"When You Buy a Studebaker From Parrott"

When you buy a Studebaker from Parrott the car becomes your personal property—BUT WE INSIST UPON SHARING THE RESPONSIBILITY OF YOUR INVESTMENT.

At our garage we maintain one of the most complete service departments in the country for the sole purpose of making your investment a sound one.

There we will gladly inspect your Studebaker at frequent intervals—make minor adjustments—fill your grease cups—inflate your tires—and see that the car is in the pink of condition—EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR.

YOUR Studebaker is OUR reputation running around on four wheels. Furthermore, it is STUDEBAKER reputation—quite the best thing that you could bank on.

So we insist upon sharing the responsibility.

Even the rag man has his ups and downs. Clippings from tailor shops, which a year ago were worth only four and one-half cents a pound, now sell for 10c, and those that are nearly all wool bring as high as 22c a pound.

David Dillabough, a retired farmer,
aged 80, living about three miles north of St. Marys, was instantly killed by a falling limb, barns were blown over and much property damage done as a result of a tornado which swept over that district Monday afternoon.

The funeral of Mrs. Richard Burr, held on Tuesday to Anghrim cemetery,
was one of the largest ever held in Lambton county. Mrs. Burr died unexpectedly after an illness of only a few days, following a paralytic stroke.
She was a life-long resident of the district.

Membership in the Methodist churches of London conference shows a net increase for the year of 1,028 and is now 53,063. The church funds nearly all show a gain, missionary givings being greater by $7,817 than in the previous year. The grand total of money raised in the conference was $988,613, an increase of $9,063.

Bothwell Times:—It is supposed that three young men, while under the influence of liquor, broke into the dwelling of James Brown, Moser, and Supplenia, and smashed things up in general, including the back door. Mr.
Brown is seeking law, and it is likely something will be done in a few days.
Mr. Brown was in Newbury at the time.

The death of one of Aldborough's best known farmers, Angus McLarty, who had been suffering for some time with rheumatic fever, took place at his home, con. 3, Aldborough, Wednesday evening. He was a son of Neil McLarty, one of Aldboro pioneers, and was born near Clachan, having resided in the township all his life.
He married Mary Campbell, daughter of Duncan Campbell, also of Ald-borough. He was 69 years of age, and is survived by his widow and six children.

PRESIDENT.

SEMI-JUBILEE OF CHURCH

Glencoe Presbyterians to Have Special Services and Picnic.

Twenty-five years will have passed this month since the Glencoe Presbyterian church was completed, and opened for public worship, and this silver jubilee will be celebrated by a season of thanksgiving and festivity surpassing in interest anything that has been in the past for years.

On Sunday, June 13th, special services will be held at 10:30 a. m., 2:30 p.
m. and 7:30 p. m., conducted by Rev.
James Wilson, B. A., of Toronto, a former pastor of the Glencoe church,
and by Rev. Angus A. Graham, B. D., a native of Glencoe and now of Moose-wau, Sask. It is also expected that
Rev. Neil D. Keith, B. D., of Red Deer, Alberta, another of Glencoe's former citizens, will assist in the services on this date.

On Sunday, June 20th, special services will be held at the same hours as on the preceding Sunday. Rev. Dr.
Currie, of Beaverton, another former pastor and a native of Aldboro township, and Rev. C. C. Strachan, B. A., of Norquay, Sask., also formerly of this section, will preach.

At all of these services specially attractive music will be rendered by the choir, assisted on the first Sunday by Miss Flossie Finlayson, contralto soloist of Bloor Street Methodist Church, Toronto, and on the second Sunday by the Alvinston Presbyterian quartette.
On Wednesday, June 10th, a social reunion and picnic will be held at Agricultural Park, where dinner will be served from 12 to 2:30 o'clock. This will be followed by a programme of musical addresses, etc. J. C. Elliott,
M. P., will preside, and the talent
includes the Pipers' Band of London, Miss Flossie Finlayson, the Alvinston
quartette, and the well-known writer and orator, Peter McArthur. There will also be a programme of sports and games for the young and free auto rides around the speed track for the children, besides other amusements.
Many prominent people from a distance and old-time citizens of the community are expected to be present on the occasion, and a time of much interest and hearty enjoyment is anticipated.

Mosa Council.

The Mosa council met at Glencoe on May the 25th. Members all present.

law re line fences in the township.
Carried.

Moved by Fred J. James, seconded by D. N. Munroe, that the by-law for the construction of the McIntyre drain be finally passed as read the third time and that A. Gardiner be appointed commissioner on said drain. Carried.

Moved by D. N. Munroe, seconded
by J. H. Robinson requesting the council to have the John H. Robinson drain repaired be accepted, and the clerk is hereby instructed to request the engineer to make an examination of the said drain and report to the council.
Carried.

Moved by A. Gardiner, seconded by E. F. Reycraft, that the council adjourn to meet at Newbury on June 21
at 10 o'clock a. m.

C. C. McNAUGHTON, Clerk.

Elgin County Hero's Death.

West Lorne, June 7.—Word was received here yesterday from the Adjutant-General, Ottawa, of the death of Corporal Arch. J. Templeton, aged about 20, in active service. He was born and raised here, being a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Templeton, who resided here until this spring, when they moved onto a farm near Rodney.
Arch left here several years ago and enlisted in one of the regiments in the West where volunteers were first asked for. He was a splendid fellow and had a great many friends, and his death will be deeply regretted.

Oakland Cemetery.

A meeting of the board was held at the cemetery on June 1st. Members present—J. Beckton, president; Mark
Walker, vice-president; Duncan Mc-Eachren, J. Strachan, H. Annett, Jas.
Brown, A. Burchell, Geo. Lethbridge, directors.

Moved by Geo. Lethbridge, seconded by D. McEachren, that party replace one load of earth belonging to private owner and not charged for other earth removed through misunderstanding.
Carried.

Moved by M. Walker, seconded by
J. Strachan, that the board sanction the action of caretaker in notifying them of the removal of earth from cemetery without permission. Carried.

Moved by Annett, seconded by Burchell, that secretary notify local bur-takers to always itemize Mr. Hick's account in rendering their account.
Carried.

Moved by M. Walker, seconded by
J. Brown, that J. Strachan and J. M.
Beckton be a committee to inspect and find out the cost of a suitable arch
for the entrance to the cemetery.
Board agreed to meet at call of
president.

Geo. LETHBRIDGE, Sec. Treas.

Sixty Years Married.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm C. Munroe, of Mosa, will today celebrate the sixtieth, or diamond, anniversary of their wedding, and will be at home to their friends from two to five o'clock in the afternoon and from seven to nine o'clock in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Munroe are among the best-known residents of this district.
Mr. Munroe was born 83 years ago on the place where he is now living, and Mrs. Munroe, whose maiden name was Mary McNeil, was born on the second farm from that where her husband first saw the light of day. She is 82 years of age. They were married by Rev. W. H. Sutherland, the first Presbyterian minister in this section.

All of Mr. and Mrs. Munroe's family are expected home for the wedding.
They are as follows:—Peter Munroe,
Margaret, Manitoba; Mrs. J. H. Mc-Farlane, Detroit; John Munroe, St.
Clair, Mich.; Mrs. John Secord, Mosa;
Mrs. James Walker, Walkers; D. N.
Munroe, Mosa, and Mrs. D. A. Dewar, 74 Forest avenue, St. Thomas.

A Newbury Wedding.

Newbury, June 8.—One of those events which cause such a flutter in society was the marriage of Lillie B.
Gage, R. N., youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Grant, on Thursday, June 3rd. The home was most tastefully decorated throughout with maple leaves, spruce and hollyhocks. The arch under which the bride and groom stood was a picture with the soft electric light falling from the chandelier above. Promptly at five o'clock the sweet strains of the Bridal March, played by Miss Margaret Haghighi, cousin of the bride, were heard, and the groom and groomsmen, Albert Grant, brother of the groom, appeared, followed by the bridesmaid, Miss Cora Messer, of Blue-vale, and the dainty little flower girl, Dorothy Watterworth, the three-year-old niece of the groom; then the bride and her mother took their place. Rev.
J. Andrews, of West Lorne, a former pastor and friend of the family, performed the ceremony in the presence of some seventy-five guests. The bride looked lovely in white duchesse satin with veil caught with lilies of the valley. She wore the groom's gift, a necklace of pearls and amethysts, and carried cream roses. The bridesmaid looked charming in Alice blue silk crepe de chine with large picture hat.
She carried pink roses. The sweet little flower girl with her basket of flowers was a picture in white silk.
She, too, wore the groom's gift, a locket and chain. The groom's gifts to the bridesmaid and pianist were bar-pins and to the groomsmen, a ruby ring. After the congratulations and the whole company had been photographed, supper was served. Over sixty were seated, and the dainty supper was well served by several young lady and gentleman friends of Mr. and Mrs. Grant, the National Anthem being sung at the close. The gifts were most beautiful and costly—much cut glass, silver and hand-painted china.
The bride, a graduate nurse of West Hospital, Chicago, received many handsome gifts from her many friends in Chicago. The bride's going away gown was navy blue silk. Mr. and Mrs. Grant missed much of the intended shower of confetti by driving to Bothwell and taking the train for London, Plattsville and eastern points.
Their new home will be on Dougall Ave., Windsor.

Among the out of town guests were Miss Rhea Coutts and Mr. and Mrs.
Nelson, of Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Ed.
Grant and baby Norman, of London;
Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, of West
Lorne; Mrs. Hicks and Miss Edna Watterworth, of Glencoe.

