OTTAWA AUXILIARY BIBLE SOCIETY.

NOTICES.

It is earnestly recommended to the Committees of Branches, owning their stock of Bibles, that they effect an insurance on the same. In most cases it may be included as a special item in the policy which the Depositary takes out on his stock-in-trade, but when that cannot be done, special insurance should be effected.

It must be distinctly understood that books are furnished by this Society on condition that they be sold by Depositaries, Colporteurs and other retailers at the Society's prices. Purchasers are requested to report at once deviations from this rule to the Recording Secretary, Ottawa.

Bibles and Testaments, in different languages, may be had at the very lowest prices at the Depositary's, Mr. James Hope, corner Sparks and Elgin Streets, Ottawa.

Committees are requested to have their subscription lists completed and collected, and reports of their business for the year drawn up prior to the Secretary's visit. In this way trouble and delay in preparing the Auxiliary's Report will be prevented.

Committees of branch societies contributing $50 and upwards to the Auxiliary are requested to nominate one of their number for membership in the Auxiliary's Committee, and to notify the Recording Secretary in Ottawa of such nomination on or before the second Tuesday of February in each year.

Committees, and especially Secretaries, will, it is hoped, see that Reports and Leaflets are widely circulated without delay. It is desirable that among others who will read them, as well as subscribers of a dollar and upwards, the reports be distributed.

Those who wish to remember the Society in their last will and testament, are earnestly requested to use the following

FORM OF BEQUEST.

I give and bequeath to the OTTAWA AUXILIARY BIBLE SOCIETY the sum of _____ to be paid within twelve months after my decease, and the receipt of the Treasurer of the said Society, for the time being, shall be sufficient discharge for the payment of the same.

THE FORTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE OTTAWA
AUXILIARY BIBLE SOCIETY.

SUBMITTED MAY 16TH, 1900.

A REPORT of Bible work is a retrospect that often proves to be a revelation even to many of the friends and supporters of our Society. The universal influence and progress of the Word of God at the present time is phenomenal and unprecedented. The 450 languages into which it has been translated, in whole or part, represent about three fourths of the human race. Observers and thinkers may question and discuss whether the Church is losing hold upon the masses and classes, but one thing is obvious, the Holy Book is winning its ever widening way throughout the world. It never was so extensively used by Protestants as at the present time. The Greek Church also most thankfully receives it, and seeks to forward its circulation. And most welcome of all is it to observe that the Church of Rome, which since the Council of Trent has been the avowed enemy of Bible translation and circulation, is showing evidence of repentance for her sin of withholding the Word of Salvation from her people and the world. As a proof of this change of mind, His Holiness Pope Leo XIII, about a year ago, granted indulgence to all the faithful of both sexes who devoutly read for 15 minutes each day the Holy Gospels. Cardinal Gibbons recently said in a sermon, "Devote a little time every evening to some good books, and above all read the Bible, inspired of God Himself." After repeated requests of clergy and laity, a new and cheap edition of the Douay Bible has just been published in the United States, which publication has been hailed with delightful satisfaction by thousands of Roman Catholics. In heathen lands the inviting doors are opening wider and the circulation is constantly on the increase.

The century which closes with the current year will always be known as the great Bible translating, as it is also the great Missionary, century of the Christian Church. The British and Foreign Bible Society has been God's greatest instrument in modern times in accomplishing the work of translating and circulating the Scriptures. Already it has helped the Gospel to speak in 351 languages, and in 96 years has circulated the enormous number of over 165,000,000 copies of the Scriptures. So that the book which a hundred years ago was a sealed book to four men out of five, lies open more or less completely to seven men out of every ten in the world. The Society has great cause to rejoice in the specially important part it has thus played in the supreme work of evangelizing and civilizing the world. Ten thousand missionaries will support the following testimony of Dr. Robert Laws, of the Livingstonia South African Mission:—"If you want to know about the progress of civilization throughout the world in all that is really worthy of the name of civilization, and that has respect to the good of people in this world and in the world to come, you can get no better index than the work of the Bible Society and the circulation of the Scriptures throughout the world."

Turning from these observations of the general progress of Bible work to our own Auxiliary, we have much pleasure in presenting the principal facts and figures of our forty-fifth Annual Report.

It has been a year of general prosperity, but the cloud of sorrow hovered over us more than once, when beloved friends and fellow-workers were called to depart, some to other fields of labor and others to their eternal reward. Soon after our last annual meeting the Society sustained loss in the death of John A. Cameron, for many years a Vice-President and faithful member of Committee. John McCarter, President of the Almonte Branch, after many years of able service, departed. The Hon. George Bryson, a life-long and generous friend, upon whom at last annual meeting we bestowed the highest honor in the gift of our Auxiliary, was called hence a few weeks ago, at a good old age. And quite recently the British and Foreign Bible Society was called to mourn the decease of its venerable and most highly esteemed President, the Earl of Harrowby. The Society and all friends of the Bible throughout the world have sustained a great loss in the death of the great nobleman. Resolutions of condolence have been recorded by the Committee with respect to these worthy servants of God.

DONATION TO THE SOUTH AFRICAN CONTINGENT.

Whilst deploring the war of our Empire with the South African Republic, the Committee had much pleasure in donating Scriptures to the extent of 180 volumes to the members of the 1st and 2nd Ottawa contingents.

VISITATIONS OF BRANCHES.

The Recording Secretary made the annual visitation of our 92 Branches. He attended and addressed 145 meetings. Magic Lantern views were used with much acceptance. The meetings were larger than for many years, and the total collections exceeded all former years.

COLPORTAGE.

Considerable advance on recent years was made in Colportage. Nine Colporteurs and one Bible woman were employed; their work aggregated 28 months and one day. The Colporteurs travelled 7,065 miles, made 221 visits to Lumber Camps and Depots, in which they found 9,554 men. The Bible woman called at 3,577 homes in the City. The Colporteurs visited 3,042 families. Total sales amounted to 4,318 vols., value, $1,181.80. Free distribution, 166 vols., value, $23.38; reductions in price, $17.75.

In making a comparison with last year it will be observed that the sales in the Depository have increased over 30 per cent. ; the sales in Branches are in value slightly less, while the sales by the Colporteurs have nearly doubled. The total increase in sales amount to 3,077 vols., $853.05.

In last Annual Report we acknowledged with pleasure the largest contribution ever received from the Branches, this year we rejoice in a still greater liberality. The collections at Branch meetings are in advance of all former years. The donation of $3,500 to the Parent Society is the largest our Auxiliary has ever given except once by the aid of a legacy. partly explained by the disastrous fire which destroyed a large part of the City, and for several days more or less hindered all business operations. The Society has expressed its sympathy with the sufferers by Contributions of the Scriptures.

FINANCES.

The receipts of the year from all sources are most satisfactory. The free contributions from the Branches are about $100.00 in advance of the best year of the past, $173.00 over last year, and over $1000.00 increase on ten years ago. The collections at Branch meetings exceed all former years and last year, by $168.00. It is gratifying to note the advance of over 50 per cent. in sales of the Scriptures. It is a matter of great joy to the Committee to make our largest annual contribution, to the Parent Society. We pray God to put it into the hearts of His people to do even better than this in the years to come.

CONCLUSION.

We close the year with feelings of gratitude to God for His great goodness in prospering His word and work in the hands of His unworthy servants. The experience of the past strengthens our purpose to labor more earnestly than ever in the distribution of the Holy Scriptures throughout the wide world. Because of what we have done the world has a thousand times more light and life. Blessed thought. Therefore we shall “ Make Knowledge ample as the air we breathe.

It's influence free as is the light of heaven
As He whose rain and sunshine all beneath
Unstinted share ; so let soul light be given.

“ Spread wide the historic page to ardent youth,
With liberal hand to manhood give the right
To drink deep draughts from the pure wells of truth,
Hasten the coming time : Let there be Light.”

ABSTRACT OF THE NINETY-FIFTH REPORT OF THE BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIBLE SOCIETY.
1898-99.

WHEN our Lord ended His earthly life, He left behind Him a twofold legacy, in the Bible and the Church ; the power of His Spirit shown in the record of revelation, and in the whole fellowship of the faithful. And Christ's parting command, to preach the Gospel to every creature, applies not only to the Church, but to the Bible. As His Apostles and witnesses go forth to make disciples of all nations, they must carry His missionary Book, or they lack their weapon with which to conquer. And not only must the preacher in foreign lands frame his lips to new and uncouth languages, the Scriptures must learn them too. The immortal Truth must borrow fresh raiment, and clothe itself in many a strange garb, before it can enter as a friend into the huts and tents of far-off tribes, and bring home the message of redemption to every man in his own tongue, wherein he was born.

The Bible Society has been the great instrument in modern times by which God's Providence is accomplishing this wonderful work of translating and circulating the Scriptures. Already it has helped the Gospel to speak in some 350 languages and dialects. So that the Book, which a century ago was a sealed book to four men out of every five, to-day lies open, more or less completely, to seven men out of every ten in the world. Such a result, partial though it be, bears the manifest seal of a Divine vocation. And the paragraphs which follow will indicate, in brief outline, how far the Society has continued faithful to this high calling, during the ninety-fifth year since its work began.

THE YEAR'S ISSUES.

If we count in each Agency and Auxiliary a year's figures onward from those incorporated in the totals of a year ago, we find that the issues by this Society now to be reported have been as follows :—

	1898-99 compared with 1897-98.
Bibles.....	803,236	840,550
Testaments.....	1,218,348	1,373,434
Portions.....	2,457,855	2,173,168
Totals.....	4,479,439	4,387,152

The total announced at the last Anniversary was the highest ever attained by the Society. But this year has surpassed it by 92,287 copies.

It will be noticed that for every two Bibles issued, there were sent out three Testaments, and six Scripture Portions, chiefly single Gospels or Psalters.

Out of the year's total issues, 1,352,952 copies have been in English and Welsh—a proportion of over thirty per cent. Of the English Penny Testament, since its appearance in July, 1884, up to the end of March, 1899, 6,847,920 copies have been distributed.

The total issues by the Society, for the ninety-five years since its foundation in 1804, amounted to no fewer than 160,009,393 copies.

THE YEAR'S FINANCE.

This splendid result represents increased effort and corresponding expenditure, especially in some of the foreign fields.

Payments.

The Payments for the year have been :—

For Translating, Revising, Printing and Binding Scriptures	£105,696	7	4
For Grants, Home and Foreign Agencies, Colportage, Depôts, and all other charges	119,039	17	1
Total Payments.....	£224,736	4	5

Receipts.

The Receipts for the year have been :—

New Income.....	£131,755	4	9
From Sales.....	88,211	1	7
Total Receipts.....	£219,966	6	4

This shows a deficiency for the year of £4,769 18s. 1d. It is encouraging to report an increase of £3,579 in the Free Contributions from Auxiliaries at Home and Abroad. These have risen some £500 in England, £400 in Wales, and £2,670 in the Colonies.

On account of Appropriated Special Funds the Receipts have been £416 16s. 2d., and the Payments £538 3s.

COLPORTEURS AND BIBLEWOMEN.

months. These are employed in selling the Scriptures from door to door, chiefly on the Continent of Europe, and in the great Asiatic countries. As a rule the colporteur labours in his native land, and his journals are racy of the people and the soil. He is instructed to avoid controversy as far as possible.

The need for such work as this will be realized when we remember that, whereas two out of every three Englishmen live in towns, more than 90 per cent. of the population of India are villagers; while, to take another example, in the Austrian Agency, which includes over 50 millions of people, there are only six cities larger than Norwich.

Some foreign returns are still incomplete; but these 725 colporteurs during last year have sold above 1,500,000 copies of Holy Scripture.

Biblewomen.—Last year the Society maintained 552 native Christian Biblewomen (an increase of 48 on 1897), who laboured mainly in India and Ceylon. Their work is also growing in Japan and China. These Biblewomen read the Scriptures to their secluded sisters, shut off from all preachers and churches. They are supported chiefly in connection with some thirty different Missionary Societies—British, Colonial, American, German and Danish—and cost last year above £3,400. More than 31,600 women have been read to on an average each week; nearly 2,000 have been taught to read for themselves; and over 20,000 copies of Holy Scripture were put into circulation through this agency.

TRANSLATION AND REVISION.

The translation and revision work of the Society, like the river of Ezekiel, continues to grow in depth and volume as the years go by. Each year shows increase and expansion compared with the year before; and the record for 1898 discloses a marked advance on all previous years. In the number and fitness of the translators, in the texture and quality of their work, in the old versions made better and new versions begun, and in the intelligent and sympathetic interest taken in the editorial work of the Society, the Committee can rejoice over what is not only an unparalleled linguistic achievement, but also a vast extension of the dominion of the Bible.

The number of languages on which active work is in progress reaches the unprecedented total of 130.

Some of these versions, under special circumstances, are being brought out by the energy of one scholarly man, aided by perhaps four or five native assistants. But on some of them ten or a dozen or even more linguists are actively engaged. It will thus be seen what a mighty army of able and devoted translators is now working to give to the people of all lands God's thoughts towards them in their mother tongue.

SURVEY OF THE FIELD.

It is no easy task to present a bird's-eye view of the Society's mission in circulating the Scriptures. Every one has heard of the rustic who came up from the country to see the great city, and went back disappointed : he was unable to see London, because of the houses. There is the same kind of difficulty about the Bible Society's work : we fail to grasp its proportions, because, while it reaches to the corners of the earth, it includes such infinite variety of detail.

At Home.—Here at home, in England and Wales, the Society has made Bibles and Testaments the cheapest books, for their size and quality, that are published—cheap enough for the poorest child to buy. They are granted free, or at nominal rates, to multitudes of Sunday Schools and Missions of all denominations. By similar grants, continually renewed, the Society goes into partnership with almost every religious and philanthropic agency in the country. It joins hands, for example, with orphanages and hospitals and asylums, with soldiers' institutes and theological colleges, with missions to navies and hop-pickers and deep-sea fishermen. It spends many hundreds a year on Biblewomen who visit in the slums of London. It puts a Bible into the pocket of every child whom Dr. Barnardo and other philanthropists emigrate to Canada.

Abroad.—Outside England and Wales, the Society has been happily supplanted by sister Societies, working in friendliest co-operation, in Scotland, in Ireland, in the United States, as well as in the northern Protestant countries of Europe. Its own work lies mainly in those Continental lands, which are still unblessed with the Reformed Faith, and in the vaster and more distant realms of Moslem or heathen worship.

Obstacles.—Before we survey these broad fields of Bible work in detail, it will be right to particularise two chief obstacles which meet the Society, especially throughout Europe to-day.

The weight of social hardship and misery and the iron pressure of militarism have driven multitudes to embrace what are vaguely called socialist or social democratic ideas. Such names in England convey no religious connectations. And Englishmen often forget that "collectivist" doctrines on the Continent involve much more than economic theories or political programmes, as to which the Bible Society stands entirely neutral. Commonly, and among working people, they imply definitely secular standards and materialist ideas of life. So that a foreign socialist is generally unchristian, and too often bitterly anti-christian, confronting the colporteur with ridicule and blasphemy.

And side by side with this disbelief and denial stands another antagonist still more formidable and sinister. The Jesuit power, which dominates the Vatican and controls the whole policy of the Roman Church, is everywhere and always the relentless foe of an open Bible. Forty years ago, George Borrow characterised the Bible Society as 'one of the very few Protestant institutions for which the Roman Church entertains any fear, and consequently any respect.' And our Agents agree that this implacable hostility grows more bitter and persistent year by year.

From Germany Mr. Morrison writes: 'It is the unanimous testimony of our colporteurs that the opposition of the Roman Catholic clergy has never been so violent and so virulent. From France M. Monod writes: 'The Jesuit journal La Croix has for its special object war against Protestants, and does more harm to colportage than the press of the Freethinkers.' From Austria Mr. Millard writes: 'The growing influence of Rome is felt more and more.' From Italy Signor Meille writes: 'More and more do the priests in Italy exert their utmost power to dissuade their people from buying and reading the Word of God, and to get hold of any copies a colporteur may have sold, that they may burn them solemnly and publicly.' We hear of the same intolerance in Spain, in Quebec, in Brazil—wherever, in short, the Church of Rome is powerful. The Bible Society and its friends, therefore, can cherish no illusions in this matter. But still less can they treat as an open question the right and the duty of every man to search for himself the Book of God.

Bearing these facts in mind, we can now glance briefly at some results of the past year's work in foreign Agencies.

FRANCE.

Population in 1896, 38,518,000. The last available returns as to religion were: Roman Catholics, 29,201,700, being 78.50 per cent. of the total; 692,800 Protestants, or 1.8 per cent.; and 7,684,900 persons who "declined to make any declaration of religious belief." In 1894 there were 42,347 recognized Roman Catholic Ecclesiastical Officials, and 700 Protestant Pastors.

Average number of colporteurs 42 (as against 40 in 1897). Total circulation 156,548 copies (against 176,285 in 1897, and 149,441 in 1896).

Agent: M. Gustave Monod, 58 rue de Clichy, Paris.

INTRODUCTION.

The past year in France has been consumed in furious controversy, carried to a pitch of bitterness and passion without parallel in modern times. From this most unhappy strife the Bible Society holds quietly and impartially aloof. But we cannot disregard certain grave results which it has induced upon popular opinion and emotion. M. Monod declares—and he has eminent observers on his side—that the anti-semitic movement is expanding into an anti-protestant propaganda. And he cites, as an illustration, the recent work of M. Ernest Renauld, Le péril protestant, which appears as a kind of corollary to M. Droumont's celebrated volume La France juive. 'There is a new triplice to denounce—Jews, Freemasons, and Protestants.' M. Monod discerns, however, that such rancour is confined to extreme political and clerical partisans. It has taken no real root among the French common people. On the contrary, 'wherever salles are opened for religious services, they are filled with listeners: wherever the mission-boat halts, the whole riverside population flocks to the Gospel meeting. Among all the reports of our agents, not one alludes to any signs of general public hostility against the colporteurs. And hence the conclusion must be drawn, that this anti-protestant movement is largely superficial.'

Nevertheless through the year the whole atmosphere of France has been charged with storm, while once there was threatening thunder along the horizon towards England. Such conditions do not in themselves encourage Bible-work; and they are utilized to the utmost by the tireless enmity of the Roman Church, in its endeavour to stir up and intensify popular prejudice against an 'English-made' Bible.

Yet there is another side to this picture. We believe, thankfully, that Evangelical agencies are multiplied over France to-day, as they have never been since the end of the great Huguenot exodus. And though the Bible Society is a partizan of no Church and no mission, it recognises the fact that every conversion must mean fresh readers of Holy Scripture, as well as listeners who will become readers in their turn.

Our last Report described some of the signs of spiritual ferment at work within the bosom of the Roman Catholic Church itself. This movement has gained expression in a new periodical; Le chrétien français. And it is intensely interesting to learn that 'among the curés who abandon their Church in ever-increasing numbers, there has been formed a Société française d'Évangélisation par les anciens pretres. All our sympathies, our prayers, and our hopes go with such a movement. For it may well be found, as M Monod suggests, that these converted priests will possess far more power than any born Protestants to reach the heart and conscience of the untouched masses in France.

COLPORTEUR EXPERIENCE.

A Blacksmith who read in secret.

'I know the Gospel is the Word of God, but unhappily we are not free to read it; if the curé of this commune knew that I read it he would ruin my position: we must therefore do this in secret.'

He had read it for thirty-four years.

I was affected to find in the hands of one old man, a Breton French Testament that he had bought from a colporteur so long ago as 1865, when he was in the army. I heard that he not only read it for himself, but also liked to read it to his friends. Thus during thirty-four years that Testament had been serving as a silent messenger from God to men.

Mistaken for a Jesuit.

In a shop at Maurion where a carpenter was at work among his employés, as soon as he heard who I was, he exclaimed, 'We want no Jesuits here,' and he went on railing against Roman Catholicism. 'Can any one really affirm and believe that the priests practise the teaching of Jesus Christ?' I let him go on and said at last, 'My dear Sir, you are demolishing a monument already in ruins, but what will you put in its place?' 'The religion of Jesus Christ of course, and not of Rome.' Then followed a serious conversation, after which five Testaments were sold in that shop.

A Tolerant Priest.

I often visit a young man who has now been ill for two years. His favourite book is the New Testament, and the curé, who also visits him, has never reproached him for reading such a book; he simply told him that it was translated in a Protestant rather than in a Catholic sense, but that it was the true gospel to feed his soul upon. I called on the curé at his presbytère. 'I wish to thank you, Sir, for having encouraged that young man to read his Testament. I am so little accustomed to see such a disposition among most of your colleagues that I want to thank you both for myself and our friend.' Our conversation finished with, 'Remain Protestant since you are sincere; I remain Catholic, and let us both be Christians.'

"Peace, Perfect Peace."

We found a touching case at La Bachellerie. The head of a large family had lately died, and they told us he had died in perfect peace, owing to his precious Testament. So much did he value this book, that, very reluctantly, they had decided to place it beside him in his coffin. The joy with which the widow and her daughter secured another Testament was beyond description.

A Word in Season at Marseilles.

To-day I met an elegantly dressed gentleman to whom I offered a Bible. 'What is that? Oh! the Bible! Many thanks. I have no wish to become a slave.' 'I beg your pardon Sir, but you mistake. This is the very book which tells you that if Christ makes you free, then you shall be free indeed. We are slaves by nature, as long as we live without Christ—slaves of our own passions.' 'Do you believe that?—' 'I am sure of it, and I pray the Lord to made you believe it also, that we may one day meet in His presence.' 'Well, at all events you seem to be in earnest, and good-natured, so I will take a Bible.' He paid for it and promised to read it.

BELGIUM.

Population, at the close of 1897, 6,586,600. Roman Catholicism is the religion of the country, but an increasing proportion are Freethinkers. There are some 3,000 Jews; the total number of Protestants, in the absence of definite statistics, is estimated at 25,000.

Last year the Society's 8 colporteurs sold 9,346 copies. In 1897, they sold 10,328 copies.

Total circulation, 24,088 copies, against 110,334 in 1897 (when 78,000 were distributed at the Brussels Exhibition), and 32,220 in 1896.

Agent: Mr. W. H. Kirkpatrick, 5, rue de la Pépinière, Brussels.

Since 1835, when the Agency was first established, nearly a million copies of the Scriptures have been circulated in Belgium.

In reviewing the past year we are struck by the grave obstacles which meet our representatives in Belgium. Perhaps there is no country in Europe where the Roman Catholic clergy are more bitterly opposed to the dissemination of the Scriptures.

GERMAN EMPIRE.

