KING EDWARD THE PEACEMAKER DIED AT MIDNIGHT

"WELL, IT IS ALL OVER, BUT I THINK I HAVE DONE MY DUTY," LAST WORDS

End Came at 11.45 p.m. (London Time) in the Presence of the Members of the Royal Family—King George Communicates Sad Tidings to Lord Mayor.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—King Edward VII., who returned to England from a vacation ten days ago in the best of health, died at 11.45 o'clock last night (Friday), in the presence of his family, after an illness of less than a week, which was serious hardly more than three days. The Prince of Wales succeeded to the crown immediately, according to the laws of the kingdom, without official ceremony. His first official act was to despatch to the lord mayor the announcement of his father's death, in pursuance of custom. His telegram read:

"I am deeply grieved to inform you that my beloved father, the King, passed away peacefully at 11.45 to-night. 'George.'"

The physicians soon afterwards issued their official bulletin, which was as follows:

"May 6, 11.50 p.m.—His Majesty the King breathed his last at 11.45 to-night in the presence of Her Majesty Queen Alexandra, the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Princess Royal, the Duchess of Fife, Princess Victoria and Princess Louise, the Duchess of Argyll."

(Signed) Laking, Reid, Powell, Dawson.
The Cause of Death.
Pneumonia, following bronchitis, is believed to have been the cause of death, but the doctors thus far have refused to make a state-

CAUGHT CHILL TWO MONTHS AGO.

The King, either after witnessing the "Chantecy" performance in Paris, or on the train while on the journey thence to Biarritz, on March 8, caught a chill which developed into bronchitis at Biarritz. It was then found necessary to confine him to bed for several days, but apparently his Majesty had completely recovered after several days indoors, and afterward indulged in much outdoor exercise, in motoring, picnicking and croquet. He was in the best of health, apparently when leaving Biarritz, and told the mayor of the town so himself.

The King reached London April 27, and fulfilled several engagements prior to spending the week-end at Sandringham. He returned to London on Monday, not feeling well; in fact, he was unable to meet the Queen returning from her Mediterranean trip on Thursday. This made the immediate announcement of the illness inevitable.

THE LATE KING AND THE NEW QUEEN.

There are two outstanding things in connection with King Edward's death: the first is the sanity, the high class business acumen that he brought to the work of government, of statesmanship, the second is the fact that he had common sense, every day sense, the sense of men in their right and best form, acquired by study and training, and he applied it with precision, tact and definiteness of purpose so as to secure the best possible result. He may not have done this in every case; he certainly did it in most.

The next outstanding feature to our mind will be the part to be played by the new queen in conjunction with her husband, the new king. We do not, therefore, offer any reflection on the ability of King George. He has been trained by his father and his illustrious grandmother, Victoria; but the new queen is the ablest statesman in the royal house to-day and will exercise a corresponding influence. Her Majesty has, we believe, a strong grip of the policy of King Edward—the policy of King Edward will live in Queen Mary—Princess May of Teck that was.

WHAT OF THE FUTURE?

This is not the first time England has lost her king. The last time was in 1702, when Queen Anne died. We hope it is not the last. Kings come and kings depart, but the nation, the people and the empire march on.

And there may be wars and threats of war, and political faction and constitutional struggles, but the kingdom is not dismembered. England is still England.

Why, then, the gloom, the distrust? David died, but Solomon arose. And Elizabeth followed Mary. King George may be as wise a ruler as his father. The opportunity at least is his.

THE SITUATION TO-DAY.

England loses her ablest man and king at the time when her supremacy at sea is questioned, perhaps it is more accurate to say is planned against, and at a time when a great constitutional question has divided and embittered the country. And yet we think the empire will come out of the situation strengthened, if not chastened. An empire is never chastened.

THE CHANGES—UP AND DOWN.

The Prince of Wales (born June 3, 1865), becomes King, the Princess of Wales (born May 26, 1887), Queen. Queen Alexandra (born Dec. 1, 1844) becomes the Queen Dowager. Young Edward of Wales (1894) becomes Prince of Wales. The young Princess Mary of Wales (1897) becomes the Princess Royal.

CANCELS TRIP TO SOUTH AFRICA

Besides the social gloom which the King's death casts over England, several important and long-planned official events must be abandoned. The Prince and Princess of Wales were to go to South Africa with the squadron, and the prince was to open the first parliament of the new confederation, but his succession to the throne will now prevent this.

DEMOCRACY ALSO MOVES ON.

His like will never again be seen. Time rushes on. The old order changes. Fifty years from now the British Empire may be a republic with an elective head. As the years go on, kingship will tend to rest on the shoulders of the individuals of the democracy.

WHO WILL BE THE THIRD?

ment. Some of the King's friends are convinced that worry over the critical political situation which confronted him, with sleepless nights, aggravated, if it did not cause the fatal illness. Besides the nearest relative in England, the Duke of Fife and the Archbishop of Canterbury were in the death chamber. The King's brother, the Duke of Connaught, with his family, is at Suez, hastening home from Africa. The King's daughter, Queen Maud of Norway, will start for England to-morrow.

The intelligence that the end of King Edward's reign had come was not a surprise at the last, the people had been expecting to hear it any hour since the evening's bulletin was posted at Buckingham Palace and flashed throughout the kingdom.

The capital received it without excitement, but sadly, for the King with his own people was unquestionably one of the most popular rulers in the world.

Spreading the News.

The fashionable restaurants were just emptying, and a few groups of late theatregoers were making their way homeward thru the rain, while a small crowd still hung about the palace, when the streets were filled suddenly with newsmongers crying: "Death of the King!" The papers were quickly seized, and the people discussed the momentous event quietly and soon dispersed. The streets were deserted by 1 o'clock.

Within a few minutes after the death of the King, the home office was telegraphing the intelligence to the heads of other governments and the British diplomats and colonial officials throughout the world.

Sudden Death Expected.