Glencoe Council.

Pursuant to adjournment the municipal council met in the council chamber on Monday, the 7th day of June, 1915.
Members present—Allan McPherson,
P. D. Keith and A. J. Wright.
In the absence of the reeve, who is attending the county council, it was moved by Mr. McPherson, seconded by Mr. Keith, that Mr. Wright be chairman pro tem. Carried.

The minutes of the meetings of May 3rd and 17th were read and confirmed.
Communications—From Jas. Anderson, fire chief of Kingston, Ont., inviting the council to attend, or send a delegate to, a meeting of fire chiefs of Ontario, to be held at Ottawa August 24-27 next; from the Dutton Electric Light Co., stating that their plant was for sale.

Accounts—Joseph Johnson, 8 hours
pumping oil, $1.00; Jas. Wright & Son, hardware supplies, $15.88; John Holman, drawing gravel, sand, ashes, etc., $24.50; Wm. McRae, watering street and drawing gravel, $11.75; Sam
Thompson, 1 month's salary, $37.50;
Wm. Cucksey, drawing gravel and scrapping streets, $4; D. Mitchell, filling gravel, 1 day, $1; Wm. Muirhead, drawing gravel and oil, $43; James Pool, assessor, salary and postage, $51; E. T. Huston, treasurer, 1 year's salary and postage, $38.80; Harry Vause, sharpen lawn mower, 60c.

Moved by Mr. McPherson, seconded
by Mr. Keith, that the accounts be paid. Carried.

Methodist Church.

REV. W. G. HOWSON, MINISTER.
Next Sunday morning Mr. Howson's subject will be "The varying expressions and possibilities of life, and the strange refusal of men to seek it in its highest forms. The evening service will be withdrawn so that our people may attend the jubilee service in the Presbyterian church.

'Twas A BRAW BIG DAY

Glencoe's Annual Horse Show Attracts Large Crowd.

In spite of rain on the previous night and threatened weather conditions in the forenoon, the Glencoe annual horse show last Thursday attracted a large gathering of people. The fame of the Glencoe Horse Show is so well established that any serious interference with its success is beyond the ordinary possibilities.

A parade scheduled for ten o'clock was postponed till a later hour, and a baseball match to come off immediately after had to be cancelled on account of the wet. Before noon, however, the weather had cleared and the ground and track at the park were in first-class shape, and a splendid afternoon programme was carried out,
which was enjoyed by a gathering of many hundreds.

Shortly after one o'clock a parade of gaily decorated floats, calithumpians, etc., marshalled by Chas. H. Young on his famous Kentucky mare and headed by the Scout's Highland Pipe Band of Chatham, created much favorable comment and awakened no little enthusiasm as it passed through the principal streets, which had previously been decorated with flags and streamers of tricolored bunting.

Agricultural Park for the rest of the day was a scene of gayety, and enjoyment was written on every feature.
Stirring music by the pipers, Highland dancing by little folk, closely contested races and an exhibition of fancy horses,
that has probably never been equalled,
held the large assemblage with unbated interest until nearly seven o'clock.

The 2:30 speeding event was the only class that did not fill, but the free-
for-all was a closely contested race and was exceptionally interesting. In this event there were five heats, finishing as follows:—"Chester Mitchell"
D. Campbell, 1; 2, 2, 1; "Tiger" H.
(Currie) 2, 2, 1, 1, 2; "Louie Hal" (H.
Coates) 3, 3, 3, 3, 3. Time, 2:25.

The green race, while quite interesting, was not so closely contested.
An auto race was a novelty feature and was exciting. In this event there were five competitors. Each driver was required in turn at a signal to start his car in front of the judge's stand, run nearly round the track,
stop and pick up a dummy soldier,
finish the course and deposit the dummy at the starting point. The best time was 1 minute and 32 seconds, made by Norman MacLachlan.

The sweepstakes event for best horse
on the grounds and the competitions of lady drivers and gentleman drivers were other special features of interest.
At the conclusion a slow auto race
was announced as a special event.
There were several entries, but no
award was made.

In the evening an enjoyable concert was given in the opera house to a large audience by the Alice Dunbar Company, of St. Thomas, consisting of Miss Alice Dunbar, directress; Miss Constance Dunbar, soloist; Bert Rose, comedian; Thelma MacCallum, Helen Cobbe, John Tormie and Donald Ellis, dancers, and Piper Angus Galbraith.
Hearty applause was accorded the performers, and especially the dance dancers, who also performed at the park in the afternoon.

The officers and directors of the agricultural society and also the various committees are to be congratulated on the excellent manner in which they handled the annual event this year,
and upon the financial success achieved,
there being about $250 of net balance.

GERMANS TAKE PEREMYSL

Russians Evacuated the City After Northern Forts Were Stormed

A despatch from London says: Peremysh is once again in the possession of Austria. After a siege lasting not quite three weeks, hopelessly battered by the powerful guns of the Austro-Germans, the Russians have evacuated the city. It was not a formal surrender, as was the case March 22, when the Austrian garrison after six months' defence, hoisted the white flag. The greater part of the Russian garrison managed to slip away over the railroad to Lemberg which is in the 20-mile area to the east, where the Teuton forces have not consolidated their lines. They were able to take some heavy guns, many machine guns, and considerable munitions of war. Military experts in London have foreseen the fall of Peremysh ever since it was apparent that the German and Austrian thrust through Galicia was going to strike home. Peremysh is not a safe salient in a defence line, however strong it may be as an isolated fortress. The tactics of the new besiegers were exactly opposite to those of the Russians when the positions were reversed. The first siege was conducted with regard to human life; this second siege has been conducted along lines generally pursued in the east—an absolute disregard of human life—charges in close formation in the face of fire from machine guns and rifles, all covered by the terrific fire of the heavy Austro-German field guns. The German army, according to the official reports from Berlin and Vienna, entered Peremysh at 3.30 o'clock this morning from the north after the last of the forts on that front of the defences had been silenced. The Austrian tenth army then came up from the west and south, reaching the centre of the town shortly after six o'clock. Most of the forts had been completely destroyed by the Austrians before they surrendered after the previous siege, and this is considered in military circles here to account for the fact that the fortress had to be abandoned so quickly in the face of the Austro-German attack. It appears that there was no fighting after the ring of forts was penetrated, which leads to the belief that the town was practically empty of Russian military forces when the Austrians took possession.

SURPRISE VISIT TO CROWN PRINCE

Twenty-nine French Airmen Drop Bombs on His Headquarters

A despatch from Paris says: A squadron of 29 French aeroplanes flew over the German lines and dropped the headquarters of the German Crown Prince. The men dropped 175 bombs in all, many of which reached their mark. Thousands of arrows were also scattered through the air. The raiders were under a furious fire during their attack, but none of the aeroplanes were damaged. The War Office statement which announced the raid did not mention the locality of the Crown Prince's headquarters. Fighting continues in the district called the "labyrinth," south-east of Neuville Saint Vaast, and some gains are recorded. Since May 31 the French have made 800 prisoners in this locality. German aviators flying over Lunelville, Department of Meurthe and Moselle, dropped great quantities of leaflets, printed in French, reproducing assertions of Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German Chancellor, in the Reichstag recently that war news from French sources was incorrect. An eye-witness, describing the operations north of Arras, says this fight ranks in the minds of the French military authorities as the greatest battle of the war in the western theatre of operations since the Battle of the Marne. The battle is still raging, although its first stages have been definitely settled in favor of the French, who are continuing their progress with less and less opposition. So far, the battle has received no name. The French official communiques laconically refer to it as "operations in the sector north of Arras."

CANADIAN SOLDIERS REWARDED

The Distinguished Conduct Medal Bestowed on Members of Patricia's and the 14th Battalion

A despatch from London says: The award of the Distinguished Conduct Medal to a number of members of the Canadian division has been announced in connection with the King's birthday honors. Pte. R. H. Drake, of the 14th battalion, is decorated for conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty near the Rue du Bois on March 26, when he went out under heavy fire to the assistance of wounded comrades. He was himself wounded, but he succeeded in dragging one man in to safety and then rendered first aid to him. Pte. S. Hacking, Princess Patricia's, receives the medal for conspicuous gallantry at St. Eloi on February 28 for assisting in the rescue of a wounded comrade under most difficult and dangerous circumstances. Sergt. S. V. Paterson, Princess Patricia's, is rewarded for conspicuous gallantry at St. Eloi when

Dernburg at Liberty To Go When He Likes

A despatch from Washington says: The British, French and Russian Embassies have assured the State Department they will give safe conduct to Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, former Colonial Secretary of Germany, when he leaves the United States. It has been known that Dr. Dernburg is about to leave the country, and it is reported he will go to Norway some time this month. A few weeks ago, when Dr. Dernburg, as a climax to a series of speeches which aroused the resentment of the Washington Government, justified the sinking of the Lusitania in a public address, there were broad intimations that through the German Embassy he might be invited to leave the country.

Verdict at Inquest On Zeppelin Victims

A despatch from London says: A coroner's jury, sitting in the case of two victims of the Zeppelin raid on London last week, rendered a verdict that they had met their death by suffocation and burns, "the same having been ordered by some agents of hostile forces." The persons in question were Henry Good and his wife.

Alleged British Spy Convicted in Saxony

A despatch from London says: According to a despatch to the Central News from Leipzig, Saxony, George Crossman, an Englishman, has been sentenced to three years' imprisonment by a Saxon court on the charge of attempting to furnish the British Government with German plans to invade England.

