

METHODIST CONFERENCE BACKS "BANISH THE BAR"; IS AGAINST MILITARISM

Memorial Passed at Closing of Great Convention Unanimously and Heartily Supports Mr. Rowell's Fight for Temperance, and Goes On Record as Opposed to Fostering of Warlike Ideals.

Leader N. W. Rowell and his "Abolish the Bar" policy were heartily endorsed by the London Methodist Conference in a memorial which was passed unanimously Monday afternoon. Following is the resolution:

"Inasmuch as the total suppression of the liquor traffic is the goal aimed at, and in view of the fact that the policy of 'abolish the bar' adopted by the leader of one of the great political parties is a long step toward such goal, this London Conference in its annual session, desires to put on record its unqualified indorsement of said policy of N. W. Rowell."

Militarism Condemned.

A warm debate took place before a resolution condemning the modern spirit of militarism was passed. The clause as originally prepared by the committee on memorials contained a reference to the bad effect of military training on the lads of the land. Some objection was taken to this, and after a long discussion, in which Revs. C. C. Kaine, Walter Millson, G. N. Hazen and others took part, the clause was referred back to the committee to be modified. When brought back to the conference it passed in the following form:

"Believing modern militarism to be essentially un-Christian, the burden of modern armaments economically unsound and morally harmful to all peoples, especially in creating that international suspicion and distrust which may flame forth at any time in devastating war; and believing that much of the modern naval excitement arises from men and firms directly interested financially in war materials and not directly in the kingdom of God, we recommend to our people the imperative need of adopting the pacific in place of the warlike ideal in all international relationships and in the settlement of international differences of substituting the Christian ideal of arbitration instead of the barbaric methods of battle and of blood."

The report of the committee on memorials also contained a reference of appreciation of the efforts of the Ontario Legislature in shortening the hours for the sale of liquor.

The report of the committee on temperance and moral reform referred to the recent boxing contest in Calgary in which Luther McCarty was killed, and urged the amendment of the law governing prize-fights to include boxing bouts.

Among the memorials adopted was one deprecating the practice of holding dances in private houses for charitable purposes, and asking Methodist women to refrain from doing so.

Sabbath Observance.

The report of the committee on Sabbath observance was presented by Rev. A. E. Moorehouse. It deplored the fact that so many men were employed in the railroad yards on Sunday, and also emphasized belief in the early closing of all places of business Saturday evenings, not later than 8 o'clock, if possible. Attention was called to the misuse of the automobile on Sunday by people who spent the whole day in pleasure trips.

Week-end excursions were also becoming a great evil, and the practice of holding Sunday parades with bands was condemned. A better and fuller observance of the Sabbath in the homes was recommended.

Sunday School Report.

The Sunday school report showed a total membership of 53,645 an increase of 1,387. An increase of $1,121 was also noticed in the money received, which amounted to $40,654.

Rev. J. Aycarr, Dominion license inspector, was introduced by Rev. G. N. Hazen, and spoke briefly. Referring to the liquor traffic, he stated that he hoped before long to see the whole internal traffic wiped out of existence, and asked the co-operation of all in helping enforce the present laws.

Systematic Giving.

The report of the committee on systematic beneficence was presented by Rev. S. A. Anderson, and reaffirmed belief in the law of the tithe, which was just as binding upon Christians as on Jews.

TO MANUFACTURE ARTIFICIAL ICE IN THE FOREST CITY

Fifty-Thousand Dollar Plant To Be Erected on Bathurst Street.

Will Have a Capacity of Fifty Tons a Day of the Purest Article.

Mr. M. Masuret, manager of the London Cold Storage and Warehousing Company, Limited, announced this morning that the company would erect on its property to the east of the present plant, a $50,000 plant for the manufacture of artificial ice. Plans will be prepared immediately, and work will be started as soon as possible. It will have a capacity of fifty tons a day.

The plant will not be able to put ice on the market until the first of the year, although there is a possibility of its being ready for operation late in the fall.

Manufacture Ice.

The action of the board of directors in deciding to build the plant was the result of careful inquiries covering a considerable period of time. In view of the present difficulty of securing pure ice from natural sources, it was decided to manufacture the ice and wholesale it to the various ice-merchants of the city.

In conversation with The Advertiser, Mr. Masuret outlined the rough details of the scheme. The company owns the premises to supply pure water, and the present machinery of the cold storage plant will be sufficient to run the new plant.

It will be some time before the new plant is ready for operation, because of the difficulty of securing skilled mechanics and also of securing some of the material necessary.

Stole From Farmer Who Befriended Him

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Alfred Craig, June 10.—A young boy, aged 19 years, a youth who was arrested in London recently for sleeping around in the parks, was given six months in the Reformatory for stealing $19 from George Charlton, who gave him work.

Yesterday Love stole a horse of Mr. Charlton's. The animal had the harness and Love rode it as far as he could, and when near Lucan left it. He then walked down the tracks into Lucan, where he was captured.

Love says he ran away from his home in Winnipeg some time ago.

Girl's Uncle Took Little Arthur Girl

[Canadian Press.]

Arthur, Ont., June 11.—The story sent out about the kidnapping of little Margaret Seaton, who was taken away to school yesterday morning was carried off by a stranger in a buggy, presumably to be held for ransom, has been positively explained.

The child's father died some time ago without a will, and friction among the relatives regarding the custody of the little girl arose shortly after the funeral. James and Humphrey Seaton, uncles of the child, endeavored to secure control, and John Coffee, a maternal uncle, did likewise.

The stranger in the buggy turns out to have been John Coffee, who took her to Guelph, where she has been placed in the Loretto Academy. Mr. Coffee is said to have taken this action under authority from the courts.

WANT UNION PUT BEFORE CHURCH AS A DEFINITE ISSUE

Resolution of Rev. Dr. Gordon Is Causing a Hot Debate at Assembly.

Session Will Probably Have To Be Prolonged Until Friday.

Toronto, June 11.—With the customary division of the day—the morning for general business and the afternoon for discussion of church union, the Presbyterian General Assembly began work today on the long list of items of more or less importance, which remain to be disposed of before adjournment until 1914.

Adjournment has been planned for tomorrow, but it is not at all improbable that the sessions will project into Friday.

Church union is the sole topic on the program for the afternoon, and discussion will centre around the resolution introduced Tuesday afternoon by Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon, of Winnipeg, recommending the federation or any other alternative to church union be abandoned and that "the question of organic union be placed before the church as a definite issue; and that a basis of union be fixed upon by the union committee after receiving suggestions from all parties be submitted to the assembly next year for definite action. The finance committee, eastern section, reported a fairly good year, with receipts of $140,811.89, being $4,279 more than during the previous year.

A number of reports, which had already been presented, and which were not of an argumentative nature, were disposed of, and there was a disposition during the morning to proceed with business a little more quickly than heretofore.

Many Leaving.

It was but a thinly scattered gathering of commissioners that greeted the opening of the morning session, but by the time the first business came up for discussion the auditorium was fairly well filled. The delegates and commissioners are beginning to thin out, and are daily returning to their homes.

The report of the committee on application of students was brought in by Dr. Fraser. The application of the presbytery of Ottawa in favor of one of their missionaries, Mr. Windward, sponsored by the Rev. Mr. Turnbull. He lauded the work done by Mr. Woods, and stated that he was a valuable man.

A Two-Year Course.

A motion that Mr. Woods be granted a two-year course at Montreal college under the direction of the synod of Montreal, was adopted. Mr. Sinclair brought in the report of the committee on special license and ordination, with a large number of recommendations, all of which were approved by the assembly with the exception of the case of Dommola, a Finnish missionary in Toronto, whose application the committee could not grant. Rev. Dr. Duncan adopted Mr. Sinclair's reduced motion that this case be referred back to the committee as there was some additional information to present.

The judicial committee's report and recommendations were read by Rev. Dr. Sedgewick and adopted by the assembly.

At 12 o'clock business was suspended in order to welcome a deputation from the Baptist Church, headed by Rev. John McNeill.

Rev. Dr. J. S. Brown, Chancellor McMillon, of McMaster University, and Mr. S. J. Moore were the other members of the deputation.

SAD, SAD IS THE TALE OF AMATEUR GARDENER

One Who Planted His Green Stuff Upside Down and Another Who, From Morning Glories, Raised a Lovely Batch of Onions.

In the spring suburban fancy lightly turns to garden things.

Squash, tomatoes, cabbage, onions, horse-radish and cauliflowers. All the joys that summer brings. Amateur suburban vegetable growers.

Of course the rhythm is all wrong, and the rhyme might be greatly improved. But so it is with the song of the amateur gardener. It started off well enough last spring, but now it is beginning to limp just a little. In the hot days of July it will wilt, no doubt, like the tomato plants that the amateur gardener set out last week, and put tin reflectors on the north side so that the baby plants would lose none of the sunshine.

One charming gardener told a sad tale to the city editor recently. She planted some morning glory seeds and they came up onions. She didn't know where the onions came from, but she knew they were. And the funny part of it is that they are growing better than the ones that were planted in a carefully manicured garden bed and a well-digested onion bed in the vegetable garden.

WAR MINISTER MAHMOUD PASHA ASSASSINATED

Played a Leading Part in Having Abdul Hamid Deposed.

Was One of the Cleverest Organizers in the Turkish Army.

Constantinople, June 11.—Ibrahim Bey, the aide de camp of Mahmoud Scheffer Pasha, was also killed by the assassins. It is understood that the man who committed the crime are civilians.

[Canadian Press.]

Constantinople, June 11.—The Turkish grand vizier, Mahmoud Scheffer Pasha, was assassinated today by two men armed with revolvers, who attacked him while he was proceeding in his motor car to the sublime porte at noon.

It is believed in Government circles here that the assassination of the grand vizier was the outcome of a plot against the committee of union and progress.

Mahmoud Scheffer Pasha had held office as grand vizier since Jan. 23 and was well satisfied with the elaborate and vast machinery of the Turkish army at Constantinople.

A Brilliant Career.

Mahmoud Scheffer Pasha was a pure Arab and a native of Baghdad. He was a great favorite of the former Sultan Abdul Hamid who appointed him to the general staff.

Afterward he proceeded to Germany and stayed there ten years studying the organization of the German army.

Mahmoud Scheffer Pasha, despite his close intimacy with Abdul Hamid, was the moving spirit in fostering the military revolution which brought about the Sultan's fall, in which he was assisted by Enver Bey. After he had put an end to the cabal which surrounded Abdul Hamid, the old sultan, and Mahmud Scheffer Pasha then caused his deposition and had his brother, Mehmed V, placed on the throne.

Soon after the outbreak of the Balkan war, Mahmud Scheffer Pasha was appointed chief of the commissariat department of the Turkish war office. He was one of the men present at the grand council of the empire, which decided in January this year to accept the proposal of the European powers to bring the war to an end.

DUKE COMING BACK SHORTLY

Will Finish Out His Term as Governor-General of Canada.

MAY LOSE HIS OLD HOME

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, June 11.—It is announced that the Duke of Connaught will return in the autumn to finish his term in Canada, and the Government is beginning to wonder what can be done with him, as at present the Rideau Hall premises are in the possession of an army of caterpillars.

They have made the place uninhabitable. Before the month is ended Rideau Hall will be turned over to a contractor, and for six months will be in the possession of many stone masons. It will be placed for a royal duke and his extensive household.

It is possible if the Duke of Connaught adheres to his determination to return to Canada that the Government will lease one of several extensive residences at Ottawa and place it at his disposal.

