SIR JOHN MOORE.

Early this month the Duke of Cornwall unveiled at Shorncliffe a monument to Sir John Moore, of whom the men of this generation in Canada at least would have known much less for Charles Wolfe's immortal poem beginning:

Not a drum was heard, not a funeral note,
As his corse to the rampart we hurried,
Not a soldier discharged his farewell shot
O'er the grave where our hero we buried.

The poet's death centenary comes this year. He died in 1820, at the age of thirty-two. "Wolfe" says a writer in the London Daily Mail, "had not even the melancholy satisfaction of knowing that his poem was destined to become immortal and to be handed down the ages as a masterpiece of its kind and as an incentive to our youth to worship and emulate patriotism. For the lines first appeared anonymously in a newspaper, and they were attributed to, among others, Byron and Campbell—to the latter doubtless by virtue of that poet's several glowing little pieces." Millions who know the poem do not know that the author was an obscure and consumptive Irish clergyman. In discussing the great soldier whom he honored by what the London Times describes as an act of tardy justice, an English writer says:

"As a matter of record, the three regiments which Moore so bravely led at Shorncliffe Camp that they ultimately crystallized into Wellington's renowned Light Division were the 52nd, 43rd, and the Rifles. From among their officers who served under Moore were three commanders of armies, nearly a hundred field officers, and sixteen regiments of Colonials."
"It is also true, and of course, that Moore was the only British general save Wellington that Napoleon ever deliberately pitted himself against."
"Moore," said the Man of Destiny, when he entered the battle of Shorncliffe, "was the end of 1808 and found that Sir John, instead of retreating, was actually striking at the British. Moore's three commanders of armies, nearly a hundred field officers, and sixteen regiments of Colonials."

"A peculiarly poignant moment was when his voice broke on the words, 'Say to my mother—' Next he turned to his devoted aide-de-camp, Stanhope, and murmured, 'Remember me to your sister,' this reference being to Moore's fiancée, Lady Hester Stanhope, niece of Pitt. A few minutes later the end came peacefully, and he was buried in the Semaphores of Corunna, as described so touchingly by Wolfe. The Times, which deplores the long delay in honoring Sir John, whose name has been familiar to every schoolchild for generations ago, says, 'It is no exaggeration to say that the training that Moore gave his men at Shorncliffe, which produced its immediate results in the Light Brigade under Wellington in the Peninsula, and was responsible, fifty years after, for the glory of the 'Thin red line' in the Crimea, was at the root of the triumphs of the 'Old Contemptibles' in Flanders nine years ago.'

Soult, the marshal of Napoleon whom Moore beat off at Corunna, caused a memorial to be erected 'over the grave where our hero we buried.' Wolfe the obscure, Campbell, and many another poet—who can measure their services to the race? In many a dark hour the poets have given the nation hope and courage, they have ever done much to make their fellow-men acquainted with the honor due the great soldiers and sailors who have kept the old flag flying.

The will of Senator Thorne, made public today, is noteworthy for the charitable and friendly bequests. It is the will of a fine citizen who served many good causes while he lived, and who did not forget them or his old employes when the time came to dispose of his fortune.

MOST ENCOURAGING.

Canada's foreign trade is increasing rapidly, while that of the United States is shrinking. Returns for the first quarter of 1923 give grounds for much satisfaction, particularly if we keep in mind the drop in prices during the last three years. Comparison with the first three months of a few previous years is good medicine, for the growth in external trade forebodes the restoration of domestic trade to a more comfortable level. Here are figures giving the aggregate trade for the first quarter:

1920	838,540,000
1921	382,924,000
1922	349,309,000
1923	459,288,000

Thus far at least our foreign business is a mighty improvement upon 1922 and 1921, and approaches that of one of the exceptional years, 1920. The Montreal Gazette speaks of this expansion as "very remarkable." The Toronto Globe regards the increase as "amazing," all things considered. Imports for June were $84,659,000, or $28,000,000 greater than in June last year, and $27,000,000 more than in June 1921. The expansion of exports has been even more remarkable, says the Toronto Globe:

"In June of this year, partly because of the shipment abroad of the huge carry-over of wheat from the crop of 1922, the exports of Canadian produce were valued at $93,750,000, an increase of almost $20,000,000 over May. The chief factors—in addition to the heavy shipments of cereals—are the expansion of the export trade of the Dominion at a time when that of the United States is shrinking, and the development of the pulp and paper trade, the activity across the border in building, which has involved a growing demand for lumber and other building materials, and the transference of a considerable part of the manufacture of motor cars intended for export to countries within the British Empire from Michigan, Ohio, and Ontario. Details of motor car exports for the past two months are not yet available, but during the two months ending March 31, 1923, 45,108 motor cars, worth $26,500,000, and parts thereof valued at $2,850,000, were exported from Canada. Motor exports were over three as great, alike in quantity and value, as in the year ending March 31, 1922."
"Wood and agricultural products have both been sent out in greatly increased quantities of late. The field of the forest and the field at present make up sixty per cent. of Canada's export trade. Figures are often dull, but figures of this sort give reason for fresh confidence in looking ahead. The first three months of the year usually mean large imports and small exports, but the end of the year may be marketed in other countries more than we buy there."

To line up all the churches on the platform "No More War" is the purpose of the Presbyterian Witness. Keeping the peace is not an exciting work, but peace work done constantly by all the church forces, putting heart and soul into it, would do much. It would serve the world and, incidentally, it would fire the churches with the zeal of a new crusade. The churches have a mighty army under their banners. What such an army might do, if the inspiration and the self-sacrifice are there, is beyond measure.

As Sir Allen Aysworth did not take his seat in the Senate he could not draw his salary. It is a practice the other Senators will regard with horror and amazement. That sort of thing would reform the Senate if it spread. It will not do that. The Senate will never commit suicide. It will even refuse to take any medicine with a bad taste, so long as it has any say in the matter.

That Western Canada will recover its agricultural prosperity upon a permanent basis more rapidly than any other agricultural country in the world is the prediction of the Grain Growers' Guide. If present crop prospects are realized the West will grow cheerful in spite of itself. And recovery out there will be an immense factor in general Canadian prosperity.

Lloyd George says his government kept the French out of the Ruhr for one month while his successors have perpetuated the French folly, through the economic life of Europe into confusion and made with Turkey the most humiliating peace treaty Britain ever signed. He predicts a real re-union of the Liberal party when the country is faced with some great emergency.

Leonard receives about $175,000 for giving a beating to Tendler, who gets $75,000 for taking it. The total "gate" was about $500,000. Leonard is thus repaid for some teeth which Tendler removed last year. There were 65,000 "customers" in the arena. Business, in a word, is still good.

In 1916 the number of Americans paying income tax on a million dollars or more rose to 208. In 1921 it was twenty-one as compared with thirty-three in 1920. They are becoming harder to find.

THE SILENT BIVOUCAL

On the other side of the road Where the great square fields begin, A soldier camp has risen, And soldiers stir therein.
On a night with a moon you can see Down the shimmering silver track, Through the ranks of the dreaming warriors In the silent bivouac.

The other night I watched them With their sentry lights aglow, And heard the old, old question, 'The challenge—' cried the 'Patrol.' And I knew that the lights were fireless,
And I knew that the voice I heard Was the last contented warble Of a far off sleepy bird.
And I knew that the corn-stalk soldiers Were soon to be gathered in,
From the other side of the road Where the great square fields begin. Verna Hitchcock.

Preliminary Training. "And what did she say when you proposed?" "Well, first she said that I had none of those stable qualities which a woman requires in a husband; then she told me she considered me an infidel, improvident and unreliable of my sex."

"But she didn't refuse me—she accepted me."

The Limit. Visitor—What's up? Had a bad day?
Bucketeer—Yes, I've lost over 25,000, and had the worst of it is that 220 of it was my own money.—Passing Show.

Perhaps. King George told Ambassador Walter Hines Page, before he departed into the war, this story:
"An American and an Englishman sat in a railway carriage. The American having read every word in a newspaper of a battle in France, turned to the Englishman and said: 'Some fight.'"
The Englishman said observed: "And some don't.—Boston Herald."

"It's got so these days," complained a young man, "that you can show the girl two licenses."
"Two licenses?" explained the friend. "My—marriage and automobile."

ACCORDING TO ABILITY TO PAY.