All who knew the King expected that his death would be sudden, and it would not have occasioned great surprise if it had occurred without warning at some social function, as a result of heart trouble. Almost to the end he refused to take to his bed, and was sitting up yesterday in a large chair, so the palace stories go, corroborating the description of him as an unruly patient, which Dr. Ott gave to a Vienna interviewer last evening.

One of the last utterances attributed to King Edward was: "Well, it's all over, but I think I have done my duty." He seemed then to have reached a full realization that his end was fast approaching.

Rallied Late at Night.

The Queen and others of the royal family and four doctors had been constantly in the sick room thruout the day. Several hours before his death the King was in a comatose condition, but he rallied slightly between 9 and 10 o'clock, and appeared to recognize his family.

Then he lapsed into unconsciousness, which ended in his passing. When Dr. St. Clair Thompson, the throat specialist, was called yesterday morning, it was expected that an operation on the throat would be necessary, but after a consultation it was decided that the lungs were the seat of the most serious symptoms. Experts were held in readiness to administer an anæsthetic, but there was fear that the weakness of the King's heart might result in a fatal issue, and an operation was set aside as a last resort.

News Was Delayed.

The body lies in the King's chamber, in the northwest wing of the Buckingham Palace, which is brilliantly lighted, while the rest of the

How Toronto Heard News Expressions of Sorrow

Tolling of Bells Let City Know the End Had Come—Special Civic Observance of Mourning—Provincial Voice Regrets.

It was about 7.30 o'clock when a "flash" bulletin over the Associated Press reached Toronto—"The King is dead."

The newspapers were informed, and in a few minutes government and civic officials were apprised. Special editions of the evening newspapers spread the news, and telephone enquiries became numerous when the tolling of "Big Ben" in the city hall and church and fire bells sounded thru the city. Within an hour "havers" on the downtown streets were selling memorial buttons.

At the armories the parade of the 48th Highlanders was dismissed. At the theatres reference was made to the sad event.

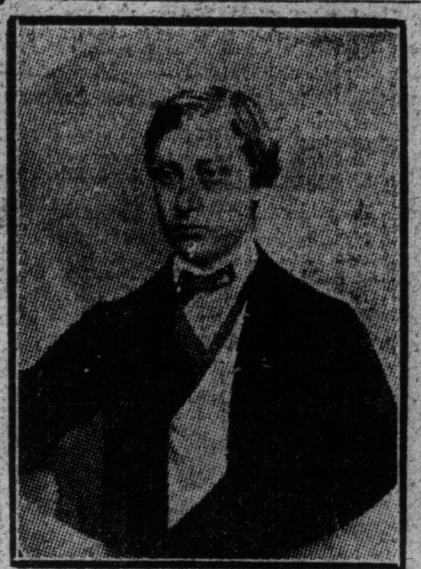

Immediately on receiving the cable intelligence the mayor's secretary, after giving instructions that the mourning tribute be paid, communicated with Controller Ward, vice-chairman of the board of control, and it was arranged that the board of control should meet at 10.30 a.m. to-day to consider the situation. The absence of Mayor Goary, who is in Washington visiting his mother and sister, is unfortunate, but it is expected that he will alter his plans which contemplated return on Monday, and that he will be back to-morrow. His secretary wired him last night, informing him of the steps already taken.

The board will to-day prepare a message of condolence which, following established procedure, will be forwarded to the royal family thru Hon. Charles Murphy, secretary of state. A proclamation will be issued asking citizens to refrain from all forms of business and recreation so far as possible on the day of King Edward's funeral, and the city hall will be draped in black, while, of course, flags everywhere will float at half-mast.

It is probable that the city council will meet on Monday for the transaction of regular business. It had been decided to postpone the meeting until Tuesday, because of the local opening of the baseball season, but it is understood that that event will be deferred.

DEATH COMES TO US ALL.

It is the great leveler. It is the one touch of nature that makes us all akin. The grim shadow touches every freeman within the empire, to-day.

KING EDWARD As He Appeared at the Time of His Visit to Toronto in 1860.

THE PREMIER.

The man most profoundly affected by the death of the king is Premier Asquith, who happened to be in office at the time of the greatest constitutional crisis in the history of the country. What his understanding, if any, with the late king was, we do not know; what the attitude of the new king will be we have yet to learn; but it is not unlikely that Mr. Asquith finds himself in a position that he little expected. A prime minister, however, should be equal to any situation and so far Mr. Asquith has held his own.

MOTHER AND SON.

A man every inch a king's son. The most notable son of the greatest and best mother the world has ever seen, Victoria, has passed over. Never had son nobler Mother; never did son reflect more the royal greatness of his parent.

ARCHBISHOP BRUCHESI'S TRIBUTE TO DEAD KING

"We Lose a Great and Good King," He Wires to Earl Grey—Funeral Observances at Montreal.

MONTREAL, May 6.—(Special).—All who know the loyalty of all classes in this city can readily understand the deep feeling of sorrow which took possession of the citizens of all races and creeds at the sad news from Buckingham Palace. Crowds gathered in front of the newspaper offices and eagerly scanned the successive bulletins. A service of prayer took place at Christ Church Cathedral at 8 o'clock.

All the papers and more especially the French publications refer to the great sorrow that has come to the British people.

Le Devoir devotes a column this evening, saying that the King during the past few years has done the work of a great Englishman and was one of the great rulers of his time.

Mgr. Bruchesi was surrounded by thousands of the faithful this evening at St. James Church, with four hundred children making their first communion, when news of the serious condition of the King reached the church, and immediately the congregation, children and all, dropped to their knees and prayed for the recovery of His Majesty.

Returning to his palace the monsignor learned that his majesty had passed away and at once sent the following wire to Earl Grey at Ottawa: "The sudden death of our beloved sovereign, King Edward, has plunged the British empire in mourning. In the death of his majesty, we lose a great and good king. The late king was an admirable peacemaker and we have not forgotten in our grateful hearts that he solemnly constituted himself the protector of our religious liberties. The nine years of his reign were productive in great and beautiful accomplishments."

