COMMERCIAL OUTLOOK BLACK IN ENGLAND

COAL DEADLOCK RESULTS
IN STAGGERING LOSSES

Train Services Are Cut in Half, While Fully 15 Per Cent. of Export Coal Trade Estimated Lost Beyond Recall

FOREIGN EXPERTS MAY BE CALLED
Proposal to Have Outsiders Draw Up Terms and Have Them Submitted to Secret Ballot by the Miners—Strong Pressure on Government

By HERBERT BAILEY
British United Press.
LONDON, May 27.—The effect of the continued coal strike upon the industries of the country is becoming so grave, and the general commercial outlook so black, that the greatest pressure is being brought to bear upon Premier Baldwin to ignore the attitude of both the mine owners and the leaders of the striking miners and take drastic action to enforce peace.

It is understood that the cabinet is now considering various plans submitted by leading industrialists and others for the settlement of the difficulty.
WANT FOREIGN EXPERTS
One proposition is that mining experts should be called in from other countries to draw up what they consider fair terms for both the mine owners and the miners, and that this report should be submitted by a secret ballot to the miners for their approval. Those advocating this plan believe it would lead to a seven and a half hour working day for the miners and the present seven hour day and would guarantee a minimum wage which would roughly correspond to that existing before the present stoppage of work.

And such proposals as the miners' leaders whose cry is "Not a minute on the day, not a penny off the pay."
LACKS SUPPORT
The idea of those supporting the proposal is that the government, following the adoption of such a report, would make a temporary loan to the industry while the necessary re-organization is being carried out.
Whether Mr. Baldwin could carry his cabinet on such a scheme is rather doubtful as the mine owners have many friends in the ministry and the recent stubbornness of the leaders of the miners has alienated much of the sympathy which the men enjoyed at the beginning of the trouble.

ENORMOUS DAMAGE
Meanwhile, the damage to the industry is enormous. From fifteen to twenty per cent. of the export coal trade is believed to be lost beyond recall. For lack of coal for transportation purposes, the train services of the country have been cut fifty per cent. and the consequent loss of freight handling and the consequent loss of many foreign orders. The coal trade is now threatened with discontinuance owing to shortage of coal and every day the situation is getting worse. The people of London are inclined to think that the crisis passed with the calling off of the General Strike but the industrialists of the north know the true effects of the coal stoppage, and they are pressing the government to force a settlement at any cost.

Eleventh hour termination of the war in Morocco, pacification of the Syrians and a surprising improvement in the French franc have taken from the power of Briand 90 per cent. of their ammunition. Many Addresses Given and Several Departmental Reports Read

SACKVILLE, May 26.—The evening sessions of the Maritime Conference of the United Church are attracting large audiences in addition to the delegates. The election of Rev. Dr. Hamilton Wigle as president is very popular. Rev. Dr. S. D. Chown, of Toronto, is speaker at devotional services each morning and his discourses are much appreciated. Rev. Dr. Clarence MacKinnon's address as reting president, which was read in his absence, expressed regret at his inability to be present owing to a commission from the general conference which he had accepted first and to the subsequent change of date in the meeting of the conference.

At this evening's session, Rev. Dr. C. R. Young and Rev. Dr. S. W. Dean, of Toronto, gave interesting and inspiring addresses on the mission work of the United Church before a large congregation assembled in the United church.

During his principalship a new wing was built costing $24,000, which is now clear of debt. Rev. W. C. SAINT JOHN, N. B., MAY 27, 1926.

IS THIS RUSSIA?
 It may be pure coincidence, but it is worth noting—Russia is very much behind the front of things just now. The recent general strike in Great Britain was undoubtedly inspired by Communist teachings, although British common sense precluded its progressing along orthodox Communist lines.

There is a guild purporting to represent the working women of the world, a guild presided over by a Frau Emmy Freudlich, whose address is simply Austria, which has been circulating the delegates of the Geneva Disarmament Conference urging complete disarmament. The president has a German name, Germany has recently concluded a treaty with Russia; Russia is the barrier to anything approaching disarmament.

Now we see the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism hard at work trying to establish a branch in Canada under the style of the Rationalist Society of Canada. Russia is the only avowedly atheistic country. It is unlikely that atheists will find a fertile soil in Canada, but all the same the activities of such a society should be watched, and from the religious side, we may safely leave the matter in the hands of the priests and ministers. Nevertheless it may be as well to point out the insidious nature of the use of the word Rationalist which hitherto has meant anything but atheism. The Rationalists in England are people who have been seeking to reconcile the Christian religion with accepted scientific facts and to explain apparent discrepancies in the Scriptures in a manner acceptable to an analytical mind. This may to a certain extent imply scepticism, but not atheism.

Generally speaking, atheists are not proselytizers. It is only in Russia that atheists have attempted to force their negation of faith on others and this has resulted in religious persecution as the following shows:

The Metropolitan Anthony, President of the Episcopal Synod of the Orthodox Russian Church outside Russia, has issued a circular to the "Heads" and Governments of the States of all the world, and the League of Nations, which concludes:
 "In the Name of God, Christian love and humanity, we implore Heads and Governments of the States and League of Nations to stay in Russia the persecution of the Orthodox Church and her ministers and children, and to save them from perdition. We implore your help to restore in Russia the freedom of religion, which was falsely promised by the Bolsheviks in 1918, so that the Russian people may be able to do its will in matters of faith and Church."
 The Russians appealing to you be the voice in the wilderness?"

What is it about? Is it more of Russia's propaganda, this atheism? If we leave it to the churches to combat the spiritual side of the matter, our governments might lack cognizance of any possible political trend.

LEADER VERSUS CHAIRMAN.
 Taking it all in all, it might not be all a bad thing for England if the Asquith-Lloyd George controversy were to disrupt the whole Liberal party and force its components to align themselves with one or other of the younger parties, Conservative or Labor. On the other hand, if it were only to result in the formation of more groups bidding for indirect political influence, it would be bad.

Straight two-party politics has not yet been ousted from its position as the most satisfactory of governing systems. No workable theory has yet appeared to supplant it. The subtleties and opportunities for machine tactics introduced by group politics are well known. At the last general election the Liberal party in Great Britain suffered defeat which may be its death blow. Parliamentary Labor—outside a few loathings—has evidently profited by its term of office under Ramsay MacDonald to learn that all governments, whatever their color, are faced with substantially the same problems of administration and finance and that the lostrams of an opposition are, more often than not, unworkable by the same party in power.

On the other hand, the Conservative party is strongly entrenched and its leader has added enormously to his aureole by his mastery and firm handling of the general strike. So that, all things considered, the time seems opportune for a split of the Liberal party such. Now that the Irish question has been virtually removed from the ten of those who labor under Big Ben, here is precious little difference between the moderate Liberal politician and the Conservative, while the radical Liberal will not find himself in uncompanionable company alongside the Labor parliamentarians.