Losses of Prussians 1,388,000 to Date

A despatch from Amsterdam says: The Telegraaf states that according to German casualty lists Prussian losses alone have reached a total of 1,388,000. Recent casualty lists contain the names of 56 airmen, of whom eleven were killed and 35 wounded, the remaining ten being missing.

A British Cask-Pontoon Bridge Over the Yser, Constructed in One Night.

The bridge across the Yser in the neighborhood of Dixmude shown in the above photograph, was constructed there recently during the course of one night by the British, who took advantage of a temporary slackening in the incessant fighting that is ever continuing in that quarter. The empty-cask floats utilized to serve as supporting pontoons were prepared on the bank, guided into position in the water, and finally moored securely in position; then the roadway planking across them was laid down of sufficient width to allow of infantry in formation traversing the bridge—all under cover of and in spite of the darkness. The operation, it would appear, was not detected by the enemy in the neighborhood, who, to prevent such work being carried out, continually sent up star shells.

REMARKABLY STRONG POSITION OF THE MERCHANTS BANK OF CANADA SHOWN BY ANNUAL REPORT

It is significant that after more than eight months of the severest financial strain Canada has ever experienced, the Merchants Bank of Canada comes forward with a report showing not only the greatest strength in its history compared favorably with the strongest commercial bank throughout the world.

Perhaps the outstanding feature of the annual statement as at April 30th last, is the assets which are or can immediately be converted into cash. These amount to $22,096,571.51 exclusive of $1,000,000 deposited in the Central Gold Reserve, and $235,000 deposited with the Government for the purposes of the Circulation Fund. Altogether the immediately realisable assets amount to $23,321,571, or over 46% of the Bank's liability to the public. What this means will be appreciated when it is remembered that last year these items totalled over $8,000,000 less, or less than 37% of the liabilities to the public—and this was a very good showing for normal times.

The total assets of the Bank are $86,190,461.51, an increase of over three millions from last year. It is worthy of note that there are no mortgages, while overdue debts and real estate, other than Bank premises, together amount to only $263,538.40, or less than one-third of one per cent. of the total assets. The actual cash, coin and notes, on hand were over $21,000,000, or twice what they were a year ago.

Thus the Merchants Bank of Canada is in a position of great strength, which enables it to face any possible development of the war situation with perfect confidence.

During the year the Bank's deposit business expanded very considerably. Its deposits bearing interest increased over four millions, to $80,037,101.80, and its total public liabilities grew three millions to $71,769,613.81. The capital paid up and the reserve fund stand at $7,000,000 each.

Profits were necessarily affected by the efforts to maintain so high a ratio of liquid reserve or assets that could be converted into cash immediately. Current commercial loans in Canada, the main source of a Canadian bank's profits, were reduced by $6,200,000, and the net profits for the year were $895,431, against $1,218,694 for 1914. These were still further reduced by appropriations for patriotic purposes, by the war taxes and by $250,000 written off for depreciation in the market value of securities. There is every probability that the latter amount will be in considerable part recovered in the future, when securities resume their normal value. The appropriation for patriotic purposes indicate the sacrifice that the Bank is making for the general good in these exacting times, and the shareholders are amply compensated in the fact that the Bank's immense strength and constantly widening connections enable it to look forward to greatly enhanced prosperity as soon as business in Canada resumes its usual activity. Meanwhile a balance sheet such as this, after nearly nine months of war, is the best evidence of solidity and sound management that a bank could possibly have.

Only Secured Eight Out Of a Total of 1,382

A despatch from London says: The Admiralty has issued a statement announcing that the number of British merchantmen sunk or captured by German submarines in the week ending Wednesday was eight, with a tonnage of 23,363. No fishing boats were sunk in that period. The number of arrivals and sailings from British ports was 1,382.

1,000,000 POUNDS OF GUNCOTTON

Canada Has Commenced Manufacture of Highest Explosive Known to Science

A despatch from Ottawa says: A plant for the manufacture of large quantities of trinitrotoluol, one of the highest explosives known to modern science, has been erected in Canada and is now in operation. Its location is being kept a secret at present, but Gen. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, inspected the works and expressed himself as highly gratified with the progress which has been made. Work was started on the factory seven weeks ago, and it had not been expected to be ready for four months, but operations were rushed with the result that the plant is now running. The new plant is turning out the immense quantity of 800,000 pounds of trinitrotoluol per month and constitutes a record both as regards erection and production. It is announced that Canada will shortly be in a position to turn out one million pounds of guncotton per month. She has for some time past been producing large quantities of cordite.

KING'S BIRTHDAY HONOR ROLL

Lieutenant-Governor Hendrie and 5 Other Prominent Canadians Entitled to Prefix of Sir.

A despatch from London says: A list of the King's birthday honors is issued in the London Gazette. It includes many naval and military decorations for war services. Earl Kitchener heads the list, he receiving the knighthood of the Garter. The following Canadian names appear in the list:

K.C.M.G.
Lt.-Col. the Hon. John Strathcona Hendrie, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario.
Principal William Paterson, vice-chancellor of McGill University, Montreal.

Knights Bachelor.
Herbert Brown Ames, M.P., honorary secretary of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, Montreal.
Henry L. Drayton, chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners, Ottawa.
John Craig Eaton, merchant, Toronto.

Charles Frederick Fraser, superintendent of the School for the Blind, Halifax.

C.M.G.
Very Rev. Principal Daniel Minner Gordon, vice-chancellor of Queen's University, Kingston.
Commander Richard M. T. Stephens, chief of staff of the Canadian Naval Service, Ottawa.

C.I.S.O.
Capt. Richard Burton Dean, late superintendent of the Royal North-West Mounted Police, Ottawa.

Francis Herman Gisborne, Parliamentary counsel, Ottawa.
Sir Gilbert Parker, the writer, is made a baronet. Hon. Edgar Bowring, a member of the Legislative Council of Newfoundland, is knighted.

Reservoirs of Poison In Latest Zeppelins

A despatch from Copenhagen says: A gigantic Zeppelin of entirely new type caused general surprise all along the Baltic when making a trial journey over the international route between Sweden and Denmark. It was visible from all the coast towns. The airship differs considerably in form and dimensions from the earlier Zeppelins, is heavily armored and is supplied with three reservoirs for poisonous gas.

Five Allied Nations Will Act Together

A despatch from Tokyo says: Foreign Minister Kato interpellated in the House of Peers by the Budget Committee, made the declaration that Great Britain, France, Russia, Italy and Japan had agreed to take no independent action of any kind in connection with the European war.

SUBMARINE SINKS GERMAN SHIP

Was Operating in the Sea of Marmora at the Time.

A despatch from London says: A British submarine operating in the Sea of Marmora torpedoed a large German transport in Panderna Bay. This announcement was given out officially in London as having been received from the vice-admiral in command at the Dardanelles. It is said also that this submarine was one of several operating in these waters.

The large German transport officially reported sunk by a British submarine in Panderna Bay is believed to have been either the steamer General, of 4,500 tons, formerly of the German East Africa Company, or the Corcovada, of 4,900 tons, which was owned by the Hamburg-American Steamship Line.

The General fled to Constantinople at the same time as did the German cruisers Goeben and Breslau. The Corcovada was used by the Hamburg-American Line to inaugurate a passenger service between the United States and Turkey last year. She was in the Black Sea when the war started and took refuge in the Bosphorus, later being transferred to the Turkish flag.

Was Not a Deserter, Is In French Hospital

A despatch from Ottawa says: There is a certain Montreal soldier, a member of the first Canadian division, who has been the object lately of much undeserved approbrium. Having been in the Langemark fighting, in which the Canadians distinguished themselves, he failed to turn up afterwards. As he was not reported as a prisoner and was not seen to be wounded, friends who enquired for him were informed that he had deserted. It has now been discovered, however, that the soldier in question is lying in a French hospital with gunshot wounds in head and neck.

Bait From Germany Thrown Out to Jews

A despatch from London says: According to Le Matin of Paris, Germany is throwing out a bait to the Jews by promising to re-establish the Kingdom of Palestine after the war. A scheme outlined after the war, by 23 German and Austrian rabbis and also by Herr Ballin, of the Hamburg-American Line, undertakes to re-establish, by an agreement with the Sultan, a Jewish kingdom, with guarantees of neutrality.

Umpiring With a Shotgun. Kansas City invites world attention to the sheer novelty of a man standing in the centre of a diamond pointing a shotgun at a runner whom he was attempting to halt and send back to second base because of a ground rule, providing that a runner may take only one base on a passed ball.

We have admired nothing so ingenious and effective since the Texas editor, who used to shoot his subscribers in the leg to remind them of their unpaid subscriptions. Yet, the evolution of the umpire with a shotgun is not so amazing, on second thoughts. It was bound to come; it betrays appropriately the militaristic era, with every promise of enlargement upon the idea when Krupp and other war toy shops shall study the offensive and defensive necessities of umpires.

Impelled by the spread of prohibition and growing prevalence of pop bottles in the air—for the increase of temperance has manifested itself in increased violence and anti-prohibition—the umpire is made the goat of the whole "dry" movement. Becoming daily a graver problem, his situation is one of the most serious that confronts the American people. Shall the War Department and Congress revise the league rules, or will the States severally enforce protective measures with their own militia?—St. Louis Post.

The doors of a certain new house had shrunk horribly, as is the way of the modern door made of seasoned wood. The builder would not send the joiner to repair them, so the householder tried the ironical method, and wrote: "Dear Sir,—The mice can run under most of our doors, but our cat cannot follow them. Will you please send a man at once to make room under the doors for the cat, and much obliged."

