Poetry.

What Would We Do?

If all the world was always bright,
If all the world was always bright,
If all the world was always bright,
If all the world was always bright,
If all the world was always bright,

Dear Little Jim!

Never a race was run for Jim,
Never a course marked out for him,
But always, like a boy, with tender care,
Bore him out in the soft May air,
And bolstered him up in the trees in state,
With a "There, my boy! that's what you want!"
Now give us a start; that verse you great!
One, to me, my ready!
Two, to be steady!
Three, and away!

Over the brook and down the lane,

Through the meadow, and back again;
And the world would forget his best,
And lean far out from his perch to see,
Watching the boys as they leaped the wall,
"Hie! Hie! my boy!" I could hear him call.
"The first's the best."
The second's the same.
The last's the worst of all the game.

Between Life and Death.

THE NARROW ESCAPE OF A WELL KNOWN NEWBURN MAN.

By the Loss of a Finger Mr. Charles Deane's Door, Here is Rescued After Doctor's Hawk Failed.

From the Napans - Between Life and Death.
On the Pleasant Hill Village of Newburn, on the Bay of Quinte Harbor, seven miles from Napans, lives Mr. C. H. Moore and family. They are favorably known throughout the entire section, having been residents of Newburn for years. Recently Mr. Moore has undergone a terrible sickness, and his restoration to health was the talk of the village, and many even in Napans and vicinity heard of it, and the result was that the Essex reporter was detailed to make an investigation into the matter. Mr. Moore is a carriage maker and while working in Fink's factory last winter met with an accident that caused him the loss of the forefinger of his right hand. It is following this accident that his life was in danger. He lost flesh, was pale, suffered from dizziness to the extent that sometimes he could scarcely avoid falling. He consulted physicians and tried numerous medicines, but without any benefit. He was constantly growing worse and the physicians seemed puzzled, and none of the friends thought he would recover. One day a neighbor urged Mr. Moore to persuade his husband to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in trial, and after much persuasion he consented. After a few days he began to feel better, and in no longer needed persuasion to induce him to continue the treatment. A marvellous change soon came over him. Each day he was able to gather more strength, and his life, and after eight boxes had been taken, he found himself again a well man. Mr. Moore is now about sixty-five years of age, he has been healthy and has worked hard all his life, until the accident alluded to, and now, thanks to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, he is once more able to work in his old accustomed way, and does not hesitate to give the credit to the medicine that restored him to health, at a cost no greater than a couple of visits to the doctor.

Asbestos Making.

PREPARING THE MINERAL FOR ITS MANY USES.

If any readers have ever made the acquaintance of asbestos at all, it has no doubt been in the shape of packing to a gas stove or a firebrick. Very few people outside the trade know what enormous quantities are utilized in the manufacture of machinery. The best asbestos done in domestic asbestos is a mere bagatelle compared with that got through in packing for steam boilers and engine pistons.

Asbestos in its original state is a fibrous mineral indigenous to Canada and other places, and is sent over here in lumps like pieces of raw slate on the top and bottom, while the sides are covered with a fluff substance - the fiber, which is pulled from the lumps. You can pick each lump to pieces with your nails, although to look at it one would think that nothing less than a heavy hammer would make any impression on it.

When it reaches the factory it is put into crushers, where the machinery is the best and the most modern. The asbestos is then broken into a fine powder, and is then packed in steam boilers and engine pistons.

The Weekly Monitor.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 10th, 1895.

The announcement is now made that no legislation concerning the Manitoba schools will be passed at the present session of the dominion parliament. It appears that a lengthy bill of 150 clauses has been prepared by the officers of the department of justice, dealing with the matter, but so great are the differences of opinion in regard to the details of such a measure that it has been deemed advisable to defer the matter till an autumn session, rather than to prolong the present session now that all other business is about finished. The difficulties in the way of such legislation appear to be greater than the more the subject is studied. For instance, it is now realized that while the dominion parliament may pass the bill, it is not to be enacted until the carrying out of any such enactment must rest largely with the local authorities. If, therefore, the provincial government and a vast majority of the people of Manitoba assume a position of hostility to such legislation they can do much to render it a dead letter after the dominion parliament has passed it. That they will take such a position is of course to be fully expected. Under these circumstances the question, altogether apart from any political considerations, becomes one which has to be treated with a very great deal of caution.

