The Evening Telegram.

W. J. HERDER, Proprietor. . . W. F. LLOYD, Editor.

St. John's, Newfoundland, May 7, 1910.

The Governor's Announcement

The Governor announces with the most profound sorrow the death on the 6th instant of our beloved Sovereign King Edward the Seventh.

The wise rule and gracious personality of the King have endeared His Majesty to every section of His subjects throughout our vast Empire and the Governor is confident that there is not one amongst us who does not realize that the King's death is at once a disaster to the Nation and a personal loss.

It has pleased God in His mercy to take him to Himself, and His subjects can only bow before the calamity which has befallen them.

The Governor trusts that during the period of mourning which may be prescribed all persons will wear some little badge or token, thus uniting with the whole Empire in deploring and mourning the loss of their King.

Government House, 7th May, 1910.

The Nation Mourns.

The King is dead, and another reigns in his place. The announcement we made yesterday of King Edward's serious illness was sudden and startling, but within a few short hours it was followed by the intelligence which has plunged the world in grief.

The first news was a little reassuring, as the bulletin announced that the King was easier at Thursday midnight, but still much anxiety existed from the fact that physicians were kept in constant attendance. But when the news spread late last night that His Majesty had passed away, men could barely realize the loss. For but a brief time before no apprehension was felt by the community that there was any danger of the end being so near. Even this morning men and women in the streets wondered what the meaning was of the universal flying of flags half-mast on all buildings, public and private, dimly realizing the possibility, and darkly fearing the probability of the passing of the great King, but the thought was scouted as highly improbable, until they at length found it was only too true that the Peacemaker had finished his great career on earth, and another had risen to reign in his stead.

The King's Success' Mainly Due to Education.

His Majesty early in his reign earned meritoriously the honorific title of Peace-Maker, and throughout his short reign of nine years it was felt that a King wise, zealous and worthy of the present greatness and history and tradition of the British Empire, presided over its destiny. Even when trouble arose, as it has done, between the Houses of Parliament there was no misgivings as to the outcome, for full reliance was placed on the fairness, good judgment and other great qualities of the King, so that there was no hesitation in believing that a way out would be found in keeping with the historic past and on lines of the great future which faces the British people. He typified in his own person the best qualities of John Bull, keen as a sportsman, honest in expression, plain in dealing, proud of the past and trustful of the future. These qualities were mainly due to the wise lines on which King Edward was educated. Prince Albert and Queen Victoria laid the foundations of his education well and truly, and during his long career as the social second ego of his mother, who lived much in retirement after the death of the Prince Consort, he took the place of Victoria the Good in most of the great social functions. During his long career, he was assisted by the popularity and personal charms of the Princess of Wales, now Dowager Queen Alexandra, and during these long years of apprenticeship he was learning in the school of life men and things. He was a keen observer of men, a first hand student of foreign affairs, and a thoughtful watcher of constitutional and political struggles. Friendly and Cochrane St. Church.

In the absence of the Pastor of Cochrane St. Church, at Portual Cove, the Rev. C. Hackett will occupy the pulpit in the morning. Dr. Cowperthwaite will be present with Rev. Mr. Bamford at the evening service. The choir will render music appropriate to the passing of the King and Dr. Cowperthwaite will make special reference thereto. The church will be draped for the occasion.

ARE A FRIEND TO THE FISHERMAN

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Mr. M. Williams's Rheumatism.

He took the terrible disease in time and a single box made him a well man.

South Ingonish, Cape Breton, May 6.—(Special)—How easily and quickly Dodd's Kidney Pills banish Rheumatism and other symptoms of Kidney Disease is well known in the case of Michael C. Williams, a fisherman living in this place.

"My kidney disease started from a strain," Mr. Williams says, "and I suffered from it for about three months. I had bacache, stiffness in the joints and Rheumatism. When I got up in the morning I had a bad taste in my mouth; I perspired freely with the least exertion, and I was always tired and nervous.

"One box of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me and I believe they will cure others who are suffering from Kidney Disease."

If you have any two of the symptoms mentioned by Mr. Williams you may be sure of two things. One is that your kidneys are sick, and the other that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure you.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have proved in thousands of cases all over Canada that they never fail to cure Kidney Disease of any kind or stage.