"I pray, therefore, your excellency to convey to her majesty, the queen, and the royal family my most sincere and respectful sympathy with that of my clergy and all the Roman Catholics of my diocese."

To-morrow morning, by order of his grace, all the bells in the diocese will ring out the funeral toll, and on the day of his majesty's funeral, a great religious ceremony will take place in the cathedral, where prayers will be offered up by his grace and his people for the King's successor and the royal family, while Mgr. Bruchesi will speak to his faithful of the great king who has departed this life.

NEWS AT OTTAWA ENDS SOCIETY FUNCTIONS

The Horse Show Is Canceled, and the State Ball Will Not Be Held—Tributes From the Ministers of the Cabinet.

OTTAWA, May 6.—(Special).—The tolling of the bells, the cries of the newsmen, practically brought the social life of the capital to an abrupt pause to-night. The horse show, which was about to commence the third of its four nights, was closed at once. The parade of the Governor-General's Foot Guards, which was in progress, was dismissed. The state ball, which was to have taken place on Tuesday next, will be cancelled. A period of official mourning will at once be inaugurated.

Official intimation of the death of King Edward did not reach Rideau Hall till 11 o'clock to-night, when His Excellency Earl Grey received the following brief message: "His Majesty the King passed away to-night at 11.45. (Signed) Lord Crewe."

In official circles the principal effect will be that it will be necessary for all persons holding office to swear allegiance to the new monarch. A proclamation continuing them in office is practically the first act of the new reign. In earlier times the demise of the crown had serious political results, as it meant the vacating of office by the ministry and the dissolution of parliament, thus necessitating a reappointment of the cabinet, and a general election; this, however, now is discontinued, and the death of Queen Victoria was the first occasion when these political occurrences did not accompany the death of the sovereign. A day of mourning is proclaimed, and the churches will be open for services in the churches. A minor incident in the use of mourning stationery by the public offices.

Expressions of sorrow were deep and general, and many of the men prominent in politics who are in town gave expression to their regret.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier preferred not to make public any statement, but other public men did so.

Hon. W. S. Fielding said that the news of the King's death, coming as it did with such startling suddenness, would be received with universal sorrow. King Edward was such a strong personality that he retained the power attaching to the sovereignty in a remarkable manner. The ties of loyalty by which Canadians were attached to his late Majesty increased by the fact of his visit to Canada as a young king, many of the older generation knowing him personally, or having met him personally. He would be mourned thruout the world as a constitutional monarch, and a statesman, and nowhere would the grief be more manifest than in Canada.

Loss to the World.
Hon. Mackenzie King said that the King's death was a loss not to the British Empire alone, but to the whole world, and that the news would cause sorrow in many hearts. King Edward had a noble conception of the functions of a monarch, and always performed the duties of his exalted post in a kindly and pleasant manner.

A Personal Bereavement.
R. L. Borden said: "The tidings of sorrow which have just been flashed across the ocean come to the people of Canada with startling suddenness. Words of foreboding had hardly reached us before the last message came, God's finger touched him and he slept."

"To the people of the overseas dominions the crown personifies the dignity and majesty of the whole empire and thru the throne each great dominion is linked to the other as to the motherland. Thus the sovereign's death must always thrill the empire; but to-day's untimely tidings bring to the people of Canada the sense of a still deeper and more personal bereavement. They gloried in their King's title of 'Peacemaker' and they believed him the greatest living force for the right within the empire."

French-Canadians Grieve.
Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux said: "A great King, a constitutional King, a peacemaker, a defender of minorities—his death is the greatest loss the empire could sustain at this juncture. The French-Canadians deeply regret his passing. In every home there will be sorrow. We shall not soon forget the kindly message he cable to the plenary council at Quebec last fall."

Our Fine Fur Storage Plant

YOUR FURS deserve the most careful attention.

Cold storage is best to resist the ruinous influences of that tiny, but terribly destructive, insect—THE MOTH.

For years of experimenting has proven that FREEZING COLD is really SURE DEATH to the moth larvae. But more is necessary.

This freezing cold must be free from dampness. Moisture is ruinous to furs, and in order that furs may come out of storage full of life and glossy, the air must be kept in constant circulation.

THE IDEAL FUR STORAGE is simply the matter of proper equipment properly operated. We believe our FUR STORAGE PLANT to be lacking in no particular to produce the very best results. Massive refrigerating machinery and powerful pumps are constantly forcing freezing air to the immense STORAGE VAULTS where the furs are hung. These vaults are capable of holding thousands of garments, valuable rugs, etc.

THE FUR STORAGE DESK is on the sixth floor, and the VAULTS, TO WHICH VISITORS ARE ALWAYS WELCOME, are on the same floor.

A post card or phone message will bring our rig for your furs.

Have your furs remodelled now.

Furs purchased now will be stored free of charge until required.

An Extensive Showing of Specially Made Black Millinery

There are hundreds of women who wouldn't feel dressed in anything else but a black hat. It's as becoming to the maid as to the matron, and it's about the most economical and most serviceable hat that can be bought, for it's in perfect taste for all occasions and may be worn with any costume. You're not apt to tire of it quickly, and if you are obliged to wear it more than one season it's not conspicuous.

Realizing this and considering the extreme popularity of the black hat this season, we've arranged for a special showing of black hats Monday.

You'll be delighted with the good styles and good values. Some are New York blocks while others are EATON hand-made shapes; some trimmed with willow ostrich plumes, others are artistically arranged with fancy bandeaux and ribbons, bunches of lovely silk flowers, lace and tulle. ## Realty and Building

It has been known for some little time that someone has been endeavoring to purchase the block at the northeast corner of Yonge and Wood-streets, this being the only portion of the two blocks bounded by Carlton, Yonge, Alexander and Church-streets which had not been bought up by the mysterious agency which has secured control of this section of the city, the purport of whose actions, however, has not yet come to light.

