GUNBOATS ON THE LAKES.

If the United States decides on sending the Yantic to Lake Erie, as has been reported, the Dominion Government will, of course, be obliged to take cognizance of the fact. The presence of such a vessel in that lake would constitute a violation of the agreement of 1812, in virtue of which the number of armed vessels which each nation might keep on the lakes was limited to one on Lake Champlain, one on Lake Ontario and two on the upper lakes.

MEN AND THINGS.

Golf has had much written about it and there are anecdotes and items of ancient lore sufficient to fill many books in its praise. Its raison d'être is, of course, exercise, which is taken more thoroughly than anyone except its votaries imagine.

There are great possibilities for romance in Canadian literature. For the most part, French Canada, past and present, affords the picturesque background. But with the west and northwest, the newer and freer life is bound to produce the comedy and the tragedy which, bound up together, form the basis of all romance.

Romance and adventure die with the advent of the railroad and the telephone. The life of life beget the faccid muscle of heart and arm. It is in the new and untrodden that life appears to a man as greater than a dull round of business.

"When London Sleeps."

What promises to be one of the best attractions of the season comes to the Toronto Opera House next week, when James H. Wallack will present his successful English melodrama, "When London Sleeps." There is nothing sleepy about this play, however, as it is said to be "up to the limit." The play is decidedly different from the usual melodramas and abounds in exciting scenes and sensational climaxes.
The plot follows the struggles of an heiress, who is found by her guardian to be connected with a circus and who is taken away from her friends to a home in London. She is in love with one of the performers in the circus, but her constant efforts to break the ties between them, so that she will please her guardian, who wishes that she should be a circus performer, failing in this she enters her into a noted disreputable resort in London, from which her lover and another circus performer rescue her. Her guardian, who is her cousin, who is a libertine, attempts afterwards to murder his mistress, who conducted the house of ill-fame, because she will not tell where the young heiress is in hiding. Her guardian, who keeps the fact a secret because of a kindness of the latter, resorting to a deceitful scheme, by which he gives a false address, and through the efforts of her guardian, who is enabled to find the place, and a second attempt is made to kill her through her pluck in shooting at him with a revolver, and in escaping from a room in a circus and in a burning building. In the final act she is entrapped in a room in a circus and is

"Wang" at Popular Prices.

"Wang," that merriest, most gorgeous and most successful of all the comic operettas of recent years, is coming to the Toronto Opera House the week after next, and it will be given its first production anywhere at popular prices. It has never been heard here except at high prices, and the comedian Dan Packard, who said to be almost a counterpart of De Wolf Peters, will impersonate the bankrupt regent of Siam, while Laura Denon, the most successful actress in the city, will be seen in the part made famous by Della Dora. The production is said to be one of the costliest ever given at a popular-price theatre. Seats will be on sale Monday.

Princess Theatre.

The Cummings Stock Company enter their second week at the Princess Theatre next Monday, after having captured Toronto by their cleverness in a second week, the first of their local engagements. Their opening play, which was played the week of their opening, was "The Girl in the Red Velvet Gown," and the past week has consequently been very large, with an average attendance of over 1,000. This has been fairly deserved, and their first tribute to their talent, but a fitting tribute to their superior excellence. In presenting "The Girl in the Red Velvet Gown," the Cummings Company promise a performance fully equal to their previous work, and they themselves, by their very
"The Girl in the Red Velvet Gown," to be a company capable of playing anything they undertake. The company is made up of Mr. Ralph Cummings, the very clever young leading actor, and a variety of the greatest favorites Toronto theatre goers have known in many a month. The company is made up of actor, full of magnetism, and most naturally a success. The company is made up of "An Actor's Story," which has been received some most flattering words of praise from recognized critics. The company is made up of this character most interesting, and work of E. H. Sothern in "Lord Chumley." Mr. Cummings has surrounded himself with a company of the most superior talent, ability, and far better than anything ever seen here at popular prices before, and there

A BIG MINING DEAL.