Train Notes.

A Simple Treatment that Will Make Hair Grow.

Every up-to-date woman should have a radiant hair.

There are thousands of women with harsh, faded, characterless hair who do not try to improve it.

In England and Paris women take pride in having beautiful hair. Every Canadian woman can have just as much and luxuriant hair by using SALVIA, the Great American Sage Hair Tonic.

Every reader of the Evening Telegram can have an attractive head of hair in a few days by using SALVIA.

Your dealer sells a large bottle for 50 cents, and guarantees it to banish Dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in ten days, or money back.

SALVIA is a beautiful, pleasant, non-sticky Hair Tonic.

FOLK LORE PROPHECY.

Apropos of the death of the King a correspondent sends us this old folk lore prophecy referring to the coincidence of Good Friday falling on the Feast of Annunciation, which happens only a few times in centuries. It really did occur this year, 1910, and Good Friday fell on Lady Day. The following is the prophecy:—

"When the Crucifix falls in Our Lady's lap, England will meet with A great mishap."

"A Delightful Pastime"

is the verdict of those who have purchased a Columbia Zither. It is a very fine zither, graceful in shape, and in every way a charming musical instrument. It is finished in polished black ebony, the same as a fine piano. Makes a beautiful gift for holiday or birthday. In a few short evenings you can learn to play the Columbia Zither with facility and ease. The lower notes are tuned in groups of chords. The higher notes render the air while the chords produce the accompaniment. For sale by Arthur B. Walker, Sole Agent for Newfoundland and Maritime Provinces. One month's free lessons at the studio, 12 New Gower Street (Albion House.) Note: Toy zithers and small autoharps cost less, but the Columbia Zither excels in size and durability, combines the tone qualities of the guitar and mandolin. Can only be obtained from Arthur B. Walker who imports direct from factory in U. S. A., and has handled them exclusively since 1893. Autoharps, strings, etc., at New York prices. A few piano folios 50 per cent off.—advlmay3,11

PORT GREVILLE, C.B., Dec. 31, '09. Blacking & Mercantile Co.'s, Ltd. Dear Sirs,—Please ship by next express if possible, 3 doz. Mathieu's Syrup. It is the best cough mixture on the market. Yours truly, W. STERLING.

CHURCH POINT, July 31, '08. Blacking & Mercantile Co.'s, Ltd., Amherst, N.S. Dear Sirs,—Nearly one year ago I had my first order of "Mathieu's Syrup" from you. It was not known in this country, and I gave samples to several families whom I knew would use it. After a few weeks I began to have a call for it, and trade has increased wonderfully since. I have not the least doubt but that it will soon be the best selling remedy for coughs, colds, etc., on the market. In my store here sales are good and our people ask for it. Several stores in this country now keep it in stock and report sales increasing. I have bought from you since August 16th, 1907, 4 Gross and have only 3 dozen on hand at this date, and which I am holding for retail trade in my store. Yours truly, LOUIS A. McLANSON.

AGAINST HEADACHE there is no remedy so active as Mathieu's Nervine Powders which contain no opium, morphine or chloral. 25 cts. per box of 18 powders.

CHURCH POINT, July 31, '08. Blacking & Mercantile Co.'s, Ltd., Amherst, N.S. Dear Sirs,—Nearly one year ago I had my first order of "Mathieu's Syrup" from you. It was not known in this country, and I gave samples to several families whom I knew would use it. After a few weeks I began to have a call for it, and trade has increased wonderfully since. I have not the least doubt but that it will soon be the best selling remedy for coughs, colds, etc., on the market. In my store here sales are good and our people ask for it. Several stores in this country now keep it in stock and report sales increasing. I have bought from you since August 16th, 1907, 4 Gross and have only 3 dozen on hand at this date, and which I am holding for retail trade in my store. Yours truly, LOUIS A. McLANSON.

AGAINST HEADACHE there is no remedy so active as Mathieu's Nervine Powders which contain no opium, morphine or chloral. 25 cts. per box of 18 powders.

Was Badly Scalded.

