CHAPTER XXXVIII

Mr. Herbert Gardner did not leave for town until the next day, and he was sorry that he had to go away so soon.

"I am satisfied that my chum will soon be all right with his splendid constitution," he told Lady Hastings. "And I shall spend Christmas with you at all events. Do you know I fancy that Miss Craythorne knows more of this trouble than she cares to admit, and I am curious about Sir Charles' visitor on the evening he was shot."

"Miss Craythorne is in love with my son," whispered her ladyship, "and I believe that, if he were free, he would ask her to marry him."

The barrister looked up quickly and smiled. So Sir Charles had not told his mother anything about his passion for Lady Gladys Howard.

"She is a dear girl—so fond, so affectionate," continued Lady Hastings. "It would be the happiest moment of my life if I could call her daughter. My son has confided everything to Ads, and has not liked her to be out of his sight for weeks."

Herbert Gardner was a little surprised to hear this, but he did not attach much importance to the utterances of Lady Hastings, as she was a well-known gossip.

"Miss Craythorne is a very handsome girl," was all that he said, but a peculiar smile played about his mouth. He had evidently formed some opinion of his own.

"It is not often that the most favored of the gentlemen at the bar are busy just before and just after Christmas; and now, after two months of idleness—indeed, I have hardly held increasing, but in a few days the crisis will be passed, and then we may hope for consciousness and daily increasing strength. The wound itself is rapidly healing."

Herbert Gardner left Miss Craythorne in anything but a happy frame of mind. He had a knack of fixing his keen, dark eyes upon her in a way that was most uncomfortable. And there seemed something in them that she could not comprehend—half-mocking, half-accusing. She felt that she feared and hated him.

As he walked through the corridor he saw something white lying on the carpet and mechanically picked it up. An empty envelope, perhaps dropped by a careless servant. He had partially crushed it in his hand, when he saw the embossed crest of the Howards on the back. He turned it over, and saw that the name on the face was that of Sir Charles. He looked at the date. It had only been recently received. Sir Charles had never seen it—was unable to read it. The letter had been stolen. By whom?

Miss Ada Craythorne!

He did not hesitate one moment in his judgment—he was sure that Miss Craythorne was the thief, and while he condemned, he pitied her.

He regretted that he had pledged himself to return to town. He did not think that it was safe to leave his friend to the mercies of this strong-willed, unscrupulous woman. In her hands the weak-minded Lady Hastings would be as pliable as wax.

But his honor was at stake; he had received half a confidence; he had contracted to study an intricate case; he had received his retainer, and perhaps further particulars were even now awaiting him. He must return to London forthwith. In his pocket-book he inclosed the envelope he had picked up, and half-an-hour later was being driven to the railway station.

It was a relief to Miss Craythorne to know that he had gone; but when she discovered the loss of the envelope belonging to the letter she had intercepted, her agony of mind was great indeed. She could not think how she had been so careless. She remembered having it half-an-hour before Herbert Gardner's visit to the sickroom. She had taken the letter from her bosom to see that it was safe, and must have dropped the envelope, upon hearing the approach of a servant. This was bad enough, but how much worse would it have been had she dropped the letter instead!

It may have been picked up by one of the servants, and thrown into the wastebasket, but she did not dare to ask any questions. She could only hope, most frequently, that it would never again come to light.

Several days passed, and at last Sir Charles gazed about him with the light of reason in his eyes. He was dreadfully thin and weak, but the doctor spoke cheerfully.

"He will be as well and as strong as ever within a month!"

Sir Charles heard the words, and at first was surprised. What had been the matter with him? He could not remember. He closed his eyes, and the jibing face of Spier crossed his mental vision; the threats and the shot! Yes, he must have been badly hurt, for he felt miserably weak and helpless.

"So we've dragged you through at last," said the physician, cheerily. "You have had a very close call, Sir Charles. Loss of blood, and other complications owing to delay, and the bungling of your local man. But honor to whom honor is due! You owe your life to Miss Craythorne!"

Sir Charles smiled faintly. He could see that she was standing in the background, her luminous eyes fixed upon him.

"No talking, please," concluded the physician. "And I leave you in the hands of your nurse!"

He looked stily at Ada's telltale face; he thought of the hints of Lady Hastings—and almost felt inclined to congratulate the happy couple! Being an old man, he was privileged to jest, and make sly jokes, and the love affairs of young people are always subjects for amusement among their elder friends.

The physician left them in an embarrassing situation, until it was broken by Sir Charles.

"Miss Craythorne," he said, "how can I ever thank you for your goodness to me? I have had dreams of a ministering angel ever since you over-hooved about my pillow, and I wake to find that it was no dream—but a sweet reality!"

Prophy-lactic Tooth Brush

THIS brush cleans more thoroughly because the tufted bristles reach between the teeth.

It is easier to manage because of the curved handle. It is more sanitary because it always comes in the yellow box.

It wears longer because of the quality of the bristles.

Four visits a year to your dentist and daily use of the Prophy-lactic Tooth Brush insure good teeth for a lifetime.

Look for the name on the handle. Adult's, youth's, and child's sizes. For sale at leading druggists.

Fifty More U.S.S.B. Ships Being Made Ready for Sea.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—With the addition of thirty-five vessels still being built or laid up, the Shipping Board has about fifty steamers in various stages of preparation for active service. These are mainly intended to replace on sailing schedule ships regularly engaged in trans-Atlantic services that have been delayed or diverted by charters for coal shipments from Europe.

Fifty-six coal charters in all have been made by the Board and about seventy-five by private interests, so that, taking 2,000 tons of coal a ship as an average, the total movement currently indicated is nearly 1,000,000 tons. The Board is now ready to charter tonnage for late August and September loading, and the indicated rate is 12 shillings 6 pence. Although the demand has fallen off heavily there is still said to be plenty of inquiry in the market.

Of the fifty Shipping Board vessels referred to six are in the spot position, ready for instant allocation. Nineteen are undergoing repairs and the remainder are being made ready for reconditioning. The average cost for reconditioning one of the laid up boats is $10,000, so a total of $350,000 is involved in the preparations for service. About 1400 men will be employed on board the vessels when they go into active operation.

DISAPPOINTMENT.

Disappointments bent me double, ere I long had played life's game; for I always looked for trouble, and the trouble's end I do not come. When I had a field of barley I would sadly gaze there at, and remark, "So help me, Charley, hall will come and knock it flat. And if haply hall should dodge it, it will burn up in the sun, or a whirling wind will lodge it so the reaping can't be done. Or the locusts' wings will rattle as they mark it in their flight, or the neighbors' tinhorn cattle will devour it in the night. Something fierce will overtake it, or the thresher wield his fall!" But the weather was propitious, no disasters came along; my forebodings, grim and vicious, turned out altogether wrong. Yet I hunted round to borrow something that would make me stum; it is hard to bank on sorrow and to find it doesn't come. I've been always prompt to wager that a war is just ahead; "grief in minor key or major is our portion," I have said. But I'm sore and disappointed, all my theories seem to fail; grief availed and annihilated just when I would grab its tail.

THE GRIND.

Rough road,
Long road,
Tug and haul until you die!
Heavy load,
Weary load,
Mop your brow and heave a sigh.
Work, work,
All you meet from day to day:
No rest,
No rest,
"What's the use of it," you say.

Dull grind,
Dreary grind,
Same tomorrow as to-day:
"Hay you!
Say you!"
Get to work and earn your pay!"
Sick heart,
Tired heart,
Weary mind and muscle sore,
Turning wheel,
Flving wheel,
What is all the sweating for?

Well child,
Sick child,
Mother with her eyes of blue,
Sad home,
All of these depend on you,
Dresses new,
Their smile,
Ribbons blue and shoes to fit,
Stockings new,
Dresses new,
This is what you get from it.

Clang, clang,
Bang, clang!
Every blow a youngster's smile,
Dreary dirt,
Grimy dirt,
They will find it all worth while.
Slick fast,
Hold fast,
Here's a dress which she can wear,
Hard day,
Long day,
Here's a ribbon for her hair.

SUPREME PRESIDENT AND SECRETARY S.O.E., RES., ON OFFICIAL VISIT.
The Empire and Empire Lodges, S.O.E., held a joint meeting in Victoria Hall last night for the purpose of receiving and entertaining their Supreme Grand Lodge officers, who arrived here yesterday by S.S. Rosalind on an official visit. On arrival at the Hall Supreme Grand Lodge officers, including the Secretary, Rousell and Supreme Secretary, were introduced by Past Supreme Deputy Bro. Theo. Thompson and Past President C. R. Puddister. Following an address of welcome and the presentation of souvenirs of the lodge, matters in connection with the lodge were taken up, the principal speakers being Bro. Thompson, Andrews, Crowther and Uffe. At the close of the meeting the members and other guests repaired to the West End restaurant, where a sumptuous banquet was served. The banquet was taken by P. D. Bro. A. Williams and an enjoyable time was spent until nearly 2 o'clock this morning, when the gathering dispersed. The following was the programme:--

About 20 members of the City Lodges accompanied the Supreme officers on an official visit to Diamond Jubilee Lodge, Harbor Grace, the company leaving for that town by the 8.45 train this morning. Great preparations have been made in the second city for the reception of the visitors, and on their arrival they will be met by motors and taken for a drive around Lady Lake. A Lodge meeting will be held to-night which will be followed by a banquet.

Typhus in Scotland.