A FINE COMPLEXION

May Be Had Through the Rich, Red Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make.

A girl's complexion is something more than a matter to concern her vanity. It is an indication of the state of her health. Pallor in a growing girl means a thinning of the blood. Parents should be watchful of their daughters' complexions and should see to it that these danger signs are corrected. When a girl in her teens becomes pale and sallow, if she shows an inclination to tire easily, is listless and inattentive to her work or studies, she needs Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a tonic which directly and specifically corrects the condition from which she is suffering. A chemical analysis of the blood of such a girl would show it to be deficient in just the elements that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can supply, and which restore brightness to the eye and color to the cheeks. Miss Delina Arsenault, Urbainville, P.E.I., is one of the thousands of anemic girls restored to health by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "I was attacked with anaemia, and was in such a miserable condition that I had to consult a doctor, and was under his care for several months, but without getting better. I was growing thinner every day, had dark circles around my eyes. I could hardly sleep at night, but tossed restlessly and got up in the morning with black anticipation of the day's miseries before me. I was always bothered with headaches and pains in the back and limbs. My appetite was poor and I frequently vomited what I did eat. My friends feared that I would not recover. I had often seen Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advertised, and finally decided to try them. I used altogether nine boxes, and they made me as well as ever I was in my life. All the pains and aches disappeared, my appetite returned, I could sleep soundly at night, and the color returned to my cheeks. I also gained seventeen pounds in weight. I am now always well, and for this happy condition I have to thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get these Pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES
Thousands of mothers say Baby's Own Tablets are the only medicine they would give their little ones. Among them is Mrs. Howard Hodgins, St. Catharines, Ont., who says: "I am a user of Baby's Own Tablets and think them the best medicine in the world for little ones." Once a mother has used the Tablets she will use no other medicine because she feels the Tablets are absolutely safe and knows they never fail to banish all the simple ailments of little ones. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Trying on Bridges.
Does music weaken metallic or other bridges? This question recently asked of a well-known bridge builder brought this reply: "Measured vibrations are more trying to any kind of bridges, and particularly to suspension bridges, than irregular agitation. Music alone would not strain a bridge enough to injure it materially, but a regiment of troops keeping step to music when crossing a suspension bridge would subject it to a very severe strain. Consequently, it is customary to stop the music before troops reach the bridges, and let the men break step, and march more or less irregularly. The reason for all this is obvious. The structure naturally will suffer least strain when at rest. When in uniform motion the bridge acquires a momentum equal to its entire suspended weight multiplied by the velocity of the motion. It is manifest that, in the case of a heavy structure, a uniform downward vibration, be it ever so small, would develop a momentum of many tons in the direction of a breaking strain. The same disturbing forces acting irregularly, so as to counteract one another, would be far less trying to the structure."

The Electricquette.
More than four hundred diminutive electric vehicles are now in use on the exhibition grounds at San Francisco, where they are very popular. Their success probably means that they will displace the wheeled chairs of the seaside resorts. The new chair, which is known as the "electricquette," and which is propelled by a motor that derives its power from a small storage battery, is a comfortable and commodious vehicle seating two persons. It is controlled so easily that anybody can run one without previous experience.

The Fastest Camera.

Capt. F. J. Behr, of the United States Coast Artillery, has invented a camera that marks a great advance in the art of photographing swiftly-moving objects. It differs from the ordinary camera in size and in the mechanism of its shutter. It is almost four feet high.

An electric motor that makes several thousand revolutions a second works the shutter; and since the speed of the motor can be accurately adjusted, the photographer can determine the length of exposure down to one five-thousandth of a second. The new camera has photographed mortar shells at the moment when they left the muzzle of the gun, and afterward, and has shown the curious "smoke ring" or "gas ring" that accompanies the projectile when it emerges from the gun. It may yet help to determine exactly what happens when a modern high-power shell ploughs its way through solid steel.

Red Sea Colored by Weeds.
The drowning of Pharaoh and his host in the Red Sea had nothing to do with its name. It takes this from a peculiar reddish color remarked at certain seasons of the year in parts of this sea, due to marine plants, or to reddish animalcules, called by sailors "whale feed," which float on it like scum; or to the reefs of red coral which abound in many parts of it; or, possibly, to the fact that its upper course was one of the boundaries of Edom, the red.

No biblical scholar of any repute has ever asserted that the sea took its name from the overthrow of Pharaoh.

GET POWER
The Supply Comes From Food.
If we get power from food, why not strive to get all the power we can? That is, if possible, by selecting food that exactly fits the requirements of the body.

"Not knowing how to select the right food to fit my needs, I suffered grievously for a long time from stomach trouble," writes a lady from a little Western town. "It seemed as if I would never be able to find out the sort of food that was best for me. Hardly anything that I could eat would stay in my stomach. Every attempt gave me heart-burn and filled my stomach with gas. I got thinner and thinner until I literally became a living skeleton and in time was compelled to keep to my bed. A few months ago I was persuaded to try Grape-Nuts food, and it had such good effect from the very beginning that I kept up my use. I was surprised at the ease with which I digested it. It proved to be just what I needed. All my unpleasant symptoms, the heart-burn, the inflated feeling which gave me so much pain, disappeared. My weight gradually increased from 98 to 116 lbs., my figure rounded out, my strength came back, and I am now able to do my housework and enjoy it. Grape-Nuts did it."

A ten days trial will show anyone some facts about food. Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont. Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

He Meant Every Word He Spoke

JUST WHY J. A. HILL RECOMMENDS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

He Had Sore Back and Other Symptoms of Kidney Disease and Got Real Benefit from Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Sixty-Nine Corners, Ont., June 7 (Special).—"I am recommending Dodd's Kidney Pills as the best of medicines." The speaker was Mr. J. A. Hill, a well-known resident of this place, and he left no doubt in the minds of his hearers that he meant every word he said.

"Some time ago," Mr. Hill continued, "I had a very sore back. It started from a cold and I suffered for six months with it. I also had stiffness in my joints and cramps in my muscles and I felt heavy and sleepy after meals. My appetite was fitful and my limbs were heavy. Then I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I took four boxes and received great benefit from them. That's why I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Every one of Mr. Hill's symptoms showed that his trouble was of the kidneys. That is why he got such benefit from Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are no cure all, but they do cure sick kidneys, and the kidneys are the keystone of health.

He Wanted Company.

Shortly after two o'clock one bitter cold morning a physician drove four miles in answer to a telephone call. On his arrival the man who had summoned him said:—

"Doctor, I ain't in any particular pain, but somehow or other I've got a feeling that death is nigh."

The doctor felt the man's pulse, and listened to his heart. "Have you made your will?" he asked finally.

The man turned pale. "Why, no, doctor. At my age—oh, doc, it ain't true."

"Who's your lawyer?" "Higginsham, but takes this from a peculiar reddish color remarked at certain seasons of the year in parts of this sea, due to marine plants, or to reddish animalcules, called by sailors "whale feed," which float on it like scum; or to the reefs of red coral which abound in many parts of it; or, possibly, to the fact that its upper course was one of the boundaries of Edom, the red."

No biblical scholar of any repute has ever asserted that the sea took its name from the overthrow of Pharaoh.

24-HOUR SYSTEM.

Paper Dials Were Issued in 1886 By the C.P.R.

A souvenir of the early days of the C.P.R., in the shape of one of the original watch dials which the company got out when it introduced 24 o'clock time in the West, is in possession of one of the officials.

In 1886 the company determined to introduce the 24-hour system on the western divisions; and to give emphasis to the new departure, and, at the same time, help the memory of all concerned, it issued paper dials with the whole 24 hours completing the day, which were to be worn on the watches of the employees, to familiarize them with the new method. This setting up of the new time standard was deemed, at the time, a radical innovation, calculated to disturb the all conservative and timid creatures who dreaded change. A certain sensation was produced at the time; it passed; the business went on its way; the western employees became acquainted with the new time standard, and accepted it as a matter of course; but the sight of one of the old dial plates, which everybody was showing as a curiosity in 1886, as something which was going to revolutionize the common life of the people, recalls the eagerness of the company to arrest the attention, though, of course, the change was advantageous to itself.

"For years I was thin and delicate. I lost color and was easily tired; a yellow pallor, pimples and blotches on my face were not only mortifying to my feelings, but because I thought my skin would never look nice again I grew despondent. Then my appetite failed, I grew very weak. Various remedies, pills, tonics and tablets I tried without permanent benefit. A visit to my sister put into my hands a box of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. She placed reliance upon them and now that they have made me a well woman I would not be without them whatever they might cost. I found Dr. Hamilton's Pills by their mild yet searching action very suitable to the delicate character of a woman's nature. They never once gripped me, yet they established regularity. My appetite grew keen—my blood red and pure—my rings under my eyes disappeared and today my skin is as clear and unblemished as when I was a girl. Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

The above straightforward letter from Mrs. J. Y. Todd, wife of a well-known miller in Rogersville, is proof sufficient that Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a wonderful woman's medicine. Use no other pill but Dr. Hamilton's, 25c. per box. All dealers or The Catarrh-ozone Co., Kingston, Ontario.

JUST BEFORE BISMARCK FELL.

Fourth Generation of Hohenzollern Dancing to His Music.

Bismark's dismissal from office, which many have regarded as one of the great mistakes of the Kaiser's life, seems to have taken the Iron Chancellor by surprise, but he might well have taken warning from a little incident, recorded by Grant Duff, which occurred just before his fall.

