SYMPATHETIC STRIKE MAY BE CALLED BY DOMINION EXPRESS EMPLOYEES

BRITISH PRESS CRITICIZES AMENDED COVENANT OF LEAGUE

GERMANY WILL BE COMPELLED TO PAY ALLIES $50,000,000,000 DURING THE NEXT FIFTY YEARS

Premier Lloyd George, According to Paris Newspaper, Has Persuaded the Council of Four To Make a Decided Alteration of Financial Clause in the Peace Treaty.

Paris, April 14.—As a result of the by-election at Hull last week, Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain, according to the Echo de Paris, has persuaded the Council of Four to completely revamp the financial plan to be incorporated in the treaty of peace. Instead of a payment of twenty-five billion francs on account and annual payments to be fixed by a commission, it has been decided to fix at once the amount which Germany will have to pay within fifty years. This amount is kept secret, but it is indicated by the newspaper that a figure of 250,000,000,000 francs ($50,000,000,000), has been agreed on which includes all war damages as well as the cost of pensions.

Fixing the total sum will have the merit of facilitating treasury operations and the carrying out of mutual measures for assistance between the Allies. The first instalment of 25,000,000,000 francs must be paid within eighteen months, the newspaper declares.

French to Get Mines.

Other newspapers, however, do not mention any such change in the terms, but all information in French quarters agrees in regard to the Sarre Valley. It is said that it is settled the mines will become the absolute property of France, which will police the region, which, however, will be administered by a sort of directorate under the auspices of the League of Nations.

The critics are not satisfied with the plan for military occupation of the left bank of the Rhine, although the methods to be followed have not been finally decided upon. It is said in French quarters that this will be entirely in the hands of French troops, who will guard the bridgeheads and railroad junction. In addition there is to be a new 30-mile neutral military zone on the right bank of the river, it is said.

These two measures will be in force but fifteen years, French troops being progressively withdrawn as instalments of the debt is paid by Germany as was done by that country with France in 1871.

FIVE BILLIONS MUST BE PAID TO ALLIES BEFORE MAY 1, 1921

Paris, April 14.—Germany, under the peace treaty, must pay $5,000,000,000 in cash, or the equivalent in commodities before May 1, 1921. She must also issue immediately to the Allied and associated government $20,000,000,000 of interest-bearing bonds.

The interest on the bonds until 1926 will be either 2 or 3 per cent, and after that date will be 5 per cent, according to the present plan.

The bonds will be payable in instalments during a period of 15 years. They will probably be kept in the control of a central commission of the Allied and associated governments, so that they shall not be marketed in quantities sufficient to break the price.

Germany must also obligate herself to pay other amounts for damages done, appropriate to her means, to be determined by a mixed commission of representatives of the Allied and associated governments and of Germany, which shall report before May 1, 1921.

BALKAN STATES MUST DEPEND ON OUTSIDE HELP UNTIL HARVEST

Rumania and Jugo-Slavia May Be Able To Subsist On This Year's Harvest.

Paris, April 13.—Rumania and Jugo Slavia will probably be able to feed themselves from this year's harvest. Hungary, German Austria and Czecho-Slovakia will not be able to do so, but will be dependent for another year on imported food supplies.

This is the report on the food situation in the Balkan and other countries brought back by Dr. Lonzo E. Taylor, head of the investigating division of the American Relief Association, who has just returned here. The Balkan States are, until the next harvest, absolutely dependent upon food distribution from the outside.

BOLSHEVIK RUSSIA READY TO BE GOOD, BUT RETAIN SOVIET

Paris Receives Word From Lenine, According to Dispatch.

PARIS, April 13.—Associated Press.—Bolshevik Russia is ready, according to reports reaching here, to agree to a suspension of executions and punishments in the case of its opponents, in return for goods and recognition. It is also willing, according to the same reports, to agree to the suspension of the campaign to extend Bolshevism and overthrow the existing order in the countries of the associated powers.

It will, however, refuse to call democratic elections or consent to the convocation of a constituent assembly in Russia, and insists on the recognition of "the de facto and de jure government of Russia," and acceptance of the principle of soviet rule and its part of any program of negotiation.

LLOYD GEORGE'S TRIP HOME TO BE BRIEF

DOMINION EXPRESS EMPLOYEES MAY DECIDE TO STRIKE

Montreal Report Says Sympathetic Movement Is Being Considered.

Montreal, April 14.—The management of the Canadian Express Company reported this morning that nearly all the trains are fully manned, and that advices received at the head office warranted the announcement that the service will be normal in a few days.

It is stated that the employees of the Dominion Express Company will, either today or tomorrow, present to the company a schedule of wages and a demand for an eight-hour day, and that if the strike of the Canadian Express Company is protracted, the employees of the Dominion Express Company will strike in sympathy with those already out, in order to bring about the eight-hour day concession.

TORONTO MEN ARE "STANDING PAT," IS ORGANIZER'S REPORT

Toronto, April 14.—"We are standing pat," said W. J. McPherson, general organizer of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, today, speaking of the Canadian Express Company's strike, "and the information from headquarters is the same. The employees are out and solid from coast to coast."

TEMPERANCE FORCES IN QUEBEC DECIDE TO CONTINUE FIGHT

Campaign Is To Go On As Before, Decides Members of Executive.

Montreal, April 14.—The campaign against wine and beer in Quebec did not close with the vote last Thursday, according to statements by managers of the campaign committee. It has been decided to continue the committee under the existing officers and develop the organization into a more permanent body and raise a fund for the prosecution of more aggressive work as the opportunity may arise.

The opinion is unanimous on the committee that the result, while apparently a defeat for temperance, had really no such significance.

EUGENE V. DEBS COMMENCES TEN-YEAR PRISON TERM

U. S. Socialist Leader Was Sentenced for Breach of Espionage Act.

Moundsville, West Virginia, April 14.—Eugene V. Debs, many times Socialist candidate for president, entered the West Virginia Penitentiary here last night and began serving his ten-year term for breach of the espionage act.

Debs answered the required questions put by Warden Turrell, who assigned the prisoner to cell 51.

CALGARY CITIZENS PROTEST AGAINST RAISING OF RENTS

Calgary, April 14.—A mass meeting of citizens was held yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Army and Navy Veterans and Trades and Labor Council, to protest against the general raising of rents in the city. The Dominion and Provincial Governments will be memorialized in the matter.

WILL SUMMON FOE DELEGATES DURING WEEK

Peace Conference Leaders Decide On Date For Calling German Delegates.

TREATY SOON TO BE READY

Council of Four Has Agreed On All the Main Points.

Paris, April 14.—The peace conference leaders have come to an understanding regarding the date when the German delegates shall be called into conference, the Petit Parisien says it understands. That date, it declares, is very close at hand—before April 20.

COUNCIL OF FOUR HAS AGREED ON PRINCIPAL POINTS

London, April 14.—The main items of peace with Germany have been substantially agreed upon by the council of four, the Paris correspondent of the Sunday Observer says he understands. The only problem which they have not yet approached is that of the Bohemian border, he says. This problem, he points out, is an intricate one, as it raises the question as to whether a considerable number of Germans must be included in the Czecho-Slovak state.

The questions of reparation and of disarmament in the Rhine region, the correspondent says, seems also to have been more or less settled in their broad outlines. Moreover, he points out, the covenant of the league of nations has been redrafted, one of the main amendments consisting in recognition of the Monroe Doctrine as being in conformity with the principle of the league." The correspondent continues:

"Whether the treaty will be ready by Easter is, of course, another question. The important fact is, however, that the council of four seems to have agreed on all the fundamental points. This is a distinct improvement. On the subject of the western border of Germany, the correspondent states, he has it on good authority that Premier Clemenceau's main object has been from the first day of the conference to pave the way to a settlement that "should be entirely based on that idea of right which since 1870 has been embodied in Alsace-Lorraine, and that the settlement of the Czech-Slovak question should be on freely acceptable to the English-speaking democracies."

QUESTION OF RHINE FRONTIER ONLY ONE REMAINING UNSETTLED

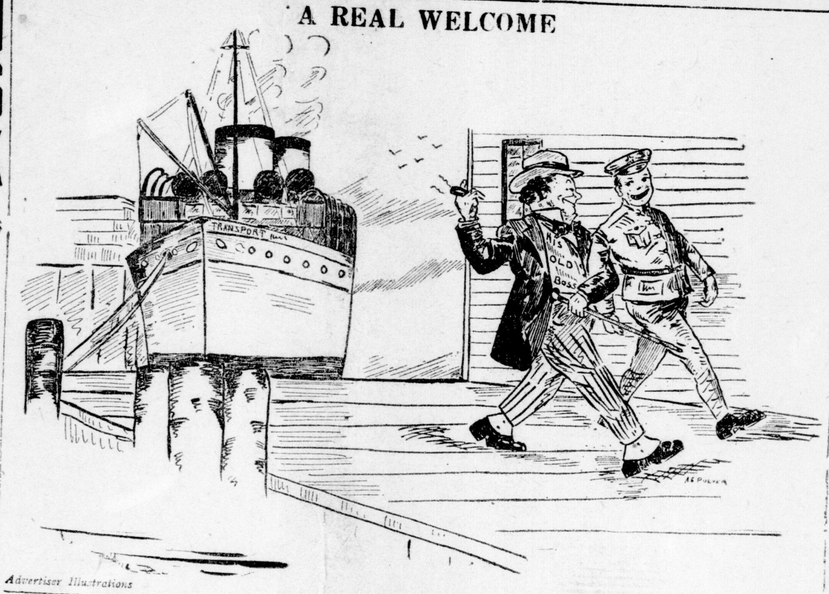

Paris, April 14.—The status of the French, American and Japanese amendments to the covenant of the League of Nations has been definitely established so far as the League of Nations commission is concerned with the American amendment concerning the Monroe Doctrine, the only one to be given a place in the covenant of the commission. The French and Japanese, however, have both made reservations which entitle them to renew, at a plenary session of the peace conference, the questions involved in these amendments, so that the final decision is still open. As to the affairs of the peace conference as a whole, they are shaping themselves now, with the League of Nations question and nearly all the main points in the peace treaty virtually disposed of, so that the date when the enemy delegates shall be summoned to Versailles has been tentatively set. The summoning of the peace congress, as it will be called instead of peace "conference," after the enemy delegates are admitted, will, according to the present understanding, occur between April 26 and May 5, and it is considered not improbable that a definite date may be announced by Premier Lloyd George when he speaks before the British House of Commons the coming Wednesday. Indications are that the Germans will be given opportunity to discuss the peace terms before the congress, but that no extended discussion will be permitted, two weeks being suggested as the outside limit for the sessions to be held at Versailles. The chief question as regards the peace terms remaining to be settled, now that the Sarre Valley and reparations problems have been disposed of in virtually all of their details, is that of the Rhine frontier. The council of four is likely mainly to occupy itself with this question during the present week, the debate probably centring upon the French attitude being indicated as a determined one on this point.

ALBERTA GOVERNMENT MAY INTERVENE IN EXPRESSMEN'S STRIKE

President of Company Expects Normal Conditions To Be Restored Shortly.

Montreal, April 14.—No new developments are reported at Canadian headquarters here in the strike of Canadian Express Company employees. The officers of the strikers say that the strike is progressing favorably here and in other cities. General Chairman Scholey of the Canadian Brotherhood, has received a telegram from Edmonton saying that the Alberta Government is taking the matter up and says that the Government may intervene. John Pullen, president of the company, says that the organization of the company has been brought up to full strength here and elsewhere, and that he hopes within a few days to see the service restored to normal conditions.

LONDON IS ECLIPSED BY BUT ONE CITY IN THE NUMBER OF DRUNKS

(Special to The Advertiser.)

Toronto, April 14.—The annual report of the board of license commissioners for 1918, which is being tabled in the House today, shows that Toronto and Ottawa had the greatest decrease in the number of commitments for drunkenness during the period, as compared with 1917. In the former case, the decrease was 2,041, and in the latter 624. Even at that these two cities, together with London, share the record for having the largest number of commitments for drunkenness in 1918. In London there were 196 commitments, in Ottawa 187, and in Toronto 1,593. Hamilton had 109 commitments, a decrease of 20.

There is a net decrease for the province of 1,312, as there were only 2,895 commitments last year.

UNION GOVERNMENT PREPARES TO CONTINUE IN OPERATION CERTAIN WARTIME ORDERS-IN-COUNCIL

Hon. Arthur Meighen Gives Notice of Act—W. F. Nickle Will Ask Parliament To Declare in Favor of Sending a Petition To King, Asking Him To Abolish Titles For Canadians.

Ottawa, April 12.—In anticipation of the early signing of the treaty of peace the Government is taking steps to continue in force in Canada for as long as is considered necessary certain orders-in-council passed under the provisions of the war measures act.

Hon. Arthur Meighen, acting minister of justice, to this end has given notice of "an act to extend the operation of the orders and regulations passed by the governor-in-council under the war measures act, 1914."

Today's sitting of the House will be devoted to the business of private members. With W. F. Nickle's resolution, asking the House to declare in favor of the sending of a petition to His Majesty the King, asking that no more titles be conferred upon British subjects domiciled in the Dominion holding first place on the order paper, an interesting debate is in prospect if it is proceeded with.

Divorce Question Next.

Mr. Nickle's resolution asking for the appointment of a committee of the House to consider the matter of divorce, is also near the top of the order paper, and likely to be debated. In addition to his resolution, Mr. Nickle has given notice of a bill dealing with this matter.

Western members are not expected to return until the end of next week, although Parliament, which adjourns on Wednesday, will resume business a week from tomorrow.

GERMAN AUSTRIA WARNED THAT FOOD IMPORTS WILL BE STOPPED IF DISORDERS BREAK OUT THERE

Vienna, April 13.—The British military representative here has notified Dr. Otto Bauer, foreign minister of German-Austria, that the British Government had authorized him to declare that if disorders occurred in German-Austria, imports, including food and raw materials, would be immediately and entirely stopped. Dr. Bauer was told that the reason for this step was that it was important that the Allies should have undisturbed communications through German-Austria with friendly and allied new states.

WILL URGE $2,000 GRATUITY FOR EACH OVERSEAS SOLDIER

Calgary, April 14.—Local veterans, in mass meeting yesterday passed a resolution favoring the sending of a delegation from all the provinces to the Dominion Government to urge the matter of $2,000 gratuity for each overseas soldier, and will shortly name the delegate who will represent Alberta.

CHIEF BLOODHOUND OF TURKS PUBLICLY HANGED

Constantinople, April 12.—Kemal Bey, governor of Diarbekr, has been publicly hanged in Bayazid Square in Stamboul in the presence of the military governor of Constantinople and other high officials. Kemal Bey was sentenced to death as one of those responsible for the Armenian deportations and massacres in the Yozghad district. The former commander of the gendarmerie in Yozghad was sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment in the fortress.

EGYPTIAN DISORDERS HAVE CEASED REPORTS GENERAL ALLENBY

Four Hundred Persons Have Been Arrested Following Riots.

Cairo, Saturday, April 12.—An official statement issued at the headquarters of Gen. Allenby, special high commissioner for Egypt and the Soudan today, reads:

"Since noon yesterday quiet has prevailed throughout Egypt. An attempt on Thursday to tamper with a railway resulted in five arrests, while attempts to interfere with telegraphic communication resulted in the village of Beni Sembit being surrounded and given three days in which to produce the guilty persons. On Friday two rioters were killed and one was wounded, when they were caught cutting telephone wires near Quesna.

"A deputation of prominent Alexandrian citizens has cabled the commanding officer deploring disorders on Thursday, and expressing appreciation of the forbearance of the troops. Four hundred persons have been arrested in connection with recent rioting.

Apart from collisions with mobs on April 8, 9, 10 and 11, four officers and fifteen men have been killed through attacks on individuals. The police report the civilian casualties for the 24 hours ending at noon on Friday as being three killed and fifteen wounded.

EGYPTIAN DEPUTATION GOING TO ENGLAND IS GIVEN GREAT SEND-OFF

EGYPTIAN DEPUTATION aoin w4 aolo

Cairo, April 11.—The deputation of Egyptian nationalists which has been given permission to go to England was given an enthusiastic farewell today. At Malta the deputation will pick up Said Zagleoul Pasha, the former minister of justice and leader of the campaign for complete autonomy. The cabinet, the views of which are not extreme enough for the nationalists.

CAUCASUS REGION MAY BE OVERRUN BY THE BOLSHEVIK ARMIES

Denikine and Don Cossack Governments Ready To Compromise With Foe.

Paris, April 14.—A dreary picture of conditions in the Caucasus is drawn in reports made by food administration agents at Batum and at Novorossiysk to the Paris headquarters. A British warship at Novorossiysk is stabilizing the situation there.

Both the Denikine Government at Ekaterinodar and the Don Cossack Government at Rostov are described as weak and the situation as so chaotic generally that there is danger that the Bolsheviki, with the ending of winter and the improvement of the roads, will overrun the entire territory. The report says it is now rumored both Governments are ready to compromise with the Bolshevik, but that the volunteer armies appear patriotic and willing to fight until they are exterminated.

WEATHER CONDITIONS FOR OCEAN FLIGHTS STILL UNFAVORABLE

London, April 14.—The air ministry reports but little change in weather conditions over the Atlantic route. Variations in barometric pressure were very pronounced this morning, with large areas of low clouds and heavy squalls of rain, and no change in the present unfavorable condition is likely to occur at this end of the route during next 24 hours. Conditions over Newfoundland are more stable, and show no signs of becoming worse.

BAD WEATHER WILL AGAIN DELAY FLIGHT

St. Johns, Nfld., April 14.—Unfavorable weather conditions continuing today will in all likelihood cause the further postponement of Harry Hawker's start across the Atlantic in a Sopwith machine. A heavy rain fell throughout the night and this morning the hangars are enveloped in a dense fog.

CUSTOM OFFICERS MEETING.

Montreal, April 14.—A meeting of the executive of the Dominion Customs Association will be held here today, when matters of importance affecting the welfare of all customs officers in the Dominion will be discussed. R. Colvin of Hamilton is president.

AMENDED COVENANT OF LEAGUE IS REGARDED BY LONDON PRESS AS INFERIOR TO THE FIRST DRAFT

London Chronicle Condemns Policy That Gives Permission For Any Nation To Withdraw On Two Years' Notice—Daily News Sees Danger in Some of the Provisions.

London, April 14.—The summary of the amended covenant of the league of nations evokes no enthusiasm in the London morning newspapers, and it is declared by some commentators to be less satisfactory than the first draft. The Chronicle, for instance, fixes certain points which it thinks makes the new draft "distinctly, and, perhaps, decisively, inferior to the old."

The newspaper condemns the policy of requiring unanimity for the decisions of both the council and assembly, and also condemns the terms upon which the covenant may be amended and permission given any nation to withdraw on two years' notice. It regards the covenant as unharmed by the Monroe Doctrine amendment, which it believes should facilitate the adhesion of the United States to the covenant.

The Daily News, which is a warm champion of the principle of the league, sees danger in some of the provisions.

VERSAILLES CONGRESS EXPECTED TO OPEN BETWEEN APRIL 26 AND MAY 1

Paris, April 13.—The peace treaty and the league of nations have undoubtedly reached the final stage of negotiations, but it is not yet clear that they are out of troubled waters, as both must pass the ordeal of a plenary session of the peace conference and then go before the Versailles congress, where enemy powers will be represented. Indications are that a combination of both documents will be written into a preliminary peace treaty within the coming two weeks. The Germans then will be called in and the present peace "conference" will be merged into the "peace congress."

The council of four is understood of having fixed for the peace congress tentative dates between April 26 and May 1, but no announcement has been made as to details so that Premier Lloyd George may have something to disclose when he addresses the British Parliament next Wednesday.

The summoning of the steamer George Washington by President Wilson left the belief that his departure was imminent, but intimate friends now say that the progress which has been realized will permit him to remain and take part in the congress at Versailles when German plenipotentiaries take part when the assembling of congress will require an entirely new organization, including a presiding officer and other officials. It is intended to permit a long discussion by the enemy, but to confine the exchange of ideas to a brief period, probably ten days or two weeks, and then reach a final conclusion.

N. Y. TIMES IS PLEASED AT MONROE DOCTRINE RECOGNITION

New York, April 14.—The New York morning papers with few exceptions refrain from commenting on the summary of the revised covenant of the league of nations. The Times, however, which has steadily favored a league of nations, expresses satisfaction at the recognition of the Monroe doctrine. It assents also that American opposition to the league is yielding.

The Sun, which has been strongly opposed to the league as drafted by the Paris conference, declares that its position is unchanged and sees little difference in the present document from the original draft.

WOMEN OF OTTAWA WANT OLEOMARGARINE AS A STAPLE CANADIAN FOOD

Ottawa, April 13.—At a largely-attended and representative meeting held Saturday in the council chamber at the city hall, of the women of Ottawa, it was unanimously decided to forward to the Federal Government the following resolution moved by Mrs. Adam Shortt and seconded by Lady Pope:

"That whereas fat is an essential food for human beings, and that children deprived of it suffer not only from malnutrition in the present, but are permanently injured in physique; and whereas, there is not enough butter in the country to supply everybody if margarine were banished; and whereas, butter is so high in price that thousands cannot have butter, because of the cost; and whereas, margarine is a butter substitute of equal caloric value with butter, and whereas, margarine has been allowed in the country under the war measures act, which comes to an end with the signing of peace; therefore be it

"Resolved, that we women of Ottawa do now appeal to this Federal Government now considering child welfare, to permanently legalize margarine in Canada, in order that children may thrive and not decline and that consumers be not deprived of their legitimate right, as in other countries, to have margarine for domestic use."

