THE BAND PICNIC.

The Benton Boys Left the Field and Lost Their Score—The Concert.

A fine day goes a long way towards the success of any enterprise in the nature of a picnic. Early in the morning the Band Boys and of course the whole village, were fearful lest the symptoms of a wet day should develop. But all were agreeably disappointed. The day was perfect, and at ten o'clock every one's hopes arose to the extent of feeling that a successful day was half assured. There was a splendid attendance, people coming from the surrounding districts, and Bath, Bristol, Florenceville, Centreville, Aroostock County, Woodstock, Benton, etc., were well represented.

The trade's procession started at 10:30, headed by the Band. There were only five firms represented but these did ample credit to themselves. These were Shaw & Dibblee, H. D. Keswick, W. F. Thornton, W. H. Thornton (Riverside Hotel,) J. T. G. Carr and Richardson, Porter & Co.

Not much enthusiasm was manifest in regard to the customary picnic sports, but excitement went high when the ball game between the Benton's and Hartland's came off. It was a good game until the score stood 7 to 7, at this juncture, the umpire, A. D. Holyoke of Woodstock, gave a decision in favor of the Hartlands at which the Benton boys took exception. They refused to play further, and as is usual in a case of this kind the game was declared ended with the score 9 to 0 in favor of Hartland. Following is the score in detail:

Benton	0	6	0	0	1	0	0	7
Hartland	0	2	3	0	2	0	2	9

(The Bentons refusing to finish the game forfeited their innings.)

The Benton team was composed of A. McNally c. f., J. Donnelly 2 b., Boyd s. s., G. Mills r. f., Gibson 1 b., W. Mills p., Dickinson l. f., Muce c., Osbourne 3 b. In the Hartland team were: Miller 3 b., Tompkins s. s., Phillips l. f., Baker 2 b., Smith r. f., Campbell 1 b., Jones c., Nesbit p., Dyer c. f.

There was ample provision made for dinner and supper on the grounds, and many took advantage of it.

The order on the grounds was good, and the management of the whole affair reflects credit on the boys.

The concert was perhaps the brightest feature of the whole day. The Forsters' Hall probably never held a larger audience than on this occasion. Following is the programme:

Hartland people had an especial treat in the sweet singing of the gifted Miss Wetmore of Moncton. She has lately arrived from Boston, where she for some time has been under the tuition of the well-known Mrs. Edwards of that city. Before leaving there she gave a recital, with Mrs. Edwards as accompanist, and was very successful, her performance being highly spoken of by the Boston Times. The selections she gave the Hartlanders were "Love's Sorrow" and one of Holland's cradle songs as an encore. Hugh Gillin's solo was excellent. He has been practising only a few months.

The net receipts of the day were in the vicinity of $75.00.

The boys deserve the patronage so generously accorded them; and wish through the ADVERTISER to express their thanks for the same, also for the very kind assistance of those who took part in the concert, the young ladies who assisted with the culinary department—in fact all who aided them.

Doubtless the Band will soon again give another entertainment.

A SISTER'S HELP.

Brought Renewed Health to a Despondent Brother

His Health Had Failed and Medicines Seemed to Do Him No Good—Where Others Had Failed, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Met with Great Success.

Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. :—

GENTLEMEN,—A few years ago my system became thoroughly run down. My blood was in a frightful condition; medical treatment did no good. I was finally incapacitated from work, became thoroughly despondent, and gave up hope of living much longer. While in this condition I visited my father's home near Tara. A sister, then and now living in Toronto, was also visiting at the parental home. Her husband had been made healthy through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and she urged me to try them. Tired of trying medicines, I laughed at the proposition. However later on she provided me with some of the pills and begged me to take them. I did so, and before I had used two boxes I was on the road to restored health. I am commending their good qualities almost every day I live because I feel so grateful for my restoration, and I have concluded to write you this letter wholly in the interest of suffering humanity. I am carrying on business in Owen Sound as carriage maker. This town has been my home for twenty-eight years and any one enclosing a reply three cent stamp can receive a personal indorsation of the foregoing. This much to satisfy those who cannot be blamed for doubting after taking so many other preparations without being benefitted. You may do just as you like with this letter. I am satisfied that but for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I would not be able to attend to my business today. Perhaps I would not have been alive.

Yours very sincerely,
FREDERICK GLOVER.

Hard to Choose.

