Scheme to Experiment With Oil For Sprinkling Roads.

Proposed to Try Barton Street Before the Races.

Township Council Wants Radial Tracks Raised.

Nearly the whole of this morning's session of the County Council was taken up in considering the estimates for the year and the question of bringing pressure to bear on the Hamilton Radial Electric Railway to raise the tracks of the Bartonville line in some places to a level of the roadbed.

Yesterday afternoon the Council made an inspection of the line, and this morning a committee, consisting of the Warden and Councillors Hills and Millen, was appointed to wait on the officers of the company.

According to the estimates of the treasurer and clerk the sum of $54,000 is required to run the county's business for this year. As last year's assessment rate would give $52,000, the councillors were undecided as to increasing the assessment, trying to reduce the expenditure by eliminating some items, or facing an overdraft.

The following letter was received from Mr. M. E. Overall, of the Hamilton branch of the Ontario Motor League: "I understand a movement is on foot to oil some of the roads adjacent to Hamilton. I would like to have particulars of such movement, and, if such is the intention, would be glad to take up the matter with the executive of the Ontario Motor League, with a view to possible assistance from them toward this object."

This is a matter that the road superintendent will lay before the Council this afternoon. He suggests that the county and city officials work jointly in experimenting with oil. The automobile club and some residents on Barton street have offered to give a donation toward the experiments. His idea is to ask the Jockey Club directors to assist, and conduct the experiment on Barton street east, the dustiest road in the county, during the races, when travel is the heaviest on it.

A WRITE UP.

Pittsburg Dispatch Devotes Some Space to Hamilton.

In its special feature section on Sunday the Pittsburg Dispatch writes up "Hamilton, the Smokeless Headline of Canada." The attractive head line stretching right across the page. The illustrations include a portrait of Mayor McLaren, "the Today Roosevelt of Canada," Paul J. Myler, vice-president and general manager of the Canadian Westinghouse Company, "an old Pittsburg boy who has made good," Wilson Smith, manager of the Pittsburg Perfect Fuel Company, "a Pittsburg now prominent in Hamilton's development," a view of Dundurn Castle and one of the Westinghouse works.

WELLS AGAIN.

Thinks He Can Solve the Barton Murder Mystery.

W. J. Wells, the private detective who figured prominently in connection with the Barton murder mystery, by discovering the manufacturer and wholesaler of the shoes worn by the unknown victim, a clue which at one time it was thought would lead to the woman's identification, is still investigating the crime, and is out with a brand new proposition. Mr. Wells thinks the people of Hamilton must be tired of this mysterious murder business, and he suggests that they subscribe a fund for the solving of the mystery, which he insists can be unravelled. He is prepared to volunteer his service, free. That no attempt was ever made to identify the woman in Philadelphia, where he says the corpses and the shoes were purchased, is one of the points Mr. Wells emphasizes.

SHORT COURT.

Sidewalk Rider Contributed $5 to City Funds.

As Magistrate Jeffs was busy moving to the Bench this morning, T. H. Crerar was acting dispenser of justice at the Police Court. The roster was very small, containing only four cases, and about four minutes sufficed to dispose of them. An east end youth had to part with $5 for riding his bicycle on the sidewalk, and three drunks, Alexander Harvey, James Edgar and Henry Young, were each fined $2. The case of John Godfrey was again remanded until Monday.

TRUST CANDY STORES NEXT.

E. T. BEDFORD, HEAD OF CORN PRODUCTS REFINING CO.

New York, June 11.—It looks as if we shall soon see trust candy stores in every city, operated very much like the present day trust cigar stores. Standard Oil men are behind the movement. Since the death of H. H. Rogers, it has been discovered that he was foremost in the trust candy store movement. Wm. Rockefeller, too, is said to be interested. The head of the movement is E. T. Bedford, of the Standard Oil Co., who is President of the Corn Products Refining Co.

WILL NOT FRIGHTEN MAYOR McLAREN.

Hydro and City Hall Anti-Reform Section Talk of Opposing Him For Second Term.

According to a report in the City Hall this morning, for which some of the Hydro-Electric advocates are authority, Mayor McLaren will have a fight for his second term unless he beats a retreat on the power question and lines up behind Niagara power. The movement, it is said, has the endorsement of certain civic employees, and their friends, who do not approve of the reforms introduced this year. There are vague hints that ex-Mayor Stewart may abandon his seat in Parliament and jump into the municipal fight again. The strenuous gentleman from West Hamilton smilingly denied the accusation this morning. When it was drawn to his attention that he did the same thing when his name was mentioned as a parliamentary possibility, the smile increased. He insisted, though, that he would not be the Mayor's opponent. The name of ex-Ald. Bailey, who ran against Mayor McLaren last year, and Allan Studholme are also mentioned. It is not thought likely that Mr. Studholme would resign his seat in the Legislature, and some of Mr. Bailey's friends have advised him against going up against the Mayor again in view of what happened last January. If the opposition talk is intended to stamper his worship, the Mayor's friends think that those responsible for it are making a bad mistake. For Mr. McLaren has demonstrated during his short term that his course on public matters is taken fearlessly and without regard to what effect it may have as a vote catcher.

Ex-Mayor Stewart is rather annoyed over that he declares to be a misrepresentation of what he said on the platform about the house lighting system. He was a visitor at the City Hall today and announced his decision of making an affidavit to the effect that he made it quite clear at every meeting at which he spoke that the endorsement of the Hydro did not mean the people were going to get a private house lighting system. He says the house lighting system can be installed for $250,000 and the Beach pumps and motors for $58,000.

It is expected that there will be a lively time to-night at the meeting of the Sewers Committee, over the complaint lodged by Fishery Inspector Kerr about the Canada Sewer Company being permitted to allow water, injurious to fish, and which is said to damage the bottom of boats, to run into the Wellington street inlet. The company says that the sulphate of iron purifies the water. City Engineer Macallum is having an investigation made to-day. Mr. Kerr and a big deputation of boat owners will be on hand to-night to make a protest.

The following building permits were issued to-day: George Fielding, three frame houses on Wood street, between Ferguson avenue and Wellington street, $2,000. Thomas Allen, three brick houses on Strachan street, between Hughson and James streets, $4,500. Thomas Allen, three brick houses on Fairford avenue, between Main street and Delaware avenue, $7,500.

Complaints have been made at the Times office that the pressure from the street flushers is washing out the sand and tar from between the crosswalk blocks on James street. City Engineer Macallum says the blocks are cemented in, and the effect of the flusher on them is tested before any great quantity were laid. He does not anticipate any injury to the pavement by the flushing.

The City Engineer yesterday inspected the filtering basins and the Beach pumping plant.

A deputation from the Board of Health will wait on the Sewers Committee to-night in connection with the building of a number of sewers on sanitary grounds.

Appeal in Police Court Case Heard This Morning.

This morning Judge Monek heard the evidence in the appeal of F. C. Mills against the decision of the Police Magistrate, who dismissed a charge of disorderly conduct preferred against M. M. Robinson last February. In the absence from the city of the appellant's counsel, Mr. J. G. Farmer appeared for Mills, and Geo. Lynch-Staunton, K. C., for Robinson.

The evidence showed that Robinson was notified that he would not be admitted to the Armory Rink, and that he made several attempts to get past the door tender. He was ordered out twice by Serget. Bainbridge. After being ordered out he returned with a friend, who tried to get him in, and took liberties with the officer. Robinson and the other man afterwards followed Mills into a hotel and annoyed him.

Robinson denied threatening or provoking Mills, and said he did not obstruct the passage at the rink. Counsel asked him how he got a report of the match when he was not admitted to the rink, and he replied, "I just faked a report." This caused some merriment.

New Religion

New York, June 11.—That two new world religions will soon take the place of present Christian denominations was predicted yesterday by Prof. Burman Foster, of the University of Chicago, whose resignation from the Baptist ministry is demanded by Rev. Johnstone Myers and other members of the Chicago Baptist ministers' conference. Prof. Foster declared that the present question of religious freedom points to a union of all the Protestant churches, with the Catholic against the free thinkers.

THE MAN IN OVERALLS

Mr. Mayor, any overdraft in sight?

Can you blame the dog for sampling the catchers?

Cheer up. Some York Loan money promised before Christmas.

I hear that the doctors don't like this mountain hospital idea. Afraid of the climb.

Wheeling on the sidewalk seems to be as popular as it is costly.

Take time, whether you have it or not, to see the Art School exhibit. Cultivate the aesthetic side of your personality.

When a dog gets mauled around by the catchers it may be mad enough to bite them and yet not be mad.

Why can't Hamilton have a horse market or a cattle market or something like that? If I were a hotel man I would agitate for a few such things for Hamilton. The merchants, too, might profit by them.

The man with the lawn hose is not out so often these evenings. Too chilly for him.

I must take a run up to Dundurn Park to see what progress John Patterson is making with that road of his. I haven't seen the new cars yet. Have you?

I hope Mr. Stewart is not thinking up something else to kick up a fuss about. The citizens want a little peace and quietness.

Any chance of bringing that Berlin factory to Hamilton? The Industrial Committee might put out the looks for it. It might as well build here as rebuild there.

Perhaps Mr. Studholme cannot see that his veiled suggestion meant that Judge Snider might be purchasable.

The reorganization of the police force is still in the dim and misty future. But what about those appointments? Nothing doing?

Toronto has come to the conclusion that if a person's name appears in the city directory it is sufficient to entitle him or her to get a Public Library card. I think the directory test should be sufficient in Hamilton, also, without having to be guaranteed by a property owner.

So far the dog owners have put up a pretty poor fight in behalf of their four-footed friends.

Let us hope that Rev. Dr. Pringle will have the opportunity of proving in court the charges he so freely made in the floor of the Assembly.

Lord Roberts and Mr. Balfour will have the Canadian newspapermen so scared that they will be afraid to stay out after dark lest some Dutchman give them one on the cocoonant.

I don't think that either you or I will see competition with the Cataract Company in this city for household juice. In the first place the cost of a civic plant, and in the second place the ten per cent. cheaper, would make the city's business awfully risky, unless Mr. Whitney passed a law making it compulsory for us to deal with the Hydro-Electric people. That would be more than the Czar would do.

Evidently Dr. Pringle has been reading the Calgary Eye-Opener and the speeches of our friend Mr. Foster.

Mr. Macdonald says Toronto has enough loyalty to do for a whole Dominion. But it's the flag waving variety only.

I have found the following a sure remedy for black ants, put some tartar emetic in a saucer, wet it, sprinkle a little sugar on top, set it in cupboard or any place where they are, keep it from animals or children, it is poison. Mrs. Thos. Littlehales, Syracuse, N. Y.

Marriage Law

Seattle, Wash., June 11.—The new State law providing that applicants for marriage licenses must undergo medical inspection before the woman is 45 years old went into effect yesterday. Ten couples appeared at the license clerk's office with physicians' certificates, and two couples, when informed of the new law, said they would go to British Columbia to marry. County officials say the law will result in many Americans marrying in Canada.

ABDUL HAMID.

Several Killed in an Attempt to Kidnap the Ex-Sultan.

London, June 11.—A local news agency publishes a despatch from Constantinople to-day saying that an unsuccessful attempt is said to have been made by the Reactionaries to kidnap Abdul Hamid, the deposed Sultan of Turkey, from the house where he is residing in Saloniki. Several offices, the despatch continues, are said to have been killed in the struggle.

FOUND HEAD.

Disembodied Body of New York Man Now Identified.

Police Think They Have a Clue to the Murder.

New York, June 11.—The disembodied body of a murdered man which, wrapped in oilcloth, was sent by a stranger in the care of a boy in Catherine street last night, was identified to-day as that of Samuel Berns, 22 years old, a painter of East 98th street.

The man's head, which was missing last night, was found lying on a pile of refuse under the Brooklyn bridge, some distance from the point where the body was left. Identification was accomplished by laundry marks on the clothing, and was confirmed by the dead man's sisters and brother.

Robbery is believed by the police to be the motive for the crime as Berns had been wearing two handsome diamond rings and these with whatever money he carried, were missing when his body was found.

Berns came from Russia about two years ago and boarded with a family named Cornilium. He had been misadvised from his home since Wednesday, when he left to go to work.

Owing to the mysterious features of the murder, which rivaled some of the most extraordinary cases which have puzzled the authorities in years, the police bent every effort to discover the murderer and to ascertain the circumstances under which Berns came to his death. That a man could be killed, his head thrown into a pile of rubbish and his body severed into two parts and carried about three streets until all trace of the murderers was lost, moved the police to unusual efforts.

Early evidence seemed to indicate that the murder was committed in the lower east side, not far from the spot where the head was found. The case took on a new phase to-day, when Mrs. Mollie Isaacson, the murdered man's sister, informed the police that Berns had been greatly depressed for the last month, because a young woman of the east side, with whom he was in love, had forbidden him to call upon her. Mrs. Isaacson said that Berns had a jealous rival for the girl's affections, and stood much in fear of the other man. Through this clue the police hope to solve the mystery. Meantime they hold as witnesses several homeless men, who spend the night under Brooklyn Bridge, and found the missing head to-day.

VERY SUDDEN.

Elderly Man Fell Dead In Store While Making Purchase.

Death came with startling suddenness to an unknown man in Carroll's grocery store, corner of York and Caroline streets, this morning. The deceased was about 65 years of age and was dressed in a dark blue coat and vest and striped trousers. He wore a dark shirt and peak cap. About 9 o'clock he entered the store with a jar and asked one of the clerks to fill it with pickles. The young lady went to the back of the store to get them, and it was at that moment that the old man was overcome. She heard something fall, ran in to see what had happened, and beheld the unfortunate man lying on the floor. She called for help and the ordinary restoratives were applied, but without result. The messenger-Phil consulted with Crown Attorney Washington, and an inquest will likely be held. It is expected that the family to which the dead man belongs will enquire at the grocery store for him. He had been there on one or two previous occasions, and it is likely that his relatives were aware of his mission and where he was going.