Yesterday the sale of this corner block was closed, with the same mystery characterizing the transaction as has been noted in connection with the other deals in these two blocks. The property was in the control of the Toronto General Trusts Corporation, acting as executor for the estate of Emily Sole, and it was by this concern that the deal was put thru. It is understood that negotiations for the purchase have been under way since April 15, but that a satisfactory arrangement was only reached yesterday.

The block has a frontage of 26 feet 6 inches on Yonge-street by a depth of 120 feet on Wood, and is under lease to Alexander Bryce of the Hygienic Dairy Company, being sublet by him to the present tenants. The ground floor is at present occupied by Norman Lander, druggist, and the Granville Cleaning and Pressing Company. Dr. Albert Milburn, dentist, has possession of the second floor, while the third is occupied as an apartment. It is reported that the leases held by these parties have about three years yet to run.

The exact terms of the transfer have not come to light, but it is understood that a good round sum was paid for the property. The block was offered for sale some time ago at $45,000, but it is believed that the price paid yesterday was better than this.

With the transfer of this block, it is stated that the big interests who have been buying up property in this section have brought their holdings up to include the whole two blocks, bounded by Carlton, Church, Alexander and Yonge. The sale of the Northern Congregational Church at 480 Church-street, just south of Alexander, has not yet been put thru, but it is understood that the transaction is as good as closed, and for this reason this property is accepted as having already passed into the hands of the party or parties behind the whole scheme.

Frank A. Wood reports the sale of No. 74 Isabella-street. The property has a frontage of 25 feet by a depth of 170 feet, and the price realized was $3500.

HON. F. OSLER MADE A K.C.

Order Passed Giving Former Judge Precedence From 1879.

An order-in-council was passed yesterday appointing Hon. Featherstone Osler, recently resigned from the court of appeal, as king's counsel, with precedence from March 5, 1879. When Hon. Mr. Osler was elevated to the bench he had not been appointed a counsel. A similar circumstance has occurred in England on two or three occasions when barristers have been appointed to the bench who had not been called to the inner bar, the most notable instance being probably that of Mr. Justice Hannen, formerly president of the magistrates and divorce division, who was afterwards raised to the peerage.

MONTREAL SAILOR STABBED

Three Other Marine Men Accused of Attempted Murder.

MONTREAL, May 6.—John Robinson lies in the fore-castle of the Allan Line steamship Ionian, now in port, in a dangerous condition as a result of a stabbing affair that took place on the docks last night. The seaman had two knife wounds in his back and one half an inch below the heart. His assailants, McKearney, Rose and Crawford, are at large in Montreal. It is thought they will try to escape to the upper lakes. McKearney and Robinson had quarreled yesterday morning, and when McKearney threatened to throw a bucket full of boiling water over the able seaman, Robinson turned the hose on him.

Uniforms for Provincial Police.

The new uniforms for the members of the provincial police have arrived at the parliament buildings, and will be issued to the men within a few days. The uniform, which is handsomely designed, is made from blue chevrot, trimmed with red braid. Stetson hats will be adopted as the official headgear. Superintendent Joseph E. Rogers has not decided upon his uniform, and it is understood that the design will be determined by the members of the government.

Accepts Call.

Rev. F. J. Maxwell of Old St. Andrew's Church, Brantford, has accepted the call to Davenport Road Presbyterian Church of Toronto.

The induction sermon will be preached May 19 by the Rev. D. T. McKernoll of Victoria church. Rev. Dr. Turnbull will address the new minister, and Rev. Dr. Gilray the congregation.

Fined Three Hundred Dollars.

Following three separate convictions for the sale of liquor without a license at the Alhambra restaurant in Dundas-street, Mena Van Zyle, who with her husband keeps the restaurant, was fined $300 in police court yesterday morning.

Telegraphers May Strike.

NEW YORK, May 6.—The vote cast by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad telegraphers have been counted and 38 per cent. are in favor of a strike unless the road grants more than the three per cent. increase in wages demanded.

Roosevelt's Honor.

CHRISTIANIA, Norway, May 6.—King Frederick's University conferred upon Theodore Roosevelt to-day the degree of doctor of philosophy. It was the third time in the history of a century that the degree had been given a foreigner.

OPENING "PINEWOOD" OF

LOCATED IMMEDIATELY OUTSIDE THE CITY LIMITS NEAR ST. CLAIR AVE. and BATHURST ST.

Within 5 minutes' walk of churches, schools and stores, and emphatically the best proposition yet submitted in the line of low-priced building lots. No shacks allowed, but entire property restricted to $1200 houses on brick, stone or concrete foundation. Perfect title guaranteed by the Government. Every lot staked off and numbered. Streets all graded. Sidewalks will be laid this Spring and development work commenced immediately. The location and surroundings of "Pinewood" give assurance of quick growth and steady increase in value, based on something more than mere guesswork. The pressure of population has already crowded Toronto right up to this property, and the extension of the street car service will make every lot easily worth double. As a matter of precise fact, "Pinewood" is nearer the centre of the city than any other popular subdivision now on the market.

OPENING DAY TO-DAY (Saturday, May 7th)

TAKE DUPONT OR BATHURST CARS

Our Automobiles will connect with street cars at the corner of Bathurst and Dupont Sts.

commencing at 1.30 Saturday afternoon, for the convenience of those who wish to inspect the property. "Pinewood" is not isolated, but is surprisingly convenient to schools, churches and stores, with the promise of direct street car service before long. Present prices are based on present conditions, and represent the best value in sight. Bring your family and friends to the opening sale on Saturday, when our salesmen will be on the property to give all information.