Population (1896), 52,247,000, including (1890) 31,027,000 Protestants, 17,675,000 Roman Catholics, 145,000 'Other Christians,' and 568,000 Jews.

Colporteurs (British and Foreign Bible Society)—average number 32 for the past year (against 27 in 1896 and 1897), who circulated 77,545 copies (against 70,763 in 1896 and 67,567 in 1897).

Total Circulation by British and Foreign Bible Society, 269,989 copies (against 262,846 in 1896 and 253,259 in 1897).

Agent: Mr. M. A. Morrison, 8 Königgrätzerstrasse, Berlin.

As this table shows, our printing operations have been conducted this year on an unusually large scale. Seldom, if ever, has this large total of nearly half a million copies been exceeded. We append a list of those Agencies of the Society which have drawn Scriptures from Berlin during 1898. These statistics show that in SWITZERLAND.

Estimated population in 1894, 2,987,000. About 59 per cent of these are Protestants, and 40 per cent. are Roman Catholics.

Total circulation for the year by the British and Foreign Bible Society, 62,991 copies (against 51,576 in 1896, and 51,838 in 1897.)

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY.

Estimated population of Austria-Hungary (1895), 44,450,000. This includes (1890) the following linguistic elements ; German, 10,570,000 ; Magyar, 7,435,000 ; Bohemian, Moravian and Slovak, 7,383,000, Polish, 3,719,000 ; Ruthenian, 3,489,000 ; Servian and Croat, 3,249,000 ; Ruman, 2,801,000 ; Slovene, 1,271,000.

There are (1890) in Austria-Hungary about 28,000,000 Roman Catholics, 3,900,000 Evangelicals, 3,400,000 Greek Catholics, 3,100,000 Greek Orientals, and 1,900,000 Jews.

Last year in this Agency the Bible Society had an average of 50 colporteurs at work, as in 1897, and a total circulation of 229,611 copies, against 185,578 in 1897.

Agent : Mr. H. E. Millard, 6, Elizabethstrasse, Vienna.

ITALY.

Estimated population (1898), 31,668,000. In 1881 there were about 62,000 Protestants (including 22,000 belonging to the Waldensian Church of Piedmont, some 10,000 to other Evangelical Italian Churches, and 30,000 to foreign Protestant bodies), and 38,000 Jews. In Italy every third man is illiterate, and every second woman.

The Bible Society employed last year 31 colporteurs, who sold 57,660 copies, against 32 in 1897, who sold 74,262. Total circulation in 1898, 123,707 copies (against 129,097 in 1897, and 168,212 in 1896).

Agent: Signor Auguste Meille, 76 Viale Petrarca, Villa Marini, Florence.

Popular Ignorance.—A grave obstacle in the way of colportage is the ignorance which still prevails in many regions of Italy. The statistics of public instruction recently published for the year 1895-96 are really discouraging. From these it is too apparent that the law of compulsory education is very far from having yielded the results expected from it. The elementary schools, both public and private, with 49,878 masters and mistresses, had been attended only by 2,589,423 pupils. This gives an average of 16 teachers and 833 pupils for every 10,000 of the population, much less than ten per cent. of the whole population of the kingdom.

Clerical Hostility.—Another serious, and in many cases insurmountable, difficulty is the more and more general and systematically organised opposition offered to the dissemination of the Scriptures by the Roman Catholic clergy of all ranks.

The priests in Italy are doing everything in their power to dissuade their people from buying and reading the Word of God, and to get hold of the copies a colporteur may have sold, that they may burn them solemnly and publicly. In some places, to have in one's house a copy of the Gospel has been made such a heinous sin that the Bishop only can give absolution for it; this obliges guilty persons to undertake a long and expensive journey, and pay large fees, to be forgiven.

Alone in Christendom the Church of Rome denies it, and considers the study of the Scriptures as the privilege of the clergy—a privilege to be granted to the laity only exceptionally and with many restrictions. In face of such facts, the question presents itself: Are we to give up our work in Roman Catholic countries because we cannot carry it on without coming more or less into conflict with the National Church? The answer cannot be doubtful for a moment to any one who knows and loves the Bible and the Bible Society.

When the Chamber of Deputies was discussing the budget of Public Instruction last December, Professor Bianchi, of Naples University, in a speech which made a great impression, declared that a chief error in Italian education had been to aim at giving the rising generation an exclusively intellectual culture, to the detriment of their ethical and religious development. Hence the lack of morality, which is now felt in schools, in politics, in administration, in trade. 'To remedy all this,' said the professor, 'I am convinced that a healthy, practical, religious education can be drawn only from the Bible.' These words were heartily endor-

SPAIN.

Estimated population over 18,000,000. In 1887 there were 7,000 Protestants and some 10,000 "Rationalists." An official report in 1896 gave 43,328 Roman Catholic clergy, 28,549 nuns, and 91,227 beggars.

In 1889, 68-1 per cent. could neither read nor write. The British and Foreign Bible Society, in 1898, employed 23 colporteurs, who sold 36,452 copies against 26 in 1897, who sold 36,588.

Our total circulation last year was 73,824 copies, against 90,297 in 1897.

Agents: Rev. Robert Stewart; 32 Rua das Janellas Verdes, Lisbon. Rev. R. O. Walker, M.A.; 4 Leganitos, Madrid.

The year which has just closed has been indeed a year of calamities for Spain. The American war seriously depressed trade, increased taxation, and enhanced the cost of all necessaries of life. For a time, bread riots became dangerously common, and the atmosphere grew thick with disturbance and alarm. Conditions such as these could not fail to influence our work. But what affected Spain most gravely was the political outcome of the war. Cuba and Porto Rico and the Philippines, the sole relics of the immense colonial empire of Charles V. and Philip II., have been snatched away from Spain: her battleships lie sunk or shattered at Cavite and Santiago: her army of 200,000 men has returned home, crestfallen and decimated by disease. The national sense of humiliation and defeat is poignant and profound. Spain, as one writer puts it, is like a nobleman who, largely as the result of his own folly, has seen a rich patrimony dwindle and disappear, until there remains to him but one solitary mansion wherein to sit disconsolate and bemoan his lost splendours.

PORTUGAL.

Population (1890), 5,049,570, including the Azores and Madeira. The State religion is Roman Catholic; but all forms of worship are tolerated. The number of Protestants, including foreigners, probably does not exceed 5,000.

The Bible Society in 1898 employed 13 colporteurs (against 10 in 1897, and 9 in 1896). The circulation for the year was 9,815 copies, against 23,922 copies in 1897 (including 15,636 sold under exceptional circumstances to other Societies), and 8,960 in 1896.

Agents: Rev. Robert Stewart, 32 Rua das Janellas Verdes, Lisbon. Rev. R. O. Walker, M.A., 4 Leganitos, Madrid.

EUROPEAN RUSSIA AND CENTRAL ASIA.

Population of European Russia, including Poland and Finland with the Caucasus and Central Asian dominions (1897), 123,429,000. Only seven cities exceed 200,000 people; and eight out of every nine Russians inhabit rural districts.

The vast majority are members of the Russo-Greek Church which is the established religion; but there are also Dissenters, Roman Catholics, Protestants, Jews, Muhammadans, and Pagans.

Last year the Bible Society had an average of 70 colporteurs and book-hawkers at work (against 67 in 1897), who sold over 210,000 copies (against 200,850 in 1897).

Total circulation last year, 523,170 copies (against 502,387 in 1897), in 65 different languages.

Agent: Rev. W. Kean, D.D., 4 New Isaac St., St. Petersburg.

SIBERIA.

Siberia proper embraces more than twice the whole area of European Russia. Its population in 1897 was 5,727,000. The Siberian Agency of the Bible Society really covers a still wider tract of territory, including a population of over 11,000,000.

The Bible Society had nine colporteurs at work last year, who sold 21,526 copies. In 1897 nine colporteurs sold 15,685 copies. Total circulation, 49,050 copies, against 47,797 in 1897, and 35,105 in 1896.

Agent: Mr. W. Davidson, Ekaterinburg, Siberia.

COLPORTEUR EXPERIENCE AMONG SIBERIAN PRISONERS.

'I go through the barracks every evening; last night, about ten o'clock, I was called back by an Esthonian woman whose husband wished to see me. He bought a Bible and a New Testament, and expressed his joy and gratitude in these words, "Thank God for such a Society as yours, without which we could not buy these books so cheaply and so far from our homes!" Many of these poor emigrants will spend their last kopecks in the purchase of a New Testament.

'I was busy distributing copies of the Gospels among prisoners in a railway carriage. One man rose and produced a Testament, carefully wrapped up in a handkerchief, which he said had been given to him in the prison at Penza; he read and valued the book, and begged for a copy of the Psalms, which I willingly gave him.

'Often the prisoners would kiss my hand in their gratitude. This I do not allow, saying, "I am not worthy; do not thank me, but thank God for the British and Foreign Bible Society."

The colonel in charge of the transport has often exclaimed to me, "Thank God that there is such a Society." The prisoners' guards tell me that as soon as the train leaves the station the prisoners settle down to read, some the Gospels, others the Psalms, and then exchange one copy for another.

'One day a friendly priest escorted me from carriage to carriage of an immigrant train, aiding me in my sales. On leaving he blessed me, and said. "May God prosper your Society! it has done much to circulate God's Word."'

Past, Present and Future.

The Agent Dr. Kalopothakes says 'In looking back over the past years, while I should have rejoiced in still greater results, I am thankful for the degree of blessing which has been vouchsafed. The annual circulation of Scriptures has gradually increased from the 1,000 copies of my first year's report to 14,000 for the year which has just closed, while the Gospels have been included in the prescribed course of study in the public schools.

In these countries most of the inhabitants are Muhammadans, while nearly all the Christians are Roman Catholics. There is also a considerable Jewish population.

Last year the Bible Society had 7 colporteurs at work, who sold 10,577 copies (against 6 in 1897, who sold 10,682). Total circulation : 13,777 copies, against 15,188 in 1897, and 15,245 in 1896.

SOUTH AFRICA.

Under this heading are included Cape Colony, population (1891), 1,530,000 ; Natal with Zululand (1898), 829,000 ; Orange Free State (1890), 207,000 ; South African Republic, white population (1898), 345,000, and native (estimated), 749,000.

The South African Auxiliary includes over 250 Branches, which extend through the Cape Colony, the Orange Free State, and through and beyond the Transvaal, with a few in Natal. Pietermaritzburg and Durban have Auxiliaries of their own.

MADAGASCAR.

Population, about 3,500,000, including 1,000,000 Hovas, 1,000,000 Sakalavas, and 600,000 Betsileos.

Up to 1895 a large portion of the tribes in the central districts had been Christianised. The great majority of converts were connected with the L.M.S. ; but the S.P.G. with the Friends' and Norwegian and Lutheran Missions, as well as the Roman Catholics, were also at work. There were estimated to be 450,000 Protestants and 50,000 Roman Catholics ; while hospitals, colleges, and about 1,800 schools, with 170,000 children, were connected with the various missions. The French conquest in 1896 considerably interfered with Protestant missions, and there are no recent trustworthy religious statistics.

MAURITIUS.

Population of Mauritius in 1897 (estimated) nearly 378,000 ; about two-thirds are Indians and the remainder Africans, Chinese, whites, and mixed races. As to religion, there were in 1891 : Hindus, 209,000 ; Roman Catholics, 115,400 ; Muhammadans, 34,700 ; and Protestants, 7,300. Scripture sales for last year, 2,665, against 2,952 in 1897.

PERSIA.

Population estimated (1897) at about 9,000,000, including some 8,000,000 Moslems of the Shîa'h sect, 800,000 Sunnîs, 45,000 Armenians, 25,000 Nestorians, 25,000 Jews, and 9,000 Parsîs.

The Bible Society maintained continuously during 1898 an average of 6 colporteurs, who sold 3,811 copies. In 1897 five colporteurs sold 2,666 copies. Total circulation in this Agency, 7,758 copies, against 8,112 in 1897 and 10,738 in 1896.

Agent : Mr. Charles E. G. Tisdall, Bible Dépôt, Julfa, Ispahân.

INDIA.

Population (1891) 287,000,000. Religion: Hindus, 208,000,000; Muhammadans, 57,000,000; Buddhists (mostly in Burma), 7,131,000; Sikhs, 1,908,000; Jains, 1,417,000; Parsis, 70,000; Animistic, 9,280,000; Christians, 2,284,000 (Roman Catholics, 1,315,000; Protestants, 695,000; Syrians, Armenians, and Greeks, 202,000).

Last year 113 colporteurs sold 147,321 copies, against 120 who sold 109,221 in 1897.

Total circulation, 497,416 copies in 1898, against 519,987 in 1897.

BIBLEWOMEN IN THE EAST.

Last year the Society maintained 552 native Christian Biblewomen (an increase of 48 on 1897), who laboured mainly in India and Ceylon. Their work is also growing in China and Japan. More than 31,600 women have been read to on an average each week; nearly 2,000 have been taught to read for themselves; and over 20,000 copies of the Holy Scripture were put into circulation through this Agency.

The work which the Biblewomen are doing is not to be measured by a statistical return. In India the obstacles are innumerable—the panic due to the plague; the opposition of the men, who forbid the reading of the Bible in their houses, and invent scandalous stories to oppose the work; the reign of caste, and vested interests and prejudices, and the moral apathy among women who “only want a god who can ward off sickness and pain”—many like causes from time to time hinder the work. A glance at the statistical tables will show that during the past year above 31,500 native women on an average have heard the Scriptures read each week; about 1,900 have been taught till they could read the Bible for themselves; over 4,700 copies of Holy Scripture in whole or in part have been circulated by gifts, and nearly 16,000 by sales, making a total of about 20,700 copies of the Word of God diffused by this agency alone. The numbers for the year 1896-97 were some 17,200 copies, or 3,500 less than in 1897-98.

CEYLON.

Population (estimated, 1897), 3,391,500. Of these in 1891, 2,174,200 were Sinhalese; 960,700, Tamils; 216,000, other native races; 23,600 natives of European descent; 6,500 Europeans.

About 1,877,000 were Buddhists; 616,000 Hindus; 212,000 Muhammadans; and 302,000 Christians.

To outside observers, affairs in the far East have presented a mere welter of claims and intrigues by rival foreign powers, amid alternate concession and reaction on the part of the court at Peking. But those faithful workers who watch and pray for God's Kingdom to come in China, discern strange resurrections stirring the depths of that antediluvian land. "The whole country grows tremulous with hidden movement. The Spirit of God seems to be waking China out of its sleep."

The report for 1898 which reaches us from the Rev. G. H. Bondfield, fills over 100 printed pages, and must be characterised as the ablest and most inspiring record which was ever sent home by an Agent of the Bible Society. One striking feature of the report is the extent of the field covered. If we follow the narrative from point to point on a map, we find that it takes in some of the remotest regions, and that our work during the past year has been spread over this great Empire in a truly remarkable way.

KOREA.

Population (estimated) : 10,500,000. Ancestor worship is scrupulously observed. By the upper classes Confucianism is held in high esteem, and there are numerous Buddhist monasteries. In 1895, there were 80 Protestant Missionaries (British and American), and 30 Roman Catholic.

Colportage sales last year, 6,105 copies, against 4,420 in 1897. Total circulation, 34,813 copies, against 6,335 copies in 1897; 2,997 in 1896, and 1,253 in 1895.

Agent: Mr. A. Kenmure, Seoul, Korea.

JAPAN.

Population (1896), 42,700,000; excluding Formosa (nearly 2,000,000) and the Pescadores Islands (over 44,000), ceded to Japan in 1895.

The chief forms of religion are—(1) Shintoism, with 11 sects and 14,927 priests; (2) Buddhism, with 12 sects, 30 creeds, and 53,275 priests. At the close of 1898 there were about 120,000 Christians.

Bible-work in Japan is directed by a Joint Committee of the American Bible Society, the National Bible Society of Scotland, and the British and Foreign Bible Society.

There were eight colporteurs at work last year, who sold 10,296 copies. In 1897 eight colporteurs sold 9,338. Total circulation 44,783 copies, against 57,813 in 1897, and 100,456 in 1896.

It is the ambition of the Japanese to-day to rank with the most enlightened nations of the world. With this object in view they are straining every nerve to make good all defects in their social and political machinery. Some send their sons to Europe to study in the best schools and Universities, and to gain experience in hospitals, in factories and counting-houses, so that they can reproduce in the Far East the forms of Western civilization. The progress made by Japan during the last few years has been startling in its rapidity. According to some thinkers it is hurrying on towards a great catastrophe, or at least it must provoke a serious recoil. There are signs, thank God, that thoughtful Japanese begin more and more to realize that Christianity forms the one basis of true civilization; and this fact will inevitably lead them to investigate Christian principles and teachings for themselves. Yet very many, having lost their old faiths, are lapsing into indifference or atheism; and, as they become absorbed in material affairs, they entirely ignore the claims of the Gospel. How can we question our duty as Christians at this turning-point in the history of Japan? Surely the magnitude of the opportunity and the urgency of the need forbid us to slacken our efforts to lead this gifted nation to Christ, the one Light and Life of men.

According to a report compiled by the Rev. H. Loomis of Yokohama, no less than 692 foreign missionaries were at work in Japan last year; with 308 native ministers and 393 Biblewomen. And let us remember the mighty issues involved in this evangelisation. The whole trend of affairs in the East demonstrates the fact that we are working not for Japan alone, but for all Eastern

Thus, notwithstanding all discouragements, our work is big with possibility and promise. And the God who has blessed us in the past still bids us take courage and press forward.

SOUTH AMERICA.

ARGENTINE REPUBLIC.

Population, 4,000,000. Five colporteurs sold 13,599 copies last year against 17,298 in 1897.

CHILE AND PERU.

The Bible Society has no direct agents working in these two Republics ; but it contributes an annual grant to the Valparaiso Bible Society of £350 towards colportage operations, besides supplying Scriptures on liberal terms.

BRAZIL.

Population (1890), 14,334,000. Of these some 2,000,000 are negroes, while there are nearly 400,000 Indians besides other uncivilised tribes. Probably 84 per cent. of the population are illiterate.

The recognised religion of the country is Roman Catholicism, though under the Republic the connection between Church and State has now been abolished. The number of Protestants is estimated at 145,000. Last year the Society employed 13 colporteurs against 10 in 1897. Total circulation, 20,204 copies (against 23,390 in 1897, and 24,043 in 1896).

Agent : Sehnor J. M. G. dos Santos, Rue Sete de Setembro, 71 Rio de Janeiro.

WEST INDIAN AGENCY.

Including Dutch, French, and British Guiana, the West Indian Islands, the Bahamas and Bermudas, the Republics of Central America, and British Honduras. Population of the British West Indian Islands, 1,523,000 ; British Guiana, 285,000 ; British Honduras, estimated (1886), 33,800. The total population of the Agency is about 10,000,000.

Thirty-three Auxiliaries and Branches.

Agent : Rev. G. O. Heath, 83 Hanover Street, Kingston, Jamaica.

We shall omit an abstract of British North America, where the Society has 16 Auxiliaries and over 1,100 Branch Societies in active co-operation.

KINDRED SOCIETIES.

In 1898, the National Bible Society of Scotland issued 920,893 Scriptures. The American Bible Society issued 1,380,892. This Society in 83 years has issued 65,962,505 copies.

EPILOGUE.

It is impossible to close this imperfect review without a sense alike of profound and humble thankfulness, and of resolute courage. We dare not grow slack to carry on the mission which God has so signally blessed. The Bible Society to-day seems more necessary than ever. We have joined in the glorious centenary psalm of the Church Missionary Society with all the deeper fervour, because we know that its work would be crippled to-morrow if ours were to cease. And we unite as heartily in the thanksgivings of the Religious Tract Society, knowing how all its noble effort builds upon the circulation of the Scriptures. Has any Christian enterprise a surer sanction, or a richer promise? 'If he shall not lose his reward,' says Thomas à Kempis, 'who gives a cup of cold water to his thirsty neighbour, what will not be the reward of those who, putting good books into the hands of their neighbours, open to them the fountains of eternal life?'

THE FORTY-FIFTH ANNUAL MEETING OF THE OTTAWA AUXILIARY BIBLE SOCIETY was held on Wednesday, May 16th, 1900, in Knox Church, Ottawa, Mr. Geo. Hay, President, in the Chair.

The meeting was large, enjoyable and successful in all respects. Among those present were:—Rev. Geo. McRitchie, Rev. John Wood, Rev. W. D. Armstrong, Hon. Wm. Patterson, Mr. John Charleton, M.P.; Rev. A. A. Cameron, Rev. A. N. Frith, Rev. R. Herbison, Rev. J. W. H. Milne, Rev. Wm. Timberlake, Rev. Wm. McIntosh, Rev. N. McLeod, Rev. A. C. Ross, Mr. R. E. Jamieson, Mr. J. R. Armstrong, Mr. M. A. Anderson, Mr. Jas. Gibson, Mr. J. McMillan, Dr. John Thorburn, Mr. W. H. Eagleson, Mr. J. S. Eagleson, Mr. Thomas Kenny, Mr. James Hope, Mr. John Hardie, Mr. J. B. Halkett, Mr. Jas. Henderson, Mr. H. W. Bowie, Mr. Arthur Chisholm, Mr. D. Manchester, Mr. R. Stewart, and Mr. W. Stewart.

The meeting was opened by singing the hymn,

“Thou whose Almighty Word.”

The reading of Scripture and prayer was conducted by the Rev. D. M. Ramsay. Another hymn being sung, the President, Mr. George Hay, said:—

For forty-five years we have been pursuing the even tenor of our way as an Auxiliary to the British and Foreign Bible Society.

Our territory consists of six counties, situated on both sides of the Ottawa, together with the district of Nippissing. In length it is somewhat over 300 miles, and in breadth of an average of 250 miles, extending from our Branch at Papineauville on the east to that of Sturgeon Falls on the west.

In carrying on our work we seek to supply with the Sacred Scriptures, either by sale or by gift, all who are in need of them. A destitution of the Word of God was discovered by our pioneer colporteurs, a destitution which is now happily almost unknown by our more recently employed workers. In addition to the supply of the more settled portions of the field by colportage in summer: during winter we make it a special object to ensure that the thousands of men employed in the lumber camps, who for several months are absent from home influences, are visited, and afforded opportunity for supplying themselves with the Word of God, and hearing from our earnest experienced Christian workers of the things belonging to their highest interests.

The results, like those of other Christian efforts, must be left with Him who alone can give the increase. We are, however, not without encouragement to hope that this labor has not been in vain. At a recent monthly meeting of your Committee we were cheered by the report of a colporteur who had received such manifest proof of the effect of his faithful dealing in presenting truth and duty, that some of us felt well repaid for years of effort in this cause, even should no other proof of the "well done" of the Master be vouchsafed to us.

