DOUBLE SHOOTING TRAGEDY

Laboring under the apprehension that he might have to face trial for the death of his chum, Joseph R. Barnes, aged 16, who was accidentally killed while on a hunting expedition in the woods near Alvinston on Saturday afternoon, it is believed that John A. Horspool, also aged 16, turned the rifle on himself, death resulting almost instantaneously.

Barnes and Horspool, accompanied by several other boy chums, started out on a hunting trip. After journeying a short distance in the woods they sighted a squirrel, and armed with .32 calibre rifles stood one on each side of the tree awaiting its descent. When the squirrel descended, Horspool fired, but instead of snuffing out the life of the furry creature, the bullet found lodgment in Barnes' brain, causing almost instant death.

As Barnes fell, Horspool ran away, stating he was going for medical assistance. His last words were: "I've killed him. I've killed him." A minute later his companions heard another shot, quite near by. An investigation was held and the body of Horspool was found with a gaping wound through his head.

The tragedy occurred on the farm of Neil McLean. Horspool's home was near Bridgen. He was visiting his sister, near Alvinston, at the time. The parents of Barnes reside on a farm near Alvinston.

FORMER WARDEN DEAD

Appin, Nov. 3.—The death of Geo. B. Campbell occurred in the general hospital at Wetaskiwin, Alberta, on Friday afternoon, Oct. 31. The deceased had been ailing for some few months, never having fully recovered from the flu last winter. About two weeks ago he was stricken with pneumonia and with the weakened condition of the heart he failed to recover.

The funeral was held from his late residence in Wetaskiwin. His brother, Angus, was with him when he died. He was the third son of the late Angus Campbell, J. P. of Appin. Besides his widow and two young daughters he leaves to mourn five brothers and one sister: J. Ferguson (Campbell, of Yearbook, Mont.; Dr. T. F. of Wickenburg, Arizona; Angus, of Grand Prairie, Alberta; Samuel E. of Dutton, and J. Harry, of Toronto, and Mrs. J. S. Macrae, of Appin. George B. Campbell was an ex-warden of the county of Middlesex. He also ran against Sir George W. Ross over 20 years ago.

JUNIOR AUXILIARY ENTERTAINS

On Wednesday evening of last week six of the girls of the Junior W. A. of St. John's church treated a large audience in the school room to a really superb, humorous and most interesting performance at the close of a good program. R. Singleton, S. Humphries, Corporal Hartley, Mrs. McGeachy, Miss Moss, Miss Garbutt and the Misses Westcott ably supplied the first part of the evening's program with songs, readings, recitations and pianoforte selections. The J. W. A. then gave their one-act play entitled "Our Aunt From California." It is not too much to say that the young people were inimitable in their impersonation of the various characters, and fairly "brought down the house." Mary Westcott, as sister and aunt, excelled herself. Jessie Currie, as the real aunt and make-believe dressmaker, was all that could be desired. Isabella McGaffey, as the mother, took her part with dignity and efficiency. Frances Moss and Arlie Parrott, as the two sisters endeavoring to please the aunt, left the impression that they were thoroughly conversant with their parts. Hilda Allen, as the dressmaker, went through her part without a hitch, and Della Squire acquitted herself splendidly. In fact the audience were one and all enchanted with the evening's entertainment. The young people were superintended throughout by the president, Mrs. T. J. Charlton. The entertainment closed with the National Anthem. The rector was in the chair. From the proceeds the society have given the Sunday school $10 towards requisites.

WANTS $35 FOR BEAVER

In a communication to the St. Thomas authorities in charge of the Pinafore Park zoo, Samuel Leitch of Newbury informed them of the capture about a year ago of the beaver that escaped from there. He had found the little wanderer on his farm and had kept it a cage ever since. For his time and trouble and other incidental expenses he considered himself entitled to $35, and expressed his willingness to deliver the beaver to the city when that amount was forthcoming.

When a man turns over a new leaf he is never satisfied until he gets it blotted up worse than the old one.

GERMAN MOTION PICTURE FILMS OF U-BOAT MURDERS FOUND

Camera Men on Submarine Took Views of Undersea Vessels Shelling British Ships—Were Designed For Exhibition in Germany.

A despatch from New York says:—Motion picture films taken from the archives of Grand Admiral von Tirpitz in the former Kaiser's admiralty, and showing allied vessels being torpedoed by German U-boats during the world war, have been brought here by J. H. Mackum, a Knight of Columbus secretary. The films, which were designed for exhibition by Germany on the day of its triumph, were made by camera men on a submarine which was commissioned to cruise about the Irish Coast and photograph merchant vessels after they had been attacked by undersea craft. This boat used more than 40,000 feet of film.

CANADA SELLS SURPLUS WHEAT

Receives Cash For Every Bushel of Grain.

A despatch from London says:—With contracts with Britain, Belgium and Italy for the supply of wheat signed, and contracts with France, Poland and Portugal for wheat, barley and flour, now under negotiation, Canada sees her way clear to the disposal of the whole of the year's exportable grain surplus. So far over 800,000 tons of wheat are actually contracted for. It is expected there will shortly be an announcement of the sale of 200,000 tons of wheat to France, which will be paid for on a cash basis, and a sale of flour, which will probably be financed under the French credit of $25,000,000. It is understood Poland is dickering for wheat, but there is difficulty in the matter of payment, and Portugal has enquired for Canadian barley. Canada has not sold a bushel of wheat except for cash, as it is considered our foreign credits should not be used for the supply of such a necessity, wheat being almost legal tender in Europe, these days. The Dominion's greatest difficulty has been to sell flour, and France may therefore be allowed to use her credit to pay for what she takes in that line.