It is now reported that after parliament is prorogued a commission of judges may be appointed to make a careful investigation of all the facts in relation to the troublesome question, with a view of seeing if some compromise cannot be reached. Of late a good deal of sympathy has been manifested in influential quarters for the Manitoba side of the case. Nearly all the great gatherings of protestant bodies in the upper provinces have passed strong resolutions deprecating any interference with the educational affairs of Manitoba by the dominion parliament, while it is currently reported that about forty conservative members of the House of Commons have announced their intention of opposing any remedial measure which the government may introduce. This of course would mean the defeat of the measure, as well as of the government, unless the entire Catholic membership of the House, on both sides, should support it. Feeling is running high upon this question in Ontario, and the twelfth of July will doubtless witness many fiery orations from the Orangemen of the dominion against any attempt to force separate schools upon Manitoba.

This seems to be an age of civic reform. During the last year or two a reform wave has swept over most of the large cities of this continent and civic boosters and black-mailers have had rather an unpleasant time of it. This is especially true of the city of New York, where the law-abiding citizens, under the able leadership of Dr. Parkhurst, have completely routed the old gang of police officials and other boosters who had grown rich on the plunder exacted of violators of the law. But the most striking attempt at reform is that of the citizens of Denver, where on a recent occasion a large number of the most prominent citizens gathered in the council chamber and clamorously threatened to lynch the members of a certain deal were carried out. The dispatches state that for eight hours this indignant multitude of citizens, some of them with ropes in their hands, confronted the aldermen in the council chamber with threats of lynching in case the obnoxious measure was passed. This is certainly a new way to prevent undesirable legislation. We scarcely think, however, the method is likely to become popular in the east as yet, however it may suit the west and woolly west. Public men who have to be kept in the path of rectitude by threats of lynching are first-rate men not to elect to any position.

It seems now to be generally conceded that there is to be a general session of the dominion parliament before the general election. This will make six sessions during the life-time of the present parliament which will be the first time in the history of the dominion that such a thing has occurred. This sixth session, which must of necessity be short, will have to be called quite early in the autumn so as to finish its labors within the time when this parliament expires by law, before the number of sessions of a parliament is not fixed, the life time of it, and the general election cannot be delayed beyond a specified time. Of the seven parliaments elected since confederation two only before this one have lived out their full time. The first one, that elected in 1867, held five sessions; so also did that elected, during the time of the McKenna government. The second parliament held but two sessions when it was dissolved. The third, that of the McKenna government to hold five sessions, and should a sixth be held, as seems now probable, it will be a record-breaker in that respect in the history of the dominion.

The Young Men's Christian Association of San Francisco has petitioned the city council of that city "to enact and enforce an ordinance prohibiting ladies from wearing bloomers, knickerbockers or other attire becoming the fair sex." The petition sets out that such wearing apparel "is a perpetual menace to the good morals of the city." The city council of Chicago has already enacted some such regulation and policemen there are required to arrest ladies in bloomers and others they see dressed in this way. The people of that city stoutly resisted the immorality of the Midway Plaisance and the many other peculiarities which have characterized that city for years, but they draw the line at bloomers or knickerbockers, and the young woman who has the hardihood of appearing upon the streets in such apparel is promptly run down by a policeman and locked up. This looks a good deal like straining at a gnat, etc., but we judge it is judicious legislation after all. Happily in this province we have no necessity for any such laws, for although we have many lady bicyclists, they appear to have too much modesty and good sense to appear in public in such apparel. And if they had not, their fathers, husbands, and brothers have too much sense to permit it.

That report that Dr. Buchanan's lawyers intend to prosecute the appeal they had taken to a higher court, notwithstanding his execution, borders too nearly upon the ridiculous to warrant belief. No one surely would want to spend time or money trying to clear a man who had already suffered the extreme penalty of the law. Still, the mysteries and uncertainties of the law are past finding out, and it may be that for the sake of the notoriety attached to the case these men will attempt what they say. But what if they should get him clear, as a result of the appeal? Somebody would be in a dilemma here, and it evidently would not be Dr. Buchanan.

The annual meeting of the Nova Scotia and Maritime Medical Association was held at Halifax on Wednesday, Dr. W. G. Parsons, of Yarmouth, was elected a member of the committee on Medicine; Dr. C. A. Webster, on Surgery; and Dr. C. J. Fox, of Lunenburg, on Obstetrics. A very able paper by Dr. Fox, "Report of a case of Myxoma," was read and discussed.