Four British Columbia Properties Grouped and Sold to an English Syndicate—Captain Currie Back

Another mining deal of considerable importance is now spoken of as closed.
For some time past the sale of the Homestake, Maid of Erin, Gopher and Robert E. Lee properties at Rossland and has been hanging fire, but now the negotiations are said to have been brought to a successful conclusion.

The four properties have been grouped and sold to an English syndicate known as the Homestake Consolidated Gold Mining Co., and Mr. D. M. Lennard of Rossland is now upon the ocean on his way to London to receive the papers.
One condition of the sale is the immediate spending by the company of $125,000 in development work.

As large blocks of stock in the old companies are held in Toronto, this announcement will be received with interest. An arrangement has been made whereby Canadian holders of shares in the aforesaid old companies may exchange their holdings for shares in the new corporation at the rate of 12-1/2 cents per share.

FROM MICHIPIOTEN.

Captain Currie Returns and Gives an Account of the New Gold Fields.

Capt. J.A. Currie of Campbell, Currie & Co., who returned from the Michipioten gold fields yesterday, gave "The World his impressions of the new district. He says that the region contains lots of gold-bearing quartz, and that, judging from surface indications, it has an output of a million tons of gold.
He had three or four years ago.

"How is it then," asked "The World,"
"that some people bring back unfavorable accounts of the country?"
"Those who bring back such reports," he replied, "know nothing of the country. They have not gone into it at all. The district is a hard one to prospect for, for many reasons. The topography of the country is very rough, and it is hard to get over in places, and then the rocks are covered with a heavy carpet of moss, which the prospector has to remove before he can get at the quartz leads." Mr. Currie went on to say that he saw enough to convince him of the possibilities of the district. He said that a good vein could be stumbled across every quarter of a mile. The leads vary in width from a few inches to 8 or 10 feet, and they prove their persistency by their continuity, being traceable for miles.

The quartz, some of which Mr. Currie brought home with him, is largely of the milk-white variety, carrying iron and copper, and often shows free gold on the surface. The quartz is a rare run from $1 to $30 to the ton, and the gold-bearing belt is about 20 miles long by 15 miles in width.

WILL PRODUCE THE WOMAN.

Prosecution in the Luetger Murder Case Will Have the Supposed Mrs.
Luetger in Court.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—The prosecution is planning the delivery of a crushing blow to the defence in the Luetger murder trial. It is now asserted that the prosecution will produce upon the witness stand three of the women whom witnesses have identified as Mrs.
Luetger. One of these is the woman who was seen by half a dozen persons in Kenosha, Wis., on May 4 and 5, and identified by means of a photograph as Mrs. Luetger. This woman will be put on the witness stand. She will relate all conversations she had with the police officials and others in Kenosha.
The woman is claimed to be a characteristic well known in certain districts of Chicago. Detective Decele has traced the woman met on the country road near Kenosha, May 5, by Fred Schebe, and a group of charming young girls, extra special. This woman will be

MOTHER AND CHILDREN DEAD. Asphyxiated by Gas in a New York Hotel. FIVE LIVES WERE SACRIFICED. Apparently it Was a Deliberate Case of Murder and Suicide.

The Children Were Put to Bed and Allowed to Go to Sleep—Then All the Apertures of the Room Were Stopped and the Gas Turned Full on by the Mother, Who Lay Down and Died With Her Offspring—Husband and Father Distracted.

New York, Oct. 1.—Mrs. Caroline Rezinus was found dead this morning in the West Shore Hotel, 42nd-street and 11th-avenue. Asphyxiation by gas was the cause of death. It is believed the mother waited until the children were asleep, then closed all apertures and turned on the gas from two jets.

Retired to Their Rooms. After supper the family retired to their rooms. It must have been about 9:30 o'clock when they left the dining room. About 8 o'clock this morning a chambermaid detected the odor of gas in the hallway.