Dr. McNeil was recently a visitor to Montreal at the time of the meeting of the Canadian Medical Association here. He was accompanied by one of the famous Mayo Brothers of Rochester, New York. The Mayos are sons of the late Dr. J. C. Mayo, a Scottish doctor, and are today probably the widest known and best respected names in the world, and there they perform literally thousands of operations every year. The institution has its various research clinics, and the Mayo themselves are equally prominent in the world of surgeons, doctors, and nurses, who are eager to gain experience under their direction.

They make their charges on a very novel plan. Every patient is required to declare what his income is, and to pay a fixed percentage on it. Thus the rich pay for the poor. If a person has an income of $100,000 a year, he would probably be charged $10,000.

BOILER FOR HIGH PRESSURES.

(Engineering.) One of the boldest experiments yet attempted in the use of extra high pressure steam is now being carried out at Rugby, and appropriately named in the Willsons works. The English Electric Company, Limited, are putting down a plant to the order of the Benson Engineering Company, Limited, of London, in which steam will be generated at the extraordinary pressure of 3,800 pounds per square inch, which will be used to drive a turbine designed and constructed in the works in question. As the pressure in a boiler is raised, the steam, of course, becomes denser and denser, and equally, of course, the water becomes denser, owing to its expansion by heat. A continuation of the process must result in the steam and water, which the vessel may be solidly filled, simply becomes steam throughout its mass when the temperature becomes high enough. The latent heat has vanished and the temperature of the high pressure feed water rises continuously until it has the expansive properties of steam. The Benson boiler has therefore no need for any steam-drum, which is a matter of great importance, in view of the pressure worked at, but partakes more of the nature of an economizer in which the water is steadily heated in its progress from the inlet to the outlet.

Erudite Professor's Rest Shattered by Unbidden Guest, Who, a Pesky Pup Pursuing, Finds His Wit His Own Undoing; Moral: Latch Your Door!

New York, July 24.—Dr. Henry Kalen, professor of physics at the Social Research School in West Twenty-fourth street, was sleeping soundly early the other day when somebody tickled the soles of his feet.
So within the next few moments the professor studied peripheral irritation, simple harmonic motion and the ratio of the velocity of a falling body, which chanced, by the way, to be the moon. It happened in his apartment at 472 West Twenty-fourth street.

Michael Carr, a young man living in the same block, was strolling toward his home when a dog barked at him. He turned to see a small dog whose presence he had not noticed. Carr decided that justice should be done and dealt to the animal that had disturbed the tranquility of his thoughts. He began to chase the dog, which ran into the apartment house where Professor Kalen resides.

Counted on No Dogs. The professor had left his door open because the night was hot and he wanted to cool his feet. But Carr, who had a few drinks earlier in the evening, according to his admission to the police, could not resist the temptation to straightway forget all about the dog. This aroused the professor. By reflex action he judged the consequent JUDICIAL HEADGEAR. (Montreal Gazette.) "Look at me, Joe. Look at the absurd wig I have on my head!" said a British judge the other day, seeking to set at his case a little boy whose presence was necessary to a cause celebre. How many know why and when judges wear their absurd wigs? It dates from the end of the seventeenth century, when wigs became general, and once being used in common in the thirteenth century, and is said to have been worn in court by ecclesiastics to conceal the baldness of their heads, and by laymen to show that they were not in mourning. Judges for some time wore a white patch with a black spot on the crown of their heads. The American judges of the century hence may be wearing the then obsolete tall hat as a mark of dignity.

Radio Digest. Practical Pointers Concerning Wireless in All Its Branches. Battery Connections. An A battery is connected in series with a filament, B battery in series with the plate, and C battery between the filament and secondary of the transformer leading to the grid.

A Suggestion for Fine Tuning. For fine tuning, it is best to take a lead pencil with a rubber tip and use it to move the dial. This keeps the hand steady and the instrument does not vibrate. It also eliminates a good part of the body capacity.

Explanation of Battery Markings. The markings on the primary side of both radio and audio frequency transformers are usually P, indicating the plate, and F, indicating the filament, and B, indicating a connection to the positive side of the battery. The secondary posts are marked G, which is connected to the grid of the amplifying tube, and F, connected to the negative filament of the amplifying tube.