The deceased is believed to be a man by the name of McCabe. His residence is not known, but William McCabe, 91 Locomotive street, is believed to be a son.

Allan Duffy, an employee of the Baynes Carriage Company, was painfully injured while at work this morning. He was removed to the City Hospital in the ambulance.

FOR SHOOTING OF P. C. HARRY SMITH

Nevilles Tried This Morning—Evidence Contradictory—Not Guilty in Perjury Case.

This morning John Nevilles came before the General Session of the Peace to stand his trial on the charge of shooting Constable Harry Smith on the night of March 4 last.

In presenting the case Crown Attorney Washington said to the jury that on the night of the shooting Constable Smith was on his route in the west end of the city. On his beat was the house of Mr. E. W. Kappel, the occupants of which were away and it was the duty of the constable to watch it. He noticed some footprints in the fresh snow, leading into Mr. Kappel's back yard, and on going back to investigate he heard a noise in the cellar. Not knowing how many men might be there he went to get assistance; returned with Mr. Hanley and on his arrival saw a man crouching against the fence, he called him to hold up his hands, but the man fired at him with a revolver. One of the bullets taking effect in his brain so that it was only by skillful surgery that his life was saved.

P. C. Henry Smith was the first witness to give evidence. He swore he was on his usual route in the west end and noticed the footprints leading into Mr. Kappel's house. He followed them to the cellar window and found it broken, he lit a match and heard some one in the cellar, whereupon he went for assistance. He placed several men at the front and took Mr. Hanley back with him. On going back he saw a man in the back yard and called to him to hold up his hands. At this the man shot him and he fell to his knees at the same time calling to Hanley that he had been shot. The man continued to fire.

The moon was in the east and shining on the man's face and a gas light also shined upon him. When the sun stood up he could see his face and recognized him as John Nevilles. He had arrested Nevilles about four months earlier for disorderly conduct and on that occasion Nevilles said he would meet him again when he had no baton. The moon on the night of the shooting wore a short jacket or coat, a peak cap and a scarf around his neck, or had a sweater on.

When cross-examined by M. J. O'Reilly, K. C., witness said he was about 15 feet away from the man who shot him, and the moon was shining brightly. The passage way between the two houses was about three feet wide, but the moon lighted it up. After the shooting he had a very faint recollection of what happened, and knew little for the first two weeks while in the Hospital. When he became conscious he gave the name of the man who shot him to Chief Smith. Previous to seeing the Chief he asked Constable Lenz if they had caught the man who shot him, but was not fully conscious at this time. He had also told a reporter that he could not identify the man. Mr. O'Reilly said that Dr. Cummings had said that while at tending Smith he had heard him say he couldn't identify the man who had wounded him. The witness replied that he may have, but was not conscious of it if he had. The only person he was conscious of saying that to was the reporter. Dr. Greenway was the next witness. He said he had performed the operation on Smith on March 5. The bullet was in two pieces. One part had lodged in the region of the ear, the other part had gone through the brain and was taken out at the back of the head. His condition was serious; he was able to talk, but not rationally. After the operation the patient got on well, although he was not out of danger for two weeks' time.

Mr. O'Reilly asked him if Smith's mind would be as good now as it was before the bullet had penetrated his brain. He replied that he could not say.

Mrs. Humphrey said she was sitting in her dining room on the night of March 4, and, hearing three shots, she went out on her verandah, at the back of her house, two doors away. She saw a man getting over the fence not far from her. The man glanced at her and hurried away. He wore a short coat and a cap. She had never seen the prisoner before and could not identify him as being the man. All she could say was that the man was tall. The moon was shining brightly at the time on her back verandah.

Mr. Ross, 22 Locke street south, swore that he started for home from Sanford's at 9 o'clock, when he got to the Savoy ice-cream parlor he saw a man appear, dressed in a short coat and cap, the man was in a hurry and gave him a peculiar look, which drew his (witness) attention. He wouldn't know the man again. He described the man to his wife as being about 5 feet 10 inches tall. He would judge him to be about the size of the prisoner, but older.

Marshall Kappel testified that in March his house was vacant. When he heard that the place had been broken into he went home and found the cellar window broken and that some one had been through the house. Some articles were produced in court which he recognized as belonging to his home. Evidently the man who had been in there had been operating for some time. A knife was shown him by Crown Attorney Washington, but he didn't recognize it as belonging to any member of his family.

W. A. Stevens swore that he had known the prisoner for some time. He knew him worked for him. The knife was shown him, but he denied ever seeing it before except at the police court. He denied having told any one that he had seen the knife in Neville's possession, nor did he say he could swear to the blade of the knife.

Constable James Clark swore that he went to the house on the night of the shooting, and found the articles produced in court, made up of shoes, a belt, a small money chest, cuffs, brushes, a fishing rod and some other things. They were all in a bag as if ready to be carried off. He also found the knife

IN ORATORY. CAMPAIGN IS AT HAND.

Highfield School Had a Contest Yesterday Afternoon.

Highfield School held a contest in oratory among its senior pupils yesterday afternoon, at the school when five of the larger boys competed for the prize offered by Mr. Geo. Lynch-Staunton, K. C. It was the first of this sort in the school, but its success is almost sure to make it an annual fixture. The school will certainly develop some good speakers. Those who took part yesterday showed a careful study of their subjects and generally spoke well. The contestants and their subjects were:

J. D. Scott—"How Can Canada Show Her Loyalty?" M. A. Vallance—"Should Canada Contribute to the British Navy?" M. W. Walker—"Future Government of Canada."

J. C. Sutherland—"Life and Character of Sir John A. Macdonald." G. R. Fraser—"The Twentieth Century of the Century of Canada."

Mr. Baker, one of the masters, presided, and the judges were Messrs. W. H. Wardrop, K. C., R. B. Ferrie, C. H. Hooper, and C. Davis. The decision was unanimous. Mr. Walker being declared the winner. So close was the contest, however, that three of the others were practically tied for second place. The announcement of the result was received with unmistakable evidence of approval and, after passing a vote of thanks to the judges, on motion of Messrs. Walker and Scott, the school joined in three hearty cheers for Mr. Staunton and the winner.

LADY ABERDEEN.

Meets Delegates to International Council of Women at Quebec.

Quebec, June 11.—Lady Aberdeen visited, this morning, the principal points of interest in the city after which she lunched at the Chateau Frontenac with the delegates of the International Council of Women, who arrived this morning by the Laurentic. She was met at the luncheon by many distinguished Quebecers. Lady Aberdeen will leave by I.C.R. at 5.30 for Montreal with the members of the International Council of Women. Mrs. W. E. Sanford, of Hamilton, is in the party.

Members of St. Cecilia Chapter, I. O. D. E., are reminded of the picnic to be held at the Battlefield on Saturday, June 12. Cars leave Terminal Station at 4.10.

Y. M. C. A. Will be Into It In Ten Days.

The Y. M. C. A. Board of Directors held their monthly meeting last evening, President Alfred Powis in the chair. Sitting around the table with him were Messrs. Geo. Rutherford, F. W. Watkins, W. J. Smith, W. J. Aitchison, Henry Banwell, Fred Myers, J. Orr Callaghan, W. J. Waugh, Elmore VanSickle, W. J. Robinson, J. J. Greene, D. M. Barton, B. O. Hooper, R. T. Kelly, F. Claringbowl and T. F. Best.

A most encouraging report was read from the east end branch, showing quite an increase in membership, a number of new activities that were interesting the members, and receipts for fees and subscriptions exceeded the expenses of the month. Fred Meyers, the young secretary of the branch, put in a request for a liberal share of the money to be raised this month for enlarging and improving the east end branch.

E. M. Best, a student from the Springfield Y. M. C. A. Training School, a nephew of the general secretary, was appointed assistant secretary for the summer months.

There are two vacancies on the board, and it was decided to leave these open until the close of the building fund campaign.

A letter from C. S. Ward stated that he would be present during the six days of the financial campaign, and thought there would be no difficulty in raising the required amount in that time. Secretary Best reported progress in regard to organization. Nine committees were rapidly rounding into shape for the contest, and D. M. Barton was appointed captain of the tenth team, making 100 business men in all to participate in the effort.

A splendid banquet will be given the workers on the evening of the 23rd, when C. S. Ward, Mr. Cassidy and others will address the gathering. Luncheon will be served every day of the campaign to the workers. Mr. Cassidy is an expert advertiser, and will work in conjunction with the publicity committee.

AN ARMY OF JAPS WAS A NEWSY. Could be Mustered in California in Two Days. Buffalo, N. Y., June 10.—The east and the west clashed on the question of the reality of the yellow peril at to-day's session of the immigrant section of the annual conference of charities and corrections. W. A. Gates, secretary of the Board of Charities of San Francisco, declared that the yellow peril was more of a menace to-day than at any time in the past.

The principal business was the election of delegates to the next session of the High Court of Western Ontario, which is to be held in the city of Chatham, commencing on Tuesday, Aug. 24. Court Orient, having a large membership, is entitled to ten delegates, and these were selected last night after an animated contest. H. T. Drope conducted the election, with the following results: Geo. O. Elder, Chas. N. Tregenza, Chas. C. Baird, Robt. A. Gibb, Wm. Christie, Elliot G. Overholt, Wm. J. Allan, Ben Salisbury, Robt. B. GERMANY'S FLEET. Berlin, June 11.—The Ministry of Marine imparted the information to-day that the declaration appearing in certain English newspapers that the German Government supported the desire of the Navy League for the quicker construction of the fleet, was wholly without foundation. The league is an independent organization, it was explained, and pursued its activities from its own initiative, for which the government was not responsible.

GOULD CASE FINALLY ON. Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould the First Witness. Testified as to the Luxury in Which She Lived. Couldn't Remember Whether She Saw Dustin F. rnum in 1908.

New York, June 11.—It was a smaller and slighter Katherine Clemmons Gould who took the stand yesterday in her suit for separation from her husband, Howard Gould, than the public remembered, and her loss in weight was becoming. Mrs. Gould wore mourning for her father, and the sombre black of her gown was relieved only by the double string of pearls at her neck, and the flash of the diamonds in her long hand-purse of black leather. She seemed nervous at times under the strain of cross-examination, and when the questions led her to the early days of her married life she showed visible emotion, but so far as the presence of her husband was concerned she seemed not to know that he was in the same room, although he sat but a few feet from her throughout the day's session.

The long-delayed hearing before Justice Dowling, who will make his finding without the aid of a jury, is the culmination of a case that began in May, 1907, and has been marked in its continuance by many sensational accusations of misconduct and attempted subornation of witnesses. Mrs. Gould alleges that her husband deserted her without just cause on July 16, 1906. Howard Gould answers that his justification was the habits of the plaintiff, that, since he left her, she has made her an allowance of $25,000 a year, but that she is "extravagant, intemperate and has been guilty of misconduct." The wife denies the charges, and asks for an allowance of $120,000 a year to enable her to live in the manner to which her husband had accustomed her. Mrs. Gould testified that while living at Castle Gould she kept from fifteen to twenty servants in the house, ten to twelve around the stable, and eight or twenty gardeners.

GAVE HER $10,000 A MONTH. In answer to questions as to the amount her husband had allowed her month by month, she said they averaged about $10,000, and that in the eight years she had lived with him Mr. Gould had given her $75,000. De Lancy Nicoll, counsel for Mr. Gould, tried to bring out discrepancies in various statements of expenditure. He read off a long list of figures and dates, Mrs. Gould listening patiently. When he had finished she asked: "What are you talking about?" Counsel caught his breath and tried another avenue of attack. "Did you know that at the time of the separation there were bills of $112,000 outstanding against you?" "I have not the slightest idea."

Mrs. Gould has the same answer for a long file of questions as to accounts with dressmakers, jewelers and department stores, running some times as high as $20,000. Mrs. Gould varied her answers when asked if her expenditures at Castle Gould included wines and liquors. SHE BOUGHT EVERYTHING. "Yes," she said, "everything. I bought the apples, onions, potatoes, vinegar, sugar, salt, flour, horsefeed and chicken-feed. I had absolute charge of building, beautifying and running the place. I travelled all over the country, selecting materials, and I kept regular office hours for long stretches of time, conferring with architects and builders." Testimony to show the manner in which the witness was accustomed to live was further adduced by counsel. She showed every eagerness to cooperate, and told with evident relish of the magnificent yacht "Niagara," with its crew of 60 men, its saloon with seats for 60 guests, and decorations that in one room alone cost $32,000.

More recent events, touched on later in the day, she could not recall. She could not recall seeing Dustin Farnum, the actor, whose name figures in an affidavit introduced as evidence, in 1908 or 1909, but she was positive she had not seen him in any way. Details of money in her own name and how she came to own a farm in Virginia were hard to elicit. Mrs. Gould was still on the stand when adjournment was taken until to-morrow.

PRICES TOO HIGH. Militia in Camp Unable to Live on Their Daily Allowance. (Special Despatch to the Times.) London, Ont., June 11.—Repeated complaints are being received at local headquarters from the forces in training at Woodstock, Guelph and Flora that it is impossible, owing to high prices of food and forage, for them to buy what they are required to, according to orders, on the Government allowance of 25 cents a day for each man and 35 cents a horse. Several officers, it is stated, have threatened they will not take men into camp any more, unless allowances are increased. The local authorities are taking the matter up with Ottawa.