In the second place we manifest our interest in Bible circulation beyond our own territory by contributing to the funds of the British and Foreign Bible Society, to aid it in the translation and circulation of the Bible among all mankind in need of the Word of Life.

Our revenue, as will be seen by the Report, is derived mainly from the settled portions of our territory; city, town, village and farm yielding each its quota, by means of the active collectors in our branch Societies, now over 90 in number.

We have the fullest confidence that our gifts will be applied with scrupulous fidelity under all the advantages which talent, learning, and experience can contribute to the great end in view.

With this consciousness we yearly appeal to our friends in town and country with an unflinching confidence which is justified by our unvarying experience of their liberality. We fondly trust that the visit of the delegation from the Parent Society, with which we are now favoured in response to our solicitations, will be followed by a deepened interest in our work, and a resolution to aid with increased liberality in its support.

The Recording Secretary presented in printed form the Forty-Fifth Annual Report, after which it was moved by the Rev. Wm. Timberlake, seconded by the Rev. J. W. H. Milne, and carried:—

"That the Report now submitted be adopted and circulated under the direction of the Committee and that the names in said Report be the Officers and Committee of the Ottawa Auxiliary Bible Society for the ensuing year."

The meeting had the pleasure and honor of the presence of a deputation from the British and Foreign Bible Society, in the persons of the Rev. Canon Edmonds, of Exeter, England, a Vice-President of the Society, and the Rev. James Thomas, Metropolitan Secretary, England. The addresses of both these gentlemen delighted the large audience, and their visit will long be remembered with gratitude.

The Rev. James Thomas moved the following resolution, seconded by Mr. J. R. Armstrong, and carried:—

"That this meeting expresses thanksgiving to God for the continued prosperity that has attended the work of the British and Foreign Bible Society during nearly a century, and prays that His blessing may be upon it in an increased measure in the years to come."

In support of the resolution Mr. Thomas said:—

of the pleasurable prospect which we had of visiting this your beautiful and important city of Ottawa. It was therefore with the very keenest sorrow that one morning we read in the paper of the dire affliction that had befallen Ottawa and its sister-city of Hull. I use no fulsome words when I say that our hearts went out strongly in deepest sympathy with those who have been called upon to suffer loss, and with some who suffer the great sorrow of bereavement by reason of fire.

And next, Sir, I must express, and I am sure I may here include my colleague, and say for him as for myself, that we most deeply feel grateful for the kind and warm welcome we have received to this city. Everywhere it has been so. It has been such a welcome as a child would always show to the father when visiting the new home. We are hardly old enough to be the fathers of you all, but we have come from the father-land, and that has been enough apparently, and you have received us with an affectionate earnestness that has made our hearts glad. I feel half inclined to stay in Canada, and if this continues much more it will be difficult to go away.

Let me also thank the Ottawa Auxiliary of the British and Foreign Bible Society for the help it is giving to the common work. I warmly congratulate the Auxiliary on its progress, the larger work, its ability to do it, and the faithfulness which pervades the Auxiliary, being able thus not only to meet the needs of a large neighboring locality, but to stretch out far beyond.

Canada has been much in the thought of England of late, not only of the politicians, but in the thought of the whole land, and the hearts of the colonies have been knit to the hearts of the mother-country as never before, and from every part of this Dominion there has gone forth abundant evidence of their loyalty to the throne and their interest in the Empire, which has made England not only glad but strong, knowing her strength in her children.

I am also here to say this, that while from the press of many parts of the Dominion, and from the lips of many of her sons, there have come utterances and paragraphs of great importance and great meaning, I wish Ottawa could have seen the face of London when the telegraphic wires conveyed the magnificent utterance of your Prime Minister, every sentence of which made England leap for very joy.

I can and I do very truly move the resolution. It expresses our thanksgiving to God for the progress of Bible work in the century which is nearly closing, the century of Bible Society work which will end in the year 1904, at the close of the 7th day of March. In order to apprehend perhaps a little more clearly how great the progress has been, let me direct attention only to one department of its work, and first present some of the difficulties which have confronted it.

The Bible Society's work is really that of trying to put the Scriptures into the hands of all the people of the world in the languages they speak. This is not so easy as at first appears, for the Bible is not an easy book to translate. The languages in which the books were written have long since ceased to be spoken. It is specially difficult to ascertain the exact meanings of the languages of the Old Testament, as any one knows who has tried to translate the Old Testament into his own tongue, but it is very much more difficult when we think of translating the Bible into every language. The great translators of early days had not anything like the difficulties which confront the modern missionary called on to become a translator. Those men were working out of the ancient languages in which the Scriptures were written into the languages they had learned at their mothers' knee, but the men of to-day have not only to learn Latin and Greek, but they have to translate these into languages they never learned until they were fullgrown men, and that becomes a widely different matter. How well every translator knows the force of Luther's remark to Melancthon when trying to translate the Scriptures into German:—"Oh, Philip, it is hard work to make these old prophets speak German!" It is very much harder to make them speak the languages of the South Seas, or of South Africa.

For what is a word? A word is only a representation of a thought, and of necessity people can have only words in the language for thoughts in their minds, and if they have not the thought, they have not the word. Some of the people have wandered so far from home that they have forgotten the Father's name. In Canada you know very well how cold the temperature may become at times, and it is possible if you are only working with a mercurial thermometer that the frost may congeal the mercury in your instrument, and you will have nothing with which to measure the cold. There is something analogous in the human life. The life may sink into such a condition as never to know that it has fallen at all, and one striking illustration of this fact is, that no heathen language has a word for sin, and therefore you cannot translate the word in translating God's Book.

And the development of language on any of its sides presents a difficulty. We are told that in England in some parts of the country the people scarcely ever use more than four or five hundred words. How can you possibly translate the Bible into a vocabulary so limited as that?

Then you have also words not only few in number, but poor in quality. You have to translate the Bible when the great words have no possible equivalents in the language.

There are difficulties from the want of acquaintance with the objects with which you have to deal. If we had gone to the South Seas with the early navigators we might have gone from island to island and found no quadruped on them bigger than a rat. When the missionaries had learned the languages and had come to the sentence "Behold the lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world", the people had no idea of a lamb, even less of an idea of sacrifice. How difficult to translate that sentence, important as it is. Or, if we were to go to the remote parts of Eastern Asia, and had to give this sentence, "Ye must be born again", every Buddhist would say, "That is true", but he would not mean what we mean. He would mean the transmigration of the soul. The phrase is preoccupied.

If you were to take a dictionary of the Bible and run down every page and go to any one of the modern languages in which the missionaries are at work, you would find not one word for every twenty in the dictionary, and you would find that even with the words of most importance those which are akin have very poor meanings indeed. We need not be at all frightened because we are using words the origin of which has dropped out of view. There are many who are listening to me who know that the Greek word agape is not used in classical Greek. It had to be made for Christian use. If we find such deficiencies in Greek, why need we wonder at the languages of semi-civilised or wholly savage people being destitute of words?

Let us turn to the words of greatest import on the lip, such as justification, sanctification, communion. Every one of these had to be made for the use of those who are speaking the English tongue, and that is what your missionaries have to do with languages far poorer than English was when Wycliffe did his work.

But the structures of languages present difficulties. Many of the eastern languages have different words for addressing a superior, an equal, or an inferior, and the translator may entirely spoil the effect of a passage by using an improper word. In China the place of honor is not on the right hand, but on the left, and when we translate the words about our Lord sitting on the right hand of God, how are we to translate literally? If we do, we place dishonor on the Son of God.

Then the reducing of language to writing presents great difficulties. If we want to find the names of objects we would take a pencil and a note-book and start to interrogate the natives. Suppose we wished to ask a native what he called the sun, we could not ask him in words. All we could do would be point to it and listen. And suppose he answered with a grunt, or a squeak, or a squeal, we should have to make an alphabet to represent these sounds. So in the Bible Society's publications there are forty different alphabets.

Nobody can tell how many languages there are in the world. Dr. Cust gives the number as at least two thousand. The Bible Society in England and her children in various parts of the world have translated the Bible into four hundred different languages, but that leaves sixteen hundred to be dealt with, which will present difficulties of the greatest possible magnitude. There are whole arrears for which little or nothing has been done.

We have been used of God in giving the beginnings of literature to a great many of the people of the world, and this is not a small matter. A new literature means the beginning of new life to the intellect, of a new social plane. You have begun the literature far better than you apprehend, for you bring into the language groups of new words to express the highest ideas and you eliminate those whose influence is evil.

We are here in the spirit of the greatest possible union, in the very best form of that union, and that spirit pervades all Bible Societies. We have here one translation of the Bible in English for those who speak the English tongue and read it. Suppose when our missionaries went to Japan that each mission had made a translation for itself, we would have had different words for all the great ideas in the Bible which were not represented by any definite word in the Japanese language, and great confusion would be the result, when Christians from different parts came together.

I will only say one other word in regard to the great achievements which have been accomplished. Here I have a single verse in three hundred and twenty languages, but on our lists to-day will be found three hundred and fifty different languages. But what are they among so many? They are more than really appears. We have been translating the Bible into the great languages of the world. The great classical version in Chinese can be read over the whole of China. The translation of the whole or part of the Bible has been done for over seven-tenths of the human race.

What a great thing to give God thanks for! And it comes upon my heart that this work is not our work. It has not originated with us. It has come down from our fathers, and we are to deal with it as they deal with an entailed estate, not to tamper with it, or do it damage. Let us rejoice in what has been done, and devote ourselves to what is possible.

While the choir sang an anthem the collection was taken, which amounted to $52.70.

The Rev. Canon Edmonds moved the following resolution, which was seconded by the Rev. Norman McLeod, and carried:

“That this meeting rejoices that through the instrumentality of the British and Foreign Bible Society, the Bible, in whole or part, has been given to the nations of the earth in 350 different languages and dialects, and that its circulation has proved an important factor in all successful missionary operations carried on throughout the world.”

It is with unusual pleasure that I rise to speak to you to-night here in the capital city of the great Dominion of Canada. I am surprised myself to be here, and delighted as well. It never came into my head that I should see this side of the Atlantic, and find myself a welcome visitor in this City of Ottawa. Things do come about in most wonderful ways, and here I am introduced to you by kindly words from your President. I came to you as a witness of the position which this great Society is more and more taking in what was described most truly in the prayer which led our devotions as to the mother-country. The British and Foreign Bible Society for many years has been retaining its position in England, though I do not know whether it could be so described, because I think that is hardly possible. Those who give themselves to the service of the Bible Society, those who are in sympathy with its work and its aims are not usually given to being timid supporters. It has generally been able to kindle and deepen a powerful enthusiasm in those who have once allowed this great work to be presented fairly and frankly to their minds. It has in this very year lengthened its cords and strengthened its stakes.

In the neighboring city of Montreal I came into touch with England. I got hold of the Times newspaper. When I am at home I read the Times every day, but I had not seen a copy of it from the tenth of April until I read a few copies of it at one sitting the day before yesterday, in the City of Montreal. In it there were what appeared to be given on purpose for me, the two last sermons preached for the Bible Society, one of them in St. Paul's Cathedral and the other in Westminster Abbey, and let us look at the preachers. They might have asked my friend Mr. Thomas. They might have asked me, and I ought to have declined. You want a big preacher for a big pulpit. Westminster Abbey and St. Paul's are not the places for everybody, and the Bible Society might have been glad to get a man into either of these pulpits without his being the greatest of preachers. In one pulpit was Dr. West, one of the greatest of our theologians on the side of Church history, and in the other was Rev. Canon Gore, who for the first time in his life perhaps preached the sermon of the Bible Society. I hope he will not object to my giving you a description of him. He represents the High Church side of the Church of England divinity. I can remember when a good hearty supporter of the Bible Society would have been frightened if he thought it had got a preacher who belonged to that school of religion. I think even in Canada I could find some people who would shake their heads if such a preacher were selected. But there is no ground for such apprehension, not a bit of it. The simple work is translating the Scriptures and distributing them. This witness to Almighty God is not our special witness, and the distribution of it does not belong to one set of thinkers, to one set of men, does not belong to any who say, "This is our work," but it belongs to any who feel the claim it has upon our hearts and who have head enough to know the claim it has upon our minds, and have breadth of view enough to know that this is the work which the Church has never been forward to advance, and has never, except in dark times, dared to neglect. And so I would say, and you will say, that Westminster Abbey could hardly be turned to a better use, and the pulpit of St. Paul's could hardly be filled with a more proper subject.

So my friend and I do not come to you in Canada because the cause is dying at home. We are not like the envoys sent to get hold of the wire-pullers of Tammany Hall. We are here amongst you just now because we are feeling more and more that we are one with you and you are one with us. The miles between the mouth of the St. Lawrence and the Mersey are the same as in Columbus' day, but they do not stand for so much. The Atlantic is the great highway by which the English people can come to Canada and Canadians go to England. It is a mere means of travelling, and does not mean a separation of that character which introduces a separation between the hearts of one set of people from the hearts of another. It pleases God that certain subjects of Her Majesty should live in longitude west and others in longitude east. This Bible Society, to quote a famous expression in the Bible, "is both yours and ours."

The only one difference that I know of that exists in the work as done now and as done in the second century is that it has fallen to the duty of just such people as are here to do it. At one time it was the duty of one here and there on whom the hand of God had been laid, but the great benedictory hands of the Almighty are held out over all His own people. Each of us does less than the man did before, but united we do more. It belongs to us all to do it.

I do not know anything to make a people feel that they are indeed in God's hands more than the effort to diffuse through all lands and all languages that one divine revelation, which is the most evangelical of all evangelists and the most clear and distinct of all God's communications, the most intelligible to all God's children, the nearest to human capacity at its very lowest, and the most satisfactory to human capacity at its very loftiest. One of the things for which you may feel that it is an honor and a joy to support this Bible Society is that this is our common work. We do well to make this great message available for all God's creatures not thinking of our share in it, but using our abilities to the utmost. We are nevertheless drawing round the Church of God, we are tying the Church in indissoluble bonds together, and helping to counteract the thousand things which tend to divide.

I have never told the most enthusiastic Bible Society gathering that I have met that the constitution of the Bible Society is perfection. There is nothing that is perfection. But it acts alright, and we have agreed long ago to accept fairly imperfect instruments if they are doing work that nothing else can do, and I consider it a justification for this Society that it is doing a work that if any other should do better and sooner they shall have my good word. In the meantime we are entitled to say we are doing an indispensable work which nobody else is doing on so large a scale, nor perhaps on any scale.

I remember very well the year 1869. In 1869 it happened that I went to do a fortnight's work for the Bible Society, and I found myself officially connected with the Society at the end of that time. The fortnight was spent in the company of a Bible Society servant, who probably had orders to report what sort of a man I was. I remember all the circumstances of that year with peculiar vividness. I read the Bible Society's Report, and I went to the versions in which were marshalled with more or less skill and accuracy the list of languages the Bible Society was concerned in distributing that year. In 1869 the list of languages stood at 181, and reached 185 before the year was out. If you will double that, and remember that it is only 30 years, you will reach what will be printed according to the next Report of the Bible Society. That is, in the short time in which a single man has been interested in speaking on behalf of the Bible Society the number of translations has exactly doubled. There is no fact like it in all the history of the activity of the Christian church.

With regard to the great things, our duty is to make them speak more clearly, as God gives us the power to speak. Now the great power for making the Word speak out more clearly is the operation of the Holy Spirit, and the Bible gives us converts steeped in that Spirit. They will give us versions of the Bible with more of spiritual value and power. The converts taught of that Bible stand up an exceeding great army. We have to begin where we can begin. We will have to revise again and again these versions as the intellectual and spiritual level of the converts is raised by them. The divine spirit remains unaltered. He stoops to the very humblest spiritual conditions and acts upon the souls of men through their intellectual faculties as if they stood at the highest level. The whole Bible is a lifting of the veil that hides God from man. The Bible is not the same thing to you as to the Hindoo. I remember hearing a veteran missionary who had come from Tasmania and who had come into contact with the aborigines of that country describe the inability of a person of whom he was speaking to reach forth to anything like an adequate idea of God. When I asked how much of an idea he had, the reply was that he felt there was some one up in Heaven who would be kind to him. It was a low level. It was a tiny spark in that man's mind, but as our divine Creator had ordained that the man should stand at that level, it is a great proof of the divinity of the Spirit that it could come down so that this man should have a sufficient idea of the goodness and love of God. And there is a power to lift the man to a higher level, so that there should be a fuller revelation, and rising stone by stone in the spiritual edifice, the time is calculated when a light almost like that of our own should play upon the minds of those who are so described.

The Bible is a light to shine upon the road that leads little groups of people to the Lamb of God, and I have often thought of the South Seas which contain eight or nine complete versions of the whole Bible scattered among that small part of this world's people and given to people numbering but a few thousands. But this is no nice calculation of less or more. We are not to consider whether it is worth while to give the whole Bible to these people if they are a few less or more. Each individual soul is entitled to get the whole Bible from the Church.

It is not many years ago that I was asked when one of the great Church Congresses in England was being prepared for to read a paper on the subject of Christianity in Africa. I wrote at once to say that I was the wrong man, that nobody ought to take a subject of that sort unless he had knowledge of the work on the spot, but as no person else could be obtained I finally consented to undertake the work. I was astonished to find when I tried to read up the subject that I had no material to go to Congress with. This was before Stanley had turned up in Uganda, before Cameron, before Thompson. I dined afterwards in London with five men who had walked across Africa, but they had not done it at a period convenient for me. I lighted upon some material, and this is one of the pieces of information I obtained :

"The English public are not to expect when the centre of Africa is reached that there will be great bodies of water. What they should expect is scanty population contending with arid deserts."

I found another illustration in Dean Swift. It was this :

" Geographers in Afric's maps,
With silent pictures fill the gaps,
And on all habitable downs
Plant elephants instead of towns."

Thirty years ago this was all the information available for a man who really cared for his subject, and now across the most of Africa the road is as well traced on the ordinance maps as it is in England or Canada. The languages have been listened to, and in a large number of instances have been learned, and the Bible has been translated into them. Already there has been a Bible ranking as twelfth in the number of people who speak the language contained in it—the great Swahili Bible. That Bible is in a language which would take a man across Africa from the east to the west coast and always be intelligible. Out of that Bible there has grown another destined to be more remarkable—the Bible read in the great Uganda country.

Ladies and gentlemen, it has not been recognized that the career of this English people as a Christian people, as a people called of God to live for Him and to bear witness not personally only, but by a truly Christian national life under an open and avowed profession of confidence in God and faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, it has not been sufficiently recognized that that is shorter than the career that Mohammedanism has had in the world. We assume, because Christianity was in existence before Mohammedanism that Christian Englishmen were so also. But the date of Mohamed's commencing his preaching was 622. The first Christian sermon was preached in England in 511. Watch the two courses. Christianity in England is in charge at this moment of the very same people, in whose charge it was placed in 597. There is an unbroken christian history beginning then and developing and deepening as time has gone on. But Mohammedanism has never been able to make any race which professed it flourish. The race has never lasted. The creed is there. It is trying experiments on different peoples, but it has never lifted them out of the level in which they were born. It is a notable type of religion that God has chosen for this English people and to hold it fast is their highest privilege and most bounden duty.

Rev. Dr. Armstrong moved, and the Rev. John Wood seconded, and the resolution was carried with great cordiality:—

“That this meeting expresses its hearty thanks to the Rev. Canon Edmonds and the Rev. James Thomas for their presence and addresses, and instructs the Secretary to convey to the Parent Society its high appreciation of the good services they have rendered.”

The Rev. R. Herbison, pastor of Stewarton Presbyterian Church, moved, seconded by Mr. R. E. Jamieson, and carried:—

“That this meeting cordially thanks the Pastor, Choir and Trustees of Knox Church for their kind assistance on this occasion.”

The Doxology was sung and the meeting closed with the Benediction.

CONSTITUTION

OF THE

Congregational Union of Nova Scotia & New Brunswick.

1. This Corporation shall be called "THE CONGREGATIONAL UNION OF NOVA SCOTIA AND NEW BRUNSWICK."

2. This Corporation shall consist of the persons named in the Acts of Incorporation by the Legislatures of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick in the year 1862; of Delegates from Congregational churches that have been recognized and admitted to the fellowship of this Union, such Delegates not to exceed two in number from each church; and of ministers of the same church order, who shall be recognized and admitted as members at the annual meetings of the Union.

3. The Corporation shall have in connection with it an Honorary Membership, with the privilege of a share in its deliberations and business, but without the right to vote. And all officers of this Union, or members of "The Union Committee," or of any of the Committees of the Union, not being members of the Union, shall be considered Honorary Members; and the Union may elect such persons to Honorary Membership for the session as it may deem proper and advisable.

4. This Union is founded on the full recognition of the distinctive principles of Congregational churches, namely: the Scriptural right of every separate church to maintain perfect independence in its government and administration; and, therefore, this Union shall not assume legislative or administrative authority, or in any case become a Court of Appeal.

5. The following are the objects contemplated in its formation:—1. To promote evangelical religion in connection with the Congregational Denomination, especially by such means as Missionary efforts, educating young men for the ministry, and aiding or sustaining weak churches in the body. 2. To cultivate brotherly affection and co-operation in everything relating to the interests of the associated churches. 3. To establish fraternal correspondence with similar bodies elsewhere. 4. To obtain accurate statistical information relative to the Congregational churches in these Provinces. 5. To hold consultation on questions of general interest connected with the cause of Christ.

6. To promote the accomplishment of these objects and the general interests of the Union, an Annual Meeting of its members shall be held at such time and place as may be appointed at each Annual Meeting, or, if necessary, by the Committee of the Union.

7. The Presiding Officer shall be a Chairman or President, chosen by the Union from its delegates or personal members in the early part of each Annual Session, and shall also be the Chairman of the Union Committee.

8. The other officers shall be a Secretary, a Missionary Secretary, a Treasurer, and such other members as shall be elected to compose the remainder of the Union Committee.

9. The affairs of this Union, as now incorporated, shall be under the control and management of the Union Committee, consisting of the President or Chairman of the Union, the Treasurer and Secretaries, and such other persons being members of Congregational churches in connection with this Union as shall be elected at the Annual Meeting. The Committee to be under the direction of the Union, to execute its instructions, prepare a docket of business for its Annual Meeting, and to act for and on behalf of the Union in all matters requiring action between the time of the meetings of the Union, which action shall be subject to the approval of the Union when it meets for business.