OUTBREAK ON ONE OF THE SKYE ISLANDS.

An outbreak of typhus has occurred on the island of Raasay, one of the Skye group of islands, and the suggestion has been made that the infection is traceable to the German prisoners who, during the war, were employed in the iron mines there. Some time after the Germans arrived a mysterious disease broke out amongst them, and several died. Holdings at Raasay were granted by the Scottish Board of Agriculture to a number of men from Rona who had been imprisoned for raiding Raasay, and settling on the land. They were invited to occupy the houses which the Germans had previously used. It is among these people that typhus has broken out. Every effort to cope with it is being made, a doctor having been sent from Edinburgh to co-operate with the Skye medical men. In addition, trained nurses have arrived on the scene, and they are treating the patients in a field hospital.

Conservation of Temper.

(From an Exchange.)
An elderly Indian colonel used to be that he had a tranquil disposition which nothing could ruffle. One day while playing a foursome he got into the worst bunker on the course and spent a terrible ten minutes trying to play out. He tried nearly every club in vain and at last, glaring like a demon, he smashed them one after another across a jagged rock.
"What are you doing?" cried one of the party above.
"It's all right," he snorted. "It's better to break your clubs than to lose your temper."

More Respectful.

Rev. Paul Crath says that in the Canadian colonies in the West of Canada the young people address their parents as "Comrade" Father and "Comrade" Mother. This is as bad as the native young people who refer to their father as "Old Man" and their mother as the "Old Woman."

The Golfer Abroad.

The golfer went abroad in lands beyond the sea to roam. And wrote his honest sentiments in weekly letters home: "Grand holes are in the Alps, but if the ball went in I doubt it brassy, niblick, cleveland or skill could ever get it out."
"In Venice, with its long canals, 'Are water hazards great. The Appian Way at Rome would be a fairway flue, I'll state. A course laid out at old Vezallies would much improve the scene. Hyde Park is wasted now, it ought to be a putting green."

"But Scotland is a bonny place, it's captivated me; You cannot go a foot without You stumble on a tee. You're the leading business--get a ticket for my wife. And bid her come to Aberdeen; I've settled here for life."
"Minnis Irving, in The New York Herald."

Bare Knees Barred

New York.--Any bare knees that appear on the bathing beach at Far Rockaway next Saturday or Sunday will be covered with a police summons immediately. Capt. Thomas Myers, of the Far Rockaway precinct, has made up his mind.
"I'm tired of telling them to roll 'em up," he said, "Now I'll lock 'em up."
And if Magistrate Harry Miller feels the same way about it as he did when seen at the Far Rockaway Court each summons will cost the bearer of knees $10 or ten days in jail.

The bare knees, of course, must be feminine bare knees. Men are still exempt from Stockings--although nobody in authority at Far Rockaway could explain why. A reporter asked Capt. Myers, but the captain waved the question aside. It's not desirable. Women's knees are indecent when bare in a bathing suit and that's all there is to it! Stockings rolled below the knees won't do! Cover them--hip to heel. That's the Captain's order.

Receiver of Stolen Goods

GROCEER FINED $50.
The grocer who purchased the goods stolen last week from a Water Street provision firm was today fined $50 or 30 days imprisonment. W. J. Higgins, K.C., who appeared for the accused, made a strong plea on behalf of his client, and urged that it was not a case of malicious connivance inasmuch as nearly as much was paid for the goods as they could be bought for through the regular channels. The goods also were delivered in the absence of the accused. Judge Morris in passing sentence said he would inflict a heavier penalty, but for the fact that no trace of complicity between the purchaser and the men who stole the goods had been established.

MARRIAGE OF DESCENDANTS OF BORDER RIVALS.
A happy ending to an ancient feud took place in the private chapel of Lambeth Palace, when Lord William Percy, D.S.O., brother of the Duke of Northumberland, was married to Miss Mary Swinton.
Both the bride and bridegroom are descended from ancient Border families which were constantly at war with each other in Saxon days.
Captain George Swinton, the bride's father, is a cousin of the present owner of Swinton, Berwickshire. Another distinguished relative is Major-General E. D. Swinton, who became famous under the pen-name of "Old Luk Oie," and also during the war in connection with the invention of the tank.

SAW PARLIAMENT ABLAZE.

An old soldier of ninety-six. General Sir George Higginson, who, as a boy witnessed the burning of the Houses of Parliament in 1834, was entertained to dinner at the House of Commons by a distinguished company.
General Sir Archibald Hunter was the host, and there were present the Duke of Connaught, Mr. Chamberlain, and other members of the Cabinet. Mr. Bonar Law and members of all parties, especially Service members.
Sir George Higginson made a speech of twenty minutes, in a clear voice, in which he gave his varied recollections and reflections to the great pleasure of his audience.
He served for thirty years in the Grenadier Guards, and fought in the Crimean War.
The Lord Chancellor afterwards paid a high tribute to the speech.

"The Old Nest" has Magnificent Cast

Another milestone in history of the nickel.
One of the finest casts ever assembled will be seen in "The Old Nest," the Rupert Hughes story of mother love and American family life, that will be shown at the Nickel Theatre beginning Monday. The story is a fine version of a short-story that appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, and was produced by the Goldwyn Company.
The director, Reginald Barker, is well known for the many fine productions he has made for Goldwyn.
In the cast Mary Alden plays the leading role, that of the mother, who appears first as the young matron with her six children of school age. Then, a little older, with a young man, she is their companion and adviser. Finally, they grow to manhood and womanhood, leaving the old nest and strike out into the world for themselves. Here, the poignancy of Miss Alden's acting as the old mother is irresistible.
Other players in the cast are Helen Chadwick, Callen Landis, David Crittenden, Nick Cortez, Louise Lowery, Billie Cotton, Molly Malone, M. R. ("Lefty") Flynn, Roland Ruston, Fanny Stockbridge, and the children who played in the Booth Tarkenton "Edgar" comedies, Johnny Jones, Lucille Rickson and Buddy Messenger.

C.C.C. VS. TERRA NOVA.
Result: Terra Nova 2—C.C.C. 1.—Played on Llewellyn Grounds, June 24th, 1898.

The third League game drew another large crowd last night, the fair sex being out in full force. The C.C.C. elected to play against the slope, and soon the ball was rolling. After a minute's play they got the ball well on their opponents goal, but failed to score. Then it was as rapidly sent down and the T.N. secured a corner, but failed to convert. Right up the field the ball was then brought and a shot for goal was fumbled by the T.N. goal-keeper, which Brophy took advantage of and scored for the Cadets. After this the play was kept well down field, when suddenly Marshall threw in from touch, Pike captured the ball, nursed it along well, and with a capital shot put up the first for the Terra Nova's. Another attempt to score, shortly after, was nicely checked by Squires in goal, but just before half-time, Pike again got possession and goal number two fell to the "Dark Blues." On resuming play all seemed tired and until the close it lacked interest, being slow and with a lack of combination. Several corners were obtained by both sides but all failed and at the final whistle the score stood as recorded above. Terra Nova—2, C.C.C. 1. The teams were:—
Terra Nova—Goal, H. Chaplin; backs, N. McNelly and N. Vinnicombe;

half-backs, A. Marshall, Kent and J. Gemmill; forwards, Snow, Dowden, Pike, Forbes and Soper.
C.C.C.—Goal, Squires; backs Evans and F. Donnelly; half-backs, Murphy, Cullen and H. Donnelly; forwards, J. Vinnicombe, E. Brophy, Power, J. Branfield and G. Rowd.
Referee—F. Maynard.
Linesmen—T. O'Neil (C.C.C.); Stan Rodger (Saint Andrew).

NOTES ON THE GAME.
Both teams last night were lacking in that the forwards were constantly huddled together, very often playing the ball from one of their own side and each wants some good hustler to keep them in their places. In one of two instances the passing was bad, but if these hints are taken in the kindly spirit meant, each team will do better in future. The losers need not fear more formidable opponents as they undoubtedly can put up a good game. Squires in goal is equal to his task and saved splendidly on one or two occasions. F. Donnelly and T. Evans are true in the back line, whilst Power and Brophy, though young are success as forwards—all the others put up well, if they had only kept their positions. The Terra Nova's have several new men who played together for the first time last night. Chaplin, in goal, although he missed the first will yet do well. N. Vinnicombe at back plays a good game and is well supported by McNelly. Marshall on the right half with Kent and Gemmill can do better work by remaining in position. Pike, as centre forward is a rasher, but received very little support, as his men seemed mixed up, especially in the last half. All of them want more practice, and at their next game (July 4th.) against the C.L.B. we may expect equally good results, and better placing of the men.

Driver's Narrow Escape.

HORSE KILLED BY TRAIN AT SPANIARD'S BAY.
Mr. Jacob Barrett of Spaniard's Bay had a narrow escape from death on Wednesday, when his horse was struck and killed by a train. The accident occurred as the train was leaving the station. Mr. Barrett, who was driving on a box cart, tried to pull his animal in when he saw the train moving, but he was not quick enough. The box cart was smashed to splinters and Barrett was thrown to the ground, and so severely bruised that he had to seek medical aid. The horse was killed outright by the impact.

