An Appreciation of the Work of the Christian Brothers

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir--The announcement that the annual Collection for the Christian Brothers will be taken up at all the Catholic Churches in the city on Sunday next, should afford great satisfaction to the large number of citizens who have benefited by the ministrations of these talented gentlemen since their advent to Newfoundland, now almost half a century ago. In this comparatively short period of time what a change has been wrought in the educational status of the country, what numbers have been afforded the blessing of a sound education, what myriads of our youth have been trained to observe the principles and apply the ethics which generate the ideal citizen, and what a bright promise for the future is contained in the continued presence of such excellent teachers in our midst! It has been generally and generously conceded by observers amongst the non-Catholic people of St. John's, that with the introduction of the Christian Brothers a decided impetus was given to advanced educational effort here, and thus, even if in an indirect and vicarious manner, the whole people of the city and possibly of the country have participated in the good wrought by them; so that it is not surprising to note a practical and liberal appreciation of this in the published subscription lists each year.

It is universally recognized that but for the presence of the good Brothers here the lot of the poorer classes would have been a hard one; as but very meagre facilities would be afforded their sons for the reception of an education of a character which might afford them the opportunity to successfully deal with the problems of life.

With the establishment of the Brothers' Schools it at once became evident that even the poorest and most humble in the community would share with the more fortunate ones in acquiring the knowledge necessary to fit them to discharge their duties as citizens in an honorable and creditable manner. Hence, it was no surprise that as the years went by, the Brothers grew in the respect, affection and esteem of the people as the results of the training imparted to their offspring became evident and pupils of St. Patrick's Hall and Holy Cross in progressively increasing numbers found their way into the ranks of commerce, the trades and professions, not alone in their native land but also in Canada and the United States. Where formerly the Christian Brothers were regarded as a necessary adjunct to the well being, at least of the Catholic people, to-day they are looked upon as indispensable to their progress and prosperity, and that their activities in the near future may be extended and enlarged in the wish of many. The Catholic people of the capital can never assess the value of the work of the Brothers at too high a figure, and it is conceded that the annual Collection, no matter how generous, is but a tithe of what these gentlemen deserve.

Then with the knowledge of what the devoted Brothers have accomplished, with evidence of the good they have wrought everywhere to be seen; is the response of a generous people to the yearly appeal they make to be questioned?

It surely is not, and judging by the temperament of Catholic citizens, since the announcement of the Christian Brothers' Collection has been made, one would not make an extravagant hazard if he were to assume that the answer of the people will be of a character to render memorable the collection of this year of grace 1925.

Yours truly, T.D.C.

Obituary

FREDERICK ROSE.

While the number of business people of town were returning from dinner, one who had for years been among them and engaged in the same pursuit of life, was quietly passing away from life's activities, and taking leave of loved ones and friends at his home in Brazil's Square, to join the multitude which no man can number, Frederick Rose passed away from the scenes of life at 2 p.m. Thursday.

Coming from Western Bay, where he was born, to the city, as a boy in a large family about forty years ago, he engaged in the turmoil and strife of life which contributed to the sympathy and kind heartedness which characterized his whole life. In early young manhood, he was engaged by the C.P. Bennett & Co., and for twenty-six years served them as a faithful and devoted employee. During that time he was a constant attendant at George Street Church and expressed his religious convictions by practicing charity and love to those who were not privileged with this world's goods, and who felt the warmth of his generous heartedness which he bestowed upon the homes and their little children. In 1916 he established himself in business and conducted the British Store which proved a successful venture through the years. He till last spring, Mr. Rose possessed the best of health, but some internal weakness was increasing and which with medical attention could not be checked. In June he was compelled to take to his bed and since then with all the best medical advice he has suffered intense pain, bearing it all patiently and without complaint and with hope of eventual improvement, until the shadow of death fell over his face and he passed to the Great Beyond. Throughout the years the deceased was a continuous member of the Royal Orange Association and had passed through the order to the highest degree. Mr. Rose was optimistic in spirit, unpretentious and unassuming, kind and sympathetic with those in need, of all denominations, from the old and feeble to the little friendly children. He leaves to mourn him his wife, son Frederick, five brothers, one sister, towards whom there is general heartfelt sympathy. The funeral takes place from his late residence, 2 Brazil's Square, at 2.30 Sunday afternoon.

Citizens Reply

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir--I appreciate very much your Editorial of Friday evening's issue of your esteemed paper on a letter signed Western Whispingers. I think it was a masterpiece and a suitable reply to the letter in question, and also I have to thank you for defending the workers of St. John's, because so far as my point of view goes and if my mind serves me right Western did not stop to think what he was talking about when he contends that St. John's does get its fair share of revenue, because it is not the first time that I have heard it stated that St. John's never gets from the Government its proportional part of road grants the same as the outports get. And the claim made that we have a City Council which is responsible for the upkeep of the streets in the city. Now, sir, it is surprising to me that the workmen of the city pay up their taxes so well when they see the privileges that are extended to the outport men who do not have to pay a cent for them, and I think the cartoon that he refers to in the paper about the small dog with the big tail refers more to the outports than it does to St. John's, because a big lot of our outport friends are under the impression that St. John's would not exist at all only for the outport men, which is a very false impression to my mind, because if he brings his fish here he gets good money for it, which in nearly all cases they bring home to their respective places and invest it for their winter supplies and general merchandise. I contend that some of our outport men are depending just as much on the markets in St. John's as our St. John's merchants are depending on the foreign markets. Now, sir, with regard to our public buildings, they are only ornaments to St. John's. As for the employment given by the Board of Works Department, I would have Western Whispingers to know if he was here in St. John's and saw the crowd of men brought into the city and disposed of on the various buildings, he certainly would see what an asset those buildings are to St. John's. And again, if any one gets a fair deal with regard to treatment in the various institutions I think it is the outport people that get it. Now let me take Western Whispingers to the Dry Dock in St. John's and see who is employed there. I think he will find 99 per cent. are outport men, who pay a very small sum for their board and the rest they bring home with them. Why some of them pay as low as $1.50 per week for their bed and room and feed themselves on the "shack system." Now, sir, the same thing that applies to the Dry Dock applies also to the Street Railway and the new Hotel and lots of other work too numerous to mention, and the answer to it all is the taxpayer of St. John's is paying the piper while the outport men is enjoying the dancing. Now, sir, with regard to the Highway that Western Whispingers refers to, one could hardly think that a man could be as blind or narrow minded as to hold St. John's men responsible for anything in connection with the labour on those various places. Let me tell Western Whispingers that there is not more than ten men belonging to St. John's employed on any of the Highways, and furthermore it would not be advisable for any outside man to trespass in on another man's district, and I am sure of what I say when I state 99 per cent. of the labour on Highways is done by outport men.

Yours truly, LABOUR.

"The Man Without a Conscience"

MONDAY'S BIG FEATURE AT THE NICKEL THEATRE.

Can a man become so hardened that all the tender human feelings within him are banished, and he becomes capable of treacherously betraying his loved ones, friends, parents, children? This question is answered in "The Man Without a Conscience," the photoplay scheduled for Monday at the Nickel Theatre, with Willard Louis, Irene Rich and June Marlowe in the leading roles. The leading character is a man so steeled and bent on success that he kills his conscience and in so doing sacrifices others and brings his little world in ruins.

It is a Warner Bros. "Classic of the Screen," directed by James Flood. The materials of the picture are drawn from the Continental story by Max Erster, and the scenario work was delegated to the able Hope Loring and Louis Durrer Leighton.

Others in the cast are John Patrick, Helen Dunbar, Robert Arnes and William Orlandson. Photography is by David Abel, who has done the camera-work for a number of successful Warner productions.

Again we call your attention to the big super attraction "The Man On The Box" which will be screened soon. This feature has for its star the popular Syd Chaplin of "Charlie's Aunt" fame. The film is now running in New York at $1.00 prices and St. John's will see it for only 50 cents, at the Nickel very soon. Watch for showing date of this tremendous feature.

The Question of Water for Your Country Home

In planning your country home nothing is quite so important as the question of water. Formerly it was considered sufficient for the farm or country home to have a hand pump or windmill. But now the hand pump and windmill are as obsolete as the old unsanitary outhouse or chemical toilet.

Empire Duro Water Systems

Made in many sizes and styles, enable any home anywhere, to have running water under pressure, all over the house, just like city water service.

Duro systems can be used with deep wells, shallow wells, cisterns or springs. They may be driven from high line current, farm light plant or gasoline engine.

A Duro system is a sound investment--it lessens labor and promotes health and cleanliness. It replaces drudgery and despair with comfort and happiness. And it is also a permanent improvement that adds to the value of your property.