Admiral Sir John Hay says that Admiral Farragut, during his visit to England, told the following story of an American heiress, who was pestered by suitors, among whom she found it difficult to decide :

She was travelling on a Mississippi Steamboat, where five of her admirers were passengers, and they exerted themselves so warmly to obtain her favor that she became much perplexed and laid her difficulty before the captain.

He took her to his state-room, put a life-belt on her and advised her to fall over board, promising that he would make every preparation for rescuing her. She could thus ascertain which one of the five was most truly devoted to her.

Her part of the programme was faithfully carried out; but four of the five jumped after her. The steamer picked them all up, and the lady retired to her state-room to take off her life-belt and change her clothes. Then she sought the captain.

'Well,' said he, solemnly, 'it is a difficult question, but I think if I was you I should take the dry one.'—Youth's Companion.

A Misunderstood Jest.

Lord Lytton when viceroy of India was seated one day at dinner next to a lady whose name was Birch, and who though very good looking, was not over intelligent. She said to his excellency :

'Are you acquainted with any of the Birches?'

'Oh, yes,' replied Lord Lytton, 'I knew several of them most intimately while at Eton—indeed more intimately than I cared to.'

'My lord,' replied the lady, 'you forget the Birches are relatives of mine.'

'And they cut me,' said the viceroy, 'but' and he smiled his wonted smile, 'I have never felt more inclined to kiss the rod than I do now.'

Sad to say, Mrs. Birch did not see the point and told her husband his excellency had insulted her.—Ex.

In purchasing tickets be sure and ask for them via the C. P. R., thus spending only one night on the road.—3 wks.

'Just sit down in that chair,' said the oculist to the patient, whose reputation for financial procrastination and repudiation was well known to him. 'I will test your eyes.' Then held a printed schedule of his prices with a 'No trust' line at the bottom in front of his eyes and asked, 'Can you read that?'

'I am afraid,' replied the patient, reaching for his hat, 'that my case is beyond the reach of human skill.'—Chicago Post.

Useful Neighbours.

Sir, or madam, if you have any difficulty in making your children behave, just turn them over to the family next door. Both the man and the woman in that house are quite sure they could make those children mind. — Boston Transcript.

Odd Name for a Mile.

A Burman mile is about equal in length to two English miles. The word for 'mile' in Burmese means 'to sit,' and a mile is the distance that a man goes before he considers it necessary to sit down.

Saved from Paralysis and Death by Paine's Celery Compound.

WELLS & RICHARDSON Co.,

DEAR SIR:—I have much pleasure in recommending Paine's Celery Compound for nervousness and weakness with which I was sorely afflicted for a number of years, and for which my doctor could give no relief. I became very weak and had a stroke of paralysis. I was confined to my bed, and the doctor requested me to try a course of your medicine as the last thing that could be done. I die as recommended, and before I had finished the first bottle I experienced a change. I am glad to say that I am cured under the use of Paine's Celery Compound. I have recommended it to others and they have been benefited by it; it has worked miracles for me.

Yours truly,
MRS. C. LUMLEY, Cobuag, Ont.

Windsor.

As our news boy is not very newsy and there are not many items from this place perhaps the readers of the 'TISER would like to hear how we are getting on.

The chief topic now is wedlock. On the 3rd inst. Miss Viola Tedford was married to Wasson Bridges and on the day following they went to their new home in Gordonsville. May love, success and happiness follow them. The presents were numerous and costly.

Benj. Tedford, one of our respected citizens, went a short time ago to visit his old home in Nova Scotia and on his return unexpected to many he brought with him a blushing bride. But, say, didn't the boys make a great racket and wasn't the treat fine! Mrs. Grundy says what weddings we have seen are only drops before a more plentiful shower, and the old lady is a pretty good guesser.

Our Sabbath school with James Fulnor as superintendant is progressing finely. At our last service about twenty-three took part. The school intends to hold their annual picnic on Saturday the 20 inst., on their old site the top of Gray's hill so called. Come and bring your best girl and a well filled basket. There is also to be a meeting in the evening in the Union Church in connection with the prohibition question. The meeting will be addressed by several clergymen and also some of our leading politicians. Come one, come all.

Our day school trustees have engaged Miss Boyer of Fredericton for another term. She has taught two terms here and is well liked by pupils and parents.

We are pleased to see again the smiling face of our old merchant, Thos. Simms, who has come back from a trip to the Pacific coast.

Our new merchant S. Giberson is doing a fine business trading, judging by the crowds who come and go from his shop.

Mrs. J. C. Henderson of Woodstock is making her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. S. Orser, a pleasant visit.

Bloomfield Notes.