High Prices For Canadian War Goods

A despatch from London says:—Dealers and the general public are very keen to get hold of surplus Canadian military stores. A five-day sale, including a varied assortment of 2,400 lots, realized $3,300. Some prices obtained were phenomenal. Canadian grey blankets, costing 29 shillings a pair new, sold for 19 shillings a pair after four years' wear. Tools brought higher prices than their original cost. New boots fetched 21 shillings a pair. Repaired boots went at 11 shillings. Repaired boots, not guaranteed, made 6 shillings 9 pence. Much used type-writers—128 Underwoods—realized 20 per cent. over cost. The highest price obtained was $25.

British Warships to Carry Commercial Men

A despatch from London says:—British commercial travelers and the representatives of business houses are to be permitted passage aboard every British warship leaving the country for abroad. This, according to Sir Hamar Greenwood, Under-Secretary for Home Affairs, who made the announcement before the Association of British Chambers of Commerce, is "a move unique in the history of the Empire." Walter Hume Long, the First Lord of the Admiralty, has given his assent to this special service, Sir Hamar declared.

French and Arab Troops To Replace British in Syria

A despatch from London says:—Andrew Bonar Law, Government leader in the House of Commons, announced that the Government was arranging with France and Prince Feisal, son of the King of the Hedjaz, for the immediate withdrawal of the British troops from Syria and the assumption of the duties of occupation by the French and Arabs, pending the conclusion of the peace treaty.

Ontario's New Prime Minister

Ernest Charles Drury, who is likely to be Ontario's next Premier, farms 250 acres at Crown Hill. Crown Hill is one of those little places that lost its postoffice when rural mail routes were organized, but it is about five miles from Barrie on the "Penetang" road. Two hundred acres of Mr. Drury's possessions were selected and purchased by Mr. Drury's great-grandfather in 1819, and have been in possession of the family ever since. The new leader is a good, practical farmer, with the added advantage of a course at the Guelph College and the degree of B.S.A. He hasn't specialized in his farming to any great extent, though perhaps he takes more pride in his herd of dual-purpose Shorthorns than in anything else. Of late years he has given much attention to the U.F.O. movement, with particular relation to the tariff. Always he has been active in the community life at Crown Hill. The fact that the church and the school are almost at his door made easy his attendance at these meetings places. The new leader is a little over forty years of age, is strong and well built, and has a determined look. His family consists of wife and five children, three boys and two girls. His eldest son will be able to run the farm while father runs the politics of the Province. In religion Mr. Drury is a Methodist.

E. C. Drury, who has been chosen leader of the United Farmers-Labor parties in Ontario.

Treaty Effective On Armistice Day

A despatch from London says:—The German Peace Treaty may come into effect on the anniversary of Armistice Day. It was announced by Cecil Harmsworth, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, in the House of Commons, that the Government hoped the treaty would be formally ratified on November 11 and come into force the same day.

Payments Made Russia By Britain in Two Years

A despatch from London says:—Cecil Harmsworth, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, in the House of Commons, said that Constantin Nabokoff, who represented Russia at London, had received from Great Britain, between March, 1917, and March, 1919, when payments ceased, more than $184,000,000.

United States Will Not Discriminate Against Canada.
Ottawa, Nov. 2.—There will be no discrimination against Canada in the matter of coal supply from the United States, the Government has been informed, and Canada will have her share of the output the same as before. This was the statement of Sir George Foster, Acting Premier, to the Canadian Press to-night.

Arab Horse Given To King George
A despatch from London says:—The Arab stallion and a 250-year-old golden sword which belonged to a Monarch of Persia were presented to King George at Buckingham Palace by Sheikh Ahmed, a nephew of the present ruler of Kuwait.

40,000 Died of Starvation In Petrograd in One Month
Stockholm, Nov. 2.—A despatch to the Tidningen from Helsingfors says the famine in Petrograd is assuming terrible proportions. Forty thousand persons have died from starvation within a month, it is declared.

Majority to Go to France and Italy, Consent of Allies.
A despatch from Paris says:—The Germans must make reparation for the destruction of the Scaea Flow fleet, but this must be paid in other naval material or in property of the German Government which otherwise would not be subject to reparations. This is the decision of the Supreme Council after hearing reports on the matter, these reports holding Germany responsible for the sinking.

DIVIDE REMAINING GERMAN WARSHIPS

Majority to Go to France and Italy, Consent of Allies.

In this connection it is learned that the United States and Great Britain are about to consent that the remaining German warships shall be divided instead of being destroyed, the majority going to France and Italy. This represents a victory for the French.

GERMANY MUST MAKE GOOD ALL VIOLATIONS OF ARMISTICE

Compelled to Surrender Cruisers and Destroyers to Replace Those Sunk at Scapa Flow and Surrender Equipment of Equal Value to Battleships.

Paris, Nov. 2.—Demand will be made of Germany that all violations of the armistice shall be made good. This has been called upon by the Supreme Council, which has completed the protocol to the German treaty. The protocol provides that Germany shall surrender cruisers and destroyers to replace those sunk at Scapa Flow, and also surrender floating dry-docks, lighters, trams, guns and other naval equipments equal in value to that of the first-class battleships destroyed, which Germany cannot replace.

Unique Gift to Prince From Montreal Hebrews

A despatch from Montreal says:—Gifts of many kinds have been presented to the Prince of Wales during his tour of the Dominion, but one that differed from the rest was that presented to him during his visit to the Baron de Hirsch Institute. A tablet of gold, on which were carved the Ten Commandments, was presented to the Prince, the tablet being handed to him by Sylvia Lillian Cohen, the nine-year-old daughter of Mr. Lyon Cohen. The commandments were in Hebrew characters, but the words "Presented to his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales from the Jewish citizens of Montreal" were in English.

Many Trains Discontinued By United States Railroads

New York, Nov. 2.—Sixty-one trains on the various branches of the New York Central Railroad and nine on the West Shore Railroad will be discontinued temporarily to conserve the fuel supply because of the coal strike, it was announced officially here to-day.