Mr. John Cooper, of the West End, who was a freeman on the Blood-hound at the fishery, met with a painful accident during the spring. In passing through the engine room he accidentally turned a cock in a pipe leading from the boiler, when the scalding steam poured out on him and he was scalded about the face, legs and arms. He suffered intense pain and is now gradually recovering from his injuries.

Mrs. Martin's condition as described in her letter below gives some idea of the extraordinary reconstructive power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Such cures as this have placed Dr. Chase's Nerve Food where it stands today as the most popular and most effective nerve restorative that money will buy.

"Mrs. Edwin Martin, Ayer's Cliff, Que., writes:—'Before I began using Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food I was in a terrible condition. Dizzy spells would come over me and I would fall to the floor in a faint. I could not even sweep the floor without fainting and my nervous system seemed to be entirely exhausted.'"

"The use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food has built up my system wonder fully so that I can do my household and washing without any trouble, and I want others to know about it." The Loss of the Normandy--Had A Hard Time.

Special to Evening Telegram.
TOR'S COVE, May 7.
The s.s. Normandy, Capt. Hawthorne, from London to Toronto, struck on the back of Great Island, two miles from here, at 12.45 this morning, and sank an hour later in 25 fathoms of water. Her crew of 26 men, also three lady passengers and a baby landed at St. Michael's, about two miles from the wreck, at 8 o'clock this morning. The first boat they put out from the wreck upset and was smashed up. They got ashore safely in two others. She has a cargo of pig iron. I have not heard her tonnage. If any later particulars shall advise.

Ayre & Sons to-day display an excellent picture of the deceased Sovereign in the window of the upper establishment on Water Street. It is draped with the Royal purple and crepe as an evidence of mourning and attracts much attention. Pictures and portraits of the King in the public offices are also draped with mourning.

PERFECTION OF WOMANHOOD.

Upon what should it rest? The best answer to the question is that womanly perfection must rest upon health. Health is to woman important, she rules by it. For in health lies for her all the elements of beauty and attraction. Man rules by his strength. A sick body cannot reflect life, buoyancy nor endurance. A sick body cannot maintain ambition. There is sure to be languor, aches, fretfulness, fatigue and a host of other ills that undermine the enjoyment of life and destroy physical beauty and power. You can get away from all these weaknesses by taking Ferrozone (Blood Food). Let Ferrozone make you feel its uplifting vitalization of blood, enjoy its strength-giving, its renewing power that will make you feel alive. Let Ferrozone (Blood Food) give you the fruits of its blood, nerve and muscle regenerating power. Ferrozone confers beauty's tint to skin, clearness to eye, and color to cheek. Let Ferrozone (Blood Food) give you that feeling of well-being and ambition that comes from renewal of strength and the re-establishing of health. Ferrozone (Blood Food) is the greatest medication for every ailing person. It renews vitality, imparts strength, gives nerve and buoyancy and endurance—that's what you need. Ferrozone (Blood Food). BENGORE HEAD SALVAGE.—Up-to-date no conclusion has been arrived at as regards the salvage of the S. S. This morning early Bowring Bros. had a wire from Tor's Cove, Southern Shore, as follows:—
"Steamer Normandy, of London, bound to Toronto, foundered in 25 fathoms of water after striking off here. Wire advice as to crew."

This message was despatched by the commander of the ship Capt. Hawthorne, and immediately on receipt of the news the firm wired Capt. Fitzpatrick, of the Portia, at Placentia, to proceed to the scene and bring the crew and 31 women who are on board her. The ship should arrive to-morrow forenoon. This forenoon Mr. Tasker Cook had this message:—
"Normandy struck Great Island last night; sunk in 28 fathoms of water; cargo of pig iron; crew landed at St. Michael's; 31 women passengers, reports hard time."

The women who were on board are emigrants bound to the Canadian North West. Private advices say the ship struck in a dense fog at Great Island, about 2 miles off Tor's Cove, and sliding off into deep water sank immediately. It is said there was some commotion amongst the women, but that after extreme trouble with them they crew escaped in the ship's boats and landed safely. The last wreck on the coast, was the Laurentian, of the Alain Line, at Mistaken Point, on September 5th, of last year.

DANGERS CATARRH CREATES.

