PARENTS DIE IN EFFORT TO SAVE LIFE OF BABY

Both Drowned in the Ottawa River—Child Saved.

Mother was Bathing Little One and Current Snatched Offspring from Her Grasp—Many Week-end Fatalities in Upper Canada.

Ottawa, July 11.—Husband and wife bravely together here last night in an effort to save their nine months' old baby from the waters of the Ottawa River. Mrs. Anna Trepanier, mother of the child, who was bathing the infant in the river, temporarily lost her grip on the child's arm and the current of the Ottawa carried the little one out of reach. The woman plunged, fully clothed, after her child but she sank almost immediately. Her husband, Brock Trepanier, attracted by her screams, also attempted a rescue of his two loved ones, but he too fell a victim to the current and was carried under.

The child, in the meantime had been rescued by Noel Cause, a civil servant, who courageously dived from a canoe and succeeded in swimming the baby to shore.

Ray Wilson, aged seventeen, of Caley, Mo., was drowned at King's Ferry. He was in bathing and is thought to have been seized with cramps.

Olaf Flies, a youth of Rochon, Hull, got beyond his depth in the Ottawa River, and was carried away by the current.

In Montreal, July 11.—Several cases of violent death were reported during the week-end. One was the death of Wm. Forrester, sixty, from heat prostration following a stroke suffered on last Tuesday. His address is unknown. Paul Greiner, eight, was run over by an automobile near his home.

Mrs. Napoleon Lacombe, forty, fell from the balcony of her home and suffered a fractured skull, dying instantly. Prosper Parent, sixty-four, slept on the balcony of a house at St. Theodore, and was found next morning on the ground dead. Eugene Delongchamps, forty-five, shot himself through the heart on Saturday.

Gertrude Goldstein, sixteen, of this city, was drowned on Saturday afternoon at Chateaugay Basin, when a boat in which she was rowing with eight children was overturned by the swell of a motor boat. The children were all saved. An unidentified body of a man was found yesterday at Longue Pointe.

OUTLOOK FOR POTATO CROP NOT CHEERFUL

Ottawa Expert Makes Report on Conditions in the New Brunswick Fields.

Fredrickton, N. B., July 11.—An official summary of the conditions of the potato crop in New Brunswick was issued this morning by G. C. Cunningham, plant pathologist of the federal department of agriculture, as follows:—The continued drought and heavy showers since early spring have greatly reduced the prospects for a large yield of potatoes this season, and unless a heavy rain comes soon the crop will prove a failure in many sections. The present condition throughout the province is similar to the conditions existing in Victoria county last year when many farmers harvested only 25 per cent or less of a crop. In some sections the drought is more marked in some sections than others. A few very localised showers have helped some sections.

From Woodstock to Florenceville the crop is more uniform and promising, particularly around Florenceville, where a heavy shower the last week of June and thorough cultivation have helped that district. However, a large crop cannot be expected as the plants are in blossom prematurely and already setting tubers. Dry weather at setting time usually means few tubers per plant.

From Florenceville, north, particularly north of Perth, the season has been exceptionally hot and dry. The fields show a high percentage of misses, due to the seed having dried up and rotted. The plants are almost invariably weak and backward. Unless a heavy rain falls soon the crop must prove a failure. On the other hand, if sufficient moisture does come the crop in Victoria and Madawaska counties has a fair chance of recovering, as the season is about two weeks later than in Carleton county.

From Westmorland to Restigouche the crop will prove light. Individual fields show from 25 to 75 per cent of misses. There are a few exceptionally promising fields in Restigouche county, among those specialising in seed production. These are owned by growers who have paid particular attention to seed and thorough cultivation of the soil before and after planting the seed. The present outlook is not promising. There is a considerable reduction in acreage accompanied by from only 50 to 75 per cent of a yield per acre.

C. E. Convention Closing. New York, July 11.—The Christian Endeavor convention will close tonight. The next conference will be held in Des Moines, Ia., in 1922.

De Valera In London On Thursday to Confer With British Premier

Brightest Hope of a Century is Comment of Canadian Press Observer—Belfast Sees More Trouble but is Only Place of Trouble—Curfew Re-imposed There.

London, July 11.—Eamonn De Valera will come to London on Thursday of this week for his conference with Lloyd George to discuss the basis of a settlement of the Irish problem.

Official announcement of this effect was issued this afternoon. Lloyd George returned to London this morning to arrange final details for his meeting with Mr. De Valera.

The truce between the crown forces and the Irish Republican army became effective at noon today but there were apprehensions that extremists on both sides would be hard to control.

It appeared today the conversations between Mr. De Valera and the premier would revolve around the granting of dominions status to Ireland upon conditions that the Sinn Fein demand for the establishment of an Irish republic would be abandoned.

There were other serious questions to be debated, however, among them being the boycott of Ulster by South Ireland, which has brought serious difficulties to the people of Ulster.

There was a disposition to believe, however, that, once the conference was under way some means of smoothing out present difficulties would be found.

Brightest Hope of a Century

London, July 11.—(By Grattan O'Leary, staff correspondent of the Canadian Press.) The situation in Ireland has changed almost overnight from black despair into the brightest hope of a century, and for the almost universal credit is given to the premiers' conference as having created an atmosphere for peace.

Belfast Quiet Again. Belfast, July 11.—Quiet was reported here in all districts of the city this morning, following disorders and bloodshed yesterday. In the hospitals showed that persons wounded during yesterday's riot were, as a whole, progressing satisfactorily, although a few were believed to be in a critical condition. About sixty persons are still in the hospital.

Rioting which broke out in Belfast on Friday night continued to such an extent that the military had to be sent in to quell the riot. Fifteen persons were killed and nearly one hundred wounded. The rioting was a result of excitement as a group of Orangemen marched four deep along the streets shouting defiance in the face of flying bullets. The freighting and mail train from Belfast to Londonderry was attacked near Carrickmore, county Tyrone, and the train was derailed and its contents were burned and the line torn up at this point.

The curfew was reimposed here today as a result of the disorders of Sunday. Belfast now is the only place in Ireland under the curfew regulations, despite the truce terms by which the curfew was raised, generally.

Dublin. The truce in Ireland went into effect at noon today. In Dublin the complete disappearance of the curfew police lorries and armored cars from the streets marked the official beginning of the truce.

Press Hopeful. London, July 11.—The Sunday newspaper press today is optimistic, congratulating the negotiators on the conclusion of the requisite initial step and on the establishment of a mutual attitude of forbearance and sacrifice may be attained to a head.

Breaks Out Again. The quiet was disturbed before the morning had progressed far. A great deal of revolver firing developed in the streets and the adjoining Carrick hill district. At one hospital six cases of bullet wounds were treated. A hakey street and the driver was beaten. Some firing occurred in several parts of the city. The disturbed areas, but police patrols promptly checked any attempt at an organized outbreak.

Some Phases of Situation. London, July 11.—The dominion premiers now in London are ready to support, according to all indications, Ireland's claim for dominion status, with fiscal autonomy and a voice in foreign affairs, the latter being an important aspiration of the dominions themselves. Such help from the outside as afforded by a statesman of the calibre of General Smuts, the South African premier, who admittedly has had much influence over the government policy, is an asset which Ireland has never before enjoyed.

This is the first time that Lloyd George in any peace negotiations has imposed no conditions whatever. Sir Hankey telegraphed to Mr. De Valera yesterday characterized as conceived in the happiest terms, permits the Irish Republican leader to bring any colleagues he wishes to bring with him.

A truce has been arranged for an indefinite period. No date has been fixed or hint of any notice required to denounce it. The whole surrounding circumstances of this latest peace effort would seem to prove that both sides are deeply in earnest in desiring success. On the other side of the picture is the attitude of the extremists among the Orangemen and the Sinn Fein, both Sinn Fein and Orangemen, and both are expected to how far they can be controlled by the leaders. There is also what has up to the present been the irreconcilable attitude of Mr. De Valera and his colleagues against the partition of Ireland and the apparently equal determination in Ulster that the present status of the six counties under the home rule act shall not be disturbed.

Ulster is smarting under the serious trade boycott exercised by Southern Ireland, but hopes are still high that this and other difficulties will be smoothed out once the conference is started. It is suggested as a compromise on the question of chairman of the conference that Lloyd George be chairman and General Smuts deputy chairman, in which case General Smuts would preside over the earlier meetings.

The government has ceased recruiting in Great Britain for the Irish Constabulary. Meanwhile, on the approach of July 12, "Orangemen's day," serious fighting, with many persons killed and wounded, has broken out at Belfast.

As Hiram Sees It

"You're lookin' kinda thin," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to the Times reporter, "I guess you orto come out to the Settlement an' try some spring lamb an' greens an' things like that fer a spell. Workin' too hard—ain't you?"

"I really don't know what the trouble is," said the reporter. "I was told that I ought to stop eating salt, and I did it. Another man asked if I ate much sugar, and I confessed I was very partial to sugar. He said to cut it out. I cut it out. Then I seemed to be getting no better. I took another man's advice and stopped eating meat. Several people have prevailed on me to stop out one food after another, and now I am not allowed to drink water unless it is boiled—and our boiler is not working."

"Well," said Hiram, "if some fellow comes along an' tells you to hold your breath fer half an hour I s'pose you'll try that, too. You come out an' see Hanner. She'll hev you eatin' four meals a day an' puttin' on about four pounds a week afore you know it."

"Hiram," sang the reporter—"I hear you calling me."

Freight train No. 674 was derailed near Monton, N. B., July 11.—Freight train No. 674 was derailed near Monton, N. B., July 11, about 7:25 o'clock on Saturday morning, the result of a burned journal on a freight car. About seven cars left the rails. The locomotive remained on the track. It is reported that no one was injured, but there was considerable damage to rolling stock.

Slack Times in River Lumbering—School Teacher Matters in Fredericton.

Fredericton, N. B., July 11.—The St. John River Log Driving Company is drawing near the close of its operations on the river for this season. The extreme low water is hindering the sorting and rafting crews at the booms. The total lumber which will pass through the booms in 1921 will be about fifteen million feet. In other years the average has been about fifty million feet. Lumber operators expect next season to be slack also, with curtailed cut.

It is doubtful if the water in the St. John river has ever been lower than now. A clean up will be made as rapidly as conditions will be permitted when operations will be transferred to the Mitchell boom at Lincoln where there is a smaller quantity of lumber to be rafted, making the final cleanup.

Miss H. Gladys Gregory, B.A., has been appointed to the teaching staff of the Fredericton High school, following the resignation of Miss Isabel St. John Bliss, B.A., who will take an advanced course at Columbia University.

Miss Gregory is a graduate of the U. N. B. in 1917. She has been teaching at Clarendon, Alta. She is a daughter of the late Dr. Harry Gregory of this city.