UNITED STATES FEDERAL ORDER FAILS TO CHECK MINERS' WALKOUT

United Mine Workers of America Go Out Without Leadership—Federal Government Seizing Coal Supplies.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Information obtained from the bituminous coal fields of the United States, in which more than 400,000 members of the United Mine Workers of America have been ordered out on strike, to-night indicated that there would be nothing which could check the momentum of the walkout despite the temporary restraining order which was issued Friday in the United States District Court at Indianapolis. Deprived of the directing heads of its leaders, as a result of injunction, the membership of the union was prepared to enter the first full working day since the strike order became effective in an effort to demonstrate its ability to halt the production of soft coal throughout the nation.

CANADIAN EGGS ON LONDON MARKET

Throng of Citizens Feast Eyes on Shipment of Rare Food.

A despatch from London says:—A throng of Londoners round the Canadian Government shop in Charing Cross on Friday feasted ravished eyes on a window full of magnificent Canadian eggs. In the good old days eggs and bacon was the world-renowned breakfast of the Englishman. That was before eggs rose to 11 cents a piece and promptly disappeared from currency—an economic cataclysm which cast a gloom on the Englishman's whole existence, and must be held to account in some degree for the prevailing unrest. In the announcement, attached to the astonishing eggs, that "Canada will ship six million dozen eggs to Great Britain this year" the Londoner, weary of the Food Controller's manna, caught the first glimpse of the post-war land of promise.

CANADA TO GET SHARE OF COAL

United States Will Not Discriminate Against Canada.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—There will be no discrimination against Canada in the matter of coal supply from the United States, the Government has been informed, and Canada will have her share of the output the same as before. This was the statement of Sir George Foster, Acting Premier, to the Canadian Press to-night.

Sugar Shortage May Become More Acute

A despatch from Ottawa says:—The sugar shortage in Canada promises to become more acute, owing to non-arrival of raw sugar, consequent on the longshoremen's strike at New York. The Canadian Trade Commission has taken a firm stand against further export of sugar, and also advises that as a temporary measure, the demand for sugar for domestic use should be met by the refiners before the manufacturers of products containing sugar are supplied.

J. P. Morgan Subscribes $1,000,000 to Loan

PLAN TO BLOCK BELLE ISLE STRAIT

Make Winter Navigation in Gulf Practicable and Improve Climate.

A despatch from London says:—A line of fast steamers will shortly be running fortnightly from New York to Liverpool, which will call at St. John's, Newfoundland, and Halifax, says a statement by Sir Edgar Bowring, High Commissioner for Newfoundland, who has just returned to London. He added that Newfoundland was expecting help from the Imperial Government in the direction of more rapid and frequent communication with Britain. Newfoundland was considering a proposal, recently broached in Canada, for blocking the Straits of Belle Isle to make winter navigation in the Gulf practicable and improve the climate of the eastern seaboard of Canada and Newfoundland.

British Manufacturers Plan To Increase Production

A despatch from London says:—The Midland manufacturers, in conference, are taking great interest in the problem of how best to increase production. One scheme submitted involves notifying employees of the decrease in output. If no improvement is noted after ten days the Board of Trade might be called upon to make an investigation. If in this event the employers are found responsible, it is suggested that a fine of £50 sterling be enforced. If, on the other hand, the decrease in output is due to slackness on the part of the employees, it is planned that a fair percentage, in accordance with the decrease, be deducted from their wages. The scheme also proposes that the employer reward employees substantially for any suggestion which may lead to production being increased.

Britain's Harvest Increase.

The corn harvest of 1918 in Britain was more than 2,000,000 tons larger than that of 1914, while potatoes also showed a big increase, in spite of shortage of labor and fertilizers.

YOUR CHARACTER BY YOUR WALK

HOW TO SIZE UP FAULTS AND VIRTUES.

Manner of Gait Indicates Per- son's Characteristics and His Occupation.

Nothing denotes character more than the walk. You may be deceived by faces—the people, for example, by whose looks you are attracted at first, often let you down badly in the end—but by the walk, never!

Encourage yourself at the window, somewhere where you can't be seen, and watch your friends as they pass by in the street. They will walk naturally if they are not conscious of being observed, and their carriage will then indicate into one or two things it might be very useful for you to know.

The "Vampire" Walk.
First, there is what I designate the "Mild" walk, because I saw it adopted to perfection by that inimitable impersonator of bad women, Mrs. Brown Potter, when she played the part of Mildred in "The Three Musketeers" twenty years ago in London. It is a walk with a light, soft tread on the toes, but no very perceptible spring; and the shoulders have a curious bend or hunch, which suggests the crouch of a culture or some other bird or beast of prey. People with this walk (it is more common with women than men) are never to be trusted; they are cruel, greedy, callous, and, over and above all, subtle. It is the walk of the female Mephistopheles.

Then there is the typical "business" walk, the walk with the figure very upright, the steps short, brisk, and regular. It is an automatic walk, solely confined to business people, and it denotes intense practicality and method, and an entire absence of imagination.

Then there is the affected, mincing walk, where the stride is very short and the steps mostly on the toes. There is nothing sharp or deceptive about this walk; it is, if anything, cautious and wary, and the walkers seem to have their attention divided between being eternally on the lookout for puddles or other danger spots, and showing off their shoes and ankles to the best advantage.

People who affect this unnatural style of walk are vain and petty. Their horizon is strictly limited. "Looking nice" and trying to attract attention. They are incapable of any big-hearted actions, but are invariably non-magnanimous and mean.

Another walk with which one is tolerably familiar is the springy walk—the walk that is characterized by rather big strides and a kind of bound, as if the walker's "news" were made of india-rubber. If not too pronounced this walk merely indicates an extremely active and optimistic mind—one who sees a very distinct silver lining to every cloud, and is quite sure they can get on in the world. If very much emphasized, however, the walk denotes extreme eccentricity and egotism, and is only met with in cranks and monomaniacs.

Then there is the shuffling walk. The chief characteristic of this walk is sloppiness, and it is invariably associated with people of very untidy habits—people who are very methodical, and often miserly.