You are a thousand times more likely to develop consumption with catarrh than without it. Catarrh is inflammation, inflamed surfaces and develop the germs of consumption. No fact in medical science is more firmly established than that Catarrh invites, coaxes consumption. You need not run this risk. Catarrhzone quickly, permanently and pleasantly removes catarrh. Catarrhzone is composed of nature's healing oils and balsam distilled in sunlight, in leaf and bud. It is made available by chemical research for the healing of throat, lungs, and nasal passages. You do not take Catarrhzone, you breathe it—just little drops of healing which the air you breathe carries from the Catarrhzone Inhaler. The air is saturated with healing. It is borne to throat, lungs and nasal passages. It touches sore spots and inflamed surfaces, relieves and heals them. The Catarrhzone method is common sense, reliability, effectiveness applied to the relief of disease by medicated air. Do not question the merit of Catarrhzone. It has been used for many years in many lands and has proved itself the most effective as well as the most pleasant remedy for Catarrhal Inflammations.

EDWARD VII. AT HIS CORONATION.

His Majesty Passed Away at 11.45 Last Night—The Royal Family and the Archbishop of Canterbury at the Bedside—Pneumonia the Cause of Death—Loss of Sleep and Political Worry Aggravated His Majesty's Condition.

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, May 7.
King Edward the Seventh died at 11.45 o'clock last night. The Prince of Wales is King, assuming the title of George the Fifth, and will take the oath before the Privy Council at 2 o'clock this afternoon. In a day the political outlook of Great Britain had been revolutionized. Gathered around the bedside of the King was the Queen and other members of the Royal Family. No hope was held throughout the night for the recovery of His Majesty, whose death it is believed was due to pneumonia following bronchitis, contracted shortly after his return from Biarritz. Only a day or two ago the King was conducting the business of State. Throughout the Empire the word was flashed and to-day flags are floating at half-mast the world over. Besides the social gloom which the King's death casts over England, several important and long planned official events must be abandoned. The Prince and Princess of Wales were to go to South Africa, but his ascension to the Throne will prevent this. The Prince of Wales succeeded to the Crown according to the laws of England, and his first official act was to despatch to the Lord Mayor the announcement of his father's death in pursuance of custom. His telegram read: "I am deeply grieved to inform you that my father, the King, passed away peacefully at 11.45 to-night. Signed George." The physicians soon afterwards issued the official bulletin, which was as follows: "His Majesty the King breathed his last at 11.45 p.m. in the presence of Her Majesty Queen Alexandra, the Prince and Princess of Wales, Princess Royal, the Duchess of Fife, Princess Victoria and Princess Louise, the Duchess of Argyll." Pneumonia following bronchitis is believed to have been the cause of his death, but the doctors thus far have refused to make a statement. Some of the King's friends are convinced that worry over the critical political situation which confronted him and caused loss of sleep, aggravated it. It did not cause the fatal illness. Besides the nearest relatives in England, the Duke of Fife and the Archbishop of Canterbury were in the death chamber. The King's brother, the Duke of Connaught, with his family are at St. James, hastening home from South Africa. The King's daughter, Queen Maud of Norway, will start for England tomorrow. The intelligence that the end of the King's reign had come was not a surprise at least as the people had been expecting to hear it at any hour since the evening bulletin was flashed at Buckingham Palace and passed throughout the Kingdom. The Capital received without excitement but sadly the news, for the King with his own people was unquestionably one of the most popular rulers in the world. They regarded him as one of

The following telegram was received by His Excellency the Governor at 10.30 p. m. yesterday from the Secretary of State:—

"May 6th. Profoundly regret to inform you His Majesty the King passed away at 11.40 p.m. to-day."
T. C. FITZHERBERT, Private Secretary.

