Sir Charles Tupper Better, LONDON, Aug. 27 .- It is learned that

Sir Chas, Tupper has improved consider-The Evicted Tenants Fund.

LONDON, Aug. 27 .- The total amount subscribed to the Irish evicted tenants fund is £13,000. To this the United States and Canada contributed but £384. The Hot Water Cure.

LONDON, Aug. 27 .- It is chronicled in the papers that Lord Rosebery has successfully rid himself of a long-standing insomnia by the American device of drinking a glass of extremely hot water just before retiring. Punishers Punished.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 27 .- The Dutch expedition sent out to punish the Rajah of Lombok Island, near Java, has been defeated by the natives.

Serious Loss to the Nationalists. London, Aug. 27 .- The retirement of Chance is a grave loss to the Irish Nation-Palist party. He was not only one of the very ablest lawyers in Parliament, but absolutely free from any suggestion of selfseeking, and a veritable rock of common sense. His health demands a long voyage, and he will probably go to South America.

Trouble in the Soudan. CAIRO, Aug. 27 .- It is reported here that the Mahdists are concentrating their forces to attack Kassala and wrest it from the Italians who recently occupied it. The and Dongola, have been stripped of Mahdist troops.

Missionaries Misrepresented.

London, Aug. 27 .- Advices that have reached here from China show that the maltreatment of English women missionaries in Canton was due to the posting of placards accusing foreigners of a desire to poison all the Chinese to avenge the loss of friends by the plague in Kong Kong. The placard says: "Chinese female convicts and foreign devil-women, on the pretext of curing the plague, have spread broadcast poisonous scent bags. The Chinese must not be deceived by them."

A March on Pekin Demanded. YOROHAMA, Aug. 27 .- The war feeling here is growing more intense every day, , and there is a great popular demand for the transfer of the warlike operations from Corea to China. It is suggested that Japan should unite all her available troops and march upon Pekin immediately.

The commercial treaty between Great Britain and Japan was ratified on Satur-

Migration of London Anarchists.

London, Aug. 27 .- The Anarchists of the London colony are said to be migrating to the provincial cities, where they expect to run less risk of interference from the public. Nearly all the bomb-makers have gone already, and are supposed to be already at work in their new laboratories. Home Secretary Asquith has sent out a circular warning the chiefs of police throughout the country that they must carefully watch the sales of certain chemi-

Tragic Death of Queen Margaret's Host.

ROME, Aug. 27 .- Queen Margaret went to the Congressy Valley, in the Province of Turin, several days ago to visit the Baron and Baroness Pecoz. On Saturday her host gave in her honor an excursion into the ps. During the ascent he dropped dead efore the Queen's eyes. She was nearly overcome and became hysterical several times before reaching home. She still suffers from extreme nervousness. The King was summoned to her early yesterday morning. An examination of Baron Pecoz's body showed that he died from heart

Where the Rain Is.

London, Aug. 27 .- It is an old thought hat we derive a certain satisfaction from the misfortunes of our friends, and the Americans who are staying at home this year may well shake hands with themselves as they hear how their compatriots who are day, the inmates escaping with difficulty. visiting Europe are spending their whole time shivering over meager fires in damp, cold lodgings, while streaming window panes reveal only a dreary vista of falling leaves, drenched and deserted streets, and a ceaseless ... ownpour of rain. The dry and smoky, and with the wind in the vast majority of our country people now on this side of the Atlantic cannot have seen a single day of sustained decent weather since they landed. It is like nothing on earth that reasonable folks ever heard of fore, save in the description of the rainy son in the "Swiss Family Robinson," a past four months show a minimum of ashine unrivaled in the records of the ntury, and, as a sober fact, our summer weather was in April. trades which depend on the daymakers, like the Thames boatand the seaside purveyors, find maselves on the threshold of bankruptcy. farmers were astonished for a while, almost feared lest they should have no evance at all this year, but now that the rotting the roots of their crops, and that tempests are flattening out their wheat, by the square mile, they begin to feel like their old selves again. I hear from friends in Ireland that there are serious apprehen. sions about the potato crop, but, luckily, it has been a better year than usual for the England Has Had No Summer Irish agricultural dairy business generally.

Holland's Little Oueen.

London, Aug. 27 .- The little Queen of Holland, who enters her 15th year next week, is paying her first visit to that Zee land portion of her realm which most Americans know only by passing through Flushing. She is growing to be a fine, tall girl, and next winter is to figure on a new issue of coins and stamps.

Sensational Scene in Court.

BERLIN, Aug. 27 .- A Social-Democratic miner named Lodz was convicted in the Essen Criminal Court today of having insulted a royal official, and was sentenced to two weeks' imprisonment. As soon as the sentence was pronounced he drew a revolver. The judges fled and he fired two shots at them, but without hitting them. Then he turned to kill himself, but he was overpowered by court officials before he could do more. Nobody was injured.

Jerusalem Growing.

LONDON, Aug. 27.-Jerusalem is gowing in population so rapidly since the railroad opened, and a surplus of Jewish wanderers found the way there from other eastern parts, that the Turks have been stirred out of their constitutional torpor long enough to consent that the town's water supply be improved. The contract which has been awarded involves an outlay of $400,000 and contemplates the utilization of ancient aqueducts supposed to date from Solomon's reign, and to which new conduits are to be joined.

A Disbeliever in Racial Retrogression.

LONDON, Aug. 27 .- King Oscar has been attending all the session of the American Congress at Stockholm, and disputing with Virehow about his theory that the gorillalike qualities of the Patagonian skulls are due to degeneracy, not to original debasement of the human type. This amiable and learned monarch, the Pedro II. of Europe, firmly declined to accept the theory that mankind ever retrogrades. At the time, however, he had not heard the election returns from Upper Norway, where the Democrats are reported to have made remarkable gains.

some days, notably in the Ellice swamps, near Gad's Hill to the north, and considerable damage and loss is the result. Yesterday and today a bad fire has been in progress in South Easthope, near the little valuable standing timber have been destroyed.

The farmers in this vicinity are kept busy tonight taking measures for the protection of their houses and barns, in which they are assisted very materially so far by the absence of wind. A through car of freight, consisting of general merchandise, from Boston to Chicago in bond, took fire when near Tavistock, and there being no means at hand for extinguishing the flames the car was detached from the train and allowed to burn. A FARMER'S SERIOUS LOSS. Wellesley, Ont., Aug. 27.—About 10 o'clock this morning David Hergoth's barn near this place was burned to the ground with all this year's crop, outbuildings, threshed grain, one horse and three calves. Loss upwards of $3,000. The fire was caused by the burning of a straw stack which caught from sparks carried from the surrounding bush fires. A SETTLEMENT WIPED OUT. ISPHEMING, Mich., Aug. 27 .- The settlement known as Finland, on the South Shore Railroad, has been wiped out by flames. Many settlers lost everything.

One thousand cords of poles, ties and wood, as well as much standing timber, are also destroyed. Trout Creek and other settlements are threatened.

MANY HOMELESS. HARRISVILLE, Mich., Aug. 27.—The fires that started last week in berry swamps have destroyed crops and many homes. Campbell's mills, near West Harrisville, together with 100,000 feet of lumber, 2,000 cedar ties and many railroad flat care, were burned yesterday. Seven farmers near Killmaster lost their houses and grain. Edward Kingston and son James were badly burned.

Peterson, who has just completed three new dwellings and other buildings, has sent for help to fight the fire. It is very south this village is in imminent danger.

A THOUSAND ACRES SCORCHED. TROY, N. Y., Aug. 27 .- A destructive forest fire which began a week ago on Grafton Mountain, in this county, is still raging. About 1,000 acres have already been burned and three houses consumed, as well as a large quantity of cordwood.

Reasons Why the Measure Does Not Meet His Approval,

And Why He Will Allow It to Become Law Without His Signature.