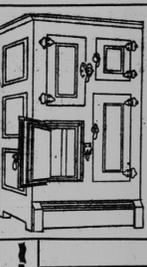

Aerial Intelligence. Do not use a kite aerial. It is better to use a wire aerial one or more insulators at each end. It is better to use too many than not have enough. Always attach aerials to substantial supports, so located that if either the support or aerial breaks it cannot come in contact with other wires. Never string wireless aerials over or under any other wires. Should the antenna wires come in contact with power lines, the antenna might become dangerously charged.

STEER BROKE WINDOW. Made Unusual Exit From Boat Builder's Shop. (Montreal Gazette.) Forsaking his companions of more placid temperament in a desire to augment his knowledge of the boat-building industry, an inquisitive steer playfully rammed into the gasoline launch factory conducted by Alfred Mitchell at 683 Notre-Dame street east, paid respects to the workers, examined a few of the factory's products and rammed out again through a window-pane. He rejoined his four fellow-steers none the worse for his naive manner of exit, and continued his journey to Victoria pier under the guidance of his owner, Joseph Gagnon.

The five steers had left a yard on Hochelaga street under Gagnon's attention, and until they reached the gasoline launch factory nothing unusual occurred. Here the steer of the story saw the factory door invitingly open, and, after a shy glance to see that his owner was not looking, he trotted into the workshop. The employees gazed upon the unbidden guest for a moment, then set about giving him all the room he might reasonably desire. The steer made tentative darts at different unfinished launches, knocking over chairs and trestles in his path, but carefully avoiding doing actual damage. Encouraged by his peaceful attitude, the workers tried to direct him to the door, but the steer, evading their motions, made for a window in the front of the factory. Here he hesitated for a second, then, summoning his courage, plunged through the pane into the street. Constables Emond and Numendville of the Ontario street east station were called to the scene, but by the time they arrived the steer was once more with his mates.

Because of the falling off in the bar business on the Red Star liner Lapland, William A. Roberts, the second-class barkeeper, devotes his time to taming snakes, chimpanzees and teaching gray African parrots to speak English instead of Mandingo, their native tongue.

On the last eastward voyage he took a number of rattlers from New York to Antwerp for the Zoo and has brought back some African reptiles for the Bronx Zoo. One of them is a slender snake that shines like tortoise shell on its back and has a delicate shade of pink coral underneath. He also has a python from India and a number of vipers and cobras. In his collection are sixteen of the big talking African parrots, and he says that he will bring several chimpanzees on his next voyage.

WONDERS MORE DO NOT COME TO LOCH LOMOND

Miss Welsh, Prominent Visitor From Washington, Enjoying Stay.

Miss Ellen Marion Welsh, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Flewelling, Cliff Street, and has been visiting for a short time, her cousin, Miss May Waters of Loch Lomond, was in the city yesterday and will remain for some time before going back to Washington, D. C., where she now resides. Miss Welsh is a woman of wide travel and a great lover of nature, which she thinks has been very lavish here in its bestowal of wonderful opportunities for the weary city dweller of the large cities.

A great pleasure has come to Miss Welsh in the reunion with her cousin, Mrs. Fred Peters, of Los Angeles, California, formerly Mrs. Lillian Hawes of this city and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Israel Hawes, who were old time citizens of St. John. Mrs. Peters is also a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Flewelling and will be joined this week by her brother, Frank Hawes, of Halifax, whom she has not seen for eighteen years. Mrs. Peters has a daughter married to Lynn Lambdin, a well-known magazine illustrator and artist residing in Connecticut.

Later Mrs. Peters will visit Mrs. William Peterson, another cousin of this city. As Miss Welsh is the Washington representative for the British-American and Canadian-American publications of Chicago, the prospect is that this community will receive wide advertising from her facile pen. Her enthusiasm is never lessened, but always increasingly manifest at each new discovery. A visit to Fernhill brought forth a fine tribute of praise for this wonderful "City of Sleep." There he hurried her mother and father, William Welsh, the founder of the Y.M.C.A. here and an outstanding public worker of his time. Of all the places for

OLIVE OIL BRINGS SILKY SHEEN TO DULLEST HAIR

What is the secret that is giving beautiful hair to thousands of women? Simply the use of Olive Oil in the shampoo. Hair specialists say that hair should never be washed without it. For it keeps hair from dry, brittle dullness. You can have this luxury at home now, cheaply. Just get a bottle of PALMOLIVE SHAMPOO—at any drug or department store. Use it but a few times and you will marvel at the lovely sheen it gives to your hair. Cleanses gently. Leaves hair gleaming and soft as finest silk.

the dead, Miss Welsh has seen none of equal Fernhill for situation, natural beauty and exceptional care.