Have your architect or builder call for an estimate. Specify Duro. Distributed by The Empire Brass Manufacturing Co., Ltd., London and Toronto. For Sale by MR. W. J. RYAN, P.O. Box 5297, 226 Duckworth Street, St. John's, Nfld. nov28,11

NEWFOUNDLAND RUNNER WINS KING'S ANNUAL 6-MILE RUN.

Roy Phillips, of St. John's, captured the Collegiate Classic in Slow Time.

After opening in seventh place from two-thirds of the course, Roy Phillips, of St. John's, Nfld., running for the sophomores, forged ahead and romped home winner of the King's College Amateur Athletic Association's annual 6-mile road race, held recently. The young runner from the Oldest Colony ran a heady race throughout and his triumph was well merited. It was his first race and he kept trailing Ernie Deathe, star runner of class '26, who was expected by many to lead the field, during the course, passing him with a burst of speed in the last 150 yards and crossing the line a winner by 8 seconds. The time was very slow, Phillips doing the six miles in 39 minutes and 40 seconds, but the day was not conducive to good running. The weather was bitter-cold and a strong northeast wind prevented the runner from making good time.

"Jeff" Andrew, of North Sydney, took the lead from the start and kept it until about half a mile from the finish when he was passed by Phillips, Deathe and Dysart. The North Sydney youth ran a very courageous race and only wonderful gameness enabled him to hold his lead as long as he did.

Are Medal Winners.

Phillips and Deathe won medals by their showing in the contest, the former gaining possession of the perpetual challenge cup for the year 1925-26. The Freshmen by getting three of their men across the tape first are the winners of the K. C. A. A. team cup and Dysart, Andrew and Keizer will have their names engraved on the trophy.

Twelve contestants toed the line when Starter White got the field away. At the shot of the pistol Andrew took first place and gradually widened the gap between himself and his opponents. At the half-way mark "Jeff" was still in first place, having increased his lead to well over 250 yards. The rest of the field were in the following order: Keble, Keizer, Waddington, Dysart, Foster, Neilson and Mulock. White had dropped out just before the three-mile limit.

At Oxford Street, Andrew was about 40 yards ahead but was weakening rapidly. Deathe, Phillips and Dysart were all bunched together and running easily. Deathe fell near Chaboct Road, slightly bruising his leg. The fall knocked the wind out of him and delayed him somewhat.

Deathe was leading on Coburg Rd. Phillips passed him at the railway bridge, about 150 yards from the tape, with a burst of speed, winning by 8 seconds. Phillips finished in excellent condition.

ST. PAT'S DEFEAT VICTORIA COUGARS IN EXHIBITION GAME.

Irishmen Victorious By 4-3 Score Over Lester Patrick's Team.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 23.—St. Patrick's, of Toronto, took the world's champion Victoria Cougars into camp in the first of a two-game exhibition series to-night by a score of four to three. The game was fast, especially in the last period, when the Cougars threw everything they had into a whirlwind finish only to find that the Irish were as strong, or stronger than they. The game was clean, St. Pat's having three minor penalties and the Cougars two.

PARKDALE SENIORS STRONGER THIS YEAR.

Harry Watson Out At The First Practice But May Not Play Regularly.

Harry Watson, the Granite and Olympic hockey star, led Parkdale Senior O.H.A. squad out on to the ice at the initial practice of the club for the 1925-26 season at the Arena last night. Watson declares that he has no intention of playing this season, but by the look of things will be helping the paddler's along if they find they need him at any time during the season. Parkdale are going to be a hard team to beat this season, and at last night's practice had at least three good teams trying out for places. They even had three goalkeepers. They were Ernie Collett and Jack Cameron of Olympic fame and Russell McAlister, who was in the line-up last season.

Watson, Mose Lount and Stahes, were the only players of last year's team who stepped out on the ice, but others, including Don Jeffrey, are expected at the next workout.

There were a lot of newcomers to Toronto hockey, including Jack Leachman of Guelph and Paul White, who has been hiding at Varsity for four years. Albert Hughes and Wink Poule of the A. R. Clark team looked exceptionally good for so early in the season.

Ken Kane of St. Mary's was another player who made a good showing at the Paddlers' initial practice, as did Shrimp Morris of Anna Lee and Gussert of the O.H.A. junior champions, McIlwaine, Allan Lampert, Bruce Findlay, Freddie Miller and Bruce Bury were some of the other players out. Miller and Bury will be with Parkdale Juniors.—Toronto Daily Star.

JOTTING OF TEAMS IN NATIONAL HOCKEY LEAGUE.

Toronto. (By Canadian Press)—"The fastest game in the world," professional hockey is expected to increase its popularity with American fans during the coming winter, as New York and Pittsburgh, in addition to Boston, have seriously adopted Canada's National winter sport.

Boston, with their middle class team of last year, drew very fair crowds, while Pittsburgh's success in the amateur ranks speaks well for the success of their "Pro" club. Hockey however, is a new venture in New York City itself. Games in the metropolis are to be played in Madison Square Garden, under the management of Tex Rickard.

Canadians form the major portion of all American teams entered in the league. Boston has Carson Cooper, Charlie Stewart, Schnarr, and Odie Ciegorn as the Canadian representation.

Pittsburgh has Lionel Conacher, crack Canadian all-round athlete, who will captain the squad; and Sprague Ciegorn, formerly of the Canadians. The more useful performers on the Smoky City squad outside of the two mentioned are Worters, Drury, Cotton and McCurry, who are all graduates from the Toronto amateur ranks.

New York has practically the entire Hamilton, Ont., team, which had the championship almost in their grasp last year when a dispute between players and owners forced their withdrawal. Probable starters for the Gotham team include Forbes, Red and Shorty Green, Randall, Burch and Langlois, all Canadians.

Montreal's two teams, the former world's champion Canadiens and the lesser known Maroons, are well supplied with players. Canadiens have Vezina, Mantha, Coatu, Morenz, Joliet and Boucher on their roster, practically their complete team of last year, and in addition are well supplied with substitutes.

Maroons have a considerably younger team than their fellow-citizens. Their lineup includes: Bonfield, Munro, Noble, Broadbent, Stewart, Siebert, Dinmore and Rothchild.

The Ottawa Senators are expected to field Connell, Ironsides, Boucher, Clancy, Denneny, Smith and Nighbor. They seem to have a nicely balanced, fast team.

St. Patricks of Toronto will have Resch, McCaffery, Corbeau, Adams, "Habe" Dye, "Happy" Day, Belletulle, Reid, Gallagher and Holway.

"I HAVE KEPT A HOTEL most all my life. My son, his wife and their eight children live with me. You can imagine the demands on my time, strength and patience by the hotel and children. We prepared and served quantities of rich food. My health became impaired. My stomach was greatly affected. I was in bed a part of the time. I was miserable. But one day Fleischmann's Yeast was recommended. I bought it and ate it. Soon I began to improve. Today I am doing about as much work as I did at forty. I can cook Henry's eggs with one hand, make toast for Virginia Lee with the other, answer questions and smile at the baby, all at the same time."
Mrs. S. Van Sant, Marietta, Okla.

"I AM AN OFFICER in the Merchant Marine. Day and night, in fair weather and in foul, duty comes me to the bridge. Unceasing vigilance calls for sustained alertness of faculties. Pep is the watchword. Two years ago I discovered Fleischmann's Yeast. To its daily use from that time do I ascribe my present condition of physical well-being. I have proved it to be an efficacious intestinal cleanser—wonderfully invigorating. This food keeps fresh for days in the refrigerator. I restock at all ports of call. I enjoy a clear skin, fine appetite, and an orderly stomach,—further benefits directly traceable to the proper use of Fleischmann's Yeast."
Frederick A. Mack, New York City—Fleischmann's

So Simple It's Hard to Believe

Yet this fresh, new food works naturally, surely. Here is the whole secret of its power:

NOT a "cure-all," not a medicine in any sense—Fleischmann's Yeast is simply a remarkable fresh food.

The millions of tiny active yeast plants in every cake invigorate the whole system. They aid digestion—clear the skin—banish the poisons of constipation. Where cathartics give only temporary relief, yeast strengthens the intestinal muscles and makes them healthy and active. And day by day it releases new stores of energy.

Eat two or three cakes regularly every day before meals: on crackers—in fruit juices or milk—or just plain. For constipation especially, dissolve one cake in hot water (not scalding) before breakfast and at bedtime. Buy several cakes at a time—they will keep fresh in a cool dry place for two or three days. All grocers have Fleischmann's Yeast. Start eating it today!

And let us send you a free copy of our latest booklet on Yeast for Health. The Fleischmann Company, 201 Duckworth Street, St. John's, Newfoundland.