It Will Lighten Many Tariff Burdens-A Barrier Against the Return of Mad Protection, and a Vantage Ground From Which to Attack Protected Monopely and Governmental Favoritism.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 .- President Cleveland has written a letter to Representative Catchings (Mississippi) in which he sets forth his views of the new tariff law and gives his reasons for not approving the

"EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON,

"Hon. T. C. Catchings: My Dear Sir,-Since the conversation I had with you and Mr. Clarke, of Alabama, a few days ago in The result is I am more settled than ever in the determination to ALLOW THE BILL TO BECOME LAW without my signature. When the formation of legislation, which it was hoped would embody Democratic ideas of tariff suffering people. Yours truly, reform, was lately entered upon by Congress, nothing was further from my anticipation than a result which I could not promptly and enthusiastically indorse. It is therefore with a feeling of the utmost disappointment that I submit to a denial of this privilege. I do not claim to be better than the masses of my party, nor do I wish to avoid any responsibility which on account of the passage of this law I ought to bear as a member of the Democratic Congress. organization. Neither will I permit myself to be separated from my party to such an extent as might be implied by my veto of tariff legislation which, though disappointing, is still CHARGEABLE TO DEMOCRATIC EFFORT. But there are propositions in this bill which are not in line with honest tariff reform, and it contains inconsistencies and crudities which ought not to appear in tariff laws or laws of any kind. Besides, there were, as you and I well know, incidents accompanying the passage of the bill Bush Fires Prevalent Around through Congress which made every sincere tariff reformer unhappy, while influences surrounded it in its latter stages and interfered with its final construction which ought not to be recognized or tolerated in Democratic tariff reform counsels. And yet, notwithstarding all its vicissitudes and all the bad treatment it received at the hands of pretended friends, it presents A VAST IMPROVEMENT TO EXISTING CON-DITIONS.

It will certainly lighten many tariff burdens that now rest heavily upon the people. It is not only a barrier against the return of mad protection, but it furnishes a vantage ground from which must be waged further aggressive operations against protected monopoly and Governmental favoritism. I take my place with the rank and file of the Democratic STRATFORD, Aug. 27.—Bush fires have party, who believe in tariff rewho refuse to accept the results embodied in this bill as the close of the war; who are not blinded to the fact that the livery of Democratic tariff reform has been stolen and worn in the service of Republican prolakes, and large quantities of cordwood and tection, and who have marked the places where the deadly blight of treason has blasted the counsels of the brave in their hour of might. The trusts and combina-

THE COMMUNION OF PELFwhose machinations have prevented us from reaching the success we deserved, should not be forgotten or forgiven. We shall recover from our astonishment at their exhibition of power, and if then the question is forced upon us whether they shall submit to the free legislative will of the people's representatives, or shall dictate the laws which the people must chey, we will accept and settle that issue as one involving the integrity and safety of American institutions. I love the principles of true Democracy because they are founded on patriotism and upon JUSTICE AND FAIRNESS TOWARD ALL IN-TERESTS. I am proud of my party organization be-cause it is conservatively sturdy and persistent in the enforcement of its principles. Therefore I do not despair of the efforts made by the House of Representatives to supplement the bill already passed by further legislation, and to have engrafted upon it such modifications as will more nearly meet Democratic hopes and aspirations. I cannot be mistaken as to the necessity of free raw materials as the foundation of logical and sensible tariff reform. The extent to which this is recognized in the legislation already secured is REDEEMING AND ENCOURAGING FEATURES, but it is vexatious to recall that while free coal and iron ore have been denied us, a recent letter of the Secretary of the Treasury discloses the fact that both might have been made free by the annual surrender of only about $700,-000 of unnecessary revenue. I am sure that there is a common habit of underestimating the importance of raw materials in tariff legislation and of regarding them as only related to concessions to be made to our manufacturers. The truth is that their influence is so far reaching that if disregarded a complete and beneficent scheme of tariff cannot be successfully inaugurated. When we give to our manufacturers

FREE RAW MATERIALS we unshackle American enterprise and ingenuity, and these will open the doors of foreign markets to the reception our wares and give opportunity for the continuous and remunerative employment of American labor. With materials cheapened by their freedom from tariff charges the cost of their product must be correspondingly cheapened. Thereupon justice and fairness to the consumer would demand that the manufacturers be obliged to submit to such a readjustment and modification of the tariff upon their finished goods as would secure to the people the benefit of reduced cost of their manufacture and shield the consumer AGAINST EXACTION OF INORDINATE PROFITS. "It will thus be seen that free raw materials and a just and fearless regulation and reduction of the tariff to meet the changed conditions would carry to every humble home in the land the blessings of increased comforts and cheaper living. The millions of our countrymen who have regard to my action upon the tariff bill fought bravely and well for tariff reform now before me, I have given the subject should be exhorted to continue the struggle further and most serious consideration. boldly, challenging to open warfare and constantly guarding against the treachery and half-heartedness in their camp.

"Tariff reform will not be settled until it is honestly and fairly settled in the interest and to the benefit of a patient and long

"GROVER CLEVELAND."

IN CONGRESS. WASHINGTON, Aug. 27-(Senate.)-The Senate was in session today only an hour and a quarter, and that time was spent behind closed doors. Only 23 senators were present. They adjourned at 1:15 p.m., adjournment being until noon tomorrow, at which time there will be exactly two hours before the final close of House, Washington, Aug. 27.—The ex piring hours of the House were marked today by an immense concourse of visiting Knights of Pythias, who are gathering in Washington this week. Mr. Haughton announced the death this morning of his late colleague, Representative George B. Shaw, at his home in Wisconsin. After the appointment of a committee to represent the House at the funeral the House at 1:30 o'clock adjourned until tomorrow.

WOOL AND WHISKY. WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—According to Secretary Carlisle's instructions all wool now in bonded warehouses at any port of the United States comes free of duty after tomorrow. It amounts to 63,779,321 pounds, of the value of $7,719,672.

A telegram was sent to collectors of in ternal revenue at 4 o'clock this afternoon directing them after today to collect a tax on spirits at $1 10 per gallon and propor-tionate rate on all fractions of one-tenth or

Mrs. Julia McAuliffe, aged 58, widow of the late Patrick McAuliffe, of Hamilton, was found dead in bed at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at her residence, 390 Macnab street north. She had been ailing for some time, but her sudden taking off is attributed to heart trouble.

An examination of the remains of Charles Emmett, the young Detroit football player, who died during the progress of a game at Walkerville on Saturday, showed that death was caused by heart failure, superinduced by over-exertion and the shock of his collision with a member of the Walkerville team.

A Toad in Her Stomach.

CLARION, Penn., Aug. 27.—Twila, a 4-, ear-old daughter of J. Altman, while playing on the pavement, lay down, face foremost, and was playing with a small toad. While in the act of laughing the toad hopped into her mouth and down into her stomach. She suffered such extreme agony for some time that it took several persons to hold her.

While waiting for the physician one of the neighbors gave the child whisky, which had the effect of either stupefying the toad or causing its death. Dr. W. F. Myers gave an emetic, and the little one expelled the toad from her stomach in WARSAW. Aug. 27.-Count Tysz Keewicz, whose estates are near Koottingen in the Government of Wilna, has been on bad terms with his tenants for several months. Several tenants re-fused to pay rent. On Saturday the count seized 30 head of their cattle as security. The peasants were intensely excited by the appearance of the count's officers, and let the cattle go only after having been driven with clubs from the sheds. Early yesterday morning 100 of them armed with muskets, scythes and pitchforks marched to the count's castle. They demanded the causing heavy damage along the line of the Saginaw and Huron Railway. FRASER VS. MEREDITH.

A Stirring Scene in the Ontario Legislature.

How the Late Minister Discomfitted His Opponent.