A visit to Hon. Judge J. G. Forbes was full of happy reminiscence for Miss Welsh, as he knew her father well.

"The wonder to me," said Miss Welsh, when chatting with a reporter for the Times, as she was being shown places of interest, "is the fact that Loch Lomond is not flooded with summer people. It would be a God-send to the United States people if they knew of its charms."

Raymond-Richardson.

A nuptial event of widespread interest throughout the city and Maritime Provinces took place in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church this afternoon at three o'clock, when Mrs. Mary Muford Richardson became the bride of Thomas Kenneth Raymond, the popular managing director of the Royal Hotel.

The bride, who entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin, looked charming in a traveling suit of other brown pleated twill with hat to correspond and a stole of Hudson Baby sable. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. Moorehouse Leake, pastor of Knox Church. The bride was attended by Miss L. S. Raymond, sister of the

It developed however that the car had been retaken in Bangor, and one of the J. Clark & Co. drivers was sent there to bring it back. This was the man who was at the wheel yesterday. He was identified by George W. Parlee, and proceeded to Moncton with the car, where it will be delivered to its owners.

Remove the Film

If you wish pearly teeth

You see prettier teeth now wherever you look. They glisten, they look clean.

The reason lies in a new cleaning method. Millions now fight film.

You want the attraction, the added protection that it brings. Then won't you make this simple test to prove that you can get them?

You must fight film

It is film that makes teeth cloudy. It is film that ruins teeth. If you want prettier teeth and safer teeth you must fight that film.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. It becomes discolored, then forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Under old methods, few escaped those troubles. And beautiful teeth were seen less often than now.

A new situation

Now there's a new situation. Dental science has found two ways to fight film. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent curdles the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing action is far softer than manual tooth use. A film substance which contains harsh grit.

See what it does

In fairness to yourself, see and feel these Pepsodent effects. Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

You will be amazed and delighted. And you will want those benefits continued to the people in your home. Cut out the coupon now.

BE CAREFUL, MADAM You who use Palmolive Soap have a serious purpose. You quit common soaps because you wanted fine complexions, youthful skin. Now common soaps are made to imitate Palmolive, so that buyers will think that they get it. Be careful. If you want Palmolive, look out for deceptions. Palmolive has become, by its clear results, the leading toilet soap of the world. One user told another—the others told others. Thus millions of beauty lovers came to adopt this soap. Not merely because of olive oil or palm oil. But because our experts gave those oils efficiency they never had before. Now very cheap soaps are colored green and made in Palmolive shape. They are given like-sounding names. Thus, careless people think they get Palmolive when they don't. Then complexions suffer. The desired results are lacking. And folks blame Palmolive for it. Palmolive is based on an ideal blend of palm and olive oils. It has been perfected by many years of scientific study. The skin effects are unique. They have never been attained from any oils before. It is a quality soap—a 25-cent quality. But enormous production enables a 10-cent price. If you want those virtues—and you do—the only way to get them is in real Palmolive Soap. The way to get it is to watch the name and wrapper. Otherwise, you may get a soap which brings no like results. THE PALMOLIVE COMPANY OF CANADA, Limited WINNIPEG, MAN. TORONTO, ONT. MONTREAL, QUE. Maimed Veteran Example of After-War Heroism Paris, July 24.—The story of Edmund Lantus, who recently received the Cross of the Legion of Honor, is a striking example of after-the-war heroism. Lantus is a thirty-eight-year-old school teacher of Saint-Laurent-sous-Couzon. He lost both hands during the World War, but has been able to go back to his old position, using artificial hands.