The Fredericton School Board will meet on Tuesday afternoon to consider appointments to the positions on the high school staff made vacant by the resignations of the male teachers. Alonzo Stiles, one of the former teachers will go to Riverside as principal. It is reported that other members who resigned also will teach elsewhere.

JUVENILES IN COURT. Behind closed doors this morning a hearing was given in the case of two juveniles charged with theft from the confectionery store of Miss Jennie Carroll in Garden street. The parents of the children were present as was the complainant. The children were allowed to go on the promise of their parents to make good the loss and after they had been severely reprimanded by the magistrate.

LONDON WELCOMES HARDING OFFER

Disarmament and Far East Conference.

Papers in Empire Capital See Great Possibilities—Washington Keenly Interested in Statement Expected from Lloyd George.

London, July 11.—In an editorial on the disarmament question, the London Times says there can be no doubt that President Harding's conference proposal will be gladly and promptly accepted by the British government with the full concurrence of the dominions, in the same spirit in which it has been made.

The paper discusses the proposals and the preparation of the agenda for the conference and in the preliminary negotiations the principal point of the agenda, declaring:—

"Only when such solutions have been found otherwise it may fail, and its failure might well be a disaster to the world."

But given prudence and careful respect for legitimate susceptibilities, given an entire subordination of personal and personal reactions to the great object in view, it may and should succeed, to the weal of the nations represented and the lasting benefit of humanity at large."

In this connection, the Times says:— "The peace conference at Paris may in some respects serve as a warning and a deterrent."

Harding's statement as a "momentous and timely" one, the paper declares it opens a new phase in the history of the Pacific problem, adding: "The task of the proposed conference will be a delicate one, and unless successfully approached, as dangerous as any that any conference ever essayed to discharge."

Not even the peace conference at Paris had to face issues vaster or fraught with greater possibilities of good and evil to the world."

Over London Papers. While most of the morning papers did not have the time to write editorials on President Harding's statement, owing to the fact that the statement was not published until late in the afternoon, all of them displayed it conspicuously. Several repeat their second editions, and give greater prominence, adding a few appreciative words in introductory notes.

The Mail declares that the world's message surpasses in importance all other doings, of whatever moment, and describes it as "practically an appeal to the human race to have done with wars."

The Telegraph calls it an act of first historical significance, adding that the president's earnestness of purpose and breadth of vision will be received with warmest approval.

The Daily Express declares: "It is a bright augury for the peace of the world that the president has now dissolved the fog of mystery which hung over the question of international disarmament. This country will gladly respond to the call."

China would be admitted to the conference for the purpose of taking part in the consideration in the Far Eastern problems, and there was a feeling here today that the discussions would bring about a definite understanding which would include virtually the whole field of international relations.

George Harvey, U. S. ambassador to Great Britain, is understood to have conveyed President Harding's proposal to Premier Lloyd George at Chequer. Dominion premiers, who were present at the meeting, were pleased with the situation.

When the conference asked by President Harding is held, Canada in the high interpreter of U. S. sentiment to Britain and with vital interests in the Pacific will be an important, if not dominating factor in any decision reached.

In a tentative conversation on the subject. Official opinions are that France certainly will accept the invitation if one is received. France, it is said, would be glad to reduce her armaments and save the heavy expense involved, as soon as she can safely do so, but her decision on this question must depend upon absolute security from the east.

Paris, July 11.—Sheldon Whitehouse, counselor of the U. S. embassy, called at the French foreign office today and talked with the director of political affairs on the possibility of holding a conference on disarmament, and make a statement regarding President Harding's proposal for a conference on limitation of armaments.

In Washington, July 11.—The course of the United States was definitely set today toward two goals of international importance, limitation of armaments and solution of problems involving the Pacific and the Far East.

The state department announcement said that if the proposal for a limitation of armaments conference was found acceptable, invitations for the conference would be issued. Whether any response to the inquiries directed to the state department by the British government received by the president was not indicated. Great popular interest was attached to the statement by Lloyd George, the British premier, expected today.

RACE HALF OVER; PITTSBURG AND CLEVELAND LEAD

Others Have to Travel Fast to Catch Up.

Some Features in Big League Baseball Games of Sunday—Vesper Club for Canadian Regatta—Late News of Sport.

New York, July 11.—The half way mark of the major league pennant race finds the Pittsburgh National leaders three and a half games ahead of New York and the Cleveland world's champions with little same margin over the other New York club.

The pace of the Pirates is 65 points better than set by Brooklyn in winning the pennant last year, while the Indians are going at a five point higher rate than in 1920.

The other first division clubs of both leagues are playing winning ball, but have much ground to make up to overtake the two leaders. The National teams are well spread out and the American clubs are gathered within a range of 250 points.

In the National League the Pittsburgh twirlers with the exception of Cooper and Glander are not displaying steadiness at present. The Pirates took two games from Brooklyn, but lost yesterday when the Superbas batted Major Clegg.

Pittsburgh is not hitting as effectively as the other first division clubs, while the pitching strength of the four clubs appeared about equal last week.

New York is cutting into Pittsburgh's lead rapidly. The Giants have won seven of their last nine games. St. Louis is hitting and fielding in excellent fashion. Chicago and Cincinnati are not converting their hits into runs. Poor fielding has offset Philadelphia's good batting.

In the American League the Indians yesterday obtained revenge for the unpleasant surprise they received at the hands of Philadelphia. Mails and Boston both blanked the Athletics, who had taken two games from the Indians after losing three straight to New York. Louisville, Chicago, who had dropped three games to the Indians, defeated the Yankees three times, including yesterday's game.

Washington and Detroit continue their pace of slightly above 600. Boston is getting good pitching, but the Red Sox are weak in scoring power. St. Louis is resuming their hitting after a lapse early last week.

Kerr and Faber are the only steady Chicago twirlers and the White Sox have been unable to make good use of their many hits.

Sunday Games. New York, July 11.—A combination pitcher-shortstop, rare in the major leagues, was uncovered by the Philadelphia-Americans yesterday when Barrett twirled against the Clevelanders and then took his place between second and third. Barrett went on the mound in the sixth inning when the game was tied, and he pitched to one hit in two innings.

Some Records. Boston, July 11.—Baseball statisticians have brought to light the fact that Horace Ford, second baseman for the Boston Nationals, has equaled a major league record of thirty-nine years' standing. In the St. Louis-Boston game of June 16, at St. Louis, he made twelve assists in accepting fourteen chances.

This was said to tie the record for assists made in 1882 by Danlap of Cleveland, who at that time had eighteen chances, the record for total chances in a game. Staffy McInnis, of the Red Sox, ended the week's play with a run of thirty-nine errorless games, while Captain Scott brought his record of continuous play to 732 games.

MORE CANADIANS WIN AT BISLEY

Bisley, July 11.—(Canadian Associated Press)—The whole country is imploring as fervently as Elijah the Tishbite. At Bisley today the visibility at certain parts of the range was partially obscured by smoke from health fires. In the Conan Doyle match, Sgt. J. T. Steele, of Guelph, Ont., was 11th, Lieut. S. A. Anand, of second, Major C. H. Crowe, of Guelph, 27th; Major Northover, of Winnipeg, 28th. They each win a point.

In the Birmingham small arms competition, Capt. W. E. Swan of Kingston, was 1st, winning a point. Serg. A. Lucas of Toronto won in the sweepstakes and Major Northover in the clay bird shooting.

CANADA'S PLACE IN CONFERENCE

Important Factor, Says Canadian Press Writer.

May be Dominating Factor in Nations Get Together on the Invitation of President Harding of the U. S.

London, July 11.—(By Grattan O'Leary, staff correspondent of the Canadian Press.) President Harding's invitation for a conference by the principal Allied and Pacific powers was accepted here as a decisive triumph for the conference of premiers.

Put forward by the dominion in communication to the British government as early as last February and advocated in the empire congress by Premier Meighen, the result ought to be particularly gratifying to Canada indeed and it is universally admitted here that the great impetus which the idea received from the dominion premiers, President Harding would not have been in a position to risk such a declaration as he has made.

The offer of course will be accepted as such, but it is not expected that the proposed conference, probably the most momentous of its kind that the world has seen, will be held in the near future. The proposal, as understood here, is that there should be two conferences, the first to deal with disarmament and including all of the important world powers and the second to take up Pacific problems and to be confined to the nations with special interests in the Pacific.

Premier Meighen, who spent the week end at Chequers with Premier Lloyd George returned to London this morning plainly pleased with the situation.

To the Canadian Press he expressed the belief that the chance of achieving great advance toward disarmament and a more permanent world peace was exceedingly bright and believes that in respect of the termination of the treaty made which will obviate the necessity of any special alliance with Japan.

When the conference asked by President Harding is held, Canada in the high interpreter of U. S. sentiment to Britain and with vital interests in the Pacific will be an important, if not dominating factor in any decision reached.

COMMISSIONERS IN SESSION

Retaining Walls and Other Matters—Douglas Avenue Crossing.

At this morning's committee meeting of the common council a petition was read from the residents of Murray street signed by fifty-three persons, asking that Murray street be graded from Main street to Chesley street and the steps removed.

The matter was referred to Commissioner Frink to ascertain if the people whose property would be damaged by a retaining wall had signed the petition. Commissioner Bullock reported that D. W. Ledingham, manager of Furness-Withy & Co., wrote that his company was not willing to agree to a guarantee clause in the proposed agreement between the company and the city would have a lease to the potato sheds in West St. John.

In the clause in question the company was asked to pay the difference in wharfage charges if less than fifteen steamers were loaded at the warehouse during any season. Mr. Ledingham said that if this clause was eliminated the arrangement would be satisfactory. He said the company proposed spending $7,000 to $10,000 in improvements on the shed.

Mr. Bullock made a motion substituting a clause which provided that if the company loaded less than fifteen steamers in one season the city would have the option of terminating the agreement. Commissioner Frink thought it was inadvisable to tie up any harbor property for five years until the rest of the harbor commission publicity was arrived at.

The motion was lost. The mayor announced that the term of G. Herbert Green as member of the board expired on June 30 and he thought that a member of the council should be appointed to the vacancy. The resident engineer on the C. P. R. bridge wrote saying that the diamond crossing would have to be lifted and supported that Wednesday, July 13, would be a good day for the work. On Commissioner Frink's motion the necessary permission to disturb the surface of the street was ordered granted under the supervision of the road engineer and with the approval of the city solicitor.

A line retaining wall in Moore street on the property of Mrs. Donnelly, Commissioner Frink reported, was in bad condition and required replacing. The estimated cost of the concrete wall was $6,800. His motion that this work be done by bond issued was carried. Commissioner Thornton voted "Nay" saying that he would not vote for the motion until he knew whether or not the work was to be done by contract.