Mr. Shea came up from Woodstock with a load of groceries for G. H. Stokoe, yesterday.

One of the oldest residents of this place passed away last Friday. Mr. Joshua Sweet was born at Windsor, N. S., in November, 1821, and came to this place, then called New Ireland, in about 1834, when it was all woods with only paths for roads and very little clearing. He was married in 1843 to Miss Fannie London of Red Bridge, and had two daughters, Mrs. Henry Hare of Monticello, and Mrs. G. G. London of Brookville, and one son, George, of this place. Only his son and wife survive him, his daughters having died some time since. He was buried in the Methodist burying ground Sunday afternoon. The funeral, which was one of the largest ever witnessed in this place, was conducted by Rev. Stanley Young. The same morning the funeral of Mrs. John Kidney, in which many of the same people were mourners, took place at Oakville.

Isaac Cluff is suffering from an ulcer-ated tooth. The tooth bothered him for over a week before he could get it extracted, and during the three days since he feels the effects of the ether which he took to render the operation painless and his jaw is still sore and swollen.

People here are just receiving the wedding cards of Luey Young, a former resident and teacher of this place, who has lately been married at her home in Fredericton. She is now Mrs. Hazen Hamilton, of Petersville, Queens Co. Maggie Girdwood, another former teacher here, has just been married to Mr. Meagher, of Grand Manan.

The schools will re-open on Monday. The one here will again be taught by Miss Janie Smith of Lakeville. The one at Lower Bloomfield by Miss Tracy of Woodstock.

Miss Clara Stokoe is spending a week at Watson Settlement.

James M. Barter Dead.

James M. Barter, of Avondale, aged 88 years, who lived with his son, James A. Barter, died suddenly on Friday 5th. Although he had been bed-ridden for more than two years his end came with out much warning. A native of Kings County he lived late in St. John, and came to Avondale in 1754. He had seven children who are all dead but the son with whom he lived. His wife died 18 years ago. He was a member of the Methodist Church. The funeral was held Sunday, and interment took place at Waterville.

The World's Biggest Hotel.

The Sultan is said to have nearly completed the largest hotel in the world at Mecca. This establishment is to lodge 6,000 pilgrims at once, with, presumably their camels and other beasts of burden, and promises to be one of the most picturesque places to stay at in the world, although, of course, infidel dogs are not allowed to approach it. Its vast size has drawn attention to monster residences. The largest dwelling house in existence is in Vienna, where there is an apartment house with 1,500 rooms in it, occupied by more than 3,000 people. This building has thirty-two stair cases, thirteen interior courts and 850 windows on the street.

Free Site for Shoe Factory.

The shoe factory promoters have been offered by Mr. J. A. Morrison a free gift of two acres of land for a site for the factory, if they will locate the factory at the Mills. Mr. William McKay, city road master, learning of this offer, makes a more favorable one, he offering a free site for the factory, and a cash bonus of $500 if the factory will locate upon his property at the mills.—Gleaner

Plebiscite Convention,

An Enthusiastic and Well Attended Session.

The Carleton Co. Plebiscite Convention met in the Baptist church at 11 p. m., on Monday, with D. McLeod Vince in the chair and E. M. Boyer as secretary. A large number of ministers were present. There was considerable speaking and a good deal of business was transacted.

The secretary having reported that some of the vice-presidents, appointed at the previous meeting, found it impossible to serve, he had procured substitutes as follows: in Simonds Mr. Hamilton in place of Dr. Ross; Wilmot, E. L. West, in place of George McClintock. John McLauchlan, Aberdeen, having declined to act, the convention elected E. S. Gilmore, V. P. in his place.

The Lecture committee was instructed to make arrangements for holding four or more mass temperance meetings in central places in the county; and, when appealed to for help to carry on public meetings throughout the county to try and furnish some speaking aid.

The Literary committee was instructed to procure 4000 campaign tracts and distribute them, proportionately, among the several vice-presidents.

The following were adopted as a list of suggestions in reference to parish organization for work, to be sent the various parish vice-presidents:—

1st. Secure a copy of voters' list for your parish.

2nd. Have one or more copies of the same made for general use.

3rd. Divide your parish into sections.

4th. Appoint one or more men to supervise each section; to arrange one or more public meetings therein, and, if possible, to appeal to every voter personally, to go to the polls and vote for Prohibition.

5th. To arrange for holding one or more general public meetings for the whole parish in some central locality.

6th. To take the most active measures for the further intensifying the sympathy and still further enlisting the interest of the pulpit and press in the cause of Prohibition.