A Terrible Night. The night that met Clerk Sprague's eyes was horrible in the extreme. In one of the rooms the woman and the child were lying dead, their arms closely interlocked about each other's necks.

The police were sent for and ambulances from Roosevelt Hospital. The physicians worked over them for nearly two hours, but in vain. The preparations for the murder and suicide were most deliberate. It is believed that the mother waited until the children were asleep, and then, throwing open the trunks, took out some clothing.

THE HUSBAND FOUND. He is a German and was Terribly Shocked by the News of the Tragedy.

New York, N.Y., Oct. 1.—An Associated Press reporter visited West Point at noon today to inquire as to the identity of Caroline Rezinus, who with her children was found dead in the West Shore Hotel, New York City, this morning.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Rezinus left home with her four children. They boarded the 8:40 train for New York. Mrs. Victor Laher, sister of Mrs. Rezinus, says that the trip was merely a little pleasure excursion, as the children had had no outing during the summer, and the mother determined to give them a trip to the city.

NURSING-AT-HOME.

Many Interesting Facts Told Yesterday of the Good Work Being Done in Toronto.

An estimable work is being carried on at the Nursing-at-Home Mission, 70 Hayterstreet. In a very quiet way and without ostentation, the nurses are doing a great mission has been quietly working and depending upon voluntary contributions for help. To spend money and sympathy in foreign fields when the heathen poor and sick of one's own town need the most crying for help, both physical and moral, appears to say the least, an unwise proceeding.
The regular monthly meeting of the mission was held yesterday, Mrs. Brodie presiding. The superintendent reported 34 patients during the month, 2 of whom died.
The nurses paid 228 visits. Much more sickness was met with than during the same month last year and many special cases of serious character were observed.
Mrs. Hunter Brown reported that over the Don family were the most interesting father was out of work, the mother ill and a month-old child starving to death.
Another case was of a woman married to a colored man who claims to be an old slave converted to the Christian faith.
She is serious, the doctor says, the result of strong drink. She is an old patient of the mission dispensary, but recently was sent to the General Hospital.
Mrs. Stayer also reported.
An interesting address was given by Miss Stayer, who is at home on furlough from the China Inland Mission. She was personally connected with the Nursing-at-Home Mission and observed the great benefit derived from such a course of training, the medical nurses accomplishing such a good work in the field.

The treasurer's statement showed a deficit for the first many months. The debt, however, is only $12.
Anyone who would like to help to pay back for the child in need might send contributions to 70 Hayter-street.
Dr. Caven will begin the season's course of medical lectures to the nurses. The first meeting for Monday evening next, will be upon "Antiseptics."

A Busy Week.
Suckling & Co., the trade auctioneers, advertise a busy week next week. Commencing on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, they will hold a trade sale of drygoods, clothing, notions, boots and shoes, and other merchandise. At 1 o'clock the same day the sale of the Toronto Hubbell front-street west; and on Wednesday morning the sale of the famous works of the McMaster estate situated on the corner of Front-street west and Friday, at their Ontario, No. 22 Front-street west. These sales are of great advantage to the trade and live interested parties are not now in taking advantage of them. Liberal terms in all cases are accorded to the trade.

AT PETER SMALL'S HOUSE

Did Shaw and Leslie Have a Talk With Fleming.

IT WAS A LONG CONFERENCE

The Assessment Commissioner Thinks It Was Over After Midnight.

He Says It Was Not Unusual for Him to Fraternalize With John Shaw at the Home of Peter Small Before the City Hall Deal Was Put Through—E. A.
Macdonald spends another pleasant afternoon with the ex-Mayor in company with Examiner Bruce.