It is not infrequently met with in great thinkers, philosophers or scientists, men with marked genius, and who are often abrupt and crotchety in their manners. If very pronounced, indeed, it indicates a degree of eccentricity that verges on downright madness.

Mind Your Step.
Another peculiar walk is that of the long stride with the decided swing of the shoulders. This walk is generally to be seen in authors, actors, and artists, and is characteristic of the art world, the man who has ideas of his own, and is quite untrammelled by convention. It denotes independence, and if accompanied by an emphatic planting down of the left foot, a stamp in fact, resolution and determination.

The rolling gait in walking shows geniality and jollity; the stiff, upright carriage, firmness, love of convention, and lack of sympathy. The former is common to sailors and to people who live a very free, out-of-door kind of life and "do themselves well;" the latter to ministers, people with the legal turn of mind, and particularly the blue-stockings type of woman.

The Tables Turned.
An Irish witness was being examined as to his knowledge of a shooting affair. "Did you see the shot fired?" the magistrate asked. "No, sorr. I only heard it," was the evasive reply. "That evidence is not satisfactory," replied the magistrate, sternly. "Stand down!" The witness turned round to leave the box, and directly his back was turned he laughed derisively. The magistrate, indignant at this contempt of court, called him back, and asked him how he dared to laugh in court. "Did you see me laugh, your honor?" queried the offender. "No, sir, but I heard you," was the irate reply. "That evidence is not satisfactory," said Pat. And this time everybody laughed except the magistrate.

THE NERVOUS SCHOOL CHILD

Needs Rich, Red Blood to Regain Health and Strength.

Many children start school in excellent health, but after a short time home work, examinations, hurried meals and crowded school rooms cause their blood to become weak and thin, their nerves over wrought and their color and spirits lost. It is a great mistake to let matters drift when boys and girls show symptoms of nervousness or weak blood. They are almost sure to fall victims of St. Vitus dance, or drift into debility that leads to other troubles. Regular meals, outdoor exercise and plenty of sleep are necessary to combat the nervous wear of school life. But it is still more important that parents should pay strict attention to the school child's blood supply. Keep this rich and red by giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills according to directions and the boy or girl will be sturdy and fit for school. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mrs. Pearl G. Harrington, Kingsville, Ont., who says: "I have often felt that I should write you and let you know what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me. At the age of thirteen I was afflicted with St. Vitus dance. The trouble became so severe that I had to be taken from school. I was given medical treatment but it did not help me, in fact I was steadily growing worse. Then a friend advised my mother to give me Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which she did, and with the happiest results, as the pills completely cured me and I was again able to take up my studies and attend school. Again about three years ago I was attacked with nervous prostration and once more took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using five boxes was fully restored. I cannot praise these pills too highly as I believe they will cure any case of St. Vitus dance, or restore anyone who is weak, nervous or run down.

You can safely give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to the most delicate child, or take them yourself with equally good results when you need a blood tonic. These pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Lincoln ram recently sold in England for $80,000. One was exported to Buenos Aires.

"What did you stop the clock in your room for, Jane?" "Because, mum, the plaguey thing has some sort of a fit every mornin', mum, just when I wants to sleep."

European Farmers Getting Back on Their Feet.

The territory included before the war in Hungary, Bulgaria and Rumania probably will export at least 1,500,000 tons of bread grains from current crops, compared to 3,900,000 tons in average pre-war years. So far as its production of bread grains is concerned Bulgaria is practically on a pre-war basis and Hungary almost so, but Rumania is still far from complete recovery. The most optimistic claims of Rumania for export this year are 500,000 tons as against 1,700,000 tons of pre-war years. In the wheat-producing region of southern Hungary the acreage planted this year is fully ninety per cent. of the normal pre-war acreage. In that part of Rumania occupied by the armies of the Central Powers, considerable land was not cultivated this year, while that which was devoted to crops was found in rather poor condition. This came about because the Teutonic armies ravaged the country of much of the work stock and agricultural implements. However, despite this Rumania will be more than self-supporting, and as the maize crop is improving, it is expected that conditions during the summer, Rumania will have a certain amount of export surplus. There will undoubtedly be an export surplus from southern Hungary, while Bulgaria, as stated, is at least as good in food production as it was previous to the war and will be able to export more than the average amount of cereals.

According to the specialists there will be but little increase in the acreage devoted to bread grain crops throughout eastern and northern Europe during the next year, because most of the tillable land is now in crop except those areas which were swept by war. Of course, there will be some small increase if the former battlefields are farmed—as they probably will be as normal readjustment occurs—but in the main it is not anticipated that these countries will very greatly increase their acreage. The production of northern Europe will increase as soon as fertilizers become available again, though it will probably not exceed the pre-war production for some years to come.

Beyond Argument.

The new Irish pupil at a big boarding-school excited much curiosity by his habit of talking to himself. One day a senior boy stopped him and asked, with a supercilious smile: "Why on earth are you always chattering to yourself, Paddy?" "Shure, for two very good reasons!" was the unabashed reply. "Two reasons? What are they?" Well, bedad, one of them I loike to listen to a sensible man, and the other is that I loike to talk to a sensible man."

November.

Long roads that dip and curve among the woods,
Where bare brown branches whisper with the breeze;
And, slipping softly through the tiny twigs,
The startled sunbeams peep between the trees.
Or slide along the sturdy trunks, at length
To hide in fragrant masses, soft and sweet,
Of curly leaves that nestle close about
The loving roots they sheltered from the heat.
White wisps of cloud that linger round the sun,
Of float by lazy drafts about the sky;
And leafless apple trees that gently toss
Their unpledged fruit above the fields that lie
In sleepy patches, stretching o'er the hills,
And blinking at the winding silver streams;
With these November wanders, while her mists
Whiten and cling around her shadowy dreams.

Insect Reading Lamp.

The lantern-like of South America sometimes measures more than two inches in length. The shape of the head is very curious. It is furnished with a hollow, transparent snout, nearly the length of the body, whence comes the lamplike light.