Regarding a retaining wall in Burpee Avenue between Mt. Pleasant Avenue and Park street, he said this would have to be extended 220 feet at an estimated cost of $2,750, to be paid for by bond issue.

Commissioner said he understood that a matter of bond issue did not need a unanimous vote in committee but could be recommended to council on a majority vote. Dr. Frink moved that the Burpee Avenue wall be built. An amendment was made by Commissioner Bullock that tenders be advertised for the work.

Replying to Commissioner Frink, G. N. Hatfield, road engineer, said the retaining walls were different to let by contract as conditions could not be definitely ascertained. He thought the Moore street wall could be let by contract, but the Burpee Avenue wall should be done by day's work.

Commissioner Frink reported that the cost of renewing the old retaining wall at 88 Duke street, West St. John, was $760. He moved this be done by day's work to be paid for by bond issue. The estimated cost of renewing a retaining wall at 102 King street West was $115, the commissioner reported. He moved that the work be done by day's work, to be paid for by bond issue.

Replying to Commissioner Frink, the mayor said that the matter of the overhead crossing at the end of Douglas avenue had been receiving attention, but he thought that as the shipping people had placed the matter before the provincial government, it might be better to allow the matter to stand over for a week so as before formal application was made for the grade separation.

Commissioner Thornton said he understood Lanadowne avenue had not been derated to the original intended grade, as some of the water stop-cocks were projecting. The road engineer explained that these were above the original grade. Mr. Jones said he understood the grade for the pipes was given by the public works department. His superintendent was of the opinion that there was not sufficient material on the street to protect the water main from frost.

The road engineer said the original grade was not changed. Com. Bullock reported on the contract for the paving of a section of the North Wharf. It was the intention to add 800 yards of paving to bring the surface as far as Dock street. This area was included in the tender. He asked the public works department to take care of the rest of the additional area. The report was referred to the council.

FATHER CARNEY SCORES SOME CAPITAL BATHERS. Fredericton, N. B., July 11.—Mrs. Dunstan's Catholic church yesterday morning Very Rev. Dean Carney made reference to "the disgraceful practice of young women walking from the municipal bathing beach through the streets of the city with hardly any clothing on."

He said he was in favor of bathing in a healthy pastime, but he thought the young women he did not know whether they were of his congregation or not, should clothe themselves properly going to and from the beach. He said he was driving in his car in the vicinity of the beach the other day and he "had to put his arm across his eyes to keep off the disgraceful sight of half naked young women coming from the beach."

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

JOLLITY AND SNAP AT OPERA HOUSE

"Every Day Justice" Tonight's Offering by Jack Roof and His Company. "Every Day Justice" is the title of the new show at the Opera House tonight, which will be presented by Jack Roof and his musical comedy company. This production made a great hit in New York and other large American cities and should prove to be a banner attraction to local theatre goers. The musical numbers compose some of the latest and most popular song hits, while the members of the chorus will appear in bright new costumes and demonstrate dainty dance steps. The solos are a highly humorous assortment of comic sketches to make up a banner episode of the new serial, "The Avenging Arrow," featuring Ruth Roland. Two performances at 7:30 and 9 o'clock.

AT THE STAR THEATRE TONIGHT

June Caprice, Marguerite Courtot and George B. Selts will be seen at the Star Theatre tonight in the first feature this North End theatre has shown for some time. The title, "Rogues and Romances," at once suggests a very pleasing photoplay in which these three stars are seen at their best. The final chapter of "Phantom Foot" is also included in this programme.

IN WALL STREET

New York, July 11.—(10:30) Little alteration from recent reactionary tendencies was manifested by the stock market today. Rails, oils, equipments and specialties of the tobacco and chemical types were lower by fractions. Foreign Rubber, Sumatra Tobacco and C. P. R. and American Sugar were among the firmest. Foreign exchange continued to weaken, despite the favorable inferences drawn from international developments over the week end. The British rate opened at 83 1/2, a decline of 2 1/2 cents from Saturday.

NOON REPORT

(Noon) In the moderate dealings of the morning shorts brought greater pressure to bear against oils, steels, equipments and specialties. Mexican Petroleum, Harvester, Pullman, United States Rubber, Sumatra Tobacco and Cane Sugar were lower by 1 to 2 1/2 points. Sears Roebuck, Famous Players, International Alcohol and International Paper lost 1 to 3 points. Baldwin, Studebaker, Crucible and Atlantic Gulf featured a moderate rally, most of which was cancelled before noon. Call money opened at 2 1/2 per cent but foreign exchange became increasingly weak.

THE ROTARY CLUB

Rotarian Reg. Wright turned the wheel at today's luncheon and introduced Dr. L. A. Langstroth, who gave an intensely interesting paper on Canadian coins and money tokens. He began with the wampum of the fur-trading days, told of the first French tokens then the English, the provincial and other legal tender used during two hundred years of Canadian history. Dr. Langstroth expressed regret that there are not more collections of these tokens accessible to the public. A card from Rotarian R. D. Peterson, dated at Oct. 2nd, was read by Alex. Wilson. The decision of the club to give a picnic to the east and south end boys' clubs was reconsidered, on the ground that it might be possible to do something of more substantial benefit at a later date.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS.

Here is the secret that changed a young man from an ordinary success into a great industrialist. The secret is this: Success is not a matter of luck, it is a matter of habit. You can use it right where you are, where you live, what your work is—whether you are a banker, farmer, merchant, clerk, or laborer. And the secret which you must pick a career. The boy who goes from job to job, from town to town, without aim or purpose, cannot achieve success. You, for instance, are a salesman right now. What will you be in five years? Will you be a millionaire? But that is too general. The advisor of the young statesman took Aristotle's three success essentials and said: "First of all, you must have a definite, clearly-set goal. You must know where you want to go. You must know when you want to do it. You must pick a career. The boy who goes from job to job, from town to town, without aim or purpose, cannot achieve success. ## TERMS OF THE IRISH TRUCE

Dublin, July 9—Eamon De Valera, the republican leader, issued a manifesto yesterday afternoon urging national unity during the peace negotiations.

"Fellow citizens: During the period of the truce each individual soldier and citizen must regard himself as the custodian of the nation's honor. Your truce must prove in the most convincing manner that this is a struggle of an organized nation."

"In the negotiations now initiated your leaders will do their utmost to secure a just termination of this struggle, but history and particularly our own history, and the character of the issue to be decided, are a warning against undue confidence."

"Unbending determination to endure all that may still be necessary, and fortitude such as you have shown in all your recent sufferings—these alone will lead to the peace you desire. Should force be resumed against our nation you must be ready and do your part once more to resist. Thus alone you will secure the final abandonment of force and the acceptance of justice and reason as the arbiter."

(Signed) "DE VALERA."

To Suspend Hostilities. Dublin, July 10—A general order directing the suspension of hostilities during the peace negotiations, the order to be effective from noon July 11, was issued last evening by Richard Mulcahy, chief of staff of the "Irish Republican Army."

Truce terms were agreed to at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at British military headquarters. General Sir Nevill Macready, military commander in chief of Ireland, Colonel Brand and A. W. Cope, under-secretary in the office of the chief secretary for Ireland, acted for the British Army and commandants Robert C. Barton and E. J. Duggan, represented the "Irish Republican Army."

According to the Irish Bulletin, organ of the Dail Eireann, it was agreed on behalf of the British Army: "Firstly, that there be no incoming troops of the Royal Irish Constabulary and auxiliaries and no shipments of munitions into Ireland and no movements for military purposes except in the maintenance of drafts."

Secondly, that there be no provocative display of forces, armed or unarmed. Thirdly, that all provisions of the truce apply to the martial law areas just as for the rest of Ireland.

Fourthly, that there be no pursuit of Irish officers and men or search for material and military stores.

Fifthly, that there be no secret agents

PRESIDENT HARDING ACTS

President Harding has acceded to the wishes of the people and taken the initiative in requesting a conference of powers to discuss the question of disarmament and that of the far east and the Pacific. There can be no doubt that the invitation will be accepted. The world must be rid of the terrible burden imposed by great navies and armaments which would sacrifice any interests nor endanger any country. It is only necessary that the powers come together in a spirit of frank cordiality and act together as they did when they had a war on their hands. They trusted each other then, and should do so now. There is no single or selfish interest of such paramount importance as is the peace of the world, and the way is now paved for such a conference as can be made to serve in the highest degree the interests of humanity. The most gratifying feature of the news is that the United States has definitely abandoned the policy of isolation and recognized the fact that her interests cannot be separated from those of the European and Asiatic nations. The time is propitious for the most hearty co-operation. The world will breathe more freely and develop more faith in the future of mankind if a real limitation of armaments and the establishment of an international good understanding result from the invitation now sent out by the President of the United States.

THE ACT IS THE ISSUE

In all its discussions of harbor commission the Globe carefully conceals the fact that under the St. John harbor commission act all the improvements made must be paid for out of harbor revenue, which must also pay the high cost of administering the harbor under a high salary scale. The act also provides money to pay interest on past expenditure made by the government on this harbor. In Halifax the government provides facilities and does not charge them against harbor revenue. One would think to read the Globe that we have only to adopt harbor commission and at once new wharves and warehouses will spring up. There is nothing in the harbor commission act to justify any such prediction. There is no assurance whatever that anything at all will be done, but whatever is done will be done at the expense of the harbor traffic. We are told that on Wednesday evening a message from Hon. Mr. Ballantyne will be submitted by Hon. Mr. Wigmore. Mr. Ballantyne has shown his interest in this national port by staying away from it. Moreover, Mr. Ballantyne's term in office will be short. The only thing the people of St. John have to consider is the harbor commission act. Anything Mr. Ballantyne or Mr. Wigmore may say may give us some idea of what the thing to do is to reject it, and call for a new and square deal for St. John.

THE LAW IS SUPREME

Whoever attempts to interfere with street car traffic in St. John is an enemy of the former employees of the power company. This must be as clear to the men themselves as it is to the rest of the citizens. Yesterday's developments made friends for the company because the citizens at large believe in law and order. The law must and will be upheld. So far as the rumored threat to recall the mayor and commissioners is concerned, it could only be an idle threat and high a serious declaration of policy. The mayor has done all in his power to bring the parties together, and that is all he could do without exceeding his duty. Neither he nor his colleagues are responsible for the dispute between the power company and its former employees, but they are under an obligation to see that the law is observed and properly protected. They represent the citizens at large, and if a recall were attempted the citizens would speak with no uncertain voice. It is sincerely hoped that the present trouble may be ended quickly and without serious hardship to any, but pending such settlement the law must be supreme, and any infraction should result in severe punishment. The mob spirit is always dangerous. St. John learned that lesson some years ago.