SENATOR WM. LORIMER.

THE HAMILTON TIMES

FRIDAY, JUNE 11, 1909.

REV. DR. PRINGLE AGAIN.

Rev. Dr. Pringle, who has attained no little notoriety in connection with the discussion of conditions in the Yukon, and who says an action for libel in connection with statements concerning it, is now pending, created a mild sensation at the General Assembly, and lent a distinct political flavor to its discussions, by airing his grievances yesterday, and by making a wholesale attack upon politicians and public men, their character and methods.

There are many members of the Assembly who do not hesitate to give expression to the opinion that Rev. Dr. Pringle has been somewhat carried away by his enthusiasm for the cause which he espouses. His word-picture of Yukon conditions is very far from being justified by the official report recently presented to the Assembly. Men expect to find in such an outlying mining camp very different conditions from those which prevail in older settled communities.

A DRASTIC LAW.

Kansas has a new prohibition law, a measure of the most drastic kind, providing that no alcoholic liquors are to be sold in that State for any purpose whatever. The law which this new enactment supersedes gave druggists the right to sell liquor for "medical, mechanical and scientific purposes," but now the druggists of Kansas may not handle or sell liquor, even upon a physician's prescription. Not only are alcoholic drinks forbidden to be sold, but intoxicating beverages can legally be distributed in any mercantile establishment or drug store.

NO HYSTERIA IN OURS.

The theatrical performance of telegraphing offers of Dreadnoughts to the British navy is quite spectacular and enables noisy "patriots" to shove out their chests and pat themselves as they seek the applause of the mob, always ready to cheer the impulsive, without too close examination of the wisdom of their course. But results are not always of the most satisfactory character. Australia's offer of a Dreadnought has quickly developed a situation that has in it much of the ludicrous if not humiliating. Far from it being an expression of the sentiment of a united populace, it appears to have been the unauthorized act of a few politicians eager to court the favor of the jingo element in the United Kingdom.

Lord Morley told the members of the Imperial Press Conference yesterday that "the re-barbarism of Europe—the rattling back into arms and the preparation to use arms"—is to be blamed against the press. He stated that the press was more answerable for this than all the Ministers, officials and diplomatists taken together, and he pleaded for a systematic and persevering work on the part of newspapers on behalf of peace among nations.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Ogilvie Milling Company is receiving deserved compliments for encouraging their employees to join the militia. The firm gives its men an extra week's holidays for this purpose and assures them that in case of absence on service their positions will be kept for them. This is a practical way of teaching patriotism.

The Hamilton Liberal Association has adopted a new constitution, under which officers shall be elected by delegates from the various polling sub-divisions. Instead of conventions being called by mass meetings, they will consist of representatives chosen by the polling sub-divisions. It is felt that the new arrangement will lend strength to the working organization of the party.

The bill for the Kinrade inquest is naturally much larger than the usual inquest bill, but this is not to be wondered at; it was an unusual inquest. There should be no unwise haggling over a few dollars in this matter. The Crown and jury did their work intelligently and well, devoting much time and labor thereto. It would be little short of a scandal, and it certainly would not be in the interests of justice, to unduly scrimp payment for such services.

Now the anti-Hamilton power monopoly organ presents a labored argument that there is no harm meant by the Hydro advocates to the local power company. It points out that no competition is aimed at; all that is wanted is that all the city patronage should be taken away from it, and the money instead of being spent in Hamilton be paid to outsiders. And to accomplish this "build-up-Hamilton" policy (5) our people should be compelled to pay higher prices for power! Just so.

Uncle Sam is likely to have more trouble with Castro, the bad boy of Venezuela. Secret service men have discovered that a gang of filibusterers are plotting in New York for the overthrow of the Gomez administration and the restoration of Castro to power. There is said to be a million dollars behind the movement, and already two vessels and 31,000 rifles are in readiness. If Uncle Sam wants his Monroe doctrine to be respected, he will have to concern himself with the suppression of such plots laid in his own territory.

Two Times readers who have been discussing the British national debt ask us to decide their issues. One contends that the net debt is now higher than it has ever before been, while the other is prepared to admit only that it is higher than at any time in the last ten years. Both are wrong. The net debt at the close of the fiscal year 1908 was £736,852,150. It is somewhat less now. In 1870 it was £777,251,430. By 1901 it had fallen about £100,000,000, but in 1903 it stood at £766,580,400. These figures include not only the funded debt, but all the liabilities of the state.

The Herald hastens to defend Whitney's policy of floating Government loans at home, to the absorption of capital needed for the business development of the country, when he might float them in Britain and thus bring so much more needed money into Canada. It professes to think that there cannot be much said against Whitney's policy when Canadian capitalists are investing in enterprises in Mexico, Cuba and South America. That is an unfortunate "argument" and very ineffective. Whitney's policy has been calculated to drive capital away from Ontario, and it has not been altogether without effect.

In a letter contributed to the Brantford Expositor by W. G. Raymond, discussing Imperial defence, it is pointed out that the navy has become a kind of insurance on British sea-borne trade. This interesting statement is made:

The proportion of the cost of the royal navy to the value of the sea-borne trade was sometimes nearly 15 per cent. Then the trade was not so large as now, but a battleship then cost about £90,000, or one-twentieth of present cost. Two Dreadnoughts at £1,800,000 would cost more than the fleet of 27 ships that Nelson led to victory at Trafalgar. After a few years of peace naval cost declined, and trade increased so that the percentage dropped to less than 1.5 per cent. The increased cost of battleships has brought it up to about 2.7 per cent. of the trade of the United Kingdom.

ARRESTING LITTLE BOYS.

The New York American's article on "Playgrounds or Jails" is just as applicable to Toronto as to New York. We have already inaugurated the admirable practice of arresting little boys and forcing them into the criminal class for playing on the streets.

WHITNEY'S BLUNDERS.

Our Ontario Government is putting stock on the market, no doubt so far as the present members of that Government are concerned, with the most perfectly respectable intentions. But would the stock hereafter be quite beyond the range of their doctrine, which seems to be that of unlimited power of invading bargains and shutting the courts against appeal? The question will surely some day present itself to the stock market.

HORSE RACING.

Here in Canada we are where the Americans were a generation ago. We have our "legions" of love good horses and race for the sport it affords. But will this continue in the face of the professional race horse men from the United States? I doubt it. With the professional race horse owner comes the tout, the bookmaker, whose first name is usually Abe, and all the rest of the precious outfit.

BOY SCRATCHED DAY AND NIGHT

Eczema Began When a Tiny Baby and Lasted 7 Years—Tore Crusts from Face Till It Was All Raw—Screamed with Pain and Could not Sleep—Though Specialists Failed

CUTICURA EFFECTED A WONDERFUL CURE

"When my little boy was six weeks old an eruption broke out on his face. I took him to a doctor and he gave me all sorts of ointments and medicines but his face kept on getting worse until it got so bad that no one could look at him. His whole face was one crust and must have been very painful. He scratched day and night until his face sometimes looked like a raw piece of meat. I was nearly insane with the scratching day and night. Then I took him to all the best specialists in skin diseases but they could not do much for him. He sometimes screamed with pain when I put on the salve they gave me. When he was two years old the eczema got on his legs so bad that I had to keep them bandaged up and I made gloves for his hands so the nails could not poison him worse. We could not get any sleep in months and my husband and I were all broken up. Then my mother asked why I did not give up and ask for Cuticura. So I got a set and he felt relieved the first time I used them. The Cuticura Ointment felt so cool. He used to wake up and ask for Cuticura to be put on when he itched so badly that he could not sleep, and he would say 'Oh! Mama, that makes my sores feel so good.' I gave the Cuticura Remedies a good trial and gradually the eczema healed all up and now he is as well as any other child. He is now seven years old and the cure has lasted two months, so I think it will never return. I can't tell you how glad I am that Cuticura did such wonderful work in our case and I shall recommend it everywhere. Mrs. John G. Champ, 80 Niagara St., Newark, N. J., Oct. 17 and 22, 1907."

Government. Hon. W. J. COST OF THE KINRADE CASE.
Coroner Appeals to Finance Committee For the Jurors.
Government Will be Petitioned to Grant More Pay.

T. H. & B. Will Use Whistle in City Hereafter.

An echo of the famous Kinrade murder mystery, which was the talk of half a continent less than two months ago, was heard yesterday afternoon at the Finance Committee, when the coroner, Dr. James Anderson, appeared, and asked that the fees for himself and the fifteen jurors be doubled. The bills presented revealed a rather interesting bit of information which did not come to light when the inquest was abruptly concluded. It was generally supposed then that the Crown has practically exhausted its panel of witnesses, and that those who were not called were one or two whose evidence would have been of no importance. During the discussion at the committee meeting it developed that no less than eighteen of the sixty-three witnesses subpoenaed were not called. The bills presented yesterday were for $370, made up of fifty cents a session for the fifteen jurors, $120, and $250 for the stenographer, W. D. McHaffie. It was announced that the accounts of three doctors, who are entitled to $30 each, are still to come.

"I am here in connection with the Kinrade case, I suppose you all have heard of it," said Dr. Anderson.

"I have heard of it every day for the last two months clean out to Victoria," replied Ald. Lees, just back from the Coast.

The coroner explained that at the inquest George Tate Blackstock, the Crown examiner, had expressed the opinion that in view of the unusual demands made on the jurors and the length of the sessions they should be paid more than the usual fees. He had a letter from the Attorney-General's department approving of this.

"For all inquests, or only in this particular case," inquired Chairman Pergrine.

"Just for this one," was the reply.

The doctor said he understood the Government would pay half the cost if the city would increase the fees. The jurors were entitled to 50 cents a session until 12 o'clock, and $1 after that. The coroner was entitled to only 50 cents a session and the fees for making out subpoenas and examining witnesses. Replying to the chairman, who inquired what increase the jurors expected, he said Mr. Blackstock was in favor of doubling them.

Ald. Cooper did not think it was a very large amount, and said the jurors were entitled to it.

Ald. Farmer wanted to know if the Government should not pay the whole shot. It had provided the counsel.

Dr. Anderson said he had been informed that Mr. Blackstock was paid $2,000.

The coroner's bill in detail is as follows:

Precept for jury	1.00
Empanelling jury	1.00
Making returns of evidence	4.00
Making summonses for 63 witnesses at 25 cents each	15.75
Examining 45 witnesses at 25 cents each	11.25
Making out warrant for Miss Florence Kinrade's arrest	1.00
Making out warrant for burial of Miss Ethel Kinrade	1.00
Total	38.00

The clerk was instructed to write the department and see how much of the increase the Government is willing to pay.

Chairman Pergrine said the aldermen were willing to give their moral but not financial support, and the coroner replied that his fee was paid by the county.

The jurors Ald. Lees thought should have placed themselves on record if they wanted an increase, and the chairman said the committee would be willing to pay what the statutes provided. Anything over that the Government should pay.

The coroner, referring to the bills of the three doctors for $30 each, said they were entitled to $3 a session. City Treasurer Leckie said the city never paid the doctors more than $5, and the City Solicitor backed this up by declaring that the city placed a different interpretation on the Act. "We can't afford to pay that," he said.

The aldermen will wait for the bills before deciding what they will do.

A majority of the committee considered that W. D. McHaffie, the stenographer, certainly earned the $250 for his services in the city, and which the Crown Attorney, Washington, recommended be paid. A sub-committee will report.

A letter was received from the T. H. & B. Railway stating that beginning June 15 it will comply with the Dominion regulation, which provides that engines must whistle when approaching crossings. In cities where a by-law is passed exempting the railway from complying with this regulation it is not enforced. Ald. Farmer pointed out that this would mean the city would shoulder responsibility for accidents, and the city will make no objection to the whistling.

The company will be asked to discontinue an alleged nuisance in the east end caused by shunting engines carrying automatic bells, which ring even when the engine is not moving.

Kerr & Thompson's letter threatening injunction proceedings if the new Southan Home is opened as a hospital for consumptives was referred to the City Solicitor.

The committee re-appointed Col. A. H. Moore to the Board of Hospital Governors.

A GREAT CITY.
Some Figures Showing Toronto's Size Growth and Other Matters.

(Toronto Globe.)

The worship of magnitude is almost universal, and such cities as Chicago and New York are as eager for growth as any country town or village. As Toronto pushes forward into the ranks of the great cities the desire for growth strengthens with the consciousness of numbers. The population of Toronto, including the recent additions, is, according to the police census, 223,025. With the recent additions it was 301,930, an advance from 267,749 in 1905, and 221,583 in 1901. The assessment, including all the recent additions, with the exception of West Toronto, is $227,800,000, and the taxes collected for city and school purposes aggregate $4,214,000.

The aggregate revenue of the city from all sources last year was $6,081,532. By way of comparison it may be stated that as late as 1904 the total expenditure of the Province was only $5,267,453. It will be seen by this that the financial problems of a great city make a demand for special ability and comprehensive supervision.