A lady, relating her first impressions of these insects, says she had several of them brought to her in the day-time, and put them into a box. In the night the confined insects made such a noise as to awaken her. She opened the box, the inside of which seemed to be all ablaze, and in her astonishment the box fell from her hands. Each of the insects seemed to be on fire.

She soon, however, guessed the cause, and replaced her brilliant guests in their place of confinement. She said that the light of one of these insects was bright enough to read by.

NOTHING TO EQUAL BAYB'S OWN TABLETS

Mrs. Alfred Naud, Natagan River, Que., writes: "I do not think there is any other medicine to equal Bayb's Own Tablets for little ones. I have used them for my baby and would use nothing else." What Mrs. Naud says thousands of other mothers say. They have found by trial that the Tablets always do just what is claimed for them. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach and clear the system of indigestion, constipation, colic, colds, etc. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Bald Peacemakers.

An amusing sidelight on the recent Peace Conference at Versailles is thrown by a correspondent, who not only reported the proceedings proper, but took notes regarding the hair, moustaches, beards and whiskers of the peacemakers. Two-thirds of the delegates were more or less bald. Perhaps some of them made up for this by wearing moustaches. Out of sixty-five men who sat round the peace table, all had moustaches but fourteen. Whiskers, on the other hand, were not popular. Only three people wore them, and by a curious coincidence, the names of all these three people began with V. They were Venizelos, of Greece; Vanderveelde, of Belgium; and Vassitch, of Serbia. The latter's whiskers were particularly prominent. In regard to dress, there was less formal attire than one might have imagined. The English paid no special attention to dress. Bowler hats and frock coats, once a combination that would never have been sanctioned, were quite popular; but there were some countries which put all they knew into their attire. These were notably the Japanese, and some of the South American States.

Oxygen For Fliers.

At high levels, such as birdmen nowadays often reach, the air is so thin that the aviator literally "loses his breath." He is in danger of collapse from this cause.

It was ascertained during the war, though not at first suspected, that about 15 per cent. of the candidates who passed examination for the air service were really unable to fly at altitudes ordinarily requisite in the work they were required to perform. It was further determined that more than 90 per cent. of them could not endure flight at extremely high levels. But, on the other hand, certain picked men, perhaps seven or eight out of 100 passed candidates, were able to ascend to the greatest elevations without peril.

To help in solving this important war problem an oxygen apparatus was developed, smaller than the kind used for mine-rescue work, but constructed on much the same principle. Equipped with this contrivance, and carrying a supply of liquid oxygen along with him, the aviator could skim along in safety through the upper reaches of the welkin.

The more land turned under this fall the easier it will be to get the crop in on time next spring.

BIFF!

Stop jolting Liver and Bowels with violent drugs, but take "Cascarets."

"Dynamiting" bile out of your system with calomel and other sickening purgatives is all wrong. Salts, Oil, and Cathartic Waters act by flooding the bowels with the digestive juices which are vital to the stomach. Cascarets are different. They act as a tonic to the bowel muscles, which is the only sensible way to relieve a bilious attack, a sour, acid stomach, or constipated bowels. There is no gripping or inconvenience. You naturally return to regularity and cheerfulness. Cascarets cost very little and they work while you sleep.

Radium and Gems.

It is possible to change the color of precious and semi-precious stones by exposing them to the action of radium. A Frenchman who has devoted himself to this study has obtained remarkable results. He bought sapphires of different kinds and put them in a box with a small quantity of radium. At the end of a month the transformations were as follows: white sapphires had become yellow; blue, green; violet, blue; wine-colored stones, red; dark blue, violet.

Conservation of our resources was never so necessary as to-day. During the war we have necessarily been wasteful, as all considerations of expense were subordinated to one supreme object. But this waste not only cannot continue, it must be made good so far as possible.

MONEY ORDERS.

It is always safe to send a Dominion Express Money Order. Five dollars costs three cents.

Gather and burn all refuse from cucumber, squash and melon plants this fall. Striped cucumber-beetles live over winter under such rubbish and emerge early in the spring ready to attack cucumber, melon and squash plants.

A skunk has his own special means of making himself obnoxious. Others accomplish this by carrying a grouch.

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of freestone." This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet. A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender, aching corn should relieve the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, dries up and can be lifted out with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that, while freestone is sticky, it dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

Don't let father die of infection or lockjaw from whitening at his corns, but clip this out and make him try it.

In Either Case.
One chilly autumn morning a Scottish villager met his minister in the main street.
"Guld-day!" he said cheerily. "Are ye cauld the morning?"
"Ay, Sandy!" retorted the minister, with a smile. "And remember that many are called, but few are chosen."

But Sandy was as nubile-witted as he, and promptly back came the remark:
"Ah, well, minister, if ye are no chosen, ye'll no' be cauld!"

What a Pity!

An untravelled countryman once treated himself to a trip to London. There, for the first time in his life, he saw a schoolgirl go through her gymnastic exercises for the amusement of the little ones with whom she was playing.

After gazing at her with looks of interest and compassion for some time, he asked a boy nearby if she had fits. "No," replied the boy, "them's gymnastics."

"Ah, how sad," said the man. "How long's she had 'em?"

WATERWORTH-DURFEE

Newbury, Oct. 29.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Durfee was the scene of a pretty and happy event on Wednesday last, when their daughter, Lela Irene, and Clarence Watterworth were married at three o'clock.

The bride was charming in a creation of blue satin and georgette. She was unattended. After Rev. Mr. Murphy had tied the happy knot the guests were invited to the dining-room, where a dainty and tasty dinner was served. The pretty decorations were in keeping with the season, and all went "merry as a marriage bell." The groom's gift to the bride was a cameo brooch, and the other beautiful gifts were not few. Amid showers of rice and good wishes, Mr. and Mrs. Watterworth left at 6 o'clock for Buffalo, Niagara Falls and other points east.

Among those who attended the wedding were guests from St. Thomas, Detroit and Jackson, Mich.