Early in 1882 the writer first heard Christopher Finlay Fraser in the old Parliament buildings. It was one of the great nights of the debate upon the boundary question. Oliver Mowat sat with the rim of his silk hat tilted down until it almost shaded his eyes. His arms were folded, and beside him was poor Timothy Blair Pardee, wearing the childlike smile which never left his face until it was yellowed by disease and darkened by the shadow of approaching death. Arthur Sturgis Hardy, full of swagger and eager to fight, lolled in his chair. He were the black slouch hat couchant, for the Government had trusted the duty of replying to W. R. Meredith to Mr. Hardy's desk mate, C. F. Fraser. Mr. Fraser's black slouch hat was rampant.

The Highland and Irish blood in him warmed at the chance of conflict. There

WAS A FIERCE LIGHT IN THE EYES that blazed behind those spectacles. His scornful laugh disconcerted W. R. Meredith. Mr. Fraser's laugh was not least among the weapons which he used in his feuds with the Opposition. This night Mr. Meredith was speaking, and speaking well as he always does, but he had the worst of the argument because he was fighting for the party at Ottawa, and the Government was battling for the Province. Mr. Fraser made the most of his advantage. Before the Conservative remnant had ceased to thump the desks the haughty clansman rose, thrust away his chair and waited till the applause which Oliver Mowat started died out and gave him a chance to speak. He smote the Opposition policy hip and thigh. He used with telling effect the map issued at Ottawa which fixed the limits of Ontario on the lines drawn by the arbitrators. This map auzzled Mr. Meredith. Mr. Fraser had not given the date of its publication, but in response to a request he sent a page with it to the Opposition leader across the floor. Mr. Meredith looked at the map, smiled as if he had made a discovery, and rose to his feet, saying:

"One moment, please. "Certainly," said Mr. Fraser, as he sat

"I find," began Mr. Meredith, "that this map which the honorable gentleman is using was issued before the Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald came into power. It was issued under the auspices of the Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, and this is the evidence which is being used against us on this side." The Conservatives applauded, and the Grits were dumb for the moment. Mr. Meredith sat down. His handsome face was lit by the smile of a man who had scored a point. Mr. Fraser sprang up.

"I suppose," he said, "that the honorable gentleman means that the Government now in power at Ottawa is not bound by the admissions of its predecessors."

Mr. Meredith nodded. The long, lean, aggressive forefinger of The Fraser was extended, and the speaker went on to say: "I am satisfied. This map shows that the Hon. Alexander Mackenzie was prepared to do Ontario justice, which is refused to us by the honorable gentleman's friends at Ottawa, with the approval of the honorable gentleman and his party in this Legislature." Then the speaker dropped into the jeering tones, which he frequently used at that time, and said with a laugh: "I just thought you'd drop into that hole."-[Toronto Telegram. LET THE CAT OUT Of the P. P. A. Bag-Secrets of a Euron

County Lodge Revealed.

(Toronto Mail.) The council of the P. P. A. in Blyth, Huron county, has made a terrible discovery a discovery which is causing the chief officers of the order great anxiety. It has been proved without a doubt that not only has the ritual of the association, but the whole of the scoret code of signs, grips and passwords, been given to members of both political parties, with the result that in several cases men who were not members were able to enter the sacred precincts and learn the plans for election purposes which were being laid by the stalwarts. The knowledge has spread consternation throughout Western Ontario. A hastily summoned meeting of some of the leading officers has been held, and it is more than probable that an entirely new ritual with the necessary secret signs, grips and passwords will have to be compiled before the difficulty will be overcome. It is alleged that the local leaders are perfectly well aware of the identity of the party who was base enough to divulge these secrets, and no doubt condign punishment will be meted out to

A Druggist's Opinion. Mr. Hugh Miller, druggist, 167 King street east, Toronto, says: "Eseljay's Livet Lozenges embody a new departure in medicine, and the idea is certainly a good one, as all unpleasantness is done away with, and a person gets an effectual yet gentle laxative without any of the nauseating effects produced by pills. They are an especially convenient way of administering medicine to children." Mr. Miller voices the opinion of druggists all over the Dominion. People who are troubled with sleeples s ness should drink cocoa, instead of tea or coffee, at the evening meal.

Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy and general corrective, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of any other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, carache, bruiss;, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

A Sure Remedy for Neuralgia. Neuralgia is one of the most common and distressing complaints incidental to this climate. It is not confined to any particular season, for whilst most general in the winter season, yet many suffer its excruciating agony in the heat of summer. In late years this form of disease has become better known, and consequently the means of relief have greatly increased in numbers, as well as in efficacy. Among the most power ful and penetrating combinations placed within the reach of the public for the relie of neuralgia we can mention no remedy equal to or more certain than Polson's Ner viline. Its power over pain is something wonderful, and we advise a trial for neuralgia or any other painful complains Pretty faces bring big prices in the foel'

SHE IS STILL WELL.

Many People Thought That Mrs. Reany's Recovery Was Only Temporary-A Pleasant Disappointment-She is Better Than Ever.

SHELBURNE, Aug. 27 .- When Mrs. Reany's letter appeared in a local paper here some time ago, giving a history of her long illness and final cure of kidney disease by Dodd's Kidney Pills, many readers thought her improvement was only temporary. All such have been most successfully contradicted, as a letter lately received here from Mrs. Reany states that she has all along been gaining in general health, since her kidneys were restored to a sound state, and that for many years she has not enjoyed such good health and spirits. Mrs. Reany, therefore, still pins her faith to Dodd's Kidney Pills and recommends them as rongly as ever to afflicted members of

It is, in all probability, a school exercise, preserved, in consideration of its youthful eleverness, by Emily's teacher, M. Heger, otherwise "M. Paul Emanuel."

The amount of light that Harper's Weekly was able to throw upon the remote and little-known country of Corea, the instant that public attention was directed to it, may be taken as an indication of the almost boundless resources of the paper, and its capacity to deal promptly and comprehensively with every occurrence of interest to the public.

The Ladies' Home Journal for September is an excellent number of this always interesting and valuable publication.

"A Comedy of Counterplots," by Edgar Fawcett, is the introductory story of a very attractive little volume, the second of the Outing Library, issued by the Outing Publishing Company. The volume is well illustrated, and contains in addition to Mr. $400 as a balance outstanding against the Fawcett's story: "Pastelle," "A Medley of the Midway Plaisance," "A Very Strange Case," "The Flagelante's Sin," "The Ghost at Wite Bear." New York: Outing Pub. lishing Company.

"Captain Molly," by Mary A. Dennison, is the principal attraction of Lippincott's costs. for September. Laura A. Smith contributes

"It is not every son that can remember his mother's 21st birthday," is the quaint remark of the Marquis of Dufferin in a sketch of his mother, Helen, Lady Dufferin, prefixed to a collection of "Songs, Poems and Verses," by Lady Dufferin, recently published in London. Such, however, was Lord Dufferin's experience, and he celebrated the occasion by nearly poisoning himself with laburnum seeds. Lady Dufferin was a granddaughter of Richard Brinsley Sheridan and sister of the famous Mrs. Norton (Mr. Meredith's "Diana"). Her chief claim to literary remembrance is the famous song, "I'm Sitting on the Stile, Mary," one of those songs which have so taken hold of the British popular heart that their authorship has become rather national than individual. An Irish ballad, no less touching in its simple appeal, is 'Katev's Letter":

"Och, girls, did you ever hear, I wrote my love a letter.

And altho' he cannot read.

I thought 'twas all the better. For why should he be puzzled With spellin' in the matter, When the manin' was so plain

I loved him faithfully, And he knows it—oh, he knows it— Without one word from me.