It has also been suggested that accommodation may be secured for him in the Chateau Laurier. The contract for rebuilding Rideau Hall will be closed next week.

SCHOOLBOY mathematician puts one over on Euclid, Newton & Co.

Sydney A. Gross.

A 16-year-old boy has solved a mathematical problem that has baffled the world since the beginning of civilization.

He has found a way to divide an angle into three equal parts without the use of higher mathematics. And that's something that neither old Euclid nor Des Cartes nor Newton nor any other mathematical genius that ever lived could do.

This prodigy is Sydney A. Gross, a Philadelphia high school boy.

Sydney wanted to trisect an angle and wasn't satisfied with the elaborate "blister curves" method invented by Euclid 2,100 years ago and used ever since. So he got busy and made a little cardboard device that does the business as simply as a draftsman's pantograph.

You just place it over the angle you want to trisect and work the hinges, and in a moment you have your three angles.

The "sector," as it is called, has been examined by Prof. M. J. Barb, of the University of Pennsylvania, Prof. David Eugene Smith, of Columbia University, and other experts, and has pronounced a scientific discovery of great value. It will be especially useful in the mechanical arts.

TO ARBITRATE BALKAN CLAIM

Bulgaria Agrees to Russia's Proposal and Averts Another Struggle.

DEMobilizing ARMIES

[Canadian Press.]

Vienna, June 11.—The Neues Abendblatt states that Bulgaria today replied in the affirmative to the telegram from the Emperor of Russia asking the Bulgarian Government to submit its dispute with Serbia to arbitration.

According to the Reichspost, the Emperor of Russia's telegram urging arbitration on Bulgaria and Serbia also requested as a preliminary condition that the two countries should demobilize their armies.

VEILED WOMAN KIDNAPS LITTLE EILEEN BARRON FROM TALBOT ST. SCHOOL

Arrives in Automobile, Says She Is Child's Mother, and After Interview Takes Girl for a Ride, Since Which Time Nothing Has Been Seen of Either—Parents Were Divorced Couple, Child Being Given to Father by the Courts.

While an unknown man waited outside an automobile Tuesday afternoon at about 2 o'clock, a woman, supposed to be the mother of nine-year-old Eileen Barron, who had been given into the possession of her father, Mr. Alfred Barron, of Chicago, succeeded in inducing the little girl to leave school "to go for an automobile ride," and she has not been seen since.

The little girl had been in the possession of her father since Christmas after Mr. Justice Britton issued a habeas corpus order, and had been residing with Mr. Barron's sister on Oxford street until Tuesday.

Divorced Couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Barron are divorced. The woman, who was formerly Miss Eileen, of Newcastle, Ont., secured a divorce by going to Reno after she had failed to secure one in another city.

After the divorce was granted Eileen lived for some time at Newcastle with an aunt of the mother, until the father took legal measures to secure possession. The child wrote letters to the father, in which she expressed a desire to live with him. The court granted him possession on the strength of this and other evidence that was produced.

Police Could Not Act.

After she had ascertained that the child had been taken from school Miss Barron immediately notified the police. She affirms that the police refused to take any action, although the papers were presented. It was said that the officials claimed that the mother should have possession of the girl, but it was pointed out by Miss Barron that even if this were true, there was no absolute proof that the woman was the child's mother.

"The police would do nothing," said Miss Barron to The Advertiser. "I presented the court order, but was told that nothing could be done. It was a great surprise to me, and I will consult a lawyer in the matter. I cannot understand why the order was given if it is to have no effect."

The Kidnapping.

The child returned to school, after having lunch with her aunt, in time to go in when the class reassembled. Shortly after 1:30 o'clock someone rapped at the door of grade 3, in which class Eileen attended, and Miss Nellie Macklin responded. She was met by a woman whose head and face were swathed in an automobile veil. She said that she was Eileen Barron's mother, and that she had just arrived on the train, and that she wished to see her daughter. Miss Macklin, who had received no previous intimation that there had been trouble between the father and mother, readily assented, and there was a scene when the mother saw her daughter.

She clasped the little girl in her arms, and burst into tears, crying: "My little girl, my little girl!"

Took Child For Ride.

Miss Macklin left the child with her mother for five minutes and went into the room. When the teacher returned the woman was somewhat composed, and she asked if she could take the child for a ride.

Miss Macklin asked her if she had seen Miss Barron, and the woman replied that she had not.

"I just came on the train, and I had to come to see my child first," she said.

This explanation sounded reasonable to Miss Macklin, and as the child did not say anything, she agreed to let her go. Outside a man sat in an automobile, and the two entered the car. No one has been able to discover which way the car went, although it was seen earlier in the day.

Carefully Planned.

That the kidnapping was carefully planned is evident from what was told Miss Barron by some of her neighbors, the Misses Milroy. When they heard that the little girl had not returned home, they recalled having seen a man and woman, strangers to them, looking into the house where Eileen lived with her aunt. The woman had walked along the sidewalk, and the man had stayed at the corner. The child came out about this time, and it is believed that she was followed to school by the couple in the automobile. There is no other explanation for their being able to find out where she was, unless through inquiries among the grocers and other storekeepers in the neighborhood.

Possible Clue.

It was said that the man and woman had called at a grocery store on Richmond street, and had made inquiries concerning the house in which the girl lived. This could not be confirmed. One possible clue to the whereabouts of the pair is furnished through a local ticket office, where Tuesday a stranger inquired the time for trains running to Newcastle. He was told that there was no direct connections with Newcastle, but that a person could go to Toronto and make connections in the morning. There were only two trains—one last night and one in the morning. Both these trains were watched, but the three did not take either of them.

It is believed that the child was taken from the city in the automobile, and that the inquiries of the man were founded on the intention to send the woman and girl by train while he took the automobile.

Father Was Away.

Mr. Barron was in the city on Monday, but left to attend a convention at Atlantic City. He was notified of the occurrence by night letter, and it is expected that he will be in the city as soon as possible to investigate the matter. That he will be determined to secure possession of his daughter is the opinion of his friends. They assert that he is justly entitled to her, and that his devotion is so deep that he will leave nothing undone to secure her again. That the courts will back him up in this and that there will be every effort made to prevent the child being taken to the United States are certainties.

An Outside Auto.

None of the garages in London had rented a car to anyone Tuesday, according to the statements of the proprietors, so that it is believed that the automobile was brought from outside the city.

Mrs. Barron secured her divorce by going to Reno about Christmas.

The police have no warrant for her arrest at the present time, the magistrate and crown attorney refusing to grant one. Steps will be taken at once to put the court order into effect. It is expected.

INSTANTLY KILLED.

Montreal, June 11.—John Chaboyer, 12 years old, and Lucien Guilbeau, 9 years old, were killed when struck last night on Craig street, by an automobile driven by R. Rollot.

LITTLE GIRL KIDNAPPED RECENTLY LEFT A FORTUNE

Margaret Scanlon, of Arthur, While on Her Way to School—
Seized by Unknown Man, Who Drove Away With Her.

Arthur, June 10.—Margaret Scanlon, a school child aged 8 years, was abducted here by an unknown man this morning, and no information as to her whereabouts has been obtained by her relatives up to a late hour tonight. Expectation of a ransom is believed to be the motive for the act.

The little girl, who recently came in for a large sum of money under the terms of a will, left her home in this place at the usual hour this morning to go to school. She was not accompanied, as she had only a short distance to walk, and crimes of violence are the last thing anyone would expect in this quiet community.

Margaret was almost at the school when she was accosted by a stranger, who stood beside a waiting horse and buggy. Under the eyes of a number of passersby, but before they had time to run up to the assistance of the child, the man seized the child in his arms and hurled her into the vehicle. He immediately sprang into the seat beside her and drove away at a break-neck pace, the girl screaming piteously all the while.

There were several eye-witnesses of the abduction, but none has been able to give a satisfactory description of the man. Search parties were organized at once, and the surrounding villages communicated with, but no trace of the course taken by the buggy has yet been obtained.

Fast Flying by French Aviators

Made 674 Miles in Four Hundred and Twenty-Four Minutes.

[Canadian Press.]
Berlin, June 10.—Maurice G. Brindejono, a remarkable flight today from Villacoublay, near Paris, to the Johannisthal aerodrome, outside Berlin, in the competition for the Kommercy Cup, doing the distance of 674 miles in an airline in 7 hours and 4 minutes, or approximately a mile in 37.4 seconds.

He started from Villacoublay at 4 o'clock this morning, and arrived at Johannisthal at 12:04 noon (11:04 Paris time), making only one landing at Wanne, between 8 and 9 o'clock.

The aviator twice unsuccessfully attempted to win the last semi-annual competition for the trophy with flights from Paris to Berlin, being beaten by Ernest F. Guillaux, who flew from Biarritz to Kellum, Holland, nearly 1,000 miles.

Good Crops Mean Election in Fall

Reported at Ottawa That Appeal to People is Almost a Certainty.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, June 10.—It is reported here again that there will be an election this fall. Good crops in the west will, it is said, make the appeal to the polls a certainty.

Hon. George E. Foster sailed today from Australia to China. Hon. Dr. Roche sailed for Canada on June 20. When Dr. Roche left Canada, he had no intention of giving up the interior portfolio. His recovery of health makes his retirement very unlikely.

Will Lynch Murderer If He Is Captured

Bloodhounds Are Now On Trail of Lumberjack Desperado.

[Canadian Press.]
Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., June 10.—A shooting is not unlikely, judging from the feeling of the people over the killing of the two deputies at Brimley on Friday night, and already special precautions are being taken to take care of the murderer when caught. The chase was fired today by a number of bloodhounds, which have been sent for to Petoskey, and which will arrive at Wellers' siding at noon, where the outlaw was last seen yesterday afternoon by Forester Green. The ten deputy marshals which were kept up yesterday on the revenue cutter Vigilant, are patrolling the south shore, and from the location of the man when last seen it would appear that he had seen his pursuers and had made off on a gallop. Even women are seen along the country roads by locomotive crews carrying revolvers and guns. The funeral of the victims was held yesterday afternoon, and all business places in the village of Brimley were closed.

TWO ELECTIONS

Writs Issued For Hanley and Cumberland Counties.

[Canadian Press.]
Regina, June 10.—Writs have been issued in Cumberland and Hanley counties, in the case of Hanley, nominations will be held on Saturday, June 21. Polling takes place one week later, Saturday, June 28. The Cumberland election was necessitated by certain election officials failing to comply with the regulations of the election act at the last election. The Supreme court has since granted application for a mandamus calling upon the returning officer to declare McKay, Conservative candidate, elected. This one of the two far northern ridings in which, owing to its inaccessibility the fixing of a date of nomination is left to the returning officer.

AUTO UPSET

Two Had Close Call From Being
Brought to Death.

[Canadian Press.]
Berlin, June 10.—While driving in an automobile from Breslau last night Mr. P. Eph. Erb, his son Carl, and two young men had a narrow escape from death. A large quantity of gravel had been left in the centre of the road, and while turning to avoid it the car turned turtle, throwing its occupants into the ditch. In less than a minute the gasoline tank exploded and the car was totally destroyed. Its occupants were fortunately escaped without serious injury.

MANY TOURISTS

Excursion From Detroit Up the Lakes
Was Well Patronized.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Goderich, June 11.—Notwithstanding the cool weather, the tourist season was opened by the arrival of the steamer Greyhound carrying a large passenger list from Detroit and Port Huron. A moonlight was held on the lake Monday night, and was patronized by a large crowd, the boat having a passenger capacity of 3,000. The moonlight was run under the auspices of the Thirty-third Regimental Band. The Greyhound takes a large excursion today to Detroit for three days stop. All the summer hotels open their season with the boats' arrival.