League Capitol To Be Situated on Lake Geneva

Magnificent Site For Building Faces Mont Blanc.

Geneva, April 13.—A special meeting of the state council yesterday it was reported that a magnificent site on the shore of Lake Geneva and facing Mont Blanc has been chosen for the building M.P.P., who has been acting for the league of nations. The people of the city are rejoicing over the decision of the commission on the league of nations at Paris. Flags were hoisted over buildings and parades held.

TROTZKY ADMITS DEFEAT IN EAST

Bolshevik Minister To Send More Troops To That Quarter.

London, April 14.—Leon Trotzky, the Bolshevik minister of war and marine of Russia, admits defeat on the eastern front in a wireless message from Moscow, which has been picked up here. The message reads:

"All our efforts must now be directed to the eastern front, which is the only front upon which we have suffered defeats. We must send old and experienced troops to that quarter. It is absolutely necessary for us to capture Ekaterinberg and Ufa."

LEMBERG BOMBARDED BY THE UKRAINIANS

Many Persons Killed in Attacks Made Last Thursday and Friday.

Copenhagen, April 14.—Ukrainian forces bombarded Lemberg on Thursday and Friday, many persons being killed and wounded, according to a dispatch received here from that city.

CONFERENCE ADOPTS LABOR AMENDMENT OF CANADA'S PREMIER

Sir Robert Borden Proposed Alteration To Labor Document.

Paris, April 14.—(By Trepanier, Canadian Press correspondent).—The labor convention, which was placed before the plenary conference was adopted with certain minor amendments.

Sir Robert Borden proposed an amendment to a motion submitted by Mr. Barnes, the British delegate, and his amendment was unanimously adopted. The dominions of the British Empire, under the covenant of the league of nations, will be signatories and will have certain voice and representation. Sir Robert Borden's amendment was intended to preserve to the self-governing dominions of the British Commonwealth the same status and the same rights in respect of the labor convention as have been agreed upon with respect to the league of nations covenant.

This question, and others which had reference to clauses proposed for insertion in the peace treaty, formed the subject of earnest conversation during the progress of the plenary conference between Sir Robert Borden, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Clemenceau and Mr. Lloyd George. It was evident that the views put forward by the Canadian premier eventually prevailed, and the course of the subsequent proceedings of this session of the conference was so arranged as to meet the views of the dominion representatives.

DENIES THAT QUEBEC ELECTION WILL BE HELD THIS JUNE

Quebec, April 14.—Hon. L. A. Taschereau, minister of public works, gives denial to a report published on Saturday that a provincial general election will be held in June. He says there is no thought of holding an election this summer.

STEEL OF CANADA SHOWS DECLINE IN EARNINGS

Montreal, April 13.—Steel Company of Canada's annual statement, which reached shareholders on Saturday, proved to be much in line with general expectations, the gross earnings for 1918 being $5,587,120, as compared with an excess of $6,000,000 the previous year, or an actual falling off of $673,178. Gross for 1918, however, are $345,729 over that of 1916, and, altogether, the showing was regarded as a highly satisfactory one.

NOTHING SHORT OF BEING STAR PREACHER APPEALS TO REV. A. C. BINGHAM, WHO ALSO DEMANDS PEOPLE BE STAR CHRISTIANS

His Democracy Is Expressed by His Lack of Pulpit, and Young and Old Hear and Understand Everything Said in Egerton Street Baptist Church.

BELIEVES WORK OF THE CHURCH GREATEST CALLING ON EARTH

Preachers are apt to become known to the populace by the sermons they preach and by the work they accomplish in the church to which they are attached. In London there are, however, many clergymen whose personalities are such that a glimpse at them tells more of the men than do their sermons. It is with the object of bringing these personalities before the public that The Advertiser prints today the fourth of a series of sketches which, it is hoped, will include all those presiding over the destinies of the various churches.

Advertiser Illustrations.

REV. A. C. BINGHAM.

There are no "priest and people" barriers between Rev. A. C. Bingham and the members of his congregation. There isn't so much as an ecclesiastical fence in the shape of a pulpit in front of him when he takes his place in the Egerton Street Baptist Church on a Sunday morning or a Sunday evening.

The pulpit gallery or "loft" is there all right, but, in the place where a pulpit will perhaps stand some day, there is now just a gap in the railing or fencing, whatever the technical term may be. A little to the right is one of those little round "centre" tables to hold Bible, hymn book and reading lamp. This, with the usual chairs, constitutes the furnishings of the minister's own particular territory in the church.

When he addresses his congregation—and it fills the church to the doors in the evenings, it is said—he takes his stand in front of the gap in the fence, the gap which in this case happens to be symbolic.

It would be no place for an acrobatic preacher, that pulpit gallery. Billy Sunday would one-step overboard a dozen times in an ordinary service. Anybody at all inclined to accompany the spoken word with much prancing and arm drill had better be tethered before allowed to get under way in his sermon.

Is No Acrobat.

But the Rev. A. C. Bingham is not the acrobatic type of preacher. He has no need to fear that gap in the least. He can balance on the very edge of it without wavering a syllable. Well poised, sure of his ground, he stands easily and quietly, using a rare gesture only when it is inspired by the earnestness and forcefulness of his thought.

Tall, slender, dignity in him blends harmoniously with kindliness and approachableness. Clean cut of feature, his head has the suggestion of the young Roman senator. Rejoicing in the demeanacy of his church, his appearance has distinctly the touch of the patrician.

The atmosphere of the church is his native breath. Performing of the ministerial offices as natural to him as eating and drinking are to other people. He comes of a stalwart preaching family, father and, until recently, four sons, known as the "five preaching Binghams."

The Only Calling.

Preaching the gospel does not offer the largest financial returns of callings requiring ability. But, for Rev. A. C. Bingham, there is just one calling in all the world worth while, and that is "turning many to righteousness." To be sure, the Christian in any vocation can be a soul winner, but this young preacher fervently believes that the ministry of all callings offers the widest and most continuous opportunity for what to him is the big business of life, "turning others to righteousness."

If anyone asked him pointblank, he would say it was the "star profession." In order to make it a "star profession" it is necessary to be a "star preacher." And this is the big thing in life he strives to be, and it isn't anything like as conceited or vain-glorious as it sounds on first hearing.

Years ago, when this still youthful minister was just entering upon young manhood and wondering with considerable indecision about the choice of a life work, he received a letter from a brother out west, one of the "Prescott Binghams." The big brother's expressed hope was that young brother might not be like the donkey who was too lazy to work and too proud to beg, so he became a preacher. A little further on in the letter big brother hoped that if youngest brother did become a preacher, he would be a "star preacher." That looked like a pretty big order, if a perfectly natural wish from a member of one's own proud and affectionate family.

Got His Definition.

In the twelfth chapter of Daniel and the third verse, A. C. Bingham found out what was meant by a "star preacher," or a "star Christian," for that matter. It was and still is this, "And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars forever and ever."

And so, he decided to enter the ministry and to give his life to being a "star preacher."

So far as regeneration of mankind is concerned, he is the orthodox individualist. Religion is a personal experience, expressed in a social way. But, genuine conversion can only take place in the heart of the individual. Turned to righteousness, it is incumbent upon the individual who thereby becomes possessed of the right to the title "Christian," to qualify for a place among the stars.

There is no shadow of doubt in the religious code of Rev. A. C. Bingham about the quality of duty towards his fellow men devolving upon the Christian.

But his preaching, nevertheless, has the distinctly "other worldliness" note, heard with considerable infrequency in modern pulpits. The glories of the present are not to be compared with the glories that shall be revealed hereafter.

The Supreme Thing.

The supreme thing is the love of God to man, but, next to this in greatness comes the love of men for their fellow-men, love that is sufficiently powerful to solve, even the problems of labor and capital, and all disputes that arise between man and man. The world's great need for the solution of its social difficulties, from his point of view, is the love of God in the hearts of men for their fellow-men. Given this, wars will disappear; hence the biggest and most important job in the world is "turning many to righteousness."

Mr. Bingham chose that verse about the stars for the text of his morning sermon on Sunday. "And they that be wise shall shine as the orightness of the firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever."

Announcing his text, he plunged right into his subject, by stating that he intended to talk about "Star Christians."

The big people sat up with a look of earnest expectancy, and the little people, lots and lots of them, turned their eyes with eagerness toward the tall minister standing in the gap in the pulpit railing.

A whole row of little folks a few seats from the front, a family in "steps," forgot to squirm. Even the two small boys with new toy pistols in their pockets sat up and looked very much interested.

The Wisest Man.

"If I asked a banker who was the wisest man, he would probably mention some man who saved his money and invested it securely, piling up wealth," said the preacher. The probable answers of the philosopher, the scientist, the politician, the poet were given. Then, "If I asked you who was the wisest man, I wonder what you would say?"

Promptly a small voice piped out "Solomon," the small voice of an absorbed child listener who took no account of rhetorical questions, and only understood that his minister was asking a question not in the least hard to answer, and there wasn't any fence or even a gate between the preacher and his congregation, little or big.

The ready smile lighted up the minister's face. "Yes," he said, "Solomon was a very wise man. The Bible, however, says that the wise man is the one who turns many to righteousness."

At this point, the church tramp, who was making a vain attempt to hide behind a slender pillar, began to wonder if the "Star Christian" sermon was the children's sermonette before the big people's sermon, customary in so many churches. It soon developed that it was an "everybody's sermon," strong meat for grown-up men and women and milk for the babes, illustrations so simple that the little child could understand, but thoughts to ponder for men and women of mature understanding.

How is it possible to be a "Star Christian" otherwise, a "soul-winning" Christian?

Three Ways.

In three ways, said Mr. Bingham. By example, prayer and definite attempt. First of all, there must be a true conception of the need of others of Christ, and of the importance, beauty and grandeur of "turning others to righteousness."

There was the ring of profound conviction in his voice, as well as a touch of awe as he spoke of the power of prayer, prayer a more wonderful protection for loved ones in danger or erring than any raised by human hands; prayer to reach the border ahead of the runaway boy and turn him back; prayer to God that eliminates time and space.

"The infidel used to say he wouldn't believe because he couldn't see. Electricity has killed infidelity," said Mr. Bingham. "A man can't hold such views and face the inventions and conditions of today. Even as the wireless can carry messages, so prayer has power to reach deeper than the deepest submarine, higher than the highest heights, and swifter than the lightning. Even before we ask God, he knows what is in our hearts, and answers our prayers. When the cable message is sent to Australia, owing to the difference in time, it arrives there twelve hours before it is sent. For example, if I sent a message at 12 today to Australia, it would arrive there at 2 o'clock midnight last night, according to our reckoning. It is thus that God receives our petitions before we offer them, and answers them in the way he sees best."

Bandits.

Coming down the steps after the service, the church tramp narrowly escaped being bowled over onto the sidewalk by two small boys who literally catapulted through the door, jerking from their pockets bright, new, shining toy revolvers which they snapped menacingly as they went. They admitted they were desperate characters, cowboys, Indians, soldiers and other exciting things rolled into two very friendly little men.

"See us sit up near the front?" they asked of the tramp who couldn't help noticing them.

"The man showed us right up there", said the larger of the small broilers, "they don't let you sit down near the back in that church. Did they let you?"

But they didn't wait for an answer, before continuing in duet, "That isn't our church. We haven't lived here very long. Just since daddy came back. He's a soldier (oh, so proudly!) He was more 'en two years overseas: eleven months in the trenches; what d'you think of that? 'Leven months in the trenches, an' then he came back an we had flags all out an he brought back a bayonet, an' then we live in London now. We didn't used to go to that kind of a church where we lived before, but, me an' my brother like to go 'cause Mr. Bingham's easy to listen to an' you can understand everything he says."

Friendliness.

The church critic couldn't find the least excuse for complaint on the score of unfriendliness in that church. Almost before the "Amen" of the benediction has died away, the minister is on his way to the door on the side where the congregation seems the largest. A deacon on the other side is performing the office of shaking hands and inviting strangers to come again. In the matter of hymn books, it is a nice big one, and all that is handed out to even a church hobo.

Considering the long list of announcements of church events for the week, the wonder is that Rev. A. C. Bingham finds time for activities outside his own congregational demands. He does, though. He has been the president of the Baptist Young People's Union of Lambton and Middlesex, and one of the very first times he stood in the pulpit gallery of the Egerton Street Church was at the time when he was presiding officer at a B. Y. P. U. rally of the two counties. When the last election took place, he was made president of the Baptist Ministerial Association for the city, and during this past year, the Ministerial Alliance has claimed his service in the capacity of treasurer.

He hasn't had much to say yet in that union clerical assembly known as the "Ministerial Alliance," beyond making reports. He is one of the juniors there, if he happens to be advancing rapidly to the rank of senior in priority of pastorate among his Baptist brethren.

When he does say anything in the Ministerial Alliance or any place else, for that matter, like the small boys who took their amateur guns to his church yesterday, "Everybody can understand everything he is talking about."

SPECTACULAR SCENIC NOVELTY HEADS BILL AT THE GRAND TODAY

"The Girl From Starland" Is Feature of Program.

FOUR OTHER GOOD ACTS

Marion Davies Appears in Photoplay, "The Belle of New York."

"The Girl From Starland," a spectacular scenic novelty, will be the headliner at the Grand today, Tuesday and Wednesday. This is one of the most original and entertaining offerings that has yet appeared here, and is one that is sure to be thoroughly appreciated by all those who are looking for something different in vaudeville.

The Great Lind, in female impersonations is another offering that stands so quite apart in the realm of vaudeville from the commonplace acts so familiar to the public that the work of this splendid artist is assuredly the last word in acts peculiar to the genius of its originator. Lind not only poses well, but contrives to identify himself with each characterization, even more so than Eltinge and other leaders in this type of entertainment. Expert dancing and a singing voice requisite to the needs of the production are part of his equipment, special scenery and incidental music adds much to what can be truthfully called the best act of its kind yet seen in vaudeville.

Also on the same bill will be Blanche and Jimmie Creighton, who will offer, under the title of "Mudtown Vaudeville," as funny an act and as entertaining as any audience would wish to see. The offering consists of "trube" comedy, singing, dancing, imitations and music. The efforts of this clever duo of entertainers will keep any audience in roars of laughter.

Burley and Burley, who masquerade as the "Dude and the Scot," and whose antics and chatter will be found to be most amusing, will offer something wholly at variance with the usual in vaudeville and will easily be one of the scintillating hits on the program.

Marlo and Duffy, exceptional gymnasts, will conclude the vaudeville program with a comedy novelty bar offering.

Showing at the Grand Tuesday and Wednesday in conjunction with five acts of vaudeville.

Marion Davis in "The Belle of New York."

Marion Davies will be featured at the Grand today, Tuesday and Wednesday in "The Belle of New York." This remarkable photoplay affords everyone an opportunity to see the world-renowned beauties of the Ziegfeld Midnight frolic. All have heard of the beautiful Ziegfeld girls; they have heard song these stunning, charming, beautiful, graceful girls.

The Belle of New York is really a remarkable tribute to the war work of the Salvation Army, and Miss Davies is assisted by the famous beauties. This is the first time in the history of filmdom that such a chorus has appeared in the movies.

Gus Hill's Minstrels at the Grand on Thursday, Matinee and Night.

More than forty well-known entertainers are listed with Gus Hill's big minstrels. The street parade of blackface minstrels is no new thing for points of the tour of the travelling Thespians who find in minstrelsy the best avenue for the expression of their many contrasted talents, but the street parade promised with Gus Hill's big minstrels, due at the Grand Thursday, matinee 2:30 and evening 8:15, is said to differ from its fellows and be in and of itself something of a pageant. Also, the free-before-the-show-concert at the theatre is said to offer novelties that make a big success everywhere.

"The Bride Shop" at the Grand Good Friday and Saturday, Twice Daily.

It goes without saying that any theatrical production that earns the general approbation of press and public from coast to coast must have distinct and positive merit. Such is the proud and enviable record of "The Bride Shop," George Choos' successful musical comedy, with book by Fred de Gressac, lyrics by Darl MacBoyle and music by Walter L. Rosemont, which is announced to appear at the Grand Good Friday and Saturday, daily at 2:30 and 8:15.

The cast is headed by Eddie Vogt, who has always ranked high among comedians. Also, there is that widely-known team of funmakers, John Sully and Lew Naden; the two riotous specialty dancers, Muriel Thomas and Sally Hunt; such principals as Nan Hopestill, Muriel Rastrick and Edith Benjar, and about two dozen beautiful and talented show girls, who are the pick of Broadway and wear their stunning costumes with the utmost grace and chic.

ACCUMULATED COAL IS NOT ANTHRACITE, SAYS W. A. MARTIN

No Hard Coal Surplus in the United States.

The 100,000,000 tons of coal which the United States has accumulated since the signing of the armistice and for which the United Mine Workers of America are asking President Wilson to find a market is not anthracite coal, according to W. A. Martin, Canadian sales manager of the D., L. and W. Coal Company.

The entire anthracite output for the year 1918 amounted to 99,472,000 tons, and no surplus exists at the present time, Mr. Martin says. The public, therefore, should not be misled into the belief that domestic coal will be a drug on the market. Bituminous production was accelerated by the opening of new mines, but the domestic mines for some time during the mild spell devoted their time to repairs and readjustments following the period of superproduction during the coal shortage.

The wholesale price for anthracite is lowest during the month of April, advancing ten cents a ton during the year. Local domestic coal now sells at $12 a ton.

THE GREAT WAR

made the wrist watch an absolute necessity. Officers and men found them indispensable.

Hundreds of fighting men who left this city and district to do their bit went with "Barnard" watches on their wrists. After many months of active service they are coming home—with the same watches, unfailing and accurate as ever.

Surely this is a convincing test of the dependability and true worth of "Barnard" Watches.

Wrist models, with luminous or plain dials, priced from $10.00.

Pocket Watches in many fine designs, ranging from $5.50.

STREET CAR MEN REJECT OFFER OF COMPANY ON WAGES

Strike Vote May Be Taken Next Saturday.

At a mass meeting of the street railway employees on Saturday evening, it was decided to refuse the offer which the company has made to the men. They asked an increase in wages of practically 5 cents an hour, and the company offered a compromise. Just how much the company is willing to give is not known, but the men are determined not to accept the offer.

The committee was directed to meet the company again and report at a meeting which will likely be called next Saturday evening. A strike vote will possibly be taken then if the company does not come any higher.

OPEN-AIR MEETING PROTESTS AGAINST HIGHER CAR FARES

Ex-Ald. Ashplant One of the Speakers on Market.

J. F. Thompson and H. B. Ashplant on Saturday evening addressed a fair-sized crowd on the market square on the question of the proposed increase in street railway fares. Both speakers urged that the company had no right nor need for any higher fares.

H. B. Ashplant stated that he was ready to take an affidavit to the truth of the figures which he gave, and which showed according to his statement that the company had made sufficient money to pay 6 per cent on all its investment to date. He challenged any of the company's officials to deny the statements.

One of the employees of the company who was present took the speaker to task for his attitude against the increase in fares, stating that this was the cause of the men having to accept two cents an hour less than they otherwise would have received last year.

Mr. Ashplant took this occasion to impress upon the audience that he was credited with being the means of blocking the fare increase last year when he was in the council.

"That is all you did during all the years you were in the council," said the conductor.

"That is pretty good, even at that," came a voice from the audience. Another one said, "We are satisfied."

Another one of the crowd suggested that the city should buy the road if it were such a gold mine, and he asked why this should not be done.

Mr. Ashplant pointed out that in his opinion the citizens should not be asked to purchase stock for which they had already paid in surplus over the operating expenses.

"Let the company run the road until the expiration of the franchise," he advocated.

TO ARRANGE FINAL DETAILS OF GREAT RECEPTION TO 1ST

Final arrangements for a monster reception for the members of the 1st Battalion will be completed at a meeting of the reception committee during the early part of next week, possibly on Monday. Chairman F. E. Harley of this committee announced this morning that all of the arrangements are about completed. Work has started on the memorial arch and it is expected that it will be erected some time this week.

THREE VISITORS WERE SPEAKERS AT EMPRESS AVE S. S. ANNIVERSARY

The Empress Avenue Methodist Church was crowded to capacity at three services yesterday, on the occasion of the Sunday school anniversary. A children's chorus of over 100 voices at all services was a feature, and its exceptional ability was highly complimented.

In the morning Rev. J. T. C. Morris of the Askin Street Methodist Church preached an interesting sermon to the children on "The Word of God," taking his text from the 119th Psalm.

The afternoon service, over which the pastor, Rev. J. C. Richardson presided, was addressed by Lieut.-Col. Rev. W. H. Emsley, senior chaplain of Military District No. 1. Col. Emsley told the children of a number of his experiences at the war, in an interesting way, and lauded the Canadian soldiers for their bravery and heroism.