"ON APRIL the 30th, 1924, the little town of Ficklin was almost destroyed by a cyclone. For weeks after I was very nervous. This nervousness caused me to suffer from indigestion. Not properly digesting my food brought on chronic constipation and most unsightly pimples. I decided to eat yeast. For several weeks I took one or two cakes each day. I am now free from nervousness, indigestion, constipation, and pimples. I feel that I have been rejuvenated by Fleischmann's Yeast."
Mrs. G. N. Byrum, Ficklin, Ga.

"THIS FAMOUS FOOD tones up the entire system—banishes constipation, skin troubles, stomach disorders. Yeast is prepared for market in Newfoundland."

"DURING MY COURSE OF STUDY in medicine about six years ago, I was troubled with boils. For two long years I tried to get rid of this malady without success. I was willing to try anything, and on the advice of a fellow-student I began eating yeast—three cakes a day. In less than a month, much to my surprise, my skin entirely cleared up. I kept up the yeast for two more months and my gastro-intestinal tract worked perfectly, and from then on I have never had another boil. I strongly recommend Fleischmann's Yeast for suppurative skin diseases."

Cooper, Schnarr, Conacher, Worters, Drury, McCurry, Munro, McCaffery and Day are all comparative newcomers to professional ranks, having taken the step during the last two years.

The first game of the season was played at Boston when the Pittsburgh Hornets met the Boston Bruins on Nov. 26. Canadians will have a chance to see the new American teams in action on Nov. 25 with Pittsburgh at New York, and on Dec. 2 when New York will meet St. Pat's in Toronto.

Sir George Lloyd in Egypt

Sir Percy Robinson, in the London Spectator: It would be idle to pretend that Feud as a King has not been a disappointment. The immediate needs of Egypt are beyond all question peace and a decent level of local administration, which, as yet, without British help, cannot be depended on; and of all people it would seem that the one who had most to gain by such peace and good government was the King. But King Fuad, though extraordinarily astute in the pursuit of petty objects to his immediate advantage, has never shown much breadth of vision or great far-sightedness. Perhaps if he had been more assured of firmness and continuity of policy on the part of Great Britain, whether represented by the High Commissioner or by the Home Government, he would have steered his course more wisely in the past. One of the first preoccupations of the new High Commissioner would seem to be to have such heart to heart talks with the King as will leave the latter in no doubt on which side his bread is buttered. Never again should it be possible for the palace, instead of supporting a moderate Government, to use as a weapon for overthrowing that Government an alliance with the most subversive and "reputable" elements in the population.

Child Management

In Boston Dr. D. A. Thom has instituted a "Habit Clinic" for children. We are accustomed to physicians studying the health of children; but to study their habits is something new. Through originally observing sub normal children, Dr. Thom has found out many important things about children, and why they do as they do, or acquire the habits they have.

This information is the most valuable possible "stock in trade" for parents. It is not theoretical, not arrived at from a swivel chair study of psychology, but scientifically by the laboratory method.

As the result of his experiments, Dr. Thom has worked out the following "Don'ts" and "Do's" for parents: Don't be over-solicitous. Don't "baby" your children too much.

Don't try to give your children everything they may happen to demand. Don't bribe. Don't cheat. Don't make meaningless threats. Don't talk about or laugh at children in their presence. Don't be cold and repelling. Don't be discourteous. Don't disagree over discipline before the child. Do be a companion, friend and confidant of your children. Read to them, tell them stories and answer their questions and thus furnish a rich-soil in which children may develop.

Why Does a Head Ache?

This conundrum, which many people have asked themselves, has been answered by Mr. Clement Jeffrey, a spinal specialist, at a lecture given in London.

Mr. Jeffrey made an experiment by demonstrating on a member of the audience the correct manipulative method of curing a headache. Congestion, declared Mr. Jeffrey, was frequently the cause, and by manipulation this could be improved. He emphasized, however, the need for adopting habits of living that would prevent headaches.

Over-eating and working in stuffy rooms are prolific causes of headaches, continued the lecturer, and the surest way to perfect health is to live on food that makes clean blood.

It is folly, added Mr. Jeffrey, to regard an aching head as the offending part and to bludgeon it accordingly with the drug-life. A headache is Nature's alarm bell. It warns us that somewhere in the system there is a disturbance, either physical or emotional. Correct diagnosis and the application of the right methods for relieving the cause are essential for the GENOVA, Italy, Nov. 17.—The steamship Conte Biancamano, which made its maiden voyage to New York recently, is equipped with a new system of motor lifeboats.

The boats can be automatically lowered in a few seconds and automatically free themselves of the ship the moment they touch water. The boats have room for 2350 persons, while the steamship's capacity, including the crew, is 2180 persons.

"Dead Man" Who Claims He Lives

PLYMOUTH, Nov. 24.—Stonehouse Board of Guardians are still puzzled by a man who is in receipt of relief because, he says, he has been officially reported dead, and therefore does not receive the war disability pension to which he alleges he is entitled.

The man declares that after being injured by an explosive bullet while serving with Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in France, his death certificate was issued.

The guardians wrote to the Canadian authorities, who replied to the effect that the man concerning whom the certificate was issued is dead, and that the man whom the guardians are entertaining cannot therefore be he.

The man who has thus "returned from the grave" assured the guardians that he is the man reported dead, and that he had his own death certificate until, in an effort to prove his claim, he let the Canadian authorities have it.

"I am going to have my rights if I have to go to prison for them," he told the guardians.

The man's wife offered the suggestion that the Canadian authorities had got her husband "mixed up" with some one else as he had served in seven different regiments. Although some members of the board were inclined to the view that the man's claim that he was entitled to a pension had not been substantiated, the majority are inclined to the view that as the man's name is not an uncommon one it is probable that the Canadian Pensions Department is confusing him with another man, and the clerk was instructed to make further inquiries.

Meigle Reports Winter Condition on Labrador

MUCH DAMAGE DONE BY RECENT STORMS.

S.S. Meigle, Capt. A. Burgess, returned from the Labrador service at 4 p.m. last Wednesday, says the Daily News. The round trip occupied 21 days and Captain Burgess reports that going north the ship was delayed by heavy gales and seas but coming south it was not so bad. The ship went as far as Holton, and Captain Burgess states that winter has now set in on the Labrador, the coast being covered with snow banks from Holton north. The Meigle brought up all the people from the coast including the Marconi operators and lighthouse-keepers and a number of fishermen from Indian Harbour. When the steamer left coming south all the livers seemed well provided for the winter. Clarke's, at Bolster's Rock, who had their staves, together with their winter's supplies, carried away in the recent storms, are supposed to have obtained extra supplies from the manager of the whale factory at Hawke's Harbour. All along the Labrador coast stages were destroyed by the recent storms and much work will be entailed in replacing them in the spring. Among the passengers who came up by the Meigle were Mr. Jerret and his wife, from Indian Harbour, who were landed at Brigus. The Meigle has completed the Labrador schedule and will now lie up for the winter.—Western Star.

Sun Baths and Synthetic Sunshine

THE CULT OF THE MOMENT.

The up-to-date London woman's answer to the old question, "Where are you going to, my pretty maid?" may quite possibly be, "I am going to take my sun bath."

And while sunlight baths are stimulating the nerves and infusing fresh vigour into the bodies of hundreds, the illusion of sunlight which, by means of decoration and electric light, you can get into your home on the foggiest of November mornings is giving a mental fillip to hundreds more.

Sunlight by Artificial Means.
 London is taking up the cult of the "sunlight bath" which, of course, is also available elsewhere in England, notably at Harrogate. The truth of the old proverb, "Where the sun comes, the doctor goes," is being realised more than ever today. But as in these islands we get so little sunshine in the winter months, sunlight lamps have to take its tonic and curative place.

Keeping a Lido Tan.
 West End doctors are having the lamps laid on in their surgeries as fast as they can get them. The necessary dark glasses, looking like enormous motor goggles, are beginning to be difficult to find. White arms and shoulders are out of date. To be fashionable you must keep your lido or your St. Jean de Lur sunburn all through London's cold grey days!

At Drury Lane Theatre.
 Miss Edith Day and Mr. Derek Oldham are among the converts to this method of keeping fit. Every week they take a "sunlight bath" from the apparatus that Sir Alfred Butt has had installed in the old ballroom of the Drury Lane Theatre—a great array of lamps here, available for everyone from programme girls and chorus girls to principals and from stage hands to managers, with a woman doctor in attendance for the women, a man for the men, and Sir Alfred Fripp for special cases!

Must Be Under Expert Guidance
 There are "sunlight baths" in Mayfair which cost three guineas for a few minutes' treatment. There are others in Bloomsbury which cost only half a guinea, while charges at others less central are lower still. You could, if you were so disposed, instal a lamp in your own home for about forty pounds—only it is essential to have an expert attendant in charge to ensure that you have the right treatment for the right length of time, for sunlight treatment must be taken solely under medical advice.