Idle Rich Producing New Criminal Class

Chiefs of Police in Convention Discuss Difficult Problem.

[Canadian Press.]
Washington, June 10.—The tremendous growth of wealth, with all its consequent increase in the number of "idle rich," is producing a class of criminals in this country almost faster than the police can cope with it, according to Representative Borland, of Missouri, who today addressed the convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Mr. Borland declared that the "idle rich" set a pernicious example in their search for amusement and aroused a desire of emulation in the minds of persons of small means.

The result of such an example, he said, was to tempt poorer folk into indiscretions and crime to obtain money with which to gratify newly-acquired tastes. The cabaret show, he declared, to be one of the many causes for the spread of the social evil.

Held for Theft of $1,500 at Porcupine

Clean-Up Man Alleged to Have Stolen
Gold Amalgam.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Porcupine, June 11.—Charged with stealing $1,500 in gold amalgam C. Keath, the clean-up man at the McIntyre mine, is to appear in court here today.

He was quitting the job, it is alleged, and leaving the mine without his time check. A search warrant was sworn out by the McIntyre Mines and the rooms of Keath searched, and in a grip in the room and on the man's person was found, it is alleged, over $1,500 worth of gold amalgam. This is the first case on record in the north country of the theft of gold amalgam from the plates of the Northern Stamp Mills.

Keath was arrested as he was leaving work for the last time at the mill, and a couple of pounds of amalgam was found in his clothes, while all told the $1,500 worth of gold ore found in his grip and clothes weighed about twelve or fifteen pounds. The stealing had evidently been going on at the small stamp mill of the McIntyre for some time, the employee evidently caching only small portions at a time. His intentions of leaving, it is understood, were communicated to other employees, and when the management found out that their employee was not giving notice, and leaving without his time check, suspicion was aroused, which resulted in the search warrant being sworn out before Magistrate Torrance, and the recovery of the amalgam.

It is thought by the management that all of the gold has been recovered and that Keath was unable to get away with any of the precious metal. Keath was arrested immediately the amalgam was located. He was lodged in the Timmins jail to await trial. Keath has been employed on the plates at the mine since early this year, and was considered a trustworthy employee.

NOT IN SYMPATHY

Niece of "First Martyr" Dislikes the Suffragettes' Tactics.

[Canadian Press.]
Toronto, June 10.—Mrs. Robert Sinclair, 373 Roncesvalles avenue, a niece of Miss Emily Davison, the first suffragette "martyr," has no sympathy with the militant methods of her relative. "Miss Emily Davison was the only member of our family who joined or even was a believer in the militant movement," said Mrs. Sinclair, who before her marriage was Miss Violet Davison. "Consequently," Mrs. Sinclair added, "she estranged herself somewhat from the rest of the family." Mrs. Sinclair is the only member of the family in Canada.

ELECTED OFFICERS

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Crampton, June 11.—The Girls' Bible Class of the local Sunday school met and organized recently. Fifteen members were enrolled and the following officers elected:

Teacher, Miss Minnie Craik; president, Miss Annie Cornish; vice-president, Miss Gertrude Rowse; treasurer, Miss Vera Warren; secretary, Miss Mae Parsons.

The Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. Good John on today.

The Ladies' Aid will hold their annual strawberry festival on Wednesday night, June 25.

STRICKEN SUDDENLY

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Fingal, June 11.—The funeral of Neil McIntyre, held this afternoon from the family residence to Fingal Cemetery, was largely attended. Mr. McIntyre was 75 years old, and was stricken with paralysis on Saturday, and died shortly afterwards. He was the last member of his family.

"Give Us Pockets!"

DEMANDS BILLIE BURKE. SHE CAN'T SEE WHY MEN SHOULD MONOPOLIZE ALL THE POCKETS IN CREATION AND MAKE WOMEN WORRY ALONG WITH HANDBAGS AND VANITY CASES.

BY BILLIE BURKE.

I've solved it. I know why some people think that men are superior to women, it's pockets. Men have a pocket for everything and a pocket in every possible place. They don't have to burden their minds with remembering where they put this or that. They just go through their pockets, knowing that they will find it in one of them, and don't some of them look funny doing that?

How did I find it out? I have been playing in the Amazons, as you know, lately—and wearing men's clothes, and, oh, the luxury of those pockets! I never knew before what a strain it is on the feminine mind to always remember the handbag that a woman invariably carries. Of course, it has almost become second nature to us, and we run about with a handbag, a vanity case and other little necessities in our hands, and pick them up and lay them down every minute or so. It is astonishing that we do not lose more things than we do, and it is astonishing there is room in our heads for anything else. If the men who are always laughing at us for leaving our things around would be obliged to carry the things they stuff in their pockets in their hands, they certainly would leave more about than we do.

Do you know I have solved a brand new theory since wearing those waistcoats and trousers about woman's dress, and that is that men make women's fashions, and, outside of the commercial idea involved, they either consciously or unconsciously contrive to hamper women as much as possible. They don't want us to have freedom from even every-day detail. They want us to be pretty little dolls. It's a joke that just now, when men are talking so much about their rights and their freedom, that the men who design fashionable frocks are making our skirts so narrow we can't take a long step, binding our arms down so that we cannot raise them above our heads, and leave us without a ghost of a place where we might have a pocket to conceal our purse and handkerchief.

Since the slash in the skirt we can't even put our money in our stockings, without giving it undue prominence. I don't think that I am a rabid suffragette, and I am sure that I am as fond of pretty and artistic frocks as any other woman, but I do wish, and I am sure so do you, every woman who reads this, that some famous designer of women's clothes would rise up and give us a garment in which there are at least half as many pockets as there are in a man's coat and trousers. Then we could turn our attention to many things that we do not have time to do at present.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

LOBO.

The summer meeting of the Lobo Women's Institute will be held in Masonic Hall, Lobo Village, on the afternoon of Friday, June 13. Miss M. Powell, of Whitby, will address the meeting.

Miss Powell is deeply interested in everything which pertains to the advancement and education of the present and future nation builders, and presents her address in a very forceful manner. Lunch will be served at the close of the meeting, and a cordial invitation is extended to all women interested in Institute work to come and enjoy the afternoon.

MOUNT BRYDGES.

The Mount Brydges Branch of the Women's Institute will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Farrows on Thursday, June 12. Mrs. Wm. Ferguson and Mrs. Cummingford, of Strathroy, will address the ladies.

LAWN SOCIAL AT CASHMERE, JUNE 18

Ladies' Aid Providing Good Talent, Good Supper and Good Time.

Cashmere, June 10.—The Ladies' Aid intend holding their annual lawn social on the church lawn on the evening of June 18, and everything is being done to make this "the best yet." A good program is being provided, consisting of the following talent: Ad. R. Snell and Dr. Harry Wilson, Wardsville; readings, by Mrs. (Dr.) Wilson; music by the Mixed Quartette and Male Quartette; Miss Waite Quigley, of Wardsville; Miss Knight, Mr. Wind-son, Bathwell, and best local talent. The proceeds are in aid of a new shed.

Supper will be served from 6 to 8. Ice cream and other refreshments will be had on the lawn. Everybody welcome.

BITS OF WISDOM.

While the dashing, fascinating flirt is leading all men a chase, the quiet, wise, little, long-headed thing is usually busy making snare with which to trap up the most eligible among them as they go by.

It is so hard for a man to tell whether his wife's kiss of greeting when he comes in late is one of forgiveness or merely one of investigation.

PROBLEMS OF THE FAIR SEX SOLVED BY CYNTHIA GREY

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn as they are received. No letters can be answered privately.]

Think Less of Love.

Dear Miss Grey—Thought I have received many valuable suggestions from your column, this is my first letter. I would feel very deeply indebted to you if you could help me out with the following questions:

1. What is the origin of the term "drawing-room"?

2. When returning from the office the other day in the rain, a young man spoke to me in a very gentlemanly manner and offered me his umbrella. Was it proper for me to accept, and if so, shall I speak to him after this? I meet him quite often.

3. I am 19, and deeply in love with a young man three years my senior. I feel sure he is going to propose soon. I can see it in his eyes. Could you tell me some nice way to accept him? I fear I shall be much embarrassed.

4. What is your opinion of my handwriting? My employer said it was not very good the other day.

Thanking you sincerely, SADIE A.—1.

"Drawing-room" is a shortened form of "with-drawing-room," the longer form being usual in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. The term was given in England to denote a room used in a dwelling-house for the reception of company. It originated in the setting apart of such a room as the more private and exclusive preserve of the ladies of the household, to which they withdrew from the dining-room.

The term "drawing-room" is also used in a special sense of the formal reception or courts held by the British sovereign, on his representative, at which ladies are present.

2. While it would certainly not be wise to habitually form acquaintances in this way, I think it was all right for you to do as you did. If you meet him quite often you probably know something about him—where he works and if he appears to be a respectable young man. If what you know about him is favorable, I think you would be safe in speaking when you meet.

3. I believe the "dime novel" method of an acceptance is to fall gracefully upon his neck and say: "This is so sudden!" I should not worry about it, though, if I were you. For without a doubt, when he asks you the big question your own heart will tell you exactly what to say and how to say it. I don't believe you will be thinking about your embarrassment then.

4. I agree with him. Better think a little less about the young man, especially during office hours, and try to improve your penmanship.

Toadstools and Mushrooms.

Dear Miss Grey—Will you please answer a few questions for me?

1. How can you tell the difference between a toadstool and a mushroom?

2. What are the names of the names: Beatrice, Eva, Robert, Francis, Charles?

3. Would sour milk, oatmeal and lemon be good to take off the tan?

Thanking you in advance, PRAIRIE ROSE.

A.—1. There are about 1,000 different species of the mushroom and toadstool family, and at least a dozen rules and exceptions whereby one can distinguish the poisonous kinds from those that are edible. I hesitate to give you these rules, for guidance, because if you found some variety that was an "exception," I fear the consequence both to you and myself. If any reader, thoroughly acquainted with mushrooms, will give us the benefit of his or her practical knowledge, I shall be deeply grateful. Falling this, I should advise "Prairie Rose" to get a book on the subject at the public library. But, personally, I beg to be excused from any reason for telling you how to recognize the edible varieties from the others.

2. Beatrice, happy; Eva, life; Robert, bright in fame; Francis, free; Charles, mainly.

3. Yes, plaster the paste well over the face at night, and wash off in the morning.

Linens and Trousseau.

Dear Miss Grey: Having read some very interesting things in your column, I have decided to ask you a few things, also.

1. Would you kindly publish a list of linens, etc., a girl should have, who is about to be married?

2. Also, if not too much trouble, about what her trousseau should consist of?

3. What would you suggest for a menu for a picnic of about twelve?

Yours sincerely, CARRIE.

A.—1. This list, while not complete, covers, I think, the main essentials: Table napery—Three small tablecloths for common use; two large cloths for company; two dozen napkins (one dozen quite fine to match the "company" cloths and a dozen more durable); four traycloths. Bed-linen—Four pairs of cotton or linen sheets; six pairs pillow-slips; two pairs blankets; two pairs flannellette

SAN DIEGO SPICE CAKE.

BY CAROLINE COE.