THE KING'S LAST ILLNESS and DEATH

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, May 6.
An atmosphere of the greatest depression surrounds Buckingham Palace to-day. The suddenness of the transition from yesterday morning, when the King was receiving presentations, to the present when it is believed he is critically ill has shocked the country. For the moment business and politics are at a standstill. The first news given out early to-day, indicated an improvement, those with the King having been deceived, by the fact that he had rested quietly through the night. Subsequent examination developed that the patient's bronchial tubes, instead of being in better condition, were more seriously affected after the night's sleep than they were yesterday. The King's age and corpulence, and the well known weakness of the heart, which has caused occasional attacks resembling vertigo, during the past two or three years, and which were attributed chiefly to the constant smoking of strong cigars, all have served to weaken his power of resistance to disease. The prospect of the death of the Sovereign at this worst possible time in many years from a political viewpoint, certainly will make the outcome particularly disastrous. The greatest constitutional crisis in a generation hangs over Great Britain, and while King Edward is familiar with all the features of the situation, the task of taking up where he will leave off will be particularly trying to his successor, who, upon crossing the threshold of his reign, would be called upon to deal with the question of employing the authority of the Crown to curb the powers of the Peers. From a social and business standpoint the monarch's demise would be equally unfortunate at this season when families are flowing in from the country to London, and merchants are counting upon a big business. This was just beginning, and this year London was expected to be in its most brilliant state for many seasons. The King's death will throw the court and country into mourning, and end all social activities. Upon one occasion, during Wednesday's audiences, when the King's condition was subject to remarks, His Majesty said: "This is a return of what I had at Biarritz. I got clear of it there, but caught another cold at the theatre. However, I will be all right in a few days."

reports, important developments will follow his arrival. No matter what may be the issue of the King's illness, the Veto question will be deferred until the next session of Parliament. This evening when the King rallied and woke from an unpleasant slumber, these words, worthy of the man, fell from his lips: "WELL! IT IS ALL OVER; BUT I THINK I HAVE DONE MY DUTY." All members of the Royal Family were summoned to the Palace this afternoon, fearing the worst. At this hour a bulletin was issued, giving poor hopes for His Majesty's recovery, and it is believed that he cannot survive the night. The King's age and excessive corpulence, has served to weaken his power of resistance to the disease. The prospect of the death of the Sovereign at this worst possible time in many years from a political viewpoint, certainly will make the outcome particularly disastrous. The greatest constitutional crisis in a generation hangs over Great Britain, and while King Edward is familiar with all the features of the situation, the task of taking up where he will leave off will be particularly trying to his successor, who, upon crossing the threshold of his reign, would be called upon to deal with the question of employing the authority of the Crown to curb the powers of the Peers. a charming personality, whilst every such a King and full of personal dignity he gave himself no airs and was specially beloved by his close and intimate friends. Many of us can remember his visit here in 1899. His stay amongst us lasted from the 22nd to the 25th of July. It was a complete success. The town was given up to festivities and rejoicing, and the young heir apparent won all hearts by his grace and courtesy. We did honour to our future Sovereign by a Grand Ball, a regatta, a review and the gift of a dog from the breed of Bat Sullivan. Much of the success of the Prince's visit was due to Sir Alexander and Lady Bannerman. The Duke of Newcastle's tact and the genial and refined courtesy of old Earl St. Germain's and the excellent management of General Bruce, the Prince's Governor, and the popular young Captains, Grey and Teesdale, the hero of Kars—all went merry as a marriage bell during the three lovely days of the Prince's stay amongst us, and all did their best to make the auspicious occasion a truly joyous time. Our volunteer review and turn-out was a great success. Nowhere will the death of our beloved King be more universally regretted than amongst his loyal and devoted subjects in Newfoundland. QUEEN ALEXANDRA IN CORONATION ROBES.

Long Live the King!
Hail George the V.

The Privy Council was summoned in London to-day, at 2 p.m. this afternoon His Majesty King George the Fifth took the oath which is administered to the Sovereign, and he was proclaimed King and acclaimed Sovereign of the British Empire before the great men of the nation, all according to solemn usage and law. The King comes to his throne by hereditary right sanctioned by statute. His title is parliamentary, and in virtue of the Act of Settlement of 1701 and 1702 King George V. was proclaimed to-day. We understand the authorities here are waiting for the text of the proclamation, and when it comes the members of the Privy Council, Executive Council and others will be summoned and the Proclamation made, oaths of allegiance taken and then a public declaration made from the steps of the Colonial Building, as was done in 1901. On his accession to the throne the heart of the Empire goes out to the new King. The virtues of his grandmother, Victoria the Good, the kindly qualities of his father, Edward the Peacemaker, bespeak for him a welcome and acclamation worthy of them in keeping with the tradition of the mighty past, and universal as the width of the Empire over which he now reigns. Long Live King George!