Of course the mere fact that there is an Asquith-Lloyd George squabble need not be taken too seriously as indicative of a Liberal split. There has never been great cordiality between the two men and the little Welshman's successful piloting of the Ship of State brings the war, after the now, Lord

 A special correspondent of an Eastern paper, describing agricultural conditions on the prairies, says the farmers work fourteen hours a day during eight months of the year. Deducting hours for sleep and meals little time is left for golf and picture shows.

Why?
 (Toronto Mail and Empire)
 Farmer Jenkins was unfortunately in a bad humor, when, one evening, approaching the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding day, his wife said, "Next Tuesday will be our silver wedding; we ought to celebrate. Let's kill the red calf!" "Kill the calf?" roared Jenkins. "What's the good of murdering an innocent calf for something that happened twenty-five years ago?"

DINNER STORIES
 I called my servant, and he came; How kind it was of him To mind a slender man like me, He of the mighty limb.

IN A CERTAIN mental home it was proposed to institute an honor system. That is, the inmates were to be placed on their parole and would be free to roam the grounds at will. The scheme was put to the inmates themselves, the authorities having agreed that they would know better than anyone else whether they could play the game honorably.

"Hi, Riley," called one man to another, "did you vote for the honor system this afternoon?"
 "You bet I did!" retorted the other, "six times."

A CONCERT had been arranged by the workers of a certain factory, and all the local stars were booked to appear.
 Miss Brown, the favorite soprano, was announced to sing, and before she began she apologized for her cold.
 "I'll hang my harp on a willow tree—caden."
 "On a willow tree—caden?"
 Her voice broke on the high note each time. She tried twice more. Then a voice came from the back of the hall:
 "Try hanging it on a lower branch, miss!"

A SCOTSMAN had been promised a present of a new hat.
 Before it was brought the donor called and asked: "Would you rather have a felt or a straw hat, McPherson?"
 "Weel," said the latter, "I think I'll take a straw one. Maybe it will be a mouthful for the coo when I'm done with it."

A MAN in a hospital for the insane sat dangling a stick with a piece of string attached over a flower pot. A visitor approached, and wishing to be affable, remarked:
 "How many have you caught?"
 "You're the ninth," was the reply.

POEMS LOVE
 BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"The Height of the Ridiculous," by O. W. Holmes.
 THIS humorous poem of another era still interests me. Fashions in humor change more rapidly than in any other field; yet these lines retain their freshness and spontaneity.

I wrote some lines once on a time In wondrous merry mood, And shot them from ear to ear; He read the third; a chuckling noise I now began to hear.

He took the paper, and I watched, And saw him peep within; At the first line he read, his face Was all upon the grin.

He read the next; the grin grew broad, And shot from ear to ear; He read the third; a chuckling noise I now began to hear.

THE fourth, he broke into a roar; The fifth, his waist-band split; The sixth, he burst five buttons off, And tumbled in a fit.

Ten days and nights, with sleepless eye, I watched that wretched man, And since, I never dare to write As funny as I can.

POPULARIZING KNOWLEDGE.
 THERE are, and have been, many attempts to popularize knowledge," says James H. Robinson, in "The Humanizing of Knowledge."

"Our schools and colleges are ostensibly devoted to this, and there are many books, articles and lectures directed to the same end. The results, however, seem very inadequate compared with the possibilities."
 "This is felt keenly when one talks with people generally about scientific subjects as well as about the arts. Most people look on anything—book, lecture, music or even newspaper article—that is other than light in tone and new in style as something to be avoided. They are all carefully avoided by the average human as being beyond his comprehension and consequently boring."

WHO is to blame? Our schools and colleges? Our writers and speakers—our singers, musicians? Surely the nature of the structure of the earth we live on and our own origin and history should interest us even if the arts do not.

Mr. Robinson avers that the methods of presentation need to be altered. "At present so-called serious books, even when they pretend to be of a popular nature, are rarely written exclusively for the general reader. Scholars and men of science almost always write more or less unconsciously for one another. This is the natural out-

The Very Idea!

THAT'S DIFFERENT
 THEY sat out in the moonlight, and their hearts were beating fast. No doubt, they both were wondering just how long 'twas gonna last. Now quiet ruled supremely, you could tell they were afraid, and each one shushed the other when the slightest sound was made.

The neighbors, in the house next door, were at a window pane, a look-in and a look-out, but their looks were quite in vain. The fright of both the lovers you can surely understand when you know one of the neighbors had a shotgun in his hand.

"I guess we'd better beat it," came a whisper, in a breath. The other didn't answer. He was almost scared to death. Another hour they waited. Every minute was intense. And then they made a sudden dash, and cleared the backyard fence.

Another romance blasted 'neath the moon that shines above. 'Twas just because the lovers sat and howled their bloomin' love. The whole world loves a lover is a true thought, now and then. But when they're only alley cats—it's something else again.

The first year of his marriage a fella calls his mother-in-law "say," and after that, grandma.

Mother told Johnny that he must keep his eyes closed during prayer and Johnny wanted to know how she knew he didn't.

Even a skeleton key won't pick a lock on a bald head.
 Two burglars came. The clock struck one. Said he, "That sure is luck."
 "Which one the dern thing struck."

MOTHER—What makes your shoes always look so untidy?
 SONNY—Just the slip of a tongue.

She was a particular wife who wouldn't let her hubby go into the crude oil business 'cause it wasn't refined.

Judging from the way some people dance, the only steps they know are on the front porch.

PURE NONSENSE
 (Baltimore Sun)
 Herbert D. Brown, chief of the federal bureau of efficiency, yesterday declared that he had yet to see a really successful bachelor in the government's service. . . . What puts it into the head of the efficiency expert that a bachelor cannot do good work for the government, although he surpasses in all other endeavors? Work counts in the end in the government as elsewhere, and what is there for the bachelor to ginners to repair the escalator with do, poor, God-forsaken beast, other than to work? It keeps him from the crazy house even while it puts him on the top rungs of the ladder. . . . The first thing Mr. Brown will know, if he does not put his head to work, is a of a shorter perspective. The escalator bachelor will have his job.

LONGEST ESCALATOR
 (New York Times)
 London has the world's longest escalator, at the tube station at Oxford Circus. The length of the shaft is 122 feet, width 4 feet, and its descent from the street level is 54 feet. A wooden box runs the whole length, this being covered with knobs to prevent hastening passengers from sliding down, but all other endeavors? Work counts in the end in the government as elsewhere, and what is there for the bachelor to ginners to repair the escalator with do, poor, God-forsaken beast, other than to work? It keeps him from the crazy house even while it puts him on the top rungs of the ladder. . . . The first thing Mr. Brown will know, if he does not put his head to work, is a of a shorter perspective. Will She Lose Her Husband by Demanding a Daily Program of Love-Making?—The Second Wife Who is Jealous of Her Husband's Funeral Plans—A Father's Duty to Married Daughters.