Going to see the emperor one morning, he was requested to wait, which he did in an antechamber where the little Crown Prince and his brothers were amusing themselves. They wished him to dance with them and on his declaring himself too old, insisted on his playing the piano while they danced. He sat down to the instrument and played till the Kaiser entered. "So," was the royal greeting. "There is the fourth generation of the Hohenzollern which has to dance to your playing!"

It is being declared that the wastage of war will for one thing mean a scarcity of horses for years to come, and that already the supply is below requirements in many places. At the same time it is to be remembered that the price of horseflesh has risen considerably, which in a way will help to relieve the situation. The article that brings good money eventually is produced at a rate that meets the call for it.

P. E. Lumley's Drug Store Benefits by New Business Idea. Exclusive Agent for Well Known Line.

In all lines of business old ideas are giving place to new, and modern efficiency is showing better ways of selling goods.

Almost everyone is familiar with the famous Nyls Family Remedies and Toilet preparations and has been accustomed to seeing them in almost every drug store and almost every family medicine cupboard.

Very recently the Company have made a far reaching change in their plan of doing business. In the future Nyls preparations will only be obtainable through selected drug store agencies who are shareholders in the company.

It is a proven fact, that agents, selected because of their ability and business standing and more intimately connected with the manufacturers are able to market goods more economically and at the same time give better service to the buying public. Much of the friction of competitive business methods is eliminated and the public benefits therefrom.

Mr. P. E. Lumley, Druggist, is to be congratulated on securing the Nyls Agency in this town and will in the future make these preparations a more prominent feature of his business.

Cornfoot-McKellar.

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, June 2nd, by Rev. J. Fraser Smith, when Annie Laura, eldest daughter of Mr. Archie L. McKellar, of Kilmartin, became the bride of William J. Cornfoot, a prominent business man of Mt. Elgin, Ont.

The bride wore a gown of shadow lace over white satin with pearl trimming and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. After a sumptuous wedding dinner Mr. and Mrs. Cornfoot left on the evening train, amid showers of confetti and hearty good wishes for their future happiness, for Toronto and other points.

In the American Magazine Eddie Collins of the Philadelphia Athletics tells how Manager Connie Mack inspires his players with confidence in themselves: "There comes to me an incident when he built McInnes' confidence wonderfully when Stuff was still doing bench duty. In a game against Chicago a critical situation was looming up. In the eighth inning the score was 5 to 4 against us. After two were out Barry signaled and Lapp came to bat. By this time Mack was beginning to fidget and squirm uneasily in his seat, something he always does when the crisis of a game seems about to break. I heard Harry Davis, who was then captain, say: "Connie! Are you going to let — bat?"

"Davis had mentioned the pitcher, a notoriously weak hitter. I saw McInnes watching Mack out of the corner of his eye. The youngster trembled eagerly, hoping for a chance to go to bat in the pinch, and I think Mack saw him too, for he said to Davis rather loudly: "You know very well who is going to hit if Lapp gets on. There's only one man I'd put up — eh?"

"Davis inclined his head toward McInnes, and Mack nodded. McInnes saw all this, as Mack meant he should. Subsequently Lapp smashed out a two base hit, putting Barry on third, and McInnes, told to go to bat, rushed out from the dugout swelling with confidence. He had heard Mack as much as say there was 'no other man on the team he would trust in this pinch' but me. McInnes at that moment possessed overwhelming self confidence. A moment later he drove out the hit that won the game. Mack's little bit of diplomacy had met with success."

Steel Windmills.

Windmills are now recording some victories in the battle with gasoline engines that has been waged in recent years, a struggle which threatened the disappearance of the picturesque windmills of Holland. Steel windmills, with steel towers and steel sails, are displacing gasoline pumping engines in some parts of Holland, the gasoline engines having displaced the old wooden windmills. They are used entirely for pumping water in keeping the low lying fields well drained.

THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1915.

People of all classes that need help are looking about for intelligent, industrious, well-behaved, gentlemanly boys. A boy of that kind is laying a good foundation for success in life.

Oiling the streets has so far proved satisfactory in Glencoe, and the results would be even better if people could be induced to drive in the centre of the road as much as possible where the oil does not cover the whole roadway.

The post office department should do away with the war stamp for letters and issue a three-cent stamp covering both postage and war tax. People who inadvertently omit to add an extra stamp when mailing their letters would be saved no little annoyance.

Manners and morals will not be neglected in the teaching of Ontario's children. The withdrawal of the first book on the subject has made way for "The Golden Rule Books," which the Minister of Education has authorized. He has notified inspectors that these books on manners and morals must be in the hands of pupils by September next.

The question of holding elections on New Year's Day may now be considered by every municipal council, previous to the 15th day of November, the latest date on which a by-law providing therefor can be passed in any year. The nominations would be on the 23rd December and elections 1st of January. If either day is a Sunday, the fol-

Hard and soft corns cannot withstand Holloway's Corn Cure. It is effective every time. Get a bottle at once and be happy.

Chas. T. Pearce, formerly with the Traders Bank at Glencoe and subsequently manager of the Toronto News, has been engaged to manage the Toronto business of McKim & Co.'s advertising agency.

The business men of Glencoe have unanimously agreed to close their shops on Wednesday afternoon of next week from one to five o'clock on occasion of the semi-jubilee picnic of the Presbyterian church.

Glencoe defeated Melbourne in a lively game of baseball at the park on Tuesday evening. Score 11 to 4. Batteries—Melbourne, Graham and Cook; Glencoe, Cleve Watterworth and Pete Leitch. The boys would like to see a larger attendance of the public at their games.

An attractive souvenir pamphlet containing an interesting historical sketch and illustrations has been issued to mark the semi-jubilee of Glencoe Presbyterian church. These are now on sale at Scott's drug store, and as the edition is limited you should get them early for yourself and friends.

There was a big raising at John McVicar's, Ferguson's Crossing, on Saturday afternoon, when the timbers for a frame barn and shed were raised. It is estimated that about a thousand people were present, including women and children. The captains were Wm. June and A. J. Purcell and the sides finished about even.

Mission sermons will be preached in St. Matthew's church, Alvinston, daily this week at 3 and 7:15 p.m. His Lordship Rt. Rev. M. F. Fallon, D. D., Bishop of London, will deliver the address at the closing exercises next Sunday, and the choir of St. Peter's Cathedral, London, will render the musical vespers in the evening.

Observation towers are being erected at several points throughout Western Ontario by the Dominion Government for military purposes. They will be about ninety feet in height and will be constructed of concrete and steel. Being on elevated positions they will command a good view of the surrounding country for a distance of some twenty miles.

Mr. and Mrs. John Secord, of Mosa, received another letter on Saturday from their son George, who is a member of the Third Field Ambulance Corps with the first Canadian Contingent. George was at the front in some of the severest battles in which the Canadian troops were engaged and gives an interesting pen picture of the dreadful carnage at Ypres and Langemark. He had many narrow escapes.

"Fruit-a-lives" Keeps Young And Old In Splendid Health

J. W. HAMMOND Esq.

SCOTLAND, ONT., Aug. 25th, 1913 "Fruit-a-lives" are the only pill manufactured, to my way of thinking. They work completely, no griping whatever, and one is plenty for any ordinary person at a dose. My wife was marty to Constipation. We tried everything on the calendar without satisfaction, and spent large sums of money until we happened on "Fruit-a-lives". I cannot say too much in their favor.

We have used them in the family for about two years and we would not use anything else as long as we can get "Fruit-a-lives". Their action is mild, and no distress at all. I have recommended them to many other people, and our whole family uses them.

J. W. HAMMOND. Those who have been cured by "Fruit-a-lives" are proud and happy to tell a sick or ailing friend about these wonderful tablets made from fruit juices. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

About the Household

Three Kinds of Cookies.

Fruit Cookies.—Beat to a cream one cup sugar, one-half cup shortening, one-half cup sweet milk, and one beaten egg; add three and one-half cups flour, three level teaspoons baking powder. Roll thin, cut out and place in pan. Put some of the following filling on each piece, place another cookie on top, and bake.

Filling for Cookies.—Three-quarters cup sugar, one heaping tablespoon flour, one cup boiling water, one cup minced raisins. Cook till thick. This filling can be changed by substituting figs, dates, English currants, or hickory nut meats in same proportion as raisins.

Extra Nice Molasses Cookies.—One cup lard pressed in solid, three cups molasses, one teaspoon ginger, one teaspoon salt. Boil this 15 minutes. Let it become thoroughly cold. I usually boil mine the day before. Take one cup of boiling water and into this put two teaspoons of soda. Hold over pan as it foams and runs over. Add flour enough to roll, taking care not to mix too hard. Roll thin and bake in a quick oven.—Mrs. D. L. T.

Orange Cookies.—Three-quarters cup butter, one cup sugar, three well beaten eggs, yolks and whites beaten separately, grated rind of two oranges, one and one-half cups flour, sifted before measured, one-half teaspoon baking powder, heaped. Drop by teaspoons on greased or wax paper and bake.—Sunbeam.

Choosing Mutton.

Mutton is generally considered the most healthful meat, and is eaten by many, to the exclusion of any variety. Consequently great care should be exercised in the selection, and a little time should be given to the study of quality.

In buying mutton (or lamb) care should be taken to see that the fat is clear, hard and white, as mutton with soft or yellow fat indicates too long a stay in cold storage. It might appear that a great quantity of fat on mutton signifies waste, but the lean part is much juicier and more tender when this is the case, so the wise housewife makes purchases with this in view.

The leg has the least fat in proportion to weight. Next comes the shoulder. The color of lean mutton is a deep red.