tion never expected to see. No man living at the time could have accomplished this and the subsequent friendly relations but Edward the VII, who deservedly is entitled to the title of "Peacemaker." As his public acts fall back into the proper perspective of history future generations will discern even better than we do that he is pre-eminently entitled to that name, and it will go down to generations unborn as long as the language of Shakespeare is spoken and written. In the many acts of international diplomacy there is one in which Newfoundland has reason to be particularly grateful. We refer now to that friendly spirit which the King cultivated with France shortly after he came to the Throne, and which resulted in inducing the French Nation to relinquish those harassing claims to a large portion of the seaboard of the Colony. King Edward came and untied the Gordian knot by his peaceful diplomacy—a knot that had puzzled the greatest Sovereigns and statesmen for the past 200 years. The people of Newfoundland will bear His Majesty in grateful memory on this account for all time to come. King Edward, as we view the accomplishment of deeds regarded almost impossible, may be said to have inspired the system of diplomacy. His methods were new and startling by their very simplicity and straightforwardness, but more astute minds and keener intellects perhaps had to lay down the old weapons of double dealing and subterfuge and acknowledge the greater potency of strength, honesty and truth. The impress of his life will, no doubt be felt not only on his own people but on those of other nations, particularly its rulers, for a long time to come. His power as a King was no greater than his power as a man, a humane man actuated by the feelings and motives of our common humanity that contribute when honestly directed to round out the lives that the Almighty destined us to live on this earth.

The King's Influence.

As a diplomatist King Edward was known the world over as one of the greatest of modern times. When Prince Bismarck, the great pilot of the German Confederation was dropped, the Kaiser shot up like a meteor before the eyes of Europe, but a void was still left, and shortly after King Edward ascended the Throne he became a power in Europe. England had been isolated and disturbed. In a few years, however, all was changed and London became what Berlin had been—the centre of European diplomacy. The nations that had been hostile or suspicious all became friendly ones after the other. Italy, France, Spain, Austria, Russia, Japan and even Germany are now all friendly disposed to the country against which their had existed suspicions, if not hatred and dread. The credit for this condition of the diplomatic affairs of England must be given mainly to the late lamented King, Lord Lansdowne and Sir Edward Grey were largely the instruments of his desires to have peace with all nations. In foreign affairs the late King took always keen interest. He was a born diplomatist, and worked with the most potent weapons—honesty and sincerity. His word was trusted at home and abroad. He had the instinct of his mother, Queen Victoria the good, and scorned to use deceit or duplicity. He prided himself on keeping faith with every one, individuals as well as nations. In this he merely followed the predilection of his Hanoverian forebears who were noted for their sincerity and truthfulness, especially does this refer to his mother, the late Queen Victoria, who made it a rule never to deceive her own subjects or foreign Governments. King Edward followed her principles in a conspicuous manner. He was diplomatist, but one who played the game squarely and openly. His motives and his acts were alike to the judgment of public opinion. The great triumph of his methods was abundantly illustrated in their dealings with France in the Mediterranean; the friendly understanding with Russia in reference to Asiatic claims, and the content with respecting Russia; and last but not least was the friendly understanding with Germany. The visit paid to Windsor Castle by the Emperor of Germany marked an epoch in British diplomacy which this genera-

The King's Visit to Newfoundland.

The sudden death of the King will shed a gloom over the whole civilized world. He enjoyed the unique distinction among monarchs as the most popular Sovereign in Europe. Speaking French like a native he was specially beloved by our Gaelic neighbours and was the mainstay and support of our intimate and cordial relations with France. Whilst intimate and very friendly with his nephew, the German Emperor, his warmest feelings were always for the French and Italy. The late King had a host of friends, not only among his own aristocracy, but amongst Americans and Europeans of distinction. He was

LONDON, 11.30 p.m. Yesterday.—King Edward passed a comparatively good night, but his physicians pronounced his condition worse this morning, and a bulletin published to that effect, has caused profound gloom throughout London. The Archbishop of Canterbury visited the Palace this morning, and conferred with the Prince of Wales. The latter was greatly affected, and broke down after the interview with the Archbishop. The Archbishop telegraphed all the Bishops in England and Wales, asking for the prayers of the Church and people for the recovery of the King. The Prince and Princess of Wales spent all day at the Palace, not leaving until late in the afternoon. As the Prince and Princess drove through the streets, which were thronged with thousands of sorrowing subjects, the Prince lifted his hat, and the Princess held her handkerchief to her eyes. The news of the King's serious illness spread quickly, which caused great depression in the city. Premier Asquith is expected to reach here Monday next, and according to

"LOSS ALMOST UNREALIZABLE."

