The Legislature

Government to Restrict Child Immigration.

The Amalgamation of the Creamery Associations.

Toronto, March 5.—The bill to consolidate the debt of the village of Port Eglon was dealt with by the private bills committee yesterday, and will be reported without amendments. The bill authorizes the issue of debentures for $17,000.

Members of the House are very much amused over what is obviously a printer's error in the Patron organ.

In a recent speech the vice-president of the Patron said that Patrons was one of the greatest forces in Canadian politics. He was reported by the paper in question, as saying "Patrons was one of the greatest forces in Canadian politics."

In the House yesterday, in moving the second reading of his bill respecting regulation of immigration, into Ontario of certain classes of children, Hon. Mr. Gibson stated that the proposed act was simply a consolidation of the bill of 1882.

The Children's Aid Society had been doing good work in all the large cities. Attention had been called to the work of the Children's Aid Society in the House yesterday.

There had been great difference of opinion as to how far this work should be carried on.

A large element of popular opinion held that the importation of these children was objectionable, not because of their physical or mental deformities. He would not go so far as to say that the children were "defective," but he would say that they were "deficient."

The bill proposed to restrict the number of children who could be imported, and to limit the immigration carried on by such societies. Such immigration as was to be permitted would be subject to the approval of the board of children's aid.

Pig's Clever Trick.

Grew Fat by Milking a Farmer's Best Cow.

A Young Farmer Was the Thief Which Fuzzled the Family.

All his life Samuel Patch has owned and run a farm on the shores of Lake Morey, Fairlee, Vermont, and his life he has kept a quiet and well-conducted assortment of live stock. It remained for a pig of this year's growth to bring upon him a reputation which is known in legal parlance as larceny from the person, the individual upon whom the theft was committed being the moody cow, Nelly. The thief was caught by the farmer's red-handed, or, to be more accurate, white-mouthed, as his greed had outstripped his caution. The pig was exhibited in the Lake Morey Animal Show of the 1st of March.

But for the detective instincts of Farmer Patch, the thief would never have been discovered. For some time the cow in the case was supposed to be at fault, and the small quantity of milk to be derived from her was laid to some bovine and personal peculiarity of her own. She had been right, the calf had been torn ruthlessly away from Nelly amid the lamentations of the farmer's wife, and the milk had been directed to the milk pails of the Patch family. "Something's the matter with that cow," the farmer's wife said, "she's not giving any milk."

"Can't be the going dry already," said the young man. "Somebody's milking her before we get up. That's what's the matter."

"Have to get up mighty early," said Patch. "Besides, she won't stand anybody but me milking her, and if stranger came into our place the dog would let us know quick enough."

"Might be a milk snake," suggested William, with a grin.

A RAILROAD EXPERT.

Practical Accomplishments of Frank Thomson, Pennsylvania New President of the Pennsylvania Railroad.
Mr. Frank Thomson, who succeeds the late George B. Roberts as president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, is well equipped by education, lifelong training and wide experience for the position. He was born at Chambersburg, Pa., July 6, 1841, and received his education at the Chambersburg academy. At the age of 17 he entered the shops of the Pennsylvania railroad at Altoona. He soon attracted the attention of Thomas A. Scott, then general superintendent, who thereafter took a special interest in him.

When Mr. Scott was made a colonel at the outbreak of the war and was summoned to aid the government in transporting troops, he had Mr. Thomson detailed for duty in the military railway department. For the next three years he was kept busy repairing the damage done by the Confederate troops and sending the Federal forces to the front. He resisted Colonel Scott's plan for the greatest transportation movement of the war, aiding in the transfer of two entire army corps from the Army of the Potomac to the Army of the Cumberland.

In 1864 Mr. Thomson resigned his military position at the request of the directors and was appointed superintendent of the eastern division of the railroad. In 1866 he was temporarily detailed to manage the Oil Creek railroad during the oil excitement, and in 1871 he was appointed agent by the Russian government to attend the Grand Duke Alex. on a long railway trip in this country. Mr. Thomson ran a special train for his distinguished passenger for 6,000 miles without a single mishap. In 1873 Mr. Thomson was promoted to the office of superintendent of motive power.