Lamb is good to eat when one year old and is much more digestible than other immature meat, such as veal or young pork. The wise housewife knows the value of nutrition, so she will hesitate about buying lamb merely because it is in market, as it is generally expensive.

The meat of spring lamb should be a clear pink with plenty of pure white fat.

Saving Time and Energy.

Have you ever noticed how much time and energy are wasted, almost imperceptibly too, both by men and women? In the kitchen as well as in other places in these days, when the cost of living demands many economies, it is well to remember that a saving in money, as time saved may be used otherwise.

Systematizing housework so as to avoid unnecessary steps saves both time and energy; keeping knives sharp saves time; knowing how to manage a fire saves time, fuel and temper.

Some housekeepers may not see how to save much, especially the inexperienced, in actual dollars and cents, but they can with a little forethought save a few valuable moments here and there during the day, and the total summed up will afford time to do a little embroidery, sewing, read a new book, or taking an outing of an hour by way of relaxation and renewal of nerve force.

To Keep Out Moths.

As the time is approaching when winter clothing will be put away, some advice on how to prevent damage by moths will be found useful.

First shake each garment, then brush or beat it and hang it out of doors if possible. Spray the receptacle which is to hold the woollens with turpentine and line it well with newspapers.

Fill the trunk or box with the garments, laying them smoothly and with newspapers between them. Put newspapers over the top.

Should moths be seen during the warm months raise the cover of the trunk or box, remove the top papers and spray the things lightly (if not perishable colors) with turpentine and put fresh newspapers on top (moths abhor printers ink).

Moths are said not to lay eggs where kerosene has been sprinkled.

This plan of prevention has been in use for years with success. The odor of kerosene and turpentine disappears very quickly.

By Way of Helping.

It will be found a great help if cooking utensils are filled with water as soon as emptied of food instead of being allowed to stand. The sooner they are washed the better and easier it is. If dishes must wait-free them of scraps, then put them to soak; cover with a towel or paper.

Do not throw away clean tissue paper; fold it neatly, put a rubber band around it, then place it with your kitchen towels; it will be found satisfactory for polishing lamp chimneys and gas or electric light globes and to wipe out the grease from frying pans before washing.

It is very annoying to have a small cooking utensil tip over on the range, as it will occasionally do. It can be avoided by simply placing a flat tin lid, such as comes on land cans, then put your cup or whatever it may be over it.

An earthenware casserole, or any dish, should be soaked in salty or soda water for twenty-four hours before using, so as to avoid cracking. Treated thus its term of usefulness will be prolonged.

Hints for the Home.

Nerve specialists now realize that weakness of life is dangerous to health.

Salt in the oven placed over the baking plates will prevent the pastry from scorching at the bottom.

To help to purify the air of a sick room place a bowl of clean water in the room, and change it every day.

A paste of common baking soda and water spread on a burn will stop the pain and inflammation almost immediately.

Scientists have discovered that disease germs quickly die when they come in contact with the ordinary floor covering known as linoleum. This is thought to be due to the disinfectant properties of linseed oil which is found in linoleum.

Vegetables, Fruits, and Honey.

Bulletin No. 184, on "The Uses of Vegetables, Fruits, and Honey," has just been issued in revised form by the Ontario Department of Agriculture, for distribution to the members of the Women's Institutes, although anyone desiring a copy will receive one free upon application. It is packed with information of a most useful and valuable nature to women who desire to be successful housekeepers. The uses of vegetables are given a very wide treatment, and some of the recipes under this heading will surprise as well as delight the thrifty and tasteful woman who reads them. Instructions on cooking, salad making, and dressings are fully given, attention being well divided between the plain and fancy dishes. It is the same with fruits. Hints on handling fruits raw, cooked or in combination form, and as canned or jellied, are many, and some of the receipts are among the very best. Housewives may also learn much that will be new to them regarding the culinary uses of honey, especially in cake-making. Any woman with this bulletin at hand can at any time of the year bring forth out of her domestic treasure things new and old for both the hungry and the dainty.

Cheering for the Patient.

Cautious Doctor: Excuse me for bringing you my bill; but you know how difficult it is to get money out of anyone's heirs.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

INTERNATIONAL LESSON,
JUNE 13.

Lesson XI. The Blessedness of Forgiveness.—Psa. 32. Golden Text, Psa. 32. 1.

I. The Heavy Hand of Sin (Verses 1-4).

Verses 1, 2. These verses recite the "blessing of forgiveness." Saint Paul, in Romans 4, uses them forcibly in his argument.

Blessed—Our Psalter (Psa. 1. 1) begins with this word and weaves its happy charm throughout the music of praise and thanksgiving. The word means "happy," as all blessing must bring happiness.

Transgression—sin—iniq- uity—These words frequently recur in the Old Testament. They mean, respectively, (1) rebellion, a forcible breaking of God's law; (2) "missing the mark," or wandering from the way; and (3) depravity, grave moral delinquency. These three words are repeated in verse 5.

Forgiveness—covered—imputed—not iniquity—A threefold pardon including all wrongdoing. "Forgive" means to take away the burden (see John 1. 29); "cover" implies making the sin to disappear so as not to meet the eye of the judge; and "not to impute iniquity" is in the nature of a cancellation of the debt which the debtor owes, but which he will not be required to pay.

Guide—Deceitfulness. Absence of iniquity cannot be imputed where guile remains. There must be neither self-deception nor an attempt to deceive God.

3. Bones—In Hebrew poetry, "the bones" denote the fundamental part of the living organism. In Proverbs, they are spoken of as the seat of health (16. 24); in Psa. 6. 2, of pain or vexation; in Psa. 22. 14, the psalmist's bones (that is, the man himself, soul and spirit as well as body) are "out of joint" because of the persecution of his enemies; in Psa. 35. 10, all his bones thrill for joy because of deliverance.

4. Moisture—Figuratively, the vital sap, or juice, of the living organism.

II. Penitence Before Forgiveness (Verses 5-7).

5. I acknowledged my sin—This is the first step to peace and happiness. The penitence must be complete and whole-hearted. Nothing may be withheld. It is well to emphasize this fact because from the beginning man had deluded himself by thinking he need not confess "all." An infinitesimal piece of decay in a tooth will make the covering of silver and gold invalid. Thou forgoest—Although the weight of sin was enormous, Jehovah lifted it all as soon as entire repentance was made.

6. For this—"Therefore"—an exhortation spontaneously issuing from the life of one who has made the experience.

Mayest be found—Throughout the Old Testament is an implication that a time may come for an individual when the forgiving God may not be found. (See especially Isa. 55. 6; also Deut. 4. 29; Jer. 29. 13; Prov. 1. 28; Eccl. 12. 1, and frequently in the Psalms).

Great waters overflow—Floods were frequent in Palestine; the thought was not wholly lacking that the Mediterranean might inundate the country. (See Psa. 18. 16; Isa. 28. 2, 17; 30. 28; Nah. 1. 8).

III. Instruction From the Most High (Verses 8-11).

8. I will instruct thee—Jehovah, and not (as some commentators say) the psalmist, is speaking. No human speaker would dare to say, I will counsel thee with mine eye upon thee. (See Psa. 33. 18; 34.

15; Jer. 24. 6, and in many other passages.)

9, 10. As the brute animal cannot reason and must be controlled, man is warned not to become like him.

Many sorrows will be upon them who thus become "brutish" (see Psa. 49. 10, 12, 20; 73. 22; Jer. 10. 14, 21; also Job 33. 19), but loving-kindness, or mercy, will be about him that trusteth in Jehovah.

WOMEN STATION PORTERS.

"Carry Your Luggage, Sir?" Cry to English Passengers.

While women have replaced men in outdoor employment to a certain extent and have even taken the place of the elevator boy and the man in uniform whose particular function it is to deliver goods at the door it is only quite recently that the experiment of replacing male porters who have gone to the front has been tried. The innovation has met with considerable success on the Great Central Railroad.

"The women have been chosen from a number that have been doing car cleaning for some time, and doing it uncommonly well," said an official. The women porters work on the platforms only, as the authorities are anxious that they should not run the same risks as the men.

There has been some criticism, but mostly of a good humored nature, and the women have slipped into their work so well that passengers are beginning to take them for granted. One of the most astonished arrivals recently was a young officer with a heavy kit bag and a quantity of other luggage who found himself relieved of it by an Amazon with a badge on her arm, who put him, luggage and all, in a taxicab before he had time to realize where he was, and, in just as businesslike a way, pocketed his tip.

Before the war there were between 50 and 60 women in the Great Central Railway Company's service. Now there are about 400. These include ticket sorters, typists, shorthand writers, telegraphists and telephone operators. Recently they have been taken into the general manager's office for secretarial work.

"Women have their limitations, but there is plenty of scope for them," was the opinion of a high official of this railway, who added that 4,000 men from the Great Central had joined the army, 200 of whom had already appeared in the casualty lists.

DARK NEUVE CHAPPELLE.

Meig Scott, in the "Edinburgh Scotsman."

Ah! far frae their mountain-girt homes
They died for their country, our brave,
gallant men;
But the women and children at home
they are weepin'
For the husbands and fathers they will ne'er see again.

Oh, the swing o' the kilt! How it sets
the tears startin' (There's a glamour about it that makes the heart swell)
For their money a baw had that wore
Lies asleep in his cold bed at dark Neuve Chapelle.

Oh! wild hills o' Scotland, when spring's Oh, charms unfold ye,
Oh, moors growin' green 'neath
spring's magical spell, There's monny an eye that was wont to behold ye
Is closed now for ever at dark Neuve Chapelle.