Special to Evening Telegram.
OTTAWA, May 6.
The Capital of the Premier daughter nation of the Motherland to-night was plunged into sudden mourning by the news flashed on the bulletin board and announced by the tolling bells that the Empire's Sovereign, Edward the Peacemaker, was dead coming as it did with startling suddenness the first effect has been one of almost unrealizable loss. Sir Wilfred Laurier, who was deeply moved by the death of the Sovereign, made no public statement pending the official action of the Government tomorrow. Mr. R. L. Borden declared that by the death of Edward the Seventh Europe had lost its greatest statesman and diplomat. The official announcement from the Colonial Secretary was not received by Earl Grey until after 10 o'clock, but immediately on receipt of the press despatches steps were at once taken to cancel all public engagements.

OUR NEW QUEEN.
OUR NEW KING, GEORGE V.

King of Great Britain and Ireland and of the Dominions beyond the Seas; born 3rd June, 1865, married 6th July, 1893, Princess Victoria Mary of Teck, who is now the Queen.

Message of Sympathy from Newfoundland.

To the Secretary of State for the Colonies, London:—
"On behalf of the Government and people of Newfoundland, as well as on my own behalf as Governor, I hasten to express the deep feelings of sorrow with which we have learnt the sad news of the death of our King whose wise rule we honoured and whose personality we loved. I will ask Your Lordship to convey our most and respectful sympathy to the Royal Family, and to express at the same time an assurance of the deep loyalty to the Throne held by all His Majesty's subjects in Newfoundland."

The City in Mourning

To-day the whole city is in mourning out of respect for our dead King. Flags are at half-mast on all the mercantile establishments, on public halls, some of the churches and the shipping in the harbor. In all the business places and in every street in the city the blinds are drawn, all the Government offices are closed and during the forenoon the bells in the towers of the R. C. Cathedral and the Presbyterian Church toll solemnly. Several of the Water Street stores closed at 12.30 and will re-open at 6.30.

Our Clothes are now classed as STANDARD, and the MAUNDER LABEL is the Sterling Mark. "The Suit you made Mr. So-and-So is very pretty; and I want one like it," is a very frequent request at our store.

IF YOU WANT SATISFACTION, let us have your order. For style, fit and workmanship we lead. Practical experience, careful supervision and up-to-date materials all in the Garment.

Mail Orders receive personal attention.

JOHN MAUNDER,
TAILOR AND CLOTHIER, 281-283 DUCKWORTH ST.

City Council.

A full Board was present at last night's meeting. F. B. Gerard of the Commercial Cable Co. sent in a letter asking permission to open a trench to lay a cable from Cuckhold's Cove to the site of the proposed building on Water Street. The matter was allowed to stand over.

A petition was received signed by residents of Waterford Bridge Road asking that the Council buy Mrs. Torpey's house and land adjoining the Cross Roads before any permanent improvements are made there that would tend to raise the value of property. The Council regret that they are unable to grant the petition. The Council suggests that the road may be widened by taking land from the south side of Waterford Bridge Road and the north side of Topsall Road.

A letter was received from Mr. H. P. Reid in reference to the promenade. An enquiry will be made. Mr. Reid also stated that the sprinkler was being made ready.

The Lighting Committee will attend to the complaint of Mr. P. Hanley about the light in the lane at the rear of his house.

Messrs. Smith and Sparks have been appointed patrolmen in the parks.

Henry Reless was also appointed to take charge of the steam roller. Inspector McLaughlin recommended him for the job.

Plan of building for Angel & Co. was approved.