10. The Secretary of the Union shall be the Secretary of the Union Committee, and shall have charge of the Books of Records, Constitution, By-Laws, Rules and Regulations of the Union, and shall have charge of the general correspondence of the Union, except such correspondence as relates purely to matters of a Missionary character.

11. The Missionary Secretary shall have charge of the correspondence which is purely of a Missionary character.

12. This Union shall meet on the Thursday following the first Sunday in July, of each year, or as near thereto as advisable or practicable, for organization, the Chairman elected the previous year presiding, failing whom one of the officers or members of the Union Committee.

13. All applications for admission to personal membership shall be made through the Secretary, who shall report them to the Union at its Annual Meeting, and be at once referred to the Membership Committee for full enquiry. Upon their report that the evidence of good standing is sufficient and satisfactory, the applicants shall be eligible for immediate admission by unanimous vote; failing to obtain which, they shall stand proposed by consent of the Union (with the privilege of Honorary Membership), until the next Annual Meeting, at which, after a further report from the Membership Committee, they may be fully received by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the Union in attendance.

14. A church may depute as its delegate to the Union Meeting, a member who may be in good standing in any other Congregational church.

15. The Union may appoint on its Committees members of churches in connection with the Union, who are not personal members or delegates.

16. Applications shall be made by the Secretary, one month at least before the Annual Meeting, for statistics of the several churches in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and a brief narrative of the state of religion among them, that he may prepare a report for the meeting of the Union.

17. The Secretary shall make an appeal annually to each church connected with the Union, to take up some time in the month preceding the Annual Meeting, a collection in aid of its funds. From this source, in addition to the other expenses of the Union, the travelling fares of the Ministerial Members of the Union, and of one delegate from each church contributing for the year, shall be paid in full if possible, the deficiency, if any, being divided by the number of members herein defined as entitled to participate, and the amount of such dividend being deducted from the sum otherwise to be paid to each such member, on the understanding that such ministers and delegates shall remain during the Sessional Meetings, except with leave from the Chair.

18. Delegates from the Union to corresponding bodies, who may fail to fulfil their appointments by personal attendance, shall address the bodies by letter, communicating in substance such information and sentiments as they would furnish if present at the Annual Meeting.

19. The following shall be the present plan of action for promoting mission work in the Provinces, viz:—

(1) That each church shall be requested to take up an Annual Collection and Subscriptions.

(2) That this Union co-operate in this work with the Colonial Missionary Society, as far as practicable, through the Canadian Congregational Missionary Society.

(3) That the Union Committee shall be considered the Missionary Committee in charge of all missionary operations. All applications for aid from the Missionary Funds must be presented to the Committee through the Missionary Secretary, and receive the sanction of the Committee prior to transmission to the General Committee of Canada.

(5) In order that our Missionary claims may be fully understood by the general Missionary Committee of Canada, and according to express agreement made with this Union, two delegates shall be appointed annually to attend the meetings of the Congregational Union of Ontario and Quebec, and the general Missionary Committee of Canada. The expenses of the Missionary Secretary, or his substitute to be paid.

(6) Pastors receiving aid must send regular reports of their fields of labour every six months to the Missionary Secretary.

20. The expenses of the Secretaries of the Union to attend its meetings shall be paid, except when provided for by Article 17.

21. Alterations may be made in this Constitution by an Annual Meeting, provided that a notice of the proposed alterations shall be given at a previous meeting; and that such alterations shall not be inconsistent with the Acts of Incorporation.

RULES.

1. At the appointed time for the assembling of the Union, the Chair shall be taken by the Chairman, or in his absence by one of the officers of the Union or member of the Union Committee, or failing any of these, by a member of the Union.

2. After preliminary devotional exercises the Union shall be called to order.

3. A Minute Secretary shall be appointed, who shall take the minutes during the Session and assist the Secretary.

4. The Secretary shall form a Sessional Roll, containing the names of the personal members attending the Session, and the names of delegates appointed to represent the churches, marking opposite the names of such delegates the words "in attendance," or otherwise. A list of Honorary Members shall also be taken.

5. A temporary nominating Committee shall be appointed by the Chairman as soon as the roll is called. This Committee shall, as soon as practicable, report the names of five persons to form a Business Committee, three for a Membership Committee, and three for a Financial Committee. The nominating Committee will name the members of other committees as soon as convenient.

6. The exercises may be intermingled with singing and prayer, until the Committees are named, and at any time while there is a lull in business or otherwise.

7. The records of the previous Annual Session will be read, and, if correct, approved and signed.

8. The names reported for Committees shall be submitted to the Union by the Chairman for approval or otherwise.

9. The nominations and resolutions submitted by the Business and other Committees will not debar any member from proposing amendments or alterations.

10. An election shall be held for President or Chairman each year. Should there be more than one candidate named, the election shall be by ballot.

11. Reports may be handed in or resolutions offered.

12. Reports and resolutions shall be referred by the Chairman to the respective Committees for consideration before discussion.

13. The Business Committee shall examine the records of the previous session, to see if any business arises out of the minutes of the previous meeting.

14. All meetings shall be considered meetings of the Union, but the evening meetings shall, as far as practicable, be divested of a business character, and more particularly devoted to addresses.

15. The first evening session shall, if practicable, be devoted in part to the

16. The second meeting shall be devoted, if practicable, to a Missionary Meeting.

17. At each Annual Session a preacher shall be appointed for the next Annual Meeting.

18. The Annual Sermon will be delivered on Sunday morning.

19. Every resolution will be put in writing if required.

20. Every motion or resolution will require a seconder.

22. An amendment to an amendment can be made.

23. A motion for the amendment of a resolution or amendment shall be in order; and if carried the resolution as amended shall be voted on.

24. Before the Annual Session closes, the Secretaries, Treasurer, Union Committee, &c., shall be appointed for the ensuing year.

25. The minutes of each sitting shall be read at the commencement of the following; and the minutes of the last session at its close.

MINUTES OF THE ANNUAL MEETING

OF THE

CONGREGATIONAL UNION OF NOVA SCOTIA AND NEW BRUNSWICK,

HELD IN SHEFFIELD, N. B., SEPTEMBER 5TH—9TH, 1874.

THE CONGREGATIONAL UNION of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick commenced its session in Sheffield, N.B., in the Church of which the Rev. W. Williams is pastor. After prayer, the Union organized by the Chairman, the Rev. Charles Duff, taking the chair, and ordering the calling of the roll, the following members being present:—

PERSONAL MEMBERS.—Revs. Messrs. C. Duff, R. K. Black, A. MacGregor, S. Sykes, S. G. Dodd, W. Williams, J. R. Kean, and James Shipperley.

DELEGATES.—Yarmouth, Messrs. Freeman Dennis, and J. Crawley; Liverpool, Wm. Anderson; Brooklyn, G. McLeod and G. Chandler; Chebogue, J. B. Hawes; Sheffield, N. Burpee and A. Barker; Keswick Ridge, J. B. Wathem, and J. Kennedy; St. John, James Woodrow; Halifax, E. Smith and William Taylor; Pleasant River, Charles Burnaby; Canning, J. Woodworth.

HONORARY MEMBERS.—Rev. D. MacGregor, M.A., Mr. J. F. Malcolm, of the Congregational College; Messrs. H. P. Bridges, Joseph Barker and David Burpee, of Sheffield; Captain Clements, of Yarmouth.

The Address of the Retiring Chairman, the Rev. C. Duff, was then delivered; the subject being "True Progress." This topic was presented in both its negative and positive aspects.

The election of Officers and Union Committee was held. The following is the result:—Rev. A. MacGregor, Chairman; Rev. W. Williams, Secretary; Rev. R. K. Black, Missionary Secretary; Mr. James Woodrow, Treasurer; Revs. S. G. Dodd, S. Sykes, J. R. Kean, Hon. F. Tupper, Hon. Isaac Burpee, M.P., Messrs. F. Dennis, H. P. Bridges and Wm. Anderson.

A paper was read by the Rev. James Shipperley, on "The Mission of Congregationalism," which elicited considerable discussion.

Various reports were presented, and some routine business transacted.

A resolution was adopted, deprecating the use of the traffic in intoxicating liquors; and recommending that our ministers preach on the subject of Temperance, on the Third Sabbath in December.

A resolution was also passed expressing interest in the progress and well-being of the Congregational College of B. N. A., approving the enlargement of the College Board, and recommending the Institution to the generous support of the Churches.

A resolution was adopted recommending the CANADIAN INDEPENDENT and the YEAR-BOOK to the support of the Churches.

An evening meeting was held presided over by Freeman Dennis, Esq., at which the late Secretary, the Rev. A. MacGregor, gave a retrospect of the year's work ; pointing out the hopeful features of a revived interest in several of the churches, a gratifying increase of church-membership, and a large increase of general contributions ; but also shewing that there is room for improvement in the liberality and spirituality of the Churches, and that its ministers need a richer baptism of the Holy Ghost, and a fresh consecration to the Master's work.

Mr. James Woodrow read an interesting paper on the history and moral position of our denomination, which was on motion, handed to the Union Committee for consideration.

The Pastor of the Church, the Rev. W. Williams, spoke of the need of a revival in his Church, and asked the prayers and efforts of his brethren for that end. Other speakers followed with short addresses and special prayer. The meeting was crowded, and its tone eminently devotional and elevating.

The Sabbath day which followed was an "high day" in the best sense. It opened with a well-attended prayer meeting, at the close of which the Annual Sermon was preached by the Rev. A. MacGregor, of Yarmouth, N.S., from the text "Have faith in God." The sermon was plain, forcible and practical, and was listened to with attention by a crowded audience. In the afternoon an open Conference Meeting was held, presided over by Captain Jacob Crosby—full in attendance, full of interest and devotional feeling. In the evening the Rev. R. K. Black preached on "Christ washing the disciples' feet." At the close of this instructive discourse, the Lord's Supper was administered to a large number of communicants, the pastor presiding.

Business was resumed on Monday, and various resolutions passed. Papers were requested for next Annual Meeting from Rev. C. Duff, Rev. D. MacGregor, Rev. S. G. Dodd, and Mr. C. Whitman. Rev. S. G. Dodd was appointed to preach the annual sermon.

The Rev. J. R. Kean read a spirited paper on "How to rouse inactive Christians."

The Rev. D. MacGregor was received as a personal member of the Union, on dismissal from the Congregational Union of Ontario and Quebec.

The Revs. R. K. Black, C. Duff and A. MacGregor were appointed delegates to the aforesaid Union.

The Secretary read a letter from the Rev. S. P. Fay, delegate from the Maine Conference, conveying the fraternal greetings of that body,

In the evening a large and interesting Missionary meeting was held, at which the usual reports were read. Addresses were given by several members of the Union and others, and a collection was taken up.

On Tuesday the following resolution was passed : Resolved, that this Union do appoint some eligible member to visit the churches with a view to inducing them to raise the amount of their contributions to the Missionary fund to a sum equal to the expenditure ; and also to gather all possible information concerning the state of church property, and in relation to new and eligible fields of labour.

A paper was read by the Rev. S. G. Dodd, on "Revivals, and how to promote them." An earnest discussion followed.

It was resolved, on motion, that the next meeting of the Union be held in Brooklyn, N. S., on the Friday following the first Sabbath in September, 1875.

At a public meeting in the evening, various reports were given and addresses made.

On Wednesday, resolutions were passed expressing sympathy with the widow of the late Rev. James Porter, and with the widow of the late Rev. A. Burpee, on the severe and painful loss they have respectively sustained, and directing copies of the resolutions to be forwarded.

A resolution was passed, advocating free and unsectarian education, and expressing gratification at the recent triumph of this principle in New Brunswick.

Thanks were accorded to the Sheffield Church and Congregation for its hospitality, and the Union then adjourned to meet in Brooklyn next year.

MINUTES OF THE TWENTY-FIRST ANNUAL MEETING.

The Annual Meeting of the Society was held, pursuant to announcement, in the Northern Congregational Church, in the City of Toronto, on Thursday, the 11th of June, 1874, at 2.30, P.M. Mr. W. Edgar, of Hamilton, was called to the Chair, and Mr. C. R. Black, of Montreal, acted as Secretary. The Rev. W. M. Peacock led in prayer, when, after a few words from the chair, the Home Secretary, the Rev. J. Wood, in the absence of the Rev. Dr. Wilkes, read the Annual Report, and also a financial statement, comparing the income and expenditure of the several districts with those of the previous year. Whereupon, it was moved by Rev. H. D. Powis, seconded by Rev. W. Hay, and Resolved,—That the Report read be adopted and printed, under direction of the Committee, and that the following gentlemen do constitute the General Committee and Officers of the Society for 1874-5: (For the names see page 103.)

The Rev. Charles Duff, of Brooklyn, N. S., moved, the Rev. J. Wood, seconded, and it was Resolved,—That hereafter the Congregational Union of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick be invited to nominate, annually, a person or persons, not exceeding four in number, to represent that missionary constituency on the General Committee, as a part of the same.

Mr. Wood gave notice, on behalf of the General Committee, of a motion to amend Article V. of the Constitution, by inserting the words, "at least," before the words "three members," it having been found necessary, at times, in order to secure a full Committee, to supply the lack of some districts, by a larger representation from others, of persons actually present at the meetings of the Society.

Mr Wood also reported a resolution adopted by the Western District Committee, and referred to the Society, advising the reconsideration of the opinion expressed at its last Annual Meeting, in regard to the ordination of young men to the ministry. (See p. 10 of last year's Report.)

The Rev. Mr. Marling, on behalf of the Canadian Independent Publishing Company, made a proposition, in reference to the employment of a General Secretary and Editor, whose salary should be paid jointly by the Missionary Society, and the Publishing Company, as given in the earlier pages of this volume.

Whereupon it was moved by Rev. W. H. Allworth, seconded by Rev. K. M. Fenwick, and Resolved,—That we endorse the proposal of the Canadian Independent Publishing Company, approved and recommended to us by the late General Committee of this Society, and that if a suitable man can be found to fill the position, the Committee just appointed be authorized to expend a sum not exceeding $600 for the ensuing year, for carrying such proposal into effect.

It was also resolved, on motion of Rev. W. F. Clarke, seconded by Rev. F. H. Marling, that the appointment of Home Secretary, already made, be held subject to the new arrangement now proposed, and that this whole matter be referred to the General Committee, to report upon it at an adjourned meeting of the Society.

FRIDAY, June 12th, 12.30, P.M..

An adjourned meeting was held, when, after prayer by Rev. Mr. Marling, on motion of Rev. J. Wood, seconded by Rev. J. Howell, the fifth article of the Constitution was amended, as proposed on the previous day, and the Rev. Messrs. Dickson, Sanderson, Nighswander, and Mr. James Young, of London, were added to the General Committee.

The report of the Missionary Committee, in regard to the nomination of a General Secretary and Editor, being called for, the Home Secretary reported that they had met with the Canadian Independent Publishing Company, and that the Rev. J. Wood had been unanimously chosen, by ballot, without nomination, for that position. The report was adopted, after which the Society again adjourned.

On Saturday, June 12th, the several District Missionary Committees were appointed (see p. 103,) and,

On Monday, June 16th, the Society again met, at 11.15, A.M., Professor Cornish in the Chair. The recommendation of the Western District Committee, reported to the Society on Thursday, being again brought forward, it was Resolved, on motion of Rev. Messrs. Barker and Marling, to reconsider the rule in question. After several motions and amendments had been submitted, and discussed at considerable length, it was finally resolved, on motion of Rev. Chas. Chapman, seconded by Rev. S. N. Jackson,—That a motion having been introduced to substitute a statement of opinion for that contained on page 10 of the Year Book, (1873) of the proceedings of that year's meeting, it is hereby Resolved,—That the original statement be reaffirmed, with the instruction that the District Committees always allow it to have full weight in their deliberations on any given case.

It was also Resolved,—That the General Committee be requested to prepare a course of Reading and Study for such cases as are alluded to in the above motion. The Minutes were then confirmed, and the Society adjourned to meet in Hamilton, in June, 1875.

REPORT.

Twenty-one years of experience and work have only tended to render deeper the conviction of the value of this Society. If, as a Christian community, we are to occupy in the country a place worthy of our great principles, to say nothing of our noble ancestry, this conviction must be yet wider spread and more profound. To stand still in Christian work is really to lose ground in our efforts. Our more numerous and more liberal contributions to the annual Missionary Meeting. The proposal for the extension of the work has been given to their own hands for the carrying out of the expenditure about seven or eight hundred dollars for our annual meeting, increasing our friends and our friends' contributions greater. The Church's magnitude, to provide for the needs to be met from Australia, the point is discussed, and the Societies are preparing for Missions, to the fifth.

The number of the student has often been estimated the present record is one of the best that has appeared in the history of the coming of the church. Let us be satisfied.

The cordials of the Missionary Society have been expended, a proposal for the

to lose ground, for "the world, the flesh and the devil" are untiring in their efforts. Our country is now receiving accessions to its population much more numerous than for many years past, a fact, which, itself, calls for larger and more comprehensive movements. We may be encouraged to devise more liberal things by the position recently taken by our parent, the Colonial Missionary Society, from whom we had supposed we had soon to part. The proposal made to several of the Australian colonies to make grants to the extent of one-fifth of all they themselves raise for Home Missionary work, has been gladly and successfully adopted by them, to the large increase of their own evangelistic movements. The Society is prepared to do the same for the Canadian Dominion. It will be found, on examination, that of the expenditure by this Society during this, the twenty-first year of its existence, about seventy-two per cent. has been contributed by our churches, and twenty-eight by the Colonial Missionary Society. If we proceed to add to our annual contributions, in proportion to the need of our country, and the increasing ability of our people, we shall not only secure the generous aid of our friends in Great Britain to its present extent, but also to one much greater. This mode of rendering aid commends itself to the judgment of the Churches in England. The difficulty is extreme, and of increasing magnitude, to persuade the people of England that Christian work in the colonies needs to be carried on by them. Moreover, returned colonists, particularly from Australia, are found generally confirming this estimate. But when the point is distinctly before the churches, that the Christian people in the colonies are prepared to raise four-fifths themselves of what is expended in Home Missions, they will cheerfully encourage them by contributing the remaining fifth.

The number of names on the Society's list for the past year, including the students of the Congregational College of B. N. A., is forty-one. It has often been said, what is emphatically true, that it is impossible to estimate the preciousness of the work performed, or of the results achieved. The record is on high. The interesting details, so far as they can be given, will appear in the reports of the several District Secretaries. The information afforded would have been yet more cheering, had we more earnestly sought the coming of that wondrous wave of Divine influence which is passing over the churches in the mother country, and bathing them in its blessedness. Let us be stirred up to call upon the Lord to bless us also.

The cordial thanks of the Society are again rendered to the Colonial Missionary Society, for their grant of four hundred pounds sterling already expended, and for one of three hundred and fifty pounds placed at our disposal for the coming year.

The receipts of the year, including the balance of last year, $1,247 74, which was applied to the payment of the July quarter, have been $8,032 81, being from the Colonial Missionary, $1,937 17, and from the Home field, $6,095 04. The expenditure has been $6,889 55, leaving a balance which will be more than expended in the payment of the July quarter. The claims for that quarter amount to $1,516. The special deposit of $750, noted last year, is still intact, and is not included in the above statement, though it was employed for about three months of the year, during which, otherwise borrowing would have been necessary. The interest on this deposit is credited in the accounts, $37.05.

The following is a comparative statement, cents omitted :

The last mentioned district affords a less accurate comparison than do the others, because of the irregularity as to dates of both revenue and expenditure.

ONTARIO WESTERN DISTRICT.

Missionary work, and the success attending it, will present varied aspects to different observers. These aspects will be coloured, dull, or bright, as they may be looked upon. Some, who have been successful themselves, who measure everything by the rule of their own field, and view everything from their stand-point, and that perhaps, a city one, will expect too much, and be disappointed. Others, who understand better what is really hopeful and encouraging, will feel that seldom is money better spent or more economically applied, than in our Canada Congregational Home Missionary Society.

We believe we are doing the Lord's work, in the Lord's way, and shall have assuredly the Lord's blessing.

Some things in this district have occurred, apparently adverse to advancement—perhaps, in the providence of God, not really so.

Amherstburg.—Rev. J. M. Smith, who seemed to be so prosperous last year, and so hopeful in his field, has thought it to be his duty to leave the church, and take up lecturing on temperance. We are not aware that any person has, up to this time, succeeded him in the pastorate.

Rev. W. H. A. Claris is labouring on hopefully in Sarnia. The cause is gradually assuming a more permanent aspect, and the pastor abundant in labour and faith.

Warwick and Forest were vacated by Rev. Mr. Salmon last fall, who accepted a call to the Congregational Church at Embryo, where he is successfully working.

Watford, Warwick, and Forest, all the stations formerly occupied by Rev. Mr. Salmon, have only been occasionally supplied with preaching this winter. It is rumoured that they have prospect of a pastor from the United States next month. We should regret if these flourishing churches, so lately independent of missionary aid, failed to find an under-shepherd.

Stratford.—Rev. W. H. Heu de Bourck still labours here. They report the loss of several families by removal to other parts of the Province; but since they have entered upon the occupancy of their new church, their congregations have improved, and their hopes revive.

The Rev. E. Rose still labours at Listowel with much encouragement and success. He seems to be hopeful and the church likewise.

Rev. E. Barker is still in Fergus, and in labours more abundant, supplying at present, Douglas, in addition to his other fields. The last report, dated 1st January, refers chiefly to changes in his field, by the extra work of assuming the charge of an additional church, and financial matters. North Garafraxa is unsupplied at present.

Turnberry and Howick.—Rev. Mr. Snider's field presents but few changes. The veteran labours on, and by the help of Mr. Wickett, who has taken a part of his vast field, new ground has hopefully been entered upon in Clifford, where a good congregation has been gathered, a house of worship purchased, and a prospect of much good opened up. May the Lord speedily give us to realize our sanguine hopes in regard to this.

Rev. N. McKinnon writes somewhat despondingly with respect to the cause in Kincardine. He does not see prospect of the church there, or of other churches, similarly situated, becoming speedily self-supporting. He says, "I am sensible that without patient, continuous efforts, the cause must go down; this is all that reconciles me to continue my ministry in this place." * * * "Still, I suppose, Christ's sheep must be sought upon the mountains, and sinners called from the highways and hedges, and the poor have the gospel preached unto them."

At the time we write, the Spring Reports are not in from the churches, or they might contain something of more special interest.

We trust that no Christian will feel his interest flag in this great work. We have faithful, indefatigable workers, let not the supporters grow weary.