One cup of brown sugar.
Two cups of molasses.
One cup lard or butter.
One teaspoon cinnamon.
One teaspoon of cloves.
One-half teaspoon of nutmeg.
Four eggs.
One-half pound currants.
One-half pound raisins (chopped or cut).
One-half cup cold coffee.
Pinch of soda.
One teaspoon of soda (sifted).
Sift the soda into four enough to make a stiff batter.

Cream shortening and sugar and add eggs, one at a time, beating vigorously. Add molasses and spice, then coffee, soda and flour, added a little at a time, and a little of the currants.

Have cake mixture stiff as drop biscuit dough. Bake in pan with centre tube, slowly forty-five minutes. Will keep moist long time.

and raisins in each time.

KATHERINE LESLIE'S HOME CHAT

Sweets and Nuts For the Exclusive Table.

It seems odd to think of fashion having anything to do with candy, but yet I am assured that she rules here as fearfully as she does where clothes are concerned. In serving a dinner, for instance, some years ago, peppermints and pink and white, were considered perfectly good form. Now that is so far off that one hardly remembers that these far too odoriferous sweets were permissible. Peppermints, in any sort of function are taboo. Dinty candy of the moment takes the form of crystallized grape fruit which has superseded the once all popular crystallized ginger. Candied almost urea confection much in vogue though you do not serve these if there are called almonds on the menu. For unheeding by hostesses who may spend that they will upon these little lunch accessories. Fashion suggests roses of candy, white, pink and yellow, with green stems and leaves. These are modelled from the natural flowers and one costs more than half a penny for a pot of the best candy. You may buy whole baskets of glass peels, but, of course, who would choose a petal when she could have a whole rose? Certainly, the gilded hostess in search of novelty. You may also have petals, the full size of the petals of the full-blown rose all so wonderfully candied that I know not which is sweeter, or not I know not which is fatter and sweetened, don't it?—upon your social reputation, put upon you, respectable board the salted peanut. I am an excellent authority, that this plebeian—does it not grow like a potato?—has been ostracized from all aristocratic aspiring tables. I haven't heard what the humble peanut has done to have been so summarily dropped even by those who have a fondness for it. But it must have been something dreadful. To replace the pariah peanut I believe that salted hazel nuts "are in some demand," and I am also assured that it is very questionable form to serve "assorted nuts." All sorts and conditions of nuts on one's table would, I suppose, be as insupportable as all sorts and conditions of people at one's table. Really one cannot be too careful about one's nuts. What if a peanut should squeeze in too? Horrible! But by banishing cream peppermints and salted peanuts an exclusive table is assured.

Fruit Vol au Vent.

Use the fruit in season. Make a case of very light puff pastry. Whip up two cups of thick cream, sweeten and flavor to taste and have ready the fruit, raw or stewed.

Put a layer of it in the case, then a layer of the cream, then the rest of the fruit. Lastly, heap the rest of the cream on top; decorate with preserved cherries.

Meringue Sandwiches a la Noel.

Beat three egg whites stiffly, add a pinch of salt and a few drops of vanilla extract, then gradually beat in four tablespoonsful of sugar. Put the mixture into a forcing bag with a tube, and force it on to a glazed baking-tin in long shape.

Place in a slightly warmed oven until firm. Remove from the tin and take out the soft centres from the undersides and put back in the oven until dry and crisp. When required for use fill with cream, ice, strawberry, pineapple, or orange. Stick two together and decorate with whipped and sweetened cream.

Strawberry Charlotte.

Line a large glass dish with slices of sponge cake dipped in milk. Cover with a layer of strawberries (washed or fresh fruit may be used), then pour over it soft custard. Repeat until dish is full then cover with meringue and brown in oven. Peaches may be used instead of strawberries.

HOME THOUGHTS FROM ABROAD.

O to be in England,
Now that April's there,
And whoever wakes in England,
Sees, some morning, unaware,
That the lowest boughs and the brush-wood shed
Round the elm-tree bole are in tiny leaf,

While the chaffinch sings on the orchard bough,
In England—now!

And after April, when May follows,
And the whitethroat builds, and all the swallows!
Hark, where my blossom'd pear-tree in the hedge
Leans to the field and scatters on the clover,
Blossoms and dewdrops—at the bent spray's edge—
That's the wise thrush; he sings each song twice over,
Lest you should think he never could repeat,
The first fine careless rapture! And though the fields look rough with hoary dew,
All will be gay when noontide wakes anew
The buttercups, the little children's daisies—
Far brighter than this gaudy melon-flower.

CARE OF A PATIENT'S MOUTH

In the hospital the mouth of every patient is given strict attention. It is cleaned at the time of the morning toilet and in some cases, it is cleaned several times a day. The patient in the home attended by the family is liable to be neglected in this general way. It is not uncommon for patients after recovering from an illness of several weeks to find it necessary to visit the dentist. In the majority of cases this visit is the result of neglect, writes Dr. Edith Lowry.

The direct cause of tooth decay is the lodgment of particles of food between and on the teeth with the resulting fermentation of this food which causes the production of bacteria and acid which destroy the tooth substance. In some diseases, as typhoid fever, the secretions of the mouth form a brown coat on the teeth which, if allowed to remain, is disastrous to the teeth.

A good tooth brush and dental floss are necessary for the thorough cleansing of the teeth, but in cases where it is impossible to use these a swab of cotton or pieces of gauze may be used. In addition to the general cleansing of the mouth and teeth it is essential for the comfort of the patient that the mouth be rinsed with some mild antiseptic solution. A weak solution of baking soda or of borax acid may be used, although some solution with a pleasant flavor is more agreeable to the patient. These solutions may be flavored with a little wintergreen or other agreeable flavor.

Relieve Dryness. Sometimes may be relieved by moistening it with a little glycerine and water. If there is a tendency to bleeding of the gums a few drops of tincture of myrrh may be added.

In many cases of stomach and intestinal troubles the illness really is prolonged by lack of attention of the mouth. The ferments from the food finally are swallowed with the saliva and may serve to disarrange the stomach. Indeed, some cases of indigestion are caused in the first place by lack of attention to the mouth. It is not uncommon for a physician to examine the mouth of the patient and find an ulcerated tooth or pus pocket which sends out pus into the mouth to be carried to the stomach with the saliva. People as a rule do not give enough attention to their mouths. The teeth are neglected from childhood, for over half the children attending school have defective teeth.

Many cases of colds and sore throat can be shortened by cleansing the mouth and nose with an antiseptic solution every hour or two. Many diseases can be prevented by spraying the mouth, nose and throat morning and evening.

Do You Know?

Do you know that if rice is stirred with a fork instead of a spoon while cooking it will never be sticky, but dry and white, with every grain separate? Try it and see.

That if a little sugar is added to water when cooking turnips their flavor is much improved?

Also if a mustard plaster is mixed with the white of an egg it will not blister the skin?

Califlower should be cooked heads down so that no steam may settle on the white portion.

A Delightful Water Softener.—Cut a yard of cheesecloth to form bags 4 inches square, mix 2½ pounds of fine oatmeal, 4 ounces of powdered orris root. Fill bags loosely and use in the bath like a sponge. The effect upon the skin is soothing and grateful and leaves a pleasing perfume.

Remedy for Neuralgic Headache.—Lie down in a darkened room. Place a hot-water bottle at the feet and keep well covered. Have the top of the spine, behind the ears and the temples gently rubbed with chloroform and menthol liniment. Try and sleep, and when you awake take a cup of tea, with no milk, and a squeeze of lemon juice in it.

POOR PITCHING TO BLAME FOR SECOND LOSS TO LEAFS

Heck Was Batted Off the Hill in the Fifth, and Clickenger, Who Followed Him, Was Not Any Better—Final Score Was 12 to 3.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Guelph, Ont., June 10.—Ruben Schuyler was the person responsible for the downfall of the London Tecumseh for the second time in two days. He not only held Deneau's team to six scattered hits and three runs, but also hit the ball for a single and a double, and held his position in great style. This, coupled with the heavy clouting of the Leafs behind him, gave him an easy victory, the score being 12 to 3 at the finish.

Heck Batted Out.
Heck, who has been pitching such good ball recently, was sent in to try and stop the fast-climbing Leafs, but he met with a warm reception and was finally hammered off the mound. He was hit freely and hard, and his splendid fielding back of him prevented a larger score. Clickenger was brought in from left field to relieve him after Brady had hit for the circuit in the sixth, but he, too, was just as easy, seven hits and seven runs being secured off his delivery.

Leafs Score in First.
The Leafs scored a run in the first on singles by Dunn and Cook, and a triple sacrifice fly to centre by Wright; Brady singled and Wiltsie drove out a triple. These, followed by Dunn's throw, accounted for two more runs. In the third Wright singled to centre, and Schaeffer tried to right field, another run coming in after two men were out. Jack Fryer drove one to the track in right centre in the fifth, and Brady followed suit in the sixth. This was plenty for Mr. Heck, and Clickenger was brought in from the left garden to do the heaving. He was hit for three singles and three Orvie Overall is trying to dispute that much-mooted and popular belief "they can't come back" after two seasons of quietude he has once more limbered up his pitching arm and is giving his best to aid Johnny Evers in the latter's efforts to solve the problem of a pitching staff that is sadly wanting in efficient material.

Overall has been slow in rounding into form, but he candidly believes that era long he will pitch as much worth to the Chicago Cubs as he was before he elected to quit "public life" after the world's series of 1910.

AMERICANS OUTCLASS BRITISH IN FIRST POLO GAME FOR CUP

Defenders Outrode and Outplayed Challengers in Almost Every Period—Americans Ran Up Big Score in First Period and Held Lead.

Meadowbrook Club, L. I., June 10.—Outriding and outplaying the English polo players, the American cup-defending team today won the opening game of the sixth international match by a score of 5½ goals to 3. A better idea of the actual difference in the playing ability of the two teams is shown by the gross score, which was 7 to 3 in favor of the defending four.

Much to the surprise of the spectators and polo experts, the English players did not show the vaunted team play which had been credited to them before the game. Neither did their ponies outclass the American mounts. In fact, the reverse was quite the case, and in almost every run down field, the American players either held their own or outrode their competitors in the race for the ball.

Combination work of the American four with Larry Waterbury at No. 1, J. M. Waterbury, Jun., and L. B. Stoddard at No. 2; Capt. H. P. Whitney at No. 3, and Devereux Milburn at back, was superb. The challenging George Cheape at No. 1, Capt. R. O. Risson at No. 2, and Capt. Vivian Lockett at No. 3, appeared unable to work together consistently, due in all probability to the close "covering" of the Americans.

The drives of the Americans were made with excellent direction and length, and they never appeared to have difficulty in hooking the ball out of scrimmage. The English were apparently stunned by the fierceness of the cup-defenders' attack and failed to get into form, but they hooked the ball back in the latter part of the first period, and the English were again in a position to play a rushing game and his encounters with Edwards and Cheape were frequent and thrilling. Finally he was penalized for riding across Cheape, who had just secured England's first goal with a fine shot from a hard angle. Larry Waterbury scored the American goal in this period in 3:32.

Cheape Misses Two Chances To Score.
The English four were rushed hard by the defenders early in the third period, and Larry Waterbury scored for the Americans in 10:10. The ball was carried up and down the field without a score the remainder of the period. Edwards and Cheape, after a long shot, failed to score. The ball was carried up and down the field without a score the remainder of the period. Edwards and Cheape, after a long shot, failed to score. The ball was carried up and down the field without a score the remainder of the period.

The fourth saw the Americans missing several easy chances to score. Capt. Cheape also failed from a clear field. The only goal of the period was scored by Larry Waterbury in 7:19, which he partly nullified by a foul in crossing Capt. Risson.