The city has a gross debt of $32,003,511, with invested sinking funds which reduce it to a net debt of $23,294,153. In this connection it should be stated that the city holds property valued at $20,000,000, a large part being revenue producing. According to City Clerk Littlejohn's Municipal Handbook for 1909, which gives a concise statement of the leading features of the city's development, the area is now 25.16 square miles, and there are within this 356.56 miles of streets and 100 miles of lanes. There are 101.07 miles of asphalt pavements, 340.92 miles of concrete sidewalks, 27,501 miles of sewers, 323.74 miles of water mains, 361 miles of gas mains, and 103.2 miles of street railway single tracks. The total park area of the city is 1,335.62 acres, and of this 1,170.36 acres is land and 365.26 acres water. This area is made up of 48 parks and squares in all, and the capacity of 6,000,000 gallons, the Island pumping station, two engines, with a capacity of 1,500,000 gallons, and the high-pressure fire system has 25,000,000 gallons capacity. The fire department has a force of 237 officers and men. The equipment is modern and complete, including steam fire engines, water towers, aerial ladders, hook and ladder trucks, salvage wagons, chemical engines, and all the ordinary appliances for fighting fires. The fire loss on buildings last year was $270,032, and on these there was insurance to the amount of $2,372,190. On contents the loss was $806,190, and the insurance $1,847,593. The total amount of insurance paid was $698,576, and the loss on uninsured buildings and contents was $33,451. The vital statistics for 1908, as shown by the registration, were: Births, 7,040; marriages, 3,411, and deaths, 4,726. The death rate was only 15.10 per thousand, which shows a satisfactory condition of public health.

The municipal government of the city is carried on by a Mayor, a Board of Control, with four members elected from the city at large, and twenty Aldermen, three from each of the six original wards, and two from West Toronto, which has become a ward seven.

TO SEND PREMIER.
New Zealand Regards Imperial Defence Main Issue.

Wellington, N. Z., June 10.—In the speech from the throne at the reopening of Parliament to-day, the Governor, Baron Plunkett, said that in view of the gravity of the international situation, His Majesty's advisers had offered a battleship to the imperial navy on behalf of New Zealand. Parliament was to be asked to ratify the offer, and as this was the first session of the new Parliament it was considered that the Premier should, from his place, explain the policy of the Government.

But owing to the important issues to be dealt with at the forthcoming conference on imperial defence, in London, it was deemed essential that the Dominion should be represented in the conference by the Prime Minister. Parliament, therefore, would adjourn after voting supplies.

The Governor's speech concluded with the expression of a hope that the conference would result in a great and permanent scheme of imperial defence.

SUFRAGETTE TALKED BACK,

Ottawa, June 10.—Miss Keegan, a Canadian girl, who suffered imprisonment in London along with other English suffragettes, addressed an open air meeting at the residence of George Holland this evening. She is an excellent speaker and fairly captured her audience, which included as many men as women.

A feature was the heckling to which Miss Keegan was subjected by some old country men in the audience. So skillfully did she handle them that they left before the meeting was over.

The tug Sea Lion, of Seattle, was run down by the schooner Oceania Vance during a thick fog about five miles east of Race Rocks, B. C. The crew escaped in the tug's boats and made Port Angeles.

DISMEMBERED BODY

Mystery Surrounds Murder in New York—Man Left Boy to Watch Two Parcels on the Street—Dog Acted Curiously.

New York, June 10.—A murder similar to the notorious Guidensuppe case in the method of its execution and in the mystery which now surrounds it was presented to the police for solution this evening. Scores of detectives and policemen in plain clothes were hunting the lower east side and the Bowery in search of a man of whom they have only the meagre description furnished by a sixteen-year-old boy.

This man was the last person, with the exception of the police and the boy, to have in his possession two large packages down up in black oilcloth and brown paper, in which was found the dismembered body of a man, the torso with head missing in one package and the severed legs and arms in the other. A fact which the police consider significant was the discovery upon each of the bundles of the words "Stranger" and "Joseph Tokaro, the young Italian boy," was the first to receive the parcels from the man, whose description he gave later to the police. A stranger, carrying one of the parcels over each shoulder, stopped opposite him and asked: "Do you want to earn five cents?" Tokaro said he did, and the man asked him to carry one of the parcels. The lad said they looked too heavy, and he wouldn't try it.

Young Tokaro accompanied the stranger until he came in front of the public school, about fifty feet from Henry street. There the stranger stopped, and telling the boy to await his return, started off in the direction of Chatham square.

It was some few minutes later that John Tobin passed while taking a dog for a short run. The dog saw the packages and went over and sniffed around them. Then he barked loudly and began running about the parcels, darting to and fro and then jumping away as though he intended to snatch and rend them. This caused a crowd to gather, and an investigation by the police, which led to the ghastly discovery. The body bore no distinctive marks. The nails looked like those of a man who gave them no special care, but they were not those of a laborer. The skin was light in color and smooth. The man had a fairly light complexion and was young. He had been killed by a stab wound in the neck.

FIGHTING FLAMES.
Bush Fires in New Brunswick Beyond Control.

Fredericton, N. B., June 10.—Late this afternoon the Crown Land office gave out the information that the wind of to-day has made the forest fires worse than they have been since the outbreak. On the Miramichi the situation becomes most serious. Men gathered from all sections of the country are doing their utmost in fighting the flames, but they seem to be beyond all control. The Crown Land Department is doing everything within its power, and sparing no expense, in putting every available man in motion to check the fires, but the work has evidently got beyond all human control. Word received at 6 o'clock to-night says that rain alone can stop the fires and put an end to the destruction that is being wrought.

A telephone message from Nappadogan is to the effect that some twenty miles of rich timber land along the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific is all on fire. Large forces of men are fighting the fires, which are on land owned by the New Brunswick Land Company and the Miramichi Lumber Company. The latter company to-night sent out four hundred men from Boiestown to combat the flames. Fire is raging at Knowlton Settlement, Northumberland, and at Eel River, forty miles up river. In these districts the whole population are out working, strenuously fighting, but with little result. From all sections of the country there comes but the one cry, "Rain, rain!" and unless rain comes soon the results will be most serious.

FIRES IN GUYSBORO, N. S.

Halifax, N. S., June 10.—Destructive forest fires are devastating eastern Gaysboro', in this Province. The drought of the past three weeks has made the forest as dry as tinder, and within the last two days forest fires started in six places within sight of Gaysboro' town. Driven by high wind, the fires spread rapidly and large belts of valuable timber have been wiped out. Along the south shore of Chebucto Bay over three miles of telegraph and telephone poles have been burned down, at a heavy loss to the companies involved. So far only one house has been reported burned outright, although several other buildings received a bad scorching.

ONLY HYSTERIA.
GERMANS THINK TIME WILL CALM BRITAIN'S NERVES.

Calmy Watch Meanwhile—Much Space is Devoted in Berlin Papers to the British Press Conference.

Berlin, June 10.—German newspapers are giving considerable prominence to the British Press Conference, and mark as significant the solidarity of opinion on the naval question by the opposite parties, as revealed by the speeches of Lord Rosebery, ex-Prime Minister Balfour, Foreign Secretary Sir Edward Grey, and Secretary of War Haldane. The papers profess to regard these speeches as indications of the hysteria that the British nation is undergoing. They declare their intention to calmly watch the progress of the madly, and express the opinion that time will calm the disordered nerves. The suggestion is made that the speeches of the British leaders were inspired for the purpose of inducing the over-sea States to contribute their adequate share of the cost of the navy.

The Berlin correspondent of the Cologne Gazette, who the Foreign Ministry frequently uses to convey its foreign views to the world, sends a despatch to the effect that it is useless to deny that British unreasonableness and misconstruction of Germany's peaceful intentions create an unpleasant and unfavorable impression in Germany, especially as Germany wishes peace and the friendship of Great Britain, realizing that her own advantages lie in the maintenance thereof. Nevertheless, recalling that the Germanophile cabinet in France in the '80's, which was more acute than the outbreak in England, died away in face of Germany's uninterrupted calm, the writer declares the supposition is justifiable that England's present boiling heat will be followed by cool consideration, more in conformity with the national temperament and common sense of Englishmen, which will convince them that the German spectre consists of air and smoke.

CAPITAL MAY FLEE TO CANADA.
London, June 10.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Arthur J. Balfour, attacking the budget, said there were two great portions of the empire which were in no fear of the income tax—Canada and India. High authorities had told him that as a result of that kind of legislation capital would find its natural use in those countries. He was afraid that was so.

The second reading of the finance bill was passed in the British Commons by 336 votes to 209.

GUilty OF PERJURY.
Young Indian, Acquitted of Murder, Swore Falsely at Inquest.

Belleville, June 10.—Tommy Smart, a young Indian, was convicted of perjury to-day. He was acquitted of murdering his stepfather, James Sero, a Mohawk Indian, on Sept. 16 last. The Crown claimed that he swore falsely at the coroner's inquest. To-day Smart admitted shooting Sero, but said he only intended to wound him. He will be sentenced to-morrow.

The Board of Engineers appointed to investigate the proposed lakes-to-gulf deep waterway have reported to the U. S. Congress that such a waterway is not desirable.

Useful Hints and Aids For the Sewing Room

Use tube muslin for pillow cases, since it is only necessary to sew one end to make the pillow case, after which the hem is made.

Coarse unbleached towelling with a red border can be made into cushions and covers for the backs of porch furniture.

In many stores girls are employed to make table linen at so much per yard. The work is done by hand. The ends are ravelled out until even, then threads are drawn and the hems finished with a hem-stitch.

There is no better way to finish the little girl's underwear than the edge of the dainty hand-embroidery. It may be but the narrowest possible scallop or the tiniest vine or forget-me-not dotted on a background of solid white.

In making an elastic waist band to hold the blouse in place it has been found advisable to slip a piece of ruffled gum in at the back which does not slip up as easily as the smooth elastic.

Have you been hoarding an old faded dress? One of that kind of dresses which you liked, and hated to part with, but it went out of style. Get it out! Clean it, rip it, and if there's not enough in it to make a scant short-waisted one-piece empire dress, make it into a pretty shirt waist with a knife plaiting down the front.

Charming belts and ties of leather and kid are shown in almost all the needle-work shops, in all colors and in all sizes. The ties are merely made into bows that pin to the stiff collar, while the belts are straight pieces of kid, which may be used with any buckle, and are, therefore, just as convenient as bolting, and wear a much longer time.

Extremely handsome-looking cushions for porch and summer use can be made from monk's cloth, as it is called. It is a fabric that is between common burlap and the more expensive craftsmans' canvas.

The fashion of buttoning the gown at the left underarm seam, instead of directly down the back, is finding certain favor. This, however, necessitates dozens of buttons, for the right side of the gown must be decorated with buttons to match the left, and these run all the way from the armhole to the very edge of the train.

Pretty Gown for Young Girl Graduate

Embroidered muslin makes a charming graduating gown. The pictured combination of embroidered and plain material is more effective than if made of plain alone, but one can use plain lawn, which is much cheaper, with ruffles of the allover embroidery edged with Valenciennes lace of pretty design, and still have a dainty dress.

THE TURBAN'S RETURN TO POPULARITY IN LONDON AND PARIS

Some of the smart turbans that are being worn in Paris compared with the fashion of one hundred years ago as depicted in the middle picture. In England at one time they were worn in the evening by the very smartest women, and there are signs that the fashion is returning for day wear.

To make a successful rival to a fashion so well established as the mammoth hat, any other type of headgear must be replete with extraordinary fascinations. It must also possess a history of uncommon interest, and one not too remote to have resolved into mere dry-as-dust antiquity.

The turban answers the description and meets the demands of fashion so ably that in the battle that is being waged by the modish against the tyrannical of the gargantuan hat there is every likelihood of victory ensuing for the well-known London writer of women's fashions.

It is the precise opposite of the hat of brim it is absolutely devoid of, of the overloading effect of trimming it has nothing. It is as simple as the primitive head drapery of the East, of which it is a copy more or less remote. Who thought of this wonderful and most picturesque type of headgear? How did its resuscitation come about? A clever Parisian milliner rescued it from the limbo of forgotten fripperies at a moment when her smart customers were wondering how they could fill the place of the theatre hat, which owing to its enormous size and its flaunting plume, had come beneath the ban of the theatrical managers and the playing public.

THE BATTLE AGAINST THE BIG HAT

In Paris it is customary, or was until a short time ago, when many of the theatres adopted the English plan of excluding headgear from the best seats in the house to wear a very smart hat with the full dress evening toilette.

When the dire announcement was made that hats were to be taboo in the stalls, boxes, and dress-circle the turban was revived, and women discovered for themselves how vastly becoming a form of headgear can be. During the winter season at Monte Carlo the turban strengthened its triumph, and as it has now graced a smart race meeting its future may be said to be well secured.

Very naturally, and in accordance with their usual plan when seeking inspiration for fresh ideas, the milliners who brought the turban into prominence in Paris did so after visits to the picture galleries, where records of past days were searched. One of the famous ones of Mme. de Stael, in which that lady is seen wearing a truly Indian-looking turban of gauze and figured silk, twisted tightly together, gave them the required idea, which it was only necessary then to expand in various directions. Further search into the records of about a hundred years ago brought to light many other interpretations of the turban, a vogue that enjoyed a long popularity in England as well as in France.

TURBANS WITH EVENING DRESS.

No evening dress at that time was complete without a turban, and many are the quaintly pretty pictures, and letterpress notes to be found in the fashion magazines of the day concerning the well beloved head-dress. One describes a dinner gown of black velvet, made with a body "a la Rosalinde" and melon velvet sleeves under long full ones of aeroplane crape, fastened at the wrists by broad jet bracelets.

The turban that accompanies the dress is also made of aeroplane crape, the fulness longitudinal and supported by frequent bands of black and lavender-colored velvet. A plume of white ostrich feathers and a fancy velvet ornament placed far back at the left side give the finishing touch to the head-dress, which was worn so low down upon the head that only a few little ringlets could escape from it over the forehead.

In Thackeray's novels there are frequent reference to the fashion for wearing turbans, relegated to, or at any rate mentioned in connection with, dowagers of a forbidding type of appearance, to whom the magnificent head-dress with its nodding plumes lent majesty, and it must be admitted, a decided element of severity.