DEAR MISS DIX—What do you think about married people frolicking together? I always feel that my husband is sick or angry if he doesn't pull off a little "rough stuff" with me while I am trying to cook breakfast. And I also feel that he is unfair to me unless every night when he comes home he pets me and babies me. His mother thinks I am so silly, and tells me that I will lose my husband with such insane pranks. But we have been married two years and he still thinks I am just precious. Do men love their wives better when they frolic with them and when they make them be affectionate?

ANSWER: Depends entirely upon the man. If a man is of a jovial type that delights in horseplay, undoubtedly he would enjoy a wife who liked to be mauled around like the rag doll in the side show. The main factor in keeping a husband's love is congeniality, and there is no danger of your husband growing tired of you as long as you like to do the things that he does and meet him on his own ground. So if he enjoys a frolic, play with him. If he gets any kick out of being a cut-up, applaud his antics.

But, of course, you must realize that a man can't keep up that sort of buffoonery indefinitely. It is bound to go stale after a while, so be wise enough to let such schoolboy pranks die their natural death, and don't force your husband to simulate a false gaiety when he gets sobered down by the cares of life. It is only when we are very, very young that we are gay and humorous before breakfast.

As for your demanding a certain amount of love-making every day, that is a different matter, and I should say that your procedure is exceedingly dangerous. Personally I can think of nothing that would make a husband feel so unlovable as to know that he was scheduled for a petting party that had to be pulled off on the stroke of the clock, whether he liked it or not. I can imagine him dreading the ordeal as he would going to the dentist's and having to screw up his courage to go through with it and breathing a sigh of thanksgiving when it was over.

A man may have the deepest and truest affection possible for his wife. His love for her may be so great that it is a part of life itself, but he isn't always in a sentimental mood. He doesn't always want to bill and coo and kiss.

When his mind is filled with business cares and worries, he doesn't want any fool woman asking him "Oo's ducky is ooo?" When he is wondering how he can get the bank to extend his note, he feels more like wearing at his wife than swearing that if she should die he will never, never marry again. And when he comes home tired and nerve-worn, he doesn't want to be bothered over. He wants to be let alone.

There is a time and a place for everything under the sun. Especially is there a time and place for love-making, and wise is the woman who awaits the appointed psychological hour when her husband wants to make love to her, instead of forcing him to make it one of his daily duties that he comes to loathe. One kiss with some real feeling in it is worth a peck of hit or miss pecks on the ear that a man bestows upon his wife because he is expected to kiss her.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I married a widower who is good and kind to me and who wants to love me. But he is always reminding me that when he dies he wishes to be buried by the side of his first wife. Do you think I am just a SECOND FIDDLE?

ANSWER: You should worry about where your husband is buried? If you die before he does, it will not matter to you where he is buried; and if he dies before you do you can bury him where you please. Anyway, why does it matter? The thing that concerns you is not where your husband's dead body will lie, but how he treats you while he is still in the flesh. If he is good and kind and tender and affectionate to you, enjoy that and forget his funeral arrangements. Don't let something that may never happen in your lifetime spoil your happiness.

Of course, your husband is stupid beyond belief not to keep his plans for the disposal of his remains a secret between himself and his executor. Any man who knows so little of a woman's heart that he does not realize that a second wife, if always tortured by jealousy of the first wife, is so dumb that he should not be allowed out without a keeper.

But many men are like that, and it is just lack of intuition, just lack of realization of how cruel they are, that makes them continually harp to their second wives upon the charms and perfections of their first wives—charms and virtues which grow brighter as they fade. For many a man announces a wife after she is dead with whom he quarreled while she was alive.

Perhaps some flavor of the romance of early love always hovers around a man's first wife, but as a matter of fact he is generally fonder of his second wife and gets along better with her than he did with the first. So wipe your eyes and call your sense of humor to your aid, and recollect that if you should die and your husband should marry again, he would doubtless demand of No. 3 that he be buried between you and No. 1. DOROTHY DIX.