Toronto Globe: There are many persons in Canadian cities who have had little or no work to do since the fall of 1920, and who have long since exhausted their savings. Relief work on a very considerable scale will have to be provided, or the unemployed will have to be kept in idleness at the expense of the community. Confronted with inevitable expenditure upon one or other of these methods of dealing with unemployment, it is surely the part of wisdom to organize relief that food and lodging shall be given for useful work rather than to men standing day after day idle in a local line. If the government at Ottawa does not take action on a nation-wide scale, Ontario ought to specify get to work on the unemployment problem in this province. A conference composed of representatives of the provincial government and the municipalities would be a natural first step toward co-operation. A renewal of the team play of the war period would work wonders.

INFANT MORTALITY.

The Montreal Star recently said:—"There was a regrettable increase in 1920 in the deaths of children in Montreal under one year of age. It has long been the reproach of Montreal that its percentage of deaths among children is abnormally high. It is quite apparent that still more effort must be put forth to save the lives of children."

A better milk supply, proper feeding, and training for more intelligent care of babies by their mothers are urged by the Star as essential to the conservation of child-life. Of conditions in Halifax the Recorder of that city says:—"In Halifax, in January this year the death-rate, officially reported, of children under one year was seventeen; in April, fourteen; in May, thirteen. We have not received the figures for February and March. The seriousness of these figures calls for investigation as to the cause of such a death-rate among very young children."

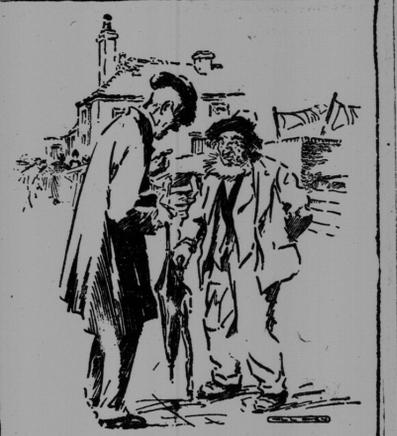

The Quebec Telegraph also discusses the subject of infant mortality, and notes with much satisfaction that great strides are being made in Quebec in the promotion of child-welfare. It is so interesting a story that we quote it for the benefit and the inspiration of New Brunswick people:—"Health centres have been established at Theford Mines, Three Rivers, etc., and the provincial government is undertaking the establishment of health clinics in a number of centres in this province, while other plans are on foot for a health train to operate through the province, bearing equipment for weighing and measuring babies, moving pictures on health subjects and other special exhibits. The 'Health Special' will consist of two cars which will be fitted up as a travelling clinic with a staff of nurses and a physician in charge. The cars will carry special 'health movies', a series of charts will be exhibited and talks on food and care of their children will be given to the mothers in every hamlet on the route. The cars will be backed on to a siding in the towns where it is planned to make a stop, and the work will be carried on from the tracks similar to that which was accomplished so successfully from the Healthmobile. The idea is not a new one, but it has been successfully carried out in New York state and in Florida since 1911. The Child Welfare Association of Quebec are also about to undertake a new scheme next fall as follow-up work of their recent campaign in the schools. The association are to submit a programme to the board of the Catholic and Protestant schools asking that a physician and two nurses be supplied for one or two schools. The children under their care will have a free physical check-up each year, and will be weighed and measured so that the results of the experiment may be gauged. These various branches of the work, added to the campaigns which have already been conducted in Quebec and elsewhere, are declared by the health authorities of the country to place this province in the very forefront of the movement."

The city of Detroit has adopted a very interesting method of meeting the difficulty caused by a scarcity of school accommodation. It is what is called the school platoon plan, and only requires such business methods in school organization as are applied in the business world. Under this plan, one-half of the school is occupied in the auditorium, gymnasium, playground, library and special rooms provided for music, art, geography, science, literature, cooking, and manual training while the other half is in classrooms. The plan is set for a momentous conference, and the outcome will be awaited with deep anxiety throughout the Empire.

Rain has come to help the western crops, and the prospects of a great harvest have wonderfully improved. Surely cannot last much longer. Haying has begun, but grain and roots would be greatly helped by moisture. There are more than two hundred school and settlement playgrounds in use in New York city for the benefit of the children now out of school. These grounds are all provided with necessary equipment and proper supervision. The monotonous regularity with which German courts acquit army officers charged with war crimes suggests that the farce is now the most popular of entertainments in that country. Japan is experiencing the novelty of a great dockyard strike and parades with red flags. The men have called a halt in naval armament until their claims have been considered. Apparently it is too near the twelfth of July to expect a truce in Ulster.

WANT SALARIES CUT IF WAGES ARE

Toronto, July 11—After discussing a proposal to cut wages 12 per cent, the local clerks, freight handlers, storemen and station employees of the railways here yesterday adopted a resolution pledging support to the committee appointed to fight the decrease and in case of a decrease to demand a corresponding reduction in the salaries of officials of the roads.

KEEP FISHIN.

Hi Somers was the durned cuss, For catching fish—he sure was great. He never used to make no fuss. About the time of line or bait, Or weather, neither, he'd just say, "I got to catch a mess today." And toward the creek you'd see him slide, A-whistlin' soft and walkin' wide. "How do you always catch 'em, Hi?" He gave his bait another switch in. And chucklin' says, "I just keep fishin'."

Hi took to readin' law at night, And pretty soon he'd made us knowed. He had a lawsuit, won his fight, And was a lawyer, I'll be blowed. He knowed more law than Squire McNab, And though he had no gift of gab To brag on his legal make, A sober sort of talk that played The mischief with the other side.

One day when someone asked if he'd Explain how he got in condition, He laughed and said: "I just keep on fishin'."

Well, Hi is Governor Somers now, A big man round the state, you bet. To me the same old Hi somehow; The same old champion fisher, yet, It wasn't so much the bait or pole, But just the stickin' to the goal. That won for Hi his big success; 'Twas just his fishin' on I guess. A cheerful, staid, hopeful kind, Of keepin' at it—don't you mind? And that is why I can't help fishin'. That more of it would just keep fishin'.

The Trolley Talkers. "Oh, I'm sure I met you. I've been having the worst headaches, and I want to ask you." "Well, that's fine. But look, these headaches start." "I want to tell you the most amusing thing about my aunt. The other day she took the doorknob right off the door of grandma's room, and it was simply hours before we could get it together again and let her out." "Isn't that killing? Now, what I wanted to ask you." "Little Dorothy took part in a pageant the other day. You ought to have seen her. She looked simply wonderful."

WHAT'S YOUR GAME MR. FORDNEY.

(New York Herald) If the ambition of his life is to increase the cost of building and make the housing shortage worse, Chairman Fordney of the Ways and Means Committee is on the right road to achieve it with his proposed heavy duty on lumber.

There is not timber enough in this country to come anywhere near supplying its lumber needs. At the rate the trees are being swept away there are not forests enough in this country to assure that any wood at all will be left in them after a very few years. Furthermore, the present domestic timber supply is so far distant from the great consuming markets in the East that the cost of transporting it is a terrific load. Senator Calder's recent report on the subject stated that for every dollar paid out for lumber in New York city, nearly 90 cents went into the cost of shipping, trucking and handling it. Not merely the builders and the public need more lumber; the dealers raise the same cry, the mills echo it. Fair and square timber men themselves oppose restrictions on lumber importation. They declare the nation simply cannot get along without more lumber than this country can possibly produce.

But Chairman Fordney nevertheless ignores the really desperate lumber needs of the nation and defies the demands of the public. He wants to soak them with lumber tariffs that will surpass anything of kind that ever was dreamed of before, even when the United States was a great lumbering nation that nobody knew what to do with it all. Just what is Chairman Fordney driving at?

A "NO-TIP" HOTEL. A waiter in the London Chronicle sends this from Lausanne, Switzerland: "I have been living for a week in a 'no-tip' hotel. When I arrived the proprietor informed me that tips had been abolished in his establishment, and that in their place 10 per cent would be added to the amount of the bill. At the end of the week my bill came to 125 Swiss francs—about $5 1/2 at the present rate of exchange—and the amount added was 12-1/2 francs. Had there been no such arrangement I should probably have given $ 8 fr. each to the concierge, chambermaid and head waiter, 2 fr. to the porter, and a similar amount to the waiter, if he had appeared on the scene; total 18 fr."

From a financial point of view, therefore, it is a Swiss scheme of about six against half a dozen between the old system and the new. But it is a great thing for one's peace of mind to be relieved of the necessity of going round at the last moment and doling out the requisite sum each object of one's bounty, often with the inadequate supply of small change. The system of the hotel employees which system he preferred, and he said, unhesitatingly, that he preferred the percentage plan.

It is evident that a percentage arrangement must work out very expensively when the bill is large. Take a family party, for example, say a father, mother and two daughters. Suppose the bill at the end of the week amounted to $200 francs. Ten per cent of that would be 20 fr. Would you prefer to have given 20 fr. in tips? It is unlikely. If the party stayed a month, the percentage would total 200 frs. Would he have tipped that extent?

The non-tipping system is now being tried in some hotels, but here is the rock on which it may founder; the disadvantage under which it places the family party.

THE FOREST FIRES. At Westfield yesterday, nearly three hundred business and professional men fought successfully against the brush fires that have been burning for days around the village. Last night, aided by a shift in the wind, they were able to retire from the battle with the flames strong in the hope that the fire was well under control. The men, under the supervision of Howard Lingley, dug trenches to head off the fire, over a width of more than three miles. Then the wind shifted and tended to drive the fire back over the area over which it had already burned. A crew of twenty men stayed at the scene of the fire all night. The fire in the vicinity of Prince of Wales was under control on Saturday. It did not reach any timber and on account of this combined with the heavy fog, the efforts of the fire fighters were materially aided. There is no danger unless a strong wind arises.

MEWBURN DENIES IT. Hamilton, Ont., July 11—"Somebody must have got a hot wire. I don't know anything about it," said General S. C. Mewburn, in regard to a report that he was suggested to replace Perley as high commissioner for Canada in London.

Cadet Good, of Moncton, at Sussac camp, won first musketry competition with a score of 36 points; Lieutenant S. Belding and Cadet Denning, of Fredericton tied for second place with a score of 35 points. A grand total of 99 prizes were won by different cadets during the field day.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

In a border war between the sheriff of Aroostook county and his deputies on one side and whiskey runners from New Brunswick recently twenty-one shots were fired though no one was injured. The net result of the fight was the capture by the officers of a Hudson speedster, 275 quarts of Canadian whiskey and one prisoner who gave the name of Bill Lizotte and said he lived at Aroostook just above Carleton, Me.