Mr. D. Summers complained of the condition of Howley Avenue. The Road Inspector will investigate.

As no such street exists as that mentioned by Messrs. Penny and Robinson they will not be allowed to build.

Selby Pynn, Hamilton Street, was given permission to instal a gas engine.

W. Squires, of Wickford Street, will be allowed to repair his fence.

Mr. Browning will be allowed to repair a fence.

W. Kenny, of Hamilton Street and J. De Bourke will be allowed to repair their houses.

J. Ryan, the keeper of Victoria Park, reported that the iron ornamental tops had been broken off the park fence during the past week. The police will be asked to assist in finding the culprit.

Messrs. Power, Gallop and Donnelly were given the contract to build the retaining wall on George Street. The tenders were as follows:—

- J. Noseworthy $330
- Spratt Bros. 270
- J. J. Coady 285
- J. Hoskins 178
- Power, Gallop and Donnelly 250.

The reports of the various departments for the week were read and passed. After the passing of the pay rolls the meeting closed at 11.30.

Mr. Fitzpatrick Writes.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Please allow me space in your valuable paper to express my views with regard to the troublesome Tenants' Tax. To my mind, it is most unfair and absurd. Imagine the Collector calling at people's doors with a great bundle of vari-coloured bills seeking payment of water rates at houses where there is no water within a quarter of a mile, and in some cases further off. Surely the Council ought to find some other way of raising money without driving to destruction the hardworking citizen, who is trying his best to rear his family decently, and to honestly pay his rent. Why not compel the land owner to pay the tax; that is, if it has to be paid at all? Or more particularly, why not compel the great octopus, the absentee landlord, to do so? Is he ever asked to contribute, as he should, his rightful share to the city's upkeep? If not, it is a great injustice and I cannot understand it why he has been allowed to escape so long. To my mind, this Tenants' Tax, as I have described it, is an outrage, as the industrious workingman is already too heavily burdened with other taxes—and this is allowed to go on, while the absentee landlord goes Scot free. The latter acquired, many years ago, all the land they have in our city, for a very paltry sum, and are now receiving big rents for it; in some cases as high as 10 or fifteen dollars a foot yearly.

I am a land owner myself, but not in the most valuable part of the city, and I pay taxes, and believe it right to do so, but I don't consider it fair when those who do not reside in the city are not contributing at all. It is certainly unfair, also, that honest and industrious workingmen amongst us, who are owners of houses or land, are besieged with the Council's bills. It seems to me that the City Council never take up this question properly, or at all, as I never see any reference to it in the weekly reports. Is it that they think it easier to force the hardy toilers and workers of our town to pay up. The Municipal Council should take up this question and force the absentee landlord to pay a goodly portion of his unearned increment towards the upkeep of our city.

I offered $500 cash to the Council towards the laying of sewer and water pipes along the street which runs through my property, but they would not accept it, for what reason I could not understand. Whilst that would be money well spent, and would give labor to the unemployed, the foreign land owner would do no such thing. He would rather take all and give nothing in return.

There is another question I would wish to call public attention to, and that is with regard to property appraisalment. On one occasion I asked one of our appraisers how he managed to get at the value of a house, and what do you think he told me? "We ask," he said, "the woman who lives in it." Now, does not this seem absurd, and surely we could find plenty men who would know more about property valuation. It is not necessary to have anyone who would not know the value of a pound of nails, but it would be more preferable to have those who could tell the value of property in a satisfactory way. This is something also, that the Council should not overlook, but take into consideration seriously, and see that men of ability in these lines be appointed.

I am personally interested in these matters as stated above, and look upon them as of no small importance, and hope that they will commend themselves to the civic electors.

Yours respectfully,
FRED. FITZPATRICK

HOW CAN WE COUNTER-ACT

THE INCREASED COST OF LIVING?

A second's reasoning will supply the answer. Beef and pork are dear and getting dearer all the time and the cost is out of proportion with their food-value.

EAT MORE BREAD

There is more nourishment in a shilling's worth of bread than a shilling's worth of beef or pork. But the problem is not done with yet. The shilling's worth of bread is not always the same value. Breadmade from contains more nourishment than any other, because it contains the greatest amount of gluten, the health-giving nutriment of wheat.

ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR