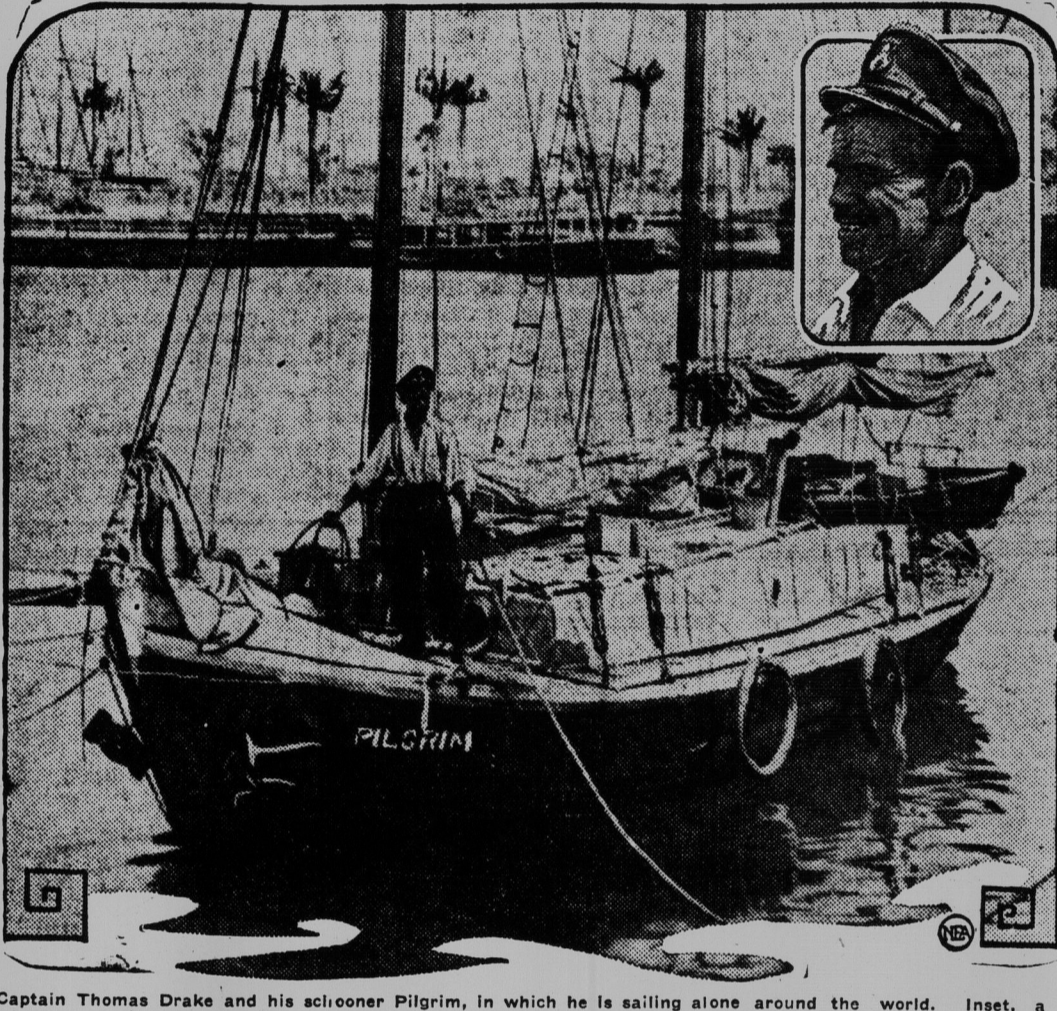

DEAR MISS DIX—What is a duty of a father toward two daughters who have married men who seemingly do not want to support them in the same comfort that they were accustomed to before marriage? My daughters seem to think it my duty virtually to clothe the grand-children. This I cannot do without cutting in on my wife's small luxuries, as my income is limited. A PERPLEXED FATHER.

ANSWER: I think that after children are grown and married and have gone off on their own, they should stand on their own feet and support themselves. They have no right to expect their parents to deny themselves in order to give to them, and you will be perfectly right if you refuse to let them hold you up. Perhaps if your sons-in-law realize that they will have to clothe their own children, they will go to work and do it.

It does young people good to be thrown on their own responsibility. When the youngsters know that they must either sink or swim they strike out and swim. DOROTHY DIX.

Goes To Sea To Recover Laughter

Captain Thomas Drake and his schooner Pilgrim, in which he is sailing alone around the world. Inset, a close-up of the skipper.

NEVER was there a stranger quest since men have gone down to the sea. Romance clings like a barnacle to seamen's search for things lost and hidden—lost continents, hidden islands, buried treasure, mysterious and unknown ports!

But Skipper Thomas Drake, at 53, has set out to sea in his 35-foot, two-masted schooner, Pilgrim, to find that freedom of spirit that speaks in hearty laughter.

He built a second round-the-world schooner, the Frances 2nd. This piled up and split on the rocks off the Cuban coast. He swam ashore and somehow escaped the sharks. That amused him. He laughed about it—afterward!

THEN he quit the sea. He said good-bye to all the good old crafts of pleasant memory—the old Cutty Sark, Vanania, City of Locknow, the square-rigger in which he went "round the horn."

He bought a sawmill on Puget Sound. He found himself in conflict with the economic forces of life. And this was a new source for him. Things didn't stir right, somehow.

"I got sick of people, all rotten and money crazy," he relates. "I got bitter. I couldn't laugh any more. Nothing matters so long as you can laugh at things. So I thought I would dawdle around the world again and I built myself another boat. I stop where I please and I may make it or not. It don't make any difference."

He might over share the fate of Capt. Joshua Slocum, who disappeared on just such a world jaunt.

He has been under way about a year from Seattle. From here he will go up the coast and then south again to start "across" from Nassau. He "rides alone" and says he has no family or pets, though there is some story among shipmasters of a wife—in some port or other.

FINDS LAND AGAIN IT IS not recorded in the log book of the Pilgrim, but on a certain date, at certain degrees of latitude and longitude, Skipper Thomas Drake broke into a hearty laugh.

A jonesome laugh, it is true. No ears to hear it but his own, and those deafened by it, a bit by the lapping of water against the sides.

But a laugh, nevertheless! And hence proof that he already has found his lost island.

IN NEW YORK SEE SAWING UP and DOWN BROADWAY

NEW YORK attracts all sorts of unique "specialists."

For instance there is a "voice surgeon" who has made a considerable fortune "changing voices."

His patients are almost invariably theatrical folk from Broadway seeking to have their "voices lifted."

Enter his office any day and you will see the waiting room jammed with stage folk. Here is a young man who feels he is handicapped by a "too feminine" voice.

And here, too, are innumerable women with "baby voices," other women upon whom age is encroaching and whose golden quality is slipping, and others who have talent but bad speaking voices. They are ready to pay fat fees for operation in which this surgeon specializes.

Glancing over the gallery of auto-graphed pictures with which the walls are plastered, one is astounded to note the number of "favorites" who, not so long ago, were having precariously on the rim of success.

THERE is another "specialist" who takes care of most of the famous "grand opera throats."

Most of the great Metropolitan Opera singers are in his charge. No Burbank was ever more watchful of some delicate hot-house plant than is he of the voices that stir audiences on the world over.

A million and one little serms and bugs that fill the air comprise an army ever ready to attack these, as well as other throats.

AND there is an entire family of famous "glass eye specialists" to whom folk come from every section of the country.

One, in particular, is an artist who studies the patient's "good eye" and has "fittings" to paint a glass replica, as an artist would paint a portrait.

Sittings are made at various stages of the day to get various impressions, each of which is carefully reproduced.

He tells me that certain very sensitive persons have from time to time donned glass eyes to fit various lights and times of day.

This specialist lies in the ability to get exact coloring and lifelike appearance.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

AN ADVENTURE UNDER THE SEA "Oh, no you won't!" said a big hermit crab sticking his head out of a whelk-shell. "I know all about bombazine and it only shrinks twice. All things come to an end some time, even shrinking."

"And whelks," said a lobster severely. "You know you ate that whelk just as you could have his house."

"The Twins and the Whiffet got on the three sea-horses and soon they were quite under the water, traveling along toward the corner of Shell Avenue and Sand Boulevard at the bottom of the sea."

"Here's a note from Captain Pennywinkle," he said.

"The wave went out again and the little water fairy went with it. Nick opened the note and read: 'Dear Twins—I saw you from the bottom of the sea. I can't go to you because I'm the traffic cop down here and if I didn't watch the whales and sharks I would run right over everybody. You can come to me. Bring your little friend in the purple suit along. You'll find three sea-horses waiting for you in the quiet water by the first big rock. Your friend, 'Captain Pennywinkle.'"

The Twins and the Whiffet crawled out onto the great flat rock and looked down.

And there just as the tiny sea-police man had said, were three sea-horses tied to some sea-grass.

"Oh! Oh! I'll shrink more than ever if I get wet again," said the Whiffet. "And if I do I'll burst every seam."

"Well, I think the sea's a queer place," said the Whiffet. "I think they don't have shadows here at all!"

But just then it got very dark over their heads. A lot of big fish were swimming right over them. And on the white sand below was a whole flock of fish shadows.

"Oh, dear!" said the rag-bag fairy. "I'm all mixed up."

"What do you spend on shoe shines?"

Ever figure it out? If only three a week, you spend 30c., plus 15c. in tips—45c.—or about $2.00 per month. Costly shines!

Ever figure out what a 15c. tin of "Nugget" will do for you? There are 100 shines in each tin—and "Nugget" not only gives a brilliant waterproof shine, but softens, feeds and preserves the leather as no other shoe polish can do. And, it takes but a few minutes to shine one's own shoes with "Nugget."

The biggest demand for dwarfs is from Germany, where every variety stage and circus has its special troupe.

Man Always In Hurry Is Pest In Business

DETROIT, Mich., May 27.—The "just-a-minute" man is a product of modern times, and is in no way related to the Minute Man of Revolutionary days. He is the worst pest with whom Detroiters high in public office and business life have to deal, says The Detroit News.

He always appears to be in a hurry. He dashes into the outer office of his victim, pulls out his watch, and breathlessly asks the secretary if he can see Mr. So-and-so for "just a minute." He is often successful in gaining admittance, and he usually stays about 20 minutes, or until long after he has worn out his welcome.

The "just-a-minute" man is legion.

SEEK PROBABLE YEARLY COST OF THE NEW SCHOOL

City Council Will Ask Vocational Committee About Running Expenses

FUTURE MEETINGS IN COURT HOUSE

Mayor White Requests Placing Coat of Arms in Council Chamber

The City Council yesterday afternoon decided to install sprinklers in the West Side sheds and to have the city engineer prepare plans and specifications, with an estimate of the cost, and to ask the vocational committee of the School Board for a statement of the probable cost of running the vocational school each year.

Mayor White said it was the intention of the council to claim its right to the council chamber in the Court House and to hold meetings of the council there in future. He requested Commissioner Harding to have the coat-of-arms of the city, at present stored in the Market building, cleaned up and placed over the presiding officer's chair in the council chamber.

An offer from J. P. Mosher to exchange some lots in Loch Lomond and the Loch Lomond road for lumber on city lands in Simonds was referred to the commissioner of water and sewerage for a report.

The application of J. H. Lord, 100 Rodney street, for permission to replace his 250-gallon gasoline tank with a 300-gallon tank was granted, under the usual conditions.

EXPRESSES SURPRISE

S. Norman Sancton wrote that he had seen in the press the report of the wardens of the county on his complaint of excessive charges for X-ray work at the General Public Hospital and noticed that it said that only one photograph had been taken in Montreal. He also noted that Mayor White had said the charges at the General Public Hospital were based on the amount of work done. Mr. Sancton expressed his surprise that he was not called on to appear before the investigating committee and that he was prepared to swear that he had had two photographs taken in Montreal, for which the charge was $5. He also asked that he be given information as to the salary paid to Dr. Kirkland.

Mayor White said he had been misquoted at the council meeting. What he had said was that the charges were not based on the amount of work done, but that the necessary amount of work was done in each case.

The communication was referred to the warden for a report.

The Board of School Trustees wrote that the vocational committee would require $675 for the cost of the school on June 1 and $3,991.93 for sinking fund account on June 30. The money was ordered placed to their account.

WANTS MORE INFORMATION

Mayor White said he would like to have some more complete information and he thought the public were entitled to the same as to the cost of maintenance of the vocational school when it was in full running order.

Commissioner Frink moved that the members of the vocational committee be asked to furnish the council with

Rich Man, Denied Latch Key, Fights Wife's Alimony Suit

NEW YORK, May 27.—Percy K. Hudson, wealthy stock speculator, was allowed no latchkey after his marriage and by a pre-nuptial contract could only enter his home on his wife's express invitation, although he had spent $40,000 for furnishings, his counsel announced in opposing Mrs. Hudson's application for alimony pending trial of a separation suit on grounds of desertion.

The Hudsons were married last Nov. 15. May 8, Mrs. Hudson brought a separation suit, saying her husband had deserted her after four weeks.

Mrs. Hudson asked $36,000 a year temporary alimony, asserting her husband was worth at least $2,000,000, with annual income of more than $150,000.

Hudson's lawyer said that her credit was stopped because she was inordinately extravagant, in one two-day period buying 28 pairs of shoes for a total of $219. He said she bought $50 silk stockings by the gross, and jewelry she charged to Hudson cost almost $800,000.

An estimate of the cost of running the school for a year, when it was in full operation, including the interest and other fixed charges. This was seconded by Commissioner Harding and carried.

Thomas X. Gibbons, William Wheaton and J. J. Merrifield were re-appointed justices.

FLIER AND ALMOST 200 INDICTED IN PLOT

SEATTLE, Wash., May 26.—Lt. Commander James H. Strong, United States naval officer, who piloted the giant seaplane P. B.-1 on the ill-fated first leg of a projected flight to Hawaii, appeared in a new role here today. An indictment charging the officer with complicity in a rum smuggling ring, involving federal, county and city officials was made public here yesterday.

Nearly 200 persons, of whom 84 have been arrested, were indicted in connection with the alleged conspiracy. Among those arrested were United States coast guard officers, a county sheriff, two of his deputies and Seattle police officers, including the head of the drug squad.

A guard from Saint John Lodge, No. 39, performed the floor work in connection with the conferring of rank and were seen in fancy and difficult drills, which were much appreciated by those present.

The evening was both entertaining and impressive and the many visiting members who were in attendance commented very favorably upon the occasion. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

Charleston Dance Is Frowned Upon

Efforts to get the Charleston introduced into London ballrooms seem destined to fail, for the principal London hostesses have set their faces against it and do not hesitate to declare it ugly and ridiculous. The dance has already been banned in most of the best hotels. It is described by one London newspaper as consisting of a series of ungraceful kicks, shuffles and wriggles not only unpleasant to see but also a source of inconvenience to couples who really want to dance.

Lady Walpole, who is one of the most enthusiastic dancers of the upper set, and who frequently gives private dances, described the dancers of the Charleston as "two Christy Minstrel strutting on the beach."

"The dance is vulgar," she added, "and absurd, and should be banned in the London ballrooms. It is danced by silly girls who want to make fools of themselves and to be conspicuous. Women should not stoop to that kind of thing and make themselves ridiculous."

LOCAL MEN GET FILM POSITIONS

First National Pictures Inc. Appoint Saint John Citizens—Important Plans

W. Arthur Owens, of this city, has been appointed Maritime provincial manager of First National Pictures, Incorporated, with headquarters in the refurbished executive suite, Chipman's Hill, formerly known as the Bank of British North America. The permanent establishment of this important international corporation in Saint John as an eastern Canadian depot further emphasizes the position of the city as a film centre.