TAKE ST. PATRICK'S ALTAR BOYS FOR AN OUTING.
Yesterday St. Patrick's Altar boys were given an outing by Sir Michael Cashin, who spontaneously offered this gift to the boys. At 2.30 p.m. Sir Michael met the boys on their arrival and treated them to ice cream. Games were indulged in for an hour or two, and at 6 a magnificent supper was served to which the youngsters did full justice. At the close of supper, Master Joseph Michael on behalf of St. Patrick's Altar boys thanked Sir Michael and Lady Cashin for their great kindness and called for three hearty cheers for them. Return to the city was made at 8 p.m. after a most enjoyable day.

Members of Gower Street Congregation meet at 8 o'clock to-night to welcome Rev. Hammond and Mrs. Johnson. This will afford the opportunity for all to become personally acquainted with the new pastor and his family.

J. R. Smallwood who returned to the continent a few weeks ago after a brief stay here, is spending a short visit at Charlottetown. P. E. I., according to a letter received from him by a friend, Mr. Smallwood has met several relatives of his, and of his grandfather, David Smallwood, of this city, including C. R. Smallwood, K.C., a prominent lawyer and leading spirit in the P.E.I. annual exhibition. Mr. David Smallwood was born in P.E.I. and his grandson is going over the scenes of the old farm and homestead where his grandfather, great-grandfather and great-great-grandfather were born.

Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton, S.A. are now visiting various corps in Conception Bay, and on Wednesday were at Bay Roberts.

Mr. J. R. Bennett, M.H.A., who has been on a visit to Hawke's Bay and the West Coast, returned by yesterday's express after spending an enjoyable holiday.

Mr. H. J. Fanning of the Royal Stationery Company, who has been taking five months course at the Burrough's Works, Halifax, returned by the Roseland yesterday.

Frightened Horse Causes Damage.

CARMAN INJURED AND HORSE DAMAGED.
Mr. Frank McNamara's horse attached to a long cart and driven by Edward Woodfine, bolted yesterday from the top of Carter's Hill and did considerable damage. In its mad career the animal turned into Moore Street, but ran into a house on the corner, which brought it to a standstill. The driver was thrown off the cart, and the horse knocked down. Woodfine was cut about the eye and hand, and had to be attended by a doctor. The house was also damaged by the collision. Boys throwing stones started the horse.

CONCLUDING SESSION YESTERDAY.
A Marine Court of Enquiry which for some time past has been investigating the standing of the schooner Rose M. at Faval held a concluding session yesterday when H. A. Winter on behalf of the underwriters, addressed the court. Mr. C. J. Fox who represents the owners and crew also addressed the Court. The finding will be announced during the next couple of days. Judge Morris presided and the assessors were Capt. E. English, Jr. and C. S. Marshall.

With the Rod.
At Little River there was good salmon fishing last week. There are about eight rods on the river.
Advices from north say there has been good salmon fishing at Torment River and River of Ponds this season and sportsmen there have done well.
L. O. Crans of Boston who was fishing the rivers along the north west coast came up last week in his yacht for Mrs. Crane, and proceeded north again the latter part of the week.
J. L. Faunce of Philadelphia, who was fishing at Harry's Brook, went home a week ago, after a very successful season.
Humber river is now in good condition for fishing, and salmon are plentiful in the river. At Hard Scramble the salmon are numerous and on Monday morning one man landed two in a short time, one weighing 20 lbs. and the other 14. The fish were just in from the sea.—Western Star.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

Tenders will be received at the Office until noon on Monday, the 21st day of August, 1922, for two suitable Steamers to ply between St. John's, Nfld., and the West Indies.
The steamers to be classed X 100 A1 at Lloyds (England), and to have a speed of at least 12 knots. They must have about 2000 tons dead weight capacity, be fitted with all modern improvements, and have first class passenger accommodation for 20 persons.
Under the proposed service a steamer will leave St. John's every 3 weeks, calling at Havana, Jamaica, Porto Rico, Martinique, Barbados, Trinidad and other islands in the West Indies, making one call each trip at the above ports. The service to be continuous throughout the whole of each year, and the contract to be for a term of 5 years to be computed from the date of commencement of the service. The service to start with one steamer in October or November next; the second steamer will take up the work in October, 1923. Tenders to specify the rate per round trip at which such service will be performed, which rate will also cover the carriage of mail by the said steamers. Envelopes to be marked "Tenders for Steam Service to West Indies."
Further particulars may be obtained on application to this Department. The Government do not bind themselves to accept the lowest or any tender.

LAST NIGHT'S BASEBALL.

B.L.S. 11 RUNS—RED LIONS 7.
The score of innings:—
B.L.S. 1 1 5 0 2 2 0—11
Red Lions . 2 0 0 4 0 1 0—7
Baseball interest has greatly increased during the past week, judging by the attendance that was present at St. George's Field last evening to witness the game between the Red Lions and B.L.S. when the fans saw the darling Lion's go down to defeat at the hands of the Irishmen by a score of 11 runs to 7 in a game that was marked by loose fielding, but featured by good timely hitting on both sides. Although the fielding was not up to the mark in last night's game, this was overruled by the fans who greatly enjoyed seeing the old pill knocked all over the lot, while the players on the bases excelled themselves in very clever stealing. In the first innings the Irishmen batted the Lion's for one run. Cooney was on the mound for catcher Hiltz. The Lion's turn at bat connected with Aspell's slant for two timely singles which brought their score two runs in the first frame. The B.L.S. squared one across in the second by getting stealing. They blanked the Lion's in this frame, and Cooney's offerings in the third accounted five runs for the Irish. The Red Lion's, quite undaunted, waited a while and managed to score. The pitching of Cooney and Aspell was all that could be desired. O'Leary was called in on the mound for the B.L.S. in the sixth innings, and pitched one of the best games, having struck-out several of the Lion's noted batters, while he received able support from his team mates in the field. A feature of the game in the sixth was O'Leary's hit to deep centre with one on second, and he raced around the sacks at a lively clip scoring a runner ahead of him. The ball was well fielded and Stan reached the home plate safely. It was indeed one of the longest hits of the season and O'Leary received a great hand out from the fans. Nothing materially happened in the last frame. Both sides being blanked. Game over. B.L.S. 11 runs. Lion's 7.

INTER-TOWN SERIES.

The Grand Falls baseballers will be leaving the inland city by the incoming express, with special sleeper attached, which is due here early Monday afternoon next. The car attached will be covered with bunting, while the colors of the paper town will figure prominently in the display. Upon their arrival they will be met by the executive of the Baseball League, and escorted from the station to the Seaman's Institute by Motor Cars, which have been kindly placed at their disposal by several baseball fans. Mr. A. A. Holmes, the general manager of the Seaman's Institute, has made the necessary preparations for their comfort, and will do all in his power to make their stay at this up-to-date holiday a pleasant one. The party will consist of 15 ball-players and about thirty fans, including the scorer and official umpire. Great interest has been manifested during the week over the approaching inter-town series, while general enthusiasm prevails in the near-by towns, and villages, many of whom will visit the city to witness the games.

CITY PRACTICE.

Capt. Charlie Quick of the City team has ordered the players out for a practice at St. George's Field to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon at 4 o'clock, when a stiff work-out in fielding and batting will be held. Any player who has the regular St. John's baseball uniform in their possession are asked to report same to Capt. Quick. Several of these uniforms have been misplaced since the last series, and it would help the city team considerably that they be located and handed to Mr. Harnett at the Imperial Tobacco Co. Ltd.

The following players from the various clubs have been chosen by the select committee to report for practice to-morrow:—

CUBS:—J. Canning, J. Murphy, F. Phelan, W. Gossé, E. Clouston, Watson, T. Manning, C. DeMere.
B.L.S.:—D. J. French, Aspell, O'Donnell, O'Keefe, E. Johnson.
LIONS:—A. Hiltz, C. Quick, Cooney, Walter Callahan, A. Martin, Ned Martin.
WANDERERS:—W. McCrindle, Donnelly, Churchill, Dillon.

TO-NIGHT'S FOOTER.

To-night's football game will be played between the C.L.B. and Star. A good game should be the result.

THE GRAND FALLS BALL TEAM.

An Introduction.
(By BRUD)
The paper town is sending down, I hear, a bunch of batters, and press reports say these aggrise a name that really matters. So I must stay from making hay and hike me to the city, where I can meet the battery fleet and shake a knowing mitty. To Charlie Shroet who runs the boat and "Popple" Dean who mates her, to F. McVane the say coxswain and Billy Gossé who rates her, I'll say my hat and spread my man (and it has placid process), while all the crew shouts "Howdy do!" and "Tower, don't you know us?" "Why sure, Sebat, this where you're at, and Crawley, Lumpin' Moses! And Cohen, you?—well then 'is true there'll be no picking roses. And "Darby," well, you make me yell, and "Buck" is that you grinning, that Foley there?—I'll lose my hair, boys, if you are not winning. Hello! LeMoine, you're lookin' fine, (be god, the still keeps leaking) and Petrie, you, and Jack Brown too, that Grace and "Cater speaking?" You see 'is plain I can't restrain the spirit of my sties, who left their hay upon the dray and joined the grand stand briers. So now boys spin and run tight in and mix a hummin' batter; 'is all about you'll carry out the things that really matter.

Municipal Council.