Miss Mildred Gillis, aged seventeen years, of Chatham was drowned on Friday evening. She fell out of a boat and lost her life before assistance arrived. Three others in the same boat reached shore safely.

Murray Steeves of Curryville, Albert county, was killed on Friday when he was run over by a loaded wagon. The little chap, nine years old, fell from a load of lumber and the wheels of the heavy wagon passed over him. He died shortly after.

Douglas Story, author and journalist, was found dead on Saturday in a train near Koth in the Rajputana, India. He was born in Edinburgh and was well known in literary circles. He was in St. John at the time of the royal visit in 1901.

The Earl of Craven was drowned in the Solent river, Isle of Wight, late Saturday night. He disappeared mysteriously from his yacht in the evening and his body was found on Sunday. It is thought he tripped over something and fell overboard.

In Fredericton yesterday Very Rev. Dean Neales preached at Christ church Cathedral to the members of the Loyal Orange Association and allied organizations.

The Moncton tax rate this year is $2.10, compared with $2.25 last year.

STOP LIQUOR FLOW FROM BERMUDA

Hamilton, Bermuda, June 29—(Associated Press by Mail)—The colonial parliament has just passed a special law to prevent liquor smuggling from Bermuda to the United States. Anyone putting intoxicants aboard a vessel bound to American ports incurs a fine of $25 and the penalty for a second offense is $50. Local dealers who are found to be in connivance with the law-breakers are penalized and may be deprived of their licenses.

This law, which is now in effect, was brought about thanks to the reckless manner of carrying on illicit operations during the last year. Not only were hiding places for "booze" in all parts of the ships utilized, but the smugglers went so far as to open up barrels of potatoes in the hold and insert whiskey bottles.

Discovery of this practice led to an outcry from local produce shippers who foresaw interference with their deliveries entailing delay and money losses. The Bermudians were concerned over the possibility of having the liners held up at New York by federal agents at the peril of legitimate trade and the interruption of tourist traffic on which local prosperity so largely depends.

The recent capture, off the Carolina coast, of a schooner with fifteen barrels of whiskey loaded here at St. Georges, also had its effect in hastening legislation.

Precisely Sunday morning in the premises of O. H. Warwick & Co., Ltd., in King street, did damage to some goods of the company stored on the third floor. The fire was discovered by Leo McGovern of the Victoria Hotel, and an alarm was sent in from Box 73. After a hard fight the firemen succeeded in controlling the blaze, though much damage was done to stock by water. William Charlton, one of the firemen, was overcome by fumes and had to be taken outside to be revived. Frederick Mahon, driver on one of the trucks, had his knee cut by glass and was taken to the General Public Hospital for treatment.

B. A. Wetmore of Bloomfield, who was injured recently when struck in the head by an empty wheel, was reported yesterday to be considerably improved, with good prospects for recovery.

NEW STUNT IN LABOR DISPUTE

State Employees of Italy Retain Positions, But "Soldier on Job"—Postal Service is Disorganized.

(Associated Press by mail.)
Rome, June 21.—The recent "white strike" of the state employees of Italy produced another series of innovations in labor disputes. The workers kept their positions and nominally did not cease to work but all "soldiered on the job" to such an extent that in many cases total abstention from work would not have wrought greater damage.

The strike, besides involving the ordinary employees in the state administration, included the post office forces, which in Italy comprises both the telephone and telegraph. The employees would present themselves for work in the morning and "soldier" along with their work getting practically nothing done until eleven o'clock, when all would leave the various ministries and offices for a labor meeting.

The whole of the state's administration would then be at a standstill for several hours, while in some cases it extended for the whole day. Besides the mass meetings, there would be local meetings held in the various departments, all at the expense of the time of the government.

The greatest public inconvenience was caused by the attitude of the postal employees, including the telegraph and telephone staffs. Dismissal was threatened those who attended the daily labor meeting, but that threat only partially succeeded in restoring discipline. Telephone service was practically at a standstill. Persons would attempt to get the central for hours and would finally give it up in despair. Occasionally, a central operator would answer, but there was never a guarantee that the connection wanted would be given.

The letter carriers also participated in the "white strike." The street letter boxes became full to overflowing. The letter carriers were not allowed to deliver letters. They were emptied only when it satisfied the whims of the man assigned for the work. The service was completely disorganized.

Premier Giolitti gave orders that all adhering to the "white strike" must be punished. Accordingly more than 100 were discharged in Rome, 400 in Milan, 140 in Naples and large numbers elsewhere.

BURIAL PLACE OF JOHN CALVIN

Geneva, June 22.—(A. P. by Mail.)—Leaders of the Protestant church throughout Europe are showing lively interest in an announcement that the burial place of John Calvin, Swiss reformer, has been revealed after having been unknown for 337 years.

Calvin died in 1564 and was buried somewhere in the Plain-Palais cemetery here, but no stone has marked the spot. According to the legend, he was buried secretly from fear that his grave would be desecrated.

Knowledge of the location of the grave is said to have been held by one family for more than three and a half centuries. The secret is said to have been handed down from father to son for all these generations.

Disclosure at this time is accounted for by the statement that the last holder of the secret, Eugene de Spiez, has no descendant, and, being seventy-one years old, decided to reveal the site of the grave to the Council of the Protestant church in Geneva.

NEW HOUSE STANDS IN PLACE OF THAT BURNED WEEK AGO

A week ago today the story was told of the complete destruction by fire of Charles A. Parker's farmhouse at Public Landing. On Saturday night a new house stood on the same site, with the roof shingled, about half of the sides shingled, the ground floor laid, all the windows in and one of the doors hung. As the first of the lumber arrived on Wednesday at noon, the actual work of putting up and covering the frame as described was done in three days and a half. The shingling of the outside will be completed today and the family will take up their quarters in the house tomorrow. This is the most rapid work of housebuilding ever seen in that section. It was made possible by the splendid generosity of neighbors who turned out with teams to haul the lumber and then tarred to, under the direction of George Walsh, and erected the building. Eleven of them were still at work on Saturday. It would have taken Mr. Parker thirteen days to haul the lumber with his single team, but five double and three single teams made quick work of it. Mr. and Mrs. Parker are deeply grateful to their neighbors for the fine spirit of sympathy and helpfulness that has enabled them to save a roof over their heads again in so short a time.

Casey of the Township of Emily was toddling across the lawn, a dog, crazed by the heat, seized the child and bit off her nose. Dr. Sutton of Peterboro dressing the wound temporarily with two tubes, and rushed the child to the hospital. The dog was killed and its head sent to Toronto for examination.

In the death of Henry R. Galbraith on Thursday last, Lorneville loses a highly respected resident. He was seventy-seven years of age and had resided at Lorneville all his life. He was an elder of the Lorneville Presbyterian church for a period of fifty years, superintendent of the Sunday school for more than thirty-seven years, and always took an active part in projects connected with the welfare of the community in which he lived. He is survived by two sons, George H. and Albert J., both of Lorneville. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon and was largely attended. Rev. W. J. Bevis conducted the service.

GADETS RETURN FROM CAMP SUSSEX

The cadet camp at Sussex broke up on Saturday, the St. John boys leaving for their homes at noon and the others from Moncton, Sackville and Dorchester departing on the 2 o'clock special. The camp commandant, Lt.-Col. Powell, who returned on Saturday, said that it was the most successful camp yet held. The boys were well-cared for, no accidents occurring to mar the good record of the camp. The boys also enjoyed themselves to the limit and, while waiting at the station for the train to bear them to their homes, were heard to express their firm intention of attending next year's camp. This year's camp greatly exceeded last year's, both in numbers and in enthusiasm.

THE CONFESSORIAL

No. 41—SIR JOHN WILLISON

By Emil Longue-Beau.

At the time I jumped the count, I was a young man full of idealism and ambition. I had just started my own venture, and I was determined to make a name for myself. However, as I delved deeper into the world of business and politics, I began to see the darker side of things. My initial optimism was replaced by a sense of disillusionment and a growing awareness of the complexities of the world.

Countess of Warwick, Titled Laborite, Has Lovely Old Home

The Original Easton Lodge Was Used by Queen Elizabeth and Her Hunting Parties—The Countess Has 32 Monkey Pets and Innumerable Dogs—The Gardens are Wonderful.

By G. OSBORNE.

IF Socialism were leveling up of all classes instead of leveling down of the rich it might quickly become fashionable. Very progressive aristocrats are rare in England, but there are a few. The Countess of Warwick was one of the first to declare herself in sympathy with the labor party, and recently was invited to stand as a labor candidate for East Walthamstow at the next general election. The fact that she did not feel equal to the strain of constant living in London and the attending to exacting parliamentary business, and her attachment to the country life and home duties made her decide to forego the candidature. It is not to be wondered at that she should wish to spend most of her time at Easton Lodge surrounded by beautiful country in preference to London. The original Easton Lodge was used by Queen Elizabeth and her hunting parties. Hunting the deer in those days was not confined to a few hours of the day, but was prolonged from one day to the next. It was impossible to return to the lodge in the evening, and the day lodges were built all over the hunting districts of England, and many of them still remain, or have been rebuilt. That is why the word "lodge" occurs as part of the name of many country mansions. The Countess of Warwick has been the instigator of many philanthropic movements. Indeed, she is always lending a helping hand to some one or another. She rarely refuses a reasonable request if it is within her power, and she has a great deal of money. She opened a home for crippled children at one of the houses on her estate, where the little unfortunates might benefit by the fresh air, sunshine and pretty surroundings of the home garden and country. The agricultural school which was started at Biggles, was one of the earliest efforts of the Countess. Her trainees and daughters of the farmers to carry on their work scientifically. The estate belonging to Easton Lodge at one time comprised fifteen square miles. The present Countess of Warwick is the last descendant of the original family. The late Lord Warwick owned and built the lodge and countess farm houses and cottages on the estate. William, Lord Maynard of Essex, had the trees in the park planted. The Maynards changed there are exceedingly costly Venetian glass windows, and have been brought from the library at Venice. Between these two windows stands an alabaster bust of the Countess of Warwick. Sir Henry died in 1810. "People do not live in the least under any grim life for our class," said the Countess of Warwick. "It is perhaps hard for the masses to grasp what it means to those who have inherited vast estates and family traditions to be forced to give them up through taxation."

New Side Revealed By the Sky Pilot

Ralph Connor Surprised Some Wise Old Ministers by His Power as a Moderator.

By ARTHUR L. HUDSON.