There's monny a voice that would sound
o'er the heather,
When its deep purple waves rolled
Will sound there no more now, for silent for ever,
Our brave lads lie sleepin' at dark
Neuve Chapelle.

On the green graves at home here the spring flowers are creepin',
For the kind heart's love them
have tended them well,
But there's monny a Scottish heart
near to be keepin'
A watch on the new graves at dark
Neuve Chapelle.

Oh! lads o' the tartan, no more ye'll be turnin'
To the land where your dyin' eyes
looked as ye fell;
But there's monny a wae heart in Scotland
is mournin'
For the lads that are lyin' at dark
Neuve Chapelle.

Grieving and Suffering With Us

It Is Not the Will of God That Disasters Overtake Nations or Individuals.

"It is not the will of your Father . . . that one of these little ones should perish."—Matthew xviii. 14.

Here in this text is the perfect answer to the oldtime and, unfortunately, still surviving superstition that the pains and perils of human existence are in some mysterious way to be related to the will of God. It would seem, on the face of things, to be blasphemy to charge God with responsibility for the disasters from which men suffer. Any earthly ruler who should exercise such a monstrous "will" as is implied in this doctrine of divine sovereignty would forfeit at once the allegiance, to say nothing of the love, of his people. But let a little child perish miserably in its mother's arms, a steamship sink with passengers in the sea, famine or plague decimate a country's population, war engulf the nations of the world, and always there are those who declare that this tragedy is the will of God and must therefore be endured with equanimity.

That this conception has done much to give the healing balm of consolation to bleeding hearts and thus to reconcile men to the ills of their present lot is obvious. But it is likewise obvious, as Professor Eliot has pointed out in his "Religion of the Future," that this same conception has done infinite mischief in the world by inducing men to be patient under sufferings or deprivations against which they should have incessantly struggled. Once get a man persuaded that it is the will of God that a baby should die of typhoid fever, a child laborer be killed in the shaft of a coal mine, the Titanic strike an iceberg, a famine sweep India, and he is paralyzed of all effort to overcome these ills. But once get a man persuaded that "it is not the will of [God] . . . that one of these little ones should perish," and instantly he is transfigured. Typhoid fever! It is the result of bad sanitation! Child labor! Fruit of human greed! The loss of the Titanic! The epitome of human rashness and perversity! Famine! The periodical consequence of bad agricultural methods! Poverty! An exact measure of the stupidity and waste of our economic system of distribution! War! The hideous consequence of dynastic power, national pride and the craze of armaments! No one of them is wrought in the fibre of the universe. Each is the consequence not of God's will but of man's ignorance, indifference, rashness, lust, hate. And lo! transfigured by this discovery, man does so will! He takes up arms "against [this] sea of troubles and, by opposing, ends them." And therewith God's kingdom comes and His will is done on earth as it is in heaven.

Such is the wondrous change in man's attitude toward the universe under the influence of this new conception of the divine purpose. And this change, be it noted, is achieved without any loss of that factor of reconciliation which was so great a merit of the old theology. On the contrary. For what greater consolation can we ask than the thought that disasters are "not the will of God"; that He is grieving for us and suffering with us; that we have but to clear our vision and learn His mind to prevent the recurrence of ills to ourselves and unnumbered generations after us? "God doth not afflict willingly, neither doth he grieve the children of men," says the psalmist, and this for the reason that "it is not the will of our Father . . . that one of these little ones should perish."

POULTRY

What Breed to Buy.

Long before you get your poultry house ready you will be thinking of the question of breed. Perhaps you already have your favorite. If so, the question is an easy one, and you have only to select some dependable breeder and buy your stock. Buy yearlings from strains that are good egg producers. By this we mean birds from a strain which has been gradually bred up to laying from 150 to 200 eggs yearly without loss of vitality.

Really, the question of breed is largely one of individual preference rather than marked superiority. Any one of the standard breeds will give you an abundance of eggs if you do your part. If you prefer white eggs of course you will want some of the Mediterranean class. White Leghorns are generally credited with being the most prolific layers, not only of this class, but of the poultry world.

Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes and Rhode Island Reds lay brown eggs. These breeds are larger than the Leghorns, and are referred to by their champions as general-purpose fowls, being in addition to good layers fine table birds.

Buy one cock or cockerel for 8 to 10 hens of the heavier breeds, or from 12 to 15 hens of Leghorns and that class.

How to Preserve Eggs.

There are many solutions offered for this problem. Nearly all of them are more or less satisfactory, according as they are put into use efficiently or not. Salt and lime will keep eggs fresh, if they are taken directly from the nest, cooled right out at once, and placed in the singlass method. Eggs may be kept for a long time, and safely, if they are taken strictly new-laid to begin with, wrapped in pieces of paper, and packed away in a cool, clean, sweet cellar.

To get the best results, it is always best to pack only eggs laid late in the season, when the weather is already cool, and when the time between storing and consumption is, after all, much shorter. It is scarcely practical to pack eggs away, to lie in storage through the heat of summer, and find them very choice for the following winter use. It can be done in cold storage plants, but even then the egg is far from the same in quality as a new-laid egg.

If eggs are carefully kept sterile to begin with, are gathered every day, are at once placed in storage by the use of any of these methods, and are kept in a cool cellar, they will keep for a long time, long enough to afford a good winter's supply. For the greater part, it all depends upon the thoroughness with which the job is done.

White Leghorn Best.

The best known fowl in America to-day is the White Leghorn. It is the egg machine of the poultry family and as such is highly esteemed. Many individuals and flocks of this variety have established enviable records for egg production from one to three years and whenever any man starts a poultry farm on a commercial basis he invariably stocks up with Leghorns.

In certain sections, however, it is difficult to prevent the large single combs from freezing and in the northern parts the Rose Combed White Leghorn is valued and used. Its large, thick rose comb is not so easily affected by frost as are the single combs, therefore the possibility of a more uniform production of eggs in winter from the rose combed hens is assured.

In every way the Rose-Combed White Leghorn is like its single combed sister—in size, shape, color and characteristics of large production of eggs, fertility, hatchability, quick growth and early maturity, so that in latitudes where severe frosts are common this variety of the Leghorn is the best to use.

They were undoubtedly created by crossing White Hamburgs with White Leghorns, but nothing of the egg laying characteristic was lost in the cross, as both parents are rated as exceptional layers.

Take Anything.

An Irishman knocked at a door one day and asked the lady of the house if she could help him, as he was hard up and on the road. "Indeed I'll not," she replied, "and if you don't clear out of this I'll call my husband, who is a policeman, and he'll come and take you." "I quite believe ye, missis," retorted Pat. "He'd take anything when he took you."

HEALTH

Injuries to the Abdomen.

So many important organs of the body lie within the abdominal walls that an injury to that part of the body is likely to be very serious. Injuries to the abdomen may be of two kinds: first, open wounds, made by any penetrating instrument, or by a bullet; and, second, contusions and bruises of all sorts, or rupture of the muscles by some unusual exertion.

An open wound of the abdomen that does not reach any of the internal organs is generally a simple matter, and heals quickly with the proper treatment; but when the wound is deep enough to injure the liver, or the kidneys, or the spleen, it becomes a very serious matter. There is a physical and nervous shock that of itself may kill the patient. That shock is the first thing for the physician to deal with, especially if it is complicated with severe hemorrhage, which is very likely to be the case.

When the sufferer has rallied and the bleeding has been checked, there is still the menace of peritonitis, or acute inflammation of the peritoneum, which is the membrane that lines the abdominal walls. When peritonitis is confined to one part of the abdomen, it usually produces adhesions that shut off the affected part from the rest of the peritoneum, and thus helps to prevent the spread of the inflammation.

But the infection that spreads quickly over the whole peritoneum is generally fatal. The inflammation is always the result of germs that produce pus, and the germs usually enter from without, when the wound is produced by an infected knife or bullet; although the infection is sometimes of internal origin, from ruptured intestines.

When a person has a bad wound of the abdomen, the shock and the hemorrhage call for immediate treatment, together with attention to the open wound, and a doctor cannot be called too quickly. If he cannot come at once, it cannot do any harm to elevate the foot of the bed and maintain the body heat by artificial means, such as hot bottles, mustard applied over the heart, and so on. It is also a good plan to give the sufferer a drink of hot coffee with or without other stimulants. By these means the patient can be helped to rally, so that when the doctor arrives he may be able to stand more vigorous treatment.

Cure of Dandruff.

There seems to be so many people suffering from dandruff from the number of queries sent in on the matter, that a little general advice upon this troublesome complaint will no doubt be appreciated. There are different kinds of dandruff; one comes from the scalp being too dry, and in spite of all the combing and brushing the dry scales of loose skin accumulate and produce great irritation. Another kind is oily and seems to permeate the hair itself down to the very tips. The first step is to get a mixture of equal parts of soft soap and eau-de-Cologne. Any chemist will mix a four-ounce bottle, which will last quite a long time. Two spoonfuls of the mixture in a half-pint of warm water makes a splendid wash for the head.