To return to the present and the turban as we now possess it, one of the favorite fabrics for its manufacture is a silk with a shining surface patterned all over with interwoven gold or silver threads. When such a material is used the turban is fastened in front or at one side, rising from a jewelled ornament, the effect created is reminiscent of the Indian potentate's turban, and in damask, rose red, gold, platinum, and silver, are utilized for the same purpose, with a trimming of festooned jet beads round the crown and at one side or ornament to match with clusters of beads hanging from it over the left ear.

THE FRUITARIAN HATS.

Another potent attraction in the domain of hats at this juncture is the one decked with fruit. Ever ready to forestall the seasons, the milliners have been exploiting the orchards long before the time of harvest, and the vine-ripened long before that of grapes, and the result is a doughty rival to the flowery hats that blossom upon so many models.

One model of the old-fashioned pokebonnet shape has a few soft loops of gauze at one side, from which a half-wreath of strawberries and apples branches. Another has a luscious-looking peach in the company of grapes temptingly ripe that a child might well be forgiven for plucking and trying to eat the forbidden fruit. And there are cherries, in quantities—cherries red and cherries purple, cherries black and cherries whiteheart persuasion, alone and in the close company of other spoils of the kitchen garden and the orchard close.

No wonder large cheques have to be written if the aspirations of the well-dressed woman are to be satisfied, under the present regime of fashion's positive greed for novelty in headgear and plenty of new and different millinery modes. We go to the East for turbans and to the home country for fruit and flowers, and even then remain with numbers of other vogue for patrons.

She Dreamed and It Came True

Once upon a time—yes, this is a true story—there was a little raved Paris glove-maker with big, lustrous eyes, who dreamed that one day she would become a great lady and have a million dollars.

Such a foolish little kid she was—believed in fairy stories and Prince Charmings and all that—this shabby little street gamin, who had nothing—no, anybody could tell, never would have anything.

And the foreman would come along with a curse and a blow that would drive thoughts of palaces out of her mind. But after a while she would dream again.

One day while she was working, she began to sing, half aloud. The visions were right before her big brown eyes. She sang her chansons to them—carriages and dresses and jewels.

The boss listened, softened. "Keep it up, petite," he said. "It makes us work better." The little girl grew up. No palaces. She worked in a restaurant, which the great world she loved, disdained. She curled plumes for the women of the Latin quarter—as near as she came to the land of her dreams.

But a wonderful thing happened. They got her to sing at one of the cheapest theatres in London. Then in the music halls. With fine clothes and fine food and pretty hats the chrysalis turned butterfly.

Critics raved over her and declared the word "chic" had been coined for her, when she made a tour of several European countries. Then American theatrical managers hurried her to America to sing "Won't You Come and Play With Me?" In great glaring type all over New York they emblazoned the signs:

MLLE. ANNA HELD, THE TALK OF PARIS, WILL APPEAR FOR THE FIRST TIME IN AMERICA.

And by this token the world knew that the little glove-maker had made good. And she knew that her dreams had come true, that the fairies were right.

And now she's going back to Paris for the summer. She has the million, is a great lady. She'll see the old bench where she worked, and she'll remember.

WHY HE WAS EXCITED. Druggist—"What's the matter with you? You seem excited." Clerk—"No wonder. Mrs. Griggby wanted an ounce of boric acid and I gave her an ounce of strychnine by mistake."

Druggist—"Well, of all the careless idiots, you head the list. Say, haven't you any idea of the value of strychnine?"

TO SAVE YOUR FURS. When you're ready to put away your furs for the season, try this: Carefully brush them, then pour turpentine all over them. Wrap them at once in several thicknesses of newspaper, then put in large paper sacks and tie up tightly. The turpentine does not injure the fur in the least, and moths detest the odor. In the fall a few hours exposure to the air will remove all odor from the furs.

In great glaring type all over New York they emblazoned the signs:

MODES UP TO THE MINUTE

Peacock colors lead with the scarfs, and they are more frequently than otherwise embroidered.

In spite of the great flourish vogue, ribbons seem to have slipped first place on the spring hats.

On tailor-made sleeves are plain and severe, but on dressy gowns they are puffed and ruffled.

Some of the smart dress trimmings are done in straw.

Blouses, almost without exception, are being chosen to match the gowns with which they are to be worn.

Mixtures of grays, and browns, with deep tones, are still, as in the winter, among the popular fabrics.

Many of the newest coats show a hint of returning fullness in their skirt parts, but the increase is slight.

Some of the smartest of the new hats are small enamelled plaques in all tones of color.

HINTS ON HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Every time you pick up something from the floor let the bending come absolutely from the hips and not the knees. This exercise will make the waist supple.

It is an excellent plan to use cold cream on the face and hands. It is a marvellous cleanser of the skin. Instead of wiping the face on the towel, keep a supply of cold line squares for this purpose. They may be burned, and so save laundry work.

Bear in mind that quick treatment of a burn will not only relieve suffering but will frequently remove all danger of permanent scars. Baking soda, scraped raw potato, lard, olive oil, molasses and seven milk are efficacious much of the virtue of the cure depending upon a speedy application.

One of the best cleansers for the skin and excellent for pimples and blackheads is green soap. This has been long recognized as a healing agency, and is less well-known than it should be. Occasionally women complain that the soap makes them worse; the reason is that they use it too vigorously. Delicate, sensitive skin should never have green soap put on it.

An excellent one to help the liver is to sit astride a chair, holding the back, and then twist the body first to one side and then the other as far around as it can go without one's moving on the seat. Should that happen, the work is useless, for the object is to pull cords and muscles in the abdominal region. Another movement is to bend the body as one stands as far one side and then the other as it will go, keeping the pull on the cords and not all-winging the thighs to move. Bending forward in the same way is also good. Sitting constantly in one of the most detrimental positions a person with a sluggish liver can take. If persons would make a rule of standing or walking slowly for half an hour after each meal there would be less digestive trouble.

A FEW LITTLE COOKING HINTS. Using celery seed instead of celery salt for salads and soups is said to greatly improve the flavor.

When selecting grape fruit the heaviest in proportion to size should be chosen. Light weight denotes dry fruit.

A good test for boiled icing is not to take it off until it pulls up hard from the bottom of the glass when put in ice water.

When boiling sweet corn to serve on the cob, leave just a few of the inner husks on the ear when boiling. It will be sweeter and keep warm longer.

If when a tongue or salty ham is cooked, it is removed from the boiling water to a pan of cold water for a few seconds the skin may be easily peeled off.

Do not put meat on the ice when placing it in the refrigerator, as the ice will draw the flavor out of meat if it touches it. Keep it on a platter in the bottom of the refrigerator.

If a gruel pot is allowed to stand on stones or something cold for a minute or two after cooking, it will not cool the contents very much and will make sticking less probable.

A LITTLE CORNER FOR BOY AND GIRL READERS OF THIS PAPER

THE FAIRY'S ROBE. A JAPANESE LEGEND.

"Why do we never see the fairies?" asked Mermel.

"Because," replied her mother, "the fairies do not wish to be seen."

"But why, honorable mother, do they not wish to be seen?"

"Would my jade jewel wish to show herself to strangers if she wore no tunic or shoes or rosettes?"

Mermel glanced down at her blue silk tunic embroidered in white and gold to her scarlet shoes beaded at the tips so as to resemble the heads of kittens, and looking over to a mirror hung on the side of the wall where the sun shone, noted the purple rosettes in her hair and the bright butterfly's wings.

"Oh, no! honorable mother," said she, shaking her head with quite a shocked air.

"Then when you hear the reason why the fairies do not appear to you except in your dreams, you will know that they are doing just as you would do were you in the fairies' shoes."

"A story! A story!" cried Mermel, clapping her hands and waving her fan, and Choy and Fei and Wol and Sul, who were playing battledore and shuttlecock on the green, ran into the house and grouped themselves around Mermel and the mother. They all loved stories.

"Many, many years ago," began the mother of Mermel, "when the sun was a warm-hearted but mischievous boy, playing all kinds of pranks with fruit and flowers and growing things, and his sister, the moon, was too young to be sad and serious, the fairies met together by night. The sun, of course, was not present, and the moon had withdrawn behind a cloud. Stars alone shone in the quiet sky. By their light the fairies looked upon each other and found themselves so fair and radiant in their robes of varied hues, all wonderfully fashioned, fringed and laced, some bright and brilliant, others delicate and gauzy, and each and all a perfect dream of loveliness, that they danced for very joy in themselves and in the garments in which they were arrayed.

"The dance being over, the queen of all sighed a fragrant sigh of happiness upon the air, and bowing to her lovely companions, said:

"Sweet sisters, the mission of the fairies is to gladden the hearts of the mortals. Let us therefore this night leave behind us on the earth the exquisite garments whose hues and fashions have given us so much pleasure. And because we may not be seen, uncovered, let us from henceforth be invisible."

"We will! We will!" cried the sister fairies. They were all good and kind of heart, and each they loved their duty robes, they loved better to give happiness to others.

"And that is why the fairies are invisible, and why we have the flowers."

"The flowers!" cried Mermel. "Why the flowers?"

AURORA.

Every morning, long before the sleepy boys and girls are awake, she rides through the heavens in her flaming chariot to the palace of the Sun. There she gently raises the curtains from the windows and out shines the rosy morn of the glorious sunbeam.

Aurora once had a very strong and brave son called Memnon. He went away to fight in the great war of Troy. He was killed by Achilles.

When Aurora heard the sad news she fled from the heavens and wept bitterly. When she fled the skies became very dark and her tears fell down upon the earth.

Even up to this time she flies away every evening. The skies grow black and we have dark nights.

BEAUTIFUL SPRING CLOTHES OF RICH NEW YORK SOCIETY WOMEN

MRS. WM. WOODWARD.

MRS. ROBT. GOELET.

Two of New York's richest and most popular young matrons were photographed the other day at a garden party for charity, as they were wearing "Flowers to sell."

Ultra-fashionable gowns were worn by these two, Mrs. Woodward's being a severely simple princess dress of black satin, and her hat an artistic creation of black satin trimmed only with long white ostrich plumes.

Mrs. Goelet's suit of heavy homespun linen, with embroidered coat, emphasizes the new style in low-cut neck which is worn by fashionable New York women on coat suits and handsome gowns alike.

Her flower hat was a triumph of the milliner's art.

"I Wanted to be a Martyr, I've Changed My Mind."

Cincinnati, O., June 8.—This is a love story, taken from life: Anna Louise Militz worked as a servant in the mansion of Chas. Dickson, David Dickson, young and impetuous, the son of the family, fell in love with her.

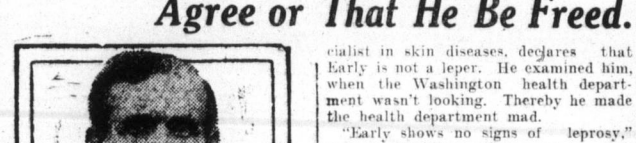

"Don't," said Anna, "I cannot marry you. It will mean only unhappiness. I am poor and you are rich. We come from two different worlds."

David still pleaded. Anna began to be pleased. Slowly she let the dream grow that some day she might possibly be mistress of a Dickson mansion.

"At last," says Anna, "I said I would be his wife." David went off to school to study medicine. Anna, her life's dream ever before her, became a student nurse. It was her only way to make herself the equal of David, mentally.

"When doctors disagree," says John R. Early, the Washington "leper," who is under imprisonment, "there is some hope for me." Early has hired a lawyer and he may demand his freedom from quarantine, imposed on him by the health department of Washington.

Leper Demands That Doctors Agree or That He Be Freed.

Dr. L. D. Buckley, a New York specialist in skin diseases, declares that Early is not a leper. He examined him when the Washington health department wasn't looking.

Early is a Danish specialist in leprosy, looked Early over and declared that he was a leper.

Now Dr. Woodward, of the health department, says he will keep a more strict watch over Early and not permit other doctors to examine him.

Early has received here early today by the despatcher of the Texas & Pacific Railroad, cloudbursts occurred in sections west of Fort Worth last night, killing at least one person and injuring scores of others.

PRESIDENT TAFT Addresses Congress of Roman Catholic Missionaries.

Washington, June 11.—That complete church emulation is a good thing and that there should be in this country "no invidious distinctions in elections because of religious beliefs," were the keynote of the address made last night by President Taft before the congress of Roman Catholic missionaries, now in session in this city.

After being introduced by Father Doyle, who referred to the President, quoting another, as the "Great Harmonizer," Mr. Taft was greeted with an outburst of applause. He spoke principally of the work of settling in the Philippines the difficulties caused by the close relationship of church and government.

He expressed the opinion that in the end the church would be strengthened by the change there "as freedom and toleration and the complete separation of church and State have strengthened the church in this country." He said that there is now no question to be settled in the Philippines concerning the relation of church and government.

He said further, it is a good thing for the Roman Catholic Church that there are other denominations in the Philippines, and that "complete church emulation, competition, if I may use that term, is a good thing in religion as well as in other things in life."

FOREST FIRES. Are Raging Between Sault Ste. Marie and St. Ignace.

Detroit, June 10.—A special from Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., to-night says: "Forest fires are raging wildly between here and St. Ignace. Many telegraph poles have been burned to the ground, cutting off communications. Trains on the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railway are many hours behind their schedules. Railway officials are sending out as many crews as can be spared to fight the flames. A number of minor fires have been blazed in this vicinity for several days past, but half a dozen new ones sprang up yesterday. No rain has fallen here for several weeks, and a pall of yellow-grey smoke overhangs the entire country. The fires are rapidly spreading and extensive damage is reported from a number of points."