TERMS

$15.00 to $18.00 a ft. Front on the basis of $1.00 a foot cash payment and the balance $10 a month. Lots are mostly 50 foot frontage in order to insure a desirable home community. "Pinewood" provides every essential advantage of comfort, convenience and home-like surroundings to the home-seeker, coupled with the assurance of a safe, profitable investment under all conditions. It is entirely different from the usual low-priced "sub-division," and will appeal at once to any one who takes the trouble to investigate.

The biggest fact in connection with "Pinewood" is that all the lots are

Carefully Restricted

which adds to its value as a home centre. The prices are low and the payments such as enable people of modest means to invest. The steady increase in values which always comes with growth in population makes "Pinewood" specially desirable to those looking for quick and sure profits, with every element of risk entirely eliminated. All lots registered under the "Land Titles Act."

Young Men's Christian campaign is the remarkable results accomplished by the teams comprising the young men's committee.

At yesterday's luncheon the reports indicated that the young men's committee has surpassed the business men's committee in the number of subscriptions, both yesterday and through the campaign. The number secured yesterday by this committee, was 625 as against 200 by the business men's.
Through the campaign the young men's total is 1892, as against the business
men's committee 1145.

The stand of the teams, according to the number of subscriptions received, which is also the standing in result to amounts, is as follows:

A. F. Malcolm's report for team H yesterday contained 157 individual subscriptions—"123 by $1." he exclaimed amid applause.

"That is good work," said E. R.
Wood. "I would just as soon have that as a $10,000 subscription."

THE LIFE STORY OF HIS LATE MAJESTY THE KING

older than himself: (1) Princess Alexandrina (daughter of Prince Albert of Prussia); (2) Princess Anna of Hesse-Darmstadt (niece of the Grand Duke of Hesse and of the Empress of Russia); (3) Princess Augusta of Holstein-Glücks-burg; (4) Duchess Wilhelmina of Wurtemberg; (5) Princess Alexandra (daughter of Prince Christian of Denmark); (6) Princess Mary of Saxe-Altenburg; (7) Princess Catharine of Oldenburg (sister of the Grand Duchess Nicholas of Russia).

It transpired that it was the fifth princess on this list that the Prince of Wales had chosen above all others to share his high position—the Princess Alexandra of Denmark. He had met her on the continent the year before (1881) and had at once fallen in love with her. The Prince Consort had approved of the beautiful Princess Alexandra, whose praises were sung by all who knew her. The betrothal was announced in Sept. 1882, at Brussels. It was announced as follows:

"By Authority.
The Prince of Wales, marriage to the Princess Alexandra of Denmark has been privately settled at Brussels. It is based entirely upon mutual affection and the personal merits of the young princess, and it is in no way connected with political considerations. The revered Prince Consort, whose sole object was the education and welfare of his children, had been long convinced that this was a most desirable marriage. The knowledge of this at once a source of great gratification to the Queen, and will be most satisfactory to the country."

In 1883, the prince was sworn of the privy council and took his seat in the house of lords. The estate of Sandringham was purchased for him, and Marlborough House was chosen as his London residence.

The Wedding.
On March 10, of the same year, he married Princess Alexandra in St.
George's Chapel, Windsor. The beauty of the ceremony, the "sea king's" daughter from over the sea, and the warm place in the affections of the nation which she still holds. An annuity of £40,000 was then settled on the prince and an income of £10,000 on the princess. In addition, he had as hereditary Duke of Cornwall the revenues of that duchy.

The prince now entered upon that career of public activity and usefulness which distinguished him above previous holders of the high office.
His mother sought seclusion during her long years, but the prince and princess were more and more in the eyes of the nation.

His example has created a new tradition for the heir to the British throne. The prince has never regarded the Prince of Wales as the most important of his titles; it is his duty to undertake a considerable share of the public work of his father and his interest in all the philanthropic and social movements of the time. Victoria endeared the monarchy to the British people, and in the process, the prince played his part.

Thought the Disease Was Cancer of the Stomach

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Cured Him

Sydney Mines, N.S., January 25th, 1910.
"For many years I suffered torture from indigestion and dyspepsia. Two years ago, I was so bad that I vomited my food constantly. The agony I endured all these years, I cannot describe, and I lost over 25 pounds in weight. I also suffered with constipation, which made the stomach trouble worse. I consulted physicians, as I was afraid the disease was cancer, but medicine gave only temporary relief, and then the disease was as bad as ever."

"I read in The Maritime Baptist about 'Fruit-a-tives' and the cures this medicine was making, and I decided to try it. After taking three boxes, I found a great change for the better, and now I can say 'Fruit-a-tives' has entirely cured me when every other treatment failed, and I reverently say, 'Thank God for Fruit-a-tives!'"

"An Immense Sorrow Now Weighs on the Province," He Says—Tidings of Death a Shock.

QUEBEC, May 6.—(Special).—The official news of the King's death was received by Hon. P. Pelletier, speaker of the provincial legislature, just after the opening of the evening sitting. The news had spread through the city and the public galleries were crowded when the speaker entered amid silence and called on Mr. Bernard, who had adjusted the debate of afternoon to move that the debate be adjourned indefinitely.

Sir Lomer Goulin then read the official statement of the sovereign's death and moved that the house adjourn until Tuesday, as a mark of respect. Mr. Laverne, acting leader of the opposition, assented to the motion in a brief speech, and the speaker declared the house adjourned. The Quebec Legislature was the only parliament in the British empire in session at the time of the King's death.

The news of the King's death came as a shock to Sir Charles Pelletier, the aged governor of the province. He had not seen the evening papers, and was not aware of the seriousness of the King's illness. He received the news from his aide de camp, Capt. Lethbridge, just as he finished dinner. He immediately notified the premier and the speaker of the house.