CITY AND COUNTY DISAGREE

London, Oct. 29.—The division of the cost of maintenance of the Middlesex County Jail is again to the fore, and as usual, the city and county disagree. At present the city pays 84 per cent. and the county 16 per cent. The census shows that there are 40,000 persons in the county, and 60,000 in the city, approximately, and the city would like to have the jail costs apportioned on this basis. The county will not agree, and another meeting is to be held to attempt a settlement.

Prepare to pay for Victory.

The New Motor Car

The Greatest Improvement In Riding Comfort Since the Introduction of Pneumatic Tires

HERE is a brand new type of car, built in Canada by Canadians, for Canadians. It solves the problem which has baffled automotive engineers—how to combine riding comfort with light weight and economy.

Our new Three-Point Cantilever Springs make this possible.

These are the first springs of their kind and they are made of chrome vanadium steel. They are exclusive with Overland.

Because of these springs, Overland 4 combines the riding qualities of large, heavy, expensive, long wheelbase cars, together with the advantages and economy of small, light cars.

With 100-inch wheelbase, Overland 4 has the luxurious riding ease of 130-inch Springbase.

The exclusive, Three-Point Cantilever Springs cushion the car so that it rides well on all roads; they reduce choppy rebounds and side swaying, protect the car from road shocks and prolong its life, minimize twisting or racking of frame and body, enable the car to hold the road better.

The car and passengers ride smoothly as though floating, free from road shocks.

But this new riding comfort, possible only with these Three-Point Cantilever Springs, is but one of the advantages of Overland 4.

Its light weight makes possible great economy of gasoline and tires.

High quality materials insure durability. All vital parts of the front axle and steering gear and all highly stressed driving gears and shafts are made of alloy steel.

The equipment list of Overland 4 is like that of expensive cars: Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting System, Electric Horn—Specially Resilient Upholstery Springs—Demountable Rims—Three Speed Transmission—Slanting Rain Vision Windshield—Tillotson Carburetor, and many other high quality conveniences.

NO OCCASION FOR ALARM

Robert L. Brackin, M. P. P.-elect for West Kent, during the course of a speech at the banquet tendered to the Ontario Plowmen at Chatham, said: "There is no cause for alarm in the present political situation. Ninety-nine per cent. of us have only one thought as far as the province is concerned, and that is the best interests of the country as a whole. "In all great revolutionary movements—and it is certainly a revolution movement in the minds of the people which brought about the great change in Ontario—there are always men who arise and who are able and willing to deal with the situation. "I am willing to trust any party or any group of parties with the government of this country during the next five years, because I am certain that out of this movement will arise men who will be able to carry on the affairs with credit, and it makes no difference from whence they come, the professions, the workshops or the farms." Mr. Brackin said the farmer is better informed on politics than the man in the city. On the farm a man gets his daily paper, and in the evening he settles down in comfort and reads the political news of the day. He has plenty of time to digest it and to understand it. In the city a man spares a few moments from the day to glance over the news with the result that he does not gain as much knowledge from the papers as the man on the farm. The farmer gets the real knowledge, and he knows best what is going on and is thus able to interpret it.

GLENCOE HIGH SCHOOL

A meeting of the night school literary society was held on October 30th, when an interesting program was rendered. The secretary's report was read by Elsie Leitch, a piano solo was given by Louise Garbutt, and "The Oracle" was read by Frances Moss. "Resolved that pursuit affords more pleasure than possession" was debated in the affirmative by Louise Garbutt and Ernest McKellar, and in the negative by Ellen McKellar and Will Carroll. Decision was in favor of the negative. Following the debate was an instrumental number by Mary Westcott and a reading by Gwendolene Goff. Miss Gillies gave the critic's report.

internally for many complaints as well as externally. For example, throat, croup, whooping cough, pain in the chest, colic and many hundred ailments it has curative qualities that are unsurpassed. A bottle of it costs little and

The St. Thomas Times-Journal says:
A most delightful evening was spent by the choir of Alma street church Wednesday night at the home of Warren Miller, city engineer, who entertained to an "All Hallowe'en" party.
The decorative display of "spooky" things, pumpkins, witches, black cats, etc., was unique and amusing. After a short, sharp practice, the choir became busy with the various games provided and thoroughly enjoyed itself. During the evening occasion was taken by the chairman to deliver a congratulatory address to one of the members, who is shortly to leave for a home of her own, while on behalf of the choir Miss Leota Taylor presented the bride-elect, Miss Margaret Stinson, with a set of Madeira linen centres and doilies. A beautiful lunch was served by the mother and sister, after which a hearty vote of thanks was extended to the family for the royal entertainment given.

hard labor on each charge, the sen-

In passing sentence the honor stated that on account of their extreme youth the folly of the life of crime, which they had embarked and showed them that it could lead to nothing but misery in both this life and the next.

CHAPTER XIX.

Not until Burke Denby became convinced that Miss Elizabeth Darling was not his daughter did he realize how deeply the thought that he might be had taken hold of his very life—how closely entwined in his affections what his home would be with a daughter like that to love—and to love him. Helen, too, was in the pictures—true, a vague, shadowy Helen, yet a Helen idealized and glorified by the remorseful repentance born of a bunch of worn little diaries. Then to have the beautiful vision shattered by one word from the girl's own lips—and just when he had attained the pinnacle of joyous conviction that she was, indeed, his little girl of the long ago—it seemed as though he could not bear it.

And, most amazing of all, there was no chance that there was a mistake. Even if the incompleteness of her description of her father as applied to himself could be explained away, there was yet the insurmountable fact that his own ears had heard her say that her father was dead—and had been dead for many years. That settled it, of course. There could be no mistake at all—death.