The placing of these important film interests in the hands of Maritime provincial men is in keeping with First National's executive policy to employ workers familiar with the people and conditions of their various zones.

First National Pictures are the product of a syndicate of chain-theatre owners, who besides having producing companies of their own, have first choice of the pictures made by detached producing organizations in movie centres. This wide range of selections assures the exhibitor-producer, First National Incorporated, maximum of quality and value.

In the widely diversified list of features on First National's calendar for the coming season are most of the "best-seller" fictions of the day, a careful selection of standard works and there are to be outstanding productions altogether new to the movie public, trenchant stories dealing with life in the Old Country and in European centres, as well as local to this side of the ocean.

In other words First National has broadened its scope to embrace the best stories of all countries, also in the direction of comedy by the employment of favorite funsters. Lovers of western drama will be regaled with another First National departure.

Old French Battle-Front Grim Scene

PARIS, May 26.—Bleached bones, tattered uniforms, rusted weapons and other reminders of the great carnage of 1914-1918 are still strewn over the French battle front. General Girod, chairman of the Military Affairs committee of the Chamber of Deputies has ascertained this fact in the course of an inspection trip over the old "red zone." He promises that he will demand an inquiry at once by the war department and will present measures to be taken to remedy the situation.

"It is not only a question of respect that is involved," said the General, "it is a question of civic decency for the towns of the Marne region."

Plan To Cut Rental Costs of Departments At Ottawa Tabled In House of Commons

OTTAWA, May 26.—Broad recommendations for centralization of departments in the inside City Services are made in the annual report of the Civil Service Commission, tabled in the House of Commons today.

The plans submitted in the reports involve a drastic change in the manner of housing government departments. At present there are in Ottawa, besides 12 main government buildings, 73 buildings leased in whole or in part to the government at a gross rental of $680,000 a year. In some cases branches of one department can be found in different buildings; the interior department occupies 16 rented buildings besides a part of a government block. The department of national defense, rents 10 buildings for storage only. The cost of administration would be greatly reduced if these branches were assembled under one roof, the report suggests.

One department of engineering and scientific services should be formed, it is suggested, in the report in regard to centralization, instead of these being services carried on in five different and distinct departments. This suggested central service would control surveys, resources development, physical and natural science investigations, and maintenance branch for water powers, public works, railways and canals and marine and fisheries. Forestry and Dominion parks also would come under its jurisdiction.

Central services also are recommended to perform accounting purchasing, translating, multiphotographing, distributing and blueprinting for the whole government services. The radio telegraph service and the St. Lawrence Signal Service might be transferred to the Canadian National Railways, it is suggested. Seven branches now deal with mountain lands. It is proposed to amalgamate all these into one. It might also be done along other lines of centralization such as department libraries, filing services, etc. the report suggests.

Boy Killed By Bomb Of Own Manufacture

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 27.—Erwin Wood Bradbury, sixteen years old, was literally blown to pieces when he exploded a time-bomb he had packed into a hollow iron ball and was holding between his knees exploded. The boy was sitting in his bedroom on the second floor of his home and filling the bomb when the explosion occurred.

The young man lived several hours and was able to describe the details of the accident. He said two companions, one a student at the Technical High, had explained to him that if he mixed powdered sulphur, potassium chlorate and charcoal he would be able "to make a noise."

Pieces of shrapnel from the iron ball were driven into the boy's body and to legs were smashed. Pieces of iron were driven into floor and walls.

Woman Lives Five Years Without Eating

The case of a woman who has gone five years without eating, and who in that time has lost nearly 100 pounds, has come to light in Saragossa, Spain, says The Detroit News.

The patient is Amelia Baranda Ruiz, who suffered a hysterical attack, accompanied by a brain disturbance, in 1920. At first she lived on a milk diet, but this was discontinued owing to a serious stomach complaint. She has been kept alive solely by daily injections.

Before her illness she weighed 172 pounds. Now she weighs only 73 pounds.

Keeping Your Schoolgirl Complexion

By FRANCES Nood Beauty Advisor

Copyrighted 1926 by P. O. Beauty Features

Think Twice Before "trying" an unproved soap on your face

Use only a true complexion soap; then this way

ONE of the first "don'ts" in skin care, if you wish to safeguard your complexion, is "don't" experiment with untried soaps.

Beauty experts urge daily cleansing of the skin and pores with soap and water. That's judged of prime importance. But you must use the right soap. That is, a true complexion soap.

That is why Palmolive is so widely urged. It is a unique soap, a soap made of rare cosmetic oils for ONE purpose only, to safeguard the complexion. Before it came women were told "use no soap on your face."

Soaps then were judged too harsh. Remember that point when tempted to "experiment."

Use daily in this way—it is Nature's formula to "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion."

The daily rule that thousands follow now

Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening; Use powder and rouge if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away. Just do this and your skin will become soft and lovely—wrinkles will be less a problem as the years advance.

Get real Palmolive

Palmolive costs but 10c the cake because of great volume and manufacturing efficiency... so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for the face. Obtain a cake today. See what a difference one week's use will make in your complexion. The Palmolive Company of Canada, Limited, Toronto 21c

TARTE SUGGESTS PROTECTION DRIVE IN TORONTO SPEECH

Montreal Publisher Says Woolen Trade Suffers From Low Tariff

WOULD PUT ISSUE UP TO PLAIN PEOPLE

Points Out Higher Duties Could Permit Quantity Production

TORONTO, May 26—"It is to the plain people, not to the gentlemen in Ottawa, that the Canadian manufacturers should present their plea for protection," declared L. J. Tarte, president of La Patrie, Montreal, who was chief speaker at luncheon in connection with the annual meeting here today of the Canadian Woolen and Knit Goods Manufacturers' Association.

"A demand for real and effective protection, based on figures, and scrapping of the generalities, which convince nobody, should bring splendid results in the framing of a consistent public opinion," he added.

WOOLEN INDUSTRY HIT

The woolen industry in Canada suffered to a large extent from lack of protection, Mr. Tarte said. Two-thirds of the import of woolen goods came from Great Britain, owing to the favorable tariff. If these imports were replaced by the Canadian product, Canadian factories could have quality production and Canadian manufacturers would be able to meet opposition of foreign countries, particularly the United States. Manufacturers were willing to maintain the British preference against other countries, but not against their own, he said.

Quebec was a protectionist province, despite the vote of last October, according to Mr. Tarte. Speaking as a French-Canadian, he urged loyal Ontario and traditional Quebec, "the bulwark of British North America" to work hand-in-hand. He added a note of warning to the gathering, as business men to "touch the French-Canadians in French."