"HE author of 'The Sky Pilot' has had a turn in the moderator's chair. Wise ones said, 'Millions of churchmen are awfully rather than men.' Indeed, when the tall, refined figure of the well-known novelist, Ralph Connor, was seated in the pulpit of the church, he was scarcely looked upon as a moderator. He has undergone no greater trial in his varied career than in presiding over the general assembly where the controversy over church union was revived. He knew that battles were not lost in fury when renewed after a truce. But this sky pilot-moderator proved that he had a unique type of both dignity and authority. Much depends upon the voice. His is so clear, and earnest—that the manner required to send men into an argument with the least possible jangle! It was needed, when appeals to the chair came like volleys from the guns. Quietly he would rise, with the house on a note of interest for his decision. Then in clear, calm tones, he probably would say, 'I see your point, but as I discuss it for light.' More frequently he had anticipated the question and without the least haste would reply, 'the point we are discussing is this—keep to the line.' Only once did he have any difficulty in guiding the debate, but he was the first out of the fog and kept to the lawful road. It was not his skill in church law; nor the authority of place or power which made him supreme in that great democratic assembly. It was his character. This was felt in the daily devotion, for he seemed to take more interest in the prayers of the 'fathers and brethren' than in their speeches. One incident will suffice of its influence upon all the business. The debate on church union had covered parts of three days and ended in an exciting division. The votes standing about four to one. A caucus of the minority was announced just as the session was closing, when a remarkable proposition was made by the chair: 'Might I be permitted to meet with you?' The moderator had voted with the majority. Hence it was a boldness which only the pure in heart possess. His request was granted and appreciated. A Vocalist Provoked 'I KNEW there was going to be trouble as soon as the man heard the honk of our new 'fiver,' remarked Farmer Cornhill, ruefully. 'How did it affect the snail?' 'I threw him into a fit of professional jealousy so violent that he bucked up and kicked the rear transmission clear through the radiator,' Washington Star.

On To Calgary and The Women's Council

"Now the moon has risen, bathes the plain in white, and peaceful seems the prairie night."

Through the almost quiet streets, and the soothing whirr of the motor, we sped along, while thoughts are travelling eastward to little old St. John in unison with the rushing hours of the delegate's last evening in the beloved western city. Even friends have hushed their gay voices to the softest minor tones—Your last night with Calgary friends? Heaven's dome is intensely blue, and the scintillating stars shine with an almost unusual brilliancy, while the lingering daylight has merged itself into the horizon's blurred canvas of vivid coloring for the two hours of night's majestic reign. The sunset and the dawn of this wonderful Alberta seem so close together in the Creator's scene of daylight and darkness, and at bedtime, when one sees from her window trees which seem to agree to the view, one recalls the verses learned in early childhood, and murmurs their sweet refrain:

"I remember, I remember,
The five trees dark and high;
I used to think their slender tops
Were close against the sky."
For these British Columbia firs grow tall and luxuriant in this great city of Alberta.

It has been a day of swiftly passing hours, variously spent, but through the wool of the day's weaving, of gladness and laughter, there has been a tinge of sadness.

"A feeling of sadness and longing,
That is not akin to pain,
And resembles sorrow only,
As mist resembles the rain,
For tomorrow, reservations on the outgoing C. N. R. have been already packed and the returned old-timer must pack her trunks, her dressing bag, investigate the machinery of her typewriter for its long journey, and say good-bye.

The difficulty of partaking of the last cup of tea with each dear western friend on this last afternoon (when the tea hour in this country so delightfully intimate) was a problem even the delegate's brain could not successfully attempt until the hostess sacrificed herself and family (consisting of victims) and declared, "We will go to Midnapore in the motor and just rest in the woods, and have a quiet tea party by the creek."

There were stowed away in recesses of the car all holiday comforts, including a large hamper of Singh's generous provision, while close beside me was that little maid whose extensive family of pedigree dolls had been so satisfactorily domiciled in one corner of that sunny, and moonlit, guest room. Earlier in the day we had discussed seriously the unfortunate mishap that one doll had suffered, which had left a dent in her cranium. The suggestion had been offered of an immediate conveyance to the Doll Hospital in the city, for operation, else later diagnosis might reveal a tendency to mental deficiency. Perhaps her accident had come from riding on a one-man car. St. John suggests; but as all one-man cars have been operative for a long period now, at this particular doll disfigurement, a private motor, one can readily be assured that the accident has come in some less public conveyance. Intelligence met my remarks and suggestions that was almost oppressive—then inspiration brought relief to the little mother's over-taxed nerves:

"Suppose," she smiled pleadingly up in my face, "suppose we just play she isn't that way, and the suspense over the great world of Make Believe claimed that dear little citizen, and the delegate gladly entered with her the portal of that beautiful world of imagery, wonder and satisfaction."

And so we grown-ups are pretending, too, playing the game that it is not good-bye tomorrow, only an revoir, to each visit the passing years bring to the guest and her friends; and that Dame Fortune will again realize her dream of this sunny Alberta and include Friend Husband on the trip. Already has the conventional invitation been extended, and another loved western friend has hurriedly claimed her privilege of being a hostess—but whether east or west, "Home" sets up its mission of love and trust.

"And the air is strong and sweet,
And your life it seems complete
When you answer to the things
That're calling you."
"We had returned home from an hour spent at the home of an old-timer, born in New Brunswick, but resident of Calgary for twenty-eight years, Mr. Perley, former hotel man and rancher, who had made famous the old Alberta Hotel, which has now passed out of existence, and is rather difficult to find on the Eighth avenue of today in the midst of modern business blocks. Mr. Perley and his wife enjoy a home with grounds extending through from one avenue to another, which is of considerable value now, as the city extends its business blocks farther towards the Bow River, and it will eventually command a high price for purchase. Six months of the year are spent in Los Angeles, but the other half of the year he and Mrs. Perley enjoy in their beautiful home in Calgary, with its vine-covered verandah and shadowing trees.

Monday morning the genial clerk changed my transportation via Ottawa for Toronto, wished me a pleasant trip, and said another man from the office would be at the train if it were not possible to attend himself. In passing one must refer gratefully to the official attentions shown to two other of our St. John women who took the trip to Vancouver via Edmonton. These were my bon comrades of the outward journey, and a letter received in Calgary from the "dever little mathematician" en route reported courteous attendance at train, and also (when they reached Edmonton) inquires were made as to their comfort.

The escort party of friends at train included a young McGill student who in the days of my residence in Calgary was a devoted little boy who used to bring his playthings and Indian-like camp on my verandah, or frequently in the front hall, and to whom the name of "Co" meant the name of his self-improvised business. Daily the delegate gave him greeting, for he had recently returned from college, and repeated calls had resulted in failure as Singh had not chahantly and insistently declared "Ladies out, No."

There was a laughing reiteration of "bringing his playthings again to "Co" hall,—and then the train mid a medley of good-byes, sweetly traveling along the prairies with its steel rails glittering back to the City,—and the journey was begun.

A frantic search for the typewriter—but the careful porter smilingly produces it and the overcharged mind of 1921 was lightened, realizing she dreaded good-byes had been said, and she was now to seek new pastures for recreation and analyze her fellow passengers, who will possibly be in the same pulpit for the next two days.

At 7 o'clock we passed through Rosebud, the place not synonymous with roses in name, as there was nothing indicative of roses in bloom or otherwise, not even the little loved prairie rose, greet eyes as an old friend. We were passing through the coal region again, and I wondered later why so many cars along the trail motor cars, of which I wanted well along in the twenties, were hurrying along, leaving great clouds of dust for the car and man behind the leaders and was told there was a ball game that evening at Drumheller, and the people were hurrying to the sport.

On the platform of the car the traveler watched the sunset glories, eager to catch the last glimpse of the far west. On to the platform came a bright young engineer, who evidently held the western country, though undeniably an Englishman.

"Helped to build this road," he remarked laconically, "seen with C. N. R. marked laconically, "seen with C. N. R. eager to know all about the Red Deer River Bad Lands Formation. Information previous had been so meager, and curiosity, the one of many of women's privileges, demanded opportunity for investigation. The story was so entrancing, the sunset glow faded and the train stopped, went on, and still we stood on the platform, the questions, and the interesting young engineer. To the man who was living among history, making formations, who could tell of strata, of 1000 years to each demarcation; of a vast sea spreading over this part of the land, and of complete specimens of dinosaurs taken out by world scientists and sent to London, Berlin (how dare Germany take our specimens from Canada?) New York, Ottawa, and to many other perfect ones all lying there for centuries. Car loads shipped away to the states from this land owned by the railroad, or rather of the government, and of a suggestion for a park where these great formations rose like immense ant hills, and not vegetation existed. Scientists were only interested in their work unearthing specimens and their ultimate safe delivery to the world's museums, but there were other people besides the men of science who would drive through a park where these reddish brown hills reared their rounded heads, and stood in sublime defiance of the world's questions and summations: "What are we here for? Where are we going?"

The engineer told me the story of these formations written by his friend, which had created so much comment and interest in the magazines; of his interest and love of the work of the warm months spent as an engineer in Malto, Italy, Salomiki; of his arrival in this country some years ago, when quite small; of his patriotism for Canada; and of the wife and the kiddies, Canadian born. And the finale of the story came, that the land remains a mystery," while our worthy Dr. McIntosh will no doubt have studied all the sides of the Bad Lands Formation after hours of research, and wondered possibly, why the St. John woman had remained so long in ignorance.

We passed Verblin, named after that stubborn leader of the Doukhobors and Kanacs and Canora, all settlements of these rather perplexing people. Canadianization will not become secure with them until they are not allowed to have separate schools. Only the education of the children can make these Doukhobors understand the traditions of Canada. Some of the foreigners had returned to Europe dissatisfied, but the call of the western country had been insistent and compelling, hence a return to their farms had resulted in better citizens, with an added respect for the laws and requirements.

NEW MINISTERS IN FOUR CHURCHES

Four of the city Methodist pulpits were occupied by new ministers at yesterday's services, and large congregations greeted them. The union service of Queen Square and Canterbury Methodist churches were conducted by Centenary's new pastor, Rev. Robert G. Fulton, who succeeds Rev. H. A. Goodwin. Ecumouth Street Methodist gave Rev. H. E. Thomas, who was a member of that church before entering the ministry, and who follows Rev. G. F. Dawson, a hearty welcome at the services yesterday. At Fairville, Rev. J. M. Rice, who succeeds Rev. Thomas Marshall, preached yesterday and made a very favorable impression. Rev. J. K. King took over his new charge at Zion Methodist church yesterday, in succession to Rev. Samuel Howard.

United Services between Carleton Methodist and First Presbyterian churches, on the west side, were inaugurated yesterday morning in the kirk, with Rev. Jacob Henney preaching. The evening service, at Carleton Methodist church, was well attended. Rev. Mr. Henney will conduct these services throughout July and Rev. Dr. Morison will officiate throughout August, the only other change being that morning service will be held in the Methodist church, when Rev. Dr. Morison takes over the services. The Methodist church choir will lead the music for July and will be substituted in August by the Presbyterian choir.