W. H. ALLWORTH,
Secretary to the Western District.

ONTARIO MIDDLE DISTRICT.

During the Society's year just closed, ten missionaries have been assisted by the Society—six as settled pastors, three as supplies with a view to the pastorate, and one as an evangelist.

Some of the churches report progress in both material and spiritual things; others are struggling, hoping, and labouring for better days.

Markham and Unionville, which were without a pastor last year, have a brother, lately from England, settled over them, with indications of usefulness among them.

Owen Sound, after the resignation of Rev. R. Robinson, invited the Rev. J. I. Hindley, M.A., to the pastorate, who accepted the invitation, and is labouring with some encouragement.

Oro, Bethesda, and Vespra Churches have built a beautiful brick parsonage, and are enjoying tokens of Divine favour, under the ministry of Rev. E. D. Silcox.

Stouffville friends have commenced building a beautiful brick church edifice, which they are hoping to have completed this summer.

In South Caledon, a house and one acre of land have been purchased; the house is being fitted up for a parsonage. The friends there have decided to build a house for the worship of God, before long.

Bowmanville, until within two years a mission station, has had settled over them, the Rev. J. Allworth, B.A., graduate of our College. The settlement is full of hope. A more detailed statement of matters of interest will be found in the following extracts from the reports of the brethren :

Alton and North Erin.—Rev. M. S. Gray, the pastor, with indefatigable energy, amid many discouragements, and serious difficulties, is labouring in hope. The Lord is giving him assurances that his labour is not in vain.

He writes under date of January : "I am pleased to communicate a few favourable features of our work. At Alton, on the first Sabbath of the new year, we received five of our young people into the church, who gave clear evidence of their conversion to God. We expect to receive one or two more in February. Our Sabbath-school has been well attended. Ninety dollars were raised at two soirees during the past six months for its support. Under the able management of Deacon James McLellan, it is doing a good work."

North Erin was visited by a fearful hailstorm at the time the grain was very ready to harvest. The greater part of it was thrashed on the ground. This disaster has greatly affected our finances. Our prayer meetings and Bible classes are well attended.

Under date of May, he writes : "Since my last report, Rev. W. W. Smith and I have held seven weeks' special services—four at Alton, and three at Pine Grove. Good appeared to be done at Alton, though we have had no additions to the church as yet. Our congregations are good, and I have six hundred and eighty-five dollars subscribed towards a new church."

North Erin.—"Our labours in this field are not in vain. Two years ago, if the young people attempted to sing a new tune, we could hear scarce anything but discord ; they can now sing very nicely—they are also obtaining a good knowledge of the Scriptures. This week we received a candidate for membership. We intend organizing a Sabbath-school this summer."

Markham and Unionville.—Rev. R. Bulman, late of England, is pastor of this church. The removal of members, and their lack of a shepherd for months, had both weakened them and tried their faith ; but there were men of true hearts and earnest prayer among them, who loved Zion and longed for her prosperity. Since the settlement of Brother Bulman, their prospects are brightening, and their hopes are being strengthened. The pastor writes under date of May, "When I came here the church that remained after twenty-eight removals, were greatly discouraged. The congregation at Markham is double what it was the first Sabbath I preached there. The congregation at Unionville is very good. Prayer-Meetings and Bible Classes greatly improved. Five additional members recently received into the Church. The Sabbath-school is in a very healthy condition, and increased in numbers. I am anxious to form a class of probationers from among the senior scholars, as several of them are under deep impressions, and not a few love the Saviour. I have a loving and united flock, always ready to help in every good work. During the last few weeks we have had a very gracious awakening in the village, especially among the young ; the ministers of the three denominations, Wesleyan, Presbyterian, and our own, were thoroughly united in effort to promote God's work, and all the three churches have been blessed indeed. We look therefore for better and brighter days in the future, although there is a good deal of up-hill work to be done."

Manilla.—Rev. D. McGregor, the pastor of this church, is beginning to see some indications of the Master's presence. With a large field of labour—his outstation congregations being made up of adherents of other bodies as well as our own people, it is difficult to estimate the amount of good done by his ministrations. It is largely with our brother a seed time ; the harvest will come, and great joy will fill both the sowers' and the reapers' hearts. He writes under date of January, "For the last twelve years I have not had so much encouragement in what is properly my missionary work, as I have at present, at what is known as Wylie's

School-house and the serving hearers, manifesting appreciating approval where I have had account of the work with mine, but by parties who—I went and for me, and doing. I have where I preached with permission.

School-house, in the 11th concession of Mariposa, being a Gaelic speaking district, and the service is in that language. I have also a large congregation of English hearers, many of them strangers to me, and coming considerable distances, indicating appreciation of truth as it is in Jesus. Sunderland, on the Nipissing line, where I have laboured for the last two years, I gave up for the last few weeks on account of the Presbyterians having a minister there, and the service interfering with mine, but their supply was only temporary. I was written to three times by parties who were benefited by my former services, to resume preaching there—I went and found the New Connexion Methodist Church nearly full, waiting for me, and a strong desire expressed I should continue going, which I intend doing. I have five out-stations which I attend, besides my principal one, Manilla, where I preach two sermons, one in Gaelic and the other in English, without intermission. Between visiting the sick and other duties, my time is fully occupied. What to me is remarkable in so short a time, I am not asked to have service, either at funerals or on any other occasion, in the Gaelic language, except the one service on Sabbath, at Manilla. This field is now as much an English one as any place in Canada. We have peace and unity in the Church, and are longing for an outpouring of the Spirit upon us.”

Under date of May, he writes, “Since I last wrote, two new converts were added to the Church, and two of our members came back to the Church. I trust we are more alive to the necessity of prayer and effort for the salvation of souls than for years past. Besides our usual weekly meetings, as many as can meet on Saturday evening do so for prayer. In connection with our Mission Sabbath School, there is a Prayer Meeting on Monday evening. I find a stronger feeling of enquiry among the younger members of my congregations, than I noticed at any former period. One young woman died lately who had found the Saviour on her death bed. I hope her death-bed sayings and example may have been the means of deepening conviction in many others.

“The English congregation has been considerably affected by the removal of four families, regular hearers and supporters. The villages along the line of railway are drawing business men to them. We are five miles from the railway, too far to insure increase of population, and the stay of young men with us at Manilla. I had an offer from another body a few weeks ago, and they would give me $800 of a salary, which I declined. It is no money consideration that keeps me a day at Manilla.”

Meaford.—This station has been supplied by Rev. C. H. Silcocks during the past year. Difficulties, numerous and complex, arising from the weak state of the church, and their very limited ability to maintain the ordinances of the Lord’s house, hinder the work of the Lord. Our brother has laboured on in hope, some good has been done, and the prospects are somewhat brighter than last year. A new deed has been secured and duly registered; the building painted inside, and whitewashed; some old building fund debts paid. May a brighter day dawn on our brother’s field.

Newmarket.—Rev. A. Shand still continues as missionary in this field. He is confident of success, but thinks patience will have to be exercised for sometime yet. May the Lord speedily visit this station and revive it.

Owen Sound.—In July last the Rev. J. I. Hindley, M.A., late of Southwold, was invited to the pastorate of this church, which had been made vacant by the resignation of Rev. R. Robinson. Since our brother’s settlement there have been some indications of good; but numerical weakness and the debt upon the church building, are serious drawbacks to vigorous prosperity. He writes, under date of May: “When I came here, the congregation was never larger than thirty, often less than half that number. Now it is several times as large. Frequently the little church is well filled, and a marked interest is manifested. Seven have already been added to the church, and I trust there will be more additions ere long. The Sabbath-school is several times as large as I found it. I have organized a Bible-class, and have about twenty names upon the list. Hitherto hath the Lord helped us.”

Oro, Rugby, and Vespra.—Rev. E. D. Silcox, pastor of these churches, is being much encouraged in his work. The Lord has given him comfort and prosperity—a new brick parsonage, an united people, and additions to the church. It is hoped next year this field will be self-sustaining. He writes, under date of January: “I have as yet only been here eight months, during which time I have reason to hope much good has been done. Some have already given their hearts to the Saviour, and others are enquiring the way to Zion with their faces thitherward. The congregations have been large. We are looking forward with hopefulness to the year upon which we have now entered. On New Year’s eve we held the Annual Meeting of the three churches, and it was a season which will be long remembered by those who were present.”

Under date of May, he writes: “A splendid parsonage has been built, which will cost $1,500. This expenditure has caused the people to think that they could not do away with missionary aid for another year. We hope to send two-thirds we ask for in missionary collections.”

Stouffville.—Rev. B. W. Day, Pastor. This church a year ago found it necessary to apply again for aid; but we are confident from the present indications of God’s favour, and the church’s noble efforts to erect a handsome substantial brick church building, they will soon not only be independent, but able liberally to support their worthy and devoted pastor.

Our brother writes, under date of January: “We are moving along in a quiet, peaceable manner, keeping all the machinery of the church at work; but still needing more of the Spirit’s influence to fire our hearts with holy zeal and self-sacrificing love for Jesus. Two persons have been added to our membership by conversion, and we have some reason to believe that others have had their hearts touched, but not enough to lead them to decide for Christ. There are those who halt between two opinions, who, if they would but come out boldly, might be of great service in the Lord’s cause.

“The prayer meetings are very fairly attended. The Sabbath-school has increased with regard to numbers, and there appears to be a growing sense of the importance of this work in the minds of the teachers, and some of the members of the church.

“Two thousand dollars have been subscribed towards building a new church—a lot bought and paid for; and with one voice we have determined to proceed with its erection in the coming season. The cost of the building will probably be about four thousand dollars, including provision not only for the preaching services, but also for the Sabbath-school and prayer meetings. The size of the church has to be 35 by 55 feet, with a basement, lecture-room, and vestry.

“Altogether it will be a very handsome structure, and when finished will, we believe, add very much to the prosperity of the Lord’s cause.” He writes under date of May: “The new church building has fairly commenced, and in the course of a few months will, with the Lord’s blessing on our labours, be opened for divine service. In spiritual things, while we have to mourn over a great deal of formality and carelessness, yet there are many things to encourage. Many are stirred up to take hold of God in prayer, and are looking for a revival. Since my last report two have been added to the church by profession, and we hope also that there will be one or two more coming forward in a very little while. May the Lord, indeed, pour out His spirit upon us.”

Whitby.—Rev. S. T. Gibbs, Pastor. Our brother, like many other Christian workers, has to continue to labour in hope. At times, the sky brightens and gives hope of spring time—then comes the cloud, and faith and patience are called into exercise. The past year has been one of great trial, yet not despairing nor cast down, our brother writes under date of May: “During the past year and more, our church has been passing through the fire of affliction, nearly every family being clad in mourning. Removals to other towns have also diminished the number of our supporters, and in some degree, though not very perceptibly, our regular attendance. Still, we have reason to thank God for present mercies, and to hope for the promised blessings on our labours.

"We have a full share of strangers from abroad, but as soon as they hear of something better, they leave for Toronto, or other places. In some cases their professions of piety disappoint us.

"The removal of one liberal supporter has affected both the Annual Subscription, and also the Building Fund.

"Thankful should I be, if this report contained the news of the conversion of many souls to Christ. I believe there are many not far from the kingdom of God; but the question often troubles me: 'Will they ever be found within the sacred enclosure?' Two have been received lately into the church.

"The Sabbath-school and Mission station at Hamer's Corner, which I supply in connection with others, are prospering."

South Caledon.—Our Brother Davies, who has been labouring in this field during the past year, has been very much encouraged in his work. The Lord is doing a good work through him in the place. He writes under date of May: "The cause here is bright and hopeful. During the past year we have received six new members. Our number at present upon the Church roll, stands between thirty and forty, while the congregation has increased far beyond our expectation.

"We are also putting forth an effort to build a church of our own. Land has been purchased for a site, with a dwelling house upon it, which is being fitted up for a parsonage."

Rev. H. Denny, in much feebleness, continues to try to do a little for the Master. He writes, "A kind Providence has permitted me to commence my seventy-fourth year in this probationary state, and thirty-eight of them in Canada, preaching the glorious Gospel of Christ."

ONTARIO EASTERN DISTRICT.

The past year has been one of activity and of progress. We have had the addition of three brethren now settled over churches, while one has left us for the United States. With the exception of two (and these are temporarily filled), all the churches in the district have pastors.

Coldsprings.—Since the death of the late lamented Brother Pedley, this church has been without a settled pastor. In the summer, the pulpit was supplied by Mr. J. B. Silcox, student, who reports, that "it is a hopeful field, a great many young people almost within the kingdom." Rev. J. Howell accepted the pastorate, and began his labours last February; he writes, "The present aspect of things here, I am happy to say, is very encouraging: three have been admitted to fellowship during the first two months of my sojourn here; the attendance and attention at the means of grace have been very good. I hope to be able to arrange for services at one or two neighboring settlements."

Cobourg—Rev. J. Griffith, Pastor—has been engaged in improving, indeed almost rebuilding, the Chapel; they have had to worship in a hall, which has somewhat interfered with the attendance of the congregation. Brother Griffith writes: "My hope is undiminished in the final success of the cause here; with a few additions of good active men there would be no danger. I am living, and toiling, and praying in the confidence that a bright day is not far off."

Belleville.—Without a Pastor—This year has been a very trying one to this church. Brother Lewis resigned his charge under much discouragement, and is now in the State of Michigan. The Rev. W. Wooding, from Shrewsbury, England, on a visit to Canada, has very kindly ministered to their wants since 1st April; but as he intends to return to England after the Union Meetings, we fear that the pulpit may be vacant again.

Brockville has a very cheering report, after years of toil and depression. When seemingly at the lowest ebb, the Rev. E. Ireland, from Dronfield, England, visited them, accepted the pastorate last December, and has infused such new life and vigour, that not only have they increased in numbers, but they have beautified the building, and there is a refreshing tone of earnest zeal about them, very encouraging. Brother Ireland writes:—"Nearly five months ago, the Brockville Church was re-opened with a congregation of twenty-five; the usual attendance now is from eighty to one hundred, with prospects of a steady increase. Three new members have been added to the church, and several from sister churches about to join us. A Sunday-school has been established, likewise a Band of Hope, and an adult Bible-class conducted by the minister. The spirit of despair which characterized the people six months ago, has given place to one of hopefulness and energy; on the whole, our position is such as to lead us to thank God and take courage."

Indian Lands.—The churches at Athol and Martintown at the beginning of the year were without a pastor. Last August the Rev. D. Macallum received and accepted a call from them, and is now labouring with much success. He writes hopefully of this field; several seem awakened although they have not joined the church; they hold fast their confidence, and they help at prayer meetings. Four members have been added lately at Martintown.

Middleville.—Rev. R. Brown, Pastor, writes:—"I am encouraged in my work; the last year has been a happy one to me, and I trust something has been done for the Master. I now preach three times every Sabbath, except every fifth Sabbath, then twice. Nine members were added to the church."

Lanark Village.—Rev. J. Brown, Pastor, reports the church in about the same condition as last year. Some improvement has been made in the lighting and heating of the chapel.

Ottawa.—Rev. J. G. Sanderson, Pastor, reports:—"The time has been marked by a moderate degree of prosperity, and much harmony, good-will and peace among ourselves." In last report he writes:—"Though not rejoicing in an increase of members, our people have worked energetically and willingly in endeavouring to improve our financial position; our bazaar realized $1,000, which is to be employed in paying off debt on the church site; the result of the bazaar encouraged the people to put forth an effort to pay off the whole debt, which resulted in subscriptions being obtained, whereby the whole (nearly $2,000), is to be cleared off by the end of the present year."

Vankleek Hill has been without a pastor since the resignation of Bro. Peacock, and although financially weak, numbers about thirty members. With a good man in connection with Hawkesbury, the prospect is fair for a good cause. A devoted brother, J. P. Wells, Esq., writes from Vankleek Hill:—"It would be a matter of deep regret, and indeed of disgrace, to allow the cause to die out." Mr. Pedley, student, is now stationed there for the vacation.

QUEBEC DISTRICT.

Eaton.—A crisis has come in the history of this Church. Mr. Sherrill reports:—

“At the close of my thirty-sixth year of pastoral work, Nov. 1873, I read my resignation to this church and people. A Committee was immediately chosen to consider the subject. By that Committee my resignation was accepted, at the same time an unanimous wish expressed that I should remain with them as acting pastor, preaching when able to do so; at other times taking the introductory services, one of the deacons reading a sermon, thus sustaining regular Sabbath worship until another Congregational minister could be obtained. I think that never since my pastoral work began here have I seen greater interest manifested in the word preached, or a more appreciative audience. A minister's preaching with power and success doubtless depends greatly on the earnest prayers of the people, that utterance may be given him, and on their own quickened appetite for the word; and I am sure our people were aroused by the announcement of my resignation to more fervent prayer, attentive hearing, and earnest working.

“I am glad to feel an assurance that our people love to sit under their own vine and fig tree, and desire to worship God as they have been taught from childhood; that is, they are true Congregationalists. It seems to me to be a desirable field for a young man who is ready for vigorous work, and notwithstanding repeated removals, which might seem to discourage, I think it will, with God's blessing, yield an abundant harvest.

“The congregation numbers about the same as usual—perhaps more than the usual average the past winter, and nearly all belong to the Sabbath-school. We have five adult classes, and six classes for children. We use the International Series of S. S. Lessons, and new life has been given to the school during the past year. A County Sabbath-school Convention was held here in July last. Delegates from Toronto, Montreal, Danville, &c., attended. Two out-stations, Learned Plain and Sawyerville, have been more or less regularly visited. We are now expecting Mr. Warriner, from the Congregational College, to remain four or five months. We think he will find it a field full of promise. And I hope that after a summer's rest from an almost unbroken service of more than thirty-six years, I may find my health in a measure improved. There has been one addition to the Church (by profession) and one member has died.”

Fitch Bay.—Of this field the pastor, Rev. L. P. Adams, writes:—

“Our congregations are quite as large as they hitherto have been, and we have some interesting meetings, when apparently the word has a deep effect upon the minds of the hearers, and I have reason to hope the good seed will not all be lost. Some of the members of the church are, I think, growing in grace, but being scattered in different neighbourhoods, they are not the mutual help to each other, which they would be, if they lived more compact together. Yet I am satisfied many of them are an example of godliness in their vicinity, and by their lives recommend the Saviour, as well as, in some degree, restrain sin. I lately baptized two, a man and his wife, who will likely be received into the church at next communion. I have done and am still doing a great deal of hard work in this field, and am willing to toil on, if satisfied that it is the will of the Master. Though often much discouraged, I have not yet been able to see that He would have me leave it. I trust He will not only make the path of duty plain, but glorify Himself in me, though He do not gratify me in seeing a permanent, self-supporting cause, before I am called to leave the work by death or otherwise. Though this report looks a little dark, there is nothing unusually discouraging either in the membership or in the appearance of the congregation. There are not many mighty works done, yet we are not without hope that some little good is done, through the efforts made in this field. It is like the hidden influence of the raindrops, lost to sight at present, but which will yet appear as precious seed among the sheaves of the great harvest."

Waterville.—Our brother Purkis has again had severe affliction in his household. He writes, in May:—

"Owing to my own sickness this time last year, and the sickness of my son and daughter during the past winter, I have not been able to do so much on week evenings at a distance from home, as I did the year before, but, Providence permitting, I hope to be able to do more in that direction shortly."

At the principal Station he preaches every Sabbath morning. Congregations much about the same. During the year five members have been received by letter, and one by profession; two have been dismissed, leaving a net gain of four. At Capelton Mines he preaches every Sabbath evening; and with the exception of two evenings, when the roads were in deplorable condition, he has had excellent congregations. Five persons from that neighbourhood have united with the church.

At the Laver's School House, on Hatley road—a station which he took up last summer—things are encouraging, the congregation is very good for such a locality. They are very attentive to the Word preached, and manifest their interest, among other ways, by their liberality.

At N. Hatley, where he preaches in the Sabbath afternoons, alternately with the Laver's station, the attendance has been improving of late. Some time ago things looked very discouraging there. But they need the gospel, and our brother is willing to continue his visits, glad of any apparent interest awakening.

The finances on this field are somewhat encouraging. More promptness is obtaining. At the Mines the "weekly offering" has been adopted and with success. Besides a "donation" visit at Waterville, which left over $70, the District Secretary had the pleasure of presiding at a meeting of the friends at Capelton, and, from them, presenting their pastor with a valuable fur coat and mitts.

We cordially join with our brother Purkis in the closing prayer of his report. "May the Lord grant showers of spiritual blessing, and greatly revive His work in our midst!"

ARCHD. DUFF.

NOVA SCOTIA AND NEW BRUNSWICK DISTRICT.

The year which has just closed has been one of peace and spiritual prosperity to nearly all the missionary churches in the Maritime Provinces. Specially have the churches in Queen's County, Nova Scotia, been visited by a most gracious outpouring of the Holy Spirit, resulting in the quickening of the membership, and the addition of a goodly number to their fellowship. One church in Yarmouth County, though without a pastor most of the year, yet reports a revival of religion, while other churches in which there has been no special religious interest, report steady progress.

Seven missionary pastors, representing as many churches, have laboured in connection with the Society during either the whole or part of the past year. Two new settlements have been effected, viz., that of the Rev. J. B.

Kean, over that of Rev. M. is to be regretted months in from whence may be induced to be hoped, missing a field Chebogue, I of Yarmouth the oldest in office and a paring waited for last, the Rev. them in the I ing December of the ministr rendered their junction with whom the church held, with wh Healey, Clerk Kean, over the Church in Maitland and Noel, in January of this year, and that of Rev. M. C. Williams over the church in Chebogue, in September, 1873. It is to be regretted that the last named brother, after remaining but a few months in his new sphere of labour, returned home to Jersey, England, from whence he came, although the friends are not without hope that he may be induced to return, as the illness of a beloved parent, who is now, it is to be hoped, restored to health, was the cause of his departure from so promising a field.

Chebogue, N.S.—This Church, situated about five miles from the Town of Yarmouth, the oldest Congregational Church in Nova Scotia, probably the oldest in the Dominion, possesses a tasteful and commodious church edifice and a parsonage, attached to which are eleven acres of good land. Having waited long for a pastor, their hearts were cheered when, in September last, the Rev. M. C. Williams, just from Jersey, England, was ordained over them in the Lord. But sore was their disappointment when, in the following December, he felt it his duty to return home. Thus suddenly deprived of the ministration of the Word, Deacon Freeman Dennis, of Yarmouth, rendered them most acceptable service during the winter months. In conjunction with a student from Maine, whose name we have not learned, and whom the church has asked to supply for the summer, special services were held, with what results the subjoined extract from a letter written by Mr. Healey, Clerk of the Church, and of date April 20th, will show.