Rev. B. H. Robinson of the Memorial Methodist Church spoke in the evening, also to the children, who were there in great numbers. Miss Florence Dewey conducted the singing and presided over the 30-piece orchestra present at the afternoon service.

SIGHT OF POLICEMAN STARTED HIM RUNNING

So Veteran Was Pulled Up and Paid $10.

A returned soldier who was recently released from jail on the payment of a $200 fine for carrying a bottle of whiskey proceeded to get drunk again Saturday night, and was assessed $10 and costs in police court today.

The soldier asked another returned man to look after him, and the latter was piloting him along the street when he looked round and saw Constable W. Frayne in the offing. The drunk broke away from his friend and started down the street with Frayne in pursuit. The constable in his hurry to land the man stumbled over him as he dodged. It made a nice chase for the crowd to watch.

"WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD," HE SAYS

John Anderson Tells of His Recovery Through Taking Tanlac.

"From the way Tanlac has fixed me up, I consider it is worth its weight in gold," said John Anderson of 103 Stuart street west, Hamilton, Ont., recently.

"I had suffered terribly for several months from indigestion and kidney trouble," he continued, and during the past few months my condition was so bad that I was obliged to lay off from work. My stomach felt as if it had lumps in it, and I had terrible pains in my chest and back. My kidneys worried me constantly, and I was so dizzy at times that I would stagger and almost fall.

"One of these dizzy spells came on me when I was in the shop one day, and when a friend gave me a dose of Tanlac I got over it right away. I bought a bottle, and haven't had the slightest touch of indigestion in some time, and I have felt different ever since my first dose. My kidneys don't trouble me any more, and all the pain is gone from my back and chest. My appetite is just great, I eat anything I want and never have any trouble afterward. I am working every day and feel fine all the time."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

URGES ORGANIZATION OF ALL LABOR MEN

Rev. W. R. McIntosh Addresses Car Shop Employees.

CHURCH SUPPORT COMING

He States Presbyterians Will Take Strong Stand This Summer.

King Street Presbyterian Church was filled to overflowing last evening when Rev. W. R. McIntosh addressed the employees of the G. T. R. carshops on the question, "Must we have the poor always with us?" About 300 carshops men gathered at the shops prior to the service, and, headed by their brass band, accompanied by several other union musicians, they marched to the church. Many of the regular attendants of the church were unable to gain entrance to the service, while others stood at the doorways to hear the sermon.

Urges Men to Stand Fast.

Welcoming the men on behalf of the church board, Mr. McIntosh urged them to stand fast. "The wind is in your neck," said he. "Many things are happening, and labor must be thoroughly organized. The hour will soon strike when it will be looked upon as a failure in a great duty for any man not to align himself with the forces which are working toward the betterment of conditions among the working class. I will go further and say that the time is not far distant when the manufacturer and capitalist, instead of opposing the organization of the workers, will encourage such banding together. They will recognize that one of the most conservative forces is a well-organized lodge of labor men."

Duty of Church.

Taking for his text the following passages: "Yea, when ye make many prayers I will not hear; your hands are full of blood," and "The poor ye have always with you, but me ye have not always," the speaker pointed out that it is the duty of the church and its ministers to do everything possible to relieve poverty and oppression.

"That the churches must revise their tasks today, or they will be left behind the sound of the guns forcing the line of liberty ahead, was the expressed opinion of Mr. McIntosh. He called attention to the stand already taken by the Anglican Church in England, the Methodist Church in Canada, and said that although the last to come in, the Presbyterian Church would express itself strongly this summer.

Must Stop Exploiting.

Dealing with some economic questions, he said that the public will demand that there shall be no more gifts of the natural resources of the country to those who will merely exploit them for personal gain only. Capital, which he called stored-up labor, will not be longer allowed to assert itself in a lordly fashion, and dictate to the workers, he intimated. There will be joint control and a better and more equitable distribution of profits.

Child labor and sweated female labor, which were termed high crimes against the future of the race, will be protested by the churches also during the coming summer. As a remedy, it will be urged that the men be paid salaries high enough to properly maintain their families until they are at a reasonable age to start in life for themselves. Higher wages and shorter hours were favored by him.

Remember to Pray.

In closing his sermon the speaker urged the men to stick together and not to forget to pray. "The minister of men and the friend of the poor is issuing a challenge to all organized forces to come to his aid and lift the terrible nightmare from off the face of the earth," said he.

During the evening a violin solo was rendered by F. Seeley, and A. Baker gave a vocal selection. George Darling and William Sickles marshaled the parade of the carshops men, and C. Fowlkes had charge of the band.

MAJOR DUNCAN STUART ARRIVED HOME SUNDAY

Brother of County Clerk Has Seen Much Service.

Major Duncan Stuart, brother of County Clerk John Stuart, arrived in this city on Sunday at noon at the same time that the Lapland party arrived. He left here with the 135th (Middlesex) Battalion as junior major, and after arriving overseas transferred to the 38th Battalion, with which unit he served over two years. Since the signing of the armistice Major Stuart had been in Belgium with the 4th Division, leaving for home only last February. He arrived at Portland, Maine, on H. M. Hospital Ship Essequibo, but did not come direct to London, having some business to transact in Montreal. Prior to enlistment he resided in Calgary, Alta.

LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. G. B. Sage, St. George's rectory, has returned home after a visit to Montreal.

ORGANIZE FOR CAMPAIGN. — A meeting is to be held at 4 o'clock Tuesday in the chamber of commerce rooms in order to organize for the Y. M. C. A. campaign.

FIGHT ON STREET.—A pugilistic contest between two young men on Clarence street, near Dundas, about 9 o'clock Saturday night, drew a crowd that filled the street. The police department had received no report on the matter last night.

GLADIOLI ARRIVE.—The Horticultural Society premiums, 24,000 gladioli hybrids, have arrived, and will be distributed this week. This is a dozen for each of the 2,000 members. The president has sent phlox, which will be handed out to the first members on the job.

TO ARRANGE WELCOME.—A meeting of representatives of all organizations interested in the reception to the men of the 1st Battalion has been called for this evening at 8 o'clock in the city hall. The final plans will be adopted for the reception which will be tendered by London when the boys arrive some time next week.

CLEANING UP L. E. PROPRETY.—It is understood that the London Electric Company will have a number of men in the city the latter part of this month to complete the removal of all of the company's poles and equipment which are still in the city. It is expected that the work will take about three weeks.

CONGRATULATES PROF. WOOD.—Prof. L. A. Wood of the Western University, has received a letter from London Typographical Union, No. 133, congratulating him heartily on his efforts to bring about a minimum wage law in Ontario, and expressing an earnest hope that he will meet with success in the near future.

PERMITS TOTAL $71,500—Building still continues brisk in the city, according to records at the office of Building Inspector A. M. Piper. Seventy permits have been taken out already this month, totaling $71,500. Among those taken out on Saturday is one for a brick veneer dwelling on Florence street by R. E. Brand to cost $2,500.

TWO RECRUITS.—Two recruits reported at the local recruiting station today for service in the mobile company, C. G. R., and were Wolseley Barracks for medical examination. Their names are James Arthur Edwards, a former C. M. R. man, who gave his address as Sudbury, Ont., and William Dummer of St. Thomas.

WILL CURTAIL EXPENSE.—At a meeting of the council's special reception committee on Saturday afternoon it was decided on motion of Ald. C. G. Moorhead to curtail the expense of the erection of the memorial arch to the appropriation passed by the council—$750. Plans were submitted which called for a greater expenditure, but they will be cut down. The arch will be erected shortly.

HOLY WEEK SERVICES.—Holy week services are being held in the Anglican and Catholic churches of the city this week, and a number of churches of other denominations are also marking Passion Week by special services. The much more general observance of holy week than usual is due to the fact that, contrary to custom, the usual week of prayer was not held the beginning of the year.

TEAM RAN AWAY.—While a team driven by a farmer was proceeding on Talbot street, near the market about 11:30 a.m. on Saturday, the tongue of the wagon slipped out from the neck yoke, allowing the wagon to strike against the horses' heels. The horses got out of the driver's control and did not stop until they slipped and slid about 20 feet, after they had run about a block. Except for the horses being bruised very little damage was done.

INTERESTING PAPER.—An interesting paper is promised for the meeting of the London and Middlesex Historical Society tomorrow (Tuesday) evening, when Miss Priddis will present a further installment of the Proudfoot papers, portions of which have been printed in the transactions of the society for two or three years past. The meeting will be held at the public library at 8:15, and a general invitation is extended to the public to attend the meeting.

THREE CONFIRMATIONS. — The Bishop of Huron conducted three confirmation services in the city Sunday, in the morning in the Cronyn Memorial Church; in the afternoon at Trinity Church, Chelsea Green, where Rev. Prof. T. G. A. Wright is in charge, and in the evening at St. James'. South London. One of the members of the class of thirty-four confirmed in St. James' Church, Mrs. Bishop, is leaving for England today. Owing to this fact a special communion service was held for the class at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

MR. WHISKARD BURIED.

Thomas G. Whiskard, one of London's oldest business men, who died a week ago at his residence, 556 Wellington street, was buried on Saturday. Services at the residence and grave were conducted by Rev. R. G. Peever of the First Methodist Church. Mr. Whiskard was a member of this church for many years. Interment was made in Woodland Cemetery. The pall-bearers were J. D. Keenleyside, A. M. Smart, George S. Gibbons, Arthur T. Little, R. S. Holmes and J. K. Spry. The casket was banked with flowers and many floral tributes from former business associates and friends were taken direct to the cemetery.

MENNONITES ATTRACT ATTENTION ON STREET

Were Garbed In Orthodox Clothes of Their Sect.

A number of Mennonites of the old, orthodox persuasion attracted attention on the streets today, the men being of priestly appearance with their shaved faces and caped overcoats. They were stopping over in the city for a few hours on their way back to the Mennonite settlement near Kitchener, after attending a convention in Hay Township, Huron County.

SOLDIER REMANDED ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Goes To Jail For Week Before Sentence.

ATTACK CALLED SERIOUS

Magistrate Brands It As Such and Lectures the Defendant.

Cecil Herrington, a returned soldier, quartered at Tecumseh Barracks, pleaded guilty to assaulting James McCormick, of the Dayton & McCormick Dancing Academy, Saturday night, and was remanded a week for sentence by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon in police court today.

Herrington, on his own admission, is suffering from a paralyzed arm, which led one to wonder what damage he would have done had both arms been in good shape.

Persuasion No Use.

According to Mr. McCormick, who appeared in court sporting one large beautiful black eye, he was told that two soldiers were down stairs at the entrance to the building creating a disturbance. He went down stairs and told the boys they were not in a condition to appear on the floor, and that they would have to postpone any trip until a further date. Herrington did not like this idea and followed Mr. McCormick upstairs and on the stairway grabbed him and give him five or six punches.

More Assaults.

Later on Cecil came all the way up and bowling over the doorkeeper swung on Mr. McCormick again, knocking him down seven or eight times, and blackening his eye. Mr. Dayton also came in for some of the heavy artillery work and was almost thrown over the banisters.

"This seems to have been a most serious and entirely unwarranted assault," commented the magistrate. "You must get out of your head that you can come back here and do as you like. I am going to remand you to jail for a week, and will consider what is best to be done in the meantime."

MIXTURE OF DRINKS LED TO THE COURT

Three Sanatorium Patients Are Fined $10 Each.

They were drinking beef, iron and wine with a dash of Florida water, were three soldier patients from the Byron Sanatorium Saturday night, and it produced a kick likened unto that of a mule, and eventually landed them in police court today. All were fined $10 and costs or ten days in jail. Two of the lads decided to pay, while the other went to jail much against the wishes of his comrades.

Their arrest led to a slight misunderstanding between the military and civil police, which was explained by Sergt. Thomas Lucas of the police department today.

Had Complaint.

"The men were downtown slightly intoxicated, and one of our men handed them over to a military policeman, who proceeded to get them off the downtown streets," said Sergt. Lucas. "Later on we learned that the soldiers had been out at a house on Lyle street, acting in a disorderly manner and scaring the occupants. We followed them up and found them in Victoria Park, with a soldier who, we later learned, was a military policeman. He had no badge or anything to identify him as belonging to the military police, nor did he say anything about it when we arrested the men."

M. P.'s Indignant.

The M. P.'s stated that they had heard the civil police had proceeded to take away three men who were in charge of an M. P., and were at police court to see who was responsible for what they termed high-handed work. However, when the circumstances were explained, everyone was happy.

A young girl got up in court and told the magistrate that she and her sister had been frightened half to death by the soldiers, who had gone out to their home on Lyle street and tried to kick in the front door. They had sent for the police. However, as no charge was laid against the soldiers, they were fined only for being drunk.

NO. 3 STATIONARY HOSPITAL WAITING VESSEL TO EMBARK

Cable Says It Is All Ready To Leave England.

No. 3 Canadian Stationary Hospital with all its staff of doctors, nurses, n. c. o.'s and men, is at Shorncliffe, England, ready to sail for Canada as soon as a vessel is provided.

This news has come to Dr. H. T. Reason from his brother, Lieut.-Col. Clifford Reason, by cable, and will be received with joy in many London homes. All is ready for the start except the boat, and it likely will be provided within a few days.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

DIED IN WINNIPEG.

The death of Mrs. William Gauld, an old resident of London, occurred in Winnipeg, Man., after a short illness, Friday. The remains will be brought to this city for interment in Woodland Cemetery. The funeral will be held from the residence of her son, 789 Waterloo street, at 2:30 o'clock on Tuesday.

DEATH OF MISS PAYNE.

Miss Lillian M. Payne died on Sunday at the home of her parents after an illness extending over some months, in her 25th year. Miss Payne had lived in this city all her life, and for the past few years had been a teacher of music. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Payne. The funeral will be held on Tuesday at 2:30 o'clock from the family residence, 178 Simcoe street. Interment will be made in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Hamilton Rd. Presbyterian Church Has Anniversary

The Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church celebrated its eighth anniversary Sunday. Rev. Dr. L. M. Gibson of Knox Church, Woodstock, was the special speaker for this occasion. Rev. Professor W. J. Patterson of the Western University, conducted a special service for the Sunday school children in the afternoon.

At both morning and evening services Dr. Gibson referred to the beautiful edifice which, through the efforts of Christian workers, had been built, that their fellowmen might worship in the "Beauty of Holiness." Remarking on the large attendance at the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Sunday school, Dr. Gibson said that this was one of the most important, if not the most important department of church work, that of instilling into the minds of little children the love of Christ and the knowledge of His word. Special music under the direction of S. Stein, was given at both services by the choir.

WARMLY WELCOMED BY HIS FRIENDS HERE

LEAVES ADVICE AS WELL AS MONEY TO SEVERAL RELATIVES

A. T. Atwood Divides Up $17,252 Estate.

MANY CODICILS TO WILL

These Make Considerable Changes in Original Disposition of Legacies.

"I desire to leave to my legatees four words which I have proved myself to be the key to success: work, perseverance, justice and economy, and in addition I give this advice: Never buy what you do not want and never buy on credit unless you have reasonable grounds for knowing you will be able to honor the obligation when due."

This an extract from the will of A. T. Atwood of concession 9, Lobo Township, which disposes of $17,252.03, and which has been entered at the court house for probate. His personal property amounted to $7,751.93 and his real estate to $9,500.10.

His wife is to receive all household furniture and utensils and $500. She received a check for $1,000 prior to his death.

Johannah, a daughter, is to receive all the bees, bee houses, and supplies connected with them.

Frank was to receive a gold watch and chain, and the use of all the farm stock, implements and chattels. Those were to be held in trust by the executors, but this is changed by a codicil.

Family Monument.

All of the life insurance is to be used to erect a family monument.

Out of the funds, derived from the estate, which are to be invested, his wife is to receive one-half of the income. The other half is to be allowed to accumulate.

After the death of the widow, the following bequests are to be made: To Albert, son, $2,000; Angelina, daughter, $1,350; Elena, daughter, $750, and an additional sum of $500 if she had not received it during her father's life; Antoinette, daughter $500; Johannah, daughter, $500.

One-half of the gore of lot 21, concession 9, Lobo Township, on which there is a growth of young basswood trees, is to be reserved for a period of 50 years as a basswood orchard for the beekeepers of the vicinity. Frederick Robb, a grandson, is to see, if possible, that this is carried out.

Frank, Jr., is to receive the free use of the farm, namely, the south half of lot 21, concession 9. He is not to pay any rent, but cannot dispose of it, unless by his mother's consent. One year after her death, the executors will have the power to convey the land to him.

Each grandchild is to receive $25 as a memorial legacy.

Eight Codicils.

To his will, the deceased made eight codicils. In the first one, he annulled his son Frank's claim to part of lots 20 and 21 of the 9th concession, and bequeathed the land to Charlton Robb, his grandson. Frank, however, can have the use of the farm for four years, but he must pay for all roadwork and general taxation.

When Charlton Robb gets the land, according to the codicil, he must pay the deceased's widow $100 pr year if she should need it. To Frank, he must pay $300; to the grandson, Frank, $800; and to Percy Robb, a brother, $400.

Hated Tobacco.

The deceased claimed that he annulled the son's claim to the farm because of language "altogether out of place," which he used towards him and for using tobacco, which he despised, and for the companions that he kept.

In the second codicil, he reduced the time that Frank might use the farm, and annulled sums which he might get by reason of the former codicil. The sum which the grandson Francis was to get was increased to $1,600.

In later codicils he annulled any claim that Frank might have to the farm, and declared that as he had paid $1,500 of the personal debts of his son, he had received his share of the estate.

In codicil six, he directed that the executors shall not allow the mortgage on lot 20, concession 9, to become more than $2,000, in order that Frank might have a chance to redeem it. In the eighth codicil, it was ordered that the sons of Frank, namely, Percy and Francis, were to each pay him $50 for six years, out of what they received.

BIG TREAT ANTICIPATED

Critics Have Praise to Spare for Lieut. Beverley Robinson.

A big treat is anticipated by the scores of people who have been wise enough to take time by the forelock in having their seats reserved for the lecture to be given this evening on experiences in German prison camps, by Flight Lieut. Beverley Robinson, one of thirty-five British officers to escape from Germany during the war, and the only Canadian-born officer. Such an important personage as "the" Stephen Leacock has said. "Everybody who heard Beverley Robinson in Montreal is most enthusiastic. The mere intrinsic interest of the lecture as a war story is enough to reward amply the audiences who go to hear him; but I feel that over and above all such interest, his talk will do a most patriotic service to the country." A Toronto paper, commenting editorially some weeks ago said, "Mr. Robinson has had real adventures which he describes in an attractive and impersonal way, and with considerable dramatic ability and much humor."

While there has been an unusually heavy demand for seats in advance at Holmes and Popham's book store where the plan has been open for some days, there are still a number of good ones available.

SUNDAY CARS BY NO MEANS SURE; FARES PROBLEM IS LATEST

S. R. Employees May Ask More Pay.

COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER

Philip Pocock Favors a Rate Proportionate To That of L. and P. S.

That there is a possibility of London being without Sunday cars this year is the rumor that is going the rounds of street railway and civic circles today. It is understood that one of the demands of the employees is for extra pay for Sunday work. In reply to this, President Charles Currie is reported to have said: "Well, if the company is not left something for its Sunday operation we will have to cut out our Sunday service altogether."

Mayor Is Cautious.

Mayor C. R. Somerville decined to express an opinion this morning as to whether the company would be granted increased fares for Sundays. "If I say that I am in favor of it, the company will immediately make a demand, and if I say that it should have increased fares the officers will question my right to decide the question before any proposition is made," he said, in defence of not wishing to make any statement.

Committee To Discuss It.

The agreement will likely come up for discussion at the meeting of No. 1 committee on Wednesday afternoon. In reference to the proposed purchase of the road by the city, Mayor Somerville says that the next move is up to the company.

Chairman Philip Pocock of the public utilities commission says that if the company puts forth any reasonable proposition in reference to Sundays cars to Springbank, he will favor permitting the operation of the cars to the park on Sunday.

Proportionate Rate.

As far as the fares and service are concerned, he states that he is willing to grant a rate proportionate to that which is charged on the London and Port Stanley road. "The comparison has been raised, and I am perfectly willing that the Sunday fares to the park should be fixed proportionately," he said. He points out that on the London and Port Stanley road the return trip, consisting of 54 miles is given for 50 cents, while the return fare to Springbank, a total distance of less than eight miles, is ten cents. In addition, he says, that full fare is charged only for adults to Port Stanley. Mr. Pocock would not say whether he would favor an increase over the present rate to Springbank for Sundays, but he asserts that he is willing for the Port Stanley line to be proportionate to those of the London and Port Stanley.

The commission will likely discuss the Sunday car agreement on Thursday afternoon.

Famous Australian Pianist Coming Here To Give Recital

Percy Grainger Gave Up $2,000 a Night to Join U. S. Army.

Percy Grainger, famous Australian pianist and composer, is coming to London to give a recital in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium on the evening of Friday, April 25th. So big and important an event is this from a musical standpoint that the organists are for once changing the time-honored custom of holding choir practice on Friday to give themselves and their choristers an opportunity to go and hear the celebrated artist and virtuoso.