Premier Goulin, commenting on the news, said:
"It is an immense sorrow which now weighs on the Province of Quebec. Many generations knew his majesty, Edward VII, and remember the voyage which he made to Quebec when he was Prince of Wales. His name has been in the hearts of all our people, where admiration and love for the King have increased since his accession to the throne. His Majesty Edward VII's name will go down to posterity as the great peacemaker of the world. He was a great king, and a worthy successor of a great queen."

"The Easiest Way."

Playgoers who wish to enjoy to the full the effect of Frances Starr's acting in "The Easiest Way" at the Royal Alexandra next week, will be well advised to make a point of being in their seats when the curtain rises. The opening lines of the play's story, but in addition, Miss Starr is on the stage when the curtain rises and the action begins immediately. From that moment onward, save for a few minutes at the close of the first act, Miss Starr is continually in the picture, the centre of absorbed interest at every turn. The curtain will rise promptly in the evenings at 8.15 and at the matinees at 2 o'clock.

Frances Starr's swift advancement to the front rank of American stars has been won at the cost of persistent hard work. For some years before David Belasco invited her to join his forces in the support of Mr. Warfield in "The Music Master," she had played many roles with distinction, thus gradually and laboriously acquiring that knowledge of her art which now stands her in such good stead. Her first great opportunity came when Mr. Belasco cast her for the leading role of "The Rose of the Rancho," which she played with such rare and irresistible charm that she literally became famous in a night.

David Belasco, the producer of this remarkable play, believes that social defects may be remedied, not by hiding facts, but by the discussion in a sincere and straightforward, tho' not offensive, manner. Eugene Walter, who became known to the public through his plays "Paid in Full" and "The Wolf," has achieved his greatest triumph in "The Easiest Way."

Miss Billie Burke at the Princess. The interesting theatrical event next week will be the first appearance here of the first appearance in Canada, for that matter, of Miss Billie Burke, one of the most popular comedienne of the American stage. Miss Burke comes to the Princess Theatre on Monday evening in "The Princess," one of the Maughan comedies to be presented on this side of the Atlantic.

No other actress has ever achieved such remarkable popularity and success in so short a time as Miss Burke. Three years ago only a few people who travel had heard of her and of the success she had scored in musical comedy in London. Then Charles Frohman brought her to America to be John Drew's leading woman in "My Wife," and so great was her individual success in this place, and the following year Mr. Frohman made her a star in her own right, and presented her first in "Love Watches." Her fame has gone on increasing ever since, and today very few names stand between hers and the very top of the list of comedienne in America. As an impersonator of the famous comedienne, Miss Burke's buoyant girlhood, she has no equal on the English-speaking stage.

In the supporting company—an unusually strong one—appear Julian, L. E. Strange, Fred Kerr, a well-known London comedian; Basil Hallam, Kate Meek, Annie Esmond and Ann Meredith.

The Southern-Marlowe Engagement. Monday night, May 30, at the Royal Alexandra. The Southern-Marlowe engagement will have an opportunity to welcome America's two foremost dramatic artists, E. H. Southern and Miss Julia Marlowe, at the common consent of their engagement of seven performances, during which they will present their magnificent repertoire of Shakespeare's productions. The programme includes "Romeo and Juliet," Tuesday night; "The Merchant of Venice," Wednesday; "As You Like It," Thursday; "The Taming of the Shrew," Friday; "Twelfth Night," Saturday matinee; "Romeo and Juliet," Saturday night.

Owing to the elaborate nature of the productions, the performances commence at 8 o'clock sharp and 2 o'clock at the matinee. The price will be the two-dollar scale.

Al. Wilson at the Grand. Al. Wilson, the singing ambassador of German dialect, will bring his latest play, "Metz in Ireland," to the Grand next week. "Metz in Ireland" is an interesting story of the land of the shamrock, the plot contains two stories, one full of the purest German and Irish comedy, and the other full of that romantic feeling for which the Wilson songs are famous. In this latest story that Mr. Wilson sings "Love Thoughts," a love song that is sure to be whistled and hummed by all who hear it. He will also sing "Erin's Isle," "The Banisher," "The Nightingale Song," and "Mixed German," while in the last act he will render the melody of the songs made popular by him in the past.

New Majestic Music Hall. A most interesting and varied bill of vaudeville at the New Majestic Music Hall next week will be headed by George C. Fildmarsh and a company of comic players in a musical playlet "The Little Girl." It is said to be an intensely interesting production, the playlet has undertaken to solve the satisfaction of his audiences. George Lauder, America's premier ventriloquist, who will be the extra attraction, will introduce some new features in the art of ventriloquism. Others billed are Edward Malvey and Company, presenting a rural sketch, "Down on the Farm," depicting actual incidents from life in the Maine backwoods; Coogan and Sparks, offering a dancing and singing act; Revell and Doer, European gymnasts, in an extraordinary performance; George Elson, the minstrel man, who has the rare gift of storytelling; The Pickard Family, equitarians, whose act will add tone to the program; and Eddie McGrath, the sweet-voiced illustrated song vocalist, who has been retained for another week and who will sing three songs. Excellent animated motion pictures will complete the Majestic's offering for the week. Popular prices will prevail.

"The Round Up." Klav and Eranger's stupendous production of "The Round Up" play, "The Round Up," with Maclyn At. will be seen at the Princess for a week beginning Monday night, May 15. The scenes are laid in Southern Arizona and the characters and atmosphere of this region are graphically portrayed. The battle scenes are almost as thrilling as the scenes with shot and shell and gatling gun. The scene of the last act, presenting a cattle round up, is a typical picture of western bravado and

Summer Temperature in Every Room

That's what the "Economy" system means. Read the thermometer—the coldest day in January or the stormiest in March. It always stands at 70°.

Simple to Operate

Your boy or girl can attend to it. Want to tell you about another feature—the "Economy" Air Blast. It throws hot air into the space above the fire, mixing with the gases, creates heat units. In the ordinary furnace, these gases escape up the smoke pipe—most of this heat is wasted. Just another feature of "Economy" furnaces. Learn more about it—look for my next talk.