“We have been blessed with an outpouring of God’s Holy Spirit. Mr. Dennis and the young man I spoke of felt an interest in us, and proposed to hold a series of meetings. The church consented, and their efforts have been blessed. For two weeks we had meetings every evening. We feel that if the under-shepherd has been removed we are not left comfortless. Not only have the church members been revived, but quite a number of the young men have expressed a desire to be on the Lord’s side, and some have taken a decided stand for Christ. Among the number is one of my own children. Thursday evening is our weekly prayer meeting. Friday is the young peoples’ prayer meeting. They are well attended. One night there were over fifty young people.

“Pray for us that this good work may still go on.

“We have had some removals by death, but I hope and pray that others may be raised up to take their places.”

Pleasant River.—This is one of those churches in Queen’s County, N.S., that has shared in the general outpouring of the Spirit, of which mention is made in our general statement. It is just one year since the Rev. J. Shipperly became pastor of this church, and the result in all the stations has been most encouraging to our brother who has been abundant in labour, as also what might be expected after the plentiful sowing of our esteemed brother Sykes, who for eight years ministered to this people. It is only to be regretted that, although our brother, in the interest of more neglected districts, retired from fields occupied by other denominations, the spirit of proselytism should have led some to follow him into these destitute places, and create party spirit. When will some professed ministers of Christ cease to build upon another man’s foundation, made ready to their hands, and glory less in leading men and women “down into the baptismal waters,” than to Christ, and Him crucified? Our brother’s report of the 16th March, which we give in full, will be read with interest. Since the subjoined was written, others have been received into membership, making the addition about 35.

“When I took charge of this field, in May last year, both yourself and the church here thought the field too extensive to be supplied by one missionary, and suggested the giving up of Brookfield and Caledonia for Sabbath monthly services, in order that fortnightly preaching might be established in the otherwise nearly neglected stations of Ohio and Baker’s settlements. These latter stations, had previously been visited for preaching but once a month, but the former were supplied by other denominations, rendering my labours there less needed. I have, however, at the solicitation of the Trustees of the Brookfield Union Church edifice, recently commenced, a fortnightly week evening service. The congregation there is large and intelligent, but we have no members at this station. Our chief station (Pleasant River) has a fair and increasing congregation which meets to regular preaching services every Sunday morning, or nearly so, and we have prayer meetings in the evening. Much interest is manifested in the preaching of the Word, and our prayer meetings have been unusually lively and interesting, sometimes 20 or 30 speaking or engaging in prayer. We have had five additions to church membership at Baker’s Settlement, and two are proposed for fellowship at Ohio, and the same number at Newclear; at the latter station, monthly services are held. In the last few months 13 members have been added to the church at the principal station, making 18 in all, showing that God has been with us in an especial manner, and we earnestly pray that His work may be continued for His glory. We have lost, by death, two warm friends of our church here and earnest workers for Christ, Deacon J. A. Waterman and his wife, who died within about a fortnight of each other. The power of Christ as their Saviour was manifested by them in their last days, and their end was peace.”

Milton.—The pastor, Rev. R. K. Black, reports :

“The past year has been to us one of mingled lights and shadows. Very heavy indeed have been the losses sustained by some of our people in the very severe commercial crisis through which Queen’s County is now passing; yet none have become bankrupt (a very common occurrence in this place at present), and all we trust have retained their integrity. Several members have removed from the place with a view to engage in business elsewhere, and up till the month of January of this year we suffered from depletion and great spiritual depression. But since that, by the gracious outpouring of the Holy Spirit, in which the other churches of the county shared with us, we have been quickened. As the result of special services, somewhat prolonged, new life was infused into the church, and a considerable number professed conversion. Up to the present time as many as twelve, mostly young people, have been received into the church, and there are others who we hope will unite soon. Our Sabbath-school is in a very flourishing state, and, notwithstanding the hard times, nearly as much has been raised for Home and Foreign Missions as in former years.”

Maitland and Noel, N. S.—Rev. J. R. Kean, formerly of Canning, accepted the call to this church in July last, and was installed over it in January of this year. The field is a most extensive and laborious one, affording full scope for the labours of two ministers. It embraces four stations, from five to seven or eight miles apart, on the shore of Cotoquid Bay, an arm of the Bay of Fundy, and also on the Shubenacadie River. Their names are respectively Noel, Salma, Maitland, and Five Mile River. Mr. Kean’s report of April 16th, is as follows:—

“Mr. Allworth’s description of this field, given in last year’s report, relieves me from any necessity of repeating. It extends thirty instead of twenty miles along the shores of the bay and river named by him; and while it is true, as he states, that the establishment of Congregational principles here would be most desirable, yet that consummation is envired by many difficulties. As you expressed, delay in settlement has not been without its evil effects. Then, the length of the field and the scattered state of the people make Congregational meetings almost impossible.

“In the past, good seed has been sown on good soil, but it requires the influences of spiritual warmth to germinate. And it is equally difficult with any regularity to maintain prayer meetings, or any means of creating this needed warmth.

“We have preached with as much regularity as the nature of the field would admit, to good congregations, at the different stations, Maitland excepted, where we have had to meet all the opposition of old feuds, that could be given under the guise of pretended friendship. Nevertheless, we have not been without encouragements, even here, that are all the more valuable in such circumstances. Four very worthy members joined us at our last communion. And we expect that others will follow their example soon. We need very much the prayers and sympathy of our brethren who have this season been visited with a refreshing from the presence of the Lord, that we also may be similarly visited. This is what we most need. Till it comes, may the Great Shepherd of the sheep give us grace to say: ‘If the vision tarry, wait for it.’”

Keswick Ridge, N.B., is the only missionary station occupied by your Society in New Brunswick; nor will it be a mission station long, for the church receives but a very small grant in aid of its pastor's support, and expects soon to be self-supporting. Our brother, Rev. S. Sykes, has now been settled there a year and a half, and certainly if good congregations, interesting prayer meetings, a good Sabbath school, a present of a handsome sleigh and robe to the pastor, and the erection of a new parsonage at a cost of $1000, and nearly all paid for, are indicative of progress, then Brother Sykes is the right man in the right place. An extract from his report of April 3rd which we give below, will be perused with interest:—

“When I look back at what has been done in so short a time, and the unassuming manner in which it has been done; the building of the new manse, increase of minister's salary, handsome present made to myself, and the increased contributions to our Missionary Society—I feel like thanking God and taking new courage. We have not had any additions to the church for several months, until our last church meeting, when two young persons, one of each sex, came and applied for fellowship. Their religious experience was very satisfactory indeed. An unusual solemnity pervaded the meeting. Neither of them had made known their intentions before the church meeting at which they applied; we knew, however, that they and others were not far from the kingdom.

“In the month of March I made a missionary tour into the camps of the lumbermen. Mr. Kennedy, who is a member of the church, and a very generous supporter of the cause of Christ, being extensively engaged in the lumber business, asked me in the autumn if I would go during the winter, and preach to his men in the forests. I told him if nothing unforeseen prevented, I would. Mr. Lunt, the gentleman who was scaling Mr. Kennedy's lumber, is also a Congregationalist, from Orino, near Bangor, Maine. He and Mr. Kennedy agreed to invite each his minister to come into the camps for a Sabbath. Mr. Lunt's minister, the Rev. Mr. Cross, on being asked, consented to accompany me. We met at McAdam Junction and rode in company to the town of Holton, in the railway cars, where we were met by the aforesaid gentlemen, with horses and sleighs, to conduct us the remainder of our journey. Next morning (Friday) we started for the lumbermen's camps, which were twenty-five miles from Holton, and about fifteen miles from any house or any female. After a brisk drive of four and a-half hours, we took our dinner, for the first time, in the lumbermen's camp. In the evening, after the men had returned from their labour, and refreshed themselves with supper and a short rest, we had our first service; when we both gave our introductory address to the men, and had service for about an hour and twenty minutes. They appeared much interested in our visit. We had services on the Saturday evening, three times on the Sabbath, and also on the Monday evening. On the Sabbath we had about a hundred of a congregation. Ten persons walked to the meeting from another camp, five miles off. The men were very attentive, and as orderly as if they had been in a church. Thirty dollars, American currency, was subscribed, which was equally divided among the ministers. It was good to preach the Gospel to these men, shut out for months together from the means of grace. I trust that the seed which was sown was not scattered in vain."

Brooklyn and Beach Meadows, N. S.—The numerous population of these places where we have two flourishing congregations, is composed exclusively of "those who go down to the sea in ships and do business in the great waters." Here our brother Duff's labours have been much blessed in former years, and here again his heart has been cheered by an abundant share in the general outpouring of the Holy Spirit. His report, although long, is so interesting, that we give it entire. Of date April 27th, he writes:—

"This entire field, including Brooklyn and Beach Meadows, is a sea-faring community; and as such it is subject to inconveniences and disadvantages that mere rural populations know nothing about. The physical features of a neighbourhood have not incorrectly been supposed to exert an influence upon the habits and lives of its people. If not born, a majority of this community have been cradled and reared upon the ocean; and, alas, too many of them find their 'last resting place' beneath its waves. It would not be an uninteresting subject to trace the influence of these circumstances upon church life and Christian character; but a report like this is not the place for such an essay.

"Among the thousands of saddened hearts by the long-to-be-remembered August gale of 1873, it was our lot to be numbered. Glancing over the subsequent reports of 'Disasters,' the eye caught one item from the Magdalen Islands, that filled us all with sorrow. It was to the effect that, among other things driven ashore, there was found some of the 'quarter railing of a schooner, and in a board fastened to it was cut the word 'Tyro.' The time she was last seen by her companions, when the gale came on, and the place from which this intelligence issued, indicated but too clearly that we were indeed the sufferers. Capt. S. Smith and three sons, with two other young men, were from our church and congregation at Brooklyn, and four others on board from Beach Meadows. Thus nine out of the ten of the crew were our own members and their children. This disaster stripped us of a valued deacon, four highly esteemed church members, and four young men of energy, industry, and promise. 'We sorrow not as those who have no hope.'

"This is but an instance, though prominent, of what every now and then overtakes us, cutting short our material resources as a church, and, except so far as they may slay more in their deaths than in their lives, stripping us of the spiritual growth and strength which to us are seemingly so necessary. At lower Beach Meadows our people feel the need of a new place of worship. A site and burying ground has been offered free of cost, by Mr. John Bagley, senior, and a meeting has already been held to bring matters into shape, if possible to commence immediately the work contemplated.

"Since Feb. 1st, God has been pleased, more especially at Brooklyn, 'to revive us again.' Between said date and the present thirty-eight souls have been added to the church, embracing persons from between sixteen and seventeen years of age up to sixty. And still the work goes on. Truly He is doing abundantly above what we asked or could conceive.

"But the requirements of a field like this are immense. The sea-faring life of its people, with other characteristics peculiar to itself, make a fearful drain upon the physical resources of your missionary. Brooklyn is more and more evidently becoming a place of importance. Since the commencement to build the breakwater in the harbour, all kinds of property have begun to rise, and even with only one-third of that work completed, its anchorage ground is visited tenfold more by vessels needing a harbour than previously. This fact, with that of a church of another denomination springing up in our midst, points to the separation, at no distant day, of the Brooklyn church from that at Beach Meadows, with a pastor for each field, in which case, the last named place will call for the exercise of that material good-will on the part of our English brethren, of which the Rev. Dr. G. Smith assured them, when he opened the place of worship. Already the demand upon pastor and preacher in the Brooklyn church and congregation alone, I venture to say is not less than that of any other single church and congregation in this Province.

“Feeling, however, that God in His providence has watched over and guided this church hitherto, and has quickened it from time to time by His Spirit and grace, I trust He will continue to be its support and reward.”

Margaree, C. B.—It is much to be regretted that the church at Hope is still without a pastor. “Hope deferred maketh the heart sick.” But our friends there must have strong and brave hearts, as well as remarkable attachment to their principles, to have persevered in keeping up services as they have done. The cry of your committee in regard to Margaree still is, “Whom shall we send, and who will go for us?” When shall we hear the response from some devoted man of God? “Here am I, send me.”

By arrangement with the Secretary, Brethren Jackson and Dickson, of Toronto, at very small expense to the Society, were induced to spend a working holiday at Margaree, last August; and, as I write, Mr. J. F. Malcolm, student, is on his way thither to spend among that people his summer vacation. Below we give an epitome of Messrs Jackson and Dickson’s report.

“According to arrangement, the Rev. S. N. Jackson and I, after a ten days’ journey—four being delay—arrived in the lovely valley of Margaree, and were kindly received by Mr. Mark Tait, who, during our stay, treated us with the greatest consideration. We preached twice every Lord’s Day, and every Monday and Wednesday night, and visited as we could among the people. We delivered twenty-nine addresses and sermons, and baptised thirteen children. The people long for a pastor, and their faith is that one will be sent. They are building a parsonage. There is a fine field here for work. An occasional visit to Cheticamp, and Big Interval, and Baddeck, where some Congregationalists live, would help to strengthen the centre. Itinerancy around a centre—Margaree—is what is needed here as well as in Manchester, N. S. A devoted man would reap much here. Send him by all means.”

Secretary N. B. and N. S. District.

I. COURSE OF STUDY.

According to the Regulations of the College, the full course of Study extends over five Sessions, and is divided into a literary Course of two Sessions, and a Theological Course of three Sessions. In Classics.—Latin Grammar, Greek Grammar, and one easy Latin and one easy Greek author. The authors recommended are :—Cæsar ; Sallust ; Virgil (Æneid B. I.) ; Xenophon (Anabasis B. I.) ; Homer (Iliad B. I.).

Such dismissal and admission must be reported by him to the Board. Furthermore, he is expected to be as regular as possible in his attendance upon the service, ordinances and church-meetings of the Church to which he belongs during his College course.

8. Students are not allowed during their College course, to enter into the marriage relationship, without the knowledge and consent of the Board of Directors.

The examinations are conducted by Examiners (among whom the Theological Professors are included) chosen by the Board of Directors and by means of printed questions and written answers to the same. Those who pass are arranged according to their proficiency, as 1st Class, 2nd Class, and 3rd Class. If a student fail to pass in any subject, he is required to undergo a Supplemental Examination in the same. The results of these Sessional Examinations are recorded by the Board, and reported to the Corporation at the Annual Meeting.

4. The Session in the Theological Department begins on the second Wednesday in September, and ends on the Second Wednesday in April.

5. The Professors are at liberty to hold, during the Session, such Class Examinations as they may deem necessary, either in the manner aforesaid or orally.

The Board of Directors are required to obtain from the said Faculty of Arts a Report of the Examinations of the Students in the several subjects thereof, and also of their attendance and conduct during the Session in the University, and to present the same at the Annual Meeting of the Corporation.

V. REPORT FOR SESSION 1873-74.

The following is the Report of the proceedings and general condition of the College during the past Session, which the Board of Directors beg to submit to the Corporation :—

The session was opened on the evening of Wednesday, September the 17th, with the usual public service in Zion Church. The Rev. H. D. Powis, of Quebec, had been invited, and was present, prepared to deliver the opening address. What will cause this opening service to be held in grateful and pleasant remembrance, was the presence of the Revs. Dr. Stoughton, J. C. Harrison, and A. McMillan, of London, and of the Rev. J. F. Stevenson, of Reading, who were on their way to attend the meetings of the Evangelical Alliance at New York. There were also present Charles Reed, Esq., M.P., and John Carvell Williams, Esq., Secretary of the Liberation of Religion Society. All these gentlemen cheerfully acceded to the invitation sent them to be present and take part in the proceedings; and, as might have been expected, the addresses they delivered were of varied character, but all in a high degree stimulating and refreshing. The audience was large and greatly interested.

Mr. Powis, on finding that so many honoured brethren from the mother-country were on hand, proposed that his part of the programme should be cancelled, to which proposal your Board acceded, only on the condition that his address should be held over for delivery at the close of the session, should Mr. Powis see fit then to deliver it.

The work of the session was at once entered upon, and was continued, without material interruption, to the period for closing. This, at the request of the Principal, who was on the point of departure for England, was fixed for Wednesday, April the 1st, when the usual closing service was held in Zion Church, at which the Rev. John Fraser, in the absence of Mr. Powis, who was not able to be present, delivered an excellent address on The importance of an educated ministry, and Mr. McIntosh, the only student completing his course, delivered an interesting valedictory address. The Chairman of the Board, and the Principal, also delivered addresses touching the general work of the session, the Endowment Fund, and the prizes now offered for competition.

It gives your Board much gratification to be able to report, that the session now closed stands prominently forth among the most successful of past sessions in respect of the quality, extent, and variety of the work done, and also of the character and success of the students. The Principal and Dr. Cornish have conducted their classes without interruption, and the Rev. Chas. Chapman, M.A., and the Rev. K. M. Fenwick have continued their valuable courses of lectures, of all which reports are hereafter given.

Applications for admission were received from five candidates, all from churches in Ontario ;—three to the Full Course, and two to the Theological Course. One of the latter found that he was prevented by circumstances from coming, and so his application stands over. The other four, after a satisfactory probation, were admitted to the full status of students of the College. Thus the Sessional Roll stood as follows :—

- (1) William McIntosh, Theological Course, 3rd year.
- (2) James R. Black, Full Course, 4th year.
- (3) John Findlay Malcolm, Full Course, 3rd year.
- (4) Jacob W. Cox, Full Course, 2nd year.
- (5) John B. Silcox, Theological Course, 2nd year.
- (6) Hugh Pedley, Full Course, 2nd year.
- (7) William H. Warriner, Full Course, 1st year.
- (8) Archibald F. McGregor, Full Course, 1st year.
- (9) Andrew O. Cossar, Theological Course, 1st year.

Mr. McIntosh alone of these has left on the completion of his course : with his certificate, he bears with him the respect and best wishes of your Board for his future usefulness and success. Mr. Black has successfully passed the Examination, and has been admitted to the degree of B.A. in the University.

Messrs. Pedley and Cox have passed the Intermediate Examination ; the former with much credit, for which he deserves honourable mention here. Mr. Warriner also deserves credit for his persevering diligence and success. In the case of Messrs. Malcolm and McGregor the work of the session was seriously interfered with by severe illness, and the same cause compelled Mr. Silcox to ask for permission to retire for the latter part of the session, which was granted to him.

Your Board cordially recommend that Messrs. Fenwick and Chapman be invited to continue their Courses of Lectures next session.

The following are the reports of the studies and examinations in the several classes.

(1) Dr. Wilkes reports :—

I have to report concerning this thirty-fifth Session, the entrance upon its work of nine students, of whom five were of the Theological Department. Ill health has affected two of these ; one of whom preferred to lose his year and to make next year his second. The other returned after a needfully somewhat long absence, and has passed the Sessional Examinations. The uniform diligence, propriety of conduct, and manifest interest in their studies of all the students may be again mentioned with emphasis. In order to relieve Messrs. Pedley and Cox of a part of their course next Session, when, as Undergraduates of McGill College, the pressure on them will be great, I formed them into a class and gave them forty-one lectures on Systematic Theology—being on the subjects for next Session—in which they have passed highly creditable examinations, both Christmas and Sessional. The regular class has received an equal number of lectures on the subjects in Theology, belonging to the year, of which the Atonement was the most prominent. I have delivered also eleven lectures on Hermeneutics, relating to the New Testament. On Church History, twenty-six lectures have been given. On Homiletics and Pastoral Theology, thirteen lectures, and seventeen on New Testament Introduction, the latter relating to the Synoptical Gospels and the Acts of the Apostles. There have been regular class-exercises in plans of sermons, and their delivery. Our weekly devotional hour together has not been neglected. Our thanks are due to Rev. John Fraser, who gave his able assistance in conducting most of the Sessional Examinations. I subjoin the returns.

(2) Dr. Cornish reports :—

We have read in class during the Session, Chapters IX. to XI., inclusive, of the Gospel by St. Mark, and the Epistle to the Philippians. The students have been regular in their attendance, and their conduct has been to my satisfaction.

At the close of the Session, an Examination was held in the above-named subjects, with the following results:—

Greek Testament.
 Class I. Black.
 Class II. McIntosh, Malcolm.
 Class III. None.

 Prof. of Gk. Test. Exeg.

(3) Mr. Chapman reports :—

During the past session, I have taken the students through a considerable course on the questions involved in the modern controversies between the supposed antagonism of Science and Theology. Last year, I directed their attention exclusively to those theories concerning Universal Law and Evolution, which are thought to form the stronghold of the opponents of a Supernatural Record like that of the Bible; and I sought to estimate their value as scientific solutions of the facts in question. The ground being thus cleared, I have led them, this year, through a constructive argument by which it may be seen that, so far as our forms of thought permit and our actual knowledge extends, the supernatural revelation given us in the Bible must be accepted, in substance and in form, as being based on the essential nature of things, and therefore in scientific harmony with all well-established facts. It appeared to me important to make clear to our students, in these days, that the reconciliation of Science and Theology is to be found alone in the line running up with unbroken link from the simplest admitted data of consciousness to the Immateriality of Mind, the existence of a Free Eternal Mind as First Cause, and the successive creation of distinct species culminating in the creation of Man. From the necessary relations of the Intelligent Creator to a race of beings endowed with a consciousness of responsibility deeper than pertains to human law, I sought to show that under the circumstances of the human race there was such an a priori probability of a Revelation as to lend immense weight to the evidences we have as to the Divine origin of the Scriptures; and, also, I showed how the necessities of true scientific thought compelled us to regard the sensible, and often, to us crude, forms of early revelations as both reasonable and inevitable.

It gives me pleasure to bear my testimony to the zeal and care with which the students gave themselves to the study of some of the difficult subjects involved in this course of lectures. In consequence of sickness only three have passed the examination. Their order of merit, is as follows:—

(Maximum 120).

Class I.—Macintosh (86), Black (82), Cossar (80).

Also, I have delivered a course of lectures on the Gospel by John, with special reference to the sharp and important controversies that have arisen concerning its origin and supposed divergencies from the tone and teaching of the other Gospels. The examination on this subject is included in that of New Testament Introduction, of which the results are to be found in Dr. Wilkes' statement. I may add that the results so far as they relate to my section, are highly creditable to the students.

CHARLES CHAPMAN, M.A.,

Lecturer on Evidences and Biblical Literature.

April, 1874.

(4) Mr. Fenwick reports:—

My lectures this session (sixteen in number), have been expository of the Ante-Nicene Theology. A complete formulation of the dogma of the entire period has been furnished, so that the foundation has been laid for a development of Christian dogma during that age, on solid data, and intelligent principles.

