Princess Chic" will be at the Grand next Saturday afternoon and SOUR BREAD. Anneyed the Doctor.

If you get right down to the bottom of your stomach trouble it is wrong food, and the way to correct it is not by drugs but by using the right food. A physician in Barron, Wis., writes an instructive letter on this point. He says: "I am a practicing physician, 45 years old, and about 6 feet in height. When I began using Grape-Nuts last spring I weighed 140 lbs., was thin and poor, had a coating on my tongue and frequently belched wind or gas and small pieces of undigested bread present at these first church services, or potatoes, which were very sour, in tended giving them an historical account of the work of the church since he went to Trinidad as a missionary, its inception rather than a sermon, It and in 1884 Rev. Walter M. Rogers had been difficult for him to trace the work from its earliest beginnings because of the fact that of the members who, were in the church 25 years ago there are now only two remaining, Mr. William Brown and Mrs. Buskard. He had only three sources from which to draw his information: (1) Private individuals and private correspondence; (2) Presbytery records; (3) congregational records. These last records aid not begin until seven years after the beginning of the church, and consequently before that time it had been difficult for him to obtain accurate information. The first idea of the church had arisen in the mind of the Rev. Mr. Gordon, of the Presbyterian Church, Crumlin, who thought that a church was needed in London East, and said that if a place of worship were provided he would come in from Crumlin to preach. In May, 1873, Mr. Gordon came in and preached in what was then known as Temperance Hall. It was a very wet day, and there were exactly seven while at the Sunday school service there were only five. Nevertheless from smail beginnings great things sometimes come, and Mr. Gordon, bearing this in mind, persevered throughout 1873 and 1874 with the assistance of the ministers of London and of students.

UNION OF BRANCHES.

In the year 1875 the Presbyterian Churches of Canada, which had formerly been divided into three branches, Auld Kirk, U. P., and Free Church, united. At that time there were just three Presbyterian Churches in London, St. James'-Auld Kirk, the First Presbyterian-U. P., and St. Andrew's ago. -Free Church. When these three united it was better for the King Street Presbyterian, because the Rectory Street Mission School of St. Andrew's Church, conducted by Mr. eat the usual quantity of Grape-Nuts Muir, joined the King Street Church, bringing 120 scholars and 13 teachers. That summer Mr. Henderson, student at Knox College (now minister at Appin and clerk of the London Presbytery) began to conduct services, with a provisional session composed of Mr. Duff, Mr. Murray and Mr. Cowan, while later on a congregationa! wm. Brown, Mr. Parsons and Mr. Fred Cheeseborough, the pioneer mem-

His salary was $600 from the church and $500 from the home missions fund, while the call was signed by 86 members and 63 adherents. Mr. Rogers labored faithfully and well until 1893, when he demitted his charge.

In 1894 Rev. Duncan Robertson took charge, and worked very hard. During his pastorate the original church was enlarged, but his health was so that he was forced to resign in 1896, and go west.

COMING OF PRESENT PASTOR. It was then that the Rev. Thomas Wilson took charge and for six years he has been the pastor of the Street Presbyterian Church. Mr. Wilson modestly omitted any mention of the improvements that had been wrought during his charge, but a glance around the pretty church, newly-fitted and decorated, speaks volumes in itself, while it is no secret that the King Street Church is going for-

Mr. Wilson closed with an earnest prayer for help to remember all the blessings of God from the beginning of their work up the present day, and begged that their past experience might make them more faithful to God, and his work, that they might all hear the 'Well done, O good and faithful servant; enter thou into the joy of the Lord."

FACTS FOR

The merchant who thinks he cannot afford to pay for a large space in the paper, and therefore stays out of the columns altogether, is making a great mistake. Some of the best advertising being done today is done in small spaces. Of course the man who wants his advertisement to count for a great | hold her millinery opening on Weddeal and does not see his way clear to spend a great deal for the space he is using, will naturally have to look for latest French pattern hats, as well as some other way to make his advertisement attract attention. It may be a clever phrase which arrests the attention, it may be a small cut which brings out the quality of the space, it may be only a heavy border or a distinct type style. It is true that every man could have some distinctive feature which would make his ad conspicuous, even though the ad. was a small one. It is fortunate if the advertiser knows how to gain that dis-tinctiveness, and it is fortunate if in gaining it he can do so without great additional expense. Most small ad- A HOME AND DAY SCHOOL. vertisers see the necessity of saying something attractive. Some of them add the cut which multiplies the value of the space. No matter how it is done, it will be possible to make the small ad, stand out so that it will attract the attention of the reader. The great necessity is to select the best way and keep pushing along that line until the public finds it natural to look for what is said and the way it is said, and sees the value of taking to heart the message contained in the