Perhaps Lady Dutterin strikes her deepest notes in the tender occasional poems to her son, and present editor. The love between them seems to have been exceptionally beautiful, and, indeed, as Lady Dufferin was married at a very early age, there was considerable less disparity in years between mother and son than is xxx

Readers of the September Scribner (New York) will turn at once to Ulpiano Checa's spirited and startlingly realistic picture, 'An Unlucky Meeting," two runaway horses racing with a locomotive, and to Mr. Hamerton's account of the painter. Mr. Marion Crawford with his pen and Mr. Reinhart with his pencil seasonably depict Bar Harbor; Mr. Lumholtz has an interesting description of the Tarahumaris of the Sierra Madre, profusely illustrated from photographs, and the patchwork quilt has its construction analyzed and its history told, and is raised into the domain of art in Mrs. Bergen's "Tapestry of the New World." Mrs. J. T. Field's selection of autographs and pictures, and Octave Thanet's "The People of the Cities," are fully illustrated. The fiction of this number comprises the first half of a two-part story by Thomas Nelson Page, a Spanish-American yarn by H. L. Webb, and a dialect story by G. Fay, while Mr. Cable's serial, "John March," continues.

The September number of Harper's Magazine (New York) has at least four articles which readers will read with avidity and talk about afterward. "Some Records of the Ice Age About New York," by T. Mitchell Prudden, has rare charm as a piece of local history of the most ancient sort. Julian Ralph's paper on West Virginia life, "Where Time Has Slumbered," has the value and grace of this author's best work. John W. Chadwick, of course, writes of Bryant in "The Origin of a Great Poem." Alired Parsons has a delightful paper on "Early Summer in Japan," and Caspar W. Whitney has another on "Riding to Hounds in England."

Fatal Street Car Collision. HAMMOND, Ind., Aug. 27 .- In a street car collision this morning ten persons were seriously injured. Motorman Masnine and a passenger named Faulkner, of this city, vere fatally injured.

William Moffat, lot 35, con. 8, Culross, was drawing in oats last week, when he met with a serious accident. Mr. Moffat was caught on the face by the pole on which the lines are hung and on the back of the head by a girth at the top of the barn door It is probable that the opening chapters actually wedged in behind the lower ones. For a time it was feared lockjaw would set in. His face is badly lacerated and his mouth all cut up. The wonder is that there is a whole bone in his face. The injured

No Tax Robbery !

We must have taxes. This seems to be the penalty we pay for our civilization, and I am not a demagogue to come here and say to you, you must not have taxes; but I stand here to say that the Government has no more right to take out of my pocket a dollar more than is needed for the economical administration of the affairs of the country than the robber has to empty my pocket on the highway. -[Hon. NEW YORK, Aug. 27 .- Police Inspector McLaughlin was asked today about a dispatch from Columbus, O., which states that Mother Mandelbaum, the old-time notorious "fence," whose death was reported from Hamilton, Ont., several months ago. was supposed to be still alive, and that the casket shipped to New York which was said to have contained her body was filled with stones. The inspector said it was a ridiculous yarn. He knows for a positive fact that Mother Mandlebaum is dead, and that it was her body that was brought here from Hamilton.

The Turtle Came Back.

LOCKPORT, Aug. 27. - Twenty years ago Daniel Wynkoop caught a turtle in Mud Creek, a little stream two miles south of this city, and after catting his name on its back, with "1874" attached, put it back in the water. The other afternoon Wynkoop tried his luck at fishing in the same creek. Of a sudden he thought he must have hooked a shark, but after a hard pull finally landed the biggest turtle he ever saw. On looking it over he was astonished to find on its shell, very legible, the handiwork he executed when a boy. Cattle Shipments from Montreal.

"ITS PLEASANT TASTE AND ITS RICHNESS IN NATURAL CARBONIC ACID ARE AGREEABLE QUALITIES WHICH HAVE LARGELY CONTRIBUTED TO ITS WORLD-WIDE POPULARITY." British Medical Journal,

For nearly 50 years this wonderful remedy has proved itself the best, quickest, safest and surest antidote for pain in the world. THE TRUE RELIEF

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF is safe, reliable and effectual because of the stimulating action which it exerts over the nerves and vital powers of the body, adding tone to the one and inciting to renewed and increased vigor the slumbering vitality of the physical structure, and through this healthful stimulation and increased action the cause of the PAIN is driven away and a natural condition restored. It is thus that the READY RELIEF is so admirably adapted for the CURE OF PAIN and without the risk of injury which is sure to result from the use of many of the so-called pain remedies of the day. RADWAY'S READY RELIEF is safe, re-sure to result from the use of many of the so-called pain remedies of the day.

In using medicines to stop pain we should avoid such as inflict injury on the system.
Opium, Morphine, Ether, Cocaine and Chloral stop pain by destroying the sense of perception, when the patient loses the power of feeling.
This is the most destructive practice: it masks the syptoms, shuts up, and instead offremoving trouble, breaks down the stomach, liver and bowels, and if continued for a length of time bowels, and, if continued for a length of time, kills the nerves and produces local or general paralysis.

There is no necessity for using these uncertain agents when a positive remedy like RAD-WAY'S READY RELIEF will stop the most excruciating pain quicker, without entailing the least difficulty in either infant or adult. A CURE FOR ALL

SUMMER COMPLAINTS DYSENTERY, DIARRHEA, CHOLERA MORBUS.

One of the Chicago business men at the late great Baptist Convention in Toronto emphasized that point. The Chicago Advance, a leading American weekly, has said: "Cure is more difficult and costly than prevention. Probably a fraction of the money and effort spent to put down the rioters, if expended in the education and christianizing of these needy souls would have made riots impossible." FESTO.

President Cleveland will have the indorsation of the vast majority of the Democratic party in the stand he has taken with regard to the new tariff bill, which went into effect over the border this morning. The measure does not come up to the standard of Democratic pre-election promises, and it is especially defective in that it collects duties on coal, iron and other raw materials, thus affording an excuse for the demand by the trusts that they shall be given the right to collect tribute from the people on their finished products. For these reasons President Cleveland could not conscientiously sign the bill, but he does not hesitate to record the fact that the measure is a vast improvement on the McKinley Bill, which it replaces. The new measure relieves the industry of the United States from many grievous burdens, and renders a profitable interchange of trade with other countries much easier than under the abandoned law.

By some United States "protectionists" the law just passed is held to be objectionable because it will enable the United States to huy Canadian products more freely than has been possible during the last few years. It is represented that this is unpatriotic, and that the law was necessary to compel the people of the United States to abstain from "sending first is the instinct of imitation, particutheir money out of the country." As the same cry is sometimes raised by Canadian high tax advocates, when tax reduction is proposed, a brief reference to the fallacy may be profitable. We are quite certain that the greater freedom to trade which the United States Congress has enacted will not result in sending United States | future seem less hard to bear than the cermoney out of the country, but will rather increase the wealth of the country, and than a cause in this matter, and which has more equitably distribute it. Civilized been long observed-namely, the possession grade is not conducted by payments of injury to self, which ought to be recol-

one another. The international commerce s merely an interchange of commedities. What will happen through the entire removal of some United States taxes on Canedian products and the substantial reduc tion of taxes on others will be a greater disposition on the part of the United States people to buy what we have to sell and corresponding importation of United States products in payment, the trade being governed in each case by the needs of the respective peoples. No one buys a cent's worth of foreign made goods unless it is to his advantage. If we sell to the United States we may be quite sure that the people will collect payment, and the same holds good when they sell to us. Because President Cleveland recognizes these simple facts, he regrets that the freedom to trade under the new tariff bill is not as great as it might have been, while rejoicing that it is a decided step in the direction of emancipation from every unnecessary exaction.

Never again will a McKinley Bill be possible in the United States; never again will Tupper manage to bamboozle the Canadian electorate. The world moves; the people increase in wisdom.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

While the small fry of "statesmen" are still inclined to pooh-pooh the equal franchise reform as "a fad," it is a well-known fact that some of the ablest statesmen of Great Britain, and of the United States, have had no hesitation in declaring themselves decidedly in its favor. In England Disraeli, Lord Derby, John Stuart Mill, Huxley and others, whose opinions have been respected everywhere, have been among its warm advocates. In Canada, Sir John Macdonald, Sir John Abbott, Sir Oliver Mowat and men of their stamp have declared themselves in its favor.