Royal Interest.
 As a pick-me-up for the jaded, doctors are strongly recommending it. For the nerves and for the betterment of the blood, as well as for the treatment of more definite diseases, it is said to be invaluable—but it is the bracing and tonic effect that makes the modern woman flock to the doctors for orders to take this cure. It even has royal devotees and at least one queen is meditating the purchase of a lamp.

For Dark Corners and Windows.
 As for the synthetic sunshine, that has already been installed in a good many places—such as the Cafe des Ambassadeurs in a Brighton hotel—and used for dark shop corners and dimly windows, but sunshine in the ordinary home is a new idea. Mr. Ivy or Novello was, I think, the very first to try it.

Nomination Day

Nomination of candidates for the civic election takes place today, and the citizens of St. John's have ten days in which to make up their minds as to who will occupy the seats at the Council board during the next four years.

Whatever criticism may be directed against the system under which the elections are held, nothing but appreciation can be expressed for those who have come forward as candidates. They show a public spirit that is commendable, and if one may judge from the sentiments expressed in their respective platforms, they are without exception fully alive to the requirements of the city, and are determined to do everything within their power to undertake a vigorous campaign to have the necessary improvements carried into effect.

We use the word "campaign," because it is difficult to conceive how the Council, however well intentioned, can hope to accomplish much unless their efforts are seconded in a practical manner by the general public. Once public confidence is gained by the administration there is little fear of that support not being forthcoming. The individual citizen must be made to realize his share of the responsibility and must be shown clearly just how his efforts can be directed to accomplish the greatest amount of good.

Newfoundland's Historic Landmarks

Mr. H. W. LeMessurier in his address on "Places of Historic Interest in Newfoundland," published in yesterday's Telegram, has prepared a summary of events which is not only intensely interesting, but is of the greatest value to those in search of information of this nature.

We would direct the attention of the educational authorities and of the Publicity Bureau to the lecture, and would suggest to them the advisability of considering whether or not practical use could be made of it. In the schools, so far as we are aware, there is no book which contains in such compact form information of this kind on local historic affairs, and there is no such literature available for tourists desirous of securing a knowledge of our landmarks without making an exhaustive search through a long period of history. In pamphlet form (and no doubt, if further details were considered necessary, they would willingly be supplied), it would meet a requirement, and would help not only to interest visitors, but to awaken in the younger generation a greater appreciation of the voices which speak from the all but forgotten past.

The Christian Brothers' Collection

During the past week numerous expressions of appreciation of the work of the Christian Brothers have appeared in the press, testifying not only to the value of the great services these men are giving in the community, but also to the feeling of indebtedness of those who have benefitted by their teaching. To-morrow an opportunity will be afforded in the various Catholic churches in the city to give practical expression to these sentiments, and it is certain that the response will be generous. From the first the devotion and self sacrifice of the Christian Brothers in the cause of education have been fruitful of good results to the whole community. Year after year the field of their labours has been extended, and the many institutions established and the prominence of their students in the various walks of life are monuments to the success of the great movement. Increased usefulness however has meant increase responsibility, and that this is realized by the community is indicated by the fact that each succeeding collection has exceeded in amount the previous giving.

S.E. Gale Felt up Country

TELEGRAPH LINES INTERRUPTED. The S.E. wind and rain storm which prevailed in the city yesterday extending across country, but in some parts snow fell instead. At Alexander Bay snow fell to a depth of two feet and as a result railway telegraph lines are out of order in this vicinity, while the Postal system is also interfered with. The passengers who arrived at Port aux Basques by the Caribou yesterday morning is not available, but the train which connected with her arrived in the city at 2.15 today. The telegraph lines are expected to be in working order again this afternoon.

Hitherwood Reaches Port After Stormy Passage

S.S. Hitherwood of the Canada Steamship Lines arrived in port last night from Montreal and Charlottetown after a very stormy passage in which some deck cargo was lost. The ship left Charlottetown on Monday with a full general cargo and about 50 head of cattle housed on deck. Shortly after leaving port the weather became boisterous and the cattle sheds were smashed by the sea. Three of the animals went overboard and were lost. Some other deck cargo was also washed away. The ship ran short of coal and had to put into Sydney to replenish her bunkers. She is unloading at Shea & Co's premises.

Remember To-Morrow!

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—May I again remind all my fellow ex-pupils of the Christian Brothers of Mount St. Francis, of the obligation upon us to-morrow. I feel there is a very general desire to make the collection this year the best in the whole record of all the 50 years that this noble order of teachers has been amongst us.

CONFEDERATION LIFE

All that remains for us to do, therefore, is to keep the determination fresh in our minds this evening and to prepare ourselves with a sufficient practical appreciation in keeping with that desire. Yours truly, BX-PUPIL, November 28th, 1925.

Cow Broke Loose

This morning whilst the cattle were being landed from S.S. Hitherwood at Shea's premises, one large animal escaped, and dashing East, made pedestrians run in all directions for safety. The animal was captured on the Hill of Chips by a number of men who under the direction of Mr. Barter had it spancled to a cart and brought back to the shipping premises. Those in charge of the cattle complain that small boys congregating when they are being landed subject them to all sorts of annoyance.

Delayed by Storm

S.S. Peveral left Montreal at daylight this morning for here, via Charlottetown, according to a message received by Messrs. Harvey & Co. The ship was delayed by a snow storm at Montreal.

Magistrate's Court

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON'S SESSION.

The young man Price, who was arrested under warrant by Detectives Lee and Walsh on Thursday afternoon, appeared before Judge Morris yesterday, and was charged with a breach of Section 72, of the Highway Traffic Act. The accused pleaded guilty under the section of stealing a motor car from the garage of J. P. Carey, on Tuesday last. A fine of $300 or three months' imprisonment was imposed.

A labourer, convicted of a breach of Section 24, sub-section 2, of the Alcoholic Liquors Act, was fined $200, or in default, three months' imprisonment. It was his second offence under the Act. The postponed hearing of the charges preferred against Sir Richard Squires by the Minister of Finance and Customs was begun. Mr. L. E. Emerson opened the case by stating to the Court that the defendant had failed to make returns of his income during the years 1918, 1919, 1921, 1922 and 1923. Mr. W. R. Hawley replied for the defendant by stating that the books at Sir Richard Squires' office for these years were not yet in order, and filed an affidavit accordingly. Mr. Hawley stated that it was impossible to make the returns as required. Auditors, he said, had been engaged by Sir Richard Squires to adjust the books and they could not be completed under three months. In consequence Counsel asked the Court for a postponement of the case for that period. Mr. Emerson raised objection to learned Counsel for the defence, taking such a stand in the matter. It was unfair, he said, that an affidavit should be put in at this time.

At the G. W. V. A. Circus

Yesterday afternoon the War Veterans who are patrons of the various hospitals for the children on the Orphanage and a number of crippled children that are being cared for by the Rotary Club, spent a most enjoyable time at the G.W.V.A. Circus. For their entertainment a special programme of vaudeville was put on. "Blighty" was a source of much pleasure, especially to the children, who enjoyed very much, his antics and those of the attendants who were in charge of the mule. The merry-go-round also provided much entertainment, and all the children and even the soldiers were glad to partake of the kind offers to take free rides.

Heavy Undertow

There was an unusually heavy swell in the harbor last night, due to the storm outside. The seas pounding against the King's Wharf drove quite a lot of logjam ashore. As far as can be learned no damage was done any of the premises along the waterfront.

Thereupon they draw revolvers and released the 19 political offenders.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

Heavy Traffic Features Closing Months—All Lines in Splendid Condition to Handle Business—Improvement Expected to Continue into 1926.

"Traffic east and westbound is larger than last year, and we have reason to believe the return from operations in closing months of this year will be very satisfactory," said President Spruille of Southern Pacific in reply to inquiry as to whether increases in gross and net in September might be repeated this quarter. All lines of the system are in excellent condition to handle increased traffic.

From his statement it is reasonable to expect 1925 share earnings will nearly reach 1924 earnings of 10.24 on $349,051,000 stock. Decline in net of 1% at end of first seven months of this year had been reduced to 4% at end of September. Improvement in September gross and net established high records, repetition of which this quarter should raise 12 months' income to last year's level.

"Improvement may be expected to continue into 1926," Mr. Spruille said. "Reports from all states served by Southern Pacific reveal better agricultural conditions and active business which should make next year a very satisfactory one. Southern California has recovered from frosts experienced early last summer, and recent rainfall in Texas bettered the outlook there. All cattle quarantines have been lifted. Passenger business is showing signs of continued improvement.

"Southern Pacific lines are moving the largest shipments of fruit on record this year. Crop conditions all along the Pacific coast have been excellent. Between 60,000 and 70,000 carloads of fresh grapes have been taken out of California. Averaging 14 tons to a car, the state's exports of grapes reached almost a million tons, of which Southern Pacific lines originated a good share.