Percy Grainger was touring the United States when he had been living for some time when the great American republic got into the war. He promptly relinquished engagements at $2,000 per night and the satisfaction of playing to immense audiences which sat spellbound by the wizardry of his music for one to become a "common ordinary rookie," or rather a glorified citizen, a soldier to serve in a great cause.

The army didn't carry around grand pianos for the convenience of its rookies, or officers, either, for that matter. Moreover, the army was so busy making fighters, it paid more attention to physical drill that piano technique. But, music would out and no army of the allies more fully recognized the value of music in keeping up the morale of an army either in training or on service, than did the American. Percy Grainger joined the band of his unit and took to tooting a trombone, a superman kind of tooting, it was reported. In any case, Percy Grainger tooted as soulfully on his trombone and rookied as valiantly as if he had never at all been one of the world's greatest pianists, birth-place, Australia in the British Empire, and a composer of note to boot.

When Principal F. L. Willgoose learned that Percy Grainger was back in earnest in the musical arena, due to make an appearance in Toronto about April 25th, he immediately got the wires buzzing to see if he couldn't secure him for London music lovers. Fortune smiled. Grainger had a night off on the 25th and since he was so near London, would be willing to fill in with an engagement here. And that is how it happens that Percy Grainger is coming to London April 25th

BURIED AT MOUNT PLEASANT.

The funeral of Carl McNeil, the 11-year-old son of Mrs. William Southern, was held this morning from the family residence, 112 Wellington road, at 10:30 o'clock. Evangelist T. L. Belcher of the York Street Mission conducted the services at the house and grave. Interment was made in Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The little lad fell from an apple tree some months ago, breaking his back. His death was the result of these injuries.

FIRES DAMAGE MINERAL BATHS AND BECK PLANT

Third Floor of Box Factory Gutted Early Sunday.

INCUBATOR EXPLODED

Caused Blaze at Bathhouse and Made Rather Brisk Blaze.

Fire, the cause of which is unknown, pretty well gutted the third floor of Beck's box factory at 3 o'clock Sunday morning. By the time the firemen arrived the flames were roaring through the dry lumber, but the firemen under the leadership of Assistant Fire Chief C. Scott managed to confine it to the third floor. The men did not return to the station until half past seven Sunday morning.

Both Sir Adam and J. F. Beck were on the scene shortly after the firemen and stayed until the fire was extinguished. Defective wiring, it is said, was possibly the cause of the conflagration. The damage has not yet been estimated, but will be well in the thousands. The firemen received many shocks from the high voltage wires which run into the building, but none were of a serious nature.

Baths Damaged.

A fire broke out in the engine room of the London Mineral Baths, Thames street, at 12:30 o'clock this morning, when a lamp in an incubator in top of the boiler exploded. The fire was well under way when it was discovered by the nightwatchman. The place was in a blaze when the fire department arrived on the scene, and it was nearly an hour before the firemen had the flames under control.

The new Pennah building, which has been erected a few feet from the Mineral baths, was in no way damaged by the fire.

The fire broke out in the engine-room and spread to the bathhouse next door. The office was damaged by water, but the firemen managed to carry the desks and furniture out of the office onto the lawn.

The watchman, who had been in the other building, went to enter the engine-room and found the place to be a mass of flames and smoke. An alarm was sent in by the watchman and also one by a policeman who was passing on King street.

LONDON MAY BE ASKED TO ERECT FOUR COLLEGIATES

Board of Education May Ask Greater Appropriation.

There is a possibility that the board of education at the meeting this afternoon may decide to ask the council for a greater appropriation than was first asked. It is understood that Inspector of Collegiates J. A. Houston, B.A., is coming up from Toronto to meet the board, so serious does he consider the situation at the collegiate. He will recommend the erection of a central commercial school, and it is probable that he will also recommend the erection of three new collegiates for the city. One in East London, one in North London, and one in South London.

A. A. Langford was in Toronto on Friday and Saturday, and in conversation with the inspector he learned that the situation here is considered serious by the department. Mr. Houston stated that he intended coming to meet the board some time this week and on being informed that a meeting had been called for this afternoon he decided to attend it.

Wants Board of Health To Compel Repairs To Dam

P. J. Watt had a conference with Mayor Somerville and Chairman J. H. Saunders of the board of health Saturday in reference to the dam at Springbank. He urges that the board of health take steps to compel the utilities commission to make repairs to the dam. The two city representatives questioned whether the board of health has this authority.

Mr. Watt stated that a responsible engineer of the city has made an offer to repair the dam and make a first-class job of it, for $40,000.

As an alternative to repairs to the present dam, it is suggested that a small dam could be erected between the cove and the site of the old dam to raise the level of the water enough to carry off all sewage which empties into the river at various places in the city.

It is quite likely that Mr. Watt will bring the question up before the board of health at its next meeting.

Discovers drug that loosens sore, touchy corns so they lift out

A noted Cincinnati chemist discovered a new ether compound and called it freezone, and little quarter ounce bottles can now be obtained from any drug store for a few cents.

You simply apply several drops of freezone upon a tender corn or painful callous, and instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callous so loose that you can just lift it off with the fingers.

No pain, not a bit of soreness, either when applying freezone or afterwards, and it doesn't even irritate the skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also toughened callouses just shrivel up and lift off so easily. It is wonderful! Seems magical. It works like a charm. Millions of women will hereafter keep a little bottle of the wonderful freezone handy and never let a corn ache twice.

Women Everywhere Use Lemon Juice To Beautify Skin

The beauty lotion which is becoming so popular throughout the country is easily prepared by anyone, and a whole quarter pint of it doesn't cost any more than a small jar of the common, ordinary cold creams.

Add the juice of two fresh lemons to three ounces of orchard white and shake well in a bottle. Strain the lemon juice two or three times through a fine cloth so no pulp gets into the lotion, then it will keep fresh for months. Regardless of what price you pay or how highly advertised, there is nothing else really more meritorious in beautifying, softening and clearing the skin. As a tan and blemish remover, also to remove oiliness and sallowness, lemon juice has no rival. Massage it into the face, neck, and arms once or twice each day, and just see if it doesn't bring out the roses and hidden beauty!

Lemons have always been used to bleach the skin, but pure lemon juice is too highly acid, therefore should never be used except in this manner.

If properly prepared, this sweetly fragrant lotion will speak for itself. Any drug store will supply the three ounces of orchard white at very little cost, and the grocer will supply the lemons.

TORONTO, April 13.—It is not anticipated that daylight saving legislation will be enacted by the Ontario House this spring. Notwithstanding the opinion expressed at Ottawa by Hon. DOMINION RAYNSTERS

"Made-in-Canada" Raincoats

The Sunny Day Coats For Rainy Day Wear.

The chief difference between a Dominion Raynster and a made-to-measure spring overcoat is that a Dominion Raynster is absolutely waterproof.

The cloth is not "treated" or made merely "shower-proof"; it is reinforced with an inner lining of rubber, which makes the entire coat, even to the seams, waterproof.

In style and appearance, Dominion Raynsters have the effect of tailor-made spring garments; they simply give you the double service of a reliable raincoat as well as a stylish spring coat.

Made in a pleasing variety of patterns and cloths for men, women and children.

The best stores that carry clothing also carry Dominion Raynsters. Ask to see them, and look for the guarantee label of the Dominion Rubber System.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY THE WORLD OVER IN PEACE PACT

No Child To Be Employed in Industry or Commerce Under 14 Years.

SCHOOLING FOR CHILDREN

None To Be Employed in Work Harmful to Physique Up to 18 Years.

PARIS, April 13.—Recommendations embodied in the report of the committee on international labor legislation, which was adopted by the peace conference on Friday, include the following:

Employers and workers should be allowed the right of association for all lawful purposes. No child should be permitted to be employed in industry or commerce before the age of fourteen, in order that every child be insured reasonable opportunities for mental and physical education. Between the ages of fourteen and eighteen young persons of either sex may be employed at work which is not harmful to their physical development on condition that their technical or general education is assured. Every worker has the right to a wage adequate to maintain a reasonable standard of life, having regard to the civilization of his time and his country.

Equal pay should be given to women and men for work of equal value in quantity and quality. Limitation is recommended of the hours of work in industry on the basis of eight hours per day and 48 hours per week, subject to exception in countries in which climatic conditions, imperfect development of industrial organization or other special circumstances render the industrial efficiency of the workers substantially different.

In all matters concerning their status as workers and in social insurance, foreign workmen lawfully admitted to another country and their families, should be insured the same treatment as the nationals of that country. All states should institute a system of inspection in which women should take part, in order to insure the enforcement of the laws and regulations for the protection of the workers.

FIVE TRANSPORTS ARE NOW ON OCEAN WITH CANADIAN TROOPS

Five large transports, the Olympic, Carmania, Aquitania, Adriatic and Grampian, are now on the Atlantic with troops for Canada. It is believed that three of them are carrying 1st Division men and it is altogether likely that the 1st Battalion is among them.

THREE DUE THIS WEEK.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 12.—In transportation circles it is expected that the Carmania, Olympic and Aquitania respectively, will arrive here Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, and it is expected the Adriatic will be back here shortly.

ON THE CARMANIA.

OTTAWA, April 12.—The transport Carmania, with 3,600 Canadian troops on board, will probably reach Halifax on or about April 18, according to advices received by the militia department. She sailed on Friday. She carries five 1st Division, 2nd Brigade battalions, all of which went across with the first contingent. They are the 13th and 14th Battalions of Montreal, the 5th Battalion of Regina, the 10th for Calgary, and the 7th Battalion for Vancouver. There are only nine men bound for Ontario points.

The strength of the units follows: 5th Battalion, 21 officers, 462 other ranks; 7th Battalion, 20 officers, 420 other ranks; 10th Battalion, 16 officers, 288 men; 3rd Brigade, 13th Battalion, 33 officers, 649 men; 14th Battalion, 34 officers, 606 men.

ADRIATIC BRINGS MANY.

LONDON, April 13.—The Adriatic sailed from Liverpool yesterday for Halifax with 106 officers, three nurses and 1,721 other ranks. Kinmel Park supplied 18 officers and 663 men. The motor machine gun brigade from Seaford supplies 24 officers and 275 other ranks. The cyclist corps from Ripon, 10 officers and 255 other ranks. Other units on board were the survey corps and signal companies and the anti-air craft searchlight company from Seaford, 140 hospital details from Shorncliffe, also the 3rd Divisional staff. Major-Gen. Loomis, Brig.-Gens. Draper and Clarke and Col. C. P. Templeton sailed with the troops.

BRINGING DEPENDENTS.

LONDON, April 12.—The Grampian sailed yesterday from Liverpool for St. John with 48 officers, four nurses and 382 men from Buxton Camp; nine officers from Winchester; 534 wives, 204 children and 47 infants.

Germany Unable To Pay Allies Owing to Strike

BERLIN, Friday, April 11.—As a result of the strike of bank employees here, the German Government yesterday was unable to remit thirty-five million marks, representing part of the payment due the allied powers on food shipments.

The sum was to have been transferred to the Deutschebank, which was compelled to close by the strikers.

BULGARIAN POLICE OPEN FIRE ON GREEKS

New Disorders Occur Near City of Strumnitza.

Saloniki, Sunday, April 13.—Greeks engaged in demonstrations near the city of Strumnitza have been fired on by Bulgarian police, sent from that place, according to reports reaching this city. No details as to the number of casualties have been learned. A large numbers of Greeks have been arrested for participating in new disorders in the region of Strumnitza, and twenty have been sent in irons to Sofia, it is said.

St. Johns, Nfld., April 14.—The Martynside airmen have applied to the authorities for policemen for Tuesday afternoon, stating they intend making the transatlantic flight then, and desiring to have the course kept clear.

RETURNED SOLDIERS TO GET FISHING LICENSES

Dominion Government Amends Regulation in British Columbia Areas.

Victoria, B. C., April 14.—Following recommendations made by J. C. McIntosh, M.P., to the Dominion Government at the instance of Frank Giolma, M. P. P., who has been acting for the returned men, the Government has decided to amend the fishery regulation. Advices received by Mr. Giolma, for McIntosh, state it has been decided to grant all applications for licenses in gill net areas to returned soldiers. In areas where cannery companies operate and furnish boats and gear, they will be required to furnish a percentage, totalling in all areas, 500, to returned soldiers and sailors.

Now a Complete Truck

HEREAFTER Ford One-Ton Trucks may be bought complete with bodies and cabs, ready for the road.

The Chassis may still be purchased separately.

But in most cases, the Ford Truck will be sold as a complete Ford job. The body as well as the chassis will be planned to give Ford Service.

This radical step in the production of Trucks is being taken to insure the utmost efficiency from the Ford Truck; to give the purchaser Ford value in every part of his truck; to produce better bodies at lower prices.

Two Standard Bodies

The two types of Truck body most widely used are the Stake and the Express.

These types will be kept in stock by Ford dealers and Ford Branches, set up, painted (or in the lead) and ready for prompt delivery.

They are scientifically designed to distribute weight and strain, and to give the utmost loading capacity.

They have oak floors. The sills are of seasoned hickory, clear five-inch members, clamped to the chassis. There are no bolt holes to weaken this sturdy frame.

Specially designed forgings and castings are used throughout the entire job.

The construction at every point provides for rough usage such as every truck is bound to get. There are no outside stake sockets or braces. The sides of the body are free from trouble-making projections.

The driver can step from the cab into the truck body, saving many a trip to the back of the truck.

Enclosed Cab

There never has been any sound reason for an open cab for all-year-round service. A truck goes out in rain and storm. The driver should be protected from unnecessary exposure.

He gets proper protection in the Enclosed Cab of the Ford Truck.

This Cab can be closed up tight, or perfectly ventilated. It has sliding windows and two-way double ventilating windshield.

It is the Coupe idea applied to the Truck.

These Complete Ford Trucks are on Sale NOW

Call and learn what it will cost to use them in your business. Look them over carefully. See how they outclass other Trucks in every detail.

This new idea in selling Trucks not only gives you unusual value, but enables you to avoid delay in securing the Truck you need.

GOVT. ALLOWING 2,000 HUTTERITES TO ENTER, DESPITE THE G.W.V.A.

Fear of Complications With the United States Given as Reason For Ignoring Protests of Manitoba Soldiers' Association.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINNIPEG, April 13.—The great war veterans received word last night from delegates sent to Ottawa that the Canadian Government has decided to allow Hutterites from North Dakota to the number of two thousand to enter Manitoba, despite the protest of the soldiers. These new settlers are exempt from military service.

Officials of soldiers' associations are indignant, and state the veterans will not allow this sect to come in and be exempt from military duties. Fear of complications with the United States, it is claimed, forced the Canadian Government to take this section.

DRINK BLAMED FOR TRIPLE TRAGEDY AT SIMCOE BY JURY

SIMCOE, April 12.—Many witnesses were examined at two long sessions held by Coroner McGilvry to inquire into the death of G. Wisson, a returned soldier, Mrs. John Wark, his sister, and her little son of Brantford, all of whom were burned to death in Wisson's shack on the night of April 4.

The jury found that the tragedy was caused by the two older victims being drunk, and urged the authorities to ascertain the source of the liquor. Some cider found in the shack was tested and shown to contain 11½ per cent proof spirits.

WOMAN'S BEST LAXATIVE

Proved Every Day That Dr. Hamilton's Pills Are Just Right for Woman's Ills.

Little wonder woman suffers so much from constipation. She always hesitates, continually puts off taking medicine.

Of course, a woman's system is delicate, is easily injured by drastic purgatives. Bitter experience with harsh medicines makes her cautious, and to her great injury, chronic sluggishness of the system is permitted.

Few pills are suited to the actual needs of woman—they are too strong.

But there is a good woman's laxative, and it combines mildness with thoroughness of activity—it is known to the people of many nations as Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which never gripe, never cause nausea and are safe to use no matter what the conditions of strength or circumstances of health may be. A naturalness and regularity of the system, so important to every woman, is quickly acquired by the regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. As a health-bringer, as a tonic laxative, as an all-round ladies' medicine, there is positively nothing so efficacious as Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut; 25c per box at all dealers.

INSURANCE OF WORLD PEACE IS THE TEXT, THEME AND PURPOSE OF NEW COVENANT

Any State Which Breaks Covenant Commits an Act of War Against the League—Council of Nine Will Be Executive Body—Each State, Whether Large or Small, Has But One Vote—German Colonies Disposed of to Mandatories.

LLOYD GEORGE GOES HOME TODAY.

PARIS, April 13.—By the Associated Press.—Quite unexpectedly a meeting of the council of four was held at 6 o'clock this evening. The call for the meeting resulted from Lloyd George's determination to return to London tomorrow.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS COVENANT.

PARIS, April 12.—The following official summary of the covenant of the league of nations was issued this afternoon:

"1. The league of nations is founded in order to promote international co-operation and to secure peace. The league will include (a) the belligerent states named in a document annexed to the covenant; (b) all the neutral states so named, and (c) in the future any self-governing country whose admission is approved by two-thirds of the states already members of the league. A state may withdraw from the league, providing it has kept its obligations to date, on giving two years' notice.

Assembly and Council of Nine.

"2. The league will act through an assembly composed of not more than three representatives of each of the member states, each state having only one vote, and a council, comprising for the present one representative of each of the five great powers and each of four other powers as selected from time to time by the assembly.

"The number of powers of each class represented on the council may be increased by the unanimous consent of the council and a majority of the assembly. Other powers have the right to sit as members of the council during the discussion of matters in which they are especially interested.

Each State Has One Vote.

"In the council, as in the assembly, each state will have only one vote. Both these bodies are to meet at stated intervals (the council at least once a year), and at other times if required; both can deal with any matter that is of international importance or the interests of the world; the decision of both must be unanimous, except in certain specified cases—matters of procedure, for instance, being decided by a majority vote. The league will have a permanent secretariat, under a secretary-general. The secretariat and all other bodies under the league may include women, equally with men. A permanent court of international justice and various permanent commissions and bureaus are also to be established.

To Reduce Armaments.

"3.—The member states agree: (a) to reduce their armaments, plans for such reduction being suggested by the council, but only adopted with the consent of the states themselves and thereafter not to increase them without the concurrence of the council; (b) to exchange full information of their existing armies and their naval and military programs; (c) to respect each other's territory and personal independence and to guarantee them against foreign aggression; (d) to submit all international disputes either to arbitration or to inquiry by the council, which latter, however, may not pronounce an opinion on any dispute whose subject matter falls solely within a state's domestic area; in no case to go to war till three months after an award, or an unanimous recommendation has been made, even then not to go to war with a state which accepts the award or recommendation; (e) TO REGARD A STATE WHICH HAS BROKEN THE COVENANT AS HAVING COMMITTED AN ACT OF WAR AGAINST THE LEAGUE, to break off all economic and other relations with it and to allow free passage through their territories to the troops of those states which are contributing armed force on behalf of the league.

Specify Application of Force.

"The council is to recommend what amount of force, if any, should be supplied by the several governments concerned, but the approval of the latter is necessary. (States not members of the league will be invited to accept the obligations of the league for the purpose of particular disputes, and if they fail to comply may be forced); (f) not to consider any treaty binding till it has been communicated to the league, which will then proceed to publish it, to admit the right of the assembly to advise the reconsideration of treaties and international conditions which do not accord with present needs, and to be bound by no obligations inconsistent with the covenant.

"A state which breaks it agreements may be expelled from the league by the council.

Monroe Doctrine Stands.

"4. The covenant does not affect the validity of international engagements, such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the Monroe doctrine, for securing the maintenance of peace.

"5. The former German colonies and the territories of the Ottoman Empire are to be administered in the interests of civilization by states which are willing to be mandatories of the league, which will exercise a general supervision.

"6. The member states accept certain responsibility with regard to labor conditions, the treatment of natives, the white slave traffic, the opium traffic, the arms traffic, with uncivilized and semi-civilized countries, transit and trade conditions, public health and Red Cross societies.

"7. The league is recognized as the central body interested in coordinating and assisting international activities generally.

"8. Amendments to the covenant require the approval of all the states on the council and a simple majority of those in the assembly. Those states which signify their dissent from amendments thus approved are not bound by them, but in this case cease to be members of the league."

JAPANESE AMENDMENT FOR RACIAL EQUALITY IS NOT IN COVENANT

PARIS, April 12.—The league of nations commission has rejected the Japanese amendment on racial equality, according to an authoritative report issued tonight.

Some of the members of the commission voted against the specific inclusion of this amendment in the covenant, and as unanimous approval of the commission was necessary, the amendment, which was strongly urged by the Japanese delegates, failed of adoption.

The statement follows:

"At a meeting of the league of nations commission on Friday, April 11, the Japanese delegation proposed an amendment to the preamble of the covenant, as follows: To insert after the words, 'by the prescription of open, just and honorable relations between nations,' an additional clause to read, 'by the endorsement of the principle of equality of nations and just treatment of their nationals.'

Case Well Presented.

"The amendment was admirably presented by Baron Makino. In the course of his speech he emphasized the great desire of the Japanese Government and of the Japanese people that such a principle be recognized in the covenant. His argument was supported with great force by Viscount Chinda.

"A discussion followed, in which nearly all of the members of the commission participated. The discussions were marked by breadth of thought, free and sympathetic exchange of views, and a complete agreement by the members of the difficulty which lay in the way of accepting or rejecting the amendment.