The united service between Germain Street Baptist and St. Andrew's Presbyterian in the Baptist church in the evening was conducted by the minister of St. David's church, Rev. J. A. McKeigan. Rev. S. S. Poole took the evening service at St. David's church.

MILK from Canada's finest dairy farms

Sealed FRESH in the Country

MILK—Nature's finest food—has such an important part in your daily diet that you naturally want to use the richest, purest and safest milk obtainable. That is why you will be interested in Carnation Milk. In the heart of Canada's best dairy countries are the spotless Carnation condenseries. Here every day in the year is received pure, fresh, rich, "whole" milk from fine farms. Part of the water is removed by evaporation, and the milk, now of creamy consistency, is sealed in air-tight containers, and sterilized—to make it doubly safe. Thus, Carnation Milk reaches you fresh, pure and wholesome, protected against contamination. Your grocer—you, too—can keep it in the unopened container indefinitely. And with it you can fill every household need for milk and it can be used as cream for tea and coffee, cereals and fruit. But, if you want milk for drinking or cooking you must ADD WATER to Carnation Milk—at least an equal part. Carnation Milk is absolutely free from sweetening or preservative. And it is of uniform quality and purity. You can use it in every recipe—it adds new flavor and a delicious richness. Try this modern milk supply. Try it for one week. Order a dozen tall cans (16 oz. size), or a case of 48 cans of Carnation Milk from your grocer—the Carnation Milkman.

CIGARS AT TWO CENTS.
Rome, June 22.—(A. P. by Mail)—"Somehow the Italian government has solved the problem of a cheap national cigar. Prices of tobacco have been soaring to such luxurious heights that the ordinary cigar smoker could not purchase. Accordingly, experts were assigned the task of getting up a new cigar. They have just announced their accomplishments of the task. The new cigar will soon be put on the market, and will sell for two cents." It will resemble the Pittsburgh stone-in shape.

Criticism of Canadian shippers of wheat is made because cargoes are frequently shipped to Great Britain from U. S. ports in U. #### BOYS CAUSE OF COLLIERY TIE-UP

At New Waterford, N. S.—Object to Extra Twenty Minutes' Work in Stabling Horses.

Sydney, N. S., July 11—Because some boys employed as drivers objected to working twenty minutes beyond the eight hour day limit, No. 12 colliery, at New Waterford, has been tied up for several days and the end of the trouble is not yet in sight. At present the boys work until 3 p. m. and then it takes twenty minutes to stable their horses. They want the company to agree to allow them to commence stabling their horses twenty minutes before three. Meanwhile scores of adult miners are kept idle.

Sydney, N. S., July 11—Thousands of dollars worth of coal cutting machines and other equipment were buried during an extensive "creep" of falling of the roof in Number 5 colliery at Reserve Mines on Saturday. Eight teams of workmen just escaped with their lives. Men in other parts of the mine were knocked down and received minor injuries.

CROPS BETTER IN ALBERTA WITH RECENT RAIN

Edmonton, July 11—Recent rains have made a wonderful change in the crop prospects of the province and materially helped conditions. The rains were fairly general throughout the province and were of a soaking and penetrating sort that has not been experienced in this province for two or three years.

This is especially true of northern Alberta, says H. A. Craig, deputy minister of agriculture, who believes that, while there will be a percentage of the province definitely curtailed in its crop no place absolutely wiped out for that reason.

"I can't stay long," said the chairman of the committee from the colored churches. "I just came to see if you wouldn't join de mission band."

"Yo' de lan' sakes, honey," replied the old mammy, "don't come to me. I can't even play a mouferrin'."

$152.48 will purchase a Bond for $200
$304.96 will purchase a Bond for $400
$762.40 will purchase a Bond for $1,000

Money invested to return simple interest at 5% per cent per annum, payable half yearly, will double itself in a little over 18 years, whereas if invested to return the same rate compounded half yearly it will double itself in less than 13 years.

We particularly recommend these Bonds to those not in need of an immediate return on their investment or to anyone wishing to provide an amount for a specific purpose at some future date.

Any further information desired will be gladly furnished on request.

THE BUSINESS COLUMN

EDITED BY MANSFIELD F. HOUSE

"Like-it-Yourself" Spends Turnover.

If you were a woman who loved pretty clothes, but who shivered and shook when cutting into expensive materials, and then suddenly a merchant displayed an offer to supply expert advice in choosing and planning, with actual assistance in cutting, fitting and making a dress for yourself absolutely without charge, wouldn't you jump at the offer before it could be withdrawn.

Of course, you would!

So did the women in San Jose, Cal., in throngs that threatened to swamp the balcony at Hale's department store, where the series of practical "help-you-make-it" lessons were being given. The advertising value of the stunt was far-reaching and entirely satisfactory. The only requirement was that purpose from the balcony—which was only fair, as the women agreed—experts in their line were selected to direct these educational classes, which were held for three weeks.

First Miss Morton, head of household arts and design at the State Normal, told the women what to wear and what not to wear and why. Color and line and many other things that make or mar a costume were illustrated by garments selected for that purpose from Hale's ready-to-wear and displayed on a living model—either plump, willowy, slender, tall, fat, or dark, as the case demanded.

Then came the most important part—

REVIEW OF THE CONVENTION OF KING'S DAUGHTERS

Farraline Home and Other Matters—St. John Well Represented.

The eleventh convention of the New Brunswick branch of the International Order of the King's Daughters was held at the Farraline Home, Fredericton, on July 7 and 8. A large number of delegates from throughout the province were in attendance. On Wednesday evening a meeting of executive and directors was held, and C. D. Richards, M. L. A., reported that the last release of the property had been signed by the executor of the estate of the late Mrs. J. J. Fraser, had been handed over to the N. B. branch of the International Order of the King's Daughters. It was also reported that the endowment had almost doubled by the excellent management of those in charge.

Thursday morning's session opened at 9.45 with the registration of delegates, followed by the reading of the minutes of the previous convention, and the official hymn of the order, the King's Daughters' Psalm and the Lord's Prayer in unison.

The president, Miss Ella Thorne, read the rules of order and declared the convention opened for business. The interim minutes (two years) were read and accepted. The origin and history of the order were interestingly given by Miss Thorne. The treasurer's report followed. This was very satisfactory, and showed a small balance.

The afternoon session opened at two o'clock with devotional exercises, led by Mrs. D. Lee Habbitt of Fredericton. The election for provincial officers and members of the executive resulted in the return to office of the president, Miss Ella Thorne of Fredericton; secretary, Miss Sadie Thompson of Fredericton; treasurer, Mrs. Geo. Dismart of St. John; and a new officer, vice-president, Mrs. C. A. Clark of St. John; executive members, Mrs. C. C. Jones, North Side of No. 119 Guilford street; Mrs. L. Morrison, Mrs. P. L. Morris, Mrs. B. C. Foster, Miss Daisy Weddall of Fredericton; Mrs. W. A. Rankine of Woodstock, and three from St. John, Mrs. D. W. Puddington, Mrs. Frank I. Kelly and Mrs. J. F. Bullock.

Mrs. B. C. Foster gave an historical sketch of the Farraline Home. This was received with applause, and on motion it was decided to have it published in booklet form.

A discussion on the provisional constitution of the Farraline Home followed and with a few amendments it was accepted.

Encouraging reports from the nine circles in the province were read, showing a vast amount of work done fulfilling the spirit and motto of the order—"Not to be ministered unto, but to minister." After a quiet hour, led by Mrs. Stevens and the delegates repaired to the home of Mrs. W. J. Osborne, Church street, where a delicious tea was served

ROBBERS AT COMINSKY PARK

Chicago, July 11—Robbers, presumed to be the gate receipts of the game between the White Sox and New York Americans, held the safe at Cominsky Park here last night. The loot of about $3,000 represented the receipts of various concessions at the game, gate receipts of about $20,000, having been sent to a bank. Charles Cominsky denied reports that the safe contained papers pertaining to the former White Sox players now on trial in connection with the alleged throwing of the 1919 world's series.

Consider This, Canadian Manufacturers

You can buy more advertising for less money in Daily Newspapers than you can buy in any other medium that enters the home.

And, after all is said and done, the place where most of you want your advertising to have its greatest effect is in the home. Isn't that so?

Remember, then, that the daily newspaper is the FUNDAMENTAL ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

That is why so many manufacturers are cutting out the "frills of advertising" and confining their advertising efforts to daily newspapers.

Camp Folk at Loch Lomond Take up Case With Health Board

Discuss Situation and Ask that Privileges be Continued Pending Investigation—Some Phases of Question—Another Meeting on Friday.

The grave matter of the city's water supply and its purity was further discussed in the Board of Health offices this forenoon, when a delegation of residents, mostly summer cottagers and fishing camp owners having domiciles along the shores of Loch Lomond, of community interest none of the fishermen who frequented the lake would be guilty of wanton pollution. He and his friends present wanted to see the law observed and were glad to cooperate, but first they wanted to know very definitely their rights and the effect of the findings. It was proven that Loch Lomond was sending forth the contaminated water then all hands would turn to help make it pure again. On the other hand if it was found, as many supposed, that the trouble was at the intake at Lake Latimer, then they would expect the prohibition to be raised and the usual pleasures resumed with full permission.

Mr. McLellan caused a smile when he said "I believe there are enough cots in the water system today to satisfy Boston for a meal." He told of the nature of the water, the general undrinkability in pure water. George Blake, of the Board of Health, said it was not a question of the water being polluted, but of the water being so polluted that it was not fit to drink. He said that the water was so polluted that it was not fit to drink. He said that the water was so polluted that it was not fit to drink.

take Organic Iron; not metallic iron which people usually take, but pure organic iron—Nuxated Iron—which is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. One dose of Nuxated Iron is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating one-half quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or half a dozen apples. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. "Uicers the Size of Man's Hand." Our portrait is of Mr. C. W. THOMPSON, 104 Highland Drive, Edward River, Baitall Heath, Birmingham, England, who writes: "I had a sore throat and I happened to get a scratch on my leg. It was so slight I took no notice of it till it had become a festering sore. I had it for a week and it was so painful that I could not get to work. I gradually grew worse, when it turned septic; when I found I could not get to work I had at that particular time ulcers the size of a man's hand covering my leg. After I had tried nearly everything I read about in the papers I bought a bottle of Clarke's Blood Mixture and decided to take it; it was then in the month of October, and after the second day one more matter of fact, true case of such trouble. Clarke's Blood Mixture quickly attacked, and cured the matter, and I was able to get to work. I am now in good health and I feel that I owe my recovery to Clarke's Blood Mixture. Pleasant to take, and free from any injurious ingredients. Of all Chemists and Stores.