7th. To request the Sheriff to appoint only wellknown trustworthy men as deputy returning officers and poll clerks, in each polling district; and to see that two suitable agents are appointed for each polling booth.

Adjourned to meet at the call of the Executive.

The evening meeting was largely attended and very interesting. Lack of space hinders giving a full account.

Norris R. Brown of Lower Brighton, a prominent and well known farmer, died on Tuesday morning after a three years' illness of consumption. His story is a sad one. When first his disease became manifest, he went to Colorado with the hope that benefit might come from a change of climate. While there his barns burned and his wife was stricken ill. Some benefit was derived from his western visit, but he returned; shortly after which his father died. He was twice married. His surviving wife was Ada Tedlie. He leaves four children. The funeral took place at Lower Brighton on Wednesday, Rev. G. B. Trafton officiating.

There was a sheriff's sale of the shop stock of Stephen Durkee, at 10.30 this morning.

Keith & Plummer will soon begin the construction of their new store, which will be 36x60 feet, three storeys and basement. It will be built where Mr. Barnett's building now is, and will be a great addition to the appearance of that locality.

Rev. J. B. Daggett will fill his regular appointments to-morrow. There will be the Young People's service at 7 o'clock, to which all are invited, and the usual preaching services immediately after.

On Thursday a "Wild Goose" party drove from Houlton to Woodstock and took tea at the Carlisle. They were mostly tourists, there being seven from Cleveland, Ohio, seven from Greenville, and Miss Hill from Houlton.

Miss Dot Phinney of Richibucto, who a few weeks ago joined the American National Red Cross Society as a nurse to the wounded and sick in the American army, died Tuesday of fever. She risked her life, and lost it, for the benefit of suffering. "Greater love hath no man than this."

A meeting to consider the question of having a kindergarten in Woodstock was held on Friday evening. Archdeacon Neales presided. After some discussion of the matter Mrs. W. W. Hay and Mrs. Allison Connell were appointed a committee, with power to add to their number, to open up correspondence with a view of securing all possible information on the subject, and to report to a future meeting.—Dispatch.

C. Humphery Taylor lost a valuable mare on Sunday. Harry Hunter drove the team to Florenceville and while it was standing in the yard one of the horses took fright at another horse, and making a leap, broke its leg very badly and had therefore to be killed.

The Grand Falls Trotting Association have planned a big day for next Tuesday—Aug. 12th. They will have three races: 2:35, 2:25 and free-for-all. There are entered horses from Presque Isle, Fort Fairfield, Fort Kent and Woodstock and the fun promises to be hot and exciting. There are $300 in purses offered.

On Tuesday afternoon a happy event took place at the residence of Charles Plummer, Jacksonville, when his daughter, Edith L. was married to Rev. John Dystant, pastor of the Kingsclear Methodist church. Lewis Dystant was groomsmen and Misses Blanch Plummer and Lala Walton were bridesmaids. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Spargo, assisted by H. D. Marr and W. B. Wiggins.

The pastor of the Methodist church has secured Rev. Geo. A. Ross to assist him in his work for the ensuing few weeks. Mr. Ross is a native of P. E. I., was stationed once at Sunny Brae, near Moncton, spent last year at Hartland, Carleton Co., and is appointed to attend college this year. He has already earned a good reputation as a preacher. He will preach at Waterford, Creightonville and Sussex next Sabbath.—Sussex Record.

The official report speaks thus complimentarily of the 67th Batt:

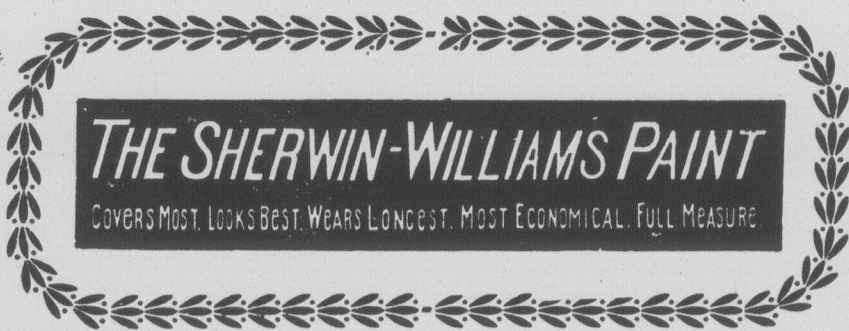

"Drill—This is a splendid country battalion; numerically strong; composed of men physically fit, and having a larger proportion of qualified officers and non-com officers than any of the 36 battalions inspected by me this year.