Japan on Executive.

"The commission was impressed by the justice of the Japanese claim, and by the spirit in which it was presented. Mention was frequently made in the course of the discussion that the covenant had provided for the representation of Japan on the executive council as one of the five great powers, and that a rejection of the proposed amendment could not, therefore, be construed as diminishing the prestige of Japan.

"Various members of the commission, however, felt that they could not vote for its specific inclusion in the covenant. Therefore the commission was reluctantly unable to give to the amendment that unanimous approval which is necessary for its adoption."

The preamble of the covenant of the league of nations, in which the Japanese sought the inclusion of the amendment, reads:

"In order to promote international co-operation and to secure international peace and security by the acceptance of obligations not to resort to war, by the prescription of open, just and honorable relations between nations, by the firm establishment of the understanding of international law as the actual rule of conduct among governments, and by the maintenance of a just and scrupulous respect for all treaty obligations in the dealings of organized people with one another, the powers signatory to this covenant adopt this constitution of the league of nations."

TWO ARE KILLED WHEN AMMONIA EXPLODES IN WINNIPEG PLANT

WINNIPEG, April 13.—Two of the officers of the Manitoba Cold Storage Company, Superintendent W. S. Milne and Engineer W. Pattison, lost their lives in an explosion of ammonia at the company's plant here last evening.

The bodies of Milne and Pattison, badly mangled, were recovered after the fumes had cleared away. The cause of the explosion of the ammonia tanks is unknown.

The Problem of the Gun

The Ottawa Journal calls for the banishment the revolver except in so far as it is required the police. There is no doubt the revolver nstitutes a problem bearing on public safety. is too easy to get, carry and manipulate in ew of its deadliness. There should be an exnsion of the restrictions governing its ownership d purchase in order to reduce the chances of cidental killings and murder, but for many tside the police it is a necessary weapon of fence. If the guardians of great wealth in the rehouses, shops, banks and homes of cities were t permitted to carry this weapon there would a tremendous increase in burglary and murder. a limited but important extent the revolver necessary. Better than banishing the revolver ould be to banish that lawless element amongst r alien population which uses the revolver and e knife to settle its differences. Broadly speakg it is only amongst these foreigners that the volver is a menace. They are the nearest thing the American professional gunmen that we ave in this country. As much as possible keep em out of the country in the first place and if ey get in see that police supervision is close ough to keep them weaponless. If that fails, eport them.

Ex-Kaiser's Trial Necessary

Paris cables announce that the peace conference has definitely decided to bring the exaiser to trial. This should give general satisction to the publics of the Entente and merican nations. We believe the great mass f the people who have suffered by this royal ogue's crime are more concerned lest he go unnished than they are in the size of the indemity Germany must pay. It is not a seeking of evenge that is behind this desire to see the Hohenzollerns properly punished. They have een too contemptible to arouse any personal atred. We jail the thief and execute the murderer, not from a wish to "get even," but as check on other and similar crimes.

It is what such rascals as the Hohenzollerns tand for that must be checked by adequate odily chastisement. Imperial indifference to ights of the weaker will be less frequent after uch an object lesson as a trial of Count Hohenollern should furnish.

The thought of royalty being haled to court will fetch a prolonged moan from folk who believe a king can do no harm, and the chinless pacifist who is set a-quiver at the mere thought f punishment will surely protest, but everybody lse will see just and excellent reasons for the exaiser being placed on trial. This decision of he peace conference is distinctly a popular one.

An Imaginary Interview

"You see, it was this way," began the famous Canadian who has just announced that he had given up his title and come back to the ranks of the plain people. "I am free to confess that after I had attained success in the business world, been called an empire-builder by half a dozen writers, accepted my share of the toll, and got my feet in at Ottawa, I am free to confess that the conferring of a title upon a man who as a boy had tussled with the cases and barrels on the docks and in the shipping-room appealed a bit to my vanity. It also appealed to the vanity of Lady, now plain Mrs. Blank, and the social thing is a magnetic force as well as a hypnotic influence.

"I became a full blown Sir. That was all I wanted. I did not want the line to be perpetuated as in the old feudal days in a country which prated its democracy from every hustings. But there was something in the fact that my securing of a title was a throwback to my once-titled ancestors, who, according to my wife, had a well-burnished escutcheon, as well as a crest on almost everything they once owned. She had commenced to read up on heraldry, and you know that the Hickses do figure prominently in some pretty affairs at the time of Henry VIII.

"I felt the glow that goes with knighthood, and bought all the frills that go with it. A full-length mirror put in an appearance in our house about this time, and once or twice I surveyed myself in the knightly robes. A knight before a mirror is something, but I could never get up the nerve to trot any of these fixings before the public. The morning after would have been too much for me.

"A year or two of the social glamor that goes with knighthood and I started to read history, and to pick up an occasional volume by a writer like H. G. Wells. And I started to think. Burns seemed to reproach the rank I had taken, to set myself above the people I had been born with, the people I had worked with, but from whom I had removed myself. I saw this young country in need of a blending of ideals, if the right men, the men of the type I might have been, had devoted themselves to the development of national consciousness rather than high social graces. On the one side were the French, living simple lives, but following largely a religious and racial ideal. On the other side was Ontario, following an ideal of patriotism and commerce. I took sides, mistakenly, quite often, to develop bitterness between the two ideals. Instead, I now came to see my duty, with the position and respect I commanded, was to bring together the elements that must be blended in the melting pot or must spill out in a great explosion. I did not look beyond the pursuit of wealth and honors. I could not see that the last thing for Canada was to set up a class that singled itself out for a kind of kingship, accepting knighthood as a destiny, instead of realizing how much constructive effort was required to make this necessary national consciousness a real actuality, a thing for eternity.

"I moved away to England with my family. The rawness of this colony which had bred me and given me all I had, had grown to be irksome, and I sought a life of ease and softness. I attained this ambition. But the war came on, and these men came rushing over from Canada, these real sons of Canada from every one of our great arenas of struggle. True I was a knight, but a knight gone to seed. I did my best for them, but they brushed me aside. I was of little consequence to my country when a real crisis came. I had given up the fight to take the kudos and adulation of a knight.

"But now I am through with it. I have seen what Canada needs, and the kind of man the real Canadian is. There were no knights among these soldiers. I cannot believe that one of them ever aspired to knighthood if one of them aspired to anything. There were laboring men and farmers, plainsmen and miners, lumbermen and sailors, they were the rugged men of a growing nation that was up against nature in all its fights to hold the right of way. Knighthood was not their destiny; achievement for their country, to make of Canada a land of abundant freedom and opportunity, to discard the tricksters and to bring out the fitness of men for rulership through the hard tests of real pioneering—that was their destiny.

"I felt discarded, cast away on a lonely island of plutocracy in the strivings of my country toward the realization of national consciousness. So I threw aside this bauble of knighthood, which I thought would crown my career, but which seemed to blight my Canadianism, and I am back again in Canada, ready to give all I have to rebuild this country into a united structure, to help put things in joint, to cut to the line of honesty and democratic ideals in order that the land of my birth may say of me one day when I have been called beyond, 'He was a real Canadian.'"

The Age of Awakening

A good many people are endeavoring to boil down abstract theories into concrete rules. A host of things that once mattered do not matter so much since war searched the soul of every man, tested his ethics and measured his size. The standing of a man is now not so much according to his possessions, but rather in the stature he shows on the test of manhood. Most men and women, no matter how indifferent they may seem to the things about them, are devoting some thought to the person just next door. We know, for instance, of one man in whom for many years we could find nothing to indicate a thought for anyone but himself. Suave, prosperous, admirable for the social graces and the pleasing point of contact, it was apparent that the veneer did not go very deep, although constantly renewed and polished into a high shine. But one night, in the dim watches, we found the heart expression in a glorious and secret devotion to and assistance of an old man who was poor, and without friends. The cold, hard exterior of the benefactor had not melted much, but in one place a beam of charity and friendship broke through. The lack of any other virtue in a calloused nature was a little less repugnant because of the one good impulse shown, even though it gave little promise of remaking the whole character.

People are searching for character in their associates, that is, the people who think character counts. And while in the workaday world petty prejudice and bigotry and an eternally vigilant eye for the crooked twist that may down a man make life to some extent a jungle of existence, it may be taken as a rule that each traveler sits down to cast back over the road he has come and to condemn or to praise himself. Most people wear an exterior of ice in the business world. There is a cloak of reserve or caution which covers their inner selves, and only to the few whom they know they can trust do they reveal the natural self, the uncovered character, and the unguarded opinion. Life's moments of candor and sincere expression are about the only moments worth living, because all the stealth and tricks of the game are thrown aside, and truth gets a chance to sit in.

The man who is merely living for money, or for passing adulation or success that is held glittering before him, must find that the best thing to be gained from his brief experience is knowledge, and that largely knowledge teaches one to realize the imperfection of material gains, and the rich perfection of natural service. Men are drawn to one another by some common urge, as in the days of childhood, not only as pairs, but almost as communities. More people are thinking socially and not so many thinking of the great illusion of dollars. A host of people are realizing that this is an awakening age, perhaps the greatest year in the history of the world for the opening of people's eyes. They are beginning to seek the true inwardness of life as never before, to put all theories to the test and to ascertain, if possible, just what kind of living is best and what kind of life is possible. Social reconstruction is going to be a vast undertaking. The individual is learning to ask himself, "is that fair play?" or "is it something we would have condemned in the Germans as a nation?" And when he finds the answer, as he must, there will be more reason for existence, more than walking aimlessly, more in sheer gladness of being alive, and not so much discontent because the days that rush on toward death do not go quickly enough. When he learns to regret the passing of a day, when a journey ends too soon, rather than too late, life will be rated as something worth having because we will know something more about how to use it.

The Advertiser's Daily Short Story

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

ABOUT A DETECTIVE.
BY R. Ray Baker

This is a detective story; but it isn't the regular kind. On second thought perhaps it had better be termed a story about a detective.

The detective was Willard Holmes. Maybe the surname had something to do with his choosing that profession; perhaps not; anyhow, he maintained a private office where people came for their mysteries to be solved. He had caught bank robbers, "laid" ghosts in haunted houses and rescued kidnapped heiresses, and he had disguises, so you see he was a regular detective.

Holmes was seated in his office, smoking his pipe, when a fat little man with a halfmoon face that ought to have carried a jolly expression, but instead was furrowed with wrinkles of worry, was ushered in. His name was Jerome Witticomb and he had something like a million dollars in currency, real estate and canned sardines.

Miss Jeraldine Witticomb had disappeared only last night and no trace of her had been found. She had left her home after an altercation with her parents early in the evening, with the announcement that she was going to spend a few hours with Hattie Haskell a chum, who lived seven blocks distant. No the family chauffeur had not accompanied her; she had driven her own runabout. She had failed to return home that night and still was absent at noon the next day. Her father and mother were worried by this time, so an investigation was started and it was learned that Miss Haskell had seen nothing of Miss Witticomb. Mr. Witticomb was convinced kidnappers had got in their fine work, for the newspapers of late had been carrying some sensational stories concerning their operations. So, the police had not been notified because it was not desirable that the Witticombs be dragged through the common public prints.

Willard drew violently on his pipe and blew several generous clouds of smoke toward the ceiling.

"What was the quarrel about?" he inquired, abruptly.

Mr. Witticomb shrugged his shoulders.

"It was inconsequential," he demurred, looking out of the window.

"How do you know the quarrel is not important?" demanded Willard, shooting a piercing glance at the fat little man. "Better let me be the judge of that."

Another shrug of the shoulders, and: "Well to tell the truth, I forget just what trival thing it was about."

Willard scowled over this and sat silent in thought for a moment. Presently excusing himself, he went into an adjoining room and returned with an overcoat and cap, both of which he donned.

"Where you going?" inquired the client, somewhat anxiously.

"To your home replied the detective, "to look for clues."

Willard seemed to glean little satisfaction from his visit. There was not even a good photograph of Miss Witticomb to be seen. Only camera pictures in which she was squinting at the sun in a way that virtually obliterated her countenance, were available. The interview with the maid was the only incident productive of any result whatever. Questioned closely as to her activities, she reported that the only thing wrong she had noticed that morning was a theatrical magazine lying on the floor in a manner that indicated it had been hurled there because it was some distance from any table.

"Find any clue?" inquired Mr. Witticomb as Willard prepared to leave. The latter smiled enigmatically and did some shoulder shrugging on his own account. "I think I can find your daughter for you," he said and went away.

The next day Mr. Holmes opened a new office. It was on the sixth floor of a building in the theatre district and in the elevator directory it was referred to as "Talbott's Dramatic Agencie." This new enterprise came out with a prominently placed advertisement in all the morning papers, reading:

"Can place young lady in coming new Broadway production. Must be exactly five feet four inches in height, with black eyes, light brown hair, olive complexion. Person with no stage experience desired. None others need apply. Call at noon sharp."

Willard smiled as he read the adseated at his desk waiting for the influx.

It's ridiculous," he reflected. "In fact, it's absolutely foolish, but it will bring results."

It did. The would-be actresses stopped the elevator service and lined the stairways all the way down the six flights to the street. The first girl to apply had yellow hair and blue eyes. The second had freckles, red hair and eyes of no particular shade. And so on they came and as fast as they entered one door Willard politely escorted them to another and let them out without ceremony.

The thirteenth applicant put a different aspect on matters. As near as Willard could determine she filled the bill.

"My name is Minnie Fionton," she said in a voice that was so pleasant it started a thumping in Willard's breast. He suddenly discovered that there was an organ inside him that pulsated regularly and could be affected by shocks. Willard was shocked there was no question. Possessing a nature with only a void where sentiment was supposed to have a place and with a mind that was analytical almost to the extent of methodical, he had not dreamed that a pretty pair of eyes and an equally pretty voice could bring to life that blood-pumping device of his that he had come to believe was no more animated than the ones found on valentines.

Minnie Fionton was from Sparksburg, she said, and she was seeking a position back of the footlights only because every other thing she had attempted as a means of providing food and shelter had failed. She was desperately in need of some kind of a job, she said, with tears welling in her eyes, and if she didn't get one soon she would just starve, that was all.

"She certainly has the making of an actress," Willard was forced to confess to himself. "Her story rings so true I am almost inclined to believe it in spite of my contrary knowledge." Then he added: "I almost wish it was true. I believe I could learn—but no, not a rich man's daughter. Impossible."

"I'll try you out for the place," he told her, and he obtained a room for her in a near-by hotel and started a campaign to break down her story so he could take her home to Papa Witticomb and earn his fee, which was not going to be frugal, what with office rent, newspaper advertisements, etc. All his traps failed, however. She clung to the Sparksburg-out-of-a-job tale. He equizzed her over dinner tables and during theatrical performances, but all without result except that some strange spell which she seemed to have woven about him tightened its talons.

At last the detective gave it up and decided the only plan was to bring Papa Witticomb to his daughter. He would rather have delivered the missing daughter to her paternal abode in a taxicab. That would have been more businesslike and detectified; but it couldn't be done. So he went back to his regular office and called Mr. Witticomb on the 'phone.

"Oh, that's Mr. Holmes, is it?" said the voice on the other end of the wire. "Well, that reminds me, I intended calling you up to tell you about it, but it slipped my mind. My daughter came home the same evening I employed you on the case. You see, she changed her mind, and instead of going to see Mattie Haskell she went to Jean Sprague's home. She tried to get us on the 'phone to tell us she was going to stay all night, but the 'phone didn't work, so she decided to stay anyhow. I hope I didn't put you to any inconvenience, Mr. Holmes. If I did I want to thank you for your trouble."

"Oh, not at all," said Willard, dryly, hanging up the receiver. He sat there before the 'phone, scowling darkly until a picture of that little girl down at the hotel took form in his mind. With it came the idea that made him bounce from the office and into a taxicab that whisked him to the hotel. In a few seconds he knocked at Minnie Fionton's door, and that pleasant, tinkling little voice told him to "come in."

So, you see, this is not a regular detective story, because in the regular kind the hero is not permitted to fall in love and get married. It interferes with the plot or the technique, or something.

THE HYLAS.
[Hartford Courant.]

Correspondents from the smaller towns are telling the world that the small frogs, known to the learned as the hylas and to the unlearned as "peeper," have been heard. They say "heard" with reason, because the hylas are heard by many and are seen by few, as they reverse that exasperating maxim as to children, and are heard much more often than they are seen. The marshes will be vocal with them shortly and within an hour after sunset they can drive a nervous man to the very threshold of the hospital for the insane. Of all rural sounds, theirs is the most plaintive, not even excepting the whip-poor-will's note; but, happily, both the hyla and the whip-poor-will are heard only for a season. The frogs mark the coming of spring, and it is noteworthy that they were heard a year ago at about this time, though in other ways spring was delayed last year. One of these fine mornings the hylas are likely to find themselves under a thin coating of ice; but the exposure is by no means fatal to them, for they become vocal when the weather grows even slightly warmer. One wonders for how many thousand years they have greeted spring with their clamor, and for how many thousand more they will be heard after man has gone to his own place.

A PLAIN MAN.
[Ottawa Journal.]

How the "movies" do extend the number of one's intimate acquaintances. A man has just died in New York. He never visited Ottawa and probably not half a dozen Ottawa people ever saw him in the flesh, yet thousands in this city will mourn his decease as a close friend. Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew in their clean and simple comedies have entertained Ottawa men and women on many winter nights; we have laughed with them and chatted about them and grown to know them intimately. It is a shock to learn that the partnership has been broken and that no longer will these two—just plain man and woman, neither beautiful and neither different to ordinary men and women—play jokes the one on the other in front of the camera. This plain man's friends run into the millions though he never saw them and his silent mourners will be a host indeed.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

Hurry, Mother! Remove poisons from little stomach, liver, bowels.

Give 'California Syrup of Figs' if cross, bilious or feverish.

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out of sorts, half sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs"; then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

WINIFRED BLACK

Writes About "The Blue Waist."

Copyright, 1918, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Winifred Black

Well, I bought the blue waist with the silver beads on it, after all.

I really ought not to have bought it. It was more than I could afford, and I didn't really need it at all. But there it was in the window, as blue as a blue sky in April after the March storms have passed. As light as a feather—and there was something soft and feathery about it that made me feel pleasant and happy just to look at it.

"That's my waist!" I said to myself, the minute my eyes looked upon it. "But of course I'm not going to buy it."

But of course I did. I went by the window three or four times, all the time saying to myself:

"I really would like that waist—if I could afford it. But I can't—so that's the end of it."

And here it is this very minute, in the box in my closet, all wrapped up in soft white tissue paper, and just to think of it makes me smile.

This afternoon someone is coming to see me, someone that I knew when I was very happy and laughed a great deal, and knew a great many songs, and always had flowers to wear and never worried about what was going to become of those I loved when I was gone. I think I bought that waist just on purpose to wear for this special occasion—that just for once I'd like to look young and light-hearted and gay again. Just for once I'd like to feel as that waist looks—I am glad I bought it.

I wonder what the things are that we really can afford in this world. Sometimes it is hard to decide, isn't it? It is a short journey we take—a short one and sometimes a troubled one—through this thing we call life. What's the use of taking it at all if we are never going to have any of the things we really want, just because we think we can't afford them.

I took an hour the other day that I couldn't afford at all. I had so much to do that I didn't know what to do first—so I didn't do anything. I just picked up a foolish book, and got a box of candy, and put on a nice, soft gown and curled up in the corner of the couch and read and ate candy. And all the time somebody was playing the piano in the next room—a little, foolish, lilting tune, and it sounded good to me, and I was somehow happy. I am glad I stole that hour I couldn't afford, for it did me a whole lot of good.

I could not afford to know the woman I met on the train. She really wasn't a nice woman, it was perfectly easy to see that the minute you looked at her.

Her face was rather hard, and her hair was not at all the color it ought to be, and her clothes were really too young for her, and she really wore a great many, too many, rings. Her voice, too, was not quite what it should be——

But oh, there was something in her eyes—a lonely look, friendless and hopeless and desperate, and it called to me right across the aisle.

Lesson In Tolerance.

I made an excuse and went and talked with her, and before the day was done we were friends, and I am glad of it. I think her eyes weren't quite so desperate when she said good-by. And as for me, I learned a lesson in tolerance and human charity that I never would have learned if I hadn't started that friendship with the woman I couldn't afford to know.

Hurrah! I am glad I bought the little blue waist with the silver beads. When it is gone I'm going to buy another as near like it as I can.

Isn't that a desperate thing to do—with my own money—when I can't afford it?

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Cora Chittick of Dorchester left today on an extended trip to Montreal and eastern points.

Miss Gweno Williams and Rowland Williams, daughter and son of Bishop and Mrs. Williams, are home from Ridley and Havergal colleges respectively for the Easter holidays.

The Janey Canuck and Campbell Becher chapters, I.O.D.E., will give a dance in the new recreation hall at Tecumseh Barracks on Tuesday. A pleasant time is anticipated by the lads in khaki and their friends.

All arrangements have been completed for the most brilliant social affair of the season, the military ball to be given by the 7th Regiment Chapter and the Campbell Becher Chapter, I.O.D.E., on May 2, at the Winter Garden. The decorations will be patriotic, and flowers will be also used in profusion.