The fifth period saw the English at their best. Capt. Risson scored with a lofting shot which the Americans were unable to reach, and Capt. Cheape followed with a 75-yard stroke which had just enough momentum to carry it through the goal posts. The succeeding session proved disastrous for the defenders, for "Monte" Waterbury was hit on the hand by an opponent's mallet and his finger broken in two places. He will not be able to play in Saturday's game.

Open riding and individual play marked the seventh period, in which no goal was scored. The American team, however, lost half a point because of sharp crossing by Milburn. Edwards and Risson again showed some splendid team work. But Risson spoiled the long run by missing an easy goal at the end.

The final period had hardly opened before Larry Waterbury was thrown. He jumped to his feet, but the game was delayed, as his mount had bolted for the stable and a substitute had to be obtained.

Stoddard Paves Way For Final Goal of Game.
When play was resumed both teams rallied and took turns in the attack on goal. The English kept the ball in the American territory for several minutes, but Stoddard finally cleared it and in a run down field paved the way for Larry Waterbury to score the final goal of the game.

The score by periods and penalties follows:
First Period.
1. J. M. Waterbury, 1:38, United States.
2. L. Waterbury, 2:25, United States.
3. D. Milburn, 3:32, United States.
Second Period.
4. Capt. Cheape, 4:04, England.
5. L. Waterbury, 5:03, United States.
Third Period.
6. J. M. Waterbury, 6:31, United States.
Fourth Period.
7. L. Waterbury, 7:19, United States.
Fifth Period.
8. Capt. Risson, 7:02, England.
9. Capt. Cheape, 7:25, England.
Sixth Period.
No score.
Seventh Period.
No score.
Eighth Period.
10. L. Waterbury, 7:19, United States.
Gross score—United States, 7; England, 3.
Penalties—United States, 1½ points on fouls by L. Waterbury in second period; L. Waterbury in fourth period; D. Milburn in seventh period.
Net score—United States, 5½ goals; England, 3 goals.

WALTER F. TOOK STAKE AT SEAFORTH

Made Second Heat in Fastest Time on Half-Mile Track This Season.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Seaforth, June 10.—The opening day of the Seaforth Turf Club's annual meet was attended by a large crowd of interested spectators. The weather was ideal, the track fast, and the racing of a higher class than has been seen here for some years. Two races were decided, the 2:30 pace, a stake event with nine starters, and the 2:18 pace, with seven starters. Walter F., a magnificent specimen of a race horse, had little difficulty in annexing the stake, a straight heat, although forced in the second heat by Bay Sure, to finish in 1:24, the fastest mile in this class made this year on the United States. The 2:18 pace was won after five heats by Birdie Nal, a game little known here, that outlasted the favorite, given a poor start in the first heat, and as a result was flagged but allowed to continue by the judges.

TAILENDERS BEAT RED SOX

Schaeffer Won His Second Game for Joe Keenan, While the Manager Looked on From the Bench.

Berlin, Ont., June 10.—By making several changes in the line-up, the cellar occupants turned the tables on the Brantford Red Sox today, administering a 12 to 5 trouncing. Manager Keenan's place at bat was taken care of by Miller and Belz. A new man from Detroit, filled the latter's place at second. The basement baronets clouted Collins' offerings hard and often and the Red Sox played ragged ball in the field. With the score a tie the locals emerged with a five-run lead in the third on four hits and Brundage's muff of Belz's fly.

ONE WONDERFUL NIGHT

BY LOUIS TRACY.

Uncle Horace's seemingly maladroit interruption (it raised him to a pinnacle of esteem in Devar's mind from which he was never dislodged subsequently) prevented any striking development until a glass-eyed waiter had entered and taken an order for four highballs. Even Mrs. Curtis admitted the need of a stimulant, but Curtis steadily refused any intoxicant, even the mildest. Steingall endured the delay stoically. He actually held back a sufficient time to allow Horace P. Curtis to empty his glass with one well-sustained effort. Then he came to close quarters with Napoleonic directness.

"I take it you assumed that the dead man was the Jean de Courtois mentioned in the marriage license?" he said.

He gave that question pride of place in pursuance of a queer thought which had leaped into his brain during the enforced interval. But, if he had been thinking hard, so had Curtis, and the latter had outlined a plan of action which was fated to disrupt Steingall's, much as a harmless-looking percussion cap may interfere with the smug torpor of a powder magazine.

"Yes," said Curtis, with the judicial nod of a man who states a comparatively obvious fact.

"Have you that license?"

"Where is it?"

"Reposing in the writing-desk of the Rev. Thomas J. Hughes, a minister of the Protestant Episcopal Church, who lives in Fifty-sixth street, near Seventh avenue."

"And what is it doing there, pray?"

"I used it. I have married Lady Hermione Grandison."

Steingall permitted himself the rare luxury of a semi-hysterical break in his voice.

"What?" he cried. "Is she the daughter of the Earl of Valence?"

"Precisely, though you astonish me by the ease with which you connect two such widely different names. But I am usually inclined to a close acquaintance with the amiable follies of the British aristocracy."

Certainly it was well that Mrs. Horace P. Curtis had partaken of a tonic in the shape of a highball, for she was pale and nervous.

"Well," she gasped.

For once she was practically speechless, but she gave the astounded Devar a pitiless glance which said plainly:

"Wait till I get my breath, young man, and I'll take some of the cookeyness out of you!"

Steingall soon gathered his scattered wits.

"Are you really speaking seriously, Mr. Curtis?" he asked.

"Quite seriously."

"Was this marriage an arranged affair?"

"Oh, yes. The marriage itself was pre-arranged."

"Candidly, I do not understand you."

"No, I am not sure that I do not wish you to remain under any misapprehension as to the true state of affairs. Lady Hermione Grandison meant to marry a French music master named Jean de Courtois. I thought, thought honestly but mistakenly, that the man was dead, and as it was of vital importance that her ladyship should get married tonight, I offered my services as Jean de Courtois substitute, and they were accepted."

"Am I to take that statement as literally true?"

"Absolutely."

"But you were not acquainted with the lady earlier?"

"No."

"Never seen or heard of her?"

"No."

"How did you come to engage in this—this freak marriage, then?"

"Curtis measured Steingall with a contemplative eye.

"You are called on to assimilate a novel idea, and, in consequence, are choosing your words badly," he said. "It was not a freak marriage. Although I may have broken the laws of the State of New York by using a license issued to some other person, Lady Hermione and I are legally husband and wife, and no power on earth can dissolve the union without the expressed consent of one or both of us."

"Do you mean me to accept the bald theory that you first earned the lady's name and address from a document discovered in another man's overcoat, that you went to her house, told her the man was dead, and suggested that you should become the bridegroom in his stead?"

"As an adjective, 'bald' is well, but, but you've got the affair sized up accurately otherwise."

"Oh, the shameless hussy!" broke in Mrs. Curtis vehemently.

Steingall turned on her with a certain heat of manner.

"Do not interrupt, madam, I beg," he exclaimed.

"Better reserve judgment, aunt, until you have met my wife," said Curtis. He spoke gently enough. He had appraised his relative almost at a glance and was sufficiently broad-minded to allow for the natural distress of a respectable middle-aged lady who had been whirled, as it were, out of her wonted environment, and wrapped in the realms of necromancy and Arabian Nights.

Steingall swept aside this intimation with the emphatic hand of a cross-examining lawyer.

"You say it was of vital importance that the lady should be married tonight. What does that imply?"

"Do you wish me to put it in different language?"

"I want to know what the vitally important reason was. I presume she furnished one?"

"Ah, but how does that concern the New York police, Mr. Steingall?"

"Every element in this business concerns us. The license was in Hunter's possession—was he bringing it to someone named de Courtois? Or was he masquerading under an alias?"

"Answering your second question, I imagine not. I have the best of reasons for believing that Jean de Courtois exists. I wish now I hadn't. Don't you see, Steingall, I am in a deuce of a fix? I married the lady under a misapprehension. She might have been the wife of this fellow, de Courtois."

Steingall liked a joke as well as any man in New York and was not at all averse from chaffing some of his less gifted colleagues when their obtuseness or childish adherence to the letter of instructions permitted a criminal to baffle them; but he resented the levity of Curtis's tone now, though, deep in his heart, he felt that he liked the man.

"You don't seem to realize the peculiarly awkward position in which you stand," he said, with due official gravity. "On the contrary, I feel it acutely. What am I to say to my wife?"

"I am not wrung with agony over the lady's sensitiveness," broke in the detective dryly. "A good many people believe that you were concerned in this murder. There are not lacking circumstantial details which warrant that view. I am not saying too much when I tell you that some day, in my shoes, would arrest you forthwith."

Curtis looked at Steingall quizzically, and even laughed with a whole-hearted appreciation of the jest.

"Lucky for me that I have fallen into the hands of a sensible person," he said. "Allow me to remark," put in Uncle Horace solemnly, "that Mr. Steingall has won my unstinted admiration by the way in which he has conducted this inquiry."

Devar was beginning to enjoy himself. He alone was able to estimate Curtis at his true worth; even that astounding marriage was losing some of its bizarre attributes since Curtis had begun to talk about it.

"Good for you, Mr. Curtis, senior," he crowed delightedly. "If I didn't know what it really wanted it would run you for governor."

Steingall nearly became angry. Indeed, it is probable that he would have expressed himself in strong language were it not for the presence of Mrs. Curtis. "Now, sir," he said, with a perceptible stiffening of manner, "let us have done with pretence. You strike me as being sane, yet you ask me to believe that you have acted like a lunatic. Well, let it go at that. Who is this Jean de Courtois whom Lady Hermione Grandison was to have married tonight?"

Corn Is Backward Around Ingersoll

Not Only Slow Growth, But It Is Turning Yellow.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, June 10.—Corn is one of the crops that is reported very backward. The weather of the last two weeks has been decidedly unfavorable and in some localities the corn has not only shown very little growth, but is quite yellow. This is a bad indication that it is not vigorous enough, but it is not thought the result will be serious in case the weather continues warm.

In connection with the floral services in the Methodist Church on Sunday very generous contributions were received. The sum of $800 had been requested during the day and the amount placed on the plates was nearly $600. It is expected that the sum desired will have been reached when all the contributions have been received.

The attendance at the meeting of the Baptist young people last night showed a gratifying increase. The meetings are increasing in interest and there is much enthusiasm on the part of the membership generally.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Beattie and little daughter, of Carleton Place, are guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Beattie, Dickson's Corner. Mr. Beattie is a delegate to the Presbyterian General Assembly at Toronto.

NEW CONSTABLE

Allan Wright Receives Appointment From Ingersoll Committee.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, June 10.—A meeting of the police committee was held last night, at which applications for the position of night constable were considered. There were six applicants and the committee eventually decided to recommend the appointment of Allan Land Wright. Mr. Wright is a son of the late Allan Wright, who was chief of police here for a number of years, and gave general satisfaction.

FELL FROM TRAIN

Body of William Jefferson Was Found Beside Tracks.

Kingston, Ont., June 10.—The body of William Jefferson, of Glenburnie, was found lying in a pool of water in a ditch beside the C. P. R. tracks, about six miles from Kingston. Jefferson was about 40 and unmarried, was a member of the Fifth Field Battery and his death was evidently caused by falling from a train which left here during the night carrying troops to the camp at Petawawa. Dr. A. E. Ross, coroner, is investigating.