He was born at Saint-Laurent-sous-Couzon, where his father was school teacher until his death in 1912. The son then succeeded to his father's position, holding it until he left in 1914 with the 25th Infantry. He took part in the battle of the Marne from September 1 to 10, and later fought at Eparges. He received the rank of corporal, grandier on April 12, 1915. Wounded in the face and arms on June 26, 1915, in the Argonne, he passed two months in a hospital and then returned to teach his school. In the following March he returned to the ranks with the 8th Infantry, and on June 15, 1916, while experimenting with a new kind of grenade the explosion occurred which resulted in the loss of both hands.

As he sits at his desk correcting papers with the artificial hands, which he learned to use only after a long and patient struggle, he presents a silent lesson which his pupils do not soon forget. The average consumption of coal for steam boilers is twelve pounds an hour for each square foot of grate surface.

A GOOD RECORD Harold Williamson, who finished in third position in the recent high school entrance examinations, has made a record to be proud of in the last few years. Two years ago he won the medal offered by G. S. Mays in the La Tour school. Last year he won the I. O. D. E. prize for history at the La Tour school and he also won the I. O. D. E. prize for history this year. He also made a total of 880 in the entrance examinations, just ten marks below the winner of the medal. Harold is the son of J. S. Williamson, West St. John.

LAST OF MAN-EATING SAVAGES OF WHOM R. L. STEVENSON WROTE IS CAUGHT

Pago Pago, American Samoa, June 12—(A. P. by Mail)—The capture of the last two of four wild man-eating savages who escaped from the island of New Hebrides in 1890 and landed on the island of Tutuila on a raft, ends the thirty-year dream of the island natives here for the man-eaters. The wild man was captured by an escaped prisoner who, being filled with remorse for his criminal record and being ashamed again to face his fellow man, said he took to the hills of Pago Pago where he had planned to commit suicide. While the escaped prisoner was making preparations to carry out his suicide intent, he was confronted by the black savages. The convict "got the drop" on the wild man, bound him, and held him prisoner over night. The next day the prisoner brought his savage captive to the Tutuila Naval Station here. Simmons gathered, but, apparently, feared to attack the savage they had hunted for many years. Robert Louis Stevenson, in one of his books, told of the escape of four black recruited laborers from a German plantation in New Hebrides. The men, Stevenson wrote, fled owing to their ill treatment, and escaped to Tutuila on a raft. One was killed. The three remaining blacks haunted the bush not far from Pago Pago, towards the eastern end of Tutuila, and were occasionally seen by hunters. In the year 1900 one was caught by a young Samoan chief, and the captured savage said that one of the other two had died, leaving only one at large. This is the man who has just been brought in.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

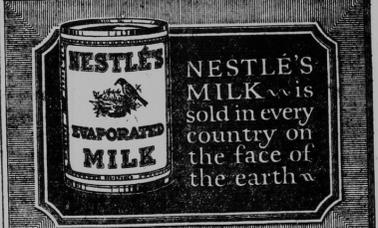

Next Sunday, July 29, will be observed in Canada as Peace Sunday. Many requests for literature have been received by the League of Nations Society in Canada. Harold Seary, who belongs to Medford, N. S., was saved from drowning in the Shipody river on Saturday by Captain Clare Robinson of the lighter Blackbird. Seary, a sailor on the schooner Lena, was on the way back to the schooner; he had too much canvas spread and the boat capsized. He was thrown into the water when those on the lighter saw his predicament and threw a line to him. The provisions with which the small boat had been heavily loaded were lost. Former Premier Arthur Meighen spoke last night in North Sydney in the interests of the Conservative candidate, R. H. Butts, who is contesting the federal by-election in Cape Breton North and Victoria. About 1,000 people were present. A match carelessly thrown away in the cabin of a motor boat occupied by three men named Cheeseman, Deady and O'Neill the first two of St. Mary's Nfld., and the last of St. John's, nearly cost the men their lives. An explosion blew the boat to bits and the men escaped, badly burned, in a dinghy. They are now in hospital with severe burns about the face and hands. A divorce from her husband, Captain Robert E. Freeman, has been granted Irene Castle Freeman, famous dancer. The divorce was granted in Paris. Of the forty-one insane convicts who escaped on Sunday night from the State Hospital for the Insane at Chester, Ill., fifteen had been recaptured last night. In the British House of Commons yesterday J. Ramsay MacDonald, Leader of the Opposition, moved a resolution to convene an international conference to discuss the limitation of armaments. It was rejected by a vote of 286 to 169. The resignation of Sir Richard Squires, Premier of Newfoundland, has been placed in the hands of the Governor of that colony. It is expected that Hon. W. R. Warren, K. C., will form a ministry. It is said that Premier Squires resigned because of the dissident party demands for the dismissal of the cabinet of Dr. Alexander Campbell, a native of Prince Edward Island. The Squires Government has been in power since 1919.