After the first stunning force of the disappointment, there came to Burke Denby the realization that in the case of these Denby characters, the reaction was not a simple one. It became a question of some extent the very next day. For the first time in weeks he did not work with his secretary over the cataloging at all during the day. He dictated his letters, then left at once for his office at the Works. At luncheon he relaxed into his old stern silence; and in the afternoon, beyond giving a few crisp directions, he showed no interest in Betty's world, absencing himself most of the time from the room.

Yet not in the least was all this consciously planned on his part. He felt simply an aversion to being with this girl. Even the sight of her bright head bent over her work gave him a pang, the sound of her voice brought bitterness. Above all, he dreaded a glance from her eyes—Helen's eyes, that had lured him for a brief twenty-four hours into a fool's paradise of thinking they might, indeed, be Helen's eyes.

Burke was grievously disappointed, ashamed, and angry; and being accustomed always to acting exactly as he felt, he acted now—as he felt. He was grievously disappointed that his brief dream of a daughter in his home should have come to naught. He was ashamed that he should have allowed himself to be deluded into such a dream, and angry that the thing had so stirred him—that he could be so stirred by the failure of so absurd and fearful of meeting old friends in Dalton was growing on Betty these days, and it disturbed her greatly. Moreover, she did not like a certain growing restless nervousness in her mother's manner, nor did she like the increasing pallor of her mother's cheek. Something, somewhere, was wrong. Of this Betty became more and more strongly convinced. Nor did a little episode that took place late in January tend to weaken this belief.

They had gone to market—Betty and her mother. Lured by an attractive "ad," they had gone farther from home than usual, and were in a store not often visited by them. They had given their order and had turned to go, when suddenly Betty found herself whisked about in her mother's frantic clutch on her arm and led swiftly quite across the store to the opposite door. There, still impelled by that unyielding clutch on her arm, she found herself dodging in and out of the throngs of customers on their way to the street outside. Even there their pace did not slacken, and they were well around the corner of the block.

"Why, mother," panted Betty then, laughing, "I should think you were running away from all the plagues of Egypt."

"I—I was—worse than the plagues of Egypt," laughed her mother, a bit hysterically.

"Why, mother!" cried Betty, growing suddenly alert and anxious.

"There, there, dear, it was nothing. Never mind!" declared her mother. But even as she spoke she looked back fearfully over her shoulder.

"But, mother, what was it?"

"Nothing. Just a—woman I didn't want to see. I used to know her years ago, and she was—such a talker! We wouldn't have got home to-night."

"But we shan't now—if we keep on this way," laughed Betty uneasily, her troubled eyes on her mother's face.

"Yes, we did," agreed Betty. Her words were light—but the troubled look had not left her eyes.

Simple Fabric Tests.

How to know materials—cotton, linen, wool, silk—should be a part of every girl's education. It has always been desirable for women to know what they are buying, but with the exorbitant prices for fabrics it has become an absolute necessity. What is more disheartening than to pay a fancy price for a piece of cloth which you are told is linen, and find after it has been washed that you have bought nothing but mercerized cotton? Or to buy a garment advertised as pure wool and have it show up as shoddy after it has been worn a few times? There are a few simple rules for determining what you are buying which any woman can learn and apply.

If possible, get a sample of the goods and take it home with you. Test thoroughly and make your purchase later. If you must test it in the store there are a few simple tests you may try. Perhaps the best known one is rubbing between the hands. Linen rubbed between the hands will remain smooth, cotton will show a rough surface, and sizing, starch, gum, tin, clay, etc., which are often added to give body and weight to the fabric, will show up as dust. If shoddy has been added to wool it will rub out. If a piece of cloth springs out into shape after rubbing, leaving no wrinkles, it is a pretty safe buy.

The appearance of the cloth will help in a way to determine its kind as linen has a lustre and cotton and wool are dull. But as cotton is often mercerized this is not a very reliable test. Linen feels cool and leathery to the touch; cotton feels warm; wool, warm and soft, and silk warm and slippery. When cotton is torn the ends are even, curled, tufted and fuzzy. Linen threads torn leave strong, straight, uneven ends, more lustrous than cotton. This will help you decide if your linen is part or all cotton.

Bitting the fabric is a test sometimes employed. Wool is gritty and unpleasant, cotton crushes and becomes soft, linen remains smooth and strong, and silk cuts.

Finally hold the cloth to the light. This will show up imperfections in weave, or looseness. If the fabric is filled with starch or other sizing you can see it between the threads.

If you have time to take a sample home the burning test is easy and reliable. Cotton burns up quickly into a flame and leaves no ash. Linen burns something like cotton, but does not flame up so quickly. Wool burns slowly, chars and gives off an animal odor. Silk burns slowly and leaves a little ash. If it is adulterated with tin the ashes will remain in the shape of the original sample.

If you are testing linen place a few drops of olive oil on the fabric. If it is linen it becomes translucent, that is, it allows the passage of light through the spot. If it is cotton, it becomes opaque, or impervious to light. To decide if the cloth will stand laundering and sunlight, wash in soap and water and expose to the sun. To decide if it will "crock" rub the colored cloth on a piece of white cloth. If the color comes off the dye is poor. To decide if it will stand general wear cover half of the piece and place it in the window for two weeks. If general wear will fade it the uncovered half will be faded in this time. Fastness of color to perspiration is shown by dipping the sample in warm acetic acid and drying without rinsing between blotting papers.

If you have bought wool, fold it and place it between weights, or inside a book. If it is shoddy it will wear bare on the folds and edges. The pretty embroidered cottons you buy sometimes have the dots and patterns printed on. Pressing will scorch the design.

Apple sauce is easily made thus: Fill a two-quart stone crock with pared and quartered apples. Pour on them a pint of sugar dissolved in a pint of sweet cider; cover closely and set in a very moderate oven overnight, or for several hours.