Significant Advances Made in Basic Commodities

FAIR TRADE VOLUME ON MONTREAL EXCHANGE

Values Display Strong Tone With Brazilian as the Leader Again

NEW YORK, May 27.—Significant advances in basic commodity prices and additional favorable earnings and traffic reports from the railroads formed the background for a further rise in stock prices at the opening of today's market. American Sugar, American Smelting, General Electric, Mack Trucks and American Ice led the industrials to higher ground, while a brisk demand for Chesapeake & Ohio, Northwestern and Delaware and Hudson featured initial trading in the rails.

MONTREAL, May 27.—A fair volume of trading was done on the local stock exchange at the opening this morning, with values generally displaying a strong tone. Brazilian, the leader, advanced three-eighths at 95 1/2, while Alcohol sold unchanged at 19 1/2. Dominion Bridge was fairly active and was the strong spot on the early trading, being up 1 1/2 points at 96. Smelters were moderately active, gaining one point at 297. Other features included Abitibi, off a quarter at 7 1/2, Breweries up a quarter at 60 1/2, Sherwin Williams up 2 1/2 points at 120 1/2, an a board lot sale, and

WARRANTED EXPANSION

When a business cannot supply the demand for its product due to lack of facilities to store and handle it in sufficient quantities, that business warrants expansion.

Such has been the condition of the Blizard Coal Co., Ltd., since last October. It is the reason for the new corporation, Eastern Coal Docks, Ltd., which is simply the Saint John end of the Blizard Coal Co. business under a new name, combined with a deep water wharf and storage facilities.

The coal buying public is offered an opportunity to buy a limited amount of Preferred Stock in the Eastern Coal Docks, Ltd., on very attractive terms. These shares are preferred both as to assets and dividends and carry a special profit sharing feature over and above the customary 7%.

MAKING RAIN FOR THE GREAT WHITE FATHER

A group of Hopi Indians went all the way to Washington from their Arizona reservation to perform a snake dance—the primitive prayer for rain—in front of the capital. Before the dance they said: "You watch it! It'll rain before night." A little after the dance ended rain began and kept falling for 18 hours. In the photo with the Indians are shown (left to right) Senator Ralph Cameron of Arizona (in the smorser), Vice President Davis and Speaker Longworth.

Morning Stock Letter

NEW YORK, May 27.—The stock market continues to gain ground without any help from the public. The advance so far has been a Wall Street affair with the public buying stocks on advances. There is also some reaction now for bearish operations to put out short lines of another decline. However, the advance in our opinion is expected to continue in the immediate future we do not look for anything more than profit-taking reactions. Trade news is showing some improvement and there is considerable improvement in business in several lines. In addition, there is no overloading the high carloadings and in these groups we expect the high-grade dividend-paying rails and oils, the Houston, Shelby, Mariand and P.I.P. to sell higher. In the general industrial list we believe U. S. Steel and steel should set higher this year. Int. Com. Machine continues to be a very good speculation on the possibility of extremely important developments in the near future. Radio Corporation continues to advance and we believe it is still a purchase on any set-back.

The Yankee Stadium in New York City is the largest of the major league ball parks, with a seating capacity of 65,000.

MONCTON BOARD APPROVES NEW WAGE SCHEDULE

Trustees Increase Grant to the Cadet Corps to $230

NEW FRENCH TEACHER FOR SCHOOLS URGED

Decision to Close Institutions on June 25 Reached; Resignations Made

Special to The Times-Star

MONCTON, N. B., May 27.—Among other matters the following were dealt with at the regular meeting of the Moncton Board of School Trustees which was held in the city building last night, F. E. Dennison presiding.

A delegation appeared before the board from the cadet corps asking for a grant to assist in procuring more uniforms. Each member was willing to pay one dollar, making a total of $300, and a grant of $100.00 was asked from the Moncton school board. Trustee Edgett made a motion that the sum of $100.00 asked by the cadets in addition to the $200.00 already granted, be granted. The motion was carried.

Resignations from young ladies now on the Moncton schools staff were read and laid on the table. A number of applications for positions on the city schools staff were read and ordered filed for future consideration.

Trustee Edgett advocated a French teacher in the high schools and advised the procuring of one of French extraction, who could give his entire time to the teaching of French.

The new teachers' wage schedule as read by Trustee Edgett was approved and carried by the vote of the board. It was decided to close the schools on June 25th.

Brokers' Opinions

NEW YORK, May 27.—Block Maloney "Bulls and bears appear to be leaders. There is still a large short interest which is likely to cover."

Hornbroun—"Bull" T. offers prospects of further advance. Allied Chem. looks like higher prices in respect to stocks that have been recently acquired. We would try for higher prices with the idea of accepting profits the beginning of next week. There is some talk that prices and values will go further, mainly in good dividend stocks.

There is very little incentive to stay long in stocks over a period of three holidays."

FUNDY Gas Cuts Price

A demand unparalleled by the great increases of other years has encouraged the Saint John owners of FUNDY Gas to cut a cent off the price.

This reduction has nothing to do with the general Gas market, which stands as it was. It is simply passing on to the public the saving in expense due to a record patronage. To tell the truth this saving is only part of a cent a gallon, but a still larger increase in patronage is anticipated. Are you with us in our effort to hold the price down?

If so, fill 'er up with FUNDY and spend less on Gas first and last. Make sure you get the red tinted Fundy Gas for more power, satisfaction and economy.

Old Cannon Stops Escaping Convicts

BOSTON, May 27.—An attempted escape of three prisoners from the naval prison at the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard failed when an automobile stolen by the fugitives crashed into an ornamental cannon on the grounds and was wrecked.

The three men, members of a working party of six prisoners on duty at an ice house, attacked and beat a guard and seized an automobile. As the car crossed the yard in the direction of the gate leading to Kittery, Maine, it struck a cannon by the roadside and its occupants were thrown out. They were recaptured.

PROBE RETAIL GASOLINE SALE IN SAINT JOHN

Commissioner Harding Speaks of Reports That Law Violated

ALLEGED SOME ARE SELLING FROM CANS

Asks Council Instruction to Chief, Though This Declared Unnecessary

Illegal storage of gasoline for retail sale on the part of many in Saint John was a charge made this morning at a committee meeting of the Common Council by Commissioner Harding and on his motion the common clerk was instructed to write to the chief of the fire department and ask him to investigate and report violations of the by-law to the Commissioner of Public Safety.

The letter said it had been brought to his attention that many persons were violating the by-law regarding the storage of gasoline on their premises and were keeping it in five and 10 gallon cans for retail sale and he would like to have the council instruct the chief of the fire department to carry out the law and report violators.

Mayor White said that where there was a by-law he did not see the need for any resolution of council as it was for the proper officials to carry out the law without special instructions.

Commissioner Harding thought a communication from the council would strengthen the hands of the fire chief and moved that the latter be asked to investigate and report violators to the commissioner of safety.

Commissioner Bullock said he saw no reason for the resolution. The fire marshal and the fire chief were both familiar with the by-law and he thought if the commissioner of safety would simply call the attention of the fire chief to the matter that would suffice.

Commissioner Prink agreed with Commissioner Bullock that it was a matter of internal economy in the safety department and ventured the opinion that if no effort was made to enforce any of the city by-laws it was an expression of incompleteness on the part of the commissioner of the department affected. At the present time the city was, he said, suffering from a multiplicity of laws, many of them non-enforceable by reason of changes in conditions since they were passed.

His Worship thought the commissioner of safety had all the authority necessary to deal with the matter but was not averse to having the motion passed if the commissioner thought it necessary.

Commissioner Bullock thought all that was necessary would be to call the attention of the fire chief to the matter and as that official was also an inspector of the fire underwriters he probably was acquainted with what was going on in this respect.

FIRE CHIEF'S PAY

Commissioner Prink asked if it was true that the fire chief was paid by the fire underwriters and Commissioner Harding said he knew that the fire chief did receive a certain amount from the Board of Fire Underwriters although he had no official knowledge of the matter.

The motion of Commissioner Harding to send the communication to the fire chief passed.

KEEPS UP GOOD WORK

Son of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. MacKinnon Graduates in Vancouver

At the convocation exercises at the University of British Columbia in Vancouver this month, Ronald L. MacKinnon was among the graduates in arts, standing very near the top of the list. Mr. MacKinnon, after leaving Saint John High School entered Dalhousie. Toward the end of his first year he became seriously ill, but his standing was such that on a report from Dalhousie to the U. B. C. he was given his first year without examination. He has specialized in various branches of economics and will probably proceed to the more advanced universities to continue his work in business administration and corporation finance. A rather unusual feature, as pointed out by Dr. Bridges, is that since the day this student first entered public school in Saint John he had never failed in any examination. The young student is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Hedley V. MacKinnon, formerly of Saint John.

A member of the Rothsay baseball team said today that the unfavorable weather of the last week or two has greatly retarded progress in getting the outfit in shape for the season but they a fortnight should see the diamond in use.

FINANCES OF HOME BETTER THAN YEAR AGO

Annual Meeting of Old Ladies' Home Directors Is Held Today

The annual report of the directors of the Old Ladies' Home, which was presented at a meeting of subscribers held this afternoon at the home, showed the institution to have had a more satisfactory financial year than it has enjoyed for some time. During the year just closed, the deficit was reduced somewhat, owing to a slight increase in receipts and a small decrease in expenditures. The report showed that six of those in the home had died and that three were admitted during the year. Necessary repairs were made to the home, and the buildings were now in a good state of repair, both inside and out.

The only change in directors during the year was the appointment of Mrs. Walter C. Allison to replace Mrs. H. A. McKewen, who had resigned owing to her departure from the city. The report, which was presented by Col. B. R. Armstrong, secretary, paid a tribute to the management and ability of the matron, Mrs. Robinson.

LEGACIES RECEIVED.

During the year legacies of $500 from Mrs. George F. Smith, the balance of $2,900 from the estate of Henry Hensman, Moncton, and $1,000 from the estate of R. H. Dorkhill were received and acknowledged with thanks. These amounts were placed in the capital account.

The directors of the home, most of whom were present this afternoon, are Mrs. J. Morris Robinson, Miss C. M. Armstrong, Mrs. W. S. Allison, Mrs. W. S. Foster, Mrs. W. P. Bonnell, Robert Reid, Mrs. T. E. G. Armstrong, Mrs. R. C. Cruikshank, Lady Hazen, Mrs. L. P. D. Turner, Mrs. E. L. Rising, Mrs. Walter C. Allison, W. Shives Fisher, F. P. Starr, A. C. Hankins, C. H. Peters, E. Allan Schofield and B. R. Armstrong. The president, W. Shives Fisher, was in the chair.

PHONE OFFICIALS BEGIN CONFERENCE

Superintendents Here From Various Parts of Province For Two Days

Matters pertaining to the work of the New Brunswick Telephone Company in the various districts of the province were taken up this morning at the opening session of a two-day convention of provincial district superintendents of the company today and tomorrow in the telephone building. City J. Fraser, general manager of the company, was in the chair.

At noon today the provincial representatives attending the convention together with local telephone officials, enjoyed a luncheon at the Royal Hotel. The discussions were continued at this afternoon's session. This evening the convention members will attend, in a body, "The Music of the Night," a comedy presented by the company's troupe some weeks ago, and which will be repeated tonight in the auditorium of the telephone building. The proceeds will be donated to funds for Boy Scout work.

Other local officials, besides the Saint John district manager, Fred J. Nisbet, are attending the meetings. Provincial telephone men in the city are H. W. Lewis, Andover; J. H. Turner, Woodville; A. J. Thompson, Fredericton; L. B. Mitchell, St. Stephen; B. O. Bates, Sussex; J. N. Lutes, Moncton; Frank Harris, Sackville; J. L. Hutchison, Richibucto; Willard Lewis, Newcastle; Reginald Boss, Bathurst; and H. B. Leroy, Campbellton.

Given Farewell As Honeymoon Starts

A uniformed young man of color on duty at the steps of Pullman car of the Boston train remarked last night, "This is certainly an auspicious beginning of the run." Many in the train shed had no doubt the porter was correct, for at times the air was filled with confetti and with hearty cheering and there were other demonstrations of a festive nature—all in honor of Eli Boyaner and his bride, who left on a tour of New England and New York.

Many relatives and friends, including Boy Scouts, assembled 20 minutes before the express pulled out. The happy couple were greeted heartily, cheered some and showered with confetti, while the Scouts performed numerous antics.

At the "all aboard" signal a great cheer was given, arms and handkerchiefs were waved, the bride from the car's vestibule showered confetti on those left behind, including policeman and reporter, and finally tossed a massive bouquet tied with ribbon into the crowd. Young men of the party had attached a bunch of tin covers for stove pots beneath the car, and the clatter of the tinware added to the parting demonstration as the train slowly moved out for Boston.

FISHING CLUB HAS WOOD LAKE LEASE

A prominent member of the Wood Lake Fishing Club stated last evening that the story appearing in yesterday's issue to the effect that Wood Lake was now open to the public, was misleading. He pointed out that a largest part of Wood Lake was still under lease to and controlled by the Wood Lake Fishing Club, while that portion which it is proposed to open to the public is known as Burke's shores. Fishing beyond the limits of Burke's holdings would not be allowed, said the member of the club.