WEEKLY MEETING.
The regular meeting of the Municipal Council was held yesterday afternoon. The full Board was present. The Deputy Minister of Finance acknowledged receipt of cheque for $48,187.46, on account of Interest City Debt and Contribution St. John's Fire Department.
The Inspector General stated the members of his Department would, as requested by the Council, prevent further damage being done trees and shrubs in the small parks by boys, also that, with regard to traffic conditions, New Gower Street, between Adelaide and Lime Streets, he would instruct the police on duty to give particular attention to same.
Health Officer Brehm recommended that the owners of house No. 6 Prince's Street be compelled to remove same, as, owing to its dilapidated and unsanitary condition, it was a menace to the health of the neighbourhood. A copy of his communication is to be forwarded the owner.
The condition of Water Street sidewalks was the subject of a lengthy discussion, and the City Engineer is to notify owners of premises along this street to have repairs made within a limited time, at the expiration of which should they fail to comply other steps will be taken.
Mr. E. J. Goodland wrote in reference to the condition of Prince of Wales Street, between Pennywell and Freshwater Roads. The City Engineer is to visit the locality, and see what can be done to remedy the cause of complaint.
The application of A. Rice to shingle roof of dwelling, Freshwater Road, was referred to the Engineer.
It was pointed out to the Board that in many cases where persons open up streets for purpose of cleaning traps, etc., they leave same in such a condition as to be dangerous to pedestrians, and as a result of which the Corporation are put to considerable expense in making repairs. In future all applying for permits must deposit the sum of $1.00 before same will be issued.
A committee of Council, consisting of Messrs. Dowden, Outerbridge and Ryan, were appointed to interview the Reid Newfoundland Company, in connection with Water Street pavement repairs, as the Council is of opinion immediate action is necessary. Permits are to be issued the following: R. W. Butler, dwelling, Gear Street; Lloyd Smith, dwelling, Mayor Avenue; provided they pay their proportion of cost, according to frontage, for water and sewerage extension; E. Duff, extension, 64 Monroe Street.
The City Clerk reported that during the past week some twenty citizens had been summoned for non-payment of Taxes, and that judgments have been obtained in each case. Similar proceedings will be taken during the coming week.
The reports of the Health Officer, City Engineer, Sanitary Supervisor, and other departmental heads were tabled and discussed. Accounts for week were ordered paid.
There being no further business, the meeting then adjourned.

AUGUST FURNITURE EVENT.

The Big Alteration Sale

Now Proceeding at the Royal Stores and continuing for 15 days. Drastic Reductions have been made on the prices of all kinds of Furniture. This is not a Sale of "Special Lines" but includes everything we have in the Store. Stocks must be reduced to make room for impending building alterations. Everything is offered at the lowest prices quoted in years.

The Spirit of Progress

When growth ceases decay sets in. We must progress or fall by the wayside.—Anon.
The growth of this business from a small store to its present commanding position in the community, confirms our belief that the shopping public is behind us. Without your friendship and support we could not have attained this enviable position. But growth must never cease, and circumstances now permit us to carry out plans which have been held in abeyance for some time. We are putting up a new building alongside of our Furniture Store on Duckworth Street.
To get the work done properly, much room is needed for artisans and workmen. The present store is full of Furniture and it is necessary to move it out to give the carpenters a chance to work.
We are going to move it out through the front door—at drastically reduced prices, and every man and woman who believes in economy is going to help us.
We are going to pay you in savings that have not and cannot be equalled.

The stock includes the most satisfactory collection of Fine Sets and Separate Pieces we have ever been able to offer. In style and workmanship nothing is left to be desired. The exceptionally low prices have been made possible by careful purchasing—taking advantage of breaks in the market, the need of manufacturers for ready money, and the securing of discontinued lines at practically our own prices.

You will find it greatly to your advantage to buy now, and to consider future needs—for it is unlikely that many of these opportunities to save money on Furniture of Quality will occur again in the near future.

- BEDROOM FURNITURE. Bureaus and Stands, Dressing Tables, Chiffoniers, Brass Bedsteads, PARLOR FURNITURE. 3 and 5 Piece Suites, Davenport, Morris Chairs
- DINING ROOM BEDROOM. Sideboards, Buffets, Extension Tables, Dining Chair Sets, HALL STANDS, OFFICE FURNITURE, CENTRE TABLES, WARDROBES and OVERMANTELS.

Remember—the Sale starts to-morrow. We want you to accept this as a personal invitation to attend. Let nothing interfere. Watch for our big advertisement in Saturday's papers.

Employment and Unemployment.

It is passing strange how the Government Press and supporters make such tremendous potholer over any reports concerning unemployment and relief in Newfoundland. They apparently would have it that there is no such thing as out of work people in this country, when in every other land under the sun there is a dearth of employment, and Governments have their hands full in efforts and attempts to cope with a situation which does not appear to lessen itself. Late newspapers from England are by no means so sensitive to conditions there as some of our contemporaries in this city. They do not apologise for making it known that much unemployment exists and that measures have to be taken to cope therewith. A Cabinet Committee of the Imperial Parliament is just now considering the whole question of unemployment and endeavouring to arrange a scheme which will carry those out of work over the winter. Various public improvements will be undertaken, during the autumn and winter months, should circumstances appear to justify such being put into operation. But there will be an end to the doles. Work of sorts has to be found, as it has been discovered that the system of weekly doles in cash has undermined the original independence of the workers, and they now are beginning to look upon these payments as being due them regularly. When the Cabinet Committee reports, the problem will be discussed and such remedial measures only as are absolutely necessary will be put in hand. Apparently similar measures as adopted by the Government of this Colony during the past months have not been marked with the success expected. The fact that a couple of detachments of police have been sent out over the line recently would give rise to the suspicion that all is not so glowing as we have been led to believe. The message from Badger to Sir Michael Cashin, published in the daily press yesterday, reveals a situation hitherto unheard of in our labor history. As it reads, it is a striking commentary on the methods adopted by the Government to relieve the unemployment congestion. The men were given work but the scale of pay left them nothing to maintain their families after they had each paid ordinary living expenses away from home. Hence they quit. They could not earn enough to keep their dependents and themselves, and that has been the real story of pulpwood and pit-prop cutting, no less than up country road-making. The laborers exist; their families starve, and no red-blooded man is going to stand for that kind of a deal. That the situation along the line is serious the fact that the police have been ordered out is supporting testimony. Let us hope, however, that despite much provocation, there will be no lawlessness or acts of violence on the part of the men involved. Chapter one of the story has not yet been completed. There may be other developments ere the writing of Chapter two is begun.

GRAND FALLS WIN SECOND GAME GRAVE DANGER FROM FOREST FIRE.

GRAND FALLS, To-day. Special to Evening Telegram. Grand Falls turned tables on the city yesterday, winning the second game by two goals to nil in a good contest in which the city was outplayed. The first half found the city playing against sun and working hard, but Pitcher scored a great shot near goal. In the second half, Grand Falls forwards, combining well, forced city to defence, Bellany scoring a wonderful wing shot. City shooting was poor, but goalkeeper saved magnificent. Meaney not playing as he was hurt Tuesday. There is great interest in the final to-night. Forest fire still raging. Large patrol constantly watching. It winds turn westerly Grand Falls will be in great danger. Flames lit up sky last night, and illuminated surrounding country for miles.

Memorial Flower Service AT SANDY POINT.

(Western Star) A very impressive Flower Service was held at Sandy Point on Sunday, August 6, the Feast of the Transfiguration. The early morning was threatening, but as the day advanced it became beautifully fine. The service began at 3.30 p.m., and consisted of a Special Form comprising Versicles, Psalm, Lesson and Prayers; also Hymns A. & M. 165, 221, 57. The Rector preached an interesting sermon from the text "The world passeth away, but he that doeth the will of God, endureth for ever."—1 Ep. St. John II, 17. The chief theme of the preacher was the due care and respect for the resting places of the Christian dead. In St. Stephen's churchyard lie the bodies of persons from all parts of Bay St. George, and among them the late Rev. H. Lind, a former well-remembered and beloved clergyman of Sandy Pt., whose grave was not forgotten on Sunday. This is still the burying-place for the Church people of Stephenville Crossing and St. George's, who must return to this mother of settlements at the last. In the still older graveyard lower down on the extremity of the Point, is buried another clergyman of this parish, Rev. Thos. Boland, who lost his life in ministering to his people. Unfortunately this burying-ground lies so far out on the sandy flats that it is in danger of being completely buried by the ever-shifting sand. The service in the church was short and was concluded by singing the well-known hymns "Within the churchyard" and "Side by side," during which the priest and choir walked down the aisle, and followed by the congregation, proceeded to the churchyard. Here two more hymns were sung, and appropriate prayers recited. The graves were beautifully decorated with flowers, a really surprising profusion of floral tributes having been brought for the occasion. The church was also brightened by a large number of potted plants lent by members of the congregation. The little God's Acre of St. Stephen's, Sandy Point, amid its encroaching trees is at all times a peaceful and lovely spot, but never has it appeared more attractive than on this occasion, nor more worthy of the care bestowed upon it.—COM.

The Governor desires, through the courtesy of the press, for thank all those who were so good as to assemble at the wharf and bid him farewell. Nominally going on leave he was taken aback by the number who wished to greet him. If there were any to whom he could not speak personally he asks them to pardon the omission and to accept the assurance that he was greatly touched. On board S.S. HIS DIARY.

August 17.—I did have the enjoyment of witnessing the first game of football between a team from St. John's and one made up of athletes from Grand Falls, at the latter place, last night. The men from the Capital did win but by a small margin, the total score being one goal to none. The second game is to be played this evening, the paper men being sanguine of a win for their team, the which, if so be it should happen, will make the final all the more interesting. A great fire is raging in the nearby forest here and there is great need for constant watching, as the town will be in grave danger should a change of wind turn the flames in its direction. The death of the founder of the mills and town of Grand Falls—Lord Northcliffe—was much lamented, and memorial services were held in all the churches on the day of his burial, the same being attended by the whole population.