Among the well-known American states men who have been well known as thoughtful and reliable men are the following, though they do not by any means comprise the full list:

Abraham Lincoln, respected the world over for his statesmanship and soundness of views, said: "I go for all sharing the privileges of the government who assist in bearing its burdens, by no means excluding

John Stuart Mill will long occupy a foremost rank among England's greatest thinkers and political economists. He PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S MAN!- said: "There ought to be no pariahs in a full-grown, civilized nation, no persons disqualified, except through their own defect. CAUSES OF SUICIDE.

Recent suicides in this locality suggest an inquiry into why suicides are on the increase in civilized countries. Undoubtedly a portion of the increase comes from hereditary tendencies. Men marry women that are weak minded and vice versa, and the number of the race that is of unsound mind is increased. Snicides are multiplied by the same means, for the medical profession assert that the same causes that lead to insanity lead to suicide. Intemperance and self-indulgence of all kinds, gambling and speculation, domestic trouble (especially in woman), worry and over work, depressed circumstances and undue religious excitement are also incidental causes that lead to the development of the latent suicidal tendency. But the Bishop of Salisbury, in a recent charge, points out that the imitative instinct plays an important part in suicide, and that writers for the public have a grave responsibility in Robert has been an invalid for nearly dealing with it. The bishop save:

"There are, I think, two causes especially besides these which conduce to suicide, which ought to be taken into account by all who have to do with education. The larly in the form of the vain and childish desire for notoriety. The second is the unwillingness to bear slight pain or disappointment, ordinary trials and vexations, or even reproof of a simple kind, which is a painful feature of our modern civilization, especially perhaps among young people. This cowardly weakness is often accompanied and several thousand dollars in debt. He by an undeveloped skepticism, which makes the uncertain possibilities of the tainty of present pain. There is a third circumstance, which is an occasion rather of opportunity or of instruments suggestive in specie. Very little money ever lected by all who are responsible for the passes between countries trading with training of others. The Drought Telling on the Springbank Reservoir.

But There is No Cause for Alarm-Eleven Feet Deep and Pumps Working Well-The Water Commissioners.

The Board of Water Commissioners held their regular semi-monthly meeting in the City Hall at 11 o'clock this morning, merely for the purpose of transacting routine business. The long continued drought is commencing to have a telling effect upon the reservoir at Springbank, but nothing to cause alarm. Two weeks but since then it has gradually been creeping downwards until it barely covers the eleven-foot mark. The pumps have been working well, the daily everage amount taken from the springs being over 3,000,000 gallons. Engineer Moore stated that the reeve of Westminster had waited upon him in reference to the stone culvert on the Pipe Line road, opposite Mrs. Cooper's residence. About one-third of it had been washed away. The township authorities will be asked to inform the board in writing as to what they would desire to be done, and a special meeting will be called. Secretary Browne, of the Western Fair Board, requested the commissioners to assist in every possible way to make the exhibition a success as they had in past years by granting free water, etc. Granted.

The Carling Brewing Company forwarded a check for $78 76 for water services. At present there are in use 1,229 services of three-eighths of an inch - or about one-third of the total number in the city. Alexander Anderson, of 682 William street, complained of an insufficient water supply, the service being only threeeighths of an inch. The complaint will be dealt with in the future, as there is some talk of this size of pipe being enlarged.

One of the Chicago business men at the late great Baptist Convention in Toronto emphasized that point. The Chicago Advance, a leading American weekly, has said: "Cure is more difficult and costly than prevention. PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S MANI-FESTO. President Cleveland will have the indorsation of the vast majority of the Democratic party in the stand he has taken with regard to the new tariff bill, which went into effect over the border this morning. The measure does not come up to the standard of Democratic pre-election promises, and it is especially defective in that it collects duties on coal, iron and other raw materials, thus affording an excuse for the demand by the trusts that they shall be given the right to collect tribute from the people on their finished products. For these reasons President Cleveland could not conscientiously sign the bill, but he does not hesitate to record the fact that the measure is a vast improvement on the McKinley Bill, which it replaces. The new measure relieves the industry of the United States from many grievous burdens, and renders a profitable interchange of trade with other countries much easier than under the abandoned law.

By some United States "protectionists" the law just passed is held to be objectionable because it will enable the United States to buy Canadian products more ireely than has been possible during the last few years. It is represented that this is unpatriotic, and that the law was necessary to compel the people of the United States to abstain from "sending their money out of the country." As the same cry is sometimes raised by Canadian high tax advocates, when tax reduction is proposed, a brief reference to the fallacy may be profitable. We are quite certain that the greater freedom to trade which the United States Congress has enacted will not result in sending United States | future seem less hard to bear than the cermoney out of the country, but will rather increase the wealth of the country, and more equitably distribute it. Civilized been long observed-namely, the possession payments of opportunity or of instruments suggestive cheapest bread in the city at D. J. Langtrade is not conducted by payments of injury to self, which ought to be recolin specie. Very little money ever lected by all who are responsible for the s merely an interchange of commedities. What will happen through the entire removal of some United States taxes on Canedian products and the substantial reduc tion of taxes on others will be a greater disposition on the part of the United States people to buy what we have to sell and a corresponding importation of United States products in payment, the trade being governed in each case by the needs of the respective peoples. No one buys a cent's worth of foreign made goods unless it is to his advantage. If we sell to the United States we may be quite sure that the people will collect payment, and the same holds good when they sell to us. Because President Cleveland recognizes these simple facts, he regrets that the freedom to trade under the new tariff bill is not as great as it might have been, while rejoicing that it is a decided step in the direction of emancipation from every unnecessary exaction.

Never again will a McKinley Bill be possible in the United States; never again will Tupper manage to bamboozle the Canadian electorate. The world moves; the people increase in wisdom.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

While the small fry of "statesmen" are still inclined to pooh-pooh the equal franchise reform as "a fad," it is a well-known fact that some of the ablest statesmen of Great Britain, and of the United States, have had no hesitation in declaring themselves decidedly in its favor. In England Disraeli, Lord Derby, John Stuart Mill, Huxley and others, whose opinions have been respected everywhere, have been among its warm advocates. In Canada, Sir John Macdonald, Sir John Abbott, Sir Oliver Mowat and men of their stamp have declared themselves in its favor.

Among the well-known American statesmen who have been well known as thoughtful and reliable men are the following, though they do not by any means comprise the full list:

Abraham Lincoln, respected the world over for his statesmanship and soundness of views, said: "I go for all sharing the privileges of the government who assist in bearing its burdens, by no means excluding

I think that the state can no more afford to disthan the family."

> John Stuart Mill will long occupy a foremost rank among England's greatest thinkers and political economists. He said: "There ought to be no pariahs in a full-grown, civilized nation, no persons disqualified, except through their own defect. Difference of sex is as irrelevant to political rights as difference of height or color of hair."

CAUSES OF SUICIDE.