Henry Ford believes that even a factory machine needs rest

When asked why he favored short hours for workers, Henry Ford said that no good engineer will run even a machine at its limit of power and speed for very long. It hurts the machine. It is not sentimentalism to take care of machines—or men. It is plain common sense and efficiency. Sleep recharges the batteries of energy. It repairs and keeps in order the fine mechanism of the body. It is good judgment and economy, therefore, to use bedding that gives you restful sleep. MARTELLO TOWER IS TAKEN OVER BY COMMISSION

Dr. Webster Writes Board—Market Sq. Site of One Monument.

The historic Martello Tower had been taken over by the Federal Parks Commission and the matter of developing it as a park is under consideration. This news came from a meeting of the local committee having in hand the selection of sites for the monuments to be erected by the Dominion Government to mark historical sites in this city. Mayor Fisher presided and those present were Commissioners Wigmore, Thornton, Frink and Bullock, Mrs. E. Aberton Smith, Magistrate G. A. Henderson, Judge H. O. McInerney, Dr. H. A. Powell and Dr. J. Clarence Webster. The only absentee was Dr. Wm. McIntosh, who is out of the city.

It was decided to locate in Market Square the monument that will mark the site of the landing of the Loyalists. Decision as to the other two was left until this afternoon, when the committee will inspect sites proposed.

He also wrote that, so soon as the sites had been selected, an engineer would be sent here to make ready for the work, and it was hoped to have all three monuments up during the summer and fall.

On motion of Commissioner Frink, seconded by Dr. Powell, it was decided to place the monument to mark the site of the landing of the Loyalists in Market Square and on motion of Commissioner Wigmore, seconded by Commissioner Thornton, to use the boulder type for this memorial.

Fort Howe.

Mrs. Smith referred to the work of the ladies in trying to have Fort Howe developed as a national park and the opinion was expressed that as the Parks Commission had announced they had no intention of developing a park there, an effort should be made to have the government deed the land to the city, when it might be developed and a suitable memorial to the founders of the city placed there.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well, sir," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to The Times reporter, "it was a motorman on that there street railroad I'd get insured agin heart failure, as I charge it up to the Teamsters' Union and the Ottomobed Association. I been ridin' round some in them streets, and I nearly got heart failure myself. Why, one o' dem there 'teamsters' an' shoffers 'll git ahead of a street car an' drive along so close to you that you'd think his ambition in life was to git the street car to see how close it could shave his rig without knockin' the daylight out o' him. I seen the motorman jam on the street car when he hed the hull street to wiggle in. Yes, sir—I think every motorman orto be insured an' hev 'em there 'teamsters' an' shoffers. He hes worry enough with little kids an' 'fools startin' to cross the street without 'scart into the middle o' next week by one o' dem grinnin' fellers that knows better—By Hen!"

SEQUEL TO SPEED CASE INTERESTING

Harold C. Robertson Makes Statement; Magistrate Issues Rely.

Harold C. Robertson, fined $50 in Magistrate Allingham's court yesterday on speeding charge, said last evening that he would fight the issue. He consulted M. Ryan, barrister, and the matter of the seizure of his car was temporarily adjusted and the car was not held. Mr. Robertson said that on route to the magistrate's in the offending car, Constable Robert Crawford had suggested that he should plead guilty to the charge, and promised that he would get off easier. Mr. Robertson said that he had not been speeding at the place he had been charged with doing so, but, believing that he had been accused of the offence further out the avenue, he decided to accept the suggestion and pleaded guilty.