Fight to a Finish.

BOTH SIDES DETERMINED. From late Cape Breton papers received by yesterday's cross country mail we gather the impression that the striking miners there are confident of victory and that the enforcement of their demands for 1921 rates of wage will be granted by the Coal Corporation. The officials have made no comment on the situation and there is considerable speculation as to what their future attitude will be. Indications of the settlement of the United States soft coal strike leads many people to believe that the struggle in Nova Scotia will be long drawn out, and that the company are prepared for a fight to the finish.

Mysterious Disappearance

ANOTHER TRAGEDY OF THE SEA. The mysterious disappearance of a fisherman of Burin, and his boat, is reported in a message to the Deputy Minister of Customs from Inspector J. Deo. It appears that yesterday morning Albert Mayo and his two sons went fishing, 8 miles South of Doding Head. The father sent the sons off in their dory, whilst he lay in to the boat. The boys on returning found no trace of either boat or their father. They rowed to land and on reporting the matter to Inspector Deo, the latter at once put the Revenue cruiser Daisy to sea in an endeavour to locate the missing men. A search over a large area availed nothing, and no tidings of the man or boat could be found. The weather at the time of the happening was calm, and the disappearance of the man and boat cannot be accounted for.

Obituary.

MICHAEL O'REGAN. Mr. Michael O'Regan, a prominent business man of the city, passed away suddenly at 8 o'clock this morning. The deceased, who was not feeling well yesterday, remained indoors at his residence, Water Street. When the dread summons came this morning, Rev. P. Kennedy and Dr. Mitchell were called in attendance. The latter pronounced death due to heart failure. Son of the late John and Catherine O'Regan, the deceased was born at St. John's forty-eight years ago. For a number of years he conducted a butcher's store on LeMarchant Road, subsequently taking over the premises of the late Denis Dooly on Duckworth Street, where he has since established a flourishing business. Courteous and generous to a fault, his splendid disposition won him a host of friends. To all calls he responded freely and any worthy cause had his unfailing support. He leaves to mourn their loss three sisters, Mrs. J. P. Cash, Misses Mary and Kate, and one brother, Rev. T. O'Regan of Mount Cashel, to whom the Telegram extends sympathy.

His Grace the Archbishop at St. Brides.

CONFIRMATION AND DEDICATION SERVICES.

BRANCH, To-day. Special to Evening Telegram. His Grace the Archbishop, accompanied by the Very Rev. Fathers McGrath and O'Flaherty, made an episcopal visitation of St. Brides parish Monday and Tuesday. Arriving on Monday afternoon at Ship Cove the episcopal party was met by the pastor Rev. Fr. Ryan, and the people of the settlement, and was given a most enthusiastic reception. A procession having been formed, all proceeded to the church, where the sacrament of confirmation was administered to the candidates present, after which His Grace addressed the people, congratulating them on the marks of prosperity which were visible on all sides, and thanking them for their love and loyalty to the church, which was evidenced by the cordial reception given to him. After a short delay at the hospitable abode of Mrs. Michael Brennan his Grace embarked for St. Brides, which place was reached at five o'clock. On rounding Cross Point a flotilla of motor boats met the party and escorted them to the landing. His Grace and clergy proceeded to the Presbytery to be the guests for the night of the Pastor. On Tuesday the first Mass was celebrated by the Archbishop, followed by the administration of the sacrament of confirmation. Then his Grace in choice language thanked the people for their warm reception and praised this ancient custom of honouring the representative of the Holy Father. After luncheon the episcopal party accompanied by Father Ryan left for Branch to dedicate the new church. Here the people gave the Archbishop a reception worthy of the occasion, and one which surpassed all previous efforts. The new church having been blessed His Grace administered Confirmation, and then addressed the large congregation expressing the pleasure it gave him to see their church completed, and set aside for the worship of the Most High. He congratulated them on the happy unity that existed among them, which enabled so much work to be accomplished under many difficulties. Following the sermon, assisted by Rev. Fathers McGrath and O'Flaherty, his Grace imparted Benediction of the most Blessed Sacrament, this bringing to a close the visitation of St. Brides Parish with the firing of guns and sounding of church bells. His Grace resumed his journey taking with him the best wishes of his people and pleasant recollections of his visit. The number of children who, during the visitation received confirmation was one hundred.

"A Rotten Law," Says Judge Morris.

The charge of having in his possession a bottle of liquor contrary to the Prohibition Act, preferred against a young man of the West End, who was arrested some time ago for being drunk, was dismissed in court to-day by Judge Morris. Higgins, K.C., appeared for the defence and admitted the fact of possession. The Government analyst, who was called in evidence, stated the liquor was 15 per cent. overproof. Mr. Higgins made strong objection to people being haled before the court because they happen to be found with a bottle of liquor in their possession. When the accused was put on the stand he stated the liquor was obtained at Stafford's on a regular prescription. In answer to some comments by the counsel for the defence, Judge Morris asked why he and other leaders did not put a stop to the present conditions regarding the prohibition laws, which were turning reputable citizens into hypocrites. Mr. Higgins in reply stated that he and others could not have the law made as they would like it. Inspector General Hutchings—"The police have to enforce the law as it stands." Judge Morris—"It is a rotten law."

The Governor and His Ministers.

Powers and Prerogatives of the Crown.

(By an Ex.M.H.A.)

POLITICAL INCIDENT RECALLED.
The spring session of the Legislature in 1881 was marked with warm discussions in the Government ranks in regard to the Prime Minister (Hon. James Reid) brought matters to a head. The strife in the Government was so keen that there certainly would have been a split even if no untoward event had not happened. Mr. Kent, in his place in the House of Assembly openly accused the Prime Minister of conspiracy with the Judges, the lawyers and a number of the House to defeat the Government Bill fixing the value to be given to sterling money in the payment of official salaries.

JUDGE ROBINSON'S ATTITUDE.
Judge Robinson, of the Supreme Court, has always contended that sterling could only mean British money, i.e. dollars at 4s. 2d. It had been the practice to use two sterling coins, one a colonial sterling dollar at 4s. 6d. and another designated a dollar sterling at 4s. 2d. His Lordship Mr. Justice Robinson petitioned the House against the Prime Minister's claim to be paid his salary in British sterling. In his debate on the question, Mr. Hugh Hughes (there were no "Knights" of the realm here in those days), leader of the Opposition, stated that Mr. Justice had not consulted his colleagues before replying to an accusation to which the Governor took exception. Mr. Justice contradicted him, and he did it in his usual curt and irritating manner. "He consulted me," said the ex-Attorney-General. "Then, he consulted you," replied Mr. Hughes. "He would be sure to put his hand to it."

THE MINISTRY DISMISSED.
However, the accusation in question appeared in the newspapers and the Governor wrote to the Colonial Secretary asking for an explanation. Mr. Reid replied that he did not consider himself called upon to give an account of his utterances as a member of the Legislature to his Excellency. Immediately on receiving this communication, Sir Alexander Bannerman dismissed his Ministry and called upon the leader of the Opposition (Mr. Hoyle) to form a new administration. Mr. Hoyle selected his Government and announced its formation to the Assembly.

DISSOLUTION AND GENERAL ELECTION.
The House was immediately dissolved, and a general election took place in April, 1881. The result completely changed the position of political parties. No one could doubt now that Sir Alexander was fully justified in dismissing the Premier and his Ministry under the circumstances, he (the Premier) having refused to withdraw or apologise. The Hon. Thomas Talbot ("the Protector of the Judges"), one of the most eminent and eminent officials in the public service says, in his short history of the colony: "No Governor fit for the position would have taken any other course than the one adopted by Sir Alexander Bannerman." The most satisfactory answer to all objections made against both the Governor and Mr. Hoyle is the result of the appeal to the constituencies; the working majority of their own party was obtained to sustain their action.

AN EMINENT AUTHORITY'S OPINION.
Let us see what the Earl of Halsbury, Lord High Chancellor of England practically from 1858 to 1905, has to say regarding this matter of dissolution. In volume seven of "Laws of England," under section 72, I find the following:—
"The Sovereign may legally dissolve the Ministry at any time by discharging it from the exercise of its power and by asserting the personal wishes of the Sovereign in opposition to the wishes of the Parliament," and ultimately of the electorate, is clearly recognized as a unconstitutional; though in cases where the Ministry still retains the confidence of the House of Commons, but the Crown has reason to believe that the latter no longer represents the sense of the electorate, the dismissal of the Ministry, or the dissolution of Parliament, would be constitutional; and cases of emergency might conceivably arise where, through the absence or incapacity of the Ministry, the exercise of the power of dismissal would be constitutional, justifiable and proper, in order to prevent the adoption of "It is, however, a clearly recognized course of action ruinous to the nation."