GENERAL ASSEMBLY COMES TO A CLOSE.

A Number of Important Reports Presented at the Closing Session.

Rev. Dr. Lyle, the Moderator, Delivered an Impressive Closing Address.

"In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, only King and Head of the Church, and by authority of this Assembly, I now dissolve this Assembly and order another General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada to meet in the city of Halifax and within St. Matthew's Church there, at 8 o'clock in the evening on the first Wednesday in June in the year of our Lord one thousand and nine hundred and ten."

Thus at 5:20 yesterday afternoon the Moderator declared the Assembly closed. In so doing it is interesting to note that the end of the business had been reached about six hours ahead of scheduled time, for usually it is a few minutes "ayont the tual," ere the stations on the long docket are whisked past.

At the afternoon sederunt Dr. Ratcliffe amended the report on statistics by stating that the showing for the year on missionary offerings was misleading. Instead of there being $12,345 of a shortage, there were actually $48,000 more. It was shown that the statistical forms are a little confusing, whereby many congregations send in returns which are not accurate.

FOR SHOOTING OF P. C. HARRY SMITH.

produced in court, which was not in the bag, but lying some distance away. Constable Brannan corroborated Constable Clark's evidence as to the articles found.

Constable Tuck said he knew the prisoner, and saw him on the evening of the shooting on the corner of Park and King streets. He was dressed as Constable Smith described, and he then heard him say, "I hear my friend Smith has been shot." He saw the prisoner then asked the prisoner who shot Smith, and he replied, "Some one who had no use for him." At the same time he noticed a nervous shudder by the prisoner, which made witness suspicious. Soon after Smith's recovery, he with Constable Brannan, arrested the prisoner. With this witness the Crown's case was closed. Mr. Smith was first called for the defence. He swore he first saw P. C. Smith after the shooting on the same night at the hospital. He was unclothed when he saw Smith, and Smith on that occasion talked quite rationally. About two weeks after the shooting he seemed quite bright. On that occasion the chief suspect on a man as being the possible one who did the shooting. Smith replied that he had no more questions, as he didn't think he was in a condition to talk. He said so far as he knew Smith had never reported Neville as being the man who did it.

Crown Attorney Washington asked if the nurse didn't forbid him to talk to the patient. Chief Smith said he might be mistaken, and that Smith might have said Neville did the shooting. Smith, he said, had been a first class constable, and women's wash and long coats and stylish skirts, worth $8 for $5.95, and some elegant Princess gowns in mulls and lawns, at reasonable prices. A quantity of sample cloth suits, all the good colors, silk lined, worth $25 and $30 for $12.50. Splendid bargain in children's and misses' ready-made, variety of sample waists, made of net, lace, and silk, all new, near half price.

The best value in Canada in white lawn waists, at $1, and a showing of lawn waists, worth up to $3, for $1.95. A 10,000 yard purchase of wash goods, worth 18c to 35c, on sale at 12 1/2c, 15c and 18c. All the new styles in long back corsets, elbow length black silk gloves, worth $1 for 35c; men's fancy line handkerchiefs, worth 25c, on sale for 15c, and a rousing bargain in table cloths, pure linen, worth $2.25, on sale for $1.48. Shop in the forenoon. James Shea.

CRIMINAL CASES LAID OVER

Wm. Edmonston and Albert New, charged with assault and robbery, and Edward Hughes, accused of aggravated assault, will not be tried at the present time, as their cases have been laid over until the fall assizes.

MRS. SAJCKE NOT GUILTY.

At the General Sessions of the Peace and County Court yesterday afternoon Mrs. Helena Sajcke was tried on a charge of perjury.

It is alleged that on May 10 last she willfully swore that she knew was false before Magistrate Jettis in the trial of Abraham Judelson, charged with theft. On that occasion she denied having signed her name to a lease of some goods she had obtained from Judelson on the installment plan with the alleged intention of procuring herself from that debt and deceiving the Magistrate in the administration of justice.

Wm. E. McHaffie, Police Court Clerk, was first called, and swore that he was present at the preliminary hearing of Judelson. The prisoner, Mrs. Sojcke, had been sworn by the sergeant in charge in the regular way in the presence of the Police Magistrate. The prisoner had denied on that occasion having signed the lease produced at that trial. Magistrate Jettis also said the prisoner was sworn in the usual way in his presence. She swore she did not sign the paper produced, but did sign some paper. From the nature of her evidence he thought the woman was consciously telling the truth and not true.

Interpreter Rudimir Protich testified that he knew the prisoner, and spoke the same language. He had talked frequently with her, and knew that she understood him, at the Police Court, on the occasion of Judelson's trial, at which he had performed his duty as interpreter. Abraham Judelson swore that he has known the prisoner for about two years. In April he sold her some goods on the installment plan, and had taken a lease from her. He said that she signed the document herself and in the Police Court denied having done so. At the time of the sale of the goods he had refused to let her have any more, because she had been so slow in paying previous bills. He took $5 on the goods and a lease by which prisoner was to pay $2.50 per week. When the prisoner failed to pay according to agreement he went down and seized the goods. The next thing that happened he was arrested on a charge of stealing these goods, and also $125 out of Mrs. Sojcke's trunk. In his defence at the Police Court he produced a contract to which he claimed the prisoner signed her husband's name, and she denied having signed it.

His Honor asked if she had admitted signing a document which gave witness a lease on the goods, and he replied, "Yes."

Lewis Pieslak was called, and asked his name. He pronounced it and was then asked to spell it, which he couldn't do. He swore he was in the store at the time the prisoner made the purchase and stood about thirty feet from her when she signed the paper. Therefore he couldn't say whether the paper she signed would have made a difference.

Thomas Hanley, who was with Smith on the night of the shooting, said he couldn't recognize a man in that alley, as it was a dark night.

Dr. Sutherland swore that he had attended the constable, who at times appeared quite rational.

He replied, "Not necessarily." His Honor here said: "You know, Mr. Washington, it has been lately discovered that there is nothing about a man that is necessary."

Dr. Langrill swore that he was at the hospital when Smith was taken there. He (Smith) appeared quite rational and talked intelligently. Inspector McMahon had a long conversation with the patient on that occasion, and it was not until the morning that he became seriously ill and unconscious.

When court adjourned at 1 o'clock the defence was all in except the prisoner's own testimony, which will be taken this afternoon.

WANTS JEFFRIES TO REFEREE.

New York, June 11.—Stanley Ketchell would like to have Jim Jeffries as referee for his coming fight with Jack Johnson for the world's championship next October at Colma, California. The Michigan midweight reached here early today from Philadelphia, with his manager, Willis Britt. Speaking of the statement of Jeffries that he would take on Ketchell for the championship should he defeat Johnson, Britt said: "I don't believe Jeffries would want to fight Ketchell. Jeffries' sole idea in returning to the ring was to defend the title from Johnson, who claims it. I should like nothing better than to have Jeffries referee the Ketchell-Johnson fight, and will accept him in a hurry if Johnson makes no objections."

ASKED HER AGE,

But Court Told Mrs. Gould She Need Not Answer.

Admitted She Had Travelled With Cody's Wild West Show.

New York, June 11.—Mrs. Catherine Clemmons Gould continued her testimony today in her suit for a separation from her husband, Howard Gould, and answered the personal and searching questions of Delancey Nicholl, the defendant's lawyer, before a crowded court room of curious people.

Mr. Gould's counsel questioned her about the Blue Gap Farm near Lynchburg, and the witness said she paid $38,000 for it. Mrs. Gould said the farm was controlled by a corporation, in which she had put the most money.

After Mrs. Gould had told what she had taken from Castle Gould to Lynchburg farm, Mr. Nicholl asked the witness her age, but the court excused her from answering or from telling where she was born. Before her marriage, Mrs. Gould said, she was known at Viola Catherine Thorne Clemmons and as Viola Day, the latter being the name of her stepfather.

Mr. Nicholl asked the witness if she had ever travelled with a wild west show. Mrs. Gould replied that she had travelled once with Miss Ada Cody, and had accompanied the show to Naples, Rome and other European cities. She had seen a good deal of Colonel Cody, as he was the manager, and she had frequently to consult him, the witness said.

LIBERALS ADOPT NEW CONSTITUTION.

Fine Turnout at the Adjourned Annual Meeting, Which Was Held Last Evening.

Present Officers Will Organize the Sub-Divisions Before Next November.

Political association meetings between seasons and when no election of any sort is in sight are not usually large or enthusiastic, and President P. D. Crerar and the officers of the Hamilton Liberal Association were therefore very much pleased with the splendid turnout in the Arcade Hall last evening for the postponed annual meeting of the association. It was a fine representative gathering. The chief business was the consideration of the revised constitution, on which a committee has been at work for some time, and the election of officers for the unexpired months of the present year, ending in November.

THE CONSTITUTION.

The new constitution is simple and democratic. In order that Liberals may know just what its provisions are it is here printed in full:

1. This association shall be known as the Hamilton Liberal Association.
 2. The association shall consist of all persons in the city of Hamilton who believe in the principles of the Liberal party of the Province of Ontario, and the Dominion of Canada, and shall have for its object the promotion and maintenance of such principles.
 3. The affairs of the association shall be managed by an executive committee, consisting of a president, first and second vice-presidents, and five members from East Hamilton, a first and second vice-president and five members from West Hamilton, and a treasurer and secretary, all of whom, except the treasurer and secretary shall be elected annually by the delegates entitled to vote at the annual meeting of the association. The president shall be elected by the whole body of the delegates; the vice-presidents and members from each electoral division shall be elected by the delegates from each electoral division; the secretary and treasurer shall be appointed by the executive committee. Immediately upon their appointment they shall become ex-officio members of the executive committee if not already upon the committee by election.
 4. Each polling subdivision shall annually elect three delegates, who shall remain in office for one year, or until their successors shall be duly elected, and shall represent and be entitled to vote on behalf of the members of the association in such polling subdivision at all meetings during their term of office. Such delegates shall appoint a chairman and secretary of the subdivision, the delegates themselves being eligible for these posts. In case of a vacancy occurring among the delegates for a polling subdivision, the remaining two delegates shall be entitled to fill the vacancy, and if they cannot agree such vacancy may remain unfilled, or may be filled by a vote of the members of the association belonging to such polling subdivision present at a meeting called for the purpose.
 5. If a vacancy shall occur in the Executive Committee during its year of office, a member to fill such vacancy during the remainder of the term of office of the committee shall be appointed by the Executive Committee; but the Committee shall be empowered to act in all matters which may come before it pending the filling of such vacancy.
 6. On the Executive Committee there shall always be at least one member from each ward in the city; and in case, owing to a vacancy occurring on the Committee, any ward shall become unrepresented, the member of the Committee to be appointed to fill the vacancy shall be from such unrepresented ward.
 7. At all meetings for the selection or approval of a candidate for either the Dominion Parliament or the Legislative Assembly, or other business where a vote shall be taken on any question, only members of the Executive Committee and delegates from the polling subdivisions shall have the right to vote; the delegates from one electoral district shall have no vote or voice in regard to the nomination of a candidate for the other electoral district.
 8. The annual meeting of the Association shall be held on the third Tuesday in the month of November in each year, and if in any year not held then, may by resolution of the Executive Committee be postponed to a later date.
 9. As soon after the annual meeting as convenient a meeting of delegates in each ward shall be convened by the Executive Committee for the election of a chairman and secretary for each ward.
 10. Meetings of the Executive Committee shall be called when requested by the President, or, in his absence, by the chairman of the committee, or at the written request of five members thereof.
 11. All conventions for the nomination of candidates for the Dominion Parliament or Legislative Assembly shall be called by the Executive Committee under such regulations as they may deem advisable.
 12. The Executive Committee shall appoint an Advisory Board of not less than twenty-five and not more than thirty-five members (which shall include all the ward chairmen who are not on the Executive Committee) for the purpose of conferring with the Executive Committee on matters of importance. When the Advisory Board and the Executive Committee are in session, each member of the Advisory Board shall for the time being be one of the Executive Committee, with the same voting and other powers as the elected members of the Executive Committee.

ADOPTED.

Mr. James Chisholm moved that it be adopted as a whole. The two fundamental ideas were: First, the placing of the power of selecting nominees for Parliament in the hands of the people; second, to strengthen the sub-divisions by having a committee of three to manage each. If the constitution carried Mr. Chisholm thought it would arouse the enthusiasm, and the young men would get together and do something. An amendment was made that the constitution be discussed clause by clause, and Mr. Chisholm withdrew his motion and the report was taken up clause by clause.

The first two clauses carried without discussion, and the third was also passed, after an explanation was made in regard to how the Executive was to be composed.

A question was raised in clause 5 as to whether the person elected to fill a vacancy had to reside in the division in which the vacancy occurred, and it was explained that the person filling the vacancy, if possible, should be a resident of the ward.

The remaining clauses carried without exception, and Ald. C. W. Gardner moved that the constitution be adopted as a whole, and it carried unanimously.

OLD OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

It was decided that the present officers remain in office until they can be elected according to the constitution, which means that the officers remain in office until the meeting in November.

The Executive will arrange meetings of the sub-divisions for the election of delegates.