Opening of the Driving Park.

The postponed races on the Bridgetown Driving Park took place on Wednesday afternoon last at 2 p. m. Owing to there not being any special trains the crowd was not nearly as large as they were some days ago, but the directors had no reason for being dissatisfied, as there were some twelve hundred present, all of whom expressed themselves as being delighted with the track and the arrangements for the day.

The track was in splendid order, the day all that could be desired, and the horses in the picnic condition. The music on the occasion was furnished by the 69th Batt. Band, under the leadership of Mr. Horace Bishop, and very favorable were the comments expressed by those that were present. The ladies stand was occupied by Edwin Kuggler, president, and Fred R. Ray, secretary of the track, both of whom were very kind in their remarks. Mr. Ray, Edward Margeson and Dr. Jenkinson as judges, and Chas. Bell, a prominent turf man of St. John, steward.

The first event on the programme was the 3-minute trotting race. The starters in this contest were: Grace Brittan, King Bird, Colonel, Robin Hood, Bridgetown Belle, General Sherman and Lakewood Girl. Mrs. E. having been entered by Mr. L. S. Eaton, but was sold a couple of days previous to a gentleman from the United States. After considerable scoring the word was given by Mr. Felius, who acted as starter, and away they went. King Bird, having the pole, which position he maintained and came in under the wire in the last time of 2:45. In the remaining heat General broke very badly and they were easily won by Lakewood Girl. Grace Brittan and Robin Hood were distanced in the first heat, and Colonel having thrown a shoe was allowed to be drawn after the third heat.

The 2:35 class brought out a field of five crack horses. The favorites in this class were: Nearly all the great gatherings of protestant bodies in the upper provinces have passed strong resolutions deprecating any interference with the educational affairs of Manitoba by the dominion parliament, while it is currently reported that about forty conservative members of the House of Commons have announced their intention of opposing any remedial measure which the government may introduce. This of course would mean the defeat of the measure, as well as of the government, unless the entire Catholic membership of the House, on both sides, should support it. Feeling is running high upon this question in Ontario, and the twelfth of July will doubtless witness many fiery orations from the Orangemen of the dominion against any attempt to force separate schools upon Manitoba.

Arrangements have been effected between the directors of the Bridgetown Driving Park and the well-known driver, Mr. William Crabbe, whereby he will have charge of the track for the remaining portion of this season. Mr. C. has been located at the Wellville race course for this summer, where he has been handling a number of horses, some of the best ones belonging to Dr. Brown. He will lend the new track quite a prestige and will bring along a fine string of the equine race for training. At present there is every prospect of a match race taking place on the track within three weeks, which will be followed by the fall meeting during the latter part of August or early in September. Should the directors succeed in making the interesting match race this month, a series of bicyclists contests will also take place on the same day, and will afford a grand opportunity for an afternoon's enjoyment at a very small cost, as the stakes will be placed within the reach of all. Daily Coughing and Dr. Kelly of Lunenburg and driven by Harry Lyford took three straight heats in St. John on Dominion Day. In the other heat, driven by Black Pilot, took second place. Donnie, owned by Lyford did splendid work in '93 but did nothing in '94, and it is looking as if she would redeem her former prestige on the turf.

One of the particularly interesting features of the afternoon's programme was the exhibition given by Prof. G. Hutchinson on the bicyclic and his performance was truly wonderful, justly entitling him to the honor of being the world's champion bicyclist. He performed a series of stunts which were highly appreciated, many numbers of the programme receiving hearty applause, particularly the comic stunts of Messrs. Pickett and Harvey. Miss Florence was a very admirable and her songs were well rendered. The company intend returning in a few months and they will probably meet again at a fall house.

Carry Bros. & Bent began the construction of Mr. James Marshall's new house at Clarence Monday last. The building is to be a two-story structure, and the contractor will be employed and the building rapidly forwarded to completion. Although the new firm have been carrying on business since their establishment in this town, the well-known Mr. Marshall will be their first one in this immediate vicinity. Doubtless the workmanship will give every satisfaction to the owner and reflect credit upon the contractor.