Be careful to rinse every particle of soap from the hair with tepid water, then dry carefully with a soft towel. The scalp will now be thoroughly cleaned; if you are suffering from the oily dandruff get the following mixture from the chemist:—Otto of roses, 1 drop; oil of bergamot, 3 drops; tannic acid, 60 grains; pure glycerine, a sufficiency; white vaseline, 60 grains; cold cream, 1 ounce. Part the hair with a comb and rub the dressing into the partings until you have rubbed all the scalp; then thoroughly brush with a soft brush, when the hair will look clean and glossy. If the dandruff consists of scaly, white, hard shiny particles, which fall over the clothes in showers when the hair is brushed, use after washing and drying the following dressing:—Otto of roses, 1 drop; oil of bergamot, 3 drops; lanoline, 60 grains; cold cream, 1 ounce. At first this treatment must be continued daily, then as the dandruff becomes less at longer intervals, and finally, once a week.—A Physician.

Health Hints.

According to statistics 400 years ago the average length of human life was between 15 and 20 years; 100 years ago the average human life was less than 30. The average human life to-day reaches nearly 40 years.

Every mother ought to know something about the care of children's eyes. Defective eyesight, which is so common nowadays, is largely the result of ignorance. Excessive study at school, faulty positions when reading and writing, bad light for work will cause short sight in after life. Short sight, contrary to popular opinion, is not a hereditary affection. The young child is never short-sighted. Not until about the age of 9 does the defect make itself felt, and from then it becomes steadily worse unless it receives care and attention.

Girls Take the Place of English Farmers Who Have Gone to the Front.

In connection with the scheme put forward by the British Board of Agriculture, a farm institute in Hampshire, at Sparsholt, has been organized where the girls are taught to take the place of men in a very branch of farm work. The girls are seen following the harrow.

A Story From The Front.

One of our men came back from the trenches wearing a very fine pair of boots. They were greatly admired, and he was asked how he came by them. He got out of his trench at night, he said, crept over to the enemy's lines, stunned a German with the butt of his rifle, removed the German's boots, and managed to get back with them. An Irish soldier who was going into the trenches heard this, and vowed that he, too, would get a pair of fine German boots. When he reached his trench he lost no time in making his way stealthily towards the German lines. One hour—two hours—three hours went by. Then at last he returned to his anxious comrades. "Where have you been, Pat, all the time? What has happened?" they asked. "Begorra," he chuckled, "I've got the finest pair of boots in the Irish army. But I had to knock forty-five Germans on the head before I could find a pair that would fit me."

The Transcript.

THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1915.

Appin

Appin, June 5.—Rev. A. U. Campbell is attending the meeting of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Kingston.

Mrs. Gould has gone to Toronto, to leave her child in the Hospital for Sick Children, for a second operation.

Mrs. Eddie has gone for a two weeks' visit among old friends in East Williams.

James Glasgow, and family have moved to town, having purchased the Boyd property.

The West Lorne baseball team defeated the Appin team at Appin yesterday by a score of 9 to 7. Batteries:—West Lorne—Fowler and Gray. Appin—Fletcher and McIntyre. Umpires—Watterworth and Clark.

Appin, June 8.—The game of ball between Melbourne and Appin teams was called off on account of rain, and date is not yet set for the game.

David McDonald has purchased a new auto.

John McEachern, of Edmonton, Alberta, is visiting his sister, Mrs. David McDonald.

James Lotan lost a valuable mare from inflammation the other day.

Don't forget the lawn social next Wednesday, June 16th, under auspices of the Women's Institute.

Arrangements are being made for the monstrous lawn social to be held on August 11th and it is expected to eclipse last year's, which was a great success.

Mrs. Howard Watterworth, who has been visiting in Appin, has left to visit friends in and around Glencoe.

Mrs. J. S. Macraut expects to leave to visit her brother in the West on or about the 1st of July.

George Huston made a brief visit to London yesterday.

Cyrus Henry and L. L. McTaggart left for London yesterday to attend county council.

Geo. Stacey, our harness-maker for a number of years, has left Appin and removed to Glencoe. Appin's loss—Glencoe's gain.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. C. McDonald spent Sunday with friends near Rodney.

Lewis Payne is preparing to build a new house on his farm.

J. E. Laughton is able to be out again after four weeks' illness.

Delaware plays their opening game with Appin at Appin June 16th, in connection with the Women's Institute garden party.

"MAN IS FILLED WITH MISERY."—This is not true of all men. The well sound of lung, clear of eye, alert and buoyant with health, are not miserable, whatever may be their social condition. To be well is to be happy, and we can all be well by getting and keeping our bodies in a healthful state. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will help all to do this.

Newbury

Miss Flossie Heatherington left on Tuesday last for Tilbury on a visit at the parsonage, the guest of Mrs. C. P. Wells.

Mrs. Yates and daughter, Jennie Weaver, accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Duncan Purcell, and Mr. Purcell on a motor trip to Galt and Beamsville, leaving on Saturday morning.

Mrs. Dobbey, of Florence, is visiting her son G. D.

Mr. Goodfellow, of Galt, is visiting in town.

Ed. Gilleland, of Oakville, assisted the choir and sang a solo at the song service in Knox church on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucas and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Whittaker and little Dona Stephenson motored from Windsor, spending Sunday at J. Gay's.

Rev. F. W. Craik was ordained on Sunday at St. Mary's, he having successfully passed all his examinations.

Miss Batsner, of London, is visiting Miss Graydon.

Mrs. Gilbert Fletcher and Master Ronald are visiting at Duncan Fletcher's. A letter was received last week from Gilbert from Ottawa, he being there on his way with others for the front as reinforcements.

The people of this vicinity are to have an opportunity to hear the Welsh Ladies' Choir on Saturday, June 12th. They come under the auspices of the Women's Institute, the proceeds being for the Red Cross Fund.

Mrs. Manning, of London, is visiting Mrs. Tryon.

All Night with Asthma. Everyone knows how attacks of asthma often keep their victim awake the whole night long. Morning finds him wholly unfitted for a day of business, and yet business must be carried on. All this night suffering and lack of rest can be avoided by the prompt use of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy, which positively does drive away the attacks.

Wardville

Wardville, June 7.—Supplementary meetings of the Women's Institute are being held through the district. Thursday evening the local institute held a public meeting in the town hall, when an excellent address was given by Mrs. Rose Stephens, of Quebec.

The subject was "Our Environment." The ladies of the community are asked to meet at the hall next Thursday evening to organize for the purpose of assisting the Red Cross Society and aiding the boys at the front. Much has already been done, but it is thought better work can be done through an active living organization.

At the board of education meeting Miss Gundry was re-engaged as principal of the high school, and Miss Millard as assistant. The board passed a resolution of sympathy and condolence to one of its members, Wm. Blott, and family, on account of the death of Charles MacGregor Blott, who recently fell in battle in Flanders.

WOODGREEN.

Woodgreen, June 8.—Mrs. A. McIntyre spent Sunday with Elijah Lumley.

Mr. and Mrs. Major Grover spent Sunday at Charles Grover's.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Clark and daughter Donna, of Hamburg, Iowa, are visiting friends at West Lorne, Woodgreen and Glencoe.

Pleased to see so many attending the Sunday School at No. 3, Mossa.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Watterworth attended the Grant-Gage wedding on June 3rd.

Miss Lila Grover is enjoying a much needed rest under the parental roof.

Pleased to hear J. D. Brown is making good recovery at the hospital in London.

Bert Gould, of London, is making extensive alterations on his house and intends to reside here permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. Jameson, of Forest, spent Sunday with friends at Woodgreen.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lumley, of Detroit, are visiting their many friends around here.

Dr. Frank Watterworth, of Detroit, was a visitor here on Monday.

EKFRID STATION.

EKFRID Station, June 8.—J. L. Hull is improving his residence with a new coat of paint.

Dan Black has disposed of his driver and purchased a new Ford car.

Straw pressers have been busily engaged in this neighborhood for the past week.

Rev. Mr. Weir, of Glencoe, will preach in the schoolhouse next Sabbath evening at the usual hour.

Mrs. Charles Howie has returned to her home in London after spending a week with her parents here.

One trial of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will convince you that it has no equal as a worm medicine. Buy a bottle and see if it does not please you.

KILMARTIN.

Miss Mary E. Munroe is visiting in Walkerville.

Misses Kate and Bessie McAlpine are visiting friends in Lakeside and Kintore.

About 25 young ladies met at the home of Miss Annie McKellar prior to her marriage and presented her with a miscellaneous shower, after which lunch was served and an enjoyable evening spent.

Mrs. McMichael, of London, is the guest of Mrs. R. E. McAlpine.

Miller's Worm Powders are not surpassed by any other preparation as a vermifuge or worm destroyer. Indeed, there are few preparations that have the merit that it has to recommend it. Mothers, aware of its excellence, seek its aid at the first indication of the presence of worms in their children, knowing that it is a perfectly trustworthy medicine that will give immediate and lasting relief.

Melbourne

Melbourne, June 4.—A large number from here attended the races at Glencoe on June 3 and all report a good time.

Mrs. Harry Munce visited in Glencoe this week.

The North Ekfrid ball team, well backed by a bunch of rooters, paid the town a visit on Tuesday evening and put one over the high school team by a score of 13-4.

Mr. J. B. Cornille is suffering from a serious attack of diphtheria.

James Martin has been appointed manager of the Palace Livery at St. Thomas.

KILMARTIN.

Peter McNeil, of Dawn, visited friends here on Sunday.

Mrs. Neil McLachlan, we are sorry to say, is under medical treatment.

John Dewar, who is in Victoria Hospital with appendicitis, was operated on about a week ago and is improving.

Metcalfe Council.

Meeting of Metcalfe council as court of revision on assessment roll, May 31, 1915. Members all present.

Appeals of Mrs. Beckett, Len Merick and J. D. McIntyre were in, asking that the assessment of their dogs be struck off as they were disposed of.