FROM MR. ZIMMERMAN.
 A letter from Adam Zimmerman to the Secretary, Mr. W. T. Evans, was read, and was as follows:

Sumnerland, B. C., June 5, 1909, Walter Evans, Esq., Secretary Reform Association, Hamilton:

Dear Mr. Evans,—No doubt you are wondering whether I have been lost or gone astray, but I am still in the land of the living and enjoying the best of health. Lately I have been visiting in the Okanagan valley, the great fruit belt of British Columbia, and before my return to Hamilton hope to visit the great mining and fishing industries of this Province, also the great wheat fields of the West, and on my return will be glad to give the club my impressions of the vast and fertile portion of Canada I noticed in the Times of the 26th of May that the postponed adjourned meeting of the Association will be held on the 9th inst. I regret very much indeed not being able to be present, especially it being the first meeting held since the election, and on account of the proposed changing of the rules for the election of the officers of the Association. I trust the meeting will be enthusiastic, and hope rules will be adopted fair to all, especially to our young men, who desire to take an active interest in the management of the Association when the new Executive is elected. I trust by the fall they will have a comprehensive programme to start an educational campaign in the future. We have splendid club quarters, and should take every advantage to educate our young men in pure Liberal principles. We have at Ottawa a Government of very able men. We have the greatest and most brilliant Canadian as Prime Minister, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, a man who stands for the highest ideal in public and private life. His example should be held up to every young man in this country as an inspiration. I am sure many of his able Ministers will be glad to address the Liberals of Hamilton during the coming fall and winter on the great questions before the country at the present time, and on their return to old Hamilton it will be my pleasure to give you all assistance in my power to further the cause of the great Liberal party. With kindest regards and best wishes for a successful meeting, believe me, Yours sincerely, A. Zimmerman.

It will take several days before you can get pattern.

Lord Milner Says Citizen Armies Make for Peace.

London, June 10.—At the Imperial Press Conference today Lord Morley presided. Mr. Augustine Birrell, Lord Milner, and Mr. Winston Churchill were present. The subject was "Literature and the Press."

Lord Morley delivered a suggestive and provocative address, tinged with dry humor. He asked the editors to strive for two moderate aims—simplicity and directness—and said it was the presence of the literary elements in an editor which differentiated him from the newsboy shouting screech-words. "I know of no more stupendous and overwhelming fact," he said, "than the supreme dominance of the English tongue over the millions in the new worlds in the east." There was a vast improvement apparent in journalism and criticism, but he wondered how far the press had its share in the large general forces which were bringing about the present European situation. Was it systematically and pervasively preaching peace amongst the nations?

MISSION SOCIETY.

Hamilton Ladies Elected to Office by Methodist Convention.

Guelph, June 10.—"God is sending immigrants from foreign lands to people our broad acres, and we must evangelize them for our own sake at least. We must prevent the formation of little Russias and little Italies, and we must care for the Mormons, although it would perhaps be better could we keep the latter out," said Miss McGiffin, associate editor of the Outlook, Toronto, in addressing the W. M. S. convention in Norfolk Street Church. The aim of $100,000 this year would be attained, eight of ten missionaries had already been secured for China, and $30,000 was wanted for a new hospital.

The convention closed this afternoon. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. E. Baker, of Brantford; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. Gayfer, Hamilton; Mrs. Phelps, Mount Pleasant; Mrs. Hardy, Hamilton; Recording Secretary, Miss Deacon, Milton; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. James Harrison, Hamilton; Treasurer, Mrs. Andrew Ross, Hamilton; Mission Circle and Band Corresponding Secretary, Miss Russ, Woodstock.

Miss Field, of Woodstock, read the report of bands and circles, showing an increase of three of the former and seven of the latter, with ninety-four additional members. Miss M. Cartmill, of Hamilton, spoke on "Japan Twenty-five Years Ago," and other helpful addresses were heard.

On that date he was in a saloon in Brooklyn and made a small bet that he could break a beer glass and eat it. He did so.

Ever since then Shea has been suffering pains in all parts of his body, and pieces of glass have been coming out of his chest, back, arms, legs, hands and feet. He has glass all through his system, and many doctors in hospitals told him he would die if he did not undergo an operation. He refused, and yesterday the end came.

London, June 10.—At the Imperial Press Conference today Lord Morley presided. Mr. Augustine Birrell, Lord Milner, and Mr. Winston Churchill were present. The subject was "Literature and the Press."

Lord Morley delivered a suggestive and provocative address, tinged with dry humor. He asked the editors to strive for two moderate aims—simplicity and directness—and said it was the presence of the literary elements in an editor which differentiated him from the newsboy shouting screech-words. "I know of no more stupendous and overwhelming fact," he said, "than the supreme dominance of the English tongue over the millions in the new worlds in the east." There was a vast improvement apparent in journalism and criticism, but he wondered how far the press had its share in the large general forces which were bringing about the present European situation. Was it systematically and pervasively preaching peace amongst the nations?

CONFIDENCE BEGETS CONFIDENCE.

Mr. Winston Churchill noticed a tendency to correct the habit many organs had contracted, namely, the expression of the views of the readers rather than of the writers. Concluding, he reminded the pressmen that confidence bred confidence between nations, and hatred and suspicion bred the very dangers from which they originated.

Lord Milner said they had heard much about the rebarbarization of Europe. He thought it dreadful nonsense. If they reflected, they would remember that disputes between nations now were settled less by war than ever before. One of the most powerful reasons was that nations were organized on the system of national armies, and it was the citizen armies which made for peace.

MUCH DEPENDED ON WRITERS.

Mr. Birrell kept the Conference in great humor with a characteristically witty speech. He could not understand why the fourth estate should assume the shackles of party which the other estates of the realm must take up, and reminded them that the fortunes not only of one empire, but of the world, might largely depend in the future upon the fitness for their task of the writers, whether they wrote books, or day by day.

Sir E. Russell, of the Liverpool Post and Mercury; Messrs. T. P. O'Connor, Baurer, Gee, of Bengal, and Engelberg, of Pretoria, also contributed, and a motion of thanks to the speakers was proposed by Mr. J. A. Macdonald.

MANAGER MISSING.

Mystery Shrouds Fate of Saskatchewan Bank Man.

Grenfell, Sask., June 10.—Excitement has been caused in the town by the mysterious disappearance of James Young Thomson, manager of the Grenfell Investment Company, bankers, Sunday, June 6, Thomson engaged a horse and buggy to drive to the home of Skiliter, a farmer living seven miles southeast of this town. But about 5 o'clock he turned up at the residence of Mr. Thornton, Indian Agent, living about seventeen miles northeast of Grenfell.

Thomson informed Thornton that he had driven out to get a bath in Crooked Lake, which is three-quarters of a mile from Thornton's. He left the horse and buggy with Thornton, and walked to the lake, and disappeared. Mr. Peel made a thorough examination of the bank, and report that everything is in its usual shape. Thomson has been manager of the investment company since it was first organized in Grenfell, about ten years ago.

CHURCH PAGEANT.

Parts of Bishops and Kings Taken by English Clergymen.

London, June 10.—Despite a severe downpour of rain, over 7,000 persons attended the church pageant at Fulham Palace this afternoon. Two thousand performers faced the elements bravely, clad in the scanty costumes of the early Britons, Saxons and Picts, and went through the scene of the pageant on the lawn of the palace, with the rain pelting them and the ground so slippery that many fell.

The pageant commenced with a prelude, in which St. George and St. Alban figured. Then came a representation of the publication of the Edict of Constantine. Scenes depicting the struggles and glories of the early days of the Church followed, with a representation of a 13th century miracle play. After a two hours' interval, 2,000 new performers depicted many processions and coronation events of the 15th and 16th centuries, closing with a grand finale, showing the various church societies, with their founders, banners, etc. Excellent choirs helped. The costumes and color effects were superb. All the leading parts of bishops and kings were taken by well-known clergymen, while every scene was prepared by church workers in the different London and suburban parishes.

Shot From Air Gun.

Kingston, June 10.—Driver Roach, of the Tete-de-Pont Barracks, was handling an air gun, when it accidentally discharged. The shot struck a button on his coat and saved his life, but it glanced upwards and caught him in the eye. He is in the hospital, but will recover.

CANAL MAY OPEN MONDAY.

Hon. George P. Graham Has Started For the Soo.

The Assiniboia Reaches Owen Sound in Safety.

Accident Was Most Thrilling, and Many Lives Were in Danger.

Ottawa, June 10.—To-night Hon. Mr. Graham left by the first train for the Soo to give his personal attention to the repairing of the damaged locks. A telegram was received from J. W. Ross, superintending engineer of the canal, that the locks might be in shape to accommodate traffic as early as Monday night, though the work might require a longer time. However, in view of the importance of this avenue of traffic, Hon. Mr. Graham decided that the work should be pushed with the greatest expedition, and his presence on the scene might prove this. He does not expect to return to Ottawa until traffic is again passing through the canal.

MAY HAVE TO DUMP IRON ORE.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., June 10.—The loading of hundreds of tons of pig iron on cars at the Algoma Iron Works and dumping it into the canal from the swing bridge appeared this afternoon the only method of stopping the current which continues to sweep through the Canadian lock. At noon all the wickets except one had been placed. This concentrated the current on the narrow space where the wicket was to fall. After much labor the wicket was lowered a short distance only to find a huge boulder impeding it. In the effort to raise the wicket again the frame work was bent so that it cannot be raised or lowered. The crucial test is now on; the entire nineteen-foot fall is concentrated in the small place to be occupied by this wicket. A question arises, too, whether the other wickets will be able to hold, as the last one is lowered, and the strain is put upon them as well.

BOATS ESCAPED BY MIRACLE.

Those who witnessed the accident claim that the boats escaped by a miracle. The Walker came into the lower gates at great speed, and the high wall of water held behind the gate came down with tremendous velocity. The lines of the Assiniboia were snapped like strings, and she barely missed the Walker. A question arises, too, whether the other wickets will be able to hold, as the last one is lowered, and the strain is put upon them as well.

Outside of the damage to the canal the disaster has no bearing on the other industries in the Soo. The water in the power canal, which feeds the pulp mill and the dynamo rooms, lowered nearly a foot just as the accident occurred, and after that regained its level.

ASSINIBOIA AT OWEN SOUND.

While the Assiniboia was tied up at the foot of the lock a diver examined her bottom. He found half a dozen rivets started on the port side forward. This was plugged with tallow and the steamer proceeded on down the river. She soon began to take on water and listed badly. Pumps were kept going all night. When off Detroit the passengers became alarmed, and to avoid a panic, the officers, who felt that the boat was quite safe, had to put into Detroit. She arrived there about 10 o'clock. Many passengers came ashore over night, determined to come back to the Soo this morning. The officers reassured them and all left this morning at 7 o'clock, and arrived safely at Owen Sound. As a good portion of the listing was caused by the shifted cargo, much of this was unloaded, and put on the dock for the next down-bound C. P. R. boat to pick up.

Estimates of the damage are wholly speculative. The loss to the Canadian Government will be large, as a full equipment of gates must be provided, and the damage to the lock chamber, as yet wholly unknown, be repaired.

THE WRECKED CITY, SINCE YESTERDAY, has rested a couple of feet lower, until now nearly her entire length touches bottom.

The Walker is still lying alongside, and is in bad shape. While her hull is comparatively undamaged, her rudder is twisted completely out of shape, and her shoe gone.

Owen Sound, June 10.—The big Canadian Pacific steamer Assiniboia came slowly into her berth at the C. P. R. passenger landing to-night at 8.30. She was four hours ahead of the time fixed for her arrival. The messages from Detroit to-day were conflicting, and it was stated in one that the boat would unload at that point and proceed to Detroit for repairs.

The passengers who were on the boat have scarcely recovered from the effect of their thrilling experience. The majority of them went forward at 9 o'clock on the steamboat special to Toronto.

BOARD CRAZY ON BUILDING

Is Trustee Callaghan's Opinion of Present Agitation.

Make Haste Slowly About Tearing Down Victoria School.

Qualification of Manual Training Teachers—Increases Asked.

The Board of Education decided last night to make haste slowly, and not commit itself to the tearing down of the old Victoria avenue school and the erection of a new $90,000 building until the matter has been more carefully considered.

The necessity of providing more accommodation in the east end was emphasized by Inspector Ballard, who explained that there were nine classes in the Barton street school, an eight-room building. The classes in the Stinson street school averaged over fifty pupils each.

Trustee Lazier was rather surprised to read in the papers that he had been decided to build the new school while favoring the additions to the Barton street and Victoria avenue schools, he was opposed to tearing down the school as recommended.

Trustee Howell found by investigating the school population that there was an average of forty-five pupils per class room in the city. He favored enlarging the Barton street school, and wanted to know if the congestion could not be relieved by sending some of the pupils further west.

Trustee Booker, seconded by Trustee Lazier, moved that the clause recommending that the school be torn down be referred back, and that the Building Committee go into the question of making an eight room addition to Victoria School, and also installing a modern ventilating and heating system.

Trustee Holden and Armstrong thought it was more economical to build a new school than patch up the old building. "Let us attend to the actual educational necessities," pleaded Trustee Callaghan, who thought the board had the building craze just now.

"I think it would be an injustice to the citizens to tear down the building," said Trustee Watkins, who thought the enlargement to the Barton Street School was enough to tackle at present.

"I think the Building Committee is deserving of censure for not putting up fire escapes before this," said Trustee Lazier.

In view of the discussion Chairman Allan agreed to withdraw the clause, until it was further considered, and Trustee Wodell thought this was wise in view of the fact that it was intended to tear down the old Barton School in the future.

"I think the top story of the Victoria School should be put out of business at any cost," he said. "Parents who have children on that floor are in continual dread."

"Trustee Carr says the architects say the school should come down," said Trustee Booker. "They will say all the schools should come down if they can get another job."

The report as amended provided for the erection of an eight-room addition to the Barton Street School, and granted the Hamilton Playgrounds Association the use of Hess Street School grounds during vacation time to test the scheme of supervised playgrounds.