Mrs. Clarence Foreman is spending the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Harvey, 862 Talbot street. She is looking forward to the arrival home in the very near future of her husband, Rev. Clarence Foreman, who, until his enlistment with the A. M. C., was assistant rector of St. Paul's Cathedral. He has been in the chaplain service overseas.

Friends in London have received announcements of the marriage which took place recently in Kingston of Helen Shannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Shannon of that city, to Thomas C. Janes, who has returned from overseas service.

The bride, who is a niece of Brig.-Gen. Shannon, graduated last June from Miss Wescott's school, which she had been attending for three years. An exceptionally charming and attractive girl, she made numbers of friends in this city who will be interested to hear of the happy culmination of a war-time romance.

DORCHESTER W. M. S.

The W. M. S. of Dorchester held its annual Easter meeting in the Methodist Church, Mrs. W. B. Lane presiding. Mrs. Chown, from London, was present and gave a very fine address on "Tithing." Excellent papers were also read. After 4 o'clock the children of the mission band came in and a very excellent lunch was served.

HIGHGATE MOTHERS' MEETING.

A mothers' meeting under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. was held in the schoolroom of the Methodist Church, Highgate, and was well attended. The president, Mrs. M. Long, was in the chair, and Mrs. Perkins of Chatham was the special speaker. The music was furnished by the ladies' quartet, composed of Mrs. John R. Attridge, Mrs. C. McAskil, Mrs. S. Haining and Mrs. (Rev.) Hiles. A duet was also rendered by Mrs. (Rev.) Hiles and Mrs. (Rev.) Edwards. At the close of the meeting luncheon was served.

THORNDALE W. M. S.

The Women's Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. Wm. Williamson, when the annual election of officers was held. Mrs. Jas. H. Wheaton was re-elected president unanimously. The other officers elected were: Vice-president, Mrs. Osborne; recording secretary, Mrs. Jas. Angus; corresponding secretary, Miss Mossip; treasurer, Mrs. Stranger; superintendent of systematic giving, Mrs. Davis; superintendent of the mission band, Mrs. H. B. Mossip; superintendent of associate helpers, Mrs. Chester Hobbs; superintendent Light Bearers, Mrs. Van Horne, and organist, Miss Irwin. There are 34 members of the branch and six life members.

WHALEN W. M. S.

The annual meeting of the W. M. S. was held on Thursday, when the following officers were elected: President, Miss Mary Brooks; first vice, Mrs. John Hodgson; recording secretary, Mrs. Frank Squaire; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. Gunning; treasurer, Mrs. David Johnston; organist, Mrs. N. Ogden.

The annual convention of this district will be held at Centralia, and the branch meeting at Stratford in May.

SALEM W. I.

The April meeting of the Salem Women's Institute was held at Salem Church, with a good attendance. Mrs. S. McCallum of the Belmont W. I. was present, and gave a most interesting and graphic report of the provincial convention held in Toronto. The appreciation of the audience was expressed by a hearty vote of thanks. Miss G. McLellan gave a paper on "The Work of the O. A. C., Guelph," which was very instructive. The next meeting is to be held at the church and will be the annual meeting.

LOBO W. I.

The Women's Institute will hold its April meeting on the afternoon of the 16th inst., in the Masonic Hall, Lobo. Mrs. (Dr.) Wilson will address the meeting. Everyone welcome.

Who's Got the Butterfly?

Dear Miss Grey,—Inclosed please find copy of "Face on the Barroom Floor" for Auntie; also some crochet edgings for Bluebird. I would like to get the crochet yoke with butterflies in it, which someone offered a while ago, if they could send me a small piece done in thread or a printed picture of it, as I do not understand directions. I remain, A POOR SCHOLAR.

She's a Tenderfoot.

Dear Miss Grey,—Having noticed in your letters in the 'Tizer a request from Irish Lass No. 2 for a recipe for Seville orange marmalade, will send one which I have used several years and think very nice. Will you kindly send me that much sought-for stocking-foot pattern. I hope it has not many seams, as I am a tender foot. Will sign myself, ANOTHER OLD WOMAN OF SEVENTY-TWO.

Seville Orange Marmalade—Six large Seville oranges, cut in fine slices, add three quarts water; stand 24 hours; soak pips 24 hours; strain water off pips into your cut-up fruit; boil two hours slowly, add 5 pounds sugar; boil three-quarters of an hour or more if syrup looks too thin. Add juice of one lemon when taking off the fire. Seal tight.

Ans.—A pattern is sent you with pleasure. I don't know if it is too seamy or not, for tender feet; because (like the doctor who never found time to take medicine himself for curing other folks' ills), you see I never find time to try its merits personally! Thanks for the recipe.

Wants to Exchange.

Dear Miss Grey,—I saw in your page today where Bruce Farmerette was asking for two old recitations, "The Perfect Wife" and "The Elopement of Seventy-Five." If she gets them and will be so kind as to copy them off for me, I will send her a couple of good ones, or if Farmerette has any others to exchange please send them to Miss Grey as she has my address, and also yours, and I will send you some, or is there anyone else willing to exchange some, please let me know. Will someone give me some recipes for cooking mushrooms? UNION JACK.

The Pilgrim Fathers.

Dear Miss Grey,—I saw where someone was asking for Fair Charlotte, so have copied it for them. Could someone please send me the words of "The Pilgrim Fathers"? Yours as before.

MAITLAND FAIRY.

Here's a "Sinn Feiner."

Dear Miss Grey.—"Patrick Michael Kelly," if I had Henry Ford's money just now I would give it for your little home that you once described in your page; 'twas the very place I would love to have for my own. Now, "F. R.," no need to ask your nationality. You say the boys are bringing back thousands of beer-drinking wives with them. I like your impudence! What do you drink, whiskey? Are you a social uplifter, or did one of the boys chuck you overboard? SINN FEINER.

Worlds of good luck to you "Evangelist."

Yankee Over Here.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I am again; this time with my flannelette blanket for "Babe 28." I hope, "Babe," it is what you want.

Would anybody want to correspond with A YANKEE OVER HERE.

P.S.—Could some "deah" give me a recipe for spiced cup-cake?

Thank You, Ma'am.

Dear Miss Grey,—I see where a reader was asking how to clean a blue corduroy dress. If she puts it in a nice suds of warm water and soap, rubs lightly on the washboard, then rinses and dries quickly, it will look just like new. When dry, brush with a brush a little to set the nap up. I have washed my little girl's dress several times like this with good success. Yours,

EKFRID READER.

Some Help For Peg.

Dear Miss Grey,—I always read the Mail-Box letters and see where Peg O' My Heart wants some help with her sausage and peas and as I have never had any of either spoil, thought I might be able to help some. Always sterilize jars well. The sausage I can as soon as convenient. After it is made, say within two or three days. Just fry as for immediate use only not quite so hard, pack as much as possible in the sealers and pour on the grease that has fried out of them. Seal tight and invert the jars until the grease is cold and set away. There should be an inch or two of grease at the top of each jar. The peas I can the same day they are picked. Just shell and put in the stew-kettle, put on plenty of water and cook about fifteen minutes, have the jars warm and fill while the peas are hot making sure to have plenty of liquid in each jar. Seal tight and set in boiler of warm water (as not to break the jars), and let boil two hours. Set the boiler off until water cools. I generally invert jars for an hour or two before setting away to make sure none of them leak, though I always test jars with a spoon after to make sure they seal before using them, (I cover the bottom of the boiler with old jar rings to set the jars on instead of racks if you have no rack.)

BERYL.

P. S. If this letter is too long omit the pea canning until pea season, but it is a tried and never failing recipe. I do corn and green beans the same.

Copies Please.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am sending the recitation for only, I think "Miss Edith helps things along." Could I get "The Baggage Coach Ahead," and "The Face on the Barroom Floor," please.

RALEIGH MILKMAID.

Books On Crochet.

Dear Miss Grey,—I return here with the recitations as requested, and thank you very much for forwarding them to me, together with the directions for knitted tam. Also wish to thank Donta and Helpful for their kindness in sending them in. Hope I will be able to return the favors some time. See where several readers want directions for crocheting bags, tams, sweaters, etc. These books can be procured in any art store for 10 cents each. M. M.

Ans.—M. M. kindly sends me the titles of several books on crochet work. Any reader wishing same should send address and stamp.

A Beanpole's Thanks.

Dear Miss Grey,—I must write to tell the pageites how thankful I am for the silk patches they showered me with.

I see where Paddy is going to hunt some more for me, so, Paddy, please get my address from Miss Grey and mail your bits of silk to me without troubling dear Cynthia. I shall gladly pay the postage on all you send.

Dear me, I wish you all could read the quaint notes that came with the patches. Paddy sent me a piece of poetry in which she referred to me as being "long and lean," and then she begged my pardon for mentioning the "lean" part. However, I'm just a bit Irish, too, and can take the joke. Anyhow, I am lean, and very thankful I am about it, 'cause if I was anything else in these days of style I would be bothering the pageites for a formula to reduce my superfluous fat, so there, Paddy!

But that is not the trouble with me, dear pageites. I'm almost deaf so that I miss a lot of beautiful things in life. I see the spring birds, but never hear them, and never hear a sermon, though I'm really a good Presbyterian and attend church regularly, but only hear some of the singing, no solos or anthems can I hear. I cannot take in any concerts or entertainments of any sort, but, never mind, I'm not complaining about it, instead I am trying to get all the honest enjoyment in life I can, hence my craze for "patches."

Would it interest the readers to know that I patched the quilt in "log cabin" pattern, and made each block six inches square. Thanking all, I remain,

A BEANPOLE.

Notes.

Marah—an octogenarian — sends patches for Beanpole.

Margaret (Dresden)—Sorry but your letter, savors of advertising and therefore must not be printed.

Conctator—Sorry but I am unable to place your request for coupons before Mail-Box readers.

Wetona—Capitolan's name is sent you, also the song. March 16, 1906, was on a Friday, April 24, 1882 on a Monday.

Just another reader (Shedden)—Your address is sent to E. N. regarding mat patterns, and I hope she will write you. Thanks for the songs.

Rosalie (Milverton)—Thank you for the copy for Maple Bud.

Nildesperando—All you need do to obtain the foot pattern is to send me a three cent stamp and your address on an envelope.

B. M.—Sends crochet patterns for "Snowball," will the latter let me have a stamped envelope and address?

Lue—Would like to exchange crochet designs with Fern, and wants a yoke pattern with sleeves.

Lue—Sends thanks to Inwood and Watford for designs sent her.

Susie Jane—Wants a spider-web yoke design.

Blenheim Reader—Thank you very much for the twenty-one coupons, sent towards L. R's "bike."

Lambeth Lady and P. N. (city) are thanked for information supplied re obtaining hooked mat designs, asked for by E. N.

Tootsie (Woodstock)—would like to correspond with an eighteen-year old girl; will write first if desired.

Happy—Thanks very much for the parcel of clippings; I've been able to send out designs to quite a number of folks through your kindness. I think Beanpole has been fairly well supplied with patches.

SUGGESTIVE READINGS ON THE UNIFORM BIBLE LESSON FOR SUNDAY, APRIL 20, 1919.

ONE GOLDEN TEXT SUGGESTION.

By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.

Our Risen Lord. Easter Lesson. Matthew, xxviii., 1-10.

QUESTIONS FOR TODAY.

1. Verse 1—What time of the day, and on what day of the week, did the resurrection of Jesus occur?

2. Who first found out that Christ had risen?

3. Who were Mary Magdalene and the "other Mary," and who accompanied them?

4. Why were these two Marys and other women going to Christ's sepulchre?

Golden Text: He is risen, even as he said.—Matthew, xxviii., 6.

OUR FEARS ARE RARELY REALIZED.

When Jesus was crucified, in fact, when he was arrested, and before his mock trial commenced, practically all his apostles lost heart and were afraid that after all Jesus was not the Messiah; that their hopes were to be dispointed, and that Jesus, whom they had followed for three years, had failed. When they saw him hanging upon the cross, witnessed his death, and knew that his body had been buried in the rock-hewn tomb, that the great stone at its mouth had been sealed, the last vestige of hope they had vanished. Some of them went back to their old occupations, for with sad hearts they thought that Christ's mission had been a failure. They learned afterwards that their fears were only a manifestation of their unbelief and folly.

THE THREE FAVORITE CANADIAN CORSETS.

D. & A., Goddess, La Diva

The Dominion Corset Company, makers of these brands, have successfully shown Canada can compete with the world's best manufacturing skill and best business managements. Owned by Canadians. Employees Canadians.

A National Policy

MADE IN CANADA SHOULD BE THE SLOGAN.

CORSETS Made In Canada

Comparatively a few years ago all corsets sold in Canada were of French and English manufacture. Today corset-making in Canada is a big industry, providing employment for many thousands, and it is these wage earners that are building up our towns and cities. Let every Canadian woman do her duty by buying only Canadian-made Corsets.

NON RUSTABLE D & A CORSETS

Satisfactory Reflections

Again, this season, the new D & A Models are just right and give the perfect foundation for the latest styles in dress, and the Mirror tells a tale of satisfaction.

Moreover, owing to economical production in our immense model factory, the price of D & A corsets compared to others of equal quality is always lower,—often half price.

Sold by dealers who give best value to their customers.

'RED' GALLAGHER WINS BOUT FROM LISNER AT S. P. A. BOXING SHOW

Dempsey Makes Great Showing Before Toronto Fans With Sparring Partners.

TORONTO, April 13.—"Red" Gallagher defeated "Scotty" Lisner in their ten-round bout at the S. R. A. show in Massey Hall Saturday night. It was a slashing contest from beginning to end. Gallagher all but had Lisner out in the sixth round, but did not have enough punch left to put over the knockout. In most of the other rounds the bout was fairly even. The boys fought at 130 pounds.

"Young" Eber of Hamilton, with injured hand, administred an artistic beating to Charley Hyerst of Toronto, and Eddie Foster of Buffalo put a stop to "Irish" Kennedy's string of knockouts. The Buffalonian fought slowly and carefully and shook the rushing Kennedy from head to foot repeatedly with nicely-timed head and body blows.

Jack Dempsey's exhibition against John Lester Johnson and Dan Daley sparing partners, enthused the crowd which packed the big auditorium to the doors. Dempsey cut loose with a vengeance and all but knocked Daley out. Dempsey supported him against the ropes or he would have collapsed. The timekeepr cut the round short to save Daley. Dempsey made a most favorable impression.

NATIONAL BASEBALL COMMISSION TO GO

The Baltimore Federals Win Second Award From Organized Baseball.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 12.—Judgment for $80,000 in favor of the Baltimore Federal League Baseball Club in its suit for $900,000 damages against the American and National Leagues and certain officers of the defunct Federal League was returned late today by a jury in the District of Columbia Supreme Court. As the suit was brought under the Sherman anti-trust law the damages will be trebled, making the amount $240,000 if a final judgment is entered. An appeal will be taken by the American and National Leagues' executives.

COMMISSION TO GO.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Dissolution of the National baseball commission, the "supreme court" of organized baseball; absolute severance of relations with the National Association of Minor Leagues, and revision of the players' contracts eliminating the ten-days and reserve clauses will be the probable result of the verdict. The revolutionary measures to safeguard baseball from all future legal attacks were forecasted by Ban B. Johnson, president of the American League, upon his return from Washington tonight.

Dr. Creelman of Guelph Is Elected Head of D. L. B. A.

Annual Meeting Held at Toronto Saturday—British Bowlers Invited to Canada—C. O. Knowles Is Re-elected Secretary-Treasurer.

Toronto, Ont., April 14.—Important matters of interest to Bowling enthusiasts in Canada were discussed at the annual meeting of the Dominion Lawn Bowling Association here on Saturday. J. A. Lockie of Buffalo presided. A. A. Langford of London and Dr. English of Hamilton represented the western association. R. W. Morely and R. R. Farrow of Ottawa were present on behalf of the eastern association, while the Dominion tournament committee were represented by R. B. Rice and C. O. Knowles.

As usual there was considerable discussion over the conflict of dates for holding the five recognized bowling fixtures in Ontario, viz. the O. B. A. tournament the W. O. B. A. the International, the Eastern and the Dominion. It was finally decided that the secretaries of the various provincial or district associations be requested to bring before their annual meetings the advisability of allowing the Dominion association in which all are equally represented to arrange mutually satisfactory dates for the various tournaments. A committee consisting of Dr. English, R. R. Farrow, George Begg, R. B. Rice and J. A. Lockie was appointed to confer with the Dominion Bowling Tournament committee to discuss the future management of the tournament and the possibility of converting it into a championship event.

The advisability of again inviting the old country bowlers to visit Canada in 1920, was under discussion. It was finally decided to extend the invitation as usual to the International Bowling Association of Great Britain and at the same time to convey the intimation that if the British bowlers were not prepared to make the trip in 1920 the Canadian bowlers would undertake to send a team to Great Britain and receive the British bowlers at a more convenient date. The election of officers resulted as follows:

Hon. Pres. J. A. Lockie, Buffalo; President Dr. Creelman, Guelph; vice-president, R. R. Farrow, Ottawa; secretary-treasurer, C. O. Knowles, Toronto; committee: Dr. English, Hamilton; George Begg, Toronto.

MONTREAL CANADIENS RETURN FROM COAST

Hockey Players Receive Their Share of Gate Receipts.

Montreal, April 14.—"Newsy" Lalonde, captain and manager of the champion Canadiens hockey team and Couture, Berlanquette and Odie Cleghorn, have returned home after their bitter experiences in the Stanley Cup game at Seattle last month, Although the games paid well, there will be little left after hospital and doctors' bills have been paid. The players received about $500 each, including shares from two extra games, one played at Calgary and the other at Vancouver, from which the players got $210 each.

The games played at Seattle netted the players of each club $2,600 to divide. The Seattle share was divided evenly among ten players while the money going to the Canadiens was divided among nine players. Each club's manager made money, as the games gave average gate receipts of $4,400.

JESS WILLARD DEPOSITS A $10,000 GUARANTEE

NEW YORK, April 12.—Jess Willard, heavyweight champion, has deposited a forfeit fund of $10,000 to guarantee his appearance in the ring against Jack Dempsey in a championship bout on July 4. Thx Rickard, promoter, made this announcement on his arrival here today from the west. He said he would probably announce the site of the fight within the next ten days or two weeks.

'RED' GALLAGHER TO MEET 'SCOTTY' LISNER AT BIG BOXING SHOW

The main bout of the boxing show to be held in the armories Wednesday evening by the patriotic sportsmen's committee of the Honorably Discharged Soldiers' Association has been changed by Promoter I. Fox. "Young" Ebber of Hamilton was signed to meet Eddie Harling of Toronto, but Ebber injured his hand, and this bout was called off. "Red" Gallagher of Toronto and "Scotty" Lisner, also of that city, who boxed the main bout at the big show in Toronto Saturday night, at which Jack Dempsey appeared, will put on the main bout Wednesday evening. "Red" Gallagher was given a close decision over Lisner at the Queen City. These men will box ten rounds Wednesday.

"Red" Gallagher and "Scotty" Lisner are well known in Toronto, and have put on several first-class bouts. These two men met a few weeks ago and the bout ended in a draw.

The Burleigh brothers of Toronto will put on a four-round exhibition. These boys will appear under the supervision of Sergt.-Major Palmer, boxing instructor of Military District No. 2.

"Bulldog" Scott and Eddie Williams will appear in the semi-final bout. Both are bantamweights, and are expected to put up a great battle, as they are claiming the championship of Canada.

A preliminary bout between "Young" Crowley of Brantford and Mitchell will be staged.

Albert Lismore and Clarence Milton, two local boys, will go on for four rounds. This promises to be a fast affair.

George "Kid" Taylor of Hamilton, and formerly a member of No. 2 Construction Battalion, will take on McMullen of Welland. They will go four rounds.

"Speed" Mason and "Reg" Curtis will participate in a handicap wrestling match. Mason is to throw Curtis twice in fifteen minutes in order to win the match. Curtis is a returned soldier, having served with the 142nd Battalion, and is in good condition for the match.

Promoter Fox intends to give the London boxing spectators 32 rounds of first-class boxing, and also one wrestling match. This is the first show to be held in this city by the patriotic sportsmen's committee of the H.D.S.A.

BIG SOCCER MEETING FOR TOMORROW NIGHT

Enthusiasts Will Organize City League and Team For W. F. A.

There will be a meeting of soccer enthusiasts in the chamber of commerce rooms, Tecumseh House, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock to organize a city soccer league and to consider the advisability of entering a team in the W. F. A. All soccer enthusiasts are invited to attend.

INTERNATIONAL REGATTA TO OPEN ON APRIL 27

Paris, April 13.—All the entries for the international rowing regatta, which is to take place on the Seine on April 27, has been received. The first heat will bring together the crews of France, New Zealand, Portugal and Newfoundland. The second heat will have Australia, Lorrainian and American crews as the competitors. The final heat will be a struggle between the winning crews of the previous heats. Some disappointment is felt at the withdrawal of the English crew, for which no reason has been officially given.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION IS ORGANIZED BY G.T.R. MEN

STRATFORD, April 23.—The employees of the Grand Trunk have organized an athletic association with a large membership. A committee has been named to pick out leaders for different games, and also to investigate the possibility of entering teams in the city or provincial leagues.