"Movement of California traffic has been expedited by completion, a month ago, of much of the double tracking construction of Sierra Nevada Mountains. The most difficult sections have been finished, including the two-mile tunnel, now in operation. Joint use of tracks in Nevada with Western Pacific also increases and expedites transcontinental freight shipments."

Several centers with great agricultural possibilities are developing in Arizona and Southern Texas. Irrigation projects under construction and being planned are opening up Arizona. Water is now piped down from Elephant Butte dam as far as Southern Pacific is confining locomotive territory holding greatest promise of agricultural development is southern Texas, into which the recently acquired San Antonio & Aransas Pass runs. President Spruille recently appeared before Commerce Commission on behalf of Southern Pacific's plan to extend San Antonio & Aransas Pass into the prosperous Rio Grande Valley. Southern Pacific is confining locomotive experiments to a program of fuel economy with the three-cylinder type of locomotive especially built for it by American Locomotive Company. Locomotives, with few exceptions, consume oil, which is picked up at several points on the main line and is so logical a fuel that none of the various new types of locomotives on eastern lines is being tried.

No extensive automobile bus lines are in operation or contemplation, excepting various feeder systems belonging to a traction subsidiary in Southern California, Pacific Electric Company.

Later the company will be in the market for equipment and supplies, but probably not for additional power. All rail being received and to be purchased for 1926 will be of the 39-foot length, which is proving successful.

CHILD WELFARE

HEALTHY BABIES.

"An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure." FOOD WE EAT. It is very hard in St. John's for the average workingman's family to get an adequate diet, so that the children will be building up a strong constitution, with sound teeth, and strong bones, firm muscles and a good resistance to disease.

From this he has to pay his rent, be responsible for the repairs etc. of the inside of his house; buy clothes and boots for all the family; buy fuel; save for a "rainy day"; pay towards the education of his children; and then there is food.

SOME FOODS REGULARLY BOUGHT Rolled Oats, 7 cents per lb. bread, 6 to 12 cents. Beef, butter, 38 to 45 cents per lb. tinned corn, beef, 30 cents, salt meat, (pork, corn, beef, spare ribs) 14 to 22 cents, lb. cabbage, 5 cents lb., potatoes, 15 cents, gallon.

turnips, 3 cents lb., onions 5 cents lb., dried peas, and beans, 7 to 10 cents, lb. tea, 75c. to 90 cents, a lb., fish, fresh, 6 cents a lb., salt fish, 12 cents, lb., molasses, $1.00, gallon, milk, 10 cents, a pint, tin soup, 16 cents, a tin, eggs, 75cents, a dozen, raisins, 12 to 18 cents, a package or lb.

FOOD THAT COULD BE BOUGHT WITH ADVANTAGE. Oranges, apples, lemons, fresh meat, more fresh milk, more eggs, dripping (cold fat), cheese, cocoa, dried fruits, (apples, prunes, apples, etc.), tomatoes (tinned or fresh), spinach, fresh soup, cereals, (rice, tapioca, sago, cream of wheat).

The prices are too high in some of the last foods, for the family to have them. C.W.A. Nov 28th, 1925.

Fruitful Work of the Monks in Early Days

Dear Sir—As the annual collection in aid of the Christian Brothers will be taken up in the Catholic Churches of this city on Sunday next and as this year, I understand, marks the fiftieth anniversary of the arrival of these Holy men to our shores, I would ask you to publish an extract from the work known as "Six Years in the Apennines," by the distinguished Protestant Irish woman, the late Miss Stokes, which pays a glowing tribute to the work accomplished for Christianity and civilization in Western Europe by the Monks in the early centuries. In one part, when speaking of these saintly men, the gifted writer says:

"The American Peninsula was a heathen country until after the death of St. Patrick, and idol worship subsisted in Switzerland down to a still later date. Material civilization had perished equally with religion throughout a great part of the Roman Dominion, and in Gaul, the primeval forest was again encroaching on the cultivated land, burying under a tangle of bush and scrub, the sites of flourishing towns and cities. The commercial highway from the Loire to the Rhine traversed the great desert of the south, and six similar wildernesses existed in Burgundy or Northern Gaul, at the close of the sixth century. That mystical wonderland, the great forest of the Ardennes, extended across the Franco-Flemish frontier, and Switzerland was wrapped in a shaggy mantle of wood, whose memory still survives in such names as Grindswald, Untorwald and many others. It was on this ruin of the ancient world that the monastic orders began to rebuild from its foundations the shattered fabric of society. The movement initiated in the south amid the din and turmoil of conflicting waves of barbarism, had its counterpart on the verge of the westerling Atlantic surges, for the Irish saint, Columbanus, born in the year of Benedict's death, was mainly instrumental in carrying out the work of the Solitary of Sublaco. Starting from the great monastery of Bangor, with twelve companions, he began that wonderful series of apostolic wanderings.

"The slopes of the Vosges was the scene of his first missionary labours abroad. Gaul was then divided into Neustria, Austrasia and Burgundy, ruled respectively by Chilperic, Sigebert and Gontran, the three sons of Clothar. About the year 574, the king of Austrasia, having been converted by Columbanus, bestowed on him a vast desert tract on the confines of Burgundy and Austrasia, where is now the western border of Alsace. Here all traces of Gallo-Roman civilization had been obliterated by the passage of successive hordes of barbarians, and the wolf and other wild animals made their lairs where art and luxury had had their homes under Latin domination. Relics of this past still survive in the shape of statuary dug up on the site of the baths of Luxeuil, where waters were noted for their healing properties long before Caesar, in 58 B.C., reached that part of Gaul, and chose the fertile plains of Sequania, now Haute Saone, as winter quarters for his legions. The Roman dominion, says Miss Stokes, then commencing in Gaul, lasted for about five centuries. In the second and third century, Christianity slowly penetrated to these districts, and extended its branches to many other places. Although at first Rome ruled by the sword alone, yet the Sequanals were gradually won over, more by the softer effect of civilization than by arms, while the Romans associated with them in the rights of citizens, and in political dignity, even opening to them a seat in the Senate. The first half of the long period was comparatively prosperous and happy, but the second was one long series of disasters following on the Germanic invasions. The progress of Christianity was arrested and all developments paralyzed. In the second half of the third century (250-288) the Rhine was crossed by the barbarians, and all the provinces on the borders of the river, especially Sequania, were devastated. In the years 275-276, seventy-five Gaulish cities fell before Germanic tribes, who for two years unceasingly ravaged the country. Between the years 292-297 came another swarm of Germans, who were met at Langres and afterwards at the field of Windisch, by the Emperor, Constantine Chlorus. In the years 304, 350, 355 and 357, successive invasions took place, when Besancon was ruined, Sequania depopulated, and the enemy penetrated to Lyons. In the year 378 the lands of Sequania are described as one vast solitude, in which no traces of the reign of the emperors was to be found. Two mass invasions followed, and then the advance of Attila, the Hun, dealt the final blow to the province of Sequania. On the tract of the Hun civilization, churches and dwellings were alike razed to the ground, the priests perished together with their flocks, and paganism reasserted its domination over the ground lost to Christianity. To the Irish monk was due the first attempt at restoration after this crowning disaster, and his famous foundations at Luxeuil, Fontaines, Ameyray and Iure, were built on sites where the wilderness had usurped the place of culture and habitation. The lives of these monks were not solely devoted to works of piety. They spread about knowledge, learning, and arts, and contributed in many ways to the temporal well-being of the state. The art of silk-weaving, so useful throughout Europe and especially in Italy, was carried from India by certain monks who brought the first silkworms from thence and taught the people this manufacture. Agriculture also owes its progress to the monks; it was they who first brought the knowledge of this art to bear upon the most barren mountain side and the thickest forest."

Trusting the above item may be of interest to your readers and that next Sunday's collection will be a banner one, is the sincere wish of the writer. Thanking you for space,

Yours truly,
THOMAS J. FREEMAN.

Nazimova in Great Picture "My Son"

RUSSIAN STAR APPEARS AS FISHER WOMAN IN NEW FILM.

Edwin Carewe's picturization of "My Son," at the Star Movie Monday is a mighty achievement for the First National director.

Nazimova plays the starring role and gives to the portrayal a finished quality comparable to the finest screen work. She plays the role of "Ana Silva," a Portuguese fisher woman who loves three men. Tony, her son, she loves most of all, for he is the image of his father. The drama that comes into the lives of Tony and his mother, brought by Betty Smith, a flippant flapper from the city, is vivid and compelling.

Jack Pickford plays the name role and proves D. W. Griffith's statement about him, "Jack Pickford is the most natural actor that ever walked in my studio," the "old man" said.