"Under the modern usage, though though in dismissing his ministers the King may seem to be acting independently and without advice, there is no act of the Crown relating to public government for which some person is not responsible to Parliament, and that in all cases the incoming Ministry are constructively responsible for the dismissal of their predecessors."
"Under the modern usage, though nominally dismissed by the Crown, the Ministry are in reality dependent upon the goodwill of the House of Commons for their continuance in office, and the exercise of the power of dismissal is rarely required. An adverse vote in the House of Commons upon a Government measure at the end of working, Scalloped and Hemmed, Reg. 25c. each for . . . 21c.
"The continuance of the Ministry in office is also dependent ultimately upon the goodwill of the electorate, and where, upon a dissolution the latter declares itself against the Government by returning a majority opposed to its policy, it is usual for the Ministry either to resign immediately or to await an adverse vote in the new Parliament. In some instances, however, the resignation has been deferred until Parliament has met and a vote of want of confidence has been passed. Anyway, the Crown is justified in dismissing a Ministry in whom it feels unable to repose confidence or for want of ability or fitness."

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT IT.
In his "Introduction to the Study of the Law of the Constitution," A. V. Dicey, K.C., Hon. D.C.L., observes:—"There are certain combinations of circumstances under which the Crown has a right to dismiss a Ministry who command a Parliamentary majority, and to dissolve the Parliament by the prerogative, in short, of dissolution may be constitutionally so employed as to override the will of the representative body, or, as is properly called, "The People's House of Parliament." This looks at first sight like saying that in certain cases the prerogative can be so used as to set at naught the will of the nation. But in reality it is far otherwise. "The discretionary power of the Crown occasionally may be, and according to constitutional precedents sometimes ought to be, used to strip an existing House of Commons of its authority. But the reason why the House can in accordance with the constitution be deprived of power and of existence is that an occasion has arisen in which there is fair reason to suppose that the opinion of the House is not the opinion of the electorate. A dissolution is in its essence an appeal from the legal to the political sovereignty. A dissolution is allowed, or necessary, whenever the wishes of the Legislature are, or may fairly be presumed to be, different from the wishes of the nation."
"Now, then, if by "constitutional" we mean "in conformity with the fundamental principles of the constitution," we must without hesitation pronounce the conduct of Sir Alexander Bannerman constitutional, that is, in conformity with the principles of the constitution as they are now understood. He believed that the country did not approve of the policy pursued by the House of Assembly. He was right in this belief. No modern constitutionalist will dispute that the authority of the House of Assembly is derived from its representing the will of the country, and that the chief object of a dissolution is to ascertain what the will of Parliament coincides with the will of the people. As a matter of fact, the right of dissolution is the right of appeal to the people, and thus underlies all those constitutional conventions which, in one way or another, are intended to produce harmony between the legal and the political sovereignty power."
VOTING POWER OF THE WORKING CLASSES.
Speaking of an appeal to the electorate reminds me that things are widely different from what they were

No More Doles.

NEW SCHEME OF BENEFITS FOR UNEMPLOYMENT.

Details of a scheme of unemployment and insurance benefit, under which doles would be no longer necessary, and even the State contribution to insurance might be withdrawn were outlined by Mr. McCurdy at Northampton.

By a simple system he had worked out there would be obtained from this scheme—for the boot and shoe trade, for instance—1s. 3d. a week from 20-000 women workers. That would equal £65,000. Two shillings a week from 100,000 men would produce

£520,000, and a subsidy of 3d. a pair on 100 million pairs of boots would be £1,250,000.

That, with the State contribution, gave a total of £2,035,000.

From this fund they would be able to pay to workers 40s. a week in the case of men, and 25s. to women, for sickness, accident, disability pension; and an old age pension at the age of sixty-five, in addition to the existing medical benefits.

It would also provide unemployment pay at the rate of 20s. a week for women and 35s. for men.

The Wizard of the North

Walter Scott was born in Edinburgh on August 18, 1771. His father was a lawyer, the first of the Scott line to leave the open country for the town. For a man who wrote such a prodigious number of works Scott was surprisingly late in getting started, being 34 years old when his first original work appeared, entitled "The Lay of the Last Minstrel." From that moment until his death on September 21, 1832, he was, with the possible exception of Byron, the most popular writer in English. When the public seemed to be tiring of his long romances in verse, he turned to novel writing, and in 1814, when he was 43, he came into his career of greatness with "Waverley." For 18 years, novel after novel followed in rapid succession, stirring romances of history or colourful tales of Scottish life. They were all published anonymously until the financial disaster of 1825 made it wise to reveal the author's name. Fully a dozen of the Waverley Novels, if not more, might be included in any list of 100 best novels, and many lovers of Scott would even then think that one or two might be added. He was, as Stevenson remarked, "the king of the romances." "Waverley," "Ivanhoe," "The Heart of Midlothian," and "Kenilworth" are representative of Scott at his best. But "Old Mortality," "Quentin Durward," "The Talisman," "Guy Rennie," "The Fortunes of Nigel," "The Antiquary," "St. Rollox's Well," "Rob Roy," and others have all been ranked as favorites among the innumerable admirers of the romances written by "The Wizard of the North."

The marriage of Miss Beatrice Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hunt of this town, to Mr. Jos. Skeans, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Work For The Winter.

NEW PLANS TO RELIEVE UNEMPLOYMENT.

The Government has decided to set up a special committee to consider afresh the problem of the present unemployment in the country, with a view to further remedial measures. Mr. Lloyd George, in the House of Commons, informed Captain Wedgwood Benn that a Cabinet Committee had already had the whole question of unemployment during the coming winter under consideration, and that it was expected to report at an early date. The new Cabinet Committee that had been appointed would also review the whole position of trade and unemployment.

Meanwhile steps were being taken to circulate local authorities with a view to the submitting of schemes of public work which might be undertaken during the autumn and winter with Government assistance, should circumstances appear to justify such schemes being put into operation. Lloyd's Weekly.

Placentia Notes.

The body of Wm. Feuro who was drowned in April last, was discovered on Wednesday floating near the shore, in the South East Arm. The burial took place that afternoon, a large number of citizens following the remains to their last resting place. It will be a source of consolation to his family to know he now rests in God's acre.

S.S. Daisy arrived here Sunday afternoon, having on board, his Grace Archbishop Roche and suite. His Grace is conducting a visitation of this section of his diocese. This morning his Grace left for St. Bride's.

Father Dee's Garden Party, at Argentinia, was the big event of yesterday. A 2.30 p.m. special train left here, taking about 260 people. Trains ran from Argentinia at 7.30 p.m. and midnight. The weather man rose to the occasion and granted us a day of beautiful weather. Father Dee and his good people gave us a day of excellent sport and full of pleasure. The field tastily decorated with bunting looked good, and contained many sources of amusement and attraction. Nice teas were served by the lady tableholders. A football match between a team from Argentinia and Placentia, in which the latter won by one goal, was keenly contested. Both sides put forward good men who gave a splendid exhibition of good football and sportsmanship. Mr. Matt Murphy of Placentia refereed the game to the satisfaction of everybody. Father Dee and his people vied with one another to help us enjoy ourselves. Hospitality and good fellowship was the order of the day. At night a dance was held in the Parish Hall, which was greatly enjoyed, and it was with regret we heard the "All aboard for Placentia" which heralded the end of a perfect day. We understand the returns were away above expectations. Mention must be made of the courtesy of Conductor Connolly, Engineer Mulrooney and train crew, who were most solicitous of our comfort.

The Danish schooner "Gertrud" has entered to load fish from T. P. Kemp & Co.

Good salmon fishing is still to be had in the South East River. The fishing all season has been the best for years. A large number of anglers obtained splendid sport.

Mr. E. Sinnott, M.H.A. and Mr. Windeler of St. John's are camped on the South East River.

Miss Annie Lawlor and Miss Eva Harris of St. John's spent a vacation at "Phippard", South East. They speak in admiration of the grandeur of nature around Placentia. Miss May Bartlett and Miss Mary Fitzgerald, St. John's, who are annual visitors spent their vacation at "Phippard" South East.

We are glad to be able to state that the Ferry question, which aroused a storm of protest, has been satisfactorily and amicably settled.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morley are visiting Mrs. Fitzpatrick at the "Swana."

Judge and Mrs. Kent are spending a vacation at "Fulford's", South East.

We extend our sincere sympathy to Captain Murphy of the S.S. Argyle whose mother died at Odein a few days ago.

Not only do the skirts of the evening gowns cover the ankle—many of them touch the floor.

Velvet hats in medium size are in great demand for fall wear. Many hats of black velvet show appliqued white velvet, or vice versa.

A toque of black velvet has a cuff of gold corded tissue, while the black velvet cape accompanying it is lined and collared with the tissue.

The beaded blouse has lost no favor, in fact, it is gaining steadily. Most of them are made with the adjustable high or low collar, making a V opening in front.

Red, copper and gray are featured in wraps and coats. The blending of Persian colors is good; illustrated in a gown made half of gray and half Persian red.

Collars are coming in again; even lingerie collars, which have been steadily ignored. Now the blouse dresses and every sort of costume show necks made suitable to wear with collars.

Circular panels, circular skirts—everything is circular. The draped made by circular panels is very graceful, many of the afternoon and evening models shown in prominent stores are made of these lines.

New Use For Radio.

Radio is being employed by the police in American cities to combat crime. Chiefs are installing broadcasting-stations and receiving sets and it will not be long before every criminal will be advertised to the world as soon as his crime is discovered and reported. The new machinery will be far more efficacious than the telegraph and the telephone which were long considered as the acme of perfection. By employing radio the escape of a criminal will be made many times more difficult, and the policeman with his radio equipment will be in constant touch with all police centres. The criminals are more than being equalled in the battle of wits.

Fashion Plates.