The earnestness and application of the students, their devoutness, and the evident desire to be well-qualified for the work of the ministry, augur hopefully their future usefulness.

My course was divided into two parts, and delivered at separate periods. There were thus two examinations, both of them creditable to the students.

The following is the result:—

1st Examination,—(Maximum 100).

Class I.—J. B. Silcox (89), W. McIntosh (79), J. R. Black (75).

Class II.—A. Cossar (67).

2nd Examination,—(Maximum 100).

Class I.—A. Cossar (91), W. McIntosh (90), J. R. Black (90).

Class II.—J. F. Malcolm (74).

KENNETH M. FENWICK,

Lecturer on Historical Theology.

Kingston, 23rd March. 1874.

The students gave attention during part of the session to Elocution, under the guidance of a professional teacher.

All the students, either in the capacity of Undergraduates or in that of Partial Students, have attended the classes of the Faculty of Arts of the University, and the returns of their standing therein have been duly furnished to your Board.

In the last Annual Report, it was stated that the sums of $50 and $20 had been severally received as donations for prizes, for competition by the students.

Your Board have much pleasure in now reporting, that the good example thus set, has been followed by other donors, and that five prizes in value, from $50 down to $20, have been given for competition by George Hague, Esq., of Toronto, and by R. W. Cowan, Esq., and Thomas Robertson, Esq., of Montreal. The subjects for examination and the conditions of the competition will be found in Appendix to this Report.

Your Board recommend the following arrangement for the examination of competitors for the several prizes now reported, viz. :—(1) That the essays must be sent in to the Secretary of the College, on or before October 1st, and that the written and oral examinations begin on that day. (2) That the following gentlemen be requested to act as co-examiners :—(1) Dr. Wilkes and Mr. Fenwick; (2) Mr. Chapman and Mr. Marling; (3) Dr. Cornish and Mr. Chapman.

The funds of the College continue to be in a healthy state. The disbursements have amounted to $2,997 90; and the receipts, including $196 95, the balance in hand from last year, to $3,429 15; thus leaving a balance in hands of the Treasurer of $431 25. Of this sum, $1,076 45 have been received from the Colonial Missionary Society, and $2,065 75 from Churches in various parts of the Dominion. Your Board requested Messrs. Cornish, Chapman and Fenwick to accept $150 each, as an honorarium for services rendered to the College.

The important matter of the General Endowment Fund, which had such an auspicious beginning at the last Annual Meeting, has not been lost sight of by your Board. According to the latest published statement of the Treasurer of the Fund, and which your Board recommend should be published in Appendix to this Report, the amount subscribed, exclusive of what may be expected from the Colonial Missionary Society, is $17,688 88. The sum of $2,000 in the hands of the Treasurer has been invested by him, acting under instructions of your Board, in Montreal Corporation Bonds, bearing interest of six per cent. Soon after the last Annual Meeting, your Board opened a correspondence with the Colonial Missionary Society in relation to this Fund, seeking the sympathy and co-operation of the Society in raising it. The proposal was made to the Society, that it should engage to contribute to the Fund, on condition of the sum of $40,000 in all being raised, £1,500 sterling, by the date of September, 1878; and that the College should, in return for the same, on the due completion of the Fund, cease to draw on the Funds of the Society, in aid of the operations of the College; it being understood that in the meantime, the existing pecuniary arrangements between the Society and the College should continue. In answer to this, no action of a definite character on the part of the Society has, as yet, been reported to your Board, but they have been informed by the Secretary of the Colonial Missionary Society, that the latter and hopes ciety, that their letter had been duly submitted to the Committee, and that the latter "were deeply interested in the plans and approved the principle," and hopes were held out that assistance would be rendered.

Your Board on learning that it was the intention of the honoured Principal, Dr. Wilkes, to spend his next vacation in the mother-country, respectfully requested him that he would, in so far as it might be compatible with his plans and engagements so to do, use a portion of the time in endeavouring to obtain contributions to the Fund, and they authorized him to adopt such plans as he might deem most suitable for accomplishing the desired object. In reply, Dr. Wilkes informed your Board, that he cordially acceded to their request, and that he would do what he could in aid of the Fund during his visit to England. It is to be hoped the encouraging aspect of this important undertaking will stimulate those who have not yet given it their countenance and aid promptly to do so.

The thanks of the College are due to a lady, a member of Zion Church, Montreal, and also to the Rev. Charles Chapman, for valuable donations to the Library of modern books in Theology and Philosophy, of which lists will be given in Appendix. The best thanks of the College are also due to Messrs. Hague, Cowan and Robertson, not only for the valuable prizes offered by them, but also for the stimulating influence of their intelligent and liberal example, in thus supplying a need that had long been felt in the educational work of the College.

On a review of the work and success of this the thirty-fifth Session in the history of this Institution, your Board are happy in thinking that there are many grounds for thankfulness for the goodness vouchsafed by God in the past, and for anticipating enlarged prosperity and usefulness in the future.

All which is respectfully submitted by your Board.

GEORGE CORNISH, L.L.D.,
Secretary.

SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

Although the Society has now nominally a wider range of usefulness, the Directors regret that the new branch has not created sufficient enthusiasm among the churches to enable them to make it operative. In accordance with your resolution of last year, this cannot be done until a capital sum of two thousand dollars has been raised. Towards this amount, $350 has been secured, but hitherto donations have only been received from the Toronto and Montreal churches for this object.

We hope that next year our successors may have to report a much more general interest in this important branch of the Society's undertakings.

With regard to the Widows' and Orphans' Fund Branch, the Board thankfully report another year, without a death, in the list of Beneficiaries.

The annuitants remain as at last report—viz., four widows and one child; involving a gross annual payment of $440. One beneficiary member, Rev. J. Elliott, has withdrawn, having left the body, and the amount he has paid into the fund ($145) has been repaid to him without interest, according to the By-law provided for such cases.

It might here be mentioned that the principle involved in this By-law has been deemed by the Board worthy of reconsideration, and an important alteration has been recommended, which appears as a notice of motion to be considered and acted upon by you at this meeting.

The list of Beneficiary Members now contains 31 names, and stands as follows :—

The life-membership list is unaltered ; but should the proposed reduction in the life-members' subscription meet your approval, we hope it may be instrumental in procuring considerable additions to this honourable membership. At present the list stands as follows :—

CHAS. ALEXANDER,
J. P. CLARK,

And now we come to the subscribing churches for the current year, and who are entitled to representation by one delegate at this meeting. They are as follows : For the Widows' and Orphans' Fund Branch—Kingston, $42 ; Bond Street, Toronto, $20.25 ; Sherbrooke, $16.75 ; Lennoxville, $14.70 ; Guelph, $13 ; Stouffville, $4.25.

For the Retiring Ministers' Fund Branch, Toronto—three churches, united collection, $112.25 ; Northern Church, $34.20 ; Bond Street Church, $36 ; Zion Church, Montreal, $108.10.

The lack of interest evinced by the churches throughout the Dominion in the Widows' and Orphans' Fund Branch has been a standing grievance in the reports of your Board for several years ; but this year shows a still greater falling off, both in the number of contributing churches and in the amount subscribed.

The question arises here : Have the ministers done their duty, both to their people and to the Society, in this regard ? We very much doubt it. This Society bears a very distinct relation to the members of all our churches, and if its claims were judiciously laid before them, we do not doubt that there would be a generous response. That the Fund should be large and strong is as of much importance to the churches as to the ministers ; and we earnestly hope that no motives of false delicacy will prevent any minister from bringing the claims of the Society before their churches, with a view to establishing an annual church collection for the Provident Fund, just as for the other denominational objects of the Body.

Turning to the general financial statement annexed, it will be found that the Widows' and Orphans' Branch shows a healthy increase. The ordinary income netted about $1,450, and the ordinary disbursements about $500.

One item in the disbursements may be classed as extraordinary—viz., the payment of $145 to a member withdrawing. However, even taking this into account, the net increase to capital on the year is $800. The assets of the Branch now stand at $14,050, against $13,240 in 1873. The liabilities, of course, consist of the risks borne by the fund on those families whose names are represented on the present list of beneficiary members. Another liability which is apt to be overlooked, but which is absolutely necessary to bear in mind in taking stock is, that owing to the families of former beneficiaries who have ceased to be members through removal, but whose widows or families are entitled to receive the amount paid in, together with simple interest, at their death. At present this list stands as follows, and represents a sum of not less than $500, without taking interest into account :—

At the last annual meeting, the question of the proper designation of the Society, in the amended Act of Incorporation, was referred to the Board, who have now to report that in the English copy, as embraced in the Quebec statutes, the designation is correct—i. e., "The Congregational Provident Fund Society."

One of your auditors (Mr. W. J. Patterson) having declined the office, it will be necessary that you should appoint another in his place.

In conclusion, your Board would suggest that their successors be instructed to reprint the amended By-Laws of the Society, including such amendments as may be adopted at this meeting, together with the original Act of Incorporation, and the amended Act of last year, to be published as a small manual for distribution among the present members, and the ministers of the Body generally.

The whole respectfully submitted.

CANADA CONGREGATIONAL
INDIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

SPECIAL REPORT,

PRESENTED TO THE SUBSCRIBERS AT THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE SOCIETY, IN TORONTO, JUNE 11TH, 1874.

The Board have had under consideration the notice of motion made by Rev. Dr. Cornish at the last Annual Meeting, viz., "That the object and operations of this Society, in so far as the sanction and co-operation of the Congregational Churches of the Dominion are concerned, be connected with the Canada Congregational Missionary Society," and beg to report as follows in relation thereto:—

1. As a matter of historical fact, the Board finds that this Mission to the Indians was first set on foot by the "Congregational Missionary Society of Canada West," in 1850, which was then under the direction of the "Congregational Union of Canada West," and conducted as part of its regular work. That Society having amalgamated with the "Congregational Missionary Society of Canada East," under the title of the "Canada Congregational Missionary Society," in 1853-4, and so come into "connection with the Colonial Missionary Society," and the funds contributed from England and Canada for Canadian Home Missions being thrown into a joint treasury, objection was raised by the Committee of the Colonial Missionary Society to the continuance of the Indian Mission on this common fund, inasmuch as its constitution expressly limited its operations to Missions among "Europeans and their descendants." In consequence of this objection a compromise was effected in 1856, whereby, though the Indian Mission continued under the general charge of the Canada Congregational Missionary Society, it was set apart as a distinct department, and made dependent on funds specially contributed for the purpose, being placed under the immediate supervision of the Middle District Committee. The result of this arrangement was that the support of the Indian Mission almost entirely failed, and there was danger of its extinction. Consequently, the friends of the Mission resolved on an independent organization for this work alone; and as there were several gentlemen in Owen Sound who took a warm interest in the Mission, and were near to the scene of its operations, the "Canada Indian Missionary Society" was organized in that place in 1860. Many of these parties having subsequently removed from Owen Sound, the headquarters of the Society were transferred to Toronto in February, 1869. Since this separate organization was effected, the work of the Mission, though not commanding the support which it required, has certainly been far more effectively conducted and liberally sustained than under any previous arrangement.

2. In the light of these facts the Board have considered the present proposal. It was with great reluctance, and only under pressure of the most urgent character, that the Indian Mission was separately organized. Its friends would be very glad to have the countenance and counsel of a body so deservedly honoured as the Canada Congregational Missionary Society, and of its General Committee. They would also be greatly relieved if the funds for the support of the Mission could be supplied without the special appeal now made on its behalf. They moreover appreciate the fact that, in the present relations of the Colonial Missionary Society and the Canada Congregational Missionary Society, the difficulty above referred to is not likely to stand longer in the way. But, on the other hand,—(1) The Board cannot conceal from themselves the fact, which it is better frankly to recognise, that among the constituents of the Canada Congregational Missionary Society there are not a few who look coldly on the Indian Mission, and that there is danger that its interests might suffer from this cause. (2.) They are perfectly satisfied that if this Mission were placed upon the general funds of the Canada Congregational Missionary Society, those funds would not be sensibly increased by extra subscriptions for this purpose, and consequently the Indian Mission would be brought into competition with our own Home Missionary Churches, and in that case would inevitably go to the wall. (3.) That if the Indian Mission, as a separate department of the Canada Congregational Missionary Society, were to make a special appeal by its own agent for funds, one chief argument for the suggested amalgamation—namely, the large working expenses of the Mission—would be taken away. (4.) That under present arrangements the expense of collecting is greatly reduced, the work being done in the winter by our Missionary-Superintendent. (5.) A large share of the contributions to the Indian Mission is derived from other than Congregationalists, and this would be sacrificed under the proposed change.

3. On the whole, therefore, the Board are unable to see what advantage would result either to the Indian Mission or to the Canada Congregational Missionary Society, from their amalgamation, while they apprehend risk to the cause they have specially in charge. They recommend accordingly that this Mission continue under the management of those who feel a special obligation to cultivate this admittedly difficult field.

REPORT FOR THE YEAR, 1873-4.

In presenting the Thirteenth Annual Report of the Society, the Directors desire to note, as cause for devout gratitude to God, the continued life and ability for usefulness, of the agents and teachers, and all others officially connected with the Indian Mission. In this fact is also contained a note of warning to work "while it is day ; the night cometh, when no man can work."

The Mission Stations mentioned in last year's Report, have all been kept up. In addition, our general agent, Rev. R. Robinson, will take up with him, in a few days, an efficient Indian teacher, to be permanently located at She-she-gwah-ning, near the west end of Great Manitoulin Island. As will be seen from the more detailed accounts following, the work is consolidating at Saugeen, under permanent pastoral oversight. The same may now be hoped for at She-she-gwah-ning. While the widening influence of Miss Baylis's labours among the children and adults at Spanish River ; and the exploring journeys of Rev. R. Robinson from year to year, preaching the Word of Life to twos and threes, and camps of pagans (as the case may be), all tend toward the same great end, the gradual bringing in of the red man to salvation in Christ, and to the blessings of Christian civilization.

It must be remembered that our Ojibway Indians (the present objects of our labours), even those bands of them yet in paganism, have all some knowledge of white civilization ; are anxious to cultivate friendly relations with us ; and, under the long reign of national peace, are practically laying aside much of their old war spirit and fierceness. In the pagan bands the traditional belief in one Great Spirit supremely governing creation gives a common ground on which our missionaries can meet them as Paul did the pagans of a more refined sort, at Athens, who, with him, acknowledged themselves the offspring of God. The young men among them possess far less of war-craft and wood-craft than their fathers, when for generations they fought the Mohawks. When the wild arts of the forest decay among them, degradation and extinction can only be looked for, except as Christian civilization reaches them, and lifts their efforts and aspirations toward higher ends.

The tribal divisions among them, we have found an advantage to our Missionary operations, rather than otherwise. Though occasionally finding a chief bigoted in his paganism, and peremptorily declining a proffered teacher to his people, it generally happens that the chief, who is almost always the most intelligent man of the band (his intelligence is his only "constitutional guarantee" of power), discerning the advantages of having a teacher to instruct his people, readily gives his consent—calls a "Council"—discusses the matter with his braves—and full liberty is obtained. man seems to be much decayed ; at least we find his influence is rarely sufficient to induce a Band to refuse a teacher.

The policy of employing Native Teachers, under efficient Missionary supervision—which has been the policy of the Society from the very first—is, we are more and more convinced, the true one. We trust, sometime soon, to be able to put in force a long-cherished scheme of the Society, in the establishment of a Training School, on however limited a scale, for Native Teachers and Evangelists. William Barrell, who is doing well the work of an Evangelist at Saugeen, was trained under our own Missionaries. Could we have begun, and supported a small Training School ten or twelve years ago, we might now have had a number of the same class ready for the work.

Our great cry is want of funds ; for even as it is, we could soon find men, or train them, and find abundant room for them, if we could but support them. A married native Evangelist labouring all the year, receives $300. Are there not many, among the affluent Christian friends of this Mission, who would like to devote a sum of money, by donation or bequest, to such a purpose ? With many, there is a life-long yearning to do Missionary work, which at last age and circumstances utterly forbid. But if a man is found who can go ; and is sent and supported in his field, shall not much of the satisfaction, and much of the praise, accrue to him by whom he is sent and maintained ? In the case of a bequest, the money must be left to the Treasurer, by name ; (the Society not being a corporate body) the purpose to which it is to be applied, following the name and address of the Treasurer.

THE GENERAL AGENCY.

The Rev. Robert Robinson now completes his first year, devoted wholly to the interests of the Society. Besides attending an important Indian Council at Cape Croker, and visiting the Church at French Bay, Saugeen, Mr. Robinson took two extensive tours over the mission field, in the past summer ; one extending to twenty-six days, and the other to five weeks. Extracts from his letters are given below.

Respecting his work as collecting agent (in the winter), Mr. Robinson reports success, and that the Mission meets very general acceptance among the Churches. Several persons of other denominations largely assist our work, being glad to find that anything is done by us for the heathen ; and having apparently confidence that Congregationalists will preach the Gospel rather than sectarianism. Many thanks are due to the Christian friends who have assisted the Mission. In consequence of the successful and persevering efforts of the General Agent, the funds are two hundred dollars better than at this time last year. This more encouraging aspect has led to the action detailed under the head of "SHE-SHE-GWAH-NING."

Mr. Robinson everywhere finds the advantage of the labours of his relative and predecessor, the Rev. William Clarke, in collecting. He says, "it is comparatively easy work to get men to renew their subscriptions to a Society, instead of creating entirely new ground."

MR. ROBINSON'S LETTERS : VOYAGING.

"Messrs. Keeshig, Barrell and myself, started in our boat on the 11th July from Owen Sound, and reached Cape Croker next day, intending to take George Richards thence, as a Teacher for She-she-gwah-ning. By the kind invitation of Rev. Thos. Williams, Wesleyan Missionary, I preached in the afternoon of Sunday to about forty Indians; an audience orderly, attentive, and apparently interested..... I think the Methodists are doing a good work here. They seem to have thorough hold of the consciences and sympathy of the people: may the good Lord bless them an hundred fold! Even doctrinal differences grow beautifully less—rather sink into whispers, emphatic it may be, but low and loving, in the presence of Paganism and Popery.....

“On Monday, taking Richards with us, we started about nine A.M. Our mast broke in a squall off Cape Croker, but happily we were near a harbour, and rowing to land, we repaired the mast and resumed our journey. About seven o'clock, P.M., we reached Cabot's Head, having made a good run of about thirty-five miles. Here we hauled up, and as well as we could, caulked our boat, now rather leaky. A heavy sea prevented our starting until noon of the next day, when we made our wide crossing to Manitoulin Island, and reached Smith's Cape, some thirty miles, about sunset. The Lord kindly gave us a favourable voyage, fair and safe, although preceded and followed by storms. Next day, storm-bound, we could not start until two o'clock, and then only made the harbour at the east end of the Island about sundown. Next day we reached Little Current, where Barrell visited a sick Indian. We find here that the Whitefish Lake Indians have returned to their homes, so that we need not go to Lacloche. On Saturday and Sunday we were stormbound at Sucker Creek. On Sunday I held service and made the experiment of proposing and answering religious questions, as part of our exercises. With prayer and praise and the Word of God, we spent some hours of that stormy Sabbath, assured that the same blessed Lord who sailed over Tiberias and taught on its shores nineteen centuries ago, was with us. Next day we reached West Bay, our old mission ground; this settlement now contains about thirty-five houses. The men with their chiefs being absent at their farms, we could only visit a few women in their dwellings, converse with them on the subject of religion, and assure ourselves that the door here is really shut against our teachers by the priests. One man could not restrain his indignation against us, saying: 'We do not want your teachers or your words about religion.'

“In the afternoon we made a good run of about thirty-five miles, and camped at Maple Point. Before daylight next morning some Indians beached their canoes near us and proceeded to get breakfast. After refusing an invitation to join in our worship, commerce, in the shape of our purchasing two or three fish, drew us more closely together; when we began our worship, music soothed the savage breast, and the men came over to our camp and listened to hymns, scriptures and prayer in Indian, and to my commendation of Christ to their acquaintance and experience. During this time the women and children stood aloof and they all looked wild enough; they were Pagans from Sagamook, and I was glad of the opportunity of speaking to them.

“In the midst of squally weather we only reached She-she-gwah-ning on Thursday morning; we found most of the people waiting in holiday garb to welcome us on the shore; appointed one o'clock for council and preaching service; spoke from Heb. iv. 14-16., of importance and acceptance of prayer in the name of Jesus. At council, the Chief courteously and gratefully accepted Richards as teacher, signified the pleasure felt in my proposal to spend some weeks with him, and concluded with some very wise and good counsel to his people. He is quite an orator. In the evening we started for Mississagua River, but a dead calm caught us midway, and in dread of a threatening storm we rowed hard until late in the night, when providentially we found in the dense darkness a little cove, into which we managed to thrust our boat, and despite the rain, we lit a fire and sat down, longing for the day. The day came, but with it the storm, and no small difficulty in saving our boat from the breakers. Provisions getting short, Barrell secured a pigeon and a crane for food, and we were glad to get off in the evening from this place which we named Hunger Island. A fair wind carried us to Mississagua River after sunset, when one of the first sounds which saluted us was that of the Pagan drum; the monstrous thumping was carried on almost all night. Next morning we started early, having a fair wind up the river. After vainly calling upon a French trader and the Hudson Bay Co's. post in order to purchase bread or potatoes, we passed up to the Indian Camp ground, where we found only six wigwams and about forty Indians, most of the band having returned to their hunting grounds. In the absence of their chief we persuaded some of the men to gather around us, and on the ground evidently just trodden down by their Pagan dance of the preceding night, I preached Christ to them. Then we went to each of the wigwams and spoke of Jesus and His grand salvation to the women and children. One man here—an old man with a firm thoughtful brow, said that he had heard of this religion before. One of our men (viz., the Romish Priest!) had spoken to him about it last week; but he himself was like a wild deer, he could not stay in one place beside a teacher, and he was not strong enough to be a Christian. I could only assure him that God is our strength, strength made perfect in weakness. Jesus stirred him by my enforced silence; “while I kept silent the fire burned.” It is hard to get at man's heart through an interpreter. Oh, for the power to speak to those poor souls in their own tongue. Oh, miserable sin and curse of Babel. The priest had recently induced several of this band to be baptized. In the evening we started with a fair wind, saw and conversed with some Roman Catholic Indians at Blind River and reached Serpent River about sunset. The Pagan village here consists of some fifteen log houses, and four or five wigwams with their inmates; with most of the people we held religious conversation; in one wigwam we had a long talk with the tall chief to whom I spoke of Jesus some four years ago. He would not say much about religion, but his wife being sick and feverish, I gave her some medicine, and they both consented that we should pray to our God for her recovery. On the next day, Sunday, visiting this couple, they expressed gratitude for the medicine and its beneficial effect, and the man, although lame, came limping by aid of a chair to council and preaching service.