His Worship Mayor Shaw turned up at the Adelaide-street Chambers yesterday afternoon when the examination before Special Examiner Bruce, in E. A. Macdonald's action against the appointment of Robert J. Fleming by the City Council, as Assessment Commissioner, was resumed. Lawyer Bradford and Fullerton arrived soon afterwards, as well as E. A. Macdonald and Assessment Commissioner Fleming.
"Who said I refused to attend for examination?" asked Mayor Shaw, as he took a chair next to the examiner. Mr.
Bradford stated that from letters received from the City Law Department he had been led to believe His Worship would not attend.

"I have never refused to attend, and I am ready now to be examined," said the Mayor.
"Corporation Counsel Fullerton consulted with Mayor Shaw and then remarked: 'I submit His Worship for examination.'"
"Then I am not prepared to go on,"
said the Mayor.
"The case comes on within a week or two."
"What's that's our affair," put in Mr.
Macdonald.
"Then you are not prepared to examine me, are you, Mr. Mayor?"
"No, we are not."
His Worship then retired.

Mr. Fleming again.
Mr. Fleming's examination was resumed. He was examined in part some time ago, but the rule requiring special committees had been ignored by the Council when the committee was appointed.
"Why did you not resign your position as Mayor before being offered the position of Assessment Commissioner?" "I don't know of no reason why I should have resigned."

"It would have been proper for you to have resigned?"
"Mr. Fullerton: That is a mere matter of opinion."
"But you resigned the question should be answered."
"Mr. Fleming: I have not formed any opinion."
"Mr. Macdonald: That is not an answer."
"Mr. Fullerton: I don't think the answer of the witness would be of any advantage to the court."
"Mr. Macdonald: I press for an answer."
"What is the question?"
"No, I don't know if it has been proper for you to have resigned if you were an applicant?"
"Mr. Fleming: I have not formed an opinion."
"Did you ever consider that your duties as Mayor and as Assessment Commissioner would clash if you did not resign?"
"Mr. Fleming: I never did anything that would do that."

Fullerton objects.
Mr. Fullerton intimated that the examination was becoming irregular. The objection was not heeded.
"What efforts did you make to see that the best man for the position of Assessment Commissioner was selected?"
"I asked the most competent man in Toronto if he would take the position."
"Who?"
"Mr. Thomas White."
"Your nephew, your relative—wanted to keep it in the family, eh? Did you solicit any one else?"
"Make any further efforts?"
"I spoke to the most competent man in Toronto, and he said that I should take some people must think that I was a child. The newspapers were calling upon me to resign my position."
"The World and Globe said so." "I never added until I knew where I stood."

Mr. Macdonald asked several questions pertaining to the previous examination and Mr. Fullerton objected, stating that the tactics were not an attempt to angle up witness with his previous answers.
"He wanted $5000."
"Mr. Macdonald pressed his questions.
Did you try to get $5000?"
"I said that was the figure I wanted."
"You took $4000?"
"You will give the same service for $5000 as for $5000?"
"Then there was another wrangle."
"Mr. Macdonald: What events led up to the appointment of the committee?"
"A resolution in Council."
"Mr. Macdonald then read part of His Worship's address published in The World of July 29, and asked if Mr. Fleming endorsed it. The latter remarked that all the address he read was done and Mr. Fleming said it was substantially correct. I might state that I have a general public desire that I should take the position, he said.
"I've after two weeks' campaigning you only got it by two votes, returned Macdonald."
"Mr. Fleming: I don't think that there was a general public desire that I should take the position, he said.
"I've after two weeks' campaigning
you only got it by two votes, returned Macdonald."

you only got it by two votes, returned Macdonald."