"Interior economy—Arms, accoutrements and clothing clean—want of a uniformity of dress on the part of a few officers. Discipline very good.

The Toronto Electric Lighting company have installed an admirable system of electric lighting for the C. P. R. at McAdam, and Mr. Ross of Toronto, on behalf of the light company, formally handed over the plant to the C. P. R., after strict and satisfactory test had been made. The system includes both arc and incandescent lights, which are superior to those in several towns in New Brunswick, and much ahead of the Fredericton lights. The railway company are supplying this light to the stores of the place, all of which are using them, and to private residences as well, at a certain rate per year. The railway yard station and platform are splendidly lighted. Lights have been placed in the custom house and Junction House,

SHAW & DIBBLEE, HARDWARE,

Protecting Canadian Goods.

The issue of The Adelaide (South Australia) Advertiser for June 14th, just received, gives the particulars of a trial which proves that even in that far away country the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. is as active in defending its rights and protecting the public against the schemes of the substituters and counterfeiters as it is here as home in Canada. In the trial in question Frank Ashley and William Smith were shown to have been engaged in offering a substitute for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, claiming that the substitute was the same as that justly celebrated medicine. Both men were placed under arrest on a charge of obtaining money under false pretence and conspiring to defraud the public, and evidence was heard before the Chief Justice of the Criminal Court. The defendant's lawyer made a strong fight in their behalf, but in spite of this jury, after a short absence from the court returned a verdict of guilty in both cases. The Chief Justice deferred sentence until the close of the sittings. In addressing the jury, however, the learned judge spoke very strongly concerning the evils of substitution and the dangers to the victim that may ensue from this nefarious and too common practice.—Toronto Globe.

Working Balking Horses.

When a horse has become a confirmed balker, I believe that in a majority of cases he may, with proper treatment, be so far reformed that he may be depended on with reasonable certainty. But some never can, and none of them can ever be trusted with the same implicit confidence as one that has never been spoiled. The practice from time immemorial has been to inhumanly beat the horse that balks. Generally this is the very thing that is sure to defeat the whole scheme of making a good horse out of a bad one. It may make him move that once, but he will not fail to rebel again at the time when good behavior is most wanted. The man who cannot read animals well enough to see where the trouble is would better have but little to do with unruly horses, for there can be no cast iron rules for their management.—National Stockman and Farmer.

Montague, of Dunville, Cured of Ulcerated Itching Piles.

Mr. Robert Montague, of Dunville, Ont., writes:—"Was troubled with Itching Piles for five years and was so badly ulcerated, they were very painful, so much, so that I could not sleep. I tried almost every medicine known when I was recommended to use Dr. Chase's Ointment. I purchased a box and from the first application got relief. Have used two boxes and am now completely cured."

When Commodore Schley called for three cheers for 'the men behind the guns,' the officers of the fleet which had wiped out the flower of the Spanish navy under Cervera gave that tribute with a will. The men who commanded cheered the men who did the fighting. It was the democracy of heroism.—Boston Post.

Self Sealers 6, 8 and 10 cts. and Earthen Preserves Jars from 10 cts. at Carr's.

War Side Lights.

Let us have peace. — New Haven Register.

All our whalers are not warships, but all our warships are whalers.—Gate City.

There is no law, at any rate, against the American chests as a result of our naval victories.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

'Merely apprentices in the art of war' is what the Paris Figaro calls Americans, yet our history records no Waterloos and no Sedans.—Boston Journal.

The task to which the Spanish cabinet is now addressing its self to cry 'Enough!' loud enough for Americans to hear it, but low enough so that it can't be heard in Spain.—Des Moines Leader.

Confused His Papa.

An amusing incident occurred in a A., B. and C. car on the afternoon of the Fourth. Four young couples, evidently out for an enjoyable day, were seated on one side of the car having a decidedly good time. While their merriment was at its height a 7-year-old boy across the aisle suddenly leaned forward.

'Say, mister,' he called to one of the young men, 'why don't you kiss your girl?'

The young man looked up in surprise, and the girl—a pretty girl too—blushed.

'Talmage, Talmage,' said the boy's father, 'what do you mean by such talk?'

The boy looked at his father in surprised disgust.

What's the matter with you, dad?' he cried. 'You told me you would do it if you was him!'

And the father found the landscape decidedly interesting until the young people left the car.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Glass Globes.