Other splendid portrayals are given by Hobart Bosworth, Charles Murray, Mary Akin, Ian Keith, Constance Bennett and Dot Farley.

Carewe personally directed the picture and Finis Fox wrote the scenario. The settings are picturesque and very different from the usual run of cinema sets. John D. Schulze is credited with art direction and deserves great praise for his skillful and artistic work.

Carewe produced and directed "The Bad Man," one of the greatest artistic pictures of last year. He also made "Madonna of the Streets," but we feel that in "My Son" he tops them both and places himself among the foremost of our American screen directors.

Big Super Special at the Majestic

"NORTH OF 36" A GIGANTIC PRODUCTION.

On Monday at the Majestic Theatre a picture that is designated to be one of the best ever produced by the Paramount Corporation, entitled "North of 36" will be shown. This production is one of the most expensive ever screened, the settings alone costing thousands of dollars. Whilst the picture is said to be greater than "The Covered Wagon," the cost of its production was considerably more.

Conversion of Pre-War German Loans

Full particulars are now available of the terms upon which holders of the old German Government paper marks loans can exchange into what is called loan liquidation debt. The present offer applies only to "gold holdings," that is, to people who acquired their securities prior to July 1, 1920. The particulars refer to good many German Government securities, but people on this side are probably only interested in the German and Prussian 3 per cent. 100 per cent. and 4 per cent. mark loans. For each 1,000 marks of these loans are offered 25 reichsmarks of the loan liquidation debt, that is 2 1/2 per cent. of the face value.

This loan liquidation debt, as I indicated on a previous occasion, will bear no interest until the remaining liabilities have been discharged, but that date is extremely uncertain. The new bonds have virtually no value for income purposes. Holders, however, are given a chance of having the bonds drawn, such drawings to be spread over the next thirty years. Those who are successful will receive an amount of "redemption rights" corresponding to the face value of the holdings, and these rights will be deducted from the nominal value of the liquidation debt. In case of holdings of the mark loans in excess of 12,500 marks, the amount of redemption rights will be a fraction of the holding. While income value can attach to the liquidation bonds while redemption payments are being made, there is some value in the chance of bonds being drawn.

It means that a holder of 2,000 nominal German Threes for example, which at present have a market value of about 10s., may receive during the next thirty years redemption rights to the amount of £110, taking the present mark as worth 10s. Seeing that since the war German Threes have fluctuated between 6s. or 7s. and 4s. 6d., for the 20 mark bond, redemption on the terms indicated would probably give the holders a handsome profit. It is possible, however, that the bulk of bonds held in this country were acquired subsequently to July 1920, and therefore are not included in the present offer. For purposes of effecting the exchange, the definite bonds must be lodged with the Bank of England, where a special commissioner will attend in order to examine the securities.

The publication of the terms is a little movement in the price of the pre-war German loans, the real value of which, of course, cannot be easily gauged, as it is mainly represented by the chance of the bonds being drawn. I might add that as far as is known, the total amount of German and Prussian Government loans in question is something like 13,500,000,000 paper marks. Some issues were made at above par, so at one period the value was in neighbourhood of £900,000,000. The conversion terms now announced the nominal value is reduced to about £17,000,000, calculating the exchange at par, the gold mark at present commanding a slight premium over sterling. In effect, the German Government, as a result of the war, has included in the drawing and after the wiping out fully £600,000,000 worth of indebtedness in respect of the particular loans. And whatever may be said of the almost equally speculations in German marks and German bonds, in which other countries indulged, there is an additional element of injustice in the differentiation for "conversion" purposes between bonds held before or a particular date.

In the story before this wasn't Professor Jim Crow teaching Little Jack Rabbit many things? Indeed he was, that wise old bird. How the golden-roed's seeds became the winter food of little feathered and furry folk? Yes, he was telling the bunny boy that everywhere in wood and pasture thousands of seeds of plants and trees are being held in cones and little fibre envelopes, waiting for the wind to loosen and scatter them, as you and I, Little Reader, might throw a handful of crumbs from our window to the birds.

"See that birch tree yonder," cawed the old crow. "It's cones are still holding fast their seeds. By and by the wind will break open the little flat scales. Yes, Mr. North Wind will shake the birch tree, and away will fly the seeds, here and there and everywhere, for the birds to gather. And those that the birds do not find may take root in the earth and when gentle Mistress Spring, with all her little Balmey Breezes, comes to stay, they will grow into beautiful trees."

Then, with a click, Professor Jim Crow closed his book and flew away. And the little rabbit? Well, I'll tell you what he did, that curious little bunny. He suddenly stopped before a goldenrod whose stem was swollen to the size of a hickory nut.

Pulling from his pocket his jack knife, he split it open to find what might be inside. Goodness me! Right there in the hollow centre he found a tiny creature much like a little ball of white wax. It was the grub of a fall-fly, whose mother had chosen this particular goldenrod stem in which to lay her egg.

"Dear me, why did you doubt the poor grub?" asked Professor Jim Crow, who by chance had winged his way back. "There he was, safe from the cold weather, in his dry, pithy cell, happy to wait till summer came. He would have fed all winter on the fibre and turned from a grub into a fly, boring a hole through which to crawl when the warm weather came." "Dear, Oh dear," sighed the bunny boy. "I'm sorry I disturbed him. But what made the thin stalk of the goldenrod grow so big and round about the egg?"

"I'm sure I don't know," answered the old crow. "Next summer you might ask Mrs. Gall-fly how she managed it," and off again flew the old blackbird, leaving the little rabbit open-eyed with wonder.

"I'm going right home to tell mother all I've seen and heard," shouted the little rabbit, so excited that he didn't even notice that Professor Jim Crow was no longer near. And away hopped the bunny boy, his knapsack bouncing up and down on his back and his red-

Our Dumb Animals

REPORT OF CHIEF AGENT FOR WEEK ENDING NOV. 27th.

Attended to the landing of 40 head cattle from S.S. "Hethpool." The cattle were carried between decks and were in good condition. Attended to the landing of some cattle from the train. Attended two sales of cattle at the Abattoir Co.'s premises. The weather was very unfavourable, but all possible was done for the comfort of the animals under the circumstances. Of late some horses have been shipped north by the coastal boats. According to the Act, "no animal shall at any time between the last day of October and the first day of May inclusive, be carried by sea on the upper deck of any ship or vessel, or in any open box or space completely enclosed and tight against wind and water." I hereby request the management of these boats to see that such boxes are supplied. Was called to Military Road to humanely put to death a dog which had been injured by one of the street cars. The dog was owned by Mr. Noonan. I had it taken away in an express and put to death. The owner of the pony which was advertised last week, came for it. I told him that the animal was not fit for work, so he consented to have it humanely destroyed. With the approach of the winter season, I wish to draw all horse owners' attention to that Section of the Act which deals with the use of the whiffle-tree, more commonly known as the swing:—

"No person shall use or drive any draught animal in any cart or more wheels than two, or in any sleigh, slide, catamaran, or other vehicle on runners, without having and using a whiffle-tree so installed as best to relieve the hauling strain and friction on the animal."

The Proper Selling Price

(London Advertiser)
There is always a degree of danger in attempting to extract the last cent from anything. The wiser course is to determine a selling price representing a fair profit on the operation, and then selling at that price. When the seller of any produce or manufactured article goes beyond that he is on dangerous ground. There is always the chance that the buyer, feeling that the price is being placed at too high a figure, may find some substitute. Such things have happened before, and there is no guarantee that they will not happen again.

Ocean travel to-day has reached such a pitch of perfection that steamship companies make adequate provision for the care of invalids and others who may be stricken with illness during the voyage. Ocean hospitals are as modern, but of necessity more restricted, as those on shore. But even with the best provisions that mankind can make, Old Man Neptune occasionally upsets calculations and makes the work of the ship's doctor more difficult by kicking up a nasty sea.

A case arose on the C.P.S. Montcalm, which left here to-day after the usual stay, on her last voyage west-bound to Montreal this season. One day out, a third class woman passenger developed abdominal pains and the ship's surgeon, Dr. Girvan, decided that an operation was necessary. The hospital was prepared and the patient brought in. At the time a gale was raging and Capt. Sibbons ordered the ship stopped for two hours.

An unusually heavy dose of anaesthesia was administered by Dr. Girvan and Dr. D. E. Ross, a young Montreal surgeon of 28 years performed the operation. The patient is now progressing satisfactorily.

But there have been cases, in Dr. Girvan's remembrance where conditions were not so satisfactory. For instance, during the war, when in Mesopotamia, he cut out the appendix of a native with a penknife—and the native recovered. The reason for this extraordinary operation was the inability of the doctor to get the patient to a hospital in time.