A little son of Mr. Watson Bent, of Phipsey's Cove, while playing with one or two companions in the afternoon, had rather a narrow escape from death on Monday last. While romping in the field they found a scythe, and in attempting to handle the sharp point of the blade was driven into the windpipe of the Bent boy. The wound was not serious, but the scythe, when it struck the sufferer, and through the injury a scythe was somewhat miraculous.

A Word to Summer Tourists.

The immense growth of tourist travel from the United States during the last few years has shown men that the demands of the stream of travel, that in many of our towns there has not been the hotel facilities necessary for the comfort and accommodation of the large numbers of tourists.

we must voice a word of praise in behalf of the obliging and courteous proprietor, Mr. E. G. Langley, who has established the hotel in the last few months so thoroughly revolutionized the appearance as to make the house stand out very conspicuously as a strong competitor with the best in the country.

Many of our readers will recognize in the accompanying photograph the likeness of a rev. gentleman at one time stationed on the Mountain Circuit of the Baptist church in this county, and as an introduction to the paragon now under his pastoral charge.

Hymenaeal.

One of the most fashionable weddings which has taken place in this town for some time past was solemnized at the Baptist church at 11 o'clock this morning, when Miss Annie M. White, daughter of Mr. James White, was united in marriage to Harry J. Crowe, of the late firm of Nelly & Crowe.

The presents of the bride were many and costly, among them being a gold watch, diamond set, and chain attached, the gift of the groom, who also gave to the bride a pair of pearl earrings.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Nicholson, where the bride and groom were photographed, the presents were numerous and handsome.

Miscellaneous.

Road Customs. The rule of the road is a curious thing in different parts of the Anglo-Saxon world.

But in walking the streets 'tis a different case. To get well along. On the left there should be enough of clear space.

Another reading of the same rule is more grammatical. The rule of the path. To get well along.

The requirement to turn to the left is a matter of statute law in Great Britain, having been enacted into law in several states.

Why opposite rules should prevail in England and in part of the United States, like New England, derived all its ordinary customs from old England.

It is the custom, not only in England but in America, for the driver to sit on the right side of the vehicle.

It would seem that in dentistry as well as in ways that are fast and sure, Chinese is peculiar, and in the Journal of the British Dental Association Mr. C. Robbins has communicated some curious essays on the subject written in English by Chinese students at the Anglo-Chinese College, Peking.

They appear to have three methods of treatment: 1. Extraction, the patient's attention being distracted and his lamentations overpowered by the beat of a loud gong.

2. The application of arsenic to kill an exposed pulp; and, 3. extraction of the tooth.

3. At a young age affords the best ripe nut; next a good weather. The sheep selected for mutton should be kept quiet and cool in a dark place, twenty-four hours without anything to eat, but with all the water it will drink.

4. Always put up carefully. 5th. At no time and under no consideration be induced to over-buy or race your horse; remember the true old saying, "It is the race that kills."

6th. Whenever a horse seems to be ailing let a skillful veterinary surgeon see him at once. This will be the cheapest plan in the end.

Good Mutton. A fat young ewe affords the best ripe nut; next a good weather. The sheep selected for mutton should be kept quiet and cool in a dark place, twenty-four hours without anything to eat, but with all the water it will drink.

7th. Whenever a horse seems to be ailing let a skillful veterinary surgeon see him at once. This will be the cheapest plan in the end.

8th. Whenever a horse seems to be ailing let a skillful veterinary surgeon see him at once. This will be the cheapest plan in the end.

Agricultural.

The Whip has Gone. The whip, so far at least as the trotting horse breeders are concerned, is another relic of bygone days that has a very small prospect of usefulness.

There are no whips, felines or other "making-do" devices in a children kindergarten. One can "make" a child to do a thing when he is under your thumb.

Water, the naturalist, speaking of the camper, or bell bird, found in South America and in Africa, says: "His note is loud and clear, like the sound of a bell, and may be heard at a distance of three miles. No sound or song from any of the winged inhabitants of the forest causes such astonishment as the call of the camper."

The Household.

A Good Way to Can Berries. Last summer I learned a new way to can berries which will save you much.

When the berries are washed, measure them and add an equal quantity of sugar. Oh, how extravagant! I fancy someone will say, "But you will be surprised to see how many cans five quarts of berries will fill when prepared in this way."

When you have measured your berries and sugar thoroughly mixed them, fill your cans with the delicious tasting mixture, then leave the cans where you can look at and admire them for a while before you put them away.