The breaking of glass globes is very frequent, as all housekeepers know. Their durability may be greatly increased if they are tempered beforehand. This is done by putting them in a large pan and covering them with cold water. The pan is then set on the range until the water boils. When that occurs, it is removed from the fire, and the globes are allowed to remain in the water until it is perfectly cold again. This is a common treatment for lamp chimnies, and is equally efficient in the case of glass globes.—Exchange.

A New Garment for Ten Cents.

Have you ever tried to dye over your cast-off garments? Thousands in Canada answer "Yes, and very successfully, too." To those who have not yet attempted the work we would say, "There is money in it when you use the Diamond Dyes." Old dresses, capes, blouses, jackets, coats, pants, vests, stockings, ribbons, and other articles of wearing apparel, can be renewed and fitted for wear at very small cost. The sum of ten cents expended for some fashionable color of the Diamond Dyes will often save you many of dollars. Beware of the cheap package and common soap grease dyes; they spoil your goods, waste your money and ruin your temper. All up-to-date dealers sell the Diamond Dyes. See that the name "Diamond" is on each package you buy.

THE SPELL OF NIGHT.

The faded roses drift along the west,
To die in silver windrows on its rim;
Pale gauzes drop across the meadow's breast;
The flocks of white petunas are dim,
And shadows sooth them into fragrant rest.
A night hawk's signal quivers in the gloom,
A clear, sharp lance of sound; then droops
the wing
Of silence, dipped in forest born perfume,
Where flavor of the dawning summer cling,
Blent with the breath of spring's departing bloom.
My soul is restless for, I know not what—
Cool, mossy walks; the drip of woodland springs;
Some half remembered, half imagined spot,
A scarce caught echo in the silence brings,
A glimpse, a dream, a something I have not.
Dark violet, the mighty heavens sweep
Behold, the pain is soothed, and peace is here.
Pure mists of dew the drowsy flowers steep;
The balm of rest for weary hearts is near;
God lights the stars and sends the world to sleep.
—Hattie Whitney.

Not Spontaneous.

A group of literary men were discussing the other day the rarity of spontaneous eloquence or wit.

'I was at a dinner once in New York said one, and was seated next to Major Hay, who, you know, had been Lincoln's secretary. Somebody making a speech exclaimed:

'In genuine eloquence the words came hot from the heart. No nobler speech was ever uttered in America than Lincoln's address at Gettysburg, and I am assured it was wholly spontaneous. He had not given it a thought before he rose to speak.'

'While he was delivering it,' said Major Hay to me, aside, 'I had the fifth copy of it in my pocket!'

'I, too, remember a dinner in New York,' said another, 'at which all the foremost men in journalism and literature were present. The speech of the evening was made by George W. Curtis. It sparkled with wit and apt allusions to the men present, evidently inspired by the moment. Once he stopped, interrupting himself, and exclaimed:

'I see my friend, Judge D., looking at me doubtfully, but I must remind him that he, too,—going on with some brilliant raillery that brought down peals of laughter. As we rose to go out I said to the editor of a Boston paper:

'Who but Curtis could pour out impromptu wit like that?'

'Impromptu?' said the newspaper man. 'I had proofs of all the speeches given to me this afternoon to send to Boston tonight. Let us look at his.' We looked and there it all was, word for word, even to the 'I see my friend, Judge D., looking at me doubtfully, etc.'

'I knew Artemus Ward, said a third man, 'when he was a reporter on a Cleveland paper. One evening in the office he told a story, apparently a mere trifle, the flash of a moment.

'Brown, said the chief, 'how can you say such clever things offhand?'

'Offhand!' muttered Browne. 'I told that to myself about fifteen times this afternoon! Ten years afterward

I heard him tell the same story to a brilliant London audience without the alteration of a comma.

'Even to make a good joke, remarked a listener, work apparently is needed as well as genius.'—Youth's Companion.

Scientific Facts.

The eyeball is white because the blood vessels that feed its substance are so small that they do not admit the red corpuscles.

A rough calculation has been made that there is telegraph wire enough on this planet to reach 20 time from here to the moon.

It is estimated that the amount of water precipitated on the globe annually in the form of rain, snow, etc., is 29,000 cubic miles.

Liquid hydrogen, now producible in any quantity, is found by Dewar to have a boiling point of about 240 degrees below zero C. and the unexpected density of about six tenths that of water.

A Cause for Grief.

A Chinese of 40 years old whose mother still flogged him daily, shed tears one day in the company of friends. 'Why do you weep?' asked one. 'Alas, things are not as they used to be!' he lamented. The poor woman's hand grows feebler every day.'—Household Words.