“I had a fair opportunity for preaching Christ. The second chief and the oldest son of the absent head chief expressed their favourable opinion of education, and assured us that they would receive and kindly treat a teacher. Even the old medicine man who has previously been so cross, seemed to be somewhat ameliorated, and I trust that we have here found an open door for education and Christianity. Quite a number of people belonging to this band are absent, being camped at various points on the river and adjacent islands. On returning to our camp after council we had evening service, adopting mutual inquiry plan and with such subjects as 'Wherefore has the Church lost the power of working miracles?' and 'What is the unpardonable sin?' Thoughts on conversion as a moral miracle and evidence of Christianity, and on the danger of presumptuous sin, with prayer and praise and Scripture, helped us to a happy Sabbath evening. The scenery here is very fine. Next morning, our last half-dozen biscuits being very precious, and our meat the opposite of tempting, I rejoiced over a goodly pike which I hooked for breakfast, and found a deeper emphasis than ever before in the petition—'Give us this day our daily bread.' Starting with a head wind, we were compelled to camp on Arid Island, and still some miles distant from the Spanish River Mills, the store and the bread needful for supper and breakfast. Next morning at Spanish River."

FRENCH BAY, SAUGEEN.

This Indian church is an off-shoot of the old Congregational Indian Church, at Colpoy's Bay, at one time under the missionary care of Rev. Ludwick Kribs, and afterward of the late Mr. James Atkey, and native deacons. The majority of the Indians connected with the church on the Saugeen Reserve, live near the Lake Huron shore, at French Bay, some five or six miles from the little Indian Village of Saugeen.

William Barrell, Indian Evangelist, is at present in charge of the church. Under date of the 16th of May, Mr. Barrell reports a membership of thirty-two—fourteen men and eighteen women. The Sabbath School has four teachers and twenty scholars. The Indians feel the comfort of their little church edifice, erected a year and a-half ago. An orderly attendance, averaging thirty, is every Lord's Day seen in the building. They have even obtained a small melodeon, to assist the service of praise. And larger churches with choirs, so difficult sometimes to manage, will sympathize with the passing trouble of the young Indian preacher, whose organist had for several Sabbaths before the date of Report, taken a huff at something; and refused to play! As a compensation for this little trouble, Mr. Barrell has organized an adult class, under the sounding title of a "Young Men's Christian Association," in connection with the church and congregation. He says these meetings have been very good, and largely attended, though some have backslidden through drink, and lost their former interest in the "Y. M. C. A." He says there have been fewer deaths this year—two members have died. "I am continually," he writes, "visiting my people and sick folks, and the Lord is with us in our meetings, and He is with His word . . . . Everywhere the chiefs are very friendly with me." Mr. Barrell has his mind much set on erecting a small building in the Indian Village of Saugeen, for preaching and Sunday-school. He says: "If the Society would give leave for me to go round to collect for the benefit of the church in Saugeen, I believe we would have a place made where the people might worship . . . . Then we might expect to do more work in Saugeen. But as it is, we have no Sunday-school here (in the village) as we have no place where we might have one." On this question, the Directors will consult with Mr. Robinson. Were there enough money, a small grant would be made at once. In any event, buildings erected thus would be of a very inexpensive kind, as in the event of a band giving up its reserve to the Government, and removing elsewhere, the Society's claim to mission buildings might lapse.

The Saugeen Church has always been a central point in our mission, and it is from thence, at present, that we must expect to draw our Native Teachers for the work.

Mr. Robinson writes in November last :—

“Since my return I have, by request of the Board of Directors, visited Saugeen, to investigate charges that were publicly made against one of our native agents last June. I am happy to say they were without the least foundation, and that the party shares the confidence of all the members of his church and is deserving of ours.

“I preached thrice, delivered them other addresses, administered the Lord's Supper to about eighteen adults, Indians, members of the Congregational Church, and besides baptizing an infant, had the great pleasure of baptizing a Pagan woman, giving her the name Mary. Barrell assured me that she has for some time given him satisfactory evidence that she is truly connected to Christ as well as to Christianity.

“One of the men now working with the Church was a Romanist, and is son of the said Mary; another son about fifteen years old is still a Pagan. Barrell and I visited at their house, and finding the Pagan youth within, I urged him to follow his mother's example, and believe on Jesus; his answer was: ‘I believe that mother loves Jesus, and that she has done well, and I hope that I too will love Jesus soon.’ I had the great pleasure of hearing an Indian man thank me for having done good to his soul, by a sermon at Cape Croker, and say that he had then and there determined to serve the Lord. He is one of those now working with the church.”

SPANISH RIVER.

Miss Emma Baylis, of Montreal, is now at her post, for the fourth summer, at the mouth of the Spanish River, on the North Shore of Georgian Bay. Her labours extend to beginning of October, when most of the Indians go back into the interior and separate. The thanks of the Society are due to the Ladies of the three Congregational Churches in Toronto, who have furnished Miss Baylis with a stock of garments to clothe some of the almost naked children who gather into her school. It is difficult to say to an Indian child from a Pagan household—Be thou instructed and trained, while we “give them not those things that are needful for the body.”—(James ii. 16). No welcome to a beloved teacher could be more touching than Miss Baylis received last year from four four-year-old little French children (who had not themselves been at school but had learned it from the others) singing to her “Come to Jesus, just now!” This, with “Jesus loves me, this I know,” and “Happy Land,” the whole of the Indian children have got; and they sing them in their wigwams in the thickets, beside the frozen lakes of the interior, all winter; and come down to the shore with them again in the Spring!

Miss Baylis had a few Bibles with her last Summer, which she sold for the Bible Society, as she had opportunity. Then, on the principle that the greater blessing always rests with the giver, she induced the children to put their coppers into a missionary box. It was opened with all due ceremony in the Autumn, and found to contain fifty-three cents, which was devoted to the Bible Society. Miss Baylis takes up with her, this year, the January No. of the U. C. Bible Society's “Recorder,” in which these contributions are acknowledged, and a verbal message from Rev. John Gemley, Secretary, how much he values this free-will offering from little half naked Indian children in the wilds of the north.

We give Miss Baylis' Report in full, at the close of her labours last year. It is dated Spanish River Mills, Oct. 10th, 1873.

“ Rev. S. N. Jackson, Secretary :

“ Dear Sir—In reporting to you the last Summer's work at Spanish River, I would state that I think the Mission has been highly appreciated both by Indians and whites. Most of the Indian children, as usual, attended the school—boys predominating. The clothing which the ladies of Toronto made was very serviceable, and induced a number to attend school. I had children this summer attending, who could read, write, and cypher nicely; also, drawing and designing on their slates. They also learned portions of Scripture, and Hymns. Of course, Bible Instruction I make the aim of the school; believing there will be no failure of these seeds taking root in time, springing up, bearing fruit. God's word 'shall not return unto Him void.' If we are faithful in sowing, God will do His part in causing to grow. The command is, 'To every creature.'

“ A number of Indians and Squaws came very regularly on Sabbath mornings to Bible-readings, which I had for them exclusively, in the Indian language. Sometimes I had an Interpreter. When alone, I had to do the best I could. The Indian Hymn Books, which the ladies of the Congregational Church, Montreal, gave me, are a great help in singing. The hymns are very fine, and the tunes simple for them to learn. The Indians sing sweetly. The Sabbath morning with the Indians was the pleasantest part of the day. They paid great attention, and appeared to like these meetings very much. The Sunday School was well attended; including all the white children in the settlement, with a number of Roman Catholic children. Occasionally a few of the 'Mill hands' would drop in; but as I had no efficient help in teaching, I made it a general lesson for all. The English children learned portions of Scripture at home, and said them to me; with additional ones which I taught the Indians and French children, using Scripture pictures as illustrations. The Bible-readings in the evening were well attended by the whites, and the Indians who could understand English.

“ Between the services on Sabbath, I went and read to the sick; two Indian women especially. One of these women died trusting in Jesus! She had been ill all summer, with consumption. I went daily to visit her; generally taking with me a cup of tea and a bit of food. Two of her boys attended the school. She liked me to read the Indian hymns every time I went. Two of her especial favourites were, 'Come ye Sinners, poor and needy,' and 'Jesus, lover of my soul.' But alas, Priestly vigilance and persecution! She was not permitted to die unmolested. But thanks be to God, who giveth His people that trust in Him 'the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ!' So was it in her case. The day before she died, the priest went to see her, and wished to read the Catholic Service. She told him 'she did not want it—she was not a Catholic—but belonged to that woman up there,' (pointing to the Mission House,) meaning she was a Protestant. He left her. In the evening I went down to see her; and never shall I forget the pleasing expression of her eyes when she saw me. She was too weak to speak, but motioned me to sit down beside her ; then pointed to the little shelf over her head where her Indian Bible lay, asked me to 'read.' I did so, then prayed, and read one of her hymns. I asked her if she was happy and trusting in Jesus ? She pointed up and said 'yes.' Her husband (who is a Protestant, but I fear not a Christian) interpreted for me. I left her, and went home. The next morning, while engaged in the school with the children, I saw the priest running over to her tent, accompanied by seven or eight Roman Catholic women. I knew at once what he was going to do. I put on my hat, and ran in after them, where I found the priest and a Catholic woman bending over the dying woman, trying to give her the last Sacrament and baptize her into the church. I placed myself between the woman and the priest, and told him 'not to do it—there was no need for it—that she was trusting in Jesus, and prepared to die.' He said he had been told she was not prepared to die. I said the woman knew best, and I did not wish him to interfere. At last, her husband, who had been sent for came in. I asked him, 'Do you wish the priest to officiate ?' 'He said No!' Then I said, 'Let us kneel down and pray.' As soon as the priest heard my voice, he ran out of the tent, and all the Catholic women with him ! The dying woman said, 'good-bye' to us all, kissed her children, and peacefully passed away. Dear Sir, I feel that if our Protestant Missions are to have a foothold among the people, we must take our stand, and speak out plainly when dealing with Popish powers. The people do not need priestly Sacraments ; they need teaching and enlightenment, which the priests do not give them—and I think the people are beginning to see and feel this, by their asking for schools to be placed amongst them.

"One great drawback to our work amongst the Indians is the 'fire-water,' which is brought in amongst them sometimes by whites, and sometimes by trading Indians. A great deal of trouble was caused in the settlement this summer by it. A man was killed in the sawmill through being drunk, and I was considerably frightened one night by the Indians yelling and shouting round the Mission House, for about two hours. They were finally scattered to their tents by the pouring rain.

"That week, in connection with the Mission, I organized a Temperance Society. The first evening a number came and joined the pledge, and received badges. In all, during the summer, seven Indians and seven whites pledged themselves not to taste drink. Towards the close of the season, the children had their usual 'treat' and gifts. I also had a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, on their return from She-she-gwah-ning. They seemed to enjoy the Mission rooms, and not have the discomfort of going round seeking accommodation from strangers. My own comfort was very much enhanced by having them.

"The Interpreter who aided me on Sabbath, is a fine earnest Christian man. He reads nicely in English and Indian. His wife also is a Christian. I told him he should leave his occupation, and come into the work altogether and become a teacher. He said he would like it ; and would think about it during the winter. He is engaged in the Hudson Bay Company. The end of September, the Indians were leaving for their different homes. I then made preparations to close the house and school. The last Sabbath in Sunday School, I opened the 'Missionary Box,' which I had introduced into the school this summer, and found 53 cents, which the children had dropped in on the Sabbath. We appropriated it to the Bible Society. I also had a small box nailed by the door, on which was, 'For the Lord's cause.' In it had been dropped from time to time $1, which I appropriated for oil, and the purchase of a lamp for our evening meetings. The people are pleased that the Mission House is built. They think the Mission will be permanent amongst them. Some of the white women said "It would be so long before the spring would come, when they might expect me back!" The Indian women came very often to my room, to have some readings, and sing with me. The last Sabbath evening I read to the people a portion of Scripture, Jeremiah, viii, 20. 'The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved!' Closed by singing the 'Missionary Hymn.' We leave it all in the hands of the Lord; trusting that some grain will be found at last in His garner—

" ' We plow it, and we dig it,
And we sow the furrowed land;
But the growing and the reaping
Are in the Lord's own hand.'

" Yours in the work,

" EMMA BAYLIS."

" P. S.—I think it probable that the white people will have a teacher engaged for themselves next summer. I advised them to do so. There are too many to be taken into our school; and they want their children longer taught, and more regularly. I charged something for them this summer, $9 in all; which went towards housekeeping expenses.—E. B.

Rev. R. Robinson thus writes of his first visit last year to Spanish River: "Next morning at Spanish River Mills, I visited Miss Baylis in her school; and in the afternoon visited a number of wigwams, conversing with their inmates on the subject of religion. Had an interesting chat with a Pagan woman from Serpent River, and with an old Roman Catholic woman. The latter spoke with much feeling of the hymns which Miss Baylis read to her, stating that she was grateful to Miss Baylis—and that she always liked to hear of Jesus, and would listen to talk about Him—although her priest forbade her! My impression is, that with the heathen Indians we have the advantage of the Romish priest—with this people, a religion of freedom and love is more attractive than a religion of bondage and fear can be, and the free intercourse of Protestant and Popish Indians, tends to the enlightenment of the latter. Miss Baylis seems to be an indefatigable and devoted Missionary, and is doing the work of teacher and pastor to this whole settlement. She has just organized a Temperance Society. In the evening I addressed one of its meetings, having present some 30 people, about a dozen Indians being present. Keeshig addressed them in their own tongue."

SYDNEY BAY.

During the year, Mr. Peter Keeshig, Native Teacher, has kept a school under an arrangement of half support from the Indians of the place, and half by the Society. Some difficulties having arisen in the carrying out satisfactorily of this arrangement, and larger and more promising openings existing elsewhere, it was decided by the Directors in January last to withdraw their support from the Sydney Bay school after the first day of July 1874.

In January last, Mr. Keeshig writes, complaining of the discomfort of the school-house, which the promoters of the joint scheme had left unplastered, and of want of more books. In May he reports an attendance, from January, of sixteen children. The Sabbath-school attendance was reported as about twenty. He also reports Sabbath services kept up, and prayer meetings on Wednesdays. From the beginning of April Mr. Keeshig has been prostrated by sickness and unable to keep school.

SHE-SHE-GWAH-NING.

This station is on the north side of Great Manitoulin Island toward its western extremity. William Barrell was our first missionary here, and after him Peter Keeshig, but it has been vacant for a year or two. George Richards an excellent native Teacher, was proposed to be sent here, but Richards did not wish to go for the summer only and be thrown out of employment the larger part of the year. But last year it was impossible to support an increase of the permanent staff of teachers. But at a meeting of the Directors in April this year it was decided, in view of the somewhat better state of the funds, to authorize Mr. Robinson to take Richards north with him, and settle him permanently at She-she-gwah-ning. Last year, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, with Richards for interpreter, spent four weeks at She-she-gwah-ning. Mr. Robinson's account of this missionary visit, which we reproduce from the Canadian Independent is exceedingly interesting. He says :

"We set out on our second missionary journey on Thursday, 19th August, by the steamer bound for Spanish River. On Thursday, at one o'clock a.m., we reached that place, and hoisting tent on the wharf, slept till daylight, and about nine o'clock started with Richards and another Indian in their boat for She-she-gwah-ning; a squall forced us to take shelter in Gore Bay, where we camped about eight o'clock p.m. After a rainy night we set sail about nine o'clock a.m., and reached She-she-gwah-ning in the evening. Almost the whole population of the village came down to the shore to receive us, and soon many hands made light work of carrying our "impediments" to our new home. I expected to be like Abraham, a dweller in a tent, but found that the men had mended the roof, and whitewashed the walls, and the women had scrubbed the floor of an old log-house which was thus kindly provided for our dwelling. On thanking the chief's eldest son for this comfort, he said : 'It was but a little thing for them in this way to say, welcome teacher.'"

"Having appointed a meeting for worship which was attended by some twenty-five persons, and held in the house commonly occupied by the Roman Catholic priest during his visits, I consulted the chief about having all the people come to worship every morning and evening. He said that the time when was my business, but he thought that the people could not come in the morning, which I found correct, as no rule prevails about working hours, many going to fish or garden before daylight, or not at all, as the whim may take them. So I appointed six o'clock for service every evening, and securing an old cow's horn, which had long been used for their gatherings, I literally 'blew the trumpet of the Gospel,' but not with a very inviting sound. Indian lungs are apt to be injured or weak; and my music elicited an amount of admiration by its volume, which might fairly be denied to its quality."

Our custom at service was to commence with praise, using the Indian hymns; then to read the Scriptures in Indian, offering explanations and exhortations, to be interpreted by Richards. After praise Richards led in prayer ; and I closed with the Lord's prayer in Indian, and the Benediction. But the music, led by my wife on the concertina was a special attraction, and did more than anything else to keep up the congregation—ranging from 15 to 30 persons. Almost all the people came out, some time or other, to our meetings ; and we found at last that the young people were learning our tunes, and joining their sweet voices in the praises of the Lord. I tried to present to my hearers those Scriptures and lessons which I thought they most needed ; and I do trust that the very great contrast between the Church of Christ and Romanism and Paganism, was observed and believed by them. False religion is ever a thing of fear—true religion is light, and love, and liberty. Richards was met by the question, "Wherefore does your minister not scold us as the priest does, he speaks to us kindly ?" I told Richards to tell them that our Master, the blessed Jesus, was kind, and that "God is love." Fearful at turning them away from Christianity, I refrained from saying anything against the priest or the Church of Rome, but just gave them "the truth as it is in Jesus," the truth which makes free from all error and all sin ; but I should not be much surprised to find the whole band, if properly cared for by us, Protestantized. Only one family is now Pagan, but the rest are little more than nominally Papists, having had only one or two visits of a few days in each year from the priests. Let us teach them to read, and give them the New Testament, and we may well pray in hope that they shall be turned not only to Protestantism, but to the Lord. Every day I gave them a simple lesson, and had prayer in the school, having an attendance varying from one to two dozen scholars, and frequently Richards the interpreter and I went round to see the people at their houses. Seldom was our house void of visitors, especially of women, to some of whom my wife taught the art of knitting, and received in return lessons in Indian conversation, in which she has made considerable progress. By dint of study, she and I managed to communicate some of our ideas ; and often, too, I had opportunity of reading the scriptures. The presence of the family evidently helped to secure the confidence of the people, and many presents which they made to our little girl and ourselves, showed the kind feelings which they entertained towards us. I doubt not that, aided by this winter's study of their language, another visit may be even more useful. Calling on an old Pagan man and his wife one day, as soon as I told them my errand they ceased working ; the woman left her matting and sat down in the corner, the man dropped the net which he had been mending, and both listened most attentively to the gospel. I tried to make the glad tidings as plain and impressive as possible, and then both expressed their consent that we should pray to our God to bless them. Afterwards I noticed the woman among those who came to our evening worship. My last sight of the old man was on our voyage home, when we met him and his Pagan son, both bareheaded and rowing for their lives to escape a squall off Gore Bay ; his boat was small and poor, and the waves were such as I have not seen since I crossed the Atlantic. Our much larger boat had all that she could bear, and whether the old man escaped or not I don't know, but I do know that it is a pleasant thing to have our last correspondence with a fellow creature, such as may be our joy when we meet before the Bar of God.

In leaving, we visited every house, and invited all the people to a farewell tea-meeting ; some 70 or 80 came. We had speeches from the chiefs and others, in which kind mention was made of ourselves and our work ; the wish expressed that we should repeat our visit, and that our words might be remembered and profitable. Promise also was given that a new school should be ready for us in the Spring. Then I took the opportunity of pressing the claims of Jesus upon them ; and after singing and prayer we closed with the hymn, " Shall we gather at the River ? " Many of the young people have learned this tune—some the words, and many the sense ; and there were a good many moistened eyelashes as the thought came, shall we meet again in Heaven ? How many of us, and how soon ?

Almost all came down with us next morning to our boat, and amid earnest requests for a school-teacher, and injunctions to come back again, sorrowful at the thought of the long and mentally dark winter before them, we bade farewell.

As a people they are industrious and prosperous, civil and kind, and seemingly happy. Their village consists of some twenty-five log-houses, and contains about one hundred souls. Most of the families possess a boat and nets, and cultivate gardens. In all, about thirty acres are under crop, in the shape of corn, potatoes and beans. These vegetables, with white fish in summer, and pork in winter, make the almost unvarying food of the people. Hunting is almost entirely abandoned ; and a few oxen and horses are possessed by the more wealthy. All appear to be well fed, and comfortable as to the body, but the poor mind is dark and destitute.

PROSPECTS FOR THE FUTURE.

Small as is the field yet occupied by the Society, and limited—very limited as its resources are, yet in both respects it is far in advance of 1860, when it took its present shape. It has grown ! And we see every indication of a healthy growth in the future. One thing the Churches must not forget—the benefit to themselves of having such a work on their hands ! Instead of contracting the operations of Churches in other quarters, well-directed Missionary efforts have always been found vital to their best home-interests.

As our Society gains a lasting and liberal sympathy and support from those to whom it appeals, and as Missionary explorations reveal locations for Missionary and Educational efforts, we hope to make great advances in the evangelization of the tribes and bands lingering on the verge of our civilization ; and to penetrate gradually further and further to their interior haunts. It is not ours to speculate when the whole remaining Indian population may be hoped to be evangelized : but it is ours to go on patiently with the work !

In August last year, Mr. Robinson writes respecting the little Mission boat Nereid, in which he made a trip of over five hundred miles in July :— " Keeshig says that our boat is too old to be safe for next year's journey. Accordingly I have left orders to sell her for her value, and it will remain for the committee to decide as to the purchase of a better boat. We had a good deal of trouble with leakage on this journey."

A new boat, larger, and in every way more substantial, has, by direction of the Board, been built during the winter. She is named the "Aurora," twenty-eight feet keel, and half-decked. Under date of 22nd May, Mr. Robinson writes : " Our new boat is launched, and is good." The boat will cost about $150 ; and may be expected to do good service for many years.

In April, the Secretary, Rev. Samuel N. Jackson, M.D., signified his intention of resigning the Secretaryship of the Society, on account of the pressure of pastoral duties. The Board parted with his services with great regret, after his efficient labours in his special office for the past three years. They felt constrained, however, to accept the resignation, and have made an interim appointment.

All which is respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM W. SMITH,
Secretary.