Tom White's services.
When the examination was resumed at 10 p.m. Mr. Macdonald asked: "What White doing now?"
"He is working on the Assessment Department."
"You mentioned your willingness to accept the position before the Council offered it to you?"
"No, I did not express a willingness at that time. You knew the place would soon be vacant?"
"Yes."
"You mentioned your fitness for the position?"
"I did not say: 'My appointment will be no experiment.' You urged your fitness?"
"Perhaps I did."
"Wherein was the difference between you and an ordinary applicant for the position, outside of your influence as Mayor?"
"Mr. Fullerton objected, as it was a metaphysical analysis of a supposed case."
"Mr. Bradford said the question had a bearing on the case, and a long argument ensued."
"Mr. Macdonald: What more could you have done to get this position?"
"I could have interviewed all the aldermen."
"Well, you say you did that."
"I did not say I interviewed them."
"About you were such a bargain they ran after you?"
"You had better ask the aldermen."
"What else do you do if you had been an applicant?"
"Mr. Fleming cited various ways in which he could have used influence."
"Where you not offered that appointment at that time because other aldermen were afraid of you as a Mayorality candidate?"
"I don't think so."
"Did you not tell me that?"
"I don't remember having said so."
"Did you visit Ald. Lynd as his house-mate, meet other aldermen there prior to Aug. 5?"
"I don't just remember."
"They met at Peter Small's."
"Did you meet other aldermen at someone else's house and discuss this matter?"
"One occasion at Mr. Peter Small's house, and the other at the house of Leslie, Shaw, Mr. Small and myself were present."
"How did this meeting come about?"
"On the afternoon of that day Peter Small called me up and I visited with my house and I was not in. He said he would call again. I had made some appointments and could not be in when Mr. Small said he would call, so I went to his house. He was not there, and I telephoned to my house and found he was there. I told him I was unable to see him, but we arranged to meet at Wilson-avenue and Yonge-street right away. He spoke to me of a matter, and I advised him to see some of the aldermen. At a few days later he called on me and went to Mr. Small's house, where I met Ald. Shaw. This was in the evening, at about 10 o'clock."
"What time did you leave there?"
"Oh, I don't know."
"You are a man who keeps good hours?"
"Fairly good."
"Was it 2 a.m.?"
"No, I am satisfied it was not. I don't think it was 1 o'clock."
"Mr. Fleming said no arrangement was made, no agreement regarding the Assessment Commission was made at that meeting. Ald. Shaw had said (Fleming was the man for the place. There was nothing unusual about the meeting, it was a matter of accidents," said Mr.
Macdonald.
"No, not a chapter of accidents. There was nothing unusual in it."
"Nothing unusual in your fraternizing with Shaw?"
"Not at all."
"No Agreement Made."
"A good time for a fraternity, eh?"
"Here Mr. Fullerton took up the examination."
"I can know who you were going to meet when you went to Mr. Small's house?" he asked.
"Mr. Fleming: No, and any discussion regarding the Commission was in a general way. There was no agreement made."
"Did you canvass the aldermen regarding this matter?"
"No."
"Did you make any arrangement with any aldermen or aldermen regarding the position?"
"No."
"You said Mr. White received $6 a day—does that represent what his services are worth?"
"No, Mr. White said he would not take the position at $5000 a year. He is a law student and simply filling in time, and does other work. He would not take the position."
"Mr. Macdonald: No, not from his uncle."
"When did you hand in your resignation as Mayor?" asked Mr. Fullerton.
"Immediately after I had spoken in Council."
"Mr. Macdonald: That's what we say.
Was it after that the resolution was passed?" Mr. Fullerton continued.
"Yes."
"So at that time you had ceased to be Mayor—would the bill be running night and day in perfect order. The second class bill was made Oct. 30, so that two good gold bricks will be on hand before the general meeting of the shareholders early."

the amount of bullion produced. Indications are that the returns will be thoroughly satisfactory to the shareholders. Every effort is being made to make up for previous delays, and the mill is running night and day in perfect order. The second clean up will be made Oct. 30, so that two good gold bricks will be on hand
before the general meeting of the shareholders early.

ward New York." 246

Merry people.

A merry disposition with sound "common sense" makes the plainest person attractive.
No better inspiration to modest merit than a happy singing canary. No equal to Cottans' Seed with Patent Bird Bread for keeping it in health and song. [108]