The Building Committee was authorized to appropriate the necessary land for the extension of the Barton Street School, as the owners refuse to sell. Frederick Taylor was appointed manual training teacher at Wentworth Street School on three months' probation, beginning Sept. 1, at a salary of $80 a month.

Trustee Wodell called the board's attention to the lack of properly qualified manual training teachers, and thought presentation should be made to the Government.

Trustee Callaghan supported this, and thought it should be pointed out to the Government that until a college was established use could be made of the Technical School for the training of teachers. This would be the nucleus of the great technical college, which Mr. Callaghan assured his colleagues was coming to Hamilton.

Chairman Hobson thought the suggestion was a wise one. The Government should pay something extra for it, and Hamilton would have a fair start towards becoming the centre of technical education in Ontario.

"Did we get our $5,000 cheque yet?" inquired Trustee Callaghan.

The secretary informed him the department had not even acknowledged the communication.

Applications for salary increases are beginning to pour in. Those received last night included the following: J. J. Syme, drill instructor and physical director at Collegiate Institute, asking that a maximum salary of $1,000 a year be fixed. He is paid $700 at present.

A. E. Wilcox, manual training teacher at Caroline Street School.

George Pearce, caretaker of Central School.

W. A. Walters, caretaker of Ryerson School.

A. Bowman, caretaker of Hess Street School.

Charles S. Webster, teacher at Collegiate Institute, asking to be placed on the same schedule as other assistant teachers.

The board confirmed the awarding of the contract for supplies to Coker & Son, the printing for Public Schools to George B. Midgley, and the printing for the Collegiate to R. Duncan & Co.

The appointments of Charles F. Marshall as assistant science teacher at the Collegiate, at a salary of $1,200, and of Miss Norma R. Dickson, as household science teacher at a salary of $900 a year, were confirmed.

Margaret Fleck, Lila M. Fitzgerald and Ida McLeod and Dolene Mackenzie are applicants for positions on the Public School teaching staff.

QUEBEC BRIDGE.

Hon. George P. Graham Interviews Commissioners Re Plans.

Ottawa, June 10.—Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, returned to-day from New York, where he met Commissioners Vautlett, Fitzmaurice and Modjeska, who have been preparing plans for the new Quebec bridge.

Mr. Graham advanced to a stage which will enable the commission to report in a few days on their plan.

In his final conference with them Hon. Mr. Graham told the commissioners that Canada wanted a substantial bridge built as expeditiously and economically as possible, but that the Government did not want strength sacrificed to either speed or economy.

It is known that the commissioners have practically settled upon a bridge of the cantilever type upon the site of the old bridge, with a hundred and fifty feet of clear space above high tide, and greater traffic capacity than was designed for the old bridge.

Toronto, June 11.—The significance of graduation as a call to service in a world whose great need is for trained men and women was the strong and vibrant note of President Falconer's stirring address to the graduating classes and the alumni in Convocation Hall last night.

The Hon. J. M. Gibson, Lieutenant-Governor of Canada, and President-elect of the Alumni Association, made his inaugural address. He gave his approval of the present Government policy towards the university, and referred to his own undergraduate days half a century ago, when the university was small intellectually and financially.

GOSSIP OF NEIGHBORS

Was Cause of Inquest on the Tuck Baby.

Nothing Suspicious About Little One's Death.

Foster Parents Gave It Every Care and Attention.

Coroner W. J. McNichol presided at the inquest into the death of Margaret Tuck, which took place last night in No. 3 police station. The deceased was a baby 17 days old, and died of acute indigestion, the doctors said, but gossiping neighbors worked up a story which resulted in the investigation. It took the jury about three minutes to bring in the following verdict: "We, the jury, find that Margaret Tuck came to her death through natural causes, and we exonerate Mr. and Mrs. Blackmour from all blame."

Alexander Swazie, a neighbor, was the first witness called, and said that it was he and a man named Albert Taylor who had made the complaint to Coroner McNichol which resulted in the inquest. He said that when the undertaker left the house on Saturday afternoon with the body of the deceased child he intercepted him, and the undertaker told him that he had no death certificate. The witness said a baby had died there last December, and the people who lived there were not satisfied, and wanted an investigation. Taylor, a man named Cameron and himself had held a consultation on the morning following the death, and decided to telephone Coroner McNichol.

Albert Taylor, a resident of Kenilworth, was next called. He was with Swazie when the undertaker was stopped and questioned regarding the death certificate. After that he called on Dr. Glendenning, but as he was not in they telephoned Coroner McNichol.

"What aroused your suspicions?" asked Crown Attorney Washington.

"Well, the neighbors thought it wasn't right that the two children should be taken away from the house such a short time after they died; then, Mrs. Blackmour made a remark about wishing she had kept the bottle and its contents which was with the first baby."

"Well, do you place any significance in that remark?"

"Well, no; it might mean anything. It is perfectly harmless in itself."

William Cooper, Union Park, was well acquainted with the Blackmour family. He saw the baby when it was first taken there, and did not consider that it was healthy. He said the family took good care of it, and seemed to be fond of it.

"Did you hear of any complaints in the neighborhood?" inquired the Crown Attorney.

"No, I did not. I spoke to some of the neighbors and they did not seem to see anything suspicious."

"These people are respectable, aren't they?"

"Yes."

Dr. Edgar, who conducted the post mortem examination, said that the body weighed about 5½ pounds, and was fairly well nourished. The organs were all found normal, with the exception of the stomach. Some greenish discoloration existed about the abdomen, but as the examination was held 40 hours after death this was quite usual. The lining of the stomach showed signs of catarrhal dyspepsia and he would say that the child had never been able to digest its food. The cause of death was indigestion.

Dr. Unsworth corroborated this evidence.

Dr. Glendenning, who attended the child, said Mr. Blackmour called on him and told him it was sick and described the symptoms, which led him to believe the child was suffering from indigestion. He prescribed some tablets. The next night Mr. Blackmour called on him and said it was no better. He went to the house and examined the baby. On the morning of the day on which it died he was again called to the house. It was worse and its temperature was 102. He told Mr. Blackmour what to do, and he did not see the child after that. Late in the afternoon Mr. Blackmour called at his house and said that the child was rapidly sinking. He did not go over, as everything possible had been done.

"Did you see anything suspicious?" asked the Crown.

"No, the people were fond of the baby and followed out my directions carefully."

"Did you attend the other child?"

"Yes."

"What caused its death?"

"It died under rather similar circumstances—indigestion."

Alexander Robinson, undertaker's assistant, who removed the child from the house and was stopped by Swazie and Taylor, was asked: "Did you tell those men that you didn't have a death certificate?"

AN OLD ONE. Canadian Horse Has Reached the Age of 39.

Mr. Arthur Audette, of New York, formerly of this city, sends to the Times a clipping from the Brooklyn Daily Times, giving a picture and history of the oldest horse on Long Island. This horse is a Canadian, is 39 years old and has been in the service of the Griffin House, Riverhead, L. I., continuously since 1877. "Dan," that is the old fellow's name, was seven years old when the late "Boss" Griffin bought him, and he has been a part and parcel of that hotel ever since, first being employed in the livery connected with the hotel, and often being the personal steed of "Boss" Griffin for travelling between the hotel and the farm at Fire Place, thirty-five miles away, and such a little jaunt as the latter didn't bother old Dan a little bit even up to a few years ago. For sixteen consecutive years he proudly drew the horse bus between the hotel and the trains, and never missed a train in all those years, from sickness or any other reason. In fact, he knew when it was time for the trains to come. Hudson V. Griffin, the present manager of the hotel, has figured out that he made at least 45,000 round trips to the trains in the sixteen years, and also that he has averaged at least ten miles a day on the road ever since he was born, or a tidy total of about 143,000 miles during his lifetime. If there is any older, steadier or better mannered beast, or one with a better record generally, on the Island—a record that can be as clearly proved as this one—Mr. Griffin would like to hear about it. Dan is now superannuated. Because USED RAZOR. Mrs. Peter Lantz, in Fit of Despondency, Cuts Her Throat. Berlin, June 9.—Mrs. Lantz, wife of Peter Lantz, 47 Braum street, committed suicide about 6.30 o'clock to-night while in a fit of despondency by cutting her throat with a razor, and she inflicted other wounds about the heart. When found she was lying on the floor face downwards, and she evidently only lived a few minutes, as she had lost considerable blood. The family, which consists of husband and four children, formerly lived in Hesper, but have lived here for four years. Mr. Lantz being an employee of the Kaufman planing mill, and had just returned from work when on his great surprise he found his wife dead. Coroner Dr. Honsberger was immediately sent for and found life extinct. He decided an inquest not necessary.

BALLOON RACE.

University City of St. Louis Said to Have Won the Prize.

Balloon, Dirigible and Aeroplane Races Next October.

Indianapolis, June 1.—Though the Aero Club of America has not yet made official announcement of the National balloon race, which started from Indianapolis last Saturday, the Indianapolis News-to-day declares there remains no doubt that the University City of St. Louis, Jas. Boyer, pilot, won over the New York by approximately twelve miles.

Press reports from Corinth, Miss., and Fort Payne, Ala., that the New York landed three miles north of Corinth and the University City landed six miles south of Fort Payne have been verified.

Scanned on two sets of Government maps it is shown, according to the news, that the University City's flight was a fraction less than 367 miles; the New York a fraction under 355 miles.

The New York gets the duration trophy on its flight of 35 hours 10 minutes. No records were broken in the races.

Another big balloon race and races of dirigibles and aeroplanes is being arranged by September or October when the Wrights, or a Wright aeroplane may be available.

SIMCOE GIRLS.

Hamilton Again Won the W. M. S. Prize Books.

At the Women's Missionary Society convention held this week at Guelph the prize of six books given to the Mission Circle whose work most commended itself to the convention was won by the Young Ladies' Mission Circle of Simcoe Street Methodist Church, of this city. This circle has reason to feel proud of its record, as the previous year the prize was also won by it, and the work of the past year was shown to be of such a high order that the committee in charge expressed themselves delighted with the work done by the circle.

ON THE WAY.

Young Aeroplane Circles Over New York's West Side.

New York, June 1.—Frank Goodale, the young aeronaut in his dirigible balloon, made a successful flight over the upper west side of the city today. Coming across the Hudson River from Palisades Park, N. J., he circled Grant's tomb at Riverside drive several times and then steered the big air craft to directly above 72nd street and Broadway, whence he again crossed the river to New Jersey. The dirigible travelled at a height of several hundred feet above the city buildings. Thousands of the people witnessed the flight from the streets and the roofs of apartment houses.

Chief Darby accompanied him in the investigation, and as a result a man named Campbell, who lived in the township of Thorold, was arrested. 500 pounds of the metal was found in St. Catharines, where it had been sold to Isaac Friedman, and to Cunningham & Son, foundrymen. It is expected that the rest of the iron will be recovered to-day, and other arrests made.

WILD WEST AND FAR EAST.

Broncho Busting Will be Feature of the Show.

The Wild West and Far East will present a delegation of cowboys and cowgirls as a special feature of the exhibition, which will be given in this city on June 29. The real cowboy is fast disappearing into history, but as a compensation for his disappearance, the Buffalo Bill has done his share to exploit her in practical, public demonstrations of her skill in the saddle.

While women naturally cannot endure the privations and hardships of frontier life to the same degree as can the cowboys or herdsmen of the plains, she has been able to adapt herself to usefulness as a public exponent of equestrian skill which matches favorably with the feats of her brother horsemen. With this exhibition will be seen several cowgirls, some of whom will content themselves with exhibitions of grace and skill, while some will exemplify their right to respect as broncho busters and riders of bucking horses.

The recent difficult and hazardous work of riding an untamed steed will be exemplified by a band of real cowboys, who have spent the better part of their lives in the saddle, following the herds of cattle upon the plains and participating in the annual round-ups. In accord with the policy of presenting genuine features the management has assembled a band of genuine cowboys, representatives of a class of rugged westerners, now fast passing from view. These cowboys will demonstrate the noble art of broncho busting as it has been practised for years upon the frontier.

The broncho is a direct descendant of the wild horse which shares the open prairies with the Indian, and when the trackless plains were the hunting ground of the redmen. His disposition to buck seems to be derived from his natural disinclination to submit to the rule and government of those who seek to tame his turbulent spirits and limit his freedom to the daily grind of useful purposes. Some horses, coming from fear, others from sudden grievance; but a majority buck from pure viciousness, although it is thought that there are still others which buck for the fun of it.

Whatever their purpose may be, the result of their actions produces a deal of excitement for the rider who may elect to bust him. There is a great element of danger in the occupation of broncho busting, and the hospital records and death rolls which have resulted from the efforts of man to subdue the wild spirits of the western pony are mute testimony to the viciousness of the wild beast of the plains.

The broncho adopts many styles of bucking, and at times combines his art in a melange of snorting, kicking, humping and jumping gyrations which often conquer the conqueror, and at best, give the rider a decidedly lively and unpleasant few moments, if nothing worse. But if the broncho is not subdued at the first trial, it is doubly difficult to subdue him. If a rider fails to bust him at the first attempt, the horse seems to realize his abilities and therefore fights doubly hard against the rule of the master hand.

Women, Attention! Women as a rule are better savers than men—they have a knack of making a dollar go just twice as far as a man can. Many men who cannot save anything themselves, very wisely make their wives the family treasurer, and upon them devolves the responsibility of putting by something for the inevitable rainy day. The Traders Bank welcomes the accounts of women, and its officials and clerks are always ready to give them any advice or assistance they may require. Every woman, whether married or single, should have a savings account. A few dollars will start an account. When you are down town call at our Bank and start an account. Open Saturday evenings.