On another occasion, he was performing an operation for appendicitis in the wilds of Scotland, by the light of a candle. The man holding the candle fainted, and Dr. Girvan had to summon a woman from the neighborhood to hold the candle while the operation was performed. And the patient recovered. But, as Dr. Girvan suggested, "it's all in a lifetime."

Herring Fishery at Bay of Islands

Three schooners came in the Arm on Monday night seeking herring.

There has been a very good herring in Humber Arm the past days, and good catches have been cured on the "Bar."

At North Arm there was fair herring most of last week, but the herring not running together very well, this is thought to be due to the weather of late.

The herring fishery in Middle Arm slackened off last week, so that Thursday all the boats moved to North Arm.

The crew that went to Middle Arm to operate Thorne's packing station returned home the latter part of week. The station has been closed because of the scarcity of the herring.

The schr. Silvia sailed for Gloucester last Wednesday with a cargo of salt bulk herring from the Bay of Islands Fisheries Co. She is the schooner to get away.

The schr. Georgina with a cargo of salt bulk herring from the Bay of Islands Fisheries Co. sailed for Gloucester on Thursday.

The schooners that were in the Arm went round to North Arm on Thursday, because of the scarcity of herring at the former place.—Star.

Obituary

MR. WILLIAM SINNOTT

There passed to his reward on the 27th inst., a highly esteemed and prominent resident of St. John's, the person of William Sinnott, deceased had been ill only a few days having developed pneumonia in spite of the best medical treatment and the kind nursing of a loving family and friends, and fortified by the rites of Holy Church, he passed calmly and peacefully away on the 27th day of November. A man of excellent character, he had numerous friends not only in his native parish of St. John's, but in the city, on the eastern shore and other parts where he learned with sorrow of his early demise. A loving father and husband, a good neighbour in time of trouble and affliction, and a loyal friend, his word was his bond—such was the character of the late William Sinnott. His industry and well-timed farm with its comfortable buildings. His hospitality was proverbial—be it the traveller on the road to the eastern shore, the nearby neighbour, or the city, all were accorded a warm welcome, as his grandchild, the late Sinnott homestead of 1880. He leaves a wife, 7 daughters, and a loving husband and father, in whom the sympathy of all will find their sad bereavement. His funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 from his late residence, Valleyfield Farm, Kilbride.—Star.

Canadian Missionaries Reach Shanghai

TORONTO, Nov. 19.—(C.P.)—Main parties of Canadian missionaries of the United Church, numbering 35 persons, have reached Shanghai and are ready to proceed to their fields, according to a cable received here today by Rev. James G. Bell from his son, Rev. James G. Bell, a member of the second party. Endicott acknowledges receipt of a message from his mother, who since died. He and his colleagues believe it is safe to send them, as they have received an encouraging message from Chungking, a distance of 1,500 miles on the way to Chungking. A cablegram from Rev. W. A. G. Timore, B.A., secretary-treasurer of the west China mission, states that Rev. Walter Small and his wife, Saskatchewan have reached the mission headquarters, after ten weeks of travel from the province and that the officials and people of Szechwan province are now well disposed toward the missionaries.

WHAT ARE THEY THINKING?

What are they thinking of—these small people who look at us gravely and keep their thoughts to themselves? It is the way of the world and partly because they would rather know how to put them into words, even if it were customary to do so, than to let their thoughts be known to the world. It is a child's way of thinking, a child's way of looking at things, a child's way of wondering why people do things, a child's way of wondering why people are different from themselves. Newsprint Output at New High Total

October Figures for Canadian Industries Eclipse Previous Record.

Montreal, Nov. 19.—The Canadian Newsprint Mills once more reached a new high total in their production figures for October over any previous month. In making out 17,500 tons of newsprint, the Canadian mills produced more than they had done in any previous month in the history of the industry, and incidentally showed an increase of nearly 13,000 tons over September, and of nearly 17,000 tons over August production.

The October record is also significant in having been ahead of that of the United States mills, whose production was 135,225 tons. October production also established a new record in standing above United States production for the second month in succession this year, something that has never before happened, although Canadian mills on three other occasions earlier in the year produced more than United States mills, a condition that had never happened in any previous year. It would seem probable now that from this time on Canadian mills will show higher production than United States mills.

Shipments Greater. While the production was up to a new high in October, probably the most favorable element was the fact that shipments were even greater than production, so that stocks actually were depleted during the month. Shipments from Canadian mills were 139,982 tons, or 2,477 tons more than production. The shipments of the United States mills were even better in this respect, amounting to 142,204 tons, or 3,793 tons over production.

The total production of the two countries for the month of October was 272,721 tons, with shipments of 282,186 tons. Production for the first ten months of this year amounted to 2,259,944 tons for Canada as compared with 11,283,949 tons for the corresponding period of last year, and 1,053,462 tons for the same period in 1923. United States production for the ten months this year was 1,258,722 tons as against 1,231,253 tons in 1924, and 1,246,990 tons in 1923.

A Terrible Shock. I once asked a small child how old she thought I was. I haven't since repeated the experiment. Yet I would be willing to risk even such a shock again if one could only see his impressions as he looks gravely out through those unfathomable eyes at some grown up.

It is ever we learn to photograph thoughts—which God forbid—it will be one of the compensations that we may see the picture of a baby's or child's impressions as he looks gravely out through those unfathomable eyes at some grown up. I am sure no highly dramatic moving picture could be any more fascinating.

$800,000 Worth of Radium

TAKEN FROM SEWER PIPE. ST. PAUL, Nov. 23.—Six weeks patient search with a "mechanical bloodhound" has resulted in the finding in a sewer pipe of a tiny tube containing $800,000 worth of radium which disappeared from a hospital here.

Prof. Henry A. Eriksson, head of the Physics Department, University of Minnesota, constructed ionization chambers detectors which were attached to electric scopes and begun to hunt all along sewers leading from the hospital.

To-day the detectors led him to a mile inch pipe in a sewer tunnel. The radium tube was found within two inches of a mark he made in the pipe.

Potato Shipment Expected to Reach $3,000,000 Mark

Busy Scene of Activity Witnessed on Charlottetown Waterfront.

Great activity is seen along the Charlottetown waterfront these days and everywhere bustle and bustle is the predominant feature, says The Charlottetown Guardian, in part. The writer on a casual stroll was amazed at the amount of work being done all along the piers, and as one saw row upon row of the docks expressed it, "it's just like the good old days and 'ere's hoping it will continue for a while yet."

The railway wharf, perhaps the busiest spot of all these days, is an interesting place to visit; hundreds upon hundreds of cars filled to the doors with "Island beauties" such as "McIntyres," "Blues," "Cobblers," "Reds," "White Mountains," etc., all going to make up the 25,000 sacks of potatoes being loaded aboard the Orkild from Montreal. Buntain and Bell, agents for New York. The Orkild is a splendid freighter and hails from Copenhagen, Denmark. Messrs. Buntain and Bell are also agents for the S. S. Sappor, which arrived in port last week and left for St. John's, Newfoundland, with a large general cargo. The Orkild expects to leave port on Thursday; her place will be taken however by the Wagland, also from Montreal. She left that port Saturday and will arrive here some time this week to load 30,000 additional sacks of potatoes for Long Island.

Taken all in all the waterfront is certainly a laborer's paradise this fall and a God-send for those who will not perhaps find steady employment this winter. It is expected that the approximate estimate of the potato shipments this year will reach in value the sum of $3,000,000.

Politics vs. Finances

Slesly Huddleston, in the London

New Statesman: What is wrong with France is not merely that the public finances have been allowed to fall in disrepair, but that there has never been such unfinely political agitation as since the advent of the Bloc des Gauches. Politics, if one uses the word in its narrow sense of party quarrels, personal intrigues, meagres, appeals which are hurtful to national interests, have been mischievous; it is possible that they will be disastrous. Calliaux was right in endeavoring to raise himself above Parliamentary disputes, in assuming a purely technical role. If he could have truly managed to keep finances out of the political arena he would have had a better chance. Unfortunately he could not exercise a financial dictatorship; and even had he been able to impose silence on the politicians, and to pursue his task without interference in the sacred precincts of the Rue de Rivoli, while the rival clans amused themselves around him with inoffensive controversies and manoeuvres against each other, it would still have been incumbent on him to have possessed well-fashioned plans. Probably it would be fair to say that it is not only the existence of political clans, but the virtual inexistence of financial plans, which have brought France to the present impasse.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Dependable Help to Mothers

Port Greville, N. S.—"I took your medicine for a terrible pain in my side and for weakness and headaches. I seemed to float all over, too, and my feet and hands were the worst. I am the mother of four children and I am nursing my baby—the first one of four I could nurse. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before the baby's birth, so you can see how much it helped me. I cannot praise it too highly for what it has done for me. I took all kinds of medicine, but the Vegetable Compound is the only one that has helped me for any length of time. I recommend it to any one with troubles like mine and you may see my letter for a testimonial." Mrs. ROBERT McCULLY, Port Greville, Nova Scotia.