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY; HOME AND ABROAD

BASEBALL

Commercialists Win.
The Commercialists defeated the baseball team from Woodland (Me.), on the East side grounds on Saturday afternoon by a score of 4 to 2. The game early developed into a pitching duel between Henderson, the local twirler, and Rice of the visitors. For seven long innings the two teams battled desperately, each to retain their one run lead, which they had secured in the third inning, and victors to at least tie the score. The rain held on both teams and the break in the eighth frame, when a home run by Chisholm tied the score for the visitors. The locals in their half, largely owing to Dever's fast work on the paths and the carelessness of the visiting pitcher, scored another run again putting them ahead. A bad error by Rice allowed two more runs across the plate in the same stanza and the game was won. The features of the game were: the solid work of both pitchers; Dever's fleet snap throw to first in the sixth a double play, practically saving the nation as the visitors had the bases loaded at the time and McGowan's single triple in the third inning. Gorman at second base was not up to his usual form in the field and made three errors, although he contributed one nice hit in the second inning and another catch hit later.

FOOTBALL

Scotland Wins.

Montreal, July 10.—Scotland won the international soccer game from Canada yesterday by the narrow margin of 1 to 0. The match, the last to be played by the visiting Scottish team in Canada before its departure for the United States, where its tour will be completed, was the toughest battle the Scots have competed in on this side. The issue was in doubt until the dying moments of the second half when Rankin of the Scottish forward line, beat Halliwell, the Canadian goalie, with a snizzling shot. The game was a splendid exhibition of soccer played to the end, though it got rough as the extreme heat of the afternoon and the fast pace told on the boys. Bobby Orr, the celebrated Scottish back, was knocked out, during a fierce rally by the Canadians. The Scots have played nineteen games in Canada, and have won them all. They have scored eighty-five goals and only nine have been registered against them. Yesterday's Scottish score was the smallest they have secured on the trip. The game played at Alexandria Park, the grounds of the local Grand Trunk Club, attracted a crowd of 6,000 people.

CRICKET.

Mounted Men Won.

A cricket team from the Mounted Police detachment at the armory defeated a scratch team chosen among local cricketers in a two-innings match by the score of 148 to 120 on the Barrack Road, Saturday afternoon. The local team won the first innings with a score of 47 to their opponents' 45 but the Mounties came back strong in the second and batted 108 runs to the locals' 73.

Frazer, of the Mounties was high man, batting forty runs in the second and eleven in the first innings. O'Donnell and Richardson were also strong for the Mounties. For the locals Stearns was high man with nine in the first innings and fourteen in the second.

The St. John Cricket Club was to have played the Mounties but was unable to get more than four of the regulars together. The scratch team was then picked up to give the Mounties a game. The St. John Cricket Club will play the Mounted Police on Tuesday afternoon.

Ross Sloop Does Well.

Montreal, July 10.—Capturing first honors in five of the ten trial races held in Lake St. Louis over the week end, J. K. Ross' sloop Beaver made a big bid for the right to be one of the yachts selected to represent the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club in the defence of the challenge cup at an international regatta scheduled to commence on July 25, when the two invading yachts of the White Bar Yacht Club of St. Paul will attempt to lift the trophy. All the Beaver's victories were won today. Calm and light winds preventing her finishing first in any of the events held on Saturday, the sloop's choice to be picked in defending the trophy will probably be the Red Patch, which won three firsts today.

REOPEN EXCHANGE SCIENTIFIC WORKS

Moscow's Seven Years of Intellectual Isolation to Come to an End.

Stockholm, June 20.—(Associated Press by Mail)—Moscow's seven years term of intellectual isolation is about to be broken, according to the Soviet Foreign office which expresses its willingness to use its efforts to help further the exchange of scientific literature between Russia, Europe and America.

During the last few years only a few scientific works have been printed but a large number of manuscripts have been collected under the Soviet regime. A delegate of one of the Finnish commissions for the distribution of food in Petrograd said that the libraries there are generally well preserved but the big general library at Petrograd has its stocks depleted in 1916, when the German conquest of Libau, 25,000 valuable books were carried away and deposited in an unknown place. All attempts to trace them have failed.

The West Side fire department had two needless runs over the week end. On Saturday evening they were called out to extinguish a supposed fire but the cause of the alarm was the reflection of a bonfire kindled in honor of Hilton Bell. On Sunday afternoon there was a small blaze in front of Shed No. 5 in Union street, but this was out when the deliberately or through negligence, an epidemic of typhus among war prisoners in the camp at Mauderwehren. Three thousand French prisoners are said to have died from the disease or from the effects of ill-treatment and brutality. Paris, July 11.—The French mission headed by M. Matre, which has been in Leipzig attending the trials, returned to Paris yesterday afternoon.

St. Placide, Lake of Two Mountains, Que., July 11.—(Canadian Press.)—Arthur Sauve, leader of the Conservative opposition in the provincial assembly, in a speech here yesterday, said that the Quebec liquor commission had been the first to break the new liquor law of the province, and gave the name of a Montreal man and club where he said a license had been given after the club had been shut up for infraction of the law and its liquor seized. He accused the legal associate of a provincial cabinet minister.

Referring to a letter of a provincial revenue officer and his son, deputy collector, both of whom are now under suspension, Mr. Sauve said he would welcome an action for $10,000 damages threatened by them, as it would enable him to bring out facts he could not produce because a royal commission had been refused him. He made reference to a nomination, now described, he said, as a tonic.

In the physical training competition with the cadets at camp, Sussex Moncton corps won the 757 points, winning Lieut. Col. Powell's coveted prize, which was a large silk Union Jack for the best showing in physical training.

MEETING PLACE OF EMPIRE YOUTH

London Writer's View of the Effect of the Rhodes Scholarships.

London, July 11—(Canadian Associated Press)—Overseas delegates to the universities conference spent the weekend at Cambridge. Commenting on the meeting here of distinguished overseas educational authorities, a correspondent of the Times takes occasion to discuss the effects of the Rhodes Scholarship scheme, which, he says, has brought to Oxford a steady stream of students from Canada, Australia and South Africa.

These students, the correspondent says, have held their own in the class lists of every college, have held their own on the playing fields and the river. He thinks the effect of this influx of young men from the dominions upon Oxford itself has been enormous. It has meant a vast widening of the mental horizon of the British born students.

Oxford has in fact become a great meeting place of the youth of the empire, and he says the temper and mental attitude which she gives the students will do much to determine the inter-relations of the constituent parts of the empire.

COURT HEARS CASE ARISING IN CAR TROUBLE

Detective Tells of Disturbance at Haymarket Square and Arrest of Man With Stone in Pocket.

In the police court this morning Simon Cozier pleaded not guilty to the charge of being a member of a disorderly crowd. After Detective Biddiscombe had given evidence the accused was remanded. McC. Ritchie appeared for the defence.

Detective Biddiscombe said that yesterday afternoon about 1:45 he and Sergeant-Detective Power, acting under orders from the chief of police, went to Haymarket square. There he saw a street car, on the roof of which were the motorman and another man tying a rope to the trolley pole. More than 200 people were around and there was much shouting. As he approached the car he heard glass breaking and he saw broken panes in the car. Stones were thrown from one side to another and passed through, breaking glass in both sides of the car. In the vicinity of where he saw one stone come from there were about 20 people. He and Sergeant Power rushed over to the crowd and with the assistance of some policemen moved the people back. By this time the motorman and the man with him had come down from the roof. The men from the car went ahead and cleared sticks and stones from the tracks. The car then went ahead about 100 feet and stopped on the tracks. The car was headed up Brunswick street. The crowd started to follow the car.

The detective said he was in the crowd and saw the accused near him. When about fifty feet from the car, he said, he saw the accused pick up a stone. He (Biddiscombe) was about ten feet from him and walked over and seized him by the arm. The accused had both hands in his pockets. The detective pulled his right hand out and asked him what he had in his pocket. To this the accused answered "Nothing but a cigarette." Sergeant Power then came up on the other side and seized his left arm, pulling that hand out of his pocket, and there he found a small stone, which was produced as evidence. Sergeant Power asked him what he was doing with the stone and the accused said he didn't put it there; someone else must have put it in his pocket. He was then placed under arrest.

To Mr. Ritchie, Detective Biddiscombe said that the accused was behind the car when he picked up the stone. He did not see anyone else with stones. Three policemen were present besides the detectives. The magistrate said that three persons constituted an unlawful assembly and that there was great need of strict observance of this law at the present time. The accused was remanded until a date to be fixed.

One man charged with drunkenness was remanded.

SUSPECT THIS FIRE WAS SET

Report on Forest Blazes in Various Parts of N. B. More Encouraging.

(Special to The Times.)
Fredericton, N. B., July 11.—No new outbreaks of fires of any importance are reported. Word has been received from almost all those now burning. Several are under control and some are totally extinguished. Local showers on Friday and Saturday were of little or no help.

The Gray Rapids fire has been extinguished and the number of men has been reduced to ten, who have been left to patrol the fire line.

The Bartholomew River fire is reported under control. Thirty additional men were sent to that locality this morning to replace some of the men, who are coming out.

A Weaver's Siding fire on the C. N. R. reported some days ago is now reported out.

A fire broke out about three miles from Red Bank yesterday afternoon. It was put out promptly by a large crew of men before eight acres were covered. Two other fires were started soon after, a few miles distant. Crews are working at them. These last two fires, it is suspected, were set intentionally. A full investigation will take place. By the criminal code, the penalty for setting fire to forest land is fourteen years' imprisonment.

Reports from the McLeod Brook fire indicate that it is still considered at serious. Thirty men were gathered at Chipman and sent in last night, and thirty more were sent in from Doakton to supplement eighty men sent in yesterday morning. There are now 210 men on this fire, and it is expected that the conflagration will be prevented from spreading farther. The reports received from the foreman are that the blaze has been checked on two sides already.

The Lake Stream fire is reported all out, and a crew of ten men has been retained to patrol the fire line. Three fishing parties used this stream, and the names of the members of two of them are known to the authorities. It is rumored that some of them are local men. The matter is to be investigated.

The Westfield fire was reported yesterday to be still checked.

A telegram from Kedgewick indicates that there are no serious fires in that locality.

A fire was reported from Mill Stream, a few miles northwest of Newcastle, and a crew was organized to fight it. Generally speaking, Northumberland county has been the hardest hit by the recent fires, but the loss has been kept down remarkably well by those in charge of the fire fighting. There was no serious loss of timber in the Red Rapids fire as it is reported today.

A sawmill owned by Lynch and Fournier, near Kedgewick, has been destroyed.