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS AT ST. THOMAS FRIRDAY

ST. THOMAS, April 13.—Representatives from both the Michigan Central and Woodworth Rover Football Associations of this city will attend the annual meeting of the Western Ontario Football Association in Stratford on Good Friday. The local clubs are in good condition at the present time and already have held a number of practices. It is quite probable. The Advertiser is informed today, that the first football match of the season will be played here, weather permitting, between the Woodworth Rovers and the M. C. R. team at Pinafore Park on Good Friday.

There are now four football ttams in existence in the city. One of them with the G. W. V. A., the P. M. R. R., the M. C. R. R. and the Woodworth Rovers. All are ready for a match at any time.

TORONTO HOCKEY TEAM LOSES TO CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 12.—The Cleveland hockey club defeated the Canadian all-star team from Toronto 5 to 4 tonight, ending the hockey season here.

LONDON Y.M.C.A. GIRLS WIN FROM STRATFORD TEAM; SCORE 21 TO 7

Local Team Has Easy Victory Over Champions of Whyte Trophy Series.

STRATFORD, April 12.—London Y. W. C. A. team had little difficulty this evening in winning from the local collegiate girls, champions of the Whyte trophy series. The score was 21 to 7. At half-time London was leading 12 to 4. The visitors displayed splendid combination and took advantage of every break which came their way. On the other hand, the Stratford girls were away off on the shooting. Janet Allan, a former local girl, was a tower of strength for the visitors, and was responsible for eight of their points. Although she suffered a nasty cut in the lip in the second period, she stuck to the game. For Stratford the honors were quite evenly divided. The teams follow:

Stratford—Mary Miller and Isabel Heath, defence; Enid Robertson, centre; Audrey Hughson and Martha Wilhelm, forwards; Valerie Todd and Evelyn Johnston, spares.

London—H. Graves and C. Blackwell, defence; P. Blackwell, centre; J. Allan and K. McEvoy, forwards; Jessie Bell and M. Partridge, spares.

Referee—Bell, of Stratford.

COURT ECLIPSE WINS CUP IN CARPETBALL LEAGUE

Court Eclipse, C.O.F., won the championship of the City Fraternal Carpetball League and the C. M. R. Graham trophy when they defeated the Forest City No. 1, W. O. W. by the score of 62 to 61 in the finals Saturday evening. A large crowd of spectators turned out to witness the match. The trophy will be presented to the winners at a euchre party and dance to be held in Hyman Hall on Thursday evening.

JOHNNY KILBANE GIVEN DECISION OVER LAWLOR

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 12.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion of the world, won the newspaper decision over Jack Lawlor of Omaha, Neb., in a fast ten-round bout here tonight. Kilbane led the fighting, but some observers said that Lawlor landed more blows than the champion.

NEW RECORDS ARE SET AT CHICAGO MEETING

Campbell and Ray Make New Records at Last Night of A. U. U. Meet.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Tom Campbell, University of Chicago freshman, set a ht stt a new world's indoor mark for new world's record for the six-hundredyard run tonight at the central A. A. U. championships, running the distance in 1:11 1-5. The old mark of 1:13 2-5 was held by Tom Halpin of the Irish-American A. C. of New York.

Joie Ray Illinois A. C., broke another C. A. A. U. record tonight when he reduced his own time to 9:31 2-5 for two miles to 9:16 1-5. The first night he set a new world's indoor mark for the mile and the second night broke the Central A. A. record for the half mile. The meet closed tonight.

THERE IS DANGER IN TENDER GUMS

To preserve healthy teeth the ordinary tooth-paste is futile. You must first care for the gums, on which tooth health depends.

How many people think of this? Yet four out of five people over forty suffer from gum-decay, or Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease).

At first the gums become tender, though actual gum-shrinkage is imperceptible. But in time receding gums will surely loosen your teeth, and then only a dentist can save them. The tender, bleeding gums of Pyorrhea also act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's (For the Gums) prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. This means that it prevents gum-shrinkage, gum-tenderness, gum-bleeding. So, automatically, Forhan's prevents tooth loosening.

Brush your teeth with it. It scientifically cleans the teeth—keeps them white and clean.

If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for treatment.

BIG REVIVAL OF SPORTS STARTED AT OWEN SOUND

OWEN SOUND, April 13.—Football, baseball and lacrosse will be renewed here this year, and preliminary steps have been taken already for the summer's sport. The prospects for football are particularly bright, and a number of teams are intending to join the City League. Baseball also will be played considerably, and it is intended to enter a lacrosse team in the Provincial League.

Mr. W. Hancock has been appointed as delegate to the C. A. L. meeting in Toronto Friday. The town council has promised to fix up the athletic grounds for use this summer.

INTER-LAKE REGATTA TO BE HELD JULY 13 TO 20

DETROIT, Mich., April 13.—July 13 to 20 were selected as the dates for this year's inter-lake yachting association regatta at a meeting attended by over 200 yachtsmen tonight. The regatta will be held at Put-in-Bay. Racing will open with the squadron sail and power boat and sailing events.

SARNIA CITY FOOTBALL LEAGUE IS ORGANIZED

SARNIA, April 13.—The City Soccer Football League was organized last night, with the following officers elected: President, Harry Turnbull; vice-president, J. Pirrie; secretary, C. Birkinshire; treasurer, C. Morris.

SIMCOE BASEBALL CLUB ORGANIZED

Simcoe Wants to Form a League With Other Nearby Towns.

SIMCOE, April 13.—The Simcoe Baseball Club was organized at a meeting held in the council chambers here on Friday evening. The prospects are very bright for a fast team. Simcoe is anxious to form a league with nearby towns, Aylmer, Tillsonburg, Ingersoll, Delhi or any other town.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

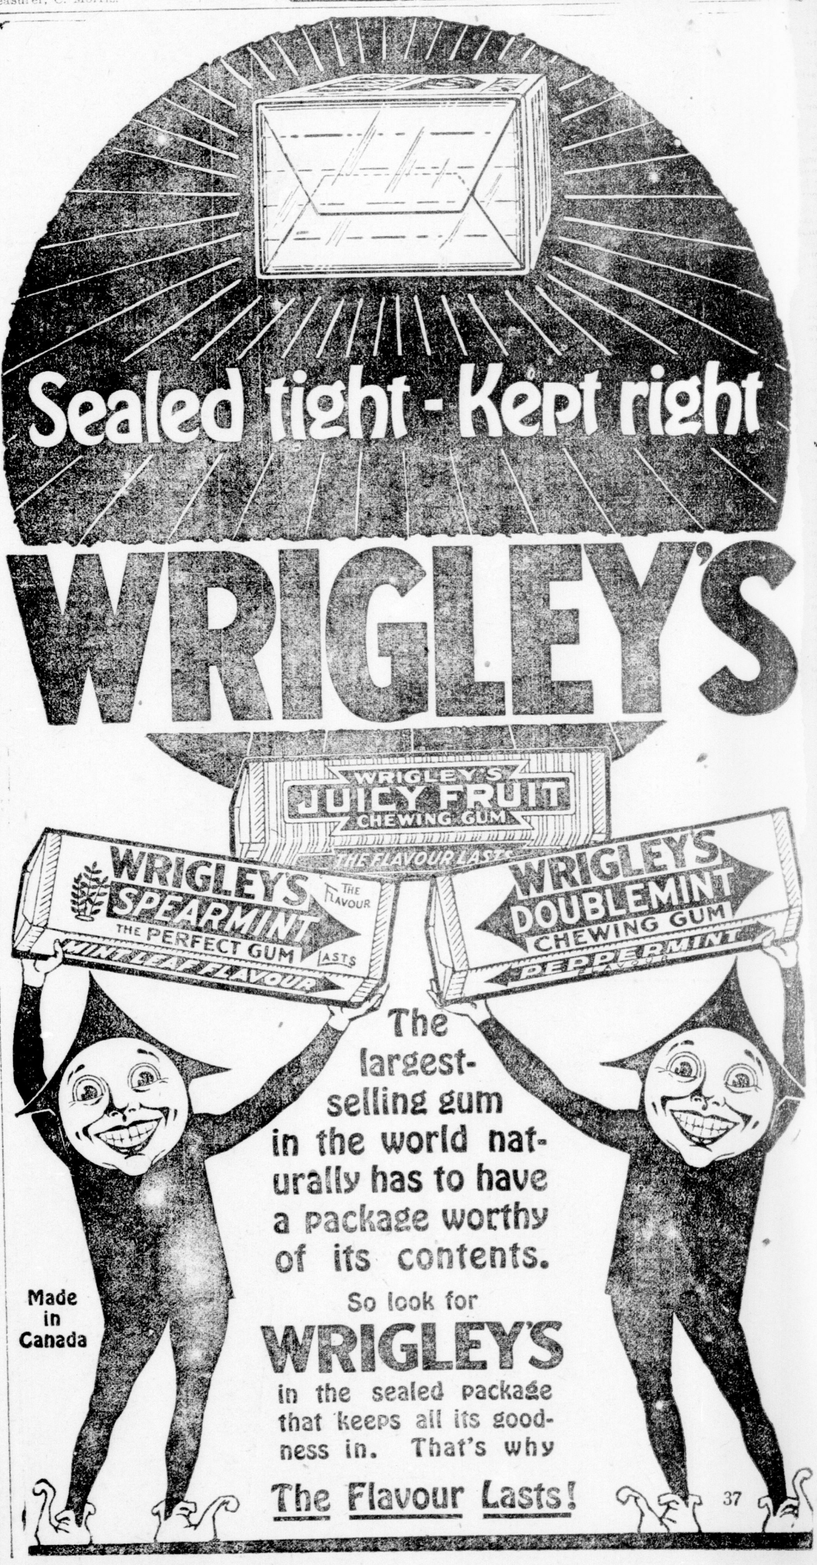

Honorary presidents, A. C. Pratt, M.P.P., and Col. Atkinson, M.P.P.; first vice-president, Dr. McGuire; second vice-president, Chas. Innes; manager, Robt. Craig; secretary-treasurer, Hughie Small; executive committee, E. F. Carter, I. W. Fare, T. E. Langford and W. M. McKay.

INGERSOLL GUN CLUB TO BE REORGANIZED

INGERSOLL, April 13.—Trapshooting is being enthusiastically promoted by a number of the former members of the Ingersoll Gun Club, and it is expected a meeting for the purpose of organizing will be held in the near future. The club has been defunct for some time, but it could still muster a number of its former members. Now that the war is over the feeling is growing that an effort should be made to place it on as strong a basis as formerly. The matter of obtaining central grounds will also be taken up.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR
It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Luetre to Hair
You can turn grey, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.
Those whose hair is turning grey or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two Applications the grey hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.
This is the age of youth. Grey-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

How You May Make Rough Hands Smooth and White

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG.
A. B., M. A., M. D., (Johns Hopkins University.)

DR. HIRSHBERG

The "white wonder of Juliet's hands" can be retained by many women, if they will take the trouble to prevent roughness. One of the various harmless, simple combinations, which will safeguard your hands from cracks, crevices, splits, roughness, itching and chafing is the following:

First cleanse the hands thoroughly with a castile soap lather and hot water. Rinse them well with the coldest water and then massage them with a mixture made of these ingredients:

Five grains of borax
Ten grains of sodium sulphite
Twenty drops of glycerine
One ounce of rosewater

The reason for chapped, red hands is because they are too frequently immersed in water or the skin is too dry. For excessively dry hands camphor in one of its many forms is an excellent preventive or cure. For a simple case rub in some camphor ointment, which is made by mixing together the following:

Ten grains of camphor
Ten drops of glycerine
One ounce of lard

After washing, or just before retiring, one may, if preferred, rub the following into the hands, permitting it to remain on during the night:

Two drams of camphor
Five drams of solid paraffin
One ounce of soft, white paraffin

Curing Chronic Redness.

Some housekeepers who do all their own work seem to have a tendency to chronic redness of the hands. This can be cured eventually if a special lotion is put in the hands each time after they are immersed in water. A simple but effective lotion is made by mixing two drams of glycerine with one ounce of rosewater. If the hands smart a little after this application dilute the mixture with a little water.

For hands that swell or are excessively tender and sensitive the following mixture can be used:

Two drams of glycerite of borax
Six drams of rosewater

The housekeeper who wishes to keep her hands soft and immaculate should stick to some such rules as these:

When your hands are chapped try to keep them out of water as much as possible.

Other Valuable Aids.

When your hands are excessively soiled don't scrub them with pumice or rough soap. Use a simple but effective cleaner like lemon soap. This can be made by shredding three ounces of soap into one ounce of lemon juice and heating slowly.

Always be sure to dry the hands thoroughly after they have been put in water.

As often as possible cover the hands with some good softening cream that will whiten the skin. An excellent cream for this purpose is made as follows:

Two and one-half drams of watery wool fat
Two and one-half drams of soft paraffin
Glycerite of starch
Add enough of the starch to make one ounce of the mixture. This is a cleansing, softening cream that will heal rough or chapped skin and improve its beauty.

MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND
ADELE GARRISON'S NEW PHASE OF
REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

How Madge Won Dicky To Visit the Stockbridges.

I do not know that ever in my life I have had so gratifying a sensation of purely malicious glee as came to me with the realization of the opportunity which the invitation to Rita Brown's costume party had given me. For a moment the unexpectedness of the thing dazed me, then I marshaled my scattered faculties, planned my response to Dicky's tentative query, the while I sternly repressed a desire to laugh.

Luckily we were alone in the library, my father having gone to his room to read in bed—a habit of years—while my mother-in-law had gone to bed early with a headache. So there were no witnesses to my carefully-staged scene—which, indeed, I couldn't have given otherwise.

I leaned back in my chair, putting my hands behind my head, and crossed my feet, carefully creating an impression of indolent indifference. Then, looking at Dicky coolly, I spoke drawlingly.

"Don't trouble yourself about my costume. As there is no possible chance of my going to the party there will be no necessity of choosing a gown."

Dicky reddened angrily.

Madge "Turns About."

"What do you mean?" he asked sharply. "Of course, you're going!"

I sprang to my feet, turned upon him with as good an imitation of his manner on receiving the Stockbridge invitation as I could muster.

"What!" I exclaimed. "Go to the house of a woman I never met and strut around like some peroxided actorine, spieling to a lot of smirking, short-haired Greenwich villagers? Nothing-doing. You're crazy, Dick! Better go and have your head examined."

I was watching him carefully as I spoke, for my husband is a man of such unexpected moods that I had no idea whether my crude imitation of his own speech would arouse anger or laughter within him. I wasn't long left in doubt, however. At my first words he stared at me in blank amazement. Then the red flush in his cheeks faded, and as I finished I was looking into a face devoid of color, livid with anger.

"I suppose this is your woozy idea of a brilliant come-back at me for balking at that backwoods tea party you were so keen on," he said icily. "But you can take it from me it's in blasted poor taste. Why, I'll wager a fiver that there are dozens of women with just as brilliant social opportunities as those afforded by the Stockbridges"—his tone relegated the principal, his wife and me to the hinterland of social exile—"who would give their eye teeth to be invited to this stunt of Rita Brown's."

"I Didn't Mean—"

I set my teeth with the determination not to let him see my cry, and waited until I could control my voice before answering.

"No doubt you're right," I said indifferently at last, "but I will make you a counter-wager that the majority of the married women who attend that party will do so at the compulsion of their husbands, not of their own free will."

I left the room as I finished speaking, with the best appearance of haughty deliberation I could manage, although I longed to rush wildly away. But I was determined not to let Dicky guess the humiliated fury that was consuming me, even though the explosive oath which echoed through the room as I left it told me that my husband was not so successful in concealing his feelings.

It seemed miles to the shelter of my own room, and when at last I reached it I gave way for a little time to the tears which had threatened me below stairs. I tried to make myself believe that my anger and grief were caused wholly by Dicky's reception of my imitation of him, but I was too honest wholly to conceal from myself that my deepest humiliation lay in my consciousness of having forgotten the primary rules of good breeding in the parting insinuation I had thrown at Dicky.

There was a stabbing hurt, too, in the knowledge that these were the first bitterly angry words Dicky and I had had since his home-coming. The difference we had had over my school work had been a dignified sort of thing, one adjusted without temper. But this fish-wife, cave-man row humiliated me with its futility and cheapness, tortured me with the fear that our new life together which had seemed so rosy with promise would be marred as of old with ugly flashes of strife.

A low embarrassed laugh sounded behind me. As I tried to rise, with the sudden consciousness that I had forgotten to lock my door when I entered the room, my husband's arms went round me, and I felt my face lifted to his.

"You win, hands down, old girl!" he said with an amused chuckle, and a sublime indifference to his anger of a few minutes before. "I got you, all right, if it did take me a minute or two to get over the grouch. And I'll go to dear old Bayview with my hair in a braid and my ears pinned back if you'll call it quits."

"I didn't mean a thing I said, Dicky," I murmured happily to the tip of his left ear.

THIS TOP COAT FEATURES THE NEW CORD EMBROIDERY.

We are accustomed to infinite variety in coats. This model gives us something decidedly new in its cord embroidery.

The coat is made of bluish grey velour de laine and is embroidered in Joffre and navy blue cords, giving a color scheme that is delightfully sympathetic in contrast. Loops of blue silk cord may be fastened at one side over silver buttons. An interesting feature of the embroidery is its repetition on both sides of the front, making the coat look as well open as closed.

The wide cuffs are faced with Joffre blue, and embroidery in these two shades of blue appears as a border. The belt which holds the fullness of this graceful garment is made of grey suede, strapped with bands of blue suede. Two silver buckles fasten it.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

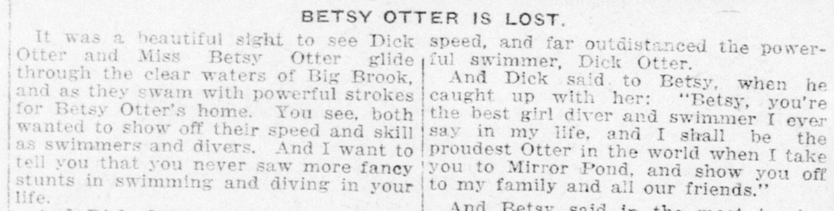

By Genevieve Kemble

TUESDAY, APRIL 15.

An eventful day, with probably important or radical change is denoted by this day's sidereal positions. While certain indications seem fortuitous, yet a malignant Mars as well as the luminaries in opposition point to failure and defend unless wisdom, forethought and cool conduct are permitted to dominate in trying situations. The turbulence and quick temper of Mars may thwart the strongest of benefic aspects. Avoid quarrels, disputes and litigation, and those in employment should especially be on guard. While travel and abrupt change are probable, they should be undertaken after much deliberation lest the Mars influence, trending toward the headlong and the headstrong, negative the splendid Uranian and Saturnian auspices, which encourage adventure and enterprise.

Those whose birthday it is may have a successful and prosperous year provided they use cool and conservative methods. A child born on this day will be generous, popular, talented, original, unsettled and perhaps unconventional.

BETSY OTTER IS LOST.

It was a beautiful sight to see Dick Otter and Miss Betsy Otter glide through the clear waters of Big Brook, and as they swam with powerful strokes for Betsy Otter's home. You see, both wanted to show off their speed and skill as swimmers and divers. And I want to tell you that you never saw more fancy stunts in swimming and diving in your life.

And Dick Otter said: "Betsy, please show me how you do that Australian-Crawl stroke with your face in the water; and how in the world do you do that hand-over-hand stroke so fast?" But Betsy Otter never spoke a word, but just gave a sudden burst of speed, and far outdistanced the powerful swimmer, Dick Otter.

And Dick said to Betsy, when he caught up with her: "Betsy, you're the best girl diver and swimmer I ever say in my life, and I shall be the proudest Otter in the world when I take you to Mirror Pond, and show you off to my family and all our friends."

And Betsy said in the most teasing way: "Dick Otter, don't be too sure of yourself, for I haven't said yet that I would go with you to Mirror Pond. I don't know you very well yet. I don't know yet what kind of a temper you have, and whether you are too lazy to be a good fisherman, and to build me a good home."

And then you would have laughed to have seen poor Dick's sad face; and to have heard him make Betsy all kinds of promises; and, I'm sorry to say, Dick praised himself wonderfully, and you would have thought he was the most remarkable Otter in all the world, if you could have heard him talk. You see, he was so anxious to get Betsy for his Mate that he boasted too much.

Soon they both swam out of Big Brook into a big Pond; and Betsy said: "Come on, Dick Otter, now let's swim as fast as we can to my home on the other side of the Big Pond," and Betsy kicked up her heels, and dived and swam under water, and made so many quick curves and turns around little islands that Dick lost sight of Betsy. He swam and swam, and called and called; but Betsy had disappeared entirely. He hunted in vain for Betsy until it was dark, and then in despair gave her up for lost. And poor, sad Dick had to find an old burrow and spend the night alone. He dreamed of his home and the lost Betsy.

He Hunted in Vain for Betsy Until It Was Dark.

Tomorrow—Dick Otter Visits Betsy Otter's Home.

Men of Backbone Needed To Deal With Church Affairs

Rev. G. A. Leichliter Addresses Special Meeting for Men.