Recent suicides in this locality suggest an inquiry into why suicides are on the increase in civilized countries. Undoubtedly a portion of the increase comes from hereditary tendencies. Men marry women that are weak minded and vice versa, and the number of the race that is of unsound mind is increased. Suicides are multiplied by the same means, for the medical profession assert that the same causes that ead to insanity lead to suicide. Intemperance and self-indulgence of all kinds, gambling and speculation, domestic trouble (especially in woman), worry and over work, depressed circumstances and undue religious excitement are also incidental causes that lead to the development of the latent suicidal tendency. But the Bishop of Salisbury, in a recent charge, points out that the imitative instinct plays an important part in suicide, and that writers for the public have a grave responsibility in Robert has been an invalid for nearly dealing with it. The bishop says: "There are, I think, two causes especially besides these which conduce to suicide, which ought to be taken into account by all who have to do with education. The first is the instinct of imitation, particularly in the form of the vain and childish desire for notoriety. The second is the unwillingness to bearslight pain or disappointment, ordinary trials and vexations, or even reproof of a simple kind, which is a painful feature of our modern civilization, especially perhaps among young people. This cowardly weakness is often accompanied by an undeveloped skepticism, which makes the uncertain possibilities of the tainty of present pain. There is a third circumstance, which is an occasion rather than a cause in this matter, and which has passes between countries trading with training of others. The comparatively very high rate of suicide in the army, and the high rates among medical men, chemists, and even photographers, are probably in-creased and eccasioned, though not really caused, by familiarity with weapons and poisons. Certain places also become dangerous by association, and should be care. fully guarded. The instinct of imitation is one which needs constant watching, since, for good or for evil, it is one of the most potent factors of human conduct. Those who have the ear of the public through the press, either as journalists novel-writers, and essayists or dramatists, have an immense responsibility in this matter. The use of suicide, as of murder, to impart interest to a novel or drama, or to help out a halting plot, is a terrible misuse of power. It is a great blot in certain writers' fame that in their works suicide is suggested, discussed, idallied with as a natural means to escape a difficult situation. But the journalist who heads a sensational paragraph 'Romantic Suicide' is not far off being an accomplice to self-murder. ATHLETICS.

CHAMPION OF THE WORLD. LIVERPOOL, Aug. 27 .- MacInnery, of America, and Cannon, of England, met here this evening in a wrestling match for $500 a side and the championship of the world. The first bout, Græco-Roman, was won by Cannon in seven minutes. The second, catch-as-catch-can, was won by MacInnery in thirteen minutes. Cannon had the choice of style in the third bout, and decided upon Græco-Roman. He won the fall in about eight minutes, thus getting back the championship of the world. About 5,000 men saw the match.

M'AULIFFE VS. YOUNG GRIFFO. New York, Aug. 27 .- The ten-round bout between Jack McAuliffe and Alfred Griffiths, better known as "Young Griffo," attracted an immense crowd to the arena of the Seaside Athletic Club at Coney Island tonight. Jack tried to force the fighting | bilities. from the start, but up to the eighth round honors were easy. At the end of the seventh round Griffo was chasing Jack around the ring. Griffo had the best of the eighth round, punched McAuliffe almost at will. The ninth round opened with a rush, and was Jack's. The crowd began to leave the building before the tenth round began. The fighting in this round was of the fiercest nature, but McAuliffe could not regain his lost laurels. Pandemonium reigned when the announcement was made that Referee Maxey Moore had decided McAuiffe the winner. The crowd hissed and groaned until the building fairly trembled, and all hands yelled "Griffo." Wnen McAuliffe left the stage they hissed him all the way back to his dressing room and yelled "robber." It was unquestionably the most barefaced decision that has ever been given at a boxing match in this vicinity. Griffo made a speech from the stage and said he would fight McAuliffe to a doubt. THE WHEEL.

50,000 SPECTATORS OF A RACE. The most noteworthy cycling performance of this season is the performance of F. W. Shorland, the famous English racer, in the 24 nour Cuca cup race. This race, which took place at Herne Hill on Aug. 13, was not alone remarkable for the fact that a new record was created, but also from an attendance point of view. Over 50,000 persons witnessed the race, and it is said that fully 8,000 persons waited throughout the night to witness the progress of the contestants. Shorland led all the way and won handily. He was the previous holder of the cup, and, as a consequenes, was looked upon to maintain a eading position in the race. At the end of the first hour he had covered 24 miles, 1,460 yards, and was in the lead. This programme continued until the end of the race. At the thirzsenth hour Shorland lowered the French record of 276 miles, 247 yards, held by Huret. The French record was 457 miles for 24 hours. Shorland surpassed this by three miles.

DRESDEN'S MEET. The bicycle clube of the west are nothing if not enterprising. The Dresden Stars are the latest to announce a meet for which capital prizes are offered. The date is Sept. 3, and the programme as follows: Representation, quarter mile open, one mile open, two miles handicap, two miles, Dresden and Wallaceburg, two miles, ounty of Kent, local handicap, one milehree-minute class. A BENEFIT GAME NETS $6,000. BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 27 .- An immense crowd attended Charlie Bennett's benefit'today, and it is estimated that the beneficiary will receive $6,000. Bennett came on the field on crutches, and was given an ovation. Champion Jim Corbett played on the Boston team. A strong team of college players was opposed to Boston, but the champions won by a score of 17 to 12.

HE IS COMING SURE. It is just 25 years since Goldsmith Maid made the trotting world wonder at three heats under 2:20. They were in 2:191, 2:193 and 2:193. The records of the Grand Circuit for 1894 make the Maid's figures read like those of a far up country fair. The five meetings held so fur, at Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo, Rochester and Poughkeepsie, giving nearly sixty trotting races, counting over 200 heats, show only 20 heats slower than 2:20. Of these nine were by 2-year-olds, three by 3-year-olds, and several can be accounted for by rain and a finish at any time he desired. The crowd hung around the outside of the building thing else has been in 2:20 or better, as though practically the entire Grand Circuit trotting class was an army of Goldsmith Maids. Coming down second by second, there have been five races, of which all heats were in 2:20 and better, two in the same way in 2:19, six in 2:18, eight in 2:17, seven in 2:16, two in 2:15, three in 2:14, three in 2:13, four in 2:12, three in 2:11, one in 2:10 and one in 2:09. This does not yet entirely tell the story how the once peerless Goldsmith Maid has been left behind in the dust of a thundering trackful of faster going animals. Three of the races classified above as 2:20 were of four heats. Two of the 2:19 class were of four or five heats. Five of the 2:18 were of four or five heats. Three of the 2:17 class were of four or five heats. Three of the 2:16 class were of five heats. Two of the 2:15 class were of four or five heats. One of the 2:13 class was of four heats. One of the 2:12 class was of five heats, and two of the 2:11 class were of four heats.

One race from without the Grand Circuit must be added to this remarkable record. Alix at Terre Haute repeated the straight-heat victory of her sister of a quarter of a century age, in 2:06, 2:061, 2:054. Three heats under 2:07, averaging under 2:06!

We see a perfect mob of great flyers rushing forward, any one of which years ago, would have been looked on as the wonder of the day. Can there be any reasonable doubt that sooner or later some phenomenal one of them will move ahead out of the ruck and come around the track in an even two minutes? We have none. -[New York Sun.

The fall race meeting of the Amherstburg Driving Park Association will be held today (Wednesday) and Thursday. There are nine events, all of which are well filled. Goldring will make an attempt to lower the Canadian half mile record.

Organized Labor in Detroit-Iron Works

Resume. The directors of the new Trades Council of Detroit, just issued, shows 57 unions affiliated with that body, the largest number in the history of the council, and embracing a membership of upwards of 8,000. At Bellefont, Pa., the Valentine Iron Company's furnaces were fired up on Monday after having been suspended since the coke strike. The employes will probably be kept busy all winter. Detroit News: Here's a pretty pass. Saturday's Selling

In the clothing department was great. Plenty of customers that kept our salesmen busy. But perhaps you are not aware that we have a grand stock of New Fall Clothing laid out for your inspection, all marked at very moderate prices. Yes, there is no doubt but what our prices are at least from 10 to 15 per cent lower than what are asked elsewhere. Besides, our clothing has the quality and the style. We don't keep poor clothing, simply because we have no use for it, and neither have you if you know what is good for you.

The Dutch Defeat.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 28 .- Additional particulars concerning the defeat of the Dutch expedition sent out to punish the Rajah of Lombok Island have been received. It appears that the Rajah's troops surprised and attacked the Dutch soldiers, killing 164 of the latter. Among these were fourteen officers, including the commander, Gen. Von Ham.