STONER—WHITEHEAD.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Strathroy, June 10.—A quiet wedding took place yesterday in the Church of St. John the Evangelist, when Ethel R. Whitehead, youngest daughter of Dr. J. P. Whitehead, became the bride of Mr. Oliver Christopher Stoner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Stoner, of Poplar Hill. Immediately following the ceremony the happy couple left for a short trip among friends, the bride travelling in a suit of navy blue whiplash, and a cream Panama hat. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends on Caradoc street, Strathroy.

WOODSTOCK WON

Defeated Ingersoll Two to One On the Home Grounds.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, June 10.—Woodstock proved to be too strong for the local soccer team in last night's game. The honors went to the neighboring city by a score of 2 to 1. Throughout, the game was hard-fought, and the large number of spectators were kept on the tip-toe of excitement. The first half was clearly Woodstock's, but in the second period the homesters rallied and managed to drive the pigskin between the posts. The teams have shown a wonderful improvement since the first game, which was a draw. The fact that they are tied for the district, with one game to be played at Woodstock, has intensified interest. A battle royal is anticipated when this game is played at Woodstock next Saturday.

How English Beauties Keep Faces Youthful

Christian Miller, F. C. I., noted English health expert, attributes the early aging of American women mainly to the "national nervousness." The women of England, she says, can teach us the inestimable lesson of repose.

Another valuable lesson to be learned from the Englishwoman is that she does not go in much for cosmetics, the continual use of which must ruin any complexion. The beauty devotees of King George's realm have the mercurized wax habit, a habit which is easily acquired at drug stores generally in the United States. It is applied at night and washed off in the morning. One ounce is sufficient to completely renovate a bad complexion. It has a peculiar action in keeping the face free from the particles of dead and devitalized skin which are constantly appearing. Woman's Herald.

No Serious Damage Caused by Frosts

Only a Few Beans and Plants Nipped in Ingersoll District.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, June 10.—Although there was a severe frost on Sunday night and again Monday night, no serious damage has been reported. There have been a few instances where beans and other tender plants were nipped, but generally speaking the result was not as harmful as many had supposed. Corn is about the only crop that is backward, but this is expected to improve with the first warm spell. It is now considered behind the standard of previous years at this time of the year.

With the object of securing right-of-way privileges, Mr. Tomb, representing the Southern Ontario Gas Company, who purpose supplying natural gas throughout a large area of West-Ontario, met the council of West-Oxford here yesterday afternoon.

How to Destroy the Dandruff Germ

BY A SPECIALIST.

That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and premature gray hair, is a well-known fact, but when we realize that it is also indirectly responsible for many of the worst cases of catarrh and consumption, we appreciate the importance of any agent that will destroy its power. We are, therefore, particularly pleased to give herewith the prescription which an eminent scientific statesman has found, after repeated tests, to completely destroy the dandruff germ in from one to three applications, and it has been in numerous cases produced new hair growth after years of baldness. This prescription can be made up at home by any druggist but put it up for you: Six ounces Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavender Compound, one-half ounce Menthol Crystals. Mix thoroughly, and after standing half an hour it is ready for use. Apply night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the finger-tips. If you wish it perfumed, add half a teaspoonful of Jo-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients, and this preparation is not a dye, it is unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color.

HOME RULE BILL HAS PASSED ITS SECOND READING

Predictions of Big Civil War
Made by Sir Edward Carson.

Hon. A. J. Balfour's Amendment Was Defeated by Large Majority.

LONDON, June 11.—Amid enthusiastic cheering by Liberals and Nationalists, the second reading of the home rule bill for Ireland passed the House of Commons without division. The amendment moved by the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour for the rejection of the bill having previously been defeated 368 to 270.

The debate was marked by the fiery declarations by the Opposition speakers, who predicted that the imposition of home rule would result in civil war in Ireland. Sir Edward Carson, the Irish Unionist leader, said:

"For my part, I will continue to support the Government, and will take full responsibility for their resistance. You may seize their arms or send troops, but you will not settle the Irish question. You know that you are crowding about peace, and there is no peace, and you will fail in your project."

Lord Charles Beresford declared: "If the Government sends troops to Ireland I shall offer my services, poor as they may be, and help my fellow-countrymen."

The Opposition leaders assert that even if the country was appealed to and a general election favored home rule, Cluster would not submit.

No Intimidation.
John P. Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, said that Sir Edward Carson's speech was the most violent he had ever delivered. Sir Edward had taken upon himself a grave responsibility and did not represent the opinion of the Nationalists.

The bill now enters the suggestion stage before its inevitable rejection by the Lords. The House of Commons, under the means of passing Liberal bills over the veto of the House of Lords, cannot amend the bill. It must go to the Lords in exactly the same shape as it reached the chamber last session. Members of the Lower House may, however, suggest amendments to the Lords, who may later make an insert at their discretion.

Sir Edward Carson, after the passage of the bill, said that the Irish Unionist members will refuse to take part in any further discussion because it was merely an elaborate stage farce in which their suggestions would be rejected. He added that a body will proceed to tour the principal cities in England and Scotland and will hold meetings in protest against the bill.

The Nationalists are disappointed at the possibility that the Government will not pass the bill. The passage of the bill necessary to make it a law.

Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the Opposition, said that if it were a bargain between the Government and the Nationalists the House of Commons ought to know. Mr. Redmond denied the existence of a bargain and Mr. Law, in reply, said: "The Government is compelling the Unionist party to take the side of Ulster. If the Government forces the bill through under the present conditions it will be a constituted revolutionary committee."

Mr. Balfour's amendment for the rejection of the bill was defeated 368 to 270. The bill then passed the second reading without division.

A Veiled Threat.
London, June 10.—Sir Edward Carson interviewed after his speech in the Commons today, said the Irish Unionist members would not participate further in the home rule debate this session, because the proposals in the bill were nothing but a farce. He said that he and his colleagues are not going to immediately to Belfast, where their presence is not required for the moment. His preparations are as necessary in Ulster, he said, as being called out to defend the country in their absence.

Sir Edward intimated that before further action was taken in Ulster his colleagues would make a last appeal to the British electors from platforms. He concluded: "We shall not forget the counsel of Oliver Cromwell to 'stand in God and keep your powder dry.'"

Hamar Greenwood, London, June 10.—In the course of the debate on the home rule bill in the House of Commons today, and dissenting from Mr. John Redmond, who declared that the overseas Dominions were overwhelmingly in favor of the home rule, Major Morrison Bell said the issue had never been clearly put before the Canadian people. He challenged the Nationalists to get a resolution in favor of it passed through the Commons at Ottawa.

Hamar Greenwood said there was not a single public man in Canada who was not in favor of home rule for Ireland, because the principle had been well in Canada. It was regarded there as a long stride in the federation of the Empire.

Bonar Law's Challenge.
Bonar Law said: "Anyone who has the smallest acquaintance with Canada knows that the statement made by the last speaker is absolutely wide of the mark. If he had said that a majority of the Canadians were in favor of home rule I should not have contradicted it, but to say that the whole of Canada is in favor of home rule is utterly at variance with fact. The honorable member said further that the Nationalists were in the majority in the Commons. I should like to know what part in any anti-home rule demonstration, I hope and believe that is true. There is not one of them who is not wise enough to recognize that the Government has no right to interfere in their domestic affairs, they have no right to interfere in ours. The honorable member tells us that the Canadian Parliament have passed resolutions in favor of home rule. When was the last resolution passed? I defy him to obtain from any Canadian Parliament today any expression of opinion on this subject. Nobody knows better than the honorable member what nonsense it is when he says that Canadians approve of this home rule because they like the Government. Let him propose to Canada that one of the provincial parliaments should be given a separate customs house and a separate post office and see what the Canadian people will say."

Seized Rifles.
London, June 10.—The London customs officials seized about 4,000 rifles, bayonets, and a quantity of ammunition in a small steamer at Hambleton, five hundred rifles detained by the customs officials at Dublin on Friday came from the same steamer. Detectives in the Dublin harbor, on Monday, loaded up and followed it to the mouth of the journey to Ireland. According to the London Daily Mail the police are also watching a consignment of rifles, bayonets, and ammunition, which was loaded on a steamer at London tonight addressed "to the order of Messrs. Carson & Co., Midland Station, Bedford, to be called for."

CLEANS DISINFECTS

Tuberculosis Fatal To 94,205 in 1911

Organic Heart Disease Second and Pneumonia Third on Death List.

Washington, June 11.—Heart disease is fast coming to be one of the great American ailments, the census bureau says, in making public the various causes of death in the registration area of the United States in 1911. The total deaths from the chief causes were:

Tuberculosis, all forms, 94,205; organic heart diseases, 53,525; pneumonia, all forms, 23,233; accidents, 50,121; infantile diarrhoea, 45,868; cancer, all types, 44,024.

There were 3,907 homicides, 9,622 suicides, an increase of 1,632; 1,660 deaths from infantile paralysis, 629 from pellagra, 6,882 from whooping cough, 5,243 from scarlet fever, 5,992 from measles, and 12,451 from typhoid fever.

The greatest mortality from heart disease, in proportion to population, was in Vermont, the lowest in Montana; the highest city mortality from that disease was in Albany, N. Y., the lowest in Scranton, Pa.

The highest pneumonia death rate, over 177 per 100,000 of population, was in New York State; the lowest, 64.8, in the State of Washington. In New York City the pneumonia death rate was 209.6 per 100,000 of population, the only cities with higher death rates from that complaint being Atlanta, Ga., Nashville, Tenn., and New Haven, Conn.

Cancer caused the most deaths relatively to population, in Vermont, 101 per 100,000 of population. The lowest rate was in Montana.

The proportion of old people, according to the census bureau, determines the relative mortality of heart disease and cancer.

In tuberculosis mortality, Kentucky was worst. Diphtheria killed twice as many children as any other child's disease.

The typhoid death rate in New York City and Chicago, 17 per 100,000 of population, as against 66 per 100,000 in Atlanta, Ga.

TOWN CLERKS WON GAME AT WINGHAM

Defeated the Western Foundry by a Score of 5 to 4.
Wingham, June 11.—A fast baseball game was played here last night on Victoria Park between the two town teams—the Town Clerks and Western Foundry—the score ending in favor of the Clerks by 5 to 4. Mr. Thomas McLean, an old baseball enthusiast, refereed to the satisfaction of all present. Seven innings were played.

The score:
Clerks.....0 3 0 1 0 1 0—5
Foundry.....0 2 0 1 1 0 0—4
Batteries: Huffman and Sturdy; Shafer and Geddes.

COURT IS OVER

Brilliant Gathering Marks Final Ball at Buckingham Palace.
[Canadian Press.]

London, June 11.—The fifth and last court of the season was held at Buckingham Palace last night. It was as brilliant as its predecessors in every way.

The King wore the uniform of colonel-in-chief of the Second Life Guards, and the Queen in gray-blue broche satin, embroidered with silver and diamonds. Her train was of cloth of silver, trimmed with founes of Honiton and point applique lace, and garnished with flowers. She also wore a diamond crown and rows of diamonds, including the Kohinoor and the Stars of Africa, formed into a collar with tie.

PERLEY---WHITE

Minister Without Portfolio Weds an Ottawa Society Leader.

[Canadian Press.]
Ottawa, June 11.—Hon. George H. Perley, minister without portfolio in the Borden Administration, was very quietly married last night to Miss Milly White, daughter of the late Hon. Thomas White, minister of the interior, under the auspices of the Ottawa Club.

F. Gorman performed the ceremony, which, owing to a recent bereavement in the bride's family, was witnessed by only immediate relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Perley left by private car for Toronto and Detroit.

WANT DIAZ BACK

Former President Says His Political Career Is Ended.

[Canadian Press.]
Paris, June 11.—Gen. Porfirio Diaz, former president of Mexico, recently received a delegation of Mexican friends, who had come to request him to return to Mexico in order to assist by his counsel in the restoration of tranquility to the country.

The reply of their old dictator is said to have been:

"I should be pleased to return and reside in my country, but I am determined not to participate in its politics."

TRIPLE DROWNING

Canoe Overturned in Heavy Wind on Lake Kenogami.

[Canadian Press.]
Quebec, June 11.—Three men employed at Price Brothers' Pulp Mills at Jonquiere, were drowned in Lake Kenogami, about seven miles off, yesterday, their canoe being overturned in a heavy wind. The names of the men are Arthur Ross, Francois Duschene and R. Morin, all of Jonquiere. Their bodies have not yet been recovered.

BIRDMAN FELL INTO THE LAKE

Aviator Atwood Was Out All Night in Lake Erie in Hydroplane.

HE WAS UNABLE TO FLY

[Canadian Press.]

Sandusky, Ohio, June 11.—Aviator Harry N. Atwood, who left Ecorse, Mich., yesterday for a flight across Lake Erie, to this city, in his hydro-aeroplane, arrived here early today.

Atwood was able to remain in the air only ten minutes after leaving Ecorse, and made the trip across the lake on the surface of the water. Engine trouble compelled him to descend.

After alighting on the water, he proceeded to Hickory Island, where he put in on account of a choppy sea. When the lake became more calm, he started again, making Sandusky under his own power. The aviator was unable to get his craft into the air again, but on the water it behaved splendidly.

Atwood was none the worse for his night in the open, and did not even get wet from the spray thrown over his aeroplane.

Big Increase in Western Wheat Area

Eighteen Thousand Acres More Than Last Year Sown.

[Canadian Press.]
Winnipeg, June 11.—An increase of 18,112 acres in wheat, and 190,906 in barley is shown in the Manitoba department of agriculture's bulletin just issued.

A summary of the area seeded follows: Area under wheat, 3,141,218 acres; oats, 1,939,933; barley, 1,153,834; flax, 115,951; rye, 10,936; peas, 4,115; corn, 20,222; potatoes, 55,713; roots, 16,271; total area under all crops, 6,632,079. Increased area under wheat, 18,112 acres; decreased area under barley, 18,127 acres; increased area under oats, 259; increased area under flax, 190,906; decreased area under peas, 1,261.

Member for Leicester Is Resigning His Seat

[Canadian Press.]
New York, June 11.—A cable to the Tribune from London says:

"It is understood that Eliot Crawshaw Williams, M. P. for Leicester, has resigned his seat. He is co-respondent in an impending divorce suit, in which Hubert W. C. Carr-Gomm, another Liberal member, is petitioner."

ELECTION APPEAL

[Canadian Press.]
Calgary, June 11.—Judgment was reserved in the Clearwater election appeal case yesterday. Frank Ford, for McKinney, Liberal candidate, contended that the court had no right to order the returning officer to count the disputed ballots, and contended there were other remedies for that purpose.

C. C. McNeil, K.C., for the Conservative candidate, insisted that Judge Macdonald was right in his order, and said that this power of the court, though not contained in the act, was there by implication. Alexander Stuart said that the counting of the two disputed votes would save Joe Clarke, independent, his deposit. Their lordships will not give judgment for some time.

FATAL RIOTS

Woman Killed and Many Hurt in a Strike at Ipswich.

[Canadian Press.]
Ipswich, Mass., June 11.—The Ipswich mills, near the gates of which one woman was killed and a number severely injured in a riot last night, were opened today without further disturbances. Under the protection of a large force of police about 200 operatives resumed work. Nearly 600 remained on strike.

Two additional arrests in connection with last night's rioting were made today. In all, 22 persons have been taken into custody and five of them are in the hospital.

HELD FOR MURDER

Operator Alleged to Have Killed Missionary Who Wanted Mine Closed Sunday.

[Canadian Press.]
Juneau, Alaska, June 11.—Joseph MacDonald, a wealthy mining operator of Guaymas, Mexico, arrested last December, and taken to Juneau to stand trial on a charge of murdering C. C. Jones, a missionary worker, when MacDonald was superintendent of the Treadwell mine in 1902, was admitted today to bail.

There is no more frequent source of illness than that arising from bad blood. When the blood becomes impure the whole system is impaired; boils and pimples break out; the bowels become constipated, and the head aches more or less.

Do not neglect to purify the blood on the first appearance of a pimple or boil. Cleanse it thoroughly by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters and thus prevent untold suffering.

Mr. D. M. McBlaine, Niagara Falls, Ont., writes:—"It is with pleasure I testify to the sterling qualities of your Burdock Blood Bitters. After the Boer War, through which I served in the 1st I.L.I., I suffered from boils, constipation, and sick headaches, and tried many preparations, but got relief from none till I took Burdock Blood Bitters. To say I got relief is to put it mildly. It made me myself again, viz., a man who knows not what it is to be sick, and who has been, and is still, an athlete."

"To anyone in want of purified blood and the resultant all round vigorous health I can conscientiously recommend B.B.B." Get the B. B. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

to $50.00 bill by District Judge Overfield today.

MacDonald is alleged to have murdered Jones because the mission worker insisted that MacDonald should close the mine on Sunday if he wished to avoid the wrath of God. A coroner's jury exonerated MacDonald, who went to Guaymas, where he became the general manager of a mine company.

When MacDonald was brought to Juneau he paid all the expenses of the marshal's party and a small army of witnesses.

HOSPITAL ADDITION

Plans Being Prepared for Big Improvements at Wingham.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Wingham, June 11.—The plans for the addition to the local hospital have arrived from the architects, Stevens & Lee, of Toronto.

When completed according to these plans Wingham will have a public institution to be proud of. Most complete and modern apartments for the care of maternity cases have been arranged for; isolation rooms for infectious diseases, and also separate apartments for the nurses in training will be constructed.

A new operating room on the third floor, with all the latest conveniences, is provided. These improvements are urgently needed as the Wingham hospital is fast gaining more than a local reputation for successful surgical work.

LIFE'S STRUGGLE WITH ILLNESS

Mrs. Stewart Tells How She Suffered from 16 to 45 years old—How Finally Cured.

Euphemia, Ohio.—"Because of total ignorance of how to care for myself when verging into womanhood, and from taking cold when going to school, I suffered from a displacement, and each month I had severe pains and nausea which always meant a lay-off from work for two to four days from the time I was 16 years old.

"I went to Kansas to live with my sister and while there a doctor told me of the Pinkham's remedies but I did not use them then as my faith in patent medicines was limited. After my sister died I came home to Ohio to live and that has been my home for the last 18 years.

"The Change of Life came when I was 47 years old and about this time I saw my physical condition plainly described in one of your advertisements. Then I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot tell you or any one the relief it gave me in the first three months. It put me right where I need not lay off every month and during the last 18 years I have not paid out two dollars to a doctor, and have been blessed with excellent health for a woman of my age and I can thank Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for it.

"Since the Change of Life is over I have been a maternity nurse and being wholly self-supporting I cannot overestimate the value of good health. I have now earned a comfortable little home just by sewing and nursing since I was 52 years old. I have recommended the Compound to many with good results, as it is excellent to take before and after childbirth."—Miss Evelyn Amelia Stewart, Euphemia, Ohio.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

USE ICE ONLY FOR COOLING PURPOSE EXPERT'S ADVICE

Provincial Analyst Reports Finding Chlorine in the Ponds.

Local Public Health Institute Says Ice Supply Is Satisfactory.

According to the local Institute of Public Health, the city's ice supply is fairly satisfactory. According to the provincial board of health's analysis it is all wrong. Dr. Hill's reports on the analysis of water from which the ice was taken were marked "O. K."

Dr. Amyot's (provincial analyst) reports show chlorine in excess in three of the ponds from which ice was taken—namely, the syndicate pond, the north branch pond, and the Warwick pond on Adelaide street. The north branch and Walker's pond show bacteria of intestinal origin, and the provincial analyst declares that it must have been only by accident that the sample taken from Walker's pond on Adelaide street did not show these impurities, as it should have done on account of its surroundings. Water from where the city ice is taken also showed infection with bacteria of intestinal origin.

Don't Drink Ice-Water. On the motion of Mr. W. Abbott at the board of health on Tuesday, the ice-men will be notified to take out licenses, but the people will be advised to use ice only for cooling purposes, not allowing it to come into direct contact with food or drink.

A deputation of Empress avenue ladies complained that unpleasant odors float across the river when the east wind blows across Canada's Creek. They blamed Hyman's tannery, but the board explained that there was no drainage from the tannery into the creek. However, the grievance will be investigated.

A septic tank will be installed by the Carling Brewing and Malting Company to render their sewage unobjectionable. Inspector Lattman reported on the West London creek nuisance. As it is a watercourse, running through private property, the board of health cannot take any direct action.

Draining Into River. Inspector Lattman also reported that many residences on Riverview avenue were draining sewage into the river because they are below the level of the city sewers. It is not likely that the board will have taken by the board, but no permission will be given to drain new residences in the same way.

This year the sanitary inspection cost $369, an advance of $222 last year, the new districts being responsible for the increase.

Those present were Chairman Dr. Burn, Mayor Graham, Dr. Hutchison, Mr. W. Abbott, Inspector Lattman and Acting Secretary Frank Hughes.

Canvass for Cash for the Playgrounds

House-to-house canvasses of the districts served by Talbot street, Princess avenue and Alexandra schools, will be shortly undertaken by the Playgrounds Association to raise funds for the equipping of the grounds of these schools with playground apparatus. A preliminary meeting was held in the Y. M. C. A. building Monday night.

The board of education has agreed to provide two supervisors for each school grounds equipped, and it is the intention of the Playgrounds Association to take the fullest advantage of this offer.

WONDER WHEN LIGHTS WILL BE TURNED ON

Knollwood Park Residents Are Angry at Delay of Hydro-Electric Commission.

Knollwood Park residents are wondering when the streets in that section will be lighted by hydro-electric. They claim that the city promised that the lights would be erected and the power turned on in the spring, but that very little progress has been made since then. "They also promised that it would be turned on by June 1," said one citizen, "but so far this section is in darkness. The officials of the hydro-electric department have not even called on us to supply them with one."

CARNIVAL WEEK AT QUEEN'S PARK

Story About Monkeys Coming to Trades and Labor Celebration.

Prof. John De Alma, with the Col. Francis Ferris's Shows United, tells a story of how a lot of monkeys that were consigned to him, and received at his winter quarters at Corona, L. I., last summer, caused no end of excitement, fun and trouble, combined.

The Simians wanted an outing after their long voyage by sea, and one from the found out how to open the trapdoor on the top of the cages. Half of them were out before the attention of the attendants was called to their making a break for liberty.

Most of the monkeys were caught before they got out of the quarters, but about nineteen of them reached the principal streets of Corona. After several hours of hard work some were recaptured, but by the time dusk had come to arrive Prof. De Alma was aware that there were eight still at large, although the anxiety of these still free left the residents willingly to believe there were several hundred roaming around and frisking about.

While it seemed that every telephone pole along the main street had a monkey on it, grinning down in a tantalizing manner, with a few hanging by their tails to the wires, making faces and derisive gestures at the pursuers.