Quince seed makes an excellent preparation for the relief of sore throat and windburn. Put one ounce of quince seed into one pint of boiling water and let stand on the back of the stove all day, stirring occasionally. The next morning strain the liquid. When cold add two ounces each of glycerine rose sugar, one-half cupful of shortening, one egg, well beaten, one-half teaspoonful of soda dissolved in two tablespoonfuls of sweet milk, one teaspoonful of cinnamon sifted with one-half cupful of flour, one-half cupful of salt, one cupful of seeded raisins, one cupful of sliced citron (finely chopped), one-half cupful of walnuts chopped. Mix, cover closely and let rise two or three hours in a warm place. Mold and place in pans or paper boxes lined with oiled paper and let rise again. Bake slowly at first; then increase heat. This quantity makes two large cakes which improve with age.—E. I. H.

The scout motto, "Be Prepared," is a great incentive to boys and girls alike to get together. To make the troop strong each boy and girl must develop strength of character, for we cannot have any weak links in the chain. With an efficient captain in charge to hold aloft a high ideal of service there are no limits which the scouts may not attain.

It will be a fortunate day for this country when there are kindergartens and scout troops in every city and village and rural district of the land. These kindred organizations will help to unite children in all walks of life. They will instill principles of freedom and justice and, above all, will inspire, through work and play, a spirit of comradeship which is indispensable to the welfare of a great democracy.

World's Chief Whirlpool.

The greatest whirlpool is the maelstrom off Norway. It is an eddy between the mainland and an island, and when the current is in one direction, and the wind in another, no ship can withstand the fury of the waves. Whales and sharks have been cast ashore and killed.

Acres of Roses.

During the last of May and the first of June there is an annual harvest scene in a district of Bulgaria that is without parallel in the rest of the world. Here, at this time, hours before sunrise, groups of young maidens and boys, all dressed in their beautiful, brightly-colored native costumes, daily scatter with songs through acre upon acre of rose plantations to gather the opened buds, while still wet with the early dew. With the melodious nightingales flitting between the gayly attired peasants, dotting here and there the spreading sweep of rose-blossoms, it makes, indeed, the author of the "Near East" assures us, a captivating sight.

This unique rose crop, the support of 175 villages, and amounting to some 25,000,000 pounds of rose-flowers, is for the production of the world's supply of that rare perfume, attar of roses. From all these millions of pounds of blossoms, however, the average yearly distillation of pure attar amounts to only about 120,000 ounces, so concentrated a derivative is this most precious essence. It takes from 160 to 250 pounds of rose flowers to make one ounce of attar, and there are about 300 roses to the pound.

The distillation of the rose flowers is carried on during the progress of the harvest, in copper boilers with condensing attachments, the first result being redistilled into what is known as second rose water. This double distilled water is very strong in odor and quite turbid in appearance. It is full of tiny, yellow-white, oily globules floating in it, and when the long-necked bottles in which the rose-water runs are filled, they rise to the top. These globules are the real attar of roses. It is skimmed with little conical spoons and put in separate bottles with little holes in the bottom, large enough to let the water run out but not the oil.

Team Work For Children.

As a child I learned a Latin quotation which has always stood by me and which I have had occasion to use with grown-ups as well as with children. The translation is this: "In essential unity; in nonessential, liberty; in all things, charity." If all teamwork could be carried on in the spirit of this wise counsel, think of the quarrels and big feuds that might be avoided!

We mothers cannot begin too early to teach our children to "play fair" and to work together harmoniously; to emphasize the essentials of life and not to quarrel about the nonessentials. In the kindergarten the children learn in a very practical and effective way, although they probably could not state it in so many words, that the chain is only as strong as the weakest link. If Tommy is disobedient and pulls Sally's hair, then the harmony of the circle is suddenly broken. The other children are quick to appreciate this and when the next one is called upon to select a partner for a game, you may be sure Tommy is not chosen. Soon he begins to feel his exclusion, and it does not take him long to put cause and effect together. In the future he will think twice before pulling Sally's hair!

Treatment such as this proves far more effective than the kind usually administered by an older person. Most children are born with a keen sense of justice, and do not protest at having to suffer the just consequences of their wrong-doing, especially when meted out to them by a tribunal of their peers. This suggests that it is often a wise plan to keep hands off and let the boys and girls adjust their own differences. This helps to promote a good team spirit.

When the children leave kindergarten it is most important to foster their love of playing and working together in groups. I know of no better organizations for the purpose than the Boy Scouts and the Girl Guides. The former takes boys of twelve and over and the latter starts with girls of ten.

Didn't Know Queen and Let Her Wait.

The following story, aptly illustrating Queen Mary's thoughtfulness, was told after Her Majesty arrived at Balmoral she drove nine miles to visit an old friend who had been ill for some time. She arrived unexpectedly, and the maid who admitted her had no idea of the identity of the visitor. She explained in broad Scotch that her mistress was asleep. "On no account wake her," said the Queen, "but as I have come a rather long way I would like to wait. May I sit down?" Her Majesty waited for three-quarters of an hour. Then the maid came in and enquired whom she should say wished to see her mistress. Her consternation when she learned that the visitor who had been waiting so patiently to see her employer was the first lady in Great Britain can be better imagined than described.

How To Do Things.

When spurred by tasks unceasing or undone,
You would seek rest afar
And can not, though repose be rightly won,
Rest where you are;
Neglect the needless; sanctify the rest,
Move without stress or jar;
With quiet spirit, self-possessed,
Rest where you are.

Above is shown the new, made-in-Canada Overland 4. It is being manufactured at Toronto by Willys-Overland Limited, who announce that production on a quantity basis has now been reached.

The chassis is illustrated along with the finished touring car model because of its radical departure in spring suspension. It will be seen from the drawing that the "springbase" exceeds the wheelbase by 30 inches. This exclusive "three-point" principle is the basis of the manufacturers' claim that the springs of Overland 4 give it a riding comfort hitherto not realized in a light car of the economical short wheelbase.

Willys-Overland Limited claim that this new Spring Suspension has been subjected to the most rigorous, mechanical, laboratory and road tests that engineers have ever devised, including 250,000 miles of road testing. The hill-climbing scene above was taken in Hell Canyon, near Albuquerque, New Mexico.