"Ever and again in the rush of this busy age, we hear coming to us, over and over, the demand for men," declared Rev. G. A. Leichliter, addressing a men's mass meeting at Adelaide Street Baptist Church Sunday afternoon on "When a Man's a Man." "That fellow who has a string of spaghetti where his backbone ought to be is not worth much," he declared. "Those men who would be deaf to the sound of dishonest money, the rustle of unholy skirts, and who would stand on a principle, were the men who would stand up for Jesus Christ despite the laughter of fools. "He who waits for the job to be marked out for him will die with the job unfinished."

Politics, he said, would go to the devil fast enough if there were Christian men in it, but it would go faster if these men would not take a hand in it.

"The business hours of the twentieth century businessmen are never ended," he remarked. "The whistle never blows." Edison only slept six hours per day.

Work For Real Men.

Some people were of the opinion that the church was a spineless institution for old maids and children only. "You'll find as big a job as you want in the church of Jesus Christ," said the speaker. Business of today wanted men of rawhide constitutions and with galvanized frames. The church wanted the same.

There were several things that constituted a man. One of these was honesty. It was not measured in breadth or depth. "Atheism," declared the speaker, "is the biggest lie on the face of the earth. "A man doesn't need to stand out blatantly and tell an untruth to be dishonest. We'll find that honesty is not a marketable commodity.

"A loafer or a squanderer is as useless as a carbuncle on the back of your neck. The loafer was of the opinion that the world owed him a living. If it did, he was too lazy to go out and collect the debt," remarked Mr. Leichliter. "The day is God's until you use it."

Places the Blame.

At the door of the persons seeking personal gain was to be laid the blame for panics, the decadence of the church, and other such troubles. It was proven every day. Retrogression came because standard was lowered.

This continent was the greatest in the world. It was bounded on the north by the Aurora Borealis, on the east by the rising sun, on the south by everlasting summer, and on the west by eternity. The speaker asked if Canadians were living their parts as stewards of this continent.

"The man who lives in idleness was born out of season," he declared. "That man should have been born in the days of ox carts and stage coaches, not at this time when an express train goes 75 miles an hour, when an aeroplane makes almost incredible speed, when we get the news of the world on the breakfast table, and speak with telephonic tongues."

Truthfulness was the same thing as honesty, only it had more arms and longer ones.

There were three kinds of lies, namely: white lies, black lies, and the kind of lies that makes one perfume one's breath so that people could not detect the smell of liquor.

The blood of Jesus Christ was better than anything as a cure. "Jesus Christ," he asserted, "is proof against the thing you want to get rid of."

It was said by the speaker that ten years ago, while in West Pennsylvania, he was set free, and that since, although it might be hard to believe, his lips had not been defiled and an oath had not come from them.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

Live hogs may drop at this week's shipment, but it depends on the quotations from Tuesday's Toronto market.

Dressed hogs are quoted at $25 50@$26 50 per cwt. There is no great demand for them while the weather remains mild.

Hay is scarce, and the price ranges from $19@22 per ton.

Straw is also scarce, but there has been no change in the price.

Oats are quoted at $2 05@2 08 per cwt.

Dairy butter is selling at 57@60c per lb wholesale, and 61@64c retail; creamery butter is quoted at 61@62c per lb wholesale, and 65@67c retail.

Eggs are quoted at 41@42c per dozen wholesale, and 45c retail.

All other products remain firm.

LIVE STOCK.

Toronto, April 14.—Cattle trade was slow at the Union stockyards this morning, with prices for butcher cattle ruling considerably lower. Calves were decidedly easier, while lambs dropped a little from last week. Hogs displayed a weaker tendency. Receipts, 2,800 cattle, 789 calves, 4,662 hogs and 196 sheep. Quotations:

Cattle—Exporters, choice, per cwt, $14 50@15 50; do, medium, $13@14 25; do, bulls, $10 50@12; butchers, choice, $10 75@12 75; do, medium, $9 50@10 75; do, common, $9@9 50; do, cows, choice, $11@13; do, medium, $10@11; do, canners, $5@6; do, bulls, $9 50@10 50; feeding steers, $11@13; stockers, choice, $9@10; do, light, $8@9; milkers, choice, each, $90@140; springers, choice, each, $100@150; calves, $16@17.

Sheep—Ewes, cwt, $12 50@15; bucks and culls, $6@12 50; lambs, $19@21.

Hogs—Fed and watered, cwt, $21; f. o. b., $20 50.

Montreal, April 14.—The offerings of live stock at the different cattle markets here, while still on the right side, are a little heavier this week than has been the case for some time. Today there were on the market 500 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 825 hogs and 1,050 calves.

The Easter trade being practically over, the demand is not so keen for cattle lines. There are large numbers of calves arriving, and they are fetching good prices. The market for hogs, which was doomed to be lower, according to packers' talk last week, is holding remarkably, and choice selects are selling at $21@21 25 per 100 lbs. The demand is very keen, owing to the export possibility of bacon. Quotations:

Choice steers, $14 50@15 50; good, $13 @14 50; medium, $12@13 50; common, $10 50@11 50; choice butcher bulls, $11@12; good, $10@10 50; medium, $7@10; choice butcher cows, $11 25@12; good, $10@11; medium, $7 50@9 50; milk-fed calves, $7@15; sheep, $11 50@12 50; lambs, $12@14 50.

WALL STREET.

New York, April 14—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Much of the strength shown by stocks at the opening of today's session was attributed to the publication of the terms of the Victory Loan. Gains of 1 to 3 points were scored by investment rails, United States Steel, American International, leading oils, United States Rubber, Keystone Tire, Associated Drygoods, Corn Products, United States Food Products and Wilson Packing. Some of these advances were reduced before the end of the first half hour on the heaviness of St. Paul preferred and Sumatra Tobacco.

Mock Parliament Held by the Current Topics Club

Annual Meeting and Banquet An Enjoyable Affair.

The third annual meeting and election of officers of the Current Topic Club of this city took the form of a dinner and "Mock Parliament" in the Indian room of the Tecumseh House on Saturday evening.

After full justice had been done to the refreshments, the president of the club, Professor James H. Bowman, opened the proceedings by calling for nominations for election of officers. In doing so, Mr. Bowman took the opportunity to thank the Current Topic Club for the loyal support given him during the season just ended.

Mr. Morris, President.

By a unanimous vote, J. Parnell Morris was elected as the new president, with John W. Cahill as secretary-treasurer. Mr. Morris assured the members of his desire to make the Current Topic Club a further success during the meetings next fall and winter, and asked for the hearty co-operation of the club members.

The honorary past presidents of this local organization are: D. C. McNaughton, Robert Greene and Professor Bowman.

The evening's entertainment consisted of a "Mock Parliament" and proved to be most successful and timely. It was taken part in by club members, their wives or lady friends, the leader of the "Loyalists" being "Right. Hon. Sir" D. C. McNaughton, and of the "Radicals," "Sir" James Bowman.

The speech from the throne was read by the governor-general, Sir Geo. F. Copeland, while Parnell Morris performed the duties of speaker.

Arthur Beal moved the address from the throne, while Mrs. Parnell Morris seconded. Mrs. Geo. F. Copeland moved the second reading, seconded by Mr. A. E. Cowley.

Brilliancy and originality marked the passage of many interesting bills, but not before they had met with a storm of rebuff from the Opposition. Many interruptions were the order of the evening and altogether a delightful time was spent.

PORT COLBORNE, April 13.—The steamer Sir Trevor Dawson left here last night for Lorain, Ohio. The others of the winter fleet will get away this week. The Welland Canal will open on Wednesday, April 16.

Safety in Baldwin

GREATER CERTAINTY in gold mining has kept step with the thorough and careful work of the Ontario Bureau of Mines during the past twenty-five years. The former era of haphazard methods, with their attendant failures and losses, has passed away forever. Thanks in no small degree to the painstaking efforts of the trained geologists employed by the governments, both Federal and Provincial, gold mining now ranks in safety with any industrial undertaking. It is especially safe on the BALDWIN. The shaft is now down 200 feet, and the period of uncertainty is passed. The formation has been proved to be identical with that already opened up on the important mines of the camp. We ask you to join us in the systematic development of this great property.

HORSES AND CATTLE MAKE GOOD SHOWING AT CLINTON FAIR

CLINTON, April 13.—Today's display of horses at the Clinton Central Spring Fair was up to the pre-war standard and in the opinion of the judges and officers, the horses shown were of unusual quality.

The numbers, too, were almost up to banner years, all classes being well contested.

A special feature of the show is the annual banquet, which is always appreciated and brings together the businessmen and agriculturists.

The officers were fortunate in securing for this year's banquet Commissioner C. F. Bailey of Toronto, who gave an excellent account of his trip to the old land in search of pointers on agriculture, especially as it related to the establishing of soldiers on the farms of Canada.

The following is the list of prize-winners:

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO WANTS TO HONOR CURRIE

Toronto, April 13.—Sir Arthur Currie has been offered an honorary degree by the University of Toronto, it is stated, though not officially. The university senate has granted a number of honorary degrees to prominent Canadians at the next convocation, but no announcements as to whom have been made pending replies from those thus to be honored.

HOW WEAK WOMEN ARE MADE STRONG

Mrs. Westmoreland Tells in the Following Letter.

Harrison, N. Y.—"When my first child was born I did not know about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had a very hard time. I read in the newspaper about the Vegetable Compound and when my second child came I took it and was well during the whole time, and childbirth was a hundred times easier. Ever since then I have used it for any weakness and would not be without it for the world. I do all my work and am strong and healthy. I am nursing my baby, and I still take the Vegetable Compound as it keeps a woman in good health. You may publish my testimonial for the good of other women, if you choose to do so."—Mrs. C. WESTMORELAND, Harrison, N.Y.

Women who suffer from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, headaches and nervousness should lose no time in giving this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial, and for special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

How To Choose a Husband

It is first necessary that he should show his proficiency in his choice of a diamond. If he buys a perfect diamond, you know then he has good taste, and if he buys from My Jeweler, John A. Nash, better still, as he only sells perfect diamonds that have that winning way. His store is 206 Dundas street, "where you will eventuaally buy." b

BUNIONS
Relieved by
Dr. Scholl's
Bunion Reducer Shield
This appliance has a peculiar concave shape purposely so formed to fit snugly over joint and eliminate friction and pressure from footwear, and at the same time also prevents the enlarged joint from forcing shoe out of shape.
Is superior to old-fashioned leather and felt protectors, as it is made from antiseptic rubber, and being worn right on bunion inside hosiery it excludes air, forms and retains a moisture pocket which keeps the joint soft and pliable, removes that hard skin or callous that so often accompanies and increases the irritability of the enlargement, also reduces inflamed condition.
Made in three sizes, right and left foot. Price 50c each, $1.00 per pair.

"THE UNPARDONABLE SIN," A FILM STORY OF LOVE AND ADVENTURE, AT THE MAJESTIC ALL THIS WEEK

Blanche Sweet, the Well-Known Actress, Appears in Leading Role in Super-Production Showing at the Popular Theatre—Big Augmented Orchestra Furnishes Special Musical Effects.

That the "Unpardonable Sin," the big Harry Garson photoplay, will attract capacity audiences to the Majestic next week, is evidenced by the large advance sale of tickets at the Majestic. Thousands witnessed this wonderful film production when it was shown in Detroit. People stood in line for hours in an effort to secure tickets. At the Allen Theatre in Toronto during the past week the same conditions prevailed. In fact, it was found necessary time and again to cease selling tickets.

Not a little has been written of the care with which modern photoplay productions are made. When one sees reproduced before him or her on the screen a series of incidents which combine to tell a dramatic story it is easy enough to forget the myriads of little things which the producer and his staff have had to think of in order that the representation may be true to life. Quite naturally the interest centres in what the principal characters in the story are doing, and as long as there is nothing in the picture atmosphere to jar this mass of detail is forgotten, but let some little apparently unimportant fitting be something other than what it should be and whole effect is destroyed.

"The manner in which Harry Garson's "The Unpardonable Sin," starring Blanche Sweet, under the personal direction of Marshall Neilan, was produced is in print along the lines which have just been suggested.

A Thrilling Story.

The big photoplay will be easily identified as a screen adaptation of the powerful Rupert Hughes novel by the same name, which created such a furore some months ago when it was published, first in serial form in the Red Book and later as a complete book from the presses of Harper & Bros. Mr. Garson was impressed with the picture possibilities of the story, and secured the photoplay rights upon the payment of a price which will stand as a record for a long time. The preparation of the scenario by one of the ablest writers in the motion picture industry required a number of weeks—and then came a lapse of fully two months, during which time Director Neilan and his research assistants laid out in minute detail the plans for actual production.

The story told is a thrilling one of love and adventure, with locations that embrace a little town in the middle west section of the United States, Washington, D. C., one or two or the large cities in Belgium, some of the rural sections of Belgium, a couple of important cities in Germany, typical military communities occupied by the German army, and, finally, New York City.

BLANCHE SWEET, star in "The Unpardonable Sin," showing at the Majestic Theatre all this week.

TROOPS OFF THE SS. LAPLAND GOT HOME ON SUNDAY

Seventy-One Men and Four Officers Came In Yesterday Noon.

CAPT. CANTIN IN CHARGE

Were All From Rhyl Camp, But Sojourn There Was Short.

Seventy-one men and three officers from the steamer Lapland reached London yesterday on the regular C. P. R. train due at the down-stown station at 12:10 p.m. Two cars containing the soldiers were cut out at Quebec street, where the men detrained and marched to dispersal station K. The band of the C. G. R. was on hand to welcome them, and to head the parade to Tecumseh Barracks, and a considerable number of relatives and friends of the men met them at the station and went with them to the barracks.

The first man of the party was through the dispersal station within just nine minutes from the time that he stepped from the train. The remainder were dispersed in 25 minutes, which works out at slightly more than twenty seconds a man. By 1 o'clock the whole party had been dispersed, fed, and started on the way down-town in the motor trucks provided by the assistant director of supply and transportation.

The men had had nothing to eat since breakfast, and with few exceptions they responded with alacrity to an invitation to adjourn to the canteen, where the Red Cross had provided sandwiches, apple pie and ice cream and cigars, and where the indefatigable lady workers of that organization were waiting to serve them. Formerly the soldiers' aid commission provided the cigars, but for some reason discontinued them, and the Red Cross has now undertaken to and does provide them.

The party was in charge of Capt. J. N. Cantin, who acted as train conducting officer during the journey from Halifax. He was formerly adjutant of the military school of instruction at the local armories, but relinquished that appointment to accept a lieutenancy in the 63rd allttery, of which the greater part of the personnel, including Capt. Cantin, went overseas last fall as part of the 2nd Tank Battalion.

A large proportion of the men went overseas last year, and saw service in France during the tremendous fighting which characterized the final weeks of the war. Many of them had been wounded. All the members of the party except the officers were at Rhyl, but most of them only spent about a week there. One exception, a man whose home is in the United States, was at the North Wales camp for three months. The delay was due to the fact that his documents had been mislaid. He said he knew little about the riot, and had learned more of it from newspaper reports than from personal observation.

The voyage of the Lapland was described as a pleasant one, and the men said everything on board was quite satisfactory. They also paid a special tribute of praise and appreciation to the members of the train conducting staff.

The London men in the party were: Sergt. W. S. Taylor, 453 Princess avenue; Pte. C. Evans, 630 Wellington street; Pte. T. Hazell, 304½ Dundas street; Pte. A. Rake, 69 Wreay street; Corp. J. Sullivan, 183 Central avenue; Pte. W. G. Wilson, 546 English street.

Showing at the Patricia Theatre today, Tuesday and Wednesday. William Farnum, the great actor, appears in the role of Jean Valjean, the principal character in Victor Hugo's immortal story, now picturized in nine reels. In addition to this feature, Luba, Mara and Loff Trio present a high-class singing and dancing act.

K. of C. Hut Did Wonderful Service For Returned Men

Systematically and, what's more important, to the satisfaction of the men themselves, the officers at the K. of C. Catholic Army Hut administered to the every need of 227 returned men who arrived in the city Friday night.

Representatives from the hut met the men at the station and at the dispersal station. The men were taken in C. A. S. C. autos to the hut, where hot meals were served to all. Every man was allowed to take a bath, after which sleeping accommodation, although it was taxed to the limit, was provided for them.

Without ceasing the staff worked from midnight until 5 o'clock Saturday morning. One man was busy keeping a supply of hot water on hand.

A large number of the men went down town Saturday and bought suits of "civies," and returned to the hut to make the change. There was not a man who did not speak highly of the treatment he received.

More than $5,500 was deposited in the safe by the men for safe keeping. They were not charged a cent for anything they received.

Free Dental Service For Veterans Is Appreciated

Many Take Advantage of Opportunity To Have Teeth Attended.

A phase of the free treatment of returned soldiers, of which a very great many veterans are taking advantage, is that in connecuon with tooth-health. A fact which is not generally known to the public is that every returned man is entitled to free dental service for a period of two months after his discharge, and that this is appreciated is indicated by the number of men who return after their discharge to have their teeth attended to by the dentists of the C. A. D. C. at Carling Heights.

Get Certificates.

When men go through the dispersal station at Tecumseh Barracks they are interviewed by dentists and provided with certificates entitling them to post-discharge treatment within a period of two months. Six dental officers are on duty each time a party of returned men comes in, three on each side of the room. These officers examine the men's dental documents, which show not only what treatment they have received in the army, but also the condition of their teeth at the time of their final dental boards.

From the information contained in these documents the dentists are able to advise the men what treatment, if any, they should have in order to assure their return to civilian life with complete dental health.

Get Pay, Too.

On an average about eight discharged men apply to the C. A. D. C. for treatment each day under the treatment-within-two-months regulation. Their transportation to Carling Heights is paid, and while in the city they receive an allowance to cover their living expenses. This amounts to $2.25 a day in the case of a private, $2.50 in the case of a sergeant, $5 in the case of a lieutenant, and in proportion for other ranks.

G. W. V. A. NOTES

WORKING OVERTIME.

Secretary J. W. Cunliffe is working overtime with the G. W. V. A. local referendum regarding membership qualifications. He has to address about one thousand, three hundred envelopes for mailing the ballot cards.

The question as to who should be eligible to become members of the G. W. V. A. has never been satisfactorily decided. When the question came up at the last convention there was stubborn discussion, some holding strongly to open membership and some to very restrictive membership, but the whole matter was finally left more or less to the discretion of the local branches. A permanent ruling is exceedingly desirable, and it is considered well that a general opinion should be obtained from the organization that is growing rapidly, and ought to and will grow more.

NO G. W. V. A. MEN.

There are no members of the G. W. V. A. taking part in the Canadian Express Company strike, although it is reported that returned soldiers have taken the places of the strikers.

COMMITTEE ON CARNIVAL.

The carnival which is being staged by the G. W. V. A. is in charge of the executive committee. It is to be run from June 2 to June 7.

MRS. TOM ALLEN DIED SUDDENLY ON SUNDAY

The many friends here and in Ingersoll will learn with deep regret of the death of Mrs. Alicia Osborne Allan, wife of Thomas Allan, sales manager of the Gorman-Eckert Company, who died yesterday at her late home, 514 Waterloo street.

Mrs. Allan had been an invalid for the past two and a half years, but her condition was not considered precarious and her sudden demise was most unexpected. Mrs. Allan had a wide circle of acquaintances made during her ten years' residence in London, and they will miss her cheerful acquaintance.

Besides her husband, her mother, Mrs. Gallagher of Ingersoll, and two sisters, Mrs. R. Cotter of Ingersoll, and Mrs. Peck of New York, survive.

The remains will be taken to Hamilton for interment.

Committee Recommends Extension of County Roads

Several extensions of roads in the county to connect them with roads of adjoining counties were recommended by the committee appointed at the January session of the county council to review and revise the county road system, which met in the county buildings Friday afternoon.

It was agreed also to recommend to the council that the roadwork in the county be done on a county basis instead of by individual townships. In connection with this recommendation, it was recommended that the board of road directors instead of the township committees have charge of the work.

An agreement was reached to ask the council to levy a tax of 1¾ mills for road purposes.

ILDERTON CALL TO DUART PASTOR

The congregations of Ilderton, Bethel and Bryanston will extend a unanimous call to Rev. J. D. Bannatyne, of Duart Presbyterian Church. This was decided yesterday, when Rev. Dr. D. L. McCrae, moderator of sessions, visited the Ilderton church.

QUESTION OF SERVICE DISCUSSED IN COURT

In the weekly high court at the court house on Saturday, at which Hon. Mr. Justice Lennox presided, the motion in the case of MacKin vs. the Imperial Warehousing Company, to set aside the writ, was argued, and judgment was reserved. There was a question as to whether the defendant being an American company was properly served, the writ being served upon the president of the company while he was in Ontario on the business of the company. P. H. Bartlett for the motion; G. S. Gibbons for the defendant.

Re Mabel L. Knapton, an order was made authorizing the sale of the share that Miss Knapton had in lands in the city of London, in accordance with the agreement which had been entered into on behalf of her and others. The official guardian is to sign the conveyance for her. M. F. McDonagh for the motion; F. P. Betts, K.C., for the official guardian.