The Home Dressmaker should keep a Catalogue Scrap Book of our Pattern Cuts. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

A NEW AND PLEASING STYLE FOR SLENDER FIGURES.

Pattern 3580 was used for this design. It is cut in 3 Sizes: 16, 18 and 20 years. An 18 year size will require 6 1/2 yards of 40 inch material. Voile, foulard, challis figured or embroidered batiste, linen, satin, pongee, poplin and stamie could be used for this model. The width of the skirt at the foot is 2 yards. Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 15c. in silver or stamps.

A "TREN" AND SIMPLE HOUSE OF WORK DRESS.

Pattern 3617 is here attractively illustrated. It is cut in 7 Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size will require 6 1/2 yards of 27 inch material. Figured percale with banding, piping or folds of a plain contrasting color would be pleasing for this. Gingham, chambray, lawn, saten, mohair, repp and poplin are serviceable and appropriate. The width of the skirt at the foot is about 2 yards. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 15c. in silver or stamps.

Danger Threatens Cape Breton Collieries.

One Mine Flooded and May Never be Operated.—Permanent Militia at Scene of Trouble.—Nationalists Recapture Dundalk.—Minnesota Swept by Forest Fire.

DESTROYING COAL MINES.

SYDNEY, Aug. 17. One mine is declared lost from flooding, and practically all the collieries in the Southern Cape Breton coal areas are in gravest danger to-night, seventy-two hours after the beginning of the Nova Scotia coal strike. The flooded mine is number 10, at the Coal Company officials say it never again be operated while the most optimistic say it could not be dewatered in less than a year. As to the other mines the general opinion is that a great catastrophe is imminent if the pumps and safety equipment are not manned within forty-eight hours. Company officials state that already tremendous damage has been done. Officials working at the pumps have not been able to control the intake of water in the mines. Both parties to the dispute presented an unyielding front in statements to-day. No disturbances of moment so far in the strike.

MILITIA IN CAPE BRETON.

OTTAWA, Aug. 17. Under authority of the Militia Act and in response to further requisition from the officer commanding the district, the Department of Militia is sending five hundred additional troops to the disturbed mining areas in Nova Scotia. This will make approximately one thousand members of the permanent Militia which have been sent to the strike area, in addition to non-permanent Militia available at orders of the District Officer.

DUNDALK RECAPTURED.

BELFAST, Aug. 17. Recapture of Dundalk by National army troops from the Irish insurgents who occupied the town a few days ago, is confirmed here, this afternoon. Hundreds of Irregulars were taken prisoners.

FATAL FOREST FIRES.

DULUTH, MINN., Aug. 17. Six known dead, hundreds homeless at least two towns wiped out and a dozen others in imminent danger, was the apparent toll to-night of a series of forest fires which swept northeastern Minnesota to-day, causing the worst conflagration since 1918, when four hundred lost their lives. Drought conditions have increased the menace to alarming proportions and to-night more than two thousand are fighting fires in various sections.

CHINESE GOVERNMENT NEAR COLLAPSE.

PEKIN, Aug. 17. The attempt to revive popular government in China is on the verge of collapse, according to a survey of conditions brought to the attention of the foreign legations. Military leaders are openly defying the Government. Cabinet Ministers are refusing to assume the responsibilities of their posts. The Treasury is empty and civil employees being unpaid, have quit their jobs.

OBSEQUIES OF NORTHCLIFFE.

LONDON, Aug. 17. Viscount Northcliffe, England's foremost publicist was laid to rest, this afternoon in St. Marylebone Cemetery in Finchley with services of much simplicity and beauty. The funeral was solemnized at noon in Westminster Abbey.

Last Cruise of the "Raleigh."

Flagship Which Made History is Now a Total Wreck at Forteau.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

To accomplish one of the greatest feats of navigation in modern times and then, but a few short months later, to become a total wreck on the coast of Labrador . . . that is the sad fate of H.M.S. Raleigh, one of the newest and finest light cruisers in the British Navy. But two short days before I looked down from the fighting top of the great cruiser over her vast decks, over her guns, her boats, over all the innumerable gadgets that crowd the decks of a modern warship. On Sunday previous to the wreck, I had lunched with the Captain and his officers on board the ship, I had laughed and joked with them, had visited the great engine rooms, looked with amazement at the enormous boilers, seen and marvelled at the extraordinary ingenuity of the minds which had conceived the intricate mechanism of this engine of war and peace.

AN ENGINE OF PEACE.

War, one might say, yes, but peace, how could a warship have anything to do with peace. Nevertheless the Raleigh, during her brief career, for she was only commissioned last year, was a great force in strengthening the Anglo-American alliance. Leaving her winter station at Bermuda, and carrying the flag of Admiral Sir William Pakenham, the Raleigh proceeded to the Pacific coast, paying visits to British Columbia and Californian ports. At San Francisco, an extraordinary tribute was paid to the British Navy by the Mayor of the city, who at a banquet given to Admiral Pakenham and his officers, ended his speech in proposing the toast of the British Navy, with these memorable words:—"God Bless your Nation, God Bless your King, God Bless your Flag." That was the message which was entrusted to the Raleigh to be brought back to England as significant of the sentiment of the Pacific Coast of the United States towards the Empire.

A WONDERFUL FEAT.

From the Pacific the Raleigh proceeded back to the Atlantic coast, and sailed majestically up the Potomac to Washington, the first British warship to perform the feat since 1814, and the largest ship to enter the historic capital of the American Republic. The Navy Yard at Washington, whence the Raleigh docked, is a dock yard in name only and has been for years a naval gun factory, while the shallowness of the narrow channel which leads up to the port is such that few commanders care to take the risk of bringing their ships there. The feat was accomplished despite the warnings and doubts of American naval experts, and the fact that the Raleigh was brought safely to Washington, through a channel so narrow that the slightest deviation from her course would have sent her aground, is a performance which reflects the greatest credit upon the seamanship of Captain Bromley and his navigating officers. What a trick of fate, that the ship which so successfully navigated this difficult channel should go to her doom on the treacherous rocks two hundred yards from the Labrador Coast.

AN UNIQUE TRIBUTE.

While in Washington, several officers of the Raleigh paid a visit to the House of Representatives, and were there paid an unique tribute, which bears out the statement that she was an engine of peace, as well as of war. The debate on the bill to incorporate the Women's Overseas Service League was in progress when Congressman Hicks noticed the visitors and said:—

Mr. Speaker:—"I note in the gallery some officers of the British Warship now visiting Washington and it seems to me that we should offer to them our felicitations, and express to them our sincere feeling of regard, and have them know that they are welcome guests of the American Congress."

This informal motion was carried amid scenes of wild enthusiasm, which would have silenced forever the tongues of those who have doubts of the Anglo-American friendship, could they but have been present. Mr. Hicks and some other members then went up to the gallery and escorted the officers of the Raleigh to the floor where they were introduced to the Speaker and leading members on both sides, and given a most friendly reception.

THE LAST CRUISE.

From Washington, the Raleigh began the cruise which was fated to have such a tragic end. She proceeded to the West Coast of Newfoundland in company with the Calcutta, a smaller ship, and at Bay of Islands, the Admiral transferred his flag to the accompanying ship, which took him north to Labrador. The Raleigh was to follow, calling at various ports on the West Coast, and was finally to meet Admiral Pakenham at Hare Bay, before visiting St. John's where she was scheduled to arrive on August 15th. I was returning from a fishing trip up the East River at Hawke's Bay, when I was greatly surprised to see all the available seascapes occupied by a great cruiser, which proved to be the Raleigh. This was on August 4th. I was at the time a guest of Major Cotton on his motor yacht, the "Hawke," and when I returned on board, I learned that the whole party had been invited on board to hear the ship's band.

A TYPICAL SAILOR.

There I met Captain Bromley and many of his officers. The Captain was quite a young man for such a responsible post, for he was only 45 years of age. He was a typical naval officer, and a moment's conversation with him, and a hasty glance over his ship was sufficient to convince the most casual observer that the British Navy had no more efficient officer. Not only was he a naval officer, but he combined with this the not easily acquired qualities of a diplomatist, and one could not help but feel that in his hands the traditions of the Navy were safe. On several other occasions, I with the other members of the party, visited the ship, and on Sunday, two days before the disaster, I was shown all over her. We went up to the conning tower, the nerve centre of a battleship, and what we saw there defies description that would leave on the mind of the reader the correct impression of the ingenious mechanism which it contained.

A MARVEL OF INGENUITY.

Ranged around the sides were innumerable telephones by means of which instant communication could be made with the various gun turrets, the engine room, the torpedo tubes, in fact, any section of the ship. And these telephones were there in duplicate, for in the navy they take no chances. We climbed upward to the fighting top, and there, again, was that wonderful telephone system, a practical testimony to man's ingenuity. Looking over the side, from a height of well over a hundred feet, we received a vivid impression of the size and compactness of this great fighting ship, an impression which was considerably strengthened after a stroll around the decks and a visit to the engine room. There is not an inch of space wasted on a battleship, that was very evident. Down below in the engine room, men worked constantly on the huge boilers, keeping the amazingly intricate mechanism at its fullest efficiency. I simply cannot attempt to describe what I saw there, for a just description is impossible.

A LAST GOOD-BYE.