At Shea's Next Week.

Next week at Shea's Theatre the big bill will be headed by the Four Huntings, who have been out of vaudeville for a long time and winning new laurels for themselves in musical comedy. Their offering, "A Night in a Pool House," has been brought up-to-date, and dainty Mollie Huntling, who is one of the most graceful dancers on the stage, will be seen to the best advantage.

The special attraction will be Frank J. Conroy, George Le Maire & Co., in "A King for a Night," one of the merriest comedies in vaudeville. Ed Morton is an entertaining singer. His songs are always new and tuneful, and he has a repertoire of his own favorites with vaudeville songs, brought up-to-date. The Premane Brothers, the originators of "The Nightingale Song," will be seen in this amusing offering. French artists have introduced the grotesque as well as a novelty element into their act. Barrios and King are the original kings of comedy magic. The Kinetograph closes the great bill with two new comedy pictures.

At the Gayety.

Wobber and Rusli's Parisian Widows' company is the attraction at the Gayety for the week commencing Monday matinee. This season in addition to its side-splitting comedy situations and bright lines the show will be more elaborately staged and gorgeously costumed, and will furthermore, have a carefully selected cast of competent performers.

The "Song Evening" recently given by Robert Stuart Pigott and Mrs. Gerard Barton is to be repeated in the Grand Theatre on Tuesday evening. The program is unusually interesting for the reason that it embraces the songs of German and English composers, Franz, E. A. McDowell, the Elian Cycle of Alexander von Feltz and three Shakespeare songs by Gerard Barton. The fact that it is entirely from memory by both interpreter and accompanist makes it an achievement rarely attempted in Toronto. Tickets are on sale at Tyrrell's.

THE FACTS ABOUT FORT GEORGE

need no exaggeration. We have been careful to UNDER-STATE rather than to overstate the resources of this coming metropolis.

Our advertising has consisted of PLAIN UNADORNED STATEMENTS OF EASILY VERIFIED FACTS. The public has quickly realized the truth—that the commercial capital of a great empire is in the making at Fort George, Central British Columbia.

Now, hardly an issue of Vancouver or Victoria papers appears but what contains mention of Fort George; of the building of steamboats for the river; of the provision of additional transportation to it from the present railway lines; and now as spring opens, of the wonderful influx of settlers. We publish a little paper,

A BULLETIN OF FACTS

about Fort George and Central British Columbia. It is intended primarily for the holders of lots. It supplies authentic information on the latest developments.

It tells about the progress of the railways, the influx of settlers, the establishment of business houses, the operation of steamboat lines, and all the activities of this thriving young city and its great surrounding territory.

If you are interested in the development of Central British Columbia, send us your name and address, and we will mail you each issue of this paper.

G.T.P. PROGRESS

At London the other day, President Charles M. Hays of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway stated that this summer he expected to ride from Prince Rupert to Copper River on the new railway line.

Construction work is being rapidly pushed forward on the line both east and west of Fort George. Transcontinental trains will be running through here, possibly in 1911, certainly in 1912.

This great transcontinental is only ONE of the many railways whose inland systems will centre at Fort George. There are now seven railway lines, building and projected, which radiate from this point. Its strategic position will COMPEL the railways of the future also to centre at Fort George.

WHY?

Because Fort George dominates the inland waterways. You can verify this statement by a glance at any map of British Columbia. You will see its location at the junction of the Nechaco and Fraser Rivers, and commanding the Stuart River and its chain of lakes; the north and south branches of the Fraser; the Salmon River and the headwaters of the Peace.

And what does this signify? ALL RAILWAYS MUST BUILD ALONG THE WATERWAYS TO GET FEASIBLE GRADES, AND THUS THEY MUST ALL BUILD INTO FORT GEORGE.

Spokane, Winnipeg, Edmonton and Calgary are the railway centres of their respective territories. Knowing what these cities have BECOME, you can easily see what Fort George WILL BE. Only Fort George will develop faster, because it is the centre of the LAST GREAT UNDEVELOPED SECTION OF NORTH AMERICA.

Delay may lose for you your share in the profit of the development of this "Last Great Metropolis of North America."

Shun delay.

DETECTIVE'S GREAT WORK

Chief of Parisian Police Runs Down Alleged Murderer.

PARIS, May 6.—M. Hamard, chief of detectives in Paris, has accomplished one of the cleverest pieces of detective work in the history of criminal annals. In the arrest of the murderer of a poor street girl, Elisa Vandamme, whose atrocious murder had baffled the police for six weeks, the chief's head was found in a sewer and subsequently her hands, feet and other portions of her body were discovered in different places.

Hamard, with only the vaguest clue, doggedly searched 800 houses and finally found the key to the girl's room in the hands of an ex-convict named Ferdinand, who had recently escaped from the penal colony in French Guiana. Ferdinand broke down and confessed to cutting up and disposing of the body, but asserted that the girl had died from natural causes in his arms.

ALARMING REPORT BY DOCTOR

Normal Children Harmed by Defective Classmates, Says Dr. MacMurchy.

The report of Dr. Helen MacMurchy, submitted to the board of education, is indicative of an alarming condition of the children in the public schools. This is the first inspection that has been made in the schools. Forty per cent. of the children examined were suffering from adenoid growths, making perfect breathing an impossibility.

Cases of backward children are outlined in detail, and it is shown beyond a doubt that those children could not possibly be otherwise, owing to certain organic troubles which have been absorbing the energy of the child.

Of the 117 cases examined in only one instance was permission refused by the parent of the child for re-examination.

Dr. MacMurchy lays special stress on the fact that some children are not merely backward but that they are also defective and their presence in the class is a hindrance to the others of more sound physique.

GOVERNMENT TOWNSITE

Lots in Porcupine Now May Be Bought From H. S. Mara.

