WINNIPEG, JANUARY 4, 1902.

THE YEAR

The year 1901 has been one of remarkable expansior throughout western Canada. While all Canada has ajoyed a year of general prosperity, evelopment and advancement been more marked in the West. The year opened with not the best prosects for the great prairie grain disricts owing to the fact that the crop f 1900 was about the poorest on ecord since the country began to export grain. But notwithstanding this situation, the country has made great advancement during the year, and as if to make up for the shortage of the previous year, the soil has most abundantly. The crop of 1901 has been a magnificent one, and has ought prosperity and contentment o thousands

The most noticeable feature of the ast year has been the large immiration of a fine class of settlers from the United States, with a promise of continuation of this movement with agmented volume for the future. This indicates that our neighbors to he south are learning of our great ountry, its riches and possibilities They have been flocking all over the airie region from Winnipeg to the locky Mountains, and thousands of them have located here permanently. The construction of a second railway connecting the prairie region with the head of navigation at Lake superior, is another great event of the Other railway work of a less sportant nature has been carried on many parts of the country.

Land sales have been very large. he Canadian Pacific Railway land sales for the year were 830,000 acres, about double any preceding year. This is an index to land business gen-

In Winnipeg there has been a deded expansion in business and poplation. Bank clearings here for the ear total up $127,771,158, compared with $106,956,792 for the previous year, which may be taken as an index to the growth of the city.

THE GRAIN BLOCKADE.

The announcement was made early is week that the Canadian Pacific Railway elevators at our lake ports were practically filled with wheat. It was a foregone conclusion that in a hort time after the close of navigation the lake port elevators would become blocked, and this has now happened. While the elevators were not actually full at the time of writing there was enough grain in transit or ready for shipment to fill all available space. The capacity of the Canadian Pacific Railway elevators is nominally something over 5,500,000 bushels, but the actual capacity is not greater than say, about 5,000,000 bushels, allowing waste space for different grades. The New Canadian North ern road, which is now about completed to Lake Superior, has an elevator of 1,500,000 bushels capacity under construction, but this will not materially help the situation, especially as the Canadian Northern will carry wheat to Port Arthur which now goes to Duluth. There is now apparently nothing but a general grain blockade in sight. Many country points are already blocked, and the quantity that can be moved by the all rail haul to the seaboard is so small that it would be impossible to keep the markets open in that way. There is, however, apparently very little demand for shipment all-rail, and prices offered are not satisfactory. Even if the grain could be sent out in this way, it would not pay the farmers to sell on this basis. It will in all probability be more profitable for the farmers to carry the grain themselves until navigation opens again. Even if they could dispose of their crop on the present basis, it would not likely be as profitable to them as to hold the grain themselves.

FIRST THROUGH TRAIN.

The first through train over the new Canadian Nethern line between Winnipeg and Lake Superior left Port Arthur Tuesday morning about 10 o'clock. On reaching about 12 miles east of Fort Frances it was found that there was still some 1.800 feet to finish. A halt was made there over night and amid appropriate montes the last rail was laid at 10.47 a. m., New Year's day, when the train occeded on to Winnipeg.

ENTERPRISE

Enterprise is attractive. Consumers prefer to buy from re-tailers who show enterprise in their business management. Retailers in their turn like to see evidences of enterpise displayed by the wholesale houses with whom they A travelling man met a representative of The Commercial on the street in Winnipeg one day and after salutation said: 'How is at that our house has discontinued its advertisement in The Commercial?" Commercial representative replied that he did not know, and told the traveller to ask his own business manager. "Well," replied the traveller, "I have just returned from a trip through the Kootenay and Boundary districts in British Columbia, and 1 have been asked this question several times by our customers. went so far as to intimate that we ought to show more enterprise, as he liked to see the houses which he purchased from represented in his trade papers.

This is not a manufactured story, but an actual occurrence, giving the conversation almost word for word. We have in this issue of The Commercial two advertisements which show special enterprise on the part of our jobbers. On pages 416 and 417 will be found an interesting announcement to the dry goods trade by R. J. Whitla & Co., limited. No rprise shows up more, costs less and gives better returns than judicious advertising. A fine warehouse appeals only to those who come to see it, but the advertisement goes out to see the customer. The first issue of The Commercial contained nouncement from R. J. Whitla & Co., and they have never been out of the journal since. With the result they are thoroughly satisfied.

The other special announcement which we wish to draw attention to comes from a comparatively See pages 420 and 421. The house new wholesale business of J. Meikle & Co., Port Arthur, has been established about a year, though the name has been familiar throughout Northwestern Ontario for many years. Mr. Meikle has been a long time in business at Port Arthur, and is also well known in Winnipeg, where he had important business interests.

A GREAT EVENT.

The last spike in the Canadian Northern railway line, in the long link between Winnipeg and Port Arthur, Lake Superior, was formally driven on Monday, at Antikokan, in the presence of a distinguished party of the promoters of the road and their friends. The spike, though formally the last one, is not actually so, as some little work remained to be completed to make connection unbroken. On Monday evening a banquet was held at Port Arthur, in honor of the event, which is one of vast importance to the West, signalizing the construction of the second railway connecting the great prairie country of Western Canada with Lake Superior. by a road which is likely to become a transcontinental line within a few

POWER FOR WINNIPEG.

"I am happy to be able to announce here to-night that the question of the supply of electrical power, which will enable Winnipeg to successfully compete with any manufacturing city in this Dominion has been solved that preparations are now under way to establish a plant which will furnish this city with motive and illuminative power at half the present cost."

The statement above was made by F. W. Thompson, manager of the Ogilvie Milling Co., at the Travellers banquet in Winnipeg on Monday evening last. Mr. Thompson is in-terested in one of the companies which proposes developing one or more of the several large water powers within easy distance of Winninegr.

New Spring and Summer Stock of Dry Goods for 1002

Throughout each Department our chief aim is to carry the goods best adapted for your trade—the trade of the Great West. We have everything that a first-class Dry Goods Store should have, and of such assortment, quality and good values as will make your business increase rapidly in favor

OUR FACTORY

To supply the increasing demands of the Overall and Shirt trade we were compelled to start and equip a factory of our own. The success which has met our efforts has led us to adopt the accompanying trade mark on all goods manufactured by us.

The already well-known merits of the KING OF THE ROAD Overalls lie in the strong double-stitching—double crotch—the finished seams—patent suspender straps—every conceivable improvement as to pockets and mechanical design—and unequalled workmanship throughout.

They are made of best 8 oz. and 9 oz. Denim in blue and grey.

You can handle these goods without any trouble. They sell wherever shown. Send for a sample dozen assorted sizes on trial.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION

Winnipeg. January 4. Business ducing the past week has been quiet and confined largely to paple lines. The holiday trade which is now over has been very large not only in Winnipeg, but throughout all Manitoba, Western Ontario and the Northwest Territonies and mecchants are well satisfied with its results. British Columbia has not done so well, but has nevertheless had a good large trade, which this week's reports say was greatly in excess of expectations in some places As holiday business is very largely ash business it will be seen that the trading people of this country must now be in possession of quite a liberal supply of money. January will, as usual be a month of bargain sales. stock taking, and general re-adjust-The prospects for spring business are bright and many travellers are already on the road again with their samples. Bank clearances as Winnipeg are again larger, but not nearly up to the high water mark of a few weeks ago. A report from the clearing house is given on another