Before and after childbirth the mother will find Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a blessing. Many, many letters are received giving the same sort of experience as is given in this letter. Not only is the mother benefited, but these good results pass on to the child. No harmful drugs are used in the preparation of this medicine—just roots and herbs—and it can be taken in safety by the nursing mother. 98 out of every 100 women reported benefit from its use in a recent canvass among women users of this medicine.

Is England Tilting?

Scientists and the Sea Inroads—Sea-side Towns in Danger.

From Minehead, in Somerset, round Land's End all the way to Lancing, Sussex, the sea is steadily eating into the shore, and during recent years, according to experts, has lowered the shore level by an average of 2 feet 6 inches.

In the English Channel, Devon and Dorset have suffered severely, and here at Swanage the famous stands have been eaten away to a depth of 2 feet 9 inches for a distance of a thousand yards. This well-known bay, with its wide expanse of golden sands at all states of the tide, has long been known as a children's paradise, but the sea has been doing its best to rob it of that honour. Hundreds of thousands of tons have been swept away from the south end, and the local council has had to summon expert engineering aid in the hope of arresting the trouble.

Mr. D. Lloyd Davies, chairman of the local authority, said: "We never know what the sea will do next. This last attack on our sea-wall cost us more than £4,000. Experts say that the same thing is taking place all along the coast but can give no reason for it."

Scientists are not content with the simple explanation contained in the phrase "sea erosion," and are recalling the changes which have been recorded in the ocean bed in various parts of the world, and as near as Cape Finisterre. Experts in land formation agree that it is by no means certain that the British Isles are not tilting, that certain portions along the south coast are not lower than they were years ago, and have thus become more subject to the ravages of sea and wind. The work the Ordnance Survey at Southampton is now doing will help to decide this point.

Beauty Spots Vanishing. Another theory advanced is that the level of the sea is altering and that our shores are exposed to extraordinary water strain. Whatever the cause, the people in South Devon and Dorset are seriously alarmed. Their beautiful coast is changing rapidly, beauty spots have vanished in a night.

Don't Say Paper, Say "Evening Telegram."

To Build World's Largest Single Span at Windsor

COST $16,000,000.
LONGER THAN QUEBEC STRUCTURE.

The longest single span in the world will form a part of the proposed $16,000,000 suspension bridge between Windsor and Detroit, according to Colonel C. N. Monsarrat, upon his arrival from the Border Cities where he placed his seal of approval as consulting engineer on the plans and estimates for the great structure.

The main span will be 1,850 feet long, longer by 50 feet than the huge central span of the Quebec Bridge, which is of cantilever construction. The bridge will be 110 feet above high water.

New York interests represented by Joseph A. Bower, vice-president of the New York Trust Company, and Windsor and Detroit business men are co-operating in promoting the project for financing the undertaking are the issue of $8,000,000 first mortgage, six per cent. gold bonds, $6,000,000 of $100,000 debentures, to be guaranteed by the Government of Ontario and by the Border Cities, and the balance to be put up by the Bower interests.

Obvious disadvantages served to eliminate the question of a tunnel, instead of a bridge for highway purposes, according to Colonel Monsarrat. A tunnel would entail far greater cost on the basis of original estimates alone, to say nothing of the ever-present possibility in tunnelling operations of still greater cost in the end. In proof of this he cited the experience in connection with the new highway traffic tunnel under the Hudson River between New York City and Jersey City, in which the ultimate cost, it is now estimated, will be some 40 odd millions against the $25,000,000 originally figured on.

Tunnel difficulties. Further disarrangement of the tunnel scheme for highway traffic is the element of risk in artificially ventilated tubes of considerable length, and here Colonel Monsarrat pictured what could happen in event of failure of the ventilating system owing to some breakdown or other interference, and of the possibility of stalled motor cars holding up traffic, while idling motors behind emit their poisonous fumes of carbon-monoxide gas, which is fatal in circumstances such as would then exist.

Colonel Monsarrat, who is consulting engineer of the Canadian National Railways, had been called in by the Committee representing the Border City and New York interests to examine and report upon the tentative plans and estimates for the proposed structure. In his report, laid before the Committee at Windsor he approved the estimate as to cost and also the idea that a bridge was the logical solution of the problem.

He pointed out to-day that a large percentage of highway traffic now diverted more than a hundred miles owing to absence of communication facilities between Windsor and Detroit would make use of the new structure and that, as a paying institution, he could see no possibility of failure. Bus lines would handle traffic such as would ordinarily be borne on tram cars.

Special Arrangements. The approaches to the bridge are elaborately conceived in order to lend efficiency to moving traffic and meet the necessity for customs and immigration examinations at either end thus according to Colonel Monsarrat, separate roadways admit of those entering the bridge to proceed after payment of toll, while traffic leaving the bridge passes independently to one side where the examinations are conducted.

It is understood that those promoting the bridge scheme are now organizing for the purpose of shaping a definite course to completion of the structure, and that tenders will be called for in due course. At the offices of the Dominion Bridge Company to-day it was stated that while the company had been keeping in touch with the progress of the bridge proposal, it had not as yet seen the plans, but that these would be available as soon as tenders are called for.

Western Whisperings

By HESPERIAN.

A CORDIAL WELCOME.

When I first tapped at the door of the Evening Telegram, I was greeted with such warmth that I am in doubt as to whether to attribute it to cordiality or some other warm feeling.

The Editor, supreme in his sanctum, may easily prevent any disturbing Western Whisperings from disturbing the placidity of the Evening Telegram's corridors. However, there are other whisperings galleries, and even could they all be placed under lock and key, the wisdom of such a course would be doubtful. A grievance nursed in silence, morose silence, is much more dangerous than when voiced. Voiced, the aggrieved may be reasoned with and placated, or, oh, rare magnanimity! the justice of the complaint may be admitted, and the cause of discontent removed. The champion of the cause that cannot stand friendly criticism and will not listen to the other side, reminds me of that sturdy old autocrat, who destroyed the library of Alexandria, because, if the books contained opinions similar to his opinions, expressed in the Koran, they were unnecessary, if different to his opinions, they were pernicious.

A LOOK AROUND.

Will the Editor come with me for a little excursion? Yes! First a glimpse at the streets of St. John's. A dark night, but how brilliantly the electric lights show! See the automobiles, their tail and head lights gleaming. Note the mud guards, not a speck on them. The well-dressed pedestrians hurry along the sidewalks and, remarkable to a Westerner, is the shine of their polished shoes. A quieter street. Mark the man in evening garb, walking the centre of the road. See the immaculate shine of his shoes. What a paradise you live in!

And now for the Outports. Note the word Outport. A volume of meaning is contained in that single word. Ready! Put on a pair of knee ribbers. They are strong and light. Now, we're off. No, this is not a ditch we are coming to. This is the King's highway. We'll go down towards W. hotel. Something wrong? No. I've merely pulled my foot out of the boot. The boot is stuck in the mud. A good, strong pull on the straps. All clear again! Let us take the railway track.

No this is not a new settlement. A very long established and prosperous town. Note the Postal Telegraph Building. No, we will not speak of it. Try another bay. Here is a truck with a load of produce—stuck in the mud. We are in a farming settlement. Here is a town. No, I cannot ask you to walk on these roads. Let us take the "track." Here is the waterfront. A splendid harbor but no shipping. A little dredging is required; but required it remains.

Another town. This is one of the most ancient on the West Coast. This structure here is a breakwater. Actually, no joke. It is too delapidated to stop the water, and the old town is in danger of being washed away. Yet another bay. Here there is no wharf in the principal settlement, a harbor where such a convenience is especially necessary. Goods must be piled on the beach.

NO POLITICAL BIAS.

There is no political bias about this picture. The writer is a supporter of the Government. Conditions such as described existed before the present party slipped into the seats of the mighty. The picture is not overdrawn.

THE CITY'S GENEROSITY.

Hesperian is second to no man in admiration of the generosity of the citizens of St. John's. He is not much surprised at it. How can they help being generous? Are they, not Newfoundlanders? St. John's is prosperous through the trade of the bays. When a City merchant is generous, we feel that we are intimately connected with his generosity. Now, the West has not benefitted much by that generosity. But it is not too proud to benefit. Let the generous people of the City join with us on the West Coast till we have obtained from the Government, for four years, the $70,000 to which they claim to be entitled. Let us have $70,000 for four years, till our roads are half as good as theirs. Then shall we extol their generosity and afterwards fight in their cause till they have obtained every cent which they may, justly, claim.

Do we ask too much?