PORCUPINE, May 5.—(Special.)—The facilities for reaching Porcupine are becoming better daily. Next week there will be a gasoline launch service from mileage 228, with a walk of a few miles, at both ends of the journey. The canoe route is rather dangerous, especially on Frederick-house and Night Hawk Lakes, the intrepid prospector thinks little of this. Business is beginning to pick up with the influx of prospectors, and the arrival of visitors, which is gradually increasing. The sale of town lots on the government townsite continue to be briskly sought, until they would see the actual ground before investing their money. They were also anxious to know whether the camp was likely to have permanent value and whether the phenomenal values found on the surface continued to depth or not. The result of the past winter's investigation before the townsite is reached. The indications point towards great building activity within the next few months.

Constipation.

No one need expect to be healthy if the bowels are allowed to become clogged up. A free motion of the bowels daily should be the rule with everyone who aspires to perfect health.

Constiveness or constipation clogs the bowels, chokes up the natural outlet of impure matter, and retains in the system the poisonous effete waste products of nature, causing bad blood, dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, foul humors, pimples, boils, blotches, piles, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters has built up an unrivaled reputation as a cure for constipation and all the diseases which arise from it.

Mr. Burns Wood, Constipation Cured. "For over two years I suffered from constipation. I tried several physicians, but could get no relief, but after taking three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters, my bowels are completely cured and I am in good health. My wife and I cannot speak too highly of Burdock Blood Bitters."

CHEAP BUILDING LOTS

When lots five miles from the city are selling for $25 and $35 a foot, what do you think of buying lots delightfully situated just over the border from the northern city line for $4 to $10 per foot? Looks like a bargain. It certainly is, and these prices won't last long.

Buy Now -- Before The Advance

Where They Are The Situation The Prospect

These lots are situated in what is known as the Parsons Estate, just beyond the city, at north end of Dufferin Street. You can go up there in our automobile if you arrange a date with us.

These lots are situated on level and on rolling ground, at top of an eminence giving magnificent view of surrounding country, yet not high enough to make walking up difficult. Near cars, church, school, store, etc.

There is every prospect of an immediate advance in prices. Values have been going up since Spring. Over 400 families are now contented to settle on this property, which greatly adds to the value of the remaining lots.

For Investment

No land now offered the investor gives the assurance of profit that these lots do; 400 families moving upon the estate has greatly increased the value, but we are still selling at the original price. That is why it is such a snap for the investor at present figures. Telephone for an appointment to see the property.

For Working Men

It is the only place left for the workman to get a good-sized lot with a garden, where he can build a house for himself according to his means, and pay on easy terms. Our plan should interest every workman who is weary of paying rent. Now is the time; call in and see us.

Easy Terms--$4.00 to $10.00 per foot

CANADIAN LITERATURE

London Publisher Says it is Destined to Reach Great Prominence.

Arthur Spurgeon, head of the great publishing firm of Cassell & Co., Limited, formerly Cassell, Petter & Galpin, addressed the Empire Club at luncheon yesterday. Special reference was made by Dr. Clouse to the King's health in proposing the usual royal toast. Mr. Spurgeon also stated that while the English newspapers had for months past observed the reticence usual in England, those in inner circles have known the King was in a critical condition, and it only required such an incident as occurred at Biarritz to reveal the true state of affairs.

Mr. Spurgeon fully agreed with Earl Grey that Canada would in the future become the heart and center of the British Empire.

He believed that a city had just the kind of newspapers that should write the history of the future. He did not know any city in the empire of similar size with so many newspapers of such a high grade published as in Toronto.

The movement in connection with the Y.M.C.A. struck a stranger as the most wonderful thing he had ever witnessed. It was evidence that the business men of Toronto were not entirely occupied with dollars.

As representative of a firm long associated with the spread of cheap literature he thought he might touch on the part that books play in the life of the commonwealth. Mr. Spurgeon declared emphatically that Canada was on the verge of a wonderful and amazing development in literature. Canada had the men and women, the atmosphere, and the locale for great historical fiction.

Speaking of some Canadian authors he referred to Ralph Connor, saying that it was a great tribute that a man living in Winnipeg should write books that are as popular in England as in Canada. Sir Gilbert Parker was also in the front rank, and they might expect great things from Miss Montgomery, author of "Anne of Green Gables." He believed she would be one of the powers that would count in days to come. He commended Mrs. Humphry Ward's last book, "Lady Merton," as portraying the spirit of the new nation in Canada. Among the poets he mentioned Drummond and Service.

J. M. Clark, K.C., gave some account of the meeting of the Imperial Co-operation League, which he attended in London, and over which the Earl of Onslow presided.

A cablegram was sent to the Whitefriars' Club, London, England, which held a banquet last night, presided over by Sir Gilbert Parker.

Pirates Being Rounded Up.
MANILA, May 6.—More pirates have attacked a settlement in the Celebes and killed a number of traders and natives. The pirates are now surrounded at Manuk on the island of Manka. A Dutch cruiser is assisting in the attack upon them, and reinforcements have been despatched from Jolo.

NORWEGIAN STEAMER IN PORT
Toronto Seems to Be a "Deep Water" Harbor After All.

Flying the Norwegian flag, the steamer Odland of Christiania, Norway, docked in the harbor, carrying 1583 tons of pig iron consigned from Middlesborough to Haney & Miller, Toronto.

She made the voyage from Norway in 22 days. This is the first time she has docked in Toronto, she piled between Erie, Pa., and Quebec for two summers with coal and merchandise. She is chartered by Garbay, Son & Co. of Quebec, and will ply with coal and merchandise between Lake Erie ports and Montreal this summer.

Aged Couple Bitten by Dog.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Christie of Niagara-on-the-Lake are in the General hospital under treatment in the Pasteur branch of that institution, having been bitten by a dog which attacked them in their home a few days ago. They are over 60 years of age.

The company has given material concessions to the machinists, blacksmiths, molders and pattern makers, and the respective helpers for these trades.