On Tuesday morning, the 8th of August, the Raleigh left Hawke Bay on what was to be her last voyage. As she glided out of the harbour, the mast head of the tiny "Hawke" and as the cruiser disappeared from our sight, the answering pennant appeared at the Raleigh's stern, followed by a signal similar to that which we had sent out. Little did we guess at the time that it was a last good-bye, that five hours later the Raleigh would be a broken wreck, piled up on the rocks, but fifty miles from where we lay at anchor in Hawke's Bay.

A NEW SHIP.

A very large ship of the light cruiser class, the Raleigh was completed in 1921 and was attached to the North American and West Indian Fleet as flagship. Her main armament consisted of seven point five and she also carried several smaller guns, and six torpedo tubes. She was 600 feet long, drew 22 feet of water and was capable of a maximum speed of 30 knots. Her engines were oil turbines of the very latest type. The Raleigh's career was short, but it was useful, nor was there any limit to the further service she might have rendered the Empire had she not met such a tragic end.

Injured linesman dies

THE LATE JOHN HANNAFORD.

The unfortunate man John Hannaford who two weeks ago was severely burned by an electric current whilst working at the transmission lines on the Southside Road, died at the General Hospital at 3 o'clock this morning. When the victim was removed to the institution it was thought he would recover, and up to a few days ago he was doing well, when unfortunately he suffered a relapse. Mr. Hannaford was 33 years old, and was born at Petty Harbour. He leaves a widow in town, mother and three brothers at Brookly, and a brother and sister at Petty Hr. to whom the Telegram extends sympathy.

ose-Dived 2,000 AIRMAN KILLED BY OTHER INJURED PLANE CRASH military aeroplane was a practice flight was done at Hawks Point had on board. One of the crew, a Lancashire who was killed, was Henry Edward, who was hurt about arms. The Smith dual Snipe, flying at an altitude of whom—only about the account—that had taken it took a nose-dive and from the aerodrom. The crash was dead was thought at the time. The men got into a boat and were got out of the water. It had some of the men really a test of a new one.

Governor and His Ministers.

 The days of our grandfathers and great-grandfathers. According to the records of the Dominion, the various classes of the districts now comprise the Dominion. The other classes, if heretofore in point of comparative insignificance, are at least the privilege of proving their undoubtedly high social importance by self-sacrificing service to the Dominion. The new Dominion, so far as the extension of the Dominion is concerned, was called into being when the Dominion Act went into operation in 1889, and was less distant from the Dominion which preceded it than the Dominion of Newfoundland was distant from the Dominion of the Dominion. The Dominion of the Dominion, as it were, was the Dominion of the Dominion, as it were, in 1889. Not all men have the same knowledge; for want of it comes the confusion which darkens the political thought of to-day.

PROBLEM NOW CONFRONTING US.
 Regarding the political situation, there is much to be learned. It is induced to study it carefully. I am sure, know as well as I do; but of what use is the making of this knowledge? It is the great question by which we are confronted. If only we could come back to earth and get a year travelling through Newfoundland, talking to all sorts and ranges of men, and paying an occasional visit to the Colonial Building, the Legislature is in session! We would enjoy questioning us in the way of his that exasperated politicians, because it almost forces in the end to confess that we know nothing at all of the subject which they had been laying the law with such satisfaction themselves. He would lay bare the inner workings of our minds, and get at the disconcerting fact that we have little or nothing to do with the opinions we express and the decisions that we make. We should find the cross-examination, that pride, ambition, passion, self-interest have more to do with settling our minds, our conduct, as well as our politics, than the clear thinking, patient investigation, and an honest search after truth.

FORTUNATE FOR THE COLONY'S WELFARE.
 However, it is unfortunate for the welfare that the services of men are not available. But we can make ourselves acquainted to the extent, with the method he adopted and practice it on all we meet forgetting, of course, to practice ourselves on ourselves as well—prefer to discover how much we really know and what are the real minds on which we base our actions. Hear friends express annoyance that tell them that they need the medicine, if bitter, medicine we are given them, and that we have discovered the efficacy by personal experience.

THE ONLY WAY TO ESCAPE FROM CHAOS.

It is the only way by which we can escape the chaotic condition in which we are living to-day. Confusion of thought, strife of tongues, lack of any defined purpose—this is the state of the present time, both politically and religiously. Few know where they stand, still less in what direction they are moving. Even the workers of our oldest and most venerable business concerns never had as much experience before, and start to know how to meet the exacting demands of the present. And the time now creates a new condition under which future generations will have to live. We are being pulled up a debt, which day after day is liquidating some day, or not to the conditions of Crown Colonies or Confederation!

Deep-Dived 2,000 Feet.

ARMYMAN KILLED AND ANOTHER INJURED IN AEROPLANE CRASH.

Military aeroplanes has crashed in a practice flight near the R.A.F. base at Hawking, Kent. One man on board Observer Frank was killed, and Flying Officer Edward Walker, who was flying about arms and ammunition, was killed. The machine crashed at an altitude of about 2,000 feet—only about five minutes after the ascent had begun. Walker took a nose dive, and crashed on the hillside at Caesar's Camp, a few miles from the aerodrome. Walker was dead when extricated from the wreckage. It was thought at the aerodrome that Walker got into a nose dive and had something to do with it. Walker really a test flight, the machine a new one.

Letter Written by Inmate

CHARLESTOWN STATE PRISON TO HIS BROTHER-IN-LAW.

Box 100, Charlestown, Mass.
 Sunday evening, Oct. 30, 1921.
 Friend Frank—I received your letter and May's, on Wednesday, the 26th. inst. As May said she would be over to see me soon I thought I would wait until she did come, rather than write a letter. But an experience of this afternoon, has brought me the point of writing a few lines.

Since my boyhood days, I have read much; heard of many public speakers, clerical and lay; have seen a few stirring dramas of the stage and screen; but my memory does not recall anything which so touched my heart as a photodrama which it was my privilege—and the privilege of the other inmates, as well as a large number of persons on the outside—to witness this afternoon. It was William Fox's photoplay "Over the Hill." It is a photodrama from the pen of Will Carleton, in which a self-sacrificing mother's acts move one to tears. I did not catch the name of the woman who acts the part of the mother; but in my humble opinion, she is the most superb actress of the silent drama to-day.

I have read in print, in times gone by, of some religious speaker moving prisoners to tears; but out of all the years it has been my misfortune to be behind prison bars. I can count on the fingers of one hand the men I have seen crying because of something said or done. This afternoon is the one exception out of my long and unfortunate experiences. This afternoon I saw men on all sides of me shedding tears, myself among the number. And I say without any qualification that it was the most appealing sermon preached to a prison audience since the time of Christ. Prison life is a hard life; it is a tough life; in spite of all and everything that has been said, or may be said, to the contrary. From daily association and forced contact with prisoners of every degree of education and intelligence, from the highest to the lowest; from the toughest to the most tender; I say it makes tough men tender and the more tender, tough. So it is well that a picture of such tender appeal to the best that is in a man's heart should be shown to a prison audience, for such a picture as we were privileged to see thaws out frozen hearts; makes the tough, tender; and tender ones more so. I'll bet all that I ever hope to have that there was not a prisoner in the audience but what was made a better man by having seen the picture. I am sure that those who have mothers still living will have a greater appreciation of a mother's all and ever sacrificing love; and if mother has departed this life, not let a day go so long as life on earth is permitted us, without a prayer to our Heavenly Father for the bit of Divine Love He gave us in—our Mothers.

No doubt those who were instrumental in securing this photoplay for us, fully grasped the appeal it would have to prisoners' hearts. It will be the talk of this place for many a day. I wish we had more of the moral appeal kind such as that of this afternoon. I say "moral appeal," because it appeals to the tenderest sentiments in a man. And when you can reach man's heart, the man so reached is deserving of a better fate than long years behind stone and steel. I do hope May will see this picture. It is being shown at Tremont Temple. The lady who takes the part of the mother looks and acts so much like our own long-suffering, self-sacrificing mother, that I am sure May will better understand the good, true loving mother we had, and will make a better mother of May.

Our mother is gone; father is still with us. Father had his faults, but he is our father just the same; he never was such a father, though, as the father in this picture. The father in the picture let his son do three years for him; while our father was never a thief. I know father has reached the years where labour is out of the question; and I also know it is asking too much of you to expect that you should look after your own family and keep him too. I know the law in regard to the obligation of children to support aged parents; I am also conscious of my moral duty to do so, and shall be only too glad to live up to my legal and moral duty to help support him if given a chance. Mother has died since I have been here; are they going to keep me till father dies too? Oh, May! Cannot you get someone to soften the hearts of the Parole Board?

Time forces me to close. I await your coming, May. I have addressed this to Frank, but it can be seen that it is for both.

Love to all.

Advt. Your friend, sincerely,

There is a tendency toward using one color in an outfit. Hat, shoes and stockings should match the predominant color of the frock—even the handbags, umbrellas and gloves are often of the same color. The effect is very good just now.

TESTIMONIAL.

Mrs. James Simmonds, of Bishop Falls, writes of Dr. F. G. Kinsman's Heart Tablets, as follows:

Bishop Falls, July 4th, '22.
Dear Sir,—I am glad to say that your Heart Tablets have done me a good deal of good. I was so bad before I took them I could not do any work. I had to put my hand against it to press it back as it seemed to me it was falling out, and to-day I don't feel anything wrong with me or my heart whatever. I ask you to publish this in the papers as I can prove these Heart Tablets are good for any heart trouble.
Yours truly,
MRS. JAMES SIMMONDS.