Divorce Case in High Life. TORONTO, Aug. 28 .- Application has been made before the Senate at Ottawa, by Helen Woodburn Jarvis, wite of George Hamilton Jarvis, barrister, late of Toronto, but now of Detroit, for absolute divorce. Mr. Jarvis was married to this lady, who is the eldest daughter of Mr. J. W. Langmuir, in the spring of 1883, and in February, 1887, it is alleged, he eloped with his typewriter operator, who was formerly a Miss Neville, but who was then said to be married. Mr. Jarvis secured a divorce in the American courts soon after his departure. He is a son of the late Sheriff Jarvis, III-Treated a Horse.

Charles Decker, a peddler, was one of the few before the police magistrate this morning. He was charged by Inspector Sanders of the Humane Society with cruelty to a horse. It appears that Decker was driving down Clarence street the other day when the animal (which the owner described as very stubborn) became somewhat unruly, and got a taste of the whip. Decker, however, applied the lash too freely, for Mr. Luke Jeffrey and Mrs. S. K. Shanly said that the blows came very fast and with all Decker's strength. The offense cost him $2. John Sharpe, a resident in East London, was charged by his neighbor, Frank Meeson with assault. Sharpe is the owner of a cow, which wandered into Meeson's garden, and on the latter attempting to take it to pound was interrupted by Sharpe, who the plaintiff alleged threatened to cut his hand off at the wrist. Mason did not appear to proseoute and the case was dismissed. A youthful wheelman paid $1 for a five-minute ride on the sidewalk.

Daring Daylight Robbery. The swarm of tramps which has invaded London of late has evidently deserted the north end and taken to the portion south of the track. They have been committing depredations on many residents, but the most daring is reported by Mrs. M. J. Parker, of the Hamilton road. Mrs. Parker was away from home on Monday, and about noon a stranger was seen hanging about the neighborhood. When the lady returned in the afternoon she found things turned generally upside down-giving evidence that the place had been entered. On closer examination it was found that a suit of elothes, two hats, two silk handkergood quality for a dollar of everybody's chiefs, a pair of gold cuff buttons and a gold or the goods could be discovered. Laurier Gets a Great Reception at Sault Ste. Marie.

A Fine Audience and a Great Speech-His Reception at Winnipeg.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 28. Such a demonstration as that accorded Hon. Wilfrid Laurier last night by the citizens of Sault Ste. Marie is seldem the privilege of any man not being a popular political leader to receive. It must have been a proud moment for Mr. Laurier as he stood up and surveyed the great audience that had assembled in the International Hotel to greet him and to cheer his elequence. He was given a splendid ovation by the people, as he arose to address them, but the cheering was still louder when the gifted leader had concluded the exposition of his policy. Many ladies were present, and they, too, joined in the demonstration of approval. The hall itself presented a scene of beauty as the result of the artistic efforts of a number of ladies of the "Soo." Forming an appropriate background to the platform was the old flag which hung in graceful felds from the ceiling. On either side was a profusion of flowering plants, which filled the eir with their delightful perfume. Cut flowers, ferns and exotics completed the decoration of the platform, and made a picture of rare beauty. The chair was occupied by Mr. C. F. Farwell, who defeated Mr. W. H. Hurst in the recent struggle for the representation east local at Wyoming at noon today. of East Algoma. The Fly in Amber. In one of the European museums may be seen a piece of amber, in which is deeply embedded a perfect fly. Now, neither the amber nor the fly are curiosities, but the curiosity consists in how the fly got into the amber. An equally wonderful curiosity may occasionally be seen in the country drug stores in the shape of huge drastic cathartic pills, put up in cheap wood or pasteboard boxes. The curiosity with these jokers" consists in knowing who asks for them, when it is generally known that Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, sugar-coated, and put up in glass bottles, always fresh and reliable, but little larger than mustard seeds, are an efficient cathartic, regulate the liver and cure sick headache, constipa-

A Serial of Thrilling Interest by One of the Most Popular Novelists-A Well-Developed Piot and Pure Family Reading.

CHAPTER I.

It was an intensely dark night. While with the mist that hung around from below, and the unusual gloom above, Dr. Rane began to think he might have done well to bring a lantern with him, to guide his steps up Ham Lane, when he should turn into it. He would not be able to spare time to pick his way there. A gentleman-so news had been brought to him-was lying in sudden extremity, and his services as a medical man were being waited for.

Straight down, on the road before him, at only half a mile distance, lay the village of Dallory; so called after the Dallory family, who had been of importance in the neighborhood in the years gone by. This little off-shoot was styled Dallory Ham. The latter name had given rise to disputes amidst antiquarians. Some maintained that the word Ham was only a contraction of hamlet, and not the illness." that the correct name would be Dallory Hamlet; others asserted that the appellation arose from the circumstance that the public green, or common, was in the shape of a ham. As both sides brought logic and irresistible proof to bear on their respective opinions, contention never flagged. At no very remote period the Ham had been a grassy waste, given over to stray donkeys, geese, and gipsies. They were done away with now that houses encircled it; pretty villas of moderate dimensions, some cottages and a few shops; the high road ran, as it always had done, straight through the middle of it. Dallory Ham had grown to think itself of importance, especially since the time when two doctors had established themselves in it: Dr. Rane and Mr. Alexander. Both lived in what might be called the neck of the Ham, which was nearest to Dallory

Standing with your face towards Dallory (in the direction the doctor was hastening), his house was on the right-hand side. He had only now turned out of it. Dallory Hall, to which place Dr. Rane had been summoned, stood a little beyond the entrance to the Ham, lying back on the right in its grounds, and completely hidden by trees. It was inhabited by Mr. North. Oliver Rane had come forth in haste and commotion. He could not understand the message, excepting the one broad fact that Edmund North, Mr. North's eldest son, was supposed to be dying. The servant, who brought it, did not seem to understand it He spoke of an anonymous letter that had been received by Mr. North, of disturbance thereupon, of a subsequent en-nounter—a sharp, brief quarrel—between Edmund North and Mr. Alexander, the suryeon; and of some sort of fit in which

Edmund North was now lying senseless. Dr. Rane was a gentlemanly man of middle height and slender frame, his age about 30. The face in its small regular features might have been held to possess a dash of effeminacy, but for the resolute character of the firm mouth and the pointed chin. His ayes—rather too close together—whiskers and hair, were of a reddish brown, the latter worn brushed aside from the forehead; his teeth were white and even: altogether a goodlooking man; but one of rather too silent manners, of too inscrutable a countenance to be very pleasing. "An anonymous letter!" Dr. Rane had repeated to himself, with a sort of groan, hastening from his house as one greatly startled, and pursue his course down the Ham. Glancing across at Mr. Alexander's house, he felt a momentary temptation, to go over and learn particulars—if, haply, the surgeon should be at home. The messenger had said that Mr. Alexander flung out of Dallory Hall in a passion, right in the middle of the quarrel; hence the summons for Dr. Rane. For Mr. Alexander, not Dr. Rane, was the Hall's medical attendant: this was the first time the latter had been so called upon.

They had come to Dallory within a day of each other, these two doctors, in consequence of the sudden death of its old practitioner; each hoping to secure the practice for himself. It was Mr. Alexander who chiefly gained it. Both were clever men; and it might have been at least an even race between them, but for the fact that Mrs. North, of Dallory Hall, set her face resolutely against Dr. Rane. The reason was inexplicable, since he had been led to be leve that he should have the countenance of Mr. and Mrs. North. She did her best in a covert way to prevent his obtaining a practice, pushing his rival-whom she really despised, and did not care a tittle for-into favor. Her object might not be to drive Oliver Rane from the spot, but it certainly seemed to look like it. So Mr. Alexander had obtained the lion's share of the practice in the best families, Dr. Rane but little; as to the poor, they were divided between them pretty equally. Both acted as general practitioners, and Mr. Alexander dispensed his own medicines. The rivals were out-wardly cordial with each other; but Dr. Rane, no doubt, felt an inward smart at his want of success.

The temptation to dash over to Mr. Alexander's passed with the thought; there was no time for it. Dr. Rane pursued his course until he came to Ham Lane, an open-ing on the right, into which he turned, for it was a nearer way to the Hall. A narrow lane, green and lovely in early summer, with wild flowers nestling on its banks, dogroses and honeysuckles clustering in its hedges. Here was the need of the lantern. But Dr. Rane sped on without regard to inidvertent steps that might land him in the ditch. Some excitement appeared to be upon him, far be-gond any that might arise from the simple fact of being called out to a gentleman in a fit; yet he was by temperament very self-possessed, one of the calmest-mannered men diving. A stile in the hedge on the left, which he found as if by instinct, took him at once into the grounds of Dallory Hall; whence there came wafting to him the scent | reform is still open.

of hyacinths, daffodils, and other spring flowers in delicious sweetness, spite of the density of the night air. Not that Dr. Rane derived much advantage from the sweet-ness; nothing could seem delicious to him just then.

It was more open here, as compared with the lane, and not so intensely dark. Three minutes of the same heedless peace in and out of the winding walks, when he turned a point, and the old stone mansion was before him. Along, gray, sensible looking house, of only two stories high, suggesting spacious rooms within. Lights shone from some of the windows and through the fan-light over the entrance door. One of the gardeners crossed Dr. Rane's path.

"Is that you, Williams? Do you know how young Mr. North is?"
"I've not been told, sir. There's something wrong with him, we hear."
"Is this blight?" called back the doctor, alluding to the curiously dark mist.

'Not it, sir. It's nothing but the vapor rising from the day's heat. It have been

The door yielded to Dr. Rane's hand, and he went into the hall; it was of fair size, and paved with stone. On the left were the drawing rooms, on the right the diningoom, and also a room that was called Mr. North's parlor; a handsome staircase of stone wound up at the back. All the doors were closed; and as Dr. Rane stood for a moment in hesitation, a young lady in gray silk came swiftly and silently down the stairs. Her figure was small and slight, her face tair, pale, gentle, with the meekest look in her dovelike gray eyes. Her amooth, fine hair, of an exceedingly light brown, was worn in curls all round the head, after the manner of girls in a bygone time. It made her look very young, but she was in reality 30 years of age; 3 months younger than Dr. Rane. Miss North was very simple in tastes and habits, and ad-

She saw Dr. Rane, and came swiftly to him. Their hands met in silence. "What is this trouble, Bessy?"
"Oh, I am so glad you are here!" she exclaimed, in the soft, subdued tones char-nered to many customs of her girlhood.

Moreover, since an illness seven years ago, her hair had never grown very long or thick.

not the illness.' "It was caused by an anonymous letter to papa. Edmund—"

"But how could any anonymous letter to your papa have caused illness to Edmund?" he interrupted. And the tone of his voice was so sharp, and the dropping of her hand, clasped until then, so sudden, that Miss North thought he was angry with her, and glanced upwards through her tears.

"I beg your pardon, Bessy. My dear, I feel so grieved and confounded at this, that I am scarcely myself. It is to me utterly incomprehensible. What were the contents of the letter?" he continued, as they hastened upstairs to the sick chamber. And Bessy North told him in a whisper as much as she LONDON WESTERN FAIR......Sept. 13-22

A Wonderful Cure.—Mr. David Smith, Coe Hill, Ont., writes: "For the benefit of others I wish to say a few words about Northrop & Lyman's VEGE TABLE DISCOVERY. About a year ago took a very severe cough, had a virulen sore on my lips, was bad with dyspepsia constipation and general debility. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, outwardly and inwardly, to cure the sore but all to no purpose. I had often thought of try-ing Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, so I got a bottle and when I had used about one half the sore showed evident signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done it had about disappeared and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very bilious habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little affect. But since using three bottles of the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY the biliousness is entirely gone and my general health is excellent. I am 60 years old. Parties using it should continue it for some time after they think they are cured. It is by far the best health restorer I know." 3 You need not ask a new bonnet why it goes to church. The devil has the number of every

FATAL RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

Joseph Hyslop, of West Nissouri, Thrown from His Rig,

And Has His Neck Broken-Died In stantly-Formerly Resided in This City, and Was Highly Esteemed,

A runaway accident, attended with fatal results of a very sad nature, occurred on King street yesterday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock, and now a lady of West Nissouri and three little children are mourning the loss of a husband and father.

Mr. Joseph Hyslop, who resides near the noon yesterday with a big load of oats. The heavy wagon was drawn by a team of horses of a usually quiet disposition. The city was reached without a mishap, and Mr. Hyslop avoided the heavy traffic of Dundas street and turned to King. Slater's storehouse was his destination. where he was going to dispose of his grain. Hyslop was seated on one of the bags, and as he neared Colborne street, it began to slip from under him and towards the horses. An effort was made to prevent the sack from going down, but it failed. Hyslop did not fall, saving himself by getting further to the rear of the wagon. As the bag dropped behind the horses they sprang forward and started down the street at a terrific gait. The sudden jerk caused Hyslop to lose his hold. He was thrown to the block pavement-a distance of about eight feet, striking on his head, and never moving afterwards. A big crowd soon gathered around, and the ambulance was immediately telephoned for. The body was removed to the hospital, where it was found that the neck was broken. Death must have been instantaneous. The team continued west on King street, but were captured near Clarence, none the worse for their run. About a dozen different versions of the accident were going the rounds, but the above was given by a party claiming to be an eye-witness, and is backed by the fact that King street, from Colborne to Wellington, is strewn in places with oats. The deceased was about 32 years old, and came from his native country-Scotland-"My next station was London. This place about four years ago. He settled in Lon-At Denton's was hardly recognizable. Instead of a don and for a time was engaged as a team-lively inland town, as of yore, I found it changed to a veritable maritime city, a to Nissouri and engaged himself in farming, quite respectable flotilla of vessels of renown, at which he proved very successful. He leaves a widow and three children, P. C. Birrell, of this city being a brother of Mrs. Hyslop. He was known to be strictly temperate, and won the respect of the community in which he lived, and a host of Londoners. The remains were afterwards taken to Stephenson's undertaking rooms, where they were prepared for burial prior to being removed to his home. No inquest will be held.

TENNESSEE TOUGHS

Stone a Trainload of Colored People on an Excursion-Three Deaths Result. MEMPHIA, Tenn., Aug. 27 .- An excur sion that was run to Pototoo, Miss., from The excursion was given gratis, made up mostly of box cars and gondolas fitted with seats, and these were crowded. En route the excursionists were annoyed by the people they passed throwing rocks and firing revolvers.

The negroes prepared to retaliate when the excursion returned. One negro, Gus Enloc, through a rock through a window in the passenger coach, hitting a man on the head who will die. A bystander fired at Enloe and killed him. Further on the excursionists threw rocks at E. P. Devine, a planter who was riding horseback. The horse took fright, threw Devine and killed him.

Music and Elecution. As students are making ready for the coming year the troublesome question presents itself-where can I go to study piano, singing, elocution, etc.? And this certainly is a trying question; for it is so easy to waste the best months and years of student life by poor judgment in the selection of teachers. A student's time is precious so study where you can get the best value, most advantages, quickest results, and with instructors who are progressive. Such a place is the Conservatory of Music, 340 Dundas street, where, under the direction of W. Caven Barron, the best teachers can be had, a musical education systematized, and advantages that cannot be found outside of such an institution. The elecution and physical culture classes will be under the direction of Miss Jessica Terwilliger (late of Emerson College of Oratory, Boston), a young lady who has earned an unusual reputation in the larger American cities by her clever and artistic work, and who has exceptional gifts as a teacher. Miss Katherine Moore (late of the Grand Conservatory of Music, New York), teacher of voice building at Hellmuth Ladies' College, has also been added to the Conservatory staff, and will teach there this coming year. Send for circular, or inquire at above address.