Magistrate J. H. Allingham speaking to a reporter for The Times this morning, declared that no advantage had been taken of Mr. Robertson. When he was first brought before the court the Magistrate said, he was told that a very serious charge had been preferred against him. The defendant had pleaded guilty to the charge Mr. Allingham said and he had then imposed a very heavy fine. Mr. Robertson, he said, refused to pay the fine and began to dictate just how much he should be fined, and what the magistrate's duties were in this particular case. He said he received every chance to pay his fine, but continued to refuse, and offered to go to jail. The magistrate said he told him that it was not his privilege to go to jail, as the fine must be paid or the automobile seized.

Upon his continuing to refuse paying the fine Mr. Allingham said that he ordered the car to be seized and Mr. Robertson offered to drive the car to the garage.

After leaving the magistrate's house, accompanied by the constable and bound for the garage, Mr. Robertson in some way, said Magistrate Allingham, persuaded the constable to accompany him to the city, where after seeing a lawyer, a temporary adjustment was made.

Mr. Allingham said that if Mr. Robertson desired to press the case that he would be with him every step of the way, and was convinced that the case would prove a most interesting one.

The breaks in the water mains in Water, Ward and Brittain streets had been repaired, Commissioner Wigmore announced this morning. Two small breaks in the 24 inch main at the Gypsy Settlement, Fairville, were reported to the department this morning and repairs will be made at once.

DANGEROUS.

If the practice indulged in by some motorists of turning into Prince William street from Market Square going at any speed from twenty to thirty miles an hour is kept up someone will be killed at that point. Yesterday morning one car turned in around the electric commission offices' going at least twenty-five miles an hour, and just missed hitting a car which was coming up Prince William street from the south.

COLLISION.

A little after nine o'clock this morning there was a slight collision in Charlotte street between a Fairville street car No. 71 and a piece of fire apparatus. The street car was traveling up Charlotte street from the south and the fire apparatus from No. 1 Hook and Ladder Station was going along the same street. The motorman of the electric car turned to the right and the latter struck the fender of the street car and did a little damage.

The contractors for the Market Square paving will begin operations tomorrow morning and the work will be rushed to completion as quickly as possible.

INSURANCE CASE OVER TIL AUGUST

Matter of Claim in Connection With West Side Lumber Fire.

The case of J. A. Gregory vs. The Newark Fire Ins. Co., Merchants Marine Ins. Co., General Accident Co. of Canada, Phoenix Fire Ins. Co., Canada Accident Ins. Co., Yorkshire Ins. Co., British Crown Assurance Co., and the Palatine Ins. Co., Ltd., set to be heard before Justice Crockett in the Circuit Court this morning was not heard owing to some mix up in the arrangements by the court.

George H. V. Belyea, K. C., declared himself ready to begin the case, but J. H. A. L. Fairweather, K. C., counsel for the defendant companies, said that he had not been notified and because of this he was unable to proceed. Mr. Belyea said that the case had been some misunderstanding, because he was assured that Mr. Fairweather had been notified that the case had been set for this morning.

His Honor said that when the court had adjourned he understood that it had been arranged between the counsel that the case would be taken up when the court again met. Under the circumstances he said the case could not be tried today, and therefore postponed it until Thursday, August 3, at ten o'clock.

The case, it was stated, arose out of the refusal of the defendant insurance companies to pay the plaintiff the proceeds of policies held by them, amounting to $15,000. The claim of the defendant is that the lumber was not piled at the specified distance from the premises of the mill, and that when the lumber was destroyed by fire the origin of which, it is alleged, was the mill burning, the plaintiff had no claim against them. The mill was located in West St. John.

In home to accomplish something, the case of Emmett Burke vs. E. J. Mooney was called. Stephen G. Mooney, counsel for the defence, was communicated with and upon his arriving at court it was arranged between counsel to withdraw the case, and have it entered on the docket for the next session of the court. George H. V. Belyea is counsel for the plaintiff.

NEW PHASE OF POLICE CLERK APPOINTMENT

Who is to make the recommendation for the appointment of the clerk for the police court seems to be a question. As the salary has always been paid by the Safety department out of the police appropriation it is understood the Commissioner of Safety feels that he should make the recommendation, and that Mayor Fisher has an idea that he should be the one. It was said this morning by Commissioner Thornton that the law said the salary should be paid by the treasury department and if this was done he would be very glad to have the Mayor make the recommendation.