The last one to be caught was located at Hamstead, L. I., two weeks from the time, and this one is now the same monkey that plays the part of the doctor, and comes in to doctor the sick pony in the little drama enacted in De Alma's Dog and Pony Show, with the Ferris United Shows, that appear here under the auspices of the London Trades and Labor Council, the week of June 16, at Queen's Park.

MANY DELEGATES COMING TO CITY FOR HURON SYNOD

Four or Five Hundred Delegates to Gather for Fifty-Sixth Session.

Important Legislation Concerning the Diocese Will Be Up for Consideration.

Ven. Archdeacon Davidson, M.A., rector of St. George's Church, Guelph, will preach the opening sermon at the fifty-sixth session of the Synod of the Diocese of Huron, which convenes in Cronyn Hall on Tuesday, June 17. Four or five hundred delegates, lay and clerical, will be in attendance from all parts of the diocese, which extends from Georgian Bay to Lake Erie and from Brant County on the east to Sarnia and Windsor on the west.

On the second day of the session, Wednesday, June 8, a conference on missions will be held, at which addresses will be given by Rev. Canon Gould, B.A., M.D., general secretary of the Missionary Society of the Church in Canada, and Rev. Dr. Archer, missionary at Kengra, India.

A notice of motion by the Bishop of Huron will increase the income of certain members of the clergy.

Thank-Offering. Rev. James A. Robinson, M.A., will introduce a motion that the diocesan surplus for 1912 be applied and credited to the capital of the Huron College Jubilee fund, as a thank-offering for 50 years of diocesan service completed by Huron College.

Rev. E. Appleyard, M.A., will move that the Huron College jubilee be celebrated throughout the different parishes, by special services or meetings.

Rev. T. J. Charlton will move that the summer season be observed by authorizing an Ember pennies scheme, the offerings, however, to be devoted to the Huron College fund.

Women in Vestries. The committee in regard to women in vestries will move that the canons of the diocese be so altered as to allow women to participate in vestry meetings.

Mr. Charles Jenkins will move that a standing board of executive committee be appointed to dispose of the urgent business of the synod occurring between sessions.

Rev. C. R. Gunne will move that a canon be added, calling for the organization of an Anglican Young People's Association.

Rev. Canon Richard Hicks, B.D., is the honorary clerical secretary, and Mr. John Ramsford is the honorary lay secretary.

No Decision as to Publicity Man

Appointment Lies Between Winnipeg Applicant and Mr. A. E. Welch.

The appointment of publicity commissioner was laid over by the manufacturers' committee on Tuesday until further advice is received confidentially from Winnipeg as to the efficiency of an applicant from that city. So far all information received has been to the effect that he is a man of some experience in the business world, and the committee deems it advisable to wait for still further advice from the city where he is now employed. A meeting will be held on Friday at noon.

The name of Mr. A. E. Welch was favorably mentioned by members of the committee. It is thought he would accept $2,000 a year. Ald. Stein and Ald. Asphalant favored his appointment. The appointment lies between the Winnipeg man as an experienced business man and Mr. Welch as a local man of good qualifications.

34th Annual Meeting of the High Court Canadian Order of Foresters.

OVER 500 DELEGATES IN ATTENDANCE

The thirty-fourth annual meeting of the Canadian Order of Foresters convened on Tuesday afternoon, June 10, in the new Masonic Temple in this city, at 2 o'clock. Delegates are in attendance from all parts of the Dominion, every province being represented. The order had its birth in this city in November, 1878, and has on three subsequent occasions, including the present, returned here for its annual meeting.

The following officers of the high court are present at the opening session: J. A. Stewart, high chief ranger; Perth, Ont.; J. A. A. Brodeur, high vice-chief ranger, Montreal, Que.; Alf. P. Van Someren, high secretary; Dr. U. M. Stanley, chairman of the medical board; Robt. Elliott, high treasurer; W. L. Roberts, high auditor; A. K. Gahlin, London; F. H. Davidson, Winnipeg, Man., members of the executive committee.

In addition to the above John Murray, district high chief ranger, Hamilton; Man. D. E. McKinnon, district high secretary, Winnipeg, Man.; A. K. Berry, district high vice-chief ranger, Holland, Man.; representatives from the district high court for Manitoba.

The annual reports of the various officers of this order are of a most satisfactory nature, showing that the steady progress that the Canadian Order of Foresters has experienced ever since its inception in 1879 was continued in the year 1912, which is covered by these reports.

This order confines its business entirely to the Dominion of Canada, and is, therefore, peculiarly a Canadian organization. In all its departments, in the result of the business of 1912 shows it to have been the best year in the order's experience. The increase in the insurance funds of the order amounted to $389,727.15. This grand standing at the end of the year, after payment of 308 death claims amounting to $508,551.19, at $3,959.76, the amount at the present time being $4,108,799.58. The revenue now derived from the investments of the order is $1,167,166.16.

In respect to the matter of investment to decay the permanence and stability of fraternal insurance companies. There is every evidence of careful management and of well directed action in an intelligent and business-like manner.

A point of special interest as indicating the cautious selection of risks in the death by fire while in their employ, only 5.75 per thousand, and over the order's experience of thirty-three years less than 5.25 per cent per thousand.

We find further that the superintendent of organization has been able to report the institution of forty-one new courts, so that every effort possible is being made to establish courts of the Canadian Order of Foresters in the new territory being opened up in the Dominion of Canada, from time to time, and as the points become large enough to maintain a court.

A very considerable amount of business will be laid before the delegates and it is expected that the sessions of the high court will extend over several days, probably occupying their attention till the 13th or 14th inst.

standing to the credit of this fund at the present date is $306,927.03. In respect to membership also substantial progress was made. The net result of the year's operations showing an increase of 4,410; the membership of the order on Dec. 31, 1912, standing at 87,536.

Besides the benefits accruing from life insurance and the ordinary sick and funeral benefit department of this order, we note that special provision is being made for those of its members who are suffering from tubercular troubles of any kind, a special grant being made for their care in any of a number of sanatoriums provided in this country for special treatment of patients so afflicted.

It is gratifying to note in a perusal of the reports of all the officers the far-reaching benefits that are being derived by the membership in the various directions in which this society endeavors to be of assistance to the individuals who compose same. The record of the Canadian Order of Foresters, as submitted in these reports, is well worth the perusal of those who have been, perhaps, too apt

HIGH COURT FORESTERS HOLD MONSTER PARADE

Foresters from all parts of the Dominion participated in a monster parade of the downtown section. Headed by the First Hussars Band over 1,000 members of the Canadian Order of Foresters, the high court of which is now in session at the Masonic Hall, Queen's avenue, marched through the business streets.

More than half the paraders were high court delegates, the remainder being members of the local section. Foresters from surrounding cities who have come for the festivities.

A special entertainment, organized by the local committees, was put on last night for the benefit of the visiting delegates.

mony was performed by Rev. R. Burns Ph.B., of Deseronto, an old-time friend of the family, in the presence of the immediate relatives. After a dainty repast, Rev. Mr. Burns proposed the toast to the bride, which the groom responded appropriately. Mr. and Mrs. Golder, accompanied by a few of the guests, motored to Napanee, where they left for Mr. Golder's summer home at Sharnbrook Lake. The bride was the recipient of many handsome presents among which was a cabinet of silver from the S. F. McKinnon Company, Toronto. In the fall, Mr. and Mrs. Golder will be at home at 132 Geoffrey street Toronto.

June Meeting of the Mission Circle

The June meeting of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle of the First Methodist Church was held in Wesley Hall on Tuesday evening, June 10.

The scripture lesson was given by Miss M. Treblehorn.

A full and most interesting report of the branch meeting, recently held at Chatham, was presented by Mrs. Hammond.

This society has been most fortunate in securing Rev. Joshua Standfield, the noted guest of the conference, during its session here for a lecture in the early fall.

The next meeting of the society will be held in September.

Gwent Glee Singers a Strong Company

Music of the Welsh Given By Male Choir of Unusual Merit.

Although nearly at the end of a nine-months' tour of Canada and the United States, the voices of the Gwent Glee Singers did not show any signs of wear at the concert in Aekia Street Methodist Church on Tuesday evening. Undoubtedly it is one of the finest male choirs ever seen in London. The precision, harmony and attack of the choir left nothing to be desired. Their program included some of the most beautiful pieces in a singer's repertoire. The most pleasing number was Brinley Richards' "Men of Harlech" that attracted Welsh war song, which was sung by the choir in a way that brought vividly to mind the battlefield of the past.

The glee "Time too" and "The Three Crowns" were heartily enjoyed by the audience. The solo work of the members of the choir was also appreciated, and each had to respond to encores.

Every member of the choir was in the program of exceptional merit. The choir sang the Welsh National Anthem, Hail to the Nation (The Land of My Fathers), in conclusion.

A HAPPY, LAUGHING CHILD IN FEW HOURS

If Cross, Irritable, Feverish, Tongue Coated and Sick, Give Delicious "Syrup of Figs."

Your child isn't naturally cross, irritable and peevish. Mother! Examine the tongue! If it is coated, the little one's stomach is disordered, the liver inactive and its thirty feet of bowels clogged with foul, decaying waste.

Every mother realizes after giving the delicious "Syrup of Figs" that this is the ideal laxative and physic for children. Nothing else regulates the little one's tender stomach, liver and bowels so effectively, besides they dearly love its delightful taste.

For constipated bowels, sluggish liver, biliousness, or sour, disordered stomach, feverishness, diarrhoea, sore throat, bad breath or to break a cold, give one-half to a teaspoonful of "Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged up waste, sour bile, undigested food and constipated matter will gently move on and out of the system without gripping or nausea, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With "Syrup of Figs" you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful.

Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious tasting, genuine reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

Given Large Sum Over Injured Hand. Fred Emmons, of Lobo, was awarded $25 in his action against the Dymond Colonial Company, Stratford, for an accident to his hand while in their employ. He brought forward evidence to show that a drill pierced his hand while at work on a machine for dovetailing boards. He claimed that the policy that drove the machine was defective, causing it to start suddenly. The defence claimed that the accident was caused by the carelessness of the plaintiff.

The water commissioners won their suit against Daniel Waide for power supplied. Mr. Waide claimed that the hydro power was unsatisfactory and not suited to his business. A settlement was made without costs for the sum of $124. A settlement was reached in the action of Eli Carroll against E. H. Reynolds, of Bothwell, for wages. The amount was not made public.

JUNE WEDDINGS
GOLDER-McCREADY. Harrison, June 11.—A pretty wedding took place recently at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Elliott, Thomas street, Deseronto, when the latter's sister, Margaret Blain McCready, of Toronto, was united in marriage to Mr. Mason T. Golder, also of Toronto. The house was prettily decorated with bridal wreath and lily of the valley. At 19 o'clock, to the strains of Lombardi's Bridal Chorus, played by Miss Agnes McCready, of Harrison, the bride, wearing her travelling gown of black and blue corded silk, with real lace collar and cuffs, and carrying a magnificent bunch of American Beauty roses (her only ornament being a handsome pendant of pearls and diamonds in platinum setting, the gift of the groom), entered the drawing-room on the arm of her brother, Professor S. B. McCready, of the O. A. C. Guelph. She was attended by Miss Crawford, of Walkerton, who wore a becoming gown of blue charmed and carried a sheaf of pink roses. Her gift from the groom was a pendant of pearls and olives, the latter being a gift from Mr. A. Cruikshank, of Montreal. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Burns.