FRANK THOMSON.

er, having charge of all the shops on the entire system as well as all the rolling stock. Less than a year later he was appointed general manager of the entire system. In 1880 he was made second vice president. A few years later he was made first vice president, with enlarged authority and new responsibilities.

As a result of his steady advance from the foot of the ladder Mr. Thomson knows every detail of the road. He is a far-seeing and progressive man, and has introduced many reforms in the management of the road. He has introduced the block system and interlocking devices, as well as other improvements. He resides in the suburbs of Philadelphia.

UNSETTLED RAIN OR SLEET.

Toronto, March 4.—11 p.m.—The depression over Northern Maine yesterday is now passing over Newfoundland, and the higher pressure from the west has moved eastward, and has brought finer weather to the lakes and eastward to the Atlantic. The low pressure area over the Northwest yesterday has passed southeastward, and now is likely to move eastward and unsettle the weather in the lake district. Higher pressure and colder weather is setting in over the Northwest.

King Tommy's Rise and Fall.

Tommy was ruled by his father and mother. Tommy was loved by his father and mother. Tommy was tyrannized over each hour by a very small maid with the face of a flower.

But one day Tommy was given a wheel. And he felt like a king on a throne of steel.

Now a sudden rise from a sort of king has always proven a dangerous thing.

The people who come into power too quick go up like a rocket and down like a stick.

King Tom, before the first day was done, was emperor, sultan and czar in one.

He owned the pavement. He owned the street. He ran the officers of his beat.

He frightened the coachmen out of their wits. And all that was on from girls to girls.

Pedestrians fled when they saw him approach. He caused disaster to carriage and coach.

For he never turned out, and his pace never slowed.

His bell was a signal to clear the road.

And I would not repeat, indeed, not I. What the truckman said when his bike went by.

King Tom only winked in their eyes, with a grin. Proud of his power to make them sin.

And bolder and bolder each day he grew. And faster and faster his bicycle flew.

And he was certain he owned the earth. And all that was on from girls to girls.

And he always got off without hurt or scratch. Till all of a sudden he met his match.

Reigning one time in his usual splendor. He came face to face with a cable's tender.

He rang his bell for the right of way. But a sinner may ring till his hair turns gray.

And a cable car or his cousin, trolley. Will pay no heed to that sort of folly.

All that King Tom recalls of that day Was riding into the milky way.

There he saw all the stars in the heavens. Well, there isn't much more to his reign to tell.

He gave his wheel to his brother Sam. And walks on two crutches, and always will.

And he says as he looks at his wooden leg, "I went up like a rocket and down like a peg."

In the Dining-Room.

SATURDAY, MARCH 6.

BREAKFAST.—Sliced oranges. Creamed codfish on toast. Fried grits. Plain waffles. Maple syrup. Coffee.

LUNCHEON.—Beef kidney, terrapin style. Stewed tomatoes. Fried potatoes. Peach sponge. Tea.

DINNER.—Tomato soup. Veal and ham pie. Croquettes. Mixed pickles. Celery. Lettuce with eggs. Apple pie. Cheese.

Clip these out and paste in your scrap-book:
Creamed Codfish on Toast.—To one cup shredded codfish add two of water; boil briskly twenty minutes; pour off water, add one and a half cups sweet milk, one tablespoonful butter, half a teaspoonful of pepper, one beaten egg. Allow this to simmer ten minutes. Serve on rounds of toasted bread.

Beef Kidney.—Cut one beef kidney into small bits. Cook 30 minutes in salted water. When tender pour off water, add one small onion (grated), one or two leaves of sage, one cup of water; bring this to a brisk boiling point, add a pinch of salt, thicken with one tablespoonful of cornstarch, and just before serving add two hard-boiled eggs, chopped coarsely. Serve with or without toast.

Peach Sponge.—Dissolve one-half cup of gelatin in two cups of boiling water. Warm one-half cup of canned peaches or the same amount of sweetened evaporated peaches. Press through a colander, add to gelatin; add one and a half cups of sugar, one teaspoonful vanilla. Beat ten minutes. Pour in mold, let cool and serve with cream.

Tomato Soup.—Make one quart of stock with a lean piece of beef. To this add one-half a grated onion, one teaspoonful salt, one saltspoonful of celery salt and pepper. Drain the juice from one can tomatoes (using the meat for luncheon). Add this to the beef stock. Then break into small bits five or six sticks of macaroni and cook. When these are soft, serve at once.

Veal and Ham Pie.—One and a half cups of finely chopped stewed veal (cold roast veal will answer), one chopped cold ham, one small onion grated, one saltspoonful pepper, one egg, one-half cup of water. Mo well and bake with an upper crust only.

THE MASONIC BANQUET.
At a special meeting of the Masonic Past Masters' Association of London, held in the library, Temple building, last night, it was reported that the reunion banquet and reception to the grand master, to be held on Monday evening next, would likely prove a great success. Already nearly 100 past masters from London and West-ern Ontario lodges have signified their intention of participating. The banquet will begin at 7 p.m. in the grand hall, immediately on the arrival of the grand master, so that it will not be necessary for participants to indulge in two evening meals.

THROUGH THE Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.
The annual meeting of the London Life Insurance Company was held yesterday, and this brought quite a number of visitors from other cities. About a dozen of these visited the new Y. M. C. A. building. They were shown through by Mr. Geo. McBroom, and all expressed themselves delighted with the institution, and congratulated the visitors from Hamilton were very much impressed, and stated that the Y. M. C. A. quarters in the Ambitious City, compared with the London quarters, was a "back number," and simply "not in it."

AN EAST END RUNAWAY.
Another runaway accident occurred yesterday afternoon. A horse attached to Hicks' butcher wagon ran away on Dundas street, and took to the sidewalk near the Dundas Center Methodist Church.

Mrs. Walters, of Elizabeth street, was passing along the street near the church with a carriage containing her 4-month-old baby, and did not notice the runaway until it was upon her. She was badly smashed, and the baby thrown out. It was thought at first that the child was killed, but it was wrapped up with a bundle of clothing, which broke the force of the fall, and the child was killed.

ENGINEERS MEET.
The regular meeting of the London branch of the Canadian Association of Stationary Engineers was held last night in Sherwood Hall, the attendance being large, and the meeting most enthusiastic throughout. A lively debate took place on the "Strength of Steam Boilers," and some very interesting and valuable calculations were made. The members were pleasantly surprised last evening, when each was presented with a handsomely illustrated copy of the "Strength of Steam Boilers," and some very interesting and valuable calculations were made. Another membership contest has been started by the Young Men's Christian Association, the object being to increase the membership from its present number, 550, to 1,000. The Pinks, in the last struggle, had 937 points to their credit, while the Yellows had 939. A lively contest followed, two sides met in their parlors last evening to make final arrangements for the contest, which begins today.

Those present were: President W. R. Hobbs, W. M. Spencer, E. R. C. Struts, R. J. Watson, E. Hannah, Geo. A. McGilivray, R. Kirkpatrick, Eddie Parker and Oliver Leslie. Mr. E. Parker was chosen captain of the Pinks, and Mr. Oliver Leslie captain of the Yellows. Each of the leaders will retain the men originally on the respective sides, while the new members each have secured will act in conjunction with the side that enlisted him. The Yellows, though defeated in the last contest, feel confident of success this time, and intend that the next oyster supper shall be a "Pink" instead of "Yellow" one.

Objection Removed.

A Clause in Harding & Leathorn's Tender Struck Out.

Board of Works Stop the Drawing of Stone From Springbank—It Doesn't Pay.

The Board of Works met last night with Ald. Parnell (chairman), Cooper, Carrothers, Nutkins, Johnston and O'Meara present. The chief subject of discussion was business relative to the new sewer.

Ald. Cooper strongly advocated the adoption of concrete tile in the construction of sewers that are yet to be built.

Chairman Parnell suggested that nothing definite be done until Consulting Engineer Chipman and the city engineer, together with the committee, discuss the matter on Monday night.

Mr. Chipman's opinion should be obtained, and a full examination of the matter be made. The question of purchasing 1-10 inch or 1-12 inch tile could then be discussed also.

Ald. Johnston suggested that all of the aldermen be invited to accompany the committee in their examination. This will be done.

When the time came to deal with Messrs. Harding & Leathorn's contract for section "B" of the new sewer, Chairman Parnell said he had seen the contractors, and they consented to the striking out of the clause relating to the use of new bricks. This will admit of the work being started at any time the contractors desire. The brick they furnish will, of course, be subject to the approval of the engineer.

The objection raised by the unsuccessful tenderers being thus removed, it was decided to recommend to the council the acceptance of Messrs. Harding & Leathorn's offer.

Ald. O'Meara said they could wait three months before commencing the work, if they chose, and buy the new bricks, but if it is through at the time required they would be fined $10 for each day over the seven months. Any contractor who had done the same, as none were bound to do a certain proportion each month. He thought that the specification for future tenders there should be a clause making the completion of the work each month compulsory.

One hundred and eleven cords of stone have been brought from Springbank, for the drawing of which the tenders were paid $2 per cord. The expense of labor to get the stone out ready for the tenders would cost $3 per cord, which is more than it cost to get it furnished by contract; so the drawing of stone from Springbank will be discontinued.

Censure Their Chairman.

Headmaster Liddicoat Scores Mr. Glover Roundly.

Lively Meeting of the London West Board of Education—Law Suit Threatened.

The London West school trustees held their regular monthly meeting last night, and there was a lively time when the special committee brought in the report in relation to the charges laid by Mr. J. Chapman against the head master, Mr. W. H. Liddicoat.

The committee, comprising Trustees McPherson, Robinson, Cooper and Paul, recommended that the head master be reprimanded on all counts, and as Mr. Chapman said he would not have made the charges if Mr. Glover had not induced him to do so, the committee also recommended a vote of censure on Mr. Glover. After the report was read, Chairman Glover asked Mr. Paul to speak against Mr. Glover. The latter did not induce Mr. Chapman to make any charges. He only went to Mr. Chapman on hearing that he had a grievance, that he should state it to the trustees.

In a discussion which followed, it was apparent that some of the trustees were anxious that the censure clause be struck out.

Mr. Liddicoat asked to be heard, and reminded the board that Mr. Chapman's letter came from Mr. Glover's pocket.

Mr. Glover—I beg your pardon, but it didn't.

Mr. Glover—Yes.

"What," said the other, "I am not particular about the word 'pocket.' At the time the letter was read, Mr. Glover said he had similar charges to make against me. I don't know what they are, but I do know that something I said was termed by him, 'travelling and belly-aching.' After the meeting of the board then I entered two suits—one against Mr. Chapman, and another against Mr. Glover. The former has acted the part of a man in withdrawing and apologizing. Mr. Glover has not, and I will seek to justify myself in a higher court. That is, I will seek to secure another position. Mr. Glover's act has done more to lessen my control over the children in the school than anything since I came here. In my nine years in the board's school, I have had to deal with gentlemanly chairman year by year, until this year.

When Mr. Liddicoat resumed his seat, Mr. Glover left the room with Trustee Crockett.

The report was adopted without amendment.

A communication was received from Miss Ada Platt, teacher of division 4, asking for an increase of salary. The matter was not acted upon, as the trustees could not see their way clear to grant the request.

Mr. Aikens' letter in the matter of charts on physiology at $25 was laid over to see the inspector and have his opinion.

The trustee officer, Constable Ward, reported that he had investigated 39 reports of sick and lame children, and served the others with notices. He had two or three more cases to investigate.

A committee was appointed to make some arrangement for the celebration of the Queen's jubilee and report at next meeting.

The head master's report showed the following attendance during the past month:
